

Prepare For Biggest Banquet

Things are still done in superlatives out this way. While one of the worst sandstorms raged outside, Texas & Pacific officials planned for the city's biggest banquet Friday evening. The freight warehouse had been cleared and tables for more than 1,100 set up for dinner which will be highlighted by presentation of a safety trophy to the road's western division. W. C. Foster, division superintendent, left, and J. H. Williams, T&P safety director, right, give some suggestions for seating to Walter Jetton, Fort Worth caterer who is serving the affair.

T&P Gets Ready For Biggest Banquet In Big Spring History

Sand and wind notwithstanding, the biggest banquet in the history of Big Spring was all set to be under way here this evening.

The occasion will be presentation of the President's Cup to the western division of the Texas & Pacific for the system's best safety record in 1953. Presentation will be by W. G. Vollmer, Dallas, president of the company.

Service will start between 6:15 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. at the T&P freight warehouse, cleared for the occasion.

J. H. Williams, Dallas, director of safety for the T&P and who will preside at the banquet, said that 1,100 to 1,200 would be served and the program completed by 9 p.m.

Top officials of the company are due to arrive here on passenger train No. 1 during the afternoon. A group of representatives from El Paso and other points west arrived during the morning.

By mid-morning, Walter Jetton, famous Fort Worth caterer, who will serve the banquet, had set up for 1,100 people.

"We've got equipment and space to handle a hundred or two more," he said.

With his crew of workers, Jetton rolled into town Thursday evening. By 7 a.m. workers were whipping tables and chairs into place. A group of women workers was to move in by noon and start putting on table linens and fixing place settings. Later in the day (when the sand and wind have subsided, they hope) they will put on the salad, crackers, dessert, etc. Guests will have a choice of six meats from the bountiful buffet. Hot coffee will be served at the tables during the meal. Mrs. Champ Rainwater is to play organ music during the meal.

here by a score or more high officials and department heads. Among them are L. C. Porter, vice president operations, R. C. Parker, assistant vice president operations; J. J. Finnegan, assistant to the president. Last year the T&P employees on the western division cut accidents to a ratio of 7.79 per million man hours worked. The year before the ratio on the division had been 15.30. Not only was the achievement the best for last year, but it is the best on record for the road.

Serving a banquet of this size is routine for Jetton. He has served as many as 8,000 at one meal; as many as 10,000 in a day. He expects to serve half a dozen meals to 4,000 to 6,000 in Colorado Springs in June when the national Jaycees meet.

Army General Counsel Ejected From Hearing

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) ejected the Army's chief counsel and a general from a closed hearing of his investigations subcommittee yesterday and angrily asked how a former major escaped court-martial as a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

Thrown out of the hearing were John G. Adams, chief counsel of the Army, Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, commandant of Camp Kilmer, N.J., and his aides.

After the session McCarthy heatedly told newsmen he had been questioning an unidentified lieutenant colonel and Zwicker about an honorable discharge given earlier this month to Dr. Irving Peress, a Queens dentist.

At a morning open session, Peress refused to answer 33 questions about possible Communist links, invoking the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination.

Peress served at Camp Kilmer. He was promoted from captain to major in the reserves last November. He was given an honorable discharge after McCarthy had demanded his court-martial.

It was reported the lieutenant colonel declined to answer some of McCarthy's questions concerning Peress. The officer said it would violate Army regulations.

Then McCarthy ordered Adams to take the stand, it was reported, but Adams also refused saying he was at the hearing as an observer for Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens. McCarthy later told newsmen Adams asked for time to consult with Stevens.

McCarthy then ordered from the room Adams and all the Army officers except the lieutenant colonel.

Del Rio Rancher Held Guilty In Smuggling

AUSTIN (AP)—William L. Babb, Del Rio rancher, was awaiting sentencing today in the alleged smuggling of a million dollars worth of rare Charolaise cattle from Mexico last year.

Union Leaders Jailed In Financial Dispute

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A persistent federal judge and equally persistent AFL labor officials were locked in a fight today over whether a union's financial records will be turned over to a grand jury investigating reports of labor racketeering.

Two officials—Harold J. Gibbons, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 688, and Louis Beria, his assistant—have gone to jail rather than turn over the records.

U.S. Dist. Judge George H. Moore ordered both men held in jail for contempt of court until the records are presented to the jury. Beria went to jail yesterday and Gibbons, jailed Wednesday, was returned to his cell after refusing a second time to produce the records.

The local president, William Latal, and three members of the local's Executive Committee have been subpoenaed to appear before the jury today with the records, which Judge Moore says they will have "sooner or later."

Dave Beck, international president of the Teamsters Union, was reported considering appointment of a trustee to take over the local from present officials and instructing the trustee to make the records available.

Beck, in Miami Beach, Fla., for a meeting of the union's General Executive Board, could not be reached for comment and this report from Teamster sources could not be immediately confirmed.

The local—Missouri's largest with 10,000 members—figures it is fighting to keep its records from unreasonable search and seizure. It has planned on an all-out fight. A special committee has been set up to administer the local's affairs should all members of the Executive Board be jailed for contempt.

Shop stewards of the local have pledged full support, voting to use, if necessary, the final resources of the union, including a $150,000 "security fund."

Judge Moore's position is equally clear. He told one of the union's attorneys:

"I don't believe the law is such an ass as you would have people believe. I don't believe the law is so limited that one man saying taking the books might incriminate him would keep the books from lawful authorities. They (the grand jury) have the right to have those books, and sooner or later they are going to have them."

THE WEATHER

BIG SPRING AND VICINITY: Partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Saturday. Clear surface winds and blowing dust continuing this afternoon.

High today 66, low tonight 35, high tomorrow 69.

High temperature record for this date is 78, set on Feb. 19, 1931.

Low temperature record for this date is 19, set on Feb. 19, 1931.

West Texas Blacked Out By Choking Dust Storms

Area Travel Choked Off By Pall Of Dust

Westerly gales Friday drove in a pall of gray dust, stirred it with walls of red sand, and choked off travel in this area.

Only the foolish or the urgent among drivers dared upon highways in the face of the worst sand and dust storm since April 29, 1953. That historic blow, which almost broke the region's back, ranks as one of the most vicious on record.

Visibility in Big Spring tumbled to less than a quarter of a mile. Where the northern outskirts hug the rim of the cap rock, visibility was still less, dropping at times to zero.

Stanton reported visibility of less than 400 yards by mid-morning. Lamesa was completely shut in with visibility zero.

Two liquor control board agents turned back from an attempt to drive to the west county line on U. S. 80.

Downtown, demolition workers on old structures near the courthouse were nearly blown from the roof of one building. At one point, wind snatched a street light bulb from its socket.

Motorists turned on headlights of automobiles as they crawled cautiously as city streets.

At Webb AFB the wind was gauged in gusts up to 55 mph. Base personnel fretted not about getting planes down from the storm, but how to keep the ground-level planes on the ground.

The state highway department maintenance department had no reports of blocked roads. However, men had been assigned to various parts of the county on main roads under an alert to watch for sand dunes or wrecks.

A hundred miles to the north curious weather was making news, too. Morton and Levelland both reported some snow and rain as winds subsided.

Earlier, the weather bureau had predicted "some blowing dust" and said it would subside by late afternoon.

What was happening to the fields and pastures of the area was something that seasoned observers were loathe to consider. Until Friday morning fields, "put up" on strength of last October's rains, were holding firm. That bulwark against erosion may have been gnawed away by the punishing winds.

Tom Bly, who drove in from the south Friday morning, had a weather story to tell.

Between Menard and Eden he drove in blinding rain.

"Water was coming across the road deep in places," he said. "I thought it was raining everywhere in the world."

Before he got to San Angelo, he was "in the dumbest sand storm you ever saw."

NEW NAME FOR WEATHER READY

Base operations personnel at Webb AFB were looking for something new in the weather Friday — and it comes they have a word ready for it.

In checking reports from the area, Capt. Leo G. Bradford, base operations officer, learned that snow was mixed in sand that cut visibility at Clovis, N. M., to 1-16th of a mile.

He and when it shows here, operations will call the fluffy mud and snow "smud."

Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico Hit

A billowing dust storm engulfed sections of Texas and four other plains states Friday, cutting visibility to zero and piling silt in banks like black snow.

In some Texas and New Mexico towns, real snow or light rain mingled with the grit, concocting a nasty paste that clung to the sides of vehicles crawling through the dusty gloom.

The dust blew from Colorado and Kansas as far south as Midland—in the middle of West Texas—before noon. Forecasters predicted it would sweep to the Mexican border by Friday night or Saturday morning.

Dust also blinded much of Oklahoma.

Visibility dropped to zero at times throughout the dust area.

The situation was similar in Oklahoma. Schools at Boise City, Beaver and Guymon were closed. Visibility at Guymon was zero. Motorists were warned to stay off highways. While the Oklahoma Panhandle was choked with dust, the rest of the state got rains.

The weather bureau at New Orleans warned of the possibility of a few tornadoes from McAlester, Okla., to Little Rock, Ark., and 75 miles on either side. Up to 11 a.m., however, no twisters had been reported.

In Colorado dust was blowing at Pueblo and La Junta and other southeast Colorado points, being whipped up by winds ranging up to 63 miles at La Junta. Denver had winds up to 34 miles per hour. Blowing dust cut visibility to four miles at Imperial in southwest Nebraska and six miles at North Platte. Wind gusts reached 53 mph at North Platte. Some light snow fell in Nebraska's Panhandle this morning, but dust turned it pale brown. There was thunderstorm activity in eastern Nebraska.

Light sleet, snow and rain moving into western Kansas around midday cleared the air from Garden City to Dodge City but left a coating of mud on city streets and sidewalks. Wind blown silt had accumulated up to three inches in Garden City.

Many business houses which were forced to close during the dust storm remained shut for clean-up operations. Rural schools in the dust area were closed for the day. Highway traffic was slowed to a standstill during the height of the storm.

City lights cast was gleams through the black pall that shut out the sun. Cars and buses nosed cautiously along streets and highways, headlights stabbing feebly into the dust. Airplanes were grounded.

Meanwhile, thunderstorms rattled in North Texas. The Oklahoma City Weather Bureau included Gainesville in a tornado alert. But this warning was not matched by Texas forecasters responsible for the area.

The turbulence accompanied a western cold front that moved across the state.

The black dust headed south at a 35 mile-an-hour clip and was expected to reach the Mexican border by Friday night or Saturday morning.

Gusts up to 65 miles an hour marked its southward sweep.

The dust storm blacked out Borger, Amarillo, Dumas, Perryton, Clarendon, Lubbock and Plainview.

Schools were closed at Stratford, 67 miles north of Amarillo.

An Amarillo reporter said: "We're in a complete blackout. Street lights are on, and cars are barely creeping. It's like mid-night."

At Seminole the dust mixed with misting rain and with light snow at Morton and Littlefield.

SHEPPERD GETS INJUNCTION

Five Parr Foes Request Uncle Sam's Protection

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Five members of the Freedom Party asked today for federal protection against political boss George Parr.

They asked to be allowed to intervene as cross-defendants to Parr's suit asking for an injunction to keep two Texas Rangers from killing him.

Meanwhile, Dist. Judge Arthur Klein granted an injunction sought by Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd. He ordered officials of Duval County and the Benavides Independent School District to make sure their records are neither concealed nor destroyed.

At the same time, Judge Klein granted a motion by Shepperd that all records taken from the officials for study be returned, except for material to be held as evidence in three sealed manila envelopes.

The envelopes, containing bonds and other data, were placed in the custody of the district clerk.

The injunction hearing here lasted only five minutes. The injunction was granted by agreement of state and defense attorneys. It replaced a temporary restraining order granted by Klein last week.

Parr—the political boss whose financial affairs are under investigation along with those of the county and school district—was an affable spectator in the courtroom.

He and Shepperd shook hands heartily and exchanged pleasantries.

Shortly before this exchange, five Freedom Party members asked in federal court in Corpus Christi for an injunction against Parr. It was granted subject to a hearing in Houston on Monday.

They asked that the injunction be sought against Texas Ranger Capt. Alfred Allee and Ranger Joe Bridge be denied. Instead, they asked that Parr and men he controls be restrained from harassing the five men.

The hearing on Parr's injunction petition is to be heard Monday in Houston.

The petition was filed in Corpus Christi by Markel Heath of Falturris.

He represented these five political opponents of Parr: J. L. McDonald, Manuel Sanchez, Donato Serna, Cristoval Ybanez and Manuel Marroquin.

Their petition said Serna was slugged with a flashlight by Parr and Ybanez was hit with a rifle by Parr. The dates were not given.

Marroquin and Sanchez said their businesses were ruined because Parr ordered his supporters not to frequent Sanchez's grocery store and Marroquin's tortilla factory. McDonald charged his auto was searched and he was abused orally by Parr.

In San Diego, Dist. Atty. Raeburn Norris handed out a copy of his answer to another motion by Shepperd—a petition to have the Duval County grand jury dismissed on grounds George Parr dominates it. Hearing on this petition will be held tomorrow before Dist. Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin.

Norris asked that the motion be overruled, claiming Shepperd had no legal authority to ask that the grand jury be dismissed. Norris said only he, the district attorney, could do that.

Meanwhile, Texas Rangers stood guard at two banks controlled by Parr. They were posted yesterday after Internal Revenue agents obtained a temporary restraining order against removal of records.

BS Steer Sells For $12,750

SAN ANTONIO—Ann White sold her grand champion steer for approximately $12,750 a pound Friday, the highest price paid this year for a show steer in Texas.

Lone Star Brewery Distributors of Texas paid her $12,750 for her 840-pound Hereford which Monday won the grand championship of the San Antonio Show.

The calf, appropriately enough, was named "Lone Star Special."

The price was far above the $8,000 which Lone Star paid last year for the Hereford shown by Joyce Robinson, Big Spring, who had the reserve champion steer. The previous year James Shortes, another 4-H feeder, had the San Antonio champion.

Friday's robust bid on the calf boosted the earnings of Anne White, 17-year-old Big Spring High School senior, and her sister, Sue White, to nearly $40,000 on champions at the State Fair in Dallas, Chicago, Fort Worth and San Antonio.

The girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd White, have been active in 4-H Club work under County Agent Durward Lawler for years.

The bidding lasted only seven minutes.

Lone Star Brewing Co. immediately bid $5,000, which was raised to $7,000 by the St. Anthony Hotel. The next bid of $7,500 was made by the Lone Star Distributors of Victory, with the St. Anthony coming in for its final bid at $8,000.

From then on, spirited bidding developed between the Lone Star Brewing Co. and its distributors in Kerrville, Kenedy, Gonzales and Westhall. The final bid was $11,750, made by the San Antonio brewery.

Harry Jersig, president of the brewing company, then took the microphone and requested all Lone Star distributors, if they chose, to go along on a split basis and purchase the steer at $12,750 to top the Houston show's high bid of $12,500.

Jersig asked the distributors who agreed, with this plan to rise. Twenty-one did so.

He then announced the steer would be donated to the Boys Club.

This was the second highest price paid for a grand champion in the San Antonio show. The record price of $21,000 was paid by the Pearl Brewing Co. in 1951. Last year, the grand champion steer, an Aberdeen-Angus, went to the St. Anthony Hotel for $7,500. The reserve grand champion, however, brought $5,000.

Kiwanis Set For Pancake Supper

Big Spring Kiwanis Club members were "turning on the steam" today in a last-minute ticket selling drive for their Pancake Supper this evening.

The event begins at 5 p.m. at the Senior High School Cafeteria. Kiwanis members will continue to serve until 8 p.m. Previously the club had planned to continue the event until 8:30 p.m., but closing time was advanced half an hour to avoid conflict with a student function slated for 9 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Special entertainment will be provided in the Senior High auditorium during the pancake feed. J. N. Young Jr., program chairman, announced that two shows, one at 6 p.m. and another at 7:30 p.m., would include a variety of numbers.

Already lined up are a modern jazz dance group, a tap dance team, a girls triple trio, a novelty pantomime act, vocalists, a western string band and an acrobatic number. Also, no less than five quartets are due to perform. These include the "Southpaw Quartet," the "Gay 90 Four," and the "Chord Busters," all units of the barber shop singers organization, and the "Tunetwisters," and "Fence Post Four" from the High School.

Tickets to the event sell for 50 cents each. All Kiwanis Club members are selling the tickets, and in addition wives of club members had set up a sales booth at Piggy-Wiggly this morning to push last-minute sales.

Club members got some pointers on staging a pancake supper at their regular luncheon meeting Thursday in the Settles Hotel. Gus Barr projected a motion picture made by the Abilene Kiwanis Club, showing various steps followed in developing their 1953 pancake supper which was attended by 7,000 persons.

Special entertainment at the luncheon was provided by A-2C Anthony Green of Webb AFB. He was accompanied by A-2C Howard Klein.

Gorman Reports Damage By Wind

GORMAN, Tex. (AP)—One city-owned garage was destroyed and another was damaged heavily by a windstorm which struck here at about 5:30 a.m. today.

The front of the fire hall next door to the garage was blown in, and Clyde Capers received a minor injury when his garage and welding shop was struck by the wind.

The home of Jim Gries was unroofed and at least two houses were moved off their foundations.

A garage and chicken house at the Orville Walker home were destroyed.

Some telephone and power lines were reported down.

March Oil Flow Allowable Hiked

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today ordered a whopping increase of 159,266 barrels per day in the Texas oil allowable for March. It set the permissible flow at 2,962,416 barrels daily.

The increase will be achieved by allowing 18 days production statewide and in the big East Texas field, three more days than for the short month of February.

Chairman Ernest O. Thompson laid the predicate for the big boost with an opening statement at the statewide proration hearing. He pointed to what he called the good condition of overall stocks of crude and products, except for gasoline.

He noted that all the nation's major oil producing states except Texas and Wyoming are producing more than their proportionate share as measured by their percentage of national reserves of crude.

The large increase was ordered despite the request of a majority of the oil purchasers for only 17 producing days.

Ralph Dietler of Tulsa, board chairman of Standilind Oil Purchasing Co., made the strongest objection to more than 17 producing days.

"We urge no more than 17 days be allowed because, historically, refineries reduce their throughput from March through April," he told the commission.

Dietler feared a producing pattern of more than 17 days for March would mean a cutback in April.

"You mean the refiner can't resist running if he's got crude?" asked Thompson.

"That's right," replied Dietler. "The only way to keep the refiner from running is to keep crude away from him. Like keeping away from a baby."

At the other extreme from Dietler's position, Joe Owens of Sun Oil Co., plugged for 19 days, both statewide and in East Texas.

"I've been telling you practically every month that Sun is not getting the oil needed for its refinery demands," Owens reminded the commission.

Some telephone and power lines were reported down.

Baby They'll Never See

The sensitive fingers of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Ragsdale slide over the tiny form of their new baby daughter, Marianne, as they were handed the four-day-old infant to take home from the hospital in Long Beach, Calif. Ragsdale was holding her for the first time. The Ragsdales are blind. Doctors say the baby girl has normal sight. (AP Wirephoto).

Three Good Reasons

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (U)—Fred Beasley Sr. has three good reasons for visiting the maternity ward at Burge Hospital.

He became a father and twice a grandfather, all within 24 hours. First, a son was born to his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beasley.

Then, his 33-year-old wife gave birth to a boy. And finally, the stork brought a girl for his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brown.

Monkey Business

PITTSBURGH (U)—Mrs. Geneva Giles, who lives near Municipal Hospital, heard a noise at the door yesterday. She opened it and a monkey came in.

It took more than an hour for two officers to corner the monkey, which had escaped from the hospital research laboratory.

Wedlock Spoils Case

LOS ANGELES (U)—The prosecution's chief witness has married the defendant, presenting a special problem for the district attorney's office in the trial of a former county employee.

The case opened yesterday with Fish, who drew the ire and score of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt for his pre-Pearl Harbor opposition to U.S. intervention in World War II, made his remarks here yesterday in an interview.

Fish declared he still believed he was right in his stand against the Roosevelt administration's policy and said:

"The main issue today is Americanism vs. internationalism. Since 1936 the American voters have been disenfranchised in the presidential elections, as they have had to choose between two internationalist candidates."

Fish said a nationwide organization will be formed "to oppose internationalism within both parties."

Convicted Killer Dies In Chair, Complaining Of 'Texas Justice'

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (U)—Walter Collins Green, 25, died in the electric chair for murder early today after complaining of "Texas justice."

Green was sentenced to death in the roadside slaying, Feb. 15, 1953, of Fred W. Eldridge, a traveler from Minnesota. He was pronounced dead at 12:09 a.m. after receiving the first charge of electricity three minutes earlier.

A smile was on the lips of the Tallahassee, Fla., man before attendants slipped the black hood over his face.

"I just can't figure this business of one man getting the chair, one a two-year sentence and another not even apprehended in connection with the same crime," he told a reporter.

One of Green's companions the day Eldridge was shot to death on Highway 80 near Van Horn, Tex., turned state's evidence and is serving a two-year sentence. He is 18-year-old Bernard George Pregler. A third member of the trio, identified by Green only as "Slim," has not been arrested.

Newspaperman Don Reid who watched Green's execution said the young man was as calm as he had been while awaiting death in the state prison's "death row" here.

Green was to be buried today at 10 a.m. in the prison cemetery. Prison officials said Green's mother in Florida had directed that the body be buried here.

Green had been in trouble most of the time since he was 15 years old. He first served a term in the Florida State Reform School. Later he served time in the Georgia State Prison and at the McNeil Island Federal Prison in Washington.

Green was arrested in West Palm Beach, Fla., while driving Eldridge's car. The Minnesota body was found in a shallow roadside grave near Van Horn.

Green spent most of his time in the death cell reading books on boats and drawing scale models of sailing ships.

Cruel Hoax Played On Father's Hopes Son Was Still Alive

CAMDEN, N.J. (U)—A five-day dream that his soldier son might still be alive was ended today for Walter Tartar, 64-year-old shipyard worker.

Tartar conceded early this morning as he went to bed that he had been a victim of a vicious hoax. He had received a telegram last Saturday with the words "Hello Pop. Will be home on Thursday. Dick." It was sent from New York City.

His son, Pvt. Richard Tartar, 21, was reported by the Army to have been killed in action in Korea 11 months ago. A sealed coffin and his personal papers arrived here last summer.

With only a father's hope, Tartar waited up past midnight before sadly shaking his head and telling a group of reporters and photographers who kept the vigil with him:

"I won't be satisfied until the one who did it goes to jail."

HOUSTON (U)—William Louis Fellrath, 64, a central figure in last year's Port Houston grain-mixing scandal, died yesterday in the Veterans Administration Hospital here.

Cirrhosis of the liver was listed as the cause of Fellrath's death. Fellrath was superintendent of the Port Houston grain elevator until he was fired last April 21.

Along with two Fort Worth men, he was fined $20,000 and given a three-year suspended prison sentence after pleading guilty to making false statements to the Commodity Credit Corp.

Funeral services were scheduled tonight at 7 p.m. The body was to be sent to his native New Orleans for services and burial there.

Fellrath had been ill for some time and was reported seriously ill last April when he was fired.

Dallas Woman Dies

DALLAS (U)—Mrs. Ada Thurman Terrill, widow of the founder of the old Terrill prep school for boys, died at her home here yesterday.

selection of a jury to try Joseph M. Fowler, 29, on charges of forgery and grand theft. Fowler is now wed to the former Corrine Clazebal, 25, in whose bank account a $700 warrant, allegedly forged, was deposited. Fowler worked for a county collection bureau.

A wife cannot testify against her husband.

Owl Proves Firebug

BELOIT, Kan. (U)—Burning weeds set a tree afire on the Emery Watson farm. An owl, nesting in the tree, flew nearly half a mile with its wings aflame and dropped on the Deimont Jones farm, starting a new fire.

The second fire spread to five other farms, burning 700 acres of pasture.

Midland Woman, Family Reunited

DENVER (U)—A Midland, Tex., woman and her sister and brother were reunited here this week after a 44-year search for the Texas woman.

The reunion took place Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Rennie May Elder, 68, of Denver. Happily taking part were Mrs. Mabel Hicks of Midland and Charles Leon Wildman of Aurora, Colo., the brother. Mrs. Elder estimated that she had written more than 4,000 letters trying to find her sister who left their home in Wichita, Kan., Feb. 6, 1910. A man in Detroit read of the search in a Kingfisher, Okla., paper and wrote to Mrs. Elder that a Mrs. Mabel Hicks of Midland might be the sister.

A telegram brought a quick reply from Mrs. Hicks that she was the hunted.

"I'm just a lone wolf," she said in explaining her not being in touch with other relatives.

Talk Agreement Doesn't Mean A Treaty, But It's Essential Step

The pronouncement of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is fresh evidence of the efficacy of the adage, "While there's life there's hope." Mr. Dulles announced in his closing address to the Big Four conference in Berlin that a Korean political conference had been arranged for April 15 in Geneva.

He added cryptically, and not the least realistically, that there was a good chance of peace not only for Korea but Indochina as well if Communist China wants peace.

Safety Record Of T&P Family One Making For Dollars And Happiness

We extend our congratulations to the Texas & Pacific family today on the occasion of official recognition of an outstanding safety achievement.

Last year the western division of the line won the President's Cup with a ratio of 7.79 reportable personal injuries per million man hours worked. The previous year the division had a ratio of 15.30, thus by safety consciousness and cooperation the record was cut in half. The mechanical department of the division went through the entire year without a reportable injury.

W. C. Foster, division superintendent, wasn't just being modest when he said of the record that it was a tribute to every person working in the division; that they had earned it. Safety is something that is mostly in the hands of the people who do the everyday jobs. You either have safety at the grassroots or you don't have it.

In achieving their record last year, the people on the western division set a new record for the T&P system. They can justly take pride in that, too.

While we naturally share a bit of that pride, we would like to translate the achievement into something more tangible than a boasting piece. Every accident prevented is time saved and money saved. This reflects itself in more efficient and profitable operations, and in turn is reflected in the economies along the entire system. More than that every accident prevented is that much pain and suffering and loss prevented for the individuals and their families. Safety is worth every moment devoted to it, for safety pays off in dollars and in happiness.

Enemies Of Country Constantly Try To Cross Up Investigators

I have before me a circular giving instructions to the enemies within our country to pursue the line of silence. Don't talk. Don't in particular talk to anybody connected with the FBI.

The circular ends with these slogans: "Confront the FBI with the working class dignity of silence!" "Defend free speech by silence to the police agents of the warmaking, fascist breeding monopolists!"

"Silence to the class enemy and its agents is devotion to the working class and the democratic traditions of our country!"

I wish I could pursue that line of silence, particularly when the income tax forms come around. You and I are required by law to disclose all our affairs, our private deals, our income and some of our outgo. If we are self-employed and want deductions. The field man, who shows up a couple of years later, asks whether you bought that very pretty woman a lunch to get information for an article or just to show your friends that you can still be seen with a pretty one.

None of us enjoy the right of silence, not if we want a job and the personnel man insists upon knowing all about our lives, habits, follies, marriage history and why we think that we are so good. You can accept the dignity of silence as a role in life, but you will never get the job.

The enemies within our country have issued 15 instructions to their slaves. The 15th instruction says: "Remember this: The FBI agent has been sent out to bring back information. Conduct yourself in such a way that he will have to make this kind of report to his boss: 'I got absolutely nothing. Those people won't even open their mouths. They wouldn't even give me the right time!'"

They have a clear idea of how this agency works. It is in instruction 14: "The FBI's pattern of spying is like a big jig saw puzzle. Every shred of information they get is fitted into place, helping them to complete that puzzle. There is no information which is not valuable to them. One small fact may not seem important—but it may lead them to another fact which is important."

This is quite correct and is the only method that produces results for the FBI or any other investigative agency. Conspirators do not provide information about their conspiracy. One of their principal activities is to cover up, to hide under assumed names, to avoid detection, to confuse the hunt, to ally suspicion. Most conspirators and spies have a cover-up and

"It's A Product Something Like Margarine"

The World Today — James Marlow

Dr. Clarence Manion Seems To Think He Talked Self Out Of Federal Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Clarence E. Manion is a great talker. He seems to think, now that President Eisenhower has fired him, that he talked himself out of a job.

He said recently that in the two years since he resigned as dean of the Notre Dame University Law School he has been in every state making speeches to so many business groups "I have called the roll of American industry."

Last Sept. 4 Eisenhower picked the 57-year-old Manion as chairman of the important Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. On Feb. 17 Manion announced the White House had sacked him.

The White House gave no reason. Manion implied it was because he had made public speeches supporting the Bricker amendment on treaties, which Eisenhower opposed. The President said it would tie his hands in foreign affairs.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) proposed a constitutional amendment to limit the scope of treaties so they don't override powers reserved to the states and to give Congress power to regulate other international executive agreements.

Manion is a crusader for decentralized government and more self-reliance on the part of the states. And in the field of foreign affairs he has strong convictions which may seem unique to Eisenhower in handling Communists.

Although Russian and the Chinese Communists, as disciples of Karl Marx, operate on the theory that the United States and other capitalist countries are doomed, Manion, in his 1950 book, "The Key to Peace," suggested:

"Those in charge of our national defense must be made to realize that if the fascinating American story is made plain to our actual and potential enemies military opposition will liquidate itself in the wild scramble to follow the American example."

In that same book, although much of it was devoted to praising the Founding Fathers for their extraordinary wisdom in putting the Constitution together, Manion showed some displeasure with the Constitution as it is.

He not only urged changing it by adding on the Bricker amendment but also another amendment which would limit the power of Congress to spend money.

While Manion seemed to think his advocacy of the Bricker proposal cost him his job, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said from what he had heard of Manion, "I'm afraid he was too conservative to be of value to this administration."

Other Republicans in the Senate bitterly criticized the firing and one member of the commission quit in protest. This was Rep. Noah Mason (R-Ill.). The 25-man commission was composed of five senators, five representatives, some government agency heads, and distinguished citizens.

In addition to speculation about his views, Manion has been criticized for spending too much time speechmaking in general and not enough in the headquarters of his commission.

The government hands over to the states yearly $2,800,000,000 in aid in 22 programs covering such fields as public health, highways, education, housing. The commission was supposed to find out where federal-state duplication could be avoided and some aid dropped.

Although the commission was supposed to finish its work by March 1, its last three members weren't sworn in until Nov. 20, hardly time for such a huge job. It's going to ask for another year's time before reporting.

Mary Pickford Credits Goat's Milk For Looks

NEW YORK (AP)—"Sure, the Irish drank goat's milk," said Mary Pickford. "That's how I have my vitality—because my ancestors drank goat's milk."

At 60, "America's sweetheart" of yesterday still retains the simple charm that once made her the movie favorite of millions.

"I'm the busiest woman in Beverly Hills—or any other hill," she said, smiling, as we sat in the living room of her hotel suite.

"I have a big house to look after, and my husband, Buddy Rogers, and my business interests—and the children, Ronnie and Roxie."

"Roxie will soon be 12, but she's already four inches taller than I am. She's horse crazy. But I'd rather look forward to her being horse crazy than my boy crazy."

Mary also is active in half a dozen philanthropic and charitable enterprises. She recently completed her memoirs for McCall's magazine, and said she would like—after 20 years away from the screen—to return in one last film.

"It would be the story of my mother's life," she said, "and end on that day in 1909 when I walked into the old Biograph studio and got my first movie job."

Mary rose from $40 to $10,000 a week in a few years, and piled up millions later producing her own films. This girl with the haunting face of a golden angel also had a cashbox mind.

"But I dislike business heartily," she said. "A lot of career women may not agree with me, but I don't think business is a woman's world."

Her long Cinderella story has had many bitter-sweet hours. Mary said she had enjoyed so many happy moments she didn't know which to name first.

"But there is no doubt about my most miserable moment," she said. "It was the moment my mother passed on in 1922."

Here is Mary Pickford looking back at her life—a reverie aloud: "The greatest picture ever made? My choice would be 'Gone with the Wind.' Of my own pictures, I suppose I still like 'Tess of the Storm Country' best. I made it twice—in 1914 and 1922."

The greatest geniuses of the motion picture have been Charlie Chaplin and Walt Disney. After them? D. W. Griffith and Irving Thalberg. Irving had a bad heart. He walked with death at his back. He knew he had no time to waste on trivial things, or things half done. He died young.

"I made 50-odd feature pictures. We do look ridiculous in them today. ... And sometimes I feel like destroying my old films. ... Those awful clothes we used to wear. ...

"They can't compare with the pictures now, of course. ... But silent pictures did speak a universal language. ... I think we go in for too many sound effects now. ...

The great ones avoid superfluous gestures and superfluous sound. ... But the great ones are all too few. ...

Officer Kills Self After Car Accident

WOODBRIDGE, N. J. (AP)—Police Chief George E. Keating committed suicide by swallowing a dose of cyanide after killing a schoolboy in a hit-and-run auto accident, authorities have disclosed.

The 62-year-old chief, who was to have been honored by the town today for his 35 years of service on the force, took the poison in his home Tuesday about 12 hours after the accident in which 14-year-old Robert Berardi was killed.

At first Keating's death was believed to have been due to a heart attack, but then an autopsy revealed mouth burns and the presence of cyanide.

"It is a most regrettable case involving this fine officer who had been one of the most outstanding policemen in Middlesex County," said County Prosecutor Alex Eber.

Furry animals have four legs apiece, but a bird has only two legs. Along with legs, each bird has a pair of wings.

An ostrich has wings, but cannot fly. It never rises in the air, but can walk, and is a fast runner. It also knows how to give a powerful kick.

Almost all other kinds of birds can fly, and all can walk or hop on two legs. Some small birds do more hopping than walking.

The kangaroo, a furry animal of Australia, can move on two legs. It makes long, high bounds, and is kept in balance by its tail. A gorilla is without a tail to balance it, but it can stand on two legs when it wants to do so. The gorilla, however, usually bends over while walking, and puts one hand to the ground. It has extremely long arms.

People—the kings of the earth—are the ones who best know the art of walking on two legs. A baby crawls on all fours, but at the age of about a year the little one learns to rise on his feet and walk.

Besides the bones of the foot and ankle, a child has three bones in his leg. This is the same number as we have in the arm.

Everybody Opposes Illiteracy, But Even That Has Its Reward

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

"It looks to me like these newspaper editors would be more careful about what they say about illiterate people," said Fantele Flatiron, "average" American housewife, folding her evening paper with a yawn.

"Why so?" asked her "average" American husband, Filbert Flatiron, who was perusing a Pojo comic book as a diversion from his beloved TV set.

"Well, here is an article which says a lot of things about illiterate people, and it goes on to say that illiteracy must be stamped out," complained Fantele. "That stamping out business makes it sound like communism, or internationalism, or isolationism, or measles, or something like that."

"I'm afraid you miss the point," Filbert said patiently. "Illiteracy is not exactly a disease, but it is something that can cause the country to sort of drag its feet if it is allowed to go unchecked. Anyway, why should the editors be careful of what they say about it? Everybody's against it."

"I was just thinking about all the trouble it could cause the editors," Fantele explained. "Suppose a lot of illiterate people should read this and take offense. They might form a posse and attack the paper's editor, or something."

"Well, what in thunder would illiterate people be doing taking the paper?" Filbert asked.

"I don't know, but it's not impossible," Mr. Smarty," Fantele declared. "There was this old man they called Shakenpeare or something like that who lived at the edge of our town when I was a kid."

He was illiterate, and on top of that he couldn't read or write, but he subscribed to a magazine."

"Couldn't he find anything better to spend his money on?" Filbert asked. "Oh, he didn't spend any money for it. The whole thing was sort of accidental, but he got the magazine two years anyway. You see he had put up a mailbox, although he never got any mail. Finally, he saw the postman stopping at his house one day, and it really made the old man feel good when he found a big, impressive looking envelope in his box."

"When he opened it he found this shiny, gilt-edged certificate that entitled him to a year's subscription to this magazine for only $1.98. The old man couldn't read it of course and thought it was gold mine stock, or something, and that the postman had left it in his box by mistake."

"The old man worried about it all night, and then the first thing the next morning he slipped down to the post office and dropped it in the letter slot. A few weeks later he started getting this magazine, and it kept coming for two years."

"Didn't they ever send him a bill for $1.98?" Filbert wanted to know.

"Oh, yes. But the old man wasn't opening any more envelopes. He would just take them back down to the post office and drop them in the letter slot without opening them. It was two years before the magazine people found out what was happening and cut off the old man's subscription."

Washington Calling—Marquis Childs

It's Difficult To Give Away Food, Despite Hunger In World

WASHINGTON — With millions of people in the world hungry all the time it would seem easy enough to give away food out of America's bulging warehouses. But the Foreign Operations Administration and the Department of Agriculture are discovering that this isn't so easy, after all.

A compilation prepared by FOA shows that about $280,000,000 on foodstuffs is being given away under authorizations approved thus far this fiscal year. Other authorizations before July 1 may bring this up a bit.

While that sounds like a large order, in comparison to the vast total accumulated by the Commodity Credit Corporation it is pathetically small. Under pressure from Congress and the Department of Agriculture, FOA is said to have hastily decided to give $98,000,000 in surpluses to Bolivia and Liberia in order to make a better showing for the year. FOA officials deny that such an emergency allocation was made.

The value of the surpluses held by the Commodity Credit Corporation is now well over $5 billion, divided between food actually in inventory and government loans on commodities that the corporation may eventually have to take over under the price-support program. By the end of 1954, unless some faster means can be found to get rid of the excess or unless Congress drastically alters the support program, the grand total will be more than $6 billion. The bill for storage is running at close to $500,000 a day.

In the current giveaway the largest single amount—$70,000,000—is going to Pakistan in shipments of wheat as part of a total of 700,000 tons voted by Congress. The second largest amount $64,000,000, is going to Britain, Norway and West Germany where surplus American foods are being sold for local currency. Under one section of the law $26,000,000 in food has gone to East Germans and in Christmas packages distributed in various European countries. The FOA total includes such piddling items as $6,500,000 in famine relief for Bolivia, Jordan and Libya.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson made a bold move the other day when he ordered dairy price supports slashed to the lowest permissible level, as of April 1. This action was considered bold because it might very well have political and economic repercussions in the farm states, although it will be hailed by consumers whose purchasing power will be expanded because of lower retail prices.

The government's present hoard of butter is over 270,000,000 pounds, which surplus is increasing steadily. The government will continue to buy butter, under present supports, at an average of a little over 65 cents a pound until the April 1 deadline when the price is expected to be 56 to 57 cents. This will mean a consumer retail price of around 65 cents.

Several fairly desperate plans have previously been put forward to try to unload at least a part of the golden horde. While no one at the Agriculture Department would admit to having seriously considered it, a deal was contemplated under which some of the butter would go to Soviet Russia in exchange for minerals and other commodities in short supply here.

This would have meant letting the Russians have the stored butter at a cost per pound much lower than the American housewife is paying. And such a deal might have had nasty political repercussions.

Tentatively and timidly Howard H. Gordon, just resigned as president of the CCC, put forward a proposal for letting the housewife buy butter in the market at 46 cents, the difference between that amount and the support price to be made up by a government subsidy. That, of course, is the essence of the Brannan Plan which Republicans, and some Democrats, have so loudly denounced. A committee of Congress hastily backed away from that one.

But politically, economically and in every other way the present situation in surpluses is intolerable. One reason for the difficulty in giving away sizable amounts of food is the inevitable bureaucratic snafu when the giving is on a government-to-government basis. That is why on Capitol Hill anxious members of Congress from farm states are considering turning over really substantial chunks of surplus food to the non-sectarian, non-profit relief organization known as CARE.

In the past relatively small amounts of government food have been turned over to CARE for distribution and the results were considered highly satisfactory. CARE officials could not do what government officials could not do—make sure the food was not distributed on a political basis. There are obstacles such as the cost of processing and shipping. But with the efficiency and the goodwill CARE has built up these should not be insurmountable.

VISITS WITH IKE

California Politico Backs Being Kind To Democrats

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (U)—The political advice President Eisenhower gets from Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California is this: If you want to defeat the Democrats at the polls, be kind to them.

The Republican governor visited with Eisenhower for half an hour yesterday at the President's vacation retreat here. And Knight said to newsmen after the session: "I told the President his recent announcement that the best kind of condemnation of Democrats is very popular in California, because that is the way we have been beating the New Deal here for 20 years."

Woman Has 23rd Child

TIVERTON, R.I. (U)—For the 23rd time in her 25 years of marriage, Mrs. Irene DeMello, wife of an unemployed farmer, has become a mother.

The 23rd child, a girl, arrived yesterday in St. Anne's Hospital, Fall River. The infant was the eighth girl in succession, and is one of 17 surviving DeMello children, the eldest 23.

All the children were born separately to the 40-year-old Mrs. DeMello. The first born lived only until 2 years old and five others died at birth.

Twelve of the children live in a six-room farmhouse.

Charles DeMello, the 51-year-old father, gave up farming about eight months ago because of lack of funds and help. He said he sold his two cows and is looking for other work.

The family subsists on a weekly $25 welfare check from the town, plus what DeMello can make by salvaging automobile parts from a nearby dump.

DeMello said his weekly food bill is $48.

Of the farmhouse, he told newsmen with a grin: "We've got six rooms, all bedrooms."

Winner Of Big Four Conference To Be Decided In Geneva, Paris

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
BERLIN (U)—The Big Four foreign ministers have concluded 96 hours and 15 minutes of diplomatic battling in their Berlin conference—and the winner depends on what happens in Geneva and in Paris this spring.

The Asian peace conference which the four ministers agreed to open in Geneva April 26 will determine whether Korea will get unification and a real peace, and whether fighting will end in Indochina.

The French National Assembly in Paris will determine whether the European army containing German divisions is to be created—a project Russia fought to the bitter end in the Berlin conference and which still is the keystone of America's plans for the defense of Europe.

Those were outstanding among the issues at the heart of the grinding arguments which John Foster Dulles of the United States, Anthony Eden of Great Britain, Georges Bidault of France and V. M. Molotov of the Soviet Union pursued for four weeks here.

There were at least two other questions of critical importance:

1. Is Russia ready to roll back the Iron Curtain, even a little?

2. Are the Western Powers ready to recognize and legalize communism's hold over the Chinese mainland—more than one-sixth of the earth?

The Berlin conference at least gave the answer to both of those questions—a resounding "no."

The ministers held six secret sessions and 21 that were fully publicized. It was the first Big Four foreign ministers conference in five years.

The arguments, including private talks between Dulles and Molotov on atomic energy, turned on six major subjects:

Here is the boxscore:

German unification:

The West said this was the conference's major business, and Eden proposed for all three a unity plan beginning with free all-German elections under Big Four and neutral supervision. Molotov countered that West Germany's elected government and East Germany's Soviet-picked Communist regime should join in a half-and-half provisional government to hold elections and negotiate a peace treaty. He also called for the early withdrawal of all foreign troops from Germany, but with the right to send them back again.

Molotov turned down the Western plan; the West said his plan was a trap to create a Communist Germany and a defenseless Western Europe.

No agreement.

European security:

Molotov called for a 32-nation, 50-year European security treaty excluding the United States from Europe. He said it was designed to wreck Western plans for rearming West Germany in the projected European Defense Community.

The West said European security for both East and West rests on the North Atlantic Alliance—NATO—and the EDC. It rejected Molotov's plan.

No agreement.

Austrian treaty:

The Big Four in 1949 had completed an Austrian independence treaty of 52 articles except for five articles on which they disagreed. The West here accepted

Russia's version of those five and challenged Molotov to sign the pact. The Russian offered two new points—prohibiting Austria to join any alliance and allowing the Big Four's occupation troops to remain in Austria until a German peace treaty, or indefinitely. Dulles termed this a "fraud" to give Austria freedom in letter only.

Again, no agreement.

Asia:

Molotov proposed that the Big Four meet with Communist China in a "Big Five" conference on world problems—a bid for recognition of Peking. The Western ministers branded Red China the aggressor in Korea and supporter of aggression in Indochina and said "no" to such recognition.

Instead the Western ministers proposed the Big Four sponsor a conference on Asian peace problems—Korea and Indochina—and invite Red China and other interested nations to attend.

The result was the only important agreement of the 27 sessions here—that the Big Four, Communist China, North and South Korea, and other countries whose troops fought in Korea would meet in Geneva late in April to seek a peace settlement. And this would be followed by an Indochina peace conference of the Big Four, the Chinese Reds and "other interested states."

The United States and France preserved their official nonrecognition of the Peking government. The conference's closing communiqué specifically stated: "It is understood that neither the invitation to nor the holding of the above mentioned (Korean - Indochina) conference shall be deemed to imply diplomatic recognition in any case where it has not already been accorded."

Disarmament:

Molotov proposed a world disarmament conference outside the United Nations. His aim was to include Red China. The West countered with a proposal for a conference under the U.N., from which Communist China, not a U.N. member, presumably would be excluded.

The result: a brushoff. Agreement for a later "exchange of views" in line with last year's U.N. resolution asking all nations to work for arms reduction.

Atomic:

Dulles urged Molotov to join Russia with other powers in seriously negotiating President Eisenhower's proposal for a world pool of atomic energy for peaceful purposes. In the American view, the chief nations in such negotiations should be the United States, Russia, Britain and possibly France. Molotov proposed Red China join the talking. The United States doesn't consider China an atomic power.

Again, no agreement—but these talks will continue in Washington.

Insurance Office Being Moved Here

Big Spring has been chosen as the site for the southwestern district office of the White Cross Plan underwritten by the Bankers Life and Casualty Company.

In a reorganization of the 28-county area, the office formerly controlled from Abilene will operate starting Monday from Big Spring.

Walter D. Spencer, West Texas branch manager, announced the change. The office at 509 Permian Building will be managed by B. W. Rabon.

Spencer and Rabon were completing arrangements Friday, and 20 representatives will begin functioning from this office Monday. Among those working directly out of the office will be Bill Carter, Dewey Durrett, Ralph J. Boone, and William Burnett. Among those in this immediate vicinity are H. S. Combs, Colorado City, and A. G. Brigrman and Joe Harrell, Midland.

Territory to be served is from Lamesa east to Anson and Abilene and south of San Angelo. This is the company's 75th year.

Moore, H-G Fields Each Report Completion Of Ventures Today

Completions were noted today in the Howard-Glasscock Field and the Moore Field.

Swanlie Robertson of Dallas made pumping potential of 22.12 barrels of oil at his No. 1-A E. W. Douthitt in the Howard-Glasscock Field some 14 miles south of Big Spring.

The Moore completion was W. W. Holmes No. 1-B Hewitt, which had potential of 22.1 barrels of oil. Location is about five miles southwest of Big Spring.

Borden

British-American No. 1 H. D. Beal et al. C NE SW, 4-30-3n, T&P survey, had no shows of oil on a drillstem test between 5,350 and 5,414 feet. The tool was open 45 minutes and recovery was 20 feet of mud. Flowing pressure was from zero, and the 30-minute shut-in pressure was 600 pounds. Operator is now drilling at 5,522 feet in lime and shale.

Dawson

Cities Service No. 1 Winford, C SW SE, 3-4-D. L. Cunningham survey, has a total depth of 7,759 feet in Spraberry shale. The 5 1/2-inch casing has been set at 7,674 feet with 300 sacks of cement. Operator will try to complete as the second producer from the Southeast Welch Field area.

Seaboard No. 1 Middleton, C SE NW, 1-35-6n, T&P survey, has been plugged and abandoned at 4,372 feet in lime. This wildcat is about four miles southeast of Arvanna. Seaboard No. 4 M. J. Peterson, C NE NW, 40-34-3n, T&P survey, kicked off to flow 20 hours and make 94 barrels of fluid. Some 16 per cent was water, and flow was through a 20-64th inch choke. The project has a plugged back total depth of 6,832 feet, and operator swabbed four hours to make 30.34 barrels of fluid before the kick-off. The fluid was 70 per cent oil and 30 per cent water on swabbing test. Total recovery was 124 barrels of oil and water. Testing is still underway.

Murphy No. 1 Walls, C SW NW, 12-35-5n, T&P survey, pumped seven barrels of oil per hour in 5 1/2 hours. Operator is now taking potential test. This wildcat is about five miles east of Lamesa, and tests are from the lower Permian.

Stanford-Albaugh No. 1 M. E. Dyer, C SE SE, 47-34-4n, T&P survey, is reported at 6,977 feet in sand and shale.

Howard

Swanlie Robertson 1-A E. W. Douthitt, 330 from south and 2,310 from west lines, northwest quarter, 123-29-W&NW survey, was completed in the Howard-Glasscock Field for a 24-hour pumping potential of 22.13 barrels of oil. There was no water, gravity measured 28 degrees, gas-oil ratio was less than 200-1, pay zone was fractured with 6,000 gallons, and use was made of 750 gallons of fracture gel. Total depth is 2,370 feet, and the 5 1/2 inch casing is cemented at 2,190 feet. Production is from open hole.

W. W. Holmes No. 1-B C. V. Hewitt, a Moore Field location which has previously been reported as completed, is listed on Railroad Commission reports as having a pumping potential of 92.1 barrels of oil. Gravity is 31 degrees, and gas-oil ratio has not been listed. Operator used 2,000 gallons of acid and used 9,000 gallons of sand. Top of pay is 3,128 feet and total depth is 3,226 feet. Perforations are between the two depths in 5 1/2-inch casing.

Ocean Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 J. O. Haney, 1-694-23, T&P survey, and 2,641.9 from east lines 14-32-2n, T&P survey, is now taking electric logs while operator is waiting on orders to plug and abandon.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 E. N. Phillips, C NE NE, 10-32-2n, T&P survey, made it down to 9,720 feet on lime and chert.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1-B Tom Spencer, C SW SW, 11-32-2n, T&P survey, is perforating seven-inch casing between 9,896 and 9,926 feet. Operator is preparing on well and test to complete.

O'Neill, Zephyr and Davis and Hood No. 1 I. H. Neff, C NW SW, 48-33-3n, T&P survey, made it down to 8,290 feet in shale and lime. Lone Star Drilling Company No. 1 J. O. Haney, C SE SE, 22-32-2n, T&P survey, got down to 7,870 feet in lime and shale.

McSpadden, Greene and Harris No. 1 C. E. Gilliam, C SW SW, 48-32-3n, T&P survey, reached 7,500 feet in lime and shale.

Maguire No. 1 Chandler, C NW NW, 11-25-H&TC survey, is boring below 5,256 feet in lime, shale and some sand.

Davis, Heyser and Heard No. 1 Smith, C SE SW, 44-31-3n, T&P survey, hit 7,700 feet in shale.

Oceanic et al. No. 1-A Anderson, 330 from south and 787.8 from west lines, southeast quarter, 24-33-3n, T&P survey, is reported at 7,350 feet in shale.

Oceanic No. 3 J. F. Winans, 428 from south and 2,013 from west lines, 25-33-3n, T&P survey, has been bored at 7,702 feet in shale.

Oceanic No. 1 Vealmoor Township, 70 from west and 190 from south lines, 24-33-3n, T&P survey, is making hole at 5,302 feet in lime and shale.

Martin

Seaboard No. 1 Parker, C NE NE, 47-36-1n, T&P survey, took a 10-hour test in the Spraberry shale, 7,170 and 7,191 feet. Packer failed and another drillstem test is under way. Gas-cut mud was recovered.

Texas Company No. 1-A R. State, C NE SW, 17-7-University survey, is taking potential.

Stanford No. 1 Odessa Davenport, C NW NW, 14-34-3n, T&P survey, hit 2,069 feet in lime, anhydrite and salt.

Burglars Enter Barber Shop

The Carmona Barber Shop, 415 NW 4th, was broken into Thursday night, and apparently an attempt was made to steal an automobile belonging to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. LeBlanc.

Police said that the glass was broken out of the front door at the barber shop, and that the window had been tampered with. Nothing could be found missing.

Mr. and Mrs. LeBlanc, who live at 100 Jefferson, found their car parked about a block from their house this morning. The hood was unfurnished, and it appeared that someone had tried to wire the car for starting without a key.

LeBlanc could not start the car with his key this morning, and it had to be taken to an automobile shop for repairs. The owner believes the car was rolled a block away so that it could be worked on without waking him.

OWC newcomers to be feted at coffee

Wives of newcomers officers to Webb Air Force Base will be honored with a "newcomers" coffee at Ellis Hall Monday at 10 a.m. by the Officers' Wives Club.

All officers' wives are invited to attend.

Two Draw Fines Of $50 In Court Here

Sam Cowan pleaded guilty and was fined $50 on charges of aggravated assault this morning. He was charged in County Court.

Charles Brothers Lamb, who was charged Thursday with driving while intoxicated, also pleaded guilty and was fined $50.

Odessa Man Killed

ODESSA (AP)—An Odessa drilling company employee, Homer Luther Dyson, 41, was killed yesterday when his car and a Texas & Pacific Railroad freight train collided at a crossing here.

20 Vocational Teachers Due Here For Meet

A score of in-service vocational teachers will convene here for a one-day parley on Saturday.

Speakers will deal with the vocational program as part of the high school curriculum, from the point of job responsibility and the minimum foundation school program.

Consideration also will be given to student motivation in industrial education in a pair of workshop sessions.

Joe B. Neely, Big Spring district supervisor, will preside over the sessions to be held in the Big Spring High School. He will touch briefly upon the purpose of trades and industry education for developing skills and technical knowledge and as preparatory training.

In the morning session, following a welcome by W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools, Roy Worley, Big Spring High School principal, will speak on "Trades and Industrial Education as Part of the Total High School."

Leon Kinney, Texas Employment Commission, will deal with "Industrial Needs for Vocational Students." Neely will close the morning session with a talk on "Vocational Industrial Education Under the Minimum Foundation Program."

Policies of the vocational industrial club district meeting will be reiterated by Neely before the workshops Saturday afternoon.

Bert Affleck, McCamey, will be in charge of one group and J. B. Whiteley, co-ordinator at Big Spring, will head the other. Summaries will feature the closing general session at 3:30 p.m.

Pastor Says People Are God's Pencils

STANTON — The Rev. Jim Goings, pastor of Bellevue Baptist Church in Midland, was the principal speaker when the Interdenominational Department of the First Baptist Church was entertained with a "Sweetheart Banquet" recently.

Speaking on the subject, "God's Love Letters," Rev. Goings told his listeners that God writes to every individual, and the only pencils He has to use are the Christian people.

He explained that some boys and girls would write about God's love, while others are like pencils without lead—they could not be used by God.

Mrs. Harry Billington, superintendent, and officers and teachers of the Intermediate Department were hostesses to the group. Mrs. Joe Baugh sang "Love of God."

Valentine decorations were used in the banquet hall, menu and program.

The home of Mrs. M. I. Yell was the scene of a shower given for Mrs. Jess Angel Wednesday by a group of her friends.

Hostesses were Mrs. W. E. Holcomb, L. E. Turner, Mrs. R. S. Lewis, Mrs. Leon Hull, Mrs. H. F. Collins, Mrs. Roscoe Hazelwood, Mrs. Leo Payne, Mrs. Milt Yater and Mrs. Ida Myrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Polson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herzog visited in the Big Bend Country.

Edna Davidson was admitted to the Big Spring Hospital recently.

'Payoff' Tonight On ABC Contest

Tonight will be "payoff" night for winners and losers in an American Business Club attendance and membership contest held several months ago. The losing teams will entertain the winners at a barbecue to be held at 7 p.m. at the Settles Hotel.

No formal program is planned. George Zachariah, club president, said. The meeting will be an informal smoker.

During the contest 23 new and reinstated members were added to the club's roll.

High School Debate Team In Tournament

The Big Spring High School boys' debate team left this morning for Waco where members will participate in a debate tournament at Baylor University.

Those attending are Tom Guin, Rodney Sheppard, Gay Tidwell, Glenn Rogers, Charles Sanders, and Benny Compton. Dell McComb is the debate teacher.

Debate topic is "Resolved: The President of the United States Should Be Elected by Direct Vote of the People."

Graveside Service For Rice Infant

Graveside services were held at the city cemetery this morning for the one-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Rice of Midland.

The unnamed baby died last night in a local hospital. He was survived by his parents, a brother, Jimmie Floyd, a sister, Dora Ellen, and a grandfather, G. O. Rice of Big Spring.

The Rev. Cecil Rhodes, pastor of the West Side Baptist Church, conducted the services, which were under the direction of Eberly-River Funeral Home.

MAJOR LOUISE BALDRY

Salvation Army Slates Revival

With Major Louise Baldry as the evangelist, the Salvation Army will begin a series of revival services Sunday at 11 a.m. in the Dora Roberts Citadel.

There will be services each day at 8 p.m. through the week, except Saturday, said Lt. Robert Hall, in charge of the Salvation Army work here. Maj. Baldry will lead in two services on Feb. 28 to climax the meetings.

A native of Beaumont, where her parents were in charge of the SA work, she entered training college as a candidate from Dallas in 1925.

The following year she was appointed to the training college staff in Chicago, and later influenced southern cadets to complete training in Atlanta, where she remained on the staff.

During the ensuing 27 years, she has spent time in officer training work, as a commander of several corps, as an evangelist interested primarily in young people. She also served as woman's prison officer for the Western territory and later became divisional youth secretary for Alabama and Georgia.

Currently she is divisional evangelist.

Maj. Baldry was a recent delegate to the International Staff College in London, England.

Mrs. (Lt.) Robert Hall will be in charge of music.

San Antonio Paper Disputes Air Secretary's Statements

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The San Antonio Express in a two-column editorial on page one today said that if Secretary for Air Talbott chooses to refute statements he made here last week "it's his responsibility."

The editorial was entitled "Keep the record straight" and was signed by Ed Ray, executive editor of the San Antonio Express and News.

It referred to testimony made yesterday by Senator Johnson (D-Tex.) said newspaper articles shown to the committee by the senator were inaccurate.

Talbott, questioned closely yesterday by Senator Johnson (D-Tex.) said newspaper articles shown to the committee by the senator were inaccurate.

Ray said the stories were from last Saturday's Express and quoted Talbott as saying that Randolph Field was "definitely out" as a site for the proposed Air Force Academy.

"The secretary erred in making known his feelings about Randolph Field at the dinner. That's his responsibility," Ray said in the editorial. "If he chose to call the Express story inaccurate when he returned to Washington and to say that Randolph Field was still in the running, that's also his responsibility. But it's the responsibility of the Express to keep the record straight as far as the reporting of Bill Bellamy is concerned."

"Bellamy does not have to stand alone in the accusation his statement was inaccurate. I attended the dinner where Talbott spoke. I saw and heard Bellamy question the secretary after the dinner. Bellamy wanted to be sure he had clearly understood the secretary," Ray wrote.

The Express executive editor said the article written by Managing Editor Bellamy was accurate and that it was not a violation of any off-the-record agreement because there was no off-the-record agreement.

"Bellamy and I were invited to the dinner by the Chamber of Commerce as newspapermen and not as members of any chamber committee. At no time were invited newspapermen told that anything was off the record. The secretary knew newspapermen were present because he was introduced to them," Ray wrote.

Suit For Property Put On File Here

Clyde E. Thomas has filed suit for debt and possession of premises at 605 Lancaster against W. R. Morrow.

Thomas alleges that he is owner of the apartment at 605 Lancaster, and that the defendant is indebted to him in the sum of $570. He asks judgment for the debt plus interest and costs and possession of the property.

Attend Funeral In Hobbs Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Haynie have returned from Hobbs, N. M. where they attended the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Luella Owens, 84.

Mrs. Owens died unexpectedly and services were held Wednesday with the Rev. Clyde Campbell, First Baptist pastor at Hobbs, officiating.

Former Resident Dies In Dallas

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Dolan received word Thursday of the death of her brother-in-law, John B. Bowers, in Dallas.

Mr. Bowers, 32, was a former resident of Big Spring. Funeral arrangements were incomplete, pending arrival of relatives from Indiana.

Beer Application Is Denied Here

Application of Stella Stimpson for a beer license for Stella's Cafe 808 W. 3rd, was denied following a County Court hearing Thursday.

Local officers of the Liquor Control Board objected to issuance of the license on basis of the reputation of the Morocco Club, which formerly was operated in the same location, and because of recent cancellation of the Morocco Club license because of liquor law violations.

Mrs. Stimpson did not operate the Morocco Club. Stella's Cafe has not opened for business.

Public Auction Set On Last Of Furniture

A public auction will be held early next week to dispose of a few additional pieces of furniture from the old courthouse.

County Judge R. H. Weaver said the auction probably will be conducted on Tuesday. A few desks, chairs and other items will be offered in the next few weeks.

A salvage concern now is removing old buildings from the square, a project that probably will be completed in 45 to 60 days.

Victim

Mrs. Flora May Burgess, 36, is shown as she sat in the Hidalgo, N. M., County sheriff's office in Lordsburg, N. M., after telling of the slaying of her husband and assault on her. She and her husband, Amos C. Burgess, 49, were hitchhiking from Phoenix to Nashville. She told officers her husband was killed and she was assaulted near Lordsburg. Later she led officers to Burgess' body. A man and woman were held at Midland, Tex., after Mrs. Burgess was rescued from a car after passing a frantic plea for help to a filling station attendant. First Freeway Deed Acquired Twenty-four acres of right-of-way for the Highway 80 freeway west of Big Spring were secured by county commissioners this morning.

The land, providing approximately a mile of right-of-way, was purchased from H. H. Wilkinson, Fort Worth. The county paid $30 per acre for the property.

Commissioners expect to secure all the right-of-way for freeway construction between Webb Air Force Base and the Martin County line by April 1. Land and easements must be secured from about 15 other property owners.

Price to be offered for the land, officials said, is $30 per acre for rangeland and $100 for cultivated acreage.

Judge R. H. Weaver has reported construction of the freeway across the western portion of Howard County probably will get under way early this summer. It is estimated that cost of the approximately 12 miles of four-lane road will be about $700,000.

Need For Books At Center Reported

Books are needed for the Servicemen's Center, according to Mrs. O'Barry Smith, executive secretary, and donations will be appreciated.

Recent hostesses have included: Mrs. R. D. McKewen Jr., Mrs. M. Boykin, Mrs. C. W. Gunther and Mrs. J. K. Fort, 1948 Hyperion Club; Mrs. John Whiting, Mrs. Jake Hancock, and Mrs. Jessie G. Thomas, St. Mary's Episcopal Auxiliary.

Pythians Prepare For Program Here

Arrangements were nearing completion today for the Big Spring Knights of Pythias observance of the 90th anniversary of the founding of the fraternal order.

A local radio broadcast is set for 6:30 p.m. Sunday over station KTSC. The program will originate in K of P Castle Hall, 1407 Lancaster, and will follow a 30-minute network program, also to be aired locally by KTSC.

George Choate, deputy chancellor for Frontier (Big Spring) Lodge, said the local program will feature Elton Gilliland, H. M. Rainbolt, R. H. Weaver, Clyde McMahon, Paul Darrow, and Dr. P. O'Brien, all members of the lodge here. The Pythian Sisters of Big Spring also will participate.

The public is invited to the Castle Hall program, which starts at 6 p.m., said Choate. The local and network radio programs will trace the history, tradition and accomplishments of the Knights of Pythias and their five auxiliary organizations, according to the official.

Square Dance Party Slated In C-City

The Colorado City Chamber of Commerce has invited anyone interested to attend the Westerners Square Dance Association party Saturday night to be held at the Colorado City Civic House.

The Colorado City members of the association are hoping to see a large delegation from Big Spring. Groups as well as individuals are invited. Activities start at 8 p.m.

THE WEATHER

NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Clearing Friday afternoon. Fair, cooler Friday night. In southern part, Saturday, 20-40 tonight.

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair through Saturday. Expect considerable clouds in Panhandle Friday afternoon. Cooler with brief 20-30 to Panhandle and upper South Plains and 30-40 elsewhere Friday night. Windy Friday afternoon and night.

MARKETS

WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was narrowly mixed today at the opening with few issues moving more than an eighth or a quarter of a point.

There weren't many large blocks of stock on the tape at the start. Republic Steel started on 1,500 shares off its New York Central 2,000 unchanged. Westinghouse Electric 1,000 off 1/4. American Bosch 1,000 up 1/4, and American Cyanamid 1,000 off 1/4.

Largest block was 5,000 shares of Patton Mines up 1/4 at 4 1/2. It was yesterday's bid most active issue up 1/4.

Among advancing stocks were Bethlehem Steel, United Aircraft, U. S. Steel, and Sinclair Oil. Lower were American Can, Paramount Pictures, Southern Pacific, and American Tobacco.

The market will be closed Monday for Washington's Birthday.

Demos Not Unhappy Over Loss In Voting On Beeson Nomination

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (U)—Democratic leaders in the Senate were quietly jubilant today, despite a 45-43 defeat in their campaign against confirmation of Albert C. Beeson to the National Labor Relations Board.

Sen. Hill (D-Ala.), who took a leading part in the floor fight against Beeson yesterday, said the outcome would "give the Democrats a clear-cut issue which we will undoubtedly raise from time to time" before next November's election.

Beeson was confirmed after bitter debate. Accused by some Democrats of making "false and misleading" statements during his confirmation hearing, he was given a vote of confidence by all but one of the Republicans present. Republicans said his integrity stood unquestioned and that nothing brought out in lengthy hearings before the Senate Labor Committee had impaired "his reputation for truth and veracity." Some said that he became confused during his testimony but had no intention not to tell the truth.

But Sen. Neely (D-W.Va.), asked the Senate to help him protect President Eisenhower "against the disgrace of putting a man on there who lied five times."

Three Democrats joined 42 Republicans in confirming Beeson. On the losing side were 40 Democrats, Sen. Langer (R-Ind.) and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore.).

Hill said in an interview the outcome "showed that the Democrats can stick together on a clear-cut issue of this kind." Northern and Southern wings of the party often disagree. The three Democrats voting for Beeson, all Southerners, were Senators Byrd of Virginia, Holland of Florida and Eastland of Mississippi.

Before the question of Beeson's veracity was raised, some Democrats had opposed his appointment on the ground his active career as a management executive in labor relations would cause him to be prejudiced. Beeson said he was certain he would have no bias.

Beeson's relationship with his former employer, the Food Machinery and Chemical Corp., became the crucial issue in the dispute over his testimony to the Labor Committee. He submitted a formal resignation to the company the last day of the hearings, to take effect the date he takes the oath of office as a member of the NLRB.

Prior to that, he told the committee he had submitted an oral resignation to the firm's Board of Directors. However, Company President Paul L. Davies said Beeson had been given a one-year leave of absence but had no agreement of any kind to return.

A leave of absence, Davies said, would preserve Beeson's status in the company's pension plan, while a resignation would end it.

More than 30 cases are now reported deadlocked between the four present members of the NLRB. The lineup on many of these deadlocks has pitted the two members named by Eisenhower against the two who are holdovers from the Truman administration.

Beeson is expected to assume his new duties almost immediately.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), chairman of the Labor Committee, said opponents of the Taft-Hartley labor law were trying, by opposition to Beeson, to give the impression the President "intended to pack the board with anti-labor members." He said there was no evidence Beeson would not be objective.

Texas Solons Vote No

WASHINGTON (U)—Both U. S. Senators from Texas—Lyndon B. Johnson and Price Daniel—voted on the losing side with the majority of Democrats yesterday when the Senate decided 45-42 to confirm Albert C. Beeson as a member of the NLRB.

Children Play With Matches

This unidentified woman dashes to safety in Dallas, Tex., as flames ballooned in a residence, right, and an abutting tavern. Someone had attempted to save a mattress, in the doorway, right. The fire caused an estimated $3,500 damage. Firemen said the fire was started by children playing with matches. (AP Wirephoto).

French EDC Action Faces Talks Obstacle

PARIS (U)—The Berlin conference's promise of Indochina peace talks posed a new obstacle today to speedy French action on the hotly disputed European army treaty.

Following Big Four agreement to meet again April 26 to discuss prospects for peace in Asia, even the supporters of the European Defense Community faced this dilemma:

1. Press for the French National Assembly to ratify the army treaty at once—as the United States wants — and perhaps so anger Russia that she would not use her influence with the Chinese Communists and the Communists leaders of the Vietnam rebels to stop the war in Indochina; or

2. Delay the Assembly vote on the army treaty until after the Geneva conference on Korea and Indochina, and run the risk of the American Congress cutting off all important aid to France.

The conservative, neutralist afternoon newspaper Le Monde, an all-out opponent of EDC, probably sounded the rallying cry for the army plan's other numerous foes as it proclaimed last night:

"Solution of the Indochina problem is a prior condition to the ratification of EDC."

This was one of the first times this argument has been advanced to stall final action on the EDC treaty, which was signed in May 1952.

The final decision on when to put the treaty before the Assembly rests with Premier Joseph Laniel and his Cabinet.

Laniel has been working toward an Assembly vote during the second half of March or early April. It was not certain whether he would yield under the new pressure for further delay.

The Cabinet, awaiting the return of Foreign Minister Bidault from Berlin, may hammer out its strategy next week.

A new excuse for French delay on EDC would hit the U.S. Congress just as it prepares to discuss U.S. foreign aid appropriations. Many congressmen already are impatient at the delay.

Ex-SMU Student Held For Holdups
NEW YORK (U)—A man who told police he studied journalism at Southern Methodist University was arrested yesterday after a Lexington Avenue millinery store robbery. His bride of 10 months was held as an alleged accomplice in a series of holdups with knives.

The man, 25, said he and his wife, 19, were married in Hollywood and came to New York three months ago.

He said he studied journalism at the Dallas, Tex., school on an athletic scholarship, quit before he graduated, and held newspaper jobs in New Orleans and Hollywood before coming east.

He said his series of crimes netted him only $500. Police said he also cashed bad checks totaling about $2,000.

The couple was booked on robbery charges.

Cap Rock Shows Gain In Mileage
STANTON — The Cap Rock Electric Cooperative gained in mileage but eased off on membership during January.

Operating statistics shows 1,701 miles of line energized, or six more than in December. Membership stood at 2,674, a decline of 12 but the drop was seasonal.

Average KWH consumption was 286 as against 240 and the average bill $9.27 as against $8.83. There were 316 with minimum bills, an increase of six. During the month Cap Rock purchased 949,600 KWH, about 54,000 more than for December, and the KWH sold stood at 763,385, or 118,000 more than for the previous month.

Man Held Guilty In Death Of Girl Friend
MEADVILLE, Pa. (U)—Moses Terrell, 43, faces 10 to 20 years in prison for pushing his girl friend Laura Starr, 31, to her death under the wheels of an Erie Railroad freight train here last Dec. 27.

Terrell stood with bowed head as a jury shortly before last midnight found him guilty of second degree murder. The 10 to 20-year sentence is mandatory.

Terrell denied the charge but admitted he and Miss Starr, at whose house he was a boarder, had argued and were pulling at each other's clothing while the freight train passed.

George Opposes Provision Voted Into Pact Curbs

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today chances for Senate passage of any constitutional amendment on the treaty powers are dead unless a provision already tentatively approved is stricken out.

This provision, sponsored by the four top Republican Senate leaders, was written into the proposed amendment by a 44-43 vote Wednesday.

It would amend Article VI of the Constitution to require that all future treaties cannot be the supreme law of the land unless made "in pursuance of the Constitution."

George, a leader among the Democrats on foreign affairs, voted against the provision on the ground it might cast a shadow over all treaties negotiated and ratified since the Constitution first was approved.

He said in an interview today that the Wednesday vote clearly showed the Senate would not pass any constitutional amendment so long as this provision remained in.

"Too many senators," he said, "have doubts about what the effect of this would be."

This group, he said, combined with those who do not want any change in the Constitution affecting treaties would comprise considerably more than one third of the Senate.

It will take two-thirds vote of those present to pass any proposal for a constitutional change and send it to the House. Before this showdown, however, the resolution can be altered on the floor by a simple majority.

The Senate resumes debate today on the constitutional change first proposed by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio). However, no more votes are expected until next Tuesday.

Pending now is an amendment by Bricker to his own original proposal. It would state that a treaty or other international agreement cannot become effective as domestic law unless Congress passes legislation on it, or unless the Senate so provides by a two-thirds vote in ratifying a treaty. Other executive agreements are not subject to Senate approval.

Woman Dies In Crash Thursday At Sundown

LUBBOCK (U)—A two-car, head-on auto crash near Sundown, Tex., last night killed Mrs. Dorothy Christopher, 37, of Wellman, Tex. Four other persons from Wellman in the car with Mrs. Christopher were seriously hurt while a fifth was not believed seriously injured. All the injured were taken to a Levelland, Tex., hospital.

The Man Born Blind

JESUS RESTORED HIS SIGHT AND HE BELIEVED ON HIM

Scripture—John 9.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
THIS LESSON is the story of a man who was blind from his birth, to whom the world was a dark, mysterious place with all its beauties shut away from him.

How many of us who have normal sight and have had it all our lives are blind to the earth's beauty and goodness? There are some who never notice a glorious sunrise or sunset; a field of glistening white snow or ice on trees, bushes and plants sparkling in the winter sunshine, or the glories of early spring foliage and flowers.

Do we rejoice in the miracles of the changing seasons, thinking, "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein" (Psalm 24:1), and give heartfelt thanks for all our blessings?

There are those who need to have their eyes opened not only to the beauties of earth, but to the love and kindness of those around them. True we who see visually must also notice evil, cruel conditions under which man often lives, disease that maims him, poverty and injustice, but, if we believe in God and Christ, we can do our part in trying to

They couldn't gainsay that the man's sight had been restored, but they were determined to find some excuse to get hold of Christ and do away with Him, and knowing the miracle was performed on the sabbath, they said, "This man is not of God, because He keepeth not the sabbath day." Others said, "How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles?" And there was a division among them.

They asked the man what he thought of Jesus, and he answered, "He is a prophet." They then called the parents and questioned them, but they said that their son was of age, and they must ask him. They were afraid of the Pharisees.

Not satisfied, the Pharisees called the man again, saying, "Give God the praise; we know that this man is a sinner." What was his answer?

"Whether He be a sinner or no; one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see."

For that bold answer they told him, "Thou art His disciple; but we are Moses' disciples." Don't you love the man's answer to these cruel, revengeful alleviate suffering and to bring about better conditions for all.

"As Jesus passed by, He saw a man which was blind from his birth." So begins our lesson. This started a discussion when the disciples asked Jesus who had sinned, the man or his parents, to bring on the condition? Jesus said no one had sinned, "but the works of God should be made manifest in him. I must work the works of Him that sent Me, while it is day: the night cometh when no man can work."

Then the Lord spate upon the ground, made a clay with earth and anointed the eyes of the man with it, saying, "Go, wash in the pool of Siloam (which is, by interpretation, Sent)." The man went and he came, washed "and came seeing."

When his neighbors saw him they were amazed and puzzled. Some said, "Is not this he that sat and begged?" Some answered that it was indeed the same man; others said no, it is someone like him. The man answered them positively, "I am he," and he told his story, but when they asked him where the Man was who had performed the miracle, he said he did not know.

Hearing of it, the Pharisees had the man brought before them and questioned him. They asked him how he had received his sight and he told them exactly what had happened.

THE PARABLE OF THE SHIP

§ Sin is the anchor on a man's soul. It lets him drift with every current and be buffeted by every storm, but it keeps him tied to the FLOOR of the sea.

§ Faith is the sail that rises from man's soul. It links his life to a Strength ABOVE and carries him forward to his destiny.

§ What good is the sail if the anchor is down?

§ That, in parable, was man's spiritual dilemma through all the ages before Christ.

§ And, in parable again, the simple truth of the Christian Gospel is that Jesus Christ in dying for the sins of men has forever cut away the anchor!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Sleeping Beauty' To Be Given Tuesday

It may be difficult to keep the small fry in their seats on Tuesday when the Clare Tree Major play, "Sleeping Beauty," is presented here under the auspices of the AAUW at 4 p.m. in the City Auditorium.

The temptation to reach out and touch the goddesses of Beauty, Happiness and Wisdom, as they come down the aisle, may prove too much for even the best behaved of the youngsters. The three fairies will be on their way to the christening of the Princess Marya—the "Sleeping Beauty" of the play.

As in all royal celebrations, trumpets will announce the approach of the King and Queen. Then will follow the dance of the fairies in the ritual of the gifts, the rude interruption by the wicked fairy and the rescue of the princess by the good fairy.

The theme of this play is centuries old! Records of a sleeping beauty legend exist in the earliest Egyptian writings. A similar tale is told as part of India's folklore. The story has been endlessly retold, changed and colored to suit the taste of the nation adopting it. In New York's Public Library are translations from many sources, including the Nordic, Gallic and ancient Russian.

To the ever-probing intellectual, the story of "Sleeping Beauty" may be an allegory of the sleep of Nature during the long winter months and the awakening in the spring. But to children, it has always been one of the loveliest of all fairy tales.

This production, which will delight grown-ups as well as children, has been in the Major repertoire for 30 years. It is currently on an eight-month cross country tour.

Admission will be by season ticket or 75 cents for a single ticket.

Psychological Play Is Read For 1948 Hyperion Guest Tea

Reading a three-act psychological play, Mrs. William Penn was presented by the 1948 Hyperion club at a guest tea in the home of Mrs. Cecil Guthrie Thursday afternoon.

The play was "The Guilty" by Harry Granite and was written to be performed in the Margo Jones Theater in Dallas, Mrs. Penn said. This is one of the round theaters, which use no scenery, props or furnishings. There is no curtain, and in changing scenes a complete blackout is used, and then players are in place as the lights come on.

"The Guilty" was written to be done before a black cyclorama curtain, and each of the three players relates one act while he is seated at the side of the stage. As the play goes forward, the other actors are spotlighted, and they play out the story in the manner of a flashback in the movies, the reviewer said.

Mrs. Penn, a sister-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Penn of Big Spring, is past president of the Play Readers' Guild in Midland. She is now the president of the League of Women Voters in that city.

A picture by LaJuan Horton was exhibited to the group after the review. This is the painting that will be sent to Austin to be entered in the Art Contest which is being sponsored by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Miss Horton's entry is the one which is being entered by the 1948 Hyperion Club.

Guests were invited to the tea table by the president of the club, Mrs. H. W. Smith, who, with Mrs. J. G. Tucker, poured. The centerpiece was of yellow gladioli and ranunculus, with yellow tapers in silver holders on each side. The other appointments were silver. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Guthrie were Mrs. G. H. Wood and Mrs. C. C. Jones.

Guests of the club were: Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan, Mrs. Henry Tyler, Mrs. H. G. Keaton, Mrs. W. C. Foster, Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mrs. Ira Thurman, Mrs. J. W. Atkins, Mrs. Leroy Tidwell, Mrs. James Duncan, Mrs. Charles Watson, Mrs. R. R. McEwen, Mrs. G. T. Hall, Mrs. M. H. Bennett, Mrs. Oble Bristow and Mrs. W. E. N. Phillips of Fayetteville, Ark.

Can You Get Away With Calling A Boy?

May a girl ever telephone a boy? Certainly, she may. There are times and conditions which make it very necessary. If a girl is on the ball, though, she knows these occasions are rare and far between.

The rule is: A nice girl does not call a boy except on matters of legitimate business or when it is necessary and serves the best interests of all concerned.

Maybe this sounds old fashioned in the middle of the 20th century, but old fashioned or not, the girl who breaks this rule a few times will discover that she's also breaking her good reputation and her boy friend's interest into little pieces.

"Oh well," you say, "that's fine advice for girls who want to chase boys, but what about the girl who goes steady or very steadily?" The same advice holds for her, too. If she wants to keep her dreamboat interested she'd do well to forget her telephone has a dial. I don't care what kind of modern, high falootin' logic you come up with to justify it, the fact remains that the boys don't like to be called, and you and I can't change it.

If you've got something to say, say it at school. Boys aren't such dumb animals. They can see through this business of "I forgot my algebra book. Would you please read me the problems, Johnny?" If you weren't doing a little chasing, you would have called a girl friend, and they know it.

When can you call a boy and get away with it? When you have to cancel a date because of illness, when you are on the telephoning committee of some club, when you are telephoning in place of writing — thank you notes, or when you are returning a call to a boy who has been trying unsuccessfully all afternoon to catch you in.

There may be a few other circumstances that would merit your calling a boy. These are the most recognized.

If a girl wants to talk to her boy friend, she can think of a million reasons. The wise girl will ask herself, "Will he think I'm just wracking my brain for an excuse to call?"

Boys like to do the chasing and it sparks their interest to know they're going to have to make the first move if they're going to be and stay your boy friend. By those masculine names in your address book, better write, "Is this call absolutely necessary?"

Jaycee-Ettes Plan Social For March

Plans for a social March 11 in the home of Mrs. R. L. Heath were made at a meeting of the Jaycee-Ettes Thursday at the Wagon Wheel.

Assisting at the social will be Mrs. Commodore Ryan, Mrs. Oliver Cofer and Mrs. Joe Clark.

Mrs. David Simms was welcomed as a new member.

The group played bingo and winners were Mrs. A. J. Frager, Mrs. Harry Weeg, Mrs. L. Y. Moore, Mrs. Simms and Mrs. Cofer.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Weeg, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Harold Parrott.

Hostesses were Mrs. Milton Knowles and Mrs. Frank Martin. Ten members were present.

Hostesses at the next regular meeting will be Mrs. Harvey Wooten and Mrs. Glen Gale.

Wiener Roast Given For Young People

FORSAN — A group of young people were entertained with a wiener roast recently by Mrs. O. W. Fletcher, Mrs. Jesse Overton and Mrs. D. M. Bardwell at the home of Mrs. Fletcher.

Some of the group watched TV and others played games.

Attending were Tony Starr, Sherrie Fletcher, James Jones, Ginny Scudguy, Frank Tate, Lorita Overton, Jimmie Anderson, Sharon Buchanan, Gary Don Starr, Gaye Huette, Muri Bailey, Judy Shultz, Milton Birdwell, Glenda Whittenberg, Randle Fowler, Linda Camp, Dennis Smith, Ella Beth Story, George White, Nedeleene Pitecock, Joe Zant, John Whetzel, Larry Blankenship, Raymond Martin, Stanley Willis, Charles Sheen, Kenneth Duffer, O. W. Fletcher, T. R. Camp and Laneil Overton.

Mrs. McNary P-TA Head

Mrs. A. McNary was named president of Airport P-TA for the next school year at a meeting Thursday at the school.

Other new officers are Mrs. L. E. Newman, vice president; Mrs. Burke Plant, treasurer, and Mrs. G. C. Clinton, secretary.

W. O. Underwood, manager of the VA Hospital, spoke on "Keeping Faith with America." He was introduced by Mrs. H. H. Rutherford, principal.

The program was presented by Mary Vance and Eulalia Mitchell's second grade rooms. Miss Vance's room won the $3 room count prize.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Jim Engstrom. Mrs. McNary presided. Twenty-five attended.

Lessons In China Painting Given

STANTON — China painting is gaining popularity here as a hobby.

Each week approximately a dozen women journey to the home of Mrs. Tom Houston, eight miles south of Stanton.

Mrs. Houston, "Jaynie" to her many friends, is instructing these novices in the art of china painting and in firing the finished products in the kiln. The scene in the Houston den on chess day resembles that of a bridge party, but there is little conversation from women interested in decorating their own wares.

Beauticians Attend Show In Dallas

Short coiffures waved back from the face and a preview of two new spring hair styles, "Tis Spring" and "Gypsy" were reported by members of the local unit of Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists who attended the recent beauty show in Dallas.

The show featured two well-known hair stylists, Mrs. Margaret Buck and Joseph Paterno. Attending from here were Mrs. Ina McGowan, Fern Beedell, Mrs. Opal Osborn, Mrs. Odessa Wells, Mrs. Lillie Pachall, Peggie Garretts, Grace Coffee, Mrs. Madge Reinhardt, Mrs. Jewell Reinhardt, Oma Buchanan and Mrs. Odie Thompson.

Mrs. Pachall, with Mrs. Wells as her model, participated in the Lons Star hair styling contest.

The local unit will observe National Beauty Week beginning Sunday. Plans have been made to give women patients at the State Hospital permanent and to talk to school girls about good beauty habits.

Husbands Guests At Bridge Party

Husbands of Newcomers Bridge Club members were guests of the club Wednesday in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert McKenzie.

Hostesses were Mrs. T. B. Tillman and Mrs. William Fyfe Jr. Mrs. M. O. Marshall won first prize for women and Capt. Robert Mesick first prize for men.

Hostesses for the Feb. 24 meeting will be Mrs. E. G. Fausel and Mrs. G. L. Leonard.

Rules And Awards For Flower Show Announced

Plans for the flower show to be held April 10 and 11 at Howard County Junior College have been set by the flower show committee of the Big Spring Garden Club.

The committee is composed of Mrs. Bristow, Mrs. C. D. Wiley, Mrs. D. M. Penn and Mrs. Schley Riley.

It was decided that the Iris section of the horticulture division would be open to the public and that exhibitors in other divisions must be garden club members of Big Spring. A cash prize of $5 will be awarded the new club whose members win the greatest number of blue ribbons and a prize of $2 will go to the new club whose members win the most yellow ribbons.

Entries will be received April 10 from 10 a.m. to 12. No entries may be removed before 6 p.m. April 11 and must be removed by 9 p.m.

Other rules include the following:

All horticulture exhibits must be grown by exhibitors out of doors. All Iris in horticulture division must be labeled as to varieties.

Only one entry can be made per person per class except in the unlabeled specimen classes where an exhibitor is permitted any number of entries.

Fresh flowers and foliage in arrangement classes need not be grown by exhibitor but must be grown by an amateur. Vegetables may be brought.

All potted plants and dish gardens must have been planted by exhibitors and in possession of the exhibitors at least 90 days.

Mechanical aids are permitted but must not be visible.

Professional help is prohibited in making arrangements.

There will be a special class in the arrangement division in which novices can enter and avoid competing with entrants who have more experience. A novice arranger is one who has never won any award in the arrangement division in any standard flower show.

Specimen flowers are to be exhibited in clear glass containers suitable to size of flowers or length of stem.

Exhibitors are to furnish their own specimen and arrangement containers.

No state conservation material may be used.

The standard system of judging will be used throughout the show.

Awards are as follows:

A tri-color award will be given in each division and must be a blue ribbon winner.

A sweepstakes will be awarded the exhibitor winning the most blue ribbons in the show, not including invitation classes.

A medal will be awarded the exhibitor winning the second highest number of blue ribbons.

One named Iris ribbon will be awarded to an exhibitor winning a blue ribbon who has never entered an Iris in a show before.

One named Iris ribbon will be awarded to an exhibitor winning a red ribbon who has never entered an Iris before.

The American Iris Society will offer the following awards:

A silver medal will be awarded to the winner of the greatest number of blue ribbons in the Iris horticulture section.

A bronze medal will be awarded to the winner of the second greatest number of blue ribbons in the Iris horticulture section.

A purple rosette will be awarded for the best specimen in the Iris horticulture section.

A one-year membership in the American Iris Society will be awarded for the largest number of red ribbons won in the Iris horticulture section.

A named Iris ribbon will be awarded the winner of the most red ribbons in the artistic arrangement section.

A named ribbon will be awarded the winner of the most yellow ribbons.

A named ribbon will be given as a prize to each paid 15th person.

Script Given At P-TA Meet

Mrs. Elvis McCrary and Mrs. W. N. Norred took the parts of P-TA founders in a script dramatizing Founders Day when the Central Ward P-TA met Wednesday at the school.

Mrs. McCrary played Phoebe Apperson Hearst and Mrs. Norred took the part of Alice Berney.

Mrs. Ruth Burnam's fifth grade students gave the devotion. Leatrice Ann Hall gave the Scripture reading from John and the group sang "Fairest Lord Jesus."

Ray Johnson, a member of the faculty at Howard County Junior College, spoke on different stages of childhood from three years to teen age.

It was announced that Mrs. Ed Welch will give the P-TA radio program March 11 at 8:30 p.m. on station KBST. Central Ward mothers raised $60.50 from the Mothers March on Polio, it was reported.

Mrs. J. W. Fryar's third grade won the room count. Sup. W. C. Blankenship will speak on "What Our School Taxes Provide" at the March 17 meeting.

Elaine Mangum Visits

Elaine Mangum, formerly of Big Spring, but now living in Del Rio, is visiting her brother, Charles, and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Ruffelder, 1244 Stadium. Other guests in the Ruffelder home are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mangum and daughters, Ruth and Joyce Etta of San Antonio.

Dallas Symphony Applauded
Liberal In Concert Here

Music flowed from the instruments of musicians in a seemingly flawless manner when the Dallas
Symphony Orchestra was presented in concert at City Auditorium
Thursday evening.

Those who attended were justly rewarded with a concert of the first quality. Orchestra members played to the small crowd as if they were playing to an audience of thousands.

Sounding applause followed each selection, and Conductor Walter Hendl was forced to take numerous bows. Two encores were played by the orchestra.

The selections were presented in a manner to do the composers proud, and in the opinion of this reviewer the music could not have been better coming from a carefully cut record.

The program was varied and completely enjoyable, ranging from folk dances and waltzes to the classics of Rossini and Mahler.
Beethoven's Symphony No. 6 (Pastoral), presented after the intermission, was the "heavy" of the evening.

Approximately 500 people attended the concert, which was sponsored by the Big Spring Concert Association. The occasion marked the third time that the Dallas Symphony has appeared here.

Though his movements were graceful and at times hardly noticeable, Conductor Hendl was in complete command of the orchestra throughout the concert. His stance depended on the mood of the music, changing from effortless calm to immediate frenzy.

Instruments were in perfect unison during the evening, and the tones were beautifully synchronized. Melodies slipped from one musician to another without a hitch, and changes were made from one passage to another with ease.

The program presented by the Dallas Symphony was such that every instrument in the orchestra was at one time prominent.

Standouts were few, Hendl choosing to present the group as a complete unit.

The closest thing to a solo came in the "Romanian Folk Dances," when the first violinist gracefully carried the melody with other strings in accompaniment. Cellos were also prominent in the selection, which was composed by Bela Bartok.

Gustav Mahler's "Adagietto," featuring the harp and strings, was perhaps the top number of the evening. It was also one of the slowest numbers, rhythmically presented in the concert. The selection was beautifully executed.

A light touch was given the concert with the presentation of several compositions by John Strass.
They included the overture to "The Gypsy Baron," "Annen Polka" and the waltz, "Wiener Blut."

The concert was opened with Gioacchino Rossini's overture to "Semiramide." The overture was filled with contrasting passages, the orchestra moving from an almost inaudible beginning to a sounding climax.

The Dallas Symphony was particularly effective with the "Pastoral" symphony of Beethoven, capturing a number of different moods. Rhythm changes were instant, and the audience could actually hear claps of thunder and the noises of a storm.

The encore selections included a Russian melody translated as the "Old Witch," and an American novelty number, "Plunk, Plunk, Plunk." The latter selection was particularly light and left the audience in a gay frame of mind.

Badly Burned Student
Gets Aid On Birthday

CHICAGO (U)—Casimir Gladys, a De Paul University student who has been hospitalized for a year suffering from critical burns after a chemistry laboratory accident, got a happy birthday message
today from fellow students.

The students told Gladys, who observed his 25th birthday today in Alexian Brothers Hospital, they will stage a jazz concert benefit March 1. Earlier they turned over to him the proceeds of a benefit dance. They also have given 40 pints of blood for Gladys, who will be hospitalized for another 6 to 10 months. He has undergone three skin-grafting operations.

Cowman Unhappy On Way Picture Used

CINCINNATI (U)—Kenneth Hoober says the painting is a good likeness of his horse, but poor of himself.

So poor he filed suit yesterday asking $5,250 damages from the artist and a company which circulated the picture, because it subjected him "to humiliation and ridicule."

The defendants are Jackson Grey
Storey, the artist, and the Ralston
Purina Co. of St. Louis.

Hoobier, a cowboy horse trainer, said he agreed to allow use of the picture on the cover of a cattle-man's magazine, but Storey later sold it to Ralston Purina, which circulated it.

Storey named the painting "The Cowman's Faith."

Dumas Civic Leader
Succumbs In Hospital

DUMAS (U)—Funeral services have been tentatively set here tomorrow for J. G. Nisbett, 63, who died in a Dumas hospital yesterday.
