War Showdown Imminent; Russia May Walk Out Again

Controls Seem Assured; Form Is Discussed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (AP) — The government's top economic mobilizer urged today that President Truman be given a free hand in putting any wage-price-rationing controls into effect.

W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, made a special trip to the capitol to discuss the matter.

He talked behind closed doors with Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the Senate Banking Committee.

Maybnak told reporters Symington emphasized that any standby plan for imposing wage, price and rationing curbs should let the President decide when or whether they should be used.

WON'T TALK

Symington declined to discuss the matter with newsmen.

On the other side of the Capitol, the House appeared set to give the President powers to control virtually every phase of American life. As demands mounted for aeross the board controls to curb inflation and what is needed in the Korean war, the only question appeared to be the form the presidential powers would take.

Symington talked with Maybank as the Senate Banking Committee resumed discussion of a proposal which would deny the President discretionary authority in putting wage price rationing curbs into effect.

AUTOMATIC DEVICE

The committee began considering yesterday an automatic device for invoking such curbs when the cost of living reaches a certain point. A formula still is being worked out.

Maybank said Symington did not directly oppose the automobile proposal, but concentrated on the idea of giving the President a free hand.

Hail and Rain Damage Crops

Considerable crop damage, particularly to cotton in the Dunn area, has resulted from hail and heavy rains, O. M. Fowler, county agent, said. Fowler visited that vicinity yesterday.

A hail storm hit the H. M. Murphy farm, about three miles east of Dunn, late Tuesday and yesterday. A rain, estimated at around two inches, caused heavy damage to his cotton crop. The hail cut a path about 400 feet through his cotton field, leveling same, he told Fowler.

Other farmers in that area sustained hail damage also.

The northeast section of the county is in need of rain, reports reaching Fowler said.

Generally the crop condition over the entire county is in fairly good shape, with crop dusting nearly completed, and boll worm under control in most sections, he said.

City Fines Total $6,153 For Month

Fines amounting to $6,474 were collected in the office of A. M. McPherson, city judge, during the month of July.

A total of $6,153 was for persons fined for drunkenness, fighting, vagrancy and similar offenses. Fines for parking meter violations amounted to $321.

In June Judge McPherson collected $8,314 in fines, which included $937.50 for parking meters.

U. S. Fighting With World War II Tanks

By C. YATES McDANIEL
(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. — American troops will have to fight the holding phase of the Korean campaign with World War II tanks, some of them improved since 1945.

They may get some really new tanks by the time the embattled Eighth Army can shift from the defensive and start the long way back to the 38th Parallel.

This is the substance of what congressional watchdog committees will hear when the Army is called up to explain how the Korean crisis caught the United States in the transition period between old and genuinely new armor.

NO PURCHASES

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, stated in a speech on Feb. 27 that "except for prototypes we have not purchased a single new tank since the end of the war."

In a report for the last half of 1949, Secretary of the Army Gray said that three light units of the "postwar tank family" were in the final steps of completion prior to an exhaustive series of tests.

In his February speech, Collins said that the Army had the prototype of a new medium tank and "designs" for a heavy tank.

Collins then emphasized that the Army would not build any heavy tanks until it was "sure that we cannot knock out the heaviest of heavies with the improved guns and ammunition of our new ligh and medium tanks."

PLACE ORDER

Since February, the Army is known to have placed an order for a limited production of the new light tank, known as T-41. It is these tanks that could be produced in sufficient numbers to play a part in future phases of the Korean war.

In the meantime, American troops battling in Korea are getting more and better tanks than they started with one month ago. Pictures have been published show-

Position India Takes Today Is Important

Another Attempt To Seat Red China Today Is Seen To Be Doomed

By MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 3. (AP) — Russia faced another diplomatic defeat today on the question of seating Red China in the United Nations and there was speculation this might lead to a new Soviet walkout.

This speculation arose after Russia boycotted a meeting of the UN's big five military staff committee in New York this forenoon.

Some diplomatic circles said this indicated Russia is not yet ready to end her general UN walkout-strike and has only returned to the security council for a propaganda blast at the west.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik returned to the security council Tuesday to assume the council presidency under the monthly rotation system. He was defeated 8 to 3 the same day on an effort to rule that Nationalist China was holding the Chinese Council seat illegally.

Some diplomats had looked for another walkout after this defeat, but Malik stayed on. Now seven of the council's 11 members have declared they will reject his proposed agenda, which would give the Chinese representation question precedence over the Korean problem.

The question is this: Will Malik ignore a decision which would not only put Korea ahead but might sidetrack the China issue indefinitely?

Six countries — Britain, France, Ecuador, Cuba, Norway and Nationalist China — followed the United States' lead yesterday in insisting that the council discuss the Korean question before considering admission of Communist China to the council, and that the two questions be treated separately.

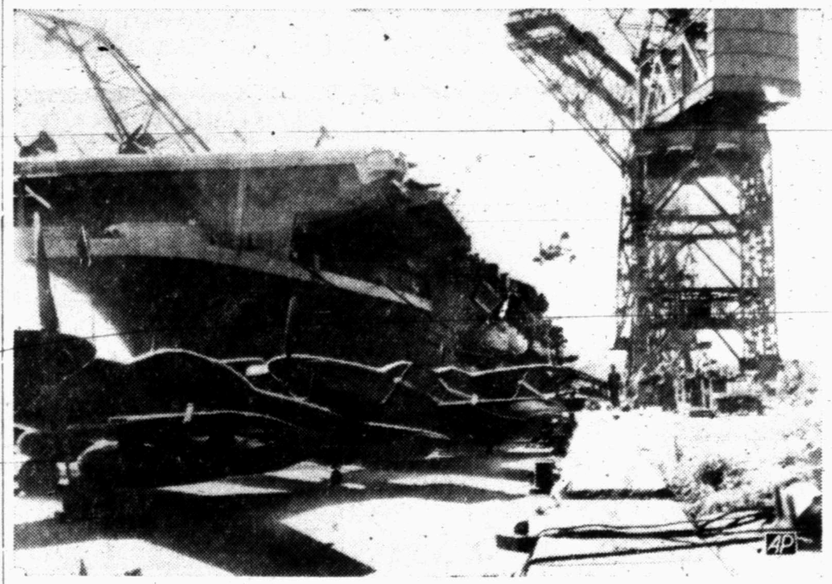

AUSTIN LEADS

American Chief Delegate Warren R. Austin led the fight to reject any "deals" for settlement of the Korean war. He declared the U. S. will never agree that the end of North Korean aggression depends on any other issue.

As the third day of debate began this afternoon on the procedural tangle, council delegates watched with particular interest to see what India would do.

The great Asiatic nation hasn't the power to alter the outcome, but her strategic position in the East gave added significance to whatever stand she takes when her delegate, Sir Benegal N. Rau, speaks today on the agenda proposed by Russian delegate, Jakob A. Malik, the council president for August.

Mustangs to Give Air Support in Korea

Air Force Mustang P-51 planes are unloaded from an Essex type carrier at a Japanese naval base after a record trip from the United States. Badly needed at the Korean front, the planes reached the base from San Francisco in 8 days, 7 hours, described as the fastest non-stop surface crossing of the Pacific in history.

Armies Nearly Equal Now In Strength

Reds Facing Combined Defending Forces Of Ten Divisions

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Friday, Aug. 4. (AP) — Allied troops, for the first time approaching but still inferior to the 10 division strength of the Red invaders, rolled forward for the showdown fight for South Korea today with big Pershing tanks.

Elements of two fresh American divisions—the First Marines and the Army's Second Infantry—joined three other American and five South Korean divisions along the shrinking front.

Frontline predictions were the Marines and Second Infantry troops would be in battle by nightfall.

LONG LINES

The lines stretched from the general south coast area by Chinju northward along the winding banks of the Naktong River. The allied troops had quietly withdrawn from former positions as much as 18 miles over a three-day period.

A daring U. S. 24th Infantry Battalion, on a reconnaissance sweep with five tanks, penetrated 22 miles behind the Communist lines near Chinju Thursday.

It discovered a big enemy buildup for the battle for the plains leading to Pusan, the jammed U. S. port 40 miles east of the front.

The task force then fought its way out of the enemy lines, with some losses, and rescued a regimental command post from destruction by guerrillas. The enemy marauders had filtered eastward in small numbers towards Masan, port city 25 miles west of Pusan.

CAN BREACH LINES

Don Whitehead, Associated Press correspondent at the front, said the American foray proved the enemy lines could be breached by a hard-hitting tank force.

Whitehead said the battalion almost reached burning Chinju, penetrating rear elements of the Reds.

It was the deepest penetration made yet by an American force into the Red lines and surprised the enemy in a roaring road battle.

The task force ran through machinegun fire all the way out but brought back captured enemy documents, maps and Russian-made equipment. The loot was considered important by intelligence, Whitehead reported.

ABANDON TANKS

Four Sherman tanks and four armored cars were abandoned by the Americans as they withdrew to road positions four miles southwest of Chunjam, about 40 miles west of Pusan.

The Americans pulled out after the Reds had got behind them and cut off the tanks. The Red Koreans stopped the first tank and the last one with immobilizing tactics. The tank crews and most of the armored crews escaped.

The Americans then fanned out to

Marshes and Mud Lie In Red's Pathway From Chinju To Pusan

TOKYO, Aug. 3. (AP)—The Communist power drive along Korea's south coast will have to wallow through marshes and rain-splashed lowlands if it is to reach from the Chinju front to Pusan, its main target 40 miles away.

A map shows that. The map does not show, however, how much reinforced strength American and South Korean forces intend to throw at this Red drivion.

Two Red divisions, and maybe added elements of a third, are in the southern thrust, which is labeled by Gen. MacArthur as of "major importance." Much of the tank-led Red force is aimed along the coastline toward Masan. Masan is less than 30 miles west of Pusan, key American port.

LIKE FLAT LANDS

Reds and their armor already have spilled through mountains to verge on a coastal plain leading toward Pusan. Flat lands are generally advantgeous to the attacking Reds. There are, however, boggy low spots which American experts say can slow down Communist tanks.

The going is fairly favorable to tanks along the two highways leading from Chungam to Masan, a main highway junction. Chungam is about eight miles east of Chinju. The Reds have been pushing along both highways. An American counter-attack Wednesday gained high ground in this region in an effort to slow down the Communist push.

Another stretch of high ground fronts Masan. It's in the vicinity of Haman, about nine miles west of Masan. The defenders may try to hold this stretch dominating the two highway approaches to the port town.

BOTTLENECK

Experts call Masan a highway bottleneck. It lies on the west side of a wide bay of the same name. Main highways converge in the town's northern end as one main road, swinging northeastward.

This route runs for 18 miles through flatlands. If the Red tanks get that far they might be confined to the highway by water-filled flanking ground.

If their drive should continue beyond this stretch, the North Korean command will have two choices to get its armor to the edge of Pusan.

CHOICES

One is to follow the main highway southeastward through Kumhae, about 15 miles away. This route leads to a broad delta which marks the sea outlet of the Naktong River. American experts say the delta forms an impassible barrier for tanks once the bridges are cut.

A wide stretch of tidal flatlands borders the delta. With the river outlets, they cover more than six miles.

A secondary road continues northeastward, again through low ground, toward a crossing of the Naktong and the Samnangjin Rivers, about 24 miles northwest of Pusan.

At this point the Reds would meet the same kind of river defense that American commanders expect to use along the remainder of the wide water barrier. The Naktong forms their best natural defense line.

The terrain itself would not halt the Communist's southern sweep. But experts here do not expect it to be much help to tanks which have been so important to Red advances.

New Location On Northeast Of Salt Creek

General Crude Oil Co. and Percy Jones has slated an edge well at the northeast side of the Salt Creek field in Northwest-Central Kent County.

It is their No. 2-1 Percy Jones scheduled for immediate rotary drilling to an estimated depth of 6,600 feet.

Registrations Show Further Increase In Car Transfers Here

The Korean conflict has launched a rocket in Scurry County in record automobile sales during the last two days, which show an increase in the daily sales of 76 per cent over the average daily sales last month.

Total sales in July were 17 per cent above the June total; and if sales for the rest of this month continue as they have since Tuesday, there will have been about 990 transfers in August as compared with 684 last month.

Out of 66 automobiles sold here yesterday and Tuesday, 23 were new cars bought from dealers, 40 were second hand cars, and three had been bought in other states, driven to Texas, and re-sold.

Pauley Would Force Russian Compliance in Korea Treaty

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. — Edwin W. Pauley said today he felt in 1946, and still does, that the United States should go to war with Russia if necessary to make her comply with her agreements in Korea.

Pauley, as a special ambassador for President Truman, visited North Korea in 1946. He said he concluded then that the Russians didn't intend ever to get out of Korea.

Today, Pauley was before the Senate Armed Services Committee at a general hearing on Korea.

'MYSTERY WITNESS'

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) had built up Pauley as a "mystery witness" by declining to announce his identity even to committee members until shortly before the hearing.

After Pauley had finished reading a lengthy statement about what he found in 1946, Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) demanded to know what the point was.

He noted that Pauley said in 1946 that Russia ought to have been forced to comply with her agreements in Korea. "Should the United States have gone to war to make the Soviet comply?" Johnson asked.

"If you couldn't do anything short of that, that was my recommendation then and is now," Pauley said.

NOTHING OFFICIAL

But under further questioning, Pauley said he didn't make any such recommendation in official document.

Pauley repeatedly said he thinks this country should have taken "affirmative action" against Russia.

Tydings asked: "When Russia refused to allow the United Nations Commission to go into North Korea, would you have declared war on Russia?"

Pauley, a California oilman, headed a U. S. reparations mission after the close of World War II. In that capacity, he visited Korea to learn what assets the Japanese had there. His visit was in May, 1946.

When Pauley took the stand, Tydings said that he had been asked by the White House and the Pentagon to arrange for Pauley's testimony.

Tydings' advance air of mystery about the hearing led to all manner of speculation as to what was in prospect. There were even rumors that Gen. Douglas MacArthur was flying here.

LONG STATEMENT

Pauley had a lengthy prepared statement.

"Two days ago Jacob Malik, the Soviet representative who is current president of the Security Council of the United Nations charged this country with aggression in Korea," Pauley began.

"The harsh truth is that the Soviet Union has been a deliberate aggressor."

He added that he would "document this with facts as I go along."

Last week, Pauley called on President Truman. He told White House reporters then that he was in Washington to discuss industrial locations in North Korea with Defense Department officials. The presumption was that the information was for purposes of strategic bombing.

Pauley also said he had advised Mr. Truman in 1946 that the Russians might seek to force communism on all of Korea.

Pauley added:

"Korea may be only the first battleground. Korea itself is but a symptom, bloody and costly as it may be, of a malignancy that could sweep the world, destroying democracy as the hopes of free people everywhere unless it is checked and checked now."

First Three Polio Cases Disclosed Here

Three cases of polio, two of them bulbar type, have been diagnosed in the last 24 hours at the Snyder Hospital Clinic.

They are the first polio cases in Snyder this year.

Today Linda May Kulbreth, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kulbreth, Mac's Trailer Court, was taken in a respirator to the Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, suffering from bulbar type polio. Dr. Mary Booth of the Snyder Hospital described her condition this afternoon as critical.

Yesterday two cases were diagnosed here. The children, two sisters, are Mary Miles Wilson, 8 years old, and Lowanna Jo Housley, 9. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson. Both children were taken to the City-County Hospital in Fort Worth last night.

The illness of Lowanna Jo Housley was diagnosed as bulbar type polio by Dr. Booth, but Mary Wilson was not believed to be suffering from that type. Dr. Booth said the condition of both children was satisfactory when they left for Fort Worth.

The Wilson family lives in the D. & M. Trailer Court, 400 Twenty-Fifth Street. They moved from Snyder to San Angelo about three months ago and had been back in Snyder one week. Wilson is employed by the Carl B. King Drilling Co.

These are the first three cases to be diagnosed in Snyder this year. Records at the new city-county health unit are incomplete, but Dr. Fred Dinkler said he believed there were four or five cases in the county last year.

Tire Prices Will Be Increased Soon

AKRON, O., Aug. 3. (AP) — Tires are going to cost more pretty soon.

General Tire & Rubber Co. yesterday raised the price of passenger and farm tractor tires five per cent and truck tires seven and a half per cent.

Industry sources predicted today other rubber firms will take on simular increases.

Corporation Profits To New High Level

NEW YORK, Aug. 3. (AP) — American corporations are making money faster than ever before, but new war taxes may cut back the 1950 total to well below record size.

A compilation by the Associated Press of earnings of 450 corporations in virtually every field of business shows profits were 43 per cent higher in the second quarter of 1950 than in the same period last year.

The year 1948 stands as the record-breaker for corporate earnings, and 1949 was only slightly below. Thus the second quarter this year is running well ahead of the 1948 record.

Higher corporate taxes for defense needs plus an excess profits tax would cut back 1950 earnings considerably below the 1948 record. Earnings also would be held down by rationing and price fixing.

Hundreds Evacuate Flooding Creek Area In Wichita Falls

(By The Associated Press)

Five hundred families were temporarily homeless in Wichita Falls today, victims of flooding Holliday Creek.

Water was still rising in the southeastern part of the city, largely a Negro section. In the southwestern and southern portions, the crest had been reached.

There were no reports of injuries. No houses had been washed away.

In the southern section flood waters today attained maximum depths of six to eight feet.

RIVER STILL RISING

Most flood refugees were staying with friends and relatives. Only 26 persons stayed at a refuge for white families last night, set up at the Wichita Falls Boys Club. They were fed by the Red Cross.

One hundred and fourteen persons stayed at a refuge for Negro families at Booker T. Washington School. Food was provided by the Red Cross.

Big Wichita River, which runs through town, was still rising and running almost bankfull. It was feared that should it continue rising, water would back up into its tributary, Holliday Creek, making present flood conditions more acute in the southeastern section.

RAIN AND DUST

There has been no rain since Tuesday. Today was the second day of bright sunshine. Yesterday, as the flood gripped some sections of Wichita Falls, dust blew in other parts.

A report from Lake Wichita today said the water is down seven inches. The artificial lake feeds Holliday Creek and water overflowing over the lake's spillway contributed to the flood.

Five-inch rains along its watershed also swelled Holliday Creek.

Meanwhile, Abilene also reported flood conditions. Cedar and Elm Creeks there spilled into some streets after a 3.79-inch rainfall since noon Tuesday.

The Weather

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Friday. No important temperature changes.

EAST TEXAS: Partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Friday. Not much change in temperatures. Gentle to moderate southerly winds on the coast.

Snyder Scenes To Be Carried On Television

Snyder in the national news has almost ceased to be news—but our conspicuous city is about to make its first splash into television.

A representative of the National Broadcasting Company's television deparmtent met Monday with Chamber of Commerce officials and Forest Sears, Mayor, to discuss scenes to be shot here Thursday for transmission over TV networks next week.

NO TALL TALE

Maurice Levy, television camera man from New York, explained that when natives see him on location Thursday, they may get the impression he is stretching Snyder's story a little.

"Because television requires action, some of our shots will have to be faked a little," he said. Others may have to be exaggerated slightly in order to get across to the audience in the other parts of the country the real story of Snyder."

A preliminary itinerary has been worked out for Levy, who has only a day to make his Snyder pictures before returning to two assignments in Dallas and then to New York Monday.

Oil, of course, will figure prominently in the television story of Snyder. If luck is with him, and he can get the co-operation of a driller, Levy believes he can tell the oil story in four or five scenes—the rig roaring by, setting up the rig, a shot or two of rotary drilling, and finally, production.

MANY FACETS

Other scenes which might be photographed for transmission on television include shots of traffic in the square and main arteries; temporary housing; odd signs over the city which carry the flavor of boom-town living; houses being moved into town; conducting business on the streets; a church with an oil well in the background; a scene which will indicate the vast increase in Snyder bank deposits; some school children; new buildings; social life; and a night shot of the oil fields.

Harold Bennett, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, is presently engaged in making arrangements for these pictures to be made. Later a time will be set for the picture of school children, to be made at the school grounds. Both newcomers and old residents are urged to have their children at the school to pose for the television camera.

Junior Chamber Votes To Assist Veterans With Pool Project

Urgnig the Junior Chamber to work for recreation for young people in Snyder, Bennett said that when parents are forced to take their children to other towns for recreation they take their pocket books with them.

Next week's meeting will be ladies night, Ray Perkins, social chairman, announced. Wives of members will join them for dinner and games next Monday night and every first Monday of the month. An effort will be made to get a church nursery for the children on those nights.

The Junior Chamber voted to assist the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion in their attempts to have a swimming pool built for Snyder.

It was decided that a delegation would attend the regional meeting in Odessa August 13 and 14.

Commissioners Will Buy Refrigerator For Health Department

The commissioners court agreed late Tuesday to purchase a 7-foot International Harvester Co. refrigerator for use in the laboratory of the city-county health unit.

The purchase will be made from the Snyder Truck & Taractor Co. in accordance with a bid from Paul Keaton, owner of the company, to sell the box for $155. This was the only bid presented to the court, Edgar Taylor, county judge, said, despite a newspaper announcement calling for bids.

The refrigerator will be used by the unit for storing medicine and other supplies which require refrigeration.

Bull At Big Spring Rodeo

One of the most dangerous animals in the Big Spring Rodeo, which will open tonight and will continue through Saturday night, is said to be Jim, the brahma bull shown here in one of his rodeo performances. Jim is believed to be the fastest bull in the rodeo game today.

Guards Ready But Impatient Of Waiting For Inevitable Call

"It's not whether we're going but when that bothers us," was the way Sgt. John T. Lynch summed up the feeling of Snyder National Guardsmen these days.

Scanning the newspapers and keeping their ears open whenever the radio talks about Korean war, they search for any clue as to when the call will come.

STRAIN EVIDENT

Ever since the United States decided to defend southern Korea, the National Guard has been expecting to get in on the fighting, and the strain of uncertainty is beginning to wear a little.

It shows in attempts to joke about it.

"Yes, I'm in the National Guard," one of the members said. "Know how I can get out?"

Or as Sgt. Bishop P. Moffet put it: "How do I feel about it? I just don't feel any more."

Since reports about two weeks ago that Snyder's Company D, 112th Mechanized Cavalry was one of the units "eligible" to be called, its members have been ready to go on very little notice.

"We're ready all right," said Sgt. James C. Stewart. "In fact, I'm practically an eager beaver. I might as well be, since there doesn't seem to be anything we can do about it."

All the Guardsmen share Stewart's sentiments. If they're needed to stop the Red advance, all Uncle Sam has to do is tell them. That's why they joined the National Guard.

WAR NO NOVELTY

But nobody is really anxious to get into the fight. Most of them know what war is like—they've already been to one.

"I've seen my share of foreign countries," said Lt. Robert J. Boren, who was in the Air Force, "and I'm not too keen on doing any sight-seeing in Korea."

Like all the rest, though, Boren is "ready whenever they say."

News that no Texas units had yet been called was simply another delay in the period of waiting that is beginning to drag out.

Although they don't say it in so many words, most of the men seem to feel that as long as they're going to be called, they had just about as soon go ahead and get it over with.

As Lt. Billy E. Seay said, "It looks like we're going to have to help them out over there, so any time they say we're ready to go."

Quickest job turnover on record happened last week. As is customary, MRS. J. LAWRENCE DEVERS, deputy sheriff for LLOYD MERRITT, resigned her job on the eve of the election and then reapplied for it and was rehired the following morning after it was conceded her boss had won.

Youth Center Council Plans For a Parade

Plans for Y. C. Day, when Snyder youth will take part in a parade and collect donations for the Youth Center, were completed at a business meeting of Youth Center workers last night at the First Christian Church.

All youth clubs in Snyder are asked to have floats in the parade, and young people not connected with any club will be asked to march. Following the parade around the court house, they will visit businessmen, who are asked to have their donations ready after the parade.

A meeting was scheduled for tomorrow night, when letters will be prepared for sending to business firms and posters advertising Y. C. Day will be prepared.

A committee to investigate possibilities of staging a home talent show to benefit the Youth Center was appointed. Working with Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Lambert, young people to serve on the committee are Joe Dave Scott, Jo Ann Gee, Grant Teaff, Hollis Scarborough and Peggy Teague.

A general youth meeting to be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the First Christian Church lawn was planned.

DDT Is Being Dusted Over Entire City

The city is being dusted regularly now with a DDT concentrate, W. J. Ramsey of the water department said Tuesday.

Dusting got under way Monday about 10 o'clock, Ramsey said, and will probably continue for the rest of the summer, in an effort to combat flies and mosquitoes.

A 10 per cent concentrate is used in the residential area and 60 per cent along the creeks and at the dump ground.

The mixtue is sprayed from a dusting machine attached to a jeep.

While the city is attempting to kill mosquitoes, the ciyt-county health unif is working on their breeding places, L. T. Barnard, sanitarian said.

Barnard said he walked the creeks yesterday and discovered that mosquitoes are breeding everywhere that there is any amount of standing water. The department will begin at once covering all creeks and ditches with a solution of kerosene and two per cent DDT, he said.

He suggested that where people have open drains and cess, pools around the house, they pour kerosene down the drain.

Commissioners Hear Request Of Constables

The commissioners court Monday morning considered requests of two of the county's three precinct constable-elects that they be appointed to fill their offices from now until Jan. 1, when they will automatically take office, but no action was taken by the court.

The two asking for temporary appointment were Tom DeShazo, elected for Precinct No. 3, and Oscar Parrish, elected for Precinct No. 4. Parrish was an announced candidate in the Democratic primary, while DeShazo was elected by write-in votes.

The commissioners decided by common consent to check the laws governing the offices and their jurisdictions as well as the boundary lines of the precincts before taking action on the requests.

Ben Thorpe, county attorney, informed the commissioners that the offices of justice of peace and constable were precinct offices similar in jurisdiction to those of the commissioners and that the number of precincts allowed for a county by the state constitution is not less than four nor more than eight. Scurry County has four precincts.

O. O. Dever, elected constable of precinct No. 1, has not asked for temporary appointment. There are no constables holding office at present in the county.

The court also approved the monthly report of the county home demonstration agent, Mrs. Mildred Sparks. Her report listed the number of club meetings and classes held, mileage driven, and assistance given to homemakers.

Coaches Leave Today, Attend Austin School

Speedy Moffett, J. M. Kayser, Jack Blanchard, and Hal Battle were to leave early Sunday for Austin to attend the Texas High School coaches school, to be held through Friday.

Instructors will be Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma University and Biggie Munn of Michigan State in football; Adolph Rupp of Kentucky University and Henry Iba of Oklahoma A. & M. in basketball; Marty Karow of Ohio State in baseball; and Clyde Littlefield of University of Texas in track.

Wilkinson is an outstanding exponent of the T formation and Munn represented single wing back formation school of thought.

An all-star game of picked players from Texas high schools will terminate the conference in Austin Friday night.

New Elementary School Nears Completion North Of Snyder

Work is being rushed for completion by mid-September on the new elementary school building northwest of town and an addition to the old high school building.

The new school building is situated on a 15-acre tract of land west of the Post highway about six blocks out from the Y.

THREE WINGS

The plan of the school actually is that of three buildings, connected by a long corridor. One wing will house primary classrooms and administrative offices, another will be for the elementary classes and the third for cafeteria, kitchen and utility rooms. Plumbing, heating and electrical works are designed for the construction of a future auditorium.

Built of light tan brick, the one-story edifice already appears nearly completed from the outside. Its location is in the center of a wide uncluttered area between the extreme outskirts of town and Deep Creek, in close view of several oil rigs.

The south wing is nearly completed except for inside work. The lower part of the corridor walls is constructed for structural glazed tile and other interior walls will be plastered. Floors throughout the building will be of asphalt tiles, except in the corridors, which will be floored with terrazo.

side for ventilation and above them a strip of glass blocks letting in light. Classrooms are designed with acoustical ceilings and built-in lockers. Only drinking fountains and a trophy case will be placed in the corridors.

A separate building to be used as a well house for the school's independent water supply has also been completed.

Four-Inch Rain Falls North of Fluvanna

While Snyder was getting only a trace of moisture Monday afternoon, showers in other parts of the county brought up to 4 inches of rain.

The 4-inch rain fell two and a half miles north of Fluvanna on H. C. Carmichael's place. Other measurements in the Fluvanna area included 2.9 inches in town on Mrs. Jessie Sims's guage, .2 inch five miles west of Fluvanna at the C. A. Daugherty place, 11 inches three miles southeast of town at R. E. Warren's place, and .2 inch southwest of Fluvanna at Mert Jones's.

Goss-McMullan Betrothal Told

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Goss, 2305 Thirtieth Street, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Jo Alyce Goss, to William R. McMullan. Mr. McMullan is the son of Mrs. Helen Trix McMullan, who lives north of Snyder, and of Verne McMullan, residing at 2311 Avenue M.

The couple will be married Aug. 25 in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. E. K. Shepherd officiating. Announcements have gone out to a large guest list for the church nuptials and a reception following the ceremony in the bride's home.

Miss Goss graduated from Snyder High School in 1948 and is now in her junior year at Texas Technological College, where Mr. McMullan is a senior studying animal husbandry.

The couple will make their home in Lubbock.

Law Enforcement Units Report One of County's Quietest Week Ends

Last week-end was one of the quietest in Snyder and Scurry County in several weeks, with no major crimes and only a few minor ones reported.

At police headquarters, Chester Barrington, chief of police, said not even a family disturbance was reported, which is unusual, but there were a number of persons booked for drunkeness.

Sheriff Lloyd Merritt said nothing out of the ordinary occurred over the week end, with the exception of a trio of persons were slated to be charged today with driving while intoxicated.

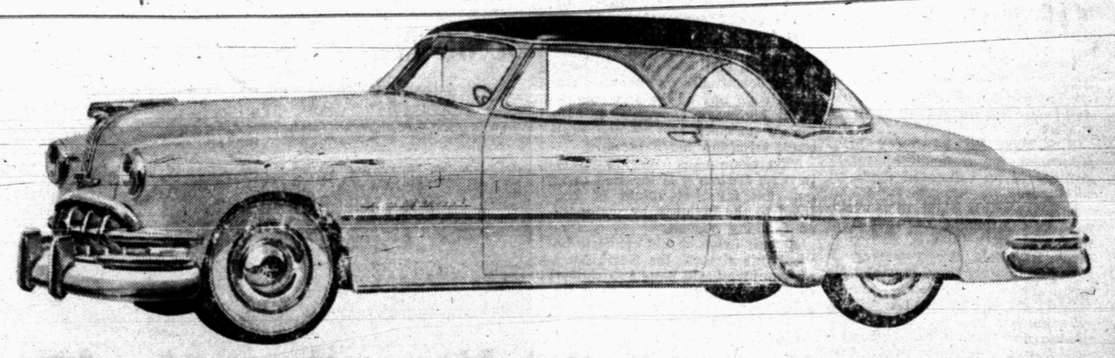

The fire department, at 1:40 o'clock this morning, answered an alarm in the Negro section of the city, but the blaze was out when the firemen arrived. The damage was slight, said Fireman John T. Lynch.

Americans Retreat to New Line

U. S. Fighting

ing Gen. Pershing type tanks moving to the Korean battlefront. The Pershings are a considerable improvement over the older and less maneuverable tanks that accompanied the first U. S. units from Japan to Korea.

BACKBONE

The Pershing, a 47 1-2 ton vehicle mounting a 90-MM rifle, forms the backbone of U. S. Army armored battalions. Two years ago the Army started producing a better Pershing which it christened the Gen. Patton. A few of this latter type are believed to be in Korea or on their way there. The Patton is so built that it can be turned quickly and is generally described as a more useful vehicle on bad ground.

Early in the Korean war, press and unofficial reports said the North Koreans were using 50 and 60 ton Russian-type tanks. The Army has never been able to confirm the appearance of anything bigger or newer than the Russian T-34. This 30-ton tank has speed and because of its wide tracks served the Red Koreans well in the rainy country through which they have advanced. Recent reports from U. S. ground and air units agree that fewer Red Korean tanks are being seen as the campaign progresses.

Improved American anti-tank weapons, the presence of bigger and better U. S. tanks and the continuing aerial pounding by allied airmen are credited with blunting the armored spearhead of the North Korean assault.

the north and south and fought back to the main U. S. defensive position near Wonbung Vilage about 10 miles northeast of Chinju.

Associated Press Correspondent O. H. P. King quoted Maj. Gen. John E. Church, new 24th Division commander, as saying the daring tank foray was fortunately timed. "Our attack stopped theirs from getting under way," Church said.

OWN CHOICE

Leif Erickson, Associated Press correspondent at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters in Korea, said the big withdrawal of allied troops in the west and north put the defenders on a line of their choice, the Naktong River.

The fall back, he said, disengaged hard-pressed American forces while the newly arrived Second Infantry division and elements of the First Marine Division were being deployed. The new arrivals in the battle sectors have the heaviest arms yet to be brought into combat on the allied side.

On the new consolidated front the Americans and South Koreans face the Communists on virtually equal terms in division strength. There were five American divisions and five South Korean divisions facing an estimated nine to 10 North Korean divisions.

Erickson said, however, the United Nations still lacked enough power to embark on any real counter-offensive. He said there would soon be more carrier-based planes to help break up the long supply lines the Communists now must maintain.

Salvation Army Not Conducting Drive Here At This Time

In answer to inquiries made by several here recently, members of the Salvation Army's Snyder board reported today that the organization had no drive or soliciting campaign of any sort under way here at present.

Local drives are not made except on orders from the Salvation Army office in Dallas, which has issued no recent orders for Snyder, according to Bob Davie, Mrs. Mollie Pinkerton, and Chief of Police Barrington, members of the Snyder board.

Sorties From Formosa Continue Second Day

TAIPEI, Formosa, Aug. 3. (AP) — For the second successive day Chinese Nationalist war planes took off today for unannounced destinations.

Presumably they are raiding Chinese Communist concentrations on the mainland which threaten to invade Quemoy. Quemoy is a Nationalist island just off the Communist port of Amoy on the China side of Formosa Strait.

Nationalists resumed their air activity yesterday, shortly after Gen. MacArthur ended conferences with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on the defense of Formosa. The planes had been idle since the start of the Korean war at the request of President Truman.

There was much speculation in this Nationalist capital that Gen. MacArthur will send American planes to Formosa to help guard against the possibility of a Communist invasion. The U. S. Seventh Fleet is partolling Formosa Strait to prevent a Red crossing.

Dispatching a Token Battalion Discussed By French Government

PARIS, Aug. 3. (AP) — French government leaders are debating sending a "token battalion" of troops to fight under the United Nations flag in Korea, a spokesman said today.

French sources said the main obstacle to dispatching Frenchmen to Korea is France's "own dire need of military strength in Asia."

France has been fighting a guerrilla war for five years against Communist-led troops in Indochina, and has some 140,000 troops stationed there.

NEW YORK, Aug 3 (AP) — Stock traders worked in low gear today

In a quiet market, price changes were mostly less than 50 cents a share. Gains outnumbered losses but by none too large a margin. A wide variety of leaders were either ignored entirely or sold at Wednesday's closing prices.

Promise To Take Profit Out Of War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Lucas said today that, although there may be no immediate tax action against profiteering, the American people can be assured "nobody is going to get rich at the expense of the GI."

"We are going to take the profits out of war," the Illinois senator said.

PREPARE BILL

Lucas made his statement as Democratic leaders prepared to ram through Congress a tax-boosting bill, probably near the $5 billion size President Truman proposed, and without an excess profits levy.

An immediate excess profits tax was not recommended by the President, Lucas said, in the interest of speeding the "first installment" tax hike to passage.

He predicted it will come later, with stiff rates on abnormal business profits. And he added "If we get into a real war, we're going to have the most drastic taxes this country has ever seen. This tax bill is just to get ready for the big one."

Meanwhile, the Senate Finance Committee moved swiftly to put the tax bill in shape for quick congressional action.

JUNKS BILL

In its first session behind closed doors, it formally junked the House-approved bill to cut by $1,010,000,000 the excise taxes on such things as furs, jewelry, cosmetics and movie tickets, and approved instead a $55 billion excise increase.

It voted:

A 10 per cent manufacturers excise on television sets, to collect $42 million.

A 10 per cent manufactuer's levy on home freezers, for another $8 million.

A boost in the slot machine tax from $100 to $150 a year for each machine in operation. The slot machine operators would kick $5 million additional into the treasury till.

Temple Climbs To Fourth Position

(By The Associated Press)

The Temple Eagles took over undisputed possession of third place in the Big State League last night with another sweep of a twin bill from Austin.

The Eagles whipped Austin, 5-4, and 7-5. The previous night they also posted a dual win over the Pioneers.

First place Texarkana took a pair from Waco, 3-1 and 9-4. Sherman-Denison edged Greenville, 4-3, and Wichita Falls and Gainesville split, the Owls taking the opener, 6-2, and Wichita Falls the nightcap, 6-5.

The loss dropped Wichita Falls into fourth place.

Bobby Goff went the distance for Temple in the opener, spacing six hits while his mates gathered 11 off Bob Swanson. Bill Briggs received credit for the Eagle victory in the nightcap, but needed aid from Don Spyker in the seventh.

Spanish Cognac Becomes Jerinac

MADRID, (AP) — The next time a drinking man swings up to a bar and asks for Spanish brandy, he is expected to call if "Jerinac." That is the new and official name for the drink.

Complaints from at home and abroad caused Spain's wine and brandy producers to seek a new name for Spanish-made brandy. The French frequently called attention to their claim that real cognac comes only from the Cognac region of France.

Lowly McAllen Beats Corpus Christi 4-0

(By The Associated Press)

The Rio Grande Valley League leading Harlingen Capitals lost a 10-inning 8-7 decision to Laredo last night, but held their game and one-half lead over Corpus Christi as the Aces also lost.

McAllen, resting at the bottom of the stack, slapped down Corpus Christi, 4-0. Brownsville edged Del Rio, 5-4.

Juan Mejido blasted a fly to the outfield to score Pilo Gaspar with Laredo's winning tally.

A balk by losing pitcher James Priest put Gaspar on third in scoring position. Herb Nauert homered for Harlingen, and Don Phipps swatted one for Laredo.

Buddy Escobar slapped two homers to drive in all the McAllen runs. Lupe Lopez, making his first start for McAllen, twirled a five-hitter.

Committee Approves Appointment of Texan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee today approved President Truman's nomination of Robert J. Smith of Dallas to be vice chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

Smith, president of Pioneer Airlines prior to his appointment, served during the war as deputy commander of the African division of the air transport command with the rank of colonel.

Veterans Beautify Memorial Park, Plan A Swimming Pool

In three years, the combined efforts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion have turned a once-barren and useless 30 acres into Snyder's only public park of any importance. And plans are rapidly taking shape which will make of the Memorial Park a real civic center.

The Scurry County Memorial park, originally belonging to the Wolf estate, was purchased by the Scurry County Memorial V.E. W. Post 8231 for $10,500 and later the Kite-Layne American Legion Post 181 bought half interest.

Some of the improvements wrought on the area are: softball field, water wells and pumps, 200 new trees, fencing for the ball park, a recreation park, a club house, and roads leading through the grounds. Six thousand dollars was spent in remodeling the club house; $2,000 in building and maintaining the roads.

SOURCE OF INCOME

Income has originated from several sources. Oil leases, dues, ball games, the selling of houses on the land, the sale of lots, and donations provide the bulk of the money used to pay off the land and equipment.

At present, interest centers around a brand new project for the betterment of the town and park—a swimming pool. The cost is estimated at $60,000 by J. C. Williamson, ex-member of the Board of Directors for the V.F.W. Early this summer an attempt was made to build a pool in the park limits, but the deal fell through.

Williamson, an ardent worker who has spent much time and effort in making the park what it is now, states that the people and civic groups of Snyder are going to have to back this swimming pool venture to the hilt if it is to succeed. Nothing definite has yet been decided on the possibility of getting a pool. Everything hinges on the verdicts handed down by the groups who have been asked to support this worthy cause.

PLANT TREES

Recently about 200 trees have been put out in the park area, of which $50 worth were a gift of Bell's Flower Shop. The trees included about 100 Lombardy poplars and 50 elms, and miscellaneous trees and shrubs.

In addition, Bermuda grass has been planted in the picnic area, and barbecue pits have been built. The picnic area is open to the public at all times.

All business transactions concerning the park must pass through the joint Legion-V.F.W. board of directors, which includes Commander Hilton Lambert, George Killam, and Marvin Hanback from the Legion, and Commander Kenneth Pitner, Don Adams, and Bushy Hedges from the V.F.W.

Committee in charge of the recently completed picnic grounds was headed by Williamson and included Chet Horsely, Shelton Holmes, and Jesse King.

During the dark period when it looked as if payments for the park wouldn't be met, the members and townspeople would just put their noses to the grindstone and make a few sacrifices to keep them ahead.

Public subscription to build the softball field was introduced, but it all has been paid off now.

Definitely the Scurry County Memorial Park has been an important civic improvement. As one veteran of foreign wars put it, "It has taken a heck of a lot of time money, and effort, but it has paid off in huge dividends by making our home town a better place to reside and a better place for our children to grow up."

NewPolicy On Terraces For Conservation

The terrace line layout policy of the Soil Conservation District has been changed.

Regulations now require that adequate outlet channels where needed be provided and established to vegetative cover before lines for terraces will be run.

Nolan von Roeder, secretary of the board of supervisors of the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District, explains that a field with a terrace system in need of a channel is a greater hinderance to soil and water conservation than the same field would be without a terrace system. He points out that the cost of constructing a channel is small when compared with the expense suffered through the loss of soil, water, and time derived from the failure and repair of a terrace system.

Von Roeder reminds co-operators with the district that the size and shape of a channel are important and suggests that they obtain the services of the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service before beginning construction of their channel.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

Even Wiser than He Seems

PLAINLY, here travels a man wise in the ways of fine motorcars.

You know that, by the four Ventiports and the rich sweep of chrome which mark his car as a ROADMASTER.

You know it, should you trail him on the highway, by the smooth lift of the big Fireball power plant at his toe's command, by the obvious levelness of the ride he enjoys, the swift ease with which Dynaflow Drive solves his traffic problems.

What is not so plain from what you see is that here also is a man very wise in what today's dollar should buy!

For this man has all that a fine-car owner can ask for—brilliant performance, a ride without equal for gentle softness, finger-easy handling, abundant room all around him, styling that is easily the most distinguished on the highway.

Yet he paid considerably less than comparable merit costs elsewhere.

He found fewer extra charges in his delivered price, with such things as Dynaflow Drive, foam rubber cushions, windshield washers, electric clock, even non-glare rear-view mirror included in the price.

If you know fine cars, it won't take fifteen minutes behind a ROADMASTER wheel to see that here is one of the finest.

If you have inquired about prices, a single glance at the delivered figures establishes this as the big buy of the field.

Why not make both checks—especially since your Buick dealer will be glad to arrange a trial run in a ROADMASTER any time you care to call on him?

Only BUICK has Dynaflow DRIVE and with it goes:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

Colorado City Man Dies When Struck by Car

Funeral services for James Washington Kirkpatrick, 39, Colorado City, who was killed in a traffic accident near Dunn about 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night were held at 6 o'clock Wednesday night in Colorado City.

The Rev. R. C. Bell of Abilene conducted the services, assisted by R. Y. Bradford and Eddie Johnson, both of Coolorado City. Interment was in the Colorado City cemetery under the direction of the Kiker and Sons funeral home.

Kirkpatrick, a carpenter, was hit near Dunn Tuesday night by a car driven by Willard Stephens, 21, of Christoval, according to Lloyd Merritt, sheriff, who investigated the accident. Kirkpatrick, according to the sheriff, died en route to the Root Memorial Hospital following the accident.

Merritt said Kirkpatrick had arrived in Snyder by bus earlier last night and had hired a taxicab to drive him to Colorado City. When near Dunn, Kirkpatrick is said to have tried to leap from the cab, and the cab driver, Milton Horry of Snyder, stopped the vehicle and let Kirkpatrick out.

Horry told Sheriff Merritt that the man apparently had been drinking and stumbled away from the cab. About this time, the car driven by Stephens, accompanied by Joe Lane of Snyder, enroute to Christoval, struck Kirkpatrick.

Several witnesses to the accident told Merritt that Kirkpatrick walked into the path of the Stephens' car. Among he wittnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mahon, and Lane.

The body of Kirkpatrick was taken to a funeral home in Colorado City.

State Highway Patrolmen Ed Koehne and Merle Wilson also investigated the crash.

This is the second county traffic fatality in 1950. On May 29, Clarence E. Anderson, 39, of Avinal, Calif., was killed about noon in the four-car crash 10 miles east of Snyder near Roby. Several others were critically injured.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. J. W. Kirkpatrick, Sr., of Colorado City; three sisters, Miss Elizabeth Kirkpatrick, of Colorado City, Mrs. J. E. Bohannon of Denver City, and Mrs. Gladys Walker of Lubbock.

Deposit Rate on Funds Of School System Is Changed at Board Meet

The Snyder School Board voted unanimously Tuesday night to change the rate of deposit for the school system's interest and sinking fund from 35 to 25 per cent of their tax collections.

The accumulating rate of the fund—which can only be used for retirement of bonds—was raised from 20 to 35 per cent when the new primary building southeast of the high school was started last year because the county's tax valuation at that time was much lower than the present valuation.

The board also voted to seek bids for installation of a public address system for the primary building and for building a new roof on the high school gymnasium.

Theft of Valuable Articles from Hotel Here Is Reported

The sheriff's department is looking for a 29-year-old man in connection with the theft of a camera, binoculars and expensive clothing stolen from Jerry McDermott and Hank Hamlin from their room at the Robert E. Lee Hotel.

The theft was reported to the sheriff's office late Monday night, and deputies, who had been given a description of the suspect, searched Snyder and as far as Colorado City, but without results.

The camera and binoculars were valued at $100 each; $45 in cash was taken, and some expensive clothing, the men told the officers.

A man, fitting a description of the suspect, was seen leaving Snyder in a gray Buick.

McDermott, of Boston, Mass., is swimming instructor at the Country Club this summer.

Postal Receipts Down For Month of July

Postal receipt at the Snyder post office showed a decline in July over June, H. D. Moreland, acting postmaster, said today.

July receipts totaled only $5,126.78 as compared to $8,288.33 in June. But receipts last month still were almost double those for July of 1949, which were only $3,147.62.

The drop in July is attributed to many persons being on vacation, said Moreland.

Snyder Oil Operator Buys Donley Acreage

Mrs. Edith W. McKanna and associates have bought a 12,500 acre block in North-Central Donley County, Texas. It is wildcat acreage. No producing wells have been brought in as yet in Donley County. Two failures have been drilled, one in the southwest part of the county and the other in the southeast part.

Tries Peach Marlow Recipe

If the peaches aren't quite right, this housewife has easy access to the producer to register her complaints. She is Mrs. Nolan von Roeder, whose husband has 100 acres of producing orchards southwest of Snyder. Mrs. Von Roeder is shown above preparing to try a brand new peach recipe just sent to the local County Home Demonstration offices by Texas A. and M. College. Here is the recipe.

PEACH MARLOW: Blend together two tablespoons milk with 32 marshmallows in sauce pan over low flame stirring until marshmallows are melted. Remove from flame and stir until cool. Fold in three cups of fresh diced peaches, one-quarter teaspoon flavoring (almond suggested), one-half pint of whipped cream. Pour into a dessert tray and freeze firm. Serves 10. Open House Friday At Roe's New Appliance Headquarters

Myron H. Roe is holding a formal opening Friday and Saturday at his new $35,000 automobile supply store at 2207 Avenue S, less than a block from his location of almost 10 years.

The doors of the 4,000-square foot building will open at 8 o'clock Friday morning and again Saturday and remain open each day as long as visitors call, Roe said, with punch and cookies being served to all and a $60 set of silverware being given away each day.

GLASS FRONT

An all-glass front extends for the full 50-foot width of the new building with the display windows obliquely offset from the wide concrete sidewalk which separates the buff brick front wall from the all-weather parking area.

Immediately above the glass section and also extending the full width of the building is a neon-trimmed modern aluminum canopy under which are six globe lights flooding the sidewalk. Above the canopy is a large script sign reading Roe's, and indirectly lighted with neon tubing behind the letters.

The new opening of Roe's Home & Auto Supply will feature a completely installed kitchen arrangement to be demonstrated with an automatic washing machine, garbage disposal, refrigerator, freeze locker, ironer, and cooking range.

In addition to all types of home appliances, Roe's will continue to carry a complete line of automobile tires, toys, bicycles, garden tools and supplies, and automobile accessories, as well as both refrigeration and evaporative type air conditioners, Roe said. Stock in the store is valued at $35,000.

Roe's was formerly located at 2110 Avenue S, across the highway and a half block north of the present location, where the firm first opened for business Jan. 1, 1941. Roe came to Snyder then from Clovis, N. M., where he had several years experience with a tire and appliance business.

BUILDS FOR FUTURE

"We have built this new building to serve the people for years to come," Roe said. In the past two years about 15 or 20 business establishments in Snyder have changed management, but Roe said he intended to remain in business as before the boom.

In addition to the new 80-foot long building, two warehouses will be in use in the service area behind the store. These, he said, are 20 by 30 feet each and will provide ample storage space, considering that the main building is twice the size of the former store and also has a large storage room.

The building is air conditioned for both summer and winter comfort and is equipped with all-tile restrooms and a water drinking fountain.

The store is furnished with fluorescent light fixtures. The inside walls are finished in seafoam green and the asphalt tile floors are light green and tan.

Fire Alarm Interrupts Annual Chicken Fry Social of Volunteers

The annual chicken fry of the Snyder Volunteer Firemen's Association was interrupted about 9:30 o'clock Thursday night when an alarm came in from the Lockhart Cleaners and Hatters, 610 East Highway.

Chicken was forgotten for a while as the firemen climbed aboard fire trucks and raced to the scene. They made record time because they were already assembled at the fire house, Jay Ramsey, president of the association, said.

Only about $50 damage was estimated by L. C. Lockhart, owner of the establishment, who said he believed the origin of the fire was a short circuit in the wiring of the hat blocking machine.

At the meeting following the chicken fry, John T. Lynch was named a paid fireman to replace D. H. Burney, resigned. Lynch will serve with G. L. Autry on the paid staff.

Kenneth Woods and Billy Joe Sheid were elected members of the association, according to Ramsey. About 100 persons attended the annual social event.

Check Flow Of New City Well

A re-check on the flow of the new city water well, located on Avenue Z, between 23rd and 24th streets, was made Friday by O. L. Williams of Big Spring, expert well tester, according to Jay Ramsey, city water superintendent.

The main purpose of the test, Ramsey said, is to determine the size of pump needed to service the well.

This is one of 23 city water wells. Drilling operations started about three weeks ago and it was completed Friday. The well was drilled to a depth of 220 feet, and the initial flow was about 450 gallons per minute.

An eight-inch pipe was sunk in this well.

Following determination of pump size, the well will be tied into the city main.

Registration Reflects Car Sales Jump

Panic buying—or there may be a prettier name for it — which has stripped shelves of certain commodities and has emptied car showrooms, has been at work in Scurry County as well as in other parts of the nation.

Automobile sales in the county during July showed an increase of almost 17 per cent over the previous month and also over the record of May.

In each of these pre-panic months 586 automobiles—both new and used—were sold, while in July there were 684 car sales made, according to the records of the tax assessor-collector's office.

The July figure showed an increase of almost 15 per cent over of the year, which is 596. The high the monthly average since the first this year, however, was not in July but in February when license plates went on sale. The February sales were 729.

Holly Shuler, tax assessor-collector, said it was the usual thing for car owners to do more trading between the time automobile registration began and the deadline for buying tags. This period began this year on Feb. 15 and ended March 31.

The number of sales for March was 562, and for April the sales were 523, both months showing a sharp decline after the registration period. There was likewise a sharp increase when the registration season began, the January sales having reached only 579.

Lions Hear Report Of Delegates to Club's Chicago Convention

B. C. Drinkard Wednesday told fellow Lions at the club luncheon of his trip to the annual Lions International Convention in Chicago two weeks ago.

Drinkard described the trip chronologically from the time he and Mrs. Drinkard, and Mr. and Mrs. Haskell O. Beard left by automobile until they returned a few days ago. Dr. John Blum was also mentioned in the talk as a conventioner who went by airplane and drove a new automobile back from Detroit.

The events described included seeing the Will Rogers Shrine in Claremore, Okla., on the trip to the "Windy City," visiting many famous buildings in downtown Chicago, seeing the beach at Lake Michigan, witnessing the presentation of many gifts of appreciation to Lions for distinguished service at the convention, and watching the 3-hour parade of Lions down Michigan Avenue.

"No one could plan a more enjoyable two weeks vacation than we had if you like to go places and see things," Drinkard said.

Bells' Flower Drills Its Own Water Well

For 27 years Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bell, Sr., have made a business out of what most people make their hobby. For that reason flowers have been doubly fun for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell opened their first flower shop in their home which is next door to the present Bell Flower Shop at 804 Twenty-fifth Street. That was in 1923, and their business has grown with the town.

The shop now has a complete line of cut flowers, potted plants, evergreens, shrubs and small trees. To this they have added copper and brass fixtures, pottery and lamps. They also have gold fish for sale.

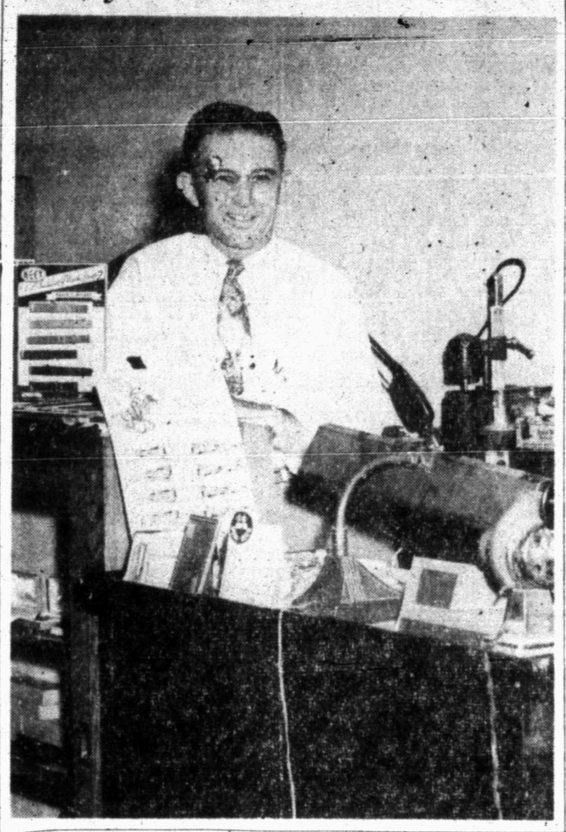

The shop is operated now by their son, W. R. Bell, Jr., although the elder Bells are still active in the management.

Supervising the growing of the nursery and potted plants is Joe Kelly, a June graduate in horticulture at A.&M. College. His biggest headache recently has been the water shortage. The shop put in a well about the same time as the shortage was relieved.

Some of the flowers in the shop of these are expressed and packed have to be shipped here from California, Colorado, and Florida. Most in ice.

Mrs. Bell rightly considers herself a pioneer of Snyder. She came here when she was one year old. She says the reason she has never had the usual childhood diseases is that when she was a child there were so few people here that she never got close enough to any one to catch them.

Trouble Calls Get Attention From Howell's

A man here in Snyder who looks for trouble and likes it is C. W. Howell, properietor of Howell Electric.

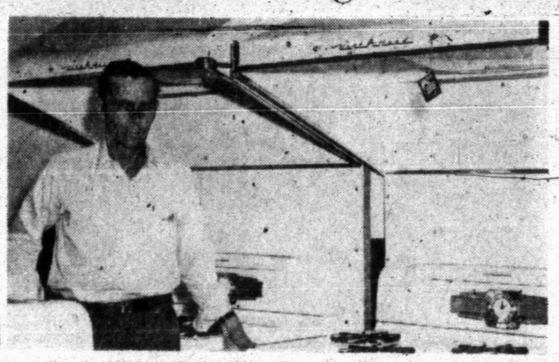

He came here in March of 1949 from Abilene and opened his shop in June of that year. He is married to the former Helen Joy Taylor of Snyder.

Howell's main business is electrical contracting, but he takes pride in the service he gives on all "trouble calls." To aid him in this type of work he is equipped with a panel truck which carries a complete stock of electrical supplies. He says that this saves him much time and many trips back to his shop. People often call for one thing when they mean another, or sometimes don't know what is wrong with their wiring, he stated. With his truck he is prepared for any situation.

The wiring part of his business covers the field. He is ready to do any type of industrial or residential wiring.

To round out his business, Howell has a stock of electrical appliances to cover the needs of the jobs he is working on, as well as the needs of those who are just looking for a good line of appliances.

Ammunition, Guns in Stock At Stephen's

Snyder newcomers, though not new to West Texas, are the George Stephens. Coming here from Sweetwater, they opened the Stephens Hardware Co. in April.

Contrary to the prevailing feeling concerning shortages and the war, Stephens has not received any discouraging word from his suppliers. He does, however, anticipate some shortages in various lines of stock. Even now percolators and waffle irons are hard to find, he says. Guns, he predicts, will be scarce soon, although he has a good stock on hand now.

In addition to these items the Stephens Hardware Co. carries a full line of hardware and household appliances. A recent shipment of Ballerian dinner ware was recently received, which Stephens is particular pleased with.

The store has layaway plans for electrical appliances, guns and radios.

In refrigerators and deep freezers he features the Coolerator line.

With the situation as it is, Stephens advises dove hunters to prepare now for the coming season. He has all types of ammunition at last year's prices.

P. E. Hayes is being promoted and transferred from district gauger in the southern division at Alvin, Tex., to division gauger in the West Texas division with headquarters at Snyder.

A promotion in the northern division, with headquarters at Longview, Tex., made E. W. Kearns, mechanical engineer, district mech-

Texas General in Korea Says Allies Will Break Through

By DON WHITEHEAD

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA, (AP) — A chunky, hard-jawed Texan who led Gen. George Patton's famous "ghost corps" on its rampage through Europe, promises his army will drive the North Korean Reds back into their northern haunts.

The promise came from Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker of Belton, Tex., at the headquarters of his 8th U. S. Army in Korea.

"We'll have our Saint Lo," he said. "We'll build up our strength and then the day is coming when we will break through and drive them north as we drove the Germans back after the Saint Lo break-through in France."

GOAL IS SET

Walker made the statement as a calm and unvarnished declaration of purpose—a goal which he has set for his army in the months to come.

I asked him: "Can you build up this army into the same fighting unit which Patton had in the Third Army? Can you give it the same fighting spirit?"

The general opened a drawer in his desk and pulled out a sheaf of papers. He leafed through them until he found the one he wanted. Then he said:

"Here is the first order which General Patton read to his troops in March 1944 when he took over the command of the Third Army."

The general began to read slowly:

"Each, in his appropriate sphere, will lead in person. Any commander who fails to obtain his objective and is not dead or severely wounded, has not done his full duty."

Walker placed the paper on his desk and leaned back on his chair. "That's the kind of spirit we must have— and the kind we'll get."

And I had the feeling this man would do it, with the same drive and boundless energy which he used to push his 20th Corps on its magnificent drive in 1944-45.

Walker is a solid, hard-muscled man. He is 60 years old—and looks 10 years younger. He comes from fighting Texas stock. Both his grandfathers were Confederate Army officers.

Walker went to the Wedtmeyer Military Academy in Belton as a youth. Then he spent a year at Virginia Military Institute before entering the military academy at West Point. He was graduated in 1912.

CUTTING HIS WEIGHT

He stands five feet, six and one half. Right now he weighs 160 pounds, 10 more than his fighting weight in Europe.

"But I'll get down to 150," he grinned.

Walker commanded the Third Army's 20th Corps from the Saint Lo break-through until the German army collapsed.

Jack and Jack Has All Kinds Of Listings

The selling and buying of real estate in Snyder is a big and confusing business. Calls for almost every conceivable type of property are brought daily into the offices of real estate men here. Jack and Jack Realty Co. handles this type of work for old and new residents with east and efficiency.

The owners L. A. McLanahan, came here a little over a year ago from San Angelo. Before moving to Snyder he was in the heavy equipment contracting business. Once settled here he built houses until May, when he bought Jack and Jack Realty Co. from Jack Smith and Jack LaRue.

Assisting McLanahan are H. E. Lindsey and Mrs. Myrtle Lindsey, who came here several months ago from Granger.

McLanahan now has listings of homes in every price range. A house was even sold to a Daily News employee as a result of the interview with Mr. McLanahan for this article. He also has some business property listings at this time.

Rescue Groups Into Sahara For Lost Plane

ALGIERS, Algeria, Aug. 3. (AP)—Land and air rescue groups headed today into the Sahara towards the wreckage of a Bristol transport plane which crashed in the desert with 30 persons aboard. The plane had been missing since Saturday.

A military aircraft which sighted the wreckage of the plane last night near Bidon, some 75 miles from Aoulef, said no sign of life was visible in the vicinity.

Five children and 10 women were among the 26 passengers aboard the wrecked plane, a list released by the air transport company, the operating line disclosed. The list indicated that all the passengers were of French or North African origin.

Sheets and Pepper Disappear From Stores in Panic Buying

There are no sheets for sale in Snyder.

The first real buying panic here since the Korean crisis started has been going on in local department stores for the past week until there are literally no sheets left.

Woody Wilson, manager of Dunlap's Department Store, said the situation was entirely the fault of the buying public. Typical of those who bought the sheets, he said, was the woman who normally would buy four sheets in two years. Many such women were buying a dozen or more at a time last week until he put a limit on them, he said.

Sheets are going to be hard for the retailers to replace, but if it had not been for this unreasonable buying, they would have lasted a long time, Wilson said.

Sheets have been the hardest hit of any war-scarce items, although grocery stores report unusually heavy demands for sugar and black pepper.

There just won't be any more black pepper. Prices have gone up and up but that hasn't stopped the big sales. At one grocery store a customer bought two dozen cans of black pepper.

Nylon hose, scarce in some localities, are still plentiful in Snyder, but when the current supply is gone there won't be any more until further notice. Manufacturers have withdrawn all lines of nylon garments, as they will not get any more nylon until the crisis is over.

Wilson, who has been in touch with Dunlap's stores all over West Texas, says Snyder has consistently been the last to succumb to scare buying.

Most people don't realize that they are contributing to high prices and shortages when they go on a buying spree. Nobody feels that he is guilty of hoarding.

They tell, for instance, the story in one store of the lady who came in and bought herself a dozen sheets.

"I don't really need them," she said, "but I want to get me a good supply before those old hoarders start buying them."

Big Spring Road To Be Opened Soon

The Snyder-Big Spring highway, originally scheduled for completion Tuesday, will probably be completed and opened to through traffic by or before the middle of August, according to Ben R. Wilkinson, of Colorado City, resident engineer for the state highway department.

Progress on the road construction has been retarded considerably by the rainy weather, Wilkinson said; but if fair weather prevails for the next two or three weeks, all work will be completed.

The road, State Highway No. 350, is finished from downtown Snyder south beyond the city limits, and all of the road in Mitchell and Howard County is finished, Wilkinson said. The highway is 22 feet wide, of heavy duty blacktop construction, and will be 34½ miles long.

The missing boy is Billy Mack McReynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. McReynolds of San Angelo. J. P. Cruse said the boy was never seen after the boat overturned.

New Front In Propaganda War On Russia Expected To Open

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. — State Department officials expect the executive board of UNESCO to hold an emergency session in Paris soon and express strong support for the United Nations military campaign against Communist aggression in Korea.

The practical effect of the expected Paris action, authorities here said, will be to open a new front in the propaganda struggle with Russia. This has been waged with increasing intensity since the first days of the Korean crisis.

CONTRARY STANDS

Russia's propaganda line is exactly contrary to the position taken by the United Nations Security Council. The council has held that the Korean Communists launched an unprovoked attack on South Korea. Russia contends that South Korea, at American instigation, started the fighting.

While American officials say that no well-informed persons—including the men in the Kremlin—can have any doubt as to the correct version of what happened, the problem from a propaganda viewpoint is to get the true facts across to as many millions of people as possible who are not well informed.

In tackling this problem they expect UNESCO to play a major role, since it is composed of educators and other leaders of thought in 59 member countries.

Secretary of State Acheson put this expectation on the record at a news conference with the statement that "the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural organization has the important task of increasing public understanding of United Nations action in the Korean crisis."

ANNOUNCED JULY 26

The emergency meeting of UNESCO's executive board was called for by the executive committee of the U. S. National Commission for UNESCO, an organization of 100 American leaders, at a meeting here July 22. The action was announced July 26 and the call was forwarded to Paris by Luther H. Evans, librarian of Congress and vice chairman of UNESCO's executive board.

The board is composed of representatives of 18 nations elected by the UNESCO "general conference," of all 59 members.

The American group in calling for the emergency session said that the board should adopt "a strong statement of support" for UN action in Korea and should direct a special session of the general conference to adopt a similar statement.

Service Men Will Be Protected On Financial Basis

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (AP) — Reserves and National Guardsmen called to active duty will be protected legally if they are unable to make their service pay cover their financial obligations.

An Army representative gave this example of the type of protection provided by the World War II Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act:

Suppose a guardsman agreed to pay $100 a month on a home purchase before being called up. If he is unable to continue payments, he may obtain legal assistance from the Army if necessary.

Should the matter be taken to court, the judge could be expected to order that payments be held to a "reasonable" amount during the man's federal service.

The same type of relief covers installment payments and life insurance premiums, the Army spokesman said.

It is available equally to reservists, National Guardsmen and draftees called into federal services.

County Court Dicision Upholds Early Verdict

The civil county court yesterday upheld an earlier decision of justice courf in the appealed damage suit of Thomas J. Wallace vs. J. C. Knott, rendering a judgemnt ordering the plaintiff to recover the full amount of $51.12 asked from the defendant.

Wallace, former desk clerk for the Central Hotel, sued Knott, the hotel owner, for $51.12 alleged back wages. The controversy about the debt was whether all rental collections had been turned in by the clerk. Edgar Taylor, county judge presided and rendered the decision.

A similar decision was made by W. C. Davidson, justice of peace, in justice court June 26, but the case was appealed July 8.

Theft Charge Filed Against BrownwoodMan

A charge of felony theft was filed yesterday against Dave Albert Taylor, 47, of Brownwood, in justice of peace court for consideration of the grand jury.

The charge accuses Taylor of stealing a washing machine, valued at $200, and a gas cooking range, valued at $225, from the home of Lewis Adams on Twenty-eighth Street in east Snyder July 29.

Youths Held In Connection With Robbery

Three youths were trapped in the act of burglarizing the warehouse of the Texas Electric Co. on Avenue M last night by the Snyder police, according to Chester Barrington, chief of police.

The trio had placed about $1,750 worth of copper wire into a trailer parked near a window of the building, when Willie Keel and L. H. Hardy, company employees, called the police. The youths were apprehended a short distance from the scene in a 1942 Mercury car.

About 8:30 o'clock, Keel noticed a strange trailer parked in the vicinity of the warehouse and told the police about it; he also noticed a car with three men in it passed by. He obtained the license number of the car and relayed the data to the police dispatcher.

Keel and Hardy left the ware house for a repair job at Dunn but returned about 11:30 and noticed the trailer parked near a broken window. They called police again, the trio was cuaght.

A large insulator was used to break the glass in the window, and unlatch it, one of the youths told the police.

The boys, two of whom gave their ages 18 and the other 17, arrived in the city early last evening and planned the robbery while attending a picture show. They said they had planned to sell the copper wire in Fort Worth today.

One boy gave his home as Abilene, another Athens, Tex., and the other Sweetwater.

Police are holding the car in which the youths were seized.

Officers who participated in the capture were Dave Cook, Al Shelton, C. C. Dawson, Clyde Thomas and Jack Stephens.

The trio are being held in the city jail for further investigation Barrington said.

Truman-Supported Senatorial Candidate Has Little Chance

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3. (AP) — Emery W. Allison, who received President Truman's backing, held only a faint hope today that he still might edge out Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., for the Missouri Democratic senatorial nomination.

Hennings' nomination was virtually certain.

With only 36 precincts not tabulated, Hennings, a former U. S. representative, led by 4,372 votes in the unofficial count of Tuesday's primary election.

Allison, a state senator, congratulated Hennings but said there still was a "possibility the absentee ballots might prove him the winner."

Hennings claimed victory.

LandonBacked Man Loses In Kansas Voting

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 3. (AP) — An overwhelming victory for two top figures in the state Republican organization and a setback for Alf M. Landon marked the Kansas primary election.

Gov. Frank Carlson won the Republican senatorial nomination and Edward F. Arn, former state attorney general, received the GOP nomination for governor.

Carlson and U. S. Sen. Harry Darby, dominate party organization leaders, backed Arn. Landon, the 1936 Republican presidential nominee, bid for a return to party control by supporting editor-rancher Willard Mayberry.

Mayberry trailed by more than 47,000 votes with less than 100 of the state's 2,793 precincts still out.

The Tuesday election also heralded new leadership for the state Democratic organization. Paul Aiken, former assistant postmaster general, won the Democratic senatorial nomination in a surprise victory over Carl V. Rice, national committeeman.

Aiken claimed Rice kept Kansas Democrats weak to maintain control of the state party organization.

Carlson defeated Harry W. Colmery, former national commander of the American Legion. Sen. Darby, who is filling a vacancy by appointment, did not seek the nomination.

In the Democratic gubernatorial race, State Rep. Kenneth T. Anderson defeated State Sen. John A. Potucek.

Enemy Lines Are Breached By Tank-Led, Hard-Hitting Force

By DON WHITEHEAD
(Associated Press Staff)

AN ADVANCED U. S. COMMAND POST, Korea, Aug. 3.—This is the amazing story of a U. S. battalion that fought its way 22 miles behind the enemy lines, battled again and saved a regimental command post from destruction in a savage struggle this morning.

There hasn't been anything quite like this daring adventure in all the Korean war. The officers called it "a reconnaissance in force" and it proved for the high command:

1.—That the enemy line can be breached by a hard-hitting tank-led force.

2.—That the enemy is building up strong forces around Chinju for the drive eastward toward Masan and the vital port city of Pusan.

DROP LEAFLETS

The enemy dropped leaflets behind the American lines near Masan this morning urging natives to stay in their houses. The leaflets said the Red forces were preparing to attack in great force and drive the Americans out. "We will liberate you," the Reds said.

The battalion's thrust into the enemy lines left no doubt the Reds have a strong force in the southernmost drive headed toward Masan.

This battalion made a 36-hour forced march south to reach the jumping off place for the dash toward Chinju. The boys had a few hours' rest and then at 6 o'clock yesterday morning they began their push.

Troops of the U. S. 24th Division held their line firmly east of Chinju today after sending the tank-led battalion deep into enemy territory.

FIVE SHERMANS

The battalion had five Sherman tanks, a battery of artillery, a platoon of heavy mortars and well armed infantry.

The spearhead infantry unit was a company under the command of Lt. John L. Buckley, Augusta, Ga.

The tank force was under enemy machinegun and sniper fire all the way. The Americans were riding the tanks and jeeps and trucks, spraying the enemy with fire as they drove ahead.

As the Americans passed, the enemy closed in behind them on the road leading to Chinju. But the task force blazed its way deeper and deeper into enemy country.

Then the group reached the mountain passes just east of Chinju and smacked into enemy forces believed to be the main Red reserve building up for a major offensive.

"They let us get into a mountain pass," a lieutenant colonel said, "and then they closed in and let us have it."

FIRE POURS DOWN

Fire poured down on the Americans from the hills. And the Americans left the column and went into the hills after the Reds.

The leading tanks rounded a bend in the road and ran headon into three Russian-made 70 MM antitank guns.

The guns knocked holes in the armor of the two Sherman tanks and either killed or wounded all of the gun crews.

Capt. Don R. Hickman, Salt Lake City, Utah, said the guns were new weapons mounted on rubber-tired wheels. The guns were knocked out by American infantrymen who closed in on the gun crews.

It was 4 o'clock in the afternoon now and the enemy was rushing in reserves to meet this unexpected threat. Air observers said the Communists were frantically pulling back trucks and vehicles to get them out of the way of the task force's fire power.

It was the deepest penetration American troops have made in the war.
