Chamber event to feature Nigh

The Governor of Oklahoma, the Honorable George Nigh, has been confirmed as this year's speaker for the Snyder Chamber of Commerce banquet.

The announcment was made Thursday by Delbert Downing, chairman of the banquet steering committee.

The event is now planned for April 5, a Thursday, in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Governor Nigh, noted as a humorous speaker and a "teller of tales," holds the distinction of being the first governor in Oklahoma history to be elected to consecutive terms.

He has held the office of governor for four terms thanks in part to his serving out two unexpired terms following the resignations of incumbent candidates.

In his re-election bid Nov. 2, 1982, he became the first person in state history to win a majority of votes in all 77 counties.

Nigh began his political career in 1950 as the youngest member elected to the Oklahoma House of Representatives. In 1958, at age 31, he was elected the youngest Lt. Governor in the history of Oklahoma.

In 1963, Nigh became the 17th Governor of Oklahoma, filling an unexpired term following the resignation of Governor J. Howard Edmondson.

He was subsequently elected Lt. Governor from 1967-71, 1971-75 and 1975-79.

On Jan. 3, 1979, Nigh became the 22nd Governor of Oklahoma, serving five days to fill an unexpired term following the resignation of Governor David Boren. On Jan. 8, 1979, he officially began his first full four-year term.

Planning for the annual chamber event is under the direction of the steering committee being chaired by Downing. Other committee members include Ernie Armstrong, Mel Z. Gilbert, John Jarrell, Roger Mize, Don Newbury and Miller Robinson.

Nigh is a former high school teacher. He and his wife Donna have two children, Mike and Georgeann. They are active members of the Council Road Baptist Church in Oklahoma City.

American woman killed by gunfire

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — An American woman was shot to death, probably by leftist rebels, as she was riding with her husband and children on a highway in eastern El Salvador, a U.S. Embassy spokesman says.

The Americans were heading east on the Pan American Highway toward the Honduran border early Thursday when rebels ordered them to stop, according to the spokesman, Gregory Lagana.

The woman's husband kept driving and "several shots were fired from the surrounding hills," Lagana said. One of the shots struck the victim on the right side of her chest, he said.

The family was traveling with a Salvadoran customs agent, Lagana said. The family's destination was Costa Rica where "apparently they were going to live," he said.

He said the other people in the vehicle were not hurt.

Lagana said he was "pretty sure" leftist rebels killed the woman, whom he identified as Linda Louise Cancel, 23, of Culver City, Calif.

The rebels have been waging a civil war against the U.S-backed government for four years.

The embassy spokesman identified the border guard as Modesto Perdomo Osorio, and said the agent had accompanied the family since they crossed the border.

With RN school, new doctors...

'Good year' reported for Cogdell Memorial

Many positive points of what was called a good year for D.M. Cogdell Memorial Hospital were outlined here Thursday at the board of manager's "annual meeting" between the board and members of the Scurry County commissioners court.

But the shadow of more stringent federal guidelines regarding Medicare payments was pointed to as an indicator that 1984 will be a year for "more cost effective managment" of all U.S. hospitals.

Concerning 1983, Hospital Administrator Cy Miller commented "We realized our RN school (and) we gained two new doctors." Miller also pointed to the cooperation shown by Cogdell's medical staff and what he described as "a good bunch of nurses."

Miller referred to the new associate degree in nursing program which enrolled its first class this past fall at Western Texas College. The program is offered as a joint-effort of WTC, Codgell and Howard College in Big Spring.

In addition, he pointed to the arrival of Snyder's two newest physicians and how they have helped increase the patient load at the hospital. Moving here this past summer were Dr. Stanley Allen, a bone and joint surgeon; and Dr. Michael Kenner, specializing in gynecology and obstetrics.

A year-end financial report offered by Miller also showed Cogdell Memorial operating on the plus-side of the profit margin ledger, even without considering the budgeted tax dollars pledged by commissioners to assist the county-owned medical facility.

The hospital ended 1983 with a net operating income of $876,051. This total was aided by the county-provided supplement of some $621,841.

Looking toward 1984, Miller noted that Cogdell Memorial and all U.S. hospitals are now challenged to achieve more efficient business operations with the implementation of new Medicare payment guidelines.

Called a "prospective pricing system," these involve Medicare payments to hospitals based upon a nationwide analysis of what diagnosed illnesses should cost the facility to treat.

Miller stressed that from this point on, Medicare will pay "only to a certain point."

Medicare payments are now "disease based." Treatment has been classified into a chart called a Diagnosis Related Group (DRG). Included with this is the DRG prices for individual medical diagnosises.

As an example, when a Medicare patient is diagnosed as having pneumonia by the hospital, the facility will receive the Speedy Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, says a neighbor was looking for a Christmas gift for his son and wanted an educational toy. "But isn't this a little too complicated for a five-year-old," he asked.

George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram repeated a tale he'd picked up several years ago when Goose Tatum staged a couple of exhibition games at Lubbock.

Staff members, he said, were heavy-lidded and sinister looking. It was easy for Goose and his fellow players to imagine that the next voice they'd hear would be that of Peter Lorre.

The hotel's electricity was erratic, given to lapses, so candlestickes were placed in the halls. When the power failed, a guest could step out of his room, get a candle, light it and take it back to his room.

Goose made a mental note of the location of the candlestick nearest his room, just in case the lights went off.

They did.

Goose, his companion said, was a superior athlete who has performed near miraculous feats on a basketball court. But he leaped higher in the hotel hall that night than he ever had during competition.

He'd felt his way into the darkened, spooky hall, reached for the candlestick and touched the fingers of a teammate reaching for the same candle.

Probation is revoked

A Snyder man now faces a five-year prison term after his probation was revoked by 132nd District Court Judge Wayland Holt.

John Lopez Palacios had been serving a five-year probated prison term for burglary of a residence. He pleaded guilty to that charge which stemmed from a July 30, 1983 incident here.

His probation was revoked after he was implicated in a criminal mischief incident reported here last Dec. 17. It involved a building owned by a local man.

The court also placed Greg Early of Snyder on felony probation for a five-year term after he pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery.

He was indicted by the January session of the Scurry County grand jury in connection with the passing of a number of checks taken from the Sparkle City Pawn Shop.

AFS leads Autrys to Brazilian visits

By Shirley A. Gorman
SDN News Editor

Leon and Polly Autry have made lasting friends with several Brazilian people thanks to their participation more than 20 years ago in the local American Field Service program.

The local chapter is 25 years old this month.

What began as a then year-long commitment to accept Marta Burity of Brazil into their home as another "daughter" has blossomed into a warm and cherished relationship. It includes mutual trips back and forth and a continued long association not only with Marta but with all of her family members.

When the Autrys were contacted about serving as an AFS host family during the spring of 1961, they were happy to say "yes."

Marta came to live with them during the 1962-63 school year and attended classes at Snyder High School with Sandra Autry, then a senior.

Both have their own families now, but those fond memories of living and sharing together "will never quite be forgotten."

Marta and her husband, Ney Vicente, have a son, Fabio, who is seven years old. Last summer they and several other family members returned to Snyder for a visit — the third in 20 years.

In addition, the Autrys have been to Brazil twice. In 1977 they first visited Marta and her family and in 1981 they were joined by the Chapmans and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Parks of Fluvanna.

Marta's husband is involved with a construction business along with his father-in-law, plus they have farming interests as well.

Mrs. Autry said that while living here Marta had a few adjustments to make. She had studied English in school in Brazil but understanding English as spoken here was at first a little difficult. However, she said that Sandra and Marta never had problems understanding each other.

Marta had grown up with a maid doing all the household chores so it was quite a change to pitch in and help out while living here, Mrs. Autry said.

In Brief

Hunger issue splits parties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are accusing Democrats of partisanship and grandstanding over the hunger issue, while Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says a presidential task force is perpetrating "a cruel joke" on the underfed.

Those claims and counter-claims flew across a congressional hearing room Thursday as senators and congressmen held an unusual joint hearing on the report of President Reagan's Task Force on Food Assistance.

"To put it plainly, the task force report is a cruel joke on millions of our fellow citizens who continue to endure an unacceptable and unfair burden of poverty, hunger and deprivation in this wealthy, well-fed and privileged land," declared Kennedy, D-Mass.

He accused the task force of endorsing "the preconceived view of presidential counselor Edwin Meese, who said he had seen no definitive evidence of hunger."

Foreign trade deficit soars

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. foreign trade deficit ballooned to a record $69.4 billion last year, the government reported today, and officials predicted the imbalance this year will be even worse.

The trade deficit in 1983 was 62 percent higher than the record $42.7 billion set just a year earlier.

For December, the deficit narrowed to $6.3 billion from November's $7.4 billion, reflecting a 3.2 percent decline in imports and a 2 percent increase in exports.

But Commerce Department economist David Lund said today that the deficit for this year will continue to worsen. He predicted it will top $100 billion and may hit $110 billion.

The nation's poor trading performance is blamed primarily on two factors. The high value of the dollar makes U.S. exports expensive but imports relatively cheap. And the U.S. economy is growing at a much faster pace than the rest of the world, resulting in brisker American purchases of overseas products while foreign buying of U.S. goods lags behind.

Many economists have blamed the dollar's high value on the large federal budget deficits, which boost interest rates, encouraging foreigners to put their money in U.S. financial markets, thus increasing the demand for dollars and pushing up exchange rates.

Fighting halted by blizzard

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A heavy snowstorm halted the factional fighting around Beirut today, and army troops left their battle stations to join in rescuing 111 travelers stranded overnight on a mountain highway.

Police said soldiers, civil defense workers and the Red Cross joined police in two rescue expeditions, saving travelers trapped in cars and buses by shoulder-high snow.

One rescue mission was mounted from Zahle, a city in the Bekaa Valley, and the other from Jounieh, a port north of Beirut, police said.

Last February, 63 travelers died in a blizzard that buried another stretch of road in the central mountains. U.S. Marines helped in rescue operations then, but today they remained at their barricaded base at Beirut's airport, where they have been targets of frequent attacks.

Killer says he would do it all again

SOLEDAD, Calif. (AP) — A former doctoral student nearing parole in the hammer murder of a professor who laughed at his wing-tipped shoes defended the crime as "morally and legally correct" and said he would do it again "if the same conditions arose."

"I am absolutely noncommittal on whether I will go back to Stanford and kill again," said Theodore Streleski, 47, due to be paroled on March 23 after serving 5½ years for the killing of Stanford University mathematics professor Karel deLeeuw.

Streleski, in a copyright interview from Soledad Prison published Thursday in the Peninsula Times Tribune, spoke calmly and without hesitation about the fatal beating of deLeeuw on Aug. 18, 1978.

At his trial, Streleski said deLeeuw had blocked his progress toward a degree, refused to give him a fellowship and derided his slow progress toward a doctorate, which he had been working on for 19 years. In addition, he said, the professor once made a joke about his wing-tipped shoes.

He told the newspaper he killed deLeeuw at the professor's office because of the professor's personality and because deLeeuw was associate chairman of the math department.

Streleski said he was eligible to receive a Stanford Ph.D. from 1972 to 1978 but chose to murder deLeeuw instead of accepting the degree to demonstrate his anger at the university.

"I would do it again if the same conditions arose," he said.

Streleski was convicted in May 1979 and sentenced to maximum time in prison then allowed under his diminished-capacity defense — the same defense used by Dan White, paroled earlier this month after serving time for the killing of two San Francisco city officials.

Six months after Streleski's conviction, the Legislature raised the penalty for second-degree murder to 15 years to life in prison.

A state corrections department spokesman, Phil Guthrie, said that despite the fears, officials have "no option" but to parole Streleski after he served two-thirds of his sentence, with time allowed for good behavior.

When Streleski was told that members of the Stanford math department were apprehensive about his release he said, "They should direct their nervousness to correcting the administration of the graduate student program in mathematics."

He said the department was "idiotically run" and said former department chairman David Gilbarg was another possible candidate for his revenge, a remark Streleski also made at his trial.

Streleski is to be paroled in San Francisco, but will be barred from visiting Stanford, 40 miles away from San Francisco, or contacting anyone on campus. He must be evaluated for possible out-patient psychiatric counseling.

Stanford police plan to circulate fliers with Streleski's picture and are telling faculty members to contact authorities if they see Streleski on campus.

Streleski said he would refuse any psychiatric help because to do so would indicate he believed he had "done something wrong in doing the murder. .... I said on the stand at my trial it was morally and legally correct for me to do that."

Your Birthday

Jan. 28, 1984

There are big changes in store for you socially this coming year. Before your next birthday you will be closely involved with an entirely new set of friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you are planning something social today, do it with friends with whom you can completely relax and let your hair down. Avoid stuffy types. Major changes are in store for Aquarians in the coming year. Send for your year-ahead predictions today. Mail $1 to AstroGraph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Send an additional $2 for The NEW Matchmaker wheel and booklet, which reveals romantic compatibilities for all signs, tells how to get along with others, finds rising signs, hidden qualities, plus more.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Do not deliberately seek challenging situations today, but know within yourself you have what it takes to come out on top if confronted by competition.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't get rattled today if you find yourself involved in a situation where you're a bit unsure of your ground. You'll adjust remarkably well.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In business dealings today, be as frank and forthright as possible. If you play it cagey, persons with whom you're involved will do the same.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Partnership situations should work out well for you today, provided you're prepared to play the supporting role. Let your cohort have top billing.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you hope to be a producer today, you must discipline yourself not to do things in fits and starts. Complete each task before moving onto the next.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't view participating in fun involvements as a frivolous waste of time today. You need relaxing activities to recharge your psyche.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Endings tend to work out the way you envision them today. If you see the results as beneficial, they will be. If you're negative, it's another story.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's important to maintain a cheerful, optimistic outlook today. This will determine your mode of action. Positive thoughts get positive results.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Financial matters should not be treated too lightly today because this could lead to regrets. Wipe the grin from your face where money is the issue.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's time to be more assertive in situations which affect your self-interests. Progress can be perked-up if you, not others, set the pace.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be helpful where you can today. Your greatest satisfaction will come from doing for others, rather than from advancing your own cause.

Thermometer readings

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Does it take more time for some people to get proper oral thermometer readings?

My temperature reading usually rises after three minutes, but sometimes it takes 15 minutes. Is this a more accurate reading?

When I'm not ill, my normal temperature is usually 98 or below. I was embarrassed at the doctor's office recently. I had just told the nurse I had taken my temperature before I came and it was 99.8. She took my temperature for a few minutes and said it was 98.

DEAR READER — We usually suggest leaving the thermometer in the mouth between three to five minutes. That means with the mouth closed and the bulb of the thermometer in good contact with the tissues of the mouth, under the tongue.

There are many things that affect a thermometer reading. The thermometer has been shaken down to record the lowest reading can make a difference. After that, it's influenced by what you have just eaten. If you have had a cold drink, your mouth may be cold and the temperature reading accordingly may be lower than your body temperature. And if you've just eaten something hot your oral temperature may be higher than your body temperature.

Anxiety can cause the temperature to rise and just having taken a bath also may cause a temporary rise in body temperature.

I'm sending you the Health Letter 7-6, Body Temperature and Fever, which includes some of the problems people have when taking their temperature. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

I'm always a little surprised at the lack of general knowledge about taking one's oral temperature, considering temperatures are taken in all households and are so frequently used as an indication of whether a person is well or ill.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm wondering if taking too much Synthroid is harmful. One doctor told me that a patient of his was taking 10 pills, each 0.15 mg, every day. I generally take one or two tablets daily. How many pills can one take and still be safe?

DEAR READER — Most patients can be maintained at the proper level with only 0.10 to 0.20 mg of Synthroid daily. The doctor usually has to adjust the dose in accordance to the patient's response. If you take too much thyroid it almost has the same effect of having an overactive thyroid gland. That can lead to nervousness, sweating, loss of hair, a fast heart rate and heart irregularity, among other symptoms. Taking too much thyroid will not cause the protruding eyes as seen in some forms of hyperactive thyroid diseases.

It's not safe to take excessive amounts of thyroid on your own. You should follow the doctor's directions and have regular checkups to make certain the amount of thyroid hormone they are receiving is the proper amount for them.

House was just blessed

STROUD, England (AP) — Prince Michael of Kent, first cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, had two priests bless his manor house, which is reputedly haunted by a blacksmith's ghost, but one of the priests today denied news reports he had tried to banish a ghost.

"It was an ordinary house blessing, which is customary to give when a Catholic family moves into a house," said the Rev. Tom Curtis-Hayward after two British newspapers portrayed the ceremony as an effort by two members of the royal family to chase away a ghost.

Stories in the Daily Star and the Daily Express said the ghost is believed to be that of a blacksmith who was hanged for sheep-stealing 300 years ago on orders of a previous owner of the house in western England. The ghost supposedly appears each year on Jan. 25, the anniversary of the blacksmith's death.

"The prince and princess have not experienced any problems with the ghost," said Curtis-Hayward.

What's new on the market?

THE PRODUCT — A drinking water system said to be technically advanced.

Manufacturer's claim — That this unit will free water from odor and bad taste, leave the water clear and filter out chlorine byproducts ... that it uses a bacteriostatic carbon to remove a broad range of contaminants and virtually eliminate bacteria growth within the filtering unit ... that it automatically regulates the flow of water through the carbon bed to achieve optimum cleansing results ... that it is completely sealed, with no internal filter replacements necessary ... and that no electricity is used and no plumbing changes are required.

THE PRODUCT — A different type of rachet screwdriver.

Manufacturer's claim — That this screwdriver differs from a spiral rachet screwdriver because it is turned with a twist of the wrist, as with a standard driver, not by pushing down on the handle, as with a spiral model ... that the user, when driving or loosening a screw, can turn the screw repeatedly without removing the driver from the screw slot or sliding the hand around the handle for a fresh grip ... that the mechanism allows the handle to rachet back after each turn while the blade and tip remain stationary ... and that the driver has a forged hex socket, enabling the operator to change bits for different screw heads.

Manufacturer's claim — That this paint has superior wet adhesion and excellent water and blister resistance ... that it resists fading, cracking and peeling better than most comparable paints ... that it can be brushed, rolled or sprayed and recoated in three hours ... that it is recommended for use on new or previously unpainted wood siding, shingles, shakes, trim, masonry and primed surfaces ... and that it is packed in a 2-gallon plastic pail for convenient use.

THE PRODUCT — A handheld vacuum cleaner especially suitable for home workshops.

Manufacturer's claim — That this plug-in cleaner is excellent for workshops because of its ability to handle wood chips, paint chips and other materials most other vacuums either can't get to or pick up easily ... that this is due to its extra large opening that creates an air flow strong enough to do tough jobs quickly and powerfully ... that it is lightweight, portable, works on regular 120-volt power and has an 18-foot cord and wall-mount bracket and cord wrap for storage ... and that its container is easy to empty, has a 1.5-quart capacity and comes with a reusable dust filter.

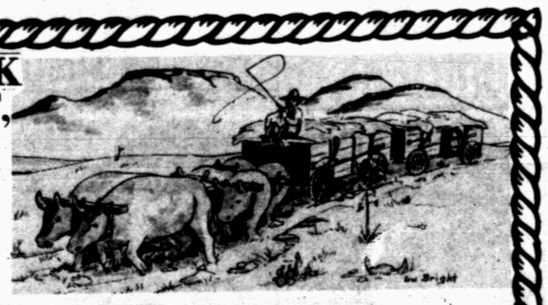

(The manufacturer of the drinking water system is Filmark Corp., 1355 Marietta Parkway, Marietta, GA 30067; the rachet screwdriver is Stanley Works, 195 Lake St., New Britain, CT 06050; the house paint is Devoe & Raynolds Inc., P. O. Box 7600, Louisville, KY 40207; and the vacuum cleaner is Black & Decker, 515 Globe Road, Easton, MD 21601.)

(Do-it-yourselfers will find much helpful data in Andy Lang's handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," which can be obtained by sending $1.50 to this paper at Box 5, Teaneck, NJ 07666.)

'Happy' Son Is Nursed In Unhealthy Situation

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I just returned from visiting my sister in Hawaii. She has two children, Sonny, 6, and Girlie, who is nearly 3.

The first day we were there, we were all sitting around talking when Sonny walked over to his mother, unbuttoned her blouse and began to nurse! Sis acted as though it was nothing unusual; in fact, she was very cooperative while that 6-year-old boy stood there nursing!

I almost fell out of the chair! Later I asked Sis privately why she hadn't weaned the boy long ago, and she said she had, but after Girlie was born, Sonny became jealous, so to keep him quiet she started giving him her breast after she finished nursing Girlie, and now she couldn't break him of it.

When I told her I thought it was psychologically unhealthy for the boy, she became defensive and insisted there was nothing wrong with keeping him "happy" this way.

Abby, my sister is an intelligent, educated woman. I would like your opinion.

MAINLAND VISITOR

DEAR VISITOR: I agree with you. It is a very unhealthy situation.

There is a strong possibility that your sister resumed nursing Sonny not only to pacify him and alleviate his jealousy, but also to fill an unconscious need in herself to be needed.

In any case, it is imperative that your sister discuss this with her doctor. And the sooner, the better.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I know I did a foolish and dishonest thing, but it's too late now and I'm in terrible trouble.

Two years ago I married a man who was divorced and had three grown children. He's 45 and I'm 36. We agreed that we would have no children.

I wanted just one child from him so I cheated and went off the pill and became pregnant immediately. When I told him, he hit the ceiling. He has given me a choice—him or the baby. Abby, I want this child, but I love my husband and don't want to lose him.

I thought he would change his mind about having another child once I got pregnant, but he's firm in his decision and now I'm in a terrible position. Please help me.

IMPOSSIBLE DECISION

DEAR IMPOSSIBLE: In order to make a decision you can live with you need professional counseling with a therapist who will hear both you and your husband out. Please don't make any decision until you get this kind of help. And urge your husband to go with you.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, the subject of "religious preferences" for pets came up, and you said, "Pets raised in a Christian home are assumed to be Christian, and pets raised in a Jewish home are assumed to be Jewish."

Abby, not all pets accept the religion of their masters, even though you once knew a Jewish terrier who refused all food that wasn't kosher. That canine puts my Boston terrier, Benny, to shame!

When I was 9 years old, one Friday my mother had thoughtlessly prepared a lunch of pork and beans. I saved the day by suggesting, "Give the pork and beans to Benny—he's not Catholic."

She did, and Benny gobbled it up!

North would have liked to double the two-club overcall with glue. In other words, he was sure he could defeat that contract but he knew that someone would take the double out, so he jumped right to four spades, a contract he hoped would make.

West opened the king of clubs, and South played low from dummy. He felt that in all probability, East was void of clubs. He knew that this West was not inclined to make a two-level vulnerable overcall on a five-card suit and he did not want East to get the lead to return a heart.

This failure to play the ace from dummy represented one of the tricks of the trade.

Unfortunately for South, East was at least as familiar with tricks of the trade as was South.

He saw no value in his singleton trump except that it would take the first trick, assuming that West didn't hold seven clubs. So East ruffed his partner's trick and led a heart.

West got his two heart tricks and waited for the sure trump trick to leave declarer high and dry and one down.

Spray, spray, spray

Hairspray may have been something your mother used back in the Sixties to keep her beehive hairdo in place, but the up-to-date versions won't give you that lacquered look anymore. Use it as a great styling tool to add body to your hair: bend over and brush hair forward, then lightly spray the underside. Stand up, toss your hair back and finger fluff it out. Looks great! Or, if you are fighting a case of the frizzies, lightly spray your comb or brush and then run it through your hair until it's dry. Voila! No more frizzed ends! Another trick is to set your hair on electric rollers after you've sprayed your hair. When you comb it out, you'll have a set that will hold hours longers!

Woodrow Wilson told us there would be times like these:

"There will come a time when America will be surprised to find herself growing old — a crowded country, strained, perplexed — when she will be obliged to fall back on her conservatism, obliged to pull herself together, adopt a new regimen of life, husband her resources, concentrate her strengths, restrict her vagaries and trust for leadership her best — not her average — members."

The time is now — but how?

When the Truman Doctrine was enunciated — to resist all aggression wherever — Vermont Royster was editor of the Wall Street Journal.

He remarked then that "wherever is an awfully big place."

Recently retired, Mr. Royster has been traveling wherever.

He concludes it's also time that the Truman Doctrine be retired.

Here is the essence of this experienced observer's rationale:

The Truman Doctrine made such faraway nations as Greece and Turkey "our business." We went there and put out the fires.

Then Korea — whre we had to settle for half a victory.

Then Vietnam — where we had to settle for defeat.

Today in Europe we are maintaining 200,000 Army troops, 2,500 Marines and a thousand combat aircraft.

In surrounding waters, 45,000 Navy personnel.

In the Indian and Pacific oveans we maintain six carriers, forty submarines, four score other combat ships.

Everywhere is indeed and awfully big place.

In Japan we maintain 24,000 Marines, 2,500 Army troops and a hundred plus combat aircraft.

We have 40,000 American troops maintaining two Koreas.

We maintain a naval base in the Philippines with 5,000 sailors and 8,000 airmen.

Closer to home we have the Atlantic fleet of 150 ships keeping an eye on Castro, protecting the Panama Canal and trying to protect Central America.

Each of these commitments can be justified because each situation is potentially explosive.

But Mr. Royster says it is much like the federal budget — each spending item is defendable but all of them together are more than we can afford.

So President Reagan's problem is bigger than Lebanon.

Simply put, the question is how much of the world can American taxpayers carry on their shoulders before our own strength is depleted, our own nation in jeopardy.

Candidate not talking

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Introducing the perfect candidate for the silent majority: Charles A. Szychowski, who claims he voluntarily gave up talking in 1977 and hasn't spoken a word since.

The 31-year-old Riverside resident has taken out papers to run for the Republican nomination to the state's 73rd Assembly district.

In November, Szychowski ran unsuccessfully for a seat on the Alvord Unified School District in Riverside. He garnered 4.4 percent of the vote, even though he did not attend candidate forums and declined to be interviewed throughout the campaign.

White seeks valley aid

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Mark White, reacting to protest by South Texas farmworkers, contends his administration has done more to help growers and farmworkers in the Rio Grande Valley than that of any previous governor.

White told a Capitol news conference Thursday that $407,240 in planning grants have been awarded to 14 cities and six counties through the Texas Department of Community Affairs.

"Although these planning grant funds cannot be completely dedicated to the Valley area, we have worked to expedite grants for projects that will benefit those communities now suffering from severe unemployment and economic hardship," White said.

"I feel that although our resources are limited, we have accomplished much more in directing assistance to the area, than any previous administration," he said.

White said those receiving the grants include the city of Mercedes and Zavala County.

Other cities receiving grants were Alvarado, De Soto, Athens, Domino, Sweetwater, Gonzales, Leonard, La Marque, Plainview, Lorenzo, Manor, Rosebud, and Eagle Lake, plus Polk, Victoria, Harrison, Uvalde and Sabine counties.

The two-day freeze in the Valley over the Christmas weekend destroyed the $30 million citrus crop and most of the winter vegetables in fields where thousands of workers are normally employed. Most of the farmworkers will have no other source of income until early spring harvest begins.

Farmworkers protested Wednesday in a march between Pharr and Edinburg said only about 40 percent of the many unemployed workers have qualified for the federal Disaster Umemployment Compensation of $30 a month.

"Although the extent of our work on the state level has only begun, we are now energetically looking beyond the scope of our state resources to obtain additional assistance for the Rio Grande Valley," White said.

He said several state relief plans are being discussed, and new aid programs would be announced later.

On other subjects, White:

— Said he saw nothing wrong with taking $25,000 that had been appropriated by the Legislature for the Texas Film Commission to renovate a carriage house at the Mansion to make a playroom for his three children.

— Said he found many areas of disagreement with President Ronald Reagan's speech Wednesday night. "I support tax cuts. I think that is the way it should be done.... Another thing, this administration is jeopardizing the economies of the free world with our deficit yet he did not even touch on that subject."

— Said he does not know why State Republican Chairman George Strake got so upset over White's new jet plane having a $4,500 custom-made toilet. "I knew the Republicans were against progress, but I didn't know they were against indoor plumbing," he said.

— Said he set March 10 as a special election date to elect a successor to Rep. Bill Presnal, D-Bryan, because Presnal had asked that the election be held as soon as possible. "I had no idea there was any problems with A&M students," he said about GOP criticism that the election would be held while Texas A&M students were on spring vacations.

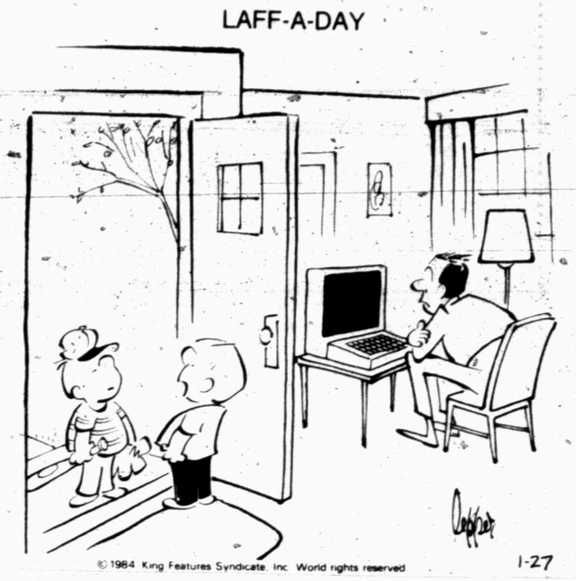

— Said he still has set no definite date for a special legislative session, other than sometime in early summer after primary elections. "We are still working on the package I will submit to the session," he said. "I don't want to raise taxes any more than necessary, although more and more people seem to support a five-cent increase in gasoline taxes."

Sheriff, deputy are charged

ROCKWALL, Texas (AP) — Rockwall County Sheriff John Marshall Vance and one of his deputies face up to a year in prison and a $1,000 fine for lashing a 15-year-old boy with a whip and kicking him last summer.

Vance and Deputy Roy Bradford Wooldridge pleaded guilty Thursday to federal charges of violating the civil rights of Richard V. Williams.

U.S. District Judge Joe Fish set sentencing for Feb. 22.

The conviction could cost Wooldridge his job but probably would not affect Vance's legal right to hold his post, the head of the Law Enforcement Standards Commission said.

Prosecutors agreed not to pursue further charges in exchange for the pleas, Assistant U.S. Attorney Jack Williamson said.

The youth claimed he was kicked by the deputy later.

Vance at the time denied the allegation, saying Williams had "a vivid imagination."

Dumpster, fence struck

A local man's fence was damaged Thursday after a hit and run driver first struck a city dumpster, pushing it into the fence.

The incident was reported around 5:08 p.m. at 1601 Ave. T, the residence of Bob Rhodes. According to police reports, both the dumpster and the fence were damaged, although no estimates for either were given.

Officers Thursday reported also that the theft of a taillight from a 1972 Volkswagen was cleared after the missing item was returned to R&S Imports, 2200 25th St.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ADMISSIONS: Mary Ruiz, Rt. 3; Nola Krop, Rt. 1; Wyatt Sands, 2305 26th St.; Sandra Gardner, Box 32, Ira; Ann Hernandez, 503 32nd St.; Charlie Wright, Box 272; Irene McFarland, 2234 Sunset; Rachel Lassiter, Rt. 1; and Debra Ingram, 1916 Coleman.

DISMISSALS: Jerry Joel, Eva Moreno, Sidney Miller, and Leonora Moreno.

New York City established a pension fund for its policemen in 1857. This was the first pension plan covering state or local government employees, according to the American Council of Life Insurance.

Arrests noted

Three arrests for misdemeanor offenses were made by police here Thursday.

A 21-year-old man was arrested for driving with a suspended license; while a 23-year-old man was charged with public intoxication.

In addition, a 50-year-old male suspect was booked into city jail for traffic instander charges.

Figuring gains, losses...

Taxes on capital assets

By Robert Metz
(Sixth of 14 articles)

Capital assets get special treatment under the tax laws. So if you sell securities or a home — the major capital assets affecting individual taxes — you should be sensitive to the tax consequences.

In this article we discuss securities.

You have a capital gain when you sell a capital asset at a profit. Capital gains are said to be long-term if you owned the asset for a year and a day or longer, short-term if held for a year or less. Only 40 percent of long-term gains are taxed. And 50 percent of net long-term capital losses ordinarily are deductible.

SCHEDULE D (FORM 1040)

Internal Revenue Service

Capital Gains and Losses (Examples of property to be reported on this Schedule are gains and losses on stocks, bonds, and similar investments, and gains (but not losses) on personal assets such as a home or jewelry.)
▶ Attach to Form 1040. ▶ See Instructions for Schedule D (Form 1040).

For Paperwork Reduction Act Notice, see Form 1040 instructions. Schedule D (Form 1040) 1983

This is the portion of Schedule D used for listing long-term gains and losses. Short-term gains and losses are on the top half of the same page which is not shown on this sample.

CUT YOUR OWN TAXES AND SAVE

Conversely, 100 percent of any short-term gain is taxable and 100 percent of any short-term loss is deductible but not necessarily in the year of loss. So it makes sense for investors to hold gains for long-term status but to take losses before they become long term.

Since only 40 percent of a long-term capital gain is taxable, the maximum rate of tax on the whole capital gain now stands at 20 percent. (It works this way: The 50 percent bracket is the highest and 40 percent of that is 20 percent.)

You must complete Schedule D to claim capital gains and losses. In completing the schedule, first report all short-term transactions on line 1. Each transaction is reported individually, with date acquired, date sold, sales proceeds received and price paid, to arrive at a net gain or loss for each transaction.

After all short-term transactions are recorded, offset gains against losses for a net gain or net loss for short-term transactions.

Follow the identical procedure with your long-term transactions on line 9. Tally the net gain or loss within the group.

Line 10 is where you must enter any long-term gain you realize from the sale of a home. Other lines in this section allow you to report your gain or loss from a partnership or a small business corporation, as well as capital gains you get through dividends. On line 19, you total all your long-term gains and long-term losses.

Finally, on line 20 (not shown in the sample accompanying this article), combine your net short-term position with your net long-term position. If you have gains in each category, add 40 percent of your long-term gains to your total short-term gains. This amount is then transferred to line 13, form 1040, where it will be combined with other taxable income.

If, in combining the net short-term and the net long-term positions, you arrive at a net long-term loss, only one-half of that loss is deductible. The maximum loss that can be deducted against other income is $3,000 in any one year. This means that it will take $6,000 in long-term losses to provide a $3,000 deduction. If the losses total more than $6,000, the excess can be carried forward to your 1984 return. This maneuver, logically enough, is called a carry-over.

It is possible for a taxpayer to have carry-overs of both short-term and long-term losses. In this situation, the short-term loss carry-over is applied first. Once it is exhausted, apply long-term loss carry-over. The earlier year's carry-overs are always applied first.

When carried over, losses retain their original character — either long-term or short-term and are subject to the applicable rules.

Although net long-term losses must be divided by two before being subtracted from ordinary income to the $3,000 limit, the carry-over is not divided by two before being carried over.

In 1984, the carry-over can be applied just as if it had been incurred in that year. And if there are no long-term gains in 1984, the long-term loss carry-over can be applied dollar-for-dollar in canceling out short-term gains. This is one way to obtain 100 percent use of your long-term losses, instead of settling for the usual 50 percent.

TAX TRAP: Remember that capital gains (except for transactions involving the sale of your personal residence) may result in making the alternative minimum tax apply.

Millions vote; others sit in MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Millions of Filipinos voted today on a proposal to create a vice presidency and three other measures, but many others stayed home, staged sit-ins or jogged in groups to protest the election.

The constitutional referendum was planned by President Ferdinand E. Marcos' political party as a concession to his long-powerless opposition. But many of those critics were unsatisfied and called for an election boycott to protest Marcos' 18-year rule.

Voting was light in seven precincts monitored in Manila by The Associated Press, although a headline in a pro-government afternoon newspaper proclaimed a heavy turnout.

Marcos declared a two-day national holiday to give voters time to get to their home precincts. Non-voting is punishable by fines and imprisonment.

Official vote totals and results on the four ballot issues are not expected for several days, but all of the issues were expected to pass.

In addition to restoring the office of vice president, which Marcos abolished when he declared martial law in 1972, the measures would reduce the size of national assembly districts, lower the minimum age for the presidency from 50 to 40, and boost urban and rural land-reform programs.

As the polls opened, about 200 runners left the northern hometown of slain opposition leader Benigno Aquino for a 75-mile "ignore run" to the Manila airport tarmac where he was assassinated Aug. 21 upon his return from three years of self-exile in the United States.

The runners carried signs reading, "Ignore the Plebiscite" and "No Compromise with a Dictator," and their numbers grew to more than 500 as they passed through provincial towns where only a few people were voting.

In Zamboanga, 540 miles south of Manila on the island of Mindanao, authorities reported one government man was wounded in a raid by communist terrorists shortly after the polls opened.

pre-determined DRG payment regarding this diagnosis.

Costs incurred by the hospital above the Medicare payment will have to be absored by the facility.

Since more than 50 percent of the patients admitted at Cogdell come under Medicare payments, Miller stressed the importance of how the new DRG payment plan will be felt locally.

Thursday's meeting featured also the swearing-in of two board members for new terms, Rex Robinson and Leon Autry.

Dan Cotton, newly appointed hospital board member, had to miss the meeting because of an out-of-town trip. He replaces outgoing member Roy Kidd, who attended his final board session Thursday.

Regarding Kidd's service to the board, A.Z. Glover, board chairman, commented, "I think the others will join me in saying that we'll miss you. Your opinions were good and we've enjoyed working with you."

Glover was re-elected board chairman Thursday. Other board officers elected were Autry as vice chairman and John Jarrell as secretary-treasurer.

Also serving on the board is Sam Cross and County Judge Preston Wilson, the board's ex-officio member.

County Commissioners attending Thursday's meeting were Hassie Sneed, Pct. 2; and Bernhard Bartels, Pct. 3.

In other hospital business, the board voted to accept staff applications made by eight individuals, an addition to the yearly approval of medical staff privleges at Cogdell okayed at the December meeting of the board.

Those approved Thursday were Dr. Robert Hargrove, Snyder dentist; two out-of-town consulting physicians, Dr. Howard Tobin of Abilene and Dr. Kenneth Ford of Denton; and four physicians currently enrolled in the Texas Tech School of Medicine in Lubbock who serve as emergency room physicians during the weekend, Drs. Glenn Yarbrough, Kerry Lockett, John Morrow and Scott Smith.

Obituaries

Tate

Services for James Hulette Tate, 64, are pending at Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

He died Thursday.

He was born Sept. 16, 1919.

He is survived by three daughters, Barbara, Brenda and Tammy Tate and three sons, Michael, Robert and Danny Tate, all of California; his mother, Mrs. J. A. Tate of Snyder; three brothers, John D. and Wayne, both of Snyder and Guin of Tyler.

Autrys find Brazilian friends

One of their jokes now is that Marta didn't really like to vacuum in the morning before school, but that was her job and she did it without complaining.

Another memory is the sardines pizza she prepared one night when she decided to fix supper for the family, Mrs. Autry remembers.

Customs in Brazil are different too. Marta was not used to dating since in her country young people go to classes in the morning and then the afternoons are spent socializing with the members of the clubs they belong too. Most wait until their mid or late-20s before marrying.

Since Brazil has a milder climate, West Texas snow was a treat for Marta also.

In Brazil, most people live in apartments and drive smaller cars. While visiting last summer, Marta's son Fabio was amazed at the yard space he found at the Autrys, Mrs. Autry said.

"Due to the AFS program we have had the privilege of knowing them as a family," Mrs. Autry said when asked what was the greatest benefit they derived from their AFS experience. "We are all close friends and I am so glad that they have been able to visit us as many times as they have."

Mrs. Autry said Marta and her family have encouraged them to visit during summertime in Brazil which corresponds to winter here. That is a goal of the future she said.

Geter tapes should not be destroyed

DALLAS (AP) — Prosecutors in Dallas County District Attorney Henry Wade's office say they want a state district judge to prevent CBS News from destroying any videotaped interviews, including those never broadcast, in the case of black engineer Lenell Geter.

Prosecutors said Thursday they eventually plan to subpoena the tapes, which were made in preparation for a CBS News "60 Minutes" program on Geter that aired last December.

Geter is scheduled to be retried April 9 on a robbery charge.

Assistant District Attorney Karen Beverly said the request for a "protective order" to preserve the tapes was made because "we obviously feel that some of that material might become relevant to the state's case" against Geter.

Ms. Beverly, who signed the motion on behalf of Wade, declined to comment further on the reasons for the request.

"We'd like to look at some of the things they didn't play," said Wade.

Test Andrews tonight...

Tigers blitz Pecos, 83-44

Coach Larry Scott had told his Tigers this was the best team Pecos had fielded in years and they took him at his word. In the process, they made his fears seem unfounded.

Snyder took a 35-22 lead into halftime, then crushed the Eagles 30-5 in the third period to claim a stunning 83-44 victory over a Pecos team which had indeed come into Scurry County Coliseum boasting some prominence.

The Eagles had just beaten Fort Stockton to pick up their first road victory in the history of District 2-4A, and their 4-2 district mark equalled as many conference wins as they had had in four previous years combined. Instead of finding a win however, the Eagles bused out of Snyder with wings fully clipped, hoping to regroup before taking on Sweetwater tonight.

For Snyder, the runaway win is a plus heading into a key matchup in Andrews this evening.

"I never thought the score would be anything like that," said Coach Scott, who played his substitutes much of the game, including the entire fourth quarter. "I told the kids Pecos was a good team and they better not let up. I was worried going into the game because we had several kids who acted like they were coming down with something (some illness). This was good for us because I was able to rest our starters and play everybody."

Chad Peterson led Snyder on a 12-4 tear through the first quarter but Pecos came back in the second to outscore the Tigers 6-1 and cut the margin to three, 13-10. It was still 20-17 before Willie Greathouse, Peterson and Marcus McGlouthin strung together five points for an eight-point advantage with 1:52 to go.

Snyder kept threatening to break it open, but Joe Craft played a hand in keeping the game close when he hit a basket, then a pair of freethrows that made it 25-20 with 1:30 left in the half. That was when Peterson knocked the door down. The 5-8 senior led Snyder on a 10-2 blitz, scoring eight of the points himself, as the Tigers breezed to a 35-22 halftime advantage.

Pecos' comeback thoughts were quickly dashed in the third quarter. Both teams hit early buckets in the period, but when Craft stuck up a field goal with six minutes still to play, it was Pecos' last. Snyder countered with a 24-1 sprint-off, getting points from Paul Tate, Sunny Cobb and Marcus McGlouthin at the tune of four a minute. For anyone but the most diehard of Pecos fans, that was the ballgame.

Peterson and McGlouthin scored 18 apiece for Snyder. Peterson got all of his in the first half and McGlouthin got all but two of his in the second half. Tate added 10 points while Cobb and Willie Greathouse notched 9 apiece. Fred Fleming had 8.

George Estrella scored 13 for Pecos. Craft scored 12 and Isreal Nichols put up 6.

Snyder tips off against Andrews at 7:45 tonight.

Boys record 12th straight

Make it 12, going on 13.

Snyder's junior varsity boys claimed their 12th straight victory here Thursday, running past Pecos 64-38 in a makeup game at Scurry County Coliseum.

The Cats, who play in Andrews at 4:30 this evening, are 17-5 for the season now.

Jackie Anderson burned the nets for 22 points and Wade Forga put up 13 as the Cats dominated. Snyder led 14-8 at the end of the first quarter, then took the second 18-14 for a 32-18 halftime lead.

Snyder then won the third and fourth quarters by outscoring the visitors 16-10 in both.

Pecos JV tops Snyder girls

The Cats pulled within a couple of points late in the ballgame and had chances to tie the score, but were unable to put the ball in the basket.

Stephanie McKnight had 14 points and six steals to lead Snyder while Hope Hernandez had 10 points and eight rebounds. Angie Housden and Rena Alexander scored 5 points apiece. Stacey Dunk also had eight rebounds.

The girls will play again this evening at 4:30 in Andrews.

Cottrell hired pending school board approval

Snyder High School head football coach Dennis Tomlin announced the signing of a second assistant coach Thursday evening.

Rod Cottrell, an offensive line and defensive linebacker coach at Breckenridge, has been hired pending board approval.

Cottrell has coached one year at San Antonio Glenn Junior High, one year at Tulia and one year at Breckenridge. His duties at Snyder will be the same as they were at Breckenridge.

"I coached with Rod's father (Jake Cottrell) for three years in Quanah," said Tomlin. "Rod has more experience than his record shows. His family has been in teaching and coaching for years."

Cottrell also served as an assistant track coach under current SHS Athletic Director David Noble at Angelo State University. He is a graduate of ASU.

Cottrell was the second of two coaches tentatively hired Thursday. Earlier, Tomlin had announced that Buddy Comer, an offensive line coach at Stratford for the past six years, would join the SHS staff.

Comer is expected to begin duties here within a week while Cottrell will finish the semester at Breckenridge before joining the staff this summer.

In addition to Comer and Cottrell, two other assistants will be hired in the near future.

Sophs drop Jayton 'Birds

Snyder sophomores ripped Jayton 46-34 Thursday.

The Cats, now 4-10, will play Post at 2:30 next Thursday in the Jayton JV Tournament.

Greg Stansell led Snyder with 17 points. Patrick Malone had 9 and Ray Gaston added 8.

Ray Chisum scored 12 for Jayton. Shane Branch had 8.

Westerners fall 76-72 to Amarillo's Badgers

AMARILLO – Amarillo College bagged 30 of 36 freethrows and played good defense down the stretch to clip Western Texas College's Westerners here Thursday, 76-72.

The loss ended a five-game winning streak for the Westerners, who are now 12-7 for the season and 4-4 in WJCAC play. Amarillo is 16-5 and 5-3. Western returns home Monday night to entertain Frank Phillips.

WTC Coach Barry Davis said his team made some mistakes, but he was pleased with the effort and intensity.

"Amarillo just played better than we played. They did a good job of executing their offense and taking the shots they wanted and they did a good job of controlling the boards. You have to give them credit," he said.

Western trailed by as much as 17 points at one time, but rallied to pull within a point.

"We played with intensity. We played hard," said the coach. "They just played a little bit better and won the ball game. We had opportunities there where we would go to the freethrow line or we would get a steal or a rebound, but we weren't able to get over the hump. Probably the biggest thing was not hitting our freethrows when we really needed them."

Western was 14 of 20 from the line and shot 44 percent from the field.

6-7 sophomore Fred Johnson had a good game with 17 points and seven rebounds. Freshman Victor Spencer had 14 points and veteran Richie Fells had 13. Larry Banks scored 10 points; Eugene Lewis, 9.

Andres Kennedy, a 6-6 freshman, led the Badgers with 19 points. Mike Sanders had 17, Les Bolden 13 and Joe Johnson 12.

Dusters nipped 63-62; host FPC on Monday

AMARILLO – Western Texas' Dusters played their usual fine defense but had trouble offensively and suffered their first WJCAC loss here Thursday, 63-62 to Amarillo.

The Dusters, whose 5-1 record leaves them in a three-way tie with Amarillo and Odessa for first place in the conference, will entertain Frank Phillips at 6 p.m. Monday in Scurry County Coliseum.

"It was a good defensive ballgame on both sides," said Coach Joe Cushing. "Their Machelle Whitehead is the leading scorer in the conference and we held her to 14 and Mary Nell Clayton is the second leading scorer and they held her to 13. And it went right on down the line from there. I'm not upset. We gave every effort possible. We couldn't ever seem to get any continuity on offense. We couldn't hit the outside shots when we needed them," added the coach, whose team hit only 8 of 30 field goal attempts in the first half.

The Dusters were behind by 12 points with two minutes to go in the game but staged a 'urious rally to pull within one.

Clara Campbell scored 17 points and grabbed 14 rebounds for the Dusters, who are now 20-5 for the season. Clayton had 13 points while Karen Kuykendall scored 11 points and yanked away 10 rebounds. Renvy Evans scored 10.

Rhonda Hoelting, who along with Kuykendall fouled out of the game, bagged 6 points and had seven assists.

The Lady Badgers, now 15-6, were led by Connie Coffman's 16 points. Sharon Marion had 14 and Whitehead got 14.

Pecos girls get around Lady Tigers here, 51-46

Lily Talamantez's freethrows with 1:52 to play in the game proved to be the winning points as Pecos High School defeated Snyder in a District 2-4A contest here Thursday, 51-46.

Pecos took the lead two minutes into the second period and never lost it. The outcome was doubtful until the final seconds however, as Snyder never trailed more than eight points.

That came with 5½ minutes to go in the fourth period when Talamantez hit a 22-footer for the Eagles. Carmen Rios countered with two freethrows for the hosts, and Pam Gray came off the bench for a bucket that made it 45-41.

Pecos then went to the line twice and came up empty before Blanca Rubio scored a single point with 2:42 remaining. Gray answered for Snyder and Talamantez came back for Pecos with two free shots, 48-43 with 1:52 to go.

Talamantez's freethrows turned out to be the insurance Pecos needed. Snyder made its final bid when Gray went to the line seconds later. She made the first shot but the second bounded from the rim. Karlene Thompson rebounded for the Tigers, and her followup score made it a two-point ballgame.

Both teams had chances to score again but turned the ball over, and with 55 seconds left, Paula Sanders went to the line to wrap up the victory.

Snyder had attacked the boards well, but turned the ball over 25 times to the Pecos press and shot only 36 percent from the floor. The Tigers also failed to improve from the stripe Thursday, hitting just 10 of 24 freethrow attempts.

The Eagles themselves were only 15 of 25 from the line, but that was enough as both teams recorded 18 field goals in the contest.

Carie Housden led the hosts with 16 points and 15 rebounds. Rios had 12 points while Thompson scored 8 and had 10 rebounds. Gray and Wendy Lunsford scored 5 points apiece.

Pecos got 15 points from 5-8 senior Patty Acosta. Lynn Ferguson scored 11 while Talamantez popped for 9.

The loss puts Snyder at 10-10 for the season and 3-6 in District 2-4A play. The Tigers get no rest either, as they trek to Andrews tonight to play the Lady Mustangs at 6:15.

Pecos improves to 7-12 on the season and 5-4 in district play.
