UN To Open Fateful Meeting In Paris

Enforcement Of Peace In Holy Land Tops Issues; Berlin Feud Watched

By EDWARD CURTIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Sept. 20.—The United Nations General Assembly opens a fateful session tomorrow before a world worried over East-West tension in Berlin and unrest and assassinations in Palestine.

The issue of enforcing peace in the Holy Land—dramatically pointed up by the murder of Count Folke Bernadotte—stands high on the crowded calendar of the 58-nation "world parliament."

On the eve of the third annual session, there was a possibility that the Berlin blockade with its far-reaching complications in the East-West tug-of-war also would be thrown before the assembly for full debate.

Big Powers Confer

Even as the 58 delegates waited for the opening gavel, the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France met in the French foreign office to review the German situation.

A standout absentee among the world's leaders was Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who remained in Moscow, and sent Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. There were no indications whether Molotov would come later.

President Vincent Auriol of France will officially welcome the delegates tomorrow afternoon at the opening of the session, expected to run three months. The first major item of business will be selection of a president. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian deputy foreign minister, was among those prominently mentioned for the post.

Before taking up Bernadotte's proposal for enforcement of a Palestine peace, the UN will pay somber tribute to the slain Swedish count who was cut down by a volley of bullets in the Jewish section of Jerusalem while on duty as UN mediator.

Mediator To Be Honored

The bodies of Bernadotte and French Col. Andre Serot—killed in the same ambush—are expected by plane at Orley field in the morning. There many of the world's top political leaders will gather to pay homage to a man of peace murdered trying to halt a war with words.

The final 35,000-word report of the UN mediator said the savage Arab-Jewish war should be "pronounced formally ended." He said if the Arabs and Jews refuse to make peace, the UN should do so.

Closely linked with the eruptive Palestine issue is Secretary-General Trygve Lie's plan to seek a UN police force of 1,000 to 5,000

Allies Call Off Soviet Talks

By JOSEPH DYNAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Sept. 20—The western powers tonight called a halt to Moscow negotiations and set up strategy headquarters here in their row with Russia over the future of Berlin.

The American, British and French foreign ministers immediately plunged into a series of high policy conferences to decide their next move in the struggle which has kept the former German capital under siege conditions for three months.

All three nations recalled their top advisers from Moscow and Berlin to sit in on the talks.

Big Three Meeting Held

Secretary of State George C. Marshall, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman met for an hour in an opening conference at the French foreign ministry. Another meeting was set for tomorrow.

A spokesman for the French foreign ministry described today's session as one to establish contacts among the respective staffs looking toward discussion of issues which divided Russia and the western powers in the two-month secret Moscow negotiations.

The foreign ministers are here for the meeting of the United Nations General Assembly tomorrow. However, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov did not come, sending Deputy Andrei Y. Vishinsky to head the Russian delegation.

Important Decision Expected

Top-level official opinion here was that a decision would emerge from the three-power talks on whether the western powers will continue the secret exchanges with Russia over Berlin or toss the whole issue to the UN.

A British official close to Bevin said the decision probably would not be reached until the foreign

Blonde Heiress Scores Probers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Louise Bransten Berman, blonde heiress billed as a one-time associate of Soviet agents, refused today to answer questions in the congressional investigation of atomic spying.

The slender and attractive 39-year-old witness had next to nothing to say—to reporters or to a House un-American Activities subcommittee— beyond a formal statement. That statement denied any "wrongful activities" and accused the House committee of an "infamous act" in linking her name with its inquiry.

Subpoena Extended

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa) told reporters that in an hour and a half of questioning by himself and Rep. Hebert (D-La) behind closed doors, Mrs. Berman relied on her constitutional immunity from giving answers that might incriminate her.

McDowell indicated, however, that her chapter in the investigation was not closed. He said the subpoena for her appearance before the committee had been extended indefinitely, and she had been ordered not to leave the country.

The subcommittee did get the witness to identify herself as a housewife now living in New York, McDowell said, but she would not tell her husband's business or income.

Mrs. Berman wouldn't talk to reporters before she entered the committee room. Afterward about all she had to say outside the statement was that she preferred to be known as Mrs. Berman. The subpoena had been issued in that name and the name of Miss Louise Bransten as well.

SURRENDERS TO COMMUNISTS

NANKING, Tuesday, Sept. 21. (AP)—The government reported today that the commander of its 84th division defending the long-beseiged capital of Shantung province had surrendered to the Chinese Communists.

Senate Case Heads Into Federal Court

Hearing Set Today On Election Case

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20.—U. S. District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson is scheduled to open a hearing here tomorrow at 11 a. m. on the motion by Coke Stevenson to prevent Lyndon Johnson being certified as the Democratic senatorial nominee on the November general election ballot.

Raymond Buck, one of Johnson's attorneys, said he will attack Davidson's jurisdiction on the grounds that the United States Senate is the exclusive judge of such contests.

Appeal Appears Certain

Johnson won an 87-vote victory in the second Democratic primary Aug. 28 and his name was certified as the winner by the state party convention.

Stevenson contends that fraudulent votes were counted in Jim Wells and Zapata counties.

Both sides indicated today that whichever way Davidson rules, the matter will be appealed to higher courts.

Secretary of State Paul Brown said today that if the court dissolves the restraining order Tuesday or Wednesday morning, he will be able to get Johnson's name on the sample ballot now being prepared for presentation to the election boards of the 254 Texas counties. Court action so far has prevented Brown from placing Johnson's name on the ballot.

At Austin today, Vann M. Kennedy, secretary of the state Demo executive committee, said he was turning over election documents from certain counties to the federal court clerk at Fort Worth.

Nome Pilot Reports Soviet Planes Seen Flying Over Alaska

(By The Associated Press)

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 20—The Nome Nugget said today that Lester Bronson, a Nome pilot, returned Saturday from Kotzerue north of the Arctic circle with reports of Soviet planes flying over the Arctic Alaska coastline.

The newspaper said Bronson was told by Eskimos of the Cape Espenberg area that on several occasions they had seen large planes of the B-29 bomber class with the letters "USSR" on the underside of the wings

The natives, the article said, informed Bronson the planes shuttled over the Alaska mainland during the past few weeks for as long as 30 minutes at a time.

11 Persons Dead In Indiana Wreck

WALKERTON, Ind., Sept. 20. (INS)—The death of Mrs. Blanche Carpenter, 40, of North Judson, Ind., raised to 11 tonight the number of persons killed in a truck collision near Walkerton.

Six others remained critically injured as a result of the crash this afternoon.

Police said eight of the victims died instantly.

The injured were taken to a hospital in La Porte, 13 miles north of the scene.

Victims Field Workers

Ten of the dead were young field hands who were riding in a three-quarter ton pickup truck traveling south on U.S. route 35 to their homes in north Judson. The youths had been working on onion farms in northern Indiana.

The driver of the pickup truck, Thomas Ford, 22, was among the fatalities.

Robert Tweedie, 35, of Logansport, Ind., driver of the northbound truck, was in critical condition at Fairview hospital in La Porte.

Six others were taken to Holy Family hospital in La Porte in serious condition.

Besides Ford, four of the dead were identified as Vernon White, 18; Fred Teske, 22; Pierce Richie, 20; and Mervin White, 20, all of North Judson.

Two Die When Huge Jet Bomber Explodes

VISALIA, Cal., Sept. 20. (INS)—One of the nation's biggest experimental jet bombers exploded in mid-air during a test flight today and took the lives of two airmen, including the first man ever to fly a multiple jet plane.

Wreckage from the plane—a B-45—littered the countryside for a distance of two or three miles south of the community of Alpaugh in the southwestern corner of Tulare county.

One of the victims was identified as George W. Krebs, 30, of Los Angeles, a test pilot for owners of the plane, North American Aircraft company.

Krebs was a test pilot for the company since 1942 and became the first multiple-jet flyer in this country when he took a B-45 up for the first time in March, 1947.

Name of the other airman—also a North American test pilot—was not announced immediately. The main part of the wreckage crashed in a mass of flames in the middle of an irrigated farm field just south of Alpaugh.

Federal Control Of Installment Buying Again Returns To Nation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—Federal control of installment buying returned today after a 11-month absence.

During that time the volume of time buying mounted to a record of nearly $7,500,000,000.

Some auto dealers and finance men predicted the generally stiffer terms will put the skids under the premium prices for used cars and put late models beyond the reach of many families.

They reasoned: To buy a car selling for $1,800 the purchaser must pay down $600 and $80 a month for 18 months. Monthly payments alone take a fourth of the income of a $3,840 a year family. And it costs money to operate a car.

The Federal Reserve board, which fixed the credit terms under authority voted by Congress last month as an anti-inflation step, had more limited expectations—that the growth of the time buying debt would be slowed, not stopped or cut back.

Representatives of the auto manufacturers say the controls will not affect new car sales. They point to a backlog of orders for all cars that can be turned out in the next two years—when the controls are scheduled to expire and

Two Negroes Found Slain Near New Home

TAHOKA, Sept. 20. (Special)—Two persons were dead after a shooting that took place sometime between 5 and 6 p.m. today on a farm near New Home.

Dead were Mrs. Troy Mondine, about 32, and Jim Mitchell, about 71, both negroes. A 12-guage shotgun was found beside the bodies.

No verdict had been returned in the double shooting late tonight, but District Attorney Calloway Huffaker, who was conducting an investigation, said that one would be filed.

Mrs. Mondine, whom officials believed had lived on the farm as a worker since about 1937, is survived by her husband, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mitchell, who are thought to be residents of Midland.

Whereabouts of Mitchell's relatives was not known by authorities here or by Stanley Funeral home.

The shooting took place on a farm owned but not tenanted by D. D. Renfro on Wilson route 1, about one and one-half miles east of New Home.

No other information concerning the shootings was available late tonight.

Opposition To Soviets Seen

By OMER ANDERSON
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—The West German newspaper Montags Echo today reported mounting resistance by arti-Soviet underground movements in eastern Germany, the Ukraine and Poland.

The organ of the conservative Liberal Democratic party said the Soviet army now is concentrating on the task of holding its war gains in the face of growing satellite unrest.

Montags Echo, referring to recent reports that 22 Soviet divisions have been placed near the Yugoslav border, said Russian troops have "re-occupied" Rumania and Bulgaria.

According to the newspaper, Russian troops have been thoroughly reequipped with automatic weapons and bolstered with tank units.

Montags Echo said strong anti-Soviet factions are operating inside the Communist-led Social Unity party in eastern Germany, notably in Thuringia, Saxony and Brandenburg.

The paper reported that the Russians have increased their troop strength as much as ten fold because of the operations of a well-disciplined anti-Soviet army of thousands in the Ukraine. The anti-Soviet force was said to be putting up "remarkable resistance."

Airlift Blow Planned

Montags Echo said anti-Soviet Polish resistance grew to a point where the Russians were forced to withdraw 120,000 troops from the German Grossborn area and another 20,000 from the Nuestettin headquarters district.

The newspaper also said that Communist leaders in Germany are boasting that the Soviets have openly declared their intentions of smashing the western airlift to Berlin.

The Russians also were accused of planning to foment disorders in the western sectors of Germany to give them a pretext for stepping in.

Montags Echo recently charged that an "X day" has been set for some time after the U. S. elections in November on which the Communists, with Russian sup-

Delay Granted In Murder Trial

Acting on a motion by defense counsel, Judge G. V. Pardue, in 99th criminal district court, yesterday afternoon granted a delay in opening of the murder trial of Brewster E. Dillard until 9 a.m. Wednesday.

The motion, filed by Burton S. Burks of the law firm of Burks and McNeill, who with Vickers and Vickers represent the defendant, followed an earlier motion, also by Burks seeking to quash proceedings in summoning of the special venire of 200 prospective jurors.

Counter Motion Offered

Burks' earlier motion was countered by a motion by state's counsel, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin, L. A. Howard, and Victor H. Lindsey, asking the court for permission for the sheriff's department to file an amended and corrected report concerning service (notice) to the prospective jurors.

The state's motion, filed shortly before noon, was granted by Judge Pardue, and the amended report was submitted shortly after noon. Burks' second motion followed immediately, asking for additional time "to prepare for trial" on the basis of an amended report.

The defense contention did not charge, or indicate irregularities in the vepire proceedings. Burks' first motion cited that agreement had been reached on 200 veniremen, that the sheriff's department reports showed service on only 155, and that 109 of the 155 actually reported for service yesterday morning, of whom several were excused for various reasons,

HST Continues Attacks On Congress

Dewey Pledges GOP To Clean Up Capital

(By The Associated Press)

GOV. THOMAS E. DEWEY opened his formal campaign for the presidency by telling an Iowa throng that he will bring to Washington "the biggest unravelling, unsnarling, untangling operation in our nation's history."

The Republican nominee spoke last night at Des Moines, while at Denver President Truman ripped into the Republicans as "the eager agents of the big business lobbies."

Dewey, starting a 14-day tour of the West, began what he called a "campaign to unite America" in a world in which "tryanny is on the march." He promised that as President he would have "a foreign policy based upon the firm belief that we can have peace."

Later, he said, he will give "specific and honest answers" to the problems of high prices, housing, farm aids, labor, and racial-religious discrimination.

Mr. Truman, in his afternoon speech at the Colorado state capitol in Denver blamed Republicans for high prices and the housing situation. He bore down particularly on the development of the West, and told his water-power conscious audience:

"They (Republicans in the 80th Congress) cut back projects to bring water to the land and electric power to industry. . . . The

MOVE TERMED 'BADLY TIMED'

Milk Prices Boosted Cent Per Quart By One Company

AN increase of one cent per quart, across the board, in milk prices, both retail and whole sale, effective with deliveries this morning, was announced yesterday by Joe McIlhaney, of McIlhaney Dairy Products.

At the same time, McIlhaney, one of the major distributors here, said the company is increasing price to producers 20 cents a hundred pounds, setting the new price at $6.65 a hundred pounds, compared with $6.45 in the past. That is on the basis of four per cent butterfat milk or higher.

The announcement of the price increase came as a distinct surprise, since only Saturday a majority of milk distributors in Lubbock had agreed that no increase in milk prices was likely or would increase the supply of milk.

Action Is Hit

One major distributor termed the latest move "badly timed," and pointed out that other companies might be forced to boost prices in self defense in order to obtain milk thus collectively adding many thousands of dollars annually to an already strained food budget for Lubbock housewives.

The announcement by the McIlhaney firm said the new price increase involves both buttermilk and sweetmilk, and is effective in both wholesale and retail circles.

The increase would bring the price to 23 cents a quart for grade A milk, house delivery basis, the same as at Abilene, where an increase was made effective last week. Midland's price was upped to 24 cents.

McIlhaney said the increase was necessary because of increasing costs in all phases of the industry, and in an effort to induce more production through the increase to producers.

Other distributors here expressed surprise at the announcement, and had made no move late yesterday to take similar action. But it was the opinion of managers of other plants that in order to hold their producers, it would be nec-

700 Jam Lamesa Gym To Hear Noted Oklahoma City Minister

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

LAMESA, Sept. 20.—God could get along without America, but America cannot get along without God, Dr. William H. Alexander of Oklahoma City told an audience of 700 that crowded into Lamesa High school's gymnasium for the annual Chamber of Commerce membership meeting.

Dr. Alexander again proved himself a compelling speaker, and Lamesa provided a splendid audience as the colorful pastor of the 5,000-member First Christian church of Oklahoma City delivered an hour-long address discussing the problems that the United States faces in the world.

With the practiced ease of one who can—and did—hold the complete attention of his audience for more than an hour, Dr. Alexander ranged from the most whimsical humor to a discussion of the threat of war that brought sniffles from some of his listeners.

Distinctive in every respect, he wore a tuxedo to the picnic supper. When a brief rain squall threatened to divert the attention of his listeners, he dispatched a crew to roll up car windows so that full attention could be devoted to

High Winds Batter Cuba

By JAMES RUSSELL
INS Staff Correspondent

MIAMI, Sept. 21 (Tuesday) — Storm winds up to 65 miles an hour raked the Florida keys early today as the extreme south tip of the peninsula began feeling the effects of a severe hurricane rolling in off the Florida straits.

High winds and rain squalls rapped the tiny island chain while scattered residents of the isles huddled in storm shelters.

Winds at Miami were slowly increasing and reached a force of 45 miles an hour in passing squalls shortly after midnight.

The Caribbean hurricane, which barreled across Cuba last nigh, was packed with 100-mile-an-hour winds around its center.

Waters Reported Rising

Water was reported rising along the shores of Key West, at the tip of the Florida keys.

The rising tides covered portions of land at a large Navy housing project.

The storm whirled on a northeastward path toward the thickly-populated Miami area.

The storm rolled from the Cuban mainland and out over water again at a point 20 miles east of Havana, with 100-mile-an-hour winds whirling in its vortex.

Havana experienced winds of 80 miles an hour and rivers in the western Cuban provinces of Pinar Del Rio and Mantanzas overflowed their banks because of the high winds and rain.

Storm Shelters Opened

The Caribbean storm was due to swing into the Florida keys early today.

The Navy posted hurricane condition No. 1 at Key West as wind gusts up to 55 miles an hour were reported.

Shelters at the Boca Chica Naval Air station and the Naval seaplane base were stocked with food and thrown open to families of the base personnel.

Other shelters were opened by the Red Cross in Key West and a disaster headquarters was set up at the YMCA building.

Lighthouse and weather stations in the islands of the keys chain reported rough, rising seas whipped up by winds up to 65 miles an hour late tonight.

Winds were increasing all

Three Hurt In Highway Mishap

Charges of drunk driving will be filed against a 35-year-old Shallowater man in connection with a car-truck collision about 4:20 p. m. Monday at the intersection of Slaton highway and Ave. A, in which three persons were injured, investigating state highway patrolmen said.

Daniel Boone Hall, 59, of Colorado City, Route 1, his wife, Myrtle Anderson Hall, 47, and Mrs. Hall's sister, Mamie Anderson Adams, 51, of Corona, Calif., were hospitalized at St. Mary's hospital where they were taken by McDonald ambulance following the accident.

Man Is Badly Hurt

Mr. Hall, the most seriously injured, suffered a chest injury, shock, and minor cuts and bruises. His condition was not believed critical. Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Adams suffered only lacerations and bruises and shock.

The Hall car, a 1942 Nash sedan, was approaching the intersection from the east on the highway, and the caliche-loaded 1947 Ford dump truck driven by the Shallowater man was going north on Ave. A, which is undergoing construction at the present time.

The truck entered the intersection directly into the path of the approaching car, the left front of the auto striking the truck on the right side near the front, the highway patrol officers said. The rear of the auto swerved to the left, bringing the left side of the

Scattered Rains Fall Over South Plains

Showers and light rains were reported in several South Plains towns west of Lubbock Monday night, but no heavy precipitation was reported with the exception of the Whiteface area. The rain brought lower temperatures and a foretaste of the official arrival of fall Wednesday.

An estimated one inch of rain fell in the Whiteface area late Monday along with a heavy wind which possibly caused some damage to crops. Indications were that the Morton area also received a heavy fall, but efforts to contact that city were unsuccessful.

Brownfield reported some rain, perhaps up to one-half inch, and had had fine mist most of the evening. Some lightning and very little wind was reported.

Showers were reported at Levelland, along with quite a lot of lightning and a small amount of wind. Muleshoe reported showers and lightning. Littlefield indicated that there had been mist there, but no rain or wind and little lightning.

CONGRATULATIONS ON GETTING INTO YOUR NEW HOME - UNCLE JOHN.
Housing for your telephone voice is scarce, too
Like new houses, telephone cable is not yet plentiful. It takes telephone cable to "house" your telephone voice as it travels.
Perhaps telephone poles near your house carry a telephone cable (the thick, lead-covered carrier for a bundle of wires strung from pole to pole). Why can't we connect a telephone for you to this cable?
Ordinarily we could. But today most of these cables have no idle wires in them.
So new telephones take new cable.
That new cable is being made as you read these words. It is spinning out of telephone factories twice as fast as prewar. It is hurried to wherever we need it. There we hustle it into place—at the rate of a million miles of wire in cable this year alone.
Compared with normal production, telephone cable isn't scarce—it's abundant. But when 50,000 more people order telephones every month in the Southwest—as they do—even yesterday's abundance is today's shortage.
We're closing the gap, however, and we owe a lot to your patience and trust that we'll get the job done. For we're just as anxious to get you a telephone as you are to get one.

All you do is pick up an empty box at the powder blending salon, present it to your hostess with the gift certificate and she can take it to the salon and have her own personal powder prescription filled.

HAIR EXPERT STARTS TWO-DAY CLINIC IN LUBBOCK TOMORROW

Analyzes Scalp Troubles Free, Demonstrates New Home Methods That Stop Hair Loss, Dandruff, Grow Stronger, Thicker Hair

Do you believe that baldness is due to heredity? You're 100% wrong.

Do you believe that baldness is due to age? You're 99% wrong.

Do you believe that baldness can not be prevented? You're 95% wrong?

These popular misconceptions belong to the "tonic" age. For years now, the better professional tricholo-gists have proved that they can re-grow hair by repeated clinical treatments.

But it remained for the Mueller trichologists, after years of experience, to develop methods and formulae to restore hair growth by home treatment. Already this new treatment has proved successful in restoring hair growth for hundreds of Texans.

S. J. MUELLER
B. S., C. L. T.
Director of Trichologists
Mueller Hair Experts
Houston, Dallas, San Antonio

Hopeless cases not accepted.

Mueller home treatment is not a "cure-all." Each of the 14 kinds of external scalp disorders requires a different therapy. For that reason, we do not ever prescribe treatment without first making a thorough, personal scalp examination.

BEFORE MUELLER TREATMENT

This is Mr. W. A. Hudgins, Vivian, Louisiana, before starting Mueller treatment. Note the large bald area on his frontal crown and the deep recession at temples.

If your case is hopeless, we tell you so. About five per cent of those we examine fall into this group not eligible for treatment. As a rule, if your scalp grows "fuzz," your case is not hopeless.

What is the treatment like?

Mueller home treatment combines physical and chemical therapy which you can easily administer to yourself in your home. Among the exclusive formulae included in most treatment kits are fast-acting germicides, scalp cleansers, and sub-scalp stimulants.

The progressive steps of medication and treatment are easy to understand and follow. You mail regular reports of your hair progress to the nearest Mueller laboratory (Houston, Dallas, San Antonio), so that treatment can be changed if necessary to get best results. Also, your scalp condition is checked personally by a Mueller expert at regular intervals.

AFTER MUELLER TREATMENT

This is also Mr. Hudgins. He writes: "I'm certainly proud of my new head of hair, and hope the pictures encourage others to take Mueller treatments. I have the proof on my head that the treatments are good."

How long does it take?

Results from home treatment are quickly noticeable. Usually it takes just a few weeks to cleanse your scalp of all dandruff, surface and imbedded, kill the bacteria swarming beneath the scalp, and correct local disorders. Then special formulae are used to stimulate the processes of hair growth. In less than two months, you should begin to see new replacement hairs.

Free examination tomorrow!

Mr. S. J. Mueller, director of the Mueller trichologists, starts a two-day hair clinic here tomorrow. Let him give your scalp a professional examination.

You will not be obligated or embarrassed in any way. If you decide to take home treatment, you'll find the fee very reasonable.

Come to the hotel between 10 A.M. and 7 P.M., at the hour most convenient for you.

Yankees Edge Browns, 8-7; Red Sox Drop Tigers

Indians Hold Second Place

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20. (AP)—The New York Yankees staggered to an 8- 7 victory over the lowly St. Louis Browns today to remain a game behind the American league's front-running Boston Red Sox in the fierce pennant battle.

Joe DiMaggio, despite a painful charley-horse, which handicapped his fielding, led the Yankees at bat. The Yankee clipper poled his 39th homer of the season in the fourth inning and drove in what proved to be the winning runs when he singled with the bases loaded in the eighth inning. The three runs batted in boosted his total for the season to 148.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 20. (INS)—The Cleveland Indians held second place in the wild American league pennant run, half a game back of Boston, by stopping the Philadelphia Athletics tonight 6 to 3 for their sixth straight victory.

In winning tonight the Indians were outhit, 14 to 11, but got off to a four-run lead and held the Athletics safe after the A's had scored three times to chase Tribe starter Gene Bearden in the seventh inning. Russ Christopher came on to protect Bearden's 16th triumph.

The Indians' 13th success in their last 15 games was led by Joe Gordon, who had three hits, including his 29th home run, and three runs batted in. The Cleveland infield helped with five double plays.

The Oilers fielded a patchwork lineup tonight. The regular third baseman and first baseman are out with broken foot bones.

Porky Oliver Defeats Cary Middlecoff For Golf Crown

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 20. (AP)—The man mountain from Seattle, ed (Porky) Oliver, jammed down an eagle three to win the Tacoma open golf championship today on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff against Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn.

Middlecoff had a birdie four on the hole. His approach shot had left him 12 feet away, while Oliver was only four feet from the cup after his second blast on the 480-yard no-1 hole at Firtcrest.

The two had tied at 69 in an 18-hole playoff round with three other golfers — unofficially the first time in history there has been a five-way tie in a major tournament.

Oliver won $2150 top money in the $12,500 open, plus a 50-percent cut in today's gate. A gallery of around 1500 followed the match.

Braves Lead By Five And One-Half

Dodgers Clip Cubs; Phils Drop Pirates

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (INS)—Brooklyn advanced to within 5½ games of the idle Boston Braves in the National league race today by defeating the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 2.

The Dodgers scored four runs in the first inning and knocked Hank Borowy out of the box, but could not tally off his successor, Cliff Chambers.

The big rally was featured by doubles by Peewee Reese and Gene Hermanski, Hermanski's steal of home, and a triple by Gil Hodges.

Preacher Roe went the route for Brooklyn and held the Cubs to eight hits.

The victory enabled the Dodgers to break a tie with the St. Louis Cardinals and take sole possession of second place.

Junior College Grid Tilts Are Scheduled

(By The Associated Press)

Title play begins this week in the Southwestern Junior college conference with John Tarleton meeting the defending champion Tyler Apaches at Tyler Thursday night.

Tyler opened the season last week by losing an intersectional game to Little Rock Junior college 14-7 while Tarleton was beating Clifton college of the Texas Junior college conference 13-0.

In other games this week Lamar of Beaumont plays Del Mar college at Corpus Christi Wednesday; Paris entertains Weatherford, Schreiner engages Victoria Junior college at Victoria and North Texas Agricultural college takes on North Texas State freshmen at Arlington Thursday; San Angelo battles the Hardin-Simmons freshmen at San Angelo Friday and Kilgore journeys to Shreveport Saturday to play Barksdale Air Force.

Five members of the conference won their games last week. They were John Tarleton; Paris, which downed Panola college of Carthage 13-7; San Angelo, which licked Hillsboro 25-0; Kilgore, which won over Ranger college 34-14, and Lamar, which whammed Brownsville Junior college 25-7.

Schreiner lost to Southwest Texas Junior college 12-0. The North Texas Aggies didn't play.

The standings to date:

Westerners Seek Revenge Friday

Lubbock High's unpredictable Westerners, who showed an improved offense and a leaky defense in absorbing a 21-13 loss to the San Angelo Bobcats last weekend, will be out for revenge when they tangle with the powerful North Side Steers at Fort Worth Friday night.

The North Side crew handed the hapless 1947 Westerner eleven a 46-7 drubbing in their encounter here last fall, behind the touchdown sprints of Bill Bumgarner and the passing of Darrow Hooper. Bumgarner has departed from the Steer roster, but Hooper and several of the other North Side gridders who participated in that tilt are the sparkplugs of the Fort Worth team this season.

Hooper Leads Steers

Hooper, a brawny 200-pounder who set a new schoolboy record in the shot put this spring, holds down the quarterback slot on the Steers, T-formation and single wing attack. He is aided in the secondary by a pair of fleet backs who top 190 pounds, and by a giant forward wall that is toughest deep in its own territory.

The North Side eleven defeated Tyler, 12-0, in the opening tussle, but took a two-touchdown loss to improving Odessa last week. The Odessans were aided by playing on their home gridiron and by the improved physical condition of the entire squad.

Several of the Westerners who will see action Friday night were on the '47 Lubbock squad which took the drubbing from North Side. Wingback Donald Decker played against the Steers last fall, as did Tackle Jack Bryant, Back Charley Williams and End Jim Wilson. The other boys were Cowhand gridders at that time, but most of them watched the tilt from the stands.

Westerners In Scrimmage

Coach Pat Pattison sent the Hub city schoolboys through a rugged scrimmage session Monday afternoon at Chapman field in an effort to polish both the Westerner defense and offense. Most of the gridders who started against San Angelo put in a lengthy period on the defensive lineup before being shifted to the offensive team. All phases of play, running, passing, blocking and tackling, received attention from the Westerner mentors.

Pattison indicated that another rough scrimmage will probably be ordered this afternoon, with the defense receiving the most emphasis.

DOUBLE CATCH

MINERAL WELLS, Sept. 20. (UP)—Fishermen around here today still talked of the catch made by George Bennett. It was a 52-pound catfish, and inside the big fish was a six-pound catfish, alive. The larger fish apparently had swallowed the smaller one shortly before striking for Bennett's trot line.

ROCKY TO FIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (INS)—Ex-titlist Rocky Graziano signed a contract today for a ten-round middleweight bout with Fred Apostoli at Oakland, Cal., on Nov. 17.

Baseball Playoffs

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 20 (AP) Southpaw Tommy Finger set the Sherman-Denison Twins down with five hits tonight as the Wichita Falls Spudders took a 5-0 decision in the Big State league championship series.

The victory cut Sherman-Denison's margin in the series to three games to two.

Four fast double plays by the Spudder infield helped Finger win. The fourth twin killing came in the ninth inning after two Twin batters had walked.

Manager Marc Carrolla, honored with an appreciation night, opened the Spudders' scoring in the third inning with a home run off Pete Mayor.

KILGORE, Sept. 21 (AP)—Fred Baczewski held Longview to six hits here tonight and his Kilgore mates banged out 14 to take a 11-0 victory in the Lone Star league's championship playoff series.

The victory gave Kilgore a two game to none advantage.

The teams move to Longview tomorrow night for the third game of the series.

Oscar Engle started Kilgore off in the first inning with a two-run homer. The Drillers built up the margin by scoring in almost every inning.

VERNON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Vernon Dusters went ahead of Midland in the Longhorn league championship series tonight, three games to two, on a 7-5 victory.

Both Midland and Vernon had big innings. Vernon collected four runs in the fifth off three hits and two walks and Vernon got three in the seventh on three hits.

The Dusters scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh with three hits, but added another tally for good measure in the eighth off of two blows.

The teams play the sixth game of the series tomorrow night in Midland.

Meet Enters Third Round

Second round matches in the annual President's Cup golf tournament were completed Sunday at Lubbock Country club, Pro Herb Schroeder has reported, with most of the favorites advancing into the third meet bracket.

Chick Trout, sr., chalked up a 3 and 2 victory over H. H. Holmes in a feature setto, while K. N. Claop ousted Kay Bradshaw, 2 and 1, in another spotlight match.

Hill Beats Stone

In other matches Culver Hill edged Jack Stone, 3 and 2; Olan Stewart dropped Guy Brown, 2 and 1; John Kattmann shaded Walter Gramberry, one-up; J. L. Haymes took a decision over George Soash, one-up in 21 holes; Dr. M. D. Watkins defeated Dick Green, 2 and 1; C. E. Fish took a default win from Dr. R. Z. Abell; and John Raley coasted to a 6 and 5 triumph over Wilkie Talbert.

B. E. Adair clipped Charles Whitacre, one-up; J. A. Raley, jr., bested M. R. Tripp, one-up; E. H. Armstrong ousted Henry Fidson, 3 and 1; Hugh Anderson took a narrow one-up overtime win over Alvin Allison; Mark Banks gained a default from Dr. P. K. Palmer; George Carter defeated Jake Warnick, 4 and 2; and Bruce Kattmann eliminated L. G. Raney, one-up.

Third round matches must be played not later than Sunday, Schroeder announced.

The women of the Lubbock Country club will begin a women's handicap tournament Wednesday, with qualifying rounds to be fired Wednesday through Monday.

After the qualifying rounds have been finished, match play will be fired on Wednesdays only, Ladies Day at the club. Anyone interested in entering the tournament is requested to contact Mrs. Billie Soash, chairman of the tournament.

Sluggers Nose Out Eagle Nine, 11-10

The Commonwealth Sluggers nosed out the Civic Club Eagles 11-10 last night at Rosenthal field in a charity game that realized $332.90 clear for the colored nursery here.

George Woods, chairman of the nursery, expressed his appreciation to both white and colored merchants and supporters for their contributions. Although both the Commonwealth and Civic clubs sponsor the nursery, he said that it would not have been possible without the support of both white and colored persons.

As for the ball game, both sides agreed to call it a game after six innings. The Eagles got off to a four-run jump in the top of the first, then lost the lead in the bottom half of the frame when five Commonwealth runners scored. And after that the Commonwealth club took a definite lead on two big innings, fighting off a late Eagle rally.

John Granville, a member of the Black Hubbers, caught for both teams, but did not bat for either side.

The line score:

EAGLES	410 401—10
SLUGGERS	523 02x—11

King, Shields, Evans (wp), Moore and Granville; Scruggs, Mitchell, Robinson, Hood (lp) and Granville.

Jackie Neel Pitches Houston To Win In Portland Tourney

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 20. (INS)—The Phoenix, Ariz., Ramblers won their third women's worlds softball chompionship tonight by defeating the Lind and Pomeroy Florists of Portland, 3 to 0.

Houston, Tex., won its second straight game and handed Seattle its first setback tonight, 4 to 0.

Two Seattle fielding bobbles helped the Houston cause.

A scheduled game between Detroit and Memphis, Tenn., was postponed until Tuesday because an earlier contest between Marion, Ind., and Beth Page, L. I., went 13 innings, running the time schedule too late.

SMU Coaches Stress Defense; Owls Are Hurt

DALLAS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Southern Methodist university coaches concentrated on building a stout defense today as they entered the final week of practice before Saturday's season-opener with the Panthers at Pittsburgh, Pa.

While assistant coaches Rusty Russell and McAdoo Keaton drilled two groups on offensive plays, Head Coach Matty Bell directed the first string in a dummy scrimmage against Pitt plays that were run by the T team of ineligibles. The latter were equipped with Panther tactics by assistant Coach Red McClain, who scouted the easterners in their final game last season.

Later, the Russell and Keaton groups came in for their share of defensive polishing.

OWL PLAYERS HURT

HOUSTON Sept. 20 (AP)—Injuries continued to plague the Rice Owls today as they began final preparations for Saturday's season-opener against Sam Houston State.

Coach Jess Neely still is hopeful all but one of the injured players will be ready to compete Saturday night.

Neely, who called off a full-game scrimmage last week because of the injuries indicated Tackle Woodrow Wilson, who missed spring training because of an apnendicitis operation, may be out all season with a knee injury.

BEARS TAPER OFF

WACO, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Baylor Bears started to taper off in workouts today.

Coach Bob Woodruff expected to have his squad at near top physical strength for Saturday's game here with Tulsa.

There are no serious injuries on the Baylor squad.

STOUT IS INJURED

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20 (AP)—Capt. Pete Stout, the line-blasting fullback, was on the sidelines here this afternoon as the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs started work for Saturday's engagement with Oklahoma A. & M.

The big fellow suffered an injured neck in the 14-13 Kansas victory. The injury isn't serious and he should be ready by weekend. Otherwise the Frogs were in good shape.

Coach Dutch Meyer spent most of the afternoon on downfield blocking and conditioning drills.

TULSANS IN DRILL

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 20 (AP)—The University of Tulsa's football squad opened its final week of practice before the season's opener with Baylor university at Waco Saturday night by working against the Texans' plays.

Freshmen using the Bears' formations found rough going as the varsity veterans who played in the 7-6 loss to Baylor last season slammed eagerly into the frosh attack.

Tony Zale, Marcel Cerdan Meet In Title Go Tonight

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP)—The biggest fight week the East has seen since the Civil War draft riots opened today with two rival promoters issuing verbal broadsides every hour on the hour.

The Tournament of Champions, lusty newcomer to the promotional field, declared that fully $300,000 worth of clients would witness its middleweight title fight tomorrow night at Jersey City between Tony Zale of Gary, Ind., and Marcel Cerdan, the French Moroccan.

From Mike Jacobs' old firm, the 20th Century Sporting club, came a counter-blast to the effect that its Thursday night punch fiesta at Yankee stadium, starring two (count 'em — two) champions, would make boxing history.

The T. of C. announced breathlessly that Zale and Cerdan, both beautifully conditioned, would weigh in at noon tomorrow at the Jersey Gardens in Jersey City, and that Zale was confident of knocking gold-toothed Marcel kicking within seven rounds.

A voice from the 20th Century pointed out that Ike Williams, the lightweight champion, will become the first 135-pound king ever to defend his crown three straight times within four months when he faces Jesse Flores of Stockton, Calif., on Thursday night.

Also, the voice insisted that welterweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, who tackles Kid Gavilan of Cuba in the second half of the stadium twin bill—a non-title go incidentally—could murder both Zale and Cerdan on the same night, given a short rest period.

There are characters around town who will never believe that Gus Lesnevich was not tripped by one of Mike Jacob's agents when he broke his little toe last week and withdrew from his bout with Jersey Joe Walcott, which was to have co-featured the Jersey City card.

The 20th Century spokesman made no secret of the fact that Thursday night's show is being put on just for the hell of it, with no real expectation of a profit.

Big State League Attendance In 1948 Near 800,000 Mark

DALLAS, Sept. 20. (AP)—The Big State league drew more than three-quarters of a million fans during the 1948 season, President J. Walter Morris announced today.

The eight clubs drew 784,569 paid attendance, which was 16,317 short of last year. Three of them went over 100,000.

Austin led with 163,666, with Wichita Falls second with 130,138. The other club drawing over 100,000 was Sherman-Denison with 117,446. Other attendance figures: Waco 82,762; Gainesville 80,479; Paris 72,636; Texarkana 70,506; Greenville 67,334.

Texans Score Victories In National Skeet Tournament

LAS VEGAS, Nev. Sept. 20. (AP)—Pete Read, San Angelo, took the champion of champions title at the National Skeet tournament today, edging out Ben Di Iorio, Utica, N. Y.

Both were tied with perfect 100s, and Read finally won out 225-224. Jerry Batten, Chicago, was third.

George Glass jr., Midland, took the National Junior title with a perfect 100 and Charles Parker Prentiss, Fabens, Texas, made it a virtual sweep for the state with a 96 out of 100 win in the sub-junior competition.

Marshall Goldberg Reports He Will Play For Cardinal Team

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (INS)—"Mad Marshall" Goldberg, former University of Pittsburgh All-American who recently "retired" after seven years in the National Football league, decided tonight to play again this season with the champion Chicago Cardinals.

Goldberg, formerly one of the greatest climax runners and recently among the finest defensive backs in football, said he will play in all of the Cards' games, both home and away.

The announcement was received with great joy in the camp of the Cardinals, who open the defense of their N.F.L. title by playing Philadelphia at Comiskey park in Chicago this Friday night.

Cause for Goldberg's original retirement plans was the need for his full-time activity in his machinery business.

These razor-sharp blades rapidly rotating and riding the sidewalls of the line, cut away all roots, grease, scale and other debris in the pipe, leaving the sewer or drain as clean as the day it was installed. It is unnecessary to tear out or dig up pipes when Roto-Rooter is used, thereby saving much time, inconvenience and needless expense.

What a football season! Every Friday night there are a half-dozen major upsets in the schoolboy grid ranks, and at least another 10 or 12 bordering on the "upset" classification. At the present time, following three amazing weekends, about all the "experts" are saying is a cautious, "well, they're playing!" Just as an example of the tangled state of affairs, Lubbock and Odessa tied in their initial encounter. Then last week Odessa beat a highly-rated North Side, Fort Worth, eleven by two touchdowns, while Lubbock was losing to an under-rated San Angelo team, 21-13. Just to make things really interesting, the unheralded Wichita Falls Coyotes knocked off powerful Denison and Brownwood toppled Kerrville, ranked as the No. 2 team in the state.

We have talked to some South Plains grid mentors, as well as to downstate scribes, and they all agree that the first half of this season will continue to reveal such surprises and upsets. Most of the schools are playing relatively inexperienced gridders, and the green youngsters just can't be depended on for steady week-to-week performances. But about mid-season the teams will have picked up enough game time to settle down and play each game at their physical ability level. Then life will get much easier for the "experts" and coaches.

It is apparent now that the Amarillo Golden Sandies will again be the team to beat in District 1-AA. The Sandies uncorked a brilliant offense to trample the Childress Bobcats, 39-7, last week, and persons who saw the tilt say the Sandies really looked great. Not since the Amarilloans roared to a state championship in 1940 have the Sandies showed so much speed and power. Pampa has earned the runner-up spot in the district selection by turning in two consecutive triumphs. The big Harvesters upset North Dallas in their initial setto, then pounded Graham of 2-AA last week. Some years past District 1-AA was known over the state as the "district of champions." It looks as if the loop may regain that status this year.

Hard as it may be to believe, the north half District 4-A grid champion could possibly be determined Friday night. Not that the winner of the Levelland-Sundown setto will have a clear path to the title, but in the torrid race that is developing a single win or loss may prove the margin of victory or defeat over the season. The season is barely underway, yet here is one of the top tilts of the year. They'll have standing room only at kickoff time, we'll wager.

The Southwest conference teams swing into action Saturday, following opening tussles by Texas Christian, Texas Aggies, Texas university and Arkansas last week, and the eyes of the nation will be on Southern Methodist's mighty Mustangs when they battle the Pitt Panthers. The Mustangs will be favored to hand the Panthers a drubbing, since Pitt is no longer the grid power that it was in the '30s, but fans will be watching to see if the Ponies have as good a ball club as they have been rated. If the Mustangs look impressive against Pitt, especially through the forward wall, a lot of the Monday morning quarterbacks will boost the Dallas eleven for another Southwest crown.

A. B. Holton Winner Of Publinx Tourney

A. B. Holton won the first golf tournament of his life Sunday, copping the annual Meadowbrook Publinx golf title from Pete Felton with a 3 and 2 victory in 18 holes.

At the same time, champions were crowned in the other three flights. Huston Trammell won from Lonnie Felton in the first flight, 2 and 1; Jim Black defeated Monroe DeBusk in the second flight 3 and 2; and Ronald Canaday edged Sloan Fortenberry in the third flight, 2 and 1.

All matches were close over the 18-hole course, with Black turning in the hardest job. He was two down going into the final nine holes, but rallied to par the back stretch and come out on top.

Prizes for each of the finalists are available and can be secured from Paul Jones, golf pro, at the Meadowbrook club.

Schoolboy Teams Face Tough Foes

(By The United Press)

The going begins to get a bit rougher in spots for some of the state's better schoolboy football teams this week with one conference game marking a star-studded schedule of 56 games involving Class AA and City conference teams.

The lone title go will find Lanier and Alamo Heights meeting in the San Antonio City conference district Friday night.

With Port Arthur, Brownwood, Odessa, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Waco, and Highland Park looming as the top Class AA teams, only San Antonio Brackenridge stood out above the field in the City conference.

Port Aruthr takes on Houston San Jacinto, a team that upset well-regarded Fort Worth Poly 20-6, in search of its third straight victory after downing New Orleans Fortier High 24-0 last week.

Brownwood, which pulled the upset of the week in thumping Kerrville 12-0, runs into a surprise Sweetwater eleven that may prove tough.

Odessa, which bounced back from a 7-7 tie with Lubbock to knock off Fort Worth North Side 20-7, should have little trouble with El Paso High, downed by Fort Worth Arlington Heights 31-2.

Amarillo, 39-6 victor over Childress, will have a chance to compare itself with the top City conference team, Brackenridge, when it travels to Abilene. Abilene lost to the San Antonio team 26-7.

Wichita Falls, which outscored a good Denison team 26-13, takes on Breckenridge, which beat Fort Worth Paschal 6-0.

Waco, who tripped Austin 27-14, meets weak Bryan, while Highland Park meets Paschal.

Brackenridge will get another good test against Corpus Christi, which has beaten Waxahachie and North Dallas.

Battered Texas Aggies Drill For Tussle With Red Raiders

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 20. (AP)—The Texas A. and M. Aggies, battered and bruised as a result of their opening game in Philadelphia against powerful Villanova, started preparing today for next Saturday's engagement with Texas Tech in San Antonio.

Backs Ralph Daniel and Preston Smith and Tackles Jim Flowers and Dwayne Tucker were unable to practice because of injuries.

Head Coach Harry Stiteler said he doubted whether any one of the four injured players would see action against the Red Raiders.

The Aggies will work on defenses against Tech tomorrow.

TOP LINEMAN—Bob Rooker, (above), Lubbock Westerner end, was named as one of the 22 outstanding schoolboy gridders in the state in the weekly poll of Texas sports writers by the Dallas News. Rooker, a 172-pound senior gained the honor through his stellar performance against the San Angelo Bobcats last Friday night at Jones stadium.

Jack Graham Is Named As 'Most Valuable' Player In Coast Loop

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20. (INS)—Jack Graham, who seemed like a sure bet to set a new Pacific Coast league home run record before he was felled by a bean ball, today was named the circuit's most valuable player for 1948.

Graham, playing for San Diego his first year in the league, had belted out 46 home runs when Red Adams of Los Angeles hit him with a pitched ball on July 25.

At the time of the accident, Graham had 65 games remaining. His mark of 46 homers was only 14 shy of the Coast league record established by the late Tony Lazzeri of Salt Lake City in 1925.

Now back in action, Graham is hitting at a .308 clip.

AGGIE LINE SAID BIG, TOUGH

Raiders Open Drills For Clash Against Aggies Saturday Night

The game against the Buffaloes of Canyon a thing of the past, squad members of the Texas Tech football team got back to serious gridiron work Monday afternoon and still more serious work was on schedule for today.

Coach Dell Morgan, far from unhappy over the showing of his charges Saturday night, wasted few words on that game. There were a good many mistakes, mistakes that any ball club will make in its first game, but the general result was good. The backs were fast, elusive and hard-running, while the line played fine defensive ball. Pass defense wasn't the best and line blocking needs brushing up, but the performance wasn't bad for the first game of the year.

Two things in Saturday's game stood out; protection for the Tech passer and the rushing of the Buffs' passer. Ernest Hawkins was trapped twice behind the line on intended passes, but merely because he couldn't get the ball off. And Cloyce Box was rushed badly on virtually every attempt for the Buffs.

Yesterday these things were praised, while work began immediately for the Saturday night game against Texas A. and M. at San Antonio. The freshmen, barely in college long enough to get suits and have a few days of practice, immediately were sent against the varsity in Aggie formation. Dummy plays were run and the Red Raiders drilled on what to expect from a big, rough Aggie line.

Particular attention was paid to end sweeps, with the coaching staff throwing up a defense against one of the Aggies' more potent offensive weapons. At the same time, Tech ends were given a little extra drill. The game here Saturday showed that they needed more attention and they got it yesterday.

Tech gridders also were given a taste of pass defense, as well as pass offense. Both Tech and the Aggies appeared weak against aerial thrusts, while neither showed punch in that department.

The Raiders came through the Buffalo game in good physical condition, with no major injuries. Center Bobby Williams has a charleyhorse, but that is expected to clear up in a day or two.

Coaches Tipp Mooney and Polk Robison returned Sunday from the Villanova-Aggie game in Philadelphia, Pa., with a word of warning. They agreed that the Aggie line was big and tough and that there were two or three fine backs. Although Villanova racked up a 34-14 victory, the Aggies held them to a tie in the first half, weakening in the second. Both coaches said that the Aggies had a powerful team and would be tough to beat.

Today the Raider squad probably will be sent through a scrimmage session, with emphasis on defense against Aggie plays, as well as offensive work designed to score more often.

HOUSTON NINE WINS

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 20. (U.P.) —Four men's softball teams moved into second-round contests of the American Softball association's championship tournament today after opening game victories. Houston opened the tournament yesterday with a whitewash win from Stratford, Conn., 4 to 0.

Tom Tatum, ex-Brooklyn Dodger dealt to Cincinnati, is hitting hard for Tulsa in the Texas League.

Loboes To Test Colorado U.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 20. (Special) — Coach Berl Huffman's University of New Mexico football team, untried so far, swings into action Saturday against Colorado university away from home.

Coach Huffman has been spending time for the last few days on defensive work, which he terms "not very encouraging" to date. The line is big and alert, but pass defense has left much to be desired. For that reason, the Lobo head coach states that his offensive game will suffer another day or two in an effort to plug the defensive holes.

One of the brighter spots in the rehearsals during the past few days had been the improved punting of Quarterback Jerry McKown. He is consistently getting off boots that average about 50 yards and have altitude to allow his ends to get down the field before the return. McKnown promises to be a triple threat back in every sense of the word this season and should do much to provide variety to the Lobo attack.

Lone Star Gridders Will Open Conference Play This Weekend

(By The Associated Press)

They begin playing for keeps this week in the Lone Star conference.

Trinity, one of the top-rated teams, meets Southwest Texas State at San Antonio Friday night in the opening conference battle.

Other members of the conference continue their campaign against teams of other circuits all playing Saturday. Two of them take on Southwest conference foes —Sam Houston helping Rice open the season at Houston and East Texas State going to Fayetteville to meet the powerful Arkansas Razorbacks.

SOUND BANKING IS VITAL IN BUSINESS LEADERSHIP

Obstacles of every kind—inches or miles—have never retarded American leadership.

In 1900 it was held that the construction of the Panama Canal was impossible, yet American leadership in engineering cut through 50 miles of Panamanian jungles.

This leadership extends to our youths. In 1927 some observers said the world's pole vault record, 13 feet 11 inches, could not be broken. Today American youth has raised this record more than 20 inches.

Overcoming the challenge of tough obstacles in business is one reason why the power of sound banking is so vital in business leadership.

men. He contends such a force would have "saved many lives, particularly in Indonesia and Palestine." Lie first made the proposal last summer at Harvard. Bernadotte's assassination spurred him on.

Vishinsky Is "Optimist"

Secretary of State George C. Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declined to make statements on their arrival today. Vishinsky told the Associated Press:

"I hope this conference will strengthen the peace. Personally I am an optimist. I have never been a pessimist."

Bernadotte's report to the assembly calls for changes in the boundaries of the United Nations partition plan adopted last Nov. 29. He proposed that the Negeb, the southern Palestine desert where Jewish colonies struggled against sand and drought, should be given to the Arabs and the Jews should in turn receive all of Galilee instead of only the eastern part.

Other Proposals Made

Other recommendations included:

1—Internationalization of Jerusalem by placing it under United Nations control.

2—Making Jewish Haifa a free port and establishing Lydda airport as a free field.

3—Establishment of a technical boundaries commission to delimit the new frontiers.

4—Creation of a Palestine conciliation commission to deal with any population exchanges and supervise other parts of United Nations decisions.

5—Settlement of the problem of 360,000 Arab refugees by giving them the right to return to their homes in Jewish territory or receive compensation if they chose not to.

Bernadotte's report brought little open comment from Arabs or Jews. An Israeli spokesman said "no doubt the government of Israel will have an opportunity of expressing its views before the appropriate United Nations committee."

One Arab delegation said: "It still sets up a Jewish state which we vigorously oppose. It only changes the territory involved."

A British spokesman said his delegation regarded the count's proposals as being "basically very sound."

SOVIET OFFICIALS QUASH SENTENCES FOR YOUTHS

BERLIN, Sept. 20. (INS)—The Sovet news bureau announced tonight that the Russian military prosecutor has quashed the 25-year prison sentences meted out to five Berlin youths for participating in the recent anti-Soviet riot.

The action came after Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, Soviet commandant in Berlin, presented a brief stating that the harsh sentences did not take into account the "incitement" by west Berlin officials.

Kotikov claimed that the youths were provoked into anti-Soviet stonings by speeches made by Deputy Mayor Ferdinand Friedensburg, Otto Suhr, president of the anti-Communist Berlin assembly, and other city officials.

The quashing of the sentences, which had been bitterly condemned by Germans and western military government officials, did not clarify the point whether the youths will be retried or resentenced.

The move brought speculation that the Russian had acted to overcome the violent anti-Soviet feeling aroused by the original sentences in the minds of the Germans.

Before the action was announced, West German newspapers renewed speculation that the Russians would hold the youths as "hostages" for Friedensburg and the other anti-Communist officials, whose extradition the Soviets were expected to seek.

vehicle into contact with the right side of the truck.

The car came to rest on the east side of Ave. A, about 60 or 70 feet north of the intersection, and the truck halted on the same side of Ave. A further north. Considerable damage was done to the passenger auto. Mr. and Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Adams were on their way to California, they told officers.

A burglary, purse snatching and theft of clothing were reported to city police Monday.

A lady's white gold watch and $45 in cash were taken from a residence at 2712 Twenty-second street sometime Sunday night, believed to have occurred while the family was roasting weiners in the back yard.

Purse Snatching Reported

Mattie Bell Allen, a negro woman of 2111 Broadway, told police that two small boys, about nine years of age, snatched her purse containing $25. The incident, reports showed, happened at Broadway and Ave. O.

Willie Wright of Trailer Town said that three or four pair of khaki trousers, seven or eight work shirts, an alarm clock and a hand bag were taken from his residence.

One minor burglary, a fight in which a woman was injured and taken to the hospital, arrest of a drunk and seizure of 21 pints of bonded whiskey, and the jailing of nearly a dozen on charges of drunkenness, gave police a fairly busy weekend here.

The burglary was reported by E. D. Brackett, 2401 Twenty-first, who said a man unhooked a screen door and entered the house, taking $5 in cash from a woman's bedroom. No one was injured and no arrests had been reported.

The woman reported injured in the fight was taken to the hospital from 1510 Ave. F. She was reported not seriously hurt. One man was arrested on the property on a drunkenness charge, and another was taken into custody a short time later in connection with the investigation.

In connection with seizure of the 21 pints of whiskey one man "who was so drunk he could hardly talk" was found in the front seat of an automobile. The liquor was found on the floor of the back seat, part of it wrapped three or more pints to a package in heavy brown paper, and several bottles loose. The report showed also the finding of one empty pint bottle, and one empty bottle.

A Floydada man entered a plea of guilty in city court to a charge of breaking glass on the street, and paid a $15 fine. The record showed he had thrown a bottle from a car.

Two reported thefts from parked cars were under investigation of police last night.

W. E. Painter, Abilene salesman, told police that a leather brief case, leather sample case and contents, total value about $50, had been taken from his car parked in 1000-block of Main street.

A flashlight and a pair of field glasses, with a combined value of $12, were reported stolen from the car of J. W. Perkins, jr., while the vehicle was parked in 1800-block of Ave. H.

Hearing Opens Today

Worth last week, was served today with copies of the restraining order on both the original and enlarged petitions filed in the U. S. senatorial election contest case in federal district court.

Coke R. Stevenson is seeking to prevent the name of Lyndon B. Johnson, certified by the Democratic convention, from being on the general election ticket as the U. S. senatorial Democratic nominee.

A hearing is slated before Judge T. Whitfield Davidson in Fort Worth at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Tyson was served by U. S. Marshall, J. R. (Red) Wright of the northern district of Texas in the attorney's office at 3:53 p. m.

Tyson said he would notify his attorney, Raymond E. Buck of Fort Worth, of being served. He does not plan to attend the hearing.

MORE PETITIONS ARE CIRCULATED IN JIM WELLS

ALICE, Sept. 20. (AP)— C. W. Price, Jr., Alice oilman, and an independent group of Alice citizens continued to circulate petitions today calling for an investigation of voting in Jim Wells county.

More than 100 petitions were taken out into the county this afternoon. Price could not estimate the number of signatures so far obtained because he said reports had not come in from those who are handling them.

Price, Harry Lee Adams, chairman of the Jim Wells Democratic executive committee, and H. L. Poole, secretary of the committee, left by plane at noon today for Fort Worth.

They were summoned by attorneys for Coke Stevenson to testify in his fight for a temporary injunction restraining the secretary of state from printing Lyndon Johnson's name on the November ballot as Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate. They took with them evidence which they said proves fraud in the tabulation of votes in Precinct 13 in Alice in the Aug. 28 election.

Savage Storm Nearing Miami

through the keys and the Miami weather bureau reported in a 9:30 p. m. (CST) bulletin that the full force of the storm would strike the southern tip of Florida around midnight, passing near Miami around 8 a. m. (CST) today.

Red and black hurricane-warning flags fluttered along boat docks from Melbourne southward through the keys on the Atlantic coast and were hoisted as far north as Fort Myers on the gulf shore.

Northeast storm warnings flew from Melbourne to Daytona Beach and from Fort Myers to Tarpon Springs.

The American Red Cross mobilized an army of disaster workers and threw open 53 pre-designated storm shelters in Miami.

Vessels Flee Storm

Twenty-three naval vessels put out from Key West Monday afternoon to seek safety in the calmer waters of the gulf.

In Miami and Key West, cautious residents boarded up their stores and latched storm shutters on their homes. Small craft were taken to comparatively safe waters up the Miami river.

National, Delta and Eastern Air lines cancelled their flights into and out of Miami beginning at 11 p. m.

The SS Florida, which was scheduled to sail last night for Havana, remained at dock in Miami.

Pan American airways cancelled all flights in and out of Miami, temporarily halting its vast Latin American operations from this point. Twelve big PAA clippers were flown to Tampa for safekeeping.

The weather bureau warned of heavy rains and high tides that will accompany the tempest on its run across the Florida keys.

Bus service between Key West and Miami was cancelled.

Miami's public schools, most of which are used as storm shelters, were ordered closed. There will be no classes today.

The American Legion ordered its members to remain in their homes and await calls for relief work.

The hurricane roared out of the turbulent Caribbean Monday and churned over the Cuban mainland at a 12-mile-an-hour forward clip.

In its wake it left a 9,000-ton British vessel, the Lochmonar, grounded on a reef south of Cuba and battered by terrific winds.

A tugboat from Jamaica stood by to begin rescue operations as soon as the winds and high seas subside. Seventy-three persons are aboard the ship.

Moscow Talks End

ministers have a chance to talk with their Moscow envoys.

U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith and British special envoy Frank Roberts have announced plans to leave Moscow tomorrow for Paris. The French spokesman said French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau also would come.

Dulles Attends Session

Marshall was accompanied to the first session by John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign policy leader and a delegate to the Assembly; Lewis Douglas, American ambassador to London who has been directing much of the field work in the Moscow negotiations; Charles E. Bohlen, State Department adviser on Russian affairs; and Jefferson Caffery, ambassador to France.

The western envoys were understood to have asked Molotov last week to reinstruct Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky as to the terms of an agreed broad directive for a Berlin settlement. The directive has been referred to the four military governors to be translated into a detailed understanding.

The western envoys were said to have told Molotov that Sokolovsky had departed greatly from those terms. Authoritative sources here said Molotov did not say yes and did not say no when he saw the envoys Saturday.

One official said the western envoys were left with the impression that they were being strung along.

The western powers were reported further to feel that the talks had degenerated into an exchange of tactics and maneuvers. The Paris consultations were said to have arisen specifically out of the "unsatisfactory and inconclusive" nature of the Moscow proceedings.

The American UN delegation was reported determined to raise the Berlin issue on the floor of the Assembly or in the Security Council.

Israeli Government Outlaws Jewish Terror Organizations

TEL AVIV, Sept. 20. (INS)—Israel outlawed Jewish terrorist organizations tonight and authorized stiff prison terms up to 20 years for convicted members.

A reliable source said the Stern group, chief target of a series of emergency regulations designed to wipe out extremist activities, soon will announce its own liquidation.

The new regulations, in addition to setting up a drastic prison sentence program, provide also for the forfeiting of property of outlawed groups. This provision will apply even if the property was acquired before publication of the regulations.

Milk Price Boost

essary for them to meet the increased price paid for bulk milk.

Such a move, they said, would in turn force them sooner or later to increase the price to consumers.

One major distributor said the price to producers probably would be raised immediately to the $6.65 cwt., because the milk supply is already short and in most instances the producer would sell where he can get the highest price.

This source believed, however, that "any price increase now is badly timed," because "there is a point beyond which the housewife cannot go in purchases of food products."

Milk Shipped To City

Another distributor issued a similar statement, saying his firm probably will meet the price to producers, but he would make no commitment on possible action on retail price increases.

It had been pointed out Saturday in a survey among a majority of the distributors that a shortage of milk now existed over the South Plains and particularly in Lubbock. One major distributor is shipping in milk from Wisconsin, it was said. The costs of such operations readily can be seen, it was pointed out.

Depletion of milk cattle herds throughout the United States and particularly in this section has been cited as a major factor in the shortage.

Dewey Makes Pledge

Republican leaders have been working against the interest of the people."

New Officials Pledged

Dewey's language was relatively restrained when he talked about who's to blame for what. He said some of the unhappy conditions are the result of uncontrollable circumstances, that only part are politically inspired, but:

"Any fair-minded person would agree that others are merely the result of the administration's lack of judgment, or of faith in our people."

Dewey said he would bring into the government "men and women who really understand the nature of the threat to peace and who have the vigor, the knowledge and the experience required to wage peace successfully."

"I pledge to you a government of team work," he continued. "The executive heads of your government will be really qualified for their positions and they will be given full responsibility to do their jobs without loose talk. . . .

HST Given Rousing Welcome

"I pledge to you an administration which will know how to work with the elected representatives of the people in the Congress."

Dewey's talk of teamwork in government was highlighted by his reference to Gov. Earl Warren of California, his running mate, as "one of the most important members of that team."

Warren, who was in Oklahoma yesterday, is conducting an unusual type of campaign for the vice-presidency. It is hinged on non-oratorical speeches and such departures from tradition as saying "there are good Americans in both parties."

A rousing western welcome was given President Truman at Denver, with street crowds cheering, whistling and waving as he rode through.

Both Mr. Truman and Gov. Dewey, on their campaign travels, are giving and getting especial attention from Demo and GOP candidates facing election to office this fall.

Has Chance To Win

Gov. Lee Knous and Senator Edwin C. Johnson, Colorado Democrats, told the President he has "a fighting chance" to carry Colorado this year.

They told him that Democratic hopes can be pinned to "uneasiness" among the farmers as to what the Republicans might do about federally-guaranteed price supports for crops."

(In this connection, Dewey said at Des Moines that "we must and we will maintain support prices so our farmers can go ahead confidently with full production.")

Scores of Democratic leaders from all parts of Colorado climbed on the rear platform of Mr. Truman's special train to shake hands.

In his formal speech, the President said that if the Republicans take over "they will try to turn back the clock to the day when the West was an economic colony of Wall Street.

"We shall have to fight the slick political propaganda of the special interests and the Republican leadership," Mr. Truman told his western audience. "We shall have to fight the millions of dollars that Wall Street is pouring into the treasury of the Republican party."

"We shall have to fight the Republican undercover sabotage of the West."

Even before Governor Dewey got to Iowa, he was receiving party leaders. At Chicago, Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois and Senator C. Wayland Brooks, climbed aboard. Both are running for reelection.

While in Chicago, Gov. Dewey also received a delegation of Latin American representatives from the Inter-City Council of Commerce and Production, meeting in Chicago.

Murder Trial Delayed

leaving 100 or less from which to select the jury.

Only 155 Found Eligible

The sheriff's amended report set out that of the 200 on the original list only the 155 were eligible as jurors, the others either being in essential occupation and automatically exempt, over age, or those who had moved from the county.

Granting the defense motion for delay, Judge Pardue instructed those remaining on the jury panel to report again at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Dillard is on trial for the second time, charged by indictment with murder in connection with the fatal shooting last Nov. 1 of Garlon Weaver at a filling station toward the south end of Texas Avenue. A previous trial last April resulted in a hung jury.

The defendant, nattily dressed in a gray business suit, alternately read a newspaper and walked about the courtroom and corridors during the day's proceedings, alert to any call from his counsel but paying little attention to courtroom activities. His wife was beside him.

Lamesa C-C Meeting

his words. And he soon discarded his dinner jacket to resume his talk in his shirt sleeves.

Next 15 Years Called Critical

"The next 15 years will see western civilization made or broken," he told them. "The United States is a train going 90 miles an hour down a hill, and there is a cliff at the bottom of that hill . . . We must either start pulling together on some basic Christian and Democratic principles, or our children may not have a chance to grow up."

He developed his text from the Book of Esther, comparing the present world situation with that when Esther was persuaded to save her people.

He interspersed his remarks with such antics as when, in paying tribute to Mrs. Matt McCall, manager of the Lamesa chamber, he had the male portion of the audience rise and sing a few bars of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." On another occasion, he asked the audience to rise on tiptoes, lift their arms in the air and breathe deeply.

Many Visitors Present

He was introduced by A. B. Carpenter, president of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce. Others at the speakers' table included Gil Norris, manager of the Oklahoma City airport, who flew Dr. Alexander to Lamesa, arriving late this afternoon; Rev. Lawrence W. Bridges, pastor of the First Christian church of Lamesa; Charnell Jobe, Lamesa, director of district six of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; J. D. Williams, vice president, and Macolm Harp, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; and L. A. Wilke of Abilene, manager of the service department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Visitors from Lubbock, Midland, Seagraves, Brownfield, Hobbs, N. M., Snyder and other points were introduced. They included Cong. and Mrs. George Mahon, State Rep. and Mrs. Preston E. Smith of Lubbock, Dave Nicholson, manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce; school Supt. and Mrs. S. P. Cowan of Brownfield; James Green, manager, and Elmo Wasson, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce; Joe Clark, vice president of the Fort Worth National bank of Fort Worth; S. S. Forrest and Mrs. S. L. Forrest of Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGinty and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Ayers of Tahoka.

The chicken supper was served by directors of the Lamesa chamber.

A quartet composed of Oatus Roberts, Essie Moore, Bob Milliken and Gerald Parsons sang several numbers. Mr. Bridges asked invocation. A number of selections were performed by the Lamesa High school band.

The United States has about six per cent of the world's population and produces about 12 per cent of the world's food.

Credit Rules Return

terms for new cars have been about as tough as the new ones.

One-Third Down Payment

In general, the federal controls require a one-third down payment in cash on autos, and a one-fifth down payment on the other items to which they apply, provided the selling price is over $50.

If the balance due after the downpayment is over $1,000, it must be paid off in 18 months, with a $70 minimum monthly installment. If less, it must be paid in 15 months.

Other articles now under the controls are: Cook stoves, dishwashers, ironers, vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, washing machines, or any combination of these appliances; air conditioners, radios, television sets, phonographs, sewing machines, furniture and rugs.

Credit terms on clothing and other items still are whatever the buyer and seller agree upon.

Downpayments will be stiffer for used cars selling at premiums over the "average retail value" given in price appraisal guides.

If a buyer pays $2,400 for a car listed as $1,800 worth, the down payment will be $1,200—one third of the guide value, or $600 plus the entire premium of $600. The 1949 model cars have a temporary exemption. Terms for them will be figured strictly on their selling price—until the guides catch up with their "average retail value."

Convicted violators of the credit controls can be fined as much as $10,000 or given jail terms as high as ten years.

Saltiest of all ocean areas is the Red Sea.

House Speaker Martin Claims GOPs Will Maintain Control

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., (R-Mass) predicted today the Republicans will pick up about 20 House seats in the November elections.

Here for a brief visit before starting on a Midwestern speaking trip, Martin told newsmen:

"It's a Republican year; we'll be in firm control of both Houses."

He said he does not share Republicans' fears that the GOP may lose its present Senate slight margin. In fact, Martin added, he would not be surprised to see the party gain a Senate seat.

The Senate line-up now is 51 Republicans and 45 Democrats, with 18 Republican and 14 Democratic seats at stake in November. The GOP would have to lose four seats for the Democrats to regain control.

Wallace Gains Seen

Martin emphasized that his estimate of a 20-seat GOP House gain was only a "rough guess." He said he believes Democrats not only will lose seats to the Republicans but also may drop several to Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party.

At the start of the present Congress, Republicans held 246 seats, Democrats 188 and the American-Labor party 1. A controlling majority is 218. To lose control, Republicans would have to drop 29 seats.

From information he has received in the presidential contest Martin said, "I can't point my finger at three states outside the solid South that President Truman will carry."

He said his informants believe Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will strike into the south to carry Virginia and Tennessee, with a good chance to win in North Carolina.

Lubbock Woman Is Treated For Auto Mishap Injuries

After treatment for minor lacerations of the scalp, Mrs. Floyd Lee Petty, 16, of 3102 N. Second left St. Mary's hospital Monday morning. She was injured at 9:19 p. m. Sunday when the car in which she was riding was hit in the rear by another vehicle at First Ave. and North College.

The accident occurred when a 1929 Essex sedan being driven north on North College by Wm. Paul Smith, 29, of 1006 Ave. A, was hit by a 1935 Oldsmobile sedan driven by Floyd Duel Reed, 43, of 2718 Walnut. Damage to both vehicles was slight. No others were injured. Reed was charged with negligent collision, police said.

Socialist Power Cut By Swedish Voters

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 20. (AP)— The Social Democrats (Socialists) emerged again today as Sweden's strongest political party, but shorn of their absolute control of parliament.

In yesterday's national elections, preliminary final returns showed the Social Democrats won 112 of the 230 seats in Sweden's lower house of parliament. Other parties won a total of 118 seats.

While the Social Democrats lost three seats, the Liberals won 57, a gain of 31. The heaviest loser was the Conservative party, which dropped from 39 to 22 seats.

The Communists, who formerly held 15 seats, lost six of them, and the Agrarians won 30, compared to the 35 they gained in the 1944 elections.

Funeral Services Are Held For Mrs. Thelma Bishop

Funeral services for Mrs. Thelma Bishop, 43, who died about 11:30 p. m. Saturday while en route to West Texas hospital in a Rix ambulance, were conducted at 4 p. m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Ed Putty, 3403 Ave. H.

Mrs. Bishop who had resided with Mrs. Putty, an aunt, for the past six years, had been ill for several days but her condition became worse Saturday night and the ambulance was called to take her to the hospital for treatment.

Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, officiated and interment was in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Rix.

Survivors are her husband, Ernest Bishop; one son, James McMurry of Lubbock; a daughter, Mrs. Betty M Tomlinson of Lubbock; her father, D. L. Howard of Lubbock; a brother, Bill Howard of McLean; and three aunts, Mrs. Putty, Mrs. Sally Dorsett and Mrs. Florence Sechrist, all of Lubbock.

Production Halted At Tucker Car Plant

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (INS)—Production was halted today at the Tucker automobile plant in Chicago by a strike of AFL United Auto Workers.

The walkout followed the dismissal by Preston D. Tucker, company president, of Edward Zielazny, union committeeman who negotiated a wage increase.

Sixty highly-skilled technicians employed on the T-7 pilot line were the first workers to walk off their jobs shortly before noon.

More than 200 other employes were intercepted by Dan Leabu, plant superintendent, who pleaded with them to remain in the plant.

Union officials predicted that other workers will be out tomorrow morning.

Zielazny and other union officials charged Tucker with having become definitely an anti-unionist. This was in direct contrast to the union's former devotion to Tucker.

The dispute stemmed from Zielazny's entrance into bargaining sessions with Tucker for a ten per cent wage increase and for vacation pay for eligible workers. Tucker said he was financially unable to pay the wage increase, but would pay the vacation stipulations.

Union officials asked for a written guarantee, giving Tucker 72 hours to comply. His answer was the dismissal of Zielazny.

Public Okays Draft Setup, But Misunderstands Term Of Duty

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 20.—Analysis of public opinion regarding the 1948 draft law leads to two important conclusions:

1. Voters approve the law by an overwhelming majority, but very few have a correct understanding about the length of service it requires from inductees.

2. The fact that seven out of ten voters approve the law explains why it has not become an issue between the two major parties in this presidential campaign and is debated at all only by Henry Wallace and his Progressive party.

GALLUP

A few days prior to the beginning of registration under the act the Institute asked this question of representative voters across the country:

"On August 30, all men between 18 and 25 years of age will start registering under the Federal draft law. In general, do you approve or disapprove of the draft?"

The answers nationally were:

Approve draft law	73%
Disapprove draft law	21
No opinion	6

Rank and file Democrats and Republicans see eye to eye on the draft. Wallace followers are split on the question, and, although a majority of them voiced disapproval of the draft, a substantial minority approve it. These political sidelights can be seen when the views of Dewey, Truman and Wallace voters are compared:

BY POLITICAL PREFERENCE	Dewey voters	Truman voters	Wallace voters
Approve draft law	75%	77%	32%
Disapprove draft law	20	18	59
No opinion	5	5	9

Previous Institute surveys revealed that the American people, if given a choice between the selective draft and universal military training, would choose UMT by a vote of more than two to one. In other words, the public has been more in favor of requiring every young man to train for military service for one year rather than make relatively few men join the military forces for a much longer period.

The military authorities who sponsored the new selective service act, when it became evident that Congress would not pass UMT, still face the problem of selling the public on the length of term which draftees will be required to serve.

When voters are asked how long they think a youth should serve, 55 per cent say 18 months or less, and only one in five thinks 21 months or 2 years would be right.

Actually, very few people realize what the law requires in reward to the length of service in the armed forces. To ascertain this lack of information, interviewers asked this question:

"Will you tell me how many months service a young man has to put in under the new draft law?"

The odd fact is that very few voters in the nation know exactly what the law says on this point. Four out of ten voters say 18 months or less is required, and 17 per cent say two years. Only one in five said 21 months, which is part, but only part, of the correct answer.

Every draftee must serve a basic 21 months. On top of that he must serve an additional 12 months unless he agrees to do one of two things; either join the National Guard for an additional three years after his 21 months of service, or enlist for an additional five years in the organized reserve.

Evidence from this survey indicates the possibility of a morale problem unless the public, and particularly the inductees and their families, are educated to an understanding of the terms of service in the armed forces laid down by the new law.

Improved Texas Rural Roads To Be Asked

Huge Sum Will Be Requested

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Sept. 20. "If we don't get the Texas back country out of the mud all the rural population is going to pack up and move to town," said James C. Cantrell, president of the Texas Rural Roads association, here today.

Cantrell, McKinney banker, spoke at a convention of the County Judges' and Commissioners' association of Texas.

"In Collin county there are now some 22,000 fewer people living in rural sections than there were in 1900," Cantrell declared.

To Seek Huge Funds

"Rural roads are the No. 1 political problem in Texas today. And it's going to take more than $20,000,000 to solve this problem." Governor Beauford Jester earlier had told the convention that "I shall recommend to the 51st Legislature that an appropriation be made in the amount of $20,000,000 from the surplus funds in the general revenue for the construction of all-weather schools bus roads."

Jester said "the common goal is to take the rural areas of Texas out of the mud once and for all."

Texas is a long way from getting out of the mud, the president of the American Institute of local highway administration said at the convention. He is A. J. Thelan of Madison, Wis.

Solution Is Urged

He said Texas ranks near the bottom among the states in the matter of all-weather rural roads. Only 33 per cent of Texas' secondary roads are hard-surface, he said, as compared with 83 per cent in Wisconsin.

"Bad country roads are a city problem, too," Contrell said. "These muddy roads are big factors in causing milk for Dallas to be in short supply."

Cantrell said the rural road association was formed "because we've been getting the run around in Austin."

The Rural Roads association was organized by the County Judges and Commissioners association, by the Texas Association of Rural Letter Carriers and several other groups.

Reports Are Asked

Governor Jester told the convention that despite less federal aid than had been hoped for "our state is definitely leading the union in construction of these (rural) roads."

Jester said he would ask the Judges' and Commissioners' association and the State Highway department to submit reports to the 51st legislature.

"The 750 county judges, commis-problem, too," Cantrell said. guests of the railroads of Texas at a dinner dance last night.

The convention will continue

Apartment Unit Destroyed Here

Six families including 18 persons were residents of the single-story frame apartment house which burned early Monday morning at 707 Ave. K, bringing the fire under the disaster classification of the American Red Cross.

A fire comes under the disaster classification when as many as five families are affected. Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross began investigating and offering assistance where needed and notified the national Red Cross disaster headquarters, Ernest F. St. Clair, chapter chairman, announced.

Some of the families left the county to stay with relatives until they find other places to live. The Red Cross plans to resume its work when they return, offering help where needed.

Bedding and clean, immediately wearable clothing will be needed, and gifts of such items may be taken to the Red Cross headquarters at 1513 Ave. K, it was announced.

Fire broke out in the box-type structure, owned by H. L. Milstead of 702 Ave. K, about 4:30 o'clock Monday morning, and apparently originated in the kitchen of an apartment occupied by Mrs. Ann Galle, according to an account issued by another occupant. Firemen brought the blazes under control about 7 a. m., avoiding damage to adjoining buildings.

An additional pumper was rushed to the scene to avoid threatened damage to the T. R. Prideaux Lumber Co. at Seventh and Ave. K.

Milstead said damage to the structure was almost total, and occupants reported almost complete loss of personal belongings.

In addition to Mrs. Galle, other occupants of the six-apartment structure were Mr. and Mrs. Lige Berry and son; Mrs. Nellie Bogard, her mother, and two sons; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bachman and a brother, Charles Bachman; Mrs. Joe Perkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brawley and children.

Area Bus Drivers To Meet Here Saturday

A bus institute for drivers of school buses, school officials and board members of eight South Plains counties will be conducted here Saturday, County Superintendent Roy Boyd announced Monday.

The institute will be conducted in the district courtroom at the Lubbock county courthouse.

Representatives from Lubbock, Crosby, Hockley, Terry, Floyd, Garza, Dickens and Lynn counties are expected to attend. The session opens at 9 a. m. after registration from 8:30 until 9.

The morning's program will include talks by E. H. Boulter, deputy state superintendent; Sgt. T. C. Laws of the Texas Department of Public Safety; E. C. Pool, on care of equipment; and a Red Cross safety lecture by Mose Hood. A safety film will also be shown the group.

Boyd said Monday Lubbock county's 36 school buses had all been inspected and all passed except three or four with minor details to be worked out in a few days.

BULL'S BIRTHDAY

So sacred was the bull in Egypt at one time that its birthday was celebrated and, after its death, it was mummified and buried in a rock tomb.

SPECIAL DAY SET ASIDE

South Plains Lions Clubs Are Invited To Fair Opening Monday

Personal invitations to the members of 20 Lions clubs in the area to join in making the opening day of the Panhandle-South Plains fair next Monday a festival occasion were mailed Monday by the Lubbock club.

The occasion has been designated "Lions Club day" as a tribute to the Lions for their sponsorship of the "Queen for a Day" broadcasts which will be the grandstand feature of the first three days of the fair.

Elmer East, chairman of the "Queen" ticket committee, and Wayne Henly, club president, were quick to emphasize that the day is not dedicated exclusively to the Lions in Lubbock.

The dedication, they emphasized, is to Lions club members in the entire area.

"Without the help of the other Lions clubs, we couldn't put this proposition over," East explained. Largely because of the cooperation of the out-of-town members, he added, the indications are that the international broadcast will be a smashing success. In order to originate this show from Lubbock, the local club had to underwrite a $9,000 guarantee.

Ticket Sales Heavy

The clubs to which invitations have been mailed, Henly announced, follow:

Crosbyton, Idalou, Lorenzo, Meadow, Post, Slaton, Tahoka, Brownfield, Denver City, Levelland, Morton, Plains, Sundown, Whiteface, Lamesa, Plainview, Seagraves, Seminole, Hobbs and Clovis.

The invitation East emphasized, includes every one of the more than 3,000 members in the clubs. They are especially invited to attend the first of the three "Queen" broadcasts, he added.

The ticket demand during "Queen" days has been increasingly heavy, East said.

He explained that every woman who attends the broadcasts will have the possibility of being chosen queen for that day and of receiving gifts worth hundreds of dollars. The pre-broadcast program each day will last from noon until 1 p.m. The broadcast itself will be aired over the Mutual network from 1 until 1:30 p.m.

Many Germans Seek To Come To U.S.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 20. (AP)—Thousands of would-be immigrants to the United States lined up at American consulates in Germany today.

It was announced Friday that the ban on immigration would be lifted for a total of 28,000 Germans, "ethnic Germans" and Austrians a year.

Some Germans arrived before the consulate in Frankfurt four hours before it opened for business.

"All of them seemed to be in a hurry to leave poor old Germany as quickly as possible," said a German policeman on duty.

The crowds gathered despite the fact newspapers had announced all applications to go on a quota waiting list would be handled by mail.

U. S. Consulate At Matamoros To Be Kept Open, Officials Say

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—State department officials said today the United States consulate in Matamoros, Mexico, will not be abandoned as previously announced.

Aides of Senator Connally (D-Tex) said assistant secretary of state John E. Peurifoy had called them today to say that "because of the senator's personal intervention" they had canceled plans to close the consulate Oct. 1.

6,124 FINISH REGISTRATION

New Sections Slated At Tech As Enrollment Continues Rise

As students continued to enroll for classes at Texas Technological college Monday, it was necessary to add new sections to already established schedules in order that unexpected students in engineering and geology might be accommodated.

At 5 p. m. Monday 6,124 students had completed registration, and 379 more had obtained permits to register, bringing the total applications up to 6,503 according to W. P. Clement, registrar. Employes of the registrar's office were so busy Monday that no count was made by divisions or according to classification, and totals by divisions will not be available before Wednesday, Clement said.

Geology Sections Added

In the geology department, 16 new sections were added, some of which were laboratory courses and some of which were lectures, but no night classes have been arranged for as yet, according to Dr. R. G. Sidwell, head of the department.

Dean O. V. Adams, engineering, stated that division had added sections to courses in civil and mechanical engineering, engineering drawing, and in mechanical engineering shops, some of which it was necessary to schedule at night. Night laboratory sessions and lectures will begin at 7 o'clock.

While almost every other faction of the student body showed an increase this year, the number of veterans to register so far is approximately 850 short of the 3,500 registered at this time last fall, according to H. A. Anderson, coordinator of veteran's affairs. He attributed the decrease to the failure of dry-land crops in this area, and to the fact that many veterans attended college before the war and have graduated since.

Airmen Killed In Crash At San Antonio Are Identified

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 20. (U.P.)—The Air Force has identified two airmen killed yesterday in a F-82 fighter plane crash as First Lt. Haywood E. Kornezay, jr., and Cpl. Andrew Tanzrac.

The Air Force said the two airmen were from the Kearney, Neb., air base.

The plane, a twin-fuselaged fighter developed from the P-51 Mustang fighter of World War II fame, was being flown in an Air Force day celebration at Randolph Air Force base.

SOVIET TROOPS TO LEAVE NORTH PART OF NATION

U.S. Occupation Forces To Stay In Korea Until UN Assures Nation Of Unity And Independence

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (INS)—The State department announced officially today that American troops will remain in South Korea until the United Nations has assured that country's "unity and independence."

The statement was issued in response to a Russian announcement of yesterday that Soviet troops will be withdrawn from North Korea beginning next month.

Meanwhile, authoritative sources revealed that the U. S. has begun to reduce the number of its troops in South Korea.

The reduction is said to be a gradual operation. It is being offset by U. S. training of Southern Koreans for a security force which can back up the Seoul government.

Soviets Are Scored

Responsible sources in Washington charged the Russians with complete bad faith in the Korean situation.

The department slapped back at the Russians for failing to cooperate with the UN commission on Korea, and pointed out that the commission has not completed its work. The statement said:

"Had the Soviet Union cooperated in carrying out the provisions of the resolution of Nov. 14, 1947 (creating the UN commission on Korea), the questions of troop withdrawals doubtless would have already been solved."

The commission sought to hold an election for all Korea, but the Soviets would not permit the poll in their northern zone. U. S. troops are now supporting the government elected in South Korea.

Communist Action Feared

The State department has often favored troop withdrawals under proper conditions, and did not close the door on early withdrawal of U. S. troops if this is recommended by the UN.

Its statement pointed out that the UN General Assembly is meeting in Paris this month and "may be expected to give further consideration to the matter."

Privately, officials expressed fear that the Communists may be so well organized in North Korea that they may attempt to take over the government, with or without the presence of Russian troops.

In fact, these officials said, the Soviet withdrawal may well be a propagantia move which would lay the groundwork for seizure of the country by native Communists.

Stores To Close For Lubbock Day At Fair

Closing of business at 11:30 a. m. instead of the usual 1 p. m. on Tuesday, Sept. 28, Lubbock day at the Panhandle-South Plains fair here, is the plan of a special committee seeking cooperation of merchants with the Lions club and the fair management.

The committee, headed by A. H. Maas, announced Saturday that all department stores, and many other businesses downtown, had signed the closing agreement. Others were invited to either advise the committee of cooperation or to close voluntarily at the stated time.

Most business houses here have for years closed at noon or shortly past on Lubbock day at the fair, in order that employes might attend the fair.

The earlier closing time this year is occasioned by the radio show "Queen For a Day," which is to be broadcast the first three days of the fair from in front of the grandstand under sponsorship of the Lubbock Lions club.

The 30-minute broadcast is to start at noon, and the 11:30 closing, a member of the committee said, will allow store employes and other workers to reach the grounds for the show, one of the major entertainment features of the fair.

Business firms which Monday had signed the closing pledge were:

Montgomery Ward, Levines, Anderson Jewelry, Walton's, J. C. Penney Co., Godwin's Booterie, Godwin's Teen Age Shop, Kress, Woolworth, Neisner's, Hanna-Pope, Franklin's, Sweetbriar Shop, Kelner Furniture, Durham's, Glassman's, Dunlap's, Sears Roebuck & Co., Hemphill-Wells Co., The Hub Clothiers, Hackel's, Lester's Jewelers, Zale Jewelry, and Freeds.

Intensive Search Underway For Navy Plane Missing In Canada

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 20 (INS) — Fears for information of vital importance to the Artic defense of North America were heightened today as the search for a missing Navy plane with five men aboard went into its second week.

Among the missing were Naval attaches from the United States and Britain.

The plane, enroute from Churchill to the Pas, was reported missing Sept. 12.

Signal Is Investigated

A red flare sighted 37 miles west and slightly north of the Pas was being investigated today as a possible distress signal from the missing plane.

The plane was known to have carried six flares when it disappeared. Aboard were Capt. Ben Scott Custer, U. S. Naval attache, and Capt. Sir Robert W. Stirling-Hamilton, Royal Navy representative at Ottawa.

Both had taken part in an artic cruise with the Royal Canadian Navy before boarding the Navy plane.

The two Naval officers—one a former aircraft carrier commander in the Pacific and the other a submarine expert of Far East experience—had sailed aboard H.M.C.S. Magnificent from Halifax late in August.

Many Planes In Search

After watching air exercises and gunnery practices by both the aircraft carrier and her accompanying destroyers, the pair transferred to the H. M. C. S. Nootka, destroyer flotilla leader, and proceeded to Churchill.

The search, at its present magnitude with 39 planes participating, was ordered by the Department of External affairs and the State department in Washington.

U. S. crewmen told of receiving orders to depart on the search in the middle of the night as a result of an urgent message from the nation's capital. United States Navy, Coast Guard and Air Force planes are involved, and have been called from as far away places as South Carolina.

The search has encompassed 90,000 linear miles, 60,000 gallons of gasoline, 580 flight hours and a total coverage of 400,000 square miles, thus far.

According to group Commander Capt. Leigh, who is supervising the search, information delved from the wreckage—if found—will not be published until it has been cleared with the State department in Washington.

Rattlesnakes do not climb trees habitually, but occasionally some species do.

Cement Price Ruling Expected To Have Inflationary Impact

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Commerce Secretary Sawyer said today that a Supreme court decision barring basing point prices in the cement industry may have an inflationary impact on business.

The secretary saw the possibility of widespread shifts in locations of factories with a "consequent migration" of workers as a result of the high bench ruling.

Committee Studies Action

While the Supreme court decision was confined to cement, businesmen generally have been interpreting it as applying to all industries.

The situation has become so involved that a special Senate committee, headed by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), now is studying the court's action.

Under the basing point system, manufacturers establish a general price for their products and absorb freight charges for delivery anywhere in the nation.

If a metal industry had a fixed price per ton the consumer would pay that price, which would cover freight charges, no matter how far the metal had to be shipped.

Basing point pricing is entirely different from the FOB system used by the automobile and other industries, where the purchaser must pay the direct freight charges after paying the factory price for the product.

A Federal Trade commission official said today that about 20 major industries, ranging from steel to building materials and furniture, use basing point pricing.

Pricing Changes Seen

The court, in its ruling charged that the cement industry was using the system to establish industry-wide prices involving conspiracy and discrimination.

Sawyer declared that his department is "vitally concerned" over the reaction of business to the court's verdict. He added that some industries have begun to switch from the basing point to regular FOB charges. Sawyer said:

"Any extensive revision of pricing practices by industry will effect existing matters of distribution, particularly in those industries where transportation represents a significant part of the delivered price of a product.

". . . where these revisions are substantial, the result may be a shift to other suppliers or, in extreme cases, an actual physical relocation of plant facilities with a consequent migration of workers."

Sawyer urged businessmen to submit their views on "this serious matter" to the Capehart committee.

VETERAN CIRCUS PERFORMER—Often called "the world's most terrifying living creature" and "an imprisoned sovereign being," Gargantua the Great is just that—when his 450-pound bride, Toto, isn't looking, for it is she who gives her husband the Gorilla Bronx cheer whenever he starts to chuck his weight about. One of the top attractions of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus, which performs Wednesday, Sept. 29 inside the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds, Gargantua and Toto are known to the world as the most famous animals in captivity.

Plainview Car Crash Victim Is 'Improved'

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 20. (Special)—Alvin H. Noel, 22, of Plainview, who has been in critical condition in a local hospital since shortly before noon Saturday, when the truck which he was driving was in collision with a passenger car here, was reported by hospital attendants tonight to be somewhat improved.

Dead as a result of the accident were Ira D. Cartwright, 45, who was killed almost instantly, and John D. Rainwater, 19, who died about three hours later in Plainview Sanitarium and Clinic.

Two Others Released

Two other injured persons who were in the collision were released today from the hospital. They were Mrs. George R. McGahey, 19, and Wesley Cartwright, 20, driver of the car. Mrs. McGahey suffered a fractured pelvis and several cuts and bruises. Cartwright, it was reported, suffered only cuts, bruises, and scratches, as did Mrs. McGahey's husband, George R. McGahey, 20.

All those involved were residents of Plainview.

Funeral services for Ira D. Cartwright were conducted at 4 p. m. Monday in the chapel of Roy Woods Funeral home here. Rev. Walter V. O'Kelly, pastor of St. John's Methodist church of Plainview, officiated. Burial followed in Plainview cemetery under the direction of Roy Woods Funeral home.

Funeral services for John D. Rainwater were conducted at 4 p. m. Monday in the chapel of Roy Woods Funeral home here. Love-lace Funeral home of Eden was in charge.

CITY EMPLOYEE SAYS RETONGA BROUGHT HIM RELIEF IN THREE DAYS

Famous Gastric Tonic Is Praised for Relieving Distress of Nervous Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Gassy Stomach and Constipation. Now Feels Fine.

"When I began using Retonga I noticed splendid relief from my distress within three days," gratefully states Mr. Martin Scheidig, widely known and respected resident of 2215 Stuart St., Denver, Colo. An employee of the City of Denver Parks Department for 14 years, Mr. Scheidig gladly tells of his own case:

"About two years ago I began to suffer terrible distress from nervous indigestion and severe gas pains in my stomach, as well as a stubborn case of constipation. Everything I ate seemed to disagree with me and the gas pressure in my stomach was so great at times it seemed I could scarcely get my breath. On top of that, I had a very poor appetite and didn't enjoy my food. I tried simple home remedies, then all kinds of medicines for indigestion and constipation, but found no worthwhile relief. I seemed to get worse and worse and got alarmed.

"To be honest about it, I had little faith that Retonga would give me any relief, all others having failed. But in just three days I noticed splendid relief. I now eat heartily, enjoy my food and no longer suffer the discomforts I used to suffer after eating. My constipation has also been relieved. I feel much more like my old self and I am very grateful to Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to give you gratifying relief, your money will be refunded. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores.—Adv.

Large Number Of Imported Acts To Be With Circus At South Plains Fair On Sept. 29

When Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus appears in two performances here Wednesday, Sept. 29 inside the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds, a number of new acts, imported from abroad last winter by John Ringling North, president of the circus, will make initial Lubbock performances.

Included in the large-scale importation are Francis Brunn, billed as the greatest juggler of all time; Unus, the wonder equilibrist, who walks on his forefinger; the famous Italian riding Zoeppes. Europe's leading bareback equestrian troupe, with Cucciola, midget clown; the Mandos sisters, aerial novelty artists; Alberty, high perch thriller; the Zavatta, comedy whirlwind on wheels; Eldridge's Continental Champanzee cyclists; and Christian's famed Dog's parade.

Many Acts Returning

Last year's popular performers, held over by popular acclaim, include Rose Gould, aerial sensationalist; the Alzanas, renowned high wire family; and the Flying Behees, as well as many other well-known acts.

Physical improvements, too, have been made in the year since the show was last here. Pre-eminent are the portable unit grandstands, all-steel, which unfold into a vast bowl of 10,000 cushioned and rubber-padded chairs and seats, the whole engineering plant carried on less than 30 trucks, each a complete section of seats in itself.

Probably the most revolutionary advance made by the circus in 70 years, the solidity of this rolling, unfolding, dovetailing, adjustable circus bowl has never before been achieved in temporary seating.

Special features of this year's "Greatest Show on Earth" include such highlights as "'Twas the Night Before Christmas," employing 2,000 performers and animals; the Monte Carlo aerial ballet, a mid-air extravaganza; "Dixie," an equestrian display; and "The Circus Ball," a kaleidoscopic finale of girls, clowns, and elephants in fantastic evening dress and colorful action.

Costumes and trappings for these productions alone has been estimated to cost over $350,000. They were produced by John Ringling North, directed by John Murray Anderson, and designed by Miles White.

Performances here are scheduled for 2:15 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. with doors opening at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. In the circus troupe are 1,450 people, nine herds of elephants, and hundreds of wild animals and horses.

Seems like selling your birthright for a mess of pottage!

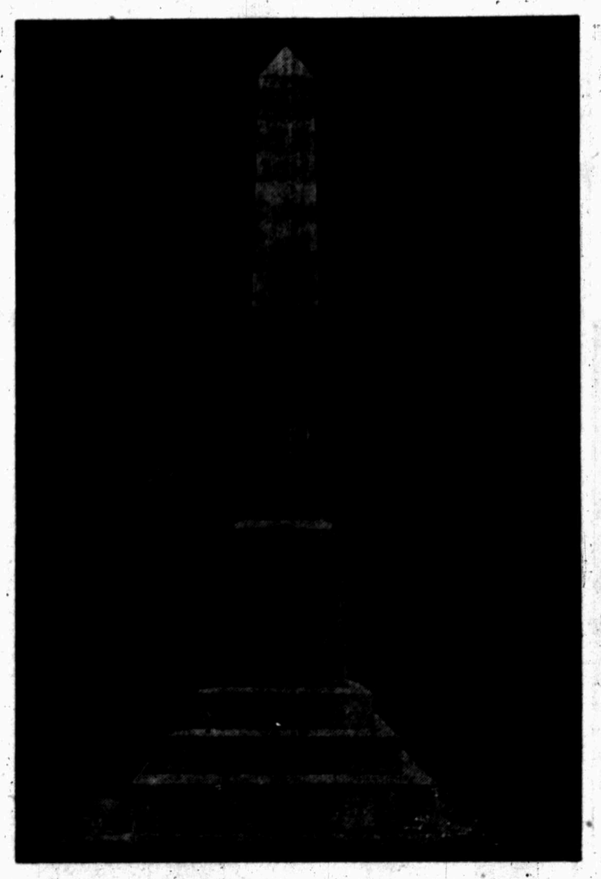

MAN can't live by bread alone. The planning, saving, toiling of every responsible citizen is, of course, for the daily necessities of life . . . but the incentive behind all our effort is the fulfillment of ambitions for ourselves and our children. This concerns more than material things. It embraces the plans of life; the molding of character in young minds, the satisfaction of seeing our influence take hold as others assume responsibilities and, in turn, establish their own division in family and community living.

So these are real life goals, and the glory of our children's achievements is good compensation for all our worries and work. Out of such experience comes the understanding for the ownership of a family memorial; something permanent that covers time for many life spans. A symbol of family unity, of establishment, so that the family name shall never "go down to the tongueless silence of the dreamless dust."

Thoughtful people should choose their family cemetery lot so that regulations do not rob them of their birthright. Be sure that when your labors cease, your resting place may be identified, not alone by a small regimented tablet in every respect, except for name, like all around it—but rather, by an upright family monument that shall be an indication to generations yet unborn, that your family, in your generation, lead responsible lives of significant worth.

Communists Call For Overthrow Of Indonesian Government; Civil War Feared

BATAVIA, Java, Sept. 20. (AP)—The Communists called tonight for the complete overthrow of the Indonesian government and brought the young republic to the brink of civil war.

Quickly following up the weekend coup at Madioen, Moscow-trained Communist leader Musso broadcast a demand for a revolution encompassing the entire republic. The Madioen radio station of his new "peoples republic" said the present government of President Soerkarno must be destroyed as soon as possible.

The Communists are supported by the Socialists and Laborites.

A parliament committee gave Soerkarno unlimited powers to cope with the crisis. The Indonesian news agency Antara said mass arrests were carried out in the capital city of Jogjakarta in lightning moves to stamp out spread of the uprisings.

The Madioen radio outlined a program that also included confiscation of all industrial enterprises by the government, placing of military force in the hands of the people and setting up of internal security committees.

The program followed the usual Communist pattern. The slogan was "Land For Those Who Toil It."

(At the Hague, Dr. Hubertus J. Van Mook, lieutenant governor-genaral of the Netherland East Indies, suddenly cut short his conferences in the Dutch capital and announced plans to leave for Batavia tomorrow to deal with the situation).

The radio at Madioen, where the Communists overthrew the government Saturday, broadcast speeches accusing Soerkarno and Premier Mohamed Hatta of being traitors and "selling the country to the imperialists."

Soerkarno warned his people over radio Jogjakarta yesterday that the coup in the central Java city, the third largest on Indonesian territory, "may be regarded as the start for seizing the whole republic."

He appealed for the capture of Musso, recently returned from Moscow, the Communist radio did not relay the President's message.

Today informed sources in Jogjakarta said documents had been discovered in the Communist files directing that a Red coup in Java should follow within three months after commencement of Communist activities in Malaya and form a part of the spread of Communism in Southeast Asia.

The Communists struck at a time when the government is facing grave economic difficulties due to the so-called Dutch blockade. The Indonesian republic occupies territory on the islands of Java, Madura and Sumatra, former Dutch colonies.

Last year war broke out between the Indonesians and the Dutch but was halted when the United Nations stepped in. Through a UN good offices committee comprising the United States, Belgium and Australia, an agreement calling for settlement of military and political issues was signed. However, political negotiations were broken off last month.

The Indonesians have maintained consistently the Netherlands government has used—that the Dutch are attempting to force the republic into line through an economic blockade.

In the overall political picture, the Dutch have announced plans for a United States of Indonesia to come into being next year. The Indonesian republic would be given a chance to join in that program.

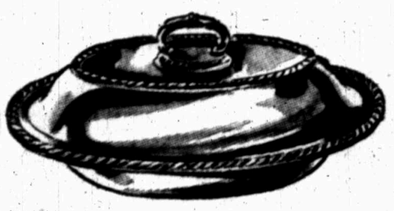

Relations between the Indonesians and Dutch were strained further last month when the Dutch announced that republican officials and their families would be expelled from Batavia, the Dutch capital.

FOR BERNADOTTE:

Enforce The Peace!

REPERCUSSIONS of the assassination of the Swedish Count Folke Bernadotte are impossible of accurate prophesy at this time. But it is safe to say that those who are likely to lose most because of his murder—the people in the strife-torn Holy Land—are the very ones he was trying to help.

It doubtless will be difficult, if not impossible, to place the responsibility for the assassination upon any one group or individual. But some of the contributing responsibility for the conditions under which an ambush of this kind could be executed will be placed upon all factions in the locale of Jewish-Arabian fighting.

With Count Bernadotte as the ace, and highly capable, troubleshooter of the United Nations in the Near East troubles, other nations were somewhat inclined to keep hands off to give him an opportunity to try to work out something. With him now removed from the scene, it seems highly probable that other nations may take a sterner view of the Holy Land war. There even is the possibility that other nations might decide to tell the Jews and Arabs either to behave themselves—or else.

If such an attitude should be adopted, it would not be inspired by special consideration of what might happen to the fighting factions. It would be justified by the fact that, in fighting unrestrainedly among themselves and in allowing the murders of emissaries of peace, the warring factions are endangering the peace of the world.

If the United Nations, or various other nations acting in concert or individually, should be impelled to an action which would restore or enforce peace in the Holy Land, it would be a splendid monument to Count Bernadotte as a man of ability, courage and peaceable intent.

Political Tradition

THE PRESIDENT'S present campaign tour, and those being scheduled for Governor Dewey and the vice presidential nominees, doubtless will serve their useful purposes. Perhaps the heavy expense involved is justified by the thinking and discussion they inspire.

But if any of the stump-speaking tours prove a decisive factor in swinging the national election, it will be the first time in 50 years, or longer, that such an undertaking has proved important in a campaign. Certainly there is no instance on record in more than 50 years where a speaking tour has been credited with winning an election, or in making a material difference in the outcome.

The chief reason for these expensive expeditions seems to be merely that they nearly always have been done in national elections. A noteworthy exception was William McKinley's "front porch" campaign in 1896—and he was a landslide victor over the colorful William Jennings Bryan, who had engaged in campaign tours, one of which was termed his "winning of the West." The West that year voted almost solidly for McKinley.

Even so, the speaking tours may be justified. Probably they help to get out a bigger vote and undoubtedly they cause a great deal of additional talk. But it is questionable whether the results next November would be different if President Truman and Governor Dewey had chosen to remain quietly at home.

It was different in the old days. Stuff with a knock-out blow wasn't called punch.

HARRY BINDLE had not been deluded into any false sense of security. When Lieutenant Talent walked out of his office pretending that a casual inquiry had been disposed of with finality, Bindle knew that an era in his career had come to an end. He didn't believe any Lily Francie existed. But Talent had clearly believed he could worry him by flashing that $100 bill. Bindle formed an immediate conclusion. He had read of Marcus Sterling's death. The answer was that Sterling had talked to the police before he died.

Bindle knew he would now have to bid farewell to New York, as he once had bid farewell to Chicago. He knew just what he wanted to take with him . . . some of it from a drawer of his desk . . some of it from a concealed compartment in the back room. Not a great deal. A flat leather brief case held all of it: some personal records he couldn't afford to leave behind, some thick bundles of crumpled currency, a long white sealed envelope.

Bindle used the side exit of the back room. He followed a narrow passage alongside the building. At its mouth, he paused just an instant. The sidewalk was clear. The doorways across the street were clear. Bindle stepped out into the gathering shadows of evening. At his third step, a man came up to him, as if from nowhere, from either side.

At his left, Gus Ripley said, "The lieutenant wants to see you down at Headquarters, Bindle."

"Got a warrant?" Bindle demanded.

"He only wants to talk to you," Ripley said.

Bindle gestured resignedly. "Okay. If I gotta go to Headquarters, no use for me to be carrying my case with me. I'll leave it in my place." He pivoted as if to start back for the gangway.

"Might as well bring that along with you, Bindle," Ripley said. "Come on. We got a car."

• • •

BINDLE sat wedged between two Headquarters men in the back while Ripley went to the corner to use a telephone booth. When Ripley had returned and had been sitting at the wheel of the car a full two minutes without showing any intention of starting the car, Bindle snapped impatiently, "Well, when do we get started?"

"Lotsa time," said one of the men beside him.

Only when Lieutenant Talent's sleek car rolled by, sounding the briefest honk, did Ripley step on the starter.

When they had merged into the heavy stream of northbound traffic on the West Side Express Highway, Bindle, his briefcase pinioned between his knees, edged forward. "This ain't the way to Headquarters," he said bitterly.

Talent was out of his own car, and crossing the sidewalk, when Ripley brought the larger car to a stop. Dusk was falling, the more noticeable under the heavy screen of trees.

Brant opened the door. Inside, Isabel Wilson was waiting, nervously apprehensive.

"The library is ready, is it?" Talent asked.

"Brant says everything is placed the way it was when . . . when Mrs. Sterling was alive," Miss Wilson said.

Talent pointed to a room off the hall. "Remain in there, please, until I summon you," he said to Miss Wilson. He went to the telephone, grinned when Richard Trapgood's anxious "Hello" broke off the first sound of ringing. When he had concluded his brief conversation, Talent asked Brant to turn on the porch light. Then he went into the library. He found the large room as it had lived indelibly in his memory. He crossed to the wide alcove, opened both sashes of the tall window that had figured so prominently in that other stage setting. He moved just slightly the ebony tabaret, so that the gently swaying drapes would not endanger the white figurine clock on it.

At the first flash of the yellow porch light, Detective Ripley slid from under the wheel of his car.

"That's it, boys," Ripley said.

BINDLE'S vitals sank with a feeling of nausea during his short walk to the porch. Inside, in the confusion while the detectives were finding places for their hats, Bindle, believing himself unobserved, slid his briefcase behind an upholstered chair, kicking it out of view. His hat was still down on his forehead when he followed Ripley's lead into the library.

Talent came forward from the alcove, indicated a chair for Bindle. Bindle sat down uncomfortably. Talent sat across from him.

"Remember the chair you're sitting in, Harry?" Talent asked.

"Should I remember it?"

"You sat in it once before."

"Could be. Where was it when I sat in it?"

"You read about the murder of Mrs. Sterling about six years ago, didn't you, Harry?"

"Sterling? Oh, sure. She was bumped off for her diamonds and a lot of dough."

Talent's grin was barely perceptible. "That was the night you were sitting here, in that chair."

"Who says so?"

"Your fingerprints."

"My fingerprints?" There was unconcealed alarm in Bindle's voice.

"I finally got them this afternoon on a piece of paper from your desk, Harry."

Bindle felt easier about it.

"On the morning after Mrs. Sterling was murdered upstairs, we found your prints on that chair, and on a whisky bottle and glass," Talent said. "So you must have had a pleasant visit. Maybe you could have helped us then, Harry, if you had told us about it."

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

I AM going to predict something: Hereafter there will be much less fishing by children in New York's Central Park lake!

BRANDEIS

For heaven's sake, I now hear you say, what is the matter with that fellow?

Here the whole world is in a turmoil. There is an election coming in November. And he talks about kids fishing in Central Park!

Well, I say that this prediction of mine is extremely important, as you will see in a few moments.

Fishing in Central Park lake has always been illegal.

But kids, being kids, didn't care anything about the law. As a matter of fact, they liked being chased by the cops—and coming back as soon as the cops turned their backs.

There were "No Fishing Allowed In This Lake" signs. But only the adults paid much attention to those signs.

Furthermore, the adults weren't much interested in the few catfish, sunfish and suckers that inhabit the Central Park lake. Adults don't waste their expensive fishing tackle on that kind of stuff.

But the kids came by the hundred, with all sorts of homemade tackle, including the stick, twine and bent-pin variety.

They caught a few fish, but the greatest fun was not so much to catch the fish as not to be caught by the cops.

But that is all over now.

Fishing won't be nearly so much fun after this.

Because fishing in Central Park lake has been made legal for kids under sixteen, and all cops have been instructed not to chase them any more.

Those authorities are either very poor psychologists (if they really want the kids to fish in the lake) or very good ones (if they want to stop fishing in it).

So I predict that there will be much less fishing by children in New York's Central Park lake.

DO you remember when you were a kid?

Do you remember the delight of doing things that you were not supposed to do?

Wasn't it oodles of fun to get away with a lot of "verboten" rules?

What boy doesn't remember his first cigaret or cigar, smoked furtively somewhere in hiding? And what boy does not remember the awful taste and dire consequence of that first smoke?

What girl does not still relish her first secret rendezvous with that delightful boy of whom her parents disapproved so thoroughly? And what girl did not find out how right her parents were in disapproving of him—particularly if she married that "verboten" boy?

But why go back to childhood?

Don't we, all of us, like to fish in forbidden waters?

Don't we, all of us, still crave to do things just because we are told not to do them?

Being onery is one of man's (and certainly woman's) outstanding characteristics.

And a little orneriness is one of life's tastiest condiments.

Chaplains Are Sought

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON.—Although the War Department's publicity agents have banged out columns of newspaper copy on the need for foot soldiers, artillery men, technical specialists and fliers, they have been curiously silent on the shortages of "sky pilots" for the expanding Army and Air Forces. They may be fairly good church-goers themselves, but they seem to have neglected the spiritual side of the military services.

TUCKER

The fact that Major General Luther D. Miller, Chief of the Chaplains' corps of the United States Army, needs men—good men—as badly as Chief of Staff Omar N. Bradley needs fighters, especially for the post war draft force that will consist largely of young impressionable youngsters torn from the influences of home, church and school.

He rarely meets Cardinal Spellman or the Right Reverend Henry Knox Sherrill, Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, or the leaders of all the other denominations, that he doesn't buttonhole them and beg them to issue special calls to their bishops, requesting them to exhort young priests and ministers and rabbis to join the colors.

CHAPLAINS: The Army had a total of 8,171 chaplains during the peak of World War II. This spiritual group, however, was demobilized as quickly and summarily as were the other branches, until now there are only about 1,180 religious leaders for our skeleton force.

Although this seems like an extremely small number, General Miller quickly corrects that impression. He now has one chaplain for approximately every 750 men, whereas the average in the lay world is understood to be about one minister, priest or rabbi for every 1,500 civilians.

Moreover, an Army chaplain can keep in closer contact with his flock than the ordinary pastor or curate. Whereas the latter rarely sees his sheep save on Sunday, or must do a lot of doorbell-ringing to visit the families in his charge, a chaplain lives with his boys. And if he is the kind General Miller wants, he is more than a minister to their transcendental needs.

He is an adviser, a friend, a teacher, sometimes an athletic coach or dramatic instructor—in short, all things to all men in the Christian sense. No others, even though they can quote the Bible from Adam's fall to the Last Supper, need apply.

INFLUENCES: Members of the cloth, however, are susceptible to the same worldly influences which tend to prevent other men from devoting their lives to the service of Uncle Sam. Among them, too, the spirit may be patriotic, but the flesh may be disinclined. Churches, like industries, are paying higher salaries than they did in prewar times. A young man from the theological seminary can walk into a $4,000 assignment in the Episcopal Church, if he is lucky. Rabbis' aides can make equally as much. Even those denominations notable for poor pay in other days now afford $2,500 to $3,000 a year, sometimes with a house thrown in, not to mention the cakes, pies and roasts that ladies of the parish may contribute.

As against these incomes, a Major merits only about $443 a month as a chaplain, a Captain draws $363 and a First Lieutenant gets $332, which includes quarters and other prerequisites.

PROMOTION: There is the matter of promotion. While supposed to retain their technical seniority, actually a chaplain often loses out. His Bishop may fear that Army service does not qualify him for routine duties on the home front.

Nor has the absentee kept in touch with clergymen and prominent lay figures who can put in a good word for him when there is a vacancy in New York, Philadelphia or Chicago. On quitting the flag, he may find himself in a poorly paid, rural pastorate.

There is also the fact that all denominations are finding difficulty in filling their pulpits now, and are reluctant to lose their newcomers.

Despite the destruction of foreign missions and the increased number of backsliders in these materialistic, disillusioning, postwar days, there has been noted a growing need for preachers of the gospel to the fearful, the doubtful and the worshipful.

The desire for a new kind of chaplain limits the field. Recently, General Miller sent out a general call for prospects. He received applications from 1,000 willing men, but upon screening he accepted only 150. Now he is doing his own picking and choosing, with the generous aid of the heads of all the large and small denominations.

DENOMINATIONS: Perhaps it should not be mentioned in the streets of Ascalon or Washington, but there is intense rivalry among the various faiths over the selection of the Chief of Chaplains. Each regards it as a world and spiritual gain to have one of their sons appointed to the post.

It could be politically embarrassing to the President, so he leaves it to the recommendation of his Chief of Staff. General Miller's background helped to solve that problem, for he has been in the military service since World War I days. He never had a church. The Army has been his life. He was named in 1945 on the advice of George C. Marshall, then Chief of Staff.

Although the Army has received religious ministration since George Washington's day, there was no organized Chaplains' Corps until 1920, when it became necessary because of the realization that henceforth the U. S. must depend on a mass rather than a small professional force for national defense.

So far the heads of the corps have consisted of a Congregationalist, a Methodist, a Northern Baptist, a Southern Baptist, a Roman Catholic and, in General Miller, an Episcopalian.

The two more prominent denominations which have not been represented are the Presbyterians and the Lutherans. But the latter can claim partial honorification in General Miller, for he was a Lutheran before he became an Episcopalian. On his father's side, he came from a Lutheran background, but his mother's people were Church of England.

RECOGNITION: The smaller denominations are now demanding recognition. For instance the late Aimee Semple McPherson's Four-Square Gospel Church furnished five chaplains in World War II. In recognition, the Los Angeles Tabernacle was given a plaque, and General Miller attended the ceremony. Although it was a Monday evening, 5,300 people were present.

On his western trip, General Miller visited the prelate of a distinguished denomination to ask his aid in getting more chaplains. During their talk he happened to mention the attendance figure at the Tabernacle.

"Did you say '5,300 people on a Monday night?'" repeated the famous clergyman. "Why, I couldn't get that many into my church on a week-night, with strawberry ice cream and cake, or even bingo!"

The airplane industry hit new peaks during the war. Some of the planes are hitting them now.

HST ALSO LEARNS LESSON

People Forget Political Favors

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN—President Truman is an old hand at practical politics. But he is learning, as he moves across the country among the people, that one traditional issue familiar to the lowliest precinct worker is no longer much help, whether you are running for President, for governor, or for county clerk on the Democratic ticket.

This is the issue of gratitude for past favors.

The President recalls for the folks what a mess they were in only a few years ago, points out how well off they are now, and with pardonable political pride and considerable logic, tells them that the Democrats had something to do with this improvement. It worked naturally in 1936. It worked again in 1940, for many still had too freshly emerged from their personal depressions and, furthermore an international crisis was too imminent to shift control of government. In 1944 the nation was in the midst of war and the simple argument against changing horses in the middle of the stream, chanted from every Democratic stump, was enough.

But now gratitude has lost its appeal, for gratitude can wear only so long in the course of human events.

There's an old political story that Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, now the Democratic vice-presidential candidate, loves to tell. It's about the politician running for re-election who goes back home to find that one of his previous staunchest supporters has deserted him. He calls in the recalcitrant and, with that show of pettish but patient indignation, touched with mock humility, that only a politician can assume, he recounts all the things that he has done for the backslider.

"But you haven't done anything lately," the fellow retorts.

There is, of course, literally not a great deal that Democrats can do now, what with the prosperity abounding in the land, and past favors are easily forgotten. Especially these days are farmers doing very, very nicely. The President is talking to lots of them on his way west. But he could sense the whole psychological situation for himself—and it is a matter of human psychology—as he stood before that great throng at Dexter, Iowa, some 75,000 people, which had gathered for the annual plowing contest. Within sight, beyond the crowd, were the row on row of private airplanes, neatly parked, in which some farmers had come to this gathering, and row on row of shiny new automobiles in which others had come. Conversation in the crowd turned speculatively, among those still on priority lists, as to when they might get their new cars, and children went about inspecting new models with that lingo of easy technical familiarity with this and that feature that was unknown to their prototypes of the generation just before, for the family, in that generation, was not concerned about a new automobile, but about a pot to stew their meal in.

Farmers Make Comeback

In President Truman's audience were many who have made much more in each of the last five, almost miraculous crop years, than President Truman, himself, ever made in any year before he became President. In that audience, too, were many of the older generation who could remember other days, dark days in Iowa—days of the farm holiday movement of Milo Reno, the farm strike in Iowa, some 16 years ago. Some came from that community where a judge who was foreclosing farm mortgages too casually very nearly got his head in a noose. Desperate farmers were on a rampage then.

But people don't like to be reminded of the time when they were down and nearly out. Now that they have gone back to comfortable respectability, and that means a return to the Republican party which represents middle-class respectability and which, for other reasons going back into the history and traditions of this section, is the party of normal times of a majority, just as is the Democratic party in the South.

There were those in the President's audience who know how abruptly conditions can change, for they saw that in the past. They are conscious of elements in the present situation that can become dangerous and so, conscious of their political power at which politicians have learned to blanch, they are demanding that they keep what they have got, that the floor be kept under prices by price supports so there may be no quick and disastrous downward spirals as happened before, and of which the President reminded them.

TUNNEL—BAKED

MEAD'S FINE BREAD is the pace-maker in purity because it is untouched by human hands throughout the baking process. This is made possible by use of the air-conditioned, tunnel-shaped oven pictured below. Specially designed and built for Mead's Fine Bread Company of Lubbock, this massive oven bakes MEAD'S FINE BREAD with five different temperature stages. Each stage is thermostatically-controlled for baking accuracy. "Hands-off" tunnel-baking gives MEAD'S FINE BREAD active flavor and ripple-soft texture. Air-conditioned tunnel-making is another advance in the art of making a better MEAD'S FINE BREAD.

LARGEST OVEN WEST OF FT. WORTH

This tremendous oven, 75 feet long and man-height, has a daily capacity of 96,000 loaves. Bread enters at one end, basks and bakes in five graduated heat levels, and comes out well done with perfect flavor.

AT MECHANIZATION MEETING

Top Government Official Will Discuss Cotton Problems Here

Role of cotton mechanization in the economy of the Cotton Belt will be outlined by E. D. White, Washington, D. C., cotton assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture, at the Beltwide cotton mechanization conference here October 14, the National Cotton Council has announced.

One of the principle speakers on the three-day program which will bring together researchers, educators, mechandisers, and cotton industry representatives from across the county, Mr. White is recongized as one of the nation's leading authorities on cotton matters. In addition to his post as assistant to the agriculture secretary he also is head of the cotton division of the Economic Cooperation administration.

Program To Be Studied

Cotton Council officials said that economic considerations in mechanization will come in for heavy study at the Beltwide conference. They pointed out that for a period of more than a decade the cost of producing a pound of cotton mounted steadily while the production cost for synthetic fibers showed great decreases.

"For cotton to remain competitive it is essential that production costs be lowered," a Council spokesman said. "The farmer cannot take arbitrary price cuts. He must effect savings in producing his crop that will enable him to sell for a lower price yet continue his profits at their present or a higher level."

The Council also announced that problems created for the ginning industry by cotton mechanization would be discussed at the conference by Horace Hayden, Oklahoma City, executive vice-president of the National Cotton Ginners association.

Texas hosts to the conference include the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station, the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, the Texas Statewide Committee for Cotton, and the Plains Ginners association.

Grand Jury Probes Police Force Of Texarkana, Ark.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Sept. 20. (U.P.)—A Miller county grand jury today began investigating the Texarkana, Ark. police force.

One member of the force, Earl Henderson, already had carried an expose to the people in an unusual performance last night.

Henderson, by-passed on the promotion list, hired a public address system and drove through the city calling citizens to the municipal auditorium. About 400 followed him, and there, he gave his report.

He charged that some past and present members were guilty of rank misconduct, including pocketing of bond money, beating of prisoners, shielding of gamblers and bootleggers for a cut of profits and private gains through use of prisoners on farms.

As onetime secretary to a former chief of police, Henderson cried that "I've got the stuff to clean up the department."

New Facilities Aid College Book Store

Sale of textbooks at Texas Technological college is being greatly facilitated this year as a result of the recently installed $30,000 addition to the college bookstore, which provides more than 2,620 square feet of space, W. C. Cole, manager of the bookstore, announced Monday afternoon.

"The new space to store textbooks, 25 by 60 feet, allows room for from eight to ten attendants behind the counter serving students, whereas before only four or five could work to any degree of efficiency, and it is this increased number of clerks that have made it possible for us to handle the students' demands for textbooks much faster," Cole said.

Equipment to properly equip the new display room, 28 by 40 feet, has not yet arrived, but is expected the last part of October, Cole said, adding that when it arrives, Tech's bookstore will be equipped to compare with that at any college in the state.

Besides storage and display space, the new addition almost doubles office space, Cole said.

He also reported that there has been some increase in book sales this year, probably due to the changing of texts in many courses, necessitating the purchase of new books. The amount of the increase will not be discernable for several days, after all students have acquired the books they will need for the semester, Cole said.

X-Ray TB Tests To Start For Tech Students, Faculty Today

Chest x-ray tests for tuberculosis are available to all students, faculty members and employes of Texas Technological college beginning this morning at 9 o'clock in the agricultural auditorium on the campus.

Equipment for the tests has been set up by a mobile tuberculosis unit of the state health department, and the x-rays will be given from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. today through Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday.

Dr. Agnes True, faculty member and chairman of the student welfare committee, has said that efforts will be made to have as nearly as possible 100 per cent of the student body and staff report for the examinations, which will only take from two to three minutes per person.

The tests have been made available largely through the sale of Christmas seals by the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association.

Met Plans 16-Week Schedule For Opera

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP)—Sixteen weeks of performances, starting the night of Nov. 29, will make up the 1948-'49 season of the Metropolitan Opera.

The reduced season, two weeks less than last year, was announced last night by General Manager Edward Johnson.

He did not disclose the program to be presented and said the cast and opera for the first-night performance would be announced later.

The reduced season apparently was a reflection of the controversy that threatened for a time to keep the world-famous opera house closed this season.

Plans for the 1948-'49 season were canceled by the Metropolitan Opera association last month.

The association reported a deficit of $220,000 for last year and said that wage demands from a dozen employe unions plus rising costs made a new season impractical.

After a series of conferences, however, the unions agreed to drop their wage demands and the association reversed its decision on the 1948-'49 season.

Safe Driving Talk Given For Jaycees

Members of Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, meeting for luncheon Monday noon at Hilton hotel, heard Sgt. T. C. Laws of the Texas Department of Public Safety talk on the increased number of deaths in Lubbock county this year as a result of traffic accidents and the failure of drivers to observe the same courteous attitude behind the wheel as when afoot.

Following the talk, Jaycee members went on record unanimously as approving immediate adoption of increased courtesy in driving at all times.

Laws stressed that while only 13 people were killed in Lubbock county during 1947 as result of traffic accidents, 19 have been killed so far this year.

Various other announcements included Gene Quest's plan to increase safety conditions in outlying schools, Homer Roper's presentation of membership pins to Pete West, Chuck Hawkins and Ray Goodart, Charles Dvoracek's parting talk before leaving for active duty with the Navy, and President Horace Geahart's announcement that D. M. Wiggins, Texas Tech's new president, will address next week's Jaycee luncheon meeting.

The club also heard an appeal by Jesse Gordon for assistance in the current old clothes drive, and learned that Miss Glynna Addington will be the new club secretary.

Prior to 1913, the Secretary of Commerce was known as the Secretary of Commerce and Labor.

Air Conditioning Unit Fire Routs Houston Humble Workers

HOUSTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—A small fire in a basement air conditioning unit sent employees in the Humble Oil and Refining company building into hurried flight today.

Smoke from the minor blaze spread rapidly throughout the huge building through the air conditioning ducts.

Company officials said damage primarily was limited to water damage to the first floor.

1800 Acres: One mile highway frontage, less than 20 miles out of Brownwood; 200 acres black land in cultivation, pasture mostly Mesquite and Liveoak; water adequate in supply; wells, windmills, surface tanks and living creek. Good fences, fair home, barns and corrals. Price $37.50. Possession soon.

No overflow, on good road and school bus. $65.00 per acre and worth it—half cash necessary. Owner must retire.

200 Acres Near Small Town in Central Texas: Half mile off paved highway, excellent 6-room home, modern; outbuildings; adequate water, plentiful and good quality. An excellent small stock farm, will trade for irrigated land in this section.

If you want it in Central Texas, we have it, or will try hard to locate it for you. Write us, or better come and see.

Western Allies Slowly Nearing Grave Showdown Over Berlin

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN — The situation in Berlin contains the strong possibility that the Western Allies will soon face a decision as to whether they want to risk war with Russia, now or later.

The Allied representatives who seek to end the Berlin blockade by negotiation naturally are not going to admit despair. But I cannot find one glimmer of hope that negotiations will bring an end to the East-West war for control of Germany. Any relaxation of the blockade would merely mean a slight tactical change on the overall picture.

Seek To Control Germany

The Russians are out for control of all Germany. The Communists would soon be back at our throats with some other tactic or on some other front. They are conducting a fanatical compaign. As long as their policies remain unchanged and their dynamism unchecked, the conflict will go on.

If the blockade is not lifted, continued operation of the air lift may soon involve more serious problems than the mere matter of keeping it effective during the winter.

As you fly between Frankfurt and Berlin, all along the edges of the corridor you see Russian landing strips. Sometimes fighters are visible, sometimes not. Sometimes they cavort through the air just outside the corridor to remind you that the "vittles" run is not an entirely peaceful operation.

Flights Claimed Danger

The British and French, according to a highly authoritative nontinued operation of the air lift as a definite threat to peace. This analyst recently made three points in reporting the situation to his government.

1. The danger of war can be avoided only by a four-power approach—such as has been underway—to the Berlin problem, with lifting of the blockade as the principal objective.

2. If the western powers continue indefinitely to operate the air lift, incidents are bound to develop which could cause war.

3. An attempt to break the blockade with armed ground convoys would produce immed-

Since this report wos made, developments have dimmed most hopes on the first point. On the second point, we can only wait and see what Russia is willing to take. The American belief here is that, if we ourselves are prepared to take the risk of war, peace can be preserved, lift or no lift.

On the third point, there is no longer much discussion. Some Americans still feel that, given sufficient notice in which to withdraw to a face-saving position, the Russians would not open fire on convoys. But all the emphasis now is on getting the job done through the air lift.

If the Russians try to interfere with that, if we come to the point where we either have to put up fighters to protect the cargo planes or get out of Berlin, then America will have come to what might very well prove the final cast of the die.

Five U. S. Solons Leave For Study Of Conditions In Europe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Five congressmen left by plane today for a five-week study of conditions in Europe.

In the group were Reps. Burleson, Gossett, Wilson and Lucas, Texas Democrats, and Rep. Battle (D-Ala.)

Burleson said they plan to attend the moral rearmament conference now being held in Switzerland. After that they hope to visit every European country not dominated by Russia, and want particularly to check up on the Berlin situation and results of the economic cooperation administration program abroad.

Gossett said he intends to study conditions in displaced persons camps to learn what their occupants are doing to help themselves.
