

Officials Of Cambridge See Governor

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — Officials of this racially scarred city of 12,200 meet with Gov. J. Millard Tawes in the state capital of Annapolis today to discuss their problems.

An invitation from the governor to confer in his Annapolis office was accepted immediately by Cambridge officials.

The meeting was set for 3 p. m. Mayor Calvin W. Mowbray said he expected about 20 persons to make the 60-mile trip to the capital.

Semiparalyzed by racial strife and a resultant military clampdown, officials of the Southern-oriented city had asked the governor to come here quickly for discussions of its problems.

They said they wanted to talk to Tawes about the hardships imposed by militia law, invoked after six white persons were wounded in a wave of violence last week.

Mayor Calvin W. Mowbray and other officials got off their wire to the governor with 400 National Guardsmen posted at trouble spots and business plummeting.

The National Guard leaders, among other things, decreed a 9 p. m. off-the-streets curfew, a 7 p. m. closing hour for all commercial establishments, and a total ban on sale of alcoholic drinks.

Members of the City Council, County Commission and the area's state legislative delegation met Sunday and drafted the writ.

Dr. Arthur Parker, president of the City Council, said: "The restrictions imposed by the National Guard are being used to penalize the majority in our county for the faults of the few—Negro and white."

"It is time for our elected officials to seize the offensive. The image of Cambridge cannot be mended any more than it has been."

Gov. Wallace Asserts Rioters Are Appeased

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama accused President Kennedy today of bringing the nation to "the brink of civil warfare" by what he termed an attempt to appease the leaders of Negro civil rights demonstrations.

"These leaders have now persuaded the President into the ridiculous position of placing his stamp of approval on mob violence and rioting in the streets of this country," Wallace told the Senate Commerce Committee.

Wallace charged there are Communist influences in the integration movement.

He also testified that senators who joined in sponsoring the ad hoc integration bill to ban racial discrimination in privately-owned places of public accommodation like stores and restaurants had given "tacit approval" to demonstrations he said were designed to intimidate Congress.

The public accommodations bill is a key part of President Kennedy's civil rights program. The Senate Committee now is starting its third week of hearings on the legislation.

Wallace's statement, read off in rapid-fire style before a crowd that jammed the Senate caucus room, immediately ran into challenges from some of the committee members.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., the committee chairman, asked Wallace the basis for his statement that the President had put his stamp of approval on mob violence.

The governor replied that during the "riots" in Birmingham in May, "the President's office was a virtual switchboard to the Kings." This was a reference to Dr. Martin Luther King, a leader of the integration movement.

He said the President and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, could have stopped the demonstrations if they had wanted to do so.

The governor said that President Kennedy, in a television address to the nation before submitting his

Chinese Bid For Support

TOKYO (AP) — Indirectly criticizing the Soviet Union, Red China today broadcast a call to Communist nations around the world to support Red Guerrillas fighting in South Viet Nam.

The call was made by Kuo Mo-jo, vice chairman of the Standing Committee of the Chinese National People's Congress and chairman of the Chinese Peace Committee.

"It is the international duty of all socialist (Communist) countries to give all-round support and assistance to the people of South Viet Nam in their revolutionary struggle," he said.

Compulsory Settlement Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz says the four-year-old dispute over railroad work rules is headed toward a compulsory solution because both the carriers and the unions are guilty of "a failure of responsibility."

"There is no affirmative attempt by either side in this situation to do anything about settling it even at this hour," Wirtz said Sunday as a special presidential panel prepared to sit the facts in the jobs tangle.

"There has been at this point an apparent assumption by both parties that somebody else, the government, the Congress, whoever it may be, is going to decide this," the secretary said in a televised interview.

Still, Wirtz added, he hopes that "when both of these parties are looking down the gun barrel of possible congressional action, there is going to be a real facing up to the implications of the fact that if they don't settle, the prospect is something which will weaken the whole institution of collective bargaining."

Wirtz is chairman of the special committee that begins today to lay the basis for a report President Kennedy plans to send to Congress July 22 aimed at settling the rules dispute. Wirtz refused to say whether the administration would recommend compulsory arbitration.

Carrier and union representatives will be standing by as the panel meets today, ready for questioning "on specific points." Tuesday the committee will hold separate and joint sessions with the two sides, hoping to begin writing a report for Kennedy on Wednesday.

The railroads have postponed until July 29 putting into effect new work rules designed to eliminate gradually about 50,000 jobs, claim are unnecessary. The five operating unions, which say the jobs are essential for safe and efficient train operations, have promised to delay strike action until that date.

Over the weekend, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said they were opposed to legislation that would require compulsory arbitration of the dispute.

In a statement taped for television broadcast in New York City and Buffalo, N. Y., Javits said: "The country again is caught unprepared by a crisis like this because the administration and the Congress have been unwilling to face the hard realities of the needed labor-management legislation."

The Republican Senator accused the administration of "improvisation and grandstand plays" like appointing Morse to arbitrate a dock strike and suggesting Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg arbitrate the rails dispute.

Javits urged for enactment of legislation to provide federal authority for seizure of strike-threatened health, safety and operation facilities "to protect the public interest."

Jovial Krush Opens Talks On Test Ban

MOSCOW (AP) — Jovial and apparently optimistic, Premier Khrushchev personally opened talks today on a limited nuclear test ban agreement with special envoys of President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Sitting in a Kremlin conference room with U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman and Britain's Lord Hailsham, the Soviet leader quipped: "Shall we start off by signing the agreement right away?"

Harriman shoved a pencil and pad across the table toward Khrushchev. Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko grinned to his chief and said: "Sign it and leave it to be filled in."

The conference is expected to last 10 days.

The first session lasted about 3½ hours.

Harriman and Hailsham left in separate cars and correspondents watching them whisk through the Kremlin gates said both Western officials were talking animatedly with their associates, smiling and laughing.

Khrushchev's mood seemed to share the optimism of both the British and Americans about the success in agreeing on a prohibition which would bar nuclear test explosions in the air, in space and under water.

The Western side saw no prospect of getting a complete ban to cover underground explosions

Sen. Mundt Urges Crackdown On Allied Shipping To Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Karl J. Mundt, R-D., called today for a shipping crackdown on Allied nations to help force the Communist government in Cuba to give up the island and hurry the downfall of Fidel Castro.

Mundt, member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, joined a group of Republican senators who have criticized the administration's Cuban policy.

"Mundt told the Senate today that the Organization of American States and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization should be asked to quit shipping and trading with Cuba. Mundt said a similar appeal should be made to non-Communist nations outside these alliances.

Mundt said the White House had tried to cut off criticism of threat thumbing its red nose at the greatest and the strongest power the world has ever seen."

Another Republican senator, John Tower of Texas, said over the weekend that Russia, "have taken command of practically all military bases throughout Cuba" and are constructing a powerful military complex for "permanent use."

"They won't even let the Cubans in to these strategic areas," Tower said.

"I don't think we should discount the possibility at all—there's strong evidence to suggest that there are missiles stored in Cuba and that much of this construction in these secret areas is actually missile base construction."

Breaks All Rules; Still Big Winner! Dress Up Lettuce

Salads should be crisp, cold, and colorful. Here's a salad that violates all three rules and still turns out a winner. Wilted Greens with Blue Cheese.
Served warm, this salad is a delightful combination of zesty American blue cheese and salad greens wilted by tossing with a hot dressing made with bacon, vinegar, and a hint of onion. The delicately married cheese gives this salad the extra-special tang that makes it a delightful accompaniment for simple warm-weather meals. It's especially good with charcoal-broiled steak or chicken.
Wilted Greens with Blue Cheese
(Serves 6)
5 or 6 slices bacon
1-3 cup tarragon vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 large head leaf lettuce or equivalent amount of mixed greens
1/2 cup crumbled American blue cheese
Cook bacon until crisp. Remove from pan, drain, and crumble into small pieces. Reserve 2 tablespoons bacon drippings in pan. Add vinegar, heat. Add sugar, crumbled bacon, and grated onion, and heat through.
Toss lettuce (or mixed greens) with blue cheese. Add hot dressing, mixing lightly. Serve at once in warmed bowls.

Five New Looks In Sweaters

Wool sweaters for Fall have a "non-stop" quality, both in the tremendous variety of design and in their multiple fashion mileage. With their many new looks, in silhouette, pattern and stitch, and a new versatility, they are destined to go more places and do more fashion things than any other garment in the entire wardrobe. There are five new looks to watch. One of the most significant that illustrates the non-stop flair is the "layered look." You'll find it in sleeveless cardigans over long-sleeved pullovers; twin sets of Chanel, buttoned or belted jackets with matching shells, some with turtlenecks; V- and crew-necklines with hood and turtle insets; separate sleeveless top-shirts, in vests, weskits, and tunic-length that offer unlimited variety as "jumper" sweaters worn over other sweaters of blueses. The second "look" is a frothy-furry one-in wool and mohair. Airy, lightweight and magnificent, these knit sweaters are hooded and fluffily brushed, curled, lacy or looped, some in incredible whisper-weights; in short-stop styles, in cardigans and in pullovers with giant collars, hooded, pigtail tassels, many paneled with vibrant colors. The third is the important shirt look. See it in cardigans with fly fronts, shirt collars and pickets; placketed pullovers with side vents and buttoned cuffs; and in pleated bib front styles, complete with French cuffs and tiny stud buttons. Sportive sweaters come next—all with an in-motion movement—some with Norfolk jacket styling; back-belted; tailored plaids with beefy buttons. Many are stroked with suede or leather—in pipings, elbow patches and pockets, or in unusual patterned appliques. Fifth is the newest look of all in husky thick-knit tweeds called "Hurdy-Burdies," styled in knitted wool pullovers and cardigans of fantastic dimensional thicknesses, in husky tweeds, rug-zny bump surfaces, double-think raised patterns, or all-over porcupine points.

You Can Freeze Blue Cheese; Use As Needed

Properly wrapped blue cheese can be stored in the home freezer or locker at 5 degrees or below without impairing its quality. For best results, overwrap the cheese in air-tight material before freezing. Barbara Blue, home economics director, suggests that the cheese thaw in the refrigerator at normal temperatures (40 to 50 degrees) for 24 hours before being removed from the protective wrapping. She adds that after thawing American blue cheese can be kept in the refrigerator for periods up to three months with proper care. American blue cheese is made in wheels, weighing between 5 and 6 pounds, but generally is sold at stores in pre-packaged portions.

The Humor That Was College

JOHN GOLDFARB COME HOME! By William Peter Blatty. So Wrong—Way Goldfarb runs into his own end zone at Subliminal U. And the same Wrong—Way now a U-2 pilot, crashes into Arabian territory. So this makes with the misery for the President of the United States, the famale magazine writer and the aging sheik's harem? Never mind, it all ends up with the Arabs and the Notre Dames in a football game—and who knew that the referee was Hienous Overreach, head of the CIA? This may give you a faint idea of the nonsense that has been whipped into Blatty's irrational absurdly farcical book. Its contents are about as subtle as a jab in the derriere, and it slings a ball bat in every direction you can imagine—education, television "personalities," international diplomacy and a few dozen other handy targets. Blatty's whose previous book was "Which Way to Mecca, Jack?" is a comic who overloads his gags and plays flippancy upon flippancy in every sentence; who invents ridiculous words and makes them come from ridiculous places; whose caricatures are reversible and three-dimensional. Not since the old days of the humor magazines on the college campuses has there been such an effervescent and extravagant nuttiness. If you don't think this stuff is silly, you'll think it's hilarious.

WHAT DOES HE WANT---BLOOD?

Worldwide Town Meeting Is Worthwhile Telstar Venture

BY INEZ ROBB

When time ran out on the first "Town Meeting of the World" the other night my impulse was to stamp my feet, beat my hands together and cry, "More! More!"

Columbia Broadcasting System, with an assist from Telstar II (and despite a desist from Gen. Charles de Gaulle), has given the world an extraordinary sample of the illuminating dialogue that flows from a "town meeting" of four international figures.

Linked by Telstar and television, the former President Eisenhower in Denver, former British Prime Minister Lord Avon (Anthony Eden) in London, former West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano in Bonn, and Jean Monnet, French "Father of the European Common Market," in Brussels (de Gaulle refused to permit him to broadcast from French soil) produced a wonderfully informative hour of talk on world problems.

That discussion was always informed wise, sometimes homely, often endearing and marked by a idealism that craves respect in international affairs. And there was cautious but patient optimism.

In a discussion that ranged from the defense of the West to the Sino-Soviet row, it remained for Eden (it's hard to think of him as Lord Avon on this side of the Atlantic) to pinpoint one of the world's most troubling problems: agricultural surpluses.

Expressing a fear that the world's rich nations will grow richer and the poor nations poorer, Eden highlighted the problem by pointing out that as much of the world grows hungry day by day as the agricultural countries are plagued by ever-increasing surpluses.

"It is a problem we just have to face if we are not going to let it bedevil our international relations," Eden said.

"I would like to see us (the food producing nations) sit down and try to estimate what our food surplus is going to be over the next few years," he continued, and then decide where we can channel it most usefully for our people and most productively for the people who will receive it.

"Make a plan like that, get the International Bank's help and try to siphon these surpluses off. Otherwise, as sure as I have ever been in international affairs, this agricultural problem is going to give us an awful lot of trouble. We could usefully channel them (surpluses) to help the countries which need them."

Despite all the other problems tackled on "Town Meeting of the World" with Walter Cronkite of- ficiating as moderator, it is one woman's opinion that Eden's proposal was the most valuable one to pinpoint one of the world's

The most interesting aspect of the program, even including its content, was the manner in which each of the four statesmen quickly and unconsciously established himself as a symbol of his own country.

Mr. Eisenhower, definitely the elder statesman to whom the others deferred, showed a relaxed, smiling face, shining with good will. His words were always a blend of experience, authority, hardheaded practicality and reasonable hope. He was in top form.

The most eloquent of the four was Eden, who brought to bear on any subject his rich experience and accumulated wisdom, as well as the polished ease that the world associates with the British Establishment.

Monnet, a compact man, came through as a wise idealist, pragmatic, stubborn and not to be swayed by anyone. Von Brentano, probably because of his visible struggle with the English language, emerged as a blurred figure. Still, the viewer got the picture of a tenacious German with a first-rate mind and an international viewpoint.

Texas Fires Shot In Officer's Car

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — A Houston man fired a shot through the roof of an officer's car after he and two other Texans were arrested Sunday for investigation of armed robbery.

Officers identified the man as Basil Harris, 20. He was taken into custody along with Bobby Putnam, 22, of Houston, and Bobby Miller, 24, of Dallas at a roadblock. Sheriff's deputies sought to question them about a $125 service station holdup at Kinderhook.

After the three were loaded into a car, Harris reached for a small pistol concealed in his boot. A struggle followed and Harris fired a shot through the car roof before a deputy overpowered him.

Junior Editors Quiz on ICE CREAM BARS

QUESTION: How do they make chocolate covered ice cream bars?

ANSWER: Ice cream is made from milk and cream with sugar and flavoring added, as well as small amounts of some stabilizer such as gelatin. In some cases, eggs are added. When the ice cream is mixed and stirred it is called a "mix." To make chocolate covered bars, the mix is run from the freezer to a mold (2). The mold shapes the bars. Then the sticks are put in (3). The mold goes into a brine tank which is very cold (4). Passing into a tank of water (5) the bars are loosened from the mold. Then they go on to a chain driven conveyor where they are held upright and dipped into liquid chocolate. They go into a cooling system and then into bags. All of this is done automatically with machinery.

What happens then? You take over. You may just look and bite (A), swing and bite (B), sun and bite (C), have a birthday party (D), or take pity on your dog (E). (F) shows some new ideas in ice cream bars — other good tasting things have been added, such as toffee.

FOR YOU TO DO: It is said that "Eskimo Pie," which was the original chocolate covered ice cream, was accidentally discovered by dropping some chocolate syrup on ice cream and finding that the chocolate became hard. Keep a sharp lookout for such smart ideas which might make you famous.

(David A. Koone, of Muskegon, Mich. wins today's grand prize of a 20 volume World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win a car too.)

Yankees Thrive As Stars On Sideline

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Consider the desperate plight of the New York Yankees.

They've had to put a youthful left-hander named Al Downing straight from the minors into their front-line pitching rotation.

A 14-hit attack led by Lopez, Berra and Blanchard powered the Yankees to an 11-6 victory in the opener, while Downing's four-hit pitching and the slugging of Elston Howard and Tom Tresh won the second game 6-0.

Charles Not Optimistic

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Bob Charles, the lanky New Zealander who became the patron saint of left-handers everywhere when he won the British Open, can't see himself repeating the trick in the National PGA here this week.

Charles arrived Sunday night weary from 72 holes of pressure golf in two days during which he dropped about six pounds from his already spare frame.

"I don't think I'll have much chance here," said the only south-paw ever to win a major golf championship. "The weather was very good in England and now I must try to adjust to the Texas heat. Also, I have to adjust from the small English ball to the American ball and I'll be playing on a new course. It's quite a combination to bear."

Jack Nicklaus, the Masters champion; Julius Boros, the National Open champion, and most of the other big winners, also will come in today. Gary Player, the defending champion, won't appear until Tuesday. He went home to the Bahamas to get his family after playing in the British Open.

Charles said he didn't think there should have been 36 holes in the playoff although this is customary for the British Open. "It's too much strain on the players. I think 18 holes is sufficient."

There will be 172 in the field when the PGA blasts off Thursday. Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich., won the Hot Springs Open Sunday to become the last to qualify for the tournament.

Colts Coast To Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—The Houston Colts, sparked by John Bateman's three-run triple, hustled in seven runs in the first inning and coasted to a 3-1 victory over New York's hapless Mets in their rain-shortened game Sunday.

Fans Disappointed In Ramos' Showing

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican sportswriters expressed disappointment Sunday in champion Sugar Ramos and surprise at challenger Rafay King in their 15-round world featherweight title fight which Ramos won by a unanimous decision Saturday night.

Colt Alston Calms Down

By BOB GREEN

The last time the Los Angeles Dodgers made a swing through the East their usually mild-mannered boss, Walter Alston, got just a little snippy. Said he was tired of being asked when he was going to be fired.

The Dodgers are now on another Eastern swing. They have won seven straight, own the largest lead the National League has seen in two years—4½ games, their pitching is shaping up as the best in baseball and Walter is just as pleasant as can be.

Rockefeller Raises Sectional Issue In Republican Ranks

EDITOR'S NOTE—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has declared that strategy followed by Republicans in Sen. Barry Goldwater's Arizona would destroy the Republican Party.

They added that if Goldwater is writing off the industrial North as Rockefeller charged, the New York governor is giving up on Republican chances to collect electoral votes in the South.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Nebr., a Goldwater rooster, rebuffed Rockefeller. He said it is "no time for anger or name-calling among Republicans."

"Sen. Goldwater is the leading candidate because he squarely challenges the New Frontier ideology and performance," Curtis said. "He is not a sectional candidate."

Rockefeller's blast is regarded in Washington as the opening gun of a vigorous comeback campaign for the nomination. He was considered by many observers the leading contender until his recent marriage to a divorced mother of four children.

In the period between his reelection as governor last year and his remarriage, Rockefeller tried with some success to warm up the conservatives to his cause by making what many of his listeners called "good Republican speeches" in the Midwest.

But the New York governor's attack on what he said were extremist views in the party indicated he has decided his best chance for the nomination is to champion the liberal viewpoint and sharpen his division with the conservatives.

This seemed to leave open the middle ground where Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, said Sunday. Taft Jr., R-Morton, R-Ky., comes closest among possible presidential nominees to representing the party consensus.

Taft, son of the late conservative senator from Ohio who lost the presidential nomination in 1952, said on a television program that neither Rockefeller nor Goldwater represents such a consensus. "I don't want to serve as GOP national chairman three years under Eisenhower and now be head of the party's senatorial campaign committee, generally listed as a moderate. He has supported most Kennedy administration foreign policies but has been critical of the President's handling of the Cuban problem."

He has directed sharp criticism at most of the New Frontier domestic policies.

Taft joined Rockefeller in differing with an old Goldwater thesis—that the Republicans might as well give up trying to get the Negro vote and concentrate where the political hunting is better.

The congressman said that while he doesn't see the GOP can win a majority of Negro votes, it can increase its strength among them because it has offered more than the Democrats in the civil rights area.

In emphasizing his division with the conservatives, Rockefeller called on Republicans to unite in opposition to "the radical right, lunatic fringe" which he said is trying to take over the party.

He denounced the John Birch Society's viewpoint and criticized as a form of totalitarianism the procedures of the recent San Francisco convention of the National Young Republicans Federation where delegates whooped it up for Goldwater.

Rockefeller said the Republicans cannot build power "on the outlawed base of segregation."

Goldwater, Morton and GOP National Chairman William F. Buckley have denied there is any intention to offer segregationist candidates in the South.

Rockefeller is expected to follow up his opening assault at the national governors' conference in Miami Beach, Fla. next week as a champion of civil rights.

Scientist Talks To TV Audience
 LONDON (AP) — A scientist-writer told a British television audience Sunday night, "My chivalrous boy is one who takes contractives with him when he goes out on a date on British television."
 "We might as well make up our minds that chastity is no more a virtue, than malnutrition," said Dr. Alex Comfort, 43, biologist and author.
 Comfort was on a British Broadcasting Corporation program called "Sex and Family Life." His views were among the frankest yet heard on British television.
 "Dr. Comfort said he saw no reason why a man should not have a mistress as well as a wife, provided he is loyal to both."
 "Many marriages need an adulterous prop to keep them on their feet," he said.

Costly Bull A Bum Steer
 BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The suspicion is growing that the world's most expensive bull may turn out to be a bum steer.
 Lunderis Evisse, an 18-month-old Aberdeen Angus, was bought by a Scottish syndicate in Scotland in February for the record price of $176,000. He has been held at a quarantine station in Northern Ireland since then awaiting transportation to Black Watch Farm in Fiskhill, N.Y.
 "To while away the time, he was introduced to six attractive heifers. So far, there is no sign of the pattern of tiny hooves."
 "I understand the Americans are getting very worried," said William Spiers, chief livestock officer at the quarantine station.
 "I am still confident that he will turn out all right," said Sir Torquay Munro, the Scottish breeder.

Pastor Gives Families Of Church Orphans
 WARREN, R. I. (AP) — The Rev. Carl W. Bloomquist distributed 200 orchids, one for each family, Sunday at Pilgrim Lutheran church to mark his 10th anniversary as pastor.
 The Rev. Mr. Bloomquist, who had the orchids flown from Hawaii, said in a letter to his parishioners, "Inasmuch as our family has received numerous expressions of love and esteem from you parishioners during these 10 happy years we are going to say it with flowers."
Man Drowns Trying To Rescue Skis
 WASHINGTON, Kan. (AP) — A helpful first grader, John H. Pietz III, died Sunday. He drowned while swimming after some water skis.
 "Pietz, 24, of Cheney, Kan., had helped Julietta Elderton, a water skier, into his boat when she fell in Lake Afton, then went after her skis. He sank in 20 feet of water."

To Stop Pests Use No-Roach

Those warm summer days when people get lazy and bugs get active... are almost with us. You can expect an invasion of your home by all kinds of crawling insects—roaches, ants, spiders, silverfish. Don't wait. Head off that invasion with the most effective insecticide on the market today... Johnston's No-Roach.

No-Roach is...
a. Effective against all crawling insects
b. Easy to use
c. Safe to use around children and pets
d. Stays effective for months with only one application

When you use Johnston's No-Roach there's no need to move dishes or breathe harmful sprays. It dries quickly to form an invisible, stainless and odorless coating which kills all crawling insects that cross it. This coating remains effective for months, protecting your home 24 hours a day against those filthy beasts. No-Roach keeps your home protected from future invasions as well.

Try Johnston's No-Roach. It really works! No-Roach is available at Furr's, Sunbeam, Piggy Wiggly, B & B, Safeway, Rainbow, & all grocery stores. Dist. by South Plains, Wooten.
