Johnson Club Organized Here Thursday, Oct. 29

Representatives from practically every part of Collingsworth County answered the call of L. B. Bratten as they met in the courthouse in Wellington Thursday, November 29 to organize a Lyndon Johnson for President Club.

Mr. Bratten announced the purpose of the meeting and called for unified support of the man he considered the best qualified to be the next President of The United States.

With Orville Cunningham, superintendent of the Samnorwood School acting as temporary chairman, the following permanent officials were elected: Paul Spillman, chairman, L. B. Bratten, vice-chairman and James Richardson, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Spillman opened the meeting for discussion. Orville Cunningham made what amounted to the keynote speech of the evening. The majority of the people of Texas are behind the Johnson for President movement, he said, and seldom have they been so unified on any issue. But he said he thought it would be a mistake for the Johnson supporters to limit their activities by merely presenting Lyndon Johnson as a favorite son candidate. Instead, Mr. Cunningham said, we should tell our friends in other states of the leadership, statesmanship and experience of Sen. Johnson that will enable him to best lead the nation and serve all of its people.

Frank Coleman agreed with Mr. Cunningham's remarks and said he thought the South, the Southwest and the West would be solid for Johnson. I think we can do some good by telling our friends in the northern plains states that

Pat O'Hair Asks Re-Election

Pat O'Hair, commissioner of Precinct 3, has authorized The Wellington Leader to announce his candidacy for re-election. His statement follows:

I want to express my sincere appreciation for the cooperation and good-will in Buck Creek, Rolla and Swearingen, the communities torn from Precinct Three. You people have been wonderful to serve. May you receive the same attention and consideration as heretofore.

I am announcing as a candidate for County Commissioner of Precinct Three in the Democratic Primary on May 7th. To the voters of our present Precinct Three, I want you to know that I will work to strengthen the county's finances, to improve the road and bridge system, and to receive all the outside aid to which the county is eligible. Any time there is anything to be done for the county's benefit, I consider my time as belonging first to the county.

Within the next six months, I will try to see each voter in this recently constituted Precinct Three. I want to hear your ideas, your wishes and your problems so that together we can build an even better Collingsworth County.

To each of you, your vote and influence will be sincerely appreciated.

Mrs. B. M. Sims Elected

City Woman Heads District Music Clubs

Mrs. Billy Mac Sims was elected president of the District Seven Federation of Music Clubs in the 35th annual convention in Amarillo Thursday, October 29.

Mrs. Sims also is president of the Wellington Federated Music Club.

Other officers are Mrs. Claude Johnson of Dalhart, Mrs. John Willis of Borger and Mrs. S. W. Brunson of Lubbock.

During the two-day convention, the Wellington club received second place in its category for the yearbook and an A-minus, one of the top ratings, on its achievement record book. Mrs. Bernice Welch, Mrs. Sam Thompson and Mrs. Hiram Cudd were members of the committee that prepared

NEW CAPS DENOTE SERVICE

In recognition of their service to the community through volunteer work at St. Joseph's Hospital, these members of the Junior Hospital Auxiliary were capped at a tea Sunday afternoon, November 1. Wearing the uniform of junior hospital auxiliary members in Texas, these girls re-

No Good News

Battered Rockets Face Irish Friday

If anything good happens to the Rockets, they'd probably be so shocked they couldn't play. As it is, they meet Shamrock Friday, November 6, on the Irish field.

Injury after injury has stacked up against the team, until the entire first string backfield is out. Some injuries of long-standing haven't come along as well as they should, and Coaches Frank Lindsey and Mc Odell this week are grooming several boys from the B team to play in the Friday night game.

"The Rockets and the Irish would be about equal if we were up to full strength," Lindsey said Tuesday.

The Irishmen run the outside and inside belly series from the standard T formation, and also use the Oklahoma cross series, Lindsey reported.

In L. H. Tucker, the Irish have one of the finest fullbacks in the district, and Shamrock also has a fine left halfback. The Irish have been a good defensive team all year.

The Rockets' bad luck started on the kick off of the Perryton game, when 200-pound tackle Harry White was clipped and received a knee injury. The clipping was accidental, Coach Lindsey said. White was hospitalized at St. Joseph's overnight. He will not play again this year.

Toward the last of the third quarter, Bill Estes received a dislocated collar bone as he blocked a play.

Jackie Daves received a broken rib during the last practice session before the Perryton game and he, too, is out for the remainder of the year.

Quarterback Bruce Crosby will not play in the Shamrock game, the coach said.

Dickie Elbert, halfback, who was injured early in the season, tried to play in the game Friday but was taken out after a couple of downs. His injured ankle has not come along as well as expected.

Coach Lindsey named Richard Mauldin, 145-pounder to replace

Missionary to Speak Saturday

Rev. Ike Foster, a returned missionary from the Orient, will be at the Fundamental Baptist Church Saturday, November 7, for a talk, illustrated with slides, of his work in Korea. The program will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Foster has been a missionary 10 years at Tokyo, Japan and Seoul, Korea.

During the time, he has adopted two Korean orphans, Kay, 5, and Paul, three.

He and his family are in the United States on a year's furlough.

WINS ARROW

Mike Fires, 13-year-old Wellington Boy Scout, recently received his sash denoting that he is a member of the Order of the Arrow. Scouts are nominated for the order during summer camp, when members of their group chose them as the best camper. Later they returned to Camp Ki-O-Wah to undergo the overnight "ordeals." Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fires.

Bratten Elected Collingsworth C-C President for '60

L. B. Bratten will head Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce during 1960, John Coleman, the current head announced after votes were counted in a directors meeting Monday night, November 2.

Bratten will take office January 1. Elected with him were Billy Hatch, vice president and Cal Hurst, treasurer. Three directors were named. Dr. Chas. B. Jones and Eldon Holley were re-elected, and Robert Lewis was elected for a new term.

In the same meeting, plans for the city's Christmas decoration program were studied and Mr. Coleman appointed a committee to include Henry Sullivan, Quinton Brewer, George Henry, Mrs. Deskins Wells, Mrs. John Coleman and Mrs. A. J. Fires.

One other committee chairman was appointed, C. T. Hubbard, who in turn will select the remaining members to work with St. Joseph's Hospital regarding certain financial problems. These arise from the fact that the hospital is a non-profit organization and accepts any person needing

City to Get Industry Visit

A representative of an eastern industry seeking to locate in this area is due to visit Wellington some time in the near future, N. M. Higdon, chamber of commerce manager, said this week.

The C-C industrial committee has compiled information requested in behalf of the company.

Higdon said that while nothing is definite, the company is interested enough that its representative will include Wellington in the list of several towns to be visited.

CHIEF OPERATOR

Mrs. Jo Ann Francis recently was promoted to chief operator for the Wellington office of General Telephone Company of the Southwest. She has been with the company almost 7 years.

Tour of City Homes Set for November 15

A group of Wellington's beautiful homes will be opened to the public Sunday, November 15, for the first home tour, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The tour will be from 2 to 5 p. m. Mrs. John Coleman, club president, announced.

Mrs. Ernest Harwell, finance chairman, is in charge of arrangements and all members of the club are assisting.

Most of the homes open for the tour were completed during the last year and several are barely finished. In addition to those listed, two more homes will be included if they are finished by the time of the tour, Mrs. Harwell said.

The tour will begin at the Cecil Shanks Home at 1402 West Avenue. Here those making the tour will be given full information and tour guides will be furnished.

Some of the homes to be visited are those of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Glasgow, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Starr, Mr. and Mrs. Rolan Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman and the minister's home of Bowie Street Church of Christ. The tour will end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman, where a tea will be held.

Girls of the Wellington high school homemaking class will assist in showing the homes.

Resuscitator Fund Drive Set for Thursday Night

The final drive to raise funds for a resuscitator in Wellington will be made by the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department in a porchlight campaign Thursday, November 5, Richard Bailey announced.

The resuscitator has been on display in the Wellington State Bank for several months and was available for use at any time, but the machine does not become property of the Department until the final payment is made.

Approximately $400 is needed. "This is the first time we have asked people for money toward the resuscitator, and we feel that it is either time that we get the month and pay for the machine or return it," Bailey said.

Work in the residential section will begin about 5:30 p. m. before porchlight time. The firement will be out with the fire trucks, and the siren will sound as they go up and down the streets. Those wishing to make donations are asked to turn on their porch lights or give other indications that they want to donate.

The resuscitator has many uses. Among the more dramatic are to revive drowning victims, or persons overcome by gas or smoke. But it is also used to relieve the breathing of asthma patients or others having breathing difficulties, as well as with those who have suffered heart attacks or other ailments.

The model the Wellington Fire Department seeks to keep is portable.

Rotary-FFA to Sponsor Old Toy Drive

Wellington Rotary Club and the Future Farmers of America will again team up to sponsor the toy repair program, in which used and broken toys are repaired and distributed to needy children at Christmas.

Plans were announced at the meeting of Rotary Tuesday, November 3.

The program will be conducted as in the past. The FFA members, directed by Danny Garcia, will repair the toys in the vocational agriculture department of high school.

Anyone having used or broken toys they do not want are asked to take them to the FFA building, or call Garcia or any member of the Rotary Club, and they will be picked up.

During the Rotary luncheon program, R. F. Curry gave a Rotary information talk, and A. A. McQuary was received as a new member. Jack Sanford gave the highlights of a recent Rotary meeting in Lubbock which he and President Bennett Goodloe attended.

Visitors were Bill Eller and Andy Bell, and H. W. Shirley of Childress was a visiting Rotarian.

Missionary to Speak Thursday for Methodists

Miss Ann Ruth Jones, returned missionary from the Belgian Congo, Africa, will speak in the parlor of First Methodist Church Thursday evening, November 5, at 7:30 p. m.

She was at that mission field three years.

Miss Jones will speak each night this week at some church in the Childress district, Mrs. Frank Weir said.

Trailer Owners Given Tickets

More than 20 traffic violations in connection with trailers have been filed in justice court recently, Judge Raymond Horton reported.

Most of these involve having no burning red tail light or pulling more than one trailer behind a motor vehicle or tractor, he said.

There were also more than the usual number of traffic violations, more than the usual drunks arrested, along with 10 crap shooters, Judge Horton added.

At First Baptist

Rev. Hickey Begins Pastorate in City

The Rev. and Mrs. Glenn E. Hickey and son, Danny, arrived here Thursday, October 29, and he preached his first sermon as pastor of First Baptist Church on Sunday.

Rev. Hickey was pastor of Eagle Mountain Baptist Church, Fort Worth, two years before coming to Wellington.

During that time, he worked toward his doctor's degree at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and completed his resident work in the field of New Testament. He also taught in the Education unit of the Public Health Hospital in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Hickey is the former Dorothy Thomerson of Malvern, Ark., and that also is his native state. Both have bachelor of arts degrees from Ouachita Baptist College, Arkadelphia, Ark. and he received a Bachelor of divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Seminary.

Mrs. Hickey's major was music, in which she has continued an active interest. In addition to his studies, Rev. Hickey is an amateur radio operator.

Their son, Danny is two and a half years of age.

In preparation the family's moving here, members of First Baptist Church had the parson-

Revolution in Book Publishing; Good Paperbacks Along With Bad

Where once only the wealthy bibliophile could satisfy his craving for a library, a revolution in United States book publishing has made a sizable library available to all.

It was less than 20 years ago that publisher Robert de Graff started Pocket Books, Inc., to publish and distribute low-cost reprints of popular books.

His first order was for 10,000 copies each of 10 titles. This year more than 6000 titles will be published. Prices will range from 25 cents to $3 and more. And a print order of 100,000 or more for one title will not be uncommon.

This revolution has not only been a boon to the individual library but also has been a tremendous aid to education. Many college classes are depending almost wholly on paper-back texts, thus increasing the range of student reading.

Outstanding in the paper-back revolution is the phenomenal success "quality" paper-backs have had during the past three or four years. While oft-times costing three to four times as much as the cheap novels with "sexy" covers, the quality books, tastefully designed originals and reprints, have in many instances outsold the others.

Unfortunately with the good comes the bad. While paper-back publication has allowed for this greater distribution of the classics and quality contemporary literature, it has also allowed for the even wider distribution of the sordid.

All too often the same racks that carry fine books are crowded with books filled with, drivel, brutality, sex irregularities and other "literature" the world could do without.

Police raids and censorship actions on the part of the authorities are one way to remove these books from the reach of youngsters.

In most cases, however, particularly in neighborhood drug and grocery stores carrying such books, several protests from parents might persuade proprietors to censor their own racks.

Paper-backs today play an important role in shaping the minds of the future parents and leaders. It is up to the parents and leaders of today to make sure that it is the low-cost "quality" publications that assert the influence, not the low cost "trash."—The Houston Chronicle.

New Insurance System Should Cut Accidents

The state board of insurance commissioners has launched a laudatory plan in its move to reward Texas' safe drivers with lower automobile insurance rates and, at the same time, penalize with higher rates those who have been responsible for increased insurance costs. The plan will become effective Jan. 1. It is of interest to note that, by the board's own figures, the penalty rates will apply to but 17.3 per cent of the state's drivers. Another 15.6 per cent will pay basic rates while a big majority, 57.1 per cent, will save an estimated $20,000,000 a year through the lower rates.

This is a pioneering move on the part of the board of insurance commissioners in that it is compulsory, applying to all companies writing insurance in Texas. It will not hurt these companies since the minority shown by the records to cause most of the accidents will pay sufficient penalties to balance the savings for the safe purse will make him think twice when he is at the wheel, purse will make his think twice when he is at the wheel, it is believed the new system will be a major factor in leading to greater highway safety.

But, far more important than the financial rewards for safe drivers, is the fact that the board's plan is bound to bring about a reduction in the loss of life on the highways, granting it does reduce accidents. Texas has long been high on the list of states recording traffic deaths and for several years back has been exceeded only by California in numbers. If the so-called safe-driving insurance plan works here there is good likelihood it will be adopted elsewhere.—The Houston Chronicle.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where Fidel Castro of Cuba put on a very large "Hate the U.S.A." demonstration here the other day.

Which my moon-master neighbor says no doubt was brought on by the prime minister's noting that the more some country's people hate us, the more money we cough up to refinance their love for us.

Says Castro probably is running scarce of funds, and hopes that by organizing the world's biggest hate festival he might hit the jackpot.

I see where somebody in Washington has started a drive to take the spittoons out of the Capitol building.

My senile delinquent neighbor says these objects might as well be done away with anywhere in spitting distance of Congress, being as that body seems low on the firm, he-man type it takes to chew tobacco successfully.

And says, he doubts any more tobacco eaters will ever get elected to Congress on account of today's Us-First block voters don't like much ruggedness in their lawmakers.

My switch-thinker neighbor says there is too much dwelling on the evils of inflation and not enough notice being paid to the good points of same.

Says, for example, back when money could be depended on, people would sometimes scrimp and save and do without so as to get together some of the stuff for their kids to inherit.

But says nowadays many old folks will no doubt take to more riotous living for themselves, and luxurize their downhill years with a crash program to dissipate their money before inflation does.

I see where the census takers on their rounds next year will demand to know whether a citizen dunks or showers when taking a bath.

My disturbed neighbor says he hates to get registered either way, on account of the Revenuers landed on him one time when he changed his bookkeeping method without asking them.

So he is afraid if, say, he is put down as a dunker, and sometime wants to take a shower, he will have to get a permit from Washington, or else keep his bathroom door locked.

I see where graduates of driver education in Texas schools are having 12 per cent more accidents than kids their age who were underprivileged out of this training.

My hard-knocked neighbor says it is not surprising that even drivers with diplomas are less than perfect, on account of he has seen some teachers, doctors, mechanics, etc., who seemed to need something besides their expert licenses.

Says, in fact, he has seen many a pretty good workman ruined for life by taking his diploma as a gauge to show that his tank is full.

I see where a reactionary columnist says the struggle to gain unfair advantage is now the American way of life.

My contentious neighbor says that it's mostly a fair fight when just between people, but what he don't like is the government taking unfair advantage by pulling rank.

Says if we had sportsmanlike internal revenuers they wouldn't grab tax money out of our pay checks before we get same, but would stand in line and take their chances on getting paid the same as other people we owe.

The Taxpayers' Group

Origin and Purpose

A short three years ago the affairs of Collingsworth County were in a deplorable condition, bankrupt operating funds, chaotic road conditions under the Precinct System, rampant favoritism, threatened loss of our County Agent and other useful services and injury to the poor and needy through loss of the U.S. government grocery assistance program, bills and debts outstanding in an unknown total amount, published financial statements that failed to reflect the full liabilities—and the only remedy advanced by those in office was another big bond issue through the Burt & Co., bond house of Dallas to saddle the problem on children yet unborn, and still not solve anything.

Out of this chaos the Taxpayers' Group was organized and met for the first time. None held personal animosity against the officials in charge, on the contrary it was felt that the basic fault was because the average voting Taxpayer had not taken the time and trouble to keep informed about Court House affairs and therefore was nearly as much at fault as was the average official.

The dedicated purpose of our group was to try and bring out all facts for public thought and discussion, believing that only through the people themselves could a correct goal be reached. That, as we understand it, is True Jeffersonian Democracy. We now have a 3-year record on which the people of Collingsworth County can determine whether we have held to that purpose. We, as a group, and certain individuals known to belong to our group, have received considerable bitterness during the performance of our duty. Time and again we have received the charge "if you want to run things why don't you run for office?"

Fortunately the bitterness has largely disappeared as time flowed on. Of course, such a charge missed the point entirely. WE had no officials and wanted none; WE were not doing our work to get elected to any office; WE were not putting candidates in the field to do OUR bidding rather than do their duty to the people of Collingsworth County. The moral force of our work would indeed have suffered had we done so.

With an election looming in 1960 we again restate our goal to be bringing out all true and unbiased facts, with malice to none, so the people can make a wise decision. WE have no candidates, WE do have certain beliefs and principles, among them the belief that the office of County Commissioner under the Unit Road System should no longer be a high salaried one (the four commissioners' salaries and mileage now total $11,040.00 per year), and the money now going to them should largely be used either to reduce taxes or to build more roads or possibly to build a new Jail.

One should not cry over spilt milk, and it is too late to do anything about 1959 taxes now, yet we feel justified in calling public attention to the fact that the constructive program advocated by the Taxpayers' Group would have permitted, without impairment of roads and services, a one-third reduction for 1959 of the State and County Taxes now being paid at the Court House by the Farmers, Landowners, Homeowners, Doctors and Merchants of Collingsworth County. Each can look at his own tax receipt and see what this means. In addition to this, a money reserve would have been set up for future building of a Jail and the Road District No. 1 taxpayers would have had complete relief from the 1959 levy against their property.

AS IT IS GOOD FOR AN INDIVIDUAL NOW AND THEN TO RE-EXAMINE HIMSELF AND SEARCH HIS OWN HEART — SO IT IS WITH GROUPS. That was our purpose in a recent meeting and we believe the above statement correctly restates our goal and purpose.

Out of District Play

Rangers Rip Rockets a Freezing 40-8

By Tom Wilkins

The Wellington Skyrockets lost their second conference game of the season Friday night at Powell Field to the rugged Perryton Rangers. However, the Rockets dominated the first 20 minutes of play and led 8-0 with only 5 minutes left in the first half. At this point, Ranger speed-merchant Rickey Shaeffer took over and romped for two touchdowns, one for 60 yards and the other for 40, and the halftime score stood 40-0, Rockets 8.

The Rocket line was hurt, when late in the second quarter the Rockets star tackle Harry White was injured by being clipped by a Ranger. White was taken from the game and will be out for the remainder of the season.

The second half was a continuation of the final 5 minutes of the 1st half. Shaeffer raced for two more TD's of 30 and 65 yards respectively and built the Ranger margin to 26-8. At this point the Rockets again threatened to score but a 15 yard penalty stopped the Rocket drive.

The Rangers managed to push across two more scores in the 4th quarter to run up their final total of 40. The Rockets couldn't muster up another drive and the game ended Rangers 40, Rockets 8.

Sideline

Although the Rockets are out of the District race they still have a fine season. The Rockets have a 4-4 record at this point and that is certainly nothing to be ashamed of. If they can win the next 2 with Shamrock and Quanah they would have an impressive 6-4 record. Anytime a team wins 50% or more of their games they've had a good season.

The Shamrock Irish have come to life this year in the Conference race. They lost 41-22 to Quanah after giving them a good scare 2 weeks ago. Then, last Friday night they dumped the favored Childress Bobcats 30-23 at Childress.

So we can look for a close and interesting contest this week as the Rockets go to Shamrock. Let's all go to Shamrock and help the Rockets win. BEAT SHAMROCK!

(Although this is addressed to Chevrolet owners, we'd be glad to have you read it, no matter what make you now own or plan to buy. It might well be as interesting and significant to you as to the Chevrolet owner.)

TO THE MORE THAN 16 MILLION PEOPLE WHO OWN CHEVROLETS

The first and the latest—the 1912 and the 1960 Chevrolet. The progress represented here is the result of continuing efforts to make your new Chevrolet always more beautiful, more useful and more valuable in every respect.

You belong to the largest family of owners in the automotive world.

We hope you're proud of that. It must give you great satisfaction to know that your judgment in choosing Chevrolet has been confirmed by so many other people.

We know that we can hold your preference and your loyalty only by meeting our responsibilities to you fully and completely from the day you buy your Chevrolet to the day you trade it in. And so we'd like to talk with you about our responsibilities as we see them, and what we are doing to meet them.

Our first responsibility, we think, is clear: To design and build products that satisfy your needs and your wants to the highest possible degree. To that end, we have done these things for 1960:

Made the 1960 Chevrolet more economical, roomier, more quiet and comfortable, easier to handle and maneuver.

Introduced the compact and revolutionary Corvair. Produced a new line of Chevrolet trucks with unprecedented advances in efficiency, cargo handling, driver comfort and ability to get a job done.

But it isn't enough to design and build the kinds of products you want. They must be built right. Solidly. Carefully.

Let us assure you of this: Chevrolet's fine reputation as a solid, well-built, dependable product is being safeguarded by more checks and inspections and tests, than ever before.

Along with your Chevrolet dealer, we want you to have available the finest and most complete service facilities. That is why we: Conduct training schools for Chevrolet dealer mechanics. Study and recommend improved service equipment and techniques. Maintain the industry's most complete parts warehouse system.

Finally, neither Chevrolet nor your Chevrolet dealer has any intention of forgetting you after you buy. To help keep you happy with your Chevrolet, we have established a department new to us, and so far as we know, new to the automobile industry. This is the Chevrolet Department of Owner Relations, whose only job is the coordination of Chevrolet and Chevrolet dealer activities so that you enjoy utmost satisfaction during your entire period of ownership. Through this department, and through all the other extraordinary steps we are taking, Chevrolet and your Chevrolet dealer hope to keep you a happy member of the Chevrolet owner family.

Wedding of Virginia Levensaler and Carl Rountree of Interest Here

Of interest here is the October 18 marriage of Miss Virginia Claire Levensaler of Menlo Park, California, and William Carl Rountree of Palo Alto, Calif.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Coleman Levensaler of Menlo Park and of Judson D. Levensaler of San Francisco. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James A. Levensaler of that city and the late Chief Justice and Mrs. Benjamin W. Coleman of Carson City, Nevada.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Rountree of Palo Alto and the grandson of Mrs. M. E. Rountree and the late Mr. Rountree, and Mrs. W. C. Ketter and the late Mr. Ketter of Wellington.

The couple was married in Virginia City Nevada.

Upon graduation from Sarah Dix Hamlin School in San Francisco, the bride attended the University of Colorado, where she pledges Alpha Phi, and the Garland School in Boston, Mass. She recently returned from Europe where she spent the summer after graduation from the eastern school.

Mr. Rountree was graduated

Elliott-McCaskill Wedding Told

Announcement has been made here of the September 3 wedding of Miss Ruth Garvine McCaskill of Amarillo, formerly of Wellington, to Jerry Rodney Chandler of Amarillo. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. G. E. McCaskill of Floydada and Mrs. O. E. Elliott, Amarillo.

The couple was married at Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo, by the Rev. Eul D. Crosby, associate pastor. White chrysanthemums and gladioli decorated the altar and wedding music was presented by Mrs. Ben Essary, organist.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Norman Hansen, sister of the bride, and Jim Cunningham was best man. David McCaskill ushered.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a powder blue sheath with grey and white accessories, and carried a White Bible with an orchid attached.

A graduate of Wellington high school, the bride was employed by General Telephone Company here and at the time of her marriage was with Southwestern Public Service, Amarillo. She also attended Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Oklahoma.

The bridegroom was graduated from Amarillo high school and is with the Border Patrol at Brownwood, where the couple has established their home.

Mrs. Bartlett Tells of UN

Mrs. E. F. Bartlett was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the 1924 Study Club Thursday, October 29th in the home of Mrs. J. B. King. The topic for the day was "United We Stand" and she told of her visit to the United Nations Headquarters in New York this past summer. She used miniatures of the various building of the U. N. to illustrate her talk and showed colored pictures of many points of interest in the buildings and on the UN grounds. The United Nations was organized October 24, 1945 and was composed of 21 countries. Today there are 82 member countries.

Twenty-two nations have gained their independence, largely thru' the influence of the UN since it was founded.

The UN has two aims, first to prevent war, and second, to strengthen the economy of underdeveloped countries. She pointed out that we have lived in three ages since the UN has been in force . . . The Atomic age, the Hydrogen age, and the Space Age. Through the different agencies and commissions the UN serves all peoples, everywhere, and in every phase of life part in this where there is a need.

Mrs. Bartlett pointed out that even the children have a part in this great work. In Wellington, through the Halowe'en custom of "Trick or Treat" contributions to CROP have been collected in the past by our young folks.

Mrs. King served a dessert plate with Halloween favors and napkins featuring scenes from the UN to: Mmes. R. R. Crawley, Chester Fires, A. L. Elliott, Bobo Castleberry, J. F. Michael, Jack Sanford, C. E. Anderson, James Sullivan, Frank Weir, Henry Vaughan, Miss Sara Jones and guest, Mrs. Bartlett.

The 1924 Study Club met in the home of Mrs. R. R. Crawley October 15th with ten members present. Mrs. B. M. Sims was program chairman for the day. She observed the Fine Arts Department of federated club work with "Stories of Several Operas." Recordings of a number of operas were played, following the Book Review.

Kappa Honors Francis Drake

Miss Frances Drake, home economics major at the University of Texas, recently was named by Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at its scholarship banquet as the sophomore with the best grades.

She also is a dormitory advisor for the fall semester.

Miss Drake is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Drake and was salutatorian of her graduating class here in 1958.

Guild Continues Study of Africa

Wesleyan Service Guild met Monday evening, October 19, at the home of Mrs. John Forbis, with Mrs. Calvin Aaron as hostess. After a prayer by Mrs. J. D. Aaron, president and Mrs. Jack Davis, the study of Africa was continued.

Mrs. Davis spoke on "The Impact of Industry and City Life," Mrs. Guy Owens, "Belgium Congo," and Mrs. Bryan Denley, "Working with Johannesburg's Miners."

At the end of the meeting, Mrs. Davis showed a film from Africa.

During the business session, Mrs. Aaron reported on the district Guild meeting she attended at Memphis, and plans were made for the Week of Prayer and the Guild Christmas Party.

Mrs. Paul Mohle gave the closing prayer.

Refreshments were served to 21 members and one guest.

Crime thrives more and more as the land becomes poorer and poorer.

FLOWERS

bring cheer to shut-in friends

. . . make life a little brighter for the shut-in with a gift of flowers. Our lovely bouquets and plants are always appreciated. Come, choose.

Before Freezing Food, Tape It the Smart Way

Housewives are using a new freezer tape with built-in cutter bar on the package. The tape is easy to write upon, and seals securely.

BY EDNA MILES

For some time, the trend to once-a-week food shopping has been on the increase. Few home-makers can afford the time to trot to the store or supermarket daily.

So they shop once a week and are turning to home freezers to store food. The enlarged freezing compartment in newer refrigerators are encouraging this trend.

The housewife can take advantage of sales in markets to buy meat and other perishables at lowest prices and store away as much as a month's supply for her family.

The whole process has been made far simpler by development of special papers and tapes, designed for just such storing. There's a brand new freezer tape on the market now, the first with a convenient built-in cutter bar on the package. This makes it simple to grasp as you wrap food packages and, of course, far easier to tear from the roll.

You can write on the surface of this new tape, marking name of food and date of storing.

Army Mobile Exhibit Here on November 7

The Fourth United States Army mobile exhibit currently touring the 5-state Army area will be on display at the Collingsworth Court-house Square, Wellington, Texas, on the 7th of November 1959, SFC "Bob" Wilcox announced today.

Features include three-dimensional displays in addition to photo murals and show case exhibits. Arrangements are housed in a red, white and blue air-conditioned bus. Static displays and operating models depict specialized technical and combat activities of the United States Army. Various sections are devoted to Army career fields for both enlisted and officer training.

Pictures of religious and recreational Army activities are also on exhibition.

Area residents are invited and encouraged to visit the exhibit which was constructed by Headquarters, Fourth U. S. Army Recruiting District, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

There is no charge for admission and there will be informational brochures available to interested persons.

Test Soil for Lime Requirements

The simplest and most reliable method for determining the lime requirements for your soil is to have a soil test made every two or three years. Dr. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, points out that sandy soils in lime deficient areas will require more frequent applications of limestone than will clay soils.

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

THE UGLY AMERICAN

The Ugly American is a book that should be read by every American. A more descriptive title would have been "The Stupid American." The book has become highly controversial. Some people in our State Department do not like it. Other exponents of the striped trousers, cocktail party type of "diplomacy," including a few highly placed Senators, do not like it. The book dramatizes the fact that our foreign policy practices in strategic parts of the world are stupid—alienating friends, wasting billions of tax money, and contributing to the continuing, bit-by-bit victories of Communists all over the world.

The authors, William J. Lederer and Eugene Burdick, know what they are writing about. Both are established American journalists. Captain Lederer is a ranking Naval officer and an authority on Southeast Asia which is the setting for the fictionalized story: "The Ugly American." Eugene Burdick studied at first hand the politics of the area and events that were later to become a part of the book. Both men developed an overpowering impulse to warn the American people of the nature of our disastrous defeats in diplomacy and foreign policy. So they wrote a fictional story based on factual incidents and circumstances.

A BEST SELLER

It is such an important book that, although it was written in a kind of pulp-fiction style, it was chosen as a Book-of-the-Month Club selection and is now in its 16th printing. Some publicity on the book implied that it holds the American people up to scorn before the eyes of the world. It doesn't. It clearly pictures the American people, as a whole, in good character with high motives and unselfish intentions toward their neighbors throughout the world.

IN SOUTHEAST ASIA

The locale of the story is Sarkhan, a mythical country in southeast Asia. In every activity of foreign service in Sarkhan—and the rest of Southeast Asia—the Communists are shown to be outsmarting the United States. The U.S. foreign service characters, with few exceptions, are depicted as incompetent in just about everything except playing host at Embassy parties and hoisting cocktails. These U. S. representatives are shown to have an almost total lack of understanding of the Sarkhanese problems, the nation's people; and of the dedicated, cunning Communists. No

American official can understand the native language or read the local newspapers.

Communists have infiltrated the American Embassy staff in Sarkhan. The exposure of two of the Embassy's most trusted servants as Communist spies finally awakens a new U. S. Ambassador to the magnitude of the Communist operation in Asia. He becomes a valuable foreign service officer through great personal sacrifice and effort—only to be relieved of his post when he recommends to the U. S. State Department some measures to correct the destructive mistakes and cope with the highly effective moves by the Communist foreign service organization in Sarkhan.

OUR TRAGIC FAILURE

The book ends with this final failure—an ambassador who finally had begun to prepare himself adequately to render effective service to our nation being kicked out by the State Department and replaced by a party-thriving, hard-drinking extrovert whose every action shocked the sensibilities of the Asians and who hadn't a chance to half the spread of Communist prestige and power.

The Ugly American in effect, draws into telephoto focus the dreadful menace of Communism, particularly the high calibre of intelligence and dedication being employed by the Reds in all the countries of the world, and our continuing defeat. In an epilogue, authors Lederer and Burdick soberly state: "Without pitting one Soviet soldier against one American soldier, the Soviet has won a staggering series of victories... Even among the nations which have seemed committed to us there is a rising tide of anti-Americanism... We have been losing, not only in Asia, but everywhere."

No Change in Turkey Prices

Turkey prices for the remainder of 1959 are not expected to improve materially over those for the same period of a year ago. John G. McHaney, extension economist, points out that the 1959 turkey crop is a big one—about 5 percent above last year and 1 percent above the record crop of 1957. However, he adds, storage stocks are down 18 percent a large percentage of the 1959 crop has already been marketed and the number going to market between now and Christmas will probably be no larger than for the same period last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Cartwright were in Amarillo Sunday to visit their children, Mr. and Mrs. John Cartwright and 17-months old son, Jeffery, and Miss Cecilia Cartwright.

Eagles Open Season With Victory Duo

Samnorwood's Eagles rolled up their first basketball victories of the season Friday night at Briscoe. Samnorwood girls winning 40-36 and the boys having an easier time of it, winning 49-36.

Norwood's girls got off to a slow start and trailed 13-7 at the first quarter but gained slowly and only trailed 23-19 at half-time. Norwood pulled ahead 32-30 at the three quarter mark as Linda Webb scored 10 points in that quarter. Webb was high for the night with 25 points with Barbara Stembbridge contributing 13 points. Kay Schaub, Rose Bradley, Dottie

Tate and Linda Garner all were outstanding at guard.

The Norwood boys trailed at the end of the first quarter 12-11 but pulled ahead 24-20 at half time and 32-27 at the third quarter. Norwood pulled away in the last quarter with a 17 point burst to win going away 49-36. Randall Murry was the leading point getter for Norwood with 19 followed by Kenneth Martindale's 12 and Joel Lowry with 11.

Norwoods first home game of the season will be this coming Friday night when Briscoe pays a return visit to Samnorwood. Game time will be 7:30.

IT'S THE LAW

in Texas
A Public Service Feature
by the State Bar of Texas

HANDWRITTEN CHANGES NOT RECOGNIZED IN COURT

Changing and revoking wills has involved many an estate in litigation because the proper legal methods were not used.

Take the case of Mr. S. Some time ago he went into his lawyer's office and laid in front of his attorney a will which had been prepared for him about a year previously. He said that he had made a few changes in it and wanted to know whether his attorney thought the changes were all right.

Mr. S. was attempting to change two items of his will by drawing lines through certain words in these items and interlining, in his own handwriting, the changes he wanted. He was not attempting to revoke his entire will, but merely trying to change these two items.

If Mr. S. were to die with his will in that condition, the probate court would not recognize the changes that he had made, but would probably probate the will as it was originally written. Mr. S. was surprised to learn this and immediately requested that a new will be prepared.

After the will has been once executed, changes cannot be made legally by crossing out parts of a will and interlining corrections or additions. To change a will, an entirely new will must be written and properly executed—or an addition by way of a codicil must be executed.

Since a will does not take effect until the death of the person making it, the provisions of the will should be reviewed by the maker at least once a year to be sure that changing conditions and circumstances have not been such as to require a modification of the will. It is very easy to postpone doing a thing of this kind, but failure to do so may result in the intentions of the maker of the will being thwarted.

TAKING A BREATH—Designed for babies, the world's tiniest resuscitator can even be used on birds. It was developed especially for new-born babies who have trouble drawing their first breaths.

There are many changing circumstances which would be brought to his attention if a person would review his will at least once a year in the light of circumstances at the time.

Such things as deaths among the legatees or devisees named in his will, births, marriages or divorces in the family, accidents or sickness among the close relatives which make it desirable to increase or decrease the amount given them, substantial increase or decrease in the value of the estate of the person making the will, death of all witnesses to the will and many other factors may cause a person to want to execute a new will or add a codicil to his old one.

Shall we save this land of ours?

Where We Get That Extra Beef

Texas farmers and ranchers might do well to take a long look at the figures on just how much production efficiency, rather than the cattle population itself, has come to be the controlling factor in vaulting U. S. beef production.

Beef output has just about doubled in the past three decades, which is not likely to surprise anyone. What may be surprising, however, is the fact that only half of this huge increase is due to growing numbers of cattle in range inventories at any one time. The other half has come from more beef produced per head.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Beam and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horn attended the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Howard O'Daniel in Tulsa Sunday.

Lt. Phil Handley, who is stationed at Perrin Air Force Base, was here over the week end visiting his father, Bura Handley.

Highway 83 Towns Benefit by New Policy

McALLEN — Every town in West and South Texas along the route of U.S.-Canada Highway 83 will benefit from the policy adopted at the international convention at North Platte, Nebraska to concentrate advertising on summer fishing in Canada and the Rio Grande Valley as a winter resort area and gateway to Mexico, officials predicted.

To make promotion of travel on Highway 83 more efficient, Liberal, Kan. was made permanent headquarters. William Hedrick of Liberal was elected president and Carl Riis of Pierre, S. D. vice president. John Mayfield of Perryton was named vice president to succeed Paul T. Vickers of McAllen. Pierre was tentatively named the 1960 convention city and the new directors planned to meet in McAllen this winter.

Mayfield and Vickers spoke on the convention program and Mrs. Vickers exhibited colored motion pictures of Mexico. McAllen had six of the nine Texas delegates at North Platte. Mrs. Mayfield and Walter LeMaster were other delegates from Perryton. Mayfield pointed out that by advertising the tourist attractions in Canada and the Lower Rio Grande Valley, all towns along the route would get tourist business.

Security Agency Openings Listed

The Department of the Army has announced openings for high school graduates in the Army Security Agency. This agency is responsible for all communications within the United States Army.

Young men who qualify will receive training in microwave transmissions, high speed facsimile message transmission, electronic recording, audio engineering, and operation of electronic computers.

The type of work in this top-flight organization offers young men the chance to learn skills that will provide the foundation for subsequent careers in the amazing new ear of scientific achievement now unfolding before us in radio electronics and communications.

For further information on the matchless opportunities offered to you by this branch of the United States Army, see your local army recruiting sergeant who is Sgt. Bob Wilcox for this area. Sgt. Wilcox may be located at the Donley County Courthouse between the hours of 9:00 and 4:30 P. M. every 1st and 4th Mondays.

NEWS LETTER from Congressman WALTER ROGERS

The American Indian—1959

Ask the average man in the street today questions relating to the history and the current status of the American Indian and the chances are his answer will be the result of knowledge gained from either the television or motion picture screen. This method, though often a pleasant pastime, does not often produce a broad understanding of the American Indian, his problems, his advances, his contribution to our present day society, nor the present relations of the Federal Government to the American Indian.

The House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, which has legislative jurisdiction in matters concerning American Indians and of which I am a Member, has undertaken a study recently to determine information not currently tabulated and which is necessary to legislate intelligently and with understanding. The completed study is much too lengthy to cover in this news letter, but some facts were brought out which are most interesting. They were assembled from many sources including all the Federal Agencies having any jurisdiction in Indian affairs, State and Local Governments, and from private organizations devoted to Indian welfare.

The Indian population in the U. S., though comprising only a fraction of the population total, is so widely scattered through the states that it may be truly considered nation-wide in its distribution. That the Indians cannot be treated as a single group is brought out by the following:

Indian reservations range in area from approximately 1/2 acre to over 15,000,000 acres. Per capita assets vary from $19.12 to $329,577, while per family assets range from $59.59 to $764,449. Population on the reservations ranges from 1 to over 80,000. Education achievement levels vary from unable to speak English to Indians with Ph.D. degrees.

One of the most perplexing problems encountered in the study proved to be one of definition—Who is an Indian? As most of us know, the term originated with the landing of Columbus when he mistakenly assumed he had arrived at the East Indies or India itself. Webster has another definition. The Code of Federal Regulations defines an Indian basically as one who has at least 1/4 degree of Indian blood. "An Indian shall be deemed to be any person of Indian descent who is a member of any recognized Indian tribe now under Federal jurisdiction." Various states employ different definitions.

Annual direct expenditures by the Federal Government for Indian affairs from 1789 through 1958 have varied from $31 in 1800 to $135,173,235 in 1958. The Federal Agency having the greatest jurisdiction in the administration of Indian matters is the Bureau of Indian Affairs, which is a function of the Department of the Interior. Many other Federal Agencies have functions relating to the American Indian. These include the Division of Indian Health of the Public Health Service, the Indian Commission, the Lands Division of the Department of Justice, the Indian Claims Section of the General Accounting Office, the Department of the Treasury which handles Indian tribal funds as well as many others contributing either directly or indirectly.

It was found that 312,390 Indians were living on reservations as of October 1956, and of this number 143,073 were over 21 years of age. In studying the Indian tribal elections, the Committee discovered 122 tribes employ the secret ballot in election and 39 tribes do not. Tribal councils reportedly use the secret ballot on 91 reservations and do not use the same on 46 reservations.

LILLIE NEWS

By Mrs. G. D. Thomas

Sunday School and Church was well attended at Lillie Sunday. Arthur Parker of Mangum, Oklahoma visited over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Finley and in the home of Jack McDaniel at Quail.

Mrs. Zook Thomas and Nancy returned from Ralls Friday after visiting a week with her mother, Mrs. Susie Bennett.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. S. E. Brown and Mrs. G. D. Thomas visited one day last week in the home of Mrs. C. R. Barnett and Mrs. J. C. Ford.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zook Thomas during the week end was their son, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Thomas of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Obie White of Quail and Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons, Jr.

What's in the Hump?

The protrusion atop the withers of Brahman cattle has given rise to some speculation by people unfamiliar with the breed. It is not, however, a deformity, rupture or water storage compartment as some have thought. The hump of the Brahman - aside from being a distinguishing trademark - is edible meat, well marbled with fat. There is no bone in the hump. It makes a delicious pot roast and is considered a favorite delicacy in many countries.

Humps vary in size and shape according to the sex and condition of the individual animal.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shumate of Clovis, New Mexico visited here during the week end with his mother, Mrs. W. V. Huffman and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Wilkins and family.

MOVING

Merchants to Spring Market

A group of Wellington merchants were in Dallas during the week end and this week to attend the American Fashion Association's early spring and resort market, held November 1 through 6.

Going were Billy Hatch, Mack Saied, Jr., Miss Rose Shadid, Miss Marie Shadid, Mrs. Travis Buske and Mrs. Herman Belew.

In addition, Mack Saied, Sr. and Fred Saied were in Dallas last week to attend the men's wear market.

The current market is held in the Adolphus and Baker hotels.

From the 400 exhibitors of women's apparel and accessories, buyers learned that the approaching spring season will take on an appearance of femininity and quality, expressed often in easy draping that reveals the natural body line.

Sliding for Home

How to dramatize in a graphic way the distance required to stop a moving vehicle has been a problem with safety experts.

Here is an idea suggested by researchers: Supposing a pitcher in a baseball park was summoned from the center field bull pen 400 feet from home plate. He climbed into a car, used to bring in relief pitchers, and the driver gunned the car so that it was going 60 miles per hour as it passed the center fielder 300 feet out from the plate.

At that moment the driver decided to jam on the brakes and he pressed hard on the brake pedal all the way home. Did he stop at the plate? No, he did not. The car traveled 60 feet between the time the driver thought of applying the brakes and his pushing down the pedal.

It would require another 300 feet to stop the car if it were traveling on dry pavement. On the grass . . . who knows? But under the conditions related above, the car would surely plow into the screen behind home plate.

Unless we conserve our soil, posterity will suffer the ills and woes of an impoverished land.

Soil Fertility Must Be High for Top Yields

College Station — You wouldn't run your automobile until it is out of gas, says Dr. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, so why keep cropping your land until the plant food runs out? To maintain profitable yields, he adds, additional fertilizer should be applied to cropland before the plant food gives out completely.

To know exactly where your land stands in regard to the amount of plant food available, take soil samples and send them to the state soil testing laboratory at College Station for analysis, he recommends.

Soil samples should be sent to the lab several weeks before planting season so the lab will have sufficient time to test them.

Among the crops generally planted in the fall are alfalfa, early small grains, clovers and other legumes. Many of the soils on which these crops will be grown will need lime, and if this is the case, the lime should be applied before planting, making a soil test now doubly important.

Soil testing is a tool you can use on your farm to help determine the level of fertility in your soil and how much fertilizer you need to add for most profitable production.

Tech Begins Hybrid Cattle Research

LUBBOCK — Some thirty registered Brahman cows will be the nucleus of a research program scheduled to begin this year at Texas Technological College.

Announced by Ralph Durham, Head, Department of Beef Cattle, Texas Tech will put its purebred Brahman herd into hybrid production in the next breeding season. Durham stated that the decision was prompted by the great number of Brahman hybrids now being fed in Panhandle feedlots. To have some of these cattle available for study and research was deemed advantageous by college officials.

The breeding program's primary objective is to obtain hybrid steers for student classwork. The steers will be fattened to provide data for growth and carcass studies.

Initial plans call for the Brahman cows to be divided into two groups. One to be bred to a purebred Angus bull and the other to a purebred Hereford bull. Only a few heifers from these matings will be retained. The hybrid females kept will be put in a "criss-cross" program with opposite bulls to produce three-way-cross calves.

More Texans Talk Turkey

Retailing of turkey parts, turkey steaks, cut-up turkey, and turkey patties is gradually increasing in Texas retail food stores. A recent survey shows that most purchasers interviewed at a supermarket handling the parts year-round are steady users of the product. More than half the shoppers served turkey parts three to five times a month.

By Vern Sanford

Texas is indeed fortunate that the great outdoors has become so enticing to so many citizens throughout the length and breadth of the state.

Our weather is ideal for the outdoors man.

Our transportation, power and manpower facilities, available to manufacturers of outdoors equipment are excellent. Here again our long summers and short winters also play an important part in inducing such industries to locate in the state.

Unless you have tried to watch the development of these businesses, dedicated to the outdoors man, you just can't realize the magnitude of this relatively new industry in our state.

Take Giddings, for example. It is a town of around 3,000 population. Recently we learned that a new boat manufacturing firm had opened for business there. Inquiry revealed that the Invader Boat Co. had been formed last March and was employing 25 persons.

Just the other day we stopped in for a looksee. They have a very nice plant, located about three minutes from downtown Giddings. It's no small layout either. In fact, it is a truly modern factory and as clean as a kitchen.

At present the firm is geared for production of about 25 fiberglass boats a week. Now already being distributed are 14, 16 and 17 foot runabouts.

A widely known designer of boat hulls, Bill Raschke of Fort Worth, is the draftsman.

President of the firm is Walter Helweg of Deansville. Business manager is Don Thrash from Fort Worth. Shop foreman is Merle Joy, also of Fort Worth.

Interested in knowing something about the outboards these fellows are building?

Then read on — for we certainly were quite impressed with their snappy appearance and gay colors.

"Invader 'Forty' " is their smallest runabout. Its a rakish 14-foot streamliner, with chrome ornamented fins and sculptured foredeck . . . rated for motors up to 40 h. p.

"Invader 'Eighty' " is a sixteen foot craft heavy enough to take an 80 h. p. motor. It is equally at home in big waters or small lakes. It has a large open cockpit. An ultra modern matching fiberglass top is available.

Newest in the line is the "Invader 'One Hundred' " — a 17-footer with maximum horsepower of 100. It is built for off-shore bay fishing and of course is equally at home on inland lakes.

Then—for the fisherman there's the "Invader 'Twenty' " that's upcoming. This will be a 12-foot boat, two or three seated, with bait well.

Also on the drawing board is an 18-foot cruiser, which on paper looks like it is going to be the gem of the waters.

All the Invader boats have air-tank flotation and a self-bailing motor well. Wereally fell for the step-through, back-to-back front seats. They were foam rubber padded and covered with gaily colored plastic.

Another impressive feature is the spillover panel. If you ever have had the back wash of a wake roll up behind your boat following a sudden stop, you already know the value of the spillover panel. It runs that slosh-over right back into the lake . . . where it belongs. . . helps keep the boat dry . . . and has a very definite safety angle.

Also we were pleased to see so many high transom models. Evidently that too is a coming thing. Very definitely it is another safety feature.

Having lost a boat because high waves rolled in over the low transom and filled the docked boat with water . . . during a heavy storm on Lake Travis . . . we were more than just a little bit interested in the trend to high transoms and spillover panels.

shields on the Invader boats and the ultra-modern steering wheels add class to the Giddings products. . . . and assure a dry and pleasurable ride.

Don't see how a person can resist the boating urge once he sees one of these classy rigs.

And isn't it wonderful that the small towns of Texas share in the excitement of making these pleasures possible?

Rocket Band Names Officers

In a recent business meeting of the Skyrocket band new officers were elected for the year. President is Va Rue Sweat, vice president Larry Ware; secretary, Elouise Bowen; treasurer, Jennifer Singley; and reporter, Bobby Sanford.

Band director Bill Waits said new band jackets have been ordered for the high school members of the band and jackets for the junior high members will be ordered the 10th of November.

Terraces Must Be Correctly Put in, Kept

Patric W. Neil

Terraces can be a valuable asset on some farms if properly installed and properly maintained. A terrace might be described as a ditch or channel with ridge below, constructed across the slope at various vertical intervals to intercept runoff. The channel and ridge must be constructed to a cross section which will permit equipment to be properly operated.

Terraces are primarily for erosion control and may be built to hold the runoff or divert it to a protected outlet. On long flat slopes, diversion terraces are sometimes constructed about every quarter mile to break up concentrations.

Good cropping systems need to be used for terracing to be effective. Generally contour farming should be practiced on terraced land by doing farming operations parallel with terraces. Ridge type terraces are best adapted to the flatter land while channel type (where all of the soil is taken from the upper side) are adapted particularly on steeper slopes. Local Soil Conservation Service technician will be glad to help select the proper type terrace and assist in the layout of the system.

After a terrace system is installed properly it must be maintained to properly function. Maintenance actually begins with proper use and care of the areas between terraces. As mentioned, cultivation should be paralleled to terraces. An occasional maintenance plowing should be performed in addition to normal plowing operations. Frequent inspections should be made to locate and correct damage.

THE BIG CHANGE

It's so inexpensive to cook the modern electric way. The average family served by WTU can cook a complete meal the easy, fast electric way for less than three cents (3¢).

If you're like most homemakers, you'll agree to this: seeing your family sit down to a delicious dinner is one of the biggest thrills any woman can have. But—how often can you really enjoy it, when you're tired out, exhausted, after hours of battling with a balky, old-fashioned stove. Well, if that's your situation, get ready for something wonderful to happen—to you! Just start cooking with a modern, automatic electric range. Here's cooking that's faster, easier, cleaner—a range that does the work for you, turns itself on and off so that you don't even have to watch the food cook. You'll find that you'll enjoy dinner, too, along with the rest of the family. This is really living better—and cooking better—electrically. See the new automatic electric ranges on display today at your electric appliance dealer.

Awards Banquet Recognizes For Outstanding 4-H Work

Approximately 50 boys and girls were honored for outstanding 4-H Club work during the last year at the awards banquet Monday evening, November 2.

This is the first time the awards program has been in banquet form, and it was combined with the annual 4-H leaders banquet.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Collingsworth County is not one of the counties where Quail hunting is permitted in November. They are in Southwest Texas and also west of the Pecos. A number of our readers have been by to inquire. Hunting will start as usual on December 1. However there is interesting information about the regulatory areas. The bag limit has been increased to 15 a day and 45 in possession. Now mind you this is only in the regulatory areas. There are 103 counties in the state where the Game and Fish Commission has the authority to set seasons on the basis of condition.

In some parts of the state, landowners have come to the belief that wild game is a crop and open their land at prices ranging from $2 to $5 a day and have been advertising their places for hunting. Some motels have found it profitable to work out package deals. They have rates that include rooms, meals and hunting privileges. Anyway we have the most beautiful crop of birds. The good rains, the shelter belts and the soil bank land have all combined to make a huge quail population. You don't see too many whizzing along the paved roads at 60 miles and hour, but take it leisurely and you will see plenty. There is another reason for taking such a drive—the trees at their autumnal best right now.

J. K. Porter, who started on the paper before World War II, is back with us again. During the war he was stationed with the U. S. Air Force in England. During recent years he has been with The Memphis Democrat. Ronnie St. Amant has recovered from his wreck and is back on the job. D. E. Scott, who had to get out of the paper practically by himself last week, will remain so we are ready to start ginning again.

Attend Seminar on Citizenship

L. B. Bratten attended the Citizenship Seminar in Austin November 2, sponsored by Senator Lyndon B. Johnson and the Texas Jaycees. The Austin Jaycees were hosts.

Judge Luther Gribble attended as Bratten's guest.

Speakers schedules allowed for 15-minute addresses followed by 15-minute discussion periods from 9 a. m. to 11:15 and 1 p. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Speakers were Howard E. Butt, Jr., vice-president of the H. E. Butt Grocery Company of Corpus Christi; Hon. John L. Burns, president of Radio Corporation of America; Hon. C. T. Anderson, spokesman for the Railroad Brotherhoods in Washington, D. C.; Hon. James H. Douglas, secretary of the Air Force; Dr. T. Keith Glennan, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration; Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut; and Hon. Sam Rayburn.

Entertainment was furnished by Mitch Miller and Arthur Godfrey, and barbecue was served at noon in the City Auditorium, where the seminar was held.

Fire Damages Holton Station

Fire broke out in the wash and grease room of Holton's Conoco Station shortly before noon Monday, November 2. It is still not known how the fire started but it was confined to the wash and grease room and the fire department quickly had it under control.

John Holton, owner of the station said an estimate had not been made of the damage but it was mostly smoke damage and broken windows in the grease room. Holton recently leased the station to Kenneth Rippitoe.

The Gold Star, highest award given on the county level and presented for overall outstanding work, went to Ann Ruth Messer of Quail and Don Amerson of Samnorwood 4-H. Miss Edith Wilson, district home demonstration agent, made the presentations. The Gold Star is given annually by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The other awards are given by industries and corporations co-operating with the 4-H program on a national basis. These, with the donor and the local person making the presentation, were:

Hollis Driver Hits Bridge

Linford H. Cook, 50 of Hollis was painfully injured Monday, November 2, about 1:45 p.m. when the car he was driving went out of control as he approached a bridge, hit both sides of the bridge and stopped crossways on it, blocking traffic.

The accident occurred 11 miles south of Wellington on Highway 83, at a short bridge near Buck Creek between the Hollis and Memphis intersections.

Highway patrolmen investigating the accident said that Cook, driving a 1953 Plymouth, passed a car and as did lost control of his own vehicle.

He received lacerations about the head and face and is under treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital, patrolmen said. His car received heavy damage.

Police Chief Troy Marsh went to the scene from Wellington and cleared the bridge so traffic could be resumed.

The Samnorwood club played piano solos; Sue Sanders gave a tap dance, accompanied by Nancy Emmert and Patricia Kimbro, all of Quail 4-H; Lonetta Neeley, Quail 4-H, told of taking part in the state dress review in Dallas recently.

Final Rites Held Saturday for W. T. Ferrell

William T. Ferrell, 75, retired farmer and resident of the area 37 years, died at his home at 100 Second Street Thursday, October 29, at 5 p.m.

His death followed a long illness.

Mr. Ferrell was born February 5, 1884, in Hardeman County, Tenn., the son of Thomas B. and Nancy Brooks Ferrell. He lived in Navarro County after coming to Texas, and was married there to Miss Bonnie Mae Watkins on March 14, 1915.

That county remained their home until moving here in 1922.

Mr. Ferrell was a member of the Masonic Lodge and had been a member of the Baptist Church since 1924.

Funeral services were held at First Baptist Church Saturday at 2:30 p.m., with the Rev. L. C. Conner officiating. Burial was in West Wellington cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home. Members of the Masonic Lodge were in charge of graveside rites.

Pall bearers were G. B. Hopper, Sandy Parsons Jr., Henry Sullivan, B. F. Evans, R. T. Savage, and Fred Squires.

Surviving Mr. Ferrell are his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Adrain Reneau of Borger; three grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. C. R. Neese of Wellington.

Porter Returns to Leader Staff

J. K. Porter, who began work as an apprentice for The Wellington Leader in 1936, returned Monday, November 2, as an employee in the mechanical department of the newspaper, Deskins Wells, editor and publisher, has announced.

Porter began work while still in high school and remained with the paper until he entered the Army during World War II. He returned to The Wellington Leader, and except for a short time at Spur, was with the paper until seven years ago when he went to The Memphis Democrat as shop foreman.

He is married to the former Georgia Faye Willis and they have two sons, George and Robert Lee. The family was active in the First Baptist Church here and also at Memphis. Recently he has served as Choir director of First Baptist Church there.

Dairy Mart Opens Here

Opening of Jimmie's Dairy Mart Store on Highway 83 is scheduled for this week, under the management of Jimmie Milner.

This new business on Wellington's main highway is located immediately north of Patrick Brothers Station.

The building for the new Dairy Mart is the original Jay's Drive-in, which was moved to the Highway location and completely remodeled. Red brick and white stucco was used on the exterior and a broad red and white awning extends around the first half of the hexagon shaped building.

Dairy Mart is part of the nationally known, but locally owned and operated Dairy Mart Stores.

Milner said that while broil burgers will be the specialty of the place, other foods for informal eating.

"We invite the public to visit us and get acquainted," Milner said this week.

Quails Open Play Friday

Quail Quails and Bobwhits play their first game of the fall schedule Friday, November 6, at Vinson. This is a non-conference time.

Supt. Harman Moseley coaches the boys team, which high school principal W. C. Smith is the grills coach.

JIMMIE'S DAIRY MART

Wellington's newest business, Jimmie's Dairy Mart, is a handsome addition to the south end of Highway 83 through town. It is located immediately north of Patrick Station. Jimmie Milner, who is operating the business, said he will cater to both local customers and tourist traffic. The building has been completely remodeled and the awning added, and all equipment is new.

Rev. Frank Weir

Rev. Frank Weir on Commission

The Rev. S. Frank Weir has been appointed to serve on the Board of Commissioners for the Methodist Home at Waco, Dr. J. Edmund Kirby, district superintendent, has announced.

Rev. Weir, Dr. Kirby, and Rev. Lennel Hester, pastor of First Methodist Church, Childress, left Monday, November 2, to visit the home. Approximately 275 pastors from throughout the state will be there at the same time.

Rev. Hester serves with Rev. Weir as commissioner from the Childress District.

FW&D Officials Visit Tuesday

Three officials of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway visited in Wellington Tuesday, November 3, contacting friends and business acquaintances.

The trio included C. E. Nottingham, general auditor W. L. Durway, treasurer and Roy H. Kimble, general passenger agent.

Mr. Nottingham is retiring at the end of the year and this is his last trip here. When he retires December 31, it will be exactly 50 years since he was hired to go to work for the Fort Worth and Denver. He has been with that road all but seven years, and this was spent in World War I service and a short time with two other railroads.

The three men live in Fort Worth.

NEW USE FOR BURLAP — Burlap is featured in this summertime accessory for beach or town. As roomy as a mailman's sack, the giant carryall has a shoulder strap and binding of leather.

Social Security Goes Up Again on January 1

WASHINGTON — To pay for the present program, Social Security taxes which jumped last January will jump again on Jan. 1 for employees, self-employed persons, and employers, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States points out. But benefits will not increase.

Top tax for employees will rise $24 to $144 a year. Employers will match employee taxes. Top tax for self-employed persons will rise $36 to $216 a year.

To keep the present program on a pay-as-you-go basis, three more identical tax increases are scheduled, in 1963, 1966, and 1969. By 1969 employees will pay $216 if they earn as much as $4,800 a year. Self-employed persons will pay $324 on $4,800 incomes.

The possibility looms that the Social Security tax will leap even higher, the Chamber states. Congress might compel virtually all employees, self-employed persons, and employers to finance hospital and surgical care for 7 out of 10 of the aged.

The Forand bill coming up in the next session of Congress would tax you and your employer to pay for this care, but only for the aged eligible for Social Security. Four million of this nation's aged would get no help at all even though almost every working person would pay the tax.

If Congress should increase cash benefits in later years taxes would have to be increased even more; this would mean even less money for food, clothing, savings and other needs.

Though some aspects of aging are receiving increasing attention, the Chamber notes that:

Many aged persons are still working and can afford to pay their own hospital bills.

There is a large and rapidly growing number of aged persons who carry their own hospital and surgical insurance.

Families and communities provide for the care of other aged persons.

America can be proud that there is no evidence that aged persons do not receive needed hospital and surgical attention because they cannot pay, the Chamber states.

Social Security benefits for these persons, the Chamber points out, would be a major breakthrough into the Welfare State with consequent spiraling taxes.

Attend Family Reunion Recently

Mrs. W. M. Horton and Judge and Mrs. Raymond Horton were in Abilene the week end of October 18 to attend Mrs. Horton's family reunion which was held on Sunday at the Abilene park.

A basket lunch was served at noon to approximately 45 relatives. The afternoon was spent visiting and taking pictures.

Mrs. Horton remained for a two weeks visit with two sisters, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Vaughan and Mrs. A. A. Ellison and daughters in Abilene and a brother, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burrow in Coleman and a sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Preslar and B. R. Burrow at Brownwood.

She attended the wedding of her nephew Herman Burrow and Miss Sherly Roberts at Coleman and they returned her home last Saturday.

Bill Durey of Lubbock visited over the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Durey of Loco.
