Capture Of Juarez By Mexican Rebels Is Feared Expansion Of Lubbock School System Recommended

Citizens' Group Stress Need Of Relief In School

School Board Adopts Resolution of Committee Asking Consideration Of Needs of System

Plans Are Ordered

Board Starts Preparations For Furnishing Partial Relief to Congestion In Lubbock's Schools

WITH four members agreeing that Lubbock should first erect numerous additions to present school buildings and build one or more new ward schools, and then construct an adequate high school building, and one member concurring in present need for additions and ward schools, but contending that urgent need demands the erection of a new high school, the recommendations made by a committee of five citizens were unanimously adopted by the trustees Tuesday night, it was learned yesterday.

The Recommendations

The committee was appointed by the board about two months ago, and have made an exhaustive investigation into conditions and school facilities. Briefly their recommendations are as follows:

1. That immediate provisions be made for the over-load in the grade school buildings, by adding rooms to the K. Carter and the Dupre schools, to consist of probably 6 or 8 rooms each. These additions would not greatly lessen the need of a high school building, except in point of time.
2. The Manual, Vocational and Applied subjects at present seriously lacking in the high school building, should be provided for, either by the construction of a unit on the grounds, or by some method of interior alteration in the building.
3. The Dunbar school needs an added room. The Dunbar school needs added facilities and is urgently in need of sanitation and water.
4. An added unit put on the high school grounds would serve to relieve the pressure in that building.

Aldrich, brother-in-law of John D., Jr., who has headed the fight against Stewart after owing the latter's refusal to comply with Rockefeller's demand that he resign, said the number of votes received before tomorrow noon could not prevent Stewart's defeat.

West Texans Go Home Happy After Small Bill Passes

House Refuses to Sustain Governor's Veto of Land Title Measure; "Whoops" Are Again Heard

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—A large delegation of West Texans, concerned in validation of their titles to abandoned river beds running through their ranches and farms, were on their way home tonight, happy in accomplishing through the legislature their objective.

The house refused to sustain the Governor's veto of the bill by Senator Small of Wellington giving relief through validating patents and awards on "navigable" streams to the land owners, by vote of 112 to 18. The senate yesterday had disregarded executive disapproval, 24 to 6.

West Texans "Whoop"

The favorable house vote came as a surprise to the most sanguine supporters of the validating act. West Texans in the gallery whooped and clapped their hands.

The bill would forestall the filling of mineral permits on abandoned river beds and "navigable" streams, under the law defining these areas to be public lands, although they are confined within acreage owned for many years by the purchasers.

Texas Republican Congressman Cites Creager Before Patronage Group; $7,500 Fee Assessed

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 6.—Representative Harry M. Wurzbach said, however, that he refused to pay the assessment and obtained a court order at a cost of $1,200 in attorney's fees by which his name was placed before the electorate.

After Chairman Brookhart, referring to the alleged demand for $7,500 by Creager, had remarked, "so this is the organization that never coerced anybody in Texas," Wurzbach testified he was told by three friends that a man known as "Bob" Coons, a member of the Creager group, had declared the "assessment was made so high that Wurzbach couldn't pay it, but if he does we are going to use the money against him in the primary campaign."

CURB SERVICE! Mark Halsey Drug Broadway at Ave. L. Phone 148

Women are generally accepted as the religious sex, infinitely more capable of religious abandon than the port of fanaticism than men. Many a stage play has revolved about women finding through religious excess all the romance denied them by life.

There was "The Pride of the Lamb," for instance, revolving about a love-starved woman leading a drab existence who fell victim to the itinerant revivalist, to the destruction of herself and her family.

TO SAVE PA But—convinced though we are that most men both take out insurance and religion "in their wife's name," there are occasional exceptions. For instance, there is 27-year-old Fred Conrad of Wapakoneta, O., who went on a 35-day hunger strike in order to chase devils out of his father and force him to join the church.

His concern with the souls of others as well as one's own is another supposedly peculiar feminine trait, but here again is disproven the idea that all men cling to traditional male actions, or that all women do the traditionally feminine.

Here's another annoyance, if not actual tragedy, brought about by "the talkies," whom our favorite movie critic calls "the gabblers." It seems that because the usual movie house interruptions of people arriving at any old time and stumbling over one's knees during the picture cannot be tolerated, when talking films are in order, the movies are going on a matinee and one evening performance shift just like the regular stage programs, with no admission during a performance.

Oh gee! For years the charm of the movies to me has been their availability at any old hour of the day or night—an odd hour or so to fill, and there were the movies! But now—! Who ever got this smart talking movie idea, anyhow?

MATERIAL INSTINCT Insane or sane, depraved or noble, the mother instinct seems to have a strange way of flourishing here. Mrs. Sarah Louisa Northcott, variously called mother and grandmother of Gordon Northcott recently condemned to swing from the gallows for the murder of some small boys.

Mrs. Northcott, under sentence of life imprisonment herself, for the murder of a nine-year-old boy, flew into open rages in court at sight of her son's plight.

This super-maternity which sticks by one's own offspring through anything has been lauded enough by the poets. Sometimes one glimpses its power to make, rather than prevent, Gordon Northcott's.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bowen announced the birth of a son Wednesday morning in the Ellwood hospital. The baby weighed six and one-quarter pounds. Both mother and child were reported doing well last night.

Mrs. W. E. Cannon, 1706 Avenue O, had as her guests yesterday Mrs. Jack Yonge and daughter, Patricia, of Abilene, and Mrs. Guy Weeks and daughter, of Lamesa, Mrs. Yonge also visited her sister-in-law, Miss Edna Yonge, a Tech student.

A Hat In The Spanish Manner

There's an exotic dash of old Spain in "Barcelona," a hat created by Brock-Welsh for Lucinda Bori, famous Spanish singer of the Metropolitan Opera Company, in honor of the forthcoming World's Fair that is to be held in Barcelona. The hat is of novelty straw in off-white, with a decorative scarf forming the skull cap and the crown. The scarf knots in vagabondish fashion behind one ear and hangs far down over the shoulder. It is beige with bright blue, stunning red, black and tan in its scroll figure. The flopping brim of the chapeau is edged with the figured part of the scarf's fabric.

"By Joe! it's good to smoke Luckies."

Felix Count Luckner

"Lucky Strikes? By Joe, yes. Let me tell you. I was cruising in my raider in the South Pacific. It had been damp, rainy weather and every bit of tobacco we had on the ship was mouldy and could not be smoked. We began to be desperate. The men were—what you call—grouchy. Along came an American ship. We captured her and after taking the captain, officers and crew aboard my raider and finding comfortable places for them to stay, I and my officers went over to the captured ship to see if there was anything aboard her that we wanted. We searched her. And what do you think? Under the cushions of a seat in the captain's cabin we found 500 packages of Lucky Strikes! I tore off the end of one and lit it and filled my lungs with it, and By Joe, I was a man again. We had enough for all the crew and we were all cheered up and we all became friends once more. By Joe, I was sorry to sink that American ship that had brought us those smokes. Lucky Strikes, they are wonderful, and my Countess, of course, wishes a fashionable, slender figure. She smokes Lucky Strikes when she is offered fattening sweets. And my life has always been an active one and I must be trim and fit. I love to feel what you Americans call 'peppy.' So no sweets for me. Give me a Lucky Strike instead. By Joe, it's good for us to smoke Luckies."

COUNT FELIX VON LUCKNER

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This confirms in no uncertain terms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Spring Football Training To Start Soon On Gridirons

Fourteen Teams Ready To Start Battle Friday For State Title

Intramural track and field meet gets under way at Texas Tech this afternoon. The three major schools of the college have entered more than 100 contestants in the various events. Speed merchants who have never competed in varsity track will show their wares before the careful scrutiny of the college coaches. In the past years, tracksters who later developed into valuable point winners in college competition have been uncovered in intramural meets.

The unusually large number of entries this year indicate a fast meet between the Aggies, Engineers and Liberal Arts aggregation. The well-known E. J. (Pinkie) Lowry will be the official starter in all the race events. The high school track coach is a veteran with the gun and should be a factor in seeing that the events are run off on schedule time. The event will continue through Friday afternoon.

Considerable interest has been manifested in baseball circles during the past few days since the announcement was made that Lubbock would likely be in the running when the West Texas League opens on May 1. Others in the loop have been notified that the Hubbers would be in the league and at the same time no definite steps have been taken here to retain the franchise which was recently offered for sale. It seems that the announcement sent out was a bit premature. Jimmy O'Neil of Big Spring, has made an attempt to arouse interest in Lubbock in a baseball way and received a number of individual offers in the way of donations, but as yet a leader has not been found.

In the event Lubbock does not stay in the West Texas League, a city baseball league will likely be organized. Several business firms have already begun plans for getting a team together. Something should be known within the next week in order that definite plans can be formulated for some sort of baseball entertainment for the coming months. There is baseball in plenty in Lubbock to furnish a high grade of city league baseball. An organization if perfected with a regular corps of officers and a pal umpire should function to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Exhibition baseball games, with major league teams holding the center of the stage, started Wednesday. The New York Giants handed the Texas Longhorns the worst beating the Steers have suffered since Uncle Billy Dish took over the reins 10 years ago. In previous contests with teams from the big show, the Longhorns have given the big money boys stiff competition but the perennial Southwest conference champs pulled too many miscues in the game yesterday, to cope with the McGraw clan. Connie Mack's Athletics play their first exhibition game of the training season at Avon Park today against the St. Louis Cardinals. Out on the Pacific coast; the Chicago Cubs begin a three day exhibition series with the Los Angeles Club of the Pacific coast league. By Sunday night, practically the entire major league membership will have played exhibition games.

Chisox Regulars Trim The "Goofs"

DALLAS, March 6. (P)—Theo Sahlberg, former University of Southern California hurler, pitched the full game for the Chisox regulars here today for a 9 to 3 win over the Chisox "Goofs." Home runs by Blackerby and Moore, both formerly of Waco and heavy hitting by Chalmers Cissell, regular shortstop, featured the stick-work. Fielding was fast, the only error being charged against Mealy, former Dallas catcher, who pegged to center field in a vain attempt to keep Johnny Kerr from stealing. No new arrivals reached camp today. Another Regular-Goof game is scheduled for tomorrow.

Coaches Will Scan Prospects And Erect Framework For Next Fall's Campaign as Gridders Don Moleskins

Camps of Georgia Tech And New York University Will Be Worth Noting; Tornado Line Weakened

BY ALAN J. GOULD Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 6. (P)—Spring training isn't confined to baseball. Football—not the rules committee hopes, of the "boobies" variety—will be flying about shortly on many a college gridiron, while coaches scan the prospects and erect the framework for next fall's campaign.

Along the Atlantic seaboard, camps of at least 2 outfits, Georgia Tech and New York University, will be worth noting. Both came out of the 1928 season in the spotlight, N. Y. U. for a variety of reasons and Tech with an outstanding claim to national championship honors.

At Atlanta, head Coach "Bill" Alexander, sounding the roll call this week, has his problems but they are not connected with the backfield. With Thompson, Mizell and Lumpkin, among other veteran ball carriers, available for the 1929 campaign, Tech has no reason to fear a lack of punch or skill in its running, passing and kicking game.

The Tornado line is something else. With Captain Pund, Spear, forward wall that performed so brilliantly last season, Alexander has big gaps to fill up front.

MECHANIC IS INJURED

Pete Arnold Suffers Broken Nose In Mishap

A broken nose and painfully injured cheek bone were suffered by Pete Arnold, mechanic for the Kendall Chevrolet company here Tuesday, when an electric drill he was using slipped and struck him in the face.

From attendants at the Lubbock sanitarium late last night, where he was taken following the accident it was learned he was resting well.

Missouri Golfer Wins Open Match

Tied at 28 each at the end of the 72 hole grind, Shute and Smith were matched for a nine hole play off. It was decided on the eleventh green.

Gene Sarazen of Newport Richey, Fla., who led the play at the end of 54 holes by two strokes, was off form during the afternoon round, but finished in third place with 283.

Mays Priming For Comeback

BY JACK SORDS

Carl Mays, veteran submarine hurler, will be trying another comeback when the season opens in April. This time it will be as a member of the New York Giants.

In 1923 Mays was considered all washed up and the Yankees waved him out of the American league. He landed with the Cincinnati Reds and proceeded to startle the baseball world back to win 20 games while losing only nine in 1924.

And again in 1926 Carl reached his heights and nearly pitched the Reds to the National league pennant. He won 19 games and lost 12 that year.

Neuritis put a halt to his career last season and Manager Jack Hendricks, of the Reds, gave him his unconditional release. But Mays figured he was still capable of pitching winning ball and appeared to John McGraw. The Giant leader decided to take a chance and started out by sending Mays to Florida for treatment and rest during the winter months.

Now Mays reports that he is in excellent condition and is confident of his ability to hold down a regular berth on the Giant staff. Mays is 36 years old and has been pitching in the majors for 14 seasons. He broke in with the Red Sox in 1915 and had a taste of world series duty the following years.

Boston sold him to the Yankees for $75,000 in 1919 and he stayed there until the end of the 1923 season when New York sold him to Cincinnati.

Garden will remain unsettled at least two more weeks. A meeting of the Gardens' executive committee today failed to consider the matter of a new president and no decision will be reached before the next meeting of the board of directors March 19.

League President Visits Phillies On Circuit Tour

John A. Heydler Is Guest Of Philadelphia Club On First Leg of Jaunt; Lubue Reports to Reds

ATLANTA, March 6. (P)—The Phillies, in spring training at Winter Haven, Fla., were host today to John A. Heydler, president of the National League, who selected that camp as his first stopping place on a tour around the circuit.

Connie Mack announced at Fort Myers he would carry a squad of 19 players for an exhibition game against the Cardinals at Avon Park tomorrow.

The Cincinnati Red Legs, conditioning at Orlando, were surprised by the arrival of Adolfo Luque, veteran Cuban pitcher. He was not expected until later in the week.

The Chicago White Sox, training at Dallas, went through a regular Yarnigan game. Hunnefeld has not yet reported but Lena Blackburne said he was not worrying.

The Washington Senators suffered their first casualty of the training season when Ed Kenna, catcher, was hit on the thumb by a foul tip.

Westerner Grid Squads To Clash

The first clash between the "Toughs" and "Jellies" of the Lubbock High school football squad for the spring training championship will be played next week, according to Coaches Frnka and Morgan, who have been working with a large squad of gridiron hopefuls for the past three weeks.

With the group divided into two squads of 27 each, the Westerners will play three games to decide the title between the two. Robert Rich and W. D. Lawson are the co-captains of the "Toughs" and R. E. Hardberger and Mina Watkins are the leaders of the "Jellies."

Attendance, drive, light and other essential qualities will be considered in awarding the championship.

Coach Frnka said. In addition to the veterans in camp, the Westerner mentors are counting on a number of raw recruits to bolster up the 1929 machine. The newcomers have demonstrated plenty of speed but the entire squad is noticeably lacking in weight.

Pre-Tourney Dope Gives Four Teams Chance In Series

No Entry Has Outstanding Chance For Title, But Athens, Denton, El Paso, Corsicana Are Favorites

COLLEGE STATION, March 6. (P)—Fourteen of the strongest teams ever entered since the meet first was held in 1921 are to participate in the annual interscholastic League basketball tournament here Friday and Saturday.

Pre-tournament dope fails to give any entry an outstanding chance for the high school title of the state but at least four entries seem to have a good chance. Athens, 1927 winner; Denton, runner-up in 1927; El Paso, 1921 champs; Corsicana and San Jacinto high of Houston are among the leaders.

As a result of the draw for places San Jacinto and Knippa advanced to the second round with byes. In the morning play Friday Athens meets May. El Paso is to play Denton and Main Avenue high of San Antonio will battle Cisco. Athens El Paso, and Main should come through.

In the afternoon, Corsicana will play Perryton. Denton will meet McAllen, and Estelline will play Bryan. Dope favors Corsicana, Denton and Bryan.

Only once since the first tournament was held has one school won the championship twice. Oak Cliff high of Dallas took the laurels in 1923-24. Other winners: Lindale (later disqualified) 1922; Beaumont 1925; Braekridge (San Antonio) 1926; Austin, 1928. (Disqualified.)

Schmeling says his hero is Prof. Tunney. Max hasn't started roughing up cameramen yet, however, or indorsing vegetable oil.

By the way, how about putting Paw Stribling in training to meet some of these guys?

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 6. (P)—A record for prolonged sets was made on the Polciana courts here today in the match of Wilmer Allison, former University of Texas star, and John S. Millen, of Forest Hills, L. I. Allison won 6-4, 14-12 in the Florida men's singles tournament.

The Nut Cracker

By Joe Williams

Did you notice in the public prints the other day that Jem Maloney did beat Tummas Heney? That certainly writes one guy out of the heavyweight picture.

Young Stribling has been called the hardest working heavyweight. O'Goofy was just wondering what it is he works hardest at.

Jack Dempsey picked Strib to win over Sharkey. That proves definitely that Jack is a swell reporter. Remember how Tex Rickard picked Carpenter?

Max Schmeling, on his way back to Hamburg, wrote an essay on the boat telling all about his love for art, particularly dramatic art. It seems the neuraesthetic productions of Hauptmann nor the problem plays of Ibsen appeal to him. Oosh. Does this mean another lecture at Yale?

Schmeling says his hero is Prof. Tunney. Max hasn't started roughing up cameramen yet, however, or indorsing vegetable oil.

SCRIPTURE: If there be a controversy between men, and they come unto judgment, that the judges may judge them: then they shall justify the righteous, and condemn the wicked.—Deuteronomy, XXV, 1.

IT WOULD BE TREASON, SIR!

To say that the state of Texas should be subdivided into four parts, simply because the governor and some others do not agree with certain ideas pertaining particularly to West Texas, as has been talked in the legislature at Austin, is nonsensical, to say the least.

It would be as logical for the so-called Solid South to say, because it has not elected the man for president, it had thought would serve its interest best.

Well, just for that we'll form some subdivisions of our own.

If the suggestion were not so great a crime against the welfare of the Lone Star State, the talk would be "School Boy Stuff."

Why is a state, anyhow? A mere political division, for the sake of form. Most everything smacking of the political, also smacks of red-tape. The more states in our present system, just so much more red-tape.

But Texas is not merely a state. It is an empire, as the United States is a nation.

Divide the nation, and we lose that unity in which is our strength.

Nations and states are not composed of boundary lines. They are made up of aims and ideals, of folklore and tradition, of aims and aspirations, of achievements and the history of those accomplishments.

Remember the Alamo! Remember Goliad! These apply alike to Texans residing amid the piney woods of East Texas or the mosquitoes along the coast, upon the rolling hills of North Texas or the level plains of the Panhandle, under shadows of our far-west mountain ranges or beneath spreading palms of the Rio Grande Valley.

Divide Texas? Just the wall of a failure. No true Texan, worthy the name, would speak of it.

Every true Texan, worth the name, would fight to prevent it.

Let all the oil, seeping beneath the beds of every there in the state, run to waste, or be stolen. Who cares? Texas remains Texas.

Permit every stream in the domain to run dry, and yet be pronounced navigable. What's the difference? Texas survives.

Texas was Texas when Indians roamed its prairies after buffalo. Texas, the country sloping seaward, springing eternal, the empire bounded.

It is in full bloom now and no man's haphazard smatterings of loose-tongued babbling is going to hew it to pieces.

It would be treason, Sir, of the rankest sort. And there are more than two million Texans who would die as did the less than 200 besieged in the Alamo, rather than surrender.

THE OLD CLOTHES TRADE

The post-war depression in Europe has had some curious and unexpected little by-products. For instance: it has made Brooklyn, instead of London, the old clothes center of the world.

This odd shift is explained by M. F. Christensen, an official at the Bush Terminal, Brooklyn. Each year millions of dollars worth of old clothes are shipped to such regions as Africa, Siberia, Constantinople, India and the eastern archipelago, to be bought and proudly worn by the natives in those places. Formerly the bulk of this trade came from London.

But since the war Europe has not had so many old clothes. So Brooklyn took up the burden. Old clothes from all over the United States flow to Brooklyn—and go around the world to begin a second incarnation in some incredibly remote village.

MERGING RAILROADS

Apparently the great railway consolidation issue is about to come to a definite climax, in which tangible, concrete steps will be taken.

For years the Interstate Commerce Commission has been hoping that the great eastern trunk lines would get together and man out an amicable re-arrangement between themselves. To date, however, they have been unable to do so; and now two of them have taken things into their own hands and submitted their own plans to the commission.

The B. & O. acted first, listing the roads that it felt should be grouped about its existing system. A day later the Van Swearingen C. & O. followed suit with its list of roads it wanted.

Whether these two plans will ever be adopted in anything like their present form is, of course, problematical. But at least a start is being made. The next step is up to the two remaining trunk lines—the Pennsylvania and the New York Central. Doubtless they will be heard from shortly.

"NOBODY SHOT ME" One of the seven men executed by a gangsters' firing squad in Chicago did not die instantly. While life was still in him, the police questioned him in the hope of identifying the murderers.

"Who shot you?" asked an officer, bending over the dying man.

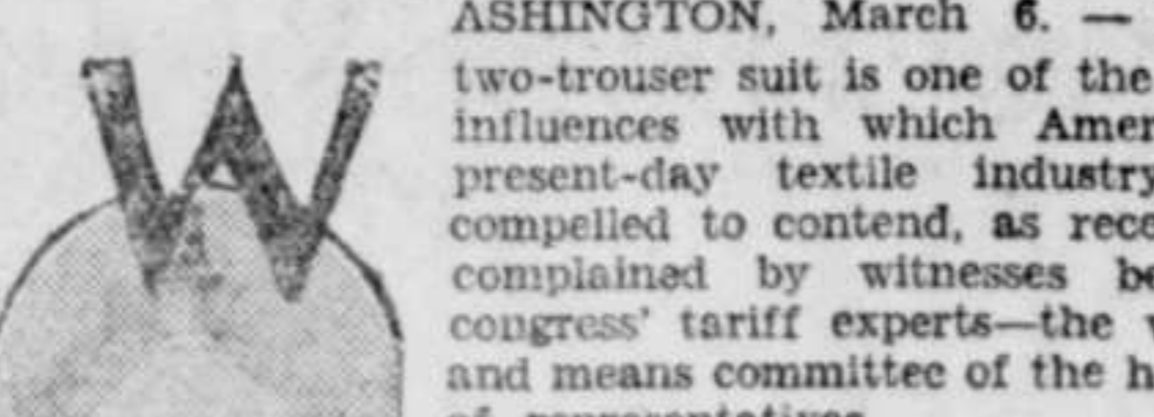

"Shot me?" he repeated. "Why—nobody shot me." There were ten bullets in his body at the time.

Right there you have the explanation of the power of the gangs. Their victims fear them too much to talk. Their power is greater than the police power. That is why known criminals walk the streets without being arrested. The police know they are guilty of a score of crimes; but they can get no witnesses to convict them.

CONGRESS COMMITTEES HAVE ODD PROBLEMS BY CHARLES F. STEWART

Washington Correspondent for Central Press and The Morning Avalanche

ASHINGTON, March 6.—The two-trouser suit is one of the evil influences with which America's present-day textile industry is compelled to contend, as recently complained by witnesses before congress tariff experts—the ways and means committee of the house of representatives.

Twin trousers, the woolen goods manufacturers' representatives explained do extend the life span of a suit of clothes.

True, it takes more wool to make two pairs than it takes to make one, but in the long run the two-trouser suit has two pairs anyway; by getting them both at once, to match the same coat and vest, he is tempted to make the coat and vest last longer than he otherwise would—and, tempted, frequently, to buy a new suit.

The textile folk did not ask prohibition of two-trouser suits. They admitted it would be hard to prevent the bootlegging of extra pairs.

They did strongly urge a higher tariff on woolen goods.

The idea is not to keep the two-trouser outfit from satisfying his craving, but to make his two pairs of trousers cost him enough more, in proportion, to offset the saving on his coat and vest.

This it will be seen that a session of the house ways and means committee, which is getting ready to introduce its new tariff bill is not the dull, prosy proceeding that the uninitiated might imagine. It has plenty of high lights.

For example, who would suppose that a big row could be developed over the import tax on carillons? Yet just such a row did develop.

The 40 per cent carillon impost was objected to by certain churches and colleges which want to install sets of chimes. They assert that, as none are made in America, there is no sense in making them cost so much.

By the very next train delegations of bell founders began to arrive, to protest that they could furnish carillons by the gross if congress would bar foreign competition out.

The ways and means committee is a big body—25 members. Its committee room, in the house of representatives office building, is nearly as imposing as the supreme court chamber.

Right there the ressemblance ends. The supreme court's deliberations are decorous beyond the power of words to express.

The ways and means committee fights like cats to Chairman Willis C. Hawley of Oregon and Representative Allen T. Treadway of Massachusetts, for instance, the tariff is a well-nigh divine institution. It is a "robber tariff" to the committee's ranking democratic member, Congressman John N. Garner, of Texas, and his fellow Jeffersonians.

It hopes to frame up a form of protection that will give the farmer higher prices for everything he has to sell, without making him pay still higher ones for everything he has to buy.

Congressman Ewin L. Davis of Tennessee, a pessimistic democrat, gazed cynically into the tolling room the other day, as the members talked at their problem. "For every nickel that the farmer gets out of that tariff bill," he predicted, "I'll bet he puts up a dollar in cold cash."

CROSS-COUNTRY SUITED TO HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association And of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

The records have just been made available of a special study made in the Michigan State Normal college of the two-mile cross-country run as a form of athletics for high school boys.

Thirteen boys who were students in high schools in the state of Michigan volunteered to submit to complete physical examinations a week before the competition, just before, just after and a week after.

There is no doubt that cross-country running places a severe strain upon the tissues of the body. Extensive studies have been made of marathon runners, indicating a loss of weight during competition.

Loss of Weight. The ages of the high school boys studied varied from 15 to 19 years. Six of them were under weight. The average loss of weight in the two-mile cross-country race for the 13 contestants was one and one-half pounds, compared with a loss of three to five pounds among high school boys participating in basketball and football games.

Five days after the race the average gain in weight for the contestants was three and one-half pounds. The heart and lungs of the athletes remained normal before, during and after the race.

Q.—What causes excessive perspiration? A.—Excessive perspiration may be the result of some serious general physical condition or may be associated with extreme emotional reactions. It is not a normal condition.

It is a well established fact that over-exertion sometimes is followed by appearance of sugar in the excretions of the body. Two of the contestants were found to have sugar in the excretions immediately after the race, but this had disappeared a week later.

Preparation. Dr. L. W. Olds, who conducted the tests, feels that the two-mile cross-country run is not too severe a trial for high school runners, but that at least six weeks' preparation is necessary and that care must be taken not to over-work the runners during the period of preparation.

Only recently have scientific tests begun to be made of athletes in various fields of sport. It seems quite obvious from the highly important results of this investigation that such tests should be made in all sports, particularly concerned with growing boys and girls.

A Washington writer finds there is English blood in 87 out of 95 members of the United States Senate. No wonder it takes 'em so long to see a joke.

The United States produced 68 per cent of the world's oil last year. But surely that figure doesn't include the banana variety offered by Hollywood press agents.

POOR BOY Sister—What's the trouble, Edgar? Brother—Beatrice turned me down cold and told me I could find sympathy in the dictionary, but I've looked all through the C's and it ain't there—Judge.

Paring Is Such Sweet Sorrow

SO THINK WE

We think that Governor Moody has gotten himself in a jackpot over the Small bill veto and that should he continue in politics the reflection may be seen in future ballot counts. However, we also think that the Governor should be accredited with having the courage of his convictions and remember the words of Abe Lincoln about pleasing all the people all of the time.

We think Senator Pink Parrish and Representative Carl Rountree are doing some good work down in Austin, Texas, Tech, in particular. It is a "robber tariff" to the committee's ranking democratic member, Congressman John N. Garner, of Texas, and his fellow Jeffersonians.

We think that the endorsement given Dr. P. C. Coleman, Colorado City, by the district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Snyder was a fine thing and that Dr. Coleman deserves it. One of the dyed-in-the-wool pioneers of this section of the state, Dr. Coleman as far as we have been able to learn, was the man who first conceived the idea of a Texas Technological college and should Governor Moody see fit to appoint him in Col. E. O. Thompson's vacant place the appointment would be well received.

We think that when 17 people die from poison liquor it is time to change bootleggers or quit drinking.

We think the consolidation of the Plainview News and the Plainview Herald will be appreciated by readers of both papers. We think we are to have a better paper for Plainview.

We think that when a man becomes orphaned at 10 years of age and president at 54 there's nothing much wrong with our country.

We think the Lubbock merchants are missing an opportunity to excite interest in their wares when they do not hold an annual style show.

We think that through radio channels more people hear Mr. Hoover's inaugural than ever before in the history of the country and we believe by the time another four years roll around that television will be perfected to the point where most of us will be permitted to see as well as hear the proceedings at Washington.

We think the reading public has probably noticed a decline in this column for the past few days since it has been necessary for a pinch-hitter to "sit in" for James L. Dow, Mr. Dow, the original "So Think We-er," is recovering nicely from an attack of influenza and will soon be back on the job.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

RUTH LESTER, beautiful secretary of "BOSOM HARRY" BORDEN, promoter of dubious stock companies, becomes engaged to JACK HAYWARD, whose office is just across the narrow airshaft from Borden's.

On a Saturday morning in January Borden near two women callers. The first is RITA DUBOIS, night club entertainer, who is to accompany him for a week-end at Winter Haven. The second caller is MRS. BORDEN, Borden's wife and mother of his two children, who comes for her monthly alimony which the promoter forces her to ask him for in person.

Learning her husband is busy she agrees to return, but before leaving glimpses a note in Borden's desk. Rita leaves and Borden waves goodby with a torn bank note, reminding her of her "bargain."

While Ruth takes dictation, Borden makes a playful pass at her and she screams at the sight of Jack's attention in the opposite office. Jack is furious and threatens Borden across the airshaft. He is still angry when Ruth meets him for lunch. Ruth forgets her bank book and rushes back to the office when she brushes her lip. Jack believes Borden hurt her but Ruth insists he is wrong. At the luncheon table Jack says he left their theater tickets on his desk and returns for them. He is gone a few minutes, returning strangely perturbed. This mood persists throughout the matinee and reappears again when he calls Sunday night.

When on Monday morning Ruth finds the body of Borden sprawled on the floor near two women callers, she reviews Jack's strange behavior and is petrified with fear. She runs to his office and, finding him out, looks frankly in his desk for his gun. It is gone. Jack returns immediately and accompanies her to Borden's office where he calls the police. Fearing Jack shot Borden through the open windows she rushes into Borden's office to close his window before the police arrive. The window is already closed. The police arrive.

When Detective McMann arrives he questions Ruth. She tells him of Borden's two women callers on Saturday; Rita Dubois, night club dancer, who was to accompany the promoter on a week-end trip; and Mrs. Borden, his wife and mother of his two children who came for her monthly alimony. Ruth admits her engagement to Jack and opens, Mrs. Borden, pale-faced and red-eyed, steps in.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Both McMann and Ruth Lester sprang to their feet as Mrs. Borden's voice rose in a wall of terror and grief. But it was Ruth who reached the pale-faced, red-eyed woman first, her arm, which went around the swaying body.

Jack Hayward, strode to the center of the office, which served also as a reception room for clients picked up a chair, and helped Ruth to lower the almost hysterical woman into it. McMann, immense, tall, watched the scene with narrowed, intent, gray eyes, then, when Mrs. Borden was seated stepped forward, he began slowly portentously, "Just what makes you think something has happened to your husband?"

Mrs. Borden's eyes fluttered uncertainly before they met the hard eyes of the detective. Then, like a thoroughbred, she drew the hysteria-ent cloak of her dignity about her slight figure. "Are you from the—the police, too, sir?"

"I am Detective Sergeant McMann," the big man answered curtly. "I repeat, how did you know that something had happened to Mr. Borden?"

The pale face of the new-made widow went even whiter. "Why—why?" she stammered, "the policeman stationed outside the door, of course, tell me the truth, Mr. McMann: has my husband been arrested? Oh, I was afraid it would be this something—where did they take him? I must see him, I must! I have a right—"

McMann stepped toward the closed door leading into the private office as he answered, "No, Mrs. Borden, your husband has not been arrested. And you may see him. He is—here. Won't you step in, please?" And McMann held the door wide.

For many nights to come Ruth Lester was to be haunted by that long-drawn wail of agony and grief that rose from Mrs. Borden's throat when she caught sight of

HER OWN WAY In one of those columns in a newspaper wherein girls and boys tell their troubles to a woman editor, we find the story of "IT" who thinks she is badly treated by her mother and sister because she can't "have her own way." People who are typical seventeen or three times seventeen have learned only a little about life. But they have had the experience of the road a little longer. "Seventeen" might stop and try to think calmly for a few minutes. It is more probable that her way is the wrong way than it is that her mother's way is the wrong way. Time comes youth—but youth may be pretty sick while it lasts.

STOCK Buying stock is not a bad habit. But there are conditions. Buying stocks and gambling in stocks are two different things. Buy stocks that you have reason to think are good to hold and that you can pay for in full. Don't buy anything you can't pay for, whether it is a new hat or the Standard Oil Co. And in most cases, when you have decided on the stocks you want, buy bonds.

TO MOST OF US and often keeps us in the saddle when we might otherwise quit.

WE THINK WHEN FOREIGN people come to America to make their home they should not come with the intention of beginning immediately to violate the laws of the nation. We are heartily in favor of the alien deportation bills that were recently passed by the house and senate, where by certain alien criminals can be sent back home. They have very often caused trouble, and some of them always will. The United States does not need this type of citizens, and with a law that will allow the federal government to send them out of the country, there should be a marked decrease in the number of criminals of foreign birth in this country.

LONDON LETTER

NEW WOMEN VOTERS PUZZLE TO ALL OF BRITAIN

By MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service, Inc.

LONDON, Mar. 6.—With a general election rapidly rising to a position of importance in the immediate future, one question is towering above even such vital issues as the coal mining paralysis, unemployment and the high British income tax to harass and perplex British statesmen.

It is: how are the women going to vote?

That same question was troublesome enough to United States politicians in the recent presidential election. But over here it is so acute that it is becoming the major question of the day.

In the United States, despite the great increase in the number of women voters, the registration was still predominantly male. But in England the women, if they go to the polls, will actually be in the majority.

In the coming election, for the first time in the history of any country, the women will have absolute power to determine the policies of the nation.

Some years ago, when the British Parliament granted women suffrage, it did so with a string tied to the vote. It was to be given to women over 30, and attached certain property and residential qualifications in addition. But last summer Parliament passed a new bill giving all women over 21 the vote, as is the stroke added 5,425,000 new voters to case in the United States. This the register.

This England approaches her general election believing that the vast majority of these new voters are working women who will vote the Labor ticket. They figure that all women relatives of the great mass of unemployed men will vote Labor and that the average middle-class and upper class will do likewise because of a fear that the Conservative party's tariff program would raise the cost of living on food articles.

On the other hand, such shrewd Tory leaders as Winston Churchill count on frightening the women of the upper and middle classes into voting for Conservative candidates in order to "save the country." Already Churchill has devised a Tory slogan for the coming campaign—"Shall we entrust the government of the country to the men who managed the general strike?"

This may be effective. It is recalled that the general strike, which paralyzed England for 10 days, was defeated only because the upper and middle classes turned out and formed essential services and transportation was kept going. Churchill aims to appeal to the women in these classes by playing on their fears of a repetition of such a strike.

In the last general election—that of 1924—the vote was as follows: Tories, 7,838,225; Labor, 5,423,589; Liberals, 2,925,142. Thus it is evident that the Tories did not have a clear majority of the total vote. But in the House of Commons the Tories got 413 seats, Labor 151 and the Liberals only 40. The Tories got in because the opposition was split. Obviously, if the new women voters all go one way there is a chance for a terrific overturn here.

This Anniversary

AN AMERICAN DEFEAT

Today is the anniversary of a disastrous naval battle of the Revolution. It was fought just 182 years between the 64-gun Yarmouth of the British navy and the comparatively puny 32-gun American frigate Randolph, one of the 13 frigates built by the Continental Congress.

The battle lasted just an hour. It came to a tragic end when a shot from the Yarmouth exploded in the Randolph's powder magazine and blew her to fragments. Only four of the frigate's crew of 315 men were found alive. British casualties were slight.

The engagement was discouraging to the American cause, particularly because it was only one of a series of crushing defeats which the British navy was inflicting upon American ships. The one cause for satisfaction at the time was John Paul Jones' accomplishments in British waters. With the Ranger, the first American ship to fly the Stars and Stripes, Jones was circling the British Isles and winning a large part of his reputation as a skillful and intrepid seaman.

Today's Poem

IN SORROW

Gently, Lord, oh, gently lead us, Pilgrims in this vale of tears, Through the trials yet decreed us, Till our last great change appears. When temptation's darts assault us, When in devout paths we stray, Let Thy goodness never fail us, Lead us in Thy perfect way.

In the hour of pain and anguish, In the hour when death draws near, Suffer not our hearts to languish, Suffer not our souls to fear; And, when mortal life is ended, Let our last great change appear, Till, by angel hands attended, We awake among the blest.

Stocks Continue Downhill For 4th Consecutive Day

Scarcity of Call Money Is Acceleration to Selling; Coppers Hold Leadership of Shares
By CLAUDE A. JAGGER Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—(AP)—The stock market continued downhill today for the fourth successive session. Selling was accelerated by a severe scarcity of call money, which rose to 12 per cent for the first time since January 2, equaling the peak rate of recent years.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent yesterday's closing rate of 10, and the market rallied during the morning under the leadership of the coppers. As the rate was stepped up to 12 per cent a flood of selling poured into the market, which kept the ticker running for half an hour after the close.

Calling of Loans Heavy
Calling of loans has been heavy, with $30,000,000 reported today, bringing the total of the week's reported withdrawals to about $100,000,000.

New treasury financing for March 15, of $475,000,000 in 9-month certificates was announced at 4 3/4 per cent, 1-2 of one per cent higher than the treasury had to pay in connection with its last financing in December.

Liberal Supply of Classes Arrive On Ft. Worth Market

FORT WORTH, Mar. 6.—(AP)—A fairly liberal supply of all classes of livestock arrived on the livestock market here today.

Slaughter steers and yearlings made up the bulk of the straight offerings while mixed lots fairly plentiful. All classes cattle and calves sold fully steady with very strong outside demand from stocker and feeder buyers.

Slaughter steers very slow in getting started to the scales with the offering due to sell at 8.50 to around 11.00. Some steers in the southern division sold during the morning at 10.50. Bidding barely steady.

The better heavy bulls sold around 8.00, common light ones around 6.50, but the supply even if package lots very light.

Yearlings very plentiful in proportion to the total cattle supply. Order buyers and buyers of stocker cattle added strength to the trading and took a number of cars at steady prices. Some of the best were the kind of cattle that could have gone to packers but went to order buyers at prices that ranged up to 12.00 and 12.25 in carlots with other sales down to $10.00.

Very few cars of cows on hand. One load of fair cows sold at 8.25 and cows from 7.00 up, canners and cutters at 5.00 to 6.00.

Heavy calves on the yearling order to packers in carlots at 11.50. Cut calves mostly around 7.00.

Sheep steady; wool feeder lambs at 14.00, horn fat lambs at the same price.

Trading in hogs slow in getting started in the rail section. Early sales in the truck division steady, top around 19.35.

Advance Followed By Reactions On New York Cotton

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—(AP)—A further advance on continuation of the recent buying movement was followed by reactions in cotton today under realizing and some southern and local selling. May contracts after selling up to 21.20, declined to 20.83 in the late trading and closed at 20.94. The general market closed steady at net declines of 13 to 20 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2 points to a decline of 5 points. Most months were lower under selling promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and prospects for improving weather in the eastern belt. Buying continued, however. After the initial realizing had been absorbed, prices turned upward on covering or rebuying by recent sellers, coupled with some trade buying of near months and a further broadening of commission house and Wall Street demand.

Prices soon made new high ground for the movement. March advanced to 21.16 and the May to 20.40, or about 7 to 15 points above yesterday's closing quotations.

Demand was encouraged by favorable reports from the cotton goods trade and reiterated complaints of delays in farm work as result of recent rains and overfloods in the eastern belt, but buying seemed rather less active and aggressive than recently. In some quarters this was regarded as indicating an easier technical position after the advance of about 172 points from the low prices of last month in May contracts consequently the market became more reactionary during the afternoon.

Trade demand was said to be somewhat less active. There was southern selling here and realizing became more active in the late trading when sentiment may have been influenced by higher call money rates and the stock market. March sold off from 20.91 and the new October contract to 20.11, making declines of some 25 to 30 points from the high levels of the morning. Closing prices were within a point or two of the lowest.

Private cables said that local and continental buying had been supplied by Bombay selling in Liverpool and that disturbances in Calcutta were checking business in cotton cloths. But they reported more cloth sales for China.

Exports today 49,777 making 6,409,979 this season. Port receipts 13,536. U. S. port stocks, 1,919,139.

I'VE NEVER SEEN A MEDICINE EQUAL IT

Two Navy Blimps Destroyed by Wind
Storm Tears Bags, Letting Aloose $14,000 Worth Of Helium Gas; 700 Men Used Preventing Escape

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—Two navy non-rigid dirigibles which soared proudly over President Hoover's inaugural parade are being sent back to Lakehurst, N. J., in crates.

Another wonderful endorsement for Orgatone that will be read with interest was given recently by W. S. Curry, who resides at 2001 Twenty Sixth St., Lubbock, Texas, and who is in the real estate business here.

"Orgatone is nothing short of a wonder. I've never seen anything in the way of medicine to equal it. It has not only gotten my wife over serious trouble, but she actually feels better and stronger than in the past two years. She lost her health about two years ago, and in spite of all we did, she kept getting worse. Her stomach got so weak and out of order there was very few things she could eat at all and what she did eat seemed to do her harm instead of good. She had sharp pains up and down her back, from disordered kidneys, and intense pain in her stomach caused by the gas and she was constantly belching up sour, undigested food. She was very nervous and run down, and never got very much sleep at night. She had a bad case of constipation, and was just getting worse in every way, every day.

"She had the very best treatment and I bought every kind of medicine anyone would suggest, but nothing did her any good. I had been reading so much about Orgatone, and every where we went Orgatone was being praised for its fine work, so I bought a bottle and my wife began taking it. Well, it proved to be what she needed, and in a few days she began to get better. She has just taken one bottle and she looks, acts, and feels better than she has in two whole years. She has gained in strength and eats anything she wants. She sleeps well every night, and has the color she used to have before she got sick. I am glad for anybody to know what we think of Orgatone. I am more than glad to give this statement."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bownes Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.

MID-WESTERN LIVESTOCK KANSAS CITY, Mar. 6.—(U. S. D. A.)—A new high mark for the season of $12.00 was realized in Chicago on hogs. Trade around the 11-market circuit was fairly active at generally 15 to 40 cents higher prices. Closing trade was slow at several markets with packers falling to follow the pace set by shippers. Total offerings were around 63,000 a decrease of 7,500. From last Wednesday and 45,000 less than the corresponding day a year ago.

Aggregate receipts of cattle were estimated at 32,000 as compared with 35,372 a week ago and 35,830 the same day last year. Demand centered upon light weight steers and yearlings, the better grades of which are bringing an appreciable premium over comparable kinds of matured steers.

A SURE TEST FOR OIL

That fellow up there probably has -TP- Oil in the engine. -TP- was developed for airplanes first and was such a success that they had to make it for automobiles. An oil that stands up in one of those high-speed airplane motors has an easy time lubricating an automobile engine. The engine has an easy time, too.

-TP- Oils are the latest development in scientific lubrication. They are produced from pure, paraffine-base crude by a process for which patents are pending. This process has marked advantages over other methods. It preserves all the lubricating bodies of the crude oil just as they occur in nature. There is positively no blending of light and heavy oils to produce various grades. It removes all the paraffine wax.

In terms of performance this means perfect lubrication at all times, smoother, more efficient operation for your engine, longer life, reduced repair bills, and more mileage. It means easy starting in winter with the same grade of oil that you use in summer—the one best suited to lubricate your engine. It is wise economy to pay 45c a quart for -TP- Oil.

Fire Department Busy Wednesday; Three Runs Made

Three runs, made yesterday by the fire department, resulted in extinguishing blazes in a large feed stack at Monroe, in two houses in Lubbock and in the hip pocket of Fire Chief W. E. Twitty.

The run of 12 miles to Monroe was made at 3 p. m. and accomplished in 13 minutes, Chief Twitty stated, which was a minute less than one made by the fire trucks on another race to that city, the slower speed being necessitated because of a rougher road. The fire was in a feed stack, comprising an area about the extent of two city blocks, the feed being stored at the Mowdy Gin. The blazes were extinguished before any considerable amount of feed had burned.

At 5 p. m., fire from a trash pile in the rear of 1617 Seventeenth street, did slight damage to the home of H. McRae.

Cross Home Damaged Considerable damage resulted from the fire, occurring about 6:20 p. m. at the corner of Avenue H and Fourth street, to the house of C. E. McDonald, which was being occupied by O. M. Cross. Origin of this fire was not learned.

Perhaps an inch square was burned through the hip pocket of Chief Twitty's school bag, when he hurriedly placed his pipe into the pocket, while fighting the fire on Seventeenth street. When the blaze was discovered by the chief, he smothered it out with his hand. Next time, he insists the pipe will not go into the pocket until the fire has been extinguished, or contents dumped out.

School Needs

ing, until a new one can be built. If this is not provided, the overcrowding now existing there is going to become an increasingly difficult problem.

With regard to the provision for the school building, one member of the committee is of the opinion the board should proceed with plans to finance this, with plans for its construction and to start building at the earliest possible date. The members of the committee believe the building urgently needed, but that perhaps difficulties to finance will justify delaying actual start until February 1, 1930, but no delay should be longer than that date. The two remaining members believe that provision for a high school building and starting work on it should go forward not later than one year from date.

The committee consisted of A. H. Leidigh, chairman; Mrs. W. B. Price, Mrs. Walter P. Jennings, R. D. Moxley and Judge George R. Bean.

Board Pledges Work C. E. Madsen and Neil H. Wright members of the school board, in speaking of the recommendations yesterday, said the board pledged themselves to carry out the committee's findings, as these confirmed the judgment of the board as to what the city needed. The board has selected Peters, Strange & Bradshaw as architects to plan a modern high school building, which they hope to have erected and ready for occupancy at the beginning of the 1930 school term.

"We realize it is impossible to have a high school erected now, in time for next fall's term," said Mr. Madsen.

To build the additions and the one or more new ward schools it will be necessary for the board to call a special bond election in the near future, probably in May.

Neil H. Wright, stated, "All members of the committee visited the other high school, the Dupre and Central Ward buildings, four members visited the George M. Hunt and Junior High schools; one visited the Sanders school and two went to K. Carter, Dupre and the Mexican schools, according to their report. Their visits were made without previous announcement and practically every room visited was filled with pupils, although several were reported absent. In many cases rooms were from 20 to 25 per cent overcrowded. One room in the high school building contained approximately 100 per cent too many pupils."

Bean Contends Need Judge George R. Bean, the committee member who contended a high school building is now urgently needed, said, when asked about the report, "The needs are concerned. We need more room right now. The schools are crowded, some even holding half day sessions in order to take care of all pupils. We've got more congestion of little children around the high school. They are made to walk more than a mile to the Dupre and K. Carter schools; many going past the high school to get to these other buildings."

"My suggestion is to let the lower grades be put in the high school building and another high school be built, to relieve this serious condition. We can't get our buildings erected any quicker than we need them. And we can't build another high school any sooner than it is needed. We need it now. I agree with the committee in every other respect, only I think we should not put off building the high school at all."

Among the topics to be discussed by the speaker will be advertising, co-operation between merchants, retail salesmanship, buying store service, stock turn and general store management.
