Dirksen Joins Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen joins former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in defending President Johnson's decision to bomb North Vietnam targets only 10 miles from Red China.

Eisenhower, commander of allied military forces in Europe in World War II, and Dirksen said separately but in almost identical words that military targets were involved and the air attacks should be continued.

The White House, meanwhile, declined any comment on the latest U.S. air assaults.

Republican Split

Eisenhower and Dirksen said they do not believe such near-border raids risk bringing Red China into the conflict — a contention made in the Senate Monday by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and echoed by Republican Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. In the face of this split of Republican opinion, Eisenhower told a news conference as he left Walter Reed Army Hospital after a 10-day stay, he hopes the conduct of the war does not become an issue in next year's presidential campaign. He said he doesn't want to be among those who might make it one.

"What do politicians know about conducting a war?" he asked. "We must use force and get done with it."

War Is Nasty

Eisenhower said he believes the war should be pursued, "with the idea of winning it." He added: "You should get everything you can, and use it as fast as you can, and get over with as quickly as possible because war is a nasty thing."

Dirksen said in an interview he is satisfied legitimate military targets were hit in the raids to within 10 miles of the Red Chinese border. He said he is certain American fliers have been instructed thoroughly in avoiding Red Chinese air space.

"I think it's necessary and I don't think it's dangerous," he said. "I haven't heard of any protest from China."

China Confrontation

Mansfield called the bombing raids "a very dangerous extension of the war." He said they "bring us that much closer to the brink of a possible confrontation with China."

Endorsing this contention, Cooper called for a move toward de-escalation and new efforts to get peace negotiations.

Percy said in a statement that by approving the air attacks, Johnson "not only has escalated the war but he has risked a widening of the war which could result in tens of thousands of additional casualties" by inviting Communist Chinese intervention.

'Water' Suspects Nailed

SALEM, N. H. (AP) — The son of a wealthy Salem businessman and a companion have been arrested in connection with the death of a motorist whose throat was cut when three 40-pound plastic bags of water smashed his windshield.

The bags were dropped from a Route 93 overpass in a rainstorm Sunday night, police said.

A splinter of glass severed the jugular vein of Paul Bueaud, 19, of Woodstock who was returning home with four young companions after a visit to Boston.

Police said the plastic bags are the type used by restaurants to dispense milk or other liquids from a tank.

Gov. John W. King ordered a massive hunt for the persons who dropped the bags.

The investigation resulted Monday in the arrest and arraignment on a second-degree manslaughter charge of Stephen Gurney, 17, son of Herman Gurney, operator of a drive-in restaurant.

Sgt. George Gartside of the Salem Police Department also arrested a 16-year-old friend of Gurney's who police said would be prosecuted in juvenile court.

Gurney is to appear Monday in Salem Municipal Court. He was freed on $5,000 bond.

Vote Charge

Ex-Premier Might Quit Vietnam Race

SAIGON (AP) — Tran Van Huong, considered the leading civilian candidate for president of South Vietnam, implied today that soldiers would be able to vote twice for his military opponents—once at their bases and once at home.

At a news conference, the former premier charged that soldiers had been issued voting cards from both their home district and their base district.

INTIMIDATION
He also charged the current military regime with intimidating his representatives in the provinces and said unless his warning led to reform, "we shall be compelled to reconsider our participation in the election."

But he said he would be with the other nine civilian candidates when they go to nearby Bien Hoa to start a campaign tour for the Sept. 3 election in which the military ticket—Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu for president and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky for vice president—is expected to win.

NO OTHER WAY
"We view this election as a contract between ourselves and the nation to see if democracy will be established," Huong said. "For that reason we will make every effort to continue to campaign and we shall only adopt a different attitude when we are completely convinced there is no other way out."

Huong's news conference included statements from persons he said were his representatives in the provinces. Some told of "friends of friends" who supported Huong but allegedly had been warned to support Thieu and Ky instead.

DANGER
One said he had been asked to report to the deputy chief of police in his area but declined to go, apparently afraid he was going to be intimidated.

Neither Thieu nor Ky was immediately available for comment on the charges, but a spokesman for them said, "I am sure the government will answer the charges."

The representatives at Huong's news conference refused to give their names because, they said, their lives would be in danger.

"Since they are making the charges, do you really think there is any threat to them?" the government spokesman asked.

Although he said the government would answer the charges later, the spokesman added: "If we put on a show every day of slugging it out with the other candidates for the American public opinion to watch, it would serve no purpose." Huong's charges also included allegations that representatives of Thieu and Ky were using government transportation and communications facilities for the campaign. He said even American helicopters were being enlisted.

The U.S. Embassy has issued strict orders that no Americans or American equipment will be in any way associated with political events.

Huong named places and a few dates of what he called incidents of harassment, intimidation and other unfair campaign practices, but no names were reported and there was no immediate way to confirm the charges.

State-Local Tax Burdens In Texas Up

CHICAGO (AP) — State and local governments collected an average of $25 more taxes per person in fiscal 1966 than in the previous year, a study showed today.

The state-local tax take averaged $290 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

The increase followed a trend shown since the Commerce Clearing House began annual reports on combined state and local taxes in 1962.

ONLY $37

In five years the per capita state-local tax burden has increased as much as $114 in Hawaii and $101 in New York. The trend was less marked in the South, where increases in five years have been less than $50 in a half dozen states and only $37 in Texas.

The range of per capita state-local taxes in 1966 was from South Carolina's $188 to New York's $410, with California, $395, and Hawaii, $365, next at the upper end. Six states—South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee—collected less than $200, and the next two also were southern states—Georgia and North Carolina. The per capita median was $287, an increase of $32 from 1965, the CCH study of census bureau statistics showed.

PRIVATE AGENCY

The Commerce Clearing House is a private reporting agency on tax and business law.

New York was the only state to collect more than $400 per capita state-local taxes in 1966, but 14 other states and the District of Columbia had per capita tax burdens of more than $300.

The states were California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

In 1965 only six states passed the $300 mark and none was over $400. Revised figures showed that New York topped the list in 1965 as well with $372.

DAKOTA LOW

At the bottom of the scale, however, there was less difference. In 1966 eleven states—Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia—had per capita tax burdens of $220 or under, while in 1965 thirteen states fell in that category.

Gagsters' Mourn Dallas' Elm Cave Disappearance

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Skid Row Bar Association hung a historical marker commemorating the Wonderful Elm Street Cave Monday, minutes before the city reopened Elm Street to traffic.

The lawyers in the bar association have been the cave's biggest fans since it appeared seven months ago—a 15-foot-deep cavern a block long in the key downtown traffic artery.

While the city revised and re-revised its estimate that it would take two weeks to fix the street, the lawyers laughingly asked that be named a state park.

'SEE THE CAVE'
As the city coughed up nearly $300,000 as part of the eventual $1.2 million repair cost, hundred of car bumpers got stickers reading "Visit Dallas. See the Great Elm Street Cave."

The reopening of the one-time cavern as just another black asphalt street was in keeping with the earlier hijinks.

Clayton Fowler, a defense lawyer and titular head of the Skid Row Bar Association, put on a white plastic racing cap as he dedicated the historical marker.

Mayor Says He'll Resign

Flint's Negro mayor, Floyd J. McCree, said Monday night that he will resign as both mayor and as a member of the City Commission after the commission defeated an open housing ordinance proposal on a 5-3 vote. McCree said he could not live "an equal opportunity lie." (AP WIREPHOTO)

Negro Mayor To Quit Post

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Mayor Floyd J. McCree, the only Negro in the nation heading a city of 200,000 or larger, declares he is resigning because the city commission has rejected an open occupancy housing law.

"I'm not going to sit up here any longer and live an equal opportunity lie," the 44-year-old mayor said Monday night after the commission voted down the law, 5-3.

The auto plant foreman, elected in November, 1966, said he will resign Monday.

McCree said he also will resign as commissioner of Flint's heavily-Negro third ward. He had represented the third ward for eight years when he was elected mayor by his fellow commissioners. About 25 per cent of Flint's 200,000 residents are Negroes.

"I can no longer serve in good conscience on a commission which does not represent the needs of all citizens," McCree said. He is the only Negro on the commission.

Arab Oil Still Reaching Marts

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Western oil companies are circumventing the Arab oil ban against the West and making it all but useless, informed oil sources said today.

The ban, decreed during the Arab-Israeli war in June, is significantly hurting neither the Arab oil producing countries nor Britain, the United States and West Germany, against which it was directed, the sources said.

But if it continues and if it is efficiently enforced, both sides may suffer.

'THIRD PARTY'

The sources, in close contact with the oil industry in the Middle East, said some Arab oil is still reaching markets it is not supposed to reach. They mentioned Britain in particular, which imported 68 per cent of its oil supplies from the Arab countries before the war.

The sources said an undisclosed quantity of embargoed oil is reaching Britain through "third party" deals that do not break the rules of the Arab boycott and do not expose the oil companies to retaliatory measures.

In the case of Britain, increases in oil production in Iran, Venezuela and the United States following the war did not cover all of Britain's needs. Yet Britain is not lacking in oil.

The oil ban rules bind the captain of an oil tanker calling at an Arab port to sign a declaration saying all his oil cargo will be delivered to its destination. Consignee countries or companies pledge the oil will not find its way to "aggressor countries."

Rights Bill Okay Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, fresh from pushing through legislation aimed at preventing riots and punishing some riot leaders, now appears poised to move toward protection of Negroes' civil rights.

A civil rights measure, part of the rights bill which last year passed the House but died in the Senate, comes up in the House today with strong bipartisan support. Sponsors predicted passage by late in the day.

Major controversy may center on a states rights amendment to be offered by Rep. Basil Whitener, D-N.C. It would specify that nothing in the bill would pre-empt state laws, so long as the state laws do not conflict with federal law.

Bombers Raid Southern Half Of DMZ Again

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that the North Vietnamese shot down a U.S. Navy reconnaissance plane Sunday, apparently while it was photographing damage from a raid only 10 miles from Red China's border.

The RASC Vigilante's two-man crew was listed as missing. The plane was the 642nd U.S. warplane announced as lost over the North so far in the war.

Navy planes raided the Lang Son railroad and highway bridge Sunday in what were the closest raids to Red China in the Vietnam war. They followed up with raids on nearby targets Monday.

BOMBS DUMPED

U.S. B52 bombers raided the southern half of the demilitarized zone today, for the second time in three days and dumped tons of explosives on what the command described as extensive North Vietnamese artillery and anti-aircraft positions.

The stepped up raids by the eight-engine Stratofortresses, each capable of carrying up to 50,000 pounds of bombs, indicated that the Communists may be building up for another sustained drive on U.S. Marine outposts at Con Thien and Dong Ha just south of the zone.

Both outposts were heavily shelled in June and the first week of July, but shellings have been infrequent since tactical fighter-bombers gave the area a going over.

134 MISSIONS

Monday's raids near the Chinese border were among 134 missions over North Vietnam logged by Air Force and carrier-based Navy fighter-bombers. The other strikes included a number on rail sidings, highway bridges, surface-to-air missile sites and fuel storage areas in the Hanoi-Haiphong areas.

The strikes around the North's two major cities were somewhat limited because of heavy thundershowers.

Ground action in South Vietnam was virtually at a standstill. The U.S. Command said there were no significant contacts reported in 34 allied operations of battalion size or larger.

These included the newly announced "Operation Portland," a multibattalion search and destroy operation by elements of the U.S. Army's 1st Division about 70 miles north of Saigon. The operation began Saturday, but was not announced until today for security reasons. No contact with the enemy has been reported so far.

WITNESSES TESTIFY:

'Men In Blue' Lined People Against Wall

DETROIT (AP) — A Michigan state police trooper and three Negro youths testified Monday that men in blue uniforms lined people up against a wall in a midtown motel where three Negro youths were found slain during last month's riot.

The testimony came in the first day of preliminary examination of two white Detroit policemen accused of the first-degree murder of two of the youths.

'TOLD TO PRAY'

Trooper John M. Fonger said a number of persons were forced against the wall and "told to pray" by men wearing light blue shirts, dark blue trousers but no badges. The uniforms described are similar to Detroit police uniforms.

Patrolman Ronald August is accused of shooting Aubrey Pollard, 19, and Patrolman Robert Paille is charged with the slaying of Fred Temple, 18. The death of the third youth, Carl Cooper, 17, is still under investigation.

Fonger, sent to Detroit from his normal assignment at Houghton, 200 miles north of the city, told of being sent to the Algiers Motel because of reported sniper fire in the vicinity.

BODIES FOUND

He said he observed no sniping but heard shots "possibly coming from" an annex at the rear of the motel. The three bodies were found in the annex.

Fonger testified he saw two bodies upon entering the building. When he saw the people lined up in the hallway, Fonger said he went outside to get his immediate superior because he felt "the situation was out of hand."

Fonger said he did not see any shots fired, but testified he found a spent shotgun shell on the floor of the room where one of the bodies was found.

Another witness, Michael Clark, 19, a Negro, identified Paille and August as two of the men present in the motel. Clark admitted under cross-examination that he had been unable to identify August at a police lineup and that the first time he identified him was in the courtroom Monday.

INNOCENT PLEA

Clark did identify Paille at the lineup.

In another development, a Negro accused of playing a major role in triggering the four days of rioting last month, was charged Monday with three counts of inciting to riot, and with rioting.

The man, Michael Lewis, 22, pleaded innocent at his arraignment and was held in lieu of $150,000 bond to await examination Friday.

Temperatures Head Upward

Shows and occasional thunderstorms dotted parts of Texas and temperatures headed upward again today.

Dalhousie measured 33 inches of rain late Monday and added 25 before dawn as thunderstorm activity moved southward from the Texas-New Mexico line.

Phoenix received 36 inches Monday night, after which the mercury dipped to a chilly overnight low of 35 degrees.

Staggering light showers were scattered through the Red River Valley in areas from Wichita Falls to Archer City, Mineral Wells to Jackboro, near Bowie to Gainesville and around Childress.

Another broad belt of shower activity developed in the Gulf of Mexico and moved northward toward the Galveston, Houston and Beaumont areas, extending also along the coast as far as New Orleans.

Early morning temperatures sank to 61 degrees at Lubbock and Texasiana, and to 64 at Dalhart. Readings elsewhere ran as high as 74 at Victoria and Waco.

Monday's top marks ranged from 99 at Presidio down to 84 at Alpine.

Forecasts called for further shower activity in the West, but other parts of West Texas and near the middle and upper Texas coast.

Texas Oil Wells Increase Pumping

AUSTIN (AP) — Average total calendar day oil production allowable for Texas wells is 4,975,231 today, the Railroad Commission reports.

This is an increase of 1,872 barrels per day over the Aug. 1 total average allowable of 4,973,359 barrels.

Oil Executive Dies

TORONTO (AP) — Milton S. Berger, 74, chairman of the board of British American Oil Co., Ltd., from 1951 to 1961, died in a hospital Monday after a long illness.

Descendant

Isle Free Of Crime And Taxes

NEW YORK (AP) — One hundred seventy eight years after the mutiny on the Bounty, life on Pitcairn Island among the descendants of Fletcher Christian and his men is without taxes, crime or alcohol. It's quiet and almost enough to drive the young people away.

From the 150 residents who lived a few years ago on Pitcairn's two square miles in the South Pacific—the smallest colony in the British Empire—the number in 1967 has fallen to about 90.

"A lot of our young people feel too isolated on Pitcairn and they leave," explained Thomas Colman Christian, II, a grand-great-grandson of Fletcher Christian.

Now in New York studying broadcast techniques, Christian said, however, "I think the emigration has tapered off and we won't be losing any more of our people."

Christian, who runs a small radio station at home, is a mixture of British and Tahitian stock, as are the other Pitcairn people whose ancestors were the nine British mutineers from the Bounty, their Tahitian wives and a few Tahitian men who came to the uninhabited island in 1790. It is now self-governing, but under the over-all administration of Fiji.

Leisure activities, Christian said, consist mainly of movies twice a week in the meeting house and gardening. The average yearly income is $100, enough to live on, he said, but not enough to allow much saving. Besides, there are no banks on Pitcairn.

Dear Abby

The Wealthy Hobo

DEAR ABBY: I've read about a lot of strange characters in your column, but I think my husband takes the prize.

He gets a lot of pleasure out of going around looking like a hobo. Why? Because of all the sympathy he gets from his friends who think the poor man's wife is neglecting him. I know all his tricks.

Abby, my husband is a millionaire! You heard me. He paid taxes on an income of $25,000 last year. He wears his suits for two months without cleaning or pressing them. He will wear a white shirt for three and four days. He buys the cheapest socks, underwear, shoes and clothing because they get so looking shabby faster. If I don't patch and mend he goes around with holes! Now, what would you do with a pretentious millionaire?

DEAR WIFE: I'd throw a hotly act over him. And first, next thing you know he might think it would be nice if people left sorry for him because he "lost" his wife. And then he might think up ways to "lose" her.

DEAR ABBY: Our son wanted to enlist in the Navy, so he went down for his physical and he didn't pass it. He felt so ashamed and hurt because all his buddies made it, and he didn't. He's not going to college, so he feels sort of all alone and blue.

The problem is the people around here. They are very inquisitive. Someone is always asking him how come he's not in service. He's ashamed to tell them he couldn't pass the physical. Is there something else he can say when he's asked?

DEAR MOTHER: He should tell them the truth. There are many reasons why a young man can be "4-F," ranging all the way from a heart murmur he didn't know he had, to a bum knee suffered in a football game.

If your son is letting something like this bother him, he has a battle at home he's better start working on.

DEAR ABBY: I am employed as a secretary in a large office. One of the senior partners is semi-retired and comes in only a few days a week for two or three hours.

Last winter he came in just before noon and asked me to type a letter for him, which I gladly did. Then out of the blue, he asked me to have lunch with him. I was surprised because none of the bosses has ever taken any of us girls to lunch. I accepted.

I don't know what I did to charm this man, but he certainly seemed to enjoy my company. Don't misunderstand me, he didn't make any out-of-the-way advances to me, he just told me about his early life, which I found fascinating. I am 29, unmarried, and he is over 65, with an invalid wife. My problem: He invites me to lunch frequently now. But he leaves envelopes for $50 and $100 bills enclosed for "extras."

Now, I know it's no financial strain on him as he is very wealthy, but I am adequately paid for my work. I do at the office, and I feel guilty accepting this money. Am I taking advantage of an elderly man by accepting his gifts and giving him nothing but a smile and a pleasant lunch hour by just listening?

DEAR WONDERING: As long as he asks nothing, and you promise nothing, you have no reason to feel guilty. (P.S. But don't accept any more money just in case.)

Fire Rakes Print Shop

WACO, Tex. (AP) — One of the largest fires ever reported at the James Connally Air Force Base Monday afternoon destroyed a print shop and technical center of the James Connally Tech Institute.

Twelve fire units answered the call to the fire, and had it under control in about three hours. Four firemen were overcome by smoke and hospitalized.

Losses were said to be heavy as the large U-shaped building constructed in 1961 was destroyed.

Academy Award Winner Expires

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Jane Darwell, who often told friends her life and work had been completely without hardship, died as she was about to embark on a new film role.

The 57-year-old actress spoke of her upcoming role in "Seven from San Antonio" at a party last Friday. She described it as "A lusty old gal with lots of spirit—something I can sink my teeth into—and I still have my own teeth!"

Miss Darwell died Sunday at the Motion Picture Country home. She had suffered a light stroke last Memorial Day and a heart attack last week.

She won an Academy Award in 1935 for her role as Ma Joad in "The Grapes of Wrath" and later said it was her favorite of the more than 200 films she made. Her career in films, stage and television spanned 61 years.

Miss Darwell was born Patti Woodard in Palmyra, Mo. She was the daughter of W.R. Woodard, wealthy contractor and president of the Louisville Southern Railroad.

Bey of Nudes Go On Display

LONDON (AP) — A bevy of 18 nude paintings went on display today in London's Grosvenor Galleries.

"It's a very, very rare thing to see such a big exhibition of nudes," said a spokesman for the galleries. "Actually, some of us remember such a big nude show before."

Why so many nude paintings? "Some years back we held a small show of nudes," explained the spokesman. "It was a great success, so we decided a larger show of nudes would be a great success."

The pictures reveal the female human form in a wide variety of poses.

Here are but a few: "Reclining nude, seated nude, crouching nude, nude with knees bent, nude reclining on back, nude with hand mirror, nude combing hair, nude kneeling, nude with pigtail, nude with raised foot, draped nude, nude with hands behind back, seated nude with crossed legs, seated nude on couch and reclining nude with blue shawl."

For off-beat nudify there are: "Chinese nude, red nude, nude fantasy, and nude girl with silk whip."

Cotton Harvest Tops '66 Pace

AUSTIN (AP) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture said Monday the Texas cotton crop is 12 per cent harvested, well ahead of the 1966 pace.

A year ago at this time, just three per cent had been picked. "Hot dry weather in the Rio Grande Valley was near ideal for cotton harvest," the department's weekly crop-weather report said.

The department said an early season cool front brought temporary relief from scorching summer temperatures, and small isolated areas benefited from light showers.

Corn harvest reached 44 per cent completion, compared with 15 per cent at year ago; sorghum 27 per cent compared with 12 per cent; rice 75 per cent compared with a month ahead of last year, and peanuts 7 per cent compared with 5 per cent last year.

Allis-Chalmers Saturday rejected the original LTV offer and announced the company had been holding discussions with General Dynamics Corp. about a possible merger involving an exchange of stock.

General Dynamics, with headquarters in New York, is a diversified aircraft, nuclear, submarine and building materials manufacturer. Allis-Chalmers with headquarters in West Allis, Wis., is a maker of electrical, industrial and agricultural equipment.

TEXANS AT WAR 'Flip' Recovers Wallet, Money

The days are gone when U.S. patrols in Vietnam always challenged strangers verbally first, reports a Texan at War from Greenville.

Now, many G.I.'s shoot first when the circumstances are suspicious. Spec. 4 Philip Bert Remington III says this is because so many Americans have been killed by gunfire from the persons they challenged.

LTV Makes New Offer

DALLAS (AP) — Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc. (LTV) Monday proposed to acquire all of the outstanding common shares and preferred stock of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co.

The LTV offer could total some $30 million, and was made in a telegram to directors of Allis-Chalmers. Earlier it had sought to control the Wisconsin firm by buying about 12 per cent of the stock. The Allis-Chalmers board of directors rejected that offer.

In a telegram Monday, James J. Ling, chairman of LTV, said his company had re-examined the original tender offer and agreed with the Allis-Chalmers board that it would be more appropriate for his company to buy all the outstanding stock of Allis-Chalmers.

Allis-Chalmers Saturday rejected the original LTV offer and announced the company had been holding discussions with General Dynamics Corp. about a possible merger involving an exchange of stock.

Does Man Love Art?

CHICAGO (AP) - Today was Picasso day in Chicago. Mayor Richard J. Daley made the designation in honor of Pablo Picasso, who gave to the city the design for a five-story sculpture for the plaza in front of the new civic center.

Even before the unveiling in ceremonies today, the work was the center of controversy.

Art lovers termed it another masterpiece from the hands of the 85-year-old artist, long considered the leader of the avant garde of the art world.

Other labeled the 160-ton, 50-foot abstraction in rusty steel a $300,000 piece of junk.

Gwendolyn Brooks, Pulitzer Prize-winning poet, wrote a poem to commemorate the occasion in which she takes note of the controversy. The poem begins:

"Does man love art? Man visits art, but squirms.

"Art hurts. Art urges Voyages -

"And it is easier to stay at home.

"The nice beer ready. . ."

As with so much of Picasso's work, it the "what is it?" that has stirred up speculation and controversy - and ever anger.

The sculpture has been likened to a woman's head, the head of a long-eared dog, a child's ski slide, a Trojan dove, an ape and a baboon. Usually it is referred to as Chicago's Picasso.

The artist presented it as a gift to the people of the city. The $300,000 cost of fabricating and installing the sculpture was subscribed by charitable foundations.

Picasso is not expected to attend the unveiling.

The bidding:
West North East South
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ 3 ♠
Dble. Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ace of ♠
A lapse by West in defending against South's doubled three spade contract resulted in a swing of over 1,700 points on the deal.

West opened the bidding with one club and East made a jump raise to three clubs, inasmuch as his hand was worth 13 points in support of that suit. South's overall of three spades presented West with something of a problem. He was reluctant to bid three no trump without a stopper in hearts, yet he was uncertain whether the partnership had sufficient assets to take 11 tricks in five clubs.

Inasmuch as West held four spades headed by the ace and sound defensive values on the side, he decided to double three spades. Since the opponents were vulnerable, there was a prospect for scoring sufficient compensation by way of a penalty, and if East's holding was not suited to defending, he was always at liberty to carry on, himself.

East chose to pass and South elected to fight it out where he was. A bid of four hearts would have proven fortuitous, however, he was somewhat reluctant to get himself a level higher - seeking a better fit.

West opened the ace of clubs and continued the suit, which declarer ruffed. A small spade was led from the closed hand at trick two and West followed with the six, which permitted North to win with the nine. South now put the surprise entry to dummy to good use, by leading the queen of hearts. East covered with the king and declarer played the ace.

The ace of spades was driven out, the club return was ruffed and South proceeded to draw trump, and it took every one of his spades to do so. He then cashed four heart tricks and conceded a diamond at the end, to make an overtrick on the deal.

Had West put up the ace of spades when that suit was led and returned another club, it would have brought declarer down to his size in the trump suit. Forced to lead hearts out of his own hand, South must surrender a trick to the king of hearts, and another round of clubs will cause him to lose control of the play. Declarer will be held to five spade tricks and one heart and the result will be an 800 point set.

Claims U.S. Sought Soviet Help In Forming Coalition

WASHINGTON (AP) - A captured document apparently once used by North Vietnam's hierarchy claims the United States sought Soviet aid last year in establishing a South Vietnamese coalition government that would include Communists.

The paper, now circulating in U.S. quarters, says the North Vietnamese leadership in the spring of 1966 was ready for what it termed "tactical negotiations" while fighting in the South.

The South Vietnamese long have rejected inclusion of the National Liberation Front-Viet Cong - a Communist organ in South Vietnam, as a possible part of their government.

PLAN DENIED
As for talks, the stated U.S. policy is to examine any and all proposals for negotiations toward a potential settlement.

A State Department spokesman, questioned about the document, denied the United States sought any arrangement which would involve Communist representation in a South Vietnamese government.

The South Vietnamese "do not view a coalition government as a viable solution," this spokesman said.

NO COMMENT
The State Department official said he was familiar with the North Vietnamese document but did not comment on the so-called negotiations which the paper said the Communists favored in 1966.

Whether North Vietnam communicated, or made any attempt to communicate, an interest in talks was not made clear in the document.

The statements were carried in a report by Le Duan, identified by the State Department as first secretary of the ruling Workers party of North Vietnam.

Dated April 10, 1966, it was sent to the Communists' Central Office South Vietnam by Gen. Nguyen Van Vinh, chairman of Hanoi's "reunification department."

'MR. THO'
Under the heading "Negotiations," Duan was quoted as saying "the U.S. intends to ask the Soviet Union to set up a coalition government." He gave no indication as to how or when.

Under the arrangement, Duan stated, the French - whose alleged participation was not explained - would name the prime minister of the coalition government. The United States would name a vice prime minister and a "Mr. Tho" would become a second vice prime minister.

The apparently is Nguyen Tho, chairman and major public Viet Cong spokesman.

"If this solution is accepted, it will take us only a month to achieve the settlement," Duan stated.

Duan said the party's central committee "advocated tactical negotiations" during the rainy season.

"But we will still fight while we are carrying out negotiations," Duan said.

DETERMINATION
"We must foresee this so that we have a correct understanding and should not depend upon negotiations. The reason why we advocate negotiations is that we want to prove that we are always concerned about peace on a correct basis."

At one point, Duan mentioned that North Vietnam had received a hint from the Soviet Union's A. N. Shelepin to make some move toward discussions. Shelepin, recently demoted in the Soviet government, was then the Soviet state security chief and a relatively influential figure, according to the State Department.

"Soviet Union's Shelepin, on his visit to our country, seems to have suggested negotiations, Duan said, but Hanoi made plain "our determination to fight the U.S. aggressors."

Duan added: "The Soviet Union supports us under all conditions: whether we fight or negotiate, or whether we fight and negotiate."

Negroes Walk In Klan Area

ALBANY, La. (AP) - A small column of Negroes continued their leisurely, carefully guarded civil rights march today through Ku Klux Klan territory toward Baton Rouge.

Several fiery crosses, symbol of the Klan, burned in the Albany area late Monday night. There were no other incidents.

Eight mounted state police and others in patrol cars guarded the Negroes as they walked.

A. Z. Young said the Negroes plan to try to present Gov. John McKeithen a list of grievances about conditions in Bogalusa, scene of a long and sometimes violent civil rights drive.

The governor said he wouldn't be at the capitol to accept any list.

Sunday five white men were wounded in a shooting in Hammond, where the marchers camped.

Two were in fair condition today. The others were discharged Monday.

Doctors quit smoking
CHICAGO - According to a recent survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2% of the 150,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 1011-K-2, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York.

A Devotional For The Day

Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. (Isaiah 41:10)

PRAYER: Help us heavenly Father, to guard every day against the temptation to forget Thy Word. We would understand Thee better and catch the inspiration of living in the spirit of Thy Son, in whose name we pray. Amen.

Improving The National Guard

Among the soul-searching and self-scrutiny which has occurred in the wake of the country's major rioting, there has been a critical reappraisal of the National Guard.

It has not performed so well outside the South. Some members of the press back from the riot centers have reported that nervous guardsmen were more to be feared than the rioters.

A group known as the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders has recommended to Washington that the National Guard be improved. The report made three major points. More Negroes must be recruited. More riot training is needed. Substandard officers must not be appointed or promoted.

The National Guard has been damned as being more political than military and efforts have been made to abolish it or bring it more directly under control of the regular military establishment. These efforts have not been successful because of the Guard's political strength.

This summer has bared deficiencies of the National Guard, at least in the matter of controlling civil disturbances. The Guard now must protect itself by acting to remedy these deficiencies.

Traditionally Southern units of the National Guard have been better drilled and disciplined and more ready for war when it comes than units elsewhere. Obviously they also were better prepared to handle domestic crises for the state of the Guard and the "substandard" condition of some of its officers did not become a matter of concern until this summer.

Federal Wastefulness

The Joint Economic Committee of Congress has done the public a valuable service by issuing a report that calls attention to the high cost of loose management in our federal government. Some may take issue, as Sen. Symington has done, with this or that aspect of the report. But in general the conclusions of the Economic Committee provide badly needed insight into how wasteful practices add to the already astronomical cost of government.

We do not mean to suggest that there is anything essentially new in what the committee says. The drain caused by bad management has long been evident, and Congress has often called attention to it in the past. The report is valuable because it throws more light on the subject at a time when the Vietnamese war and serious domestic problems are putting a strain on even our enormous resources.

The Joint Economic Committee concentrated much of its fire on the Defense Department. It was this that Symington objected to, maintaining that the findings with regard to defense were over-critical. That may be. Yet the committee's claim that "there has been a serious and comprehensive lack of compliance" with the 1962 law's cost data requirements in contracting strongly suggests a need for improvement.

The committee found careless inventory control and management of government stores held by contractors. It deplored both insufficient use of competitive bidding and overcharging on negotiated contracts. All told, it said, loose management wastes billions of dollars. In light of this, the committee's recommendation for establishment of a high-level management agency to improve efficiency in the executive branch warrants careful study. If federal agencies persist in wasteful practices, perhaps a separate management office would be the best solution.

Hysteria In Use Of Guns

WASHINGTON — Guns — hand guns, rifles, shotguns — are selling as though they were about to close down the gun factories. This report comes from across the country in the wake of Newark and Detroit.

The impression from some communities is of two armed camps confronting each other across a gulf of suspicion with no communication between them. One consequence is unreasonable fear which becomes hysteria.

NO ONE, not even those concerned with passage of an effective federal gun control law that seems to have little chance of passage, knows with any precision how large is the increase in the number of citizens with a gun behind the door. But there can be no doubt that it is substantial.

One of the few states with an effective gun registration law is California. This made it possible to record what happened after the uprising in Watts two years ago. Gun sales in August, 1964, were 9,843; in August of the following year after the riots 23,471. This is happening today not in a single area but nationally.

AN EXTRAORDINARY instance of how rumormongering can get out of hand occurred in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, one of the most progressive and lively small cities in the Midwest. On July 25 with the Detroit uprising flaring in the headlines and splashed across television screens rumor spread from mouth to mouth that busloads of armed Negroes were descending on the city. Late in the day this became 8,000 who were ready to attack. They were here, there, everywhere as a kind of frenzy seized a normally busy and preoccupied people.

MOST EXTRAORDINARY of all was the way the rumors ricocheted across the country. Police Chief George Matias got numerous calls from armed volunteers who wanted to come at once to fight the Negroes. In the city lines of white customers waiting to buy guns and ammunition grew longer outside sporting goods stores.

The smallest spark could have touched off a holocaust. Fortunately, Chief Matias kept calm, cool and collected. The Cedar Rapids Gazette, with the paper's switchboard jammed with inquirers asking about the course of the race war, performed a valiant service in quieting the hysteria and refuting the rumors. The real heroes were the Negroes themselves (1,500 out of a population just over 100,000) who quickly spread the word to stay off the streets. Gradually the frenzy subsided.

MILWAUKEE WAS reported to be an armed camp as Mayor Henry Maier clamped a tight curfew on the whole city. Part of it — turning back four carloads of armed whites bent on breaking into the ghetto — got into the news. But in the white areas where anti-Negro prejudice among ethnic groups, notably Polish-Americans, is greatest, every householder was reported ready with a loaded shotgun or rifle.

As gun sales go up and responsible officials hardly breathe out loud the threat of something like civil war, the headlines in Washington making the headlines in for scapegoats. Sargent Shriver's war on poverty is a favorite target of Southern committee chairmen. Yet the evidence shows that in many instances Negro poverty workers have played a part, often at risk of life and limb, in quieting racial disturbances.

WITH OPPOSITION to an effective gun control law centered in the powerful lobby of the National Rifle Association, the fear across the country seems to have stiffened resistance. That is a magnificent irony in this strange moment in the nation's history.

LBJ's Golden Days Fade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those were President Johnson's golden days, 1965. This summer of 1967 is hot but for him they are the cold days, getting colder. If he pays attention to public opinion, and he does, it's enough to make him shiver.

Starting out in 1965 he had it all his own way, thanks to the 1964 elections. In Congress his Democrats swamped the Republicans, with 295 to 140 seats in the House, and 67 to 33 seats in the Senate, a two-thirds edge.

Congress dawdled this year, war dragging on indefinitely. The American death toll in Vietnam went up from 1,365 at the end of 1965 to over 12,500 now. And already there is a bad odor from the upcoming elections in Vietnam.

It's Time To Buy Track Shoes

NO WONDER THEN, with these majorities and his ceaseless prodding, the Democratic-run Congress produced the most remarkable legislative year in history. And he had time for prodding in those days. The Vietnam war was in babyhood. He had just begun the U.S. military buildup in 1965, with only 165,000 Americans there by the end of the year. He was criticized for being involved in the war at all, but his standing with the voters was high.

IN THE FIRST six months of 1965, for example, when it was clear the troop buildup had begun in earnest, the Gallup poll showed public approval of the way he handled his job dropped from 71 to 64 per cent. But by June public approval was back up to 70 percent. This couldn't last unless Congress was able to repeat its amazing performance in 1966 or unless the war somehow could be brought to a quick and victorious end. Neither happened.

CONGRESS COASTED in 1966 and there were no victories in Vietnam. The war became a nightmare. The troop buildup went on. There was more discontent at home.

This was reflected in the 1966 elections, giving back to the Republicans 48 House seats, three Senate seats. The Johnson breeze in Congress died away. He prodded less as he became more preoccupied by the war.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: Red is the favorite color of most men, but few like their wives to wear a red dress. They admire one on another woman, but think the color is too daring for their own wives.

The quickest way to turn a friend into an enemy this time of year is to brag to him that you've already done your Christmas shopping.

PHILANTHROPY is usually more dependent on the mood of the giver than the need of the recipient. You are more likely to pause and dole out a quarter to a street beggar on a cool day when you're feeling good than on a cold wintry day when the beggar is slowly freezing.

Women who keep dogs as pets are less likely to henpeck their husbands than those who keep cats.

To Your Good Health

Don't Wait Too Long On Eye Surgery

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you recommend removal of cataracts? My father is 85 and has cataracts on both eyes. An eye specialist recommends surgery. His general health is no problem and he recently had a complete physical.

How soon do you think this might cause blindness if he doesn't have surgery? Should you let him go blind, or nearly blind, before considering surgery? — Mrs. I. H.

Of course I favor removal of cataracts. That is one kind of near blindness which can be corrected with great success.

Obviously your father's eyesight already is seriously impaired. Anyway, eye specialists do not, except under extraordinary circumstances, recommend surgery until cataracts have caused considerable loss of vision. (It might be recommended sooner for, let us say, a toolmaker, jeweler or other person who needs his eyesight at maximum.)

Removal of cataracts is being performed every day and with great success, and I have in past months printed several letters from patients describing how much happier they are, and in some cases commenting that they had not realized how much their eyes had failed; because the failure had been gradual.

How soon your father would be classified as "blind" is something I cannot predict, but the rate at which the cataracts are progressing probably can give you a good estimate.

Your father is evidently in good condition for a man of his age. It seems a shame to delay the cataract surgery until, perhaps, he becomes too frail to tolerate the surgery well, and then would be blind as well as old and feeble.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is a myocardial infarction? Is it a heart attack? Is it in the severe or light classification? — J. B. S.

Yes, it's a heart attack — but it is infarction, not infraction, a mistake which a great many people make.

"Infarct" means that blood has been shut off to part of the heart muscle, thus damaging the muscle. You will find such heart attacks discussed in my booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," which you can obtain by sending to Dr. Molner, in care of The Herald, a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents in coin.

Any infarction — or heart attack — is serious, but the location of the clot or embolus which shuts off the blood flow largely determines how serious the attack is. It always does some damage, but about 75 per cent of patients return to their usual work.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read in a 1967 consumer's publication that radium dial watches are dangerous and young people should not wear them or carry them in their pockets. Is this true? If so, how dangerous are they? I have worn such a watch for two years. — D. K.

I am completely unable to find any such report in the publications I have. The amount of radiation from such a watch dial is so faint that it could not possibly be harmful.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need to Know About Them." Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

A Shaking Experience

July 22 was the 33rd anniversary of the killing of John Dillinger by FBI agents.

It recalled an incident which is amusing today but was anything but amusing to an old man who operated a small roadside cafe on the main highway just outside a small Oklahoma town.

DILLINGER, like all of his kind, was either lush with cash taken in bank raids and robberies, or stony broke when he missed out on some of his plans and when the cost of paying "friends" to hide him had stripped his hillfold of its reserves. Today he rode, perhaps, in luxury in a powerful stolen sedan; tomorrow he thumbed his way warily along the highways, with no money in his pocket.

Early one morning, the old man in the cafe saw a dusty clad, weary-appearing man come into his place. The man sat down at the counter. He ordered ham, eggs and coffee.

There was nothing particularly unusual about the customer except for his somewhat wary air and the obvious satisfaction that he felt when there were no other customers in the cafe. And from the way he ate and the meticulous way he wiped up every remnant of egg and ham gravy from his plate made it clear he had not eaten for some time.

WHEN HE HAD finished his meal, he walked to the cash register.

"Look, mister," he told the proprietor, "I haven't any money to pay for that meal."

The old man hit the ceiling.

It was the days of the depression and the cafe operator was having a hard time getting by. Even the loss of one meal loomed as disaster.

He raged at the customer. He called him any name that came to his tongue.

The penniless diner stood, listening to the bitter tirade in silence. When the old man stopped for breath, the stranger reached into his shirt pocket.

"LOOK, OLD MAN," he said, "I'm sorry I ain't got money to pay you. All I got is this fountain pen. Take it if you want and maybe it will help square the deal."

He tossed the redbarreled pen on the counter and strode out of the place.

The old man, still fuming, put the pen in the cash drawer.

WHEN HE CLOSED down for the day, he remembered the pen. Maybe, he thought, my little granddaughter can use it at school. He opened the drawer and took the pen out.

That was when he began shaking.

He was still shaking the next day at noon, when I drove from my hometown to the cafe to see him. All of the time we talked he kept going to the door of the cafe and peering fearfully along the highway.

I REALLY didn't blame him too much.

Engraved in faded gold letters on the barrel of the pen was the name: "John Dillinger."

Why Fathers Go Broke

(While Art Buchwald is taking a few days off, a blue ribbon panel has selected some of his articles of the past that it insists the public would want to read again. At least that's what Buchwald told us — the editors)

WASHINGTON — I have nothing against toy companies. In their own way, they bring happiness to the hearts of our young ones and they give employment to thousands of people all over the country. It is only when they try to bankrupt us that I feel we should speak out. If my situation is duplicated around the nation, every father who has a daughter between the ages of 4 and 12 is going to have to apply for relief. This is what happened:

My 7-year-old daughter requested, 4 months ago, a Barbie doll. Now, as far as I'm concerned, one doll is just like another and since he Barbie doll costs only $3 I was happy to oblige.

I BROUGHT the doll home and thought nothing more of it until a week later my daughter came in and said, "Barbie needs a negligee."

"So does your mother," I replied. "But there is one in the catalog for only $3," she cried.

"What catalog?"

"The one that came with the doll."

I grabbed the catalog and, much to my horror, discovered what the sellers of Barbie were up to. They'll let you have the doll for $3, but you have to buy clothes for her at an average of $3 a crack. They have about 200 outfits, from ice-skating skirts to mink jackets, and a girl's status in the community is based on how many Barbie clothes she has for her doll.

THE FIRST time I took my daughter to the store I spent $3 on a dress for her and $25 to outfit her Barbie doll.

A week later my daughter came and said, "Barbie wants to be an airline stewardess."

"So let her be an airline stewardess," I said.

"She needs a uniform. It's only $3.50."

I gave her the $3.50.

BARBIE DIDN'T STAY a stewardess long. She decided she wanted to be a nurse ($3), then a singer in a night club ($3), then a professional dancer ($3).

One day my daughter walked in and said, "Barbie's lonely."

"Let her join a sorority," I said.

"She wants Ken."

"Who is Ken?"

She showed me the catalog. Sure enough, there was a doll named Ken, the same size as Barbie, with crew-cut hair, a vinyl plastic chest and movable arms and legs.

"If you don't get Ken," my daughter cried, "Barbie will grow up to be an old maid."

SO I WENT OUT and bought Ken ($3.50). Ken needed a tuxedo ($3), a raincoat ($2.50), a Terry cloth robe and an electric razor ($2), tennis togs ($3), pajamas ($1.50), and several single-breasted suits ($27).

Pretty soon I had put up $400 to protect my original $3 investment.

Then one evening my daughter came in with a shocker.

Barbie and Ken are getting married. Here is the list of wedding clothes they'll need as well as a picture of Barbie's dream house.

"SEVEN NINETY-FIVE for a house?"

The tears started to flow. "They want to live together as man and wife."

Well, Barbie and Ken are now happily married and living in their dream house with $3,000 worth of clothes hanging in the closet. I wish I could say that all was well but yesterday my daughter announced that Midge ($3), put out by the same toy firm, was coming to visit them. And she does not have a thing to wear.

Federal Legislation From Fear

WASHINGTON — "... we have so long found life to be an affair of being rather frightened than hurt that we have become like the people who live under Vesuvius, and chance it without much misgiving."

Samuel Butler's observation in "The Way of All Flesh" swam back into memory the other day when Ralph Nader, the scourge of car makers and Robert Tibbs, a former St. Louis gas pipe line foreman, were conjuring up the perils of living in our gas-lit era.

THE UNDERGROUND piping that moves natural gas to something like 140 million users is represented by Nader, Tibbs and others as being a man-made Vesuvius, capable of blowing schools, factories and cities to smithereens. Blood was made to curdle and to creep in their testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee. Those witnesses were pushing adoption of a bill (S-1166), favored by the White House. It's a measure which would amend the Title 18 of the U. S. Criminal Code so as to bracket natural gas with high explosives and atomic piles. It would hold gas companies criminally responsible for non-compliance with standards to be set by the fledgling Department of Transportation.

LOTS CAN BE SAID, pro and con, for another transfer of responsibility into the federal domain. There have been relatively few fatalities from gas transmission and distribution, but we have had a couple of scares, such as one in Queensborough, N. Y., and another in Fairfax County, Va. Actually, fatalities rates from gas lines are far below those of air lines, highway travelers, railroads, and bathtubs. The gas industry is a big spender on safety, if for no other reason that it's good business. As of now, the gas companies in 46 states comply with regulations set by the high-class but industry-financed United States of American Standards Institute, and are responsible before the law to state and local agencies. S-1166 would cause the pipe line industry "to satisfy such standards ... as the Secretary of Transportation may prescribe."

THIS VAGUE language opens the industry to the threat of submitting to underground inspection by the new Transportation Department, which has no previous experience in this field, and the possibility of tearing up many hundreds of thousands miles of subterranean piping. Already, the unwarranted insinuation that gas is as destructive as dynamite, gunpowder and atomic fission has hurt the gas people in their public relations contest with electricity and oil companies.

ASIDE FROM THE hoary argument of whether and how much the federal government should indulge its socialist itch-to-interfere in everything, there are further questions that go to continuously feeding the American public on fear. It's become the rabble-rousing practice of the Great Society to gesture with alarm at virtually every microbe, rodent, pollutant and moving objective, and to rush in with a program to abate the danger and to win the gratitude of the populace. It would be hard to show how the multiplicity of do-good dollars and bureaucrats has done anything more than raise an ignorant clamor for more of the same.

TRUE, OUR industrial complex and the warlike world do make dangers that are comparable to living on the hillsides of Vesuvius. But, as old man Butler wrote, we should "chance it" and quit moaning.

Billy Graham

Most of our neighbors are raising their children without God and the church. We want to raise our children as Christians. Should we move to a more Christian area?

There are many factors about which I am ignorant and I can only advise you in general terms. You owe it to your children to bring them up to know and love God. At the same time, you may have an opportunity to be a witness to your neighbors. First of all, you must try to make your home all that a Christian home should be, one where the neighbor's children will sense a genuine difference. Also, by friendliness coupled with prayer for guidance, you may be able to invite in neighbors and show your interest in them. Invite them to go to church with you. Ask some of them to let you take their children to Sunday school with yours. It may be that God has placed you in these circumstances to bear a witness for Him. Do not run away because the situation is hard! Ask God to guide you and give you the strength and wisdom you need. You may be used to change your entire neighborhood.

Paper Possibilities?

With the wide range of paper apparel now available, it's a possibility a modern miss will meet her man in a paper bikini — and then marry him in a paper wedding dress. Americans spent $3.5 million on the cheap cellulose clothing last year, and industry spokesmen say a billion-dollar year isn't far off. Both the "wild animal mini bikini" and the "poly-coated wedding dress" shown above are by James Sterling Paper Fashions of New York. (AP WIREPHOTO)

'Paper Dolls' Are No Longer Child's Play

By SALLY RYAN
NEW YORK (AP) — The fun's in the bag — the paper bag — this summer.

Paper bikinis, paper surf jackets, paper bras, paper culottes, paper sandals—even paper wedding gowns and paper gray flannel suits. Temporary fashion has sent the nation on a wastebasket binge.

"Paper is in now," said Melvin E. Dawley, president of Lord & Taylor, the New York-based department store chain. "Only time will tell if it is a fad. If designing keeps good, it will be lasting."

"The whole area has begun to expand like crazy," said a spokesman for Kimberly-Stevens Corp., a major supplier of paper-type material which is 93 per cent cellulose and 7 per cent nylon.

Americans spent $3.5 million on paper clothes last year when the first paper toggery was introduced. This summer the paper caper is bigger than ever. Designs are more elaborate, prints are colorful.

By 1980, paper will account for 25 per cent of the apparel business, predicts Oliver James Sterling, 30, a former Texas oilman.

Coahoma To Fight Fires, County Gets City Reply

The Howard County commissioners encountered two developments in the problem of what to do about rural fire protection Monday.

One was a "complete surprise" as Lee Porter, county judge, termed it and classified by the commissioners as "pleasant" and "gratifying."

The second development did not bring any cheers but was not unexpected and did nothing actually toward clarifying the situation, the commissioners said.

The "pleasant" development was an unexpected visit to the commissioners court session by two Coahoma city councilmen—Bill Read and Bill Logsdon.

The Coahomans were on hand to inform the county commissioners court that the Coahoma Fire Department, now equipped with a new truck, stands ready to make any rural fire runs which may occur. The spokesmen told the commissioners that all that had to be done was to notify the department of the location, and that men and equipment would be dispatched to the scene.

The commissioners thanked the Coahoma delegation and assured them their offer would be most helpful.

The second development relative to the rural fire control situation was a letter from City Manager L. M. Crow Jr., regarding a request from the county that the fire contract be terminated and the fire truck damaged in a recent traffic accident be returned to the county.

Crow countered with the suggestion that the county compensate the city for the damage to the truck. The city also "might consider," he said, relinquishing the damaged truck to the county, if the county paid the city the value of the truck

Basin Oilmen Set Meeting

The Permian Basin Petroleum Association will have its first annual symposium Oct. 19-20 in Odessa, Russell J. Ramsland, president, announced.

The theme, "Where do we go from here?" will be developed by speakers discussing where the petroleum industry is, how it got there and what is to be done.

The list of speakers include Paul Harvey, news commentator; Stanley Learned, vice chairman of the board, Phillips Petroleum Co.; Gen. Curtis LeMay, USAF (Ret.); Congressman George H. Mahon, 19th Texas Congressional District; Allan Shivers, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce; Lee C. White, chairman of the Federal Power Commission.

Ramsland said that for some time the PBPA has needed a meeting to discuss the industry's problems, and that little enthusiasm has been created by private discussions.

"We believe that we have the very finest group ever to assemble for an enlightening, informative and entertaining meeting of this type," he added, "and there will be a question and answer period following the last formal session of the two-day meet."

Airman Wins Special Award

Airman I.C. James W. Cline, medical service specialist at the Webb AF Clinic, received recognition this week for his successful efforts to reduce processing time for Non Prior Service WAF physicals.

Airman Cline's method allowed five WAF physicals to be completed in three days rather than the previous two weeks. Lt. Col. Edwin C. Parker Jr., hospital commander, commended Airman Cline on his devotion to duty.

Porter released a copy of the letter from Crow.

Crow pointed out that the letter from the county requesting termination of the fire protection contract between Howard County and the City of Big Spring was received too late for the council to get "pertinent information on which to base a decision." It was delivered to Mayor Arnold Marshall shortly before the last meeting. The matter, Crow wrote, will be on the agenda for the council meeting Aug. 22.

In order to insure that proper consideration be given the matter, Crow said that several points need to be clarified.

His letter asks these questions:

"In computing payment for the services already rendered by the City, would you consider that this payment for services rendered be computed on a time bases or on the basis of the number of calls? I believe the annual figure of $7,500 was arrived at on the basis of 75 calls during the year with provision for an additional $100 per call for calls over that number.

"In final settlement, would you agree to payment of a full salary and fringe benefit costs of those injured firemen which they are unable to perform their work and the additional cost to the city on its workmen's compensation insurance as a result of this accident? Of course, from this we would deduct those off-setting workmen's compensation payments to the city.

"In your letter you request that the truck be turned over to the county. However, this truck was given as payment to the city as a part of the consideration of the contract in 1959. As it is the property of the city, we feel that the county has a contractual obligation to pay the city for the damage to the truck.

Since the city will be relieved of the obligation of making runs outside the city, the city commission might consider releasing the remains of the truck to the county, feeling it is more desirable to replace it with new equipment. In this latter instance the county might want to pay the city the value of the truck prior to the collision."

West Texas Plane Search Continues

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Searchers continued to fly over the West Texas flatlands Monday in search of a single-engine private plane missing since Friday night with three, and possibly more, persons aboard.

The missing men were identified by officials of Richards Gebar Air Force Base at Kansas City as James W. Gastineau of Tulsa, the pilot; Earl Demaraville, Sioux City, Iowa, and Bill Patton, Cherokee, Okla.

The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) said there might have been others aboard the red Piper 29 Cherokee aircraft.

The airplane took off from Tulsa. It was last reported seen in Marfa, Tex., at about 4 a.m. Friday.

Maj. John Hernandez of Richards Gebar said Gastineau was believed on his way to Wichita Falls on a business trip. He was a cattle buyer.

Gastineau's brother, Ed, said he had taken off from Marfa en route to Oklahoma City. No flight plan was filed.

Visiting Musician Here For Revival

Baptist Temple began a week of revival services Monday evening with John R. Webb Jr. serving as the minister of music for the week.

Webb sings with the Norman Luboff Choir regularly, and when they are not on tour, he is active in evangelism. He graduated from East Texas Baptist College and attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

He has served as the minister of music, education, and youth at the First Baptist Church in Lindale, Queen Street Baptist Church in Tyler, and the Memorial Baptist Church in Grapevine. He is presently minister of music, education, and youth of the Wilshire Park Baptist Church in Midland.

He has had extensive experience in the music field as he was in the college a capella choir and chorus for four years as well as a college male quartet for two years at East Texas Baptist College.

At the seminary in Fort Worth, he was a member of the Seminary Oratorio Chorus and has acquired 16 semester hours of college and seminary private voice.

The revival speaker is Rev. James A. Puckett, pastor, and services begin at 7:30 each evening through Sunday, except for Saturday evening.

Following the services, there will be open houses where refreshments will be served and Webb will sing.

This evening the service will include a youth choir from Lamesa, known throughout the area for its folk singing.

County Budget Work Completed

Howard County Commissioners court completed its study of the proposed 1968 Howard County budget Monday and Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, is now drafting a revised copy.

She said that the commissioners will officially advise the date for the public hearing on the budget—Sept. 11—soon and that the new copies of the budget, with the revisions which have been made by the commissioners, will be available at that time.

She said that no major changes in any of the items in the original budget were made. Some slight alterations were listed, but in general the budget is about as it was when first prepared.

Firefighters Relax A Bit

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Fire officials in Oregon's national forests relaxed a bit today, even though 1,200 firefighters from three states were still in the woods and the weatherman promised no relief for the state's potentially explosive woodlands.

The U.S. Forest Service expected to have the last of 228 fires in the Willamette National Forest east of Eugene under control today. Three fires—two near Oakridge and another east of Springfield—were contained late Monday.

During the past few days 16,000 gallons of fire retardant chemicals were dropped in the Willamette forest, the biggest single timber producing unit in the country.

As of today 9.8 million acres of state-controlled forests are completely closed, with 6.5 million more acres closed to all but permit holders.

It hasn't rained since June. Temperatures are again predicted near 100 degrees.

Republicans Plan To Probe Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans plan to press President Johnson's first-string fiscal team about the extent of administration budget-cutting Congress can expect if it approves his proposed income tax hike.

The senior Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. John W. Byrne of Wisconsin, laid the groundwork Monday for this line of inquiry from the minority members. The panel's hearings continue today.

There was heavy emphasis Monday on economy from the Democratic side, too. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., asked Budget Director Charles L. Schultze: "Is there any real possibility that, if taxes are increased, we can expect the rate of spending not to be increased?"

PAY RAISE COSTS
Schultze replied he couldn't answer for expenditures linked to the Vietnam fighting, but "as far as civilian expenditures are concerned there is a good possibility of getting even below the figures in the January budget—in fact we are aiming at this."

Schultze reminded the congressmen, however, that economy efforts depend in part on their action. He said he understands there is serious discussion in Congress of a government employees' pay raise bill that would cost $1 billion more than the 4.5 per cent increase the President has approved.

Schultze, along with Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler and Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, was recalled for a second day's appearance before the tax-writing committee.

$29 BILLION
They opened the administration's case for Johnson's 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes intended, with related tax changes, to raise $7.4 billion against a deficit that otherwise might run to $29 billion.

Byrnes said in an interview he has a number of additional questions to ask, some aimed at administration statements that officials hope to cut, hold down and postpone spending by about as much as the tax increase.

Byrnes said he is not satisfied that defense spending not directly connected with the Vietnam war cannot be reduced.

He complained he has been unable to get a firm figure on

'Paper Foulup' Sends Guard To Army Duty

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressman said today draft chief Lewis B. Hershey refuses to allow out of the Army a Pennsylvania National Guardsman wrongfully drafted through "a paperwork foulup."

Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., accused Hershey of "calculated disregard for the individual" in refusing to recommend release of Leslie E. Brown, 23, Oreland, Pa., despite the Pennsylvania Guard's request.

Selective Service Headquarters said it is investigating the allegations.

Brown was drafted and sent to Ft. Bragg, N.C., last March after his Guard unit mistakenly put him on a list of guardsmen delinquent in meeting attendance requirements and thus eligible for the draft.

Schweiker called Brown's plight "disgraceful evidence of a callous disregard for the individual and the inability of responsible individuals to unravel the red tape with which they have surrounded themselves."

The congressman said Hershey has turned down two appeals from the Pennsylvania Guard and Brown for the discharge.

The first refusal came last June, he said, on grounds Brown should have appealed before he actually was drafted.

GRAVE ERROR
The second, Schweiker claimed, came after Brown and his Guard unit commander explained Brown had appealed—but the appeal was processed too late through a second administrative foulup.

The Guard unit commander, Capt. William E. Brantley, explained in a letter the appeal did not come to his attention until the day after Brown was sent to Ft. Bragg.

Schweiker said in a statement that the commander's letter, sent to Hershey with Brown's second unsuccessful appeal for discharge last month, concluded: "As his commanding officer, had I known of his plight, every effort would have been expended to prevent such a grave and far-reaching error. Pvt. Brown should be released."

"He could not have forestalled these errors, nor did he create them."

Schweiker said Brown's records showed only two unauthorized absences from Guard meetings when he was erroneously reported delinquent.

Brown previously served six months active duty as a Guardsman.

Minor Wrecks

Three minor accidents were reported to police Monday, none involving major injuries or damage. A car driven by Bertha McGinnis, 1206 Eleventh Place, was in collision at 1412 Johnson with the parked car of Charles Shanks, 1412 Johnson. Peggy O'Brian, Box 16, and Rodney Buchanan, 1605 Airbase Road, were in collision at 200 W. 4th. Twentieth and Gregg was the scene of an accident involving a car driven by Earnest Houston Stephens, Earth, and a utility pole.

Singer Thanks DAR For Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I want to thank the DAR for all the publicity," folksinger Joan Baez told an estimated 30,000 persons she entertained free at the grounds of the Washington Monument Monday night.

Then she sang songs of her antiwar philosophy which the Daughters of the American Revolution had attacked in banning her from their nearby Constitution Hall.

U.S. Park Police set the crowd size at 30,000—ten times Constitution Hall's capacity. There was a scattering of beards and bare feet, but mostly it was a casually dressed, well-mannered crowd that could as well have been at a Fourth of July celebration.

Thousands who sprawled over the grass on a hill leading to the monument couldn't even see Miss Baez in her above-the-knee, gold and orange flower print dress. But that didn't keep them from shouting song requests or joining in an impromptu hand-clapping, body-swaying rendition of the civil rights song "We Shall Overcome."

Brazilian Officer Here To Study Air Safety

Maj. Mario de Mello Santos, Brazilian Air Force, is presently receiving on-the-job training in Webb's Safety Division.

Working with Maj. Gail M. Key, chief of the Safety Division, and members of his staff, Maj. Santos will study Air Force flying safety methods for consideration and possible use by his own air force.

Maj. Santos arrived in this country April 4. For two months he took a course in flight safety at the University of Southern California. Following completion of that course, he went to Chanute AFB, Ill., for a two-week course in jet engine accident reporting.

Rather than flying, the major drove from one base to another, so as to see more of the United States. He arrived here July 18. While he has been at Webb he has attended functions sponsored by the MAP information program, including a dinner at the Officers Open Mess, at which R. J. Ream made a slide presentation on the Amish people of Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Maj. Santos began his career in the Brazilian Air Force in 1946 when he attended the Brazilian Air Academy. He received his wings there following his graduation in 1949. Since that time he has served as an instructor at the Air Academy, as well as instructing in flying B-25s and transport carriers. He has also served as an instructor pilot for the United Nations in the Congo, and was recently the commander of a troop transport group.

Accompanying him on his tour in the United States are his wife, Dirce, his son, Mario Jr. and his daughter, Valeria. Also accompanying the Santos family are a sister-in-law, Mireta Santos and two nieces, Maria and Sonia Sampaio.

Big Expansion Program Set By T. G. & Y.

OKLAHOMA CITY — C. A. Henderson, president of T.G.&Y. Stores Company has announced that his firm has budgeted capital for the opening of approximately 125 stores in 1968, stepped up from 70 in 1967, and plans to continue this heavy rate of expansion for a number of years. The rate of expansion, saleswise, is calculated to run approximately 20 per cent per year for the next five to seven years. If the company is able to attain this rate of expansion, its sales volume in a few years will be approaching five hundred million dollars.

NEW AREAS

Henderson said T.G.&Y. was making its plans to enter four new geographical areas: the Greenville Division of South Carolina, Eastern Tennessee and Georgia; the Denver Division of Colorado, Utah and Wyoming; the Sacramento Division of Northern California and Nevada; the Portland Division covering the states of Idaho, Oregon and Washington. The company will also be taking a look at Hawaii, Alaska and Old Mexico.

An expanded warehouse in Shreveport will be opened about March of 1968, and a newly built warehouse will be opened in Greenville, South Carolina, sometime in 1968, with about one new warehouse per year opening the next three or four years.

OPENINGS

Henderson further announced his firm will continue opening variety stores in the 7,000 feet to 10,000 feet range, and variety - department stores in the 12,000 feet to 15,000 feet range, with about half of 1968 openings scheduled to occur in this class of stores. The number of openings of the family center range of stores, from 20,000 feet to 60,000 feet, is being sharply stepped up, with about 12 to 15 of this size store scheduled for 1968, and probably about 20 or more opening each year thereafter.

The company's 1967 expansion program is on schedule, 35 stores having been open to date this year and with 35 scheduled yet to open. This will bring the number of the company's stores in operation to 578 by year-end 1967, with volume for the year estimated at around 145 million dollars.

Young Father Sought After Son Is Killed

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Police hunted today for a young father named on a criminal complaint after an auto crash which killed his 16-month-old son.

Officers filed a charge of failing to stop and give aid Monday night against Jesse L. Farrens, 29, of neighboring Grand Prairie. State patrolman Bob Peacock said a statewide pickup order was broadcast.

The infant, Jesse Farrens Jr., died in a Fort Worth hospital an hour after he was pinned under an overturned car about 2 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Farrens was reported in critical condition with head injuries at the same hospital. Five other persons suffered injuries which were not considered serious.

Peacock said the Farrens had been separated about two weeks. The patrolman one of Mrs. Farrens' companions gave this account: Mrs. Farrens was driving home with her three children and three other persons. Another car, which had been parked nearby, started following as they neared the Farrens residence in Arlington.

During a chase at speeds up to 80 miles per hour the pursuing automobile struck the rear of the first vehicle four times. After the fourth ramming, it ran off FM 157 about one-half mile north of Arlington and hit a utility pole.

Six of the seven occupants in Mrs. Farrens' car were thrown out.

Trucker Bobby Jack Havens, 30, of Garland said he arrived about then and "bodies were everywhere."

Havens said a man standing in a field near the wrecked car told him, "There's a baby under the car! There's a baby under the car!"

The man left before police and ambulances arrived, Havens said.

PUNCH FAILS TO STOP KILLER Four Tried Everything To Drive Off Grizzly

WEST GLACIER, Mont. (AP) — Four terror-stricken young people who saw one of their friends killed by a grizzly bear in a Glacier National Park say they tried everything they knew to drive away the marauding animal.

They built a bonfire, but it didn't scare the bear. They lay motionless in their sleeping bags, but the bear attacked anyway.

One youth even punched the bear with his fist, he said, but the grizzly kept coming.

Paul R. Dunn, 16, a high school junior from Edina, Minn., screamed: "He's got her in the sleeping bag and he's dragging her up the hill!"

The students, who had come to the scenic park for a working vacation, told their story Monday after escaping from the maddened bear, which threatened them for hours before finally attacking and killing Michele Koons, 19, of San Diego, Calif., early Sunday.

SEARCH CONTINUES
Twenty miles from the campsite where Michele died, another 19-year-old girl, Julie Helgeson of Albert Lea, Minn., was killed in her sleeping bag by another park bear during the same night. One of her companions, Roy Ducat, 18, of Perrys-burg, Ohio, was seriously injured. A hunt continued today for the killer bears after park rangers shot and killed two grizzlies Monday in the area where Miss Helgeson was slain. Tests were being made on those bears to try to determine whether one was the killer.

With Dunn and Miss Koons were Denise Huckle, 19, of Sam Manuel, Calif., and a junior at the University of Arizona and Ronald A. Noseck, 21, and his brother, Ray T. 23, both of Oracle, Ariz. The Nosecks are dental students at the University of Louisville.

DOG GROWLS
"None of us really slept," Ray Noseck said. "We just kept putting wood on the fire."

"About two o'clock my little dog, Squirt, started growling and I heard something in the water," Denise Huckle said. "I knew there was a bear near us."

"We stayed real close to the fire," Dunn said. "My feet really got hot."

"A couple of times the bear came very close to the fire," Dunn said. They got in their sleeping bags and covered their heads with blankets.

Between 2 a.m. and 4:30 a.m., the bear stayed at the edge of the area lit by the campfire, moving about in the brush.

UNDER COVER
"When the attack started, I was the first to see the bear," Miss Huckle said. "Squirt started to squeal. I looked over a log and the bear was loping straight toward the camp. The fire was big and I could see his face and the upper half of his body. Then about four or five feet from me, he stopped."

"By that time I was back under the covers," she said. "All and we weren't sure of the trail, so we built a big bonfire."

Then they saw the bear again standing on a logjam in the lake.

"I yelled to Denise that we had to get out of there," Ron said.

"NO, I CAN'T"
"No, I can't," she replied. "I've got to undo the collar around Squirt's neck." The dog was tied in the sleeping bag with her.

"I kept watching," Ron said, "and the bear took several steps back and started for Michele. Denise and I jumped out of our bags and ran 50 yards down the beach."

"Ron shoved me up a tree," Denise said, "and tried to throw the dog up. I finally caught him."

of a sudden he grabbed one of the packs and we could hear him ripping the pack. Then he stopped and I could hear him breathing. I kept Squirt very quiet."

"Then he came toward me," Dunn said. "I could hear him come. I remained perfectly still and he just sniffed. It was kind of hard because I could hear him right above me, breathing. Then I heard a crunch into my sleeping bag. He bit half my shirt right off. I lifted up the covers and hit him. He reared back on his hind legs. I climbed a tree 30 feet high in 10 seconds. I saw the bear turn toward Ron."

"NO, I CAN'T"
"No, I can't," she replied. "I've got to undo the collar around Squirt's neck." The dog was tied in the sleeping bag with her.

"I kept watching," Ron said, "and the bear took several steps back and started for Michele. Denise and I jumped out of our bags and ran 50 yards down the beach."

"Ron shoved me up a tree," Denise said, "and tried to throw the dog up. I finally caught him."

Betty Furness To Wed Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Betty Furness, given the task by President Johnson of helping the nation's housewives and other consumers, becomes a working wife today when she marries television producer Leslie Midgley.

Miss Furness, 51, the President's special assistant for consumer affairs, and Midgley, 52, executive producer of news for the Columbia Broadcasting System, exchange vows in a civil ceremony at noon at the Hotel Regency on Park Avenue.

The brown-haired, green-eyed grandmother and Midgley met three years ago at CBS. Miss Furness was the hostess on several CBS radio and television programs, including "Ask Betty Furness."

The bride began her career as a model, then went to Hollywood where she made more than 30 movies. In 1949, she joined Westinghouse, beginning an 11-year association that gained her fame as a demonstrator of refrigerators, stoves and other appliances for television commercials.

The marriage is the third for Miss Furness and the second for Midgley.

ASHVILLE (AP)—The Asheville Citizen has been forbidden by a Superior Court judge to use the name of a girl who has testified in the rape trial of her alleged attacker.

Judge Thad Bryson Jr. told the Citizen reporter covering the trial, "I am not going to allow the use of that girl's name or testimony."

He told the reporter, Mary Cowles, that, the newspaper had permission to print only "that the trial was opened (Monday), the prosecuting witness testified and court was recessed until (Tuesday)."

"That is all I want them to print," he told the reporter. "That is about as strong as I want them to go..."

When told the newspaper felt it had a right and responsibility to report details of court proceedings, Bryson said "I have the authority under the law to clear the courtroom."

Under North Carolina law, newspapers are allowed to publish the name of a rape victim. South Carolina and some other states forbid the practice.

New Antipoverty Criticism Aired

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Less affluent Houston residents elected 35 new directors of the city's antipoverty organization Monday while the mayor, two members of Congress and fired employees of the agency criticized its work.

There were 190 candidates for the 35 seats on the 150-member board. About 3,200 of Houston's 370,000 poor voted in the election of the Harris County Community Action Association election.

The outcome left those places in "middle of the road" hands, according to the agency's publicist, Aileen Wall.

Also on the board are 15 "representatives of the poor" selected earlier, plus 50 selected by civic and service agencies, 25 named by County Judge Bill Elliott and 25 picked by Mayor Louie Welch.

POLICE RADIOS
Francis Williams, executive director of the HCCA, called a news conference to explain the association's purchases of 16 walkie-talkies and four police-band radios.

He said they were needed for trouble periods such as last week's demonstration, in which 25 pickets blocked the doors of HCCA headquarters. The pickets protested dismissal of two employees indicted for murder in May rioting at Texas Southern University and a third who made a radio speech without agency permission.

14 FIRED
Williams fired 14 more employees Monday. He said they also took part in that demonstration. During the picketing, he used walkie-talkies to speak from his office to policemen and aides of Mayor Welch.

Welch reported purchase of the radios at his own news conference, speculating they were "to find lost children." He was exercised over an HCCA requisition for seven telescopic rifle sights, explained by agency property director George T. Miller as an effort to obtain free lenses for making classroom microscopes.

PROBE ASKED
The mayor accused Miller, a one-time deputy sheriff, of changing his story and of reading an explanation written by another person. Miller said Sunday the words were his own.

A report on the radio purchases and criticism of the rifle sight order were contained in a letter Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said he sent Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., requesting a Senate probe of the HCCA.

Rep. George Bush, R-Tex., a Houston resident, made a similar request for congressional probe in a speech Monday on the House floor.

Tower also wrote Sargent Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, asking the antipoverty program chief why OEO approved a purchase of rifle sights.

'NITPICKING'
Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., asserted political motives prompted Tower and Bush to request the investigations. He added that the only probe he considers necessary is one by the OEO.

Yarborough said, "It's high time that people quit nitpicking the poverty program to death."

The OEO said last Friday that it had been investigating the rifle sight order for 10 days along with the FBI and the Air Force.

The Air Force was to have filled the order but Lester Washington, a civilian employe at Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio, said he vetoed the requisition because the scopes were not "suitable" for poverty work.

SCOPES READY
The Houston Post reported today that an unnamed HCCA official showed one of its reporters a July 17 letter from the Air Force base to the agency stating the scopes were ready for delivery when the HCCA could pick them up.

An Air Force official said Monday night in San Antonio that Kelly AFB received the order as approved by the General Services Administration and set about filling it normally, sending the pickup letter which the HCCA official displayed.

The requisition went to Washington's desk for final processing, the official said, and Washington "questioned the validity" of the order. He took it to his superior officer, who, in turn, forwarded it to Col. V. M. Gilum, director of supply and transportation for the San Antonio Air Materiel Area.

Gilum put a hold order on the requisition and asked Air Force security to begin an investigation. The spokesman at Kelly said the order remains on "hold."

Negro employes of the HCCA "play politics" to get high-paying jobs and many workers in the agency have little to do.

PUBLIC NOTICE Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE ON THE BALLOT

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 17 proposing an amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, so as to authorize an increase in the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board to Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000).

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 49-b. By virtue of prior Amendments to this Constitution, there has been created a governmental agency of the State of Texas performing governmental duties which has been designated the Veterans' Land Board. Said Board shall continue to function for the purposes specified in all of the prior Constitutional Amendments except as modified herein. Said Board shall be composed of the Commissioner of General Land Office and two (2) citizens of the State of Texas, one (1) of whom shall be well versed in veterans' affairs and one (1) of whom shall be well versed in finances. One of each shall be appointed biennially by the Governor to serve for a term of four (4) years; but the members serving on said Board on the date of adoption hereof shall continue to serve until they were appointed. In the event of the resignation or death of any such citizen member, the Governor shall appoint a replacement to serve for the unexpired portion of the term for which the deceased or resigning member had been appointed. The compensation for said citizen members shall be as is now or may hereafter be fixed by the Legislature; and each shall make bond in such amount as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the Legislature."

"The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall act as Chairman of said Board and shall be the administrator of the Veterans' Land Program under such terms and restrictions as are now or may hereafter be provided by law. In the absence or illness of said Commissioner, the Chief Clerk of the General Land Office shall be the Acting Chairman of said Board with the same duties and powers that said Commissioner would have if present."

"The Veterans' Land Board may provide for, issue and sell not to exceed Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund, Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) of which have heretofore been issued and sold. Such bonds or obligations shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest; shall be issued in such form, denominations, and upon such terms as are now or may hereafter be provided by law; shall be issued and sold at such times, at such places, and in such installments as may be determined by said Board; and shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by said Board but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any such bonds may not exceed four and one-half per cent (4 1/2%). All bonds or obligations issued and sold hereunder shall, after execution by the Board, approval by the Attorney General of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser or purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas, and all bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be general obligations of the State of Texas, in order to prevent default in the payment of principal or interest on any such bonds, the Legislature shall appropriate a sufficient amount to pay the same."

"In the sale of any such bonds or obligations, a preference right shall exist in favor of the administrator of the various Teacher Retirement Funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds."

"Said Veterans' Land Board shall continue to purchase and hereafter purchase by said Board, until the sale price thereof, together with any interest and penalties due, have been received by said Board (although nothing herein shall be construed to prevent said Board from accepting full payment for a portion of any tract), and of the moneys attributable to any bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board which moneys shall include but shall not be limited to the proceeds from the issuance and sale of such bonds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with other moneys attributable to such bonds; the interest and penalties received from the sale or resale of such lands, or rights therein; the bonuses, income, rents, royalties, and any other pecuniary benefit received by said Board from any such lands; sums received by way of indemnity or forfeiture for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any such bonds to comply with his bid and accept and pay for such bonds or for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any lands comprising a part of said Fund to comply with his bid and accept and pay for any such lands; and interest received from investments of any such moneys. The principal and interest on the bonds heretofore and hereafter issued by said Board shall be paid out of the moneys of said Fund in conformity with the Constitutional provisions authorizing such bonds; but the moneys of said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created with the State Treasurer to be known as the Texas Park Development Fund to be administered (without further appropriation) by the Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, in such manner as prescribed by law."

"Such fund shall be used by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, for the purpose of acquiring lands for State Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature."

"From the moneys received by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from the sale of the bonds issued hereunder, there shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this section sufficient moneys to pay the interest to become due during the State fiscal year in which the bonds were issued. After the lands of the Veterans' Land Board shall be sold by said Board in such quantities, such terms, and upon such conditions as are now or may hereafter be provided by law and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law to veterans who served not less than ninety (90) continuous days in the armed forces of the United States, and who, upon the date of filing his or her application to purchase any such land is a citizen of the United States of Texas, and has not been dishonorably discharged from any branch of the Armed Forces above-named and who at the time of his or her enlistment, induction, commissioning, or draft was a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, or who has resided in Texas at least five (5) years prior to the date of filing his or her application. The foregoing notwithstanding, any lands in the Veterans' Land Fund which have been first offered for sale to veterans and which have not been sold may be sold or resold to such purchasers, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law."

"Said Veterans' Land Fund, to the extent of the moneys attributable to any bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board may be used by said Board as is now or may hereafter be provided by law, for the purpose of paying the expenses of surveying, monumenting, road construction, legal fees, recreation fees, advertising and other like costs incidental to the purchase and sale, or resale, of any lands purchased with any of the moneys attributable to such additional bonds; such expenses to be added to the price of such bonds when sold, or resold, for the purpose of paying the expenses of issuing, selling, and delivering any such additional bonds; and for the purpose of meeting the expenses of paying the interest or principal due or to become due on any such additional bonds."

"All of the moneys attributable to any series of bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board (a series of bonds being defined as the bonds issued and sold in a single transaction as a single installment of bonds) may be used for the purchase of lands as herein provided, to be sold as herein provided, for a period ending eight (8) years after the date of sale of such series of bonds provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary to pay interest on bonds heretofore issued and sold shall be set aside for that purpose. It is the intent of the Legislature that the moneys of said Board authorized the issuance and sale of such series of bonds. After such eight (8) year period, all of such moneys shall be set aside for the re-

Viking Fans Aware Of Coach's Feats

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — To the outside world Bud Grant of the Minnesota Vikings may be as much of a stranger as Cal Ermer of the Minnesota Twins. But not in Minnesota.

Grant is close to a legend in the Land of the Lakes where his career as coach of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Canadian League was noted with the same pride that greeted his earlier feats as an athletic superman at the University of Minnesota.

FIRST CHOICE

When this strong silent man was introduced as the successor to fiery Norm Van Brocklin as coach of the Vikings there was no Bud Who questions in this area. He was the first choice for the job before Van Brocklin came to Minnesota and he was a popular choice as Dutch's successor.

"I never heard Bud raise his voice in anger," said one long time associate. But there is an iron will to this man with the piercing eyes and devotion to detail.

The Vikings discovered quickly that Grant is a stickler for detail. In a practice session, Grant stepped in quickly and stopped the action.

"Fasten that chin strap," he said to split end Paul Flatley. The drill continued when Flatley fastened the strap.

"We pay attention to the little things to become accustomed to cultivating good habits," said Grant. "A good team must have mental discipline. It must do everything right all of the time.

Green Bay is a good example of a team with mental discipline. It paid off with a championship when somebody on Dallas made a mistake last year and moved offside."

Grant has his work cut out for him because he must go into the tough Central Division of the National Football League with a quarterback who has thrown only 137 passes in four years.

Francis Tarkenton, the scrambler, has gone to the New York Giants, and Ron VanderKelen, more of the pocket type, is his successor.

Vandy has been waiting in the wings ever since he startled the pro world with a brilliant fourth quarter for Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl. Nobody drafted Vandy but five clubs got on the long distance phone after the game, ruining Grant's hopes of spiriting the quarterback away to his Winnipeg Bombers.

Barring an unlikely trade, VanderKelen will be the quarterback this year, backed by Bob Berry of Oregon and John Hankinson of Minnesota.

GOOD BREAK

A fine draft, made possible by the Tarkenton trade, has brought the Vikings such highly-rated prospects as running back Clint Jones and receiver Gene Washington of Michigan State, defensive end Alan Page of

Notre Dame and flanker-defensive back Bob Grim of Oregon State

Jones eventually may be the replacement for Tommy Mason at running back but he will have to oust Dave Osborn. Washington will have to beat out Red Phillips at flanker. Page moves into a regular job due to the injury to Carl Eller, who underwent knee surgery. Grim will get a look at flanker and corner back on defense.

Bill Brown at fullback is unchallenged. Paul Flatley at split end and ex-Ram Marlin McKeever at tight-end are set although rookie John Beasley of California has looked good at tight end.

Jerry Shay has moved to offense to fight with Larry Bowie, Milt Sunde and Jim Vellone for the guard jobs. Mick Tingelhoff, all-pro, is the center and Grady Alderman and Doug Davis the offensive tackles.

Grant hopes Page will add a little to the Vikings' weak pass rush. Jim Colvin was picked up from Dallas as a backup tackle after Eller was hurt. Jim Marshall at end and Gary Larsen and Paul Dickson at tackle are the holdover regulars.

Roy Winston, Lonnie Warwick and John Kirby will be the linebackers, until Don Hansen reclaims a job after a knee injury. Next Cleveland

Three Standouts Lost To Texas Grid Squad

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — The Texas squad reeled from losses of such stars as Steve Worster, Charles Speyner and Randy Stout as it prepared today to meet a strong Oklahoma crew in the Oil Bowl Friday night.

Worster, Bridge City's great running back, departed with the statement that he didn't want to play any more football right now.

Speyner, the fleet Port Arthur halfback, suffered a knee injury in the Pennsylvania Big 33 game and will require surgery, and Stout has a hurt shoulder that will keep him out of action here.

While their places will be filled, the losses and changes put the Texas squad so far behind in its work that even its staunchest backers were predicting that Oklahoma would win.

Oklahoma reached full strength Monday with the arrival of the last player scheduled to report. He is Randy Lawrence, Duncan tackle.

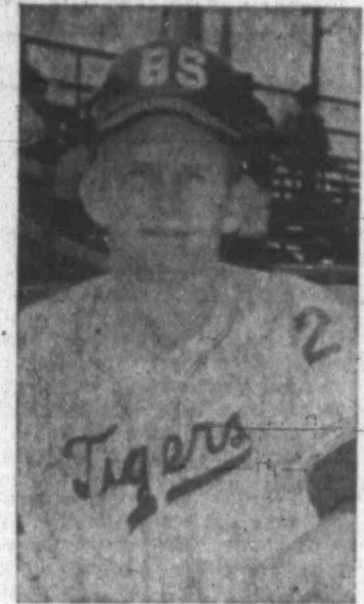

John Robinson, Plano back and Kenneth Davis, Plano tackle, who played in the Big 33 game, reported Monday but Robinson has an injured knee.

He is expected to play but hardly can be in top form.

Andy Brewer, Dallas Hillcrest tackle, and Bob Mooney, San Marcos tackle, will fill two of the vacated spots on the Texas squad. A third player is being sought.

Oklahoma looked very good in its workouts. It appeared Texas will go up against a terrific running game and a most dangerous passing attack from the Sooners.

Forb Phillips of Tulsa Hale, Jon Quick of Ardmore and Rick Thompson of Sawnee make the rushing strong. Wayne Ward of Local Player On All-State

Jim Roger, center fielder for the Big Spring Morton's Foods team, was named to the all-star squad chosen at the conclusion of the Texas State Softball tournament at Wichita Falls Sunday night.

Others selected on the elite team included:

Darrell Rosenow, Lubbock; Robert Hoyt, Sheppard AFB; and Les Koenning, Refugio, all pitchers; Norman Cobb, Refugio; Teddy Tedford, Abilene A's; Ronnie Wells, Killeen; and George Hawkins, Refugio, all infielders; Wally Jordan, A's, catcher; and Freddy Ezell, Odessa D&B; Jack Burkhardt, Killeen; Ed Armstrong, Refugio; and Jerry Moritz, Abilene A's, all outfielders.

Refugio's Reilly Rebels won the state championship by defeating the Abilene A's behind the clutch relief pitching of Koenning Sunday, 5-2.

Roy Weeks, who started on the mound for Abilene, was knocked out of the box in the third inning. Ed Dunn finished on the mound for Abilene and pitched shutout ball the rest of the way.

Both teams advanced to the regional tournament, which will be held in Fort Worth Labor Day weekend.

Refugio went through the tournament undefeated, Abilene reached the finals by defeating Odessa D&B, 4-0, beating the Odessa ace, N. E. Stephens, in the bargain.

Refugio had toppled Abilene and Dunn earlier in the tournament, 1-0, behind the two-hit flinging of Koenning.

A total of 28 teams competed in the tournament. Morton's Foods won two of four starts, ultimately losing to the Wichita Falls Spudders, 1-0. The Big Springers suffered their first loss at the hands of Refugio, 1-0.

Science And You Moon Sand

—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

The magnificent operations of our Surveyor spacecraft have made many scientists breathe easier. The Surveyors have shown us that the ideas scientists held about the nature of the lunar surface, way back when the Apollo landing gear design was frozen, are indeed correct.
During the trenching experiment carried out by Surveyor III it was found that the deeper one goes into the lunar surface, the tougher it gets. This is easily understood in the light of the ideas scientists have held about formation of the lunar surface.
Most scientists have felt that the lunar surface is made up of lava flows or some other basic material which has been pulverized over billions of years by the constant bombardment of tiny meteorites. One must remember that there are many small particles whizzing around in space and relatively few big ones. The big projectiles make the very obvious visible craters on the lunar surface and the little ones just turn the individual chunks of rock into dust or sand. This, in turn, means — since there are so many little particles hitting the moon and so relatively few big ones — that the uppermost layers of the moon will be the most severely bombarded.
For this reason, it's quite obvious that the outer surface of the moon is vigorously stirred all the time, but deeper down only occasional hits occur.
The fact that the outer layer of the moon is stirred up all the time means that the little particles don't get a chance to "cement" themselves together. They stay loose and sandy. Down deep where there is less disturbance, atoms from one particle can move over to the next particle. This makes a cement bridge between the particles that — accounts, at least in part, for the observation that deeper down in the moon's surface the material is stronger.
These ideas seem to have been confirmed by our Surveyor spacecraft. It appears that
