U.S., Canada Plan Defenses

Military Data Exchange Will Aid Countries

Top Priority For War Production Thought Likely

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Defense Secretary James Forrestal disclosed today that the United States and Canada have agreed informally to exchange military information on a "broad general basis."

Forrestal recently returned from Ottawa where he conferred with Brooke Claxton, Canada's minister of national defense.

Details Not Given

He did not specify what types of military information would be exchanged but his aides indicated that data on potential war production would get a top priority.

They said officials of both countries are discussing methods of allocating specific industrial tasks to each nation in the event of war. The purpose of this would be to prevent unwarranted surpluses of some materials and unnecessary shortages of others.

Forrestal said it is "too early" to say whether the informal U. S.-Canadian agreement will lead to a formal pact. He said the British naturally would have to take part in any conferences on a formal understanding, and they have not yet been approached on the idea.

Discussions Continuing

Discussions on a U. S.-Canadian war plan are continuing through the United States—Canadian joint defense board. U. S. members include Maj. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell, Air Force; Maj. Gen. Ray T. Maddocks, Army; Rear Adm. R. E. Libby, Navy, and Andrew B. Foster.

This board is expected to be the channel for future exchange of information between the two countries.

Forrestal's aides said that although negotiations are progressing rapidly, they believe a joint radar network across the northern approaches of the North American continent is still in the distant future. They estimated that the first installations of an Arctic radar system would cost $250,000,000 and that the overall cost would be much higher.

Fair Skies Prevail Over Texas Again

(By The United Press)

Fair skies prevailed over all of Texas today as the mercury started inching back to and over the 100-degree mark in many sections after a brief respite.

A few more spots recorded readings of 100 degrees or better for maximums yesterday while early morning minimums today generally ranged several degrees higher than yesterday.

Bryan's 103 degrees was yesterday's hot spot with Crystal City and Presidio recording 102, San Antonio and Austin 101, Laredo, Tyler and Fort Worth 100. Lowest maximum was 86 at Guadalupe Pass.

Minimums today ranged from 62 at Amarillo and Junction to 77 at Fort Worth and Galveston.

Light, patchy ground fog was reported along the Texas coast this morning.

The only rainfall recorded yesterday was .01 inch at Galveston.

UN Is Warned Of Situation In Holy City

Mediator Charges Both Jews, Arabs Ignore Authority

(By The Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 19 — The United Nations Palestine mediator warned the security council today that the situation in Jerusalem is "gradually getting out of hand." He said it is doubtful whether the Holy City can be demilitarized in the near future.

Count Folke Bernadotte, asking the council for prompt action to halt the renewed Arab-Jewish strife, declared in an interim report that the Arabs have accepted in principle the plan to disarm regular and irregular troops in Jerusalem.

"But the Jews, who stated initially they did not exclude demilitarization, have shown no readiness to accept it up till now," Bernadotte added.

UN Force Necessary

Under these conditions it would be necessary to have a "strong and well-armed international force" to bring about demilitarization of the Holy City, the report said. Demilitarization of Jerusalem has been one of the mediators primary aims in his negotiations with Jews and Arabs. His latest attempt to bring about a cease-fire failed to halt the fighting there.

Bernadotte's report expressed fear these clashes might bring about new full-scale warfare.

"It should be borne in mind that further deterioration" of the situation in Jerusalem may lead to general resumption of hostilities.

The United Nations mediator had asked Arabs and Jews to accept a new cease fire effective last Friday morning. But the bitterest fighting since the second Palestine truce began raged throughout last Friday night.

Authority Ignored

Bernadotte's aides said security council action could take the form of warnings or sanctions against the side found to be violating the council in a July 15 resolution.

"Under prevailing conditions it is difficult to assess responsibility and idle to try to ascertain which of the parties is more to blame," Bernadotte said, adding:

"They both have come deliberately to ignore the authority of the United Nations."

(In Haifa, it was learned yesterday that the chief of staff of the U. N. truce commission, Gen. A. Lundstroem, considers the recent shooting in the Holy City violations of the truce by both Jews and Arabs.)

"Should the present action of the security council take the form of a warning," Bernadotte said. "I suggest that it should be clearly pointed out to the parties:

"1. That responsibility will be assessed whether violations are due to members of the opposing armies or to dissident elements or irregulars.

"2. That each party has a duty to bring to justice its own dissident elements and irregulars when they violate the truce.

"3. That reprisals and retaliations are not permitted.

"4. That no party will be allowed to gain by any violation."

Ex-New Deal Lawyers Are To Be Called

President Claims Inquiry Infringes On Bill Of Rights

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The House un-American activities committee today ordered three former New Deal lawyers to appear for questioning tomorrow in its Communist spy ring investigation. They are: Nathan Witt, Lee Pressman and John Abt.

The committee also said that Alger Hiss, former State department official accused of being part of a pre-war Red underground in Washington, has refused to submit at this time to a lie detector test.

Hiss has denied time and again under oath that he ever was a Communist. He now heads the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Truman Accuses Group

These developments came as President Truman lashed out at the committee. He accused the group of infringing the Bill of Rights in its inquiry into alleged Communism within the government.

Mr. Truman made that statement at a news conference as he took issue with criticism of his administration stemming from the congressional investigation.

The President repeated his previous claim that Senate and House committee hearings have produced no information not already in the possession of the FBI and presented to a federal grand jury.

He also asserted that the government's loyalty review program is a complete success.

Already Under Leave

The President flatly accused the House un-American activities committee of infringing the bill of rights in its inquiry into alleged Communism within the government.

He said the only two people whose names have been brought into the inquiry as suspected Communists already were under indefinite leave before the hearing started.

Mr. Truman said there is a difference between the confidential files of federal employes and their employment records. He made clear once again that the confidential files will not be made available to congressional committees.

The President's reference was to efforts of Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) and other GOP leaders to obtain confidential files of government employes suspected or under investigation for alleged disloyalty. Mr. Truman has directed executive departments to withhold such records from the committees.

Not Before Jury

It was learned from another source that Whittaker Chambers has not been a witness before a federal grand jury in New York

John Ruhmann Resigns Post

John P. Ruhmann today announced his resignation as Lubbock city engineer to become city water engineer at Wichita Falls.

No date for the change was set. He told City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., he would postpone reporting for his new duties until Nov. 1 if needs in Lubbock demanded.

He accepted the Wichita Falls position in the belief it offers a more attractive opportunity than the job here, he said. The starting salary there is $6,000 a year. Ruhmann receives about $6,300 annually here, including a cost-of-living bonus paid all city employes which now averages about $83 a month.

Took Post In 1946

Since Ruhmann became Lubbock city engineer in June, 1946, following his discharge from the navy, he has supervised the engineering preparations and actual work in most instances for the most extensive public improvement and expansion program of any comparable period in Lubbock history. The program will represent a total investment of close to $10,000,000 when completed.

A native of Ballinger, Ruhmann graduated from Texas Technological college with a civil engineering degree in 1933. He subsequently did special study in Southern Methodist university and other schools.

Had Varied Experience

He was employed by the state highway department as chief paving inspector from 1933 to 1935, was assistant resident engineer of the department in Wichita Falls two years, and junior resident engineer of the Dallas division four and one-half years.

He resigned the Dallas position in 1942 to enlist in the Navy, serving until November, 1945. He was stationed on the Pacific coast most of the time and was a lieutenant commander at the time of his severence.

He and the former Miss Mary Katharine Cooper, of Olney, near Wichita Falls, were married in 1938. They have no children.

SINGAPORE, Aug. 19. (AP)—Dispatches from North Malaya said today Communist insurgents had killed at least four more unarmed civilians.

U. S. Rules Russian Woman Is Beyond Soviet Union Control

WILL NEVER SEE HER FATHER—Evona Lee Stoker, 5-day-old daughter of Mrs. Robert Lee Stoker, above, 19, of Graham, will never see her father. On Aug. 4, Stoker was hurrying to his job with a drilling company, but his thoughts were with his wife at the hospital. His 1936 Dodge hit a culvert and overturned, and he died shortly afterward from a broken neck. Mrs. Stoker, the former Frances Gatlin of Lubbock, plans to move back to Lubbock and make her home with an aunt, Mrs. Bill Tooke of 2411 Thirty-first. Evona Lee was the couple's first child.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 — The State department ruled formally today that Mrs. Oksana S. Kosenkina, refugee Russian teacher, is beyond control of the Soviet government "so long as she remains in this country."

The ruling was given by Ernest A. Gross, Secretary Marshall's legal advisor, in a letter to Justice Samuel Dickstein, of the New York state supreme court.

Leaped From Consulate

Mrs. Kosenkina leaped from the third story of the Soviet consulate in New York a week ago and is now in a critical condition in a hospital there. Dickstein sought the State department's ruling.

Dickstein told reporters the department's attitude would govern his decisions, probably next week, on whether a writ of habeas corpus he issued against Soviet Consul-General Jacob M. Lomakin remains valid.

The writ directed Lomakin to produce Mrs. Kosenkina for a habeas corpus hearing last Thursday. This was delayed, but Dickstein told reporters he "could", nevertheless hold Lomakin in contempt for failure to obey the order.

To Reject Accusation

The ruling by Gross came as top department officials polish up a note rejecting Soviet accusation and demands in the Kosenkina case.

Michael McDermott, department press officer, told reporters his "best estimate" is that the note "will probably be completed and

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A crowd of 75,000 persons jammed the area of St. Parick's cathedral today in a final tribute to Babe Ruth, king of baseball.

At a requiem mass in the Roman Catholic cathedral 6,000 persons knelt as Francis Cardinal Spellman prayed that the Divine Spirit "that inspired Babe Ruth to overcome hardships and win the crucial game of life may animate many generations of American youth."

Family Is Present

The Babe's widow, Mrs. Claire Ruth, and their adopted daughters, Mrs. Richard Flanders and Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan, quietly answered "amen."

Across the aisle were Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and New York's Mayor William O. Dwyer, their heads bowed and eyes closed in silent tribute to the man who rose from a Baltimore orphanage to undisputed monarch of the national sport.

When the Babe's African mahogany casket was borne into the cathedral it was blanketed with orchids and red roses.

Msgr. Joseph F. Flannelly was celebrant of the mass.

Mrs. Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Flanders, Mrs. Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Moberly of Baltimore, brother-in-law and sister of the Babe, walked slowly behind the casket and moved into pews at the head of the aisle.

Thousands Stand Outside

Thousands stood outside the cathedral in rain as the Babe's body was borne from the cathedral between lines of honorary pallbearers headed by Governor Dewey.

New Gold Standard Ordered In China

NANKING, Aug. 19 (AP)—China adopted a new gold standard currency and ordered all banks closed for the next two days to permit an orderly conversion.

Government spokesman Hollington Tong said the currency will be called "gold yuan" and that it will be backed by 100-percent reserves. He said it would be convertible to foreign exchange under control.

The official announcement did not disclose rates for which the new currency will be exchanged for the old, inflated paper money But official sources said the rates would be one gold yuan for 3,000,000 Chinese dollars of the national currency now in use, four gold yuans for each U. S. dollar and two gold yuans for each Chinese silver dollar.

"THE IRON CURTAIN"

Russians In Panic By Nazi Advances

BY IGOR GOUZENKO

Ex-Russian Agent In Canada

October 16, 1941, was a day those who were in Moscow at the time will never forget. It was the first day of the panic.

I had been deep in special ciphering technique study at Filya and, like my companions, had been pretty well isolated from the war news. Passes to town were almost impossible to get but, by some quirk of chance, I received one for October 16.

As I came out of the school gates at Filya, a truck passed and I jumped on it. Two young fellows were sitting there talking.

"What's happening these days?" I asked.

One of the two held up his hands. "What's happening? Everything is happening! Everybody is running away without knowing where they are going. The Germans, we hear, are almost at Moscow!"

I was frankly doubtful. There was, however, growing evidence of extraodinary happenings around us. The truck became snagged in a traffic jam and I jumped off.

People Were Scurrying

The street was crowded with people carrying bundles, sacks and suitcases. They were scurring in all directions.

When I reached home, mother and sister were there. Sister was in tears. All employees of the Scientific Research Institute, where she had been working, were discharged. A notice had been hung on the Institute door:

"All citizens of the City of Moscow, whose presence is not needed, are hereby ordered to leave the city. The enemy is at the gates."

The announcement, formally repeated over the radio, brought an immediate reaction and the panic became city-wide.

Chain Of Robberies

Throughout Moscow there was a chain of robberies as Communist commissars of plants and factories dipped into safes, took the money allotted for wages, got into their autos and made for the outskirts. But they got caught in the traffic jams and many were dragged from their cars and, in turn, robbed by peasants.

Another feature of the panic was the sudden disappearance of the Special Sections who had dominated the workers by keeping them in constant fear. Several NKVD men fell into workers' hands and the scenes weren't nice. It was interesting to note how vehement the people became against the NKVD in the panic period. In fact, the Germans seemed to be secondary with many who were heaping their hatred on NKVD people. Memories of oppression and mental, plus physical torture, had germinated seeds of wrath that were most menacing.

When I finally reached Filya again, the cadets of the radio-communications branch were destroying all their equipment. The order was quite definite:

Destruction Ordered

"Destroy everything of value."

We were marched to a train, jammed aboard and eventually reached Vladimir, where our commanding officer ordered us to assemble.

"I have a plea on behalf of all instructors and cadets," he stated, "demanding that we be issued with arms and sent to the front

Truman Gives Troops Policy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP) — President Truman said today the United States does not intend to send troops to Palestine or anywhere else except as a part of a United Nations force under a U. N. decision.

That was his answer to a news conference question about the possible use of American troops in the strife-ridden Holy Land. Some U. S. military men are already in Palestine as U. N. truce observers and more are to be sent there.

The subject of Palestine was brought up when a reporter wanted to know whether a $100,000,000 loan is being made to the new Jewish state of Israel.

Loan Under Consideration

He replied that such a loan is under consideration by the Export-Import bank. The Israeli government requested the loan to help pay for development and reconstruction projects.

As for troops, Mr. Truman said none will be sent to Palestine or anywhere else except as a contribution to a U. N. force in line with U. N. decisions.

The President refused flatly to talk about progress of the four-power discussions at Moscow. He said he had no comment to make on those negotiations.

HOUSEWIVES CONTINUE BOYCOTTS

Meat-On-The Hoof Hits Record High

(By The United Press)

Prices for meat-on-the-hoof soared to new all-time records today, making another round of price hikes at neighborhood butcher stores almost inevitable.

Farmers pocketed $32.50 per hundred pounds for choice hogs at Sioux City, Ia. It was the highest price ever paid at a major livestock market.

Spokesmen for retail dealers said they will not be able to absorb the higher prices. Housewives, they said, will have to dig deeper into their pockets.

Second Day In Row

It was the second day in a row that hogs had smashed the record. Yesterday they sold for $32.25 at Omaha, Neb., and maintained that level there again today.

At Chicago, choice hogs brought $31.75, a new record for the world's largest stockyard.

An all-time record high price of $31.75 was paid at Kansas City today for choice hogs.

It topped by 75 cents the previous all-time high mark on the Kansas City market. The market top there yesterday was $31.

At the same time, an all-time high of $39.50 per hundredweight was paid for 969 pound choice Colorado fed heifers at Kansas City.

Housewives in cities across the country continued their boycotts of high priced meat. At San Francisco, butchers complained of a mounting backlog of choice cuts.

They attributed the slow turnover to "Mamma's OPA," a recently organized group of women pledged to buy no meat costing more than 65 cents a pound. Butchers said unorganized housewives appeared to be joining the drive.

At New York, Jack Kranis, president of the National Meat Industry council, said the record prices farmers are getting for meat on the hoof will mean a five to six cent per pound price increase in retail stores in New York within about 10 days.

George Dressler, executive secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, said the price boosts were inevitable in view of the all-time high prices.

Man Is Held For Burglary

A 21-year-old man who said he was Odell Laverne Allen of Lubbock route 1, was charged with burglary this morning several hours after he allegedly admitted being caught in a tourist cabin occupied by an Abilene man and his wife.

The charge, filed in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, for investigation of the next grand jury accused the man of having broken into cabin 8 of Camp Comfort.

Allen had not appeared this afternoon to ask bail.

Man At Foot Of Bed

Mrs. Jessie L. Beene said she and her husband had been asleep a brief time when she awakened at 2 a. m. and saw a man standing at the foot of their bed, "looking right at me."

"He was going through my husband's trousers," she said.

"What are you doing in here?" Mrs. Beene said she asked the intruder.

The man, she told officials, wheeled and went out the door, which had not been locked. He didn't answer her.

Beene, awakened by his wife's challenge, hastily got out of bed and ran to the door.

"Did you get any money out of my billfold?" he asked the intruder.

Dealer In London Gets Quick Action

Pilot Finds Getting New Car Can Be Easy But Complicated

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Aug. 19.—Airline Pilot Dick Wells proved today that getting a new auto is a comparatively easy thing to do—if you don't mind going about 4,000 miles to place your order with a dealer.

Wells, a Lake Orion, Mich., resident ordered a new auto from an American dealer over a year ago. Then he settled down for the long wait customary for new car buyers.

A couple of weeks ago, he made a brief stopover in London while flying a commercial plane from New York to Calcutta.

Strolling around London, he spotted a window display of the new auto he had ordered.

Curious, Wells talked with the dealer and found the car was priced at $1,820, as compared to the $2,387 price tag on the car in the United States.

The pilot doublechecked the price with the salesman who told him "yes, that $1,820 price is correct. Delivery? Why you can have the car

Tavern Operator Treats Prohibitionist

Champion Miler Gets "Worst Insult" Of His Life On Tour

(By The United Press)

SALINA, Kas., Aug. 19. Glenn Cunningham, spearheading the "Temperance Tornado's" drive across Kansas, said yesterday he received the first insult in his life.

A glass of beer prompted the remark.

Cunningham, the famous mile runner of the 1930's, is main speaker for the "Temperance Tornado," a group of prohibitionists making a 12-day tour of Kansas to oppose repeal of the state's 67-year-old prohibition amendment.

As Cunningham spoke at Great Bend, Kas., yesterday, a man carried a glass of beer over to him from a nearby tavern.

"I've never been so insulted in my life," Cunningham declared. "This goes to show you what kind of people run liquor joints."

The tavern operator, he added, "didn't have enough guts to bring the beer out himself."

The former world champion miler said that the record of

CAB To Study Big Airlines

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—The airlines, suffering from critical contraction of bank balances, undergo an exploratory examination today by the Civil Aeronautics board.

Presidents of the trunk lines (those operating more than local services) have been called in for a conference on what must be done to bring costs and income into better balance.

The major topic will be whether to increase fares by 10 percent, as the three largest transcontinental lines propose.

But the airline heads seemed certain to raise a number of other questions: the problem of nonscheduled operators cutting into their business; the "dilution" of traffic due to the fact that as many as five airlines are in competition between some points; the threat of additional state gasoline taxes; higher mail pay rates.

Lines Losing Money

The airlines lost about $22,000,000 last year. They are losing money almost as fast this year, although two ten percent far increases have been made in the past 12 months.

The effective passenger fares of 5½ cents a mile now are just slightly above those of 1941, although costs have increased between 60 and 70 percent. Air mail pay rates for the largest airlines now are less than half what they were in 1941.

Most of the airlines have filed petitions for higher mail pay.

Among the more obvious causes of airline financial troubles are the costs of readjustment to peacetime operations, including employe training programs; the cost of new equipment, coupled with half a dozen disasters which rank among the worst in the history of commercial flying; labor troubles and inability to cooperate successfully to reduce terminal costs.

Story Contests Are Set At City Parks

Annual story telling contests, sponsored by the City Recreation department, will be held at city parks and at the community center, Sixth and Avenue B, today and Friday, Mrs. Gladys Sims, nature, camping, and story telling specialist with the department, said last night.

Today's contests were to be held at Wagner park at 9:45 a.m., at community center, 4 p.m., and at Pioneer park, 6:30 p.m. Friday the contests will be held at Carlisle park at 9:45 a.m.; Burns, 5:30 p.m.; and Booker T. Washington, 7:30 p.m.

Boys and girls in story telling will be grouped as follows: Group 1, boys and girls 5 through 9; Group 2, girls 10 through 15; and group 3, tall tales for boys 10 through 15.

Winners from Burns, Carlisle, Wagner, Pioneer and community center will compete in finals at the barbecue pit in Mackenzie state park next Tuesday.

Judges are Mrs. William V. Stone, Mrs. Dutch Wiginton, Mrs. Josephine Ballenger and Mrs. C. M. Kaigler.

Giving Ticket Can Become Difficult

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 19 (AP) Giving out tickets isn't always so easy patrolman Hugh McAllister has discovered.

He found two jeeps parked in one metered parking space yesterday, both within the legal confines of the white lines, and the nickle parking fee inserted in the meter.

One of the two pint-sized vehicles was illegal, but which one McAllister pondered.

Finally, ticket pad in hand, he decided:

"It's illegal to put two vehicles in one place and the one farthest from the meter gets the ticket."

Jews Charged With Criminal Acts Against Roman Catholic Institutions In Palestine

JERUSALEM, Aug. 19 (AP) — The Latin Patriarchate released today a report by the vicar general for Galilee accusing Jews of criminal acts against 12 Roman Cathloic institutions in northern Palestine.

The report, by Monsignor Anthiny Vergani, an Italian citizen, has been forwarded by the patriarchate to the Vatican secretary of state.

It alleged that seven churches, convents and hospices have been looted by Jews and others seized by force. It expressed concern that the Jews might "start a continued expropriation of ecclesiastical properties which may have no small repercussion in the Christian world."

Earlier, Jewish soldiers were accused by the pastor of a Greek Catholic church in Jaffa of breaking into the church and carrying off religious objects. In a letter to the apostolic delegate of the Vatican and other Christian leaders in Jerusalem, the pastor, the Rev. G. Rizik, said:

"I bring to you my protestation against this odious crime. We have always heard loud declarations on the part of the Jewish chiefs that they respect churches and religious heads. These acts do not correspond with these words."

Msgr. Vergani, on the basis of personal observation, reported these acts against Roman Catholic institutions:

Saint Peters church and monastery, Tiberias — before May 15 doors of monastery repeatedly broken open and papal flag torn down.

Casa Nova Pilgrims hospice, Tiberias—before May 15 Father Superior Philip "saw Haganah soldiers taking and stealing goods of Casa Nova . . . Police apologized and assured him no more robberies would take place. June 15 it was found opened and all rooms searched; a holy chalice and several sacred objects, household goods and provisions stolen."

Statues Broken

Franciscan Missionaries of Egypt Sisters school and convent, Tiberias—"on July 22 I found all external doors broken, the chapel profaned, the altar overturned and statues of the Blessed Virgin Saint Francis and Sain Anthony broken to pieces and all rooms searched and rummaged."

Sanctuary of Beatitudes and Hospice, Carpharnaum — Franciscan nuns and friars forced by Jews on June 6 to evacuate but allowed to return 48 hours later. "Soldiers occupied the hospice and church, guards were put on top of the church and a mortar gun in front. Some soldiers entered the church by a window, forced loose the image from the cross. The sisters protested and the criminal punished but the image until now has not been returned."

Hospice of Custody of Holy Land, Carpharnaum — "many things stolen."

Benedictine Shrine of multiplication of loaves, with hospice and farm Tabgha near the Sea of Galilee—farm robbed. Holy chalice and all grain harvest provisions, animals and implements stolen. "On July 22 I found the chapel profaned, statutes in pieces, the chalice stolen and crosses broken. A Jewish guard lived in the house of the fathers, who all were kept as internees and not allowed to see the hospice or farm."

Other Offenses Cited

Poor sisters of Saint Anne convent, Haifa—"We presented June 6 a claim for compensation for sisters whose convent had been damaged by Jews but until now we've received no answer."

Hospital of Saint Charles sisters, Carmelite convent, Catholic Saint Joseph club, Carmelite kindergarten all at Haifa—"We presented memorandum June 24 about the occupation by Haganah of these institutions. It remained without answer."

Italian hospital managed by Franciscan sisters of Egypt, Haifa —hospital was released by British occupants June 28 and Fathr Podagrosi the chaplain, with sisters took possession the same date. Haganah men ordered them to evacuate the building within 10 minutes. The father protested twice in the name of the Vatican but was forced to leave . . . Later many things were found to have been stolen."

Msgr. Vergani concluded his report by quoting Jewish authorities as saying that irresponsible elements had committed the acts which prompted his complaint.

"We dare say now that it seems these irresponsible elements, if they are irresponsible, seem to be appointed for these purposes."

Shakeup In Chicago Police Department

CHICAGO, Aug. 19. (INS)—Chicago Police Commissioner John Prendergast today suspended 51 patrolmen, sergeants and signal section men for five days in the largest shakeup in department history.

The suspensions will be staggered between today and Sept. 21.

The commissioner's action resulted from a pre-dawn visit of police officials to district headquarters receiving calls from the South Side stations—East Side, Grand Crossing, Burnside, Kensington, and Morgan Park.

The inspectors found signal men marking patrolmen as having made their hourly calls to headquarters when scores of calls really were not made.

Of the 51 suspended, 46 were patrolmen, three were sergeants, and two were signal section patrolmen.

Infant Death Rate Hits New State Low

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—Texas' infant mortality rate has dipped to its lowest figure in history but is still the sixth highest rate in the nation, the State Department of Health reported.

The current rate was placed at 41.2 for every 1,000 live births, a 39 per cent reduction since 1940.

State Health Officer George W. Cox said that the reduction means more than 5,000 babies are being saved annually which would have otherwise died.

Despite the reduction, however, 42 states report infant mortality rates lower than Texas, the department report said.

SPAIN BATTLES ILLITERACY

MADRID (AP)—One fourth of the population of Spain is illiterate but the percentage is dropping steadily each year, according to official published statistics. The most illiterate regions of Spain are the Basque and Navarre provinces, the report stated. The highest illiteracy rate is found in the Canary Islands where 63 percent of the population is unable to read or write.

Editor To Speak At Sul Ross Graduation

ALPINE, Aug. 19. (Special)—Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, will address the graduating class of Sul Ross State Teachers college here Thursday night. He will be accompanied to Alpine by Mrs. Guy and Dean and Mrs. James G. Allen, of Texas Technological college.

Others who will be present for the ceremonies are Judge and Mrs. R. E. Thomason, El Paso; Senator and Mrs. H. L. Winfield, Fort Stockton; Tom Stovell, recently elected representative from the 87th district of Texas, and former Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Walter F. Woodul, Houston. Woodul is chairman of the Sul Ross committee of the board of regents. The guests will be entertained at a dinner Thursday night by President and Mrs. R. M. Hawkins.

Mr. Guy will address the graduates at 8:15 p. m. and President Hawkins will confer the degrees, assisted by Dr. T. H. Etheridge, dean, and Miss Anna D. Linn. There are 85 graduates, 31 of whom will receive masters degrees.

Glenn F. Davis and Mrs. Ruel Warnock of the music department will have charge of the music. The Rev. F. E. Walker, vicar of St. James Episcopal church, will give the invocation.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Girl Who Is Religious And Agnostic Young Man Are Wondering If Marriage Would Work Out

DEAR MARY HAWORTH. What are the chances of happy marriage if there is a marked difference in religious views? My nephew and a wonderful girl have been in love for several years and feel that now they must reach a decision as to marriage.

Both are intelligent, well balanced, courageous, warmhearted, sensitively considerate of all about them, and tenderly devoted to each other. They share many interests, have the same sort of ideals, want the same kind of life, but thus far they have been held back from marriage by the fact that Jane is a genuinely devout church member and John quite sincerely agnostic.

WHAT TO TEACH THEIR PROGENY?

IF they marry, they would have to agree to rear their children (if any) in the mother's faith John feels that if he consents to this, he should also let the children understand his point of view and the reasons that seem valid to him, and then let each child make his own decision.

Can intelligent, loving parents with such different views impart them to their children without becoming involved in a struggle to dominate the hearts of their children or each other? Do surveys of marriage—successful and unsuccessful—throw any light on such a picture? Do the children suffer from the conflict of ideas?

If others have succeeded despite such a difference, John and Jane feel that they should, too, since they are in such thorough accord in every other way. Can you give them some assistance in making their decision?—A.A.

MAN'S NO CREDIT TO HIS TRAINING

DEAR A. A.: John is a pretty sorry advertisement for the worth of agnostic training, it seems to me. Doesn't he know the deep substantial meaning and practice of honor, integrity and rectitude?

He seems to think a solemn contract is only ink-deep, an expedient manner of bargaining, a mere matter of words, not a promise from the whole man, to be followed by actions to suit, which sustain the essence and aim of the pledge.

You say that if John and Jane were to marry, they would have to agree to rear their children (if any) in the mother's faith; but that John feels if he consents to this, he should also let the children understand his point of view, and the reasons for it that seem valid to him, and then let each child decide which road he shall take.

CONFLICTING RULE WOULD RIDDLE CHILD

IF brief, he maintains that he will be entitled, or have a duty, to exert the force of his influence against the mother's, in the event such a contract is made, which is to say that he would be working to nullify the central objective of the agreement.

The infantile incongruity, the stark dishonesty, of this line of thinking leaves me agape with astonishment, wondering how you or Jane or even John himself could weigh it straight-face into the discussions that have been waged.

As for the effect that such conflict of views would have on children, it would riddle their character, I think. They couldn't really feel rooted allegiance to any value: their inner life would be based on sand; and as for the family relationship itself, "A house divided must fall," you know.—M. H.

Tito And His Followers Are Accused Of Treason, Murder

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 19—Rador, the official Romanian news agency, accused Premier Marshal Tito and other members of the Yugoslav government today of treason and "horrible murder" in the death of Gen. Arso Jovanovic, former chief of staff of the Yugoslav army.

The Yugoslav government announced yesterday that Jovanovic was killed by a border guard Aug. 12, while attempting to flee across the border into Romania.

Charges Are Repeated

Repeating charges first voiced against Tito by the Russian-dominated Communist International Information Bureau, (Cominform) Rador declared:

"The clique of traitors of Tito and (Interior inister Alexander) Rankovic, which has let loose a wave of terror against Yugoslav Communists who are loyal to the interests of the working class, has thus committed another crime. This time the victim was one of the most popular heroes of the Yugoslav liberation struggle."

Jovanovic was war-time chief of staff and intimately associated with Tito in the days of partisan warfare against the Nazis.

Branded As Murder

The Rador dispatch, broadcast by the Bucharest radio, said Jovanovic's slaying was "murder carried out by Tito and his accomplices who sink deeper into the mire of treason."

"The number of Yugoslav Communists who reject the criminal policy of Tito, (Vice-Premier Edvard) Kardelj, (Minister without Portfolio Milovan) Djilas and Rankovic grows daily," Rador said. It warned:

"Their resistance will not be broken by terror. Yugoslav Communists are leading the struggle for the salvation of the Yugoslav from the terrorist regime which endangers Yugoslavia's freedom and independence and threatens the peace of the people."

An editorial in the Times of London said the "attempted escape" of Jovanovic and two other senior Yugoslav officers was "dramatic news."

"That they chose to escape into Romania, not into Greece, Austria or Italy is enough to show where their sympathies lay," the Times said. "It is not Communism they regretted but Tito's rule."

Headquarters of the Cominform have been at Bucharest since Russia and her satellites broke with Tito about two months ago. Before that they were located at Belgrade.

The Times went on:

"There is nothing yet to suggest that a recalcitrant minority is strong enough to make itself felt. What can be foreseen is the envelopment of Yugoslavia in a new despotism aimed no longer at enemies of Communism, but also at disloyalties within the ranks of those who brought the Yugoslav Communist regime into being.

"Having once set out upon this path the present leaders in Belgrade will find it difficult to stop. If a soldier as distinguished and orthodox as Jovanovic could hide his feelings until he was able to escape, there is no knowing where dissaffection may appear. Those grouped around Tito will have to watch and suspect all whose loyalty is not declared and the Yugoslav peoples will not rest easy under the tightening yoke."

Arrest May Have Saved Man's Life

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 19. (AP)—A drunken driving charge probably saved the life of Dale W. Flora, 41.

Flora was arrested and so charged following a minor accident yesterday. A routine blood test at the hospital proved he was not intoxicated.

But when police returned him to municipal court to reduce the charge to one of reckless driving, the hospital called. "Give Flora a candy bar or soft drink before he dies," the officers were advised.

Doctors explained that Flora suffered from an acute lack of sugar in the blood, a condition much like insulin shock sustained by diabetic patients. The symptoms are similar to those of intoxication, and the condition frequently is fatal.

Truman Is In Doubt About Oil Shortage

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—President Truman expressed doubt today whether an east coast oil shortage can be averted this winter.

He was told at a news conference that representatives of the oil industry had expressed the view that there would be no shortage.

Mr. Truman replied he sincerely hoped the oil industry was right, but he doubted it.

He said it depends on how severe the next winter is.

China Cotton King Accused Of Japanese Collaboration Says He Is Being Framed

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19 (AP)—Teng Chung-Ho, Chinese cotton king accused of collaboration with the Japanese, charged in newspaper advertisements today that he was being framed.

Teng maintained that his refusal to contribute some $200,000 U. S. currency to the Shanghai "soak the rich" campaign was the reason for the charges.

Mayor K. C. Wu told newsmen today that there was no connection between the treason charge against Teng and the "soak the rich" campaign.

Informer's Letter Shown

Wu said that he showed a photostatic copy of an informer's letter to Teng during a "personal visit." This, the mayor said, was done in accordance with instructions from Nanking to give "particular attention" to the rich who assertedly benefitted from "wartime windfalls."

"I warned Teng to be more generous in view of the suspicion that he was a war millionaire," the mayor said.

Wu said that another unnamed Shanghai millionaire had finally contributed an amount "very near the quota assigned him" by the special levy committee. The mayor earlier had threatened to disclose the man's name to the press.

"Now there is no need for that," Wu said.

Brief Kidnap Rumor Found To Be False

A brief flurry that greeted state and municipal police radio broadcasts here at 11:15 a. m. was summarily ended at 11:58 a. m. with a cancellation flash informing that a 28-year-old Lubbock woman had not been kidnaped, nor had she been made victim of foul play.

The blue-eyed, 120-pound woman, it was explained, was located after officials were informed that she probably had been abducted by a 38-year-old Lubbock man who was believed en route to New Mexico in a large automobile.

A police detective said he understood that the man had told the woman he would not let her out at her place of employment — but that was about all. The woman declined to sign a complaint, he said. No other details were available.

Sanford Will Head C. Of C. Committee

Marion Sanford, insurance man, was reelected chairman of the chamber of commerce committee which will direct Lubbock observance of national fire prevention week here Oct. 3-9 at a meeting in the chamber of commerce directors' room today.

Jimmie Williamson and J. C. Hughes, both representing the junior chamber of commerce, were named co-chairmen. The junior chamber will have a leading role in the observance this year.

Co-Chairmen Appointed

R. W. Matthews, city school superintendent, and J. W. Reid were appointed co-chairmen of the school subcommittee and DeWitt Landis will head the publicity group.

Present at the organization meeting were Sanford, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty, Fire Marshal Bradley Black, Gordon Sanders, City Manager Marlan R. Smith, jr., Harry Delaney, George Dale, Landis, Williamson and Hughes. Jim Crook, assistant manager of the chamber of commerce, is secretary of the committee.

Second Crash Victim Dies At Big Spring

BIG SPRING, Aug. 19. (AP)—Charles Buttman, 24, of Merkel, died early today of injuries suffered in an automobile-bus collision one mile east of Stanton yesterday afternoon.

R. M. Moeser, jr., 26, also of Merkel, died a few minutes after the head-on crash.

Most of the 14 passengers of the bus were only shaken up. Mrs. Mary Jane Vail of Sherman suffered a broken arm, and Patricia Goodman, 17, of Fort Worth received medical attention here.

Orders To Pick Up Man Are Cancelled

AMARILLO, Aug. 19. (AP)—Amarillo officers today cancelled orders to pick up a man reported to have kidnaped a young Vega, Texas, woman after she returned to her home and denied she was abducted.

At Albuquerque, N. M., state police captain Nash Garcia said the sheriff at Vega had notified him that a young man had fled with the girl in her automobile.

Band Rehearsal Is Scheduled Monday

The season's first rehearsal and instruction period for the Lubbock High school Westerner band will be held Monday afternoon from 4:30 to 5 o'clock on the playground south of Dupree school, it was announced today by Paul Branom, band director.

Assisting Branom will be C. R. Dale, marching band instructor. The announcement said the time for other drills will be made known and date announced for issuance of uniforms.

Branom urged that all senior and junior high school students interested in band work report at the first session.

Hospital Transfers Five Polio Patients

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 19. (AP)—Gloria Tate, one year old, Borger, was among five patients transferred Tuesday and Wednesday of this week from the polio ward here to a hospital in Abilene.

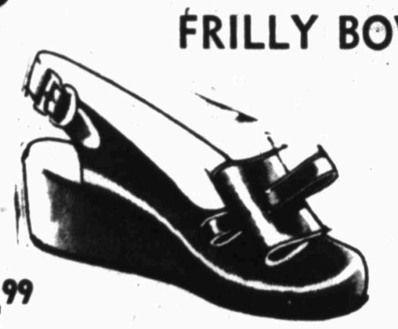

The transfers became necessary after Plainview hospital facilities became over-taxed.

Three patients were admitted last night from Mobeetie, making the total number here 28. Normal facilities accommodate 30.

helena rubinstein

skin care just for you—just for that priceless, young complexion of yours — for your busy young life — and well within the limits of your budget. Helena Rubinstein would think of it. She would know that young skin must be handled with the greatest consideration for its special problems. And she would know just how to do it. For Helena Rubinstein has been studying young skin for years—has, herself, perfected ever-finer formulas for its care, in her own laboratories.

Extra cleanliness is the first, most important step. So wash at night with "Beauty Grains," the super friction cleanser for large pores, blackheads, blemishes and excessive oiliness.

"Plus Cleanser" lathers and cleans like a soap, yet it's really a cream that's ever so kind to your complexion. You dip a wet sponge into it and scrub away, then rinse with warm water. If your skin is normal, it's all the skin care you need. Gets joyful results in no time.

1.00, With Sponge 1.50

In the morning use "Water Lily Skin Lotion," made with a medicated base, and is magically refreshing to oily, bumpy skin.

1.50, 3.00

For quick, easy care, "Pasteurized Face Cream." Rich and light, it cleanses thoroughly softens, soothes and smooths, cools and refreshes. You'll vow that no other single cream offers so many beauty benefits.

1.00 and up

If your skin should be the dry type, add "Town and Country Night Cream" to your schedule . . . in less time than it takes to hop into bed. Keeps your skin moist.

1.00, 1.75, 3.00

For lovelier hands "Herbal Hand Lotion." It feels like liquid velvet . . . superb rich-textured lotion, faithful protector of the beauty of your hands. Contains supremely effective emollient ingredients, massage with it regularly to keep hands beautifully groomed.

Let "Medicated Cream" work on irritated spots while you sleep. Minor blemishes and general skin disturbances all respond beautifully to this soothing cream.

1.00

Your face greets your public the gay way when it's well-cared-for . . . and wears make-up that plays up its own freshness. "Milk-Tone Cake Make-Up" is your make-up. It can't dry your skin because of its milk-protein content.

Just changing your lipstick color so often makes you feel like a different, more fascinating person. That's why "Lipstick Forecast," four glowing young shades in a slick kit, is such a happy thought. You pick your quartet according to the color of your hair. Goes on smoothly, too.

U. S. Objects To River Pact

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—The United States borrowed one of Russia's favorite charges—"imperialism"—and threw it right back in the Kremlin's teeth today.

The occasion was the State department's official comment on the Soviet-controlled Danube river agreement.

That document was signed at Bedgrade yesterday by Russia and the Soviet satellites. It reserves full control of the waterway to the Danubian states. The Western powers—repeatedly rebuffed in their efforts to open the river to vessels of all nations—refused to sign.

Lashing out at "Soviet manipulation of the six votes of its puppet states," the State department declared: "The unhappy subservience of the Danubian peoples to Soviet imperialism was never more clearly manifest than at this conference."

Moscow Makes Complaints

One of Moscow's loudest complaints against the European Recovery program was that it represented another example of American "imperialism."

Last night's statement was the first time this government has hurled that same charge back at the Soviets.

There were more harsh words, as the United States served notice that it "of course" will refuse to recognize the new river control.

The actions of the Soviet delegation to the conference, the State department asserted, "have made evident the determination of the Soviet Union to perpetuate its economic and political enslavement of the Danubian peoples.

Statement Is Quoted

"Its refusal to accept provisions assuring genuine freedom of commerce and non-discrimination show that it intends to maintain vested interests which it has established for its own benefits through extortion from government imposed by force against the will of the peoples of its satellites."

The 11-nation Belgrade conference was called to put into effect a Big Four declaration written into the satellite peace treaties pledging freedom of navigation on the vital waterway. The Soviet bloc held a 7 to 4 edge, however, over the United States, Britain, France and Austria.

Kedgeree is a combination of cooked flaked fish, cooked rice, parsley and salt and pepper; be sure that parsley is finely chopped. Melted butter and an egg yolk may be added to the mixture to bind it together and then the whole thing reheated gently.

GARBO TO RETURN.—Hollywood, Aug. 19. (AP)—Actress Greta Garbo is returning to the screen after a seven-year absence. Producer Walter Wanger sad she had signed a contract to star in a picture he will make in Europe next spring, the principal scenes to be filmed in Paris and Rome. He didn't announce the title of the film.

U. N. Council Will Begin Month Recess

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 19. (AP)—The United Nations Security Council expects to begin a month-long recess after two meetings today.

The council arranged a 9:30 a. m. (EST) meeting on Trieste and a private afternoon session to consider its report to the general assembly.

Present plans call for an adjournment until the delegates arrive in Paris for the assembly meeting which opens Sept. 21. The council, like other U. N. organs, will meet in Paris during the assembly meeting.

U. N. officials said Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik, this month's council president, would be available here until Sept. 1 in case of emergency. Most delegates, however, planned to take a rest before going to Paris.

Normally, the council meets several times a week depending upon the number of problems before it.

Secret Marriage Of Duchess' Ex-Hubby Revealed In Paper

LONDON, Aug. 19 (INS) — The secret marriage of Ernest Aldrich Simpson, former husband of the Duchess of Windsor, to Mrs. Avril Joy Leveson-Gower was disclosed today through a brief announcement in a London newspaper.

The marriage—the bridegroom's fourth and the bride's third—took place last Thursday.

Simpson, 51, a wealthy stockbroker, was first married to Dorothea Parsons, a New England socialite. His second marriage was to the former Wallis Warfield, now the Duchess of Windsor, and his third wife was Mrs. Mark Kirk Faffray, of Fairfield, Conn., who died nearly eight years ago.

Simpson's fourth bride is a London socialite, the blonde, 39-year-old daughter of the late Sir John Mullens.

Services Set Today For Slaton Resident

SLATON, Aug. 19 (Special) — Last rites will be read at the First Baptist church here at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon for Tom Hill, 79, a former Slaton grocer, who died here about 3:30 p. m. Wednesday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Jack Stone. He had been in ill health for the past year.

Rev. Ferguson, pastor of Slaton First Baptist church, has been named to officiate. Interment will be in a Slaton cemetery with Rix Funeral home of Lubbock in charge.

Survivors include seven sons, Zebbie Hill of California, Ferrel Hill of New Mexico, Lenore Hill of Kansas, Virgil Hill of Slaton, Fred Hill of New Mexico, Glenavion Hill of Slaton, and T. M. Hill of New Mexico; three daughters, Mrs. Jack Stone of Slaton, Mrs. Charles Walters of California, and Mrs. J. E. Craft of California; and two stepsons, George Conder of New Mexico, and Sam Condon, also of New Mexico. Twenty-five grandchildren and three great grandchildren also survive.

Woman Suffering Sixth Month Of Hiccups Receives Thousands Of "Cures" By Mail

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Aug. 19 (AP)—Pauline Lucas, 31, has regained seven of the 51 pounds she lost in her six-month seige of hiccuping.

Her nurses at Green County Memorial hospital reported yesterday that Miss Lucas now tips the scales at 85 pounds, thanks to careful dieting. Last week, her weight was down from her normal 129 to 78.

Since she began hiccuping 178 days ago, Miss Lucas has received thousands of letters and jelegrams, 8,000 of them in the last 10 days.

The messages, which necessitated the use of an office girl to answer Miss Lucas' mail at the hospital, offer all sorts of suggestions for a cure.

Some of the wellwishers sent herbs, pills and various medicines. Miss Lucas' physician, Dr. A. J. Blair, issued orders, however, that none of these were to be tested by his patient because no one was certain what was in them.

Some of the remedies are of the more familiar variety such as drinking water, holding a finger in one's ear, and holding a lump of sugar on the tongue. These Miss Lucas has tried without success. At the present she is hiccuping 15 times a minute.

"They are as regular as clockwork," says Dr. Blair.

to draw upon."

The Federal Reserve board, however, is preparing to tighten up on credits that help to make "dissaving" possible. It plans tonight to issue the new regulations for curtailing installment buying ordered by Congress. The curbs will become effective in 30 days.

One Family Out Of Four Is Dissaver

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—Some 13,500,000 families—or about one out of every four—were "dissavers" last year, says the Federal Reserve board.

A "dissaver" is a person who spends more than he takes in, the board noted in a report last night. However it did not manifest any alarm over the trend not to save for a rainy day. It said:

"The ability to dissave presumes a certain degree of financial well being, for to spend more than one's income, a person must either have sufficient income or collateral to be an acceptable risk for credits, or have past savings

Hubs Open Two-Game Series With Leading Dukes

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

If Buffalo baseball fans don't love Bill Serena, it's not his fault. And if they don't, we can't imagine why they aren't ready to lift him to their shoulders. The chunky little Italian walloper merely raised his average the past week to .367 for the 27 games in which he has appeared, getting nine home runs and winning several of the Buffalo victories almost singlehandedly. Also, during this past week Buffalo has risen from two and a half games out of fourth place to only one game. If the Bisons can overcome this deficit, they will be in the International League's Shaughnessy playoffs.

But listen to what Cy Kritzer says in his roundup of the I. L. for The Sporting News: "Bill Serena's hitting for the Bisons has attracted attention. The 20-year old rookie, who batted a mere .230 or thereabouts for Dallas, was purchased by the Herd for assignment to a farm club. Injuries to Moore and Laabs gave him a chance and in a month's time he won a regular berth with a .367 batting average and nine home runs. He will replace Cy Block at third when Laabs and Moore return to action."

Under "Buffalo Notes," in the same publication, here are excerpts of interest: "After winning nine of their last 11 games, the Bisons were temporarily halted in their surge by a double defeat administered by Newark . . . Bill Serena, rookie outfielder purchased last month from Dallas, has shown rival clubs the power that netted him 70 homers last year during the regular season and playoffs in West Texas-New Mexico League. In his first 27 games, Serena pumped eight homers and had 26 bingles in 74 trips for a .351 pace . . . Serena enjoyed a perfect game at bat in the nightcap August 4, as the Bisons swept a twin bill . . . While Serena had a homer, triple and single in as many trips in the afterpiece . . . Serena hit for the circuit in both games (August 6) . . . Sol Rogovin annexed his 11th victory by beating Newark, 6-3, Serena again struck the key blow, doubling in two runs in the eighth to break the tie."

That's pretty solid belting for the likeable Bill, who won the hearts of baseball fans here last season and who are following his career as closely as if he was their son. The peppery little ex-shortstop apparently is turning sparkplug at Buffalo, where he is not as handicapped as he was at Dallas. In the Rebels home, he was well known and came in highly publicized. They say he never was himself in Dallas, that he seldom ever cracked a joke, had little to say on the field and didn't hit the high spots he did here. But in Buffalo he isn't under such pressure, even if it is triple A ball, and he's apparently his old rollicking self. Let's hope he keeps it going.

We had a nice chat with Floyd Walker's mother Sunday afternoon following the Duke-Hubber game. She was standing quietly near an exit, waiting for her son to join her. And if ever a mother was proud of her son, Mrs. Walker is. When we introduced ourself, she had a sweet smile and quickly broke into talk about "Jumbo," often called "Skinny" now. What had he said coming across the plate after hitting that towering homer over the centerfield fence? Nothing, but he had grinned and waved toward her. She confessed that on the way to the park that afternoon, Floyd had said "I'm going to hit one, maybe two, for you today, Mom." He did and his blow kept the Hubbers in the game.

She says Jumbo is the baby of the family, that he has seven older brothers and three sisters, but that he's the only one who has gone into professional baseball. He admits that he's the baby of the family, even though he says an older brother is only a little runt, "about five feet eleven." Mrs. Walker is mighty proud of her big son, but she shook her head sadly over the fact that he had gone hitless Saturday night. She came over from Dallas to see him play and she left today. She took in everything on the ball field and she enjoyed it all, but Floyd was the focal point. We can only say that he has a pretty sweet, swell mother; and she has a pretty grand son of whom to be proud.

Comes a postcard in the mail from Peoria, Ill., from Bill Powers, which we think you will enjoy: "I heard that your team (Hubbers) has a fellow named catcher (Ralph Ketcher) who is a pitcher. In our Sun. Am. league there is a fellow named Pitcher who is a catcher. Imagine a battery like that; Catcher pitching and Pitcher catching! Brother, let's all go NUTS!" We're ready!

Yesterday we had a telephone call from Los Angeles requesting information on an allegedly local boy named Curtis Glenn Garrett. We called every Garrett in the phone book without success, in addition to asking some other persons. The said Garrett is described as being about six foot three, 185-190 pounds and a Marine discharged only a week or two ago. Although the party interested in him wanted to learn his whereabouts by this morning, perhaps it isn't too late. If you should know the boy, please let us know at 4343 or 2-4781. By the way, he's said to be considered a great heavyweight.

Richardson Clouts Two Homers As Locals Wham Clovis, 10-4

The elevator boys were back in stride today, as well as being back in third place in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

They made the climb during the night hours of New Mexico, beating Clovis 10-4 behind the fancy elbowing of Royce Mills, while Albuquerque was licking Pampa 8-4. In the meantime, Amarillo kept pace with the Dukes by trouncing Abilene 10-1; And Borger rolled up one of the most humiliating margins of the year by swamping Lamesa 29-0.

Borger Shows No Pity

Borger showed absolutely no pity on the Loboes in handing them their 13th straight licking. They scored in every inning, with a nine-run burst in the second and a seven-run spurt in the eighth. Mountie King, the Canadian hurler, led the way with three homers, while Jack Crowe, another pitcher, smacked two circuit clouts.

Behind this fancy slugging, Manager Eddie Carnett went the route in easy fashion to score his fourth victory of the year and his first as a starter. In doing so, he gave up only two safeties, both singles, while whitewashing the hapless Loboes. His southpaw slants baffled the Loboes and gave Borger its first goose-egg victory on its own home grounds since 1942.

Hubbers Get Jump

The Hubbers, fortunately, got the jump on Clovis last night and kept it. Fortunately, because after Gene Machado took the mound in the third inning, the Hubbers were able to garner only two more tallies. The erstwhile infielder, making his first start on the hillock, let the Lubbock nine down with only four hits and two runs after the third.

The visiting Texans went to work in the second frame, after going down in order in the first. Virgil Richardson led off with a single, Don Moore walked and Frank McAlexander singled home Richardson. Jackie Wilcox and Red Ramsey went down in order, but Royce Mills, who won the game from the mound, doubled home Moore and McAlexander, then rode home on Chick Fowler's single.

Richardson Pounds 'Em

The third started with Jackie Sullivan singling and coming in on Richardson's home run over the left field fence. The first baseman hit this one batting right-handed and followed with another over the rightfield fence the next inning while batting lefthanded.

Moore kept the rally alive by drawing a walk, but McAlexander hit into a double play. Wilcox singled, Ramsey walked and Mills smacked his second double of the night to score Wilcox.

After that it was all over but the shouting, as George Matthews was handed his 10th straight defeat and left stranded with a 14-14 record.

Tonight the Hubbers move on to Albuquerque, where they will face the Dukes in a two-game series. Either Cotton Russell or Red Ramsey is expected to hurl the first game, with Roland Miller coming back the next night.

Battle For Fourth Hot In Texas Loop

It's wearing on the nerves for a couple of managers but the only race left in the Texas league campaign—the battle for fourth place—is working like a see-saw.

In four nights the spot has changed hands four times. Today San Antonio is in the saddle. Tonight it could be Shreveport again.

Last night Johnny Crocco pitched a five-hitter as San Antonio clipped Fort Worth 5-1 while Shreveport was losing to Tulsa 7-2 with Bud Lively twirling a four-hitter—so today San Antonio is one-half game ahead of the Sports.

Houston broke a losing streak at three games by downing Dallas 6-5 and Beaumont whipped Oklahoma City 4-3.

Football Stars Set For Cardinal Game

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 (AP)—Seventy collegian football stars rested in a downtown hotel today before clashing with the National football league champion Chicago Cardinals tomorrow night before a sellout crowd of 100,000.

The squad went through a snappy drill under the Soldier field lights last night.

Perhaps never has an all star line been so strong and so deep end to end. The same goes for the line backing, which will be handled by such giants as Oklahoma's John Rapacz, Navy's Dick myre, Indiana's Howard Brown and Alabama's John Wozniak.

Beaumont Stadium Goes To New Owner

BEAUMONT, Aug. 19 (AP) — Stuart stadium, where the Beaumont Exports play their Texas league games, had its second owner in 20 years today.

The stadium, erected in 1929 by R. L. Stuart, was sold yesterday to Guy Airey, who has been operating the Beaumont franchise three years, using the field under lease.

Airey did not disclose the price he paid for it but it was believed to be $75,000.

Clogging of the disposal field is the most common trouble in farm sewage systems.

Dodgers Climbing

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A new found strength on the mound is making the Brooklyn Dodgers the team to beat in the National league.

Burt Shotton's Brooks shut out the Philadelphia Phillies last night 1-0, to climb within one game of the slipping Boston Braves. The Braves were beaten by the Giants in New York 8-2.

Rex Barney for the Brooks gave the best performance of his major league career. He permitted only one hit, a fifth inning single by third baseman Ralph Caballero.

Error And Wild Pitch

Rookie Robin Roberts, the Phillies' bonus righthander, made an error and had a wild pitch to allow Brooklyn's lone run in the first.

Marvin Rackley singled and moved to second on an infield out. Roberts threw into centerfield and Rackley raced to third. With Pee Wee Reese at bat. Roberts uncorked a wild pitch and Rackley scored.

The third place St. Louis Cardinals also took advantage of Boston's defeat, coming from behind to edge the Cincinnati Reds in St. Louis, 4-3. The Cards now are only two and a half games off the pace.

Trailing In Ninth

Trailing 3-2 in the last of the ninth, the Cards quickly tied the score when Nippy Jones tripled. Ralph Lapointe ran for Jones and scored on Del Rice's single. Red Schoendienst ran for Rice and was sacrificed to second. After Ron Northey walked Marty Marion hit what appeared to be a double play ball, but Red Stallcup threw wild past first trying to get the last out, and Schoendienst scored the winning run.

Eight-hit pitching by Sheldon Jones and home runs by Johnny Mize (No. 29) and Sid Gordon (N. 24) were the highlights of the Giants' victory over the Braves. It was Jones' 12th triumph. Vern Biekford, first of four Boston pitchers, was the loser.

The Pittsburgh Pirates rallied for six runs in the top of the eighth to come from behind and defeat the Cubs in Chicago 7-4. Bob Chesnes, the winning pitcher, contributed to the victory with a pair of singles. The victory moved the fourth place Bucs to within five games of the Braves.

Cleveland Extends Lead

The Cleveland Indians extended their first place margin in the American league to three full games over the Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 3-0. Sammy Zoldak, former Brownie, was found for nine hits by his exmates, but was tough in the clutch.

The Red Sox climbed over the Athletics into second place by two percentage points when they unleashed a 17-hit attack against three Philadelphia pitchers to whip the A's, 10-2. Ted Williams and Birdie Tebbetts paced the Red Sox attack with three hits apiece.

Vic Raschi earned his easiest victory of the season when the New York Yankees defeated the Washington Senators, 4-1, in a game called at the end of the fifth because of rain. It was Raschi's 16th triumph.

The Chicago White Sox-Detroit Tigers game was postponed because of rain.

Black Hubbers Play Dallas Team Here

Lubbock's Black Hubbers will tangle with the powerful Dallas Red Sox at 8:30 o'clock tonight at Rosenthal field in the opening tilt of a two-game series, officials have announced.

The Dallas nine has won 21 games this season, while losing only six, and features such stars as Pitcher Eddie Malone and flashy Shortstop Sonny Hayes.

Lanky Alexander Johns will probably get the starting mound assignment from Black Hubber Manager James Roy Lewis.

Qualifying In Plainview Golf Tourney To Be Started Today

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 19 (Special)—Qualifying for the annual Plainview Country club Invitational golf tournament will get underway here today at the club layout, meet officials have announced, with approximately 110 links aces of West Texas battling for the championship.

Match play is scheduled to open Friday, with bracket play continuing Saturday and the final tussle for the crown Sunday.

Local Men Entered

More than a dozen Lubbock golfers, including Fenner Tubbs, Hugh Anderson, Don and Ross Mitchell, Oran Wilson, Bill Tatum, Bob Smith, Kay Bradshaw and Raymond Marshall, are expected to compete in the links feature.

The regular West Texas Pro-Amateur event was unreeled here Wednesday, with a foursome that included Gene Mitchell and Jack Garrett of Plainview, Fenner Tubbs of Lubbock and Clark Smith of Clovis taking top honors with a low ball score of 56.

Mitchell is the pro at the Plainview Country club, but the other three linksters are amateurs.

Second place in the Pro-Amateur event was copped by a group which included Herb Schroeder, Lubbock Country club pro, Gene Milton of Amarillo, Hooper Stiles of Lubbock, Rusty Morris of Plainview and Mrs. T. L. Sampson of Lubbock. They won the runner-up post with a low ball score of 59.

There was a three-way tie for third place in the competition, as identical tallies of 60 were turned in by two foursomes and one group of five. One group of third place contenders were Rex Brown of Floydada, C. D. Cohen of Plainview, T. O. Webb of Childress, C. C. Keller of Plainview and Jack Payne of Plainview.

The foursomes that notched 60s included Claude Blackwell of Plainview, Ross Mitchell of Lubbock, John Bell of Plainview and Bill McCarthy of Amarillo; and in the other group were Chuck Klein of Amarillo, Bill Tatum of Lubbock, Buddy Schultz of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Bob Copeland of Amarillo.

Klein also took first in the pro sweepstakes event.

Westerners Go For First Contact Drill

Head Coach C. R. (Pat) Pattison sent his Lubbock High school Westerner football candidates through their first contact drill of the new season Wednesday afternoon at Chapman field, as sounds of leather-popping echoed over the practice gridiron.

The 38 Westerner hopefuls donned full equipment and pads for the first time in the fall training grind yesterday and Pattison, assisted by Line Coach Bill Floyd and End Mentor Fred Taylor, stepped up the activity on the local grid front. The coaches ordered a lengthy tackling practice session that had every squad member in action in the body contact drill.

The youngsters, although not in top shape after only two previous days of workouts, turned in a creditable performance. Most of the linemen showed marked ability in the head-knocking department, as did the backs and ends. Coach Taylor apparently was well-satisfied with the showing.

Rounding Into Shape

Pattison indicated that the regular two sessions today will follow the same general program of the earlier drills. Pattison also indicated that there may be a "pass scrimmage" this afternoon. There will be no regular scrimmage drills until next week.

The boys are fast rounding into shape under the broiling sun and four-hour daily workouts. At least a half-dozen of the hopefuls are still carrying too much extra weight, Douglas Ross, a contender for the fullback slot, reported 10 pounds over his playing weight and Morris Moyers, a guard prospect, is trying to drop his weight from 225 pounds to about 210 or 215.

No Serious Injuries

Most of the boys have escaped injury in the early drills, but there is the usual quota of sore muscles, blisters and even one bad ankle. Mentors believe the rugged conditioning drills will have the boys in the best possible physical condition before the first full-scale scrimmage.

The Westerner squad will leave here Sunday for Lawton, Okla., where they will conduct a one-week grid training camp at the Cameron Aggies layout. They will return home Aug. 29 and open the season here Sept. 10 against the potent Odessa Broncos.

Season ticket reservations are now being taken by Business Manager E. J. Lowrey at the Senior High school athletic office. Lowery is at the office from 9 until 5 each day.

Pee Wee Tigers In A 14 To 7 Victory

John Hayes hurled the Pee Wee League Tigers to a smashing 14 to 7 victory over the Red Sox Wednesday afternoon at Lubbock Boys' club, while in the Junior Loop, the Lions club downed the Exchange club, 4 to 2. In addition to his mound triumph, Hayes led the Tiger attack with three singles and a double in five times at bat.

Jerry Pruitt paced the losing Soxers with a triple and a single in four times up. He was followed by Glen Higginbotham, who banged out two singles in four times at the plate.

In the Junior game, Jerry Martin got a single that drove in two of the winners' runs. For the Exchange Club, Billy Leifeste smacked out a homer that drove in both of the losers' runs. H. T. Hillin gained the mound win for the Lions.

Thursday, the White Sox will meet the Yankees in the Pee Wee League tussle, and ABC tangles with the Jaycee squad in the Junior League affair.

Hot Amateurs Set For Golf Tourney

LONGVIEW, Aug. 19 (AP)—One of the hottest collections of southwestern amateurs ever assembled for a Texas golf tournament will tee off tomorrow in qualifying rounds of the Premier sixth annual invitation tournament.

First and second round matches are carded Saturday with the semi-finals and 27-hole final slated Sunday.

Competing for the crown relinquished by former champion Earl Stewart, who is directing this year's event for Premier, will be top amateur golfing talent in a three-state area including virtually every member of the Texas cup team and eight linksmen boasting state titles.

DENVER OPEN STARTS

DENVER, Aug. 19 (AP)—A blue ribbon field of 93 golfers, including most of the par busters on the pro circuit, teed off today in quest of the Denver Open tournament's $12,500 in cash prizes.

Sectional Qualifying In National Amateur Staged

Red Roden, Odessa, Rips Six Strokes From Par At Angelo

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 (AP)—Robert (Skee) Riegel, who opens defense of his National Amateur golf championship at Memphis Aug. 30, now has his work cut out for him—and it looks rugged.

The 33-year-old ironmaster from Upper Darby, Pa., will face eight past U. S. and British champions and 201 survivors of the largest list ever to enter the venerable tourney.

Odessa Man Is Hot

The field was decided in sectional qualifying trials yesterday from coast-to-coast, paced by a pair of golfers hardly known outside their own sections—William Roden of Odessa, Tex., and Julius Boros of Bridgeport, Conn.

Roden, known as "Red" in the open southwest country, ripped six strokes from par as he registered 70-68—138 at San Angelo. Boros fashioned a nice 66-69—135, five under regulation, to lead the 68 who tried out in the fast metropolitan area at Great Neck, N. Y.

Their performances stood out as 1,221 golfers from coast-to-coast made bids for the "sudden death" eliminations at the Memphis Country club Aug. 30-Sept. 4

Two Other Casualties

There were only two prominent casualties. Walter Emery of Tulsa, runner-up to Lawson Little in 1935, blew himself to a 155 at Oklahoma City and failed to qualify. Harold Paddock, jr., the Ohio amateur champion, didn't make it at Cleveland, his home, after taking 153 for the 36 holes.

The veteran Johnny Dawson of Hollywood, who dropped a 2 and 1 decision to Riegel in the finals at Del Monte, Calif., last year, stroked his way in at Los Angeles with 73-71—144, four over par.

He placed second to Bruce McCormick, also of Hollywood, who set a qualifying record for the California metropolis with 72-65—137, three under.

Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie N. Y., twice a runner-up in the national, was right behind Boros at Great Neck with a 66-75—141

Sons Of Famous Fathers

Two sons of famous golfing fathers—Walter Hagen, jr., and Bobby Jones III—were in the field. Hagen qualified at Richmond, Va., with 75-74—149, five over. Jones won an alternate's spot at Atlanta with 151.

Other leading performances during the day included:

Jim Frisina, sr., former Illinois state amateur champion, shot a four-under-par 72-68—140 to show the way at Chicago.

Henry Russell of Miami, Chuck Kocsis of Detroit, Guy Owen of Cut Bank, Mont., and Ray Weston of Spokane, Wash., all bettered par by three strokes to lead their sections.

Gene Dahlbender of Atlanta, the southern amateur champion, shot 73-67—140, two under, to pace qualifiers at the East Lake club in Atlanta. Erv Parent of Seattle, Sam Urzetta of East Rochester, N. Y., and Tyrrell Garth, jr., of Beaumont also had two-under-par rounds to lead their centers

Exempt players, besides Riegel, were Frank Stranahan, who holds both the British and Canadian titles; Robert Sweeny, jr., who won the British amateur in 1937, and these past U. S. champions: Willie Turnesa, 1938; Ted Bishop, 1946 Bud Ward, 1939-41; Dick Chapman, 1940; John W. Fischer, 1936; and Charles (Chick) Evans, jr., 1916-20.

Owner Of Brothel Protected By Court

RENO, Nev., Aug. 19. (AP)—Mae Cunningham says she spent $20,000 on her house of prostitution, and she doesn't want Washoe county to put her out of business.

Contending she would suffer "irreparable loss and injury" if forced to close, she obtained a temporary court order yesterday requiring the county to leave her alone. Hearing was scheduled on the order today.

District Attorney Harold Taber had planned to file an action to close Mae's house on commercial row. The house, known as the Willows or the Cottage, is still legal in Reno, which permits brothels if they are more than 250 feet from a public street or alley.

The city council earlier indicated it would outlaw prostitution at a meeting Monday night. But Mae's attorney, Emerson Wilson, said he would present a petition asking a special election for continuance of prostitution under stringent controls.

FIRST TO ANSWER

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 19. (AP)—Ceylon was the first to answer Count Folke Bernadotte's worldwide appeal for funds to help refugees from Palestine's war.

Ceylon, a British dominion, pledged 50,000 rupees (about $16,000 dollars).

A kangaroo can hop at the rate of about 40 miles an hour.

Jack Dempsey Is To Return

Lubbock's sports fans will again have the opportunity of seeing the former world's heavyweight champion, Jack Dempsey, act as a referee, when the old Manassa Mauler visits Sled Allen's wrestling arena on September 15. The announcement that Dempsey would again come to the Hub city came over the public address system during an intermission of the main grapple and groan event at the arena last night. Dempsey last visited Lubbock when he acted as referee for the Jaycee boxing bouts on July 22.

The feature event Wednesday night saw Al Getz, the durable Dutchman, from Pittsburg, Pa., and his partner, Pat O'Dowdy of Big Spring, win the two-out-of-three falls Australian tag team match at the arena. The two grapplers gained the decision over the favored team of George Curtis, Vicksburg, Miss., and Gil Knutson, Davenport, Iowa.

Getz and O'Dowdy took the first fall in 21 minutes with a series of body slams and reverse crab. Getz needed help from his partner, O'Dowdy who climbed into the ring several times after being tagged by his teammate to apply more slams to gain the second fall in 11 minutes. Getz applied a murderous attack to Curtis and slammed and pushed him all over the ring. Getz and O'Dowdy then won the third fall after Curtis apparently gave up following the beating he took.

In the preliminary setto, Rod Fenton, of Edmonton, Canada won the two-out-of-three falls event over George Lopez of Tampico, Mexico, with a series of body pins and crab. Fenton gained the first fall in 10 minutes, but Lopez came back to take the second with toeholds, punches, and body slams. Fenton then stalked him around the ring to the delight of the capacity crowd, for several minutes before applying a nelson and a shoulder pin to gain the decision. Gorilla Poggi was the referee for both events.

PLAYING WITH A COLT DECK?—Jogging along the Connecticut countryside, Shirley Maizel of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Donald Waters of Lakewood, N. J., combine card playing with horseback riding. The doubleheader was introduced at the Griswold Country Club, Groton, Conn.

Prizes Totaling $325 Will Be Offered In Motorcycle Races

A total of $325 in prize money awaits lucky motorcycle racers Sunday at Buffalo Lakes, where seven events will be run off under the sponsorship of the Lubbock Motorcycle club.

Indications are that several racers from out of town will be present for the races and a crack at the prize money to give given away. Racers from Albuquerque, Clovis and Roswell, N. M., are expected to join others from such Texas points as Odessa, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Lubbock and other cities.

Track Is Good

Tickets, which will sell for $1 including tax, are on sale now at the Lubbock Motorcycle company and can be obtained at the main entrance to Buffalo Lakes Sunday. Motorcycle club members also have tickets for sale.

Arrows will be erected inside the main gate at Buffalo Lakes to direct racing fans to the race track. Lee Christian, president of the Lubbock club, said that the track is one-third of a mile long and has been oiled thoroughly to keep down the dust. The track is in good condition.

Seven Racing Events

The seven races will be divided into four events, with one event consisting of three novice races. Another event will be the expert-amateur race, while a third will be a consolation race for all men failing to win prize money. The final event will be the grand final of 15 laps, with all racers eligible to enter.

The concession stands will be operated by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is assisting the local motorcycle club in sponsoring the races.

Among the racers expected to be on hand are Fred Husky, Christian and C. J. Walkout Of Atomic Workers Protested

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—The Atomic Energy Commission said today a work stoppage at its Los Alamos, N. M., project threatens "serious damage to the nation's atomic weapons program."

The statement was made in a telegram appealing to AFL President William Green to urge idle AFL construction and maintenance workers to return to the job.

Acting Commission Chairman Sumner Pike told Green:

"It is our belief that an appropriate request from you will have the effect of bringing to conclusion this walkout so detrimental to the defense of the American people. Accordingly we urge that you exercise your influence to return these union members to work."

The union workers, employed by five project contractors, left their jobs because a sixth contractor hired non-union labor.

Pike advised Green that more than 3,000 AFL workers were idle yesterday in what union members have described as a "vacation." Pike estimated the number of non-union workers at "not more than 115" and said the contractor who employed them had no contract with the AFL. The telegram added:

"To our knowledge no union officials have even attempted to utilize the orderly procedures provided by law to assist these 115 employees in gaining union recognition.

"The workers who walked out have been employed on maintenance and service operations at the atomic weapons center and also on construction of new and expanding facilities for the nation's atomic defenses. They are organized under the Building Trades Council of the AFL.

"This walkout situation cannot continue for long without causing serious damage to the nation's atomic weapons program."

"Iron Curtain"

to defend Moscow. However, my superior officers have ruled that you have work other than fighting. You are ordered to continue training as specialists and that training can only be done in peaceful surroundings at the reach."

Things at the front were going from bad to worse. Proud Rostov-on-Don surrendered to the Germans and a great despondency settled over us. Shortly after news of the surrender, our chief called us together and read from an official paper.

"This," he began, "is an order from the Commander-in-Chief, Marshal of the Soviet Union and Comrade Stalin."

Commander Removed

We were straining forward. Never before had a Stalin order been read to us.

"Having surrendered Rostov, the Red Army has besmirched its banners for centuries. I have ordered all commanders immediately responsible removed from their posts and their ranks reduced. In order to raise the standard of discipline in the Red Army I order the formation of penal battalions for officers and penal companies of the ranks. The penal companies will be stationed in the front lines in order that the guilty officers and men may redeem their fault with their blood."

"Secondly," the Stalin order continued, "I order the formation of 'restraining companies' to be composed of trusted detachments of the NKVD armed with machine guns. These 'restraining companies' will be stationed behind weak and spiritless regiments with explicit instructions to shoot to kill if the regiments show signs of faltering from their front-line positions . . ."

Subdued And Worried

As we walked away, subdued and worried by this harsh message from our idol, somebody ahead remarked in a loud whisper: "Compulsory bravery!" Another snapped back: "Good soldiers don't retreat."

On still another occasion we were formed up to hear another "Secret Order" of the Red Army. The order noted that officers and soldiers had recently abandoned military equipment in the field of battle when in retreat. In addition, theft of state property was reportedly becoming more frequent.

The order dealt with the situation tersely:

"I order that those guilty of leaving military equipment on the field of battle shall be shot on the spot without trial. For any theft of property I set one form of punishment—immediate execution by firing squad."

It was signed: "Commander-in-Chief, Stalin."

Charged To Individuals

Stalin further demanded that every weapon and piece of military equipment would be charged to a definite individual and in the case of his death would become the full responsibility of the next lower in rank. Officers in command of guns were ordered to defend same with their lives. A higher value was now placed on guns than on human life.

The press and radio news suddenly featured reports of German machine - gunners being found chained to their guns. This propaganda twist was apparently double-edged. For the public, it helped explain why the Germans were fighting so well against our supposedly invincible Red Army. For the Red Army, it was a subtle warning about things to come if desertion of weapons continued.

From the commander of the Kazan garrison came a report that startled our section considerably:

"Major-General Ivanov issued an extra ration to an officer who was leaving for duty elsewhere. I have ordered Major-General Ivanov to be shot."

Knew Him By Sight

Most of knew Major-General Ivanov by sight at least. He was a popular, kindly man not usually associated with the cruel, tyrannical type of Red Army general. It seemed likely that his kindliness had proven his undoing.

If it was the Government's intention to use his death to place stress on a campaign against thefts of military property, the execution was a complete success. Its immediate effort in our school ranks was to cause us to keep a desperately close watch on our suitcases. In common with others, I had my share of enemies among those seeking choice posts at Intelligence Headquarters, and realized the current situation presented unrivalled opportunity for my disposal by planting some piece of equipment in my suitcase and informing on me. I made a habit of checking several times daily.

As the Germans approached the town of Gryaz a new high in ruthless thoroughness was established by the loyal Communist Party committee. A list of names of townspeople was drawn up; people who, it was suspected, would collaborate with the Germans. The list was based, in the main, on quick expressions of suspicion by one or more Party members. As evacuation of the town got under way, armed officers of the NKVD visited the addresses allotted them. They would sharply ask the family name, then the first names. If any names corresponded with those on the list, the shooting was done right there—in full sight of the family.

I have no way of knowing how many executions were thus carried out, but semi-official statistics reported disposal of "thousands of potential collaborators."

This procedure became standard practice in all urban locales subject to immediate evacution. There was no attempt at any kind of probing before placing a person's name on the death list. If you were a Party member, your suspicion was enough to have a fellow inhabitant shot.

In the cases of jails and concentration camps, the Army transferred the inmates if time permitted. Otherwise mass executions were performed to prevent those inmates from possible alliance with the German invaders.

Yet, so effective is Communist Party preaching when extended—from cradle to grave that at the time I sincerely regarded this Stalin-ordered blood-bath of our own countrymen not as a bloody blot on Russian history, but rather as awesome evidence of Stalin's power.

TOUCH OF LIFE FOR MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 (AP)—Advancing steel stocks gave a touch of life to a drowsy market today.

While the main body of stocks nodded along in a fractional price range, some steels managed to move up a point or more.

Volume dropped again, with the day's total in the neighborhood of 550,000 shares.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown Sheet all advanced. Others ahead included Chrysler, Goodyear, Boeing, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, and Standard Oil (NJ).

On the losing side were Goodrich, International Harvester, Cerro de Pasco, Philip Morris, and Gulf Oil.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 (AP)—Cotton futures were irregular in moderately active dealings today.

Prices were lower in early trading, partly influenced by a break in grains, but later recovered partially on short covering and trade buying.

Cotton futures advanced into new high ground in late trading on more aggressive covering by locals and mill buying. The advance was aided by a scarcity of hedge offerings

Futures closed 25 to 60 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 (AP)—Grains made a recovery in late dealings today, reducing or completely cancelling early losses. The rally was led by September corn, which spurted a few cents above the previous close on active short covering.

However, the bulk of the market had a weak undertone. July wheat broke more than 7 cents at one time to a new seasonal low and was not able to get back much of the lost ground.

An early sell-off sent all lard and soymean, as well as December and May corn contracts, to new seasonal lows. The new crop corn deliveries did not follow the late upturn in the September month. Oats made small gains most of the day.

Wheat closed 6 cents lower at 1⅛ higher, September $2.21½-⅝, corn was ⅝ lower to 2⅛ higher, September $1.64-$1.64⅝, oats were ⅛-⅝ higher, September 72⅝-¾.

Five Are Treated In City For Polio

The condition of Carl Shuman, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Shuman of 2823 Walnut, was reported as "very good" this morning at Lubbock Memorial hospital, where he was admitted late Wednesday afternoon for treatment of polio.

An attending physician reported early this afternoon that young Shuman has a very slight weakness in his legs—no paralysis.

Also under treatment at Lubbock Memorial hospital for polio are four other Lubbock and vicinity youngsters, ranging in age from 21 months to seven years.

The list includes Thelma Raindl, 21 months, daughter of J. F. Raindl of Veterans village; Jerry Lee White, 7, son of J. L. White of 222 Ave. P; Charles Revier, 4, son of Frank F. Revier, jr., of 2407 Thirty-second, and Jerry Boyd Hutson, 7, son of J. B. Hutson of Lubbock route 1.

Physicians treating the cases reported today that none of the cases under treatment is critical, and hastened to assure that the incidence of polio cases here "certainly has not assumed anything like epidemic proportions." One said that the peak in polio cases is usually reached here during August, with a decline in the number of cases expected to begin in September.

West Texas hospital and St. Mary's hospital today reported no polio cases under treatment at the present time.

Aged Pioneer Hurt By Bull

Horace W. Hale, 83, who with a brother reputedly established the first stage line between Lubbock and Big Spring just before the turn of the century, remained in very critical condition this morning at Lubbock Memorial hospital —a victim of an infuriated bull.

Plasma and blood transfusions had been administered, and "continuous oxygen," it was announced at the hospital, but Hale remains a very sick man.

The father of Deputy Sheriff Tom Hale of Tahoka was visiting at the deputy's farm 12 miles west of Tahoka when injured.

Bull Turns On Man

He saw the bull caught in a wire fence and, despite earlier warnings to keep his distance from the animal, went into an enclosure and extricated him.

The bull immediately turned on Hale.

Mrs. Tom Hale, jr., English war bride whose husband manages the deputy's farm, was inside the house ironing. She heard a cry and ran outside. Seeing the old-time resident of Tahoka and Gail on the ground being furiously butted and pawed, she rushed out to the public road 200 yards from the residence to hail a passing car and ask help.

It turned out that her husband was in the car. He grabbed a heavy piece of timber and beat the bull off his relative. The injured man was rushed to Tahoka, where a physician's wife administered a hypodermic to relieve pain. A Stanley ambulance raced with Mr. Hale to Lubbock Memorial hospital, where the victim was admitted in extreme shock.

The oldest brother of Mrs. S. W. Sanford of Tahoka, Horace W. Hale moved with his family to Gail about 1898 from San Antonio. The stage line — stages were drawn by relays of horses—was established in 1898 or 1899, relatives said they believed. It was patronized largely by traveling men from Fort Worth, who would board it at Big Spring and come to Lubbock by way of Gail. Here drivers would spend the night, and the return trip would be made next day.

There were blizzards, sand, mud and other hardships that were expected by the hardy pioneers of "fast transportation" in this area.

Tom Hale, jr., sold the bull in an auction ring here Wednesday When the animal was inspected it was discovered that the young farm manager had knocked one of the bull's eyes out with the timber.

Was Visiting Relatives

Relatives said the elderly Mr. Hale had been visiting with his Lynn county son the last three months, having come to this section from Corpus Christi. He has observed a habit of "visiting around with various of his sons and daughters" since his wife died, it was explained.

He had been exceptionally well preserved before his injury; his hair had not grayed completely and he retained his natural teeth. He enjoyed walking about the farm and would have enjoyed assisting with some of the lighter work there. Seeing the bull's predicament, it was "only natural" that he tried to help the animal, it was said.

Had the bull not been dehorned, it is probable that he would have killed Mr. Hale, relatives said. As it was, there were suffered several lacerations of the head, face and arms, as well as a more serious chest injury, it was learned.

Several relatives are here awaiting information of Mr. Hale's condition, and others were en route Wednesday night.

Man Is Held

the man clipped out an obscene negative and ran off under the bright light of a full moon.

Mr. and Mrs. Beene went to a nearby phone and telephoned police. A few minutes later L. P. Miller and J. M. Clary, police patrolmen, arrested Allen in 1100-block Ave. H.

Detective Capt. Pat Davidson's official reports showed a notation that Allen "admitted" going into the cabin. The officer said the defendant claimed his memory "blacked out" then—and could remember nothing more.

The prisoner had $47 in his possession when arrested.

Suspect Is Identified

Mrs. Beene gave a complete statement to assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr. She said she and her husband positively identified the suspect when confronted with him.

Another pair of trousers was explored in the 300 Ave. J quarters of E. A. Raschell, a compress nightwatchman, police were informed. Money totaling $2, Army discharge papers and other properties were removed, Raschell said.

State rangers lodged 26-year-old Jesse Rea Robertson of Seagraves in Lubbock county jail after his arrest by Ranger Razz Renfrow at Silver City, N. M., it was announced. Officials said charges of burglary and theft, swindling over $50, and forgery had been filed against him at Brownfield, Van Horn and Fort Stockton. He was said to be wanted for questioning at approximately six other South Plains points.

H. W. Early of the Avinger addition complained to the sheriff's department that a portable (Singer) sewing machine had been taken from his quarters.

A county court judgment of $50 and costs, as well as a six-months revocation of driver's license, was filed this morning by Judge Walter Davies on a drunk driving complaint. It named Hubert K. Hansford, 23, of Lubbock.

James Weldon Vasser, 19, of Oklahoma, charged in Brownfield with rape Monday of a 21-year-old Terry county woman, was remanded to custody in denial of bail. He was jailed here after his return from Brownwood, where he had been arrested Tuesday by Texas Highway patrol officials. The next Terry county grand jury meets Monday.

No other charges have been filed aganist the man, County Attorney H. B. Virgil Crawford said, but the man will be questioned in connection with two car thefts, an alleged armed robbery and other offenses. Complaining witnesses in the rape charge and in the robbery had appeared to establish identity of the suspected man, Crawford said.

Vasser was returned from Brownwood by Sheriff Ocie Murry, Highway Patrolman Amos Eggen, jr., and Brownfield Constable Luther Jones.

Ruth Funeral

slowly away for interment of his body in a receiving vault in Gate of Heaven cemetery, Mount Pleasant, N. Y.

The great doors of the cathedral were open to the public—symbolic, said friends, of the Babe's open heart to the people in the bleachers and the kids in distant places to whom his name meant great sportsmanship.

Mayors Are There

Among those present were Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, where the Babe began his big league career with the Red Sox, and Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore where Ruth first got his feel of a baseball mitt.

Msgr. Joseph F. Flannelly was celebrant of the high mass for the great Yankee's batter who died of cancer Monday night in Memorial hospital at the age of 53.

The Babe's widow, Mrs. Claire Ruth; their two adopted daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan and Mrs. Richard Flanders; and the Babe's sister, Mrs. Wilbur Moderly, arrived early at the cathedral.

Traffic Grows Still

The list of those who filed up the wide grey steps of the cathedral read like the headlines of the sports pages—today's as well as yesterday's: Jack Dempsey and Connie Mack; Leo Durocher and Moe Berg.

As great as the tribute of the famous was the grave silence of a police-estimated 50,000 persons who waited mutely outside the cathedral and on the route taken by the hearse from the funeral chapel to the cathedral.

The usually noisy canyons of midtown Manhattan were hushed as the Babe's body as born behind mounted police from the Lexington Avenue funeral home.

The tangle of traffic grew still, thousands looked silently down from skyscraper windows and rooftops as the measured clopping of the policemen's horses echoed in the streets.

Body In State Two Days

Msgr. Flannelly and his assistants went to the main entrance of the cathedral to meet the casket as it was borne from the hearse.

The crowd was still. A few wept.

Those who could not press into the cathedral waited outside to see the Babe's funeral cortege move to Gate of Heaven cemetery in suburban Westchester county where his body will be placed in a receiving vault.

The thousands who jammed the streets marked the climax of three days of mourning and tributes to the Babe.

More than 100,000 persons filed past his body as it lay in state in the lobby of Yankee stadium for two days. Mrs. Ruth had requested it, mindful of what the Babe meant to the public who never forgot him.

Young and old, rich and poor, they came from hundreds of miles to look on his face for the last time.

Only a small section of the church was reserved for members of Ruth's immediate family, the honorary pallbearers and the Yankee baseball team.

Ruth's family said the Babe would have wanted most of the church left open to the general public—the kind of people who filled the bleachers when he still was wearing his big No. 3.

The Babe's widow, Claire, has asked that the public be admitted to the cemetery for committal services for Ruth, who died Monday night of cancer.

Spy Probe

City investigating espionage. Chambers has acknowledged to the House committee that he was a Communist from 1924-1937 and worked with a Communist underground in Washington.

The Justice department has declined to comment on this in any way, repeating that it will not discuss proceedings still in progress before a grand jury.

Mr. Truman said he could say categorically that the government's loyalty program has been a success.

He added that the Justice department has been at work for some time on a proposed new loyalty statute.

He said it was a very difficult thing to get a statute that does not infringe on the Bill of Rights.

Wants No Gestapo Law

He said sharply that he does not want any gestapo law that does infringe on the Bill of Rights.

"Do you consider that the House hearings have infringed on the Bill of Rights?" a reporter asked.

The President replied yes, that he does.

The congressional spy investigations are going ahead with their search for new evidence. They said they had lined up three new witnesses for secret testimony before the House committee.

delivered to the Soviet ambassador by this evening."

President Truman indicated today other Soviet citizens will be given asylum in this country if they want to follow the example of the Russian school teacher in New York and seek refuge here.

Mr. Truman was asked whether the same right of asylum as this government has promised to the teachers would apply to other Soviet citizens in similar circumstances.

He answered emphatically that this right always has applied in such cases.

Ruling Is Explained

Gross, in his ruling, noted that the State department already has advised Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin that it recognizes Russia's right to extend through its officials abroad "all proper assistance and protection to Soviet nationals."

But, he concluded, "this right does not include authority to take charge of Soviet citizens in this country irrespective of their wishes."

Officials privately have expressed sharp displeasure with Lomakin's role in the bizarre case of Mrs. Kosenkina.

Press Officer McDermott was asked whether the U. S. will ask Moscow to recall him but replied that he had nothing to say on this matter.

Marshall himself laid the basis for a sweeping rejection and probably a stern rebuke to the Soviets when he said yesterday that evidence now available to the State department does not bear out their charges against the American government and some of its officials.

Marshall went on to say that the United States views these charges with serious concern. Not only are they unsupported by the evidence, he said, but they actually are refuted by the actions of Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, one of the teachers involved.

Mrs. Kosenkina's most dramatic action was to leap last week from a third story window of the Soviet consulate in New York. This came about after consulate officials had insisted she was not being confined there but rather was enjoying the protection of Soviet authorities following her "rescue" by them from a White Russian refugee farm.

Known To Be Untrue

The implication of Marshall's comment appeared to be that he considers the Soviets have made charges which in some respects at least they knew were not true.

The Soviet attitude toward the case of Mrs. Kosenkina and the similar refusal of Mr. and Mrs. Mikhail Samarine to return to Russia is the direct opposite of the official American view.

There has been no indication that the Russians intend to modify their stand at any point, regardless of what facts the American government may be able to establish. Thus the ultimate result of the exchange of notes seems certain to be another diplomatic stalemate between Moscow and Washington.

Hog Prices

set for livestock at stockyards yesterday.

Public Will Have To Pay

"There isn't any middleman who can absorb these new hikes," he said. "The packers, wholesalers and butchers have gone beyond the margin where they could take up the price increases and stay in business.

"They will simply have to be passed on to the public."

Dressler said the retail price boosts would be general throughout the country and would reach down to the corner butcher shops in about a week.

At Washington, Agriculture department officials said milk prices, already at an all-time high, will go even higher during the next four months.

The department said some price relief may come after the first of the year but that seasonally low production will force prices higher in the immediate future.

right now if you want it."

The amazed Wells asked if the dealer could ship the auto to the United States. The dealer balked at this, but said he could arrange for Wells to get the auto at the South Bend, Ind., manufacturing plant for the London price.

He did.

But at South Bend, Ind., a company spokesman said that the pilot had gotten quick delivery on the new car by ordering it through a London dealer but had saved nothing except the shipping charges.

Gen. Eaker Speaks Of Dangers To Nation In Interview Here

Two dangerous elements threaten the security of the United States, Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, retired deputy commander of the Army Air Forces and chief of air staff, declared in a visit to Lubbock this morning.

"The first of these is Communism, but following closely behind is those people who say: 'Everything's all right, let's don't do anything now; wait until we see what's going to happen.' Those people are about as dangerous as the Communists in my opinion," the former Air Forces leader said in a brief interview between planes at Lubbock municipal airport. He talked with Lubbock civic leaders at the airport.

Spoke For Johnson

Gen. Eaker was en route via Pioneer Airlines from San Angelo to Amarillo, where he was to board a TWA plane for his home in Santa Monica, Calif. He made a flying trip this week to his native West Texas to help out in Cong. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign for the U. S. Senate.

"Every air force veteran should support him (Johnson) for he is a very able fellow and was in the forefront in the fight for unification (of armed forces)," Gen. Eaker declared. He termed unification the wisest peace legislation which has been passed in Congress since colonial days.

"The Russians have been upset in their time-table," Gen. Eaker said.

"They thought we would be disarmed completely by this time and in the midst of a depression during which they could be starting fifth-column work. But they may figure out it's better to start now before we get stronger."

Eaker, who retired last year after 30 years service, said he made radio talks at San Angelo, Abilene and Big Spring Wednesday "in the interest of national security." Of Johnson, he said: "He understands the international situation and the kind of world in which we live today."

Action On City's Crime Problem Pledged By County Attorney-Elect At Club Meet

Citing what he called a "definite problem" evidenced by 3,600 inmates in the city and county jails here since Jan. 1, Waggoner Carr, county attorney-elect, told the Kiwanis club at luncheon today at Hotel Lubbock that "something should be done about it."

Carr pledged his full cooperation in such an undertaking, and suggested that some means of exchange of information, particularly on "cold check" problems, should be worked out between officers and business men.

Other Offenses Involved

He felt also that other types of law violations could be dealt with more adequately through better cooperation of law enforcement officers and the public.

Carr was introduced by Jim Denton, program chairman. Club President Jack Davis read a letter from Irving Jones, chairman of the arrangements committee for the traveling salesmen's barbecue to be held here Sept. 3, urging club cooperation in the project.

E. J. (Pinkey) Lowery, business manager of athletics at the high school announced that box seat tickets for games this fall are now available.

The club paid tribute to the memory of Dr. J. W. Rollo, long time member who died yesterday in one minute of silence, followed by a prayer and invocation by Dr. Jack M. Lewis, who is to officiate at funeral services for the physician Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at First Presbyterian church.

Harry Delaney, chairman of the club's inter-club relations committee, announced that a group of about 25 Kiwanians from three Fort Worth clubs will present next week's program. The group is to arrive that morning by special pullman.

Eleven Nearoes Are Fined For Vagrancy

Business men got tired of a bunch of negroes who had a habit of ganging in an alley of 700-block Broadway, so asked police to take a hand.

Police acted by arresting 11 of them for vagrancy.

None could show any visible means of support. Police said they apparently did nothing except gamble and loiter.

Fines of $25 were assessed, after all had pleaded guilty of charges.

Only two had paid early this afternoon. The others were remanded to custody.

TWO PLANS ARE BEING DEBATED

Berlin May Issue Its Own Currency

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Aug. 19—Berlin's city government may issue its own currency in an attempt to unravel the city's East-West monetary snarl.

The anti-Communist city administration announced last night it is debating two plans as a solution to the currency mix-up, resulting from circulation here of rival eastern and western marks.

1. To issue an emergency currency for the city.

2. To make the western mark exclusive currency in western Berlin in order to overcome the difficulties caused by the Soviet blocking of eastern mark accounts in the city's western sectors.

In western Berlin both the eastern and western German currencies now are legal. In the Soviet sector only the eastern mark is valid.

Russia's blocking of these East mark accounts has made it virtually impossible for the city government and western sector firms to pay wages, because the West had directed that three-fourths of al salaries were to be paid in eastern marks.

The second plan already has been proposed to the western commanders by three anti-Communist political parties in Berlin and the anti-Communist Trade Federation.

On the other side, the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity party (SED) has demanded "immediate and unconditional" removal of the western mark, the reestablishment of political, administrative and economic unity throughout all Berlin and the "tying of Berlin to its natural hinterland, the Soviet occupation zone."

Last night the British military government condemned, in what an official spokesman described as "the strongest language yet used toward the Russians," a unilateral Soviet order dismissing the director of the Berlin central coal organization.

British Denounce Move

The British denounced the move as "one of the long series of orders deligerately designed to undermine the authority of the city government for political motives."

The body was set up by the Allies under a four-power administration. The Russian move appeared to parallel their action in forcing a split recently in the city's moving their own Communist staff into the offices which are located in the Russian sector of the city.

The coal director, a Herr Mueckenberger, was charged with "inactivity and disorganization tactics," by the Russians and ordered to turn his post over to a Herr Neuberger within 24 hours.

The British said the order was "pernicious" and without legal basis and added they could not "recognize this order nor any similar order which violates the constitutional rights of the people of Berlin."

Rollo Funeral Is Set Friday

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Friday at the First Presbyterian church for Dr. James W. Rollo, 65, of 1802 Ave. S, who died at 4:05 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Lubbock Memorial hospital. He had been taken there about noon Monday suffering from a heart condition. Dr. Rollo had been Lubbock's city health officer for the past 22 years.

Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor, will officiate at the services, following which a Masonic graveside service will be held in Lubbock cemetery.

The body will lie in state at Sanders Funeral home, 1420 Main, until 9 a. m., Friday, when it will be moved to the family residence until time for the services.

Was Widely Known

In addition to his duties as city health officer, Dr. Rollo carried on a private practice and served as surgeon for the Santa Fe railroad here. His short, stockily built and meticulously dressed figure had become a familiar sight to the many residents of Lubbock who remember his coming to this city 24 years ago.

Survivors, in addition to his wife, are two sons, Dr. K. B. Rollo of San Antonio, and C. J. Rollo, a construction engineer at Houston; and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be J. O. Green, L. E. Davis, W. H. Rodgers, Dick Medlock, Joe Dick Slaughter, Jerry Jarvis, W. E. Twitty and Dr. M. H. Benson.

Honorary bearers include Bill Williams, Sam McMillan, Joe Wilson, Lewis Kittrell, Ely Fonville, Cullen Hardin, Bill Price, W. E. Boyd of Plainview; members of the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical association, and all members of Lubbock Fire department.

Born at Streator, Ill., on June 25, 1883, he attended grade and high school there, moving to the Indian territory of Oklahoma in 1900.

He married the former Lillie Bell at Gage, Okla., in 1905, and was graduated from medical school at the University of Oklahoma in 1913. He later enlisted for duty in the first World War and served as a captain in the medical corps.

On his discharge from the Army, Dr. Rollo took up his practice in Shattuck, Okla., where he remained until he moved to Lubbock in 1924.

Dr. Rollo is credited with the responsibility for a large part of Lubbock's present impressive health and sanitation program, and the numerous health ordinances now in effect here.

One of the outstanding ordinances which he helped to write and enforce is that concerning the handling and marketing of milk. As a result of that ordinance and its enforcement, Lubbock was the first city in the state since the war to return to the so-called federal "honor roll" in recognition of the city's high standards in regard to handling of milk from the dairy barn to the market.

Also credited to Dr. Rollo's persistence is the recently enacted ordinance which rigidly controls the slaughter of meat animals in Lubbock, and he led the way in drawing up the ordinance which set up higher sanitary standards for eating establishments.

Worked Long Hours

Over his many years of service here, he has contributed his energies to the enforcement of health laws and practices which have helped bring Lubbock widespread recognition as one of the cleanest cities in the Southwest.

In addition to his interests in health and good city government in general, Dr. Rollo gained many friends and admirers in the city through his humanitarianism and his sincere interest in the problems of those he knew.

A seemingly tireless man, he could often be found at the city fire station late at night playing dominoes with the firemen, or at the city police station visiting with the officers on duty. He took an active interest in law enforcement, and often rode the police patrol cars to study the workings of the department at first hand.

Officials of the police department, the fire department and the sheriff's department praised highly the veteran physician's spirit of cooperativeness.

News Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Martin of Greenville are visiting their daughter, Jewel Laird, of 316 Hub Homes, who is recovering from a major operation.

The regular monthly board meeting of the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association, scheduled Friday noon at the Hilton hotel, has been cancelled as result of the death of Dr. J. W. Rollo, a member of the board.

Rabbi Julius Kerman will conduct services of the Congregation Shaareth Israel at the temple, 1706 Twenty-third, Friday evening at eight o'clock.

Former residents of Young county will hold their annual reunion at Mackenzie State Park Sunday, August 29, according to George E. Mayes, Crosbyton, secretary of the group. Those who plan to attend are asked to bring dinner baskets for a picnic. John Steadham of Crosbyton is president.

One hundred sixty-nine absentee ballots had been requested through this morning, the office of County Clerk Louie F. Moore said. Eighty-one of them had been marked in his offices, the remaining 88 mailed to Lubbock county persons visiting in numerous states.

Mrs. Frank R. Wheeler of Lubbock, a sister of Miss Ruth Jones, elevator operator in the county courthouse, has reached Germany, a cablegram received here said. When Mrs. Wheeler left Lubbock Aug. 7 to join her husband, a civil service official at Erding Air depot, she expected to have to wait for a boat. But air transportation to Frankfurt had been arranged. She enplaned at New York City Monday morning and landed at Frankfurt Tuesday night, her sister was informed. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler plan to remain in Germany two years.

Campaign Pledge To Get Farm Vote Is Expected From Dewey

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 — A Democratic farm vote challenge was thought likely today to be answered by a campaign pledge from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to back a strong price support program.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky put up the sign posts for Democratic farm belt strategy with his assertion at Springfield, Ill., that farmers can choose in November between high prices under the Democrats or low prices under the Republicans.

Gov. Earl Warren of California had a chance—if he chose to take it—to answer his vice presidential opponent on the same Illinois state fair platform today.

But the major Republican edict on agricultural policy is expected to come from Dewey on the GOP preisdential nominee's projected cross-country campaign tour.

Hired Labor Factor

Unless he changes his mind, Dewey is expected to outline a program under which the government would continue to put a loan floor under farm prices.

Loans on most major crops now are made at 90 per cent of parity, a formula aimed at keeping farm prices in line with the prices of things the grower buys.

Congress continued the present price support program for a year, but voted to put into effect on Jan. 1, 1950, a long range proposal under which loan floors would be slightly lower on field crops but a little higher on livestock and dairy products.

Dewey is expected to indicate any changes he may have in mind for this long-range program.

Its parity formula doesn't take into account the cost of hired farm labor, a point that Dewey said in Corvallis, Ore., last May must be given "consideration." Experts said the labor cost factor would raise the price support level in most years.

During his Oregon campaign, Dewey outlined his ideas on general farm legislation.

Barkley Accuses GOP

He said essential points include soil conservation, irrigation to boost productive acreage, development of animal agriculture and its by-products, a strong parity price support program, better handling by the Interior department of Western resources and stabilization of the wool and sugar beet markets in favor of "substantial" production.

Dewey criticized the administration for "shiftng from expedient to expedient" in dealing with farmers. He said he resented "unfair attacks" on farm cooperatives.

Barkley had accused the Republicans of trying to scuttle the cooperatives by cutting off their tax exemptions. He credited President Truman with stopping this move.

The Kentucky senator's talk apparently was only the first of an intensive drive the Democrats plan in the farm belt, which went Republican in a big way in the 1946 congressional elections.

Tobin Will Speak

Dewey's strategists evidently are counting on heavy support for him in the rural areas to offset the bid President Truman has made for labor support with his call for repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

In this connection, the Democratic national committee announced today that Maurice J. Tobin, Mr. Truman's new secretary of labor, will share the speaker's platform at a Labor day rally in Akron with AFL President William Green.

Mr. Truman will launch his own campaign that day with a major address in Detroit and five other speeches in Michigan.

Democratic national chairman J. Howard McGrath said after a conference with the President yesterday that Mr. Truman will set out shortly thereafter on other speaking tours.

He will be on the road most of the time after mid-September, McGrath said, adding that while Mr. Truman will not visit every state he will go into every section of the country, including the South.

Republicans Criticized

Dewey, still blocking out his campaign plans, talked again yesterday with House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr., of Massachusetts. At a news conference afterwards, Martin replied to a question as to whether he would defend the record of the 80th Congress during the campaign:

"The 80th Congress doesn't need defending. We are going to brag about the 80th Congress."

One of Martin's top aides, Rep. Halleck of Indiana, the Republican leader of the House, drew Democratic fire last night.

Rep. Kirway of Ohio said in a statement distributed through the national committee: "It is unfortunate that Congressman Halleck is acting with increasing frequency as the Republican spokesman in the field of our bi-partisan for eign policy.

"No one would dispute Halleck's authority as spokesman for the do-nothing faction of the Republican party on domestic issues, but when he enters into foreign affairs he brings up the shade of the Republican isolationists who struggled so hard to make America weak—not strong—in the years before Pearl Harbor."

COL. ALVIN M. OWSLEY
Democrat, former Minister to Rumania, Irish Free State and Denmark, former National Commander American Legion, presented Confederate Service Cross and was decorated by Governments of France and Poland. Col. Owsley will speak over WBAP, KXYZ, KTSA, KTBC, 8:00 P. M., THURSDAY, AUGUST 19TH, in interes. of Republican National Ticket, under the auspices of State Republican Executive Committee of Texas.

Backache, Leg Pains May Be Danger Sign Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. Adv

Government Jobs Offer Vast Assortment Of Opportunities

By ARTHUR EDSON
(FOR HAL BOYLE)
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—My, my, the opportunities a growing boy has nowadays!

When I was a squirt in Monett, Mo., there didn't seem to be many careers to choose from.

At various times I seriously considered such interesting careers as driving a delivery truck for Floreth's hardware, being a switchman on the railroad, or beating a bass drum in a circus band.

I don't recall that at any time I ever thought much about working for the U. S. government.

Mistake Made Possibly

That may have been a mistake.

For the government today, with more than 2,000,000 employes, is the world's greatest employer. And a boy, or girl, can look forward to being anything from a community management specialist to a zone senior chief cost auditor.

Government is so complex and varied there is almost no end to the types of jobs at which the growing boy can aim.

Like to inspect tracks? The Interstate Commerce commission has a track inspector. He peers at railroad tracks.

Want to be a copyright clearance specialist? See the Library of Congress.

Worries All The Way

Your government worries about you all the way. For the social security administration has these jobs:

For the baby—consultant in maternity and infant nursing service.

For the child (good)—child welfare analyst.

For the child (erring)—juvenile delinquency consultant.

For the parent (good or erring)—consultant in parent education.

And when we grow old, the Federal Security agency totters in. It has a gerontologist, a specialist in the characteristics of old age.

One government job should especially appeal to the young. Over in the commerce department there's a man whose chores include counting the nation's annual output of jellybeans.

But whoa, there! I saw it first.

Italian Sculptor Claimed By Death

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 19 (AP)—Death has claimed Italian sculptor Salvatore C. Scarpitta, 61.

He succumbed yesterday after a short illness. Scarpitta came to New York from his native Palermo in 1910 and to Hollywood 10 years later. His works were hung in New York and in Pacific coast galleries.

Scarpitta was trapped in Italy by the outbreak of World War II and became the leader of an underground rescue organization to help American and Allied prisoners of war to hamper German and Italian war efforts.

His widow, Nadia, and five children, survive.

Abernathy Vet Reunited With His French Bride After Return From Duty In Germany

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

ABERNATHY, Aug. 19.—Walter L. Rutledge of Abernathy and his war bride from France are reunited, they hope for good, after having endured a period of long separation.

Rutledge is a civilian again, having received his discharge from the Army at Camp Kilmer, N. J., July 28. He is taking some time to rest and "just loaf" a while at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Rutledge, in Abernathy. The elder Mr. Rutledge is Abernathy's city marshal.

Mrs. Rutledge, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pingret of Mercon-et-Vaux, Aisne, France, was the former Miss Mauricette Helene Pingret.

Movies Aid To Language

She met Cpl. Rutledge over there and they were married in Reims, France, Dec. 26, 1946.

After their marriage they were together until April, 1947, when Rutledge was transferred to occupation in Germany.

At that time Mrs. Rutledge came to the United States and arrived in Abernathy more than a year ago.

Although she spoke little English, she applied herself diligently to learning the language, and today she speaks English well, with a delightful accent.

During her husband's absence she has become a movie fan and attributes much of her progress in learning English to going to the movies regularly.

Speaks French When Excited

Meanwhile, Rutledge remained in Frankfurt, Germany, until his "hitch" was up, then was sent back to the States, landing in New York July 28.

Then, following his discharge at Camp Kilmer, he rushed home.

In moments of excitement, Mrs. Rutledge is still inclined to lapse unconsciously into her native language.

Such a moment was when her husband arrived in the States and telephoned her. He had to remind her that his French was limited.

Mrs. Rutledge says she likes Abernathy and feels no desire to return to France, except for a visit, and she describes everything on the South Plains as "so new" in contrast to her native country.

Her first West Texas sandstorm frightened her, and she paced the floor from window to window.

On several occasions since she has been in Abernathy Mrs. Rutledge has had an opportunity to visit with other French war brides on the South Plains and converse in French with them.

Recently she attended, with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gregory, an outing of Southwestern Public Service company employes at Plainview country club.

EXPLOSIVE CREATES SHOCK WAVE

Man-Made Earthquakes Rock Ocean Bottom In Oil Search

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Aug. 19 (AP)—Three oil companies are engaged in an exciting gamble off the Santa Barbara coast, using man-made earthquake in an effort to find vast new sources of petroleum for fuel-hungry America.

Dull reverberations of a potent new explosive called EP-126 (nitrocarbonate) create shock waves as deep as 15,000 feet below the ocean bottom. Never before has man sought to pump oil from rock cavities underlying the open sea itself.

Extraction Problem Tougher

The venture is costing Shell, Union and Continental oil companies $2,500 a day. On October 1, 13 concerns will pool their resources for a risky survey of the submerged lands from Point Conception to Pont Estero.

If the analysis of complicated geophysical profile and contour charts shows that oil does exist under the floor of the Pacific, an even tougher problem lies ahead, that of extracting the fuel.

The process of extracting possibly would entail the creation of an artificial island offshore from which drills could whipstock into the oily treasure troves, or it might involve a caisson rig with waterproof drill manipulated by electronic remote control aboard a surface vessel.

The sea exploration job goes on, five days a week, with three tiny fleets in operation. The techniques in use are as old as Chang Heng's "earthquake viewer," invented in 132 A. D., and as mysteriously new as "shoran," the World War II navigation miracle.

United Geophysical Co., has been surveying the waters from Ventura to an area northwest of Santa

ATTENTION LUBBOCK FARMERS!

Prizes For First Bale Are Offered

Announcement Wednesday morning that James Putty, who farms about 12 miles southwest of Brownfield, has brought in the first bale of 1948 South Plains cotton, has prompted announcement here by Junior Chamber of Commerce members of plans regarding the first bale of cotton to be grown and ginned in Lubbock county.

The Lubbock Jaycees, as in past years, are again assuming responsibility of auctioning the first bale of cotton for 1948 grown and ginned in this county, and a handsome list of prizes, which will go to the farmer winning that honor, has already been announced by Rufus Rush and A. G. Graham, co-chairmen of the Jaycee agricultural committee.

Committee members, who have already solicited 26 prizes for the farmer bringing in the first bale, hope to "at least double" that number by the time the first bale is in, according to Rush.

Plans for this year's auction are similar to those for last year, though final details have not been laid down. The bale will go on display on the courthouse square, and will probably be auctioned on the Saturday afternoon of the week the bale is brought in. Kenneth Bozeman again will handle the public sale, and other tentative plans call for the auction to be broadcast and for interviews with the farmer and his family on a local radio station.

According to Jaycee contest rules, the cotton must be grown and ginned in Lubbock county in 1948, must be a normal-sized bale weighing at least 450 pounds, and the gin tickets must be brought to the Jaycee office in the city hall. Owner of the first ticket brought in will be declared the winner—if his bale is ginned under contest rules.

Winning Bales Recalled

Merchants desiring to give gifts or merchandise certificates may have their names added to the list by calling their contribution to the Jaycee office (telephone 6861), according to Rush.

The first 1947 bale was turned in Monday, Aug. 25, by D. A. Billingsly, Lubbock county farmer of near Monroe, and the bale, weighing 452 pounds, was auctioned to Hub Lee of Hub Lee Tire company at public auction on Saturday, Aug. at $1.35 a pound, a total of $610.20 for the bale. The winning

Man Refuses Rescue In Quest For Death

SAN MATEO, Calif., Aug. 19 (AP)—A man so determined to die that he resisted efforts to pry him loose from a rail was killed under a fast freight last night.

George McLeod of San Mateo told police he saw the man take his position across the rail and tried to pull him clear but couldn't loosen his grip.

Persons living nearby said they had seen the man, tentatively identified by police as Peter Zannon, 59, San Mateo, standing at the crossing on several evenings, apparently making up his mind to die.

Soldier Convicted Of Killing Chaplain

YOKOHAMA, Aug. 19. (AP)—Pvt. William C. Manis of Church Hill, Tenn., was convicted today of murdering Capt. John A. Ryan of Philadelphia, a Catholic chaplain, and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The general court martial sentence is subject to the review of the Yokohama base commander, Brig. Gen. Crump Garvin.

Manis was convicted on the testimony of a Japanese prostitute. She said the young soldier shot the chaplain near Sugamo prison, where both of the Americans were stationed, when the priest reprimanded the soldier for appearing in public with his arm around a prostitute.

The soldier denied the shooting, which occurred on the night of April 5.

REDS SMOKE UP

MOSCOW.—(AP)—The Soviet tobacco industry produced 74.3 billion cigarettes in 1947. This, says a letter from tobacco workers of the nation, represented an increase of 46 per cent over 1946 output. The letter, published in all important newspapers, says that in 1948 production was to be 90 billion cigarettes, or 21 per cent over 1947.

Bus Strikers Try New Plan

DETROIT, Aug. 19. (AP)—Suburban Dearborn commuters, stranded for two days by a strike against the Dearborn Coach Co., could ride today in jitneys manned by the strikers.

The Dearborn city council authorized use of jitney service last night. Immediately 40 of the AFL bus operators who walked out early Tuesday in a wage dispute were licensed as drivers.

City officials said the strikers would drive their own cars and keep all they collect in fares—set at the same rates the buses charged. By the end of the day Dearborn expected to have 160 jitney drivers on the job.

Wage Offer Withdrawn

Lincoln Park, another of the nine suburban cities affected by the strike, planned to put the same system into effect.

The 420 striking drivers and maintenance men, members of AFL street car and bus operators union division 1265, are demanding a pay boost of 15 cents an hour. The company made and then withdrew an offer to raise wages 10 cents hourly. It said any more would force a fare increase, the second this year.

Dearborn city officials then said they would fight any raise in fares, and authorized the jitney plan.

Union division president Walter Manning gave it his prompt approval.

Comedian Pulls Gag But It Saves Money

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19 (AP)—Film Actress Dorothy Ryan probably will be wondering clear through the marriage ceremony today whether her fiance, Comedian Jimmy Conlon, will pull any more gags.

When they went to the license bureau yesterday Conlon, 63, ordered Miss Ryan, 41, to kick in with half the $2 fee.

Flabbergasted, she fished $1 from her purse while Jimmy chuckled: "Equal rights for women, you know."

They met 20 years ago in Seattle when Miss Ryan substituted on a vaudeville bill for Conlon's first wife and partner, Dorothy Glass, who had become ill. The first Mrs. Conlon died several years ago.

ABSENTEE BALLOTS TO BE CAST

Lubbock Residents Will Vote In Many Sections Of Country

From Manzanita, Ore., to Boston, Mass., and from Lake Mills, Wis., to the Texas border, Lubbock residents are sending in their requests for absentee ballots for the Aug. 28 run-off election, a check of the county clerk's records revealed yesterday.

Although 52 of the 88 requests received by mail through yesterday were from Texas, California had eight, New Mexico six and there were letters from Lubbock persons in nine other states besides the three already mentioned.

For Various Reasons

The addresses indicated many were on business trips, but for others it meant visits with relatives hunting, fishing and hiking in cool Colorado, New Mexico and Oregon; stops at historic shrines like those in Arlington, Va., and relaxation in sunny California. And, for three, they probably meant the sound of marching feet and the bugle call.

Other than cities in Texas, Arlington—site of the famed national cemetery—was host to the most Lubbock residents, a group of five from the Hub City mailing their requests from that city.

Deadline for absentee voting is next Tuesday.

List Is Given

California—Judge and Mrs. E. L. Pitts, Los Altos; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Foster and Mrs. Earl Moore, Hawthorne; Mrs. W. T. Berry, San Diego; Mrs. Lillian N. Moss and Miss Lillian Moss, La Jolla.

New Mexico—Lt. R. C. Harris, Jr., Alamogordo; Mrs. R. C. Harris, Ruidoso; Mrs. F. C. Webster and Mrs. W. C. Shelton, Mountainaire; W. M. Clark, Hobbs, and W. A. Beasley, Albuquerque.

Virginia—Mr. and Mrs. Marcus O. Owens, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Fisher and Conn D. Atherton, all in Arlington.

Colorado—Mr .and Mrs. George W. Dupree, Eldora, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Jones, Chipita Park.

Southwest Scurry Well Shows Free Oil; Drilling Continues

Cities Service Oil company No. 1 W. F. Burney, southwest Scurry county deep wildcat, developed some free oil in a drillstem test in the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvanian at 7,349-7,415 feet.

The tool was open for one hour and 30 minutes. Gas of an unreported amount showed at the surface in 12 minutes.

Recovery was 120 feet of oil cut mud, which was 30 per cent oil; 130 feet of free oil; and 170 feet of mud cut oil, estimated to have been 70 per cent oil. No formation water was developed.

Location Given

The prospector is drilling ahead. It is about 15 miles southwest of Snyder, on the northwest side of the shallow Sharon Ridge field, and 1,980 feet from north and 2,130 feet from west lines of section 143, block 97, H&TC survey.

The venture is slated to go to around 8,500 feet, to explore the Ellenburger—unless it develops commercial production before reaching that horizon.

After swabbing at the rate of about 10 barrels of oil per hour, from pay in the Cisco lime section of the Pennsylvanian, at 9,405-55 feet, for an extended period, Seaboard Oil company of Delaware, northeast Terry county wildcat, is to resume drilling.

Greater Depth Possible

Operator representatives say that the venture may be carried on down to the Ellenburger—unless it develops better production above that zone, than has so far been indicated.

The 9,405-55 foot section had been treated with 500 gallons of mud acid, and with 1,000 gallons and with 7,000 gallons of regular acid.

That section had showed for a possible production of around 50 barrels of oil per hour, flowing, natural, on drillstem tests. However, after setting pipe operator was never able to make the well show above the 10 barrels of oil per hour, and it would not flow regularly.

No formation water has been developed. Some informed sources expect the exploration to find more pay in the Pennsylvanian.

Bat, Cat And Kits Have A Merry Race

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19 (AP)—Minnie, the city hall cat, wants it plainly understood—they'll be no bats in her bailiwick.

Minnie, who is currently engaged in raising a brood of five kittens, discovered a bat zooming up and down city hall corridors yesterday.

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Orphan Children Homeless As "Property Rights" Asserted

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 (AP)—Forty-two children were homeless today while attorneys battled over their fate.

The children, ranging from three to 13, are charges of the Illinois Protestant children's home. They returned last night from a Wisconsin camp to find their southside home was closed to them.

The superior court, while they were away, had kept in force an injunction forbidding them to use the house. The injunction was obtained by a group of 17 neighbors who said the maintenance of the home violated zoning ordinances.

William J. Lynch, attorney for the home, told the court, "this suit is brought by a group of small men engaged in a nefarious conspiracy to deprive us of the home, have the area rezoned for apartments, and transform it to an apartment building."

He said a master-in-chancery plans to recommend dismissal of the suit.

Manly K. Hunt, attorney for the plaintiffs, replied, "we are not fighting these children. We are trying to protect property rights and the law."

The children were put up in a downtown hotel by a newspaper (Herald-American.)

Bus Driver Is Charged With Manipulation Of Mortgages

OTTAWA, Kans., Aug. 19 (U.P.)—A 25-year-old city bus driver was free on $6,500 bail today after officials charged that he ran up a fortune by a complicated system of manipulating auto mortgages.

County Attorney Myron Speere said the charges against war veteran Marshall J. Worthington made up "the most fantastic tale of financial manipulation I have ever heard."

All the 24 counts against Worthington involved high finance dealings in cars and trucks. The charges were contained in five warrants issued on complaints of the Ottawa Finance company, the Wellsville State bank, and other firms.

Charges Stated

Speere said the finance company was the biggest loser in dealing with Worthington. The firm charged him with 13 counts of securing money under false pretenses and one count of selling an automobile on which they held the mortgage.

The firm filed suit last week against Worthington for recovery of $74,938.

The bank charged that Worthington sold three automobiles, on which it held mortgages, without its consent.

Worthington, the father of an infant daughter, was arraigned yesterday before Justice Gardner Walter. His father, clothing merchant Harry B. Worthington, put up the bond. A preliminary hearing was set for Aug. 27.

Travel Fund Being Collected For Corporal And His Family

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me., Aug. 19. (AP)—A travel fund is in the making today for the Furios—Corporal Tony, his blonde wife, Marjorie, and their 22 months old son.

Its purpose is to get Mrs. Furio and Tony, Jr., to El Paso, Tex.—without any more hitch-hiking.

The corporal hopes they'll have enough—he hasn't found out yet how much he needs—so the family can leave with him Monday. He has to report at Fort Bliss on the 25th.

The fund, started by their friend, Mrs. Magdalene Holland, had reached $15 last night. She was confident there would be more.

Used To Tend Bar

The corporal, who used to tend bar at the Old Orchard country club and later ran a restaurant at this resort, was reunited with his family yesterday.

Financed by generous Californians and some airline employes, he hastened east by plane and train to make his wife, who is expecting another child, give up any further idea of "thumbing."

Mrs. Furio didn't know about the transfer to El Paso when she started hitch-hiking from Bangor to San Francisco last Friday. She though her husband was going overseas.

Tony, Jr., sickened from the excitement, and she sought shelter here with Mrs. Holland, an astrologer at this beach resort known professionally as Miss Jackson.

Offensive Is Nearing Its End, High Greek Officials Believe

KOZANE, Greece, Aug. 19 (AP)—High Greek officials expressed belief today that the summer offensive against Communist-led guerrillas is "nearly over."

Col. James F. Brittingham of Baltimore, chief of the joint United States military advisory planning group attached to Second army corps, supported this view. He said the offensive will end victoriously within 10 days.

The Greek officials reported, however, that 5,000 rebels still are holding out in the northern Grammos area. Guerrilla-controlled territory has been slashed to nine square miles, they said.

Prediction Is Made

Greek and American military officials predict most of the guerrillas will seek refuge in Albania before the battle ends.

These officials predict that Albania will not disarm and interm guerrillas retreating across the border despite a request from the United Nations Special committee on the Balkans.

In addition, Greek military intelligence officers said "Albania is continually violating the Greek frontier by permitting small groups of guerrillas to attack the Greek army from Albanian soil." They further asserted that Albanians belonging to special Communist brigades are "fighting with Greek guerrillas on the Albanian-Greek border."

British and American officers emphasized that the "Greeks have been careful not to violate the Albanian frontier and not to create any border incident."

Wounded Are Transferred

Greek military intelligence reported that from 3,000 to 4,000 wounded guerrillas have been transferred into Albania since the Gammos offensive began June 21. Surrendered guerrillas said some of the wounded were sent on to Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Brittingham said the rebels still appear to have substantial amounts of arms and ammunition. He added:

"It is apparent they are getting supplies from Albania because Markos (Vafiades) is not capturing arms from the nationals as he claims."

TRUCK WRECKS BOAT

SINGAPORE (AP) — Most surrealistic accident of the year — truck collides with boat.

The boat was parked in a field for repairs. The driver of a military truck backed into it. Considerable damage was done.

Butchers Support Meat Price Strike

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19 (AP)—The butcher has joined the housewife in a fight to bring down the price of meat.

About 15 West Philadelphia shops have signs in their windows announcing their cooperation with a housewives' three-day buyer strike starting today.

The signs read:

"This store will sell no meat on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in support of a meat strike against high prices."

Cooperation of the butchers was obtained by more than 5,000 housewives who canvassed the neighborhood and circulated petitions.

Soldiers Move Jap Strikers

TOKYO, Aug. 19. (AP)—American soldiers and Japanese police today moved 1,500 Communist-aided sitdown strikers peacefully from a movie studio they had held since March 31.

"We are leaving only temporarily," one strike leader said. Seven hundred armed Japanese police promptly occupied the studio, operated by the Toho company.

Four Sherman tanks, four armored cars, 50 armed soldiers and a small observation plane were sent to the studio by the U. S. first cavalry division.

Americans Protected

The cavalrymen's commander, Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, said: "My troops will back up Japanese police if necessary in enforcement of the law."

General Chase added that part of the mission of his troops was "to protect Americans, many of whom live in the neighborhood of the studio with their dependents."

The Toho company announced last March 31 it was discharging 900 workers from its Kinuta studio as "Communist influenced." Of the 900, 270 refused to leave. The company last Sunday obtained a court order to eject them. It was this order which police mobilized to enforce.

Soldier Convicted On Murder Charge

CORSICANA, Aug. 19 (AP)—Allen B. Calloway was convicted yesterday of murder with malice in the fatal shooting in 1942 of J. D. Dunlap, a fellow guard at the Corsicana army airfield.

Calloway, who pleaded innocent, was assessed a three-year prison sentence by the district court jury.

Two witnesses testified that Dunlap had a pistol in his hand before he was shot.

RANCHER AND FORMER SHERIFF STATES HOW RETONGA GAVE RELIEF

MR. ED. CUSTER

Widely - Known Texas Citizen Was Elected To Office 10 Straight Years. His Wife Also Praises Famous Gastric Tonic For Gratifying Relief It Brought Her.

"Retonga was just the medicine my wife and I needed," declares Mr. Ed Custer, widely-known sheep rancher and farmer, of RFD No. 1, Knippa, Texas, Uvalde County. Mr. Custer was elected sheriff of Edwards County for 10 straight years, and lived in that county most of his life, where he still owns ranch land. He gratefully continues:

"My wife felt so weakened and run-down that man days she could hardly stay up long enough to cook a meal. She was jittery and on edge so that it was almost impossible for her to get a restful night's sleep. Her appetite was very poor and she was bothered with distress or sour stomach and gas pains. I suffered the same tormenting distresses, so I know how badly she felt. We both had to rely on strong laxatives for constipation. Some days I felt so worn-out I could hardly stay on my feet. And many are the times I've gotten out of bed feeling too worn out to stay the day.

"We found out that this roots, herbs and barks medicine was just what we needed. The relief Retonga has brought us has been fine. We have good appetites, enjoy our food, and no longer suffer as we did after eating. We both sleep good and get up feeling fresh and rested. No longer do we have to rely on strong laxatives for relief. Anyone suffering as we did should certainly try Retonga. My wife and I are both glad to recommend this splendid medicine."

The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. Accept no substitute—insist on the original. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Mark Halsey Drug Stores.—Adv.

Something New Is Added In Women's Hats

Half-Wigs In Feathers Give Complete Expression Change, Milliner Promises

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (U.P.)—Tired of your face? Would you rather be a blonde? Or a femme fatale?

Try a feather wig, says milliner John Fredericks of Mr. John, Inc.

"It'll change your expression completely," John promises. "If you get tired of the new one, you just go to the ladies room and come back with your old hair showing."

The little half-wigs in feathers—straight or curly—are among the gayest headpieces in John's first collection since his separation from John-Fredericks, Inc.

Face Completely Framed

In straight coq feathers, black, blonde or white, or curly ostrich tips, the wigs completely frame the face, snugly covering the hairline and hugging the head at midcrown. The woman who doesn't want a complete camouflage, John says, can tilt them sidewise so they look like a hat. Costs about $70 made to order at Mr. John.

Hattier hats for daytime come with either elasticized hairnet veils or loose scarves of fine net to hold them on.

Tiny half berets and brimmed half-hats hang precariously around one side of the head with anchoring face veils that look exactly like the elastic-edged hairnets you wear to bed.

Queen Victoria hats—shaped like a teardrop—can be worn in two directions, both anchored under the chin with the length of veil sewed onto the narrow end. First choice in placements puts the wide end of the teardrop over one eye and the point at the tip of the crown. The wide end can also be worn straight down to the side.

Hats equipped With Veiling

Larger hats—handsome sailors and sturdier berets—come equipped with a length of veiling which goes on the head under the hat. Part of the width is then turned up over the back of the hat and the veil then winds around the neck for windy day security.

John has given up none of his dabbling with other creations. Handbags in beaver felts to match his hats, a mink tail tippet, and one of the most graceful muffs yet seen are all ready for sale when his new salon opens officially next month. The dress of his season, it appears, will be entirely passementerie—knotted in open work pattern.

Barbara for the last eight months.

With the explosion of EP-126, two buoyed cables astern the fleet boats pick up in geophones, or electronic ears, the robot shockwave impulses and at a recording room they are changed by a galvanometer into light beams on a supersensitive film. These wavy lines are analyzed by a crew at Montecito onto maps, the exposed film eventually pieced together like strips of aerial photographic mosaic. Eventually, the 13 companies will possess the subsea "profile" of California from Half Moon Bay to Newport.

Some experts estimate that more than two billion barrels of oil are locked beneath southern California's offshore land. America's daily requirement of oil, in the event of war, would top 8,000,000 barrels. That is 3,000,000 barrels more than the nation now turns out.

In the mammoth hunt for the new source will be Shell, Hancock, Continental, General Petroleum, Union, Humble, Standard of California, Richfield, Tide Water, Honolulu, Signal, Ohio and Texas companies.

Newspaper Tax Vote Reversed

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 19 (AP)—The Miami city commission yesterday voted a 1 per cent gross receipts tax on daily newspapers published here and rescinded the action five hours later when a commissioner changed his vote.

The commission voted 3 to 2 for final passage of an ordinance levying the tax on daily newspapers and other daily publications printed in Miami.

Commissioners R. C. Gardner, William W. Charles and H. Leslie Quigg voted for the tax. Mayor Robert L. Floyd and commissioner Perrine Palmer, jr., voted "no."

Recall Threatened

As the commission was about to adjourn late in the day, Gardner announced:

"I am withdrawing my vote on the newspaper tax to 'no.' I think it is a mistake.

Gardner said he had been trying to put a tax on newspapers for years but "I don't believe we can do a thing. There will be a suit and we won't get anything out of it."

Gardner, Charles and Quigg are under threat of a recall movement started when they fired city manager Richard G. Danner last June 2.

The Miami Herald and the Miami Daily News supported the recall move, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

bale in 1946 was auctioned to the First National bank for $1.01 per pound.

Last year's winning bale had to depend on Mother Nature—four attempts to put down irrigation wells on the farm, owned by Dr J. T. Krueger of Lubbock, had been unsuccessful.

Australians Plan Drilling Operation

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19. (U.P.)—Extensive drilling for oil in the Kimberly district of Western Australia will start soon, according to a broadcast by Radio Australia.

Government geologists have almost completed surveying the area and making tests near rock formations which indicate likely deposits.

Private oil concerns are reported planning to sink many bores within the next year. The exhaustive search for oil has been carried out on a joint co-operative basis by government and industry.

In Queensland, teh Shell Co. has localized its search in the southern part of the state, where all experimental drillings have been completed. The company also plans to produce oil in Dutch New Guinea next year.

Union Policy Parley Called

By TONY SMITH
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—CIO President Philip Murray called in his chief lieutenants today for a policy conference which may pave the way for a political endorsement of President Truman by a majority of CIO unions.

Murray scheduled a closed meeting with the nine CIO vice-presidents at national headquarters here.

An unusual air of expectancy surrounded plans for the get-together, even though the council of vice-presidents is not empowered to make political endorsements.

The pitch seems to be that the meeting today will talk things over and lay out a program for the 50-man executive board when it meets in two or three weeks to take formal action on endorsements of candidates.

Board May Approve Ticket

That means, Mr. Murray and his strategy board might decide to okay the Truman-Barkley ticket today but hold off a declaration until the board convenes.

Democratic politicians, pressuring Mr. Murray and the CIO's political action committee to "get off the dime"—as the trade puts it—and come out for President Truman, paid particularly close attention to the vice presidents' gathering.

So far, the CIO has confined its political activities to a denunciation of the Republican-controlled Congress, the congressional supporters of the Taft-Hartley act, and Henry Wallace.

Heat Building Up

But the heat on Mr. Murray and Director Jack Kroll of the CIO-PAC is building up from all directions.

There is little doubt in the Democratic party ranks that Mr. Murray's organization—or the largest part of it—will get around to endorsing the Truman-Barkley ticket sooner or later.

Hollywood's Tarzan Gives Free Advice To '48 Olympic Champs

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 19.—Johnny Weissmuller, the screen's perenial nature boy, has some words of advice for the 1948 Olympic champs:

"You're Olympic champions for four years. Take advantage of it. If you get offers of big shows, take them, but make sure they're big. Get what you can and then get out."

Johnny's own pro career started slowly. After his victories in the 1928 Olympics, he hooked up with a swimming suit outfit. "I had a nice deal—traveling around the country giving exhibitions," he relates. "I was making a couple of hundred a week, with a chance to work up in the company."

Can't Make Deal

While peddling his swim suits through California, Johnny's physique was lamped by movie moguls and deemed ideal for the venerable g-string of Edgar Rice Burrough's king of the apes, Tarzan. For 16 years, Johnny grunted and bellowed his way through the jungles features. This year he and Tarzan's film mentor, Sol Lesser, had a falling out.

"I just couldn't make a deal with Sol," he explained. "Whenever I went into his office for a conference, there were 30 other guys shouting at me."

So Johnny set up a deal for "Jungle Jim," which can be described as Tarzan with clothes. He'll make two of the features a year for five years and he'll rake in part of the profits. The latter should be considerable, since the films are made in 12 days at a $200,000 cost.

Johnny's new deal isn't going to his head, or his pocketbook, yet. His business agent keeps him on a strict $50 weekly allowance.

Bulldozers, Peanuts To Build Up Africa

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 19. (U.P.)—African natives are using bulldozers and peanuts to improve their culture, a British woman anthropologist told a Northwestern University audience.

Dr. Audrey Richards, University of London, said approximately 300,000 square miles of African bushland has been plowed over with bulldozers and cultivated for peanuts. The nuts provide essential oils and fats for both local consumption and foreign trade.

Modern villages are growing up in those previously uninhabited areas, she said.

REDS CLAIM INVENTION

MOSCOW (AP)—The helicopter, says "Pravda," was a Russian invention. It says the idea of the helicopter was laid down by M. V. Lomonosov and the first two propeller helicopter was built by B. N. Yuriv, in 1912.

Conrad Let For New Ship

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—The nation's globe-girdling merchant fleet today added three new passenger-cargo liners to its future roster.

The ships will be built by the New York Shipbuilding corporation of Camden, N. J., at a cost of $32,000,000, the Maritime commission announced yesterday.

When completed in about two years, the vessels will go into the round-the-world service of the American President lines.

Designed to carry 228 passengers and a crew of 162 each, the 19,600 ton liners will have a speed of 19 knots and contain new defense features.

Award Is Second Big Step

Award of the contract marks the second big step in the commission's 173,000,000 program of expanding and modernizing the American merchant fleet. Last week $50,000,000 was allotted to the Bethlehem Steel corporation for two passenger ships for American Export lines.

Still to be let is a contract for a proposed 980-feet "superliner" for United States lines.

The government pays the costs of defense features incorporated in the new vessels as well as a 44.04 per cent subsidy on the total costs.

President Truman hailed the ship expansion program as a "promise that the American merchant marine will be equipped with the number and types of vessels necessary for our international trade and our national security."

SELF SERVE GROCERIES

PARIS (AP)—The "serve yourself" grocery, long an institution in the United States, has made its bow in France. The evening newspaper "Le Monde" greeted the event with solemnity. "Not only is it advantageous to the businessman who must operate with a reduced staff," reported "Le Monde," most dignified Paris daily, "it gains precious time for the shopper and in addition gives him a feeling of independence."

"Kosenkina" Cases Dramatize Communism's Threat To World

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Few things could so strikingly dramatize Communism's threat to security of state and freedom of the individual as the amazing case of Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, the Russian school teacher who escaped from the Soviet consulate in New York by leaping from a third story window.

And now Sweden, of all countries, has a "Kosenkina" case!

As for America, we had seen small countries Communized by force. We had seen fearful purges in Red slave-states. We had listened day after day to the Soviet's monotonous "nyet" (no) as the veto was hurled into the United Nations machinery. We had seen the brutal food blockade against the population of western Berlin.

Tragic Story Is Forceful

But none of these important developments had brought home Bolshevism's threat to our way of life so forcefully as has the tragic story of Mrs. Kosenkina. Through her we have visualized how Communism pursues the individual even unto death. We have seen a foreign consulate snap its fingers at the prerogatives of our sovereignty.

The parent country of Bolshevism has had the effrontery to accuse our government of having a hand in "kidnaping" Mrs. Kosenkina, and two other Soviet school teachers in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Samarine who also have refused to return to Russia. Moscow "demands" that these unfortunates be turned over to the Soviet.

Meantime the "Swedish Kosenkina" case was broken, and is causing a sensation throughout that country. Lydia Makarova, a 19-year-old Russian girl who has been living in Sweden four years, refuses to return to her native country despite repeated demands of the Russian embassy that she do so.

Reason Is Mystery

Just why Moscow wants to get hold of the girl is a mystery. She says she fled to Sweden in 1944 after her mother died in Leningrad. She adds that she was considered a musical prodigy and has been continuing piano study in Stockholm.

Anyway, a Swedish foreign office spokesman states that the Soviet embassy has asked repeatedly that the girl be sent back to Russia. He says the foreign office refused the requests and warned the embassy to "leave the girl alone." As in the American case, the Russians claimed that the young woman was being "kept prisoner."

Miss Makarova herself says that the Soviet embassy started two years ago to try to persuade her to return to Russia. The embassy claimed to have a letter from her father but she asserts that when she finally saw the communication it was written by a secretary of the embassy.

Sweden Sits Under Guns

Well now, the significance of this "Swedish Kosenkina" case lies in the fact that Stockholm has been punctilious in its efforts to maintain good relations with Russia. Sweden, of course, is sitting right under the Soviet's big guns and has to tread circumspectly.

However, the Swedes are jealous of their sovereignty, and they now are experiencing, along with America, a dramatization of Bolshevism's threat to mankind's bill of rights. The Makarova incident in itself isn't world rocking, but it could be the thing which would solidify public opinion against Communism.

So far as concerns Washington, the Russian demand that the three teachers be turned over to the Soviet representatives is being rejected. Moreover, Uncle Sam is offering refuge to the trio so long as they choose to stay here.

ALL-TIME HIGH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—Polio cases reported this year have set an all-time high through August 14, a count of 8,439 cases against 7,025 for a similar period in 1946, the Public Health Service said yesterday.

However, the agency said that the disease is still epidemic in parts of only three states. They are North Carolina, Texas and California, all of which again showed increases last week.

Thrice-Wed Mother And Daughter Slain

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 19 (INS)—A thrice-married Evansville mother and her 14-year-old daughter were shot and killed last night in the woman's apartment. Police said a former husband admitted the shooting.

Victims of the double-slaying were Mrs. Esther Rowley, 44, and her daughter by her first husband, Zelma Devault.

Police seized Ben Hodges, Mrs. Rowley's second husband, a short distance from the Rowley apartment. Officers said Hodges told them he shot the two because of "jealousy."

The woman's third husband, Edward Rowley, was not at home at the time of the shooting.

Mrs. Rowley was struck by four bullets and killed instantly. The daughter, hit by one slug, died an hour and 15 minutes after being wounded.

Child Gets Caught Receiving Lollipop

BOSTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—For a while life looked sweeter on the other side of the fence to six-year-old Genevieve Dominic.

So she stuck her head between the iron bars of a playground fence yesterday to get a lollipop offered her by an admirer on the outside.

Genevieve got her lollipop—and licked it, too — while two firemen pried the pickets apart with a crowbar to set her free.

St. Louis Woman Has Busy Schedule

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Emily Maier is one of those women who just can't find enough to do.

She starts a busy schedule at 5:45 a. m. Her first duty is working part of her split-shift as a street car operator. By 9:45 she is back at home preparing breakfast for her husband, a bus driver who works the same hours as his wife.

Next Mrs. Maier dashes off to her volunteer job as a Red Cross ambulance driver. After a quick lunch at 2:30, it's back to work on the street car.

Dinner for the Maiers is at 7:45. Then Mrs. Maier has to fulfill her obligations as housewife, mother and grandmother. It includes sewing rag dolls for a granddaughter in North Carolina. Her household chores completed, Mrs. Maier helps her husband with one of his many hobbies—for example, developing pictures in their dark room.

Saturday is her off day, so Mrs. Maier goes fishing.

Union Local To Fight Commies

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 19. (AP)—A local of the CIO United Electrical workers last night called for an offensive against Communists and the union's present national leadership.

The group also voted to exclude national representatives of the union from local meetings.

Mrs. Mildred Turner, president of local 608, united electrical, radio and machine workers, said delegates to a national convention have been instructed to vote against re-election of Albert Fitzgerald, national president, or Julius Emspak, national secretary-treasurer, and also "to vote against anything that would benefit Communists in the union."

United Action Urged

She said other locals were asked to poin in the action.

The national convention begins Sept. 6 in New York.

Mrs. Turner added that the "membership voted that all organizers be kept out of the local as the members have had organizers dictating to them ever since they have been organized."

The unit represents 900 employes of the Sylvania Electric Products Co. here.

National officials were not immediately available for comment.

DID YOU ever stop to think how powerful an eyebrow is? A slight lift to it will express more disapproval sometimes than a hundred angry words.

The dictionary says the word "browbeat" comes from such use of the eyebrows. Let me repeat that the eyebrow is the most expressive part of the human face. The eyeball itself remains about the same. It's the brow that does it.

We believe that when God ordained that man should live by the sweat of his brow, He saw to it that eyebrows grew upon the face. The human eyebrow is actually a watershed which keeps the perspiration from running into the eyes and sends it skedaddling down your cheeks or down your nose.

Inspiration for the eyebrow comments come from a column written by Malcolm W. Bingay in the Detroit Free Press. He devoted hundreds of words to a learned discussion of that subject. He even examined the Bible and found that the Holy Book uses the word "eyebrows" but once, in Leviticus, 14th chapter, ninth verse, which has to do with the cleansing of the leper:

"It shall be on the seventh day that he shall shave all his hair off his head, and his beard and his eyebrows, even all his hair he shall shave off . . ."

BINGAY found that Shakespeare mentioned the eyebrow only twice. Once rather vaguely when in "As You Like It," he wrote:

"And then the lover,
"Sighing like furnace, with a woeful ballad,
"Made to his mistress' eyebrow."

If anyone understands what that means, please let me know. In "The Winter's Tale," the Bard uses the eyebrow a little better:

"Mamillius: What color are your eyebrows?
"First Lady: Blue, my lord
"Mamillius: Nay, that's a mock:
"I have seen a lady's nose,
"That has been blue, but not her eyebrows."

Shakespeare should see some of the eyebrows of today!

SOMETIMES I think the attitude of the American people is downright dumb. We like to make others think we are more prosperous than we really are.

Moving pictures produced in Hollywood and shown all over the world depict this as a land of milk and honey. Nothing of the other side of life ever is shown for the obvious reason that the American people, for whom the pictures primarily are produced, do not care to see things like that. Nevertheless, the effect is far-reaching in foreign lands.

A Mexican official told me not long ago that the average cotton picker who comes to the United States from Mexico expects to return to his homeland with his pockets lined with dollars. He has been led to believe that all one has to do in the United States is to reach out and gather wealth.

C. M. GOETHE of Sacramento, Calif., wrote me a letter which follows in part:

"So great is aliens' pressure to gain admission into U.S.A. 'tis said one European nation's war-weary have applied, for example, for visas enough to fill the quotas until 1997. Foreigners grasp ours is the world's highest living standard. We, also, never have lost a war. None has been fought on our soil since 1812. What a contrast with war-weary Europe!"

We would do well to change our story a little and to show that people, even in America, have to work for a living and there are poor people here just as there are in all parts of the world.

FOR MANY years men have heard stories about women who show up at parties all dressed up only to find another woman wearing exactly the same dress. That situation is supposed to call for glares, chilly remarks, etc.

From what I hear, the modern woman takes such things in her stride.

At an outstanding party in El Paso last week, at least six women were said to have found themselves in such a situation. Not that all six were wearing dresses that were alike! Three women found three other women wearing dresses like theirs.

All six went right ahead and enjoyed the party just as if nothing had happened. At least that's the way I heard the story.

That brings up an interesting question, though:

Are stores supposed to see that no two women in the same city acquire dresses that are alike, particularly if those dresses are in the high-cost brackets? I wouldn't know.

And suppose men tried to dress differently! Men can put on tuxedoes and feel perfectly dressed up. And the male of the species is supposed to be the prouder of personal appearance. Just look at a peacock, a rooster, a lion, a turkey gobbler, etc.

Maybe men have been sufficiently tamed through the years.

THE "NEW LOOK" for women hit a new high in El Paso the other morning. A woman went to her office wearing two hats.

She had put on one, a small number. Then absent-mindedly she put another one on top of that. She didn't know it until she started to hang up her hat and get ready for the day's routine of work.

And here's another story that offers food for thought.

An El Paso school teacher told her pupils that drivers in this community were downright terrible and getting worse. She added: "You have to have as many eyes as a spider to keep from getting hit."

Whereupon one of her pupils, a lad, went home and asked his father how many eyes a spider has. The dad didn't know. The dictionary didn't know. Neither did the encyclopedia that was inspected.

Not to be stumped, the boy launched into a research project. He finally informed his dad that most spiders have eight eyes. He also revealed the fact that spiders are not insects but animals.

His teacher is the type that makes her students thirst for knowledge. Nice going!

A STORY about a well-known El Paso business man is going the rounds. I was unable to contact him, so I won't use his name.

Similar stories have been told before, but this one is said to be the truth.

This El Pasoan was making a business trip up the Valley. He saw a likely-looking hitch-hiker and picked him up. A little farther up the road, he saw a watch chain dangling from the fellow's pocket. It was like the one the driver wore. Turning on the hitch-hiker with a vengeance, the El Pasoan demanded his watch. He threatened violence. The frightened rider surrendered the watch and quickly alighted from the car when its driver stopped it and ordered him out.

That evening upon his return home, the El Pasoan's wife said:

"How did you manage to get along today without your watch? You left it lying on the dresser."

Now, the El Pasoan is trying to find the hitch-hiker to return the watch. And the hitch-hiker must think he encountered a highwayman.

WASHINGTON. — Some of the cockeyed inconsistencies of Washington officialdom are verily wondrous to behold.

Here is the latest beaut:

On Tuesday, President Truman made an address ardently pleading for public support of the national employ the physically handicapped week, October 3-9. He pointed out two significant facts: (1) That industrial record shows conclusively that when given the opportunity to work, handicaps almost invariably prove above average in productivity, regularity and loyalty, and (2) that with the marked labor shortages existing in many fields, it is both good business and good humanity to give jobs to handicaps.

With deep feeling, Mr. Truman urged employers to give handicaps a chance to make themselves useful and self-supporting beings. The President's speech was moving, and a real credit to him.

Reverse Picture

Yet, at the same time the President was making this touching appeal to private employers, one of the biggest government employers was giving the cold shoulder to thousands of highly competent handicaps whom it had made.

This is the U. S. army—of which the President, as commander-in-chief, is boss, and which is now moaning to the high heavens about a desperate shortage of officers to train the forthcoming draft levy.

The army says it needs 37,000 additional officers for this purpose. To date, about 2,500 reserve officers have volunteered to return to active duty. The army is talking of drafting officers to meet its urgent needs.

But at the same time that the army is doing all this whining and blustering, it has on its rolls thousands of retired combat veterans who would make the finest type of training personnel. These officers were shelved because their battle-incurred impairments do not square with the army's high, and in some respects archaic, physical requirements for field duty.

But the army's immediate need is not officers for rigorous field duty. It needs officers to train men for such duty. This untapped reservoir of battle-experienced veterans is a matchless source for such trainers. These men have been through the mill. Their knowledge and skill can't be bought for love or money. Their very disabilities give them an added value as an inspiration.

When Gen. Dwight Eisenhower was chief of staff, he saw that clearly. He put through an order allowing disabled non-commissioned officers to enlist for limited duty in the regular army. The navy, today, has an admiral on active duty who lost a foot in battle.

But the army has always been inane and extravagant in personnel matters. Last spring when army brass were shrieking that they didn't have enough troops to man combat units, thousands of husky young soldiers were idling away their time doing wholly unnecessary sentry duty at posts in the U. S. They were just for show purposes, nothing more. There are hundreds of them doing this sort of thing right now in Washington.

Why the army is not making use of its thousands of highly skilled disabled officers is a mystery only the tradition-bound brass can answer. It's true it would be something new, and that is a staggering objection. But if private employers can gainfully use handicaps, why not the U. S. army.

Perhaps the President ought to deliver his speech again—to the Pentagon brass. Or, better still, as commander-in-chief he could order them to climb out of the cobwebs and do no less than he is urging others to do.

VACATIONING in his home state, Oregon, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas was asked by the townsfolk of Joseph to lead the parade of a rodeo they were staging. The boyish, tousel-haired jurist agreed. A frisky cayuse was saddled up for him to ride.

"What's his name?" Douglas asked.

"Cyclone."

"Has he bucked recently?"

"Not since the last parade," was the cheerful reply.

Exit Griswold

Dwight Griswold is quitting as U. S. aid administrator in Greece. The former Nebraska governor is now packing in Athens to return to the U. S. early next month. Griswold is resigning to take part in the Republican election campaign. He hopes to land in the Dewey cabinet—if there is one.

By dint of a combination of wheedling and booting, Griswold has effected some administrative reforms in the graft-ridden and incompetent Greek government. Its budget still remains to be balanced, and its heavily padded payrolls still remain to be pared down. But a little progress has been made toward efficiency and honesty.

However, there was one particularly smelly deal that Griswold was unable to block—thanks to the State department.

As part of the "aid Greece" program, the State department put through a sale of 100 liberty ships to Greek shipowners. The contention was that these vessels would improve Greece's dollar position. Actually, it was a lush bonanza to a small group of wealthy, royalist Greeks who live in New York, do their banking in New York, and pay little taxes either in the U. S. or Greece.

Not only did the State department sell the ships to the millionaire Greeks for less than one-third of the original cost to U. S. taxpayers, but the department also threw in special purchasing terms. The Greeks were allowed to pay only 25 per cent down and given 17 years to pay the remainder.

And the debt-loaded Greek government had to guarantee the mortgages on these ships.

Shipping experts estimate the vessels are earning $1,000 a day each for their Greek owners. But all the Greek government gets from these juicy profits is a paltry $15,000 a year in taxes.

That's the way the State department is "aiding the dollar position" of Greece.

AN unpublished exchange took place when Marshal Sokolovsky, Soviet commander in Germany, was arrested for speeding by a U. S. constabulary trooper, that graphically illustrates the high quality of this crack outfit.

Sokolovsky was very miffed when flagged down. He haughtily attempted to brush the trooper aside. "I am Marshal Sokolovsky," he announced. The U. S. soldier was unimpressed.

"Maybe you are and maybe you're not," he said, quietly but firmly. "You'll have to come to headquarters with me to prove it."

Bugsy Siegel Murder Case Is Not Written Off As Unsolved

HOT from Hollywood — Los Angeles County authorities have not written off the "Bugsy" Siegel murder as unsolved. They're following a trail that leads to New York and Chicago and the national syndicate of mobsters who, though of late years they have abjured killings, put Siegel on the spot because he threatened to come unorganized and blow the whistle on the dope traffic . . . Earl Carroll's theatre-hash-house will not be sold, to either a radio station which covets it or Lou Walters, N. Y. Latin Quarter operator, who went out to seek N. Mrs. Schuyler, his backer, insists it will remain Earl's "monument," without deviation from his policies . . . Walters turned down on this one and Slapsie Maxie's, did get an option on the Florentine Gardens, which had gone broke . . . Walters, who had booked Ted Lewis for his B'way spot to open Aug. 20, reports the "tragedian of song" ill and has offered Milton Berle $15,000 a week to replace . . . Johnny Meyer signing tabs again for Janet Thomas; we reported last year that they were married and we still stand on that . . . The $640 question is, "who paid a hotel tab in Los Angeles for that sum?" Margaret Truman ran it up. She didn't settle it. The hotel didn't dead-head it. It wasn't charged. It isn't owed.

Her present husband is of her religion, too, and since he married a divorced woman, he shares her situation . . . She has not been able to find a trace of Lavin for more than 10 years, since Brennan, who now lives in Hollywood, reported he saw him in New York . . . If Lavin has passed away, or if she can get proof of what she says he often confessed to her—that he had been married to a woman then living when the inquirer became his wife—she could be remarried to her present husband in their faith . . . If anyone who reads this has any knowledge, yes or no, on Lavin, a communication to this column will be forwarded to the distressed woman, whose name and address we will not publish.

West Has Won Cold War For Souls Of People In Germany

LONDON—The drama of the Russian blockade of Berlin and of the mighty airlift with which the Allies are breaking it tends to obscure the tremendous fact that the Allies have won the cold propaganda war for the soul of the German people.

Two years ago many people were concerned at the prospect that not only countries such as France and Italy but also Germany might be swallowed by the abyss of Communism. Today that danger is past. There probably is less genuine Communism in Germany than in any other country in Europe. Close contact with the Red Army has cured any German who may have been temporarily infected with the Communist virus.

At the same time, the repeated proof that the Allies have given of their desire to help the Germans to rebuild their shattered country has had its effect. It is now certain that in peace or war the German people will stand with the West against the tides of Russian imperialism.

Victory Not Spectacular

There has been nothing spectacular about this victory. Indeed, it has been achieved so gradually and so imperceptibly that many people are altogether unaware of it. The headlines in the papers tell the story of Mr. Molotov's repeated vetoes, Mr. Vishinsky's latest insults and the inconveniences and abuses to which our soldiers and administrators are subjected in Berlin. But there have been the merest froth on the broad river of events.

There is, of course, another side to this favorable situation. Those observers who still think war may come this summer largely base their calculations on the assumption that the Russians, realizing that they have suffered total political defeat in Western Europe and, above all, in Germany, may seek in desperation to achieve their ends by military means. If this were the Russian intention, it would be in no way inconsistent with it that they should find it convenient to camouflage their plans behind the talks that have been proceeding in Moscow.

BUT though it would seem that the immense issues which divide East and West can only be resolved by war, few people here in London believe that war will come this year. Indeed, in the clubs, you can find people ready to lay heavy odds against it. With so many imponderable elements in the situation, such optimism may seem exaggerated. But there is one factor in the situation that is far from imponderable—the atomic bomb.

Unless the 13 members of the Politburo are lunatics—and there is no shred of evidence to support such a view—it seems inconceivable that they should be prepared to face the decision of war so long as the United States possesses a monopoly of a weapon which, without any exaggeration, could certainly win a war in a fortnight. On the contrary, most observers of the Russian scene believe that, confronted with an ultimatum, the Kremlin would be forced to yield.

Idea Is Canvassed

During the past few days an idea has been canvassed in London in responsible circles which, if it were adopted, could quickly and safely bring matters to a head and terminate the present long drawn-out anxiety. This plan is that leaflets should be dropped on the 30 largest cities in Russia, telling the inhabitants of the monstrous way in which their Government is blockading the people of Berlin and warning them that if the Allies should be forced out of Berlin they would be well advised to evacuate their city within 48 hours.

An ultimatum of this character would enable the Russian people, for the first time in 30 years, to bring some pressure to bear on their Government. There very likely would be a stampede from all the 30 cities, which had been warned by the leaflets, and the entire Russian economy and administration might collapse. On the memory of the stampede we would almost certainly find that the Russians would lift the blockade on Berlin and almost as certainly they would be in a

YOU'RE a good listener if—

You can hear a story through without interrupting to make a wisecrack, ask an irrelevant question, or dispute a fact.

You keep your eyes on the person who is talking, instead of letting them wander around the room.

Your face reflects your reactions. A person with a dead-pan expression never is a very flattering listener.

IF YOU RELAX . . .

YOU let yourself relax while you are listening—instead of sitting on the edge of your chair ready to jump and run as soon as a break comes in the conversation.

You don't try to top the other person's story the minute he has finished, making such comments as "That's nothing; wait till I tell you what happened to me."

You can hear a story that you've heard before—and not betray the fact that it's an old story to you.

You aren't afraid to give another person credit for telling you something you didn't know.

You really enjoy listening, and don't have to hold the floor yourself to have a good time.

The sound of your own voice is not to you the most fascinating sound in the world.

"Do you mind? I've got a pebble in my shoe"

By Bennett Cerf

"Try And Stop Me"

SOME time ago a brutal murder was committed in one of Washington's Virginia suburbs. Bloodhounds, nosing through the woods, had uncovered the victim's head, severed from the rest of the body which remained undiscovered by the police. People for miles around were aroused and rumors flew trick and fast.

One morning the cleaning woman of Paul Oehser, of the Smithsonian Institution, interrupted his research work to announce her own theory on the case. "Mr. Oehser," she whispered dramatically, "I bet that murdered man committed suicide!"

ANOTHER GOOD ARGUMENT

In urging the creation of an additional reserve force of 150,000 men to back up Great Britain's defense, Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery might have added at least one more argument to those he mentioned in support of the proposal.

During the last war, especially during the closing stages, the primary responsibility for the defense of Britain rested upon Americans. It was Uncle Sam's boys who carried the brunt of the final offensives, suffering casualties which exceeded those of the British more than 50 to 1.

If there should be another war, the people of the United States might balk at carrying any such disproportionate share of the load. The British might be wise to consider the possibility of a future time when others may not be available or disposed to carry the main burden of the defense of those islands, and to be prepared accordingly.

Strange Cattle Disease Found

A baffling new cattle malady, known thus far as "X disease," and "Double X disease," and in some areas by several other names, is now under study by state and federal livestock scientists following a recent meeting under U. S. Department of Agriculture sponsorship of representatives of 16 of the 26 states where the disease has caused serious losses.

Because of a marked thickening of the skin of affected animals, some veterinary pathologists have called the disease hyperkeratosis.

26 States Hit

The USDA's Bureau of Animal Industry has received reports showing serious losses in at least 26 states, and posing a serious threat to efficient production of meat, milk, and other animal products.

The bureau, acting on resolutions prepared at the recent Washington conference, is developing plans for a field survey and a research program by specialists in several fields of science.

Indications are that the malady is not an infection but may result from substances in forage or in the soil. Attempts to transmit it experimentally have thus far failed, as have numerous drug treatments.

The disease, apparently of comparatively recent occurrance, has a normal course of several weeks to about three months. Young stock appear to be more susceptible than adults. Severely affected animals usually die, and abortion is common. One scientific observer reported that mortality ranged from four to eight per cent.

Symptoms Described

Early symptoms include a watery discharge from the eyes and nose. As the disease progresses appetite fails, there is loss of condition, the animal becomes depressed, and a progressive thickening of the skin occurs. Small papillary projections often occur on the surface of the tongue, cheeks and palate. Diarrhea is sometimes present, though usually in the late stages.

There have been no reports of the disease in this area, and the USDA report on the malady does not outline the areas involved or extent of spread of the malady.

H. Schmidt of Texas was chairman of a committee at the conference of scientists in Wasington that urged immediate action on the problem. Other committeemen were A. J. Durant of Missouri, T. J. Jones of Georgia, W. B. Bell of Virginia, and C. C. Merrill of Illinois.

Other states represented at the conference, which apparently are among the mort seriously affected areas, were Alabama, Arkansas, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Minnesota, Nebraska, New York, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, and Vermont.

China Preparing To Arrest Student Reds

PEIPING, Aug. 19 (AP) — Warrants for the arrest of 250 students of Peiping universities on charges of being Red agents are being prepared by a special criminal court.

All students are on summer vacation, and since the list of Communist suspects has been published in all Peiping newspapers they may avoid arrest by not returning to school.

CLAIMED BY DEATH

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 19. (AP)—Romilio Burgos Melo, 79, former justice of the supreme court, died early today. He retired from the bench last year after 20 years.
