Knocking Around The Old Town

Sometimes business in and around the office claims so much of our time, that we cannot get out and mix and act friendly with the business men as we would like. We don't mean by that to make a business call—some of us do that every week—but to make a neighborly call, a social call if you please, and talk about something other than just every day business. To ask questions about the family; how the kids are getting along in school, or how John or Jane are coming along at college.

This week, we covered what some jokingly refer to as "Little Jaurez." But if this section is more unruly than any other section or if the people are less energetic than any other section of town, we have not been able to discover it. Possibly the section got the name when there were several beer parlors along the block, and has just hung on. But seems to us the section got the name back in the twenties, when there were so many small wooden buildings along the north side of west Main.

A big change is being made in the Hotel Coffe Shop with a large section cut off, with several booths left, making it an ideal place to hold social functions, lodge or civic club meetings.

At the Aryain Dry Goods store, Mr. and Mrs. Aryain and force were busy preparing for their annual fall sale, which we are publishing this week. Mr. Aryain bought heavily in the summer when things really looked more promising than now, and he has a price on them that should move them.

In the next place, Cyl Tankersley was busy getting his Monday morning collection of suits, pants, overcoats, dresses, etc., ready to be cleaned and pressed. M. V. (Hiram) Walker and his barber were all smiles and busy. Didn't invade the beauty section, as we never did feel just right in a beauty parlor, and the ladies, other than the owner and operator, always give you a look as if they were of the same mind.

Will Moore is now running the Legion Cafe, better known here perhaps as the Snappy Cafe. Has been operating it about a month, and was not complaining. Next door, the Jenkins Barber Shop seemed to be too busy for callers.

The Club Cafe is nearly always a busy place, especially at meal time, and has always been a favorite spot for the business men to congregate over their morning and afternoon coffee. The place always has a neat appearance, and they serve good food.

Johnny Jones is still running Smitty's Cafe just a bit further up the street, and has added a number of good, regular customers since he started. He has a new cook, however, as we understand John Walls has moved to Amarillo.

In using the word "Greasy" to distinguish one of our Jim Millers from the laundryman, "Soapy" Miller, one can find very little grease around the Magnolia Filling Station, Jim's place, except in barrels, cans and other places where it belongs. No matter what part of the building you visit, it is spotless and sanitary. A busy place with business men operating it.

Before crossing the street, let us say a word about Troy Noel and his efficient corps of cleaners and tailors. Troy nearly always sees the bright side of life instead of the dark, and if there is any tailor work to do, he gets his share.

O'Daniell Undecided About the Oil Tax

Governor-nominate W. Lee O'Daniel this week denied that he has made any decision on the matter of probable new taxes to raise money for pension payments. He stated that recent press reports indicating that the governor-to-be would favor further taxation of oil, were without grounds.

"Oil already is paying a tax," the flour merchant stated. "Whether it is enough is a matter of opinion. Some say it is, some not. I'm gathering these opinions to reach my own decision."

The new governor made his statement in Dallas where he was attending the State Fair. He was accompanied by his family and his hillbilly band.

"I've reached one definite conclusion," O'Daniel stated. "That is that the government can and should be reorganized. I don't know yet just what departments should be abolished, but I do know much can be done along these lines."

Ford Visions Bright Upturn For 1939

DETROIT, Oct. 24.—Henry Ford painted a bright picture of the business outlook in an interview Monday, predicting a prosperous 1939 and expressing the belief that there would be no major European war.

"The people have come to their senses and realize the futility of war," was his comment on threats of armed conflict in Europe.

Business, he said, already is in the upgrade and "distinctly better times are on the way."

"Next year," he said, "will be all right."

across the street a crowd was on hand admiring the two new 1939 model cars and a pickup. There is no prettier car made, but read the description elsewhere. This company is certainly proud of its new Weaver Wheel Alignment machine, and the mechanics are kept busy using it since it was installed last Monday.

The Arnett Gulf Service Station, is also a busy place. What with filling, greasing and washing, they were almost too busy to talk to a country editor, but they always let you know that they know you are on hand, with a friendly greeting.

Gordon Bros. appear to be as proud of their new brick and tile home as a kid of its first toy, and we don't blame them. With the new arrangement of concrete floors, the place can be kept spotlessly clean, and the arrangement of the floor plan is to make every department convenient and easily accessible.

W. R. Stewart, prominent citizen here for many years, is closing out his grocery stock this week, and will likely return to his old stomping ground at Honey Grove, Texas. We are certainly losing a mighty good family, but don't believe they'll burn any bridges.

Dodging cars and trucks to get across the street to see how David Perry and C. C. Bryant were doing with their Texaco Station, one of the best arranged in the city. All busy except David. He was out apparently "ratting" until a hard wash and grease job was over. Well, we've learned a lot about dodging hard work, too.

And so on down to the Star Tire Store, run by L. E. McClish and Arlie Larrimore. Found Mack out but Arlie on the job. Reported that advertising for second hand tires had done the job, and they are getting quite a stock on hand now. Second hand tires are in great demand in central Texas.

Marion Craig is showing the new 1939 Plymouth and DeSota, and as usual will put out his share of new cars. Marion always puts out a rather vociferous greeting to his friends. But one thing you can depend on—he means it.

Right here we are stopping this joust for this week, but will be seeing you next week with another bunch of the boys who are here helping to make Brownfield a matchless trading point for his area.

Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire Re-united

Separated for sixteen months for solo starring pictures, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers are joyously reunited in RKO Radio's sparkling musical spectacle, "Care-free." Ralph Bellmy heads the rich comedy cast, and the entire proceedings are set to Irving Berlin's tantalizing melodies.

Link in Road to Big Bend Is Favored

AUSTIN, Oct. 24. — The State Highway Commission gave favorable consideration Monday to an application for improving a link in the proposed 12,000-mile hard surfaced from Canada to Big Bend Park.

The application asked grading and building of drainage structures on Highway 51 in Hockley county, and was presented by Representative Allison of Levelland, together with the four Hockley County Commissioners, L. D. Gann, Joe Meyers, J. P. Shoffner and G. C. Brooks.

The highway in Texas goes directly south from Dalhart through Hereford, Littlefield, Levelland, Brownfield and Odessa, and north of Texas it skirts a part of Oklahoma and the eastern part of Colorado. From Brownfield to Odessa the road is paved.

"The highway will lead through the new Slaughter oil field in Hockley county," Allison said, and already the unpaved road now in use is crowded with traffic, being used by tourists, we will cause of the 15 producing oil wells, bring hundreds of them to the Big Bend country over this scenic route. We have what is known as the International Parks Highway Association working on the entire project and the sooner this route is improved the more Texas will benefit."

Lions Entertain Wives and Rotarians

The Lion club were gracious hosts to their wives and to their Rotarian Brothers and their wives, on Friday night, when they entertained with a fine banquet at the Terry's White Kitchen.

President Emmitt Smith of the Lions Club presided, and welcomed the guests. Homer Winston responded in his entertaining way, after which Attorney Burton G. Hackney introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Imogene Warder, a fluent and interesting lecturer on Spain and conditions existing there.

Gruesome facts as observed by the lecturer would make anyone living in this country deeply grateful for the security of living under the Stars and Stripes.

T & T Tire Store Changes Hands

The T. and H. Tire Store, one of Brownfield's newest business houses, is now owned by Boy Tarpley, who bought out the partnership interest of Norman Hyman this week. This store is well located on Main street, well stocked with tires and all automobile accessories and is owned and managed by one of the most capable and likable young business men in town, Boy Tarpley, who invites you to come around for an inspection of the T. and H. Store and solicits your patronage.

The "Fighting" Cubs Click at Monahans

By J. W. Chambliss

For the first time this season the Fighting Cubs got their offense clicking Friday night to down the mighty Green Wave of Monahans 26-7. It seemed that every member of the team, including substitutes, suddenly came to life and put on an exhibition of superb blocking and tackling.

Morton stole the show early in the first period by taking a thirty yard pass from that calm little field general, Pete Brown, to open the scoring. Due to a bad pass from center, Jenkins failed to kick for extra point. Later in the second period, Morton again tallied for the Cubs on another pass from Brown. Jenkins attempt at conversion was good, and the half ended with the Cubs leading 13-0.

Beginning the second half, the Loboes, with a determination to overcome the lead of the Cubs, tried a trick kickoff which had been successful in previous games. But it failed against the alert Cubs. The Loboes' ace back, Ellis, seemed unable to ward off the fast and hard-driving Cubs. Their lone counter came in the early part of the fourth period after a series of line drives, with Hary carrying over the touchdown. A pass to Luethy was successful for the point after touchdown. This, however, served only to infuriate the Cubs, because, three plays later, Hill, Brownfield's powerful left half, drove off tackle to score from the thirty-two yard line. Jenkins again failed to convert. About three minutes later, Warren, a fast and shifty little substitute halfback, slipped off right tackle for fifty-five yards and a touchdown. Jenkins converted, and the scoring over, the Cubs leading 26-7.

Jenkins, Murry, and Rowden showed the Green Wave how rough and fast they could play in this part of the country, while Hill and Morton did some beautiful ball carrying and pass receiving. Brown proved his ability as a great little quarterback by keeping the Loboes guessing as to what he was going to do next. Jantz as center, Lewis at guard, Bryan at end, Murphy and Warren at halves all substitutes, turned in a fine game.

This was the Cubs sixth victory to no defeats for this season. They have won over Kermit, Jal, Olton, Ralls, Plainview "B" and Monahans to run up a total of 113 points to their opponents 20. They play their first conference game here Friday, meeting an improved Tahoma Bulldog eleven. The Cubs have hopes of another district championship.

Coaches Nooncaster and Tipps are proud of the boys after their last Friday's turn out at Monahans and believe that they are going still further this season. But they have plenty of hard work to do yet. Over-confidence is a thing that may hurt the squad; otherwise they should "go to town."

Wager-Hour Law Effects Western Union

"The far reaching effects of the fair labor standard act will be on October 24th, the effective date brought home to Telegraph users of the act, when the local Western Union office will have to shorten its working hours," it is announced by Mr. Breneman, Manager of the office.

"The requirements of the act impose a burden which the Telegraph Company is unable to meet," said Mr. Breneman, "and while it is the traditional desire of my company to serve the public when it wants to be served, we have no alternative under the present business conditions but to shorten the hours. We have, however, arranged our open hours to give the maximum service to our customers. The office will open at 8:10 a. m. Close from 11:55 a. m. to 1:10 p. m., and close for the day at 5:52 p. m.

As an indication of the company's attitude toward its employees, Mr. Breneman said, "I will work fewer hours but my weekly pay envelope will not contain any less."

Big Sale Now On at The Aryain Store

Quoting between forty and fifty prices of extra specials in this week's Herald, just as a sample of what the shopper may expect in his fine store, Aryain Dry Goods store leaves the rest to the imagination of the shoppers, and many glad surprises for the shoppers when they call to inspect this large seasonal stock.

Since entering business here in 1933, Mr. Aryain has never put out a circular or ad that was full of flowery adjectives and glowing perhaps unfulfillable promises. The editorial in the ad this week is short and to the point, and means just what it says.

Be sure to attend this Annual Fall Sale before the stock has been picked over.

See New 1939 Model Olds at Ross Motor Co.

The Ross Motor Co., is prepared to show their many customers the bright, shiny new Oldsmobile this week, that carry everything the General Motors Co. put into their cars, including beauty, utility, economic operation, and riding comfort.

When interviewed Wednesday, Terry Redford informed the Herald that they then had four of the new cars on display; being two 60's, 2-door sedans; one 60, four-door touring sedan, and one 70 four-door touring sedan.

Mr. Redford stated unhesitatingly that prospects for sales were good. Be sure to call at this popular agency for a peep at the new cars.

Sam Malone to Open Addition to Seminole

Sam Malone, hustling editor and publisher of the Seminole Sentinel as well as secretary of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, is opening an addition to the northern part of that city, just five blocks from the square, on the Brownfield highway.

Mr. Malone has owned this block of acreage many years, and will make desirable homesites as well as good business sites. There will be 15 of the later, and 89 residence lots sold at auction, for two days, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 1-2.

Tire Shop Employees Expert Repair Man

The Safety Tire Shop is fortunate in securing the services of an expert repairman in the person of Clayton Warlick of Vernon, Tex. Mr. Warlick has had ten years experience in tire repair and tire vulcanizing and the shop is prepared to give quick, and efficient service.

Mr. and Mrs. Redford Smith spent the week end in Tatum, N.

The 1939 Chevrolet Is a Real Man's Car

Sleek new aero-stream bodies suggesting fleetness and luxury combine with numerous mechanical advancements, at least two of which are major in character, to assure keen public interest in the new 1939 Chevrolet, which makes its formal bow today in 10,000 dealers' showrooms from coast to coast.

The two new Chevrolet series, designed as the Master DeLuxe and the Master 85, are offered as embodying not only distinctive style but an ever finer aggregate of performance, safety and comfort characteristics than that which made their predecessors sales leaders in 1938. Two new models, a Master DeLuxe four passenger coupe with many distinctive features, and a Master 85 business coupe available on both chassis, are added for 1939, the sport coupe and cabriolet being discontinued.

The major mechanical improvements for 1939 are the new vacuum gearshift with steering column control, optional on both series at nominal extra cost, and the new perfected Knee-Action riding system on the Master DeLuxe. This improvement includes an entirely new Knee-Action mechanism, triple-tested, precision-built, and tailored a sa unit to the car, to assure maximum riding comfort over all roads.

The power plant in both series is the time-proven Chevrolet 85-horsepower high-compression six cylinder valve-in-head engine, in which refinements introduced in 1938 are continued, and additional refinements resulting in greater economy, durability, and ease of servicing, incorporated for 1939. Improvements have been made in the ignition and oiling system, the carburetor, the intake manifold thermostatic control, the harmonic balancer, which is now floated in rubber, and the cooling justing permanently-lubricated ball system, which now has a self-acting water pump. The diaphragm-type Tiptoe-matic Clutch introduced for 1938 is continued with improvements, chief of which is new provision for ventilation.

Outwardly, the new Chevrolet is longer and lower in appearance. This is accomplished by the new design of fenders, wheels, running boards, and hood, as well as by a new window treatment. The lower corners of the latter appear practically square, thus effecting a continuous straight-line appearance at the bottom of the side windows.

The hood extends forward from the cowl in a smooth, unbroken surface, curving down gracefully at the front to meet the new radiator of the top and side panels, from a diator grille. The new construction single piece of sheet steel without hinged or riveted joint, accentuates its clean-cut sleekness.

New and larger headlamps are cradled in the valleys between fender crowns and hood, being mounted directly to low pads embossed in the fenders themselves. The lamps are longer, larger in diameter, farther apart and closer to the ground than in 1938, and their new lenses light more of the road.

Advertisement For Waterwork Bids

The advertisement for bids for the $52,000 extension of waterworks and sewerage in the city, to be let November 14th, to the lowest bidder, is now running in the Herald.

As soon as possible the Herald will give you the engineer's idea of just what these extensions will look like, and what they will mean to Brownfield.

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield

Four very prominent Yoakum county men were in recently and lewed as how they understood the Republican paper at Plains might move to Allred, leaving the field open for a good Democrat paper there.

Have we really got something in the Cubs this year? So far, they have looked good in all games, and especially Friday night, according to observers. But we'll see what we see in their first conference game today.

A friend who has been taking the Texas Election Bureau returns jointly with the Herald, turned down the contract for the general election November 8th. And we don't blame him. He thought the election was all over in August, and it practically was as far as Texas is concerned.

Germany likes this gobbling-up stuff, but wants to do it herself. Recently warned Hungary not to be a glutton for more territory, especially if that territory lays over in Czechoslovakia. Just amounts to the old Blue Back Speller saying, "Owing to whose ox is gored."

The wage-hour law is being discussed much these days in Brownfield, but seems as though not many understand it, even though they profess to do so. What little we have read, when all the ifs and ands and buts and exemptions are included, it would take a New York ward boss, two Philadelphia lawyers, and a Chicago gangster to understand all the phases of the law.

"This car is safe if driven on the little stickers the highway department puts on your car, if it safely." That is what is printed makes the grade in the "Safety Lane." And isn't there a whole sermon wrapped up in that little seven word sentence? No matter how new; no matter in what condition the steering apparatus, or the brakes, a car is not safe if driven unsafely. Neither is a "wreck" safe on the highways if driven more than 35 miles per hour.

Editor Connally Baldwin, of Lamasa Reporter has been printing some mighty fine front page editorials of late on the subject, "Where You Find It." And the "it" don't always mean gold, but perhaps its equivalent, and perhaps more often that satisfaction of living where one is surrounded by good friends and neighbors, where the land is fertile and productive, and where the whole community is looking forward and really making it a better place to own a "Home Sweet Home."

We have allowed old Charley Guy to have a long, long rest since his Rambulance trip, Journaling around over the glowing west. But we really got amused at his poetical musings recently anent the "dapo" at Big Spring. Lacking only two months of 30 years ago, this writer landed one night about 11 o'clock at that depot, but saw nothing unusual about it. Looked very much like the one we left when we boarded the train at Tbilene. We didn't go into the toilet to see the funny poetry usually written on the walls of such places in those days. No, we were sleepy and tired, and went for the Stewart Hotel to rest and get ready for a 110 mile trip by "line car" next day to Brownfield, which by the way, took all day.

A. J. "Andy Jack" Strickland of the Curry County Herald of Brownsville transacted business here over the week end.—Pampa Press.

Thanks, friends for the publicity. Sometimes we newspaper men get bawled out for mistakes in names, initials, or one thing then another, and people remark that all newspapers are full of mistakes. Just take for instance the short four line item above, and we can see why people ache about newspaper mistakes. In the first place our name is Stricklin and not Strickland; this is the Terry County Herald; the town is Brownfield, and not the Mexican border city, and in the fourth place, we were not in Pampa on business. We were visiting our daughter, Mrs. Herman Trigg. And so on and so forth.

ONE OF LIFE'S TRAGEDIES

(Safety Week Editorial)
The scene is laid in a small home kept clean by a mother's hand that show the effects of a washboard and menial labor. The mother busies herself about the home. Her two small children play with well-worn toys given them by the Legion boys last Christmas. Today is a big event in the mother's life. Her husband has been working the past month on a real job, after a year of service on a relief job barely affording them enough to keep body and soul together. How good it feels to be off relief, and John is coming home to take them nearer his new job. She plans clothing for the children, and possibly that blue dress in the corner store for herself. John would like to see her in that blue dress. "Blue always makes your eyes look like the sky," he used to say. Four o'clock. John must be home anytime now. He's hitch-hiking home to save every penny. Another hour passes and no John. No need to worry. Perhaps overtime and more pay. It looks like things are getting better as the mother's wan eyes stare at the door expecting it to open any minute. A step on the walk! She rushes to the door. A stranger with sad face informs her that the body fragments of her husband is at the morgue. He was killed by a reckless driver on the highway. The trinkets for the babies in his pockets are crushed just like the mother's heart. Her letters in his pocket laid the path of agony to the humble home. This is fiction, but such things have happened. Drive carefully—save a life.

ARMY MAN MAKES OPEN STATEMENT

33 Years of Service in U. S. Army is the Record of George Morehouse

"Including two campaigns in the Philippine Islands, I served in the United States army of 33 years," said George Morehouse. "I had suffered with a minor bronchial irritation due to colds for the past two years. Finally I got hold of a bottle of Menthomulson through a friend of mine, and it is the first preparation that ever gave me genuine relief. So far as I am concerned, I think it is the best cough medicine I ever saw." If you or any member of your family is suffering with a common cough, take the advice of this army veteran, go to your drug store at once and ask for Menthomulson, the combination of eight healing ingredients recommended by doctors everywhere. If Menthomulson fails to give you relief, ask for your money back. Menthomulson is recommended, sold and guaranteed by Corner Drug Store.

Socialized medicine is coming, regardless of the opposition of the American Medical Association. Many doctors do not subscribe to the opposition and can see no conflict between socialized and individual practice. There is room for both systems in this country and the government is right in taking the position that just because a person is poor is no reason to let him die for lack of medical attention. Besides, the social order is too closely interwoven to allow others to escape, if one is afflicted. Medical science is a wonderful thing and deserves the praise of everyone, but medical economics is something else again. Let the rich man have his doctor, if he so desires, but the poor man can profit by cooperative associations of doctors who are pledged to serve when service is needed.—McLean News.

Roger W. Babson states that Europe is very friendly toward President Roosevelt because of his activities for peace. "They have no fear of the New Deal or of America's labor trouble. They feel that more socialistic legislation is inevitable in every country. Hence we must choose between having these changes come through revolution or by New Deal methods." Mr. Babson has praised the President recently because of his activity for peace, and his new program for restoration of business—which is going a long way for one so bitterly opposed to the New Deal.—Canyon News.

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Cressote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm. The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Cressote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Cressote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Cressote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children. Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund your money. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Here Comes "The Arkansas Traveler"

Out of America's small towns marches as living and breathing a story of real people as Hollywood has ever produced. Bob Burns in his first starring role for Paramount studios has thrown away his bazooka and revealed himself as one of the country's great humorists in "The Arkansas Traveler". Cast as an itinerant printer, Bob Burns takes the role of a roving reporter with capable Fay Bainter as the widow of the news editor. Together these two favorites make "The Arkansas Traveler" a simple, homely, kindly picture no movie-goer will soon forget.

WELLMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Baldwin gave a party for their selected friends last Saturday night, Oct. 22. There was about thirty guests present. They played ring games and forty-two. Refreshments were served.

One of the guest who is very superstitious reports that when turning his car lights on, discovered that he is confronted by a strange car with a sign on it "Mystery at Midnight." Two other persons saw this car, they reported it to be uninvited guests, but this particular character thinks the strange car belonged to one of Mrs. Baldwin's finances. By saying Miss Inness Anderson, might make that Mrs. Baldwin was formerly some connection with the car, which bears the sign "Mystery at Midnight."

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hall came home from Arizona, October 20. Mr. Guy Smith, who has been working at a filling station in Lubbock, spent the week end at home.

Mr. Anderson Edwards returned from East Texas last Thursday, where he visited relatives and friends.

Miss Edna Penticost, Miss Mabel Emery and several of their friends paraded the streets of the old town of Wellman in the back of a pickup, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eubank of Lahey visited the Baptist Sunday school, Sunday.

October 23rd was regular church day at the Baptist church of Wellman. Bro. Jackson, pastor and family spent Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lawrence.

One of the Edwards boys must have sold a bale of cotton. He has a new hair cut.

Wellman Closes Its Study of Farm Life

Wellman First Grade

The first grade brought to a close a Unit on Farm Life. We had as our guests Miss Grigg and the third grade, Mrs. Bell and the second grade, Mrs. Lyon and the fourth grade and Mrs. Gibbs Phillips, Mrs. J. D. Roberts, Mrs. M. Gorman, and Mrs. Clarence Welcher. The following program was given solely by the first grade pupils:

Story, "Three Pigs," by Denton Baucum.

Songs, "McDonald's Farm," "Harvest Time," by First Grade. Picture Show, The Farm.

Inspection of Sand table and all pictures made by the pupils during the work on the Unit.

We enjoyed working on this Unit and we sincerely hope all who was at our program can say they liked it.

We are very sorry that Mr. J. B. Bell was not present at any of the showings of our farm pictures, for we are sure he would like them.

Jimmie Ray Wheelles, Billie Gene Casin, Frances Lyles, Billie Dick Hamm, Christine Gorman, Patsy Gorman, Jerry Pat Roberts, Peggy Jean Hester, Louise Griffith, James Mathis, Bertha Lee Bennight, Florene Johnson, M. Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul served his 21st term as governor last week while Jimmie Allred was in Colorado "claiming" Pike's Peak, which he won from Gov. Ammons of Colorado last year in a football game. Those two boy governors had to have a snow fight while on the peak, as well as mess up each other's faces with snow.

Jerry Sadler, Railroad Commissioner nominate, underwent a tonsilectomy last week in a Merkel hospital, run by his uncle, Dr. W. P. Sadler.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Young, who live on the highway 12 miles west attend the bedside of their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Young, of the Tokio community Tuesday, who underwent surgery.

Mr. A. Cary, owner of Cary's Bakery, is building a nice new home on Tate street, next to the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bur-

Dick McDuffie and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Kendrick have moved into their beautiful new homes in the east part of the city.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By Julian Capers, Jr.

AUSTIN—From unusually reliable O'Daniel sources this week came word that Carr P. Collins, Dallas insurance and mineral water executive, and closest political friend of Governor-Nominee W. Lee O'Daniel, may be offered appointment as new chairman of the State Highway Commission early next year.

The same source laughed at rumors that have been circulated lately of a break in the friendly relations between Collins and O'Daniel. Whether Collins would accept was another question. Close friends of the Dallas man have said repeatedly that he would not take a State appointment, but preferred to remain an unofficial friend and advisor of the new governor. His own business requires much of his time, and the highway post is rather exacting. Another argument against Collins' appointment is that both Collins and Harry Hines, now a member of the Commission, live in Dallas, and it has always been customary to distribute the Highway Commission posts on a geographical basis. The new member will succeed retiring John Wood, from East Texas, and if O'Daniel followed the policy of his predecessors, the new man would be from East or Southeast Texas.

Woodul Raises Funds

Seeking directly to further his program of industrial expansion in Texas, W. Lee O'Daniel has enlisted Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul to head the task of raising $250,000 to finance appropriate exhibits for Texas at the forthcoming World Fairs in New York City and San Francisco.

Gov. Allred appointed a State Fair Commission more than a year ago, consisting of business tycoons from every section of Texas. But the commission never got going, and to date, has raised little or no money. O'Daniel regards the Texas exhibits as vitally important, and he canvassed the field for a man whom he believed could get the job done. He selected Woodul, whose interest in advertising Texas is of long standing.

Coach Meets Boy

The dismal showing of the Texas University football team this year has given Texas fans nothing to feel cheerful about, but they are telling a funny story of Coach Dana X. Bible, the team's $15,000 a year mentor. Bible was interviewed at the opening of the football season by a youthful high school player entering the University. The lad told of his high school prowess and recommended himself highly. Bible told him to report to the Freshman "B" squad.

"You're pretty light, son, but a year's experience and a chance to learn my system ought to put you in shape to have a try-out for the Varsity," said the coach.

"Listen, Coach," retorted the cocky youngster. "If I can't learn your system in three or four weeks you better get yourself another system."

Mexican Oil Continues

The flood of Mexican oil into the port of Houston continues, despite the recent break in the Texas crude oil market, according to tender figures released by the Texas Railroad Commission this week, showing imports totaled 410,978 barrels during September, and estimates of 625,000 barrels for October, bringing the total well over the million barrel mark for the two months. The oil was consigned to two independent refiners at Houston, and, according to the applications for tenders, was intended chiefly for re-export to Europe and Japan. Texas oil men point out Mexico never had more than 18,000 barrels daily of royalty oil during normal times, and this was sold on their domestic market, and not exported. These shipments of more than 30,000 barrels daily, they point out, proves conclusively that the export oil is largely from expropriated American and British properties, seized without payment by the Mexican government last April. British oil companies have seized several shipments of this stolen oil sent to Europe by Mexico, and recovered possession of their stolen property by court action in France and Belgium.

Meanwhile, articles in American magazines are pointing out that Mexico apparently is preparing to seize without payment American power plants, under procedure similar to that of the oil seizures. One such article points out 25 percent of the current generated by one large American power company is being stolen by private individuals, through "by-passes" on wiring systems and meters, and that Mexico has no laws to punish such theft. Seizure of the power plants themselves is regarded as an early possibility.

Thompson Talks to FDR

Extension of the powers of the Interstate Oil Compact, to regulate the output of American oil refineries is favored by President Roosevelt, according to Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission and Chairman of the Inter-State Oil Compact Commission. Thompson charges recent overproduction of gasoline caused the break in crude oil prices, despite a decrease in crude stocks above ground. He detailed the situation to President Roosevelt in a two-hour conference with the President at Hyde Park last week, and reported the President does not favor any further Federal regulation of the oil business. How the States could regulate refineries on the theory of preventing physical waste is difficult for legal experts to understand, and the compact, of course, has no power to enforce any regulation except by voluntary agreement of the compacting states for uniform enforcement of their respective State laws. No consideration of the price factor may be given by the compact, under the terms of the act creating it.

Editor Sam Malone of the Sentinel was up one day last week briefly on business. Besides editing, Sam is chamber of commerce secretary, as well as Baptist minister. Sam says he may have to shed some of his jobs.

Dick Carter of Plainview, was a business visitor in our city Tuesday, calling on his old schoolmate, P. M., Jas. H. Dallas.

J. C. Johnson and C. B. Inman of the Union community were among the many farmers to bring in feed for the local market this week.

Mrs. Earl Jones and Mrs. P. E. Tiernan were Lubbock visitors Tuesday.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD SNAPSHOT ODDITIES

Giant frog. Some wag painted eyes and mouth on a big roadside boulder—and an alert picture-taker came along and snapped an excellent "oddy" picture. Keep your eyes open for things such as this—they add interest to your album.

DO YOU keep your eyes open for odd and curious things which might be material for an "unusual picture" section in your snapshot album?

Watch for such subjects when you are on a picture-taking jaunt, and you may be surprised at the things you find. Oddly twisted trees that look like old men—a freakish bit of architecture—a wall-shadow that looks like a human face in profile—an unusually realistic scarecrow in a farmer's field—novel cloud forms—all these are candidates for the "unusual picture" collection.

Observe reflections, too. Picture the upside-down reflection of a building in water. Turn the picture right side up, and the water ripples look like heat waves. Extreme angle shots of some subjects, taken with camera pointed straight up or straight down, often produce weird effects. For example, put the camera on the floor at the bottom of a well-lighted circular staircase and take a "straight-up" shot—with short time exposure if you have a slow camera, or a snapshot if your camera has a fast lens. The resulting picture will be fantastic—but a good subject for your album.

Shadows often produce picture oddities. Shadows of bars at the zoo may put a striped coat on a lion. Curved surfaces, such as a chromium bowl or convex mirror, produce oddly distorted reflections you can picture. And here's an idea: put a small subject such as a kitten or puppy on a glass-topped lawn table, and snap a picture from underneath. If you take care that the glass picks up no reflections, it will be invisible—and the subject will seem to be floating in air!

These pictures are fun—both to take and to show to your friends. A good collection of "guess what?" or "guess how?" pictures can provide hours of entertainment at a party. Build up a clever album of such snapshots; it's not hard, and you'll have pictures worth while.

John van Guilder.

Strip Crops Check Erosion

Strips of close-growing crops such as Sudan grass or other sorghums alternated with strips of clean-tilled crops such as cotton, corn and beans, afford protection from both wind and water erosion. Soil Conservation Service technicians report. On this farm in one of the demonstration project areas Sudan grass, which resists erosion, is alternated with cotton, which does not resist erosion.

FORMER BROWNFIELD AUTHOR NEW BOOK

SNYDER — Arthur S. Mathis, president of Mathis, Van Nort & Company, announced yesterday that Shifting Winds, written by Mrs. Kathryn Cotton of Snyder, would be released November 30.

A novel of and about West Texas, Shifting Winds has attracted so much pre-publication interest it is on the calendar for reviewing by New York's Book-of-the-Month club when Mathis officially releases the book.

One of the few West Texas writers whose brain child is being used by Texas publishers at the moment, Kathryn Cotton's first romantic novel is being put in the "slick paper" class by Mathis, Van Nort. It will retail for $2.50, which is the same price for best sellers by this book firm.

Kathryn Cotton, who ranks as one of the first business women in West Texas, was elected County Clerk of Scurry County in 1921, retaining this elective office until 1927.

Married to Homer Cotton of San Angelo in 1900 Kathryn moved with her husband to Brownfield before that section of the state had either telephone or telegraph communications. They often used cow chips for fuel when "blue blizzards" swept down across the shifting sandhills of the Plains.

Homer Cotton who was Brownfield's first postmaster, and who established an abstract plant there, died in 1915. Kathryn Cotton, who had journeyed from sweetheart days to motherhood, and who had given up her literary career previously to rear a family, was left with four small tots to support.

She carried on the abstract plant at Brownfield for a short time, selling it to establish one at Snyder in 1918. After her reelection at Snyder three times to the County Clerkship, Kathryn Cotton retired from professional life in 1927. She soon moved to Dallas, returning to Scurry county in 1935.

At a time when most grandmothers were folding their hands to await, the long years ahead Kathryn Cotton was bringing to life the shifting winds that had eddied for years at her doorsteps. She saw in Jane Brody and the wandering old violinist who is a part and parcel of Shifting Winds a chance to prove a woman need never holler "quit" until she wills to.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

294 in Bible School Sunday, which was 20 short of a week ago. Superintendent, White urges better attendance next Sunday morning.

Rev. R. C. Guest of Lamesa preached both morning and evening hours in the absence of the pastor, who is conducting a meeting in the church at Whitewright, Texas. Both services were well attended and appreciated. When the pastor is absent the membership is given a fine opportunity to show their loyalty to the church, by their presence.

The W. M. U. met at the church with 27 present and studied our Mission Work in Palestine. Many of our own people do not know that our Southern Convention supports several Missionaries in Palestine and have had a good number of churches there for several years with one well established church at Nazareth, the childhood home of our Lord, and where he was rejected by his own townsmen, who knew him as a carpenter.

Next Monday is Federated meeting date of the Womens church societies and. The program will no doubt be found elsewhere in this paper.

All the women of the church are members of the W. M. U. and we need your presence and cooperation in our study of Missions, as well as your fellowship and presence with us.

Visitors are always welcome at this church. Do not visit with your company, but ask them to go to the church with you. We are still worshipping in the basement to the disappointment of many, but the time was when Baptists were forced to worship in caves and conceal their Bibles so we are making improvements.

Around the Clock

by e. g. d.

October has brought its round of parties and will end with Halloween and a lot of fun for both the little kids and the grown-ups. Whatever group you fall in will determine your mode of celebration.

November is parcel-post month, when the Silver Jubilee swings into motion, with its slogan "From Anywhere to Everywhere." was inaugurated during the administration of the late Albert Sydney Burleson, a Democrat and an outstanding Texan.

Save your pennies for the milk fund for the underprivileged school children, sponsored by the P.-T. A.

When Sir Francis Drake calked his ship with ooze from "ye Great Pitche Lake," on Trinidad, he little suspected that out of it would come thousands of miles of asphalt highways for rubber-tired cars.

A hangover is a malady without a country. Scientists have never recorded it a professional standing. The attitude of the medical profession apparently, is that you have made your own hangover, so you can groan over it.

THE RUTH CLASS

The Ruth Class of the First Baptist church met in the home of Mrs. Johnnie Haynes, Tuesday night at 7 o'clock. m

After a delicious covered dish luncheon was served to the class, Mrs. Reighmon Lewis, our efficient President, took charge of the meeting.

Our class organization was perfected, and the different officers were given instructions by Mrs.

Lewis, as to their duties in each respective office.

Other plans promoting Christian Fellowship, Personal Service, Bible Reading and Enlisting of New Members were adopted.

Those present were: Mesdames W. W. Price, Arlie Larrimore, Homer Patterson, O. D. Huckabee, Gordon Alexander, Roger McGlothlin, Reighmon Lewis, Melvin Ray, Ted Hardy, Swindle, Johnnie Haynes and Z. O. Faughn, joint hostesses.

We want to extend a special invitation to all young married women, not in Sunday School elsewhere, to meet with us each Sunday morning at the First Baptist church at 9:45 o'clock. We will be glad to have you.

PROGRAM FOR THE FEDERATED MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Meets at the First Baptist church Monday at 3:00 p. m.

Subject, "The Christian and His Celebrations."

Leader, Mrs. Laurence Green.

Song, By Congregation.

Scripture Reading and Bible Study, By the Leader.

Duet, By Mrs. G. M. Green and daughter, Laverne.

Talk, Mrs. J. T. Auburg, "The Christians Celebration."

Special Piano Selection, By Doris Sherman.

Closing Song.

The program will be followed by a business meeting. Officers to be elected for the year, 1939.

Plans also laid for Personal Service and Community-Wide Work.

Let's have a good attendance this, the last meeting of the year 1938.

WOODMEN CIRCLE

A lovely miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. R. J. Rowden, a recent bride was given Friday night at the Woodmen Circle hall with Circle members as joint hostesses.

Mrs. Rowden, the former Ruth Brazelton, is one of the Circle's most faithful members.

Mrs. Lura Brown gave a toast to the bride, and Mrs. Rose Mayfield gave a toast to the girls left behind, and Mrs. Thelma Blair gave a toast to the grove, after which the grove sang a love song in keeping with the occasion.

Patsy Ruth Culver gave a musical solo and Billie Jo Culver gave a reading. A reading "Go Skating" was given by Mrs. Rose Mayfield. Little Nelda Brown and Charles Edwin Mayfield presented the gifts in a prettily decorated little wagon.

Mrs. Jennie Lindbloom of Amarillo was one of the honor guest.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

The pastor preached last Sunday to very good congregations.

Attendance has steadily increased.

Let us keep that very fine record for the Brownfield church. Be one of the congregation next Sunday if you are a member, and if you are not, and your inclination lies in this direction, you will be welcomed as a visitor.

"WHAT MUST I DO TO BE SAVED?" will be the subject for preaching Sunday morning. The evening services is to be evangelistic.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The meeting last Monday at the church was well attended, thirteen members being present to participate in the World Outlook Program which dealt with the work in Africa. Mrs. W. B. Toone presented the lesson in a most interesting way.

Treasure Island, 400-acre site of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, may be reached by private auto, bus or ferry boat, from either side of San Francisco Bay.

MEADOW STUDENT ELECTED TO A. C. C. CLUB

Ceba White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. White of Meadow has been elected to membership in the Business Administration Club of Abilene Christian College in Abilene, Texas.

This club was formed last school session under the sponsorship of J. E. Freeman, head of the business administration of A. C. C. Its purposes are to foster more thorough knowledge of business and business relations; to afford contact for its members in getting into business pursuits after graduation.

Once monthly the club holds a luncheon and invites the leading men of the city of Abilene to speak to them on subjects relative to business life. President of the club for the current school year is Earl McCaleb of Anson, Texas.

SHEPHERD-CATES

Miss Cordia Mae Shepherd became the bride of Mr. P. R. Cates in a quiet ceremony, which took place here Sunday, October 23.

Mrs. Cates is the charming daughter of Mrs. S. A. Shepherd and has made her home here for many years. She is a former student of Texas Tech, and is now employed as first grade teacher in the West Ward school.

Mr. Cates is employed as bookkeeper by the Texas Compress and Warehouse Co. They will continue to make their home here. Their many friends wish them the best of everything in the future.

That little sticker the inspector put on your windshield last week after you drove your car through the safety lane for a final O. K., is well worth reading, especially the last part of it. The wording reads: "This car is safe, IF DRIVEN SANELY." — Littlefield News.

MRS. ROY HEROD ENTERTAINED I-DEAL CLUB

Mrs. Roy Herod delightfully entertained the I-Deal Bridge club at a one o'clock luncheon, on Wednesday afternoon.

The Spanish theme was carried out in all of the appointments.

A typical Spanish dinner was served featuring fruit cocktail, enchiladas, spanish rice, Mexican beans, congealed salad, spanish pudding, topped with whipped cream and coffee.

Little Spanish oil plaques were drawn for the cut prizes by Mesdames Jack Stricklin, Clarence Hudgens, Ike Bailey and R. B. Parish.

High score and second high were won by Mesdames Lee O. Allen and R. B. Parish, who received as prizes Fiesta Pottery cookie jars.

Those who enjoyed this lovely affair were, Mesdames Ned Self, J. H. Dallas, Clyde Cave, Glen Akers, Ralph Carter, Roy Wingerd, Lee O. Allen, T. L. Treadaway, J. J. McGowan, Wilson Collins, R. B. Parish Clarence Hudgens, Ike Bailey, Jack Stricklin, Mon Telford and Arthur Sawyer.

MISS EVELYN WALLS RETURNS HOME

Miss Evelyn Walls returned home Monday, October 24 from New York where she has been the guest of her aunt, who is a sister of Mr. John Walls.

Miss Evelyn was given this grand trip as a graduation gift and left soon after her graduation, from high school, last year for New York. Her itinerary included all the important Eastern cities and a trip into Canada, from which she brings glowing reports.

Mrs. E. C. Davis was hostess to the Kolonia Kard Klub, Friday afternoon.

LEGION AUXILIARY ELECTS OFFICERS

In a recent meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in the home of Mrs. J. Hayden Griffin, Mrs. Mon Telford was elected President and Mrs. Ona Gore, Secretary.

The Auxiliary is making a drive for dues and new members and if you haven't already done so, see one of the officers immediately and pay your dues.

THRIFTY NEEDLE CLUB

The Thrifty Needle club met last Thursday with Mrs. Ray Brownfield. This needle club was organized some three weeks ago and has ten members and will meet each Thursday. Mrs. D. P. Carter was hostess this week. Members are Mesdames W. A. Tittle, Ray Brownfield, D. P. Carter, A. M. McBurnett, W. A. Hinson, Fred Hinson, W. L. Bandy, Tom May, S. H. Daugherty.

Mrs. Glendale Simmons and Mrs. Cecil Bradshaw of the Needmore section were in town shopping Tuesday.

Harley Sadler and his famous show will be here the rest of this week, under auspices of Brownfield Volunteer Firemen. Harley always gets good crowds here.

ALL YOUR CURIOSITY satisfied
by Your Mileage Merchant...Ask him exactly how you're sure of fast winter starting and extreme oil economy by changing now to WINTER OIL-PLATING

Is OIL-PLATING just a different name?
...No. OIL-PLATING is what Conoco Germ Processed oil does! The out-and-out difference is this: OIL-PLATING will stay firmly attached—plated—clear to the topmost point in your engine, while any plain mineral oil drains clear down the crankcase at every stop.

Exactly where is your gain? Well, in starting up again—next day or next month—the coldest OIL-PLATED engine is always oiled in advance...pre-lubricated before any oil down in the crankcase could ever stir. OIL-PLATING thus keeps every engine part constantly slippery. The starter speeds...the battery lives and so does the engine, free of fierce starting friction.

But is there any oil saving? Why?... Because less engine wear puts more miles between quarts. And OIL-PLATING itself never passes out during the use of Germ Processed oil. Only the Germ Process, patented, creates OIL-PLATING, the sensible reason for you to switch to Your Mileage Merchant today.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House, Austin, Texas

Ranger is still one of the most colorful towns in Texas. Main Street of course, is quite than it was on that New Year's Eve, back during the big oil boom, when men stood on opposite sidewalks and fought a "battle" with Roman candles.

But old drillers still sit around in the lobby of the Gholson and swap tales of the great rush, as well as experiences in the fields of West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma and foreign lands—Russia, Mexico and Venezuela.

The old Ranger police station still stands. Many a hijacker was brought in by Byron Parrish and members of his department. Parrish wore gold-pieces for cufflinks and could juggle a tin can with bullets until both his six-guns were empty. The building now is occupied as a residence.

The spot where the once celebrated Oklahoma Cabaret flourished is the location of a hospital.

Most daring crime during the entire boom was the daylight holdup of the cabaret by two men who lined up a dozen tough customers at the bar and searched them. There was a puddle in the middle of the floor and one of the robbers addressed the proprietor:

"You're supposed to be tough; get down and wallow in that puddle like a hog."

At this moment, a policeman entered and they disarmed him. Then, after one of the bandits had shot a hole in the floor, they left. There was a running-gun fight through the streets, in which a deputy sheriff was wounded. Some of the pursuers were on horseback. The robbers were cornered in a hotel and were captured without another shot being fired though one of them was reloading his pistol as the posse burst into the room.

Austin is, of course, the most politically-minded city in the State. Even when the headlines in the Austin newspapers do not play up some governmental or political event, the newsboys will pounce upon some political story with a small heading and base their shouts upon that. Particularly is this true of the newsmen around the hotel entrances.

They shout "All about State Official Zilch." If any issue ever really pilted all about some of the officials at Austin, the copies would sell at two-bits apiece—and most of the buying would be done in a big hurry by the officials and their friends, intent on suppressing the issue.

Just about the last word in newspaper offices is the new home that Col. George T. Spears has built for his Graham Leader and Graham Daily Reporter, edited by H. I. Trout, widely-experienced journalist.

A fan big enough for an airplane propeller completely changes the air in the building every 55 seconds. There is a fire-proof vault to store the historic files of the Leader, founded 62 years ago. Alongside the building, in a courtyard formed by three structures, there is already a big tree, and grass and flowers will be set out to create a beautiful patio.

Colonel Spears owns newspapers also in Menard, Forney, Megargel, Stanton, Newcastle, Wylie, Throckmorton and Bridgeport.

There is a bit of sentiment attached to the living room of Paul Wakefield's picturesque Old World cottage on a hill above the Colorado at Austin. (As these lines are written, by the way, Major Wakefield is recovering in a Fort Worth hospital after undergoing an operation for appendicitis.)

Wakefield— noted newspaperman and publicist—had been under fire for two weeks during the World War and when he and his men were relieved and given a respite in the peaceful surroundings of a French village, quarters were assigned him in one of the larger cottages. After days and nights of mud, dugouts, barbed-wire and shell-fire, Wakefield entered the living room. High above him were rafters; big, comfortable chairs were about; a table was covered with immaculate linen and with beautiful chinaware and gleaming silver, and, in the big, old-fashioned fireplace, a fire was blazing.

And so, when he was planning his own cottage in Austin, Wakefield reproduced—as nearly as memory would permit—the house he remembered so well from the war.

Answering A. M., Aspermont: I'm not sure what Governor Allred's favorite song is; probably, though, it's "I Like a Parade."

J. D. Hedick, long in the service of the state at Austin, has many picturesque expressions. He described a skinny fellow: "His Adam's apple has an eight-inch plunge."

In Eastland a lone placard from last summer's campaign is still on an electric light pole which was used by a mob 10 years ago in lynching the Santa Claus bank bandit.

One of my favorite stories (and it happens to be true):

In early days in the Mansker Lake community, near Hogtown, in Eastland County, an old justice of the peace tried a man for carrying a pistol and sentenced him to three years in the State penitentiary. The constable set out in a buggy with his prisoner. As they were eating lunch in Stephenville, a lawyer asked the officer:

"What are you taking him to Huntsville for?"

"Three years."

"I mean for what offense?" the lawyer persisted.

"For carrying a pistol."

"Good heavens!" the attorney exclaimed. "That's only a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine and, at most, a jail sentence. If he was accused of something that would subject him to prison, he would have to be tried before a district judge in Eastland; your justice of the peace doesn't have jurisdiction in a felony."

EVERY TWO MINUTES

At the very moment you read this, fire engines are dashing with screaming sirens to someone's burning home. Every two minutes somewhere in America, this dramatic tragedy will be reenacted. So it goes, twenty-four hours a day, 365 days a year. Every two minutes a home catches fire.

Here's hoping your home isn't on the list. But hope isn't enough. No one can afford to leave fire prevention to chance. You can have a safe home if you want one, and if you are willing to put in a little time to make it safe. In other words, the safety of your home will be largely what you make it.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has printed a vivid little leaflet, entitled "Two Minutes Tick By—Another Home Goes Up in Smoke," which should be read kept and referred to by every homeowner. It is free for the asking—simply write to the Board at 85 John Street, New York. One page of the leaflet illustrates, by means of a cut-away drawing of a home, 31 distinct hazards—any one of which could cause a fire that would destroy the house. They range all the way from unprotected steam pipes to improper storage of inflammables and the use of wooden containers to hold hot ashes. And in practically every case, these hazards can be quickly eliminated, at little or no cost.

Two-thirds of all our fire deaths occur in dwellings—and 30 per cent of these fatalities are children under ten. Mull that thought over in your mind. Then answer this question: "Is fire prevention worth while?"

So the constable returned to Mansker Lake, released the man, and reported to the old squire:

"That lawyer said you didn't have jurisdiction."

"Jurisdiction, h—! It happened right here in my precinct, didn't it?" the old justice snorted. "I'm going to resign."

TAHOKA BANNER DEATH VICTIM

TAHOKA, Oct. 17—Funeral services for W. D. Nevels, 68, widely known West Texas pioneer who died this afternoon of a heart attack in a Lubbock hospital, will be conducted at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist church here with Rev. Geo. A. Dale pastor, officiating.

Mr. Nevels suffered his first attack Thursday and was taken to Lubbock Sunday. Pneumonia contributed to his death.

Survivors Are Listed
Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. C. C. Hoffman of Slaton and Mrs. L. O. Sparks of Tahoka; a brother, Luther B. Nevels of Yoakum county; and a sister, Mrs. Dale Summerville of Los Angeles.

A resident of this section of the state 47 years, Mr. Nevels was a prominent rancher and at the time of his death was vice-president of the First National Bank here. He moved to Lynn county 35 years ago. Previously he had served two terms as district clerk of Borden county and lived in Lubbock a few years.

Pioneers of the area will remember Mr. Nevels was prominent in the organization of Lynn county. He was the first cashier of the bank in Tahoka.

TECH COLLEGE PLACES 10TH IN JUDGING CONTEST

LUBBOCK, Texas, Oct. 17 — Placing tenth among twenty-six teams at the National Dairy Cattle judging contest at Columbus, O., last week, Texas Technological College's team scored fourth in judging Holstein-Friesians and sixth in Jerseys. Stewart Sewell of Jacksboro, high man from Tech, won first in judging Brown Swiss cattle, eighth in judging Ayrshires and Holsteins.

Only two Texas schools entered the competition, Tech and Texas A. & M.

I never did, for some reason or other, give a continental hoot for the "On Broadway" of Walter Winchell, but I never did outright despise the stuff until last Monday. That was the day the Lubbock Journal put Winchell's column in the spot where Charley Guy as "The Plainsman" usually gets the lump off his chest."—Littlefield News.

A Start on Fight On Venereal Diseases

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 17. — A limited amount of funds allotted to Texas for a venereal disease control program will be available November 1 for part financing municipal venereal disease clinics where the cities have made available local funds for the project, it was announced at Austin this week by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Cities that have appropriated local funds and are qualified to receive the supplementary state funds for the clinics are Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston.

Clinics will begin operating under the plan November 1, at Beaumont, Port Arthur, Galveston and Corpus Christi.

Other cities over the state are studying their local venereal disease control problem and will qualify for assistance as soon as they appropriate the local funds prerequisite to state financial participation.

The state funds have been allotted by the State Department of Health by the United States Public Health Service under the provisions of the LaFollette-Bulwinkle bill passed by the 75th congress. No funds for venereal disease control have been appropriated by the state legislature and this lack of state funds curtails the amount of USPHS funds which can be allotted for the program in Texas. The present program, therefore, is a small one designed to cope with the program as adequately as possible in view of the limited funds available.

The municipal venereal disease clinics are charged specifically with treating venereal diseases among the indigent class at no cost to the indigents. Blood tests are run and treatments secured for all indigents found syphilitic.

Doctor Cox states that free arsenicals for the treatment syphilitic indigents are being distributed to more than twenty rural and semi-rural sections of the state where no clinics are in operation.

"Our present venereal disease program is the opening wedge to control of the gentio-infectious diseases. The funds available are totally inadequate to care for the venereal disease problem in a state that has six and a half million population and probably three hundred thousand persons infected with syphilis. It is of the most importance that the legislature, at its next session appropriate money for venereal disease control. Our Federal fund will be greatly curtailed next year if a state appropriation for venereal disease work is not forthcoming to supplement them. Without adequate funds the program inaugurated at this time will collapse and our statewide venereal disease control program will be almost at a standstill," Doctor Cox concluded.

WHY DON'T WE?

Pleasant business relations with the Harley Sadler show this week revives in us the question, "Why Don't we Newspaper publishers require cash in advance from shows?"

Harley Sadler is the one—only show on the road that has a credit rating with us. Harley's show is pleasant to do business with, and all the others we have had dealings with have been unpleasant—and often unprofitable.

On the morning Harley's show comes to town his treasurers go out and pays the bills that have been contracted. The other shows do not. You have to be at the ticket office during show hours, maybe wait until all patrons are in, before you can collect your bill.

Maybe you wanted to see the show like the other folks. Maybe you wanted to go some place else. But to collect your bill you have to be at a certain place at a certain time, and often you had a soon lose the amount as to spend the time you have to in collecting.—Rotan Advance.

Mrs. Robert Young, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Parks of the Tokio section, underwent major surgery at the local hospital, Tuesday. Mr. Young reported his wife doing well as could be expected, Wednesday.
