BY CHARLES A. GUY
Avalanche-Journal Staff
TULSA, Sept. 2.—A three cornered fight for the 1930 convention was well under way here today with Lubbock, Fort Worth and San Angelo vying determinedly for the annual session of Kiwanis International, Texas-Oklahoma district, swung into its business meetings.

A flag draped oil metropolis, reverberating from the blast of three Kiwanis bands greeted the 1,150 registrants yesterday and the local Kiwanians were playing host to the king's taste. Early indications concerning the 1930 convention place were the final battle would be between San Angelo and Fort Worth, but Lubbock's Kiwanians, 30 strong and backed by special delegates from the Rotary and Lions clubs and the Chamber of Commerce, were not downhearted.

Flames' Fury Take 29 Lives

SIX MEMBERS OF ONE FAMILY BURNED IN ENGLAND

(By Associated Press)

SMITHWICK, Staffordshire, Eng., Sept. 2.—Eleven persons, six of them members of one family named McDonald, lost their lives in a fire here today which originated in a confectioner's shop and spread to a theatre and living apartments. Three others are in a hospital suffering from severe injuries. Several families were trapped in the burning building. Some occupants escaped by jumping from a third story window. Firemen searching the ruins found the remains of McDonald's family, father, mother and children huddled together.

The McDonald family which included two sons and two daughters lived in an upper story. A father, mother and son named Jones also perished as did a Mrs. Aston and a crippled person. Twenty-eight people lived in the apartments where the fire spread. The search of the ruins revealed charred bodies in beds and others hanging over the edge of the building where floors were burned away. Great crowds watched the firemen recovering the bodies and pitiable scenes were witnessed as relatives saw their removal.

SEARCH MADE FOR TRAGEDY VICTIMS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Five coast guard cutters patrolled the waters off the coast of Santa Cruz county south of here today in a search for bodies of victims of the sinking of coastwise passenger ship, San Juan, which went down last Friday morning after colliding with the Standard Oil tanker S. C. T. Dodd.

The rescued numbered 42, but the exact number of fatalities may never be learned because of the fact that last minute passengers purchased tickets aboard the San Juan and their names were not obtained by the ship's owners, the Los Angeles and San Francisco Navigation company, which estimated at 113 the total number aboard. On that basis, the death toll was 71.

The five cutters which swept over the scene of the wreck in endless circles found no bodies, although the Tahoe, flagship of the fleet, Messages picked up in America and in Germany from the airship, as well as reports to the Associated Press from ships at sea reported the dirigible's rapid progress. The master of the steamship Portuon reported the airship heading eastward in fine weather and apparently all well aboard.

Under present conditions the Graf should easily nose into its home hangar before Thursday morning, in time to break its own record the world speed record, estimating the distance from Friedrichshafen to Friedrichshafen rather than from Lakehurst to Lakehurst.

REQUISITES FOR TRAVELING GIVEN BY LELONG

Whether the trips of late summer be week-ends in Deauville or a week's trip to the Azores coast, they are made orderly and charming by the woman of refinement.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

What's fair in love? When two men love one maid, or two maids love one man, what constitutes fair play?

The question is put up to me in the following letter:

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am coming to you with a great question. I am a girl of 18 and my best friend is one year older. We are in love with the same boy. He is very good looking and has money. The biggest trouble is he lives closer to my girl friend and she has the advantage.

"He tells me he thinks more of me when he is with me, and when he is with her he tells her the same. Please tell me what to do. I have tried to tell him it is impossible. He is on my mind day and night. I don't want to hurt my best friend. I hope this letter is not too long to print as I would like to know what other girls think. BLODDIE."

An interesting question, Bloddie. Of course it is highly probable that the young man will settle the question himself pronto by meeting a third girl whom he declares he loves best. He's something of a flirt, I take it.

Each of you must consider that much as you love the boy friend, your friendship for one another must not suffer. Few men would be worth that. Excuse me if I seem cynical. As a matter of fact, what you really desire is the greatest happiness of the two you love. Is it not? If each of you keep that in mind and tries to do nothing but what is perfectly fair and above board, there is no reason why you can't win with him, be your own sweet selves, trying to win him with understanding and sympathy.

He will do the choosing. Nothing you can do can alter his reactions to your personalities, and in case he does choose one of you, let the other be a good sport and be the first to congratulate them—yes, even if your heart is bleeding.

The following is the kind of letter that I like to run in the column, because it shows how kind people are to one another.

Do you remember the letter from the woman who had been in a sanitarium for three years? She is now at home but feels so miserable lately hard seems worth living, as she can not get out with her husband and daughter and feels they are drifting from her.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am an interested reader of your column and when I read of this mother of one living daughter who is worrying over herself, my feelings certainly go out to her as I have been through the mill. I had the same feeling she has, thought everything I did was useless and every little ache or pain worried me to death. I was sick almost two years. I took a course of steam baths. Then I had some cheerful friends stay with me and we went places together, and although it took time, I finally got my mind off myself and got well.

"If this lady cares to write to me I will be glad to answer her letter. It's a terrible thing to be in that condition, but I'm sure she'll get over it because she certainly has to live for.

This is one case where I will set aside my rule of no addresses exchanged, and if the woman who signed herself "Worried Wife" will send her name to me on a self-addressed, stamped envelope, I will send this lady's address so they can get in touch with one another.

Mrs. T.'s new baby was only eight days old when she wrote, so you can see how much she wanted to pass the good news of possible recovery to her Worried Wife. However, the letter that helped Mrs. T. might not be good for Worried Wife. A doctor would have to pass on that.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am deeply in love with a young man 24 years old. I am 17 and have been going with him for three weeks. My future happiness depends on him. I am living with an aunt and she likes this young man very well, but says I can not see him but three times a week and objects terribly to my getting married now.

BY LUCIEN LELONG
Special Cable to Central Press PARIS.

Whether the trips of late summer be week-ends in Deauville or a week's trip to the Azores coast, they are made orderly and charming by the woman of refinement. The love personalities remain untroubled by the inconveniences of the voyage, because they have considered the problems of journeys deeply enough to find the means to solve them.

Given the fact that high-power motor cars and trains de luxe cost more dust on the traveler's face than the ordinary day will bring, they have sought out fitted bags which carry the remedies for speed, fatigue and dust. Considering the fact that the best ordered modern automobile offers but an exigent space for suit cases, they have set their preference on clothes that pack into the next thing to nothing, while they remain young, seductive and lovely in design.

Having consulted and created for a number of the most exactly elegant modern women contemplating speed journeys, I think I can speak of essentials.

Whether in the open motor, the closed touring car, or the train de luxe, one of the necessities of the delicate woman is her trousseau de voyage. For utmost convenience this should be small, so small that she may carry it as a handbag.

After some years of experiment I have come to the conclusion that a bag, just large enough to carry two flasks (one containing a refreshing cleanser, the other a toilet water), a powder box, the necessary manicure implements, a comb, a small brush, a mirror (of useful size) and several handkerchiefs, without distorting its size. I have arranged to have it made up in any color that my clients choose for their traveling costume.

The color and texture of traveling costume are also most important for speedy trips. I have given much thought to this phase of our speed age, in designing my day costumes. The main necessities of the traveling costume are that the color shall not show dust, that the fabric shall be smooth, and that the design be comfortable as well as smart.

In my recent collection I have given special attention to the problems of the fair traveler. I have chosen lightweight woollens, tweeds, crepe de chine, and the classic crepes for my traveling coats. In color, also, I have thought of the demand of the open road. . . dusty beige, soft gray, green, are among my favorite themes. The frocks to be worn under these coats I have chosen in light colors, both of which are wool, protecting, and at the same time dull in texture. I like to match their color to the general tone of the mixed woollens of the coats worn over them.

For the afternoon and evening gown which will accompany the fair traveler in her slender dress, I have chosen non-crushable materials. The richly delicate surface of crepe de chine, the sturdier texture of shantung, have given me the inspiration for these frocks. The springy, matted textures of crepe de chine and crepe de chine have provided me with the material for many afternoon gowns. For formal wear, and for evening, I have included crepe de chine, both of which are wool, protecting, and at the same time dull in texture. I like to match their color to the general tone of the mixed woollens of the coats worn over them.

drawn because of unsatisfactory condition of his plane.

The impromptu performance of Lieut. James A. Doolittle as the racer drew to a close was hailed as one of the most brilliant feats of the year. Doolittle flew away from the airport to practice a routine of stunts for the crowd, stepped out of his plane when the wings came off, and landed with a parachute after diving 2,000 feet. A few minutes later he was standing before the crowd in a new plane, without the parachute, and the crowd was grappled a few minutes before.

Completion of the Los Angeles derby today brought to an end the long-distance derbies of the races, none of which, including the first for women, were flown.

which we have the sympathy and if need be the support not only of Moslem Arabs, but of the British and North Africa, but of whole of Arabia with its sixty millions of people.

"There will be peace in the immediate future as far as we can preserve it. We will not oppose British bayonets but what Great Britain must understand is that the grave events you have witnessed here have little really to do with the Wailing Wall.

Go Back Farther
"They go back much farther. They go back indeed to the Balfour declaration (that which created the Palestine national home idea) of 1917. You may suppress the present disorders and restore tranquility for the moment by force of British arms but the ultimate peace of Palestine and Arabia will never be made while Great Britain continues the policy of the Balfour declaration.

"The whole of Arabia is aroused." The Grand Mufti's warning came by but surely re-establishing peace throughout most of Palestine, where nearly 200 have been killed and 300 seriously wounded in fighting between Moslem Arabs and Jews during the last nine days.

Militia Stressed
British militia efforts were stressed along the borders of Transjordan and Syria, where it was believed airplanes have kept invading Moslem detachments scattered and in such small contingents as to prevent material harm.

Sunday was calm, but Saturday night Bedouins attacked nearly a dozen villages in northern Galilee, pillaging the houses and burning crops. The dead in unconfirmed advices were numbered as high as 22. In the Galilean district Jews evacuated to the Yezzo H'Mash, Mishmar, and Hayarden when the attacking Arabs appeared.

Colony Destroyed
The Masha colony was destroyed. Areth and Jashakar were pillaged. Roah Pinah, the largest Jewish colony in Galilee, made preparations to break up an unexpected attack from the same body which pillaged Mishmar.

It was announced the French government was cooperating with the British by recognizing the independence of the Jewish state, thus forcing the British military dispositions on the southern Syrian frontier to prevent armed Arabs from entering Palestine.

French official circles said groups of Arabs described in official British communications Friday and Saturday to have entered Palestine could have come only from Transjordan, where there were many Druse refugees.

The two freighters collided in the darkness. The Dorothy, 415 tons, on her starboard side, sank within 30 minutes, ship officials said, carrying to death Lewis D. Paris of Baltimore, second assistant engineer, and Alberto Ruiz, fireman, of San Juan, Porto Rico, who were below decks at the time of the crash. DAWSON PUTS DAIRYING AS MAIN PROJECT

DIVERSIFICATION FOR SECTION STRESSED; MILK PLANT AIDS

LAMESA, Sept. 2.—Plans are going forward on the Lower South Plains and in Dawson county for a most intensive diversified farm program which will include dairying, dairying, no less attractive, however, is to be given to hogs, poultry, and other farm products. As one farmer has put it, "Dawson county, we must put legs on our feed." The idea that is prevailing among bankers, business men, and farmers here is to the effect that a balanced farm program is to be pursued in this area. Cotton has been the principal money crop and will likely continue to do so in this section, but much thought is now being turned to feed and livestock farming.

With the large powdered milk factory which is to be built at Lamesa, dairying in the eight Lower South Plains counties will be given a boost. This plant is to cost $250,000 and will likely be in operation by January next year. The Douthett Engineering company of Chicago, is furnishing half the capital and business men of Lamesa and O'Donnell are contributing half the money to build this, the first factory for this area and for the farmers of this section.

Counties to be Served
The eight counties that will be served by this plant are: Dawson, Borden, Howard, Martin, Andrews, Gaines, Terry and Lynn. From the plant milk routes will operate some thirty miles. At such points as Tahoka, Brownfield, Seagraves and other points where production is sufficient cooling stations will be built and from these stations milk routes will radiate as from the plant bringing milk to the cooling station and from here large thermos trucks will haul the milk to the plant.

Cow finance organizations are being formed for the purpose of placing more good Jersey milk cows in the area. In this area a survey reveals there are now 12,000 to 15,000 head of good milk stock. It is the plans of the cow finance organizations to bring from 1,000 to 2,000 head more good cows into this section for each county that will be served by the plant.

Optimistic Over Future
So, with the milk plant assured for the area the above named counties feel optimistic for the future. Cotton will be velle money crop and the farmers of the area who patronize the milk plant will have their living assured at home. Again, the thousands of acres of good tillable Lower South Plains land will fast go under the plow for good stock farmers will be induced to the section now that in this "land of feed" a sure and better market for these products are to be realized through the dairy cow. The new slogan to be adopted for this area with the installation of the milk plant is "The Land of Milk and Sunshine."

Hearing To Be Held On Weevil Situation

AUSTIN, Sept. 2 (AP).—A hearing to determine if a group of counties shall form themselves into an area to exclude shipments of sweet potatoes for commercial purposes from weevil-infested sections will be held in Eastland court house September 14. J. M. Del Canto, chief entomologist of the department of agriculture, announced today.

Counties seeking protection from the weevil are Brown, Comanche, Eastland, Taylor, Callahan, Coleman, Hood, Somervell, Parker, Palo Pinto and Shackelford.

MAD BULL RUNS AMUCK
PARIS, Sept. 2 (AP).—A mad bull jeopardized several lives before it finally was shot to death after a two-mile chase here Saturday. The animal escaped from the municipal slaughter and ran amuck through a residential district, at one time charging a small truck, pursuing it and nearly overturning the machine.

COCHRAN TEST IS VISITED BY LARGE CROWD

SCORES FLOCK TO NEW OIL TEST IN AREA; GAS AMOUNT SEEN

The wildcat well being drilled by the Marland Oil company in Cochran county was the scene of scores of people from all over the South Plains yesterday. The driller, Earl Carothers, reported that a continuous stream of people had been visiting the derrick all day after the news had appeared in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal that a gasser had been made of the well.

The present well is an off-set to another wildcat drilled by this same company. It is reported that the original well was abandoned at 3,000 feet to start a new well that was to be drilled to a salt water formation or oil. This contract was entered into by the Service Contract company and the Marland operators.

The present well has reached a promising sand at 4,765 feet with a showing of gas that amounts to about one-quarter million feet per day, Carothers, the driller on duty yesterday afternoon, said. A great amount of precaution is taken to ward off any possible danger of fire. The gas is of the non-poisonous variety.

The well is located 5 miles due west of Lehman on the Slaughter lands, eight miles from Littlefield and sixty-seven miles almost due east of Lubbock.

ADVERTISERS WIN
15-INNING GAME

Staging a five-run scoring spree in the eighth inning, the Lubbock Advertisers overcame a long lead held by the Sudan nine and won the eleventh round Sunday afternoon on the latter's diamond, 15 to 10.

After two scoreless innings, the Sudan sluggers broke loose in the third with a barrage of base knocks that netted six markers off the delivery of Lefty Parker.

The Lubbock aggregation broke through to count one in the third, three in the fourth, one in the seventh and then came the big round. The entire club batted around in this big frame, the five runs giving the Advertisers a 10 to 3 lead.

When the Sudan crew put across their two tallies in the ninth, the score was deadlocked. Both clubs were scoreless in the tenth but the Advertisers tucked the game away in the eleventh, with a three-run spurge and holding the opposition rudderless.

Harold Crites, Lubbock's third baseman, hit one "country mile" in the seventh inning for the only home run of the game.

MIDLAND, Sept. 2.—The Midland Cowboys were one down to Coleman as the two teams prepared to take the field here this afternoon for the fourth game of the West Texas League championship play-off series.

The Cowboys either were even or out in front during all of yesterday's game until the ninth inning. Here, Kowalk's big bat spelled disaster for Midland with a home run that began a six-run Coleman rally.

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Sept. 2.—The tumult and shouting of the preliminary golfing bouts, the practice putts and the predictions gave way today to the serious business of qualifying for the amateur championship of the United States.

Out along the picturesque shores of Carmel Bay 139 golfers, the best amateur talent that can be procured by America, Great Britain and Canada, began gathering before the fog had lifted to start the qualifying rounds of the amateur championship of the United States.

Out along the picturesque shores of Carmel Bay 139 golfers, the best amateur talent that can be procured by America, Great Britain and Canada, began gathering before the fog had lifted to start the qualifying rounds of the amateur championship of the United States.

Today, with a former major league third baseman, Arthur (Tully) Shacter of Los Angeles, first off the starting line, the field settled down for the opening 18 holes of qualifying competition. The process will be repeated tomorrow and the 22 low scorers will qualify for match play beginning Wednesday.

There may be casualties among the favorites in the qualifying rounds, if the wind happens to be high and a few shots start straying off the line into the sand or the ocean. Barring upsets, however, the main battle of eliminations will start Wednesday, when the 18-hole rounds will be played, cutting the field from 33 to eight.

It has been "Black Wednesday" for the hopes of many a star in the past, a hazardous day even for the great Bobby Jones and unquestionably the pivotal day of the tournament, outside of the final final hole. There is no time for relaxation in an 18-hole match, where the ordinary player who happens to be "on" his game has a golden opportunity to "take" the more touted performer.

Many Drop Out
Last year, for instance, George Von Elm of Detroit, Don Moe of Portland, Ore., the present western champion, Chick Evans of Chicago, Francis Oulmet of Boston and Frank Dolp of Portland, Ore., all were put out in the first round. Jess Sweetser of New York, another champion, fell by the wayside in the second round, and Jones was saved from probable elimination only because his opponent, Ray Gorton, completely missed his drive off the 18th tee. That's what happened only a year ago to a flock of stars, all of them here for the far west's first tournament, and again rated among the outstanding contenders.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Eastern tennis stars took the courts today in their annual combat with western representatives, needing only two victories to clinch the 1929 series.

The east rolled up a 3-1 lead on the first day of the series on Saturday. With five matches on the program today victory in two automatic matches would clinch the series for the Atlantic seaboard.

Singles matches found Gregory Mangin of Newark meeting Lewis N. White, John Van Ryn, Orange, N. J. opposing Doug and Berkeley Bell, Austin, Tex., matching strokes with Fritz Mercer of Bethlehem, Pa.

In doubles, Lott and Doug were matched against Van Ryn and Mangin, and Mercer and J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., met Bell and White.

(Associated Press Feature Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—When Donnie Bush brought the Pittsburgh Pirates back home July 22 with first place as the prize catch of a fine eastern trip, the Corsair fans openly expressed their delight.

But Bush, a veteran warrior with many a hard campaign behind him, was amazingly reticent as the town feted his ball club.

Long Way Up
Refusing to be stirred by any premature celebrations, Donnie was quoted in the papers as saying: "We are a long ways from the pennant. It is going to be a hard fight."

The great Detroit shortstop knew how quickly triumph in baseball turns to disaster.

Was "Miracle Man."
The week in 1927 that he headed the Pirates to pennantville he was hoisted high as the "miracle man" of Pittsburgh.

One week later, when his men stood disgraced, crushed beneath that ruthless Yankee machine, Donnie was the antithesis of greatness as far as Pittsburgh was concerned.

Criticism Turns Up
Anyway, five weeks after the outbreak of delirious cheering this year, Donnie brought the Bucs back to Pittsburgh into a seething caldron of criticism. Their decline on the diamond had begun the day of the celebration.

The difference in the club's standing then and the rating it had on its previous homecoming was 16 games. The Pirates had cracked. There wasn't even a fighting chance left.

Injuries Help
Injuries had broken the very backbone of the team's offensive and defensive strength and "bad breaks had smothered its spirit."

So Donnie quit.

"Such are the fortunes of war," he said.

Only Temporary
It appears to be merely a temporary setback for the plucky little man who was Detroit's shortstop ace in the halcyon days when Ty Cobb and Sam Crawford and others made the Tigers consistent winners.

At baseball men are certain Donnie will be back in a managerial role with some major league club if he cares to stay in the big leagues.

It was a slow fight. The boys are great right punchers and they were watching the other's right hand too much. Magnolia told them to fight or he would give them the toss out of the ring.

Phil Glasman, who is one of Wallace's dozen owners, made a couple of wise cracks and Magnolia went to his corner and said: "Don't look at me and talk like that, Mr. Glasman. Make your fighter fight. This stalling may be all right with you but it ain't with me. I'm in here to protect myself. Make him fight or out you go."

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Texas League athletes will work overtime before holiday crowds in four cities today. Doubleheaders were scheduled at Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco and Houston, with the double conflict between the Spudgers and Cats holding major interest.

The leading Oilers bade adieu to South Texas yesterday with two and one-half games left in the six game lead with which they began their excursion three weeks ago. Houston, starting on a final jaunt through the northern sector, held down the runner-up position, with the Sports just half a notch behind.

Houston Gains Game

Thanks to an unexpected display of spirit by the Cubs in their four-game series against the Spudgers, Houston was able to gain a full contest over the week-end. Del Pratt's pupils made it two out of three from the Oilers by taking the first game of yesterday's double with a 7 to 6, and then holding the invaders to a 7-7 draw in the night-cap. Harris and Thurman limited the leaders to six blows in the opener. The Spuds were forced to score three runs in the seventh inning of the afternoon game, and Sunday afternoon and will force local enthusiasts to do without their baseball today.

A three game series with what was supposed to be the Lamesa Lobes was scheduled to begin Sunday afternoon. Further investigation revealed that it was Ackerly and not Lamesa that had matched the game.

Were Short of Men
In a telephone conversation with a Lamesa official this morning it was learned that the Ackerly crew started to Lubbock by way of Lamesa with only a handful of players. In Lamesa the club hoped to pick enough men to complete their lineup. The Lamesa aggregation was playing Tahoka Sunday afternoon and thus the Ackerly outfit was unable to get the help it was seeking.

Further communication today revealed that the Lamesa club was so scattered that it would be impossible to assemble a club for today's scheduled double header.

Possibility that the Lubbock Advertisers will appear at the local park today reached no definite proportions at noon today.

FEATURE FIGHTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The current week's boxing program brings to the fore two lightweightweights who were rivals a half dozen years ago—Sammy Mandell and Sid Terris.

Since their two meetings in 1923 and 1925, Mandell has risen to the lightweight championship, a title he appears destined to hold for some time yet to come. Terris, famed as the "Ghetto Champ," has been on the down trail more than a year with the end of his long ring career in sight.

Trying for Comeback

After his knockout defeats last year at the hands of Jimmy McLarin and Ray Miller, Terris has been trying to come back with more or less success. His come-back campaign reached a critical moment on Tuesday night when he faces the sturdy, hard-hitting young Seminole Indian, Pete Nebo, of Tampa, Fla. In a ten-round bout at the Queensboro stadium.

Mandell, making his first appearance since his successful title defense against Tony Canzonieri, battles Luis Vincentini of Chile, in a ten rounder at the Chicago stadium on Friday night.

CROP STATUS IS NOT KNOWNRAIN MUST COME IN NEAR FUTURE TO AID FARMERS

(Special To The Journal)
SLATON, Sept. 2.—The exact status of the crop situation in the Slaton territory is yet somewhat problematical depending partly upon whether rain comes within the next few days. Dry weather for several weeks has injured cotton and feed crops, although local rains over the territory have aided many farmers' crops, and the situation will average better than over most of the state, according to reports.

Rain at this time would aid cotton and feed crops, helping young cotton bolls mature better and causing feed to take on new life, where it is not already burned too badly. Without rain, cotton will be spotted, although the total yield in the Slaton territory will be larger than last year, it is predicted. Some farmers say they will be able to get three acres, while others will not do so well. One man reported he would make a half bale on first year land. The feed crop is cut short even if rain should come immediately, but rain would be beneficial now. Most farmers have a surplus of feed from last year, and will not be forced to buy, it is believed.

TEXAS GENERAL'S BODY TO BE MOVED

AUSTIN, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The remains of Captain Jesse Billingsley, wounded at the battle of San Jacinto, will be removed September 3 from the home of Mrs. J. M. Dade in Bastrop county to the state cemetery here, the state board of control has announced.

Removal of the body is in connection with steps to be taken by the board of control to bury the remains of men who fought prominently in the early history of the state.

Billingsley came to Texas in 1825 and served as captain in the war for independence against Mexico. He became head of a company of 60 Rangers, serving at the same time as a representative from Bastrop county in the first and second congress. After statehood, he represented Bastrop county in the fifth and eighth legislatures.

PIRATE BUBBLE IS EXPLODEDBy WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the Pirate bubble exploded, major league teams swing into labor day with little to offer the fans except Babe Ruth's home run race against time. The Babe slammed his fortieth at Braves field yesterday as the Yankees paid a hurried visit to the rented Sabalville home of the Red Sox to win 4 to 4. The game yesterday was Ruth's 125th leaving him 29 more in which to hit a sufficient number of circuit drives to earn an increase in his annual $70,000 check.

Record Seems Safe
The Babe's own record of 60 made two years ago is safe from any new advances at this moment, but another September such as the one he experienced in 1927 would give him about fifty-six for the season—easily enough for another handsome raid upon the Ruppert bank roll.

After being cuffed about by the Athletics all season, the Senators turned to the Yankees, and Babe Jones was right, and the Senators smacked everything served them. Connie Mack availed himself of the opportunity to insert several of his second string.

Hollowy Blanks Sox
Ken Hollowy pitched over the Indians to a 5 to 10 victory over the White Sox at Chicago, and George Uhle checked the Browns sufficiently for the Tigers to win 7 to 4.

Limping home from their chastisement at Pittsburgh, the Cubs found it was a welcome to them from the stands about Wrigley. The Bruins responded by smashing Jess Haines and Carmen Hill for ten runs which defeated the Cardinals 10 to 3.

The Pirates treated themselves to a 9 to 7 victory over Cincinnati in 7 innings. The game was notable first because pobydy but Red Lucas was the defeated pitcher, and secondly because Ervin Brame, the hitting pitcher, reached the distant right field bleacher at Indianland for a home run in the fifth with two on base. He had to have relief from Remy Kremer on the mound, however, and Kremer got credit for winning.

The Phillies won both games at Ebbets field 15 to 2 and 8 to 1. Larry Benton crashed the Cardinals at St. Louis, and the Giants 8 to 4 at the Polo grounds.

SWINE BREEDERS
STAGE CAMPAIGN

(Special To The Journal)
TULIA, Sept. 2.—Owing to the fact that Texas has dropped to the lowest state in the Union in the production of pork, the Panhandle swine breeders association has decided to put a field man in the Plains counties to make a house to house campaign, and encourage the farmers to raise more and better hogs, and to advise with them in the matter of feeding and breeding them.

According to R. E. Prewitt, secretary of the organization it is the plan of the body to put a good show on every farm. It is not expected that this will be accomplished in one year, but the purpose is to take more than one year.

The Swine Breeders association will pay the man's salary and will ask the counties worked to help pay his traveling expenses. Encouragement has been received in every county approached and the untold endorsement of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been given.

Equality

A vacation motor trip through the American countryside leads to a number of interesting conclusions.
Among them the thought that the rich man's advantage over the poor man is growing smaller every year.

Fifteen years ago, cross-country motoring was a recreation confined largely to the well-to-do. It took a fairly expensive car to stand up under the daily grind of long-distance driving. Traveling expenses were heavy. If the poor man tried such a trip he had to put up with many kinds of discomforts, strain his financial power to the limits and miss many of the spots to which the rich man's car carried him.

Today there are millions of tourists on the highways. Automobiles of all makes of every price and model, bearing the license tags of every state in the union, whirl by in a dizzying procession. There are old cars, new cars, cheap cars, expensive cars, fast cars, slow cars—all going along the roads, bearing their owners in pursuit of the same aim—the enjoyment of the finest forms of recreation available.

Among this army of autos the cars of the poor man far outnumber the cars of the rich man. In fact, are equal on the open road. The poor man can go anywhere the rich man can go, and can enjoy anything the rich man can enjoy.

The same good roads are available to all. The same scenery is open to each. The man who paid $800 for his car can go just as far and just as fast as the man whose car cost $5000. He can enjoy precisely the same sights and sensations. It is only in the unimportant trimmings of the trip that he is outclassed.

The rich man, for instance, rides in slightly greater comfort. He stops at expensive hotels, while the poor man pays a dollar for a room in a private home—or, perhaps, pitches his tent on some free camping ground. The rich man, perhaps, eats better food along the way and buys more souvenirs and keepsakes in the towns he visits. Otherwise the two fare exactly alike.

There is a new sort of equality to all of this. The faded democracy of America is being made more real by it. No longer are the beauties of mountains, seashore and upland lakes reserved for the enjoyment of the well-to-do. Any man with a three-year-old driver and a few spare dollars can have his fill of them.

This is the thing that the automobile makers have done for us.
The huge sprawling factories of Detroit, Flint, Pontiac and Toledo are playing a vital part in a new development in American life. They are opening for the average man the gateway to a freer, wider existence—and, in the doing of it, breaking down the old distinction between rich and poor.

The Dirigible

The globe-circling of the Graf Zeppelin is a spectacular and interesting affair—the sort of thing that may well take hold of the public imagination and restore the dirigible to the place it formerly held in the minds of men.

A dozen years ago all speculations about long-distance commercial aviation dealt exclusively with dirigibles.
It was not until the airplane developed that the dirigible was thought to be developed to the point where it could be developed to carry enough passengers and cargo to pay its way as a means of transportation.

The development of the airplane, however, has been so rapid that the dirigible has been side-tracked—in the popular mind—at any rate. The great achievements of the airplane have made the dirigible look alone, cumbersome and expensive.

There is still a wide field of usefulness for the dirigible, however.
The round-the-world flight of the Graf Zeppelin may focus public attention anew on this fact. If so, it will have been a useful trip.

WANIAN IN TULSA Sept. 2.
That Girl on Broadway up here helping the Kiwanis club in its fight for the 1930 convention, says everything is all right in Tulsa.

First casualty of the trip: B.
Sherrod's stiff neck, suffered while trying to see the top of Harry Sunclair's bank building.

The Plainsman hasn't been here long enough to change his shirt at this writing and there's not much to say. The Lubbock headquarters at Hotel Mayo are well located and the hotel, incidentally, is a beautifully appointed—the best The Plainsman has seen in the Southwest.
It's something like 20 stories high and the lobby is luxurious to say the least.

Bob Murray and The Plainsman made the trip up here together on the train. "I'm not going to land in Tulsa looking like a bum and tired enough to drop," Bob said in regard to making the trip in a car and The Plainsman, who also too lazy to change tires on the road, agreed.

Bob used to live up here a long time ago—before he moved down to Station-to-run-banks.
Rotary clubs and so forth. He sees a big change, of course and is worried. Like the rest of us, over the traffic. It's getting so now that an old country boy like The Plainsman oughtn't to come to town without taking on some extra life insurance.

There's a convention or two meeting up here every day and the natives have become so used to them that they rarely pay any attention to events of this nature. The local Kiwanians, however, are doing a fine job and if Lubbock gets the 1930 meeting will have to all show in together to put it over in a way to make delegates forget the Tulsa meeting.

The fact that Lubbock Rotary, Lions clubs and the Board of City Development have sent delegates to aid the Kiwanians is making quite a hit. The Plainsman is of the opinion that Lubbock must be about the only city in the world where the spirit of co-operation between civic clubs is so great that members of one club will lend a hand and help others land a convention. From a psychological standpoint that fact is going to help quite a lot to focus attention upon Lubbock's claims.

Before the boys left home. Photographer Arthur Brown made a skyline picture of Lubbock to post in the hotel lobby so the Kiwanians from over Texas and Oklahoma can see first hand that they're being invited to a real city. The new skyline, considerably augmented over last year by the Lubbock and Hilton hotels, is certainly a winner.

That Man on Avenue Q says it may be funny but quite a few vibrating exercisers are being sold to folks whose ancestors toned up their livers on springless-farm wagons.

Before The Plainsman left Lubbock J. D. Caldwell, pioneer of Lubbock and Crosby counties and former county judge at Morton, in Cochran county, came in the office with a news item about a Ford sedan being included on the back of the new $10 bill. Judge Caldwell had one of the bills and sure enough, when the picture of the U. S. Treasury building was taken for use on the bills some fellow in a new whoopee was right in the big middle of it.

The Plainsman didn't know anything about it until the Judge called his attention to the fact, not having had a ten dollar bill since two years before the war. He went to Bruce Malcolm, Henry Ford's personal representative in West Texas, who was in Lubbock Saturday and to George Benson, one of Henry's partners in the Lubbock Auto company, and both of them had heard the news. Bruce said, however, that he had been informed that the die was to be changed and a new picture of the treasury building made without the Ford's being there. At any rate, Henry's Model A is getting a lot of free publicity even if most of us down Lubbock way rarely see a hold of ten bucks all in one bill.

Judge Caldwell had with him a bunch of old time pictures which would be of interest to almost anybody in Lubbock oldtimers and newcomers alike. One of them is of Uncle Tang Martin, picturesque old character who used to be on the county. Uncle Tang, as he was universally known, was quite a figure in Lubbock for years—everybody who has been in Lubbock any length of time remembers him.

Another one of the pictures shows a group of Lubbock men gathered before the old courthouse and must have been taken at least 16 years ago. Sam McWhorter, George Wolfarth, George Bole, Rollie Burns, Albert Taylor, Ed Green and a number of others are shown in the picture.

All of us up here will see you in a couple of days but if we don't bring the convention back we won't have a great deal to report.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Every year this country seems to have more and more foreign affairs. The last few months of the Hoover administration have found enough of them on the griddle to call for frequent conferences between President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson.

But, as far as your correspondent can learn, we have very little to worry about. Insofar as the international situation is concerned, Uncle Sam hasn't been getting his feet wet.

Negotiations with England over disarmament, carried on by Premier Ramsay MacDonald, President Hoover, Secretary Stimson and Ambassador Davies ever since Davies reached London, appear to be progressing favorably. Perhaps owing to the firm policy of secrecy maintained by both governments, available reports of their progress have alternated—between hot and cold.
But lately these reports have been all to the good and there is every reason to believe that the announcement of determination of both Hoover and MacDonald to reduce armaments is going to bear fruit without any undue hitches or unexpected procrastination.

Pacifists Seem Closer

The present prospect is that there will be a further reduction in size and in numbers of capital ships or first-line battleships and that the cruiser fleets of the United States and England will be brought nearer to parity. We have already halted our cruiser program and it appears likely that we will reduce the size of our fleet and that she will not plan on complete replacement as her existing cruisers reach the age limit.

The state department has had nothing to say about the extent to which France, Japan and Italy are expected to reduce their fleets. It is probable, however, that they are let in on any concrete developments. For there is now some talk of a formal disarmament conference, as early as December, of the five naval powers participating in the Washington conference.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The sandwich man who plays the Uncle Josh role in the Times Square belt and draws laughs from the tired subway throngs is actually a product of the "hastock belt."

His make-up, which is of the ancient rural Amosy vintage, includes the usual "bogoh" whiskers and boots and the huge carpet bag.

It seems that he drifted into town from the Iowa farm belt, hoping to get on the stage—as "who doesn't? But he never got beyond the agency offices, and up against role on the sidewalks while carrying on his back the advertisement of a mid-town restaurant.

on it this summer," he told the

So this summer I went back to the fairs. I changed my costume to that cane and monocle and stage door "bunny" stuff and got jobs all over the middle west. Just breezed back into town the other day, got out my rube uniform and walked right into work again."

It's a funny world!

The outstanding plunger of the swanky Saratoga race track is not one of Park Avenue's millionaire dwellers, but a former New York plumber who figured out a few bits of info on how the ponies canter and began a cleanup that landed him finally on the ritziest highway in the nation.

Long Beach, a bathing resort just beyond the New York limits, has gone completely Broadway.

This season it has furnished an answer to the immortal question of where chorus girls go in summer.
The daily beach parade along the strand resembles 50 beauty contests all going at once. And the bathing regalia affected by the girls is plastered to Israel all the way to Manhattan to glimpse.

Certain of the private clubs are dominated by nationally famous stars of the stage. Sun-tan has become a drug on the market and leather-colored cuties will clutter up many a stage this winter unless they fade in the meantime.

In one section of the sandy stretches, Texas Guinan carries on her role of shouting hostess as though she never tired of the role.
On certain Sundays she may be stand doing her stuff for a festive mob. Some of her "little girls" gen-

Diet and Health

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

SHERBETS, ICES, FRUITS
ALWAYS GOOD DESSERTS
FOR THOSE OVERWEIGHT

"Non-Fattening" Foods
"Dear Doctor: I have a book on reducing which says that ices, such as orange, pineapple and peach, also sherberts, are not fattening. I was not sure, but also told that instead of candy a few marshmallows are made of gelatine. I would like to know if these two statements are correct.
"Y."

When the statement is made that a certain food is not fattening, it should be used
comparatively—it is not so fattening as some other food. For any food it happens to be in excess of the needs,
Y. Of course, some are more fattening than others because they are more concentrated, therefore higher in calories.

Sherberts and water ices, count about 100 calories to the scant half-cup if it is the sugar and fruit juices and egg whites, if used, that count, while one-quarter cup of ice cream is 100 calories. So sherberts and water ices are one-half as fattening as ice cream.

Marshmallows also have sugar in them. I think the commercial marshmallows are made with a base of gelatin, not of starch. Three average sized marshmallows are 100 calories. So one would be approximately 33 calories. Here again, comparing a marshmallow with the marshmallow is not nearly so fattening as the chocolate, for the piece of chocolate would be about 75 to 100 C.

The dry, granulated gelatin registers 100 C. to three scant tablespoons (a scant ounce), but that amount will stiffen one pint of water, so in a single serving of gelatin puddings you would get but a little of the gelatin. The sugar and other substances used to make up its caloric value.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The circus folks were tickled pink to see the Tinymites in a wink they all rushed up and shook their hands. The little fat girl said, "Oh, I missed, Clowry quite a lot. I thought he'd left us like a not. I simply couldn't sleep at night when I turned in to bed."

And then the scarecrow, their old friend, came up and shouted, "Let me lead a hand in this loud cheering. When I found out that you were gone, I worried, lads, from night till dawn. Nobody else seemed worried much, but I was quite concerned."

Then Scouty said, "Well, anyhow, we're safe and sound and back here now. The circus tent that blew away is just as good as new. Let's put it up on its old site and stage a regular show tonight. We all must get real busy, 'cause there's plenty we must do."

The tent was then unfolded wide and folks took over every side. The big, long poles were put in place and someone yelled heave ho! The whole bunch proved that they were wrong. It really wasn't very long until the tent was high in air and ready for a show.

Scouty said, "Hey there! Please look here. I want you four Tinymites to dine with me to night. You've kept my big tent safe and sound and now it's back up on the ground. We'll eat down in a swell cafe, if that will be all right."

"Why, sure," the bunch heard Carpy say. And so they soon were on their way. They finally reached

GIRL, 13, IS GIVEN IN MARRIAGE FOR FOUR MULES, CHAIN AND WAGON

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 2.—A peer bargain of the hill country, in which a 13-year-old girl was bartered off as a bride in return for a gift of four mules, a log chain and a wagon, has just reached the notice of the authorities here—with the result that one man is in jail and another is about to face criminal charges, and the luckless girl is in hiding at the home of relatives.

The girl is Louise Gibbs—or, legally, Louise Green. A bride at 13, she says she dares not go out on the street alone for fear that her husband will compel her to go back to Detroit and live with him.

Her father, Henry Gibbs, is in jail, accused of converting the property of another.

Her husband, Ed Green, who is 43 years old, 16 years the senior of her father, is waiting in Hopkinsville in the hope that he can get the girl to return to him. He is also vowing vengeance on Gibbs, whom he accuses of defrauding him.

It all happened like this: Some weeks ago Green took Louise to Cadiz, Ky., and married her, showing the clerk a letter purporting to be from her father, giving parental consent. This letter, according to Gibbs, was forged, and Gibbs threatened Green with dire consequences.

Peace was made, however, when Green gave his new father-in-law two teams of mules, a wagon and a log chain. The parental wrath subsided, and Green took his bride to Detroit, where he has four children by another marriage.

Louise, a slim child weighing about 100 pounds, quickly tired of married life and left her husband. She hid in Detroit until her father arrived and brought her back home. Green came to Hopkinsville in pursuit. Unable to get his wife back, he demanded the return of his peace offering—only to find that Gibbs had sold mules, wagon and all for $325.

Green thereupon had Green arrested on a charge of forging the letter of permission with which the marriage license was obtained. Green made peace in some way and

VETS WILL MEET IN NACOGDOCHES

NACOGDOCHES, Sept. 2 (P).—Remnants of the Boys in the Gray who attend the annual Texas Confederate veterans reunion here Sept. 3-5, will register in a rebuilt old stone fort on the high school campus. The reunion sessions are to be held in a new gymnasium-auditorium within 100 yards of the fort.

One hundred years ago the stone fort, a two-story structure, stood at the corner of the plaza in the little town of Nacogdoches, the gateway to Texas from the United States.

To Be Entertained
Robert Lindsey, general chairman of the reunion, has announced that all old soldiers will be lodged and fed free during the three days.

One of the features of the reunion will be a barbecue. The Nacogdoches post of the American Legion is aiding in the entertainment and plans a street dance on the post-office square the second night.

The old soldiers will see the monument here to the memory of Thomas J. Rusk, Stephen F. Austin Teachers college, erected on the site of General Rusk's farm home, and the historic elm tree under which many treaties were made with the Indians. Many will be taken to old San Augustine, rich in history, only 35 miles away.

Major General W. M. Atkinson of Houston, commander of the Texas division, United Confederate Veterans, will preside over the business sessions.

Immediately thereafter Green had Gibbs arrested for selling the wagon and mules, charging that he had merely left them with Gibbs for safe keeping.

Gibbs was placed in jail and Louise went to stay with relatives. She asked the jailer to lock her up with her father, but the jail was full and he refused.

Her father, meanwhile, insists that as soon as he gets out of jail he will reimburse the charges of forgery against Green.

The county grand jury is expected to investigate the entire matter soon.

STATE FUNDS ARE LOWERED

HATCHER'S STATEMENT HAS NEARLY MILLION IN DECREASE

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Sept. 2.—There was a balance of $18,827,721 in the state treasury prepared by W. Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer. There was a balance of $19,348,617 when the year was begun.

The general revenue fund had $223,687, compared to $3,758,171 a year ago. Warrants outstanding against this fund were estimated at $750,000.

Campaign For Hart As Candidate Is On

DALLAS, Sept. 2 (P).—The Dallas Morning News Sunday said that a movement to organize support for Charles L. Hart of Dallas as a candidate for the attorney generalship was started here today.

LUBBOCK FAILING TO RECORD BIRTHS

According to figures compiled from data secured by the scholastic census enumerators and checked with the birth certificates on file with the State Health Department only about 42 per cent of the children born in Lubbock county during 1928 were registered by the physician or mid-wife in attendance. Many of the children born in Lubbock county during 1928 were deprived of the protection of a legal record of their age, parentage and citizenship.

This failure is also causing the veterans of the World War and their widows a considerable amount of trouble and expense in filing claims for compensation with the Veterans' Bureau.

A concerted drive is being made at this time in an effort to improve registration in Texas so that it may be admitted to the Federal Registration Area during 1929. If this is to be done the combined efforts of all civic agencies and local officials is necessary. Only two other states are outside of the Area at this time. Ninety per cent efficiency is required for admission.
