Rankin Says Court Edict Is Dangerous

Ruling On Ballot Called 'Blunder'

WASHINGTON, April 5. (AP) — Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) said in a statement today that the Supreme court made a "blunder" in ruling that negroes may vote in a white primary in Texas and as a result "the South is in grave danger."

"Not only are the white people being betrayed by a lot of alien-minded crackpots here in Washington but the negroes of the South are having their last hope of peace and harmony with their white neighbors destroyed," Rankin said.

Probe By Parlor Pinks

Commenting on the Justice department's decision to investigate how the ruling affects primaries in other southern states, Rankin said:

"The parlor pinks in the department of justice are already starting in to harrass the southern states as a result of the recent blunder of the Supreme court. They will probably indict election officials from all over the South for conspiracy, drag them to Washington and try them before a biased jury picked from the federal payroll.

"This is no time for representatives or senators in Congress from the South to cringe, dodge or attempt to cover up. Our country and especially the South is in grave danger. While our brave young men are giving their lives to protect this nation against foreign foes, we should see to it that the things that they are fighting for are not destroyed by an alien-minded or an irresponsible element here at home.

GROUP OF LAWYERS TO RECOMMEND ACTION

(By The Associated Press)

A group of Texas lawyers will study the United States Supreme court's ruling throwing open to negro participation the primary elections of the Texas Democratic party, George A. Butler, chairman of the State Democratic Executive committee said late Wednesday.

In Houston, Butler said the attorneys would recommend a plan of action.

Meanwhile Gov. Coke R. Stevenson revealed at his press conference in Austin he has suggested that the party consult four or five constitutional lawyers.

The governor's idea was that this procedure might relieve the court's view that the party is a state agency and its elections subject to the same tests as general elections when the issue of discrimination or abridgment of rights is concerned.

Third Victim Of Killer Is Found

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 5 (AP) Slumped in a vacant house, the slashed body of 47-year-old Roy Schat, Cleveland county farmer, was discovered near here today and officers believed he was the third victim of a killer who roamed central Oklahoma Monday.

Schat's throat was cut and his head appeared to have been pounded—treatment similar to that suffered by a McCloud farm woman, Mrs. Victoria Jorski, 38, and her 3-year-old daughter, Martha, whose bodies were left in the barn on the Jorski place 25 miles east of here.

From Chickasha, officers returned here with two negroes picked up there early today for questioning. Neighbors had seen a negro walking away from Schat's truck when it was abandoned Monday 15 miles southwest of here.

Schat appeared to have been dead since about noon Monday. The Jorski tragedy occurred Monday, afternoon.

Assistant President At Baylor Resigns

WACO, April 5. (AP)—James T. Mixson today announced his resignation as assistant president of Baylor university, after 10 years in the position. He said the pressure of private business affairs required the move.

Mixson came to Baylor in 1932 as secretary to President Pat M. Neff and was appointed assistant president in 1934.

"My work and associations at Baylor university during the past 12 years were most pleasant but it has been apparent for some time that other obligations would necessitate me leaving this position," he said. "I regret that I must make this choice."

ARMY WAREHOUSE BURNS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5. (AP) An Army warehouse, being built for storage of foodstuffs for overseas shipment, blazed late today on the South Embaracdero waterfront and firemen, responding to three alarms, were unable to confine the flames to the building.

Wilkie Withdraws As GOP Candidate; Dewey Boom Gains

Wisconsin Defeat Gives Him No Hope

(By The Associated Press)

OMAHA, April 5.—Wendell L. Willkie, who failed to gain a single pledged delegate in yesterday's Wisconsin in primary election, announced tonight that he is withdrawing as a candidate for the Republican nomination for president and called on his friends "to desist from any activity toward that end."

Willkie inserted the announcement into his prepared address for delivery at the Omaha city auditorium tonight and devoted primarily to sharp criticism of the administration's foreign policy.

Cancels Campaign

Simultaneously Willkie's managers announced that he is cancelling future campaign trips, including a speech at Sioux City, Ia., tomorrow night, and a visit to Michigan. He will return to New York after his speech tonight.

The statement, added to the prepared speech, follows in full:

"It has been my conviction that no Republican could be nominated for president unless he received at the convention the votes of some of the major mid-western

Quick Nomination Of Dewey Foreseen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, A. 1 5. — The withdrawal of Wendell L. Willkie from the Republican presidential race prompted jubilant supporters of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to predict tonight that Dewey would be nomiated on an early, if not the first, ballot at Chicago.

Even before Willkie's acknowledgement that he had no chance to win the nomination, they had been making such forecasts. They based them on yesterday's Wisconsin primary, in which Dewey captured the lion's share of the state's 24 delegates, while Willkie apparently failed to gain a single one.

Stassen Seen As Gainer

Supporters of Lieut. Commander Harold E. Stassen, who won a few delegates along with General Douglas MacArthur, expersed belief privately that many Willkie followers might now go over to the Stassen camp.

The big question among politicians in Washington was whether Willkie would actively support the choice of the Republican convention in June. There was no immediate answer since Willkie con-

Plans Completed For Truman Visit

Open House Set Saturday And Big Crowd Expected, With State Leaders Coming

Final plans for the entertainment of Senator Harry S. Truman of Missouri on his visit here Saturday were made by the local steering committee and indications point toward one of the largest gatherings of its kind in West Texas when the Missourian addresses an audience at Senior High school auditorium that night.

L. C. Ellis, county Democratic chairman, who with Mark Halsey, state Democratic executive committeeman, and Mrs. Clyde F. Elkins, co-chairman of the county committee; head the steering committee for the rally, announced that C. A. Bestwick would direct the transportation committee and H. L. Allen the reception committee. James L. Quicksall and W. C. O'Mara are vice chairmen of the reception committee.

Open House Scheduled

One of the highlights of the Senator's visit here will be an open house at the Hilton hotel Saturday afternoon. He will also be available for a press conference with West Texas and Eastern New Mexico newspapermen later in the afternoon.

The chairman of the now famous Truman Investigating committee of the upper house of Congress is scheduled to arrive in Lubbock late Friday night from Big Spring. Saturday morning he is scheduled to visit the two Army air fields near Lubbock and will also make a tour of the Texas Technological college campus.

Present plans for the rally call for its start at 8 o'clock at the auditorium with a broadcast of the Senator's speech over KFYO and possibly a state-wide hook-up slated for about 8:30 o'clock.

State Leaders Coming

A number of state officials and party leaders have accepted invitations to the rally. Included in the group are: Armstead Brooks of Dallas, Myron Blalock of Marshall, national Democratic committeeman from Texas; Bascom

Wintry Blasts Sweep Big Area

(By The Associated Press)

Winter played an Easter season return engagement last night with a snowstorm in the eastern states and low temperatures that damaged peach crops in the South.

New Jersey felt the full brunt of the spring snowfall, drifts reaching a depth of 13 inches in some areas. In New York state, some sections reported six inches of snow.

The prankish weather felled trees in New York City and slowed traffic. A four-inch snow cover at LaGuardia airport forced a halt in air travel from there. There was slight intermittent snow at Binghamton, Elmira, Syracuse, Rome and Rochester, N. Y.

Peach Crop Destroyed

The peach crop in the Greenville, S. C., area, an important producing section, was described by a leading orchardist as largely destroyed.

Some damage also was reported to peach buds on Maryland's eastern shore, where light snow and sub-freezing temperatures prevailed.

Snow and sleet in West Virginia, with temperatures as low as 14, endangered plum, pear and peach blooms.

Possible peach crop damage also was expected in the Chattanooga, Tenn., region, where below freezing temperatures were predicted.

A similar cold snap was forecast for north Georgia peach and vegetable areas on the heels of three weeks of excessive rains which the state crop reporting service said had damaged commercial truck crops.

30 At Birmingham

Birmingham, Ala., reported a temperature of 30 degrees, the lowest recorded there for April 5.

An all-time low temperature for the date, 47 degrees, was reported by two Florida resort cities, Miami and Jacksonville. Tallahassee was the coldest place in the state, however, with the mercury at 41. Florida crops were not threatened.

The Carolinas had temperatures ranging from 20 at Asheville to 39 at Charlestown.

A temperature of 30.8 in Richmond, Va., was the lowest there on an April 5 in 47 years. There was a two-inch snowfall in the mountainous areas of the state.

Washington, D. C., had a 35-degree temperature and clear weather.

Eastern Connecticut had three inches of snow, but most of New England had only scattered flurries.

ROYALTY UNHOUSED, TOO

LONDON, April 5. (AP)—Exiled King Peter of Yugoslavia and his bride, Alexandra of Greece, can't find a home in London. Returning from a brief honeymoon in a cottage at Ascot, they went house-hunting in war-crowded London in vain. They are stopping at a hotel while rental agents continue the search.

Telephone Service To Eire Is Discontinued

LONDON, Thursday, April 6 (AP) The postmaster general announced today the closing of public telephone service between Great Britain and all parts of Ireland immediately in a drastic new move to prevent leakage of military information on the coming invasion of Europe.

The order follows the recent ban on travel between the same countries on the ground that neutral Eire might be used by the enemy to maintain contacts for information.

Public telegraph service will be maintained, but subject to strict censorship.

This is one of several new steps to guard invasion secrets. A long stretch of the English coast was just made a restricted area.

In Honor Of Bataan
Sunday To Be Memorial Day

AUSTIN, April 5 (AP)—Governor Coke Stevenson, in accordance with a request from the Texas chapter of the Bataan Relief organization, announced today that Sunday, April 9, will be known as "Bataan Memorial Day."

In his proclamation, Stevenson said: "Churches over the state will hold special prayer services for the men who lost their liberty in the fall of Bataan, and for the families and loved ones of those who gave their lives in the courageous fight to resist the Japanese aggressor.

"The fight still goes on, and on this occasion it would be fitting to make a pledge of faith that it will continue until the day of liberation for all those held by the enemy."

Airmen Daringly Roam Nazi Skies

Fighters Hunt For Hitler Air Forces

LONDON, April 5 (AP)—Squadrons of American fighter planes pierced deep into Germany today on a unique mission, gunning for Hitler's air forces in the Berlin and Munich areas, while Liberator bombers hammered again at Pas-De-Calais in northern France.

Long-range Mustangs of the Eighth Air force's fighter command whipped across Germany to the vicinity of Berlin, 600 miles distant, and also plunged into the Munich area, 575 miles from their bases, attacking enemy planes in the air and on the ground wherever they could find them.

Hunting Forays

In addition Thunderbolt and Lightning fighters also swept over the Reich in hunting forays and, like the Mustangs, machine-gunned various enemy airfields.

For the most part the German air force offered little resistance, a communique tonight said, but the U. S. fighters managed to shoot down five enemy craft in addition to destroying "several dozen" planes on the ground.

Eight of the Eighth Air force's fighters were lost, but all the Liberators returned safely.

The penetration by the Eighth Air force's Mustangs was the first time that fighters had been permitted to go so far on their own responsibility and without acting as escorts for heavy bombers.

Only Moderate Flak

The Liberators, escorted by Thunderbolts, met no interceptors and only moderate flak.

"It was just a ride," said Lt. Harry McGregor, Panhandle, Texas, pilot. "We rode over, dropped some tonnage of TNT on the target and then came home."

The U. S. Air force headquarters announced the goals of the Liberator force were military objectives on the occupied French promotory nearest Great Britain and made no mention of any other operation.

However, the Berlin radio reported that American planes flew over Germany on "nuisance raids."

Grand Jury Reopens Hunt Inquiry Monday

PLAINVIEW, April 5 (AP)—The Lamb county grand jury reconvenes Monday to resume its investigation of the slayings last October of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt at Littlefield.

Harold M. LaFont, Plainview district attorney, said witnesses had been subpoened from Galveston and Houston.

The grand jury recessed Feb. 26 after hearing the testimony of 30 witnesses among them a man held in jail at Lubbock since a few days after the Hunts were found slain in their bed.

Draft Waits For No One, Even Hizzoner

PAMPA, Tex., April 5. (AP)—The swearing-in of the newly elected city commission, set for the morning of April 11, today was moved up an hour—outgoing Mayor Fred Thompson has a date with the Navy.

Thompson, who will conduct the ceremonies, asked that the change in time be made so that he can leave for Lubbock with other draftees.

U.S. Heavies Lash Ploesti As Reds' Aid

Nazis Claim 52 Bombers Downed

(By The Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 5. — The great oil center of Ploesti, Rumania, was raided again today by U. S. Fortresses and Liberators against heavy opposition and this time it was the town's rail yards rather than the oil fields which were the targets.

Aiding Red armies whose spearhead was approximately 200 miles to the northeast at Iasi, the American bomber fleet and escort of fighters blasted Ploesti's two freight yards gorged with long strings of loaded cars, firing oil-filled tank cars and ripping tracks with explosives. Smoke rose more than three miles high.

70,000 Population

Ploesti is a town of 70,000 population in an area of about 13 square miles. Oil facilities are so thickly spotted in the vicinity that some of them may also have been hit.

(A large oil refinery adjacent to the rail yards was set ablaze, the British radio said in a broadcast recorded by NBC.

(The Berlin radio declared, without Allied confirmation, that 52 American bombers were shot down.)

The assault followed within 24 hours of the first American blow of the war at Bucharest, Rumania's capital 30 miles to the south, and obviously was part of a well-planned air campaign by the U. S. 15th Air force to assist Russian ground forces pounding into the Balkans.

Balkans Capitals Pounded

It was the fourth major American attack in seven days against Balkan communications centers. Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, received its latest blasting March 30 and the Bucharest bombing was preceded on Monday with two attacks on Budapest, capital of Hungary—by U. S. heavies in daylight and by the RAF at night.

One report in Italy was that Hitler had been visiting Hungary at the time of the raids on Budapest. Martial law was reported to have been declared there.

There were other reports that both Bucharest and Budapest were being evacuated, and that Hungarian soldiers were deserting.

The raids essentially was a blow at the German oil supply,

Rumania's Will To Fight Broken

LONDON, April 5. (AP) — Rumania's days as an effective fighting power appear ended under the onslaught now of Russian armies and Allied bombers.

Premier Ion Antonescu, it is believed here, is finding it impossible to take Rumania formally out of the war since German troops hold all key points, but the people's will to fight is broken and Rumania now is in the same apathetic state as Italy.

(A Blue network broadcast from London quoted Turkish dispatches as saying Antonescu would ask Moscow, Washington and London for an armistice.

No Immediate Injury

Although Hitler's Balkan satellites are disintegrating under the burden of war, Allied military chiefs preparing the western front have small hope that a Balkan collapse would be of any immediate serious injury to the German war machine.

The Germans have been using Rumanian troops as they did the Italians in the North African desert, leaving them behind to fight hopeless rearguard actions and to get captured.

There is no doubt Hitler plans to use his Balkan satellites as a battleground, trading space for men as the Russians did early in the war. In doing so he will lose valuable oil, mineral and agricultural supplies, but even under the most rapid Russian advance, Allied experts do not believe these losses actually will be felt in the German war machine until early next winter.

Maritime Service Halts Enlistments In 18-26 Age Group Under New Agreement

WASHINGTON, April 5. (AP) — The Maritime service will enlist no more men between 18 and 26 for merchant sea duty, spovesmen for War Shipping administration said today, because of Army and Navy needs for younger men.

The policy resulted from an agreement with Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director.

At the same time, it was learned the inter-agency deferment committee is considering whether men in the 18-26 age group already in the Merchant marine should be made subject to the draft.

This committee, headed by Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt, is studying the general question of which industries should be permitted to retain key personnel under 26.

The War shipping administration was represented as particularly anxious that captains and other licensed Merchant marine officers be exempted from the draft. The Maritime service has about 125,000 men and about half of them are between 18 and 26.

The decision not to enlist men between 18 and 26 in the future does not apply to licensed officers or radio operators.

Selective Service said there had been no policy decisions as yet on the status of 4-F college students when the program of forcing 4-F's into essential work gets into full swing.

Deferment from the draft is now granted a restricted number of students in engineering and scientific courses.

Selective Service Director Hershey has made clear, however, that he favors a fairly broad list of activities in which 4-F's could engage without being subject to induction into an Army work corps. His general definition is "jobs which are contributing materially and substantially to the war effort."

A more specific definition and an answer to the question of what to do about 4-F college students may be included in legislation which a House Military subcommittee is drafting to implement the general policy of forcing those unfit for military service into jobs aiding the war effort.

Reds Sever Escape Route From Ukraine

Rail Junction Captured And Estimated 200,000 Nazis Menaced In Odessa Area

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 5.—Red infantry and mechanized troops, aided by crack cavalry, captured the Ukraine rail junction of Razrelnaya today, cutting the main escape route of an estimated 200,000 Germans still grouped around Odessa as a fast-swinging Soviet crescent slashed further down towards that great Black Sea port.

Marshal Stalin announced capture of Razdelnaya in an order of the day, and tonight's Soviet communique added more than 130 other populated places to the list of novka and Antono-kobintselo, 33 and 24 miles north and northeast, respectively, of Odessa.

8 Miles Always On East

From the east the Russians drove to within 18 airline miles of Odessa with capture of Stariye-Belyary.

The communique also listed a Kubanka among captured towns but did not specify its location. Large-scale maps show a village of that name 14 miles north of Odessa but no other communities in the vicinity were included in the Russian list.

Razdelnaya, 40 miles northwest of Odessa, is astride the railway through Tiraspol to Rumania, and by taking it the speeding Russians forced the Germans to fall back on Black Sea lanes or a combination rail and ferry route for escape from the Odessa region.

Sea Flight Unlikely

Flight by sea was unlikely, with the Soviet Black Sea fleet in control of those waters, while the rail-ferry line crosses the wide Dniester river estuary close to the coast, under easy fire of the fleet in addition to any aerial force the Russians might bring to bear on such slow traffic.

For the second straight day the Russians were silent about the Rumanian front, where American airmen gave the Red Army a direct hand by bombing the railway yards at Polesti, the vital Rumanian oil-field center 190 miles southeast of the Iasi battlefield

Robbery Blamed For Young Bride's Death

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., April 5 (AP) — Police today blamed the death of Billie Mae Horn, 21, bride of eight days, to a robber who entered her home here early Monday morning shortly after her 21-year-old husband, Marine Sgt. Robert James Horn, had left for his post at the Mojave Marine base 50 miles away.

Police Chief Robert Powers said the young wife's bill fold and her purse, both rifled of money, had been found within a short distance of her home. He expressed belief that an iron bar or a hammer was used by her slayer, although the death weapon has not been found.

Sgt. Horn, Guadalcanal veteran, was questioned yesterday by Police Lt. John H. Lounsbury, who quoted him as saying he left home about 2 a. m. Monday and caught a 3:15 train here for Mojave, and knew nothing of his bride's death.

Chief Powers said the police are not holding Sgt. Horn or asking that he be held.

Another Victim Of Odessa Crash Dies

ODESSA, Tex., April 5. (AP) — Robert Cecil Tillman, 45, died yesterday, the second fatality of a two-car crash Friday night in which five other persons were seriously injured.

Mrs. M. L. Palmer, 27, died a few hours after the wreck.

Tillman will be buried in Wichita Falls, his father's home. Surviving are his widow; two daughters, Mrs. William Shick, Fort Worth, and Miss Joyce Tillman, Odessa; his father, and two sisters, Mrs. Winnie Thompson of Dallas and Mrs. Vivian Rogers of Wichita Falls.

Britain Tightens Against Strikers

LONDON, Thursday, April 6. (AP)—The British war cabinet early today drafted an urgent order specifying that incitement of labor unrest is a criminal offense, and told the labor ministry to take any other action necessary to end strikes of more than 110,000 workers in the war-vital coal and ship-building industries.

There was no indication of wholesale arrests or of summoning troops to break strikes, but Scotland Yard, investigating possible subversive elements behind the spreading "wildcat" strikes, raided Trotskyite Communist offices in London and elsewhere Wednesday, while the Trades Union congress, parent body of organized British labor, warned that continuance of the work stoppages would imperil Allied victory.

Plan Drastic Steps

Labor Minister Ernest Bevin was expected to warn strikers to return to work and was prepared to take what the News-Chronicle called "drastic steps" if he was not heeded.

The strikes already have hampered preparations for the invasion of western Europe, the TUC said, adding that if they are continued they "cannot fail to produce a major national disaster and imperil victory of the Allied cause."

TUC statement, issued after a long conference with Bevin, declared "unauthorized stoppages of work occurring in the midst of preparations for concerted Allied attack upon Nazi fortified Europe already have impeded these imminent operations and have brought curtailment of essential production."

Scotland Yard Raid

Men from Scotland Yard raided the London office of the "Fourth International," a Trotskyite organization, where they found pamphlets praising the "class spirit of solidarity" in the strikes. No arrests were made.

Jock Haston, who said he was national organizer of the revolutionary communist party, was quoted by the British Press association as saying, "If the government imagines that by closing us down and suppressing our publications they are going to stop the wave of strikes, they are mad."

San Antonio Doctor, Masonic Leader, Dies

SAN ANTONIO, April 5. (AP)—The body of Dr. William Carlton Farmer, 77, one of San Antonio's outstanding physicians and Masonic leader, who died today in a local hospital, will lie in state until final rites are arranged.

Dr. Farmer, who was a 33rd degree Mason, past master and life member of Anchor No. 424, A. F. & A. M., was a native of Indiana, but had made his home here since 1905.

He had held office in state and national organizations in the fight against tuberculosis.

Nips Show Gains Only In India As They Push Ahead

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

NEW TRIUMPHS for American air forces in the Pacific were reported today as Japanese troops, driving deeper into India, increased their threat to the railway supplying United States soldiers in Burma.

Fresh from smashing the Japanese air force at Hollandia in Dutch New Guinea, Southwest Pacific bombers returned to the attack on Wewak, which only a month ago was a powerful air center on northwest New Guinea. Thirteen parked planes were destroyed in a huge explosion.

25 Downed Sunday

Twenty-five Japanese planes were shot down out of a force of 60 interceptors in Sunday's raid on Truk by South Pacific bombers, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced in a revised report. Originally only seven had been listed as brought down against an American loss of five Liberators.

Other air strikes were made from Timor in the Dutch East Indies to Kavieng, New Ireland.

On the ground Australian troops pressed to within nine miles of the enemy New Guinea outpost of Bogadjim. American troops are 13 miles from the town.

Control 15 Miles Of Road

Enemy infantry control a 15-mile stretch of the Manipur road between the British Indian bases of Imphal and Kohima. To the north and east the main invasion force is probing strongly toward the railway supplying Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's troops in North Burma.

A British spokesman commented that the Japanese were in danger of entrapping themselves by over-extending their supply lines in the face of the coming monsoons, only six weeks away. The primitive Nipponese supply line is already 200 miles long.

Other Japanese invasion columns appeared to have been halted, at least temporarily, on the roads leading from Burma to Imphal.

For the first time in a week Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' daily press release yesterday failed to mention a bombardment of Truk, Japanese Caroline islands base caught between the bombs of land-based American Liberators from the South and Central Pacific.

Central Pacific bombers struck in three directions from their advanced bases — to the north at Wake island where a cargo ship was sunk, to the south at Ponape

Two Missing In Squall Are Safe

GALVESTON, April 5 (AP) — James O. Collins and J. D. Harris today returned in their sailboat from a successful fishing trip to learn that they had been the objects of a widespread search when they were listed among the missing following a squall which swept Galveston bay Sunday morning, overturning fishing boats and drowning at least two persons.

They explained that when the squall, which lasted less than an hour, struck, they took refuge on Tiddlum Taddlum island, about 30 miles west of Galveston, and resumed their fishing when it was over. They saw searching planes circle the area, but did not know there was any alarm over their disappearance.

Six Still Missing

Search for the body of J. N. Collier of Silsbee, a known drowning victim, and five other persons on the missing list was continued by the Coast Guard.

The body of Mrs. A. N. Jones of Pasadena was recovered Monday. Her husband and their two fishing companions, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Knight of Houston, are still missing as are L. B. Eastman and John O. Jackson of Galveston.

Diminished Nazi Air Force Offers Only Guarded Blows

(EDITOR'S NOTE: While Allied air fleets were again over Europe today whittling down German air power, a United Press war correspondent obtained an authoritative estimate of the effort of the campaign to date. He reports it in the following dispatch).

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE
United Press War Writer

LONDON, April 5.—Effective German fighter opposition to Allied bombing fleets has been driven behind the Rhine, and the overall strength of the luftwaffe has been diminished 30 per cent, authoritative sources said today.

This source said the massive assault on German fighter plane factories—with its twin aim of smashing as many German planes as possible in the skies and on air fields—already had justified itself.

Aid Russians Also

Allied air power not only is able to matintain the tempo of attack against German fighters but also to give direct support to the Russian Army by bombing key targets like Budapest and Bucharest. The German military position in the east already is so weak that these attacks are a serious threat, it was said.

The Germans have been driven off the forward fields in France—much farther from their coastline than the RAF ever retreated during the battle of Britain. During the worst pressure in August and September, 1940, the RAF still took the Germans on at the coastline and fought them tooth and nail back to France.

Nazis Operate Guardedly

Today our bombers get little or no reaction from the German fighter force until they are beyond the Rhine. Even then they meet a full, head-on attack only when their presumed targets are of first class importance and if they have visual bombing conditions which the Germans know will make the assault devastating.

If the weather is bad enough to diminish the effectiveness of the American bomb sight or the target is rated secondary by the Germans, the luftwaffe just "sits that one out."

The Germans still are capable of staging a furious air battle whenever they believe conditions justify, because there were enough planes between factory and airfield during the past weeks of intensive attack to bring fighter squadrons practically back to full strength That was shown in the surprisingly-strong fighter defense of Steyr in the last attack by the 15th Air force based in Italy. It was shown by the fact that the RAF lost 94 planes the other night.

Heavy Luftwaffe Loss

Nevertheless, air officials here look hopefully at an estimated luftwaffe loss of 2,700 planes to the 8th and 15th Air forces since January. This figure does not include planes destroyed by fighters on the ground nor those caught in the rain of demolition bombs showered on fields around the big assembly plants. The Germans are believed to be in no position to replace those losses in the future and with the real Allied air effort still to come, they must conserve their strength.

Navigation Is Used To Prove Traffic Charge Contention Wrong

HOUSTON, April 5 (AP)—Driving at 45? Ridiculous, said the navigator, and he proved it in traffic court.

The flier contended that the arresting officers could not have overtaken him in three blocks as they claimed if he had been driving 45 miles an hour as they charged.

With the use of navigation instruments hauled into court he calculated that the officers could have caught him within three blocks only by driving 150 miles an hour.

The charge was dismissed.

Ten Indictments Returned Here

Most of 10 persons indicted in 10 bills returned Wednesday by a 99th district grand jury either were in jail, under bond or in process of making bond, the sheriff's department said Wednesday afternoon.

C. B. Lawrence, charged with rape of Mrs. Evelyn Stovall, had posted $5,000 bond set by Judge J. E. Vickers.

Bonds probably will be posted this morning by George Fulcher, charged in two bills with receiving and consealing stolen property valued over $50, specifically threshed grain from H. V. Stanton; and Ira Taylor, Thomas Watson, Rogers Hewing and Willie Lee Hervey, all for theft over $50, specifically grain from Stanton.

Hood Abercrombie, charged with embezzlement over $50; Mannie Foster, a negro, with murder with malice of Cleveland Smith, another negro, and Adar Carmona, child desertion, are other names privileged for publication, officials announced.

The grand jury, of which W. O. Fortenberry of Monroe was foreman, petitioned the court for permission to reassemble at 10 o'clock this morning of May 29, and Judge Vickers so ordered.

The 12 men were impaneled Monday morning when Judge Vickers convened a 12-week April term of court.

Negro Fined For 'Going Crazy' And Attacking Driver

It cost Amos Knight, a 48-year-old negro, $50 and court costs of about half that much more, for an aggravated assault Tuesday night on E. B. Conner, a bus driver on the East Avenue A run to the negro section.

He recited his previous good record for law and order qualities and threw himself on the mercy of County Judge G. V. Pardue.

Conner went to the police station Wednesday, easily identified the negro as one who had "threatened to cut my head off at 8:05 o'clock last night and called me foul names." The negro protested he was not even on a bus Tuesday night, but Conner described him so closely that Knight broke down and confessed. Conner even told how much money, and what coins, the negro would have in his possession, the kind of knife, together with color of handles, he wielded and other details of damaging import.

"I just drunk something outa a bottle and it must nota been whisky; I went crazy," the negro told the court.

The assault happened when there were other passengers on the bus.

The black's previous good record was "all that saved him a much heavier penalty," officials said.

Negro Aspirant Loses In Dallas School Vote

DALLAS, April 5 (AP) — Final returns in the city's school board election showed today that the Rev. M. H. Jackson, negro Baptist preacher who aspired to a place on the board, was defeated by an 8-to-1 majority.

Jackson was defeated by Fred D. Danford, who sought re-election for place No. 2 Danford received 22,318 votes to Jackson's 2,783.

The negro minister received votes in all precincts of his district. However, despite an active campaign, the negro vote was comparatively light or they did not vote for Jackson as there are 6,558 negroes qualified to vote in the district.

R. L. Thomas, unopposed, won place No. 1 on the board, and Dr. David W. Carter, board president, defeated W. L. Smith for place No. 3.

"Free Enterprise"?

FREEDOM OF ENTERPRISE, for example, has helped the electric companies under business management to most every war demand for electric power—stepping production steadily up and holding prices firmly down. The same freedom of enterprise that built the electric companies, built America! There is no substitute for it!

"Free Enterprise" is just a name for the way America works. It's the simple principle that human beings like to get on in the world. That when a man sets out to be a doctor or a shoe salesman or an electrical engineer—that's what he wants to be. And he can be!

That when a farmer plows his field and plants his seed, he has a right to a fair return. A right to buy more land—and extend his fences. That when a business man founds a business, he's building a future—and nobody can take that future from him. That when a man works hard and saves his dollars, those dollars are his. He can spend them if he likes. Or he can invest his money, secure in the knowledge it's working for him.

Call that any name you like. Call it Free Enterprise or Democracy or Opportunity. Whatever you call it, it's American-bred-in-the-bone.

Without it, nobody's going to plan any further than tomorrow. Without it, there's no incentive to invest, discover or develop. Without it—and don't let anyone tell you otherwise—this country would lose its high place among the nations of the world.

Hatcherymen Say Situation Tough, Disagree On Causes

Chick hatcherymen don't agree on causes of what's happening to their business—but agree they are in a tough spot.

Several of them were interviewed Wednesday afternoon after persistent rumors said Lubbock hatcherymen were finding it "impossible, or next-to-impossible, to sell cockerels at any price and that it looks like they'll have to chloroform many hundreds of chicks."

Discunting those rumors as "being too alarmist," several hatcherymen nevertheless explained that conditions "could go that far unless people begin thinking this thing out straight."

Some Of The Causes

Almost all agreed the complexity is due to at least some of the following elements:

Surplus of poultry and eggs from last spring's heavy chick buying; failure of the government to keep the price of eggs stable; rising prices of feed in the face of maintenance of the ceiling price for broilers and fryers; recent cold weather which caused numerous backyard growers of poultry to "wait a few days" before taking a chance; efforts of producers to stretch protein feed requirements; and investment fears resulting from stories, some of them true, of thousands of chicks' having been drowned of chloroformed in other chicken centers because of a temporarily distressed market.

Some hatcherymen will tell you now is the time to keep up with hatchery schedules! that an alarming shortage in poultry and eggs will begin reflecting itself the last six months of the years unless hatcheries and chick buyers "get together" and "watch out for the remaining war period."

Some Already Quitting

Conversely, there are those who will tell you that three Lubbock hatcheries already have gone out of business, at least for the time, and that another has put in its "last batch of eggs for hatching this season."

"I've got it figured out that to have anything left, we'd better draw out of active operation of our businesses," one hatcheryman explained. "We'd have to pay our employes, and rent, but we'd not be investing in high-price eggs then see them drop 10 cents a dozen about the time we take chicks off—resulting in our having to lower the price of the chicks." That was the explanation of a hatcheryman who admittedly has "taken a beating several times already this year.

"Tell me where I can buy a chicken dinner," requested another. "I'm asking, not saying it sarcastically. I've been looking for one, and can't find it. You know why? Much of the fryers being sold now are from black markets, I'm convinced."

Some More Optimistic

Another was more optimistic.

"Six weeks ago I sold 100 roosters at 2 each," he said. It took five sacks of feed, or about $20, to finish them for sale—and the buyer sold them for $75—making $50 clear. I've had other buyers from over the years tell me they'll keep buying—that they can foresee such a drop in production that, by Christmas after next, they'll be selling eggs by the pound, and at higher prices. Farmers who are taking 22 cents a dozen for eggs now will make lots of money if they don't quit buying pullets. It won't be anytime now until hens get wormy and begin moulting. Then you'll see the beginning of an egg shortage. You can put me down as saying it's smart to buy chicks now."

Disparity In Prices

Others hit at the disparity of feed prices and prices of eggs and poultry. High maize prices—described as nearer than ever to the price of prepared feed—are at the bottom of the feed problem, one said. Others said that when the public increased poultry raising 16 per cent last year, instead of the 13 per cent asked, that the predicate for today's problems was laid.

"Despite the fact that 75,000 chickens were drowned in a batch the other day in another section of Texas and that midwestern and eastern hatcheries have reported some chloroforming and shutting down, we'd better think this thing out," another hatcheryman said.

"We face the prospect of sliding back to the 1940 status when we were short of hens and eggs. Next fall may see one of the worst shortages in the country's history."

Too Much Surplus

"We simply had too much surplus resulting from last year's buying, and now we may get a 20 per cent reduction as compared with last year. If there were storage space sufficient . . . But there isn't. You'll probably see 30-cent eggs in June."

Down to what the hatcherymen will agree on: "We expected to make perhaps 60 per cent this year of what we did last year—we'll do well to make that much, and some of us won't make 50 per cent as much."

"It's the worst situation that ever has hit the hatcheries," one operator explained.

WFA Sets Plans On Egg Buying

WASHINGTON, April 5. (U.P.)—The War Food administration will begin immediately a new egg buying program designed to assure producers a price of 26 cents a dozen, officials said today.

WFA for some time has bought eggs in carlots from egg handlers at a national average price of 30 cents a dozen for top quality eggs, but with a glutted market many farmers report they are getting only 18 and 20 cents a dozen.

WFA will designate egg companies in various parts of the country where prices are sagging as agents to buy directly from the farmer at not less than 26 cents. The companies then will resell the eggs, after proper certification of the purchase price, to WFA for 29 cents a dozen.

The agency will distribute many of the eggs obtained in this manner to relief institutions and for school lunch programs. The rest will be stored, prossibly to be resold to egg drying plants later in the year.

STORAGE OF EGGS IN FOOD LOCKERS URGED

Peter F. Murray, area marketing supervisor for WFA's office of distribution, today urged homemakers with freezer lockers in the Lubbock area to buy and store several additional dozen eggs now for future use as government nutritionists advise that frozen eggs are easy to handle, store satisfactorily and require a small amount of storage space.

For freezing, eggs are broken and whites and yolks may be preserved together or separately. In either case these eggs must be fresh and handled under extremely sanitary conditions to assure high quality frozen products.

Should Be Beaten Lightly

Whole eggs should be beaten lightly before they are placed in the locker. If stored separately, the yolks should be seasoned slightly with a small amount of sugar, corn syrup, honey, or two per cent glycerin if they are to be used in baked foods, such as cakes and custards. A small quantity of salt should be added if they are to be scrambled or used in other foods which require salt instead of sweetening.

Eggs should be stored in watertight containers such as cans, jars, or heavily paraffined paper cups, the size of the container depending on family needs. Each container should be properly labelled, indicating date, quantity, amount of seasoning, and whether whole or separated. Under proper refrigeration, eggs will retain high quality for about a year.

Maundy Thursday Rites To Be Held In City Tonight

Scottish Rite Masons of Lubbock and the South Plains, with especially invited guests among Master Masons, will gather at 8 o'clock tonight for their annual observance of Maundy Thursday.

The meeting, divided into three sections, will be held in the main ballroom of Hotel Hilton. The first section will be given over to ritualistic work; the second will be the dinner and the third a program especially fitted to the occasion.

Parker F. Prouty, president of the club, yesterday announced the complete program for the affair. It is as follows:

DeWitt Landis, master of ceremonies; opening ritualistic services, in charge of Ethan Allen Wells, 33rd degree Mason of El Paso; invocation, Rev. Dr. Jack M. Lewis, KCCH; address, Mr. Wells, who is secretary of the El Paso Consistory; toast to departed brethren, Durwood Bradley; business and election of officers for the coming year; benediction, Rabbi Isadore Garsek.

Reservations Coming In

Ed Packer, secretary of the club, reported today that reservations from members of the rite in Lubbock and over the area are "running higher than usual." He said he would receive reservations until 12 noon, Thursday. He may be reached by telephone at No. 6321.

Maundy Thursday observances are obligatory, Prouty said, for all Scottish Rite members of the 18th degree or more. However, he pointed out, all members of the rite—civilian and military and regardless of degree—are urged to attend and to bring with them guests among Master Mason friends.

The South Plains Scottish Rite club has been operating for more than two decades and sponsors two gatherings per year, one on Maundy Thursday of each Easter week, the other in the fall at the time of the Feast of the Tabernacles. Current vice-presidents of the organization are H. R. McKee, Slaton, and W. R. McDuffie, Brownfield.

Attendants at both meetings come from all over the South Plains area and in recent years have included members stationed here in the armed or other governmental services.

Two South Plains 33rd degree Masons will be in attendance at the observance tonight. They are John Dlarymple, Lubbock, and Tom May, Brownfield.

Goldfish are able to survive freezing of the water in which they live.

Most Markets Will Close Good Friday

(By The Associated Press)

The Easter holidays will be observed with the usual closing of all principal domestic securities and commodity exchanges, good Friday, April 7, but all will function as usual on Saturday. Banking institutions will be open Friday.

A few exceptions to the Good Friday closing will be the various livestock and dairy markets, which will be open as usual.

The New York cotton and wool markets and the New Orleans cotton exchange will also remain closed Saturday, April 8.

MAYBE... a Radiophone in your coming car

BUT... OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE is like outdoing the future — today

The first changes in new cars might be "miracles"—or moderate. Regardless, no new engines will be free from corrosive acids, always "planted" inside by every engine's explosions—just as in your present car. The more it stands unused, the greater the risk from trapped acid. This stepped-up risk arrived with rationing. Yet even before, when steadier heat in unrationed driving ousted acids partly, the prudent motorist still took advantage of all the extra acid-resistance made possible by having his engine OIL-PLATED.

This big advancement—a safely OIL-PLATED engine—can be "standard equipment" in your own car right today, at the mere price of a Spring oil change.

Out with unfit Winter oil! Then change to Conoco N*th* motor oil to have your engine automatically OIL-PLATED. The highly advanced synthetic in Conoco N*th* oil—patented—seems like "magnetism" in causing inner engine surfaces to attract and hold a layer of OIL-PLATING...a corrosion-resisting shield between acids trapped inside and every surface that's OIL-PLATED.

Wouldn't that make you OIL-PLATE your Victory car? It can help you bridge the gap until then, too. Simply change to Conoco N*th* for Spring at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

MAJ. ELMER TARBOX AND HIS BRIDE

AT least twice within the months that Maj. Elmer Tarbox served with the Air Force in China reports came to the office that he had been fatally injured. The first occasion, when someone telephoned to inquire, found us almost at press time and although we were rather excited over the rumor, a telephone call to a friend who had been corresponding with the former Tech football star put us straight. The second time happened shortly before Christmas and was in the nature of an inquiry from the Texas bureau of the Associated Press in Dallas and asking for fifty words about Maj. Tarbox's ativities as a student and resident here. Again a telephone call to a friend brought denial.

Wednesday morning when the smiling major and his bride, the former Maxine Barnett, came by the desk for a brief chat, we asked Elmer how it felt to have rumors out such as those. He hadn't heard about them and after our explanation he laughed shortly and to our question of "What do you think about it?" he suggested "I think fifty words would have been too many!"

• • •

Incidentally Mrs. Tarbox is a very pretty young woman with gray-blue eyes and dark brown hair which she wears in a shoulder bob. She is small and will make a gracious and hospitable wife for generous, folk-loving Elmer who invites all of friends to "Come to Dayton this summer and see us."

MAUNDY THURSDAY

TODAY, which commemorates the day of the Last Supper of Christ and His disciples, is known as Maundy Thursday. The word "maundy" comes from "mounde," a command and is derived from the "new commandment," as given in St. John XIII 5, 34.

Years ago in England, baskets of foods, called maunds, were given to those in need and kings washed the feet of the poor.

Today the occasion continues to be observed as one of humility and charity.

OUTGUESSING THE ARMY

HOME economics students who attended Texas Tech college in its early days remember Miss Dorothy McFarlane, now Mrs. Dorothy Macintosh who has made her home in the Lukon Territory for a number of years. A recent issue of "The Saturday Evening Post" carried an article about Mrs. Dorothy Macintosh "It Takes a Woman to Outguess the Army."

It seems that seven years ago, long before the Alaska Highway was started, the former professor and her husband established themselves in a cabin on the trail of the gold rush of '98 in a spot "where the St. Elias Mountains, one of North America's highest ranges, rise starkly to the west." Mr. Macintosh was away in prospecting for gold and to counteract loneliness, she brought in a small stock of groceries and dry goods to trade with the Indians and an occasional trapper.

ALTHOUGH it wasn't exactly an easy life, Mrs. Macintosh decided to remain there after her husband died in 1939. Two years ago business boomed at her small trading post when the construction crew on the Alaska higway worked along the trail past her door and wanted meals. Mrs. Macintosh raised a garden—enough to furnish 5,000 pounds of vegetables, according to the article—and that winter she boarded and roomed nine construction men, doing all of the work herself, although she was past fifty.

Last summer, engineers, aiming to shorten the distance to Fairbanks, laid out a new stretch of road eight miles away from Mrs. Macintosh's place and for a time it looked like the end of her new prosperity. Her friends tried to talk her into moving to the new route but she refused and answered "The Lord brought me this road; do you think He will take it away?"

In the fall the new route was abandoned; the engineers announcing the way was too rough and back the road came to Dorothy and last December the Alaska Military highway was pronounced officially complete.

As the article suggests: It takes a woman to outguess the Army.

Methane Or Marsh Gas Seen As Substitute For Gasoline

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CLEVELAND, April 5 — The United States has waiting around the corner, almost ready-made, a substitute for gasoline potentially twice as plentiful annually as all the gasoline used in America in 1941.

The substitute is methane, or marsh gas, and its sources are natural gas, petroleum, coal sewage. Methane is a byproduct of refining oil, of coal processing and sewage disposal and can be made easily from natural gas.

Can Be Prepared Readily

In a report to the American Chemical society today, Dr. Gustav Egloff and Mary Alexander of the Universal Oil Products Co., Chicago, declared that methane can be prepared to serve as a gasoline substitute.

Even if petroleum should dwindle there will still remain from other sources a large volume of methane gas. Further, Dr. Egloff said, methane can be supplemented by other gases to run cars, as is being done in Europe and other parts of the world.

Same Gases In Use

There are half a dozen gases good for running autos, and 25,000 American trucks and buses, mostly on the Pacific coast, are already using one or another of these, Dr. Egloff asserted.

Before gas could be used on passenger cars small, stout tanks would have to be developed to hold the highly compressed gases.

Methane gas would reduce cost of lubrication and repairs because crankcase oil is not diluted, and there is practically no carbon deposit, Dr. Egloff stated.

Methane also could be used to run railroad locomotives, and at the same time to heat, air-condition, refrigerate and furnish cooking on the trains.

There are no methane gallon figures available in the United States today. In Germany this gas has been sold for the equivalent of 41 cents a gallon for gasoline, in England for 50 cents.

Sgt. Omer E. Sharpe Is German Prisoner

S/Sgt. Omer E. Sharpe, 23, one of four sons of George H. Sharpe, of 1508 Avenue C, in military service, who was reported by the War department as missing in action since March 22 after a bombing over Europe, is a prisoner of Germany, the father was informed Wednesday afternoon in a telegram from the adjutant general.

Sgt. Sharpe was a gunner on a Flying Fortress. Two weeks before he was declared missing he had participated in 16 bombing missions against Germany.

The Lubbock man's three other fighting sons are S/Sgt. Leon Sharpe, also a Fortress gunner, who is in New Gunea; Sgt. Lofton Sharpe, with a coast artillery unit at Fort Crockett, Tex., near Galveston and Jack Sharpe, who is an aircraft mechanic at Bryan Army Air field, Bryan, Tex. A fifth son, Carl Sharpe, of Corpus Christi, will be inducted into the Army April 10, his father said.

Lt. Tom LeMond Is Missing In Action

Lt. Tom L. LeMond, jr., Flying Fortress pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. LeMond, of 2115 Twenty-sixth street, has been missing in action over Germany since March 18, according to a War department telegram received Wednesday by the parents.

Lt. LeMond is believed to have been overseas only since last February. The first overseas letter received by the parents from their son was dated Feb. 18. The missing flier was a spohomore engineering student at Texas Technological college when he entered the service Nov. 12, 1942.

The War department made public Wednesday the names of 543 United States soldiers wounded in action, including Pfc. Lloyd A. Perry, son of Mrs. Verna Perry, Route 6, Lubbock; Capt. William J. Bynum, wife, Mrs. Adeline L. Bynum, Amarillo, and S/Sgt. John R. Clements, wife, Mrs. Joyce E. Clements, Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Davis have returned to their 1402 Avenue S residence after three months of residence at Corpus Christi, where he went to recuperate from ill health. He was described as "much improved in condition Wednesday."

Three 17-year-old youths, who are now in custody of authorities in Dickens county, were charged with forcibly breaking into a building at Gilpin which was used in part as a United States postoffice and with carrying away for their own use the sum of $74.63, property of the United States, according to Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner of the Lubbock division of the northern district of Texas.

Elected chancellor commander of Knights of Pythias lodge No. 286 at the lodge hall Tuesday night was E. H. Bergman. Bergman is to fill out the unexpired term of Elmo N. Jefferson, who recently resigned to enter the Navy. Bergman will serve until June 30.

Texas Technological college is now receiving additional 17-year-old reservists for training at the college, President Clifford B. Jones announced Wednesday. Numbers of the youths coming in can not be released.

A Sioux City, Ia., 17-year-old youth, who recently "ran away" from home and came to Lubbock, where he has relatives, and a 15-year-old Lubbock youth, each face a federal charge for interfering with an interstate shipment, after taking a $50 case of chewing gum from a transfer truck here Tuesday. Both youths have admitted complicity in the theft, police said. The gum was taken from the truck after it stopped for a red light.

"I earnestly hope that the Republican convention will nominate a candidate and write a platform which really represents the views which I have advocated and which I believe are shared by millions of Americans. I shall continue to work for these principles and policies for which I have fought during the past five years."

Hopes were expressed in Republican ranks that Willkie would fork hard for Republican victory. Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican whip of the Senate, called Willkie's statement "courageous."

Senator Burton (R-Ohio) — "I think that he (Willkie) can be of great value in these times and by eliminating himself as an individual can be of even greater value to the party than if he pressed his efforts to a final conclusion on a personal basis."

Butler Not Surprised

Senator Butler of Nebraska, member of the GOP senatorial campaign committee:

"I am not surprised at this. In my own mind I felt certain of the feeling in the country, and in a statement last September I said that the people of Nebraska did not want him (Willkie) to be selected as the nominee.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, refrained from comment, since its a matter "outside my party." Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), a supporter of Gen. MacArthur, had no comment at this time.

AUSTIN GIRL DIES

AUSTIN, April 5. (U.P.) — Heart illness caused the death yesterday in a dentist's office here of 17-year old Ruthabel Lander, Austin school girl. She was at the dentist's office with her parents to have two teeth pulled. She had taken gas and had one tooth removed when she collapsed. Artificial respiration and a pulmotor failed to revive her.

states. For it is in this section of the country that the Republican party has had its greatest resurgence.

Entered Deliberately

"Therefore, I quite deliberately entered the Wisconsin primary to test whether the Republican voters of the state would support me personally and in the advocacy of every sacrifice and cost necessary to win and shortening the war and in the advocacy of tangible, effective economic and political cooperation among the nations of the world for the preservation of the peace and the rebuilding of humanity.

"The result of the primary is naturally disappointing and doubly so since the delegate who led the poll for delegates is known as one active in organizations such as the America First, opposed to the beliefs which I entertain.

Needs New Leadership

"As I have said many times, this country desperately needs new leadership. It is obvious now that I cannot be nominated. I therefore am asking my friends to desist from any activity toward that end and not to present my name at the convention.

"I earnestly hope that the Republican convention will nominate a candidate and write a platform which really represents the views which I have advocated and which I believe are shared by millions of Americans. I shall continue to work for these principles and policies for which I have fought during the last five years."

Willkie, in his address, accused the administration of pursuing a foreign policy that is causing delay and uncertainty in prosecution of the war and promoting "confusion, cynisism and distrust" on the home front.

Bishop Speaks On War Spirit

Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston was the guest speaker at the luncheon of the Lubbock Rotary club in the Hilton hotel Wednesday noon, speaking on "Trends in Civilization."

Bishop Smith said there are three types of people in regard to the war. They are: Those people who are conscious of the inconveniences caused by the war and who "gripe about everything, wishing the war would end so they could satisfy their own selfish desires; those thoughtful people who believe civilization will be the loser no matter who wins the war, and those equally thoughtful people who do not have their heads in a cloud, but have their feet on the ground and do not believe that civilization is doomed, but that great things can be expected following the war. "Thank God, I can be classified in this latter group," he said.

"We are betting on man's spirit to overcome adversities," he said, "and may we look forward with great anticipation to the day when peace will come to the world."

Alarmed At Delinquency

Bishop Smith, who, as a member of the regional War Labor board, makes many trips to Washington and other sections of the country, said he is greatly alarmed at the tremendous increase in juvenile delinquency. "Tens of thousands of these juveniles, particularly girls, are running around over this country and many of them are becoming hardened women of the street. There has been a greater breakdown in American women in the past twenty years than in men. What place will these wayward juveniles occupy in society in the years to come?"

He compared the apparent breakdown in discipline today with the more strict discipline of 20 or 30 years ago. Parents are having their own fling now rather than caring for their own children. A complete attitude of indifference among the parents of today is the cause of this delinquency.

Speaks Of Labor Problems

In speaking of labor problems, Bishop Smith said that Texas does not have the problems of labor as many others states. However, Texas is fast becoming industrialized as is evidence by the fact that there are more than 600,000 union members in the state. The only way to settle labor problems is for capital and labor to get together and see these problems as common problems, he added.

In his travels, he said, he had found that many people are now moving to the Southwest; that thousands of these are moving to Texas. The great West Texas area is getting its share also. He pointed out that he was amazed at the rapid growth of the city of Lubbock, but that when a city begins to grow as this one has, a vast vice and social problem will be encountered. It is up to the leaders of the community to keep out all undesirables in order to make Lubbock the kind of community it should be.

Bishop Smith is speaking twice a day in a series of Holy Week services at the First Methodist church this week.

In glowing words of praise, Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the church, introduced the speaker.

Bob Goodwin was program chairman. President W. W. Rix presided.

Truman Rally Here

Giles, state land commissioner; Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction; Fred Erisman of Tyler, president of the County and District Attorneys association of Texas; John Ben Shepperd also of Tyler, member of the state executive committee of Young Democrats and past president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A party of Dallas and Fort Worth newspapermen is scheduled to arrive here Saturday to attend the rally.

County judges and Democratic county chairmen of 53 West Texas and Eastern New Mexico counties have been sent special invitations to the rally. Word from Clovis Wednesday advised that a large delegation from that area would be here as their Senator, Carl Hatch, is a member of Truman's Senate committee.

Senator Truman's talk here is to be keynoted by an effort for party harmony. He is a member of the Appropriations, Military Affairs and Interstate Commerce committees of the Senate and is considered one of the party's outstanding leaders in the upper house.

His appearance here came as the result of an invitation extended to him at a recent Jackson Day dinner at Dallas at which he was principal speaker.

War In Pacific

in the eastern Carolines, and to the east at the four isolated Japanese bases in the Marshalls.

The wiping out of Hollandia as an effective air base and the destruction of its 288 warplanes left the Japanese without an operating air center on the north coast of New Guinea. The nearest major enemy base is at Babo, 900 miles from the most advanced point of Southwest Pacific ground forces.

The climactic 400 ton bombardment of Hollandia Monday was of a size heretofore used in the Southwest Pacific, only as a prelude to invasion.

Tahoka To Share Favorite Role With Olton In Meet

TAHOKA, April 5. — The Tahoka Bulldogs, one of the best rounded track teams in the South Plains area, will rule as favorites along with Olton in the District 4-A track and field meet Saturday at Lubbock.

Coach Leo Jackson will take a squad of 21 men to Lubbock Saturday and will be the only squad in the meet with three men entered in every event, and will have some men shooting for district records in the show.

Tahoka has long been a track power in the District shows of the past, and gained state wide fame in track by the exploits of it's famed Max Minor who established an interest in track in the city that has caused many boys to try to follow in the fast footsteps of the famed Minor.

One lad that bids fair to be in the thick of the scrap when records start falling is Lane Jones, who has already stepped the 100 yard dash in exceptionally fast time and has broad jumped better than 20 feet this season.

Tahoka will have some busy men in the track meet in Lubbock with Bill Woods as busy as the proverbial one armed paper hanger. Woods is entered in both high and low hurdles, high jump, shot put and discus to lead the parade of events.

Speedy Roy Huffacker will be entered in four events, the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, sprint relay and pole vault. LaVaughn Caraway will enter both the high and low hurdles and the 440 yard dash.

Other members of the team are Billy Barrington, Dan Curry, Cecil Dorran, Charles DoHins, Jerry Edwards, Bobbie Fults, Bill Grider, A. L. Hodge, W. T. Hines, Irvin Lehman, Clois Leverett, J. T. Miller, Wayne Miller, Glen Newton, Bobby Scott, Billy Joe Stevenand Buddy Gene Bragg.

Cub Star Plans To Retire For Duration

FRENCH LICK, Ind., April 5 (AP)—Bill Nicholson, Chicago Cubs' outfielder who led the National League in runs-batted-in last year with 128, arrived today, but said he may quit baseball for the duration and return to his Chestertown, Md., farm.

"My draft board in Chestertown said I would remain deferred if I stayed on the farm," explained Nicholson, "but I would be put in 1-A as soon as I reported for baseball. My number would then be called in May, which means that if I passed the physical I probably would go in June. That's only about six weeks of baseball—and there's not much percentage in that."

Schedule Changes In County Meet Named

The Class B athletic meet for Lubbock county schools has been extended into a two day meet, according to the schedule of events announced Wednesday by County Supt. Roy Boyd. The schedule shifts tennis and playground ball to Texas Tech and moved to Saturday.

It was first announced that all events would be staged Friday with tennis carded for Dupre courts and playground ball for Lubbock Junior High school. These were the only changes in the schedule.

The tennis play is scheduled to get under way at 12:30 Saturday afternoon while playground ball will start at 1 o'clock.

The Friday schedule calls for Junior and Senior track at Chapman Fied to get under way at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon and Senior girls volleyball scheduled to start at the Lubbock High school gym at the same time.

The number of entries for each event has not been announced.

Owls Complete Grid Schedule With Army

HOUSTON, April 5. (AP)—Rice Institute's 1944 football schedule was completed today with announcement that the Owls would open here Sept. 30 against the Randolph Field Ramblers.

The announcement followed within 24 hours the lifting of the 25-mile traveling restriction for Air Force athletic teams.

Last year the Ramblers defeated Rice 6 to 0.

The schedule follows:
Sept. 30, Randolph Field, here.
Oct. 7, LSU, here.
Oct. 14, Tulane, New Orleans.
Oct. 21, SMU, here.
Oct. 28, Texas, here.
Nov. 4, Texas Tech, here.
Nov. 11, Arkansas, Fayetteville.
Nov. 18, Texas A. & M., probably here.
Nov. 25, TCU, here.
Dec. 2, Southwestern, here.

Athletic Setup For Sheppard Stepped Up

WICHITA FALLS, April 5 (AP) Sheppard Field physical training officers welcomed the lifting of the 25-mile travel restriction for air field athletic teams, expecting a broader spring sports program to develop.

Already the Special Service Office has received requests for baseball games, these coming from as far south as San Antonio and as far north as Amarillo.

An extensive intra-post softball and baseball program already is on here with plans shaping for a post baseball squad.

Basketball teams were forced to decline invitations for games and tournaments last season because of the travel restriction.

Production of 821,000 ice refrigerators is planned for 1944 by the ar Production board.

Pitching Worry Hits Joe Cronin

LAKEWOOD, N. J., April 5. (AP)—Pitching is the big headache for Manager Joe Cronin as he heads into his tenth term as pilot of the Boston Red Sox with his work cut out for him in trying to improve on last year's seventh place finish. Cancellation of today's scheduled exhibition against the Giants here further hampered Joe's efforts to get a line on mound strength.

Added power in the person of Indian Bob Johnson and a well-balanced vet infield and improved catching are counterbalanced by the loss of such mound stalwarts as Tex Hughson, Dick Newsom, Mace Brown and Joe Dobson.

Lefty Oscar Judd who hung an impressive 11 and 6 win record in 1943; Yank Terry, winner of seven, and Mike (One Man Team) Ryba are the remnants of last year's regular staff.

George (Pinky) Woods, six-foot four-inch, 232-pounder who won five and dropped six in 23 games a year ago, appears to be the best bet for a regular turn. Joe Wood, jr., son of "Smoky Joe," is up from Scranton and Vic Johnson a southpaw and Joe Bowman, former Giant, Phil and Pirate fireman, have been moved up from the Louisville farm.

Emmett O'Neill came up from Louisville last August, Clem Hausmann, a brand new prospect, was a 14-game winner at Kansas City. Judd and Johnson are the only lefthanders.

The infield is set until Uncle Sam takes his pick from Tony Lupien at first, Bobby Doerr at second, Jim Tabor at third and either Skeeter Newsome or Eddie Lake at shortstop. All are draft vulnerable. Cronin who will be 38 on Oct. 12 has been whittling off some extra pounds getting ready to take his cuts when hitting is needed.

Catcher Roy Partee made the big hop from Portsmouth, Va., of the Class B Piedmont league in one season and hit .281 in the bargain. Cronin looks for him to show improvement after a year's experience. Bill Conroy, who appeared in 39 games and hit only .180, is next behind Partee as Danny Doyle has gone into service along with Johnny Peacock.

Abilene Gridmen To Open In San Antonio

ABILENE, April 5 (AP) — The Abilene Army Air Base Comets will open their football season in San Antonio Sept. 23, in a game with Randolph Field.

Last season the Comets played three games, winning one and losing two.

Lumber consumption exceeded production by 4,200,000,000 board feet in the United States in 1943.

Randolph Field Plans To Play Major Grid Schedule

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 5. (AP)—Randolph Field, which stayed in the nation's headlines last fall with a gridiron record that included a 7-7 tie with mighty Texas in the Cotton Bowl, will play big-time football again next season.

Travel restrictions which would have held Army Air Field teams to their bases have been lifted, giving a big boost to football in the Southwest with such fields as Randolph, Lubbock and Abilene Army Air base planning major schedules.

Last year Randolph had most of its games at home and was allowed to play those away because the schedule had been arranged before the 25-mile limit went into given to appear in the Cotton Bowl. Some other fields, however, had to cancel games or play close to home.

When the Air Forces Training Command this week announced air field teams could travel for games, Randolph stepped out and arranged meetings with Southwest Conference members—Rice at Houston Sept. 30 and Texas at Austin Oct. 7—and is after other college opponents.

This will make the Ramblers' schedule a major one since Texas and Rice are being named as the teams to battle it out for the conference title.

Randolph had nine victories, one loss and one tie last fall, outplaying Texas in the Cotton Bowl deadlock and losing to Southwestern Louisiana Institute on a gambling pass late in the game.

Glenn Dobbs, spearhead of the Ramblers, now is at officers candidate school and probably won't be back but there is a wealth of gridiron material available at this big field.

China Athletics On Climb, Tarbox Says

The nation of China seems to have beaten the Lubbock schools to the punch, and already launched an athletic program that is building the Chinese people into a healthier, more powerful race that is due to take a place high in the international athletic picture.

These were facts revealed Wednesday night by Major Elmer Tarbox, former Texas Tech All-American, in a talk before the Lubbock Touchdown Club at the West Texas Gas Company offices.

Tarbox gave an inside picture of the athletic future in China, and his arguments gives the goal tending war of the past basketball season the complete horse laugh as he told of the "American All-Stars" battle with the champions of Southern China.

Tarbox told of picking a gang of six-footers, of which he was the runt of the ball club, and booking a game with the Chinese team. The American fliers, from which the team was made up, looked over the Chinese players at the far end of the court, judged the some 5 foot, 5 inch average in height boasted by the home team, and figured the coast.

When the ball game started, the Chinese players went in and out of the American formations like a playful pup, and when the game was over the Americans had lost face and a basketball game by some 20 points. The Yankee fliers tried again later—and only lost by ten points.

Tarbox spoke highly of the Chinese sports program that has become a National feature of the future China. He pointed out that it not only gave the boys a part in the picture, but the girls as well, and the girls take part in every event that the boys tackle.

Tarbox freely predicted that in about two generations, the Chinese people would be a nation to be contended with in the international sports programs of the post war world. The program was started in 1935 and produced it's first Olympic Games entries in the 1936 games in Berlin. China then failed to win great honors, but their advancement has been rapid since that date.

Prior to the introduction of Tarbox, moving picture films were shown of last year's Texas Longhorn-Texas Aggie classic and the Notre Dame-Pittsburgh game of last year.

The Notre Dame film was obtained through the courtesy of Doug McKeever, former Texas Tech star and now an assigned coach at Notre Dame.

Petersburg Pugs Battle Amarillo

PETERSBURG, April 5.—Coach Joe Scroggins will lead his stable of Amarillo High school boxers into the local stockade Friday night to battle Petersburg's hard fighting pugilistic charges in a 15 fight dual meet.

This will be the second meeting between the two teams, Amarillo winning the first match by an 8 to 6 margin with a late rally among the heavier class fighters.

Pairings for the Friday night card, with Amarillo boys named first, are: Charles Hagerton, 89, vs. Clubb, 89; Bobby Conners, 90, vs. Bobby Fowler, 92; Jimmy Hamilton, 93, vs. Frank Mannon, 95; Johnnie Mitchen, 111, vs Coyt Thompson, 112; Wilton Todd, 112, vs Frankie Stanton, 110; Cloys Webb, 118, vs Neal Eaves, 118; Joe Sharp, 118, vs Ray Shields, 118; Phillip Merril, 118, vs. Danny Krouse, 118.

Glen McDowell, 122, vs Hollis Black, 128; Jack Thurman, 135, vs Billy Pittman, 135; Dean Oldfeather, 135, vs Ralph White, 135; Morris Watson, 135, vs Harold Jeffcoat, 135; Eugene Tate, 125, vs Bob Reynolds, 127; Ed Gill, 145, vs Wendy Surratt, 139; Joe Morgan, 156, vs Fluff Myers, 155; Bob Campbell, 170, vs Sammy Hale, 170.

Ellington Field To Seek Gridiron Games

HOUSTON, April 5 (AP)—Ellington Field is planning to field a football team this fall, it was announced today.

Ample material appears available and if a satisfactory schedule can be arranged, the local flying field will be represented on the gridiron.

Bill Dudley, 1941 All-American with Virginia and 1942 All-Professional with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is now at Ellington Field.

Ellington officials hope to book games with any Southwest Conference schools which have open dates as well as Southwestern, Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Corpus Christi Naval, Randolph Field, Bryan Air Field and other teams. Any interested schools or service posts are invited to contact the Ellington Field athletic department.

Sliding Keynote Of Base Stealing Art

ATLANTA, April 5 (AP)—"Kiki" Cuyler, whose given name (Hazen) appears only in such things as last testaments, baseball contracts and National League records, says hitting the dirt is the key to successful base stealing.

Cuyler, an accessory before the fact where stolen bases are concerned, is a guy who ought to know. He admits being successful in 40 out of 41 attempts one season, and during his tenure with the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs, led the league four seasons.

Cuyler, who obtained a release as a Chicago Cub coach to manage the Southern Association Atlanta Crackers this year, dismissed his own records, commenting that "Max Carey (Pittsburgh Pirates) was the greatest base-stealer, consistently, of all times. He once stole 50 bags in 52 attempts."

Getting back to the actual act of stealing a base, Cuyler, now in his 25th season of play, says:

"Naturally, you've got to have a good lead, and it helps a lot to study the picher's motions, so as to take advantage of every excess move he makes before delivery. But, in the long run, a player who has mastered the slide is the one who'll steal the most bases."

Mackmen Beat Yanks For Sixth Straight

DUROCHER TO PLAY

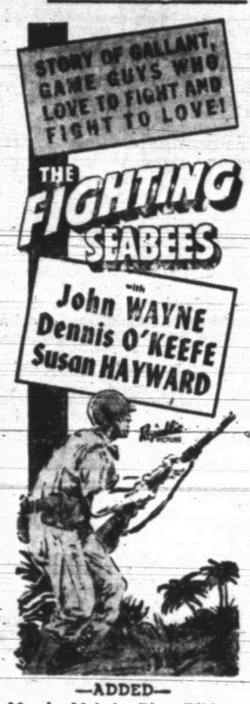

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., April 5 (AP) — Despite what he calls "acorns" in the region of the right elbow, Leo Durocher, 38-year-old manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, intimated today that he would open the National League season playing second base.

WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands: One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

That Russo-Jap Treaty

IT is a notorious fact generally acknowledged that, among all the Allied nations, Russia has been the least cooperative. None has played such a lone hand in the game of global war.

Therefore, there may be an inclination to receive with some reserve the announcement from Moscow the other day that an agreement under which Japan has been receiving supplies of coal and oil from the island of Sakhalin has been terminated. From the effusions which have come out of Moscow, one might judge that the other Allies were the chief beneficiaries of this diplomatic maneuver. That, of course, is not true. The chief beneficiary is Russia, and any help the other Allies may derive is coincidental, strictly.

Certainly it is important if it is true, as claimed, that the Japs are to be deprived of needed oil and coal. But the implication that the island has been an important source of supply of these products is not true. Quantities of the materials available there are negligible at best, and they are not available at all during many months of the winter.

Whether the new Sakhalin agreement is good or bad for the Allies cannot be known until it is revealed, definitely, what concessions, if any, were made by Russia to Japan. The assumption is reasonable that Japan got something for surrendering concessions on the island. And they haven't lost very much because practically all their oil and coal has been coming from other sources.

Suspicion of Russia is justified in this matter because the Reds so persistently have played a lone-handed game, so far as conditions would allow, in their conduct of the war.

They not only have refused the proferred assistance of British armies on the Eastern Front, but they even have refused to let Allied observers visit their fighting lines except on occasions selected by Moscow.

They haven't been willing to trust British and American warships manned by their own crews in Russian waters. Instead, Russia is going to get warships—thanks to generous Mr. Roosevelt—to be manned by Russian crews.

Moscow deliberately kept the Russian people in ignorance of help received from the other Allies until indignation in the United States and Great Britain forced an acknowledgment. Even when help was reaching Russia in vast quantities, the Russian masses were being told by their government that they were "fighting the war alone." Naturally, the Russian masses were becoming resentful.

Russia has extended full recognition to Badoglio Italy and to De Gaullist France, acting both times without the knowledge of the American and British governments.

It is to be hoped, of course, that the new Sakhalin agreement is all it appears to be and all that Russia pretends it to be. But, in view of past records, the reasonable assumption must be that the maneuver was dictated by the self-interest of Russia, and not by consideration for the other Allies.

We CAN Do It Again!

MANY people doubtless felt that the goal had been set extremely high when Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced the other day that individual quotas in the Fifth War Loan drive starting next June 12 have been set at six billion dollars.

The amount is two billions more than in the Fourth drive last January, and is about three-quarters of a billion more than actually was subscribed in that campaign.

Thus, it was not surprising if a good many people had the feeling, when they read the recent announcement, that Mr. Morgenthau has set an impossible goal.

However, many people have had that same feeling when quotas in previous drives have been assigned. Yet, they always have managed, in one way or another, to reach the goals set.

Thus, anyone may feel now that an impossible job has been assigned can have the re-assurance that the American people are accustomed to doing the impossible. They have done it many times before. Probably they can do it again.

Synthetic Rubber Output Nears Peak, But Don't Cheer Yet!

Facts Puncture Optimism About Tires

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

AKRON, O., April 5.—Our gigantic new synthetic rubber industry this year will produce more general service synthetic — the kind of which automobile tires are made—than the greatest tonnage of natural rubber ever used up to 1941. In addition, we are importing substantial quantities of hevea rubber from South America and Africa, some guayule rubber from Mexico, and probably a little cryptostegia rubber from Haiti.

Why, then, can't you and I go to a neighborhood service station and buy a set of tires to replace the ones that are getting dangerously thin? Why must we still hold down to the annoying "Victory speed," and take other precautions to assure that our tires shall give maximum wear?

• • •

MAY LOSE KEY MEN

I POSED these questions to two men who ought to know, if anybody does. They were John L. Collyer, president, and Dr. Howard Fritz, director of research for the B. F. Goodrich company, who have had at least as much experience with synthetic as any tire manufacturers.

Part of the answer has to be off the record, because it involves information which it would be better to let Herr Hitler continue to wonder about. But I think I can report enough to answer the questions reasonably well.

In the first place, as of today there isn't enough rubber to supply the nation's normal demand. The program is just getting into swing. The great bulk of the year's production will come later, when—some time between Labor Day and Christmas—the whole of the 900,000-ton-a-year installation gets into full use.

In the second place, we do not have enough machinery to utilize the rubber that will come out of the synthetic program. The rubber companies are spending $75,000,000 of their own money to provide the needed utilization equipment, but it will be some time before their new plants are ready for full use.

In the third place, there is a manpower shortage. The rubber companies already are digging the bottom out of the barrel. They are threatened with the loss of thousands of key men through the new draft regulations. It takes from three to six months to train workers to build tires, and much of that training cannot even start until the new plant is available for use.

• • •

ALLIED NEEDS GROW

IN the fourth place—and here I have to remain vague—military use and the demands of our allies have grown enormously and still are increasing. These, naturally, have first priority. Behind them come tires for trucks, buses and essential civilian use, including passenger cars which are contributing directly to the war program.

The greatest pre-war usage is not even an approximate gauge of the amount of rubber we critically need now, before any of us nonessentials can be considered.

In the fifth place, there is a bad bottleneck in the cotton and rayon textiles which are as important, in building tires, as is rubber. There again plant, materials and manpower shortages contribute to the tire-makers' difficulties.

And finally, if the lid were lifted, and we Sunday drivers were permitted to step out and buy tires when, as and if we chose, the demand would not be normal. It would be grossly excessive. There has been built up, during these years when we are restricted, such a large backlog of cars needing complete re-tiring that it will have to be supplied gradually.

When the rubber problem was "solved" by provision of "sufficient plants" for making synthetic, the tire problem remained unsolved for months to come.

• • •

NEED MORE EQUIPMENT

AMONG the elements in this picture is the fact that synthetic rubber is not like natural rubber. I am going to discuss that in another article. For the moment, it is enough to say that synthetic rubber requires much more machinery and manpower for its fabrication into consumer items than natural rubber requires, which is one reason why it has been necessary to increase the fabrication plant so greatly, and which contributes to the manpower shortage.

Passenger car tires now are being made at the rate of 1,000,000 a month. This year — mostly in the second half—some 18,000,000 will be turned out. But Rubber Director Bradley Dewey estimates that 30,000,000 will be needed this year to care for even a restricted demand. Passenger cars will be kept running at all only through a huge retreading and recapping program, now swinging along at the rate of 25,000,000 tires a year and still being stepped up.

So don't be fooled by the apparent solution of the rubber problem. Don't feel that somebody is deliberately holding out on you. Tires still constitute an unavoidable major bottleneck, and will continue to do so at least through 1944.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

I JUST read a story in my paper that gave me a chuckle. The headline is "Mr. Ford Is Optimistic."

It quotes a copyrighted interview for the Atlanta Constitution, in which Henry Ford expresses his opinion that the war will be over in two months, without giving his reasons.

But the statement that made me chuckle was when he gave as his solution for the world's troubles: "The way I see it, greeds, creeds and boundary lines must go."

I remember one time, many years ago, when I was a cub reporter out in California.

Henry Ford with Thomas Edison and Harvey Firestone, the tire man, were visiting Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, at his home in Santa Rosa.

I had been assigned to "cover" the story and was traveling with the illustrious party.

• • •

One day Henry Ford and I were sitting on a bench in San Francisco. On a building near the Presidio, the flags of several nations were flying.

Henry pointed to the flags and said:

"That's what's causing all the trouble. Flags, nationalism, lust for power.

And he kept on and expressed practically the same view attributed to him in the Atlantic interview.

The other world war was then still on. Henry Ford had sent his peace ship to Europe to "get the boys out of the trenches by Christmas.

Unquestionably Henry Ford has the right formula. Greed, creeds and boundary lines are causing most of the world's troubles.

But 1940—some years of Christianity haven't done away with them, and how much closer are we to Henry Ford Utopia today than we were in the year 1 A. D. or in 3000 B. C.?

• • •

THE war is still burning in its full fury and already Greed, Creeds and Boundary Lines have joined the ranks of our enemies.

Hitler tried to solve two of the problems—by destroying religion he would have done away with Creeds, by conquering the world he would have eliminated all boundary lines. And if he had become master of all and everything, there would have been no further need of Greed.

I am afraid that much as I admire Henry Ford, he has the candle but not the match with which to light it.

That match, in our present primitive civilization, must still be "VICTORY"—our only hope is that our only available fuel "JUST PEACE" will keep the candle burning as long as it is humanly possible.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE growing lack of a sense of social, financial and political values in Washington was vividly illustrated on Capitol Hill a few days ago. The demonstration was provided in the very chamber which frequently echoes to denunciations of the nation's "lax moral state" and its alleged indifference to the world crisis.

Rep. Louis Ludlow of Indiana rose to recommend that his associates agree to the conferees' report on the Treasury-Postoffice Appropriation bill, which specifies the amount of money to be used for the operations of those departments for the coming fiscal year. He explainsd that the House and Senate managers had made only a few minor changes, and were unanimous for passage. Asking immediate action, he suggested that concurrence by the lower body was a mere formality.

Now, this measure carries only slightly more than two billion dollars, which is a relatively small amount these days. But it appropriates funds for payment of interest on the public debt, which has soared to sensational figures. No matter how you look at it, the question seems to deserve more than passing attention.

Treasury Watchdog John Cochran of St. Louis protested against impromptu approval. He noted that, although the House group had gone along with Senate revisions, many members might want to ask questions or object. Anyway, he declared that shotgun legislation on so important a subject was undesirable.

He blocked action because the Ludlow motion required unanimous consent. But if "Jack" had not been present, the request would probably have been granted because the boys were so eager to rush home for the Easter vacation. The irony of the proposed procedure was revealed later, when the leaders discovered that not enough members were in the Capital to pass a resolution for adjournment.

• • •

TRAGEDY: Military and diplomatic topnotchers here would not be holding emergency press conferences to explain strategic moves and basic policies if they were not prodded into it by the politicians, including FDR.

Nor would Republicans like Gov. Tom Dewey be assailing the State department if this were not a presidential election period. Thus World War II threatens to be the "talkingest" struggle in all history.

The coincidence of the critical year of the conflict and the political campaign may embarrass the administration's fortunes on the battlefields and at the council tables. It may not even be advantageous to American interests. The atmosphere becomes too supercharged with personal ambition and selfishness. But it means that the people should get more information— or misinformation— than they would otherwise.

In short, Democrats and Republicans in high place are devoting half their energy to the overseas crisis and the other half to the contest at the ballot box. There is an astonishing division of interest in every government office at the capital.

To veteran correspondents the situation is both tragic and pathetic. They remember no parallel during World War I, which began and ended within the second term of Woodrow Wilson.

• • •

ISSUES: Henry Stimson has opened recent press conferences with the reading of prepared statements belittling criticism of the Anzio offensive and operations elsewhere. If he forgets pertinent facts, shavetails call the reporters aside to fill in the blanks.

Secretary Frank Knox and lowly gobs buzz with gossip as well as extra communiques on every little movement which we or the Japs make in the Pacific. Each returning hero is urged to give interviews and pose for photographs.

Cordell Hull and bespatted aides whisper that we are not kowtowing to London or Moscow, though sometimes they breathe a prayer that Churchill and Stalin will remember that Mr. Roosevelt is running for re-election.

• • •

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE absence of a clear cut pronouncement of foreign policy goes deeper than politics.

Some of our most important statesmen give notice that failure to present specific aims may cause disunion at the time of the invasion when we need to stand shoulder to shoulder and may ruin all chances of a just and permanent peace.

But they hesitate to speak out boldly lest they embarrass the State department and hinder the United Nations' war effort.

"What are we fighting for?" is being asked with deadly seriousness. Mr. Hull's Seventeen Points and the President's recent affirmations have not furnished the answer. Nor does mere negative criticism of the administration's shortcomings.

As the result of discussions with several national leaders of long experience in government and world-wide affairs, the following consensus of expert opinion is presented.

• • •

SUSPICIONS: Americans believed that they were fighting for the Four Freedoms and for the Atlantic Charter which stipulates "no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned . . . the right of all peoples to choose their own form of government . . . sovereign rights and self-government restored to those who have been forcibly deprived of them."

Our people have always rallied to the magic word freedom. Early in the nineteenth century they encountered the Greeks to throw off the Moslem yoke; they formulated the Monroe Doctrine; they brought independence to Spanish colonies; in 1918 they struck down Germany—in the words of Wilson, "to assert the right of free men to make their own laws and choose their own allegiance."

When Hitler declared war on us, we again drew the sword to banish tyranny, to defend our own way of living and to set all peoples free. Those were moral issues for which Americans—as history proves—have always been willing to die.

Why then the question, "What are we fighting for?"

The uncertainty comes from doubts about the intensions of Russia. Suspicions regarding a brave Ally may be unjust, but Moscow has acted in a manner to arouse grave concern, and Washington has remained silent.

HANDCUFFS: It is easy for those without responsibility to criticize any administration engaged in the delicate task of foreign relations while at war, and to come to conclusions about the motives of other nations that may not be justified.

But, until there is clarification in the light of current happenings in the Baltic states, in Poland and in the Balkans, Americans want to know what has happened to our great crusade for freedom and whether we are merely fighting for Europe to exchange one set of handicuffs for another.

All powers at war with the Axis, including the Soviet Union, pledged in the Declaration By The United Nations "to cooperate with the governments signatory hereto" and to carry out "a common program of purposes and principles embodied in the Atlantic Charter."

PRESTIGE: We kept our word, cooperating with Moscow by sending trucks, tanks, jeeps, guns, planes, medicine, food and other supplies—often scrimping ourselves.

Stalin admits our assistance helped the Red Army to smash the legions of our common enemy. We relieved pressure on the Muscovites by attacking in Italy, by bombing Germany and by tying down many divisions awaiting our invasion. We made it impossible for Japan to jump on Russia's back.

The Soviet did its part by engaging the major strength of the Wehrmacht. But with victory in sight it appears to be headed on an independent course, as if peace plans were none of our business —and the Atlantic Charter seems to have been tossed into the Volga.

What positive steps should Washington take to restore our moral prestige and to break the inertia that seems to envelop us. Specific recommendations heretofore unprinted will be set forth in this space tomorrow—proposed by statesmen with diplomatic experience dating from the last war to the present.

Here And There In Texas

University's "Liberalism" Likely To Cause Trouble

AUSTIN, April 5. (U.P.)—Troubles of Texas A. & M. college may seem trival when a brewing storm breaks in full force at the University of Texas.

Regent D. F. Strickland of Mission sounded a warning of a coming hurricane when he declared at the last meeting of regents that the university's proper sphere is teaching and not carrying on a lot of extracurricular activities.

Strickland recently indicated a willingness that research should continue as a proper university function, but he is one of a committee trying to work out some plan by which the university and not individuals shall profit from research discoveries.

• • •

Racial Equality Preached

"Hot" topics at the university are many. Still unsettled is the complaint of the American Association of University Professors that certain instructors at the university were penalized for participation in a mass meeting at Dallas for discussion of labor difficulties. The professors attempted to present labor's side.

Racial equality is another. Strickland here last week exhibited a race equality booklet which he said is being distributed through the University Co-op.

The Co-op itself is another hot topic on the campus. Student members of the Co-op board recently voted for a flat reduction in textbook prices rather than a rebate system. That action since has been rescinded, while it is debated back and forth whether the Co-op is doing as well by the students as private stores.

• • •

THE university's boasted Inter-American activities are also causing some friction. The Inter-American setup at the university is a different one from the governor's Good Neighbor commission. However, people interested in the topic seem to have gotten into both in a way that makes it difficult sometimes to distinguish what is one and what is the other.

Regent Strickland protested at the last meeting against Mrs. Pauline Kibbe's tour of lectures in the Rio Grande Valley. He said they stirred up peace-loving people and made the Mexicans feel they had been subjected to discrimination. Mrs. Kibbe is secretary to the Good Neighbor commission.

Two university professors are joint authors of a study of the literature used in schools which has roused ire of Strickland and others. Principal objection is to its declaration that undue prominence is given to the "Alamo incident" in literature given Texas children to read in connection with their school work.

The brochure says, too, that Marabeau Lamar's protest against release of Mexican General Santa Anna is not fit reading for the children.

Good Story, Anyway!

Fellow workers in the Attorney General's department looked at Bill Cason's puffed eyes and swollen right hand one Monday morning and thought he might have indulged in a fistic exhibition during the weekend.

They were wrong. Cason explained that his wounds were the result of the family's first outing this spring. As Cason slept on a pallet an uninvited scorpion crawled on Cason's head and stung him slightly above the bridge of his nose.

Later as he was rolling up his bedding, Cason felt a stab of pain on the back of his right hand. He found a large wasp nestled in the folds of his blanket.

UNDER Texas law the State Commissioner of Labor has the determinative voice in whether or not charters may be issued by Secretary of State for formation of labor union corporations.

Since the law became effective in May, 1941, but three such charters have been issued, while applications for four others have been refused, and several others were withdrawn when the applicants became aware of the fact that public hearings were required.

The law does not fix procedure for the Labor commissioner to follow in either approving or disapproving a charter application. It merely states he must make an investigation and report favorably or the charter cannot be secured.

First charter approved was for the United Laboratory Workers at Port Arthur in February, 1942. Cletus Wyble was listed as president. Then followed the Marine Dock Workers association, Houston, in September, 1943, with Sam Ward as president, and in October, 1943, the Teachers Benefit association of Fort Worth was approved, with T. M. French as its head.

State Labor Commissioner John D. Reed initiated the public hearing policy. He believed it the only "healthy" method of determining whether the application was being made in good faith.

Reason cited for the commissioner being charged with making an investigation was under the previous law the Secretary of State had no way of knowing whether a charter applicant was bona fide, or intended to make a "racket" of the union.

Stanton's Pullet Builder makes full use of all local grains and by-products, but in addition, it contains ManAmar and B-G Plus, those famous protein, mineral and vitamin rich "products from the sea" which are making extra profits for poultrymen from coast to coast.

B-G PLUS
Is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra trace minerals and vitamins in Stanton's Pullet Builder.

MANAMAR
In Stanton's Pullet Builder supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex."
ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Phillip H. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's Pullet Builder. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

COTTON SEED

D. & P. L. No. 14

TEXAS STATE CERTIFIED

This is the new, early, high yielding strain now grown exclusively by Delta-pine originators of D. and P. L. Made inch-staple and high gin turnouts on the Plains. Kemgas delinted, Ceresaned seed, germination 96% $12 per 100 lbs.

CHAMPION SNAPPER 140

Grown by R. E. Karper from breeding block seed furnished by Chillicothe Experiment Station where the 140 strain originated. This is an early maturing, lightweight bur cotton bred by Texas Experiment Stations for the South Plains where cotton is snapped. Its light burs enable gins to make better grades from snaps and give higher turnouts. Made ⅞ to 31-32 staple, KEMGAS DELINTED, CERESANED SEED, $10.50 per 100 lbs.

OLD TIME HALF & HALF

Grown in Wilbanger county by Arnold Seed Farms. This is the old-time high linting, early, short staple cotton. In Lubbock county in 1943 1500 lbs. of snap made 500-pound bale. Planted in May it made lots of cotton of 13-16 and ⅞ inch staple. Planted the middle of June it was gathered before other cotton planted at same time. We sold several cars on the Plains and have found only satisfied customers. KEMGAS DELINTED, CERESANED SEED, $11 per 100 lbs.

Send your order with deposit of $2 per 100 lbs. and we will hold seed for May delivery. Other varieties of Kemgas delinted, Ceresaned seed can be supplied by Kemgas delinting plants in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. For further information address—

Culminating Nazi Disaster Shaping Up Around Odessa

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

A culminating Nazi disaster is taking shape in southwestern Russia around Odessa, Coupled with the probable fate of German and satellite forces isolated in the Crimea it could prove a more than Stalingrad.

SIMPSON

There are no authenic figures on the number of Axis troops caught in either of the made-in-Moscow traps. The best guess in Moscow and London is that 200,000 have been herded into the Odessa pocket with their last direct westward escape or supply route cut by Russian capture of Razdelnaya junction, 40 miles up the Warsaw-Odessa railroad. Half as many may still be in the Russian by-passed Crimea.

Rescue Is Doubtful

It is doubtful that any substantial number can be rescued from either Russian noose. Some probably are trickling into Rumania over the Odessa-Calati rail-and-ferry system. Some from both Odessa and the Crimea may be fleeing by sea at night and some few selected personnel may be flying out.

Russian capture of Razadelnaya junction did more than virtually snap shut the Odessa trap. It put the right flank of the Third Ukrainian Army in a position to drive westward at the Tiraspol crossing of the Dniester to a junction in Bessarabia with the left wing of the Second Ukrainian Army in a position to drive westward at the Triaspol crossing of the Dniester to a junction in Bessarabia with the left wing of the Second Ukrainian Army that has forced across the Prut into Rusmania.

It is still uncertain, however, whether Russian plans call for a mopping-up campaign against Odessa and the Crimea or by-passing them temporarily to expand the invasion of Rumania by the combined Second and Third Ukrainian armies.
