No Decision Made On Troops In Little Rock

NEWPORT, R.I., Sept. 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus agreed today that school integration—being the law of the land—must be carried out. But neither said specifically after a conference whether Faubus intends to withdraw National Guardsmen from a Little Rock high school.

Faubus, who met with Eisenhower for a bit more than two hours at the vacation White House, gave the impression at a news conference later that he might be getting ready to do something about the guard unit next week.

Faubus has been using the troops to block court-ordered mingling of white and Negro students at the Little Rock school.

At his session with newsmen Faubus was asked:

"Will the National Guard be at the school Monday morning?"

"That problem I will have to take care of when I return to Little Rock," Faubus replied.

There was no immediate word on how quickly the governor would return to Little Rock.

Faubus left Providence by plane with Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), who had helped arrange the meeting with Eisenhower, and arrived at La Guardia Field in New York later today, where Hays left the chartered plane. Hays was to leave for Dallas a few hours later. Faubus continued on to Little Rock.

Faubus issued a prepared statement and answered a few questions at a news conference in Providence, R. I., during the afternoon after he had traveled by Marine helicopter from Eisenhower's Newport headquarters about 35 miles south.

At about the same time the governor put out his statement in Providence, one by Eisenhower was dictated to reporters in Newport by presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Neither the president nor the governor said anything about the troops in Little Rock, a situation which caused the federal government to start injunction proceedings against Faubus. He has been ordered to reply in court next Friday.

Hagerty flatly refused to amplify or clarify the Eisenhower statement, put out about three hours after his meeting with Faubus. When that session ended both sides called it a "very friendly and constructive" conference.

ABOUT 20 OFFICERS from five counties joined together in a four-hour search yesterday after two youths stole a truck from a road construction firm near Post. The arrest of the two was made about five miles from where the truck was abandoned. Here, the officers are together just after the capture. (Lee Watson photograph)

SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

Clayton Rand, the Mississippi newspaperman, world traveler, author, etc., probably convinced some 450 persons here that he thoroughly believes in what he "preaches." In his address at the businessman-teacher banquet Monday night, Rand said the country needs more philosophy and humor. Rand went heavy on the humor and it went over in a big way. Among other things, he noted that Mississippians turn out a lot of literature, despite the fact that the state is known as he most illiterate in the naton. "Maybe we can't read, but we can write," he observed. He might have added that they can talk, too.

A project that has involved a lot of work and financial support by many Snyder citizens will materialize in full Tuesday when stockholders of the Scurry County Industrial Foundation hold their first meeting. The fact that the organization is coming into formal existence, however, does not mean that everyone can sit back and wait for the results to pour in. Those who have such an idea, if there are any, might well be in for a long vigil. The foundation will be like other organizations. It will require people working in it and for it to produce results.

As the month of September moves along, hopes remain high that a comparatively "wet" trend wil continue into the fall and winter. In this connection, County Agent Oscar Fowler made an observation the other day that emphasizes the importance of an underground moisture supply. The county agent reminded that in times past, West Texas has produced some of its better crops on "last year's" rains.

Scurry County's first bale of 1957 cotton came to the gin, and it was a full bale, weighing 509 after ginning. The first bale was somewhat later than usual, and even now it appears that full-scale harvesting operations will not hit this area for some time. Incidentally, O. P. Tate, grower of the first bale, received the $250 premium provided by the Chamber of Commerce.

In case there is any doubt in your mind about identity of the most prominent political figure in America these days, he is a man who is known personally by many Snyderites and he has visited here on several occasions. Fellow's name is Lyndon Johnson, the U. S. Senate's skilled majority leader. Veteran observers apparently are generally agreed that Sen. Johnson commanded more influence in the Senate during the past session than any other individual, including Ike himself. Even the Republicans seem to be agreed that Johnson is reaching the very top among senators of all time, and a New York Times writer recently reported that the 85th Congress "to an uncommon degree has been the story of Sen Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas."

Hard Wind Hits State

A brief but lively thunderstorm hit the Snyder area Friday night, bringing high winds and a small amount of moisture.

Snyder had .14 of an inch of rain, which was whipped along by strong winds. The rainfall was slightly heavier to the northwest, with .3 of an inch reported at Fluvanna.

Ira had a light shower, while Hermleigh reported only a sprinkle, and a mere trace of moistue was reported at the Pasotex Pipe Line camp north of Snyder.

High winds were reported in all communities in the storm's path.

A strong twisting wind—described by some observers as a small tornado—destroyed the main building of a filling station in Wichita Falls as rain and hail hit sections of north central Texas and southern Oklahoma Saturday night.

The Weather Bureau at Wichita Falls said it might have been a tornado, but did not confirm it as one. A spokesman at the U.S. Weather Bureau at Dallas said "it was a little late in the season for a tornado but it was possible for it to have been one."

M. L. Crowe, the filling station operator, said the wind hit about 6 p.m. He said it blew down the main building to his filling station but left the gasoline pumps standing.

A nearby drive-in-cafe and a number of residences were slightly damaged. A window in a school was also blown out.

Randlett, Okla., about 20 miles north of Wichita Falls, was hit by high winds. Power lines were blown down, and Randlett was without electricity for a time.

Heavy rain and light hail fell during the storm at Wichita Falls. The Weather Bureau said the hailstones were one-quarter of an inch in diameter.

Electra also received some hail during a heavy rain which dumped .47 of an inch of rain in 30 minutes. Hail stones as big as golf balls were reported in the Electra area.

Seymour about 50 miles southwest of Wichita Falls, reported hailstones one half inch in diameter.

The Weather Bureau said a line of thunderstorms was developing from Oklahoma down through the Wichita Falls area to near Haskell, Tex. It said the thunderstorm activity was increasing as it moved southeastward.

The Weather Bureau issued a severe weather forecast Saturday night for parts of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas.

The forecast called for scattered severe thunderstorms accompanied by large hail and locally damaging surface winds over most of southeast and eastern Oklahoma, extreme west central Arkansas and most of north central and northeast Texas Saturday night and early Sunday morning until 2 a.m. CST.

Foundation Meet Planned Tuesday

The first stockhlders meeting of the newly-organized Scurry County Industrial Foundation has been called for 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The meeting will be held at the junior high auditorium here, according to H. W. Cargile, acting secretary.

All the foundation's stockholders, which number between 400 and 450, are being notified of the meeting.

There are several items on the agenda for the initial stockholder meeting. Among those are approving the charter and by-laws presenting contemplated purposes and plans of the foundation, election of directors, and trasacting other business.

The foundation, organized last spring, is already chartered by the state as a non-profit institution.

The foundation was organized for the purpose of working toward developing industry in this area. The foundation now has about $25,000 in cash and pledges.

Temporary directors of the foundation are Cargile, J. T. Hughes, Claude McCormick, Ralph Geisenhoner, Herbert Feather, Steve Birdwell, A. O. McAlister, Hugh Boren, Jr., G. B. Clark, Turner Beard, John Sentell, and Lyle Deffebach.

Releases Of Water For U. S. Are Heavy

MCALLEN, Tex., Sept. 14 (AP)—The United States share of water in the international Falcon Reservoir dropped closer to the million acre-foot mark today as heavy releases of water for the United States continued.

The weekly report from the International Boundary and Water Commission today showed the United States had 1,020,000 acre feet as of Sept. 8. However, 10,000 acre feet of that amount was dead storage below the lowest level of the release gates.

Verbal Battle Looms

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles flies to New York tomorrow for a U. N. clash with Andrei Gromyko, Soviet foreign minister. It may prove one of the most momentous East-West word battles of recent years.

Dulles will leave here in late afternoon for the General Assembly regular session, which opens Tuesday. Aides said he will stay in New York at least a week and take the occasion not only to make a major U. S. policy speech Thursday but also to hear what the Russians have to say and to consult with British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd and other Allied leaders.

In the debate, it is understood, Dulles hopes:

1. To make clear to Soviet leaders and everybody else that the United States is not looking for trouble in the Middle East but will act powerfully if necessary to protect vital Western interests there—in oil, in communications and in preventing new Soviet expansion.

2. To salvage disarmament negotiations from the wreckage of the London arms talks. Russia wants to include a number of couhtries other than itself, the United States, Britain, France and Canada. The Western Powers feel that initial negotiations should continue to be concentrated in the hands of the five, officials here said.

3. To smoke out, if possible, Russia's purposes in developing in the last few months a more hostile propaganda toward the United States and its Allies.

Gromyko is due in New York this weekend to speak for the Soviet side. His words will be weighed as reflecting the policy decisions of Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and whoever else in Moscow may be extercising a decisive voice in foreign relations.

The debate between the two men—cast in the framework of a general debate by spokesmen of all U. N. members—comes at a particularly interesting time in relation to other international events and this may heighten its usefulness as an indicator of Soviet intentions.

When the General Assembly meets, West Germany's elections will be a thing of the past. They are being held Sunday. Whatever Russia's desire to influence the elections against Chancellor Konrad Adenauer may have been in the last few weeks, there will be no reason by Tuesday for the Soviets to consider this in shaping their policy.

West Germany Gets Ready For Election

BONN, Germany, Sunday, Sept. 15 (AP)—West German voters choose in a parliamentary election today between sticking with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his pro-Western policies or giving the Socialists a chance to run the government.

A bitter, three-month campaign ended quietly last night.

Harris Dems Feud Over Resolution

HOUSTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Harris County's feuding conservative and liberal Democrats battled today over a resolution criticizing former Gov. Allan Shivers and an aide, Jake Pickle.

Both factions agreed with the intent of the resolution—to keep locally raised funds in the county—but the liberals won when the conservatives attempted to have the attack on Shivers deleted.

A proposal to delete this paragraph was defeated:

"Whereas the State Democratic Executive Committee is dominated by the political heirs of Allan Shivers, and is being organized by those heirs by one Jake Pickle, Allan Shivers' former publicity agent and architect of Shivers' campaign of slander and smear."

The vote was 65 to 21.

The resolution presented by John Crossland, liberal floor leader for the county executive committee meeting, prohibits sending locally raised funds to the state committee but authorized sending funds to the national committee.

The liberals said they objected to sending to the state committee any money which might be used to pay Pickle's salary.

Presley Werlein Jr., county chairman and leader of the conservative forces, argued that there was no evidence Pickle was being paid by the state committee.

Equipment Is Burned Here

A fire at the Chemical Process Co. installation on the Lamesa Highway two miles west of Snyder about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon damaged two pieces of equipment.

D. A. Porter, Snyder fire chief, said that the fire apparently was caused by sparks from a welding machine being used to repair one of two tank trailers.

The two trailers were heavily damaged.

Chemically wetted water and chemical foam were used by firemen to fight the blaze, and the fire was put out without difficulty.

Two Youths Nabbed After Long Search

Two youths who said they were 16 years old became the object of a four-hour search by some 20 officers from five counties yesterday about 20 miles north of Snyder.

The two were finally arrested on the W. M. Fuller Ranch just east of Flattop Mountain. Arresting officers were Arthur Dyson and Jim Kinser, state highway patrolmen from Snyder.

The search got underway shortly after 9 a.m. yesterday when the two youths stole a truck from a road construction job just this side of Post and ended at about 1:15 p.m. In the meantime, the youths had abandoned the truck and had traveled more than five miles across pastureland on foot.

At first it was not known whether juveniles or adults were involved. Officers also had reason to believe they were armed, since an empty pistol holster was found in the abandoned truck.

With that in mind, it became a full-scale search. Included in those participating were Sheriff Earl Abercrombie of Snyder and all his deputies, Sheriff Miller Harris of Howard County, Sheriff Carl Rains of Garza County, deputies from those counties, highway patrolmen from Snyder and Lubbock, and a deputy and game warden from Jayton. No pistol was found on the youths when they were arrested.

Harris brought with him a bloodhound owned by A. G. Mitchell of Big Spring, special agent for Texas & Pacific Railway.

Several others helped in the search in various ways. Abercrombie furnished a noon meal for officers hunting the youths, while the Hilander Drive-In furnished several gallons of coffee. Two horses were furnished by the Wayne Williams Ranch and one by Roy Elkins of Fuller Ranch. Sam Joyce of Snyder also got into the search with his plane.

Bill Zimmerman, Scurry County juvenile officer, who was also involved in the search, took statements from the youths late yesterday. The two youths were in jail here but were to be turned over to Garza County officers for juvenile court action. The offense occurred in Garza County.

The bloodhound had arrived at

Actress And Oilman Wed

HOUSTON, Sept. 14 (AP) — Elsa Cardenas, pretty 22-year-old Mexican actress who was in the motion picture, "Giant," today became the bride of Guy Preston Patton, 36, Houston independent oil operator.

About 35 friends and relatives witnessed the services performed by the Rev. Anton Frank of the Annunciation Catholic church.

It was the first marriage for both the actress and the oilman.

The bride was attended by a sister, Miss Olga Cardenas, Mexico City. Patton was attended by Joe Robinson, Houston.

After a reception at River Bend Country Club, the couple left for a honeymoon in the Bahamas. They will make their home in Houston and in Mexico.

Mrs. Hortensia Cardenas, the mother, was among those attending the wedding.

Nashville Is Quiet After School Crisis

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 14 (AP)—A weekend calm settled over integration - troubled Nashville tonight and school officials said they believe "we're over the hump in this crisis."

Pupils have been given a holiday Monday to attend the state fair. Integrated first grade classes will be resumed Tuesday in the six schools where races were mixed here this week, for the first time, under federal court order.

John Kasper, roaming segregationist from New Jersey, remained in Davidson County Jail in default of $2,500 bond on a charge of inciting to riot. The grand jury indicted him yesterday on the state charge, stemming from Kasper's activities during the first week of integration.

Police said Kasper refused to confirm or deny a statement that he had dynamite in his possession three days before the half-million-dollar Hattie Cotton Elementary School building was dynamited early Tuesday. One Negro was enrolled in the school.

Detective Lt. Rex White quoted Kasper as saying at the jail. "I don't want to say anything—without my attorney being present." A Nashville lawyer said he had been employed tentatively to represent Kasper.

White said an informant related that he and Kasper had hidden some dynamite four days before the school explosion.

Hurricane Diminishes In Speed Saturday

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 14 (AP)—Hurricane Carrie diminished slightly and slowed in its forward movement as it spun northwest in the Atlantic Ocean about 720 miles east southeast of Bermuda today.

At 11 a.m. the storm was centered near latitude 28.3 north, longitude 53.5 west, moving toward the northwest about six m.p.h. That put it 1,625 miles due east of the Florida coast.

Highest winds were about 105 m.p.h. over a small area near the center, with hurricane force winds —75 m.p.h.— outward 50 miles from the center.

Bigger Tax Gouge Scheduled

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Average Texan can expect to see a little more of their hard-earned dollar going into state taxes next year.

The Legislative Budget Board estimates 6.4 cents of every dollar the average Texan earns in 1958 will drop into the state's coffers for running the ever-expanding government. This is a 1.1-cent increase over the 1957 estimate of 5.3 cents.

The 1958 cost to taxpayers for state government operation will be the largest since 1939. At that time 6.4 cents of every dollar also went to the state.

In 1939, however, state expenditures totaled only 164 million dollars, compared to the billion dollar budget next year. Individual incomes also have gone up, from $2,554,000,000 in 1939 to an estimated $16,750,000,000 for 1958. The budget board said by 1959, one-sixteenth of the total individual income will go to the state.

"Increased expenditures for highways and education are main reasons for the increased take," the board said.

Where does Texas get the tax money?

"Any casual student of Texas state finances knows the tax burden is unequally distributed between individual citizens and individual enterprises," the Legislature's fulltime Budget Board said.

Most of the state's income is from oil and gas taxes. Sulphur and cement also pay big. Next there is the 5 cents per gallon of gasoline tax.

If you smoke, the pack of cigarettes you buy also carries a 5-cent tax. Drink beer? The state gets one and a third cents tax for each bottle sold. Hard liquor? It averages about $1.40 tax on each gallon.

Texans pay a "tax" when they license automobiles, a one per cent state sales tax when they buy autos and radios and an ad valorem (property) tax. Grocery stores, restaurants and bars also pay for the privilege of selling cigarettes and beer.

Although there is no corporation net income tax in Texas, the state does collect franchise taxes from businesses. It gets taxes indirectly from hunters and fishermen, who must buy licenses annually.

Comparing Texas with other states, the Budget Board showed Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma each have a retail sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent, as do 33 other states. Texas does not. In those four states the gasoline tax also is 6 to 7½ cents, compared to Texas' 5 cents.

The Budget Board said the increase of state expenditures "is a measure of increasing demands by citizens for governmental services. The objective, of course, is to keep the costs of state government as low as is commensurate with absolute needs of the citizens, and at the same time expand the economy which carries the burden."

It said the state's dollars has declined faster than the average citizen's in purchasing power.

"In 1955, state and local governments had to spend $140.10, compared to the consumer's $118.00, for each $100 worth of goods and services based on 1947 values," the board said.

OIL ROUNDUP

Foreign Oil Is Up, U. S. Output Down

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Venezuela and the Middle East are producing crude oil at record levels while U.S. output declines.

Domestic production has been slashed over a million barrels a day since reaching record levels in late March at the peak of the Suez Canal crisis.

The Middle East is now producing more oil than before the emergency despite severe complications in Iraq.

Since the emergency, Venezuela has boosted her production over 430,000 barrels a day, setting new records consistently.

Imports last week were a recored average of 1,795,200 barrels a day.

Gov. Price Daniel described President Eisenhower's program for voluntary cutbacks in imports as "toothless." Daniel asked the administration to "move more forcefully."

Daniel blamed imports for forcing a 13-day crude production schedule in Texas, a record low for the 25-year of the state's conservation statutes. He said Texas cannot continue indefinitely under the schedule without facing serious damage to the general economy and a critical loss of tax revenue.

Prior to the closing of Suez early last November, the record for domestic crude production was a daily average of 7,183,950. By early November the average had declined to 6,981,100 barrels.

Closing of Suez jumped U.S. production to a record 7,818,400 barrels daily by late March. In less than six months, the average has dropped to 6,807,350.

The Middle East in October produced a record 3,873,500 barrels a day.

Since the emergency, the domestic average has been cut 1,011,500 barrels a day, with Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma accounting for a decline of 929,000 barrels. Texas has slashed its production 561,000 barrels a day, Louisiana 232,000, and Oklahoma 136,000.

New Scurry Location

W. B. Hardin of Austin has staked No. 1 Brownfield as a cable tool project in the Sharon Ridge 2400 Field of Scurry County.

It is slated for 2,500 foot drilling. It is three and one-half miles northwest of Ira, 1,660 feet from west and 2,328 feet from south lines of section 130-97-H&TC.

Wildcat Set In Nolan

Monterey Oil Co. has filed application to drill a 7,100-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Nolan County, nine miles northwest of Blackwell. It will be drilled as the No. 44-115 Emily A. Bridgford.

Location is 860 feet from the south and 710 feet from the east lines of 115-1A-H&TC.

The prospector is ¾-mile southeast of Roark, Hooker & Hill No. 1 C. B. Killgore, the opener and lone producer in the West Group (Strawn) field, which produces from between 6,096-126 feet. It flowed oil at the rate of three barrles per hour through Ellenburger perforations between 7,044-058 feet, but failed to develop commercial production from that pay.

Fisher Projects Show

An indicated second well in Fisher County logged additional pay section, a discovery continued to test and a fifth well was finaled in a field.

White Eagle Oil Co. and American Trading & Production Co. No. 1 Ada Mitchell, in 11-J. N. Weekley subdivision-Bastrop csl No. 313, indicated second producer and ½-mile south extension to the Sandy Hill (Strawn) field of Fisher County, logged additional pay section in the Strawn with the recovery of free oil on a drillstem test.

On the three-hour test between 5,569-5,592½ feet, gas surfaced in one hour and 17 minutes. Recovery was 90 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud, cut 50 per cent oil, and 40 feet of free oil. Flowing pressure was 55-95 pounds; 40-minutes shut-in pressure, 1,170 pounds.

The project was bottomed at 5,602 feet, preparing to run logs.

Strawn production was indicated earlier on a drillstem test between 5,549-571 feet with the flowing of gas at the rate of 532,000 cubic feet per day. Recovery was 160 feet of oil-cut mud, which was 33 per cent oil plus two feet of clean oil, no water.

On an earlier test in an unidentified formation, possibly the Canyon, between, 4872-92 feet, recovery was 1,966 feet of gas and 80 feet of heavily gas and distilate-cut mud.

Discovery Well Testing

El Paso Natural Gas Products Co. No. 1 Aiken, in 214-3-H&TC, Fisher County Ellenburger discovery, 1¼ miles west of Claytonville, flowed 148 barrels of 43 gravity oil, plus 1.6 per cent basic sediment and water, in 24 hours.

Production was through a 16-64-inch choke an perforations between 6,902-08 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 374-1.

The project is shut in for storage.

The Newmen (Swastika) field of Fisher County gained a fifth producer and a ¾-mile south-southeast extension with completion of British-American Oil Producing Co. of Midland No. 1-B Mose Newman, in 5-20-T&P, seven miles northwest of Eskota.

It was finaled for a daily pumping potential of 164.97 barrels of 40.9 gravity oil, plus 2 per cent water, with gas-oil ratio 253-1.

Production was through perforations between 3,784-88 feet in 5½-inch casing set at 3,843 feet, on total depth of 3,850 feet. Plugged back depth is 3,820 feet.

Top of pay was picked at 3,781 feet on elevation of 2,023 feet. Pay section was fractured with 10,000 gallons and 10,000 pounds.

Hungarian Move Is Under Study

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly's new special representative on the Hungarian problem said tonight he wants to go to Moscow and Budapest to negotiate. But Hungary was cool to the idea of admitting him to her territory.

Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, named to the post in a resolution the Assembly adopted early today, told a television interviewer he thinks the special representative should play a diplomatic role. He said that means "negotiations with the powers concerned—in this case, the Soviet Union."

Wan appeared on the U.N. television program "United Nations Review." He told interviewer John MacVane he thought he would travel to the Soviet Union and Hungary "as we go along."

India, meanwhile, sought to have the Assembly seat Communist China in the U.N.

These developments came as the 81-nation Assembly paused between a four-day special debate on Hungary and a three-month regular session facing many controversial subjects.

Indian Delegate Arthur S. Lall proposed that the Assembly put an item titled "The Representation of China in the United Nations" on the agenda of its 12th session starting Tuesday.

He made the proposal in a letter handed Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold late last night and published today. He said in an accompanying memorandum that U.N. bodies "cannot successfully pursue their tasks" with Peiping representatives absent.

U.S. sources said the United States would counter with a motion that the Assembly take no action during the session to exclude the Chinese Nationalists or seat the Chinese Communists. This strategy beat a similar Indian bid last year.

In Budapest, a spokesman for the Hungarian Foreign Ministry, Laszlo Gyaros, told a news conference Hungary would welcome either Prince Wan or Hammerskjold as "private persons."

Lt. Gen. John A. Hulen Dies

PALACIOS, Tex., Sept. 14 (AP)—Lt. Gen. John A. Hulen, distinguished soldier and railroad executive, died last night at his Palacios home where he had lived in semi-retirement for 20 years. He was 86.

Hulen was chairman of the board of the Burlington-Rock Island Railroad Co. and was a former Texas State Adjutant General and commander of the 36th Division of the state National Guard.

Camp Hulen at Palacios was named in his honor.

Funeral services and burial will be held Monday afternoon in Houston, where he was a director of the Bank of the Southwest.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Ben Wilson, wife of a district judge at Houston, and Mrs. Virginia MacDonald, Los Angeles, Calif., and two brothers, Gen. Harry Hulen, Palacios, and F.W. Hulen, Los Angeles.

Born Sept. 9, 1871, at Centralia, Mo., Hulen moved to Gainesville, Tex., as a boy and enlisted as a private in the Texas National Guard in 1889. He held the rank of lieutenant general when he retired as commander of the 36th Division in 1935.

Between the Spanish-American War and World War I, Hulen began a railroad career in 1907 as a city passenger agent for the St. Louis-San Francisco and Texas Railroad. Three years later he became general freight and passenger agent for the Trinity and Brazos Valley Railway, continuing in that capacity until 1919 except for World War I military service.

In 1919 he was appointed by the Northern Federal District of Texas as receiver for the Burlington-Rock Island Railroad, successor of the Trinity and Brazos Valley.

Hulen returned a solvent railroad to its stockholders in 1930 but continued as operating head of the Burlington-Rock Island until 1954.

A Houston resident many years, Hulen was one of the organizers of The National Bank of Commerce and was a vice president of the bank from 1912 to 1916.

Hulen rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel while with the 1st Texas Cavalry, U.S. Volunteers, in Cuba in the Spanish-American War and later was cited by congress for gallantry in action against an insurrectional general, Tinio, in Northern Luzon, Philippine Islands in late 1899.

Leaving military service in 1901, Hulen became state adjutant general with a rank of brigadier general in 1903.

After leading the 6th separate brigade of Texas troops against Pancho Villa along the Mexican border in 1916, assumed command of the 72nd Infantry brigade of the 36th Division in 1917. While in France he received the Silver Star, the Distinguished Service Medal, and the French Croix de Guerre with star and palm.

After World War I, Hulen reorganized the 36th as a National Guard unit and continued as its commander until his 1935 rehrement.

Hulen with his father, Harvey Hulen and Paul Gallia, in 1895, built the Gainesville Opera House, a brick and stone structure with three floors of seats and stage of proportions to handle the largest theatrical productions of the era. Many of the nation's stars appeared here, often coming by special train, and John Phillip Sousa's band appeared occasionally.

John Hulen managed the opera house in its infancy but Paul Gallia, an experienced theatrical man, took over and conducted the enterprise until stage shows passed from the picture.

The structure was remodeled and converted into a three-story office building by Texas Power & Light Co.

the scene about three hours after the offense first occurred, and it was on the trail and had traveled about two miles when Kinser and Dyson discovered the youths.

The highway patrolmen, when they discovered the boys, fired into the air. The boys started to run, but after the officers fired into the air again they surrendered.

The boys said they were planning to hitchike to Snyder and had eaten breakfast just outside Post this morning. Walking down the highway, they saw a flatbed truck at the side of the road.

The truck was unlocked, and the keys were in the switch, so the boys decided to get in and drive the truck to Snyder, they said.

When they passed through Justiceburg, Ray Fannin, construction foreman for Bryan & Hoffman, contractors for the new four-land divided highway on U.S. 84 in Garza County, was in the station-grocery store there. He saw the truck pass by at a high rate of speed, thought it was one of his employes, and got into pickup to catch the truck.

The boys said they saw a man in a pickup pull alongside them and look them over, then begin yelling at them, so they speeded up to try to lose the pickup. They turned off to the left on the first dirt road, they said.

Coming to the end of the road, they got out and started running across the pasture.

Fannin went back to notify the sheriff at Post, and the search followed.

The boys said they ran for about 30 minutes, then they decided to walk to the other side of Flattop Mountain. When they got to the other side of the mountain, they found a shade in a ravine and laid down to sleep. They were awakened when they heard the shots.

At first the boys told officers they were from Post, but later they said one was from Kerrville, the other from St. Louis, Mo.

When arrested the youths had in their possession a hunting knife, pocket knife, sack of dried beans, silverware, two razors, a change of clothing, a can opener, a can of potatoes, a jar of instant coffee, a flashlight, maps, and other articles.

Nuclear Blast Set Off In Australia

ADELAIDE, Australia, Sept. 14 (AP)—The wastes of Australia's heartland reverberated to the sounds of a nuclear explosion today, the first in a new series by British scientists at the Maralinga Testing Grounds.

The British, assisted by Australian and Canadian scientists and servicemen, fired the atomic device from a tower. More than 1,000 men helped to prepare for the explosion, the exact nature of which was kept secret.

Test director Charles A. Adams notified Australian Defense Minister Howard Beale the explosion was a success and that the weather insured no risk to people or livestock.

Man To Quit Muscle Flexing For Ministry

HONOLULU (AP)—Richard Franklin Du Boise, Mr. U.S.A. of 1957, said last night he has quit the muscle flexing business to study for the ministry.

The 24-year-old New Yorker said he thinks the publicity gained from his build — 30-inch waist and 52-inch chest—will help him win converts and attract audiences to revival meetings.

He said he plans to become a minister in the International Christian Church, organized here in 1943.

Dates To Be Set For Fund Drives

A meeting will be held of the executive committee of the Scurry County United Fund sometime early this week to set dates for the kickoff of the various drives of the 1957 United Fund campaign here.

Herbert Feather, president, said the meeting will probably be held Tuesday.

The major drive will be launched here Sept. 30 and last throughout October, according to Paul Keaton, general campaign chairman.

Keaton has completed appointment of chairmen of all the United Fund's divisions for this year's drive except one, the branch house division.

Chairmen of the other divisions are Lyle Deffebach, advance gifts; E. H. (Ab) Williamson, general business; Ted McAlister, business employes; M. L. Borman, industrial employes; Mal Andress and Ross Williams, county-wide; and W. A. Mayfield, schools.

The United Fund has a goal this year of $38,934, or slightly larger than last year's 36,984.

There are nine organizations which participate in the United Fund here. They are Scurry County Boys Club, $10,000; Boy Scouts of America, $9,500; Girl Scouts of America, $2,400; West Texas Boys Ranch, $850; United Service Organizations, $1,000; Salvation Army, $5,000; American Red Cross, $5,684; American Heart Association, $500; and Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, $1,500. Set aside for administrative and campaign expense is $2,500.

Problem Of Parity Faces US Farmers

DENVER (AP)—Directors of the National Farmers Union said today the major problem facing American agriculture is development of a program for parity of income for producers of livestock and feed grains.

"Although livestock and feed grains bring in 60 per cent of farm income, its millions of family-farm producers have been left out of the federal farm program," the board asserted. "Until they are given at least the protection offered the basic commodities, no family farmers can hope to get a parity of price or a parity of income."

The board listed factors contributing to what it called the failure of producers of hogs, beef, milk, poultry and feed grains to get production from their fluctuating and inadequate prices. These were:

Farm organizations in livestock producing areas "have not been truly representing the needs" of their members.

"The administration has succeeded in convincing some livestock producers that their problem is the cost of feed and has falsely preached the doctrine that cheap feed is the livestock producers' salvation. This is vicious, devisive and specious. Cheap feed has to be followed eventually by cheap livestock."

The administration "has failed completely to come up with a program for the livestock segment of agriculture."

Award Made To Plaintiff

A jury in 132nd District Court awarded the plaintiff $825 in a compensation case heard during the latter part of last week.

The case ended Friday. It was styled Robert Drust vs. Traders & General Insurance Co. and had resulted from an automobile accident Dec. 22, 1956.

Durst had asked for the maximum of $25 weekly for 401 weeks, or about $10,025.

Representing him was Forrest Bowers of Lubbock, while Marvin Sprain of Abilene represented the insurance company.

Members of the jury were Billy Greenfield, Leamon Land, Leland Herod, Leonard Spence, Mrs. Joe York, Inez Brown, Herman Bond, E. A. Brooks, Orville Taylor, Oran Sturdivant, Tinsley Rainwater, and Mrs. J. R. Huckabee.

Eggs Went First And Then The Hens

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Floyd McDeavitt says she isn't sure which came first—the chicken or the egg—but she's darned sure which went first.

"It was the eggs," moaned Mrs. McDeavitt as she told police that while she and her husband were away from home somebody stole all the eggs from the hen house.

"Then it was the chickens," she said. "A day later they took 12 New Hampshire hens."

Check Too Big

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Navy sailor Kenneth Vincent, 19, wrote his mother in Sudan, Tex., asking her to cash two bonds worth $37.75 and send him the money. He got the check, all right — for $800,037.75 Tellers at the naval base bank gave him the $37.75 and sent the cashier's check back to the bank that issued it.

Mystery Zoo Deaths

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Officials of the Roeding Park zoo are mystified by 11 recent deaths among the zoo's animals. Dr. R. B. Griffenhagen, the zoo's veterinarian, said all showed signs of lung and heart cavity infections. A pathologist is testing brain tissue of the dead animals.

Outlook On Pecans Good

AUSTIN (AP)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture predicts this year's pecan production in Texas will exceed the 10-year average by more than six million pounds.

Based on Sept. 1 conditions, the department estimated the crop at 37½ million pounds. The forecast includes 31½ million pounds of wild or seedling pecans and six million improved varieties. Texas pecans are faring better than those in other states.

Production in Texas last year was 27½ million pounds and the 1946-55 average was 31,140,000 pounds.

U.S. production is expected to reach 121,850,000 pounds, an increase of 2 per cent over the August forecast. The production will be 30 per cent less than the 1956 crop and 12 per cent below the average production.

The spotty Texas crop is shortest in the Edwards Plateau area. The most promising crops are in East Texas and along the upper coast. Nuts are good size and filling satisfactorily.

"Vitality of trees following the prolonged drought and effectiveness in controlling casebearers are principal factors affecting size of the Texas crop now expected," the department said.

Retiring Of Land Slow

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department report showed today that farmers are slower than they were last year about signing agreements to retire wheat land from production under the soil bank.

The department said that through Sept. 6 producers had agreed to retire 1,005,952 acres allotted them for production of winter wheat for harvest next year. For doing this they would get payments totaling $20,574,724.

At the same date last year, farmers had agreed to retire 2,454,400 acres for payments totaling $46,175,096. The department goal for retirement of wheat land is eight million acres.

The Texas acreages offered for retirement was 114,691, compared with 233,728 a year ago.

Wife Finds Badge Lost By Detective

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Lawrence Oliver lost his badge, a serious matter for a detective.

As required by police rules, he ran newspaper ads and offered a reward for return of the badge.

Oliver got results. His wife Lillian said she found the badge in a shoebox on the floor of a clothes closet in their home. The matter of the reward, she added, will be settled next payday.

Night Classes Planned Here

A SPECIAL MEETING has been called for 7:30 p.m. Monday at the high school for adults interested in taking night courses at the school.

Actually, there will be two meetings. Those interested in shop or arts and crafts courses are to meet in the high school shop building. Those interested in other courses are to meet in the high school choral room.

The adult courses will last 15 weeks and cost $16. They will be held two nights weekly, two hours each night.

T. D. Wiman, Jr., high school principal, said any course in the high school curriculum can be offered if there is sufficient interest. It takes 15 persons to make up a class in any course.

While there are several courses annually offered, there has been quite a bit of interest this fall in a high school English course with emphasis on grammar.

Virgil Joines, high school English teacher, said several persons have expressed interest in taking a general English course. He added that attempts will be made to organize a class to teach the things in English the interested adults think are most important.

* * *

PERSONS INTERESTED in any high school course have been asked to attend the Monday night meeting so school officials can determine what courses can be taught. Those who cannot attend the meeting have been asked to call the high school, 3-6301, and indicate their interest.

W. A. Mayfield, head of the school industrial department, said industrial courses usually taught are wood, metal, drawing, and crafts. The crafts course includes ceramics, leatherwork, art metal, lapidary, and plastics.

Usually taught in high school night classes are business courses, including tyjing, shorthand, and bookkeeping.

Operations Consolidated

The Western Company, well servicing concern with headquarters in Midland, has consolidated its operations and sales departments, reports H. E. Chiles, Jr., president.

Sales and service now will be controled by the new operations-sales department under management of Walter Beadle, Midland, vice president of the company.

The consolidation resulted in the forming of the Oklahoma and Midland divisions, with respective headquarters in Oklahoma City and Midland.

C. E. Woolridge has been transferred from Midland to Oklahoma City as division manager of sales and operations. Manager for the Midland division has not been named.

In Oklahoma City as division sales manager is W. W. Wilson. Harold Parsons was moved from Midland to Oklahoma City as division operations manager. Both men will report to Wooldridge.

Charles Simmons, former regional manager of operations in Midland, is the new Midland division sales manager, and Don Wolters is new Midland division operations manager.

Retired Officials To Be Honored By Club

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel and the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas will honor two recently retired members of the Game and Fish Commission field force.

They are Tom Waddell, long-time game warden supervisor at Eagle Lake, and Ben Stone, superintendent of the Eagle Mountain fish hatchery in the Possum Kingdom area.

Both are over 65. They will be presented plaques at a ceremony to be announced later, a SCOT spokesman said.

FARM LABOR DISPUTE

Mexico Demands Decent Housing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—The United States section of the joint U.S.-Mexico Trade Union Committee said today the contract labor agreement with Mexico needs "even greater enforcement."

The trade union group took exception to memorials by the Texas and California Legislatures asking Congress to stop the Labor Department from enforcing minimum housing standards under the agreement.

In a counter-move, it has sent all members of Congress a new pamphlet titled "'Decent Housing' Say Farm Employers, but 'Unfit for Human Habitation' says U.S. Department of Labor: The Shame of Housing for Mexican Contract Workers."

A letter from Serafino Romualdi, secretary of the U.S. section, accompanying the pamphlet, said: "It is important to note that the action of the state legislative bodies was rushed through without, in our judgment, proper consideration in response to considerable pressure from local Farm Bureau and Associated Farmers groups."

Romualdi added that the agreement with Mexico "is a solemn obligation of our government and must not be lightly cast aside in response to uninformed and selfish pressures from special interest groups."

Photographs from California included in the pamphlet, the trade union committee said, "can tell only a small portion of the evils. And it should be emphasized that conditions in Texas, where housing is far worse than in California, are even more revolting."

The committee termed "modest" the housing standards set by the Labor Department under the agreement.

"Lobbyists for the Farm Bureau and the notorious Associated Farmers of California even persuaded the legislative bodies in Texas and California to denounce the regulations as 'harsh' and 'ruinous' to farm employers," the committee said.

The House of Representatives, it continued, 'knuckled under before the farm lobby and denied the funds necessary to enforce housing standards," and the Senate 'did not restore enough of the cut to provide adequate enforcement."

The joint committee is an official branch of the Inter-American Regional Organization of Workers, and represents the AFL-CIO, United Mine Workers and various railway brotherhoods.

Junction Votes For Reduction In Taxes

JUNCTION, Sept. 14 (AP)—With many towns scrambling for more tax money, this one is an exception.

The city council voted a reduction of 10 cents in the tax rate. Mayor H. E. Wright said two bond issues for which the tax rate was raised 10 cents have been paid.

Too Many Flats

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was a little more than Thomas R. McQuade could take when he had the second flat of the day on his new station wagon. So he kept going, police reported, at speeds in excess of 55 m.p.h. The tire shredded and fell off the wheel, the wheel itself fell apart. He was booked on suspicion of drunk driving.

Police Looking For Kiddie Car Thieves

HOUSTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Police were looking for three car thieves today — kiddie car thieves, that is.

The Memorial Park Golf Course manager reported the boys, 7, 8 and 10, took an electric caddie car late yesterday.

Patrolman M. Woolie chased the youngsters at full speed over the course, but lost them after the caddie car car hit a stump and the boys disappeared into the woods.

Slum Ministry Set

BOSTON, (AP)—The New England Methodist conference has launched an expanded ministry in Boston's slum area. A $16,000 budget for the first year was allocated for the purpose at the conference's annual meeting in Worchester, Mass.

Plane Telephone Service Planned

CHICAGO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Telephone company officials announced today inauguration on a limited basis of the nation's first regular air-to-ground telephone service.

The Illinois Bell and Michigan Bell Telephone Companies said a select group of airplanes will be equipped so passengers flying near Chicago and Detroit will be able to telephone anywhere in the nation.

"The objective is to determine the feasibility of establishing regular air-ground public telephone service on a more widespread basis," said E. V. Glentzier, Illinois Bell radio and special services engineer.

The experimental service was authorized last April by the Federal Communications Commission for a one-year period.

It starts tomorrow.

To begin the year-long test of the system, one government aircraft and 11 private planes have been equipped with radio-telephone service.

Special aviation operators in Chicago and Detroit receive calls from a radius of 100 miles of both cities. They will connect airplane calls with the nationwide telephone system. Callers on the ground also can phone the airplanes.

Two Seriously Hurt In Tank Explosion

PORT ISABEL, Sept. 14 (AP) — A 25,000-barrel gasoline tank exploded with terrific force at a refinery today, burning and seriously injuring two men.

Charles Ballinger and Charles Howan were taken to Mercy Hospital in Brownsville with burns and injuries.

Bits of metal from the exploded tank were found about a quarter mile from the scene. The fire could be seen for several miles.

Plant Supt. John Trump said the fire had been controlled and major damage was believed to have been confined to the one tank.

The Practical Value
of Buying where You Live

For instance . . . meditate for a minute on what a comfort it is to have people around you. Particularly people like doctors, plumbers, druggists, firemen, preachers, mechanics, taxpayers, and the like.

These all come with towns. Towns come with business. Your business. Every nickel you spend in some other town helps to send some of these handy people away from here.

Maybe it even helps to eliminate YOUR job. Certainly it decreases the profits on whatever business you are in, and reduces the value of any property you may own in this area.

We're social critters, and depend on each other for many things. But when you scratch somebody else's back, be sure he stands where he can scratch yours in turn.

It Pays to Buy where You Live

Insects Studied

AGRICULTURE

Learning to identify insects and how to control them is among things learned by agriculture students at Snyder High School early in the school year.

Freshman ag students, under direction of Jake Greene and Billy Bob McMullan, are now in the process of learning about insects. In the classroom, they are shown film slides and pamphlets to learn the insects by sight, and then on field trips they identify them on the cotton stalk.

The students also learn recommended methods for controlling the harmful insects.

This late in the cotton season, there are only three harmful insects being found—the cabbage looper, boll worm, and leaf worm. In all, about 10 insects are covered in studies.

Also in the cotton line, the students learn about the different varieties, yields per acre, how to increase yields with certain practices, and water conservation.

While the freshmen are studying cotton, second year students are studying ensilage, its advantage, economic value, and uses, as well as how to build silos. Third year students are working on balancing rations, feeds, and feeding. Fourth year students are in shop work, at the present time building things helpful on the farm, such as sack holders used in sacking cotton seed.

Wind, Hail Damage Some Grain Sorgums In Area

Late summer rainfall has probably done crops more good than harm, but wind and spotted hail has not been any help to farmers in this area.

There were reports this weekend of wind damage to grain sorghums in some areas. Some areas had enough wind a few days ago to start lodging feed, while there was more heavy wind Friday night.

Hail has not caused any great amount of damage in the county as a whole, but there were reports that some crops were hailed out late last week in the Polar area.

Another problem showing up in grain sorghums in some areas is charcoal root rot and phythium root rot, although there have been no definite reports of any in this immediate area, according to Oscar Fowler, county agricultural agent. The two diseases cause feed stalks to fall over. Charcoal root rot shows up by turning the root and crown black, pythium root rot by turning them a pinkish color.

Most of the grain sorghum varieties used here are partially resistant to root rot, and farmers in this area do not anticipate any trouble from it.

Rainfall can still help crops here, especially late-planted feed. In cotton, it could be helpful if a wet, cold spell doesn't occur. Cotton which has fallen, but they need some dry, hot weather now to help their cotton mature. There is very little cotton open in the county now, and rain can do little damage.

Later, when much cotton is open, a wet spell could damage the grade.

Some farmers cold use rainfall to get enough season for sowing small grains which they can use for grazing purposes. It is now planting time for those if there is season for them.

In some parts of this area, tere has already been enough rainfall, for that, for those who already had their ground clean and seedbed prepared, Fowler said.

The cotton insect problem may be easing off some here, although there are still plenty of insects in the area, Fowler said.

Some of the bigger cabbage loopers are dying of virus which hits them late every season, but there is a new hatch in some areas.

Farmers seem to be keeping insects well under control in the area.

Ranchers May Receive Good Cattle Prices

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP) — Texas economists have figured out that ranchers can now look at the past seven years of drought as sort of a back-handed blessing.

As a result of the drought, said a special report this week from the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas, some ranchers may be in better shape now than they would have been during normal times.

"The rancher can look at the drought with mixed emotions," said George E. Neel Jr., editorial assistant of the bureau.

"It caused most cattle growers to cut down on the size of their herds, but at the same time, by restricting production, it helped to increase the prices of cattle. Now that the drought has broken, production will gradually increase. Whether it will increase sufficiently in time to depress cattle prices seriously, only time can determine.

"Meanwhile, those cattle that are on the ranges today, for the most part, are in good condition because of good pasture conditions, and the cattleman can continue to smile at prices like the mid-July $26.50 per 100 pounds for choice beef in Chicago, $4 more than a year ago."

The drought also had a hand in shifting distribution of beef cattle during the past half century from West to East Texas.

THERE AREN'T GOING to be any "patsies" in District 3-AAA this season if opening games of the season Friday night can be taken as a criterion.

Colorado City and Lake View, who were doped to battle it out for the cellar again in the pre-season polling, showed Friday night that they are to be reckoned with this season.

Colorado City showed unexpected power in drubbing a good Seminole club, 25-0, in its season debut Friday. And Lake View, after a terrific scrap, bowed to perenial tough Kerville, 12-7.

Lake View, according to reports, outplayed Kerville but the Antlers capitalized on a Chief fumble to turn defeat into victory.

Tornadoes Pose Big Threat

Lamesa, perhaps, pulled the biggest surprise in upending Midland, 7-6. Sweetwater battled Breckenridge to a 14-14 stalemate and, of course, you know by now that the Tigers lost a 12-7 duel with Borger in the Panhandle city Friday night.

Yep, the way it looks now, any one of the five 3-AAA outfits could emerge with the title this season. One team can't afford to sell the other short.

We were saddened but not discouraged over the Tiger defeat at Borger Friday.

The Tigers did show a lot of potential and with another game or two under their belts, the Bengals should do all right. As we've said all along, the Tigers lack experience at the moment and will be slow hitting their stride.

Borger has a fine ball club and it was no disgrace to lose to them. The Bulldogs may very well handle all District 3-AAA foes with exception of Amarillo. And coach Billy Willard thinks his charges will even handle the Sandies.

Drives Into Wind Hurt Bengals

The Tiger defense, you might say, looked bad Friday. But in one sense of the word, the defense wasn't so bad, though.

Borger couldn't break off any long gains and she had the backs capable of doing just that. Not many teams are going to succeed in controlling the ball against the Tigers as did Borger Friday night.

One of the main things that hurt the Tigers Friday was that Borger was able to hold on to the ball while bucking the strong wind that started out at about 20 m.p.h. and soared to around 35-40 m.p.h. before the game ended.

In other words, the Tigers weren't ever able to take much advantage of the wind to their backs.

And with a light bunch of backs as the Tigers have it's pretty tough going to buck the wind. The starting Borger backs outweighed the Tiger starters by 10 pounds per man, 167-157. The two lines were just about even, weightwise.

We're offering no excuses for losing Friday, though. Borger was "fired up" for the game and she richly deserved to win.

There's nine games to go. Tigers, so don't let that Borger game disrupt your morale.

Let's go get a Demon!

Big Games On Skulboy Card

By The Associated Press

A tremendous week faces the upper brackets of Texas schoolboy football as they plunge deep into the schedule with some of the most important sectional games of the season.

Mighty Abilene, looking much unlike "a shell of its former self," goes after its 39th straight, taking on Class AAA Sweetwater. The kingpins of Class AAAA opened the campaign last week with an easy 26-13 triumph over San Antonio Jefferson. The game indicated the Eagles have a fine first team but are lacking in reserve strength.

Amarillo, which smashed Dallas Adamson 57-0 in an show of power that indicated the Golden Sandies haven't been rated too highly, tackles Fort Worth Paschal.

Wichita Falls, which swept down Class AAA Vernon 33-0, gets tough Breckenridge. The latter battled Sweetwater to a 14-14 tie last week.

San Angelo, a disappointment in losing its opening game to Dallas Sunset 23-13, tries Corpus Christi Ray, heralded power of the south. Ray beat Houston Austin 33-0 last week without half trying.

But the big game in Class AAAA is that which sends Baytown against Port Arthur. It will show exactly what these two highly rated outfits have. Baytown started out with a 27-14 victory over Houston Lamar last week while Port Arthur was strapping New Orleans East Jefferson 33-0.

The feature game of Class AAA sends Nederland, the championship favorite, against Class AAAA Tyler, a 14-13 victor over Galena Park in its opener. Nederland downed oft-beaten Orange 25-6. Another important test is the clash of defending champion Garland with tough Cleburne. Garland didn't look too good last week although losing to a Class AAAA team—Dallas Hillcrest.

Sooners Given Top Spot In Pre-Season AP Grid Poll

By DON WEISS

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Oklahoma's Sooners, unbeaten in four seasons and winners of their last 40 games, were an overwhelming choice today to make it three straight national championships in college football.

Of 175 sportswriters and sportscasters participating in the annual Associated Press pre-season poll, 127 cst first place votes for Oklahoma. On the basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc., the Sooners wound up with a whopping 1,659 points and a wide edge over runner-up Texas A&M.

Every expert included Bud Wilkinson's champions on his ballot, with only five deciding Oklahoma should be rated lower than fourth. The Sooners, national champions in '55 and '56, open their 1957 season next Saturday against Pitt, the last school to keep them from trotting off the field with a victory.

Pitt, ranked eighth in the pre-season estimates, held Oklahoma to a 7-7 tie in the Sooners' opener in 1953.

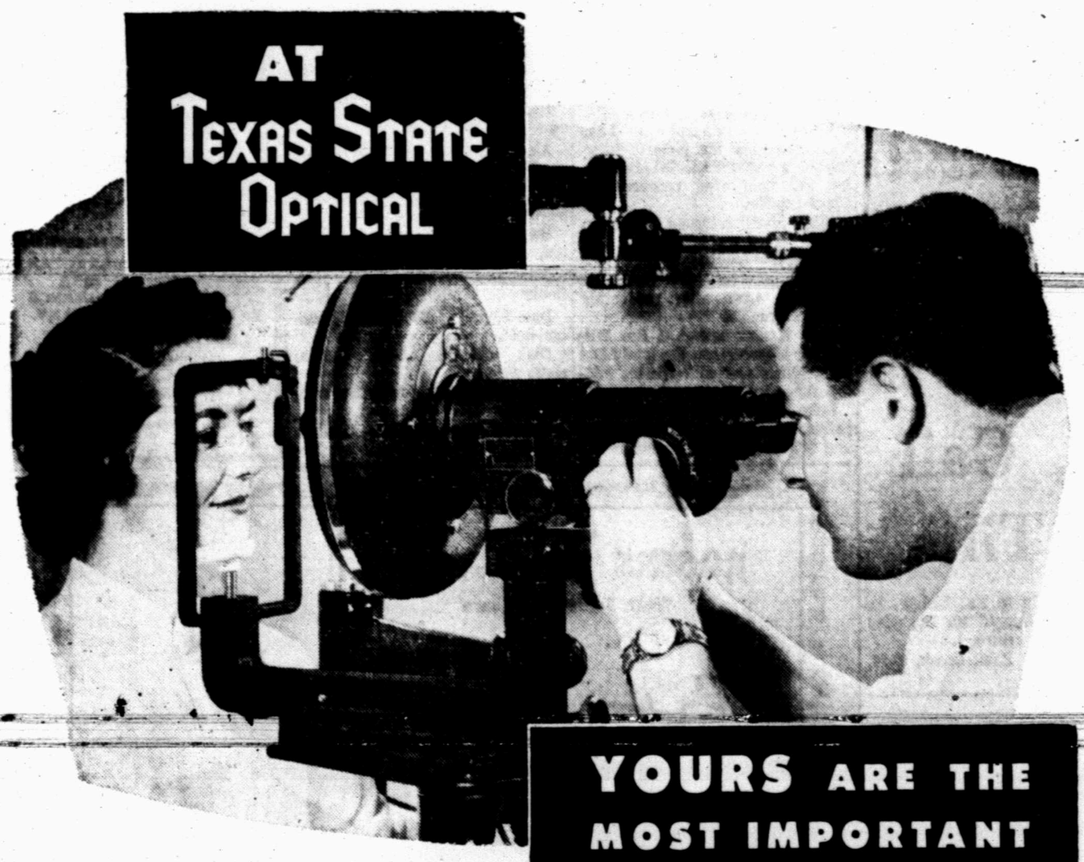

The Texas Aggies, picked as the best of another strong Southwestern Conference field, nipped Michigan State of the Big 10 for second place with 996 points to 988 although the Spartans had 20 first place votes to 4 for the Aggies. Minnesota was fourth, and Tennessee, Michigan, Baylor, Pitt, Iowa and Duke rounded out the top 10 in that order.

Tigers Drop 12-7 Decision To Bulldogs In Opener

Borger Employs 'Ball Control'

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

BORGER, Sept. 14—The Borger Bulldogs played ball-control here Friday night and it paid off in a 12-7 victory over the Snyder Tigers on a wind-swept field in the 1957 season opener for both teams before a crowd of about 3,500.

The Bulldogs, using short gainers as their main weapon, were in possession of the ball for about 2-3 of the playing time. The 'Dogs got off 66 plays from scrimmage to only 33 for the Tigers.

Even so, the Bulldogs had to come from behind for the victory.

The homestanders drew first blood, driving 60 yards to a touchdown that started late in the first quarter, following a Tiger fumble, and was climaxed early in the second.

After the point conversion failed, the Tigers bounced right back to score and take the lead. Quarterback Dickie Martin boomed a 48 yard punt to Isac Robinson, Negro Bulldog safety, and Robinson was jarred loose from the ball by a swarm of Tigers and Gene Williamson of the Bengals came up with the ball on the Bulldog 12.

A five-yard penalty against the seven from where fullback Mickey McGrew hit up the middle for the remaining distance for the TD. Jimmy Allen converted to give the Tigers the lead, 7-6, with 9:05 minutes left in the first half.

After that, though, the Bulldogs played "keep-away" and the Tigers never really got a chance to put their offensive machine into operation.

For instance, the Bulldogs took the ensuing kickoff and marched 80 yards to the winning touchdown, eating up about eight minutes of playing time in the march. Borger used 19 plays on the drive that was climaxed by an 18-yard pass from quarterback Jimmy Dawson to end Gerald Hazzard in the end zone. The point-after failed but it made no difference as the TD put the Bulldogs ahead, 12-7, and ended the scoring for the night.

Only one 20-yard penetration was made in the second half with the Bulldogs moving to the Tiger 12 late in the third quarter before losing the ball on downs.

The turning point of the game, perhaps, came in the third quarter when Borger, bucking the strong south wind, controlled the ball for 9:30 minutes, giving the Tigers very little time to take advantage of the wind while it was to their backs.

Borger took the second half kickoff back to the 20 and drove downfield to the Tiger 12 where the Tiger line stiffened and took possession. But, in the drive, Borger used up all but 2:30 minutes of playing time in the third quarter.

The Tigers got off only six plays in the third quarter while the wind was to their backs. In this short span, the Tigers made two firsts and had driven out to the 38 when the third period ended.

This drive ended on the first play of the fourth quarter via a fumble.

The most serious scoring threat made by the Tigers in the final quarter was a 53-yard march that carried to the Bulldog 33 before it fizzled out.

With a fourth down and three situation at the Bulldog 33, the Tigers elected to take to the air lanes which threw a tremendous scare into the Bulldogs. The Tigers got two receivers in the open with no defender between them and pay dirt but Mahan's pass was blown out of reach of both receivers and that ended the last Tiger scoring threat.

The Tigers missed another chance to score early in the game. The Bengals took over on the Borger 14 yard marker when Dennis Franklin, back to punt, fumbled the snap back and was downed at the 14. After two plays failed to go, James Vincent faded to pass and was brought down before he could get his pass off, losing 8 yards.

Dickie Martin got one yard on the ensuing play and the Bulldogs took over on the 21.

The power running of 182-pound halfback Bobby Jack Spencer kept the Bulldogs in command. Spencer bulled his way to 75 yards on the ground in 15 carries. Aiding Spencer was Bennie Hill who gained 72 on 21 trips.

Mickey McGrew and Dick Hayes were the Tiger top gainers, each with 29 yards. McGrew in six carries and Hayes in four.

The Bulldogs dominated the statistics with their ball control playing a major part.

Tackles Bill Phillips and Ronnie Giles led the Tigers in number of tackles made, each with nine with Phillips aiding on 11 other tackles for a total of 20.

The Tigers will journey to Dumas next Friday for their second game of the campaign.

HAYES RAMBLES—Dick Hayes, Tiger halfback, is shown ripping off a 13-yard run in Friday night's game at Borger. It was the longest run from scrimmage in the game. Mickey Miller, No. 66, Borger end, is in pursuit of Hayes. The Bulldog in foreground is unidentified. Borger won a hard-fought 12-7 decision in the season opener. (Lee Watson photograph)

District 3-AAA Teams Break Even In Season Grid Openers

District 3-AAA's five teams batted .500 in season opening games Friday night, two winning, two losing and the other gaining a tie.

In the winners circle were Colorado City and Lamesa. Colorado City's Wolves manhandled Seminole of District 5-AA, 25-0, while the Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa edged the Midland Bulldogs of District 2-AAA, 7-6.

Sweetwater gained a 14-14 tie with potent Breckenridge.

The two 3-AAA teams losing lost by identical 12-7 tallies. Snyder's Tigers bowed by this count to Borger of District 3-AAAA as did the Lake View Chiefs to Kerrville.

Three of the district teams opened play at home, Sweetwater, Lake View and Colorado City.

Sweetwater grabbed a 14-7 halftime lead and held it until the Buckies battled back in the fourth quarter to knot the count.

Breckenridge grabbed a 7-0 first quarter lead when Joe Ed Pesch capped a 50-yard drive with a 7-yard run on a pitchout.

Sweetwater then pulled ahead in the second quarter by scoring both of its touchdowns. The Mustangs, after taking over on the Buckie 30 when the Breck lads gambled for a first down and failed to make it, drove to their first TD with Ardis Gaither sneaking over from the one.

The Mustangs scored a minute before the half ended to break a 7-7 tie Gaither again scored on a one-yarder to give the Mustangs the halftime lead.

Breckenridge drove 54 yards for the tying touchdown in the fourth quarter with Pesch scoring from the one.

James Parker added both Mustang extra points while Larry Parker did the booting for Breck.

Lamesa drove 82 yards in the final quarter to snatch victory away from Midland. Sam Jones hit Mike Schmidt for the final 27 yards of the drive to tie the score at 6-6.

Jones then booted the extra point for the margin of victory. A crowd of 11,000 fans watched.

Colorado City surprised Seminole with a smashing ground attack in rolling to a 25-0 win.

The Wolves opened the scoring in the second quarter with a 62-yard drive. Quarterback Richard Compton passed to end Jim Richardson for 25 yards and the initial TD.

The Wolves made it 12-0 at halftime when Compton went seven yards on a quarterback sneak to cap a 61-yard march.

Colorado City sewed it up with two touchdowns in the fourth. The Wolves recovered a Seminole fumble on the Indian 40 and in three plays the winners moved to the two from where Bancker Cade went over. Compton converted on a fake kick and run for a 19-0 lead.

Dick Richardson added the final C-City TD on a 45-yard run after intercepting a pass.

Kerrville capitalized on Lake View mistakes for victory, intercepting a pass for one TD and scoring the other after recovering a Chief fumble.

Billy Shuff returned an intercepted pass back for 56 yards for one Kerrville touchdown while Spencer Brown went four yards for the other score after recovering a Chief fumble.

Billy Winans passed to Rex Wilson for 56 yards and the lone Lake View touchdown with Winans adding the conversion.

Lake View dominated the statistics, leading 11-4 in first downs and 233-149 in yards rushing.

Roberts Hurls Phils To Win

CINCINNATI, Sept. 14 (AP) — Sparked by Harry Anderson's 16th homer, the Philadelphia Phils loaded the bases twice in the seventh today to score four runs on as many hits and win 5-0 behind Robin Roberts' eight-hit hurling.

The win gave the Phils a 1-1 split in the season's final series between the clubs.

Banks Raps 3 In Twinbill

CHICAGO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Home runs—three of them hit by Ernie Banks in the nightcap—decided both games today as the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs split a doubleheader.

Frank Thomas' 20th homer was good for two runs in the ninth inning that boosted the Pirates to a 3-1 victory in the opener. Eddie O'Brien, converted infielder making his first major league start, collected the victory on a six-hit job.

The Cubs won the nightcap 7-2 for their first decision over the Pirates in a four-game set. Dale Long's three-run homer in the sixth decided it.

Robbins Captures National Amateur

By WILL GRIMSLEY

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 14 (AP) — Hillman Robbins, a hollow-cheeked Air Force lieutenant, won seven of nine holes in a bristling stetch run counter-rally today for a 5 and 4 victory over tiring Dr. Frank "Bud" Taylor in the finals of the National Amateur Golf Championship. Robbins closed out the match with a 12-foot putt on the 32nd hole.

Taylor, 40-year-old practicing dentist from Pomona, Calif., wilted after a dramatic comeback in the morning round which saw him lose five holes in a row on bogeys and then snatch them back by winning five of the next seven to go ahead.

As the 36-hole match dragged into the late afternoon at The Country Club, the slender doctor lost the power and crispness of his game which had made him the sensation of the tournament.

The final match of the 57th national championship was a story of bursts and it was Robbins, fortunately, who had the last one.

The winning rally started on the 24th hole where Robbins pulled even for the third time since Taylor forged to the front at the 13th hole.

The Tennesseean won the 24th with a par three, recovering magnificently from the thick, knotty grass with a shot two feet from the pin. He won the 26th with a birdie four, sinking a nine-foot putt, and the short 27th with a par, when Taylor took three from the edge.

Now rolling, the 25-year-old airman sank a 30-foot putt for a birdie at the 28th, took the 29th with a par when Taylor missed a five-foot putt and, after dropping a hole, won the 31st and 32nd from an aging competitor who was near exhaustion.

Robbins is a 25-year-old graduate of Memphis State College with a splendid record in amateur golf. He was runner-up in the Western Amateur in 1955, won the in 1956 and was runner-up in the same event last spring. He is the All Air-Force champion.

The Tennesseean, stationed at the Air Force Base at Blytheville, Ark., was a member of the U. S. Walker Cup team which beat Britain recently at Minneapolis. He lost his singles match to Guy Wolstenholme of England, 2 and 1, and was distraught over the defeat.

"Now I guess I have redeemed myself," Robbins said.

IRA, HOBBS BOW

Hermleigh, Gail Win Area Tilts

Hermleigh's Cardinals and the Gail Coyotes won while the Hobbs Panthers and Ira Bulldogs lost in games involving area teams over the weekend.

Hermleigh won its first game under Coach Willie Bigham, beating Aspermont, 6-0, at Cardinal Field Friday night.

Carllee Burleson rammed five yards late in the game to account for the only score. Burleson's run climaxed a 45-yard drive following an Aspermont punt.

The Cardinals had one TD nullified by a penalty, a 42-yard scamper by Jimmy Roemisch.

Hermleigh dominated the statistics, leading in first downs, 11-7 and in yards rushing, 186-148.

In an all-area game, Gail ran roughshod over Ira, 67-7, at Ira Friday night.

Raymond Walton, Bunny Massenale, Reuben Vaughn, Larry Doyle, Carroll Ramsey, Harold Steadman and Wilson Walker all scored touchdowns in the Gail stampede.

Gail led at halftime, 27-7.

Tom Echols scored the only Ira touchdown, coming with Gail leading 13-0 in the first quarter. The TD was costly to Ira, though, as Echols was injured on the play and he never returned.

Hobbs lost to Paint Creek, 32-26, Thursday night.

Stephens Out For Season

BOSTON, Sept. 14 (AP) — Gene Stephens was declared lost to the Boston Red Sox for the season today while teammate Ted Williams silenced reports he was through for the year with a 50-minute workout.

Stephens, a fleet 24-year-old outfielder, was lost because of a hairline fracture below the left knee and a severe ankle sprain. He was injured last night when he tripped over first base attempting to beat out a bunt.

Williams, the American League's leading batter with a .376 mark, romped around the outfield and played a pepper game with Willard Nixon in a pre-game workout.

All SWC 11s Open Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference, looking stronger than last year when it compiled one of its better intersectional records, opens the campaign next Saturday against seven foes from other regions.

Defending champion Texas A&M, favored by many to repeat its unbeaten 1956 feat, plays the big one. The Aggies clash with Maryland in a nationally televised game in Dallas' Cotton Bowl Saturday afternoon.

Southern Methodist, admittedly lean on experience and ability, makes its start under new Coach Bill Meek by tackling California at Berkeley in the other day game on the schedule.

Baylor, choice of sports writers to win the championship, gets going against Villanova at Waco.

Arkansas, expected to come into the crown should the Aggies and Baylor falter, takes on Oklahoma State at Little Rock.

Rice, generally considered next in line, tries one of its toughest foes over the years—Louisiana State—at Baton Rouge.

Texas Christian, rebuilding after two great seasons that saw it win the title and finish second the next time, gets another team that's trying to come back—Kansas—at Fort Worth.

Texas, with a new coach, a lot of good sophomores and a new outlook, opens the season against Georgia in Atlanta. It will be Darrell Royal's debut as headman of the Longhorns.

Maryland had a poor record last season—two victories and one tie against seven defeats—but no squad ever had the adversity of the Terps of 1956. Injuries, illness and loss to the service wrecked every plan Coach Tommy Mont had.

Now Maryland is back with 29 lettermen to meet an Aggie team that has quality but not much quantity.

Baylor meets a Villanova outfit that packs the most experience of any team coached by Frank Reagan in his four years at the Philadelphia school. It has 22 lettermen.

Louisiana State has given Rice more trouble than anybody. Even Rice's finest team—the 1949 outfit—lost to the Tigers in Baton Rouge. Louisiana State doesn't have as many experienced men as Rice but it may have better ones.

Kansas has been down for several seasons but is showing symptoms of returning to the power it once knew. There are 25 lettermen back, seven of them 1956 regulars.

Georgia won only three games last year, but that was a good record compared to Texas' lone victory in 10 tries. Georgia has 22 lettermen, more than Texas.

Few expect Southern Methodist to beat what looks lik ea resurging California, but the fact remains that the Methodists had a better record last season than the Bears and they have back about as many experienced men.

Arkansas will be an easy choice over Oklahoma State, although there are 26 lettermen at Stillwater. The record was poor enough last season to indicate the Cowboys have too high a hill to climb this time.

Dallas Leads TL All-Star Balloting

DALLAS, Sept. 14 (AP) — Dallas, which won the pennant with comparative ease, landed the most players on the Texas League all-star team but the most popular man was Bennie Valenzuela, Houston third baseman.

Valenzuela, who hit .286 and had 24 home runs while playing skillfully afield, lacked only one vote of being unanimous as the Texas League Baseball Writers Association selected a nine-man club.

Dallas put four men — pitcher Tommy Bowers, first baseman Willie McCovey, second baseman Alex Cosmidis and center fielder Don Taussig—on the team. Tulsa and Houston each had two and Austin one, while San Antonio, Oklahoma City, Fort Worth and Shreveport were shut out.

Jim Frey of Tulsa, the league's top hitter with .336 and who also led in most other offensive departments, including hits, runs, doubles and triples, beat out brilliant Wilcy Moore of Dallas for the left field spot. Frey also was picked as the most valuable player.

Here's the Texas League all-star team with the averages:

Alex Cosmidis (.277), Dallas, second base.

Bobby Winkles (.279), Tulsa, shortstop.

Bennie Valenzuela (.286), Houston, third base.

Jim Frey (.336), Tulsa, left field.

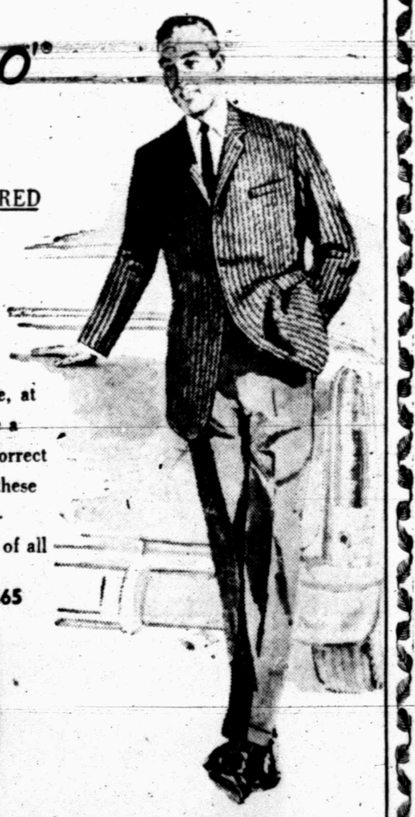

Don Taussig (.281), Dallas, center field.

Dick Sinovic (.281), Austin, right field.

Nelson Burbrink (.308), Houston, catcher.

Tommy Bowers (20-8), Dallas, pitcher.

Braves Lose Again; Lead Cut To 4 Games

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 14 (AP)—The faltering Milwaukee Braves were whipped, 7-1, by the Brooklyn Dodgers today and saw their National League lead over St. Louis fade to four games—the slimmest margin since Aug. 9.

The Cardinals beat New York today, 6-1.

For the Braves, it was the seventh loss in their last 10 starts, and it came at the hands of Carl Erskine, who hasn't pitched a victory over them for more than two years. Erskine scattered four singles today.

Loser was Lew Burdette, first of four Milwaukee pitchers.

Cards Climb With Win Over Giants

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14 (AP)—Vinegar Bend Mizell hurled a six-hitter, marred only by Willie Mays' 33rd home run, and the second-place St. Louis Cardinals knocked off the New York Giants today, 6-1, to stay in pennant contention.

Mizell, the Cards' hottest pitcher the past month, gained his eighth victory in 18 decisions. Tiny Don Blasingame helped Mizell by knocking in three runs.

Bosox Outslug Tribe, 13-10

BOSTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Handyman Dick Gernert drove home seven runs with a homer, a double and a sacrifice fly to propel the Boston Red Sox to a 13-10 victory over the Cleveland Indians today in a two hour and 55 minute battle.

Gernert, a natural first baseman pressed into service in left field because of the illness of Ted Williams and an injury to Gene Stephens, offset a one-man show by Cleveland's Vic Wertz.

On his first two trips to the plate in the first and second innings, the Tribe's veteran first baseman clouted a homer with the bases full and one with two on. It boosted his home run total to 26 and his RBI output to 98.

Support Even On Title Bout

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Rarely has a title fight in many years stirred up so much interest among boxers and former boxers as the battle of champions between middleweight king Sugar Ray Robinson and welterweight ruler Carmen Basilio at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 23.

And just like the average fan, the fighters and ex-fighters are divided sharply on who they think will win. A poll of 18 one-time champions — 9 welterweights and 9 middleweights — today showed eight plumping for the older and heavier Robinson and six for the wiry, cocky Basilio. Four straddled the fence, leaning toward Sugar Ray in a short fight and Carmen in a longer one.

The middleweights went for Robinson 5-3 with one on the fence while the welters split even, 3-3, with three straddling.

The betting odds favor Basilio 13-10 right now but the quotations have been fluctuating and could swing the other way by fight time. Among the welterweights, Young Corbett III, Barney Ross, and Fritzie Zivic picked Robinson and Jack Britton, Jackie Fields and Marty Servo went for Basilio. Jimmy McLarnin, Freddie Cochrane and Johnny Saxton made it "iffy."

The middleweights split this way: For Robinson — George Chip, Mickey Walker, Teddy Yarosz, Al Hostak and Rocky Graziano; for Basilio — Johnny Wilson, Fred Apostoli, and Billy Soose; undecided — Gene Fullmer.

Tigers Split With Orioles

BALTIMORE, Sept. 14 (AP)—Harvey Kuenn doubled in the winning run in the ninth inning to give Detroit a 4-3 comeback victory over Baltimore today after the Orioles had won the opener of the doubleheader, 3-1.

With Connie Johnson, Baltimore's most consistent hurler on the mound, it appeared the Tigers were in for a twin setback but they suddenly erupted for two runs in the ninth.

In the first game, Billy O'Dell set the Tigers down on 6 hits to stop the Detroit winning streak at four straight. The Birds scored all their runs off Billy Hoeft, the Tiger starter and loser, in the first four frames and O'Dell made the margin hold up.

Second Stringers Dominate Scrimmage

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—The second stringers, led by sophomore Bobby Lackey, dominated the University of Texas intrasquad football scrimmage here today as the Orange outscored the White 20-6.

Lackey's unit drove 46 yards in seven plays for the first touchdown, with the lanky quarterback scoring from the one yard line. A 16-yard run by Mike Dowdle, sophomore halfback and a pass from Lackey to halfback Clair Branch for 14 yards were the big gainers in the drive.

TCU's Max Pierce Gets Torn Ligament

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14 (AP)—Texas Christian suffered a sour blow to its already crippled bench today when No. 2 fullback Max Pierce of Gorman suffered a torn ankle ligament in a game-type scrimmage.

In a drill emphasizing defense Pierce was hurt while attempting a tackle. The sophomore understudy of regular fullback Buddy Dike will be out for an undetermined period, said trainer Elmer Brown.

SMU Ends Second Week Of Practice

DALLAS, Sept. 14 (AP) — The Southern Methodist Reds scored two touchdowns and a safety in the second half today to defeat the Whites 16-6 in an intrasquad game.

The game, which was closed to the public, wound up the second week of practice for the Ponies, who will open their season against the University of California at Berkeley next Saturday.

Bryant Pleased With Practice Performance

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Maroons beat the Whites 47-0 today in a regulation Texas A&M practice game today, one week prior to the opener with Maryland in Dallas.

The Reds outclassed the Whites with long runs by halfbacks John Crow and Loyd Taylor but Coach Paul Bryant was not pleased with the over-all performance.

LEAD CUT TO 5

White Sox Rap Yanks In Finale

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Jim Rivera's two-run homer and Dick Donovan's seven-hit pitching helped Chicago bounce back with a 5-2 victory over New York today that kept alive its longshot pennant hopes.

The White Sox, who have been written out of the race so many times, cut the Yanks lead to five games. New York has 12 to play and Chicago 14 so a combination of Yank victories and White Sox defeats totalling nine would be enough to clinch the pennant for the Yankees.

Donovan, loser of a tough 11-inning game on the Yanks' last trip to Chicago, had only one bad inning, the fifth, when New York scored both its runs.

Siever's 39th Beats K-City

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Roy Sievers crashed his 39th homer off Ned Garver leading off the last of the tenth inning today to lift Washington to a 3-2 victory over Kansas City. It was Sievers third home run in two games.

Jim Lemon tied the game at 2-2 in the eighth with his 16th homer after Gus Zernial had boosted the A's into a 2-1 lead in the sixth with his 22nd homer off Ralph Lumenti, bonus youngster making his first major league start.

Lumenti, 20-year-old lefthander from the University of Massachusetts, allowed only three hits in seven innings but was lifted for a pinch-hitter and the victory went to Pedro Ramos.

Snyder B Falls To Sweetwater 13-7

SWEETWATER, Sept. 14—The Sweetwater Mustang B team began to even the score for the B game drubblings Snyder gave them last year by taking the Snyder B 13-7 here tonight.

Although Snyder's B team won over Sweetwater three by identical three-touchdowns-to-one scores, the Sweetwater B this year is composed of many of those who were on the freshman squad which downed Snyder's frosh last year. It is a big crew which shows promise for Sweetwater's future.

Snyder wasn't out of the game here by any means, however, as the charges of V. V. Shearburn and Jim Stehley outplayed the Mustang B in the second half after being outplayed in the first. The Snyder B threatened seriously once in the first half, getting down to the Sweetwater 10 before losing the ball on downs.

Snyder's lone score, however, came in the closing seconds of the game. There wasn't even time to kick off to Sweetwater after the score. The touchdown came after a sustained drive of about 60 yards, with Jimmy Maroney, right halfback, driving across tackle for the final two yards for the TD and working a similar play for the extra point.

Sweetwater scored once in the first quarter on a dive play after a 50-yard drive and once in the second on a short scoring play after an 80-yard drive, which included the score set-up on a 30-yard pass from quarterback to end.

The Snyder team did not complete any passes, although quarterback J. D. Gray tried four or five. Moroney and fullback Eddie Watson were major ball carriers.

Standouts for Snyder on defense were Mike LaFountain, linebacker, and Bo Brown, defensive end. Devane Jones, the team's kicker, did a good job punting.

Next week the B team will host Lamesa at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Round Table Makes It Eight In Row

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., sept. 14 (AP)—Round Table, tiny package of TNT owned by the Kerr Stable of Oklahoma City, made it eight victories in a row today by nosing out Tudor Era in a rousing stretch duel that called for official inquiry before the result was posted.

In one of the most exciting battles ever at the Atlantic City Race Course, the 3-year-old Round Table whipped older horses for the second time in his career.

Round Table, who had beaten Porterhouse, Find and other older stars in the Hollywood Gold Cup in July, paid an odds-on $3.40 $2.80 and $2.60.

Tudor Era, owned by Mrs. Herbert Herff of Memphis, Tenn., went off at 9-1 and paid $6. and $4. Find, a 12-1 shot, paid $3.80 to show as he finished in the money for the 23rd time in his last 24 starts—all stakes races.

Bryant Not Pleased With Performance

DUNDEDIN, Fla., Sept. 14 (AP)—Dick Mayer, whose name seldom appeared on the lists of professional golf's leading money winners last year, is way ahead in the 1957 gold grabbing contest.

The professional golfers' assn. announced today that Mayer had won $65,835 through Sept. 1. The Blond LaJolla, Calif., star has a long lead over Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., who is the No. 2 money winner of the year with $42,535.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., leads the Vardon Trophy race with 2,245 strokes over 32 rounds for an average of 70.16. Slammin' Sam also is first in Ryder Cup points with 98.

WT Smacks Underdog McM 20-7

CANYON, Sept. 14 — Favored West Texas State carried out predictions and downed McMurry College 20-7.

McMurry didn't score until the final period, after West Texas had finished. The Indian tally came when James Boyd scampered 73 yards. Tom McAdams kicked the point.

West Texas drew blood in the first period with Jack York throwing 36 yards to Tom Coffee. Coffee added the point on a boot.

Still in the first, Bob Ratliff plunged one yard for the second WT score. The third came in the fourth when Charlie Sanders bucking two yards for the TD.

Don Priestly, 198-pound senior from Bessemer, Ala., will captain the 1957 Georgeia Tech football team. He plays center on offense and is a linebacker on defense.

World's Record Is Set By Snead

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 14 (AP)—Sam Snead of the West Virginia hills, today scored a world's record equalling 11-under-par 60 that gave him 130 and the lead at 36 holes in the $40,000 Dallas Open.

Chipping for an eagle on the first hole, the baldish veteran, who has won everything in golf except the National Open, bulldozed the 6,328-yard Glen Lakes Country Club course in a round that tied him with five others for the all-time 18-hole record.

He overtook Earl Stewart, the Dallas redhead, who has snatched the lead with a 67 for 132.

Cary Middlecoff, the golfing dentist from Hollywood, Fla., who topped the field after the first 18 holes with a 63, had a terrible front nine today and wound up with a 70. His 133 put him in a tie for third.

Byron Nelson set the record for 18 holes in 1945 at Olympia, Wash. It was tied by Al Brosch at the Texas Open in San Antonio in 1951, by Bill Nary at El Paso in 1952, by Tommy Bolt at Hartford, Ted Kroll at San Antonio, Wally Ulrich at Virginia Beach and Mike Souchak at San Antonio in 1954.

Snead, 45, fifth top money winner of the year although he has played in only a few tournaments and won only the Palm Beach Invitational, never had a hotter putter than today.

He electrified the crowd of 8,500 when he chipped in from off the green from 50 feet away for his eagle on the first hole. He birdied No. 2 and was three under par on just two holes. From then on the gallery followed only the colorful slammer, star of a quarter of a century of golf.

Snead sank a 30-foot putt on 16 and a 25-footer on 17 and he went for a 40-footer on 18 that would have given him the record, but he was a foot short and had to settle for a par. Snead had a 30 on each nine.

Middlecoff made a great comeback to stay in the running for the big money. He 3-putted on three holes on the front nine for a 38 but pulled his game together for a fine 32 coming in.

"My putting was very poor," he complained.

Stewart, who had a 65 for a tie for third yesterday, said he drove badly today. His putting was sensational as he sank one for 20 feet, one for 18, one for 14, one for 13 and one for 10. He lipped the cup on seven holes.

TWO NEW TEACHERS

Enrollment At Lincoln Grows

Enrollment at the Abraham Lincoln School here is now growing slightly and is expected to pick up even more through the fall, according to Daniel Johnson, principal of the school.

The school's enrollment now stands at 95, Johnson said, while the school census showed 125 children of school age for the school. He added that he knows of some students who intend to register but have been slowed down by outside work.

The school's enrollment picked up two during the past week, one senior and one third grader.

The new high school-junior high addition to the school is not yet complete, and workers are busy with finish work. It will be several days before that portion of the building can be put to use.

That has not hindered the program much, however. Johnson said most of the classes which have instruction requiring special equipment are still studying in the "theory" stage and do not yet especially need the equipment.

Students taking arts and crafts and shop courses are using the old temporary building at the school for instruction and can use their equipment. It will be moved into the main building when the new wing is complete.

Homemaking students are now using the cafeteria and have some facilities there which can be used for home economics instruction.

So far, commercial students and science students have not been in need of equipment and are studying in regular classrooms.

Included in the new building will be a library, science room, shop, home economics room, and commercial room.

Teachers on the Lincoln staff include Mrs. Anniece Johnson, first and second grades, typing, and music; Mrs. Elizabeth Grandison, third and fourth grades; Miss Shirley J. Negro Held After Threat To Governor

CHICKASHA, Okla., Sept. 14 (AP)—A Negro soldier who Chickasha police said apparently was en route to Little Rock, Ark., with a carbine to take a hand in the integration crisis was captured here last night.

The soldier, who fled from Ft. Sill, 50 miles southwest of here, Thursday night after hitting a guard over the head and taking his gun, was identified as Henry Cross, 26, formerly of Buffalo, N.Y.

Military police said Cross had been involved in heated arguments over the Little Rock racial situation, and had threatened to kill Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus for blocking the enrollment of Negro children in white schools.

Cross was walking down a Chickasha street with the carbine slung over the shoulder when arrested by Police Capt. Noland Forbis. He offered no resistance.

The tall, 165-pound soldier wore Army fatigues with the words "Mau Mau" stenciled in large letters across the front.

Cross was captured after leaving the home of Rev. and Mrs. John Merida, where he had eaten and rested for three hours. The Negro Baptist pastor said Cross told him he was going to Little Rock "on a secret government mission."

'Play Marko' Game Is Ruled Illegal

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson issued an opinion today that a game called "Play Marko" is a lottery in violation of the state gambling law.

Wilson was asked for a ruling by E. James Kazen, district attorney at Laredo and Joseph H. Mims, district attorney at Midland.

The game was described in official correspondence as "similar to the well-known game bingo, although played on television." Copies of contracts between television stations and local merchants and other advertising firms were considered by the attorney general in his ruling.

Tough State Demo Fight Seen

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Tough talk from both sides in Texas' perpetual Democratic factional fight this week served notice that there will be no compromise in the 1958 campaign.

Both Gov. Price Daniel, titular head of the established organization and Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston, leader of the insurgent DOT (Democrats of Texas) set the pattern in hard - hitting speeches at Huntsville and Weslaco. She continued her speaking tour today at San Antonio.

Mrs. Randolph, charging that the liberal faction was subject to highhanded and unfair treatment in the last state convention by the conservatives, said the DOT campaign was to assure loyal Democrats the right to vote, the right to have their votes counted and the "right to have the votes counted right."

It became apparent in Daniel's appearance at Huntsville that the state committee's strategy will be to seek to undermine the DOT's campaign partly through personal contacts with susceptible DOT people on the local level, plus a statewide speaking and organization campaign.

Daniel said flatly, emphatically and repeatedly that while he wanted Democratic unity, it would have to come under the guidance of "duly elected" party officials. That meant the duly elected party officials from the precinct level up to the state executive committee, and gave the DOT no choice except to fight on string along with that formula.

If Daniel can continue to count on strong support from Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson — whose potent political power was generally understood to be back of him in the September state convention — he has a good chance to retain full control of the party machinery. But apparently the DOT faction will fight to the last ditch.

A report written for submission to the DOT steering committee at San Antonio today said that the DOT was organized solely because of the "ruthless exercise of autocratic political power" at the September convention controlled by Daniel forces.

This report, signed by Creekmore Fath of Austin, suggests a code of ethics for Democratic convention procedures designed to insure fair play. Fath is chairman of the DOT's code of ethics committee. The DOT wants the state Democratic Executive Committee to adopt such a code.

Meanwhile a statewide organization and fund - raising campaign labelled "dollars for Democrats" got under way in North Texas at a Fort Worth meeting this week. It will continue in another organization meeting at Austin Tuesday to rally South Texas Democrats.

The Dollars for Democrats drive climaxes Oct. 11-12 with statewide doorbell ringing promised to enlist party workers and help fill up the war chest for the 1958 campaign.

Daniel's speech at Huntsville drew an unexpectedly large crowd — estimated by some as high as 1,500 — and in the audience was a considerable sprinkling of liberals, including some DOT officers. They took no part in the meeting.

But insiders said Daniel met privately with some liberal leaders in the area and let them know they would be welcomed back into the fold — apparently on his terms.

If Daniel can persuade enough county and regional liberals that their best personal political interests can be served by falling in with him, he then has a greatly-improved chance of achieving the unity he mentioned.

Evidently the party organization is banking on such practical-politics arguments for those members of the DOT group who are sincere party loyalists, and who want to continue official party affiliation without the "splinter" label that has been slapped on the DOT.

Decision To Keep Benson Is Lauded

WASHINGTON, Sept 14 (AP) — Democrats grinned in political delight today at President Eisenhower's apparent decision to ride along with Secretary of Agriculture Benson through the 1958 congressional campaign.

Sen. Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, said Benson's Friday announcement that Eisenhower and he have agreed he shall continue indefinitely in the Cabinet "leaves only the farmers to be checked."

"Judging from the sorry mess into which the secretary has steered administration farm policies, Mr. Benson is likely to be our secret weapon in 1958," Mansfield said.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) observed in a separate interview that Benson's announcement "is bad news for the American farmer."

Democrats generally believe that by attacking Benson's policies they can increase their Senate and House strength in the agricultural Middle West, once the stronghold of the Republicans.

However, Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) said he was convinced after two days of talking to farmers in North Dakota on a recent trip that there is an underlying understanding of what Benson is trying to do.

"North Dakota is a hotbed of farmers union activity and there has been a lot of criticism of the secretary there," Bennett said. "But in talking to the farmers I found the general reaction was that Benson was right in seeking a solution of the farm problem on the basis of something other than subsidies.

"The farmers seemed to think this thing had to be done but that the administration or Benson had been inept in selling the necessity for it.

"The Democrats left a farm program when they went out of office. With a Democratic-controlled Congress, Benson hasn't had a free hand or a full opportunity to demonstrate that his ideas will work."

'Greasy' Surface On Cast Iron Is Okay

When cleaning cast iron do not scrub it throughly as the "greasy" appearing surface prevents the pan from rusting and makes cooking easier.

SANDSCRIPTS

BY FRANCES-ELIZABETH JONES

"Of all the pestilence dire,
Including famine, flood, and fire,
By Satan and his imps rehearsed,
The neighbor's children are the worst."

This doggerel was aossed off by some fellow named Stoddard King who, evidence indicates, lives in a housing development. I am blessedly unlike this harassed poet-parent because we live on a week-grown hill slightly removed from the townsite, an ideal set-up for kids and goats. So that our harassment stems directly from the native naughtiness of our own large and lively brood and not from neighbor packs. But I occasionally compare notes with town friends. I have seen Dorothy Raine, who possesses a lovely, patient manner with children, appear in her back door to pass out crackers to her two and a couple of visitors and inside a half minute the whole box suddenly disappears. Urchins shoot up from under the fence, pop up from flower beds, and slide down from roofs. There appears to be a locust-like instinct that moves kids to swarm unerringly toward a handout.

Now, your problems with children are differnt in the country. You do not need to walk two blocks to explain to Little Rose that your child is not allowed to give away her tricycle. Instead, you have things like snakes in pockets and shoes poked down gopher holes. (I often wonder what use these small, ingenious creatures were able to make of a size three oxford. . .they seem to continue leading a normal life in their hole, possibly having converted our loss into a spare bedroom for guests.)

We are further removed from the toy marts and we haven't the luxury and — or nuisance of visiting playmates often as have town folk, and I honestly believe this isolation has prodded me into greater lengths of invention in keeping my offspring entertained. Now, I am no expert at anything at all (with the possible exception of removing sandburs from big toes) but I've got a little red wagon load of ideas about what the small fry like to play with besides spin the platter with Grandma's hand-painted china plates.

These methods for keeping blissfully occupied the five-years-old-and-under aren't in the electric train class. A certain percent of them are original with me; some I lifted from Childcraft and other experimenting mamas. They are sur-fire because you don't need a degree in psychology to observe that the young want play-things that they don't just look at. They want to DO . . . . to feel, to squash, to nudge, to twist, to knock on . . . and lots of other verbs. Leave the rest to the special, wonderful world of a child's imagination. My private and amateur theory is that we provide elegant, ready-made playthings too frequently, depriving the children of much make-believe fun.

Simply, your kiddo wants his yard to contain something to dig in, something to swing on, something to jump on, something to walk on, something to set on, something to lie down on, something to push. He likely wants something to slap, too, and it is wise here to provide a little sister for this. (What you're going to find out is that little sisters are warrior-like in nature and do not need protection.)

There's truth in the adage "To dig and delve in nice, clean dirt can do a mortal little hurt." If you haven't a creek bottom handy, Caprock Materials (and other such establishments, I'm sure) will deliver you ¾ yard of sanitary sand which will fill a 6 feet by 6 feet sandbox six inches deep. An old rowboat makes an admirable sandbox. Provide them when they are in the sand with a muffin tin, a little funnel, and old colander. And you really loved your child if you leave a place of his very own for him to dig in your yard. He needs a trowel. If he happens upon a niee, wiggly worm, he will have undergone an experience comparable in his small world to your first look at Grand Canyon. I like the idea of making two dirt hills, which make grand terrain for Cowboy and Indians and all sorts of deliciously dangerous ambushes.

A playhouse gets them outside and off your waxed floors. Make it plain, or make it fancy. My two older sons once put in hours of living, happy as anything, in an old casket box out in the field. A large packing box of any type will do, though I don't see where you can beat that casket box. A huge cardboard carton will do for a morning's play. Cut out windows and doors. A substantial sawhorse 6-8 feet long and five feet high is very adequate . . . throw an old blanket over it and turn pots and pans over to them and they will housekeep guaranteed for hours. A good trick is to back a barrel, on its side, cut out at both ends, up to the playhouse for the entrance. The crawling through lends charm. They adore going on all-fours.

These ideas in this paragraph are a caution. If you are fastidious about your grounds, they are too unsightly for your taste; skip this. If you aren't, I recommend them fondly. An old springs and mattress (protected from the rain) are a pack of fun. They jump themselves silly. If you don't want to go that far, let them have access to a cot, a hammock, or old car seats. (Not tiny looking). Loveliest of all is an old car. I priced them during an explorative half hour spent at a nearby highway wrecked car lot. For less than $5 you can buy them a nifty green Pontiac, two-seater, with key and clutch still intact. You take off doors so no slammed fingers. They can embark on adventurous "trips" in it, carrying their packed suitcases. Sure sets off the appearance of your place, that old car.

Louise Blanchard and I are writing a book together, and when she arrives for conference we are reasonably assured of peace because our small daughters, aged three and five, repair purposefully to dress up. I bought a disreputable looking black suitcase form a used store for $1, in which Annabel stores her loot. She is apt to appear at odd moments in tilt-heeled yellow strapless sandals (a mistake I picked up on sale last summer, with one pink glass earring dangling, a dog-eared Kolensky fur scarf slung on rakishly, and long white gloves, plenty of chunky bracelets. For some reason, the five year old feminine heart yearns after old gold party shoes, sequinned blouses and fancy aprons. Little males palpitate after army caps and loud Daddy's neckties, also old vests, and they go crazy over hip boots. If you haven't an accumulation of these interesting articles to give your young, you never heard the advice my grandmother gave me, "If you save a thing 7 years, you will find a use for it."

Paper dolls are something you don't want your child to miss. The mail order catalog is populated with handsome Daddys, cunning babies, and slinky mommies. You will assist in the cutting, and of course your child is outraged if a phone call comes and you cut off a foot or a neck. Doesn't require a finished carpenter to paint orange crates for a two-storied doll house. Paper the walls extravegantly from an old wallpaper catalog. And if you are arty, old furniture from the wallpaper. Comes out expensive-looking upholstered divans and chairs. An orange crate will make a satisfactory stove, using coffee can lids painted black for burners if you are realistic. But, one of the grandmas of my young, possesses a dream of an old, sure-enough stove out back at her place and there is nothing, no nothing, dearer to the heart of a little girl and her mud pies. You probably know the old classic . . . a doll bed constructed lovingly from a cigar box with spools for legs, covered neatly in a bit of blanket is most authentic looking and the dolls find it comfy.

Lift some play ideas from our mother's generation . . . They got beautifully colored Easter eggs without outside help . . . green with spinach juice, brown with coffee, yellow with onion skins, red with beet juice. Their gardens provided cucumbers into which you stuck small sticks and produced cucumber cows.

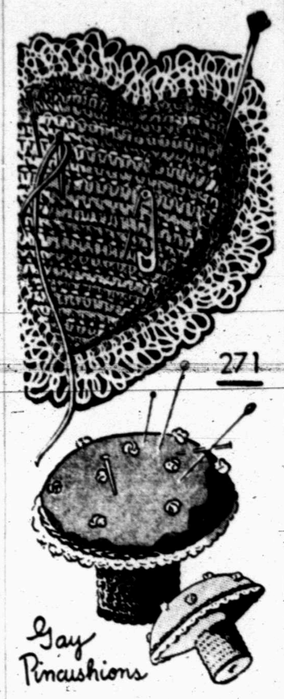

Neat trick at bathtime is to add a few drops of colored vegetable water to bubble bath for them and they splash long minutes . . . I read all the way through one of Joseph Conrad's longest novels, at several sittings, seated in the bathroom while this idea worked. (Kids didn't shrivel up too much)

And, in parting . . . though I know a bookfull more . . . . whip bedtime arguments by catching on to the fact that an alarm clock has an authority you don't. You set the clock and smile, sweetly chirping, "Children, in ten minutes the clock will go off and it is then time to run to bed". It jangles. They run. Try it.

TIPS ABOUT THE HOUSE

By JOHN O. B. WALLACE
AP Newsfeatures

NOW, WHILE YOU'RE still happy in the garden or on the terrace, take time to think about colder weather. It's a dreary thought, perhaps. But it can pay off handsomely during the winter months.

Leaves already are falling. Window screens are coming off for winter storage. Training for football, a cold weather sport, is at its peak. Frigid weather, inescapably, is coming.

What about last winter?

Did you have one or more of these common ills in home heating — fluctuating temperatures? Drafts? Cold floors and walls?

Then, you may need to doctor your ailing home heating system. It need not be expensive in all cases. Many heating problems can be corrected by relatively simple and inexpensive methods.

Here, according to the Better Heating-Cooling Council, are the most common heating problems, their causes and how they might be solved:

A chief complaint is temperature variation. This means marked differences in temperature from room to room and, perhaps, from floor to ceiling.

It Blows Hot and Cold

In suffering this heating ailment, you feel alternately hot and cold. Or warm about the head, and cold about the feet.

In a new house, this problem undoubtedly stems from faulty design of the heating system or errors in its installation. The responsibility, therefore, must be with the person who sold you the house or installed the system.

But if your heating system is well over five years old and only recently has started to falter, a checkup by a reliable heating contractor may quickly spot the trouble. The oil or gas burner may not be functioning properly. The heating unit may need cleaning. Perhaps the chimney doesn't draw properly.

However, the council adds, temperature variation usually means that heat distributors have been improperly placed. The council says that such distributors — baseboards, convectors, or radiators — should be installed always UNDER windows.

Thus the heat counteracts the infiltration of cold air through the windows and provides the gentle, even circulation of air necessary for good heating.

Where's the Thermostat?

Room-to-room heating problems? You may need to increase the capacity of the heat distributor in colder rooms. Relocation of the thermostat may help. If this sensitive instrument is located on a wall over a duct or hot water pipe — or too near a bright lamp, a television set or other appliances which give off heat — the thermostat may not be registering accurate over-all room temperature.

This, too, may help. When separate circuits are built into a forced hot water heating system, single rooms or groups of rooms can be heated separately to suit individual needs. This procedure is called "zoning" and a separate thermostat is installed for each circuit.

"Zoning" heat installations cost more. But they insure better living conditions and lower fuel bills because they have finer control and they increase heating efficiency.

The heating system may not be at fault at all in the case of chilling drafts. Cold air may be entering through cracks. Ask yourself: Is my home well insulated? Weather stripping, proper insulation of walls, and storm windows may be the answer.

But, the council reiterates, if heat distributors are not placed UNDER windows, you're fighting a losing war against cold because in other locations the heat distributors cannot repel the infiltration of cold air.

Cold Floors Are No Fun

If you live in a slab-type house, you may have cold floors unless you have radiant coils in the floor.

The heating baseboards must supply heat along the outside walls of the room. Warm air heating ducts should be embedded in the slab to help warm the floor.

But, you say, your house has baseboards which are heated either by hot water or steam. Don't give them another thought, then. The baseboards will keep both the floors and the walls cozy warm.

They do it in two ways: by radiation, which means the direct transmittal of heat rays, and also by "convection," a tricky sounding word which means, simply, the warming of air.

Just like a lot of other things, a heating plant is an intricate mechanism. It needs a periodic checkup and a cleaning by a skilled technician.

You don't neglect your car, do you? You have it checked regularly, and you keep clean oil in the engine. Similarly, take good care of your home heating system and have it checked annually in early fall— perhaps right now, while you think of it.

A checkup is good insurance against heating ailments which may develop later when you least want them — at a time when there's snow on the ground and a chill wind is trying to deep-freeze your home.

David Headstream And Linda Gugler Wed In Vows Read In Ellis, Kansas

In a ceremony held Sept. 1, at 3:30 p.m in the First Methodist Church in Ellis, Kan., Linda Gugler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gulger, became the bride of David Headstream, son of Mrs. W. W. Headstream of Snyder.

The Rev. Ralph Barcelo officiated at the double ring ceremony. Traditional nuptial music was furnished by Linda Johnson, organist and Art Johnson, soloist.

Cappy Jane Gascñler, Ellis, niece of the bride, and Cory Sarvis, Salina, Kan., were taper lighters. Both wore white floor length organdy dresses with pink taffeta sashes and pink headbands entwined with flowers. Roseann Gaschler, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of white crystalline and carried a white basket of rose petals.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of peau de faille, designed with a moulded basque and long lace sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. The decolletage was filled with scallops of lace. Appliqued lace panels centered with velvet ribbon and tiny bows highlighted the voluminous skirt which swept into a chapel train. Her finger tip veil of illusion cascaded from a satin pillbox adorned with lace embroidered with sequins and pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of pink and white victoria roses and stephanotis.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Clarence Gaschler, of Ellis. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Tandy Walker of Norman, Okla., and Miss Barbara Roads of Enid, Okls. All the attendants wore ballerina length frocks of pink taffeta, designed with a bouffant skirt and fitted bodice, topped with Chantilly lace. The bodice was detailed with a crushed taffeta cummerbund and butterfly bow. They wore matching headbands and carried matching accessories. Their bouquets were of pink and white roses fashioned after the bridal bouquet.

Best man was J. W. Headstream, Snyder, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Joe Dave Scott, Dallas and Billy Don Harris of Colorado City.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gugler chose a beige linen sheath dress with matching jacket trimmed with embroidery and lace and pink accessories. The mother of the groom was attired in a steel blue suit with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink roses.

A reception in the church parlor followed the ceremony. The reception table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake crowned with an arrangement of wedding bells and tulle. Pink roses and greenery encircled the cake, which was flanked on either side by tube arrangements of pink roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Marshall Erwin and Mrs. J. W. Headstream, both of Snyder, assisted at the reception table. Mrs. Loren Gugler of Ellis, Kansas registered the guests.

For traveling the bride chose a maroon and black sheath dress with matching jacket. She wore black accessories and a white carnation corsage. After a honeymoon in Colorado the couple will make their home in Norman, Okla., where both are seniors at the University of Oklahoma.

SCHOOL NUTRITION COURSE—Dr. Alan Foord, director of health services for Berkeley schools, gives blood test to Susan Bergmans, junior high school sutdent. Constant checks on height, weight and blood changes were made on 84 studentst placed on special diet now being followed by many others.

Nutrition Course At School Leads To Glamor And Dates

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The student body at Garfield Junior High School is strictly streamlined these days, since the school conducted a short-term nutrition program which slimmed down the fatties and built up the skinnies.

The nutrition course was given to a selected group of 84 students, including fat ones, thin ones and those of normal size.

After two months of instruction, 36 per cent of the students who were appreciably overweight among 84 either had lost weight or stopped gaining weight. Among those appreciably underweight, 70 per cent gained weight and moved toward a normal level of growth.

Students among the 84 with normal growth did not change, says Principal Alfred C. Baxter.

"Because of the project the physical structure of the entire student body improved," he says. "All the students became nutrition-conscious."

Student Body-Beautiful

Mrs. Virginia McMasters, assistant supervisor of the school lunch program for Berkeley Public Schools, say the entire student body may be plotted on a chart this fall to determine the degree of physical normality.

"Interest in the project snowballed," says Mrs. McMasters. "It was stimulated by the three classes assisting — the science class, which analyzed the saliva test, to determine susceptibility to dental cavities; the homemaking class, which prepared acceptable nutritious snacks, and the physical education class, which assited in the weighing and measuring and distributed questionnaires on food habits and health."

That interest stimulated many students not in the selected group to follow the edict: "Plan your daily food intake to include the maximum amount of protein and the minimum amount of carbohydrate."

As part of the instruction the selected students kept records of all food eaten each day for a week.

Calory Count

Students were cautioned to eliminate none of the nutrients but to eat a maximum of proteins, whether reducing or gaining weight. Reducees were reminded to modify the quantity of food eaten, and those trying to gain weight, to step up their caloric intake.

Results have been "terrific" on the social front, says Mrs. Ruth Jameson, administrative assistant to the principal. She says that "the difference a few pimples or extra pounds makes on the teen-agers is devastating."

No More Tubs

"At the junior high school age level the girls are the pursuers, the boys, the pursued," she says. "This process reverses itself in high school. To a girl of junior high school age, the difference between wearing a size 12 and a size 18 dress is the difference between being a glamor girl and a 'tub' — in teen-age parlance."

One bulging girl, before the course was given, approached a boy at school and asked him to go with her to a dance. "I wouldn't be seen dead with a fatso!" was his cruel reply. But that reply, said Mrs. Jameson, stimulated her to a diet. Now she's slender and glamorous and is going steady. She doesn't have time for the boy who rejected her.

Attic Trunk May Yield High Fashion

By VIVIAN BROWN

FEEL OUT of the fashion picture at school, with middy blouses and raccoon coats taking over the campus?

Don't let it throw you. Just get permission from the grandma or Aunt Tillie to dig through the attic and cellar trunks. Be sure you have a search warrant because after the owners see some of the buried treasures they may want 'em back.

Everything from old-fashioned daguerrotypes set in plush frames to shawls that one graced a piano have been carted to dormitories by young moderns.

You'll find the modern middy blouse is not cut too differently from the one Mom wore in her heyday. Sweaters are of that cut, too, worn over pleated skirts. There were bold blanket plaid skirts that look right from the stable in blue, black and green combinations, enormous bulky-knit sweaters—cardigans and pull-overs. Shetland sweaters in crewneck pull-overs are popular too, worn with pleated skirts.

New glamor-gams resemble leotards. There are bright colored or striped stockings that cover the entire leg, with feet in them to boot. These are worn with shorts. Knee-high socks are still around, though. Tweedy colors are popular in skirts.

Blue jeans have hit the dust. (Smart school girls will pack them away for their daughters to wear 20 years hence.) The day-time look is definitely a baggy picture but the evening is all dress-up.

Younger teens and short girls still adore the dress with the fitted waistline and full skirt. Dress up shoes are of Italian inspiration with pointed toe and heel although ballet-type shoes are still worn, particularly popular with tall girls.

Everyone is mad for costume jewelry, it seems, and the bigger, the better. Heraldic medals are worn on long chains around the neck. Ditto the Maltese cross in bright-colored enamel. Earrings are fun and take a top-drawer place in the school trunk.

Fashions go right into the bedroom with the craziest pajamas imaginable. Middy-blouse pajamas are chic, and big red baby sleepers (like junior wears) are all the rage.

Hair is worn either short or in a pony-tail. Girls who've been wearing it short seem to have switched to the pony-tail, and vice versa. But there are no long, stringy hairdos. You can't tell a permanent wave from a natural curl these days. There are no more kinky tell-tale strands that give the hair corkscrew curls.

Puppets To Appear On Broadway Soon

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway is getting one of television's oldest performing troupes, Burr Tillstrom's Kuklapolitan puppets.

A full-evening show is being developed and reaches a White Way theater Nov. 21. Producers are Robert Fryer and Lawrence Carr, owners of the hit show "Auntie Mame," in association with Beulah Zachary.

Father Meets Problem On Sons Dating

By DOROTHY ROE

What does a parent do when his 14-year-old offspring starts going steady?

This question has come up in both the professional and private life of John Forsythe, handsome star of stage, screen and television, who now finds himself in the dual role of father and expert on problems of adolescence.

Forsythe, father of a 14-year-old son, Dall, and two daughters, Page, 6, and Brooke, 3, is in his new TV series, "Bachelor Father" guardian of a 13-year-old niece, Kelly.

"Seems to me 13 or even 14 is too young to be going steady," worried John, over a luncheon table at the Plaza in New York. He was on hand for his TV premiere and also to settle son Dall at Choate, Conn., prep school. "In the TV show the writers have to handle the problem, but offstage it seems to be up to the parents."

Being the mother of two daughters myself, I spoke with the voice of experience:

"That seems to be normal procedure these days—boys and girls go steady at 13 or 14, until they have gained social poise, and then scattered their interests for the next few years. After both have gained social poise and widened their circle of acquaintances, they usually start dating various others—find it's more fun not to have to stick to just one partner for every function."

"That makes sense," Forsythe agreed. "I guess maybe I should not worry so much. One thing I do know—the kids say its more economical if a boy goes steady. He's not expected to spend so much on the girl if he sees her all the time."

In the TV series Forsythe plays the role of a handsome and social bachelor, a Beverly Hills lawyer, who has led an ordered existence.

His Chinese cook is the only other member of his household, until it is invaded by a young niece, who has all the usual teen problems and charms. The make-believe niece is played by 13-year-old Noreen Corcoran, whom Forsythe describes as "a perfectly normal, charming teen-ager." Noreen, incidentally, is one of a family of seven children, all movie actors. Her father is a studio policeman.

Home Repair Do's and Don'ts

By ANDREW C. LANG

A HAND-RUBBED FINISH

DO ... get an excellent hard-rubbed finish on new wood (or wood from which the old finish has been removed) with a mixture of two parts of boiled linseed oil to one part of turpentine.

DO ... apply the mixture with either a cloth or a clean paint brush, being certain that all parts of the wood are covered.

DO ... wati a few minutes, then go over the wood with a dry cloth to remove all traces of excess oil.

DO ... after about half an hour, take another dry cloth and start rubbing, remembering that with this type of finish, it is impossible to rub too long or too hard.

* * *

DON'T ... neglect to rub down the finish about once a week for several weeks, the purpose being to get the type of satin finish that wood ordinarily gets only after several years of care.

DON'T ... forget that a finish of this sort, while transparent, makes the wood a little darker than its natural color, so experiment first on an inconspicous part of the furniture to be sure it is the corrent hue.

DON'T ... overlook the removal of the excess oil in putting on the finish, otherwise it will become a decided dust-collector.

DON'T ... allow spilled liquids to remain very long on the surface of this (or any other) finish, although the linseed oil-turpentine combination is more resistant to stains than most.

Pointed Toes, Thin Heels Here To Stay, Say Experts

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

American women are going to have a shock this fall, when they start checking their shoe closets and getting out last year's shoes.

"They're going to find all their old shoes look out of date," says Stanley Philipson, a pink-checked, beaming shoe desinger and manufacturer known to shoe buyers throughout the country as Mr. Stanley. "This year has seen the first major change in shoe design in 30 years. The pointed toe and needle-thin heel are here to stay for a while, since practically every shoe manufacturer in the country has had to retool in order to make them. With all that investment in new lasts and machinery, you can be sure they're not going to change back to round toes and open effects next season."

Mr. Stanley is the third generation of his family in the shoe business, but this year he added a factory in Italy to the ancestral plant in Brooklyn.

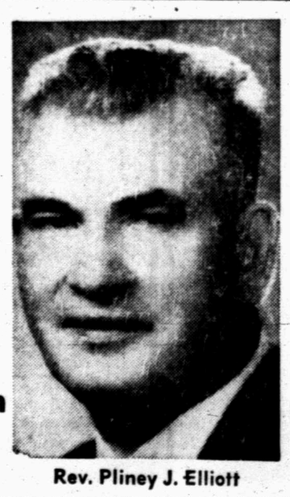

"I had to have the new closed, pointed toe styles made in Italy until I could get tooled up here," he says. "This is one time that Italian designers called the turn on a radical new fashion, and the whole world has followed their lead."

Mr. Stanley is known for high-style, dressy feminine shoes, especially for late day and evening wear. Up to this year he made nothing but open-toed shoes. When the new closed-toe Italian style swept the country, he faced radical retooling problems as well as a designing challenge. Could he make closed pumps as fragile-looking and delicate as the open styles on which he had won fame?

The answer is in his new collection. Toes are closed and pointed, heels are rapier-like and materials range from glove-soft leather to shining satins and lames. This designer also has solved the problem of the new "skinny" heels, which had many women tearing their hair ealier in the year because of their high mortality rate. The high thin heels were prone to break and shoe repair shops often split them when trying to put on new lifts.

Mr. Stanley's shoes now have heels made of aluminum covered in the shoe fabric, and the leather lifts screw on. The customer may lay in a supply of extra lifts, complete with screw holes, and have her repair man put them on when the originals wear out.

She Claims She's Sexy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Julie Gibson, a cabaret cutie who makes a piece de resistance of peeling off parts of her dancing costume, is asking $25,000 from a summer playhouse producer because he said she was "not sexy enough" for a sultry role.

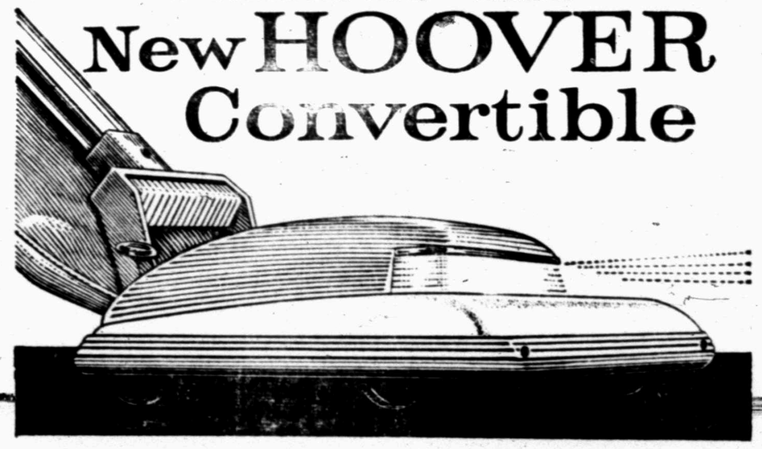

That statement was slander, Miss Gibson contended in a suit filed in U.S. District Court here.

Michael Ellis, producer at the neighboring Bucks County Playhouse, admitted saying it, but added: "I don't think it is slanderous to say somebody isn't sexy. My mother isn't sexy."

Miss Gibson was hired to play the Jayne Mansfield part in a production of "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" and was replaced a few days before the play opened Monday night.

Comedy-SongTeam Working On Acts

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Fisher and George Gobel, the new buddy team of television, are in a tizzy over talents and ratings.

Says Gobel, one of TV's last surviving comics: "You just gotta hang in there and ride it out."

Says Fisher, the minstrel lad who suddenly found himself in a mass singer stampede to the networks: "I think you are going to see an entirely different picture around television planning by January. We hope to be a part of it."

Gobel and Fisher — the billing reverses on alternate weeks—are the key men in NBC's tandem thrust to lure the watching crowd each Tuesday in the 8 to 9 p.m. (eastern time) slot.

Their dual activities commence Sept. 24, and although the enterprise was booked last spring, Eddie and George have yet to huddle in any formal manner.

This does not indicate any off-camera aloofness, but is simply the way things work out in an era of complex bookings, overnight cross-continent sorties and the exigencies of multiple enterprise.

"He's a swell guy," comments George of Eddie. "I think we'll get along just fine," reports Eddie.

Separate production staffs will set up the alternate programs in the series, with backstage liaison to guard against duplication of ideas and talent tapping.

It is on this point of guest performers that the pair echo identical sentiments.

"Trading is going to be the only medium of exchange," asserts Eddie. "Prices have gone through the roof."

Gobel explains that the idea of the tandem setup is to unify two groups of fans, the Fisher enthusiasts of song, the Gobel addicts of humor.

"You gotta admit that was some good thinking," says George. "It

'TAMMY' NO. 1

Debbie Most Surprised About Her Hit

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The No. 1 record in the nation today is "Tammy" by Debbie Reynolds. No one is more surprised than Debbie Reynolds.

"I'm not only surprised it's a hit," she exclaimed. "I'm surprised it's a record!"

Miss Reynolds' spouse, fellow named Eddie Fisher, has a whole closet full of the golden discs, symbol of the record industry's best sellers.

Lounging in the den of her Beverly Hills manse, Debbie told the strange history of her hit. She said she recorded the song for a scene in the picture, "Tammy and the Bachelor."

"But I never thought it would be put out as a record," she remarked. "I didn't even do it with an orchestra. I just sang with a piano, and the background was put in later."

She said she was in England when she first heard about the record. Coral had put it out, and an executive cabled her that the disc had sold 200,000 copies.

"I thought there was a mistake in the cable and he meant 2,000 or 20,000," she said. "I couldn't imagine the record selling that many."

She admitted to being a trifle embarrassed by "Tammy's" success.

"I'm not even a singer," she protested. "I've got no business having a hit record. If I can do it, it shows what crazy shape the record business is in.

"I feel like apologizing to gals who are really in the business—Patti Page, Jo Stafford, Rosemary Clooney and the others."

But she admitted that the girl singers are happy about her hit.

"They figure this might bring back hit records for women," she observed. "Except for Gale Storm, all of the hits in the past three years have been made by men."

SHAPELY Diana Dors is England's challenge to Hollywood's exponents of cheesecake. She makes her first American screen appearance with Rod Steiger in "The Unholy Wife."

Berle Doesn't Want Regular TV Show

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"Me go back in that rat-race? Not on your life!"

This was Milton Berle's comment on recurrent reports he was eager to get back into television with a regular show. The reports were bolstered by the fact that he had changed agents and was seeking more action on his career.

"Untrue," he replied. "After 31 years, I went with new agents because—well, because after after so many years you get taken for granted by an agency.

"Why should I switch agents to get work in TV? In the first place, I can't work for anyone but NBC. I have an exclusive deal with NBC that pays me $150,000 a year until 1981. And the only work I have to do is two guest appearances a year for three years. Then I can do anything I want."

Berle made these comments as he rested between shows at El Rancho Vegas, where he is billed as "Mr. Television." As he sipped coffee with his wife and her mother, Berle seemed a different man from the years when he reigned in TV. He has dropped some weight and looks 10 years younger than his 49 years.

"I feel better too," he remarked. "I did 366 one-hour shows; that's enough for any performer.

"Now I want to do the things I enjoy. Several producers have approached me about doing a Broadway show. There are a number of picture deals in the wind. I'm bringing out a record album, 'Songs My Mother Loved.' And I'm also writing a novel, something completely apart from show business."

Apparently he still enjoys working before a live audience. After our talk, he went on stage at 2:30 a.m. for a special show for other Las Vegas entertainers. When he finished 90 minutes of furious clowning and hoofing, the star-studded audience applauded wildly in a tribute to a great performer.

GRAND OPENING

Hornbeck Motors, new dealer in Snyder for Indian, NSU, and BWU motorcycles, is having its grand opening.

The new business is two miles north of the square on the Clairemont Road. It will service and repair all makes of motorcycles and scooters.

In connection with its grand opening, it is to have a drawing next Friday. There will be six prizes, ranging from a first prize of $50 off on a new motorcycle to a sixth prize of a set of motorcycle spark plugs.

VILLAGE EXPANDS

The Village Restaurant, 1005 Twenty-fifth Street, has opened a new banquet room two doors west at the former location of the Stork Shop.

Alvin Sellera, operator of the restaurant, said the new room will be especially for banquet-type parties. Several civic clubs are now meeting there.

The new banquet room will seat from 100 to 120.

Snyder Toastmasters Will Meet Tomorrow

The weekly meeting of the Snyder Toastmasters Club is set for 6:15 p.m. tomorrow at the Ranch House Restaurant.

Those on the program include W. D. Durfey, toastmaster; Jimmy Fatum, topicmaster; Toy Wiley and J. G. Clenney, speakers; John Black, master evaluator; Bill Schiebel, grammarian; and Roy McCloskey, "ah" suppressor.

Also at the meeting, the nominating committee will make its report on officer nominations for the coming year, which will begin Oct. 1.

Yarborough Hits Democrat Drive

ABILENE, Sept. 14 (AP) — The "Dollars for Democrats" drive was blasted yesterday by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, who said that "Texas Democrats don't have to give one-third of their contributions to Jake Pickle."

The senator, whose scheduled appearance here Oct. 12 has set off a controversy between party factions in Taylor County, said:

"Jake Pickle is the Democratic State Executive Committee. He runs it. He has the office and the records."

Pickle, Austin public relations man, recently was hired by the State Democratic Executive Committee on a full-time basis. He worked for Yarborough's opponent, Gov. Price Daniel, in last year's gubernatorial primaries and was a key figure in the seating of state executive committee members favorable to Daniel at the state Democratic convention in Fort Worth last September.

Proceeds from the "Dollars for Democrats" are to be divided equally among local, state and national organizations.

Yarborough's appearance was announced by Dallas Perkins, chairman of the Taylor County Democratic Executive Committee and a leader in Democrats of Texas; which has been at odds with the state executive committee.

The announcement brought a statement from J. E. Connally of Abilene, a member of the state executive committee and head of the "dollars for Democrats" drive, that Yarborough's speech had nothing to do with the financial drive. He said the campaign would be strict a house-to-house canvass with no speeches scheduled.

Yarborough told The Abilene Reporter-eNws from Austin that his speech here had no connection with "Dollars for Democrats."

"I won't be under Ed Connally's thumb and he won't be able to boss my meeting. It isn't necessary for the Democrats of Texas to get his permission to contribute to the Democratic Party and they don't have to give one-third to Jake Pickle."

Yarborough said funds would be collected at his appearance but one-quarter would go to the local organization and three-quarters to the national.

BIGGER PROBLEMS

Insects Not Worrying Her

By INEZ ROBB

Ever since I can remember, scientists have been solemnly warning man that insects will git him if he don't watch out. To my amazement, despite the atom, communism and DDT, the scientists have not changed their siren song. They are still betting on insects to put man out of business.

World scientists, assembled in Geneva, Switzerland, under the auspices of the World Health Organization, have just issued a communique saying the bugs are gaining on us in the race for survival.

There is no real hope or future in DDT, the scientists reemphasize. Houseflies and several types of mosquitoes have developed an immunity to the stuff and just all right. Has man, in comparable spheres, been able to work up an immunity to poisonous gas? Strychnine? Paris green?

Insects are out to win the world, and from Geneva science warns man that the situation, as of now, is "alarming" and may soon develop "emergency" status. Insects all over are on the offensive and moving in for the kill.

But science is barking up the wrong columnist if it thinks it can panic me with the glad news that, after all, the world will end not with an atomic bang but an insect whisper. This is supposed to scare me when the hydrogen bomb is just over the hill, the intercontinental ballistic missle is just around the corner, biological warfare is no myth and the Communists expand unchecked into Syria, Malaya and Indonesia?

It is one woman's opnion that a man treading water in a sea full of sharks can't be frightened by a slingshot. Western man, trying to keep his world free, fend off communism, prevent atomic war and survive in one piece is probably in a mood right now to settle for insects.

Add to this Western man's battle with taxes, inflation, the high cost of living, rock 'n' roll, his installment-plan payments, the new gunny-sack look in female fashions and the parking problem, and he may figure he can't be any worse off if the insects take over.

Fleas carrying the plague and lice carrying typhus can't scare a man who has been fighting plague-carrying Communists in odd and strategic parts of the world of which his father had scarcely even heard. Houseflies standing in for Typhoid Mary can't frighten a generation that has heard of strontium 90, fallout and a few well-placed bombs that could destroy millions of human beings in a matter of minutes.

My generation may not have s lved many of the world's most pressing problems of war and peace and co-existence. But there's one thing that must be said for it. When it worries, it worries BIG. It worries about creeping despotism and the death of the world in an afternoon. It worries about World War III and the spread of Red tyranny. At least it isn't wringing its hands because mosquitoes have learned to lap up DDT or flies to waltz on sticky paper. When we worry today, we worry in the Big League.

All I ask of these scientists in Geneva is that they put in writing their guarantee that insects will get us yet. We should be so lucky.

25 YEARS AGO

(Taken from the files of the Scurry County Times, Sept. 15, 1932)

A heavy year's enrollment is in prospect at the Snyder schools this year, Superintendent C. Wedgeworth said yesterday. High school and grade school classes are already full to overflowing in most cases, after a week of enrollment and four days of classes. Formal opening exercises were held Wednesday morning, when students from grade and high school gathered in the auditorium with several visitors.

• • •

Crop damage as a result of the heavy rains that fell throughout the county in late August and early September is not as extensive as first believed by farmers and other observers. Even where the water stood for several hours there is little likelihood, over the county as a whole, that cotton will be seriously damaged.

• • •

Erection of the new Joyce Gin is being rushed this week, and completion is expected by the first week in October. The plant is going up on the location occupied by the Joyce "blue" gin, which was burned early in 1930.

• • •

Texas Democrats trailed homeward Wednesday from their state convention at Lubbock, after declaring the nomination of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for governor and adopting a platform written by her husband, James E. Ferguson.

• • •

Work on Highway No. 7 construction job was resumed in earnest again Monday morning, after two weeks of rainfall had kept the three gangs under cover. The workmen this week are following the southwest side of the railroad.

• • •

Gins are beginning in earnest this week on one of the healthiest looking cotton crops that the county has seen in several years. Prospects continue to be bright for 30,000 to 35,000 bales, while a few optimists continue to believe that the 40,000 bale mark will be passed.

HERE AND THERE

...With Clayton Rand

In Richard Carrington's "The Story of Our Earth," he says: "Let us imagine that, by some magic, the whole of this scale, the first eight months would be completely without life. The following two would be devoted to the most primitive of creatures. No mammals would appear until the second week in December.

"Man, as we know him, would strut onto the stage at approximately 11:45 P. M. on December 31. The age of written history would occupy little more than the last sixth seconds on the clock."

That ought to help anyone to reduce current world events and problems to their proper perspective and emphasize the preciousness of this fleeting moment in the infinite scheme of things.

And Lawrence Critchell in a short story entitled "The Arrow," tells the secret he learned from his grandmother, which had to be pieced together by fragments, by the tone of her voice, the look in her eyes even while shelling peas.

Though 96 and living she never grew old. "She doesn't live in the past. She told me once that when you're young you live in the future, and when you're old you live in the past, but when you're very old you live in the present.
