Pioneer Celebration Here Huge Success

POPULAR DEMAND JULY 4TH CELEBRATION BE MADE YEARLY EVENT

OUTDOOR EVENTS BIG HIT OF FOURTH

PARADE, BALL GAMES, AND SPEAKING ARE OUTDOOR FEATURES.

Outdoor features on the Fourth's program included the Pioneer address, parade, and ball games. Thousands viewed the parade, while hundreds were present for the speaking and ball games.

Sam M. Braswell, member of the Donley County Centennial Advisory Board, was master of ceremonies and introduced members of the board and those seated on the improvised platform located in the middle block of Kearney street at the Pioneer address, given at 11 a. m. by Judge L. Gough of Amarillo.

R. E. Drennan was introduced by Mr. Braswell as chairman for the day and he in turn made announcements concerning the day's program.

W. H. Patrick, pioneer banker and member of the board, was introduced as toastmaster for the Pioneer Dinner, while Mr. and Mrs. John T. Sims, Sr., were introduced as official host and hostess.

Attention was called by Mr. Braswell to Mayor Martin in that Clarendon had already honored the pioneers, having chosen one from the pioneer ranks to serve the town as mayor.

Others to be introduced before the speaker were Centennial Advisory Board members, Mrs. C. A. Burton, President and Mrs. A. T. Cole, J. T. Patman and Homer Mulkey.

Introducing Judge L. Gough, Mr. Braswell gave a brief resume of the history of the first settlement of Clarendon, a settlement of cultured, God-fearing people whose influence is still strongly present in Clarendon and Donley county.

Judge Gough, Mr. Braswell told the audience, made his first trip to the Panhandle in June of 1882, having driven a herd of cattle through the old settlement of Clarendon, and having been here since that date, has become connected with the cattle industry, agriculture in its initial appearance in the Panhandle, and today is one of the foremost wheat growers in the Panhandle, a man who also aided directly in the organization of several Panhandle counties.

Judge Gough's address was a tribute to the Panhandle pioneers, paying special tribute to the Donley county and Panhandle pioneers who had much to do with the early development of the Panhandle.

As a fitting close for his address, Judge Gough read a poem which pictured progress of the Panhandle country in the past 50 years.

The parade, which was viewed by thousands of spectators at 1:30 o'clock, was led by the Sons of Legionnaires Drum and Bugle Corps with Miss Jane Kerbow as drum major. The youths were dressed in white and donned American Legion caps to complete their uniforms.

The Clarendon band, under the direction of Gus B. Stephenson, followed next. Other highlights of the parade included the Chamber of Commerce covered wagon driven by O. R. Castleberry and W. E. Ray, pioneer cowboys and others riding horseback, five girls, Vera Noland, Evelyn Murphy, Dorothy White, Marjorie White, and Eugenia Noland, dressed in apparel of the nineties and pushing a baby carriage of some unknown origin, members of the Lions Club, trucks and cars decorated from various local firms, a buggy, belonging to Hugh Brown, and ridden in by Junior Les Beaux Arts Club officers, Misses Dorothy Jo Taylor and Jo Ella Stewart, and the most beautiful entry in the parade, the Lions Club float.

The float, dedicated to the Crippled Children's Fund, was beautiful of white, with Miss Stella Loyd, nurse at the Adair

KENT NAMED JA SUPERINTENDENT

BILL BEVERLY RETURNED TO JA AS WAGON-BOSS IN RE-ORGANIZATION.

In the re-organization of officials of the JA Ranch since the appointment of M. H. W. Ritchie, grandson of the late Mrs. Cornelia Adair, as temporary administrator, following the death of T. D. Hobart, former only living executor of the vast properties, J. W. Kent last Saturday became superintendent of the ranch. He took charge immediately upon receiving the appointment.

Following the appointment of Mr. Kent of only a few days was the selection of Bill Beverly as wagon-boss.

The many friends of Mr. Kent and Mr. Beverly rejoice in their being selected to these two important posts.

Kent, a former employee of the JA ranch for approximately forty years and was superintendent of the 450,000 acre ranch for several years up until about five years ago. He is thoroughly familiar with the duties of his position, and that of a cattleman, being known by his many friends over the Panhandle as a banner cowman of the Panhandle and unapproachable in his knowledge of ranching.

Beverly, son of the late Charley Beverly, former sheriff of Donley county, is no newcomer to the ranch as he also was an employee of the JA for about twenty-two years and wagon-boss for several years. In that period of time he has become an all-around cowman, and does not come unprepared for the position he fills.

Until his appointment here Beverly was employed on a ranch near Therman, N. M. Mrs. Beverly will join her husband as soon as she recuperates from an operation recently undergone at Raton, N. M.

J. W. WILLIAMSON DIES IN SAN ANGELO SUNDAY

Following an illness of several months, J. W. Williamson, formerly of this city and father of Mrs. B. C. Antrobus, died at his home in San Angelo.

Mrs. Antrobus was at the bedside of her father at the time of his death and Mr. Antrobus left Sunday to attend the funeral services which were held Monday at Bellvue, Texas.

Mr. Williamson was well-known in Clarendon having owned the Williamson Drug Company and having lived here five years.

Survivors besides Mrs. Antrobus of this city include a daughter, Sarah Williamson of Weatherford and two sons, James Williamson of Weatherford, Gordon Williamson of San Angelo and Dave Williamson of Eldorado.

MR. BAKER CALLS COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

County Superintendent Sloan Baker announced this week that a meeting of the Donley County Board of Trustees would be held Saturday at 10 a. m.

The meeting will be held in the County Superintendent's office.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. McCarter and son of Canyon spent the Fourth in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Accord.

Hospital, and little Miss Elsie Norwood as the crippled child. The float was towed behind the car of President Ode Caraway.

At the baseball games played at the College park at 3 p. m., Clarendon won both games in the double header.

The local team took the first from Ashtola 7-1 and the second from Martin, 7-0.

The Clarendon team was made up of all-star players and victory was none too hard over the country teams, though well trained.

'Member How Hot It Was Back In 1934?

Sometimes it is hard to keep cool by statistics, but a review of the antics of the thermometer last summer and this, may be some help in these sweltering days.

According to the records of Local Weatherman Joe Goldston, the first ten days of July this year the average temperature has been just a fraction over 100, while back in 1934 the average for July ran 101 and a fraction.

But, hold on, the first twenty-one days of August, 1934 carried an average wallop of 104 plus, and the combined average of July and August, 1934 stayed just a little above 104.

'Member how hot it was in July and August 1934?

CLUB BETTERMENT IS LIONS' THEME

CLUB HEARS FINANCIAL REPORT FOR PAST YEAR AND 1936 SUGGESTIONS.

Bouquets and brickbats, as it were, proved the high-light of Tuesday's program at the Clarendon Lions Club, when on roll-call the membership answered by suggestions as to what was wrong, or right, about the club, its program and conduct.

Many worthwhile suggestions were heard and listed for attention of the official family in the coming year, while many praiseworthy attributes of the club and its activities were also given prominence. Lion Link conducted the program and the membership greatly enjoyed what they heard.

President Caraway was in the chair for the first session under his administration and announced that the standing committees for the new year would be announced in a few days.

As a part of the minutes of the monthly meeting of the directors of the club, the financial report was read and the organization was found to be in very favorable standing in that respect.

A number of members were absent account of vacations and other temporary absences from the city.

SLOAN BAKER TO ATTEND SUPERINTENDENT'S MEET

County Superintendent Sloan Baker will leave this week for College Station where he will attend a three week's school for county superintendents to be held at A. & M. College.

This course, which begins July 15 and continues through August 3, includes twelve divisions of study, principal among which are the administration of finances, pupil-personnel, teacher-personnel, curriculum, school boards, school plants, teaching routine, position. The last three days of the school will be turned over to the twelfth annual conference of county superintendents, being a part of the short course.

Before returning to this city, Mr. Baker plans to visit points of historical interest in the southern section of the state, in view of conducting another large Texas History Pageant the coming year.

SIMMONS POWELL BREAKS ARM WHILE PLAYING BALL

Simmons Powell, local distributor of Gulf products, suffered a painful injury Friday afternoon while playing softball at the Junior High diamond. Mr. Powell was sliding in home when he fell, breaking his arm.

Although a painful break, he is steadily improving.

Elbert Bowen of Silverton spent Wednesday and Thursday visiting at the Blocker Ranch.

STYLE SHOW, PLAY CONTEST SUCCESS

AUDITORIUM PACKED; LARGE CROWD NECESSITATES A SECOND PRESENTATION.

Before a packed auditorium at the Fourth, a style show, play and old fiddlers' contest was presented at the College Auditorium at 8 o'clock. Not even standing room was left in either the auditorium or the balcony, making it necessary for two presentations of the style show.

The style show, the first feature on the night's entertainment, was a re-enactment of scenes of old Clarendon 50 years ago, with the setting the old Atteberry Hotel. Stage properties were borrowed from the old hotel lobby furnishings and the show was under the direction of Miss Anna Moores. Miss Anna Moores and Mrs. Sam M. Braswell wrote the skit.

Mrs. Carl Bennett, Jr., and J. M. Hill, as Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Atteberry, gave unusual performances, as did Mrs. Fred Buntin as Mrs. J. D. Stocking.

Though short, the skit presented much of the history of the old town, relating many true incidents of the deepest interest to the audience.

Others taking part in the style show, and "back playing his part equally as well as the others, were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cooke, Nickey Stewart and Anna Moores, Swift, a cowboy, Lu McCellan; Frank White, Frank White, Jr.; Buntin's Dairy Delivery Boy, Nickey Stewart; Clarendon's first school teacher, Mrs. G. W. Antrobus; Bill, the colored cook, John Bates; and traveling men, Bugbee and JA cowboys.

"A Six-Gun Romance," under the direction of Miss Lorraine Patrick, proved hilarious from the opening which presented Hattie Cromwell, a neighbor woman, played by Miss Rhoda Wiedman, to the end where the hero embraced the heroine with real "melodrama" technique.

Miss Dorothy Jo Ryan as Olive Leslie, the heroine, moved the audience as she laughed, cried, chewed her finger nails, fed the hero "corn bread," and spurned wealth for love.

Jerome Stocking as Hal Evans, the wealthy owner of the Circle Bar Ranch, called forth lusty laughter from the packed auditorium as he expressed his thoughts with illustrations rather than mere words, his actions, however, speaking louder than words as he lost the object of his affection by repeatedly making plain the fact that all work and no play made Hal a dull boy.

The role of Larry O'Dell, a mysterious stranger who really was no mystery to the sheriff as he was his deputy, was played by Keith Stegall. Larry, deputy though the sheriff claimed him to be, succeeded in making away with Olive's cornbread, her horse, Blackie, and her heart.

P. B. Gentry masqueraded as the Sheriff and Harry McCracken as "Six-Gun Kid." Circle Bar riders were John Hermesmeier and Ben Chamberlain.

Under the direction of J. C. Estlack, an old fiddlers' contest followed the presentation of the play and style show.

Rolling tunes of old were played as the fiddlers lifted their bows in deadly combat.

W. C. Reeves won first place and a reward of $5 with two numbers, "Gray Eagle" and "Snowbird in the Ashbank."

Arthur Howard, youngest contestant, fiddled tunes second to best and was awarded $3 by the judges. "Sally Goodin" and "Apple Blossom" were the numbers played by Mr. Howard.

"Sally Johnson" and "Leather Briches" were the selections which won T. E. Clark a reward of $2 and third place.

Joe David, first contestant, "Tom and Jerry" and "Sally

Clarendon Banks In Seasonal Condition

Statements of condition of the Clarendon banks issued showing their condition on June 29, 1935, show increases in loans, surplus and profits; while decreases were made in total resources and deposits, since the last statement March 4.

The Security State Bank reports on June 29 were: loans, $78,718.83; total resources, $162,819.73; surplus and profits, $1,638.05; deposits, $101,181.68.

SEED TO BE ISSUED HERE

SEED FOR BLOWN OUT
WHEAT FARMS TO BE ISSUED UNTIL 15TH.

Hegari, kaffir, and milo maize seed to the amount of 5,100 pounds was received Tuesday at the County Farm Office for wheat farms which were blown out and on which no vegetation remains to prevent soil erosion.

This seed is limited to one and one-half pounds per acre and the primary purpose of the issuance of the seed is to keep the land from blowing.

The seed was issued from the Soil Conservation Department at Dalhart. The program is to be closed by July 15th and seed is issued only from 1 o'clock until 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

TRANSFERS MUST BE MADE HERE AUGUST 1

According to County Superintendent Sloan Baker all transfers of both high school and elementary pupils must be made by August 1.

Final tabulation of transfers must be in Austin by August 15, and no transfers can be made after August 1. Any district dissatisfied with any transfers may appeal to the County Board of Education, according to Mr. Baker.

SCOUTS INDISPENSIBLE AT FOURTH CELEBRATION

Troop 38 of the Boy Scouts proved indispensable the Fourth as they policed the streets, aided the aged of the Pioneers group; gave directions, and truly did their daily good turn in a thousand different ways.

The scout troop under Scoutmaster Cap Morris, were in uniform for the day, and Scoutmaster Morris reports that scores of compliments have reached his ears concerning the conduct and activities during the day of this remarkable troop.

Scouts lending their assistance the Fourth were Muriel Landreth, Rayburn Smith, James Welch, Billy Patman, Cleo Russell, Durwood Mears, Bert Harrington, Johnny Lott, Jack Moss, Roy Harp, Dan Boston, Homer Charles Speed, Ben Hill, Lowell LaFon, Junior Lassiter, Carl Morris, and Allen Patman.

L. H. Skelton is vacationing this week near Rudosa, New Mexico.

Goodin" and Bill Walling played "Arkansas Traveler."

Judges for the contest were Buster Caldwell, Si Johnson, and A. H. Baker. T. M. Griffin accompanied each contestant on the guitar.

Special request from the audience followed the judges' decisions resulting in Bill Walling playing "Lost Indian," Arthur Howard playing "Henriette," and Joe David playing "Kelly Waltz."

COUNTY SCHOOL PLAN FOR YEAR

SLOAN BAKER ANNOUNCES
BUSES WILL TRANSPORT
MANY TO CLARENDON.

The State Board of Education and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Doctor L. A. Woods, have established a plan for transportation and transfer of pupils to affiliated high schools, which plan is being taken advantage of by school districts of Donley county. There is an added incentive for transferring to Clarendon because of the Clarendon Junior College which the high school pupil may attend after he is graduated from Clarendon High School. The local board of trustees, county superintendent and county board of Donley county, are arranging the transportation so that the high school graduate may live at home and take advantage of the two year college training.

High school pupils from Giles, McKnight, and Bray, above the grades taught in their districts will be transported to Hedley Independent School, Lelia Lake High School will be the high school center for pupils from Windy Valley above the eighth grade. High school pupils from Hudgins, Chamberlain, Martin, Ashtola, Goldston, Midway and Sunnyview above the grades taught in their respective district will be transported to Clarendon Independent School to finish their high school work. The transportation system to Clarendon will also increase enrollment of Clarendon Junior College. The entire enrollment of Whitefish School District will be transferred to Aleneed Independent School. Skillet High School pupils will be able to take advantage of the training offered by McLean High School.

The County Board of Donley county will complete a set-up for a county wide transportation for pupils in grades not taught in their district Saturday, July 13.

Because of the lowering of the classification of schools by the standard set by the State Board of Education, a number of schools in Donley county will be able to standardize next term.

This state set up for transportation and transfer of pupils enables the rural school pupil to secure the advantages of a good high school education as the pupil who lives next door to the school in the town or city without the disadvantages of consolidation of the rural district and raising the valuation and taxes. The transportation is paid for by the state if the local district is not able to finance the proposition.

Doctor L. A. Woods and the State Board of Education and legislators should be complimented for establishing and financing such a plan for educating all the youth of the state.

PRESBYTERIANS TO SUMMER CONFERENCE

The Summer Conference of the Dallas Presbytery which convenes this week at Ceta Canyon is well attended by both adults and young people from the local Presbyterian Church.

Those to leave Clarendon Monday to attend the conference were Misses Jeanne McDonald, Nell Cook, Ruth McDonald, and Arthur Chase, Bob McKee, Lewis Chamberlain, the Reverend Robt. S. McKee, Mrs. Fred Chamberlain and Mrs. A. L. Chase.

Judge and Mrs. F. M. Braswell, together with their daughters of Fort Worth spent the week-end with the former's sister, Mrs. J. R. Bulls. They returned Tuesday enroute to their home in Fort Worth after a vacation trip through Kansas.

Judge E. A. Simpson and son, Seldon, of Amarillo, formerly of Clarendon, spent Tuesday in Clarendon.

MANY PIONEERS ATTEND DINNER

W. H. PATRICK TOASTMASTER
AT THE PIONEER DINNER
WHICH 228 ATTENDED.

Two hundred and twenty-five Pioneers received badges at the Fourth of July Pre-Centennial celebration which entitled them to attend the dinner for honor guests given at the First Christian Church, and served by the ladies of that church.

W. H. Patrick, veteran of many such occasions in the Panhandle, graciously presided as toastmaster, and after the large crowd had impressively repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison, Toastmaster Patrick presented the official host and hostess of the day, Mr. and Mrs. John Sims, together with Judge and Mrs. L. Gough of Amarillo.

Each old timer present was called upon to make a short address, many responded among whom were Mrs. Julia Beverly, J. C. Estlack, G. W. Antrobus, Mrs. M. T. C. Crabtree, Roy Stocking of Plainview, Ed Carhart of Panhandle, John Caraway of New York City, M. E. Bell, Crockett Taylor, Mrs. J. D. Stocking, Walter Taylor, Mrs. W. R. Silvey of Oklahoma City, Mrs. W. H. Patrick, each relating some incident of the early days, telling of bus trips to Tascosa, rides on the first passenger train to come through Clarendon, others remarking "It's all been said; this it my home, the greatest of all."

Toastmaster Patrick introduced Bones (Mathew) Hooks, pioneer colored man and skilled bronc buster in the early days of this city. Bones, as Mr. Patrick remarked in the introduction, by his many deeds of kindness is an example of the kind of heart that lies beneath his colored skin.

Bones, who for many years has honored those of the pioneer number who have passed away by sending a single white flower, reported that he has sent 152 flowers since he conceived the idea, the first five years of this time only 35 flowers were sent.

Sam M. Braswell, a member of the Donley County Pre-Centennial committee, was present at the luncheon to perform one of the most delightful tasks of the hour, that of presenting the oldest man and the oldest woman present with a large cake, appropriately decorated and baked by one of the city's finest cooks and most patriotic citizens, Mrs. L. L. Taylor.

Mrs. Kate Hilderbrand, although unable to participate in the luncheon, was awarded the cake among the women and received the cake at her home, together with a honor guest badge, immediately following the luncheon.

"The presentation of the cake to the oldest man," stated Mr. Braswell, "comes as no surprise. This cake goes to the great old Roman, P. A. Buntin."

Mr. Buntin graciously received the cake, speaking a word of appreciation in return.

E. H. Watt of Giles recited what he termed as "music to the ears of the ladies," a toast to the Pioneer women present.

In response to a request for a speech from the parents of the largest families, T. W. Smith, John Fraser Boydston, and Mrs. N. S. Percival stood as having nine living children.

CLARENDON'S FOURTH OF JULY SHOULD BE MADE A PERMANENT ANNUAL EVENT

From every side comes expressions of satisfaction and praise for the Fourth of July Pre-Centennial Celebration held here last week. There is a general demand that the Celebration should be made an annual affair every Fourth of July, even as Clarendon formerly held the center of the stage for entertainment in the Panhandle on Independence Day.

The great turn-out of visitors was a pleasant surprise to most of our local people, and proves that Panhandle folk are ready and willing to come to Clarendon when the invitation is extended.

The News believes that next year we can stage a Centennial celebration on July 4th that will far surpass the interest and attendance of this year, and after that a July 4th Pioneers Round-Up, Home-Coming, Picnic or what-not will bring the people here by the thousands year by year.

So far there has been nothing but approval expressed for the continuance and enlargement of the movement, and The News is hoping that when the committee meets for the final clearance of the details of this year's Celebration, that it will officially announce here and now that Clarendon will be host in 1936 to a Centennial Celebration honoring the Pioneers that will eclipse in every respect that we enjoyed so well on July 4th, 1935.

Make the July 4th Celebration an annual affair.

A NEED THAT GROWS GREATER EACH YEAR

For many years The Clarendon News has been carrying as one of the dog-ear slogans on Page One, "A City Auditorium For Clarendon," and while the persistence of the depression has somewhat dimmed the early prospect of its realization, its need has been growing with each passing year.

Clarendon's Fourth of July, Pre-Centennial here last week brought the need of the auditorium back with startling force, when the speaking on the streets was so handicapped for lack of seating for the people as well as quiet and comfort for all concerned. At night when the Old-Fashioned Style Show and home talent "Meller-Drammer" was held at the College chapel, there were more people on the outside at curtain time than there were in the chapel, and the babel of noise ruined most of the first part of the performance for those who were early enough to get a seat or standing room. Hundreds went away and did not come back for the second performance, and the second performance found every seat taken and some standing.

Clarendon needs that auditorium. She needs it for school programs. She needs it for church purposes. She needs it for public gatherings of all kinds. She needs it for the success of any great annual Celebration like we should have here every July 4th.

Anything needed so badly as Clarendon needs this facility can be secured, and The News believes that there is a workable, feasible, economical plan to be found that will provide this auditorium before another year rolls around.

The need grows with the passing years, and it is a reflection on our leadership and resourcefulness unless we fill that need.

ON THE WAY TO THE POLLS

A voter has a copy of the official ballot in his pocket and is on his way to the voting place. He meets a man drunk on beer. Shall he vote to add whiskey to the beer all over Texas. He remembers that he saw in the papers the statement of how deaths from automobile wrecks have increased since beer was legalized. Shall he add whiskey to the beer? He meets a boy and girl in an automobile, going to a picnic with beer in their basket. Shall he add whiskey to the beer? He meets a neighbor who has lost his job because he was half drunk so much of the time on beer. Shall he add whiskey to the beer?

You are the voter. What are you going to do about it? Your wife is another voter. What is she going to do about it? Between now and the election, what are you going to do about it when you talk to others?

THE JOKERS IN THE REPEAL AMENDMENT

For fifty years and longer the whiskey interests have always sought to secure unfair advantages by legislation cunningly devised and concealing "jokers," which sometimes have been overlooked until too late to defeat their damning effects.

The liquor folks in the last legislature attempted to do just that sort of thing even in this enlightened age, and are hoping to get by with it. The intelligent citizenry of Texas, however, are waking up to the true intent of the purported "fair" repeal amendment, and the jokers are being pointed out in disturbing rapidity to those who seek to give liquor legal standing in Texas. Here are some of the "jokers" exposed by a former citizen of Clarendon, Dr. J. Sam Barcus, now of McKinney.

"There seems to be some confusion as to just what will be the effect of the repeal amendment, if it should pass. It has been said by some that the passing of this amendment would leave our local option laws just as they were before State prohibition adopted. A careful reading of the proposed amendment shows that this is not true. The whiskey dealers are asking for MUCH MORE than simply repeal. They are asking that the LOCAL OPTION that was in operation before we had State prohibition be greatly weakened if not made worthless.

"The OLD LOCAL OPTION LAW gave the people the right to vote on ALL intoxicating liquors. Under this amendment they have the right to vote ONLY on 'intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes.' Under this law before a whiskey seller could be convicted for violation of a local option law, the State should have to prove not only that liquor was SOLD but that it was SOLD FOR 'BEVERAGE PURPOSES,' a thing very difficult to do.

"Again this repeal amendment requires that ANY LOCAL OPTION LAW PASSED 'shall contain provisions for voting on the SALE of intoxicating liquors of various types and various alcoholic content.' This would require EXPERT testimony from a competent chemist as to the alcoholic content and also proof that the liquor ANALYZED was the liquor SOLD, a thing practically impossible to do.

"And still again under our old local option laws the people had a right to vote on the sale of liquor in 'such sub-division of a county as may be designated by the COMMISSIONERS' COURT OF SAID COUNTY.' That right is NOT allowed in the amendment to be voted on in August. It is ONLY given to COUNTIES, JUSTICE PRECINCTS, or TOWNS OR CITIES. Under this enactment those districts and sub-divisions other than those mentioned above would automatically BECOME WET and would have to REMAIN so as no provision is made in the repeal amendment for them to vote liquor out.

"In the light of the above facts, it would seem that the whiskey traffic is asking TOO MUCH of a sovereign citizen, when it asks him to surrender these local self-government rights.—J. Sam Barcus."

A SUGGESTION WORTH ADOPTING

A worthy local citizen this past week in commenting on the wonderful and voluminous display of old-time photographs at the Celebration held in Clarendon, July 4th, made a suggestion that is so timely that The News desires to bring it to the attention of all its readers.

Noting that so few of the pictures were dated, and still fewer had a list of names of persons in the photograph attached, this gentleman suggested that every picture worth keeping at all, was worth the time and trouble of dating in ink, and the listing of the names while they were yet well in mind.

All of us have group photographs of ten to thirty years ago, the exact date of which we are unable to fix, and the names of many have passed entirely out of mind, so that much of the interest and value of the picture is lost.

Let's remember and date every photograph we file away for safe-keeping, and let's not forget to write down the name of every person included in the group.

It's a little thing, but it will pay large dividends in pleasure and satisfaction in the years to come.

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

The library is open four afternoons each week—Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons. From 3:30 to 6 on the first three and from 1:30 to 6 on the Saturdays. If anyone doubts the fact that our people appreciate and use the library, let them just pay us a visit on one of these afternoons, particularly on Saturday. That is our busy day. On last Saturday we checked out 218 books in the one afternoon. During the month of June we checked out a total of 1782 books. Since we have only a few over 3000 volumes, this shows how steadily many of them are used.

A present day writer whose stories always receive favorable comment is Phyllis Bottome. That last "o" is long, with the accent on the last syllable. She was born in England, and her mother was English, but her father was an American clergyman, Rev. William MacDonald. When Phyllis was nine years old, her father brought his family to this country to accept the pastorate of Grace Church of Jamaica, Long Island. For six years he held the pastorate of this church and then the family returned permanently to England. She says of her father that he was a brilliant preacher, but that he had the tastes of a gypsy and so they never remained long in one place.

As a girl Phyllis Bottome says she did every conceivable sort of parish work except preaching, while nursing an aspirant for the stage. But a serious physical breakdown dispelled these plans and forced her to spend some time in Switzerland in a fight for life. Her books met ready acceptance by publishers and public. She completed her first novel before she was seventeen. It fell into the hands of Andrew Lang, and was immediately accepted for publication. It was quickly followed by three others.

Until the war she regularly spent her winters in Rome which she came to know almost as she did London. Here she met and became intimate with people from all over Europe, becoming really a cosmopolitan. Her books have been translated into Norwegian, Swedish, French, German and Dutch. She still speaks most affectionately of America, though she has never revisited this country.

When quite young she became engaged to A. E. Forbes Dennis, but broke the engagement because of ill health, but just before the World War they met again, and in 1916 they were happily married. Captain Dennis served with distinction for three years in France, was dangerously wounded and on his recovery was made Intelligence Officer at Marseilles and put in charge of all English shipping from that port. So well did he perform his duties that after the armistice he was offered

What about the tournament for this month? Some one who is interested in the future membership of the club should get behind this movement.

With the organization of the senior golfers of this section, Uncle Andy Wood is looking forward to more fields to conquer. With the age limit set at 45, the going may be a bit tough, but Clarendon oldsters will grab their share of the honors.

Dude Gentry is back at golf after being out all season. Convalescing from an operation. Walter Wilson has also come back to the fold, and is getting ready to fire for the next championship.

Come word from Pampa of their plans for an invitation tourney this year. Boasting of a "Brand New" club house, and one of the sportiest courses in the Panhandle, Pampa has all the requirements for a first class tournament.

Clarendon has an invitation from the Cole Creek Country Club for an Inter-City match to be played in Shamrock Sunday, July 14. Mr. J. T. Patman asks that everyone wishing to go to please notify him.

ed an important post in Vienna. During these years Miss Bottome had been active in all phases of war work among the many nationalities which her life touched. In the Austrian capital she threw her energies into feeding the hords there who were starving. From this experience came her story of the Austrian breakdown, "Old Wine."

The Forbes Dennis home is at Kitzbuhel in the heart of the Austrian Tyrol, a beautiful, picturesque spot when she is particularly happy. The home overlooks a lovely valley filled with flowers in the spring time, and here they are able to keep in constant touch with the intellectual life of Vienna, Paris and Berlin.

Miss Bottome says people often ask her if she takes her characters from real life, and she always answers "Where else should she get them." She says real life is the only possible source for real literature.

Three of her books are on shelves: "The Second Fiddle," "Windstrows," which was written in 1929, and "Fatter'd Loving" in 1930.

ADVANTAGES OF LIGHTED ATHLETIC FIELDS

By J. L. Kerby

Just what are the advantages of a lighted athletic field? The first and chief advantage of a lighted athletic field from the school's and community's point of view is that less of the student's school time is taken up by the athletic program. In most cases the visiting team does not have to leave its school until after school hours in order to get to the place of the game long before time to play. Students who follow the visiting team do not have to leave home, in many cases, until after an early supper and still will arrive by game time. Usually on the day of a game at home the school has many visitors from the rival town, and has an air of excitement and disinterest toward regular school activities. School authorities, in schools with lighted fields, report that this excitement does not begin until after school hours and as a result much better work is done on the day of the game. These features alone show a definite advantage of the lighted field for night athletic events.

Another advantage, particularly in West Texas, is the lack of wind at night. After a careful check during the past fall I found that only two Friday nights during football season were windy, while the wind blew every Friday afternoon. Since better football games can be played in still weather, it seems that the nights in the Panhandle are more favorable than the daylight periods.

As a usual rule the early part of the football season is hot, even in Clarendon, and the night games are much cooler, which results in greater physical activity on the part of the players. This brings up the question regarding whether or not night games are impractical because of cold weather, at which is a possibility that in some years there will be some severe cold weather, at which time the day game might be more favored than the night game; however, this is unusual rather than usual in Texas before the first of December. If such cold weather should develop it would be easy to change the time of the game so that it could be played during the day. However, I believe that it will be found, on careful check, that the temperature variation between 5 p. m. and 9 p. m. would be insufficient to make much difference, especially when the wind dies down in the early evening.

On our field there would be a definite advantage of not having to face the sun during an afternoon game. During the night games, there is a lack of outside movements to attract the players' attention and they can concentrate on the ball. There is also a lack of outside happenings to confuse the spectator, therefore he or she is able to watch the game more closely. It is similar to watching a stage performance under foot and spot lights. Theatre managers have found that attention is more centered when the players are illuminated and the audience is in the dark, than in a full lighted house.

Night football has become increasingly popular with players. I have questioned players at North Texas State Teachers College and they favor the night games. A number of coaches have told me that their players like the night games much better than the day games.

A very important advantage of a lighted athletic field is the possibility of having it for other purposes. If desired the field might be used for playground ball during the summer months; a rodeo might be staged on the field as was done at Memphis last year; or other community activities such as pageants might be put on on a lighted athletic field. Chilliote has moved its reflectors from its football field posts and have them mounted on regular telephone poles about their playground diamonds to provide more softball diamonds during the summer.

From the point of views of the physical education department of the school the financial advantages are of tremendous importance. Of course the financial increase with the increase in attendance of games. The game attendance increase comes from three main sources which follow: first, the business men who cannot afford to close their business houses during the day for a ball game; second, the employers who cannot leave their work during the day; and third, the visitors from the rival town, who like the local people can leave home and attend a night game but would be unable to take the day off to follow their team.

Some contend that day games should be able to pay the expenses, and they have to a certain extent in the past, however day crowds have been gradually decreasing during recent years, primarily due to the depression. Before the depression it was not unusual for the business houses to close for two or three local games so that the owners and employees could attend, but the fear of the depression has changed this attitude for the business man has justification in being afraid that he will lose some business by closing his store on business days.

This decrease in crowds with its decrease in receipts has put almost all athletic associations, who operated on past experiences, in debt. Why? Each ball game costs the home team from $50 to $100 in Class B high schools; which expense goes for the guarantee to the visiting team, the officials, printing, and other game expenses. It costs from $15 to $20 to furnish playing equipment to the players; and many other items must be added such as balls, repair of bleachers, repair of equipment, laundry, etc. Another interesting feature is that football must be depended on to pay the expenses and equipment bills of the rest of the school's athletics including basketball and track.

During our 1934 season we were only able to pay expenses of our home day games. We were lucky enough to have night games with Childress, McLean, and Memphis which helped us break even for the season. Our home attendance was small in spite of the fact that we won all but one home game and our season showed us with 5 victories, 1 tie, and 4 losses.

Schools in our section which have installed lights have found that they paid for themselves and a well rounded athletic program. McLean offers the best report; however Panhandle, Shamrock, Wellington, Memphis, LeFors, and Childress also offer very favorable reports from the financial point of view. According to reports the average attendance has increased from 100 percent to 1000 percent in various places.

"THE GOSPEL, A CHARTER OF LIBERTY"

"And Ye Shall Know the Truth, and the Truth Shall set You Free." John 8:32.

This week our nation is thinking about liberty, independence, and freedom. We wish to tell you of a freedom that excels all other freedoms.

TRUTH. A term variously employed in the Scriptures. It means veracity in opposition to falsehood; substance in opposition to types and shadows. It often means the whole word of God. In our text it refers to Christ's holy and blessed gospel. Now the gospel includes every other definition of truth. It is veracity. It is substance. The gospel is full of Christ's person and glory. Its histories are truth. Its revelations are truth. Its promises are truth. The gospel is, divine truth, heavenly truth, infinitely precious truth and eternal truth.

II. The Knowledge of Truth. It is very important that we have a knowledge of truth, of the gospel. The knowledge of truth may be, (1) merely mental, without any effect being produced on the heart or life, (2) Experimental. That it, when tried and tested it will produce a wonderful change in the life of the individual that accepts it. All who cordially hear, believe and obey the gospel know this is true. The woman of Samaria knew this. Saul knew it and all who are truly converted know it.

III. The influence of Truth. It shall make you free. The bondage of slavery is here promised. All men are naturally the slave of sin and need to be freed from this bondage. Christ is the only One that can bring that freedom. He promised this freedom to all who would accept and obey His gospel, His eternal truth. An experimental knowledge makes us free from, the condemnation of guilt, from harassing fears. Guilt and sin are ever associated with fear and dread. The gospel makes us free from those things and from the fear of death. The gospel points to Christ's universal reign. It promises great things for the future. Let us not forget our spiritual freedom and independence, which comes through obeying truth. W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

E. D. Landreth, Pastor
"Prohibition" shall it be saved or abolished in Texas on the 24th of August? The battle is on, where can a Christian stand? Shall our fair state be turned wholly over to the liquor interests for the blighting of our youth, the wrecking of our homes and schools, the blighting of life everywhere? This is the important question that faces the Christian people during the next forty-five days.
It is not simple a vote as to whether we are satisfied with conditions as they are. None of us are satisfied. If we vote for repeal we are voting to throw the matter open to the liquor interests to make it ten times worse. If we vote to retain state prohibition it will remove the uncertainty as to what the people want and give notice to enforce agencies that we expect enforcement and we'll get it, and conditions will improve.

The pastor of the Methodist Church is against liquor, as he is against all evil. Sunday morning he will preach on this liquor question. There is no apology for standing against that which endangers and destroys the loveliest things in life. If you are interested in standing with the moral forces of this community, then fill the house Sunday morning.

At The First Baptist Church

Fellowship—Service
There is always Worship—

We were delighted with two great crowds at the services last Sunday. Our supreme desire was to help you heavenward. The spirit of Christ is to comfort the comfortless, help the helpless, heal the heart-broken, lift the load off the weary and heavy laden, give grace and gratitude and graciousness to those who despair, and bring salvation to the soul who sorrows in sin. May you ever find such a condition and spirit prevailing in your church. How blessed it is to follow the Christ of God in christian living.

"We are the sinners of gospel, We are the scoffer's creed; We are the Lord's last message Given in deed and word: What if the type is crooked? What if the print is blurred?" The lips and the life should speak the same language, and it should be the language of love. "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life," are words directly from heaven telling us how to live. Let's make them our motto.

Regular services Sunday morning and evening, the pastor preaching at both hours. We will be happy to have you worship with us.

J. Perry King, Pastor.

Christian Church Revival

Leslie Moore, minister of the First Christian Church of Claude will begin a revival at the First Christian Church of Clarendon, Sunday, July 28th. This meeting will last two weeks.

This will be an exchange meeting, and W. E. Ferrell, minister of the local church will hold a meeting for the Claude Church in August.

Sidelights On July Fourth Celebration

John Caraway, who was among the list of passengers to ride on the first passenger train through Clarendon, returned from New York City to attend the celebration. Mr. Caraway traveled the greatest distance to attend the Pre-Centennial celebration.

In a letter written to Mr. Mulkey, following an announcement in the News asking all to cooperate in the events of the day, public minded boarders of the Donley County Jail asked that they be given the honor to lead the parade as they would be unavoidably detained in Clarendon the Fourth. Mr. Mulkey honored these three boys by leading the parade in front of the local jail.

As for the parade, the Sons of American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps were there as leaders, twenty-six strong, with Miss Jane Kerbow, dressed in white flannels, blue military jacket, Sam Brown and Overseas cap as drum major.

Hundreds viewed the exhibition of the works of Cowboy Artist Harold Bugbee which was opened all day to the public at the Woman's Club Rooms. Mrs. Harold Bugbee, appropriately and stunningly dressed in cowgirl regalia, received the large numbers who called, elated over the opportunity to view the paintings of the renowned Western artist.

Mrs. James Kilfoil, wife of the late James Kilfoil who was superintendent of the construction of the First National Bank building and the Donley county courthouse, was greeted by the old timers for the first time in many years. Mrs. Kilfoil now makes her home in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Gertrude Jodon Arnold of Silverton, writer of Panhandle plays and poetry and local color stories, found a warm welcome from the Pioneers. Mrs. Arnold and T. M. Pyle recalled having danced together the whole day at a Fourth of July celebration given exactly 45 years ago to the date at Floydada.

"I haven't missed a single Pioneer celebration in years," said Negro Bones (Mathew) Hooks as he shook hands with friends he had made since coming to Clarendon 40 years ago. Wm. Patman recalls having once seen Bones, skilled Bronx buster, lead a bronc down the street only a few minutes after onlookers had remarked that the bronc would never be ridden.

Mrs. Earl George of Tucumcari came from the furthest Western point to attend the celebration. Mrs. George, nee Grace Anderson, was a favorite in the olden days, being one of the most talented musicians of the town.

Mrs. Karl Adams met exact requirements for wearing the Old Timer's Badge. Mrs. Adams was born on July 4, 1895.

Homer Taylor designed and built the beautiful float for the Lions Club. A bouquet for Mr. Taylor for constructing one of the prettiest floats ever seen in a parade.

Real music was rendered at the Style Show and Melodrama by Arthur Howard, violin; Walter Turner, Spanish guitar; and I. B. Pierce, Hawaiian guitar.

Mr. Turner proved to be the hit of the evening with his soli. "That Silver-Haired Daddy of Mine" drew forth the biggest applause and the trio "Home on the Range" followed a close second.

MR. AND MRS. BRUMLEY RETURN FROM LONG TRIP

City Commissioner and Mrs. H. C. Brumley returned Saturday from a 15 day trip, during which they toured eleven states.

"In Oklahoma, stated Mrs. Brumley, we found the weather conditions favorable for traveling, but upon reaching Arkansas, we saw the state flooded. On one occasion we drove for 11 miles without seeing another object except an occasional house-top."

While at Newport, Tennessee, Mrs. Brumley visited the grave of her grandfather, who died 100 years ago this year. In North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Brumley were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Lovelace of Forest, toured the mountains, visited many lovely summer resorts, and spent a short time at the Baptist encampment at Roaring Rock.

The couple returned to this city through Virginia, Missouri, Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana, Nebraska, and Iowa. In Fairfax, Missouri, Mrs. Brumley had an enjoyable visit with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mims.

Prohibitionists Will Meet In Amarillo

A convention of the Texas League Against Whiskey of the 31st senatorial district of Texas will be held in Amarillo at the First Baptist Church Wednesday, July 17.

Each of the twenty-six counties in the 31st senatorial district is urged to send large representations to the convention. Sessions will begin at 10:30 a. m., and will be held in the afternoon and at night.

Outstanding speakers of the state will be present to address the convention; the work of organizing the district for victory in the present prohibition campaign will be completed at the convention.

The Texas League Against Whiskey is an organized effort to prevent the repeal of the present constitutional provision that prohibits the beverage use of liquor in Texas. The league is being organized in every county in the district as well as every county in the state.

Officials of the league are organizing for victory, and an ardent plea from the leaders urges every prohibitionist in the 31st senatorial district to attend the convention and take part in its deliberations.

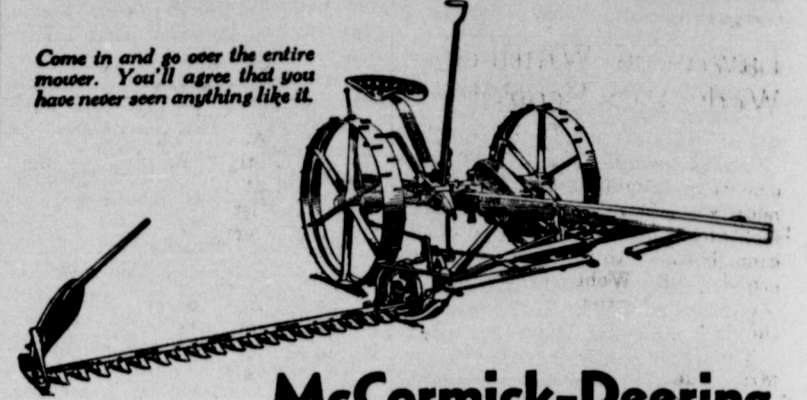

Fannie Mae Perry of Oklahoma spent the week-end visiting, relatives here.

Mrs. C. B. McCanne, Miss Joy McCanne, together with Miss Maude Estelle Browder of Fort Worth, spent Tuesday in Amarillo.

When Sam Houston first took charge of the Texas forces as their Commander-in-Chief he sent orders to Col. Wm. B. Travis to dynamite the Alamo, which he termed a "death-trap" and told Col. Travis to retreat. Both these orders were disobeyed.

Built Like an Automobile

You have never seen a mower like this
It is Really New and Different

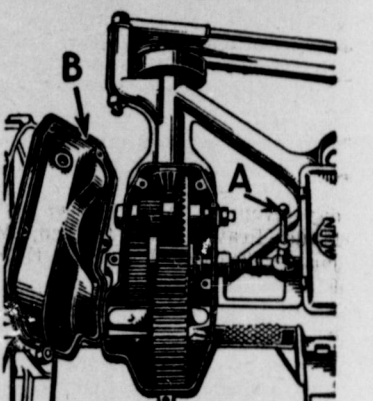

McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower

WE are anxious to have all of our friends see the New McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower. We think it is one of the finest pieces of farm equipment we have ever sold!

Everybody who has seen it says they never had any idea that a mower could be built as this one is.

For example: The entire operating mechanism, including drive gears, differential, and countershafts, is assembled compactly in an oil-tight gear housing and runs in a bath of oil. There are four high-grade roller bearings. Operation is so smooth and noiseless that you can scarcely hear the light hum of the sickle!

Special oil seals at the ends of the main axle and fly-wheel shaft, and the oil-tight gear box prevent leakage and protect all working parts against the entrance of dirt and other abrasive materials. Floating action of cutter bar provides ample play without disturbing knife registration.

This compact nest of enclosed gears runs in a bath of oil—a full gallon. The cover, B, makes the gear case dust-proof and oil-tight. Clutch is thrown in and out by lever, A.

INTRODUCING the Smallest Member OF THE BUDGET FAMILY

I'M ELECTRICITY
UTILITY

THE BUDGET FAMILY

My big brothers. TAXES, Food, Clothing and Rent,
Grow great on the money they've caused to be spent.

The biggest of all, brother TAXES, looks down ---

"Electricity, it gets smaller," says he with a frown

"It is always so handy; it works day and night.

Politicians attack it with main and with might,

But they don't notice ME -- the biggest of all.

Electricity is tiny and willing, and yet

I'm jealous of all the attention it gets.

But, perhaps that is better for ME after all.

For if I get attention, 'twill end in a squall

Which will stop ME from growing, and THAT isn't all--

The voters will clamor to cut down MY size,

So let Utility 'take it'--till people get wise."

The committee, comprised of two representatives from each of the seven co-operating denominations, has approved five recommendations, he said, urging participation by all churches in the state.

The recommendations:

1. That a united effort on the part of all the Christian people of Texas be made to observe all Texas holidays such as San Jacinto Day and Independence Day, in "great Christian patriotic rallies to be held in all communities in the state."

2. That a major effort be made to add 25 percent to the attendance in Sunday school and church during January, thus taking advantage of the resolutions period to make it a church and Bible study year.

3. That plans be made to participate in one of ten inspirational, interdenominational, evangelical rallies to be held in February in strategic cities.

4. That a revival be conducted in every local church in the state during the Centennial year.

Denominations represented on the committee are Christian, Baptist, Presbyterian, U.S.A., and Presbyterian (Southern), Protestant Episcopal, Nazarene and Methodist.

Other denominations wishing to join the movement were invited by Mr. Huckabee to name two of their number to serve on the committee.

Flies Spread Disease Says Health Officer

Austin, Texas.—Flies spread disease. They are reared in filth and through life make frequent trips from filth to food. Germs causing dysentery and other intestinal disorders are transported on the hairy feet of flies. These insect pests are regarded as having played a leading part in causing food-borne epidemics of typhoid fever, stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

Flies multiply rapidly as soon as warm weather comes to stay. A female deposits more than a hundred eggs at a time in organic material such as manure or in an insanitary outdoor toilet. The life cycle from egg to larva (maggot), to pupa, to adult male or female fly requires but ten days. A week later, fifty females, under favorable conditions, are ready to deposit a total of 50,000 eggs. During the summer season, nine generations of flies may result from one female that laid the first batch of eggs in the spring. It is estimated that if the offspring of a single overwintered female were to survive through nine generations, descendants in the fall would number over five and a half trillion.

Fortunately, modern sanitation and knowledge regarding the life history and habits of the house fly render possible complete control over the fly nuisance. Proper

Gasoline Company Gives Motorists

15 Ways to Save Gasoline Money

When the man bites the dog, it is news. And when a gasoline company advises motorists how to save gasoline, that is news, too.

Hence it is news to announce that the Gulf Refining Company has just issued a booklet entitled, "15 Ways to Save Gasoline Money." Although the information contained in the eight-page booklet is simple, it consists of driving hints which should benefit millions of motorists.

Do you know what parking secret saves gasoline? The booklet tells you. Have you discovered what driving speeds assure the greatest economy in gasoline consumption? The booklet tells you. And what fact concerning the inflation of your tires boosts your gasoline mileage? The booklet tells you this, too.

According to Dr. Paul D. Foote, vice-president of the Gulf Research and Development Corporation, considerable care was given to the preparation of the literature. The data was prepared, changed, and checked over and over again by the leading petroleum and automotive engineers. Caution was exercised in listing the various methods to save the motorists money, and at least 15 additional ways to cut gasoline costs were eliminated because they were open to debate.

For convenience's sake, the Gulf booklet is divided into three sections. The first chapter is devoted to economy short-cuts which can be controlled by the motorist. The second part is given over to economies which can be secured at no cost at reputable service stations or dealers, such as Gulf's stations. And the third section consists of savers which can be obtained through enlisting the help of competent garage mechanics.

To announce this new booklet, "15 Ways to Save Gasoline Money," to the motoring public, the Gulf Refining Company has undertaken an advertising campaign which is outstanding in many ways, including the number of newspapers to be used. More than 1200 newspapers from Main to Texas, the largest journalistic army in the modern history of petroleum advertising, will be employed. The offer of the free booklet to any motorist who will drive into Gulf's 40,000 dealers is allied with an interesting "sporting offer" to car owners.
