HOME TOWN

Talk

Under our system of government, a man accused has the right to be faced by his accusers at the earliest possible and practical time. This can be a long, drawn-out procedure at times. But the trial we heard about the other day takes the prize for speed.

Two Winters men took advantage of the Memorial Day holiday last Thursday by going fishing at Oak Creek Lake. Now there seems to be a Game Warden over there who is very interested in becoming acquainted with all fishermen, and not trusting to the memory of everyone he meets, insists on seeing their fishing licenses — for identification, you know. Well, it seems one of our friends had no fishing license, and this would naturally make any well-mannered Game Warden unhappy.

Now this Game Warden, was, in addition to his other attributes, conservative, and expressed his regret that he had only one ticket left, and wanted to save it. He explained to his newly-found friend that there was a Justice of the Peace also at the lake, fishing, and would he like to step over and make his acquaintance. Agreed all around, so everyone went over to meet the J. P.

The situation was explained to Hizzoner, and court was convened, right there on the scenic banks of Oak Creek Lake. We're told the Judge continued his fishing while court was in session. They say the session went something like this: "For fishing without a license, fine will be $10.00," the Judge pronounced, and cast his line into the water, "and costs," he reeled in, "costs will be," he cast again, "$15.50." Reels in. "Next case!"

Don't know how many fish our Winters friends caught, but they say the Judge caught his limit!

There are not many shade trees up there, but more will grow, given a little time. And it's a job to keep the grass closely clipped, with all the rain lately. There is one of the best swimming pools in this part of Texas; and there is a site up there that will make a very beautiful park. Helping to get it started and keep it going, the four lumber yards have pitched in to do their part. Alfrey Lumber Co., Winters Lumber Co., Higginbotham Lumber Co., and Crouch Lumber Co., have all built and installed picnic tables and benches at the city park.

It's been a little cool for swimming most days since the pool opened a couple of weeks ago, and there has been little weather suitable for picnics. But summer will hit its stride one of these days soon; the park and pool personnel invite you up for a little enjoyment and relaxation.

Out on our front walk are half-dozen or so little white footprints. They are about four or five inches long, and they start at the edge of the grass and disappear into nothingness. We like to think they were made by some of the tykes in the neighborhood who accidentally on purpose stepped in some wet white paint. We're thinking of lining all the kids up, and matching feet to the white prints; we want to find out how those prints can end so suddenly in the middle of the walk. If those footprints are the take-off spot for a running broad jump, we've got some Olympic material somewhere on this block.

Just talking to Joe Irvin, City Councilman who heads the sanitary department of the City of Winters. He says he has received numerous calls recently from irate citizens who complain that garbage and trash has not been collected regularly in some places in town. Joe went on to say that in many instances, alleys are in such condition due to the heavy rains that trucks cannot make the regular routes. However, he said, in sections of town where alleys are in good shape if people will put their trash and garbage cans on the front street on the regular collection days, they will be picked up.

A fellow we know says that if this rain keeps up, this country (Continued on Page Eight)

D. S. Moore Observes His 90th Birthday At Home Here Tues.

Daniel Spurgeon Moore, resident of Rannels County for 48 years, observed his 90th birthday with Open House Tuesday at his home here. Several members of his family were present for the occasion and a number of friends and relatives called during the afternoon.

A special feature of the day was a visit from a brother, Hilliard Moore, of Calton, Calif., who is 80 years old. It was the first time in forty-eight years that the two brothers had been together. They have a sister, Mrs. Matilda Holamon of Benton, Ark., who is in her late 80's.

Refreshments were served from a linen laid table which was centered with an arrangement of daisies. The birthday cake, a white four-tiered square, was decorated with red confection roses and white bells. Mrs. Truett Billups served the cake and Mrs. N. A. Stanfield ladeled punch.

Mr. Moore was born in Cherokee County, Georgia, June 4, 1867. At the age of three he moved with his parents, three brothers and two sisters to Salina County, Arkansas. The trip was made in wagons pulled by oxen and required six weeks to cover the distance of 600 miles.

His father filed on some government land which became their homestead and there he grew to manhood.

At the age of 15, he had attended four short summer school terms, and then a new district was created and a school house built in the country. He kept attending school at every opportunity and when he was 23, he took a successful examination and received a first-grade certificate. He taught his first school in the summer of 1890. After teaching several terms he decided he had not achieved the efficiency he thought a teacher should have, so he gave it up and in 1892 returned to Georgia.

He entered Rhinehardt Normal College at Waleska and due to the influence of a cousin, the late Dr. R. M. Moore, he took up the study of medicine in addition to his other work. He made rapid (Continued on Page Eight)

Alma Spill Wins Cash Award In Essay Contest

Alma Spill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Spill, was the winner in the "Litterbug" essay contest sponsored recently by the Winters Garden Club with her essay entitled "The Breath of Spring." She was presented a cash award of $15.00. Below we are printing the essay:

"Spring is here at last, and the beauty and wonder of nature is once again being revealed in all her glory. Grass is becoming greener, due to the moisture we have had. Myriads of flowers and budding trees are blossoming with a splendor which only the Creator can give.

"In our town, I think the people are becoming more civic-minded than they have been in the past. They are being encouraged by the civic promoters to assist nature in the beautification of our city.

"Taking care of our vacant lots is one of our foremost problems. They need to be kept trimmed and free of debris and other rubbish.

"Each person, individually, can help make this town a prettier and better place to live, just by picking up a scrap of paper and placing it in the proper receptacle. The beautification of Winters and our nation depends upon all its citizens, not just a few in each neighborhood.

"More trees and shrubs should be planted and encouraged to thrive along the streets. Each side of the highway should be kept clear of garbage, cans, paper, particles of food and other litter.

"Wild flowers and trees should be encouraged to grow in the ditches, vacant lots, and pastures around Winters. This would add much to the general appearance of our town.

"Not only should the beauty of Nature be seen to make our town beautiful but it also needs the peace of God lying over it. This is what makes a town really beautiful.

"The little church at the end of the lane is glowing in Nature's wonders. The open doors are beckoning us to come in. We enter the small chapel and behold flowers of many beautiful hues. The scene is completed as the chimes softly begin to toll the old, favorite hymn, "Beautiful Savior, King of Creation..."

Winters Granted Additional Water Use From City Lake By Water Board

Increased appropriation of water for municipal purposes was granted the City of Winters from the Elm Creek Reservoir by the State Board of Water Engineers in session at Austin Monday.

The new permit increases the appropriation to 1,166 acre feet per year from its present allocation of 566 acre feet.

Mayor George Poe told the board that the city has required more than its permit allowance for some time and that the water is available in its 2,600 acre foot reservoir. The reservoir has been full going into summer months even in the drought years, he said.

The only protest was a written one from the Lakeside Irrigation Co. of Eagle Lake, claiming there were no unappropriated waters in the Colorado River or its tributaries. Board Chairman R. M. Dixon said he saw no reason for the protest.

Mayor George Poe and Councilman Joe Irvin were in Austin the first of the week to attend the hearing.

LL Play To Begin Monday

Little League baseball teams of the Winters area will begin their season in earnest Monday afternoon when two games will be played. The Giants will meet the Indians in initial seasonal combat on the Winters Little League diamond Monday afternoon, and the Lawn Cubs will invade Wingate to play the Red Sox.

On Tuesday afternoon, the Tuscola Tigers will come to Winters to take on the Dodgers, and the Drasco Pirates will attempt to sink the Yankees, at Wingate.

Thursday afternoon, the Winters Giants will travel to Wingate for play against the Red Sox.

Friday, two local teams, the Yankees and the Dodgers will do battle in the afternoon, and the Indians will play the Lawn Cubs in the first night game at the Little League field here. Also, on Friday, the Tuscola Tigers will go to Wingate to play the Drasco Pirates.

J. F. Richie, Chamber of Commerce Youth Recreation Committee head, has reported an increasing interest among Little League fans. Youngsters playing on the Little League teams will need the support of the entire community, he said, and baseball fans are urged to attend the games and boost their favorite teams.

Forty-Five FHA Girls Have Registered For Summer Projects

Forty-five Future Homemakers of America have registered for the summer homemaking projects, according to Miss Maughan and Mrs. Younger, homemaking advisors of Winters high school. These girls will receive one-half credit if they complete one hundred and twenty-five hours during the summer months.

The main project for the group is arranging the new homemaking cottage. Miss Maughan asked that all girls working with her to report to the homemaking cottage on June 10, 11, or 12 to help prepare for open house of the cottage which will be held June 15. The girls may work from 9 to 11 a. m. or 2 to 4 p. m. on any of the above dates.

Vacation Bible School At Baptist Church To Close Friday at 8

Mrs. Lee Kimbrough and daughter, Nancy of Muleshoe, are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Vaughan.

Winters is all set to host the eleventh annual colorful Showdeo which opens Thursday, June 13, with a big downtown parade for a three-day performance of a rollicking, rip-snorting Western show staged at Blizzard Field. Starting time for Thursday, Friday and Saturday night shows will be promptly at 8 o'clock.

Opening event of the three-day Western carnival will be the giant street parade through downtown Winters at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon and a repeat parade will be staged on Saturday afternoon at the same hour. A colorful mass of floats, horses and riders, and other entries will be featured as well as marching bands.

Floyd Grant, chairman of the rodeo parade, has announced the cash prizes for entries in the parade in two divisions—club and churches, first, $35.00; second, $25.00, third, $15.00, and fourth, $5.00. Trophies for riding clubs on display at the Blossom Shop will be given to the clubs for first and second winners. Prizes will also be given for the most representative cowboy and cowgirl.

Several organizations have signified their intention of entering floats in the parade. Replies to invitations sent out to area riding clubs have been received and the Coleman Rodeo Association has definitely stated they will have an entry in the parade.

Seven events are to be featured in the nightly shows, in addition to the grand entry, include bareback bronc riding, jackpot calf roping, wild cow milking, girls' event (cloverleaf race), saddle bronc riding and bull riding. Deadline for entries in the various events is noon, June 13.

A calf scramble will be one of the feature events on Saturday night, and entry in the contest will not interfere with the amateur standing of the boys, according to Showdeo officials. Boys 14 years of age and under will be eligible to enter the calf scramble. The boy who wins will feed the calf and bring it back next year for showing.

Davidson Gin will furnish the calf which will be given away in the scramble on Saturday night.

Due to the increased number of contestants in the area, the entry fees for bareback bronc, saddle bronc and bull riding has been changed from $15.00 to $10.00. Each contestant will get one head of stock and each night of the rodeo will be a go-round with no average money.

Lloyd and Sandy Woodley, two names which have vaulted into the limelight of Texas Rodeodom, will have corralled their most spirited cayuses and oneriest bulls to hand the top-flight amateur contestants a genuinely rough time as they engage in combat at the Blizzard Field arena. The Woodleys will produce the show, and will keep it clicking at a fast-moving pace.

Doug Greathouse of Graham, will be the announcer for the rodeo, for the third time in Winters.

The Winters Roundup Association, Inc., producers of the Showdeo, for the past 10 years, have established themselves solidly with the rodeo fans and are moving this year confidently, exerting every effort to provide an even bigger and better show than ever before.

John W. Norman is president of the Winters Roundup Association; Ralph Lloyd, vice president; W. H. Craven, secretary-treasurer; directors, George R. Hill, J. W. Bahlman, Harry Herman, Floyd Grant, E. E. Thor-meyer, B. G. Owens, Fred Young.

Next week has been designated as "Western Week" and citizens are asked to don ranch-style attire and to advertise and boost the Showdeo.

More Profit For Pay-As-You-Go Poultry Producers

It pays to take chances with broilers. Lower chick and feed costs for cash-operating producers usually adds up to about $30 per thousand birds more than credit grower profits.

Credit has made its mark in poultry production, however. Agricultural Economist Harley Bebout says feed manufacturers and dealers have shaped several new ideas in broiler development by providing much required production and market financing. Investment capital is now obtained principally from individuals and lumber companies, he says, while most operating capital is supplied by feed dealers.

Broiler production is an expensive business compared to other farm enterprises. Bebout figures about 75 cents a square foot is needed to construct and equip a 6,000-bird-capacity broiler house. Operating capital by market time would tack on an additional 60 cents a bird.

Still, Texas has experienced a seven-fold increase in broiler production since 1946. Real estate security is generally given for broiler house costs and a grower's birds are good for production cost security. Operating capital such as chicks and feed are paid for in the dealer mark-up, Bebout explained, assisted slightly by financing charges.

Producers now tend to shift loss risk to dealers by operating under a "no-loss" or "guaranteed income" plan during low broiler price periods. Dealers charge more or widen margins on chicks and feed in proportion to amount of risk involved.

Complete details of Bebout's survey concerning need, sources and terms of credit used by Texas broiler producers are available from the Agricultural Information Office at College Station. Ask for Bulletin 849.

Future For Goats In Texas Promising

The future looks pretty good for Texas goat producers. Many farmers and ranchers are now combining sheep, cattle and goats on the same range and getting better weight gains with higher monetary returns.

Selection of heavier-fleeced bucks for breeding herds has increased the average mohair clip three-fourths of a pound in 12 years, says Agricultural Economist John McNeely. Value of 1955 mohair, estimated at 13.6 million dollars, compared very well with the 19.9 million dollars for Texas wool.

Texas' goat supply is seasonal and most producers market culls and undesirables regardless of price at the time. There seems to be no short term production or marketing response to high or low prices. Farmers buy or sell goats because of range conditions and mohair price. Packers vary purchases with the spread between goat prices and canner and cutter cows.

About 47 percent of Texas producers sell some goats to neighbors or individual buyers, but over half the total annual volume passes through stockyards and auctions. About 27 percent market goats through livestock auctions and approximately 20 percent use the Union Stockyards in San Antonio. Marketing season starts in March and April and is relatively steady through July, but a larger volume is marketed in August, September and October.

Spanish goats are produced for meat, brush control or slaughter and stocker sales. Angora goats are raised primarily for the production and sale of mohair, but are also useful for brush control and eventually are sold for slaughter.

Get in the fine-car swim at the low Ford price!

There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury. Ford is lowest priced* of the low-price three, yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!

To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for lowness, loveliness, or just plain good taste.

But stop inside. That's when you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality!

And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not? Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are. They'll stay that way.

And on long trips. For they're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the most leg room in Ford's field!

Fine cars are smooth—and that's another place Ford really shows its stuff! Ford delivers its famous V-8 power smooth as a whisper. That's because only Ford takes the pains to electronically balance each engine while running under its own power. Not even the makers of the most expensive automobiles go this far to bring you super-smooth performance.

Ford rides fine-car smooth and quiet, too. You can thank the new "Inner Ford" for that. Ford, for instance, has a swept-back front suspension that actually "rolls with the punch" of every road bump.

Ford's rear springs automatically adjust to give the right ride for every road. And Ford keeps things quiet, with the most sound insulation in its field.

Fine cars are built to stay solid. So's Ford!

Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many roof-strengthening beams. Expensive cars aren't built of thicker body steel or with sounder engineering skill. Then, of course, in Ford you can have all the power assists and other conveniences found in fine cars. And they cost far less in Ford. Yes sir! In every feature, every part, Ford is the fine car at half the fine-car price. Come in and see!

State Capitol Highlights:

Gov. Daniels Will Call Legislature Back For Special Session Next Fall

By Vern Stanford
Texas Press Association

Austin — Fifty-fifth Legislators will have a shorter-than-usual "vacation." Gov. Price Daniel says he will call them back, probably about October, for a special session.

Final score showed 47 out of 51, or better than 90 per cent, of the governor's recommended bills passed in the regular session. But the missing 10 per cent are vital, says Daniel. He still wants 1 His law enforcement commission, a sort of statewide grand jury to investigate official misconduct. 2 A lobbyist registration act, registration of persons who represent others before state agencies and possibly other "better government" bills previously advocated. 3 A state plan for buying water storage space in federal reservoirs. A constitutional amendment to do this died in the past session. Since amendments cannot be considered in a special session, the governor said he is working on a statutory plan -- possibly the creation of a statewide water district with authority to issue bonds and levy taxes.

4 Action on "other matters that may arise" after the Travis County jury reports. Jury is looking into any irregularities that might have caused the ICT Insurance Co. collapse and alleged payoffs to legislators by the Texas Naturopathic Association.

So, instead of the usual post-session lull, the Capitol faces a summer of suspense followed by a frenzied fall.

NEW JURY AT WORK Texas has generated more troubles than one grand jury could see to in two months. Hence, a brand new Travis County jury begins this week where the old one left off after digging away all during April and May.

Its study of ICT's past and naturopathic legislation will probably last all summer.

A Dallas grand jury already has indicted BenJack Cage, onetime ICT manager, on charges of theft and embezzlement. Authorities are trying to get him returned from South American so he can be tried.

WHO, WHAT, WHERE AND WHEN? Texas' off-again, on-again Insurance Commission is still a prime source of speculation.

Past legislature passed laws abolishing the old board and enabling the governor to appoint new members. It also directed the commission to move within three years from its leased office quarters into a building to be erected with insurance tax revenue. And it passed dozens of new restrictive insurance laws for the new commission to administer.

Old board members Mark Wentz and John Osorio promptly resigned. But Gov. Daniel refused to accept their resignations. He said they'd have to stay on until their successors were named.

Then Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled the insurance tax revenue couldn't be used for a new building. It goes into the general revenue fund and is already earmarked for other things, he pointed out.

And, until the new commission gets going, insurance men over the state are uncertain as to how to comply in detail with some of the new laws.

ETHICS QUANDARY Just who should do what to comply with the new code ethics is still being discussed in the Capitol.

Some 163 legislators and state officials have given the secretary of state statements about their connections with business under state regulation. Assets ranged from Cuban oil companies to small town dry goods stores.

Sec'y of State Zollie Steakly said failure to file such a statement could be grounds for removal from office, but that he didn't have authority to enforce it. Gov. Daniel said he saw no need for his filing, since the constitution prohibits a governor's serving as officer or director of a corporation under state regulation.

But, he suggested the secretary of state might ask for an attorney general's ruling to clear up other points about the law.

BONDS GO BEGGING First sale of the second $100,000,000 issue of Texas veterans land program bonds attracted no takers.

In today's "tight money" market the constitutionally-prescribed 3 per cent interest doesn't lure buyers, said Land Commissioner Earl Rudder.

He said the bonds would not be offered again until conditions improve.

CROPS LAG After years of longing for water, most Texas farmers now are trying to "recover" from the rains.

State Agriculture Commr. John White estimates flood damage to crops at $50,000,000 or more. Cotton planting deadlines had to be extended by the state office because farmers were delayed in ploughing their wet fields. Even so, some crop loss was foreseen from inability to plant.

In some areas off North Texas small grains were reported hurt by too much water. But dryland cotton farmers in South Texas said they could use a little more moisture.

Texas already has received more rain in the first five months of 1957 than in the entire year of 1956. Sample totals for '57: Dallas 36 inches; Austin, 24 inches; San Antonio, 19 inches; Greenville, 44 inches.

NEW BUILDING SLATED.—From four to six new buildings are to go up soon, moving toward the eventual creation of a "state government center" clustered around the Capitol. In the offing are: 1 A State Court Building, now under construction, to cost about $3,750,000. 2 A State Office Building, for which contracts have been let and site-clearing begun, to cost about $4,000,000. 3 A Central Power Building to furnish heat and air conditioning for the Capitol and other buildings. Authorized by Legislature with directive that it can be ready by October, 1958. 4 A State Archives and Library Building for which Legislature appropriated $2,500,000. 5 A Texas Employment Commission Building and an Insurance Commission Building. Lawmakers told each to move from rented quarters, but money for new buildings is not immediately available.

SHORT SHORTS—June will see a rise in the number of jobs holders in Texas, despite layoffs from schools endings, predicts the Tex-

Egg Price Situation Due To Improve

Egg production in Texas has dropped only slightly during recent months while total production in the nation was up by two percent. Too, points out Extension Economist John G. McHaney, stored holdings for all kinds of eggs on April 30 were greater than on the same date a year ago.

Cold storage holdings on April 1, 1957 were below the five-year average with the exception of as Employment Commission. More jobs in industry will make up the difference. . . . Despite overcrowding, morale of Texas prison inmates is good -- no longer "hopeless and forlorn" -- reported Pardons and Paroles Board members after a week-long tour. More space is due as a result of a $3,500,000 appropriation last session.

The Winters Enterprise, Winters, Texas, Friday, June 7, 1957

shell eggs which were 8.6 percent above the average. But, points out McHaney, 88.9 percent more shell eggs were in storage in April 1957 than a year ago.

The outlook for improved prices in the months ahead is good, says the economist. Commercial hatchery output of egg-type chicks in Texas for the first four months of 1957 was 23 percent below the output for 1956. In the nation, the drop was 21 percent for the same period and eggs in incubators on May 1 number 7 percent fewer than a year ago.

Based on this background, McHaney says, it is reasonable to expect a decrease in production with a corresponding increase in price. Prices, he adds, should be much stronger during the latter part of 1957 and the first four months of 1958.

Because of economic stress in the broiler industry, many cases of hatching eggs for broiler purposes may be switched into the channels of trade. This would increase the supply of market eggs and could influence future prices. The extent to which this may happen will depend upon the demand for broiler hatching eggs. Currently, broiler hatchings and placements in the nation are running ahead of the 1956 figures, says McHaney.

Crews

Rev. C. B. Stanley, manager of Texas Baptist Orphanage, and three girls from the Orphanage, were guests of Crews Baptist Church Sunday, in an all-day meeting. The girls rendered a musical program in the morning and also in the afternoon when the District Baptist Training Service held its meeting in the local church. Rev. Ted Stanley, assistant manager of the Orphanage, was in the afternoon services.

Daily Vacation Bible School closed with commencement exercises at the Baptist Church Friday evening. There was an average daily attendance of 25.

Services at the Methodist Church Sunday were the last to be held before the pastor goes to Waco for annual conference. Rev. Bill Reynolds is the present pastor. After the morning services, a covered dish luncheon was served in the church annex. Sorry Mrs. Reynolds and children were unable to attend due to inclement weather.

Vacation Bible School that was held at Hopewell Baptist Church closed Friday. They were assisted by their pastor, Rev. Connor and wife of Blackwell.

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Parker and son Mike returned from a visit with their parents at Carthage. Their elder son Dale remained for a longer visit.

Mrs. Effie Dietz accompanied her daughter, Ophelia and several other girls of the Sub Deb Club of Winters to New Braunfels for a vacation.

Rev. and Mrs. Bill Reynolds and children of Talpa were dinner guests of the W. C. Mathis family last Wednesday.

Miss Claudine Berry has gone to Fort Worth where she has accepted a position as secretary to a doctor in the Veterans Hospital. Her brother, Charles and family have also moved to Fort Worth and he has employment with the Fort Worth Press newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Berry Sr. visited their children at Fort Worth last week and on Sunday attended services at the church where Rev. Melvin Prather is pastor. The Prathers are moving to Roswell, N. M., where he will be assistant pastor of the Methodist Church there. They were sent out there in hopes the climate would be beneficial for their son Phillip.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Brevard and boys of Pampa spent the weekend here visiting in the home of his father, J. P. Brevard, and other relatives.

Rev. A. J. Parker and Chester McBeth attended district Brotherhood at Northside Baptist Church in Santa Anna Monday evening.

Visitors at the Methodist Church Sunday morning were Benny Hambright of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Faubion of Lubbock.

Mrs. R. E. Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. Chester McBeth and Lyndon attended graduation exercises of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene Monday. Mrs. Burns' son Maurice King, received his Bachelor of Arts degree.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Fisher and Patsy and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher attended a reunion of relatives at Buchanan Dam over the weekend. They reported that the group caught lots of fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Carter and family of Abilene visited his mother, Mrs. W. H. Schwartz and family Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Phipps and Mrs. Chester McBeth visited Mrs. Phipps' brother, Luther Walden, in Shannon Hospital in San Angelo Thursday. Mr. Walden is recovering from surgery.

Sympathy is extended to the relatives of Miss Marilyn Jones

First SS Disability Checks To Be Delivered In August

More than one hundred thousand severely disabled people in communities all over the Nation will receive their first social security disability insurance checks in August, announced Floyd B. Ellington, district manager of the San Angelo social security office today. But many other eligible disabled workers 50 to 65 years of age, some of them no doubt living in this area, have so far failed to make application to their social security offices. Those who have been disabled for work for a long time must apply before June 30. Mr. Ellington pointed out, or they will lose their rights to these new benefits.

Any severely disabled person who has worked under social security for at least five years and who has been disabled for six months or more should get in touch with his social security office right away, the social security district manager said. If he is between 50 and 65 years of age, he may be eligible for monthly disability insurance benefits. If he is under 50, he may be eligible to have his social security record frozen to protect his future right to disability payments, and also his and his family's rights to old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

"Unfortunately there is a lot of misunderstanding, Ellington said, as to how disabled a worker has to be to get social security disability insurance benefits or to have his social security record frozen. The rules in the social security law for deciding whether a person is 'disabled' are different from the rules in some other Government and private disability programs. 'To be found 'disabled' under the social security law, he said, a worker must have a disability which, in the words of the law, makes him 'unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity.' It must be the kind of physical or mental condition which shows up in the medical evidence, including his doctor's report, hospital reports, or special tests, and it must have lasted for at least six months and be expected to continue for a long and indefinite time.

In general, he said, "substantial gainful activity" means the performance of a substantial amount of work with reasonable regularity in employment or self-employment. A person does not have to be completely helpless to qualify under the social security disability provisions, Mr. Ellington emphasized. Consideration is given to all of the facts in the individual's situation both medical and nonmedical.

First consideration is, of course given to the severity of his condition as shown by the medical evidence. This evidence must show that the person has a condition which makes him unable to perform significant functions such as moving about, handling objects, hearing, speaking, understanding, or reasoning, so that he cannot with his training, education and work experience engage in any kind of substantial activity.

A Masterpiece in the Flower Kingdom

The orchid is a flower of great beauty! It is recognized by horticulturists as a masterpiece in the flower kingdom, and reaches maturity only after seven years cultivation.

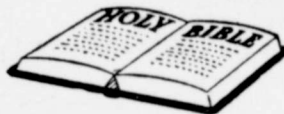

Physical beauty is the only requirement the orchid must fulfill to assume its place in the world. It is otherwise a soulless botanical specimen.

The botanist who cultivated this flower also possessed a son, and as the orchid approached maturity so also grew the child. The flower and the child were the objects of his greatest pride and affection. While his success with the orchid was certain, he failed in the greatest responsibility of his life—the training of his son.

The father's failure was caused by his inability to see the all important difference between the soulless flower and the immortal soul of his son. He thought only of the physical and mental prowess of his boy and thus neglected the child's greatest potential heritage—spiritual development. He had forgotten there was a Church! He had forgotten God!

The Church offers guidance and help to parents in the training of their children. Every parent and every child needs the sustaining strength of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Annual 4-H Roundup At A & M June 11-13

It's roundup time in Texas, the 4-H kind that is. On June 11-13 4-H club members from all sections of the state will be on the Texas A & M College campus for their annual meeting. The big day will be the 12th when state winners will be determined in 21 different judging and team demonstration contests.

Floyd Lunch, state 4-H leader, says that each county may send two boy and girl delegates and one adult man and woman who will act as chaperons. In addition, members of district winning teams who will participate in the state finals may attend. Total attendance, according to Lunch, should approximate 2,000.

Registration is scheduled from 1 to 6 p. m. on June 11 with the first general assembly set for 8 p. m. Extension Director G. G. Gibson will be the keynote speaker. The Share-The-Fun Festival will be presented as a part of the opening night program.

On Wednesday, delegates and their leaders will participate in a general assembly and later in discussion groups developing ideas for use in launching the People to People Program among the 4-H clubs of the state. All judging and team demonstration team members will be vying for state honors and the right in several instances to represent Texas in national contests.

The Chulwagone Barbecue, sponsored by the Texas 4-H Recognition Committee, will follow the completion of all contests. The final program will be held in the G. Rollie White Coliseum following the barbecue and will feature Chancellor M. T. Harrington of the A. & M. College System; entertainment provided by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation and the Heart H by 4-H club members.

Contract For 4.2 Miles of Highway Let At Austin

Contract for the construction of 4.2 miles on U. S. Highway 67 in Rannels County has been awarded to a San Angelo firm, it was announced in Austin this week by the State Highway Commission.

Strain Brothers, Inc., submitted the low bid of $336,108.89 on the project. Construction of grading, base, and asphaltic concrete pavement from FM 2133 near Ballinger, southwest 4.2 miles is expected to take 220 working days, according to J. A. Snell, District Highway Engineer at San Angelo. The awarding of the contract to this firm is subject to the concurrence of the Bureau of Public Roads.

W. B. Hoppe, resident engineer at Ballinger, will be in active charge of the project while under construction.

This work will start .8 of a mile west of the Colorado River at Ballinger and run for 4.2 miles. This makes an even 5 miles of four-lane highway west of Ballinger now under contract. The first .8 of a mile was included in the contract for the bridge across the Colorado River at Ballinger.

A work order on the new job is expected within a short time and all of that right-of-way has been secured and in most cases fences have been set back so no time will be lost when work is started.

No new information has been received on when steel will be available for the bridge. When shipments are guaranteed a date will be announced for the tearing down of the old bridge and the opening of the detour around Ballinger over Highway 83 and back to 67 over a county road which will be surfaced for the extra traffic.

Good progress is being made on the job east of Ballinger on Highway 67, however, much work is yet to be done on this contract.

Judge W. H. Rumpy stated that the bridge across Oak Creek on the Winters-Bronte highway was due to be opened to traffic in another ten days. Some of the progress there has been delayed by recent rains and high water. The new bridge is about 125 feet in length and is built of all steel and concrete. Surfacing of the highway west of this structure was completed last September.

Announcement was also made that the right-of-way on Farm-to-market Road No. 2405 from Winters to Drasco has been purchased and a new contract for that 8 miles of paving will be let in July. The new road will leave Highway 83 at the old Winters lake just northwest of the city limits.

Lutheran WMS Held Regular Program At The Church Thursday

Regular monthly meeting of the Lutheran Missionary Society was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the parlor of the St. John's Lutheran Church. Mrs. H. L. Frick was program chairman for the month.

The devotional was led by Mrs. A. W. Stocker and the Junior Lutherans presented a playlet "Let Them Also Serve." The birthday number was sung by the group.

It was decided to send $10.00 to the Mexican Mission at Edinburg and Mrs. Robert Gerhart presented five membership pins.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Lawrence Jacob, Mrs. Carl Wessels and Mrs. Walter Kraatz.

There are two things to aim at in life — first, to get what you want, and after that, to enjoy it. Only the wisest achieve the last.

"We Were Amazed"

Says CAR LIFE,
 The Family Auto Magazine

We were amazed as we drove the Special four-door hardtop, to find that an automobile could be completely changed yet retain so much of its former appearance and character. The 1957 models have all the familiar, solid Buick virtues.

THE ABOVE brief clipping tells you worlds about the '57 Buick.

It tells you we went all out to make this car completely new—yet we didn't sacrifice a single Buick virtue.

So you still get that unmistakable Buick styling.

You still get that big-car room and comfort and that solid Buick quality.

But you also get so complete a change in the vitals of this car that the driving of it is a wondrous new experience.

You get a brilliant brand of performance that's different from anything else that goes on four wheels.

Words won't describe it. Telling you there's an all-new engine, an instant new Dynaflo,* a completely new power train—none of that will convey this news to you.

What you have to do is get in this car and drive it. Drive it around the block, through town, out on the highway. Actually feel what happens when you press the gas pedal, turn the steering wheel, touch those powerful new brakes.

Then—and not till then—will you know why folks call this "the dream car to drive."

The best advice we can give you, by far, is this: Ask your dealer for a trial run today.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Buzzer is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

"Department Store Clerks Should Wear Skates, Dress Uniformly"

Babson Park, Mass. — One of the most helpful new movements today is a Club of One Thousand Members who banded themselves together to help sell merchandise. They believe that the consumer is the ultimate determining factor in making business good or bad, and in regulating employment. Prosperity or depression depends not wholly on Washington or the nation's bankers, advertising agencies, or even manufacturers. The humble consumer of every city, town, and country crossroad also has the future of America business in his or her hands.

Results Of Advertising Can Be Multiplied 300%

American manufacturers are today spending billions to advertise their products in magazines, newspapers, and through radio and TV. These most attractive advertisements are read or heard by millions, usually in the evening or during week-ends. The readers, and especially the followers of radio and TV, are not told the nearest store where they can quickly see, feel, and buy the product advertised.

These One Thousand Club members, most of them living in humble homes, and many disabled, have joined forces to tell consumers by telephone the name of the retailer they should immediately contact. They report to the manufacturer of his representative the name of the prospect making the inquiry. These One Thousand Club Members in one thousand cities, covering eighty percent of the consumers in 10,000 communities, will operate under the name of UNITED INFORMATION SERVICE. This name will be listed in one thousand telephone directories.

Retail Clerks Must Wake Up

This humble group, however, is not satisfied with the work above described. They insist that consumers who read the advertisements and listen to the radio and especially TV, are entitled to better service at stores. The Club Members have found that, after they get people into the stores, they do not get proper attention. Although their study has not been completed, yet they have some definite suggestions with which to start. First, they are convinced that the owner of the store and each clerk should have some distinctive coat of the same color. The owner could have a star on his sleeve, and the clerks could have bars to indicate their years of service. The One Thousand Club Members would like to get all store personnel to adopt a certain shade of orange or crimson to distinguish them quickly from customers. This would apply to stores with only one clerk or many clerks.

A second "must" in the case of large stores — especially the leading "Dime Stores," and all others using self-service — there should be a number hanging over each counter, with a bell. This bell would be for customers to ring so they could ask for help and direction to counters carrying the articles they desire to buy. The Club Members are certain that these bells would materially increase sales in all stores and that they will become a necessity in the new large stores being built in shopping centers.

Use Of Roller Skates

I will not blame this final thought on the Members of the One Thousand Club, but will take the responsibility for it myself. It is this, — that clerks in large stores should wear roller skates. Soon after birth the baby has a ride in an automobile and uses it more every year until death. The entire nation is going to wheels. Most retail clerks come to the store where they work either in an automobile or on a bicycle. They know it saves time and is more efficient. Why then do they return to the "horse and buggy" era and depend upon walking as soon as they enter the retail store at which they work? I am convinced that roller skating is coming back into general use.

I forecast that not only will we see clerks in stores on roller skates, but also a majority of pedestrians on roller skates on sidewalks. Expenses of retailers are constantly advancing. The continual marking up of retail prices ultimately retards business. Clerks must do more to help retailers make a fair profit, or the stores will close and they will be out of a job. This means that clerks must do more to promote sales, and especially speed up their travels about the store. The entire nation is going on wheels from babyhood through life. This movement must be capitalized by retailers. However, please do not blame this last suggestion on the Club Of One Thousand.

Home Town Talk--

is going to the ducks.

For some years now we've carried a small fire extinguisher in the car, and for the first time last Friday afternoon had a chance to use it. Bill Bean and Kenneth Cook were working on the carburetor of a car a couple of houses up, and suddenly someone yelled that they had a nice fire going under the hood of the car. We grabbed the little jewel of an extinguisher, and made a 100-yard broken field run up there. (Made the trip across two freshly plowed lawns, ignoring a smooth side-walk. Like to do things the hard way.)

On the trip across the plowed ground, we could just see the headlines lauding our fast run and quick thinking that saved the day! Skidded to a halt in front of the blazing car, pointed the extinguisher at the blaze, and turned the nozzle. Ffffffftttt! The darn thing fizzled out!

Meanwhile, Bill Bean had grabbed a garden hose and was at work on the blaze, and finally got it put out, with minor damage done.

Crestfallen, we stepped back and examined the fire extinguisher. Had been holding the thing UPSIDE DOWN! Which goes to show that it pays to read operating instructions well in advance!

progress but adverse conditions caused him to abandon that branch of study.

Mr. Moore was married June 16, 1895 to Mary Frances White and in 1898 the couple with their two children again moved to Benton, Arkansas, where they lived for eight years. While farming to make a living for himself and his family he also took a correspondence course in civil engineering, but again circumstances prevented him from finishing the course. Due to ill health he was forced to leave Arkansas.

In 1907 he moved his family to Southwestern Oklahoma, which was Indian Territory, and two years later to Runnels County, Texas. By that time the number of children had increased to 8.

Mr. Moore engaged in farming until 1926, when he retired and moved to Winters. While farming he found relaxation in reading, especially history, and acquired a vast knowledge of American and European history.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1945. Mrs. Moore passed away February 21, 1948. The seven children who are living are Mrs. May Bogard, Plainview; Mrs. G. M. Beard, Ballinger; Mrs. W. H. Dean, Hamlin; Mrs. B. J. Vinyard, Del Rio; and Mrs. Thomas Egan of Ballinger; two sons, Lamar H. Moore of Abilene and Dan S. Moore, Jr. of Del Rio. The eldest daughter, Mrs. Maud England, died in 1938. He has 23 grandchildren and 23 great grandchildren.

CORRECTION

An incorrect statement appeared in an item in The Enterprise issue of May 24, when Bobby Penny, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Penny, was given credit for being the "first" FFA student to become an American Farmer, the highest national honor which can be bestowed on a Future Farmer. The incorrect statement was called to our attention when Kirby Robinson of Route 3, Winters, brought a copy of an item which appeared in The Enterprise in 1943, which stated that his son, Morris Robinson, had been awarded the American Farmer Degree. This degree was awarded during the administration of Wallace Martin, now deceased, V. A. teacher in the Winters Schools at that time.

R. A. Hanson, local FFA advisor at the present time, had no records of the honor bestowed on Morris Robinson and a list of chapters producing American Farmers from 1928-55, which was printed for the 28th annual FFA convention held last year, did not list any American Farmers from Winters. Naturally, it was assumed that Bobby Penny was the first Winters boy to receive the National Honor.

Congratulations are still in order to Bobby Penny for being the second Winters boy to receive the highest National Honor given in the FFA organization.

ATTENDED WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Guy of Wingate accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Woodrow McHugh and children to Iraan where they attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Doreen Truesdell to Johnny Scott. Rev. McHugh officiated for the wedding ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Guy of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Minor also attended the wedding.

Winters HD Club Met Wednesday At Club House

Winters Home Demonstration Club met at the club house Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. O. V. Cooper, president, presiding. Mrs. Agnes Lawrence read the club prayer and roll call was answered by a favorite Bible quotation.

Mrs. Jim Edwards read the minutes, Mrs. J. D. Vinson gave the treasurer's report and Mrs. R. W. Balke gave the council report.

An interesting program on juvenile delinquency was presented by Mrs. R. W. Babston. Mrs. Agnes Lawrence, Mrs. Glenn Eager, Mrs. Bill Proctor and Mrs. R. W. Balke.

Mrs. J. C. Jarrell presented an interesting program on civil defense. She gave useful information on being prepared for tornadoes, a sudden atomic bomb attack, home accident and other sudden disasters.

She also demonstrated the making of a Buddy Burner, an emergency bed packet from a large bath towel and an emergency kimono made from a large bed sheet. Each member made a Buddy Burner.

If any club desires a civil defense program, they can get in contact with Mrs. Jarrell. She will be glad to give the program.

Refreshments of cake, jello and iced tea were served to the following members: Mrs. J. C. Jarrell, Mrs. Agnes Lawrence, Mrs. J. D. Vinson, Mrs. Glenn Eager, Mrs. O. V. Cooper, Mrs. Ralph Osborne, Mrs. John Shipman, Mrs. R. W. Balke, Mrs. Jim Edwards, Mrs. Annie Mayo, Mrs. Ed Voelker, Mrs. Bill Proctor, Mrs. James Huddleston, Mrs. R. W. Babston, Mrs. Emma Cole and Mrs. A. B. Spill.

Mrs. Balke and Mrs. Huddleston were hostesses.

CARD OF THANKS

My husband joins me in expressing our sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful during my stay in the hospital and since I have returned home.

MRS. DWAYNE WILLIAMS

Members of Two Pioneer Runnels County Families Married Sunday

At twilight Sunday evening, June 2, in the Wingate Methodist Church, at 7 o'clock, Pamela Dee Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dunn of Wingate, became the bride of Dwayne Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Williams of the Drasco community. Both young people are members of pioneer Runnels County families.

The Rev. Marvin James, pastor of the Novice Methodist Church, officiated, for the reading of the double ring ceremony, before the altar where the couple stood to repeat their vows. Branched candelabra with lighted cathedral tapers before a background of greenery was flanked by baskets of white gladiolus. An arrangement of daisies was on the piano and Marconi daisies on sprigs of greenery outlined the altar rail.

Tommy Mayhew played piano numbers preceding the ceremony and traditional wedding music. He also accompanied Miss Mote, who doubled as soloist and maid of honor.

The only attendants were Sherry Mote of Winters, maid of honor and J. N. Clark, Jr., best man. Ushers were Jerry Dunn, brother of the bride and Sedic A. Poe, Jr., of Abilene, cousin of the bride.

Candlelighters were Lavera Williams, sister of the groom and Barbara Poe of Abilene, cousin of the bride.

The maid of honor wore a pink princess style dress with white lace yoke and a pink half hat of flowers. Her corsage was blue carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length wedding gown of white nylon organza over taffeta styled with a fitted bodice and low boat-shaped neckline accented with a wide band of heavy imported lace with short shirred sleeves and full circular gathered skirt. Her small hat made of lace medallions matching the band of lace on the dress featured wide circular brim of net creating a picture hat effect. She carried a white orchid on top of a white Bible belonging to the Gail Diggers Club and used progressively by brides who are club members. For something old she carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table laid with white net extending to a wide ruffle at the bottom was over a green cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and the punch bowl was encircled with flowers. A lovely floral arrangement centered the table.

Mrs. Bill Miller served the cake and Mrs. Anita Collinsworth ladled punch. Judy Williams, sister of the groom was at the register.

For the short wedding trip the bride changed to a brown and white checked suit with white accessories.

The bride graduated from Winters High School with the class of this May. She was drum major her senior year, a member of the Quill and Scroll Club, the Future Homemakers, the Gail Diggers Club and served as president of the organization. She was elected class favorite her junior year, and served as assistant editor of the Gale.

The groom was a three year letterman on the Blizzard football team, a member of the Gale Staff, the Quill and Scroll club. He is also a graduate of the local school with the class of '57.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will make their home in Odessa where they will attend business school.

"The Young Sprouts" Made Field Trip To City Lake Thursday

Members of "The Young Sprouts" Junior Garden Club, made a trip to the Winters Lake Thursday afternoon to study and identify wild flowers, insects and which ones to protect. Mrs. Court Meeks, counselor and Mrs. O. D. Bradford, president of the Winters Garden Club, accompanied the group.

Among the wild flowers the group found in the area were Indian Paint Brush, wild verbena, petunia, Indian blanket, nigger heads and many others. Members were reminded of their wild flower pledge "That the world may be more beautiful for all, I promise not to pluck flowers nor destroy plants in the woods and fields where they are unprotected except as flourish abundantly, or in the nature of weeds. All my influence shall be used to protect wild flowers from destruction from others."

The group had a picnic before returning.

Let's Talk Livestock:

Livestock Trade Active, Prices Open Strongly

By TED GOULDY

Fort Worth.—All classes of livestock, except shorn old crop lambs opened the week with strong performances at Fort Worth Monday. In the cattle yards the offering was cleared early and fed steers and yearlings were steady to strong, as steers averaging 1,010 pounds from Wynnewood, Oklahoma, scored $24 and fed heifers from McClung Land & Cattle Co. of Johnson County, topped at $23. Cows sold on a stronger basis, and bulls were steady to 25 cents higher. Fat calves were strong to 50 cents or more higher as choice kinds brought $21 and $22 freely. Stocker and feeder cattle and calves again sold on a strong to 25 or 50 cents higher basis.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $20 to $24, and common and medium butcher sorts $13 to $19. Fat cows $12.50 to $16.00, and canners and cutters $8.50 to $12.50. Bulls sold from $11 to $15.75.

Good and choice slaughter calves cashed at $18.50 to $22, while plain and medium butcher kinds sold from $14 to $18. Cull and common sorts sold from $10 to $14. Good and choice stocker steer calves cashed at $19 to $23, and good steer yearlings sold from $21.50 down. Plainer stockers sold from $13 to $17.50. Stocker heifer calves ranged from $21 down. Stocker cows bulked at $10 to $14.

HOGS TOP AT $20.25. BEST PRICE HERE SINCE JAN.

Choice butcher hogs cashed at $20 and $20.25 at Fort Worth Monday, the best price since January, at which time the top was $20.50. This January price was the highest on hogs here since June 1955.

Medium grade butchers sold from $16 to $19. Sows sold from $15 to $17.50, and stags cashed at $9 to $12.

SPRING LAMBS TOP AT $23; OLD CROP $18 DOWN

Spring lambs of good and choice grades sold Monday at Ft. Worth at $20 to $23, and the trade was 50 cents or more higher than at last week's close. Old crop shorn wether lambs cashed at $18 down, but strictly choice kinds were considered eligible to top that figure somewhat. Old sheep, stockers and feeders sold steady.

Comparative prices: Good and choice milk fed lambs $20 to $23; and cull to medium spring lambs sold from $14 to $19. Feeder spring lambs sold from $19 down. Late last week some fancy cross-bred feeders at 65 pounds topped at 20.25.

Good and choice shorn old crop lambs cashed at $16 to $18, and cull to medium old crop lambs drew $10 to $15. Stocker wether old crops sold around $15 down, and stocker ewes shorn old crops sold from $18.50 down, with the cross bred blackfaces quotable to $20.

Slaughter ewes cashed at $5 to $7, and aged bucks sold from $4 to $5. Old wethers cashed around $12 down, and some two-year-old wethers sold from $16 down.

FREE BOOKLET OFFERED ON MARKET REGULATIONS

The Packers & Stockyards Division of the Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture has prepared a booklet of questions and answers regarding the application of the Packers and Stockyards Act of 1921 as Amended, and how it serves the livestock producer.

This is the regulatory act that governs all livestock markets under USDA control. A free copy of this booklet will be sent to the readers of The Enterprise upon written request addressed to Livestock Market Institute, 122 East Exchange Avenue, Ft. Worth 6, Texas. The booklet is free on request, postage paid.

It is full of information important to livestock producers. A typical question is: "Who benefits from the Act?" Answer: "Farmers and ranchers, for it protects their interests when selling livestock at a market subject to the Act by preventing stockyards, market agencies, dealers and packers from carrying on practices that would injure livestock producers. General Public, for it protects the community with a financially sound and stable outlet for livestock and a good source of meat supplies. Market operators, for it protects their interests from those operators who may be lax in handling their responsibilities."

WCS Met Tuesday Morning At First Methodist Church

Woman's Society of Christian Service met Tuesday morning in the parlor of the First Methodist Church for their regular business session. Mrs. Frank Mitchell, president, presided and Mrs. Louisa Johnson led the opening prayer.

Mrs. D. A. Dobbins presented the devotional taken from James 2:14-22. Mrs. Mitchell urged that cards be sent to the sick and Mrs. R. W. Babston was elected to the commission on Education. The circles will meet in the homes of Mrs. James Glenn, Mrs. Jere Sanders and Mrs. E. H. Baker on Tuesday, June 11.

Chairmen were elected and members were appointed to serve on the following committees:

Mrs. W. W. Parramore, Mrs. James Glenn, Mrs. Douglas Cole, Mrs. E. H. Baker, Mrs. August Vater, Mrs. Richard Thomas, Mrs. W. T. Stanley, and Mrs. Elmo Mayhew, program; Mrs. Gattis Neely, Mrs. R. W. Babston, Mrs. James Glenn, Mrs. Douglas Cole, Mrs. James Hinds and Mrs. Frank Mitchell, finance; Mrs. E. H. Baker, Mrs. W. Cecil Taylor, Mrs. Grover Orr, Mrs. Ella Ritch, Mrs. E. L. Bruton, and Miss Estelle Briley, Christian social relations; Mrs. J. T. Denton, Mrs. Wiley Hinds and Mrs. Willis Poe, food; Mrs. R. W. Babston, Mrs. C. C. Powell, Mrs. Howard Baldwin and Mrs. Henry Richardson, membership; Mrs. Richard Thomas, Mrs. D. A. Dobbins, and Mrs. Thad Traylor, status of women; Mrs. E. T. Patterson, Mrs. C. C. Powell and Mrs. August Vater, publicity and printing; Mrs. J. E. Hinds, Mrs. Gattis Neely, Mrs. R. W. Babston, and Mrs. Melvin Mapes, local church activities; Mrs. Carl Baldwin, flowers; Mrs. E. T. Patterson, cards for the W. S. C. S.

Mrs. Mitchell led the closing prayer and there were eighteen members present.

NOTICE TO CLASS OF '51

Several Factors Caused Island of Formosa Riots

By Congresswoman O. C. Fisher

Inside story on the Formosa riot, which saw the American flag ripped from its staff and Americans reviled and spat upon by a howling mob, connects that anti-American uprising to Chiang Kai-Shek's son, General Chiang Ching-Kuo. The latter, in charge of police and internal security, was educated in Moscow and is married to a Russian woman.

That does not mean that Kuo is a Communist. But it is known that he is not pro-American, despite the fact that the U. S. has poured nearly $3 billion in military and economic aid into that Free Chinese bastion since the Generalissimo was chased from the mainland 8 years ago.

Kuo has organized a youth movement, including some students. At their meetings many unkind things have been said about the U. S. and about Americans.

Thus, sentiment was ripe for the outburst, and resentment to the acquittal of an American sergeant for slaying a Chinese peeping tom served to trigger the explosion.

Kuo's hasty denial that his youth members were anti-American was very unconvincing to insiders. In fact, while it has not been paraded in the press the blame that has fallen on Kuo is such that his trusting father, the Generalissimo, is planning to send his son to America to "study" in an effort to placate the critics.

We are not blameless. We simply have too many Americans in Formosa. The 10,000, including dependents, is at least 9,000 too many. The Free World, and the U. S. in particular, has a vital stake in keeping Formosa free, but the Seventh Fleet can handle that situation. Too many Americans concentrated in a small place, with living standards much higher than natives enjoy, cause a natural resentment.

After visiting Formosa two years ago I protested the over-staffing there with waste and extravagance evident on every hand. A proper military mission is essential, but everybody—bureaucrats and all—just had to get into the act.

The Government has just announced its intention to re-examine the situation with the view of pulling some of these people out and bringing them home. That move is overdue.

Rains in Runnels County Since January Have Totaled 19 In.

Since the first of the year, good rains have fallen over most of the Runnels Soil Conservation District. These rains have varied from 12 to 19 inches. Moisture penetration checks have been made over most of the district by the personnel of the local Soil Conservation Service.

In the ranching section of the district, near the Humble Pump Station, southeast of Ballinger, where 12 inches of rain has been recorded since April 21, the water had soaked in 3.5 feet plus under a cover of grass as compared to 1.3 feet on land with little or no cover. Where conservation practices were applied on cropland the rain had soaked to a depth of 3.5 feet plus. Where no conservation practices were applied the insoak was only 2.2 feet.

Around the Winters area where 17 inches or more of rain has fallen since the first of the year, the checks showed these results. Where stubble mulching, cover cropping, contour cultivation and terracing were applied the rain had soaked to a depth of 3.5 feet plus. Where none of these were being carried out the insoak was only 2.1 feet. Pastureland with a cover of grass soaked in the water to a depth of 3.5 feet plus compared to 1.2 feet on land with little or no cover.

Up the river from Ballinger and north of Rowena, 12 inches of rain has been recorded since April 21. The test showed that the water had soaked in 3.5 feet plus on farms carrying out a conservation program as compared to one to two feet on farms without a conservation program.

Other checks were made at Bethel, Olfen, Brookshier, Wilmet, Wingate, Rowena, and Miles. All of these were comparable to the ones above, which shows that a good conservation program carried out to meet the needs of the land is essential to make efficient use of our rainfall.

Vigorous Pasture Grasses Crowd Out Undesirable Weeds

A "keep out" sign won't scare undesirable weeds from your pasture. Carefully-planned mowing or chemical control program is the only efficient answer to the pasture weed problem.

Farmers can get a head start on weed with proper establishment of adapted plants. Good stands of desirable grasses can usually "outgrow" pasture weeds under optimum condition, says Extension Pasture Specialist E. M. Trew, especially when properly fertilized. Good grazing also limits pasture weed population.

Trew advises mowing when the worst weeds start blooming since they are more easily damaged at this stage. Mow all weeds before seed is produced, and remember that some require several operations. Sometimes fall-blooming weeds call for both early summer and fall mowing.

Avoid mowing when desirable grass is scarce or during hot, dry weather if grass stand is not thick enough to shade the soil. CAUTION—many mid and tall native bunch grasses such as bluestem cannot stand repeated mowings.

Mowing excess growth for hay or silage is like putting money in the bank. Mowing also stimulates new growth on near-mature plants and evens up growth after grazing. It removes old grass growth and allows entrance of volunteer fall clovers. Mow high and as early as is practical. A rotary-type mower is generally faster and cheaper.

Chemical control is usually more economical than mowing. Trew says. Spray annual broad-leaved weeds with $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ pound 2,4-D or M.C.P.A. to the acre. Apply with a low-volume, low-pressure broadcast sprayer in 20 or 30 gallons water per acre. Add about 4 ounces liquid detergent or 1 pound dry for best leaf coverage. Perennials may require higher chemical.

Be familiar with herbicide regulations before using these chemicals. They will severely damage pasture legumes such as white, hop, psoralea, crimson and red clovers, lespedeza, black medic and alfalfa. Broad-leaved crops such as cotton, tomatoes and sweetclover are susceptible to chemical drift. See your county agent for local recommendations.

"Four Girls in Town"

One of the finest young actresses to emerge from Germany's booming postwar film industry, talented and beautiful Marianne Cook hopes to combine her screen accomplishments with a second career in the field of medicine.

Currently co-starring with Geo. Nader, Julie Adams, Gia Scala and Elsa Martinelli in her first American film, Universal-International's Technicolor-CinemaScope love story, "Four Girls in Town," which opens Sunday afternoon at the State Theatre, Marianne displays a shining dramatic talent. In many of the 21 films she made in Europe, however, Marianne was a light comedienne.

Also in Germany, Marianne may soon be the proud possessor of her M. D. degree, which will make her the first feminine motion picture star ever to acquire legitimately the title of "Doctor." At present she has only one and one-half years of study between her and the degree.

From her earliest recollection, Marianne recalls her steadfast ambition to become a doctor. Upon her graduation from high school in 1949, she enrolled immediately at the University of Munich to study medicine.

While a co-ed at the university, Marianne was among a group selected by a motion picture scout to try out for a small role in a Munich screen production. "I had no real desire to become an actress," recalls Marianne "but I accepted the chance because I wanted to find out what the inside of a motion picture studio looked like."

Her curiosity really started something. With absolutely no previous dramatic experience she won the role, which was followed by many more—and within 12 pictures she was receiving star billing.

Though she's now a star in the United States, too, Marianne has no plans of abandoning her medical career.

"I started with medicine," she says, "and no matter what may happen I always finish what I start."

"Three Violent People"

The Texas of 1866, seething under the ruthless pillaging of a Provisional Government, is the background for the story of a strange triangle in Paramount's brilliantly-cast outdoor drama, "Three Violent People," opening tomorrow at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.

A tale of the rancher-carpetbagger wars, the large-scale Technicolor picture stars Charlton Heston, Anne Baxter and Gilbert Roland, co-stars Tom Tryon, Forrest Tucker, Bruce Bennett and features Elaine Stritch.

Heston, Anne Baxter and Tryon are the explosive trio of the title, and around them is woven a triple-barreled story of love and hate.

Heston portrays a hotheaded cattle baron who returns to his ranch after a long absence, bringing with him the girl he has impulsively married and whom he knows nothing about. He discovers that the local Provisional Government, using savage tax laws, has almost stripped him of cattle and is bent on getting the rest; that his one-armed brother, a bitter and unpredictable rebel, may be in league with the carpetbaggers; and that his wife, as wild as both brothers, has hidden a not-too-respectable past from him.

The colorful Gilbert Roland is seen as Heston's flamboyant, but wise, top hand, whose loyalty is alienated by Heston's violent reaction to his troubles. Location filming was done in the Superstition Mountain area of Arizona. Hugh Brown produced, Rudolph Mates directed, screenplay is by James Edward Grant. Story by Leonard Praskins and Barney Slater.

People who fly into a rage always make a bad landing.

Julie Adams and Gia Scala (above) and Marianne Cook and Elsa Martinelli (below) are the four girls and George Nader in Julie's man in "Four Girls in Town," story of love and ambition in Hollywood produced by Universal-International in Technicolor and CinemaScope.

The bitter rivalry of brothers above, plays Heston's wildcat wife, Gilbert Roland also stars, back-grounded by the rancher-carpetbagger wars in Texas in "Three Violent People," at the State Theatre. Anne Baxter, Forrest Tucker and Bruce Bennett co-star in the large scale outdoor drama.

Funeral Services Held Monday For Lt. Wm. D. Lang

Funeral services for Lt. William David Lang, III, 33, former resident of Winters, were held Monday at 3 p. m., in Spill Memorial Chapel, R. V. Hamilton, minister of the Church of Christ, officiated and the Rev. W. Cecil Taylor, pastor of the First Methodist Church, assisted. Burial was in the Lakeview Cemetery.

Lt. Lang was killed May 24, when the plane he was piloting crashed on takeoff for a routine training flight from Sand Point Naval Air Station, Seattle, Washington.

Military services were held in Seattle, Tuesday, May 28, and Lt. Lang's body arrived in Abilene at 11:45 a. m. Saturday and arrived in Winters later in the day.

Lt. Lang was born April 1, 1924 in Jayton, Texas and graduated from high school there. He attended Texas Tech for two semesters before moving to California where he worked in a defense plant. He entered the Navy Air Corp in 1943, received his discharge in 1945, and came to Winters to make his home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lang. He operated Lang's Electric Service here for two years.

He was married to Rose Marie Miller, daughter of Mrs. Callie Miller, of Abilene, in December of 1948. The couple made their home here until February 1953 when he was recalled to active duty with the Navy. He was stationed in Dallas, Pensacola, Fla., Memphis, Tennessee, before going to Seattle.

Survivors included his wife, four daughters, Lucinda, 7; Christy, 5; Kathy, 4; Sally, 1; one son, William David, IV; 3; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lang, and one sister, Mrs. Edwin Spear of Mt. Home Air Force Base, Idaho. Pallbearers were David Carrol, Adrian Jones, Dennis Taylor, Tommy Rougas, Marvin Bedford, Weldon Collins, John J. Swatchesue, and Wesley M. Hays. Honorary pallbearers were Pat Patterson, Marshal Simons, Wade White and D. Waggoner.

VISITED FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wolcott and boys of Wichita Falls, former residents of Winters, visited with friends here over the week-end.

SILVER LINING DEPT.—Not everybody can find fun in a flood but nine-year-old Doyle Watkins thinks there's no need to look for the old swimming hole when a dandy pond is at the front door of his Dallas, Tex., home. Floodwaters in Dallas rose porch high following a recent deluge and Doyle's not one to lose an opportunity.

Mrs. Larry Nicholson Was Complimented With Shower Sat.

Mrs. Larry Nicholson, of Aransas Pass, the former Launa Loy Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Cooper, was complimented with a gift shower Saturday afternoon in the Home Demonstration Club House. Mrs. Sam Cooke, Mrs. J. N. Nichols, Mrs. Willie Patterson, Mrs. W. W. King, Mrs. Hans Gerhart, Mrs. J. D. Vinson, Mrs. LaDell Davis and Mrs. Bernice Gardner served as hostesses.

Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. King alternated in greeting the guests and introducing them to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. O. V. Cooper and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Cooper. Mrs. Patterson registered guests in a white satin and lace bride's book.

The tea table was laid with white cut work linen centered with an arrangement of purple dahlias in a crystal container. Mrs. Cooke ladeled punch from a crystal punch bowl and Mrs. King assisted in serving.

Approximately twenty called during the afternoon.

LEFT TUESDAY

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wheat and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Briley and sons left Tuesday for Indiana where they will visit with their son, Gene Wheat who is in the service.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY MORGAN

Norma Faye Best And Jerry Allen Morgan Repeat Vows at Church

Marriage vows, uniting Norma Faye Best, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Best of Bradshaw, and Jerry Allen Morgan of Winters, were recited Saturday morning, June 1, at 10:00 o'clock in the Methodist Church at Bradshaw.

The Rev. W. Cecil Taylor, pastor of the First Methodist church of Winters, officiated, reading the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with tall baskets of white gladiolus on either side of floor candelabra holding lighted cathedral tapers. Darlene McWright and Kermit Foster were candle lighters.

Traditional wedding music was played by Karen Smith, who also accompanied Johnny Taylor, student of SMU of Dallas, to sing "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Maid of honor was Rose Best, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Nolita James of Winters and Eva Leta Wright of Wilmet. They wore ballerina-length dresses of blue tulle over taffeta fashioned with strapless bodices and full skirts with matching boleros. Their hats were of tulle outlined with seed pearls and they carried Colonial bouquets of pink carnations.

Jimmy Morgan of Houston served his brother as best man, and groomsmen were Hubbard Miller and Edward Meyer, also of Houston. Don Vinson and Ronald Huddleston were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white antique taffeta made princess style and fashioned with V-shaped neckline and long sleeves which came to a point at the wrist. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was caught to a half hat of matching taffeta embroidered in seed pearls. She carried a white orchid with feathered carnations on a white Bible and a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. M. F. Self.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Winters High School and was a member of the Future Homemakers of America, Quill and Scroll Club, the Gale Staff and was president of the Library Club.

The groom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Zannie B. Morgan of Winters, is a sophomore student of Rice Institute in Houston. He is a 1956 graduate of Winters High School and was a member of the Blizzard Band, lettered in football and was chosen for the all-state choir during his senior year.

A reception was hosted in the church parlor by the bride's parents, who received the guests. Others in the house party were Mrs. W. B. Hogan of Lubbock, Mrs. B. C. Morgan of Bryan, both aunts of the groom, Mrs. Earl Burns, Mrs. W. M. Foster, Mrs. J. H. Braswell, Mrs. Alton Roberts, Mrs. Lois Jones, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Jerry Boles of Lubbock, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride's table was laid with white-cut-work linen and centered with the bouquets of the attendants. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

For her wedding trip to Houston the bride changed to a blue linen sheath dress with matching jacket and white accessories. She wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan, Hubbard Miller, Edward Meyer, Jimmy Morgan, all of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Morgan and daughter, Kathy; Mrs. B. C. Morgan of Bryan; Mr. and Mrs. Charley H. Ayers of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hogan of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Dennis, Doris and Mildred of Crane, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Best and Jean of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Best of Ovalo, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Best of Plains, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Childers, Janice, Mary and Martha of Trent; Mrs. P. G. Self, Price Self, of Tuscola; Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Self, Mrs. Lois Jones and Harold Best, all of Ovalo; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Newby of Ballinger.

Foster, David Burleson, Hubbard Miller and Edward Meyer of Houston. Gifts were presented by the bride and groom to the attendants.

TEL Class Met Thursday At The Baptist Church

TEL Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met Thursday at the church for their regular monthly business meeting. Mrs. Fred Wood and Mrs. Laura Howell shared hostess duties.

Mrs. Fred Wood presented the devotional taken from Second Psalms and led in prayer. Mrs. Laura Howell read the First Psalms and Mrs. Mollie Puckett gave a reading. Mrs. J. T. Brown read the poem "The Magic Prayer" and conducted the business session.

Those having birthdays drew gifts from the birthday box and refreshments of cake and cold drinks were served to Mrs. Mollie Puckett, Mrs. J. A. Brooks, Mrs. Ethel Gardner, Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. J. T. Brown and a visitor, Mrs. Cora White.

Health Letter

By Henry A. Holle, M. D.

Austin—For the past two weeks the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee has been holding hearings in Washington in an attempt to unravel one of the knottiest problems of the day—the dangers of mass radiation exposures in this Atomic Age.

The committee is interested chiefly in the effects of radioactive "fall-out" from nuclear weapons tests, but there is much more to the story than that. The very nature of radiant energy makes it at once a boon and a peril to human health. Let's look at the "boon" side first.

For 60 years radiating devices in the skilled hands of technicians have been tools of unparalleled importance in diagnosing and treating various diseases. X-ray and fluoroscopic machines actually permit the physician or dentist to "photograph" the interior of the human body, and "aimed" beams of deep penetrating rays—sometimes pushed by 2 million volts of electricity—have long been among the most effective ways of treating disease in practically any body organ.

With the harnessing of the atom the physician of A. D. 1957 can remove tumors without surgery by using isotopes of radioactive materials, and other tumors can be accurately located with still other isotopes.

And while the medical field was jumping on the isotope bandwagon, industry was climbing into the driver's seat. Isotope uses in industry have grown to phenomenal proportions. In commercial art they give truer copy than a photographic print. Oil men use them to locate underground leaks. With isotopes engineers can accurately test the strength of structural steel or measure the life expectancy of cutting tools. The efficiency of washing machines can be checked with isotopes. So can the rate at which plants absorb phosphorus from fertilizers.

These endless advantages are the reasons for possible peril. Radioactivity can accumulate in the body, so little exposure from day to day may add up to big exposures after weeks or months. However, physicians take total exposures into account when they use radiation.

Since last September the State Health Department has controlled radiation exposure by requiring registration of all radiation devices and materials used within the state. So far more than 1,500 devices have been registered, some 1400 of them in the realm of medical practice and research.

Meanwhile, these are two of the sources where you can get information on the hazards of excessive radiation—your family physician or the State Health Department. From either you will get some common sense advice, and common sense is the most important commodity in the world today.

MRS. CALVIN HELM

Wedding Ceremony Performed At Drasco Baptist Church

Marriage rites were solemnized at the Drasco Baptist Church Saturday, June 1, at 8 o'clock when Billie Sue Shaffer, daughter of M. C. Shafer of Bradshaw, became the bride of Calvin H. Helm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Helm of Wingate.

The Rev. E. R. Holder, pastor of the Avoca Baptist Church, read the double ring ceremony as the couple stood before an archway of greenery topped by a large satin ribbon bow with white wedding bells hanging from either side. Branched candelabra with lighted tapers and tall baskets of white gladioli flanked the archway. Masses of Palms formed the background for the wedding setting.

Pre-nuptial music was played by Karen Smith who also played the traditional Wedding March for the entrance of the bridal party.

Mrs. Sammy Nix, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Rose Frymire of Lawn and Dorothy Simpson of Bradshaw. Candlelighters were Carolyn Helm of Wingate, sister of the groom, and Virgie James of Winters, cousin of the bride.

The matron of honor wore a light blue street length taffeta frock fashioned with low round neck and cap sleeves. Fan shaped pleats were inset at the hem line of the skirt. She wore a head band of pink flowers and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink carnations surrounded by petals of net outlined in silver. The bridesmaids and candlelighters wore identical dresses as the matron of honor except of a pink shade and their bouquets were white.

Arby Ray Holbrook served the groom as best man and Sammy Nix of Abilene and Bud Hogan of Winters were ushers. Groomsmen were Coy Lee of Eden and Doyle Buchanan of Bradshaw.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length wedding gown of white lace and net over taffeta. The fitted lace bodice was designed with a small pointed collar at the high neckline and long sleeves which came to a point at the wrist. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with tiers of net ruffles edged in silver threads. Her finger-tip veil which fell from a lace cap, was borrowed from her twin sister and she carried a bouquet of white gardenias showered with carnations on a white Bible belonging to Miss Frymire. For something old she wore a ring which belonged to Miss Ida Frazier of Bradshaw, cousin and foster mother.

At the reception in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony the bride's table was laid in white net over pink and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink confection roses. Pink carnations surrounded the punch bowl.

Mrs. Frank Simpson of Bradshaw served the cake and Mrs. Bill Frymire of Lawn ladeled punch. Ellen and Ethel Reid of Bradshaw, twin cousins of the bride, registered the guests.

The bride, a 1956 graduate of South Taylor school, was sports editor of the annual, calendar girl and runner-up for Queen. She was also active in girls sports.

The groom graduated from Winters high school with the class of 1955, and was a member of the Blizzard football and basketball teams and active in the F. A. He attended San Angelo Junior College and plans to enter Texas Technological College at Lubbock this fall.

For traveling the bride changed to a tan two-piece suit with white lace trimmed blouse and white accessories.

VISITING SONS

Mrs. Lela Sawyer left recently for Floydada where she will visit her son, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sawyer. She will also visit another son, Davis Sawyer and family in Hereford. Mrs. Sawyer was accompanied by Lela Mae Guy and her brother, Dutch Briley and Bill.

It's The Law In Texas

CONTINGENCIES

In this unpredictable life of ours, it is the law's business to take a long look into the future and say what would "happen if." For in your contracts, leases, wills, insurance policies, escrows, and the like, you had better say what would "happen if" some of your best laid plans go awry. Such events the law calls "contingencies."

Who gets the "earnest money" you put down, if you cannot go through with buying that house? What if you want to pay up that loan and save interest? What happens if a partnership goes sour, or a partner gets sick or dies? What happens if the people you name in your will should die before you do, or if you all perish in a common catastrophe like a car smashup?

The law is wise but it cannot do your thinking for you. It settles such questions - but not always to your liking. If you don't make a will, the law says who shall get your property. If you leave certain things out of a contract, the law assumes that you meant to put some certain things in. But how much better it would be in the first place to put them in the way you want them, by asking "what if?"

Take your will now; Your first desire, of course, is to take care of your wife and children - those nearest to you. But it won't hurt anything to put "contingent beneficiaries" in your will in case something happens to thwart your first intentions.

Review your will every year or so to see if it meets the new things that have come up, or arrange with your lawyer to write in "contingent beneficiaries" - those who will receive your property if your first beneficiaries should die before you do.

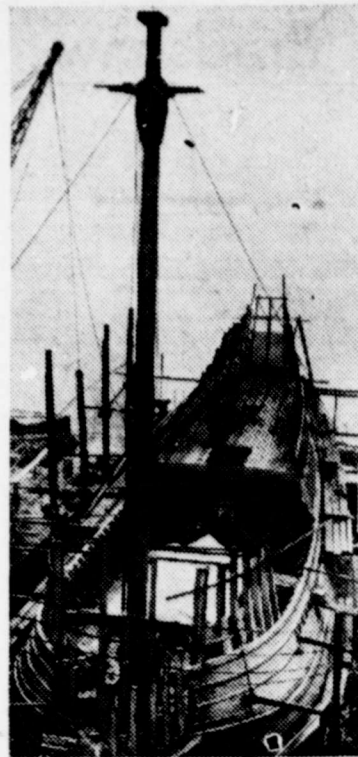

You may long ago have had your son provided for in your will, but what about those lovely grandchildren he and his wife have presented to you since you wrote the will? What would happen to them if things go wrong and your son should die before you?

Or take your widowed sister and her children now. Suppose you and your immediate family should be wiped out; Would you want your property to go equally to her and to your well-heeled bachelor brother? Or would you prefer to leave your brother some token of your affection, and then really take care of your sister?

You may be impatient with the law's long memory. Such things never happen, you think, but the court records are full of plans which failed. And so the law has ways in which you can provide for "what happens - if." One way is the device of contingent beneficiaries in your will and insurance policies.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform - not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

FROM ABILENE
Mrs. Wayne Badgett and daughters of Abilene, spent the first of the week visiting in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Daniels and with other relatives.

RERUN—A 300-year-old scene is re-enacted in a Brixham, England, shipyard as Mayflower II nears completion. The 180-ton replica of the ship which carried the Pilgrims across the Atlantic in 1620 is due to sail April 2. The goodwill gift to America will be presented to the Plymouth Foundation, Incorporated. The $280,000 cost is being borne by London realtor Felix Fenston.

Donations Made To Library in Memory Of Marilyn Jones

JUST a Newsstand? No.

It is a battleground.

In this tiny territory rival publications fight for the attention of the public. From left to right you can find all shades of political and social opinion, freely expressed. And because of this a newsstand is more than just a convenience in the life of an American town.

It is a front line.

There is another battle going on around a newsstand, more far-reaching than the competitive rivalry of paper against paper, magazine against magazine. For there are always people—yes, even here—who dislike to see opinions freely expressed...and who attempt to bring all sorts of restraining pressures on those who champion the Press's freedom.

But those who write and print and publish the free opinions of America, they see a threat to that freedom as a threat to all freedoms, and vigilantly hold back pressure-wielders from closing in on the newsstand.

For the newsstand is freedom's front line.
