Brownfield, the Town With A Future

By Esther Ruth Smith
Brownfield's Entry at Plainview in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce
"My Home Town" Contest.

When the plains of Texas was a more or less unbroken stretch of pasture lands a new county was spoken into being by the legislature of Texas and given the name Terry as a courtesy to a Texas Ranger who with his brother had established a trading post upon a lonesome ridge in this remote district. Somewhat later a traveler through this region might have chanced upon two little hamlets separated by the distance of five miles. Had the stranger stayed in either long enough to find out its secret ambition he would have learned that each aspired to be the County Seat of this newly born Terry County.

There came a day when the matter had to be decided. In 1904 an election was held, and, by hook or by crook, the voting showed 82 for Brownfield and 66 for Gomez. So Brownfield became the town with a future.

The town was given its name as a courtesy to M. V. Brownfield, a pioneer rancher of West Texas. When Brownfield became the county seat it consisted of a one-room school house, a four-room hotel, a one-room general store, a livery stable, the courthouse and a few scattered residences. A saloon was moved from Gomez to Brownfield, and the town was complete. The "old timers" of Brownfield planted trees on the courthouse lawn, and the county officials cared for them. Today Brownfield is known for the lovely trees you see on her court house lawn.

In 1910 the population of the county was 1,474. The first train made its appearance in Brownfield on August 2, 1917. The new court house was built in 1925. In 1930 Brownfield had a population of 2,300 and now the population is about 3,000.

During the past winter there were over twenty new dwellings constructed in Brownfield in two months. Since the first of this year four business houses have been built, and they were occupied even before completion. Two modern service stations have been erected and put into operation, to say nothing of a few minor businesses which have opened up here and there. At the present there is only one vacant business house in town and that one will be occupied in the near future. In fact, more than one enterprising business man, with a specialty in some line, has been kept from coming to Brownfield because there was no empty house into which he could move.

There are six churches which hold regular meetings in Brownfield, and each church is loyally supported by its members. You can't find another town in West Texas the size of Brownfield that has three brick school buildings and a gymnasium. The scholastic census shows one hundred more pupils of school age this year than could be found last year.

Brownfield is an agricultural center. It is surrounded by rich farm land. Last year more than 1,000 truck loads of bundle feed were bought in Brownfield daily, amounting to more than forty thousand tons during the season. There were around 12,000 bales of cotton ginned in Brownfield last fall. The average annual production of corn is one and a half million bushels a year. 20,000 head of cattle are fed annually at Brownfield. This city is the headquarters for the Hearst Feeding Project. This one project has bought a hundred or more people to our city. It has meant employment for many men who are citizens of Terry county.

The climate is ideal since the days are warm and the nights are cool. The water is the best this side of the River Sharon. You ask, "Doesn't Terry county have sand storms?" Yes, we have many sand storms in the early spring, but the surrounding farm land of Brownfield always yields a good crop. Besides we are not to be blamed for these storms, since they consist of dirt blown over from your city, my good friends.

In Brownfield there is a streetlight on every corner. Its citizens are also protected by traffic lights, a thing rather unusual for a town of three thousand. To the north Lubbock is the first town to have traffic lights; to the south, Midland; to the east Breckenridge; and to the west, Roswell, New Mexico. Brownfield is a town of civic pride and is interested in the welfare of its citizens. The town was laid off into large blocks with wide streets which are kept clean at all times. Some of the streets are paved now, and every street is lined with a border of green locusts. Brownfield is a town of roses, and if you will visit us in the late summer or early autumn you will find the town adorned with canna lilies, the town flower.

Then, my friend, I sing you Brownfield, the town with a romantic past, the city with a prosperous present. Why not come to Brownfield, the town with a future?

The Patman Bonus Bill's Provisions

WASHINGTON, May 7 —The Patman bonus bill passed by the Senate Tuesday ,provides for immediate cash payment of the World War veterans' adjusted service compensation certificates which under present law do not become due untii 1945.

The estimated cost is $2,200,000,000 (billions) and under the Patman plan, payment would be with a new issue of United States notes, commonly called greenbacks.

Amounts which veterans have borrowed on their certificates would be deducted. Interest on borrowings would be canceled back to October, 1931. It was estimated a vetran who has borrowed the maximum of $500 against a $1,000 certificate would receive $478 in cash under the Patman plan.

The Vinson plan supported by the American Legion was the same in most respects, but it merely provided a straight appropriation of $2,263,545,000 (billions). The Treasury would raise money by regular financing instead of calling for an issue of notes.

The Harrison plan carried a graduated scale of payments, either in bonds or cash. Those who cashed in their certificates at once would, under this plan, receive considerably smaller amounts than those who would take bonds and hold them for a number of years. It was estimated this would cost about $1,100,000 (billion) or about half the amount called for by the Patman and Vinson bills.

Military Musical Coming to Rialto

Bringing with it the enchantment of Hawaiian nights, the spirit of the United States Army, the thril of West Point and the romance of glorious youth, "Flirtation Walk" first military musical ever screened and First National's mammoth new spectacle is scheduled to open at the Rialto beginning Sunday for a thre-day run.

Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler, the nation's most popular screen lovers, and Pat O'Brien head an all star cast, which includes, in addition to a score of Hollywood's best actors, the entire cadet corps of the United States Military Academy at West Point, a portion of the Pacific fleet, and a detachment of the regular army at Honolulu.

"Flirtation Walk" is said to be an entirely new departure in screen musicals. Far from being a hodge podge of jokes and gags around which to hang some songs and introduce dance numbers, the startlingly sensational spectacles which distinguish "Flirtation Walk" are incidental to, and a definite part of the plot itself.

The first big specialty is the Hawaiian Love Feast in which sixty beautiful native girls clad in palm leaves, and as many stalwart men, present the folk dances handed down for generations on the enchanted islands. These magic dances are now on the screen for the first time and include their most sacred love dance, the Luau, the Hula-Kui and Pi-ull.

Dick Powell sings his Hawaiian songs writen by Sol Hoopii, descendant of Hawaiian royalty, and to the accompaniment of Hopii's famous orchestra. For these scenes First National constructed the biggest exterior sets they have ever attempted.

Another big specialty is the West Point number, actually photographed at the Academy, in which members of the cast stage the traditional "Hundredth Night Play," which is made a play within the plot of "Flirtation Walk." More beautiful girls are seen in this number with Ruby Keeler as the principal and Dick Powell singing three new and catchy airs written by the famous team of songsters, Allie Wrubel and Mort Dixon, including 'Mr. and Mrs. Is the Name,' the title song, "Flirtation Walk." and "No Horse, No Wife, No Moustache."

Merchants Must Not Give Cash on Orders

TO: THE MERCHANTS OF BROWNFIELD and Relief Clients of Terry County:

I have had several of the merchants to ask me whether it was permissible or not to give cash or part on Disbursing Orders issued from our office. This is to advise that is absolutely against the rules and regulations of the Texas Relief Commission to give cash on Disbursing Orders, and this is to advise further that I do not appreciate any of the merchants issuing cash on the orders and if this practice continues I will be forced to designate the business houses who will cooperate with this office in not giving cash. If the relief clients insist on drawing cash on the orders, if the merchant will report the same to this office, we will take it up with the relief client and either cut him of for report the same to the Texas Relief Commission.

Signed: P. R. CATES.

RAIN!

Folks, the liquid drops from the upstairs world are coming down in old Terry as this is to go to press. A pretty steady rain has been falling all day—and it's water—not dust. With the other showers that have fallen this week, old Terry is in good shape for planting.

Chamber of Commerce

J. E. Shelton, Secretary

Being desirous of securing information concerning the 1,000 mile Shelter Belt, which is exepected to be planted over a period of several years, the writer has been undertaking to get in personal touch with someone who would be able to advise us concerning its location as the newspapers were not very clear on it. So accidentally hearing of a meeting that was being called at Big Spring in which the State Director was to be present, Leo Holmes and the writer, arranged and did appear, upon the scene and we found that the plains territory was not included in the planting program, but that it was being confined to sections of the country that were able to show an average of 25 inches of rainfall annually.

According to information received from the State Director, the belt would run along East of the Caprock and would include such counties as Shackleford, Stephens and Palo Pinto. The plan does not call for going any futher south than Weatherford and Abilene.

Protest against the present line was made at the Big Spring meeting and arrangments were made for a district meeting to be held at Lubbock within the next few days, at which time we expect to undertake to convince those persons who are in charge of the program, that the plains section of Texas is the logical place for tree planting, provided that there is any benefit to be expected from Shelter Belt activities.

The annual meeting of the South Plains Good Road Association was held at Lubbock last Friday and arrangments made to undertake to see that West Texas and the Plains in particular, receives its portion of what ever road money is allocated to the state. Percy Ralls, was re-elected President of the Association and the writer First Vice President. Two other Vice Presidents were elected, also.

County officials of the four counties that are located on Highway 84, have been undertaking to arrange for a meeting with our new highway commissioner, but he seems to be such a busy man that we have not been able to catch him in the same place long enough to pour our troubles in his ear, however we are going to keep on the job and may manage to contact him within the next few days. We also have a committee that is mixed up between City and County, who are also undertaking to date the new commissioner.

The Recreational Project is moving along and about the only thing that is holding it up is to secure prices from several owners whose lands have been inspected. The committee that was appointed for the purpose has been prevented from completing this part of it upon account of illness of some members and abscence from the city of others.

The Federal building proposal is meeting with the favor of official Washington and it is very possible that we will be able to put it over, but it is not a "cinch" by any means.

The annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is being held at Plainview this week and the writer intended to be in attendance on Tuesday, but last minute complications prevented me from making the trip. However we are pretty well represented as Mr. R. M. Kendrick, local director of the West Texas organization is in attendance as are the county Judge and commissioners, and several other citizens.

REDLIGHT WARNING

This is to call attention to the Red and Green light, traffic signals, at our street crossings. We have been very lenient in enforcing them, 'till people got use to them, but it seems many are inclined to ignore them, endangering themselves and others. This is final warning, that we will strictly enforce their observance, and subject all violating same to the penalties of the City ordinance regulating same.

Texas Cream Quality Improvement Program

BY
BYRON A. BASSEL
State Department of Agriculture
J. E. McDonald, Commissioner

On June 1, of last year a Statewide Cream Quality Improvement program was inaugurated by the State Department of Agriculture in conjunction with a nation-wide movement, and in cooperation with the Texas A. & M. College, the Texas Technological College, the Agricultural Extension Service and the Dairy Industry itself. This campaign became necessary because of seizures which were made by the Federal Food and Drug Administration, of several carloads of butter which had been shipped in interstate commerce. The Federal Bureau of Food and Drug had made spasmodic attempts before this time to control the interstate shipment of butter, but their activities had been directed mainly toward seeing tha tthe butter-fat content of butter was up to standard and that the butter was properly labled. These seizures in the spring of last year however, were made because of the amount of foreign material, such as, dirt, etc., which butter contained. This was determined by the laboratory and the butter condemned and dumped in the soap vat. Mr. W. G. Campbell chief of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, has taken the attitude that the dirt which the butter contained was due to the cream which was used in its manufacture, as evidenced by the following quotation which was taken from "Notice To The Dairy and Butter Industry", which was sent out by that Department: "and that the condition of the butter itself is traceable to the unfit character of the cream used in its manufacture." This meant that some of contacting the cream producers of the country and instilling in them the necessity for, and the importance of, producing a good clean product, had to be worked out. The problem was presented to different states of the union and there are at present time 38 states working on some kind of program similar to the one going on in our state. The Texas Department of Agriculture, working in conjunction with the Texas A. & M. College Service and the Dairy Industry itself, desiring to see the standards of Texas cream and butter raised to a higher plane, so that our butter could be sold on the market without discrimination, undertook the administration of this program and I am glad to say that Texas was among the first of the states to enter into his Nation-wide campaign.

Rules and regulations for the purchase of cream on a graded basis have been promulgated by Department of Agricuulture, the Texas A. & M. College, the Texas Technological College, the Agricultural Extension Service and the Dairy Industry, and are being adhered to throughout the state. These rules for grading cream were necessary to insure the producer of a high quality product, a premium for the extra labor expended, no matter how careful the proproduct. Before the program started, no mater how careful the producer was in handling his cream or milk, he received no more than the producer who was careless and used unclean methods of production and handling. On the face of it, this was unfair to the person striving to raise the quality of his product; there was no incentive for him to market a good product because he received no more money from the sale, and 9 times out of 10 his good cream thereby ruining the whole lot; but at the present such things are not happening the farmer who produces good, clean, sound cream and handles it properly is drawing a premium because of that fact; he also knows that his good cream is not being mixed with someone else's bad cream in the station, because the cream is being graded and segregated by the station operator. The stations and plants are also being controlled through regulatory measures as to their general cleaniness and sanitation there by assuring the good producer that his cream will not become contaminated while holding in the station for shipment to the plant.

That primary intent of this program is to se that your product is brought on a quality basis. Practically everything that is bought or sold at the present time is on a quality basis; your farm products are bought on the same basis as witness: you receive more for your straight breasted young hen turkeys than you do for your crooked breasted old toms: you also receive more for your long staple cotton than you do for fair short staple cotton; and so it is with practically everything which you sell. The logical question then is: "why not cream and milk be sold on this same basis?" And that is exactly what we are trying to do in the administration of this program: to insure those who want to market a high quality product, a premium for their extra time an dlabor and to see that those who do not want to market a high quality product receive a price which is in line with the kind of product which they market. Thus for results have been very satisfactory—the producers of the state have increased the volume of No. 1 cream by 15 per cent since the program was instituted and at the present time around 85 per cent of the cream being graded is No. 1, as compared with 70 per cent at the start of the program. That means producers of the state are drawing a premium of 1¼c per pound butter fat closer to the Chicago standard market than for themselves as to whether our program in fundamentally sound and as to whether or not it is worth while. The program has already proven of enormous benefit to the dairy industry as a whole and one which will contribute largely in the future to the building up and stabilization of that great industry.

This is the first of a series of articles put out by the State Department of Agriculture. The next article of this series will appear in this paper in the near future and will deal with, "Ways and Means of Producing Quality Cream."

Brownfield Bulldog Wins Hobbs Fight

Brownfield Bing, bulldog belonging to Bill Harrell, made a clean victory last Sunday afternoon over his Hobbs, N. M. opponent of the same weight, 59 pounds. Those who saw the mixup say that it was a beautiful scrap for five or six minutes but after that for the next five or six minutes the Brownfield dog had everything about his way.

Bing is rather badly chewed up, and shows that he was really at a scrap, but he is able to follow Bill, although his head and ears are covered with sores, which he leisurely licks. This shows that Bing did not turn tail to his opponent, as all his wounds are in front.

Quite a crowd of Brownfield fans attended the fight, which was held in the New Hobbs arena, and we understand a lot of the local boys came back with considerable Hobbs money in their jeans, although some said that they only bet enough that winnings covered expenses.

Our Local Oil Men Get One Another Told

It is related to us that a group of our wholesale gasoline and oil men were discussing the relative merits of their lubricants, and Bob Bowers (Gulf Refining) had the floor, and was spinning one off about a test in St. Louis in which his lube stood up under hours and hours of a speeding car.

Chris Quante (Conoco) then remarked that if they had put the "germ processed" in there, that car would still be circling that speedway. Not to be outdone, Tom May (Magnolia) told Chris that if they had put in just a pint of Soconny,, it would have run that "hidden quart" out of the car and kept it going.

It is related that about this time, Frank Barret drove by and yelled, "fill up with Phillips." Anyway, all our wholesale boys are on the job, anytime, praising their several products, and the makers should send each of these boys a chromo.

Hollywood Studio Adds New Features

Already one of the most complete and up-to-date beauty parlors in this section, the Hollywood Beauty Studio in the Hotel Brownfield building has added recently some wall mirrors, tables and stand, which add to its attractiveness.

They have also installed a new electrical steaming machine, and an electrical manicuring machine. The proprietors wish their friends and customers to call and inspect the new machines.

Evangeline Booth, head of the Salvation Army: "I have never been in love with anybody or anything except with my work."

Let the Wind Charge Your Radio Batteries

John Chisholm of the Chisholm Hatchery and Hardware, is featuring one of the most unique of the new inventions, designed to help the farm and ranch keep right up to date. In fact, the new invention, which is propelled by the wind, creates enough electricity and stores it to keep the radio battery up in prime shape, and at the same time lights the farm home with electricity.

The new invention is called the Windcharger, and is of six volts, making it necessary of course to use six volt bulbs, which the local dealer is preparing to stock. The Windcharger is so balanced with propellers not unlike those on airplanes, that the least wind will keep it going. What electricity that is not immediately used is of course stored for future use. The price range is from $18.50 to $27.00, the latter price including the battery and other appliances. The five foot steel tower costs $4.50.

The Windcharger can be mounted on the house or barn, or in the yard, but does better if erected where there is no trees or buildings higher than the propellers. This cheap devise makes it possible for the family on the farm to keep their radio batteries charged up full capacity so that they are able to get any and all programs, and at the same time, flood the farm home with electric light.

Get a folder from John Chisholm, which gives full details of the windcharger. Let the wind charge your batteries!

New Coach Elected For Brownfield School

At a meeting of the Brownfield Independent School board last week, a new coach was elected, his duties to begin some time this summer. The new coach comes to us from Sul Ross Teachers College at Alpine, where he has been assistant coach. The new coach is said to tip the scales at 210 pounds, but appears to be a very good natured fellow.

His name is John A. Bost, and while coming to us as a college coach, had, of course, some years experience as a player in high school. Mr. Bost appears to be an enthusiast for all kinds of high school games, and while football is his specialty, believes that other sports should be stressed in high school.

We also learn that Prof. M. L. Penn has been re-elected as Spanish teacher, but he has not indicated at this time whether or not he will accept. Mr. Penn has been a teacher in the local school for several years, and upon the death of Miss Annie M. Long, a few years ago, has been teacher of Spanish since.

School Gets New Unit of Credit Recently

According to Paul F. Lawlis, Superintendent of Schools, the Brownfield High School has been granted two additional half-units of affiliation with the State Department.

The two new credits are in Commercial Law and Commercial Arithmetic and the affiliation was granted without the usual submission of material. Mr. Lawlis is teaching the Commercial Law and Mr. Ledbetter the Commercial Arithmetic.

Mr. Lawlis stated that these credits were received without making application for them, and makes some 21 credits the school now has. Some two credits were lost when mechanical drawing and manual training were dropped.

He believes that inasmuch as Brownfield school have some $600 invested in tools for these departments, they ought to be reinstated if possible.

HERE ARE HOLLYWOOD PAIRS WHO STAY WED

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 11.—Most Hollywood marriages are reputed to be made in heaven and terminated in—well, the divorce courts.

"Husband No. 4, wife No. 3," frequently are mentioned in the Hollywood gossip columns, and even in more reputable places.

So Mr. and Mrs. R. Beers Loos, parents of the famous Anita Loos, author, were particularly happy over the celebration recently of their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rogers have been married many years, while Mr. and Mrs. James Gleason, also of the movies, recently observed their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Lee Bartlett, 28, who resided near Meadow, who was brought to the local hospital last week in the advanced stages of pneumonia, died about 2:00 Wednesday morning. The body was carried by the Davis-Mason Undertaking Co., of Post, to that city for burial. We understand that a husband and some children survive.

Why not more of the grocery stores feature home canning. Most of the home canned fruits and vegetables are in every way superior to the "brought on" stuff, and we know that they are pure and true to label. This would have a tendency to encourage farm people to raise and can more vegetables and fruits, both in tins and in glass.

"A dictator, Sir, has no superiors," said General Sam Houston when Santa Anna, Mexican dictator, was brought before him after the battle of San Jacinto. We believe the statement would stand as a political truth And that lets Hooey Long out. He claims to be dictator of Louisiana, but the U. S. Courts recently sentenced one of his co-workers to the federal penitentiary for violating the law in making income tax returns. No dictator would permit that.—Ralls Banner.

Beginning with the last reading, we understand that the cheap summer rate for water is on, the first 6000 gallons costing $1.50, and 10c per 1000 gallons for each additional thousand gallons used. Pour the water to your trees and lawns. It will not cost much more than the minimum in winter, and you add to the beauty of the city. What is more cooling to a place than a lot of large shade trees? They cut the hot sun from the premises, and have a very cooling effect.

So Sharley Absolem Guy, editor of the Hubbock-Havalance Shurnal slipped off to Washington with the bunch of farmers who went from the south Plains. Sharley has not been so very keen for some of the New Deal ideas, but when any going is to be done, he forgets his previous lineup and hits the ball with the crowd. But Sharley has never been the critic of the New Deal that our friend Enoch Issac Hill of the Tahoka News has been. Those Lynn county farmers should have bundled up Isaac and carried him along. No, there was no need for us to go. We have been for the AAA the KKK and XYZ all the time.

A drive about the city will convince the most skeptical that the denizens of this little city are preparing some mighty pretty front yards, and in some instances, the backyards are not hard to look at. Of course there are a number of rent places that no effort of beautification is being made. However, we know some renters that are seemingly taking as much pride in their abode as if the place belonged to them. It is truly great to have a renter of this calibre, but alas! they are scarce. Most of them don't think they are getting their money's worth unless they have wrought destruction about the place. Some of them appear never to have had anything themselves, and don't want the other fellow to have any thing. Such renters are easily spotted, however, as they are constantly on the move.

SECURITY —— AND —— SERVICE

Time was when the Brownfield Herald had no good word for the mail order house. Giving them free advertising was the last thought of Col. Jack Stricklin, main ramrod of the Herald. Last week the Colonel fell from grace. Or should we say changed his mind? He let it be known from his front page—picture and all that one could "take orders" for a certain mail order firm and get a scholarship. Perhaps that mail order firm has let the Herald have an ad schedule, or donated to a public cause of old Terry county. The same mail order firm has done nothing for this section except sell shoddy goods for the price of standard grades offered by the local merchants.—Clarendon Leader.

We still have no good word for mail order houses, Cap'n Jay See, but when a local boy puts one over for a scholarship, thats news. Or when Sears & Sawbuck gave a school to negros, that was news. Had the youth in question lived at Clarendon, or some other place, they would not have gotten a line out of us. We often give people a writeup that never carried an inch ad in the Herald or even subscribe for it, providing they give us something of news value.

The greatest desire of people at this time is to "get something for nothing, more especially money." This is proven by this Dime Chain Letter Business. It seems everybody wants to manipulate a graft of some sort, get rich quick scheme without doing any kind of work. This whole dime letter business it the balooney. Keep your dime in your pocket and you will be better off. The only ones that perhaps made anything out of the proposition were the boys that "took up the first collection." You cannot play second fiddle and cash in on the proposition. You must earn your living "by the sweat of your brow" and not by some wild dream graft. Some of the chain letter senders are even trying to graft on one another. They are sending the chain letters along but not sending the dimes, thinking they will get dimes back and not be out anything. Uncle Sam's post office is the only one that is coming out winner. He is selling stamps hand over fist. Don't mail another dime chain letter, somebody is making a monkey out of you. Keep your dime and put it in the collection plate at church next Sunday and you will receive a greater blessing and larger returns.—Lockney Beacon

It has never been our habit to jump into the other fellow's fight and least of all when some fellow jumps onto those Lubbock editors. But when Price of the County Wide News, Littlefield, criticizes old Sharley Guy for saying that "perhaps we Texans would be unable to pronounce the names of half the communists in the May Day parade at New York, the Herald is obligated to take a hand. As we understand it, Editor Price comes from the "deep South," and from there from the north, where perhaps he was acquainted with many whose names would be Greek to the average west Texan. But we want to ask Bro. Price how many men named Jones, Johnson, Brown or Smith have ever killed any of our presidents, or attempted their lives. The one that killed Linclon was rather English sounding, but he was mixed up with a mess of people whoes names are rather hard on the reader. The ones that got Garfield and McKinley were decidedly foreign sounding, and the crack brain that tried to kill Teddy in Chicago and Franklin D. in Florida were both outlandish. Next time a general election ticket is printed for Texas voters, notice it closely, Bro. Price, if you are still here, and see how many of them you can pronounce especially in the Communist column of that ballot? We know there are lots of good people with those hard to pronounce European names still hanging over them, right here in Texas, but the communist party is mostly made up of guys who don't like our form of government, and whose names are a wart on our vocabulary.

PHILATHEA CLASS

We had a good attendance Sunday, but we still feel that maybe we have left a stone unturned somewhere because we still have some who should be in Sunday School somewhere that are not. We had a very interesting discussion on the subject of which was "The First Church."

The class presented our teacher, Mrs. L. R. Pounds with a beautiful picture as a token of our appreciation for Mother's Day. Words cannot express how happy she was when the president presented her with the picture. Her happiness made our hearts rejoice.

We are still striving to win the contest in the Young People's Department, so we give you a cordial invitation to visit our class next Sunday at the Baptist church, and join if you see fit.

We are sorry to report that Oscar Jones is very ill at this writing with complications of pneumonia, pluersy and asthma. His many friends are hoping for an early turn for the better.

Renewals for the week were, G. N. Couchman, J. W. Lasiter, Mrs. W. W. Ditto, and W. A. Fulton, city and routes; Frank E. Givan, Hereford, and for his mother at Hannibal, Mo.; R. E. L. Saffell, Abilene; J. T. Blankenship, Plains; J. J. Hyler and Noah Bell, Meadow; Mrs. L. T. Brooks, Scholle, N. M.

We understand that the survey through town on highway 84 follows the section line, which is two blocks north of the square.

Surveying For New Highway Complete

TAHOKA, May 11.—Surveying of a proposed route for highway 84 across Lynn county from Tahoka to the Terry county line has virtually been completed by state highway engineers. Surveying is now under way in Terry county into Brownfield.

The new route, it is said here, contemplates a change at West Point, about midway between the two county seat towns. There about half a mile will be saved by changing the corner.

It is reported here that virtually all of the right-of-way for the route in both counties has been secured. The T-Bar ranch, it is said has given something like 10 miles across its territory, while the Brownfield ranch in Terry county, also is contributing right-of-way.

Mrs. Clyde Eicke has moved hte beauty shop she had at Seagraves to Brownfield, and it is now occupying the place vacated by Modena Fulfer, just east of the First National Bank. Miss Fulfer went to Phoenix, Ariz., we understand.

RED GOOSE—THE OJIBWA INDIAN BOY

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls
by
CARLYLE EMERY

Red Goose has set a trap in a desperate effort to snare the big bear that is approaching. His father, Red Eagle, carries Little Beaver out of danger just as the huge bear sees Red Goose and plunges toward him. Now go on with the story.

As Red Eagle disappeared in the bush, brave little Red Goose turned to face the bear that now snorting angrily and coming on the run. His gun was useless, and if the bear failed to walk into the trap, all the boy had to fight with was his small hunting knife.

But Red Goose had met danger many times before, and he did not flinch now. Filling his chest with deep gulps of fresh air, he stood poised for action.

"Heeeyyyy!" he shouted. "Come on, Big Bear, and fight! Get up on your hind legs! That's it now"

The angry bruin raised himself up and towered over the boy like a giant. Red Goose could even feel his hot breath fanning his cheek. But just as a big paw, with lightning speed, swung at his head, Red Goose ducked—one leg of the bear stumbled into the noose on the ground, and quick as a flash, the rope was cut, the tree swung up, and the bear was sent spinning on his head, with the rear end of his huge carcass up in the air. One, two, three times, Red Goose plunged his knife deep into the shaggy fur. "Die, Bear! Die" he cried. "Die to feed my people!"

But it was quite a while before the animal stopped struggling. He fought against impossible odds, for he was trapped tighly, and securely. Eventually, however, he grew weak from exertion and loss of blood, and finally with one low growl, remained still.

"Red Goose—my son— you have killed great bear. Now we have meat for our people and you shall wear great bear skin to keep you warm.

As Red Eagle spoke, he approached still carrying Little Beaver in his arms, and tho, in true Indian fashion, he showed no emotion, Red Goose knew his father was proud and happy.

That night the Ojibwa braves met at the appointed place and there was great rejoicing over the kill. Red Eagle told them the story from start to finish and it was plain to see that all the warriors felt grateful to the boy whose daring had solved their big food problem.

And you can well imagine, there was great rejoicing too in the Ojibwa Village when the hunting party returned with enough fresh bear meat to last thru the cold winter months.

At a meeting of the Council, Red Goose was given another eagle feather, which of course he was glad to get; but his big happiness was in the thot he had been of service to his people.

Texas produces 86 per cent of all the sulphur mined in the world.

There is no greater menace to public health and safety than the rubbish pile and the old-fashioned garbage can. Year after year they take their terrific toll with fire and disease.

There is just one effective way to combat these two evils—by burning them before they have a chance to do their devilish work. A Gas Incinerator is quick-acting, odorless, inexpensive to install and operate. It's the easiest and best way to vote a "life sentence" for Rubbish and Waste.

"My Home Town" Contest

Friday morning, May 10, 1935, the entries for the speaking contest, "My Home Town" met in the District Court room for final elimination. The entries were Clara Estes, Ruby Nell Smith, and Roy Chambliss.

The judges were very well pleased with the efforts of each contestant. They showed signs of preparation, and it is hoped that there will be more interest in this contest in the future.

The winner of this contest, Ruby Nell Smith, entered the contest at Plainview, Monday, May 13. Her speech will appear in this issue of the Herald.

Cub Classes

SENIORS—

The main topic of discussion in the Senior class meeting Monday was "Miss Cherryblossom." Tickets were issued and prizes of $1.50 and $1.00 were offered to the two people selling the most tickets.

The class was very glad to learn that the school board is going to give them their diplomas this year.

There was some discussion of a trip next Saturday but it was put off because the sponsor will be unable to attend.

JUNIORS—

During the first part of the meeting the Senior Class president announced the ticket selling contest for "Miss Cherryblossom." The Juniors seem willing to cooperate with the Seniors in every way possible these last two weeks of school. Mrs. Wilkins made a short talk on "Good Conduct."

SOPHOMORES—

The Sophomores started "an old southern custom" in B. H. S. Monday. They elected officers for the Juniors of '36. They were as follows:

President—Sam Chisholm
Vice Pres.—E. C. Lanier
Secretary-Treas.—Betty Jo Savage
Reporter—Maxine Hardin.

Plans have already been made for money-making schemes for next year. Hopes are for a big year. The Sophomores are very grateful for the holiday promised Friday afternoon. They really feel sorry for the Juniors and Seniors while they "sweat blood" and the under-classmen have a "rip-roaring" good time!

FRESHMEN—

The Freshmen wish to express their appreciation for the cooperation of the upper classmen and teachers during the school term of 1934-35. They also wish to thank Mrs. Cobb, their room mother, for her representations to the class during the year. The Freshmen say "hats off" to Mr. Penn, their sponsor who has inspired them with high ambitions.

Cub Clubs

THE SCIENCE CLUB—

The Science Club met for the last time this year in B. H. S. until next year. We have decided to give what money we have in our treasury to the library. The pupils in the Science Club have seemed to enjoy the meetings this year and we wish to thank Coach Daniels, our sponsor for being patient with us through the year.

Our program for today was as follows:

"The Mystery of Melted Sand"—C. R. Warren.

"Making Varnish from Gum"—Melvin Spears.

"How We Discovered of What Stuff the Stars Are Made"—Lad Brownfield.

"How We Discovered the Weight of the Earth"—T. C. Young.

"How Fish and Insects Made Ink"—Mack Pickett.

We wish you all Adios until the next semester.

THE LILLIANNA CLUB—

The Lillianna Club met again Tuesday, May 7, and had a business meeting.

As there was no business to be discussed other than their future picnic at Post, the meeting was spent discussing that matter.

Although the club was sure they would go to spend the 10th and 11th at Post no definite decisions were made. It decided to have a call meeting to decide exactly what was to be done.

(BHS)

Cub Comment

B. H. S. should have more in the elimination contest in "My Home Town" contest.

The first three days of next week will be "dead week" on the campus of B. H. S. The fate of many a Senior will be hanging by thin threads.

Will the Seniors have a class day?

What about the sidewalk project of the Seniors'?

Are the student glad to say "goodbye" to dear ole B. H. S.?

Will the future Seniors make "the School With the Spirit" of B. H. S.?

LILLIANNA CLUB PICNIC

Fourteen Lillianna Club girls and their guests from Junior High, accompanied by the sponsor, Miss Vivian Winston, had a most enjoyable time last Friday when they motored over to Post, and spent the night at Two Draw Lake. They arrived there without any serious trouble, and each entered the gaiety of the group and even the Sponsor showed signs of (being) "witty."

But through it all no one was injured and the girls enjoyed swimming, rowing and "eating." They returned home Saturday at noon each voicing her appreciation to Miss Winston for this "crowning event of the year." The club members enjoying the trip were:

Verna Brown, E. C. Lanier, Wanda Graham, Darlene Tankersly, Thelma Fern Harris, Kathrine Graham, Othell Price, Billy Graves, Gwendoline Baker, Christine Hamilton, Geneva Thompson, Faye Hogue, Donnie Mae Smith, Pauline Lindley, Josephine Eudy and Imogene Murray.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

According to information given on the front page of our issue of May 1, 1912, covered by a two column black headline, we were expecting great railroad developments here. Copying an article from the Fort Worth Record, it seemed that a certain Col. Beall had purchased a terminal in Fort Worth for $30,000,000 on the north bank of the Trinity, and European capital was to build a line from Ft. Worth west to Brownfield. Judge Neill and perhaps the late M. V. Brownfield, who had been to Fort Worth, had seen the map. Upon reaching Brownfield, the proposed road was supposed to branch out in three lines, one north to Texico and Albuquerque, another west to Roswell, and still another south to Andrews and Seminole. In fact, Brownfield was to be quite a railroad town. Thus, another early day boom exploded. Also, on the first page was another story, but it was not a promotion scheme. Another good rain reported. A few eucalyptus and bamboo trees had been shipped from California to Plainview to be tried under irrigation. Judge H. C. Ferguson, of Lubbock, was asking the voters of the 72nd Judical district to make him their District Judge. Mrs. O. B. Colquitt, wife of the governor of Texas, as President of the Anti-Tubercular Association, was urging all school trustees to see that their school buildings were thoroughly disinfested during the holidays.

Mrs. J. T. May was visiting in Lubbock. J. W. Ellis had moved to the Underdown place. J. W. Black and family were visiting in London, Texas. Com. Redge Burnett was sporting a new saddle. The little son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell underwent a minor operation while visiting in Marshall, Texas. Sheriff Geo. Tiernan went to Tahoka to meet his niece, who visited he and family through the summer. Miss Addei George, of Gomez, was working for the Herald. The commissioners had ordered a new road opened from Brownfield to the south line of the county. Mrs. D. B. Watson had passed away at Plainview, Texas. Mr. Enos Barret, father of Judge Barret, had passed away on the farm near Meadow. J. T. May had left for a visit in Arkansas.

Gomez: A very successful term of school had come to a close with an unusual amount of entertainment provided by the pupils. A fine rain had fallen Monday night. Jean Webber was working on the L7 ranch. Many had moved back to the farms after school closing.

Harris: Rev. Jameson had filled his pulpit Sunday. Roy Fitzgerald was down with measles. Brit Clare was handed a pair of shoes not mates in style or size at a Brownfield store. He asked if they thought one of his feet was a Sunday and the other an everday foot. McDowell & Potts were drilling a well on their bonus. F. M. Ellington's new home was almost complete.

Primrose: Mrs. Fram Jackson was on the sick list. Sand storms were still raging. A singing was enjoyed at the Beall home Sunday night. A. K. Huckleberry had been re-employed by the trustees to teach their school another term. There was to only be a seven weeks vacation until school started again. Sam Arnett had purchased a bunch of cows from Booth Hays. All for this week.

Mrs. B. Tidwell and daughter, Lillian, from Quemado, are here at the bedside of Mrs. Tidwell's brother, Oscar Jones.

The motor car is a good customer of everybody..

"I foresee the time when industry shall no longer denude the forests which require generations to mature, nor use up the mines which were ages in making but shall draw its raw material largely from the annual produce of the fields . . . I am convinced that we shall be able to get out of yearly crops most of the basic materials which we now get from forest and mine."

Henry Ford

THE map above tells only part of the story—the little-known story of the inter-relation of the Ford V-8 car and the farm.

The figures in the map are based on what will be used this year if the Ford Motor Company reaches its intended production of 1,000,000 cars and trucks.

WOOL goes into upholstery, floor coverings, lubricants and anti-rust preparations.

LEATHER goes into upholstery—and in addition, glues are made from cow hide, and from cow's milk . . . Other parts of cattle, through other processes, yield stearic acid, greases, glycerine (for shock absorbers and body enamel) and soap chips (used in washing machined parts and bodies before painting).

HOGS furnish lard oil, oleic acid and brush bristles.

GOAT'S HAIR (Mohair) goes into upholstery.

BEESWAX goes into electrical imbedding compounds.

COTTON goes into tires, batting, cloth, battery box, timing gears, brake linings and, not least important, into Safety Glass. (Every Ford V-8 car built this year will have Safety Glass in every window, at no extra cost to the car buyer . . . Cotton, in the form of cellulose acetate, is the central part between the two sheets of glass that make up every finished sheet of Safety Glass.)

CORN yields butyl alcohol (for enamel finishes and other purposes) and starch (for stiffening cotton linings).

LINSEED OIL is the basis for paint—is used in foundry cores—and is one of the ingredients of the beautiful, synthetic baked enamel finish on a Ford V-8.

SUGAR CANE yields molasses for solvents, anti-freeze and shock absorber fluids.

CASTOR OIL goes into lacquers and artificial leather suitable for rumble seats, where real leather would be damaged by exposure to the weather.

TUNG OIL is part of the top material used in Ford cars and is also used in brake linings.

TURPENTINE is used in paints, adhesives and solvents.

SOY BEANS are used in making cores for metal castings in our foundry and are also an important part of the baked enamel finish of a Ford V-8 and of the plastic knobs and buttons in the car's interior.

LUMBER is used for packing purposes. It is not used for any structural part of the Ford car, which has a welded, all-steel body, reinforced with steel, for maximum safety.

LOST FAT
FOOLED GOSSIPERS

Mrs. J. R. McCausland of Pittsburgh writes: "I took off 8lbs. in two weeks with Kruschen. I ate as usual and feel fine." You, too, can safely reduce as Mrs. McCausland did if you'll only have a mind of your own. Pay no attention to gossipers who wouldn't want to see you the slender woman you can be if you'll only take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a cup of hot water every morning. (Tastes fine with juice of half lemon added.)

Krushen is SAFE—it's a health treatent and when your body abounds with Kruschen fitness—excess fat leaves. Jar lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle—any drug store. Corner Drug Store sells lots of it. No. 1.

Business improved generally in February, survey shows.
