Asbestos abatement begins at schools

DOUGLAS DYE, owner of West Texas Safety and Supply, models the uniform workers will be wearing while removing cancer-causing asbestos from Kelley and Hutchinson elementary schools.

An asbestos abatement program is underway in local school buildings, and officials say removal of the cancer-causing agent will be completed by Aug. 21, the day teachers report to work for the new school year.

Buildings involved in the asbestos removal are Kelley and Hutchinson elementaries and the CVAE building at middle school. Workers are in the process of removing asbestos from the rooms and hallways at Hutchinson and the hallways and cafeteria at Kelley.

Tom Dye, owner of Chaparral Abatement, Inc. of Abilene, the contractor for the asbestos removal, said the asbestos is contained in the material that was sprayed on the ceilings in the hallways and most of the rooms at Kelley and Hutchinson as well as at the cafeteria at Kelley.

Because asbestos has been found to be a cancer-causing agent, schools across the nation are having it removed. Dye said his company has removed asbestos from about 300 school districts including Abilene, Brownfield, San Angelo, Dallas, Lubbock, Whitesboro, Jayton and Lamesa.

Dye said that when the ceilings were blown into the schools, asbestos was thought to be beneficial because of its acid-resisting, nonconducting, fireproof properties. Since then, it's been determined that it can cause cancer.

TOM DYE, owner of Chaparral Abatement, Inc., shows the face shield and breathing apparatus workers will use when removing asbestos from local school buildings. Work got underway this week and will be completed before teachers start work Aug. 21.

Dye said that removal of the asbestos isn't difficult, but that extreme caution is used to make sure that workers aren't exposed to it and that the air quality is pure once the task is completed.

The air quality was checked before the project started and will be monitored to prevent exposing the workers to high levels of asbestos. The air will be checked after the project is completed to make sure it meets standards. Dye said the air quality in the buildings will be "extremely clean" when the project is completed. If possible, the air will be "cleaner than clean", he said.

Air monitoring will be done by a separate company, Southwest Environmental.

As the asbestos is removed,

Opti-Ms. members seeking to organize Optimist Club

An attempt is being made by the local Opti-Ms. Club members to gain enough membership to charter a new Optimist Club.

The current Opti-Ms. Club began as a branch of an Optimist Club which was active a number of years ago in Colorado City. At that time, membership in Optimist was open to men only and the Opti-Ms. Club was formed for wives and other interested women.

The Optimist Club later disbanded, but the Opti-Ms. Club continued to be active and has become known for its service to community and youth such as the youth basketball program, the scholarship program for all three county high schools, Christmas toy program for needy children and sponsorship of local youth team sports.

Opti-Ms. members recently learned that they are in violation of Optimist by-laws by continuing to operate without there being an active Optimist Club to sponsor them, so they are attempting to re-charter as a full-fledged Optimist Club.

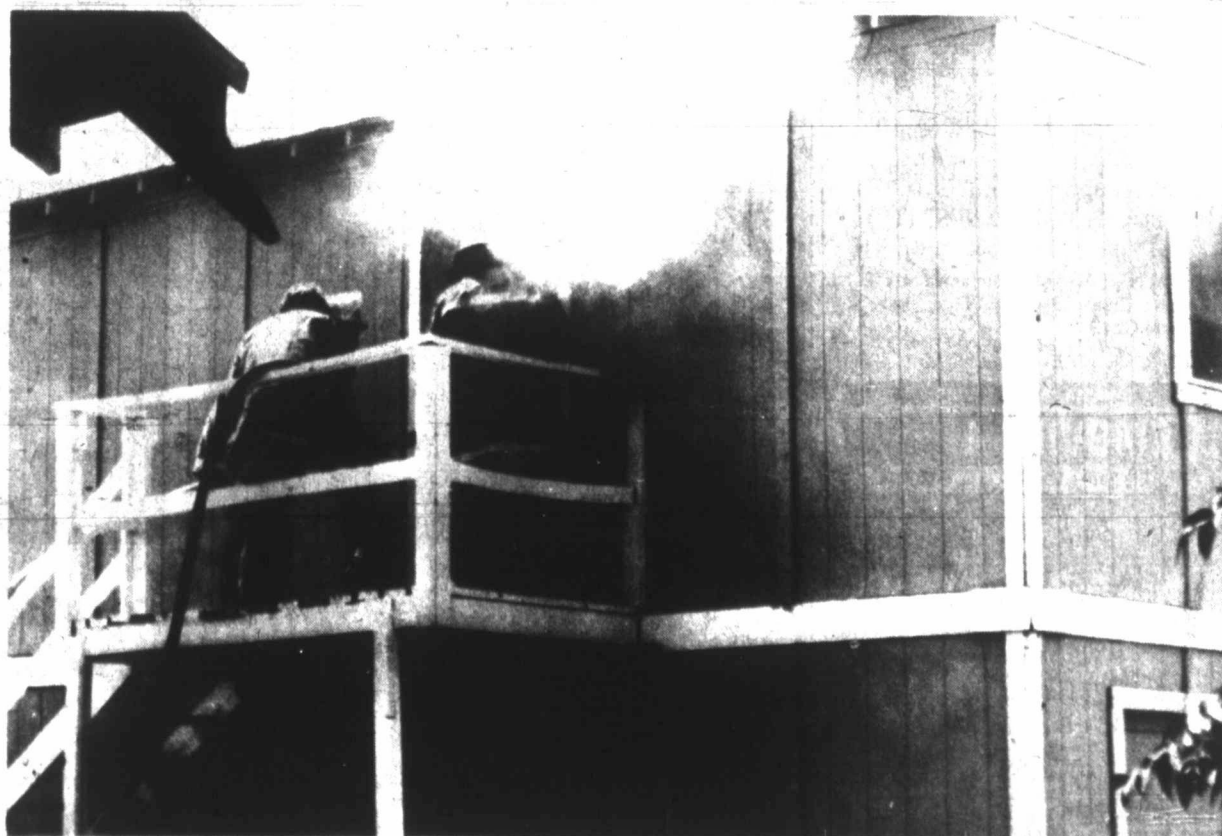

The new club will be open to both men and women, and husband-wife participation is strongly encouraged. The sole purpose of the Optimist Club is to support and promote youth activities in Mitchell County. Anyone interested in youth programs is encouraged to consider membership in the new Optimist Club.

Membership fee is $20 per individual or $25 for both husband-wife membership. Dues structure is set to accommodate those who wish to be active members at $3.50 per month, per person and for those who do not feel they have the time to attend meetings, etc., but who are willing to contribute financially to the support of youth programs at $5 per month, per person.

Thirty-five members are needed for the charter. For more information, contact any Opti-Ms. member.

Officially founded in 1919, Optimist International organization unified existing Optimist Clubs which had been organized as early as 1911. Like their successors, the first Optimists joined together to encourage a spirit of hopefulness and enthusiasm among themselves and throughout their communities.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED - Colorado City volunteer firefighters found a smoke-filled apartment when they responded to a fire in the 400 block of Hickory Street at 11:22 a.m. Monday. The garage apartment, owned by Buford McDonald of Midland, received smoke damage and minor fire damage from the blaze which started next to a cook stove.

NEWSPAPERS DONATED - Geneva Jones, assistant librarian at Mitchell County Public Library, holds a 1956 copy of The Mitchell County News, a newspaper published in Loraine until the 1970s. An almost complete set of the newspapers has been donated to the library.

Set of newspapers donated to library

An almost complete set of issues of the Mitchell County News is now available for public viewing in the Mitchell County Public Library, due to efforts of Dorothy Johnson, Commissioner Bill Preston and Librarian Nancy Mayo.

At the death of J.W. King, long-time editor of the newspaper, his son Melvin King moved to Loraine from Washington state and published the paper for several years. He ceased publication in the early 1970s and sold the equipment and building.

The files were about to be destroyed when Dr. Bruce H. Johnson offered storage space in the clinic building. At his death, Mrs. Johnson tried to place the files in various places, but was refused because they were not micro-filmed.

Recently, she renewed her efforts to find a place where they can be taken care of and placed for everyone to read. Mrs. Mayo offered space in the library as well as to micro-film the old newspapers.

Preston packed and transferred the files to the library where they are now available for anyone who wishes to look up dates of births, deaths, weddings, parties, school news and farm news.

"They are a treasury of information about Mitchell County and this area for over 50 years," said Mrs. Johnson. "Mr. King was a very fine journalist - we all owe him a 'thank you' for publishing the news 'Exactly As It Goes'."

workers will package it, label it as property of the Colorado ISD and bury it at a specific latitude and longitude grid at the EPA-approved Abilene Regional Landfill.

Workers spent several days in EPA-approved training and several more days preparing the buildings for the abatement program. Two layers of plastic cover the walls and the floors. "As the asbestos hits the plastic on the floor, it is picked up and bagged twice," said Dye. Workers wear special suits that are thrown away each time they're taken off. Each worker also wears a breathing apparatus designed to keep them from coming in contact with the asbestos. The 49 workers will work a 10-hour day, and Dye said in the event they get behind schedule, he'll go to two crews in order to stay on schedule. The classrooms at Kelley Elementary are scheduled to undergo the abatement program next summer, Dye said.

TO THE EDITOR: When I gathered up the petitions to mail to Washington, D.C. to let the U.S. Supreme Court know we in Loraine and Colorado City very muchly disagreed with their flag-burning decision, I failed to get the one at the V.F.W. So my friend Nellie Bunch was nice enough to get it and send to me, and I'm glad to say it had 75 names on it to add to the 740 I had mailed in - total of 815. Just wanted to thank those people and Nellie, too. Thanks to Judge Morris who made me feel it was OK to do this!

Editor, thank you for letting me be able to thank everyone who had a part in this great cause.

Amendment Prohibiting Flag Desecration?

U.S. Sen. Strom Thurmond (R-S.C.) is the ranking minority member on the Senate Judiciary Committee. He also is senior member on the Senate Armed Services Committee and Veterans' Affairs Committee.

YES

NO

Congressman Don Edwards (D-Calif.) is chairman of the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Civil and Constitutional Rights. He also is ranking majority member of the Veterans' Affairs Committee.

Should there be a constitutional amendment prohibiting desecration of the American flag?

Absolutely. Americans nationwide have recoiled at the Supreme Court's recent decision that legalizes burning the flag. While we should not expect the court to automatically parallel the wishes of the nation, I believe the majority of justices were overreaching in their interpretation of the First Amendment. The United States flag is an unequivocal symbol of our nation's freedom and a tribute to the men and women who valiantly fought for our country's independence. It must be treated with reverence and respect. This cherished symbol warrants corrective action to counter the court. I believe rectification centers on Congress passing a constitutional amendment making it illegal to desecrate the American flag.

How does this affect First Amendment freedom of expression?

A constitutional amendment such as the one I have introduced would not unduly constrict the freedom of expression granted under the First Amendment. The Supreme Court previously has ruled that there are limitations on the First Amendment. Our law does not allow an individual to scream fire in a crowded theater; nor does it permit obscenity as a valid form of expression. Amending the Constitution, our most sacred official document, is as serious as any act taken by Congress. But in our nation, few things are more precious and sacred than the flag.

What implications would an amendment have on states' rights?

The principle of states' rights has always served as a major component of my political views. However, flag burning is of such singular significance that it warrants blanket federal protection. The national support for a constitutional amendment to prohibit flag burning is, based on my assessment, almost unanimous. Such an amendment would not jeopardize the autonomy of the states.

Should there be a constitutional amendment prohibiting desecration of the American flag?

No. The vast majority of Americans love the flag and always will. Just because one kid burned a flag in Dallas, Texas, five years ago, and a few publicity hounds have followed suit recently, lawmakers should not rush into amending our Bill of Rights for the first time in history. Flag burning, however despicable, is not something that requires a constitutional amendment. I have more faith in the strength of our nation and in the common sense of the American people than to believe that flag burning is a threat to national unity or domestic tranquility.

Americans who fought for the flag did not fight for a piece of cloth, but for certain values, including the right to dissent and to take non-violent symbolic action. Let's leave the Constitution alone and work on fulfilling the values that the flag stands for.

How does this affect First Amendment freedom of expression?

An amendment outlawing flag burning would represent the first time in our history that we amended the Bill of Rights. Surely, in the last 200 years, we have survived far more serious threats to our national security than this without taking this radical step. If we start, I wonder where we might stop. Who decides which symbols deserve special protection and which do not? The essence of the First Amendment is that government should not make these decisions.

What implications would an amendment have on states' rights?

Since the federal Constitution takes precedence over state constitutions, the President's proposed constitutional amendment, if it has any meaning at all, overrides state constitutional provisions. It would deprive state courts of the power to limit the scope of state flag desecration statutes. tl

Old Settlers reunion set

BIG SPRING - The 66th annual Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers Reunion is set to begin at a 9 a.m. Friday, Aug. 4, in the Howard County Fair Barn. The special one-day celebration will honor the families of the area's first settlers and feature games, a barbecue, awards, a fiddlers' contest and a dance.

Perhaps the longest celebrated activity in Howard County, the Old Settlers Reunion is rich in history. Originally held at the J.L. McKinney farm on June 28, 1924, the event has moved to other locations to accommodate the increasing attendance. Its home has included the former Cottonwood Park, the Old Settlers Pavilion built specifically for the reunion at Comanche Trail Park, and now the Howard County Fair Barn.

The celebration was created to recognize and honor the area's first permanent settlers. Explaining the term "old settlers", R.E. Archibald, who will preside over the host committee for a second term, said "anyone who has lived in Howard or Glasscock counties for more than 20 years is considered an old settler."

Festivities will get underway at 9 a.m. with a brief registration of all old settlers and their families in attendance. Dominoes and bingo will follow, with prizes being awarded the bingo winners. The prizes, as well as those to be used as door prizes, were donated by Big Spring merchants.

One of the highlights of the day will be a noon barbecue. The fee is $3 per person, with those over 65 receiving their meals as compliments of the Settlers Reunion Committee. Wade Choate, secretary-treasurer of the committee, said "special tables will be furnished those over 65, with their meals being served to them."

An awards ceremony will follow at 1 p.m. Awards will be given for various categories, including the most authentic dressed women, participants married the longest, the old settler with the most children, the eldest man and woman, as well as the one who has traveled the furthest.

Another highlight will be the old fiddlers contest scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. In order to be eligible to compete for one of the five cash prizes, all participants must be over 45 years of age. A special award will be presented to the oldest fiddler.

Activities will slow down with a break at 3 p.m. The celebration will resume at 8 p.m. with a dance. Ben Nix and the Boys will provide the music until midnight. Prizes will be awarded to three sweetest dance couples. There is no admission charge to the event, however, donations are encouraged to help defray expenses.

Tickets for the reunion barbecue can be purchased at the door of the Howard County Fair Barn. Those wishing more information about the reunion should call 267-5551.

By Dorcas R. Hardy Commissioner of Social Security

As recently reported in the press, I have informed President Bush that I am resigning as Commissioner of Social Security effective July 31. The 3 years I have served as Commissioner have been a time of significant change for Social Security. This has presented not only a great challenge but also a great opportunity. The agency's longstanding goal—to better serve the American people—has guided our tremendous progress over the past several years.

For example, Social Security now has a strategic plan to lead it into the 21st century. This comprehensive document, developed with the input of external organizations and experts, as well as our own employees, serves as the foundation for major agency initiatives in the future and guarantees Social Security the opportunity to create, guide, and control that future. We have also instituted an annual audited financial statement of the Social Security Trust Funds to assure the American public of the current and future solvency of the system.

Public confidence in the Social Security program continues to grow according to recent polls by the American Council of Life Insurance and the Home Testing Institute. And, our reputation for high quality public service is at an all-time high according to independent surveys by the United States General Accounting Office and the Department of Health and Human Services Office of the Inspector General.

Despite such successes, Social Security has never been willing to rest on its laurels. In view of the vital importance of the Social Security program to the American public, we must ensure that our service keeps pace with the expectations and needs of current and future customers, as well as modern technology. The Social Security Administration can take great pride in many impressive accomplishments over the past 3 years. For example:

• Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statements (PEBES)—Workers can now obtain, free of charge, a PEBES which provides three vital services: a year-by-year display of earnings, comprehensive benefit estimates which place a dollar and cents value on the retirement, survivors, and disability protection that Social Security provides, and a financial planning instrument. Since its introduction in August 1988, more than 12 million Americans have asked for their own PEBES.

• Toll-Free Telephone Service—Effective October 1, 1988, people throughout the country can reach

Social Security on a national toll-free number (1-800-234-5555), 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. In addition, those who prefer to conduct their Social Security business in person can now call for appointments, avoiding waits at local offices.

• Enumeration at Birth—In 38 States, parents now have the option to request a Social Security number (SSN) for their newborn baby as part of the State birth registration process before they leave the hospital. This new, voluntary service, which addresses the need for children to obtain SSNs at increasingly earlier ages, will be expanded to most States by 1990.

• Computer Modernization—Technology continues to transform Social Security into a more efficient organization—making service delivery faster, more accurate, and more accessible. Over 25,000 new computer terminals have been installed in all 1,300 local Social Security offices around the country. This computer modernization has dramatically reduced the time it takes to issue Social Security cards, post earnings, process claims, and pay monthly benefit checks.

These accomplishments, along with the continued buildup of the Social Security Trust Funds, have greatly improved the public's understanding of, and confidence in, the Social Security program. However, many younger workers are skeptical that the program will be preserved for their retirement years. The current financial health of Social Security provides an excellent opportunity for today's leaders to both assure the future of Social Security and, at the same time, commit to savings and pension alternatives that will decrease dependence upon publicly financed programs by future generations of retirees.

And, while current retirees are more optimistic, many are discouraged that, after nearly 25 years of deliberation, there is still a heavy penalty for participation in the workforce beyond age 65. The American economy needs the talents of our older workers; Social Security should not promote a gray underground economy, nor 100 percent marginal tax rates. Again, it is my hope that Congress takes action quickly to remove this unfair penalty called the earnings test.

The Social Security workforce is the most dedicated and efficient workforce in the Federal government. I am confident that Social Security will continue to be here to provide quality public service to you, the taxpayer and beneficiary, as it has for more than 50 years. And, I am proud to have been a part of its great tradition over the past 3 years!

DOWNTOWN COLORADO CITY

What You Don't Know Can Hurt You.

But not if you take a few minutes to learn about electrical safety around your home or business.

Here are a few safety tips worth remembering.

Overhead.

Never fly a kite, or raise an antenna or place a ladder where it can come in contact with a power line. Touching power lines with any object can result in serious injury or even death. Stay clear of all overhead power lines.

Underground.

Know before you dig. Some neighborhoods have underground power lines. If you don't know whether you have underground power lines, or if you need to know their location, call TU Electric.

Out and around.

Pad mounted transformers, large metal boxes that are usually green or cream colored, are safe when they are closed and locked. However, if one is opened or damaged, it can be deadly. Call TU Electric immediately to report the situation and warn others to stay away until the repairman arrives.

Be safe around electricity.

Being aware of the location of power lines can save your life or the life of a loved one. So take time now, before you start your next fix-up project, to learn the location of power lines near your home or business. Because what you know about power lines can make the difference between being safe or being sorry.

DON'T LET A POWER LINE BE THE END OF THE LINE.

1989 Property Tax Rates in Loraine I.S.D.

This notice concerns 1989 property tax rates for Loraine I.S.D.. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:

Last year's operating taxes	$ 238,331
+ Last year's debt taxes	$ 72,347
= Last year's total taxes	$ 310,678
÷ Last year's tax base	$ 22,843,925
= Last year's total tax rate	$ 1.36 /$100

This year's effective tax rate:

Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 310,678
÷ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting taxes on new property)	$ 21,645,320
= This year's effective tax rate	$ 1.435 /$100

A city that adopted the additional sales tax in a 1989 election must include the following lines:

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ /$100
= Effective tax rate	$ /$100
x 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ /$100

This year's rollback tax rate:

Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 238,331
÷ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 21,645,320
= This year's effective operating rate	$ 1.101 /$100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ 1.189 /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$.301 /$100
= This year's rollback rate	$ 1.49 /$100

A city that imposes the additional sales tax must include these lines, regardless of when it held the election:

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ /$100
= Rollback tax rate	$ /$100

SCHEDULE A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

The following balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
LOCAL MAINTENANCE	215,000
INTEREST & SINKING	46,807

SCHEDULE B: 1989 Debt Service

The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid	Interest to be Paid	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
1980 BOND	45,000	20,509	500	66,009
Total required for 1989 debt service			65,909
- Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A			-0-
- Excess collections last year			-0-

Hargroves meet for family outing

Lynn and Joanna Hargrove and daughter Celeste and Mrs. Lurlene Hargrove, all of Colorado City, went to Whitney Wednesday, July 20, where they spent the night with Joanna's aunt and uncle. They then went on to Ringgold where they met Lynn's daughter, Kelly Lynn Hargrove, and friend Rodney Reid of Marlow, Okla.

They all went on to Fort Worth for a weekend visit with James Hargrove, and his daughters, Sheri and Melissa, joined the family group Friday and a trip to Six Flags Saturday.

They visited with Juanita Starnes Friday night.

They went to church Sunday morning at Sagamore Hill Baptist Church with James and Juanita.

While in Fort Worth, they attended a Texas Rangers baseball game at Arlington Stadium where the Rangers beat New York.

Lurlene Hargrove visits in Midland

Lurlene Hargrove of Colorado City recently visited in Midland with her nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hunt, and sister-in-law and husband, Dorothy and Bill Walker.

She also visited in Odessa with Mrs. Maggie Peck and her daughter, Zedell Pollock.
