Absentee Count Tops 40 - Mark

Voting in the absentee election for the Democratic and Republican primaries continued this week with 36 Democrats and five Republicans casting ballots.

Absentee voting will continue through Tuesday, April 29, in the office of County Clerk Ruby Hart, Aransas County Courthouse. The office is open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Aransas County voters will be asked to mark their ballots differently depending on whether they vote in the Democratic or Republican primary races.

On the Democratic Party ballot, boxes are to the right of the candidates' names and the voter must completely fill in the square beside the candidate of his or her choice.

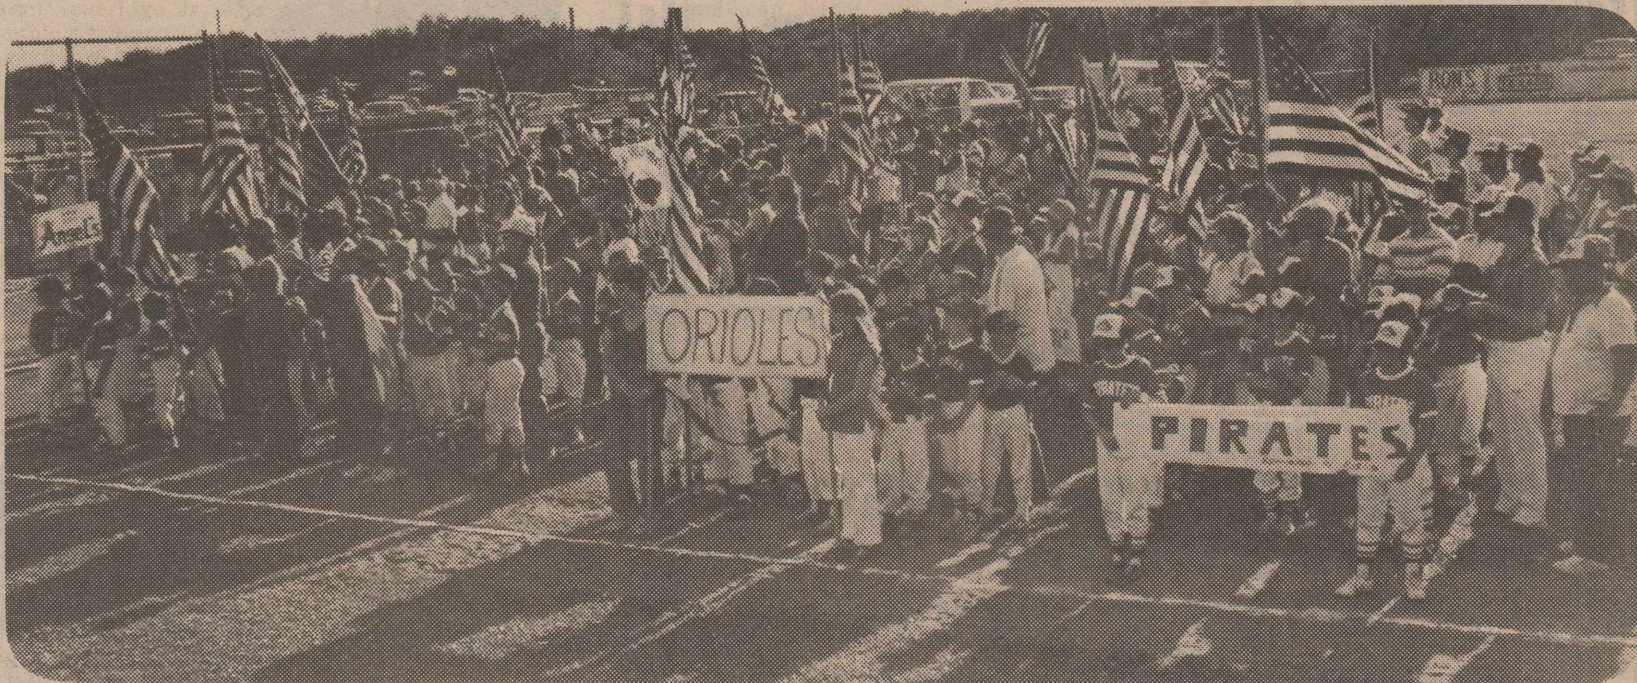

On the Republican ballot, boxes are to the left of the candidates' names and the voter must place an 'X' in the square beside the candidate of his or her choice. Voting instructions are printed on each ballot.

Democrat voters will be casting ballots on 20 local, state and federal races, including a non-binding presidential preference referendum.

The presidential referendum will give voters four choices: Jimmy Carter, Edward M. Kennedy, Jerry Brown and "Uncommitted" and does not bind the delegates who will attend later state and national

Democratic 'Stump Night Real Success'

By Pat Blair

Nearly 400 Aransas County voters turned out to enjoy a shrimp gumbo dinner and listen to Democratic candidates in a "really successful" Stump Night Saturday, April 19.

The event "really was a success," said Molly Freeborn, president of the Aransas County Democratic Women who hosted the dinner at the Paws and Taws Building on Fulton Beach Road.

The group raised almost $2,500 for the Aransas County Democratic organization, including more than $1000 in proceeds from the cake auction that followed the candidates' speeches.

Some 32 Democratic candidates or their representatives for political offices ranging from U.S. Representative, 14th District, to county precinct constable attended the dinner to present their views to county voters in the coming May 3 primaries.

Lola L. Bonner, chairman of the county Democratic party, presided over the affair and introduced speakers.

Among candidates at the dinner were both Bob Hewes, incumbent, and Jim Pridgen, challenger, in the Aransas County sheriff's race.

Hewes cited his record of 33 years of law enforcement service and told those at the dinner, "The only promise I can make is to do the best job I can with the manpower available."

Pridgen said he was running for sheriff "because I think someone needs to" and criticized what he termed "apathy in law enforcement" in Aransas County. Pridgen said many cases were thrown out of court because of inadequate preparation.

All six candidates in the county commissioner, pct. 1, race were present to speak Saturday night. Candidates are Grace Stanick, Roy Hinton, Raulie Lee Irwin Jr., John M. Lee, Dan

Pilot Outlines Editorial Policy

Once again it's election time -- a time that brings special problems for newspapers.

In an effort to prevent some of those problems, or at least keep them to a minimum, the Pilot would like to explain our editorial policy regarding columns, letters to the editor and advertising during the election season.

The views and opinions expressed by writers of columns that appear in the Rockport Pilot and Pilot Weekender are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the Pilot's editorial opinion.

Letters to the editor expressing opinions on the upcoming Democratic and Republican primary elections will be accepted through noon Thursday, April 23 -- the deadline for the April 27 Pilot Weekender.

Letters will not be accepted after noon Thursday unless they are in rebuttal to a letter previously published in the Pilot. This is to insure that no person or organization will be able to take unfair advantage of any other person or organization.

For the same reason, the Pilot will not accept any advertising after noon Thursday that is critical of an opponent or that presents statements or claims that cannot be verified.

Anders Furthers Harbor Plans In Galveston Meeting

Navigation District Commissioner Jimmy Anders and Jack Vanhorn, representative for the engineering firm of Lockwood-Anderson, met with the Corps of Engineers in Galveston concerning the Fulton Harbor Project recently.

The object of the meeting, said Mr. Anders, was to find out exactly what the corps expected of the district before application may be made for a permit to begin the project. For example, the complete water circulation must be considered. The top surface current and the bottom surface current will have to be maintained, added Mr. Anders.

The Navigation District is also working on an overlay of the proposed Fulton Park to show the public exactly what it will be achieving by the harbor expansion. Mr. Anders said the new project will be much better than

UNHAPPY ANNIVERSARY

Raul and Irene Gaona of Houston were on the road celebrating their first wedding anniversary and first vacation together on Monday, April 21. They were coming south from Houston, heading for a visit with relatives in Edinburg. A few miles north of Holiday Beach, on Highway 35, they pulled around to pass a vehicle and, according to Mr. Gaona, another car was doing the same thing from the opposite direction. He swerved and spun off the road on the east side of the highway. For the better part of the next hour, Gaona says they battled small brush fires caused by the car's hot exhaust system. Just when they thought there were no more fire problems, it suddenly blazed out of control. By the time fire trucks arrived, the auto was gutted and the flames were spreading rapidly. Sheriff's Officer, Dean Smith, helped them salvage a few tools, but not much else. The Department of Public Safety ticketed Gaona for failure to control his speed.

Residents of Rockport are asked to help the city's "Clean-Up Week" project by starting now to clean up around their residences. Officials have asked that no big appliances be set out as these cannot be handled by the trucks.

Tax Money Saving Pamphlet Available In Court House

Allena Jones, Aransas County Tax Assessor-Collector, today announced the availability of a new 12-page pamphlet which may help county residents save on their property taxes.

According to Mrs. Jones, the pamphlet explains how the property tax system in Texas operates, and highlights possible tax savings available to citizens.

The publication was developed by the State Property Tax Board in accordance with Senate Bill 621, passed by the Texas Legislature in 1979.

Information in the pamphlet is applicable to property taxes collected by all levels of local government, including counties, cities and school districts.

Mrs. Jones noted that many persons are able to reduce their overall tax bills by applying for available exemptions. All homeowners, for example, may apply for a homestead exemption, but this must be done before the county's tax rendition deadline of April 30.

Additional exemptions are available upon application to disabled veterans, and those age 65 and older.

Pre-Registration Set For Kindergarten, First

Pre-registration for Kindergarten and first grade will be held at Fulton Elementary, Live Oak Elementary and Rockport Elementary school offices during the week of Monday, May 5.

Any child who is six years old on or before September 1, 1980, is eligible to enroll in first grade. Any child who is five years old on or before September 1, 1980, is eligible to enroll in kindergarten.

Parents must bring, at the time of registration, their child's certified birth certificate and immunization records. Immunization requirements are:

D.P.T. -- Minimum of three doses with one dose since the child's fourth birthday.

Polio -- Minimum of three doses with one dose since the child's fourth birthday.

Measles and Rubella -- Immunization (received after the first birthday).

Mumps -- Immunization.

Pre-registration for these grades is very important, say school officials, who add that unless they know the number of children that will be in kindergarten and first grade,

Nature Trails

By John Smith, Wildlife Biologist

The last few weeks, it has been a common occurrence to see small flocks of white egrets fly over my place or flying along the highway, traveling north. These are cattle egrets returning to their nesting areas in the eastern United States. They have spent the winter in Central and South America.

The white egrets are about the size of a small chicken, with orange beak, legs and a small patch of orange feathers on the head, breast and back.

These birds have not always made their way up the Texas coast in the spring. In fact, it has been only in recent years.

They are originally from Africa; this is the bird that one sees sitting on a rhino on the African plains.

However, in the 1920s, a few cattle egrets were observed on the east coast of South America. It is possible that they were blown over to the new world by a storm, or they could have accidentally made it on their own. Young egrets of all types, but especially cattle egrets, do a lot of wandering after they leave their nest.

Whatever the cause for their making it to the Americas, they were very productive in South America and finally expanded into Florida. They continued north, and in 1954, several birds were observed loafing at Eagle Lake, Texas.

In 1959, just 21 years ago, the first known nesting occurred in Texas. Several nests were observed within a large colony of little blue herons and snowy egrets on the upper coast.

Today, there are approximately 300,000 breeding pairs of cattle egrets in Texas alone, as many birds as all other egrets and herons combined. Their numbers levelled off in 1975, so we probably have about as many now as we will ever have in Texas. However, northern states are still experiencing an increase in numbers as the species continues to adapt in that direction.

Cattle egrets are controlled by rainfall, or the lack of it, and thus they do not nest in west Texas and are rarely seen in the more arid portions of the state.

They are controlled by rainfall because this determines the amount of food that is available to the birds. They do not eat fish or related aquatic life as do other egrets and herons. Rather, about 85 percent of their diet is grasshoppers, with the remaining 15 percent being frogs, small snakes, spiders and other insects.

Consequently, they are very valuable to the farmer and rancher. At this time we have not proven how valuable each bird is to agriculture, but Roy Telfair, a research student at Texas A&M University, did determine that during the peak of summer, when grasshoppers were plentiful and the baby cattle egrets were most demanding, one pair of egrets fed their chick 1,500 grasshoppers each day.

Even though cattle egrets do often stand on a cow and they do pick some flies from the cattle, their association is mainly that of following and picking up insects disturbed by the cattle's movement.

Cattle egrets are very quick and accurate in catching insects. I've held egret chicks in a large box on the porch and observed them catching house flies. At three weeks of age, they catch a fly on 90 percent of their attempts. You can imagine how efficient the adults are.

Cattle egrets nest on coastal islands as well as in inland marshes. They utilize vegetation above the water, which gives them water protection from predators.

They travel up to 40 miles from the nest site to feed and may make six to eight trips a day.

Since cattle egrets eat insects, their red meat is very palatable. However, they are protected by stiff fines for killing them, as are all other herons and egrets.

Judge Bob Barnes on Inflation and Interest Rates

Nobody is for high interest rates, but politicians who want to put a lid on them without doing something concrete about inflation are either very cynical, or underestimate the voters' intelligence. A lid just dries up available money to loan.

"As the Washington Post noted April 5, 1980: '...prolonged inflation, the basic cause of high interest rates, always tends to expand the governmental sector at the expense of the private sector.'

"Don't be taken in by a politician sweet-talking about interest rates. Ask him about his program for inflation. That's what counts. Trimming back a cactus doesn't kill it. You've got to get at its roots.

"I'll fight inflation in Congress by working for a balanced budget, and eliminating unnecessary regulations through Congressional vetos and a strong Sunset Law. I pledge this: I'll give you action on inflation, not the tired old lip service you've been hearing."

Logo Design Contest Announced

Livingston-The Alabama-Coushatta Indian drama "Beyond the Sundown" has announced a nationwide contest to redesign the production's logo. "The national significance of these two tribes has long been overlooked," according to Marion Waggoner, producer and general manager of the Sundown Theatre.

"As far as survival goes, and adaptability, the drama serves as a fine example," he explained further. "Of the numerous outdoor plays about Indians produced annually across the country, 'Beyond the Sundown' is the only one presented exclusively by native Americans." Waggoner also pointed out that the Alabamas and the Coushattas have lived at their present site for over two hundred years.

The design competition is open to all American Indian artists and all the residents of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas. These states mark the route followed by the Indians as they left their original homeland near Mobile, Alabama, in the face of growing European colonization.

"There has been an incredible proximity between these two tribes and the white man since the beginning of their recorded history," Waggoner added. "We want an emblem, a design that reflect that friendship."

The Alabama-Coushatta tribes finally settled in what is known today as the Big Thicket of East Texas. Their Reservation is just north of Houston between Livingston and Woodville, Texas, on U.S. Route 190.

Walt Harris, of Ponca City, Oklahoma, one of the country's most highly-honored Indian artists, will judge the contest entries and select the winners from five semi-finalists. A specially commissioned lithograph by Harris

More Road Work Scheduled For County

CORPUS CHRISTI--District Engineer Roger Spencer of Corpus Christi announced recently that the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission has approved a $58.7 million program to improve almost 2,000 miles of state-maintained highways in Texas.

Work included in the program for Aransas County provides for level-up on S.H. 35, in both Aransas and Refugio Counties, of a 14-mile section between Park Road 13 and F.M. 774; additional surfacing on S.H. 35 in Rockport from Austin Street, south to south city limits, and on Loop 70 in Rockport from Church Street, east and north to S.H. 35; level-up on F.M. 2165 between S.H. 35 and F.M. 1781; and level-up on F.M. 881 in Aransas and San Patricio Counties on F.M. 881 between Port Bay and F.M. 631, a twelve-mile section.

Total estimated cost for the work proposed in Aransas County is $322,400. This work will probably be scheduled for summer 1981, with some work done by Departmental maintenance forces and some by contract.

Ambulance Service Women's Committee To Participate In Art Show, Sea Fair

Members of the Women's Committee of Aransas County Medical Services Inc. are planning a busy few months, including participation in both the Art Festival this summer and Sea Fair next October.

Also on the schedule is a fashion show at the organization's next meeting in May -- and plans to continue meeting through the summer months rather than discontinue the meetings as the group has done in the past.

The organization -- which met Friday, April 18 -- has also raised some $230 to date for its "rock fund" project to buy rocks for use in landscaping around the Enterprise Medical Clinic.

Estimated cost of the rocks is $10 each, which means the group has raised enough money to buy 23 "pet rocks."

The Women's Committee will have a food booth in next October's Sea Fair. Members of the committee were also asked to volunteer to help serve as hostesses in the food tent during the July 5-6 Rockport Art Festival.

Frank Dupont, the newest doctor at the Enterprise Medical Clinic, is expected to speak to the women's organization at the May meeting.

Active membership in the Women's Committee is now at 225, according to Membership Chairman Mary Coudy.

Friday's meeting was their first in the newly-opened Sandollar Restaurant.

The Clara Driscoll Chapter meets in Corpus Christi except in April when the monthly meeting is in Rockport.

Party Line

By Betty Paul

The William Holdens, the Lee Wagners and Jo Keef and her family had as a guest Bob Thomas from Kerrville.

Caroline and John Beehee went to Houston to celebrate their 27th wedding anniversary and to share the 31st anniversary of Carolyn's brother and his wife Billie and Russel Smith, plus Billie's birthday. A lot of fun doing a lot of celebrating.

The Ladies Circle of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church will have a style show May 1. Dorothea Montgomery is the co-ordinator and Mrs. Charles Veatch is the commentator. The clothes will be from the Castaways shop, a church-sponsored thrift store.

Betsy Gorton, at Texas A&I, got the ingenue lead in Tennessee William's play "Summer's Smoke." She is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Ted Gorton of Rockport. Betsy was a former student at Rockport-Fulton High School, graduating in 1978. The play will open April 28 and run through May 2 at the Texas A&I University Theatre.

Billie Welch at Las Brisas had a bad scare the other night. One of the occupants of the motel went to sleep while his food was cooking and the room caught fire.

Margaret and Paul Gill and daughter, Susan, got quite a surprise when they returned from a trip recently. The neighbors decorated their home with "For Sale" signs because they were missed so much. The culprits behind the whole thing were Mrs. Vi Street, Barbara Johnson, Joe Hicks, Regina and Jim Bailey. At least the Gills will know how much their friends care.

Laverne Davis just returned from a fashion buying trip to New York.

Jackie Veatch and Sarah Milam had a garage sale that was really something. Both of the ladies are very talented and they showed off their "castaways" in a very unusual manner. Jackie makes the most unusual material flowers and they are so realistic you wonder what her secret is in producing them.

The Taylor Oak Trailer Park celebrated Cora and Clarence Vander Giesen's 50th wedding anniversary April 16. A decorated cake was served to them and 25 of their friends. A gift was also presented to the couple.

Frances and Al Lewis from the Pan Handle are making Rockport their permanent residence during the winter months. They will be at Taylor Oak Trailer Park. They like this area so much.

Ted Gorton Jr. was recently visited by his parents Col. and Mrs. Ted Gorton Sr. and his sister Betsy at his home in Tunisia where he is employed by Shell Oil Company as a director in Public Relations.

Ruth McShane has returned to Rockport and is staying with her daughter, Jewel Clinton.

Jerry Beattie is back home at the Village Inn and feeling much better after being in the hospital. He is resuming some of his duties.

Charles Parvier completed the job of building a fence around the air conditioning units at the Church of Christ.

Dickerson And Dilworth Place

Freshman Alma Dickerson ran the 100-meter dash in 12.5 seconds at the regional track meet over the weekend. This was good enough to capture fifth place. She actually had the same time as the fourth-place finisher, but the pickers took her for fifth.

The winning time was 12.2 seconds. Darlene Dilworth placed sixth in the high jump, with a leap of five feet. The winning jump was just four inches higher.

This was the best that Darlene had done this year and she saved it for the regional competition.

Speaking Of Sports

Pirates Out-Powered

By Bob Crawford

In a game of mighty blasts, the West Oso Bears powered three home runs off Pirate pitching and used six Pirate errors to beat Rockport-Fulton 11-6 in Rockport Thursday night.

Roger Salinas slammed two homers and Ricky Cruz blasted a homer and added two other hits to lead the Bears in the first game of the second round of district play.

West Oso jumped on Pirate starter Chris Butler in the first inning, scoring once, and then the Pirate defense cut off that rally with a good relay play. West Oso put a runner on, and he scored, but the player who had doubled him home tried to score on a later hit; leftfielder Wayne picked up the hit, fired to cutoff man Eric Commander, and Commander nailed the runner at the plate with a shot to catcher Dennis Hull who put on the tag.

Rockport picked up two runs to go ahead in the bottom of the second. Hull led the inning off with a home run, his first round-tripper for the year. Bill Jennings walked, was wild pitched to second, and then scored on Jim Eaton's double.

Oso answered with the tying run in the third. Rockport scored a pair in the fourth to take the lead. Pee Wee Solis singled, Bill Jennings singled, a wild pitch occurred, and then Commander drilled a single to the outfield to score the pair.

The Bears cut loose in the fifth and sixth innings, scoring seven times.

The Pirates gave up two more runs in the seventh. Trailing 11-4, Rockport tried another comeback, but it was too late. Commander picked up another hit, and Childers blasted a shot out of the park, but that finished up the scoring.

The loss gives the Pirates a 0-1 record in the second round.

Boys Golf Team Places Sixth

Billy Washko tied for second place to lead the Pirates to an overall sixth-place finish in the district golf tournament held recently at the Padre Isles Country Club.

Washko shot scores of 81, 78 to end up tied for second in the individual medalist competition. In the ensuing playoff, he lost out and ended up third in the overall standings.

Other scorers for the Pirates were Chris Butler—94, 94; Tyler Brownlee—96, 95; Mark Boone—100, 102 and Chad Johnson—106, 108.

Flanagan Competes In Regional Golf

Jean Flanagan represented RFHS and the district in girls' golf competition in the regional tournament at the Corpus Christi

Golf Center over the weekend.

She shot scores of 111 and 112. Coach Bobby Flanagan said that the competition was really tough this year. The team winners, Kerrville, had the top three individual medalists in the region.

Flanagan said that the regional 3-A champs had much better scores than the 4-A schools.

Price, Montague Compete In Regionals

The Lady Pirate doubles team of Terri Price and Meredith Montague lost out in the first round of the recent regional tennis tournament at the H.E.B. Tennis Center in Corpus.

They were up against the second-seeded pair of girls from Taylor and lost by scores of 6-1, 6-2.

The play was much closer than the score indicates, because of the 15 games, 14 of them were played to deuce, so Terri and Meredith were in the match all the way, and the score could easily have been much different.

Tony Aleman will be representing the Pirates in boys' singles this weekend at the regionals in the H.E.B. Center.

Tennis Association Brings Home Firsts

Members of the Rockport Tennis Association brought home five first place trophies from the Portland Pioneer Day Tennis Tournament held last weekend in Portland.

Jimmy Aleman, Anita Bergdorf, Polly Bracht, Holly Garrison and Mary John Lynch each received first places, and Jimmy Aleman and Holly Garrison also won second place for mixed doubles.

Moped Company Opens In Fulton

Dan and Anne Gibson have just opened a new company in Fulton that they hope really gets off to a rolling start.

The company is called Today Products and deals primarily in the sales of electrically - operated moped vehicles.

They are all battery operated, and Dan says they will use about three cents worth of electricity to recharge. This takes about five hours from a 110-volt outlet.

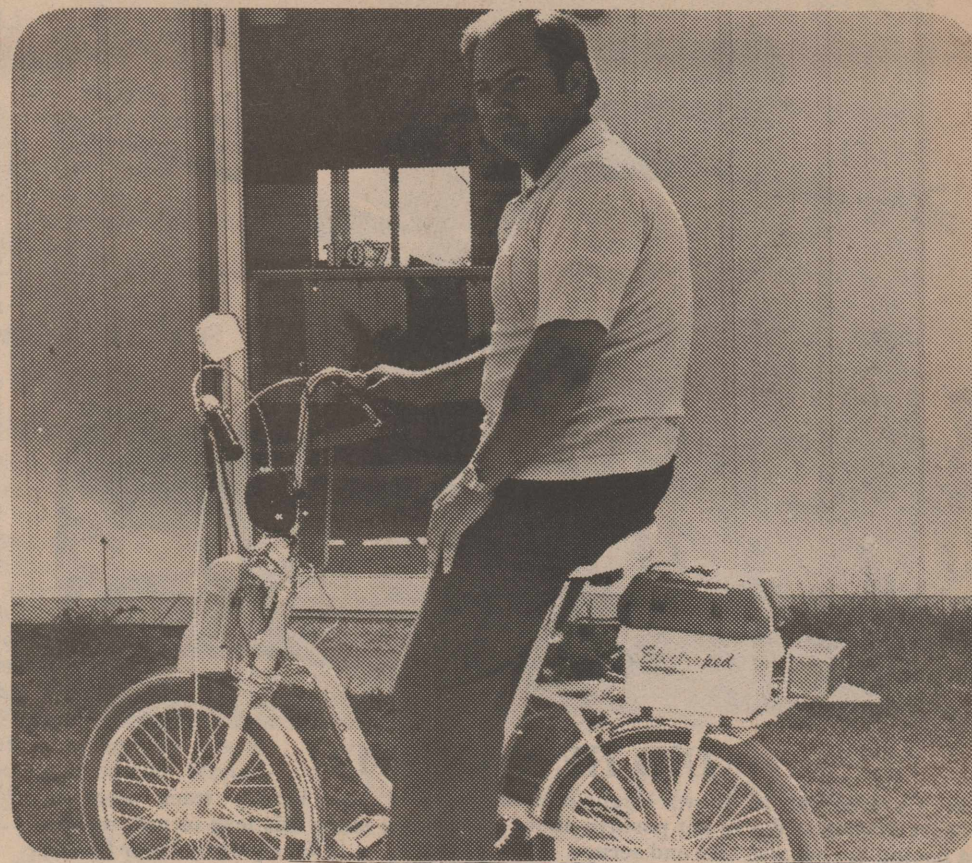

The mopeds come in all shapes and sizes and have speeds ranging up to about 20 miles per hour, utilizing the special rechargeable 12 and 24 volt battery systems.

The Gibsons are also opening a store in Corpus Christi. They moved here from Fort Worth last January. Dan had been the president of a manufacturing company, but decided that it was time to get off the road and settle down. Their business is located at 107 Fulton Beach Road, in the heart of Fulton.

They have materials in stock to turn your regular bicycle into an electric moped; you can do it yourself or have it done for a fee. Dan says that all their parts are made in the U.S.

ELECTRIC POWER

Joe Gilbert Valdez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Valdez of 801 Wharf Street in Rockport, will receive the Bachelor of Biblical Education Degree from Western Bible College in commencement ceremonies Friday, May 9, at 8 p.m. at Phipps Auditorium in Denver, Colorado.

Joe is married to the former Diana Gonzales, daughter of the late Ambrosio and Jane Gonzales, also of Rockport. The couple have two children, ten-year-old Joe Jr. and five-year-old Gabriel Thomas.

Joe, a 1968 graduate of Rockport Fulton High School, has completed the four-year program with a major in Pastoral Studies. The curriculum consists of 128 hours of both Biblical and general education courses.

Included in his studies were such subjects as Old and New Testament, missions, personal evangelism, family living, anthropology, speech, English grammar and composition, philosophy of education, Bible study methods, history of civilization and extensive studies in Christian education, theology and Biblical studies.

While at Rockport-Fulton High, Joe was active in football, basketball and track. He was the vice-president of the Letterman's Association and president of his senior class, as well as being active in the choir.

After high school, Joe served in the United States Air Force from 1968-75, where he attained the rank of Staff Sergeant.

Prior to attending Western, Joe attended San Antonio College and the University of Maryland.

At Western, Joe was the president of the Student Council in his senior year. Plans for future education include Dallas Theological Seminary.

For future ministry, Joe and his family would like to be involved in church planting in Spain.

Western Bible College is a four-year, interdenominational Bible college located in the foothills of the Rockies, just southwest of Denver.

The 200-plus students there follow either the two-year associate or the four-year baccalaureate degree program, and may pursue majors in one of five areas: Pastoral Studies, Missions, Christian Education, Sacred Music or Christian Teacher Education.

Peace Corps/VISTA Volunteers Being Sought

"The American volunteer spirit is alive and opportunities are abundant," says Richard Garbell in a call for people to join the Peace Corps/VISTA program.

"Well over 2,000 new Peace Corps volunteers for 60 developing nations and at least 500 VISTA volunteers in the United States will be needed between June and September alone," he stresses.

Garbell, who is the Service Center Director in Dallas, says that they are seeking men and women, minorities and the elderly, farmers and blue collar workers, in short, anyone who is committed to helping the disadvantaged and willing to serve in the United States or abroad.

"We need to help the developing countries in upgrading their health, nutrition, sanitation, farming and construction," he stated.

Anyone wishing to apply for either program, the Peace Corps abroad or the VISTA program at home, can write to their new address at Peace Corps/VISTA, 400 North Ervay #230 E, Dallas, Texas 75201.

NUTRITION AND FEEDING OF A CAT

The nutritional requirements of a cat are not the same as that of a dog. I will discuss the nutritional requirements of a dog in a separate article.

A great deal of nonsense is spoken about feeding cats. Some cat owners believe that all cats like milk; that they should never be fed starch or vegetables; that fat is bad for them; that bones do them no harm. Perhaps the silliest thing that is said about the cat is that it will, given the opportunity, instinctively choose a balanced and sensible diet. It won't!

The cat is a carnivore and meat is the basic food for it. Its natural prey includes many small animals such as mice and rabbits, which are herbivorous. In eating these animals, the cat consumes everything—muscle, meat, internal organs and the half-digested vegetable contents of the digestive system. In this way, the cat's overall nutritional requirements are met.

The cat that is more or less a house cat (one not allowed to hunt in fields) develops tastes for foods unavailable to cats that have to kill their own game. It is the responsibility of the owner to see that the cat gets the proper kind of diet; a balanced diet that will meet all its needs.

Man requires five major elements in his food: protein, fats, minerals, vitamins and carbohydrates. The jury is still out on the cat's need for carbohydrates. In dog nutrition, research has shown carbohydrates are essential. Most cat nutritionists favor high fat and protein diets for cats. The high fat rations are more palatable than low fat diets. The cat's requirement of proteins and fats are much higher than those of the dog.

If you have both a cat and a dog, it is important for your cat's health that you purchase and feed cat food to the cat and dog food to the dog.

In a future article, I will discuss the various ailments resulting from a deficiency in the five major elements.

Lions Say

'Thanks'

The recent broom and mop sale put on by the Rockport Lions Club was one of their most successful ventures, says Larry Dean Martin, campaign chairman.

The $1,562 profit they realized will go into the Lions Club crippled children's fund.

Martin expressed thanks to the Lions who helped with the sale and to the many businesses and citizens who gave their support.

what to call them.

THE ORIGINAL WALKING SHOE.

Before people knew what to call them, we made shoes with shock-absorbing cushioned crepe soles. And totally supportive steel shanks. And Breathin' Brushed Pigskin® uppers, to flex when a walking foot flexes. And we called them Hush Puppies®. And we priced them affordably. And we still do. We knew what you wanted all along.

Bill Patman. Because we need a Congressman who understands our way of life.

Bill Patman, a Jackson County farmer and rancher, understands the special needs of our rural communities. Through two decades in the Texas Senate, Bill worked hard for agriculture.

It was legislation authored by Bill Patman that created the veterinary diagnostic lab at A & M. It saves Texas cattlemen and consumers $8 for every $1 invested, through better control of livestock disease. Bill has also given strong support to the extension service, and to increased funding for agricultural research.

It was Bill Patman's initiative that saved in our Texas Constitution the provision protecting family farms from future taxation based on the speculative, rather than the productive, value of the land.

As a farmer and rancher himself, Bill knows all too well the problems our South Texas farmers face in dealing with USDA regulations. For example, the USDA fails to recognize our early planting season in South Texas, and often waits too late to issue regulations directed toward what and how much we plant. As our Congressman, Bill Patman will fight to see that Washington bureaucrats deal more responsively with our special needs.

Here's what Bill has to say about our agricultural heritage:

"I'm proud to be a South Texas farmer and rancher. Agriculture forms the economic base of our area, just as it forms the economic base of the nation. But more than that, agriculture contributes so much to the American quality of life. I believe deeply that the tradition of family farming is worth saving and nurturing. As your Congressman, I'll work to rebuild respect for agriculture as a keystone of this country."

Bill Patman
Democrat for Congress

If you'd like to help us elect Bill Patman to Congress, call (512) 771-3303, or write P.O. Drawer A, Ganado, 77962.

Murder, Theft, Drug Arrests Keep Police Busy In March

Rockport police were called on to investigate a murder, three thefts and made six drug arrests during March, according to the monthly report released recently by Police Chief James Craigmile.

However, alcohol-related offenses continued to lead the arrests during the month, with 35 arrests for drunk in public and six for driving while intoxicated.

The drug arrests included two for possession of marijuana and four for possession of narcotics.

Five arrests were for disorderly conduct, two for fictitious license plates and two illegal alien arrests were made.

One arrest each was made for driving while license suspended, unauthorized use of motor vehicle and unlawfully carrying a weapon.

Police issued 41 traffic

citations during the month with the largest number -- 14 -- being for driving without a license. Nine tickets were issued for speeding, and three for failure to yield right-of-way.

Two tickets each were issued during the month for disobeying a stop sign, disobeying a traffic signal and following too closely.

One ticket was issued for each of the following offenses: driving with expired license plates; driving with expired Motor Vehicle Identification sticker; failure to control vehicle (accident); improper left turn; improper right turn; improper overtaking and passing; improper backing; failure to dim headlights for approaching vehicle; and driving without lights when required.

Police also issued one ticket for passing without sufficient clearance.

Police responded to six ambulance calls during the month and four calls each to assist the county and for family disturbances.

Other calls during the month included three each to serve as funeral escort, prowler calls, emergency messages and animal calls; and one call each for fire and a runaway report.

Nineteen of the calls during the month were listed as "miscellaneous."

Police transported 37 prisoners to the county jail at a total cost to the city of $930.

The city's five police cars logged a total of 9,804 miles for the month.

DOMESTIC OIL PRODUCTION DISINCENTIVE ACT
Mr. Speaker, I rise today in protest of the Domestic Oil

Production Disincentive Act of 1980, falsely styled the "Windfall Profits Tax."

This legislation is sheer folly beginning with its name. It is not a tax on profits -- rather it is an excise tax on the price of oil produced domestically.

Such legislation sets the worst type of precedent because, in effect, we are confiscating property of citizens who are already being taxed on their income.

I speak of the royalty owners who do own their minerals as well as their land. This tax will unfairly cause oil -- with the same value to energy consumers -- to be taxed at alarmingly different rates.

This takes a ridiculously unfair situation and magnifies the discrimination.

Texas have long suffered high utility rates which indirectly benefit the rest of the country, however this legislation will not just hurt Texas -- it will hurt the nation as a whole.

True, there are some good provisions in H.R. 3919 that, if separated, I would support. Such things as energy tax credits and repeal of the carryover basis are beneficial.

However, the idea of a tax on domestic oil production which so damages this country and so threatens our national security I find so repulsive that I cannot support the legislation.

Further, this legislation, which is deemed in many people's minds to be punitive in regard to perceived excess oil company profits, does not accomplish this purpose.

It will most seriously affect royalty owners and independent oil producers who drill 83 percent of the exploratory wells in this nation. Such new exploration is vitally needed if we are to discover more proven reserves in the future.

In addition, this legislation will cause wells which are currently producing marginal quantities of oil and utilizing expensive production techniques to be plugged since they will no longer be economic.

You cannot expect someone to remove this oil from the ground when it's going to cost them more to bring it up than can be obtained for it.

Bringing these wells back into production would entail much more than simply turning a valve and the price of oil would have to rise even higher before it would be economic to re-open them.

Although any decrease in this tax will result in additional production in the future, the exemption of the independent producers will result in additional production of at least 700,000 barrels per day in crude oil equivalent by 1990.

Since these producers are

the small businessmen of the oil industry, and competition will be reduced by such a tax, their exemption is certainly justified.

In summary, Mr. Speaker, let me again point out this legislation is unnecessary, ill-conceived, prejudicial and dangerous.

I urge my fellow members to join with me in voting to defeat the Conference Committee Report on H.R. 3919.

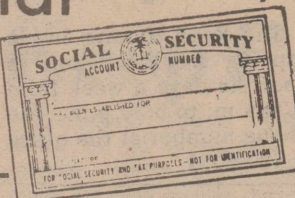

WARREN APPOINTED
Earl Warren was appointed Chief Justice of the United States on Sept. 30, 1953.

Q. My 16-year-old son works for me in my place of business. His buddy works for his father. I was told not to pay Social Security taxes on my son's wages but his buddy is having Social Security taxes withheld from his wages.

Does the type of business have anything to do with these two situations? — C.V.I.

A. Probably not. Your son cannot be covered by Social Security if you are the sole proprietor of the business or if you and your wife are the only partners in the business. The law says that a child under age 21 cannot be covered in either situation.

Your son's friend might be working for a partnership consisting of his father and someone who is not the boy's mother. In that situation Social Security taxes must be deducted.

Q. I am payee for a friend who receives Social Security disability benefits because of a mental condition. I have noticed a marked improvement in this person's condition over the last few months and I think he is now capable of handling his own money.

Can I have the checks go directly to him now? — N.N.P.

A. Your friend will have to file an application to be his (her) own payee and submit evidence that he (she) is capable of handling funds.

Social Security has a special form that can be used by a doctor for this purpose.

Whether your friend files or not, the improved condition must be reported to the Social Security office as it might be an indication that this person is capable of returning to work and, therefore, no longer eligible to receive disability benefits.

Representation

I shall consider the problems and work toward their solutions, of each county, on an equal basis, regardless of their population.

Roadrunner Secretarial Service Opens

Anyone needing temporary services in the secretarial or bookkeeping field in Rockport now has a place to turn -- Roadrunner Secretarial Service.

Phyllis Fair opened her new business two weeks ago in the Pine Tree Office Park, but has been operating from her home for several months.

At the moment, Mrs. Fair is the sole secretary and bookkeeper, but she does have a professional answering service.

"Our business is for the small businessman who doesn't have a secretary, or if someone becomes ill in an office, we can help out with our temporary services," she said.

She also stresses they will do mailing lists, and "no job is too small or too large."

Mrs. Fair has a background in professional secretarial and bookkeeping, and will expand the business to include other employees if the need should arise.

The Fairs have lived in Rockport for five years, and had a vacation home here for five years before moving here permanently.

"I wanted to do something," added Mrs. Fair, "and I thought there would be a demand for this type of service."

The Road Runner has a copying machine, and is open six days a week from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The phone number at the office is 729-9034.

Charles Johnson of 200 Myrtle, Peninsula Oaks, reported theft of a motor cover, valued at $125, and rod and reel, valued at $65, from a boat in the yard of his residence.

Theft occurred sometime between 9 p.m. Friday, April 18, and 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

A TSR-8 computer was taken from the office of State Services at Cove Harbor on March 31.

Entry was gained through a window.

William H. Hicks of 904 Sandollar reported theft of a six-gallon gas tank from his boat sometime between 9:20 p.m. Saturday, April 12, and 8:30 a.m. Sunday, April 13.

Hicks reported theft of the tank, valued at $5, Tuesday morning, April 15. The boat, a 19-foot Glastron, was in the channel at Hick's residence at time of theft.

George Targus of 19 Live Oak Point reported burglary of his residence and of a smaller house behind it sometime between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Tuesday, April 15.

Both houses belong to Targus. Entry was gained to both houses by breaking a latch on a sliding glass door.

Dale Larry Lee of 428 South Saunders, Aransas Pass, reported theft of nearly $3,800 in equipment from a boat while it was in the back yard of a residence on Murphy Road.

Theft occurred sometime between 7:30 a.m. April 10 and 9 a.m. April 11.

Taken were an outboard motor valued at $2,800; a marine radio valued at $425; a Truline recorder valued at $450; and a CB radio valued at $120.

A six-gallon gas can valued at $25 was taken from a boat belonging to Roy Newcomb of Beeville while the boat was in the channel at 908 Sandollar.

Theft occurred sometime between 9:20 p.m. Saturday, April 12, and 8:30 a.m. Sunday.

Craig Leonard Boone of 105 Rattlesnake Road reported someone stole 30 eight-track tapes, valued at $255, from his car while it was parked at The Bull between 10 p.m. and 11 p.m. Saturday.

The person(s) then used a rock to scratch the paint on the top, the hood and along the driver's side of the car.

Someone burglarized a residence belonging to Lee Claraday, 40 Flamingo, between 5 p.m. Saturday, April 12, and about 8 a.m. Sunday.

Entry was gained after the pins were removed from the hinges of the front door. Apparently the burglar(s) had first attempted to pry open three sliding glass doors into the residence and failed.

Police Report

Helen Edgar Hawkins, 49, of 1856 Bayshore Drive, was charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) and driving in violation of a driver's license restriction.

Ms. Hawkins was placed under public recognizance bond on the DWI charge and $75 cash bond on the violation charge following her arrest about 12:19 a.m. Saturday, April 19.

She was stopped by Police Officer James Jacoby on East Liberty Street just east of Sail Printing Company.

The driver's license restriction she is charged with violating is the requirement that corrective lenses be worn while operating a motor vehicle.

Phillip Ralph Striano, 28, of Fulton was placed under $500 bond following his arrest on a DWI charge Friday, April 18, about 3:17 a.m.

Striano was traveling south on Fuqua on his motorcycle when he apparently lost control of the vehicle near the intersection of Fuqua and 2nd Streets. The motorcycle overturned, pinning the Fulton man to the pavement.

Officers J.N. Tanner and Jacoby, called to the scene, arrested Striano. The man was taken to Lyman Roberts Hospital but refused treatment.

Robert A. Irlbeck, 22, of Midway Trailer Park was placed under $150 cash bond on charges of public intoxication and disorderly conduct following his arrest about 10:40 p.m. Friday.

Irlbeck was arrested at Julie's Lounge on Market Street by Officer Tanner.

Efrain G. Rangel, 20, of Corpus Christi was placed under $50 bond on a charge of driving without a license after he was arrested about 10:24 p.m. Friday on Raht Street near Midway Trailer Park.

Police Officer Tanner stopped Rangel after reportedly observing the man driving over the speed limit and with tail lights of his vehicle flashing.

Well, hopefully by this time we have gotten our garden planted and transplanted. The danger of late frost is past.

Many novice gardeners may think that the next step in this gardening complex is the harvest of luscious, fresh vegetables.

They have overlooked one big part of gardening. That is the culture of plants from planting to harvest. This is probably the one which most of us fail to do properly.

One of the most important cultural practices, especially in Texas, is the control of insects and diseases.

Insects are plentiful and varied in Texas, and they can destroy the products of your gardening labors overnight.

Gardeners can kill these invading insects by spraying or dusting with safe (to humans) insecticides such as Carbaryl, malathion or diazi-

County Agent News

By

non. Insecticides should be properly timed, of the proper type, properly applied and at the proper intervals. In certain locations, it may be necessary to control insects at 10-day intervals.

If this is the case, alternation of the above mentioned chemicals at monthly intervals is recommended. This will reduce the possibility of building insect resistance or immunity to any one of these insecticides.

It should also be stressed that the chemicals named are less poisonous to humans than common aspirin in the same dosages.

If you are an organic gardener or nervous about using chemicals we can recommend the organic insecticide composed of Bacillus Thuringiensis bacteria which kills all leaf-eating caterpillars.

These leaf-eating caterpillars include tomato hornworm, pecan webworm, corn earworm, gypsy moth larvae and bagworm.

This Bacillus is marketed under many names, the most common being Thuricide, Biospray, Biotrol and Dipel. It's a good product and works on worms but not on beetles or pill bugs.

Pests fit into two categories—apparent and unnoticed. The "apparent" category includes those pests which can be seen easily after the initial invasion. They include pill (saw) bugs, tomato hornworms, potato beetles, stinkbugs and powdery mildew fungus.

The "unnoticed" category includes those sneaky pests which go unnoticed until they have practically killed your precious garden plants. They include spider mites, loopers, nematodes, cutworms and most of the fungus diseases.

The "unnoticed" category includes the most dangerous of the garden pests. These pests are the trickiest to control since action must be taken to prevent annihilation before the damage to plants is seen.

If a gardener waits until he sees the pest's damage, any control measure used probably will be ineffective.

The cutworm is a good example. There is usually an abundance of this critter in the spring. The damage caused by this insect larvae is a plant lying on the ground after the stem has been severed.

Obviously, control measures are a bit late after such damage is observed.

To complicate matters, the little devil only does the eating at night so you never see him unless you roam around in your garden at night.

If you plant another plant, the worm will gladly wait around and eat it off too.

If the presence of a large number of these pests is detected during soil preparation, a soil application of the insecticide diazinon will control them.

After plants are established in the garden, this problem can be avoided by placing a can around each plant. Since the cutworm moves on top of the soil, the can will barricade the hungry pests effectively.

Gardeners also can dig around damaged plants, find the hiding cutworms, and discourage further destruction by making two worms out of one!

Spider mites and nematodes are rather predictable. If you had them last fall, you will have them this spring. Vapam is the only product which is effective against these microscopic soil worms which cause roots to swell and become nonfunctional.

Individual spider mites don't do a lot of damage; but get several thousand of the little devils together sucking on a leaf, and problems begin to develop.

Since a mite population can double within a week, preventive control measures should be taken when small populations appear.

Kelthane, sulfur and diazinon are the best materials. Be sure to spray the bottom of all leaves since this is where mites congregate and populate.

Car Check Can Save You Money

Are you buying more gas than you need to? You very well may be, according to Car Care Council, which says many motorists may be wasting gas at the rate of as much as a dollar an hour because they are neglecting their cars.

According to a recent consumer survey, says the Council, the majority of cars in both self-serve and full-service stations are not being checked as often as they should be. Some parts which are critical to fuel economy, such as spark plugs and air filters, are in substandard condition.

One out of three filters checked in a recent survey was found to be dirty. And the Council estimates that a car needing a tune-up, spark plugs and an air filter could be consuming gas at a rate twenty percent above normal. For the owner of a big car using premium fuel at highway speeds, this adds up to a dollar's worth of gas an hour going out the tail pipe.

fore they can enter the carburetor. The filter should be checked every six months.

Although most car makers recommend replacement at 24,000 to 30,000 or more often under dusty conditions, many owners change the air filter as an annual maintenance habit to ensure maximum fuel economy.

Checking and replacing the air filter is one of the easiest things a motorist can do on his or her car, according to the Council.

SENIOR NEWS
By Julie Adams
Rockport's Chapter of the National Honor Society has planned their annual program for the newcoming juniors and sophomores of next year. A junior must have an average of 90.00 and a sophomore must have a grade point average of at least 92.00.

This year's seniors have planned the program for Monday night, April 28. The people who are on the planning committee are Julie Adams, Jean Flanagan, Vicki Guillett, Lisa Smith, LuCinda Hamon and Renee Fair. All of these girls are seniors and it will be their last year to be a member of the society. Other senior members are Joe Barlass, Reagan Little, Henrietta Harris, Mollie Davis and Melissa Pruitt. They are all planning a very nice program to be presented to the initiates and to their parents and friends who are all invited to attend the event.

Mrs. Hayden and Mr. Barre are the National Honor Society's sponsors. The NHS has traveled to Bloomington and to Austwell-Tivoli for the fall and spring conventions, of which they are the treasurer for the district. This year, Rockport's Chapter was not re-elected to a position, but they are still active members in the district.

Other senior news is about the senior trip. One member of the class, Sandy Collins, made a call to "River View," which is a campground near Garner State Park. She made several reservations for the Memorial Day Weekend.

One other bit of news is that Hector Saucedo was recently in the hospital for the removal of his appendix. He is now at home, but he has not yet been back to school. He is doing O.K., other than having a little soreness. We, the senior class, wish him well and hope to see him up on his feet again.

JUNIOR NEWS

By Lisa Guillett

It is that time of year again for the students who will attend school at RFHS next year to choose their classes for the year of 1980-81. A couple of weeks ago our counselor, Mr. Watkins, came around to each class, taking them individually to explain the new process that has come about for next year.

Next year is going to be quite different from years past. The Texas Legislature has decided that all schools will be based on the semester system, instead of the quarter system we are all accustomed to. This idea will be a change for the students and especially for our new freshmen coming over from across the street, since high school is a large step up the ladder of life and is a bit more difficult. This will also affect grades and possibly the attitudes of the students, so it will take a while to get used to.

Many varied courses are being offered to the student body for next year. Added to the list of classes are Biology II, and not this year but the year after, a small motor repair course will be offered. Also, something new is College-Bound English IV being provided for the upcoming Seniors in preparation for college. After the first six weeks, it will deal with in-depth research papers and a great deal of reading and writing. Art classes will also be offered for the talented art student.

Although some classes have been added, others have been done away with, such as Study Hall and Consumer's Math. With all of these things provided for us, I'll bet the graduating seniors wish they could attend school one more year to get in all that they missed.

The Prom is just a step away. As a matter of fact, just a couple of weeks away. We the juniors, are working hard. There are soon to be meetings held after school and there are usually two a week during school. We are trying to make this a Prom that the seniors will remember for a while.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

By Holly Garrison

As the year winds down, sophomores are getting anxious to take their next big step, and that is to become juniors. Just about six weeks remain, and summer is close at hand.

This time next year, this year's sophomores will be concentrating on the big task of putting on a Prom. Even this year, everyone seems to have their minds on the Prom, and whether or not they'll be asked, or what they will wear, if asked.

This is the slow time of the year for the sophomores, except in sports. The sophomores were well represented in the District 15-AAA Tennis Tournament. In the Varsity Division, Nancy Crites teamed with junior Terri Price to win the doubles and help lead Rockport-Fulton to a first place ranking in the tournament. But in the Junior Division, the sophomores gave notice of things to come in the next two years. Phillip Viccinelli and Shawn Bateman won the boys doubles; a year ago they did the same thing. This humble reporter won the Junior Division contestants from RFHS claimed the first place finish in that division as well.

Much could be said for our class representatives on the baseball team, the boys track team, and the members of the girls track team. And, it will be at a later

FRESHMAN NEWS

By Richard Nava

The recent freshman activity has been quite eventful.

The favorites were nominated and voted on. The boys' and girls' favorites are Dominic Dominguez and Alma Dickerson. Runners-up were Richard Nava, Charlotte Kinsel, Chuck Ayerz, Vanessa Tuztan, Aaron Commander, Tina Chavez, Orlando Pena and Gina Guillette.

The freshman involvement in track has also been outstanding. In girls' division they have been lead by Alma Dickerson, who has been competing at Varsity level. The boys have been lead by David Ramirez in the 880 and mile runs and Charles Ochoa in shot put and discus.

Our freshmen have also represented us well on the JV baseball team. Aaron Commander has led the JV with two home runs. Pat Nava and Rudy Zavala have displayed excellent fielding and Jim Redden has led the JV pitching staff with Commander seeing some relief.

During 1977 the National Football League drew 11,018,632 fans throughout its 196 regular season games.

Rain Flaps Reduce Road Hazard

For many years the trucking industry has been looking into ways to solve the problem of splash and spray thrown from truck tires on rainy days. At highway speeds, a truck's tires throw off high velocity streams of water which hit conventional mud flaps and other hard vehicle surfaces. These streams break up into clouds of tiny water droplets which are carried outward and upward in the turbulent air flow around the truck.

Now a new product is available called Spray Guard Rain Flaps by Monsanto, which can cut spray thrown from truck tires by more than 50% for improved highway visibility and safety.

The new truck accessories are the most cost effective way to improve visibility of both truck drivers and passing motorists by reducing spray from trucks on wet roads of any device tested. This was revealed in a recently published study conducted for the U.S. Department of Transportation by an independent research team.

Spray thrown from a truck during a moderate rainfall can reduce the visibility of a passing motorist to approximately 25 percent of his normal vision. At the same time, the truck driver has a hard time seeing a vehicle attempting to pass him, creating a potentially dangerous situation.

Until recently, fenders which enclosed the wheels were the only known effective way to deal with the splash and spray problem. However, fenders are not practical on heavy duty trucks because their weight and bulk decrease fuel efficiency, increasing operating costs. In addition, reduced air circulation around the tires can cause over-heating which may lead to brake failure.

Spray Guard Rain Flaps are designed to prevent the water thrown by the tire tread from breaking up into spray clouds. Mounted vertically behind the tires like conventional mud flaps, Spray Guard Rain Flaps have a stiff polyethylene backing with a grass-like surface facing the tire. This grass-like surface directs the blasts of water back down onto the pavement, minimizing spray and keeping the water mainly below the windshield level of a passing car.
