Six Persons Reported Dead In Quakes

Steel Strike Data To Be Made Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell decided today to make public basic facts behind the steel strike in hopes of speeding negotiations and a settlement.

The information gathered by Mitchell as Eisenhower's personal fact-finder, will be made public for Thursday newspapers.

Mitchell said they will cover wages, prices, productivity, profits and a few related matters.

The secretary told a news conference the information covers a major part but not all of the facts he has been assembling from industrial and government sources.

Mitchell said the report will be a factual one with no recommendations for action.

He said he made no action proposals this morning in a 45-minute conference with Eisenhower.

He told questioners the projected release of facts "is not intended as intervention. We hope as a result of these background statistics that the parties will bargain a little harder and reach a settlement."

Asked whether he interprets this as increased pressure on industry and labor, Mitchell said he wouldn't interpret it at all.

He said he hopes the facts will clarify some of the issues and inform the public on them.

The session with Mitchell was the major business item on a list of engagements which brought Eisenhower back to the White House for a one-day break in his work-rest holiday at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm home.

Later in the day he had an appointment with New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. He planned to go back to Gettysburg shortly after that.

Mitchell said the voluminous data on the steel strike, now in its sixth week, are in the process of being printed. He said he will make them available and discuss them at a news conference in his office at 2 p.m. (EDT) Wednesday, for Thursday release.

Representatives of both sides of the steel controversy, Mitchell said, met with officials of the Bureau of Labor Statistics and reviewed in a preliminary way the facts which now will be released.

Sens. George Aiken (R-Vt) and Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), Monday called for Eisenhower to make public the facts on the steel strike. They planned to introduce a resolution in the Senate along these lines today.

Mitchell was asked about the Aiken-Javits proposal and told newsmen that, no, the decision today to disclose the facts so far accumulated was not in response to it.

He said Eisenhower feels that the information obtained from statistics of industry and government is of sufficient interest to make it public.

Tropical Storm Picks Up Speed

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) Tropical Storm Edith picked up forward speed today and the Weather Bureau ordered whole gale warnings in effect in the Lesser Antilles from the Virgin Islands to St. Lucia, 1,350 miles southeast of Miami.

In a special advisory, the San Juan Weather Bureau said the season's fifth tropical storm "is now moving more rapidly on a slightly more northerly track."

At 9:30 a.m. (EST) the storm was centered about 350 miles east southeast of San Juan.

It was moving west northwest at 17 miles an hour and was expected to continue in that direction.

Highest winds were estimated at 65 miles an hour near the center with gale force winds extending 125 miles to the north and 50 miles to the south.

"The storm is expected to increase in intensity and size during the next 12 hours," the Weather Bureau said.

A hurricane watch was put into effect for Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the Lesser Antilles as far south as Martinique. Interests in that area were advised to stand by for further information and be ready for quick action should Edith develop into hurricane intensity.

Storm tides and waves will increase over the northern Leeward Islands and Virgin Islands today, with tides two to four feet above normal.

Small craft in Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Leeward Islands and northern Windward Islands should remain in port. Vessels in the path of the storm were urged to exercise caution.

Edith is the first tropical storm of the Western Hemisphere since July 24 when Debra formed off Matagorda, Tex. Debra caused $5,000,000 damage in Texas.

Cindy developed July 7 off the Carolina coast and whirled north to die in New England. Storms Beulah and Arlene formed in the Gulf of Mexico. Beulah moved into Mexico between Tuxpan and Tampico and Arlene dumped heavy rains on western Louisiana in late May and early June.

Jubilant GOP Looking For Strong Labor Bill Passage

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)— Jubilant Republicans contended today that through their efforts and those of President Eisenhower, the Democratic Congress is heading toward passage of a strong labor control bill.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois predicted in an interview that Congress will pass a bill satisfactory to Eisenhower.

A Senate-House conference committee sets out late today to try to compromise differing Senate and House versions. The conference was arranged after some GOP senators won an understanding that the Senate will get a chance to vote on the House bill at some point if no agreement is reached.

Eisenhower had criticized the Senate-passed bill as ineffective, and had spoken out strongly for the more restrictive bill which the House later passed. But the Senate made no effort Monday to vote on the House bill as a substitute for its own.

Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, assistant House GOP leader, said in a separate interview Republicans had received a political shot in the arm by House passage last week of the stronger measure.

"Telegrams of congratulation are pouring in to all of our people who voted for the bill," he said. "It has given the Republican party a lift when it needed it. Now we're going to get ourselves in shape for 1960."

The Senate checked action on the labor bills to the Senate-House conference committee only after a lengthy debate over what it will do if that group can't agree on a compromise version.

Dirksen said the administration's position is that any compromise must contain some provisions dealing with secondary boycotts, blackmail picketing and the no-man's-land area of state and federal jurisdiction over complaints. These are all in the House bill but are covered by less stringent provisions of the Senate bill.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon appearing on a television program with Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) recorded for Pennsylvania stations, said he feels "the great majority of the American people want and need some effective labor legislation passed by this Congress."

Northwest Area Rocked

BULLETIN

HELENA, Mont. AP — Montana Civil Defense headquarters heard an Idaho State Police broadcast today which said eight persons have been killed by earthquakes in the Reynolds Pass area on the Montana-Idaho border.

It said six of the bodies had been recovered by rescue parties. Reynolds Pass is a few miles from Hebgen Dam and is near Cliff and Wade Lakes.

Montana CD headquarters said it didn't know whether the figure included any of the six dead reported at Virginia City, Mont.

HELANA, Mont. (AP) — Earthquakes shook the northwest from British Columbia to Wyoming Monday night and early today, reportedly killing six persons, damaging Montanas big Hebgen Dam and toppling a mountain to block the Madison River a few miles below it.

The report of deaths came from the Madison County sheriff's office.

The chief of the Montana Highway Patrol, Alex B. Stephenson, was quoted by State Civil Defense Director Hugh Potter as saying between 100 and 150 people apparently were marooned between the dam and the slide.

Sheriff Donald J. Skerritt and Pilot Al Newby, after an early morning flight over the area, said "a mountain slid into the river." They estimated the slide is 200 to 300 feet high.

They reported the 35-mile long Hebgen Reservoir was "tipped askew" by the quake with the north shore dropping from 6 to 15 feet and the south shore rising as much. They said a giant fissure has opened up the length of Hebgen Lake on the north side all the way to West Yellowstone.

A campground in Madison Canyon was completely buried by the slide, the sheriff and pilot reported, and bits of wreckage which appeared to be part of tents and trailers were littered about in the debris.

Sheriff Skerritt theorized that the damage to Hebgen Lake probably was caused by an earthquake near midnight.

The quakes shook Yellowstone National Park, filled with summer tourists.

Dean Stone, managing editor of the Maryville - Alcoa (Tenn.) Times, was among the tourists routed by the quake. He said the hotel and Mammoth Hot Springs rumbled for several minutes and that at least one auto was trapped inside the park by a rockslide.

Dr. W. A. Melther, manning a hospital in Ashton, east Idaho town, said he treated half a dozen minor injury cases from West Yellowstone. Three or four of the people, he said, were pretty badly shaken up.

He said there is a general exodus from the western gateway of the park, 57 miles northeast of Ashton.

The assistant chief ranger at Yellowstone Park, Krank Sylvester, said most west side roads were closed by slides but tourist travel was carried on through other entrances. A water main broke in the eastern wing of Old Faithful Inn.

He reported there appeared to be no damage to Old Faithful and other famed geysers and scenic features in the park.

He said the last heavy tremor in the park was in 1924 and that the geysers also escaped damage.

He reported roads closed by rockslides included south from Mammoth, Norris Junction to Madison Junction and from Old Faithful to Madison Junction.

Most of the residents of Ennis, Mont., about 50 miles downstream from Hebgen Dam, were evacuated in the predawn hours but about a hundred remained. The evacuation was ordered when it appeared the third of a million acre feet in Hebgen Lake might pour down on them. The evacuation was called off when the mountainside blocked the river so tightly it shut off all the stream's flow.

Many of those who left Ennis went to nearby Virginia City, famed in Western lore as the birthplace of the Vigilantes.

The first quake struck at 11:39 p.m. (MST).

All tourists staying in the town were awakened at 2 a.m. and were advised to get out. The same advice was given to tourists at Three Forks, several miles downstream.

Civil Defense Director Potter appealed for helicopters to aid in the rescue and asked the U.S. Forest Service to send in a smokejumper equipped with a radio to help organize the people. A smokejumper is a parachutist who jumps into forest fire areas to fight blazes.

The search and rescue coordinating center of the 4th Air Force at Hamilton Field, near San Francisco, said it is mustering helicopters to try to rescue the marooned persons. The 'copters are being rounded up from Hill Air Force Base, Utah; Malmstrom Air Force Base, Montana, and the Army at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Varied reports came out of the condition of Hebgen Dam. The Montana Power Co., which owns

Say Negroes Delay Chase By Officers

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Two white policemen in plain clothes said a large, unruly crowd of Negroes interrupted their pursuit of a youthful Negro purse snatcher at a housing project Monday night.

The milling crowd was dispersed only after about 20 uniformed policemen were sent to the area of the predominantly Negro I goe houseing project.

Three dogs of the police canine corps were used to force back the crowd. No arrests were made.

Patrolman Richard Jones said at least 500 Negroes had gathered before reinforcements arrived. By this time the crowd included women and children, who apparently were merely curious, he said.

The purse snatcher fled into a building at the project and escaped.

Jones and his partner, Donald Strate, had fired three shots at the running youth when they were surrounded. Jones said the crowd — some screaming and cursing — numbered perhaps 200 within a few minutes and continued to increase.

"They had me pinned against a taxicab and two of the men grabbed me. Strate was a little distance away from me and was surrounded, too," Jones said.

Jones had the driver of the cab summon additional police via the taxi's two-way radio.

Jones and Strate had been stationed in a bus in an effort to solve a recent series of bus holdups.

Six Men Hurt In Blaze At Oil Well

LAMESA, Tex. (AP)—Six men were injured today when an oil and gas well exploded and caught fire 18 miles southwest of this West Texas city.

The fire was believed to have started from sparks from the drilling rig. The well is owned by the Pan American Oil Co. and was being drilled by the Sharpe Drilling Co.

The well caught fire at 3:30 a.m. and was brought under control at 8 a.m.

The most seriously injured was A. O. Dry, who suffered first and second degree burns over 70 per cent of his body. He is assistant superintendent of the drilling firm.

Others hurt were Johnny Thompson, John McCollough, Thomas Montgomery, Earl V. Campbell and Floyd Stokes.

All were brought to Medical Arts Hospital here by residents of the area who heard the explosion.

Thompson, a driller, told newsmen he was working on the substructure about 25 feet from the ground when the explosion came.

He said flames roared up into his face and the force of the blast knocked him from the rig. Thompson said the other four members of the crew also were knocked from the rig. Montgomery falling into the pit and the other three to the ground.

The rig is five miles west of the Patricia community, which is 13 miles southwest of here.

Fry, identified as the assistant superintendent of the drilling firm, was believed most seriously hurt. He suffered burns over 70 per cent of his body.

UF Will Use Professional Help In Annual Campaign

Professional help will be used by the Scurry County United Fund this year.

In a meeting yesterday afternoon the UF board of directors voted to use professional help and will employ the Community Service Bureau, a Dallas fund raising agency, for the fall campaign.

This will be the first time the five-year-old United Fund here has used professional services for a campaign.

The United Fund, which easily made its goal during its first year and continued to meet its budget in the years immediately following, began to meet problems in raising the funds two years ago and last year fell short of the goal.

The United Fund represents nine youth and welfare agencies which would be conducting individual drives if they were not combined into the one UF drive. Consideration was given to outside professional help in the drive after failure to meet the goal last year threatened forced disbanding of the United Fund and going to nine separate campaigns.

Agencies in the United Fund are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, American Re Cross, Salvation Army, American Heart Association, Boys Club, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, United Service Organizations and West Texas Boys Ranch.

Mel Gilbert, UF president, explained to the board at yesterday's meeting some of the details of services of the fund raising agency. Such an agency does not raise the funds but directs the campaign with extensive use of community workers. A representative of the agency will serve as fulltime manager of the campaign, working closely with campaign leaders and workers, and will remain here six to eight weeks.

In yesterday's meeting, the board discussed one phase of each campaign which is never clear in the minds of some donors. Donors can designate the funds they give to one or more agencies which are members of the United Fund if they desire to do so.

All designated funds are set aside and definitely go to the agencies designated. Undesignated funds are used to help complete the budgets of each agency in the United Fund.

While the undesignated funds usually make the difference to balance each budgeted allocation to agencies, it is possible for an agency to get more than its regular allocation if that much is designated directly to the agency. UF officials explained that when that happens the agency actually gets all which is designated to it.

School Board Meet Called

A special meeting of the Snyder school board has been called for tonight for discussion of problems in connection with transfer of some bus routes from sor. elementary schools to others here.

T. E. McCollum, superintendent of schools, said parents of students affected by the transfers and others interested in the problem are invited to the meeting, which will be at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

The transfers were prompted because of crowded conditions in the East Elementary school.

Buses 11 and 32, which go to Ennis Creek and Cottonwood Flat areas were transferred from the East Elementary to the North Elementary School. Bus 9, which goes to an area west of Dunn, was transferred from East to the Stanfield Elementary School. Students living in the Andress Heights area north of here were transferred to the North Elementary School.

More Time Asked By Houston Board

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston school trustees told a federal judge Monday immediate desegregation of the South's largest segregated school system could not be made "without irreparable injury to all the school district."

The board pleaded for more time to comply with Judge Ben Connally's 1957 order to "desegregate with all possible speed."

It said it has two integration plans under study. Neither, it said, could be adopted without holding a referendum election or the district would stand to lose five million dollars annually in state aid.

The report also cited classroom shortages and what it called the academic lag of Negro students behind whites.

The board acted in response to an order by Judge Connally two months ago to submit a progress report on its compliance to his 1957 ruling. The five-volume report ran 373 pages.

One plan submitted two years ago would start integration in the first grade and advance one grade annually beginning in September 1960.

The second plan, submitted by board attorney Joe Reynolds at a secret session last December, calls for desegregation on an area basis.

At least 20 per cent of the district's residents—or 47,000 voters—would have to sign petitions requesting the election before it could be called. Petitions circulated by the district have drawn about 4,000 signatures in recent weeks.

About 25 per cent of the district's 170,000 students are Negro.

"The administration recognized the constitutional principles involved in this case cannot be ignored," the report said, "but at the same time the administration feels that immediate desegregation would so impair and damage the school district as to be detrimental to all the school children."

Youth Nabbed In Burglary

A Colorado City youth about 14 years of age was apprehended by city police here this morning and about $85 worth of merchandise taken in a burglary was recovered.

Police said that the C. R. Anthony Co. department store on the north side of the square reported that it was burglarized sometime last night. The report came to the police department at about 8:45 o'clock.

About 9:30 city patrolmen noticed a youth walking on Twenty-sixth Street clothed in what appeared to be clothing similar to that taken from Anthony's.

The youth was stopped, and police found the missing merchandise in a bag taken from the store, and on the youth.

Police said the youth hid in the basement of the store last night, and was locked inside the building when it closed.

He has a previous record from Colorado City, and has spent some time at a boy's ranch, police said.

When apprehended, the youth had a bus ticket to Hobbs, N.M., for a 1:25 p.m. bus.

Chilean Warplanes Escort Cuban Craft From Santiago

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile today expelled a party of Cuban soldiers and newsmen who, ostensibly on a good will trip, landed without authorization in Santiago Monday aboard a Cuban air force transport.

Two Chilean warplanes escorted the Cuban craft from this city, scene of the Inter-American foreign ministers conference on Caribbean tensions which both Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro and his brother, Maj. Raul Castro, have called a farce.

The transport flew to Lima, Peru.

The Chilean government promised every courtesy to Raul, commander in chief of Cuba's armed forces, if he chose to come on to this city. But the fiery, 30-year-old revolutionary may have canceled his plans now that the advance party has been turned back.

Lima reported no indications that he planned to continue on to Santiago, where the ministerial conference ends today.

The Chilean government protested to Cuba over the plane's arrival with armed soldiers aboard and without permission.

There were strong suspicions among some conference delegates that Raul's trip was planned to grab headlines from the conference, which has been seeking ways to lessen tensions in the Caribbean created partly by invasions launched from Cuba.

An advance Cuban military plane, carrying 21 newsmen, 13 bearded soldiers equipped with pistols and machineguns and a crew of 7, was seized when it landed here Monday. The party was kept under guard and ordered to leave the country today.

Chilean officials said the Cubans did not have the advance permission required for the landing of a foreign military plane carrying armed personnel. They said none of those aboard had Chilean visas and some did not have identification papers.

Brushing aside the C ros' criticism, the 21 foreign ministers meanwhile agreed unanimously to give special temporary powers to the Inter-American Peace Committee in an effort to curb further invasions by would be revolutionaries and their sympathizers.

But as a concilitary move, a step was taken toward enforcement of human rights in the hemisphere—an action some delegates regarded as directed toward the Dominican Republic's strongman, Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, and President Luis Somoza of Nicaragua.

The foreign ministers agreed to preparation of a convention on human rights for presentation to the 11th Inter - American conference in Quito, Ecuador, next year.

Paving Contract Is Let By County

The county commissioners court awarded one paving contract and rejected bids on another yesterday afternoon.

The paving award went to Younger Construction Co. for about a mile of paving on the Old Post Road, running from the Clairemont Highway near the Santa Fe depot in a northwesterly direction to the end of the Bootleggers additions.

Younger's bid was $9,772.15. Other bids were $12,762.75 by Lubbock Pavers and $14,657.19 by Chastain & Sons of Snyder.

Bids were taken on the paving of Houston Street from Thirty-seventh Street south but were rejected by the court in a split decision. The bids were $7,059.90 by Lubbock Pavers and $7,103.55 by Chastain.

The bids were rejected because of discrepancy in specifications, but there was disagreement as to the $43 difference, the discrepancy made. The motion to throw out those bids and readvertise for bids on the project was made by Pat Moore, commissioner of Precinct 3, and seconded by T. B. Knight, commissioner of Precinct 1. Those two and Bill Herring, commissioner of Precinct 2, favored the motion, while J. C. Massingill, commissioner of Precinct 4, and J. Ray Martin, county judge, opposed it.

Two cable dump trailers were bought by the court from Hobbs Trailers for $5,050 minus $850 allowed for trade-in. Martin was authorized by the court to advertise for bids for a loader for Precinct 2.

On application of Buford Browning, county school superintendent, authorization was given by the court for apportionment of county available school funds, which total $2,967.50. The funds are distributed according to the number of Scurry County scholastics in each school district. The number of scholastics and the amounts to go to each district are: Fluvanna, 89, $52.83; Hermleigh, 289, $171.55; Snyder, 4,281, $2,541.29; Ira, 265, $157.31; Hobbs, 37, $21.96; Colorado City, 14, $8.31; Borden County, 2, $1.19; Roscoe, 22, $13.06.

Meeting with the court yesterday afternoon were Evan E. Roberts and Bob Messersmith of the Lubbock architectural and engineering firm of Stiles, Roberts & Messersmith.

The two architects came here because of recent discussions by commissioners and others concerning courthouse improvement and jail needs. The Lubbock firm did the architectural and engineering work on the remodeling and adding to the Gaines County courthouse at Seminole, which was visited several county officials from here recently.

The Seminole courthouse, which was similar to the courthouse here, was completely remodeled, and additions to it more than doubled the usable space. The older portion of the building was refaced to match the newer parts, as well as extensive remodeling inside, which in effect made an entirely new building.

Roberts said the Seminole construction cost about $600,000 and that including furnishings and architectural fees the job ran about $700,000. It was completed in 1958.

The architects said Scurry County could possibly have the same kind of work done here if it is desired and if the present building is structurally sound. If such is done, the county could continue its routine business in the courthouse during construction of the newer portion of the building without having to move out.

California Town Hit By Cloudburst

NEEDLES, Calif. (AP)—A desert cloudburst almost isolated this tiny Colorado River town Monday night.

The flash flood ended early today — as abruptly as its started.

An estimated 200 motorists were stranded, three railroad workers were missing, and parts of U.S. Highways 66 and 95 were washed out.

Sheriff's officers said the flood sealed off the town on the north, south and west — and threatened the road leading eastward. U.S. 66 is a transcontinental road through the town.

Although the rain stopped, traffic was stalled early today by debris-clogged roads and bridges destroyed by the water that poured out of desert arroyos.

Three members of a Santa Fe railway crew of five still were missing early today. The men had been dispatched by truck to check a washout 15 miles north of this farming town of 4,500 population.

A few hours later, railroad workers found two of the crew, George Ashmore, the crew foreman; and Geronimo Rodriguez, the truck driver, wandering near a road.

Ashmore was in a dazed condition with head and body injuries.

The torrent flipped their truck like a toy, Rodriguez said, adding that he last saw his fellow workers clinging to the sides of the vehicle.

Police Chief Robert Ford said the rainfall started about 9 p.m.

Needles is just west of the Colorado River, the boundary between California and Arizona.

it, said it was damaged at the top and that it "could go." At various times through early morning hours there were reports it had "gone out."

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — An erratic series of earthquakes erupted in the northern Rockies and shoo the Northwest for more than four hours Monday night and early today.

The temblors centered their wrath in the area in and around Yellowstone National Park.

They were felt in varying intensity from British Columbia to Oregon, across Washington, Idaho, Montana and parts of Wyoming.

A park spokesman said it was possible Old Faithful and many other geysers had been altered by a possible shift in the subterranean cavities.

Just west of Yellowstone, Hebgen Dam was threatened with collapse by the fury of the original quake at 11:30 p.m. (MST) and a series of now-sharp, now-mild, tremors that followed.

Northward along the Madison River that flows from the 44-year-old concrete dam, officers alerted hundreds of residents to prepare for immediate evacuation. The nearest city is Ennis, Mont., 45 miles north, with an esimated 600 residents.

Hugh K. Potter, state civil defense director, said conflicting reports told of leakage and possible cracks in the dam.

The resort community of West Yellowstone, Mont. suffered property damage. Three persons were reported injured there, none seriously.

The quakes epicenter was fixed 800 miles northeast of Berkeley, in southcentral Montana.

At Berkeley, Calif., a University of California seismologist set the quake's magnitude at 7.8 on the Richter scale, the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 had a magnitude of 8.25 on the same scale.

Thousands of persons across the Northwest were jolted from their sleep by the first earth shock. There were no reports of panic.

A newsman vacationing in Yellowstone National Park, Dean Stone of Maryville, Tenn., counted five separate temblors, the last at about 4:30 a. m.

Sidewalks buckled at Boise, Idaho. A miniature tidal wave was reported in Skaha Lake, 150 miles inland in British Columbia.

The chief ranger at Yellowstone said all plate glass windows in the town were broken.

Several rockslides followed the first temblor in the park itself. Travel was halted throughout the park. Roads from the east through the park were blocked by rockslides.

Telephone communications either were down, or were swamped with calls from alarmed residents.

MR. AND MRS. JIMMY BROWN
. . Married Saturday

Connie Jean Akin, Jimmy Brown Exchange Vows

Miss Connie Jean Akin and Mr. Jimmy Brown were united in marriage in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Van Zandt, 301 Thirty-sixth Place, at 7 o'clock Saturday night.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Vivian Akin, 1611 Seventeenth Street, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Helen Brown of Midland.

Attendants in the wedding ceremony were Joe Brown, best man, brother of the groom, and Mrs. Joe Brown, bridesmaid, of Midland. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jack Dean, pastor of the Northside Baptist Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Hugh Akin of All Center, N. M.

For her wedding the bride wore a white lace over satin waltz length gown, with sweetheart neckline, and a veil of illusion. Her accessories included a pearl necklace.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home where they were married.

The table was decorated with lace over white tablecloth, white candles, a crystal punch bowl, white roses, and a three-tiered wedding cake.

NEW DANCE SCHOOL—Registration at the Twinkle Toes Dance Studio, 417 East Highway, will be held from 8 to 5 o'clock Thursday. The new school is owned and will be conducted by Miss Sue Hodges and Mrs. Rhada Black. Miss Hodges and three of her pupils are pictured in a ballot scene above. (Lee Watson photograph)

New Dance School To Open Here

Registration will be held from 8 to 5 o'clock Thursday at the new Twinkle Toes Dance Studio, 417 East Highway.

The new school is owned and will be operated by Miss Sue Hodges and Mrs. Rhada Black, both experienced dancing teachers.

The school will offer tap, ballet modern, acrobatic and ballroom dancing with complete instruction for beginners or experienced dancers.

Miss Hodges is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hodges, and started her dancing career at the age of four years in a dancing school in Menard, Tex. She studied dancing there for two years, and since has studied continnously here and in other special schools. Some of her instructors included Louis Da Pron and Danny Hactor, both of New York, and Gertrude Jory, and famous Midwestern ballet instructor.

Mrs. Black whose specialty will be modern ballroom dancing, has taught in other schools in her dancing career, and she is a member of the Texas Dance Teacher's Association.

Miss Hodges will also become a member of the Texas Dance Teacher's Association next winter when she becomes 18 years of age.

Turkey Pudding

INGREDIENTS: 1 cup turkey broth, 1 cup milk, 2 cups leftover bread stuffing from turkey, 2 cups diced cooked turkey meat, salt, pepper, 4 large eggs (separated). METHOD: Heat broth and milk in a medium-sized saucepan; mix in bread stuffing, turkey, salt and pepper to taste. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored; with fork, beat gently into stuffing mixture. Cook and stir constantly over low heat for about 5 minutes. With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff; fold into stuffing mixture. Turn into ungreased 1 ½ quart baking dish placed in a pan of very hot water. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven about 1¼ hours or until knife inserted near center comes out clean. Makes 6 servings.

OUR VIEW

Message From Grassroots

Organized labor has been rebuffed by Congress in its efforts to push through a "soft" union control bill.

Union leaders have expressed distinct surprise at the action, but this may be another indication that the leaders themselves have let their hands slip from the pulse at the grassroots. It appears quite apparent now that Congressmen were influenced by millions of constituents when they gave their approval to a "tough" bill.

President Eisenhower's endorsement undoubtedly figured in the outcome, but even the president himself apparently had grasped the attitude of a majority of the people.

Consequently, Congress not only ignored the pleas of labor officials, but went against the recommendations of its own majority leadership in approving the bill by Rep. Phil M. Landrum of Georgia and Rep. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan.

The Senate bill, sponsored by Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Sam J. Edvin Jr., probably is more palatable to the labor leaders, but they have fought it vigorously. Committeemen from both houses will work out the final bill in conference, but as the matter now stands, labor has lost a round in the legislative halls.

The situation can be blamed in a large measure on the use of union power in a manner which is distasteful to the general public, and there is indication that the feeling is shared to some extent by many union members themselves. There are those who are convinced that the unions have ignored the danger of inflation too long. Although they have no desire to see unions destroyed or even weakened, they feel that their philosophy is due an overhaul.

Much Is Hidden In American Figures

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Venus de Milo was a fat pig," said Henry Plehn, a man with all the figures on women's figures.

"When I went to the Louvre, I found she really had only a moderate-sized bust. But she was far, far too full-waisted.

"She may be the Greek classic ideal of feminine beauty. But she doesn't by any means have what the present day would call a perfect figure."

Plehn is a kingpin in the nation's 750-million-dollar foundation garment industry, which expects to hit the billion-dollar mark in another few years.

There is more to the brassier field than meets the eye. Foam rubber, for example.

"Last year the industry used 10,200,000 pounds of foam rubber said Plehn.

"About 65 per cent of American women now wear falsies, or contour cups—as we prefer to call them."

The desire for a larger bustline is by no means strictly a U. S. phenomenon. It has become a worldwide obsession, according to Plehn, who distributes his products in 44 countries from Finland to South Africa.

"Some psychologists see the fuller bosom only as a sex symbol. But there is much more to it than that. A large bosom always has been a symbol of security, and that's why I feel it is more popular now. We have never lived in a more insecure world."

A tall, handsome man with graying hair and bright blue eyes, Plehn has toured the globe, presumably with tape measure, to make a first-hand poll of the shape women are in.

Here are a few of his conclusions:

"The average U. S woman has the best figure in the world—when she's dressed—because she spends more money on it and spends more time making it better. She buys seven brassiers a year.

"Actually, she has only about a 33-inch bust. She says publicly she'd like to have a 34-24-34 figure, but in her boudoir thoughts she yearns for at least a 36-inch bust.

"In Sweden, Germany and Italy the girls do have 36-inch busts, but they tend to look heavy-waisted because too few of them wear girdles.

"French women have the smallest busts in Europe—about 32½ I'd say. The Oriental women wear the smallest brassier size of all—30."

Plehn has learned so much about women he is a bit disillusioned.

"They're phonies," he said, cheerfully. "They all say they dress to win the approval of other women, not men.

"That may be true of their outerwear. But when it comes to underwear, they dress to make themselves more attractive to men."

The number of cattle in the United States increased from 93 million to 97 million during 1958.

A hurricane is called a "typhoon" in the China Sea, a "baguio" in the Philippines, and a "cyclone" in the Bay of Bengal.

Things Work Out Neatly For Ike

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Things worked out neatly for President Eisenhower.

Now he can fry a couple of kinds of fish—by mixing business with courtesy—when he goes to Europe later this month. The courtesy part used to bother him.

Some of Europe's crowned and government heads have visited him these past few years. Naturally, if he went to Europe, he would be expected to repay the visits.

But to make the rounds might keep him as much as six weeks away from the United States, or so he thought.

Then he got tangled up with Premier Nikita Khrushchev and things straightened out.

First, there was French President Charles de Gaulle, who looks upon himself as a symbol of French dignity and is forever worrying about preserving it.

For some time Eisenhower had wanted to meet the Frenchman in an effort to settle some problems but there was no sign De Gaulle would come here.

Eisenhower doesn't worry as much as De Gaulle about protocol —or the question of who visits whom first.

But then he ran into his problem: If he set foot in Europe he has other visits to repay and they would take time.

While this was going through Eisenhower's mind, the President worked out his deal with Khrushchev for an exchange of visits, starting in mid-September.

This created another problem.

An Eisenhower-Khrushchev visit is the kind of thing that might jitter American allies with visions of secret deals, since their two countries dominate the Communist and non-Communist worlds.

To make sure the allies got no such notion, Eisenhower decided to go to Europe and reassure them.

His arrangements call for Eisenhower's leaving here Aug. 26 and getting back before Khrushchev arrives Sept. 15.

So, while he was in Europe, Eisenhower could repay some of the courtesy visits but, since he'd have to be back fairly soon to meet Khrushchev, his courtesy calls wouldn't take those six weeks he used to have in mind.

He will fly first to West Germany to see Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and President Theodor Heuss. Both had called on him here, Adenauer in 1957, Heuss the next year.

Then the President will scoot back to London, fly to Scotland to see Queen Elizabeth who visited him in 1957. This will be a brief session.

The President goes back to London then for meetings with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan who called on him last March after visiting Khrushchev in Moscow.

From London Eisenhower goes to Paris to confer with De Gaulle. This may last several days. The two men have a lot to talk about. De Gaulle isn't easy to talk to.

The President probably won't have time for other stop-oofs to repay visits by Belgian King Baudouin, by Sweden's Prince Bertil and by Norway's Princess Astrid.

It is possible Eisenhower, after visiting Khrushchev later this year, will find time for some other stops on the way back.

He has been talking of making goodwill visits in other places around the world before his presidency ends in January 1961.

One-sixth of the area of Italy is in forests.

Little Building Halted By Strike

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's construction industry — mainstay during the recession and bellwether of the recovery — reports some projects halted or being delayed by the steel strike.

But the majority of builders and their suppliers say they either have all the steel they need for current projects or have supplies good for one to four months more.

A check throughout the nation by Associated Press reporters, however, reveals wide variations in supplies among firms and a growing fear that some special steel products may run out or that some suppliers or parts may run into trouble and thus grind operations to a halt.

Also some firms are turning to substitutes for steel, paying higher prices for premium steel, or importing from Europe and Japan.

Projects already halted or delayed are largely in the nature of flukes.

One company planning a building in Kansas City ordered structural steel so far in advance that by the time of the strike the building plans had been changed. The company now is offering the steel it can't use to anyone who can.

A small highway bridge near Austin, Minn., is delayed because the contractor ordered the steel early enough but forgot to get it out of the mill before the pickets arrived.

An Orlando, Fla., contractor decided to use precast concrete instead of steel in a department store.

But in most of the country the construction companies are whistling cheerful tunes.

Among those claiming no steel problems at all are: Kentucky's state building program directors; Williamsburg, Va., builders at the College of William and Mary; Illinois state project administrators; and Denver school builders.

Three to six months supplies of steel are reported by: South Florida builders, The Orleans Material and Equipment Co. of New Orleans; Oklahoma City and Tulsa contractors; the Mississippi Valley Structural Steel Co. at St. Louis; and a majority of Texas builders.

The St. Paul Structural Steel Co. says it can last another 10 weeks on present stocks. Baltimore's early steel ordering will carry builders for another two months. Most Indiana firms have plenty now but say another month of strike would hurt.

Seattle says prestrike steel orders will last longer there than some places because most big steel users in Washington were idled before the steel strike by a machinists' work stoppage and because the construction industry has been slowed by its own labor troubles.

And baseball-conscious San Francisco happily notes that its citizens are being lulled into complacency because the 196½-foot beams for the Giants' new park are arriving on schedule.

Scouter Barbecue Set For Thursday

The annual barbecue-roundup of the Lone Buffalo District, Boy Scouts of America, has been scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday in the picnic pavilion of Towle Memorial Park.

Dr. John Hamblen, district roundup chairman, said all cubmasters, scoutmasters, advisors, commissioners, district committee members, denmothers, and their husbands and wives are urged to attend the roundup.

Plates will be $1 or less, Hamblen said, including a barbecue dinner with all the trimmings.

The meeting was set to outline plans for a successful fall roundup program.

The district will have its membership during the past four years if it reaches its objective set by volunteers in the district by the end of this year.

The objective is to end the year with a total of 1,313 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers. Membership at the end of 1954 was 695 and grew to 891 at the end of 1955, 911 in 1956, 1,115 in 1957 and 1,259 at the end of 1958.

Theme of the roundup is "Boy Recruits Boy." There will be recognition for units which meet their objective in enlisting boys during the fall, and each boy who recruits a new boy will receive a neckerchief slide, while those recruiting five or more boys will receive pen knives, and unit leaders who have a net increase in membership of five or more boys from Sept. 1 to Dec. 10 will receive briefcases.

Program quarterlies and program notebooks will be issued at the meeting to all unit leaders attending. Unit leaders will also receive neckerchief slides and literature.

Father Of Triplets Is On Old Job

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Nathan Miller — who said two months ago he might have to offer his new - born triplets for adoption because of financial difficulties—is leaving a $50-a-week job he got as a result of his plight and returning to his $25-a-week job as a hired hand.

Paul Jones, operator of an egg farm near here, gave Miller a job, and a house with the stipulation that the Millers keep their triplet girls.

But Miller, 55, said Monday, "My family just ain't satisfied that's all. And there's a heap of walking in this egg job. And I've got bad legs. In my other job I rode a tractor mostly."

Miller, his wife, the triplets and their three older children were to return to Clarendon Plantation, near Southport, N.C. Owner Cornelius Thomas is giving Miller his old job.

Campaign Launched To Erase Whiskers

DENVER, colo. (AP)—All year long Coloradoans have been urged to grow beards to help celebrate the "Rush to the Rockies" centennial.

Now the Denver Centennial Authority is putting its weight behind a campaign to make the whiskers diappear. It announced a bear-shaving contest Sept. 12 at the Pioneer Village in Civic Center.

The man who shaves the quickest and cleanest will get a prize.

Ticket Dispute Settled By Democrats

By MURRAY FROMSON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The ruckus over tickets has ended in a complete victory for Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler —and Los Angeles will keep the 1960 party convention.

Butler threw the prestige of his office into a showdown over seating with wealthy oilman Edwin C. Pauley. The dispute almost cost this city its first major political convention.

Pauley bowed out Monday as finance chairman of the host committee and the old committee was disbanded.

Pauley had insisted the committee was promised 5,000 tickets a day to the July convention in return for its $350,000 guarantee to the national committee. He later offered to compromise and accept 3,133. Butler refused him on both counts.

A new sponsoring group was formed. It agreed to underwrite the guarantee and accept Butler's top ticket offer—1,500 tickets a day. Butler had threatened to pull the convention out of Los Angeles unless his terms were met.

The new group agreed to another key Butler demand, opposed by Pauley: transfer of all advertising revenue from the convention program to the Democratic National Committee.

The five-minute meeting of Butler and local officials ended a five-month dispute climaxed when Butler threatened to move the convention to another city.

The old committee was replaced with one headed by Republican Mayor Norris Poulson as chairman and Dan A. Kimball, president of Aerojet General Corp., as executive chairman. Kimball was secretary of the navy under former President Harry S. Truman.

Mark Boyar, wealthy real estate developer and financial chairman of the Democratic National Committee in Southern California, replaced Pauley.

He said new financial support would be solicited from the business community, as well as loyal Democrats.

"If there should be any more convention problems," he said, "none of them will be financial."

In announcing his resignation, Pauley said: "There was no way to honorably bridge this impasse without jeopardizing the integrity of Los Angeles and the contractual, moral obligations of the host committee."

Boyar said Pauley had been invited to join the new committee, but had not replied. Butler refused to comment on Pauley's silence.

As for the ticket dispute, he said: "I don't consider it a fight. It was an unfortunate misunderstanding."

Skating Party Is Slated For Girls

A free skating party has been scheduled for Thursday for all girls who are members of the Scurry County Girls Recreation program, according to Mrs. Janet Wesson, director of the program.

The skating party will be from 9 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday at the Roll-A-Way Skating Rink on the Big Spring highway.

The last official letter of George Washington, written two days before his death, urged Congress to establish West Point as a military academy.

Mrs. Rockefeller Helps With Plans

By RELMAN MORIN

SOGNE, Norway (AP) — Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller set out today to check on her son's wedding plans and make sure the bride and groom haven't forgotten anything in the world-wide excitement generated by their romance.

The Lutheran Church has been selected for Steven Rockefeller's marriage to Anne Marie Rasmussen. The attendants have been chosen, and the reception is organized.

Saturday is the big day for joining the scion of Rockefeller millions with the blonde daughter of a simple, proud Norwegian family.

Mrs. Rockefeller, who comes from Philadelphia's Main Line, indicated she especially wants to see the church and then the reception hall.

The reception will take place at the Businessmen's Club in nearby Kristiansand, known as "The Club" or "The White House" to distinguish it from nearby buildings, weathered under North Sea winters.

Steven's mother arrived Monday after an overnight jet flight from New York. Gov. Rockefeller is due here Friday.

Mrs. Rockefeller's first evening here was spent at dinner with the Rasmussens. She knows no Norwegian, and the bride's family knows no English—so Anne Marie interpreted.

"A wonderful girl" said New York's first lady of her son's fiancee, who once worked as a maid in the Rockefeller's New York home to improve her English.

The Rasmussens treated their future-in-laws to a lobster dinner. There were no cocktails. The hosts are teetotalers like many others in this Bible belt of southern Norway.

Crude Flow Up Sharply

TULSA (AP) — Oklahoma accounted for a big increase in the national daily average production of crude and condensate last week, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

The daily average output for the week was 6,813,150 barrels. Oklahoma's gain was 28,630 barrels to a total of 515,930 barrels.

The national production figure was 20,175 barrels below the comparable period for 1958. The Journal estimated 1959 production at 1,612,616,865 barrels compared to 1,477,211,580 a year ago.

Louisiana was up 200 to 1,047,300. Arkansas was off 2,800 barrels to 45,600.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,456,480 barrels and New Mexico, 285,500.

Tommy Sands Plans Switch In Ballads

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rock 'n' roll singer Tommy Sands says he's going to switch from rhythm and blues to more serious ballads.

"Somebody has got to do it—kids nowadays don't know what the serious songs sound like," he told reporters Monday.

Sands, just turned 21, went to the county clerk's office to collect $15,650 savings a judge ordered in approving a movie contract for him.

Gun Toter Uses Fists

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—On television screens Peter John Breck is a gun totin' lawyer, but Monday he used his fists in a scuffle with a doctor.

Police booked him on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon. Dr. Thomas C. Nelson complained that Breck knocked him down when he sought medical aid for a showgirl friend, Diane Bourne.

Breck, star of the "Black Saddle" TV series, said he became angry when the physician insisted on taking a medical report before admitting Miss Bourne. He insisted that Dr. Nelson swung first.

Breck's brother, George, also was booked on the complaint of two nurses, who said he shoved them around. The Brecks were released on $1,000 bonds.

Miss Bourne was admitted for treatment and Breck visited her after his release from jail.

Third League Brass Facing Five Problems

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — At least five basic problems were slated to be thoroughly discussed today when baseball's top brass met with organizer William A. Shea on the projected third major league.

1. Where Does this unborn Continental League plan to recruit the necessary 200 players?

2. What would be left of the minor league structure if the new league were to raid the ranks of the International League, American Association and Pacific Coast League?

3. How many cities actually could produce stadiums of major league quality and capacity?

4. How would the Continental League maintain the interest of the players and public without World Series incentive?

5 What would the new league propose to compare favorably with the major league players pension plan?

Commissioner Ford Frick, head of the seven-man major league committee, acknowledged he was eagerly waiting to hear the answers Shea, the New York lawyer and guiding spirit of the still unborn Continental League, admits he'd like to know some of the answers himself.

Shea, however, insists his league has no financial, personnel or park problems.

"I know there are some who scoff at us and say it can't be done," said Shea. "They're wrong. A third major league is inevitable. We have the men and the money to provide it. So why not get on with it?

"All we need is the complete cooperation of the major leagues and we are proceeding on that basis."

Shea has backers for five teams lined up. The founding five are New York, Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Denver and Toronto. It is believed he has applications for membership from San Diego, Portland, Seattle, Buffalo, Miami, Montreal, Dallas-Ft. Worth San Juan and Puerto Rico.

The results of the meeting between Shea and Frick's group is sure to be inconclusive. The majors' committee has no power to make decisions. At best, it will bring the report of its findings to the major league convention in Miami Beach next December.

"I can't see how this meeting can possibly be anything more than an exploratory one with many more to follow before we can get anywhere," said Frick.

Shea acknowledged the meeting is more "enlightment and clarification."

"There are basically four points which have to be cleared up," he said. "These involve players, territorial rights, pensions and what additional cities would best fit our plans."

75 HOPEFULS REPORT FOR FOOTBALL DRILLS

About 75 high school gridders reported for their first fall workouts here yesterday.

Thirty-two of them are juniors and seniors, who are the primary candidates for the 1959 varsity edition of the Snyder Tigers, while the remainder are freshmen and sophomores.

All but the freshmen are holding two workouts daily. The junior high also began grid drills yesterday and will hold one workout a day.

John Conley, head coach, said all the returning lettermen and top prospects are already out for workouts except End Stanley Wolever, who is still out of town working in the wheat harvest.

The daily drills of the high school squad are at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Some contact work is scheduled for tonight. Conley said the squads may run a few plays under lights at the playing field at about 8 p.m.

Regular scrimmaging, however, is not expected to get underway until about Thursday.

The two-a-day workouts will be held six days a week until school begins. Conley said he expects close to 20 more gridders out by the time school starts.

Rams Definitely Threats For Title

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

REDLANDS, CALIF. (AP) — Blessed with outstanding proven players and several potentially great rookies, the Los Angeles Rams must be considered a strong title threat in the National Football League campaign this year.

A much-matured Bill Wade running the offense at quarterback, such exciting performers as Jon Arnett, Ollie Matson, Tom Wilson, Del Shofner, Jim Phillips, Joe Marconi, Lamar Lundy, Clendon Thomas — these men figure to make the points.

And to hold down the opposition, coach Sid Gillman can look to such veterans as Gene Brito, Lou Michaels, Les Richter, John Baker, George Strugar, Jack Pardee, Don (Blade) Burroughs, Will Sherman, Jack Morris, Jimmy Jones and others.

Still to be finally graded are some nine rookies. The roll includes Michigan State's Sam Williams, who is to be groomed as an offensive end but not overlooked as a defensive wingman; linebacker John Guzik from Pittsburgh; defenseive halfback Ed Meador from little Arkansas Tech; Tom Franckhauser from Purdue; Bob Reifsnyder from Navy, and quarterback Buddy Humphreys from Baylor.

The Rams will carry five linebackers. Eight are bidding for a berth, and all could help any other NFL club.

Gillman will go with three quarterbacks, Wade, now in his sixth year; Frank Ryan, starting his second, and rookie Humphrey.

Some Ram followers are concerned that the defensive secondary might be relatively weak, and the club will suffer from the loss of offensive tackle Ken Panfil and kicking specialist Paige Cothren.

Tennis Team Faces Task

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Alex Olmedo and Earl Buchholz Jr. have some hard work ahead of them this week in their Davis Cup prep but already they show strong teamwork around the net.

Olmedo, the Peruvian master who led the U.S. to victory over Australia last December, and his agile 18-year-old partner from St. Louis, won their opening round men's match Monday in the 79th U.S. National Doubles Tournament.

The scores were 7-5, 8-6, 6-4 over 1958 Davis Cup squadman Don Kierbow of Los Angeles and Iyo Pimental, No. 1 Venezuelan player.

Non-playing U.S. Cup Captain Perry Jones, looking ahead to the challenge round with the Aussies Aug. 28-30 at Forest Hills, N.Y., apparently will use Olmedo and Buchholz in the crucial doubles if they prove themselves as a unit this week.

Wimbledon champions Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson dispensed with Alan Roberts of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Ned Neeley of Atlanta, Ga., 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

National Junior Champions Charlie McKinley of St. Louis and Martin Reissen of Hinsdale, Ill., pulled the major upset of the day in ousting Davis Cupper Tut Bartzen and Ron Holmberg, 6-2, 8-6, 12-10.

Schoendienst Has Trouble

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) —The 1959 season is running out on Red Schoendienst but the Milwaukee Braves' veteran second baseman is looking ahead to next year.

Schoendienst battling back from a bout with tuberculosis, is finding it tougher than he expected to get into condition.

"The doctor won't allow me to run much, and running is baseball," the 36-year-old redhead said. "You have to be in shape to play this game and you can't get into shape without running."

Schoendienst rejoined the Braves and donned his No. 4 uniform Monday for his first appearance in Milwaukee County Stadium since the World Series last fall.

"I feel good — very good," he said with a big grin. "But, heck, I'm not ready yet. Hitting the ball in batting practice isn't the same as going up there in a game."

Often called the sparkplug of Milwaukee's National League champions the past two years, Schoendienst still is hopeful of being able to help the Braves in September. But it appears doubtful.

Akron University's football team has won 50 games, lost 23 and tied five in nine seasons under Coach Joe McMullen, former Brown University athlete.

Willies-Comes-Lately Keep Giants Riding In Top Spot

By ED WILKS

A bunch of Willies-come-lately these San Francisco Giants, what with Willie Mays, Willie McCovey or Willie Kirkland coming through in the late innings to keep 'em out front in that National League pennant chase.

Since taking over first place on July 30, the Giants have won 12 of 17 games—and in 9 of those victories they didn't score the clincher before the seventh inning. Fact is, in the 9 late comebacks, two were won in the seventh, three in the eighth, two in the ninth and two in extra innings.

Kirkland's done the job three times, Mays and McCovey twice each.

It was that way again Monday night as the Giants came from behind with five runs in the last three innings for a 6-3 victory over Cincinnati that gave San Francisco a three-game bulge. Mays drove in the run that tied it 3-3 with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning. A pinch single by McCovey got the winning run home in a two-run eighth.

That added a half-game to the Giants lead as second-place Los Angeles split a twi-night doubleheader at Milwaukee, winning 4-3 after losing 8-1 to the third-place Braves, who trail by four games.

Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 7-6 in a battle for fourth place, and St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 5-4.

In the American League, Detroit made it a three-game sweep over Cleveland, winning 5-4 and dropping the second-place Indians 3½ games behind the Chicago White Sox in the only game scheduled.

Winner Stu Miller (7-6) and Sam Jones blanked the Reds on one hit over the last four innings in relief after starter Mike McCormick was chased in a three-run fifth. The Giants tied it with two in the seventh against loser Jim O'Toole (2-7) on singles by Jackie Brandt and Jim Davenport, an error and Mays' fly.

They put it away in the eighth on the first of Felipe Alou's two doubles, a hit batter and singles by Ed Bressoud, McCovey and Brandt.

The Giants, still ahead by three although winning only two of their last five games, now have won 13 of 19 from Cincinnati this year.

A seventh-inning home run by Don Zimmer, his fourth, did it for the Dodgers in the nightcap after they had caught the Braves with three runs in the fifth, two of them unearned. Johnny Podres (10-7) won it with five innings of four-hit, shutout relief. Bob Rush (5-4) was the loser in relief for the Braves, who scored their three in the first inning against Stan Williams.

Milwaukee backed a seven-hit performance by Bob Buhl (10-8) with three home runs in the opener. Joe Adcock's 17th came with a man on in a three-run first inning against loser Sandy Koufax (6-3), who also gave up Ed Mathews' solo 34th in the second inning. Hank Aaron, who missed two games because of back trouble, was 4 for 5 in the opener, including his 31st home run.

The Pirates, who trailed 4-0 after three innings, took the lead in a three-run fifth triggered by Rocky Nelson's two-run homer, then needed a walk, Bob Clemente's single and an error to break a 6-6 tie in the seventh. Ernie Banks drove in three runs for the Cubs, two with his 37th home run, good for the major league homer lead. Rookie Fred Green won his first major league decision in relief for the Bucs. Bill Henry (7-6) lost it.

Curt Flood drove in three runs for the Cards, counting the clincher in the sixth with a sacrifice fly against loser Ray Semproch (3-9). Wilmer Mizell (12-7) beat the Phils for the fifth time without defeat this year, but needed Lindy McDaniel's relief after he had them blanked on three hits for eight innings.

Grid Tickets Go On Sale

Season tickets will go on sale to the general public here tomorrow for the 1959 Snyder Tiger football games.

The sale will open at 8 a.m. tomorrow at the Chamber of Commerce office and last throughout the day.

After tomorrow, the tickets will be sold at the school administration building.

More than 1,000 season tickets have already been sold. A closed sale was held to holders of last year's season tickets, who were given a chance to buy as many as they bought last year. They could not, however, buy additional tickets until the general sale.

Last year a total of 1,758 season tickets were sold.

The $7.50 tickets cover the Tiger's home games with Andrews, Big Spring, Levelland, Sweetwater, and Lamesa.

Stars Drill For Panhandle Classic

AMARILLO (AP) — Forty-seven schoolboy football stars worked out today for the annual Panhandle Classic scheduled here Saturday night.

The two squads, one made up of players from classes AA, A and B schools in this area, and the other composed of boys from the AAAA and AAA schools, opened training Monday.

One player was missing—David Quisenberry, Phillips tackle, who had to stay home because his wife is expecting.

Jack Barry, former Midwestern University player, is coaching the AA-A-B squad. Jack Venable, former Oklahoma player, is tutoring the AAAA-AAA boys.

Pierce Lost To White Sox For Crucial 10-Day Period

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox managed to hold their American League lead without Dick Donovan, but can they do it without Billy Pierce?

With Donovan still a question mark after a three-week layoff because of an ailing shoulder, the White Sox pitching staff was handed another jolt Monday when Pierce was sidelined for from five to eight days. The stubby southpaw pulled a back muscle last weekend.

That puts more pressure on Early Wynn, a wonder at 39, Bob Shaw and Batty Latman, their only dependable starters, and relievers Turk Lown and Gerry Staley for what figure to be 10 telling days for the White Sox.

Chicago plays 11 games in those 10 days, then plunges into a four-game series at Cleveland against the second-place Indians, still 3½ games behind after dropping a three-game series to Detroit.

The Indians, blowing 3-0 and 4-3 leads, lost 5-4 to the Tigers in the only game scheduled in the AL Monday. It was a quick make-up game for Sunday's rainout at Detroit, which wiped out a 5-0 Cleveland lead.

In the National League, San Francisco regained a three-game lead with a 6-3 victory at Cincinnati while second-place Los Angeles and third-place Milwaukee split a twi-night doubleheader. The Braves took the opener 8-1, but the Dodgers then won 4-3. Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-6, and St. Louis best Philadelphia 5-4.

Pierce (12-13) hasn't contributed as much as expected to the White Sox drive, winning only four of seven decisions since they blasted off from second place, two games behind Cleveland, for a 27-10 record beginning July 5.

But now the little lefty figures to miss two or maybe three starting assignments against Baltimore, New York and Boston—three clubs that have provided more than half of his total victories. He's 2-1 against the Orioles, 3-3 with the Yankees and 2-1 against the Red Sox.

For the record, while Pierce and Donovan have contributed only a 6-4 record between them in the White Sox' 27-10 push to the top, Shaw has a 5-0 mark, Wynn 5-2 and Latman 3-2. Lown is 4-0 in the spurge, Staley 3-0, and the two firemen also picked up five saves between them.

The Indians built a quick lead at Detroit yesterday, scoring three in a second inning triggered by Rocky Colavito's 35th home run. But the Tigers battled back behind the eight-hit pitching of Paul Foytack (11-10), the right-hander Cleveland bombed Sunday. He gave up only four hits over the last seven innings.

Gary Bell (13-10) was the loser after winning five in a row as a reconverted starting pitcher. Charley Maxwell hit his 26th homer for the Tigers, who came from behind with three in the fifth, capped by Harvey Kuenn's two-run single, and put it away in the sixth on Lou Berberet's sacrifice fly.

Wynn Seeks No. 17

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — At an age when most men get sore arms just tossing peanuts to elephants, Early Wynn and his durable right have American League batters eating out of his hand.

The 39-year-old pitcher for the league-leading Chicago White Sox will try for his 17th victory of the season tonight against the Baltimore Orioles. He has lost 7.

In his last two outings he has hurled three-hit shutouts, topping the circuit with five for the campaign as well as leading in number of triumphs.

Wynn, in his 19th major league season, is baseball's top active winner with 265. Thirty-five more victories and he will become the first pitcher to win [illegible] league games since Lefty Grove. Now, how to pitch, he knows the batters.

Wynn also is seeking the league's strikeout title for the third straight year. He knocked off 184 in 1957, 179 in 1958 and is tied with Cleveland's Herb Score so far this season with 139.

"I do a lot of running," said Wynn. "An athlete's legs are the first to go. So far my legs feel strong and my arm just follows along."

Manager Al Lopez says Wynn does more running than any player he ever has seen.

"After pitching a game, Wynn will run a little and throw a few the next day to loosen up," says Lopez. "The next two days he will be running and running. He likes to take his turn every fourth day. If he has to wait longer between starts, you can find him in the bullpen throwing real hard."

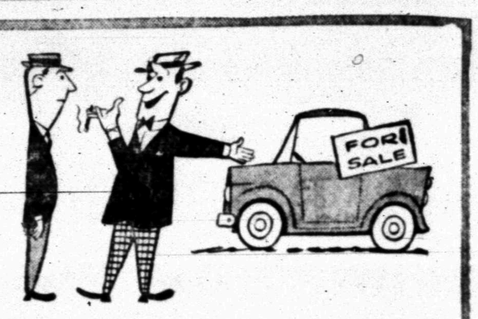

The fast ball and curve still are Wynn's meat-and-potatoes pitches.

"He has good breaking stuff, and he knows when to come in with that fast one when the batters aren't expecting it," says catcher Sherm Lollar. "He has a world of confidence—he knows he's good."

Coach Ray Berres says Wynn is "sneaky fast."

"He has a smooth delivery and a slow windup. There is a sudden snap when he comes through with his arm and this makes it hard for the batter to follow him," Berres says.

"Previously Owned by a Little Old Lady..."

Surprisingly, that gentle little old lady who never drove over 30 miles an hour was really tough on her car's motor. The fact is that start-and-stop driving at low speeds means the motor doesn't warm up enough for its own good. Sludge forms in the motor oil. Damage to the engine will result.

Most of us do a lot of start-and-stop driving these days, and that's why it's wise to protect with Phillips 66 Trop-Artic* Motor Oil. It flows quickly in a cold engine . . . resists sludge formation . . . then keeps on protecting your motor on long, hot drives.

Power Failure In Manhattan

By MARK T. SHEEHAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Lights flickering off in hospital operating rooms. Elevator service knocked out in huge apartment buildings. Packed subways, with a sweating human cargo, trapped in underground tunnels.

That was the picture as a sudden power failure struck the heart of Manhattan.

The power failure hit thousands of buildings in a 500-block section of upper Manhattan, leaving a half million people without elevators, air conditioning, traffic lights, or any of the complex systems that keep a great city functioning smoothly.

The power failure began in mid-afternoon Monday. Gradual restoration continued into the early morning hours today.

Power was completely restored to the area at 2:42 a.m. today, almost 13 hours after it went off.

The mercury was near 90 when power went off and the humidity was suffocating. Suddenly every intersection became a traffic jam.

Then the recovery began. In hospitals, emergency lights came on. Extra police poured into the area, straightened out the traffic.

Police sent emergency generator trucks to Mount Sinai Hospital, where nine polio patients in iron lungs depended on auxiliary power.

Subways, which have independent power but were stopped when signal lights went out, began to crawl, as workers with red lanterns signalled the way was clear ahead.

Apartment dwellers began to find out it feels to climb stairs.

Then darkness came, and New Yorkers in the stricken area saw the eerie spectacle of a city without lights.

In hospitals, they faced the problem of getting expectant mothers to delivery rooms without elevators. At least one child was delivered in the beam of a flashlight.

But New York night life went on. Bartenders bought candles by the dozen, and complained because the beer was warm.

Children, when they found the television and radio sets wouldn't work, enjoyed the novelty of seeing candle flames flickering along Broadway.

Bank vaults wouldn't close, and extra guards were assigned. At a radio station disc jockeys had a field day. The turntables were knocked out, so no records could be played, and the listeners were treated to one, long, continuous line of chatter.

Meanwhile 10,000 employes of the Consolidated Edison Co. labored to repair the damage to power lines, apparently caused by a record demand made by refrigerating and other cooling devices.

Extra police were assigned to Central Park, which stretches through the middle of the darkened area. More patrolmen walked the shadowed streets, lit only by the headlights of passing cars.

In all, 3,000 extra police were sent into the blacked-out section. Hours later, as power began to come back on, police reported only one burglary and one assault case.

The blacked out section stretched across the island of Manhattan, from the Hudson River to the East River. On the West Side it ran the length of Central Park, from 59th to 110th sts., and on the East Side from 74th to 110th.

People thronged onto the streets, rather than climb stairs to stuffy apartments with electric stoves that wouldn't work. Stores had a run on candles and flashlights. Children hawked penny candles in the streets at 10 cents apiece. One shop owner sold 3,500 candles in two hours.

The American Broadcasting Co.'s television network was knocked off the air for 24 minutes, and newsmen worked by candlelight in the ABC newsroom. Several live TV programs were cancelled.

Many restaurants and bars, hampered by lack of refrigeration and ice, closed down at dark. Others kept open and served by candlelight.

Jukeboxes and television sets were out, and in bars and apartments, New Yorkers were thrown back on their conversational resources.

Movie theaters emptied when the power failed, but little groups of people gathered outside the darkened houses.

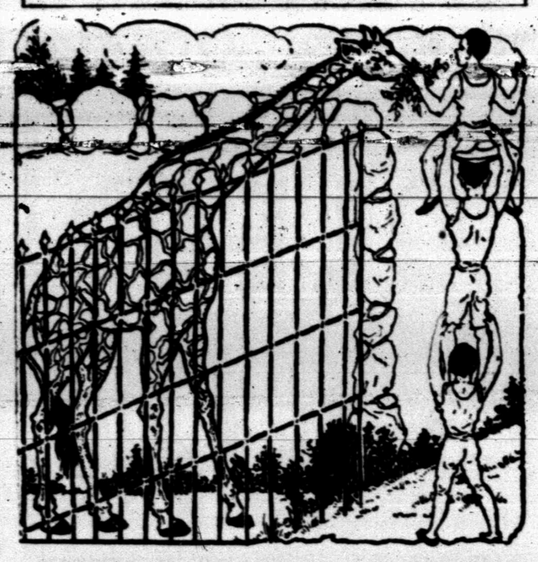

In front of one theater, a man entertained by playing tinkling tunes on glasses and cups.

People gathered around newsstands, and bought papers to read about the failure. Many went down to subway platforms, supplied by independent power, and read papers in the weak, yellow light.

A physician summed up the feeling of many people when he stepped from his pitch-black East Side apartment house.

"It looks," he said, "like a part of the city has died."

A Junior Editors Quiz
ANIMALS

QUESTION: Why don't giraffes call to one another?

• • •

ANSWER: It's widely believed that a giraffe has no voice, but actually it is capable of making a soft moo, even though its voice box is poorly developed. So rarely does it do this, however, that it might as well be voiceless. It does have a fine sense of smell, and from its towering height it can use its keen eyes to great advantage. Its bulging eyes enable it to see things at the side and even in front as well as behind. Growing as tall as 18 feet, it is the world's tallest animal. With its 18-inch tongue, it pulls leaves from trees for fodder. And it runs swiftly to escape enemies.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a book or article about giraffes and try drawing one yourself. If you have a chance to see one in a zoo or circus, be sure to do so. There is no other animal very much like a giraffe!

189 Widows Draw Civil War Pensions

AUSTIN (AP)—Only one veteran of the Civil War is living but the state supports 189 widows of veterans.

Walter Williams of Houston, in fading health at 116, is the surviving veteran.

Pensions paid out in the first 11 months of this fiscal year totaled $214,619 compared to $277,906 for the previous fiscal year.

The thinning ranks are reflected in total pension payments as well as number of recipients. In 1951 there were 696 pensioners, including three veterans. By Aug. 31, 1955 the number had dropped to 358.

A year later the total was 310 and by Aug. 31, 1957, only 266 were on the rolls.

Of the 189 surviving widows, 179 draw $100 a month. Ten live in the Confederate Home here and receive $25. The average age is about 90.

Williams draws $300 a month.

Confederate fund payments were $338,425 in 1957. In 1956, it was $388,826 and in 1955, $462,095.

The state also pays a mortuary claim of $200 on the death of a pensioner to help pay for funeral expenses.

In 1881, the Legislature granted 1,280 acres of land to each disabled Confederate veteran or veteran's widow. In 1896, a constitutional amendment was adopted granting cash pensions to veterans or their widows.

In 1912, an amendment authorized a property tax of five cents on $100 valuation to create the Confederate Pension Fund.

The rate was increased in 1925 to seven cents. But by 1943 demands on the fund had dropped so that the rate was reduced to two cents. In 1954 another amendment authorized the transfer of money not needed for pensions to the state building fund.

Even Robbers Get Ulcers

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — It's a fast - moving world we live in—even our robbers are getting ulcers.

Police say they were able to catch one such afflicted bandit Monday, who suffered an ulcer attack after an $8 holdup.

Taxi driver Robert Laird told authorities he had picked up two young men who beat him up and took the money. Police learned that one of the robbers had collapsed nearby, apparently with stomach cramps.

Then came a quick check with Martland Medical Center. The hospital said it had just treated Philip Kennedy, 20, for an ulcer attack.

Police went to Kennedy's house and found him sleeping on his front porch. They say he admitted the robbery and implicated his next-door neighbor, Robert Allman, 22.

Ulcer-plagued Kennedy and his companion were charged with assault and robbery.

The independence of the United States was finally acknowledged by Great Britain on Nov. 30, 1782.

THE THRIFTIEST WAY TO BUY GASOLINE EVER INVENTED...
PRECISION-BLENDING COMES TO SNYDER

NOW, FOR THE FIRST TIME... GASOLINE BLENDED TO FIT YOUR CAR EXACTLY!

Automotive surveys estimate that 6 out of every 10 motorists have been buying the wrong gasoline—either wasting money on high-octane fuels their cars don't need, or "starving" their cars with low-octane gasolines that cause "ping" and "knock". Now El Paso-Dixie stations offer you a revolutionary new, thriftier way to buy exactly the gasoline your car needs!

7 GREAT NEW GASOLINES

NEW MIRACLE PUMP El Paso-Dixie's unique new Precision-Blending pump draws fuels from two underground tanks, accurately blends them to any of six predetermined premium blends of gradually increasing octane. The blends are identified by numbers—higher numbers mean higher octane, lower numbers mean lower prices.

HOW IT WORKS The Precision-Blending pump draws quality fuels from two tanks—one containing El Paso Red Flame Super Premium, a gasoline of ultra-high octane quality, and the other containing El Paso 400, a premium quality fuel. A blend selector sets the pump for the blend that's just right for your car—and the pump automatically delivers that blend. Accuracy has been approved by numerous state weights and measures departments.

DIXIE 390 A separate pump dispenses DIXIE 390, the popular gasoline recommended for most cars not requiring premium-grade fuel. Dixie 390 offers effortless, smooth performance for most older-model cars.

SEE FOR YOURSELF Drive in at your nearest El Paso-Dixie service station, and try the blend recommended for your car by the Blend Selector Chart. Prove to yourself that Precision-Blending can mean top performance for your car, with important savings for you!
