Americans are getting out of castorbean production, reports the Texas Department of Agriculture. All in all, the report says, the castorbean business is distasteful.

Anyone who grew up in the earlier days of this century will agree with that.

The THA says anyone who can recall having to swallow castor oil as a child well remembers the important role the bitter liquid played in the upbringing of thousands of Americans.

It had a role, we agree, but it was not exactly a pleasant one. And as for the "bitter" reference, as we recall castor oil was not exactly bitter. Just plain bitter would have been a pleasure compared to castor oil. It really had a taste that is difficult to describe. You would have to taste it yourself to know exactly what we mean.

Various methods and procedures were used by parents to disguise it. But none was effective. Castor oil was at one time considered as near a cure-all as some parents ever encountered. Some of the favorite attempts to disguise it employed fruits and fruit juices. But the results were questionable. There are middle-aged Americans today who are not fond of such fruits as oranges because their first recollection of tasting an orange was when it was joined with castor oil.

Anyway the Texas Department of Agriculture says there probably will be no castorbeans grown commercially this year in Texas. This crop never was very popular, the TDA confirmed, and farmers on the High Plains, the only castorbean growers in the state, harvested only 800 acres of them last year. Now, even these few have found cotton, grain sorghum and soybeans to be more profitable than the "poorly-priced castorbean."

We can understand that. What little castor oil we require will come from South America.

Another notation from the TDA calls attention to the increasing amount of flowers and foliage plants produced in Texas. It has reached a level that it may be described as a "budding industry," according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

At present, says TDA, there are four principal flowers produced in significant quantities in the state—carnations, chrysanthemums, gadioli and roses. Producers have indicated that they plan to increase their plantings by about 13 per cent this year, which is a welcome switch from castorbeans.—WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, April 24, the 114th day of 1975. There are 251 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

In 1704, the first American newspaper to be printed on a regular basis, the Boston News-Letter, began publishing.

On this date—

In 1743, the Englishman who invented the power loom, Edmund Cartwright, was born.

In 1800, the U.S. Congress appropriated $5,000 to create the Library of Congress.

In 1877, Northern rule in the South ended as federal troops were ordered removed from New Orleans.

In 1898, Spain declared war on the United States after receiving an American ultimatum to withdraw from Cuba.

In 1916, the Easter Rebellion broke out in Dublin, Ireland.

In 1970, mainland China launched its first earth satellite.

Ten years ago: at Norfolk, Va., President Lyndon Johnson crowned his 17-year-old daughter, Luci Baines, queen of the Azalea Festival.

Five years ago: the son of nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-Shek, Vice premier Chiang Ching-Kuo, escaped injury in an assassination attempt in New York.

One year ago: the Internal Revenue Service agreed to provide the Senate Watergate committee with tax returns from the files of President Nixon's brother, Donald Nixon, and close friend, Charles Rebozo.

FIREMAN AT WORK—Snyder Fireman Billy Keith Evans hoses down smoldering roof structure of a dwelling which was heavily damaged at a fire which broke out at about 12:10 p.m. Wednesday. The house, located at 3100 Avenue U, was owned by Mrs. William J. Schiebel and was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Knight. The fire was believed to have started in a bathroom. Firemen sprayed water on several neighboring houses to keep the fire from spreading. (Photo by Paul Gilbert)

Gang Holds German Embassy In Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Five terrorists took over the West German Embassy today, shot and killed the military attache, and threatened to execute the ambassador and 10 other hostages unless 26 anarchists are released from West German jails, officials said.

West German television said it learned the terrorists also demanded that each prisoner, including the leaders of the Baader-Meinhof gang, be given $20,000 before boarding a Lufthansa Boeing 707 at 9 p.m. — 4 p.m. EDT. This would amount to $520,000.

Officials in Bonn, Germany, said the terrorists demanded that the prisoners be brought to Frankfurt, Germany and flown out by 1 a.m. Friday — 8 p.m. Thursday.

Police said the terrorists — three men and two women — killed the military attache, Lt. Col. Andreas von Mirbach, 54, with four shots in the head and legs. He died in a Stockholm hospital five hours after he was hit, government sources said.

The Baader-Meinhof gang, which follows an anticapitalist line, has claimed responsibility for terrorist bombings that killed four GIs and injured more than 50 persons in 1972.

The gang is named after woman journalist Ulrike Meinhof, 40, and student radical Andreas Baader, 30. The leaders of the gang are scheduled to go on trial in Stuttgart next month.

First police reports said one person was killed when the terrorists opened fire with submachine guns and pistols in the office of Ambassador Dietrich Stoecker, 60 and the father of four, but the police later said they had no knowledge of any casualties.

However, a woman and a man were seen carried to ambulances.

Officials said earlier that the terrorists had threatened to kill the German military attache if the embassy building was not evacuated.

They also threatened to blow up the building with TNT if rifle-toting police wearing bullet-proof vests and helmets, tried to storm the four-story structure.

The embassay normally has a staff of 47.

Police cordoned off a a 200-yard "security zone" around the embassy, while sharpshooters entered the ground floor and ladders were erected to windows, allowing some of the trapped employes and diplomats to be evacuated.

Two women who had been working in the kitchen of the embassy said the building was rocked by an explosion after the terrorists fired several volleys of submachine-gun fire.

Staffers of the British Embassy on the opposite side of the street said a man was seen signaling to police from a window on the fourth floor of the West German Embassy.

Other witnesses said a woman was seen in another window.

South Viets Argue Over Politics While Cong Waits

SAIGON (AP) — President Tran Van Huong offered today to make Gen. Duong Van Minh premier but refused Minh's demand for the presidency, political sources reported.

Meanwhile, the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong were apparently marking time on the battlefields, awaiting the outcome of the political maneuvering in Saigon. The South Vietnamese military command reported only scattered, small-scale action although Western intelligence sources said Communist-led forces had been in position to overrun the crowded city since Monday.

Minh, a retired general who led the 1963 coup that overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem, sought the support of political, religious and military leaders in a series of meetings at his home. He refused to comment to newsmen on the impasse except to say, "Time is short."

Premier Nguyen Ba Can and his cabinet resigned late Wednesday after only 11 days in office to pave the way for a new political setup. Foes of former President Nguyen Van Thieu were urging his 71-year-old successor to step out also so that Minh could form a new lineup that the Communists might agree to negotiate with.

Political sources said Huong and Minh met for more than two hours, and the 71-year-old president offered Minh the premiership "with full powers." But they said Huong insisted on keeping the presidency he succeeded to on Monday night when Thieu resigned.

Should Minh take over, his first action is expected to be a proposal for a cease-fire and negotiations to form the coalition government with the Communists envisioned by the 1973 Paris peace agreement. However, the Viet Cong, which rejected such a proposal by Huong on Wednesday, has given no indication if it would deal with Minh.

In Washington, the U.S. House of Representatives met past midnight Wednesday to approve a bill authorizing $327 million in humanitarian aid to South Vietnam and the limited use of U.S. troops to safeguard the evacuation of Americans and some South Vietnamese from Saigon. The Senate passed a similar bill earlier Wednesday.

The U.S. airlift of Americans and Vietnamese out of Saigon continued without letup.

Oran Thompson Rites Friday

Oran Lawrence Thompson, 66, a life-long resident of Scurry County, died at 10:15 p.m. Wednesday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital following a brief illness.

Mr. Thompson was a semi-retired farmer.

Funeral service has been set for 4 p.m. Friday at Colonial Hill Baptist Church. The Rev. Miller F. Robinson will officiate and burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Mr. Thompson is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Ramona Littlefield of N.M.; a son, Gene Thompson of Snyder; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Poteet of Lakeside, Calif., Mrs. Ora Ponder of Dallas and Mrs. Virgie Brooks, of Goldthwaite; a brother, Alvin Thompson of Carlsbad, N.M.; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Senate Rejects Cheap Speeding Ticket Proposal

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators rejected a House-approved proposal today which sponsors claimed would take the pain out of speeding tickets.

Only 10 senators voted for the bill, which limited the fine for driving between 55 and 70 miles an hour to $25. Nineteen senators voted against it.

The proposal also specified that speeding tickets for driving between 55 and 70 m.p.h. could not be charged against a driver's record in figuring his insurance rates.

House members quickly passed Senate-approved bills giving private, nonprofit hospitals a break on their building bonds and make it harder to become a real estate man.

Both measures, which consumed most of Wednesday's debate, return to the Senate for action on amendments.

Representatives tentatively approved, without objection, a measure placing motorcycle dealers under Texas Motor Vehicle Commission regulation and enabling auto dealers to decide who gets their franchises upon death or retirement.

Rep. Jimmie Edwards, D-Conroe, said the automobile measure "does permit the dealer in his lifetime to designate his successor by written notification to the manufacturer."

"The manufacturer can't abort the will of the dealer," Edwards said.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe submitted emergency legislation designed to patch some holes recently discovered in the state law regulating privately-owned vocational schools, and Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, quickly introduced the governor's bill.

It would give the State Board of Education power to put an immediate halt to all solicitation and enrollment by a school if there is reason to believe the school is not complying with state law and regulations. It also adds a certification requirement that a school disclose its assets that are available to refund students' tuition if the school shuts down.

Briscoe's action followed revelations that a number of schools were not obeying the law that requires them to make tuition refunds if they close before a student completes his course.

The real estate and hospital bills took hours of debate Wednesday as the House worked on a calendar—finished today—of several special interest bills.

Employes In Duval Are Fired

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — Duval County commissioners voted Wednesday to fire all of the county's several hundred employes as of May 30.

County Judge Dan Tobin Jr. said a meeting will be held April 30 to decide which employes will be rehired.

When Tobin was appointed last month as county judge to replace ousted County Judge Archer Parr, Tobin said the county was overstaffed.

"We have too many employes. We may have to let some go. It is an economic situation," Tobin said at that time.

County Commissioner Ramiro Carrrillo said everyone now on the payroll will be paid for the full month and those rehired will go back on the payroll as of May 1 and will not lose any pay.

Earlier, commissioners had asked all department heads to submit lists of the employes. Tobin said this has not been done and he feels the action of the court Wednesday should prod the officials into submitting the employe names.

In another action, the court ordered Sheriff Raul Serna to recover all county-owned equipment and vehicles, one of which is a 1974 Cadillac El Dorado driven by Parr. Parr said the sheriff, being assisted in the recovery by Ranger Gene Powell, will not be able to pick up the Cadillac. "They're not going to get that. That's a lease car and I pay the lease. The only thing the county has to do with it is pay the insurance," he said.

Production In Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economic output and the number of man-hours worked fell sharply during the first quarter of 1975, the Labor Department said today.

But productivity, defined as output per man-hour, rose slightly because the number of man-hours worked declined more sharply than output.

In the previous quarter, productivity declined 5.1 per cent.

Billionth Barrel Marker Unveiled

A historical marker commemorating the production of Scurry County's billionth barrel of oil was dedicated this morning at SACROC Unit Tract 51, Well No. 4 on the original Collins lease five miles north of town off U. S. 84.

The well is the site where the symbolic billionth barrel was produced in October of 1973. The ceremony this morning was sponsored by the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee. Its general chairman, Hugh Boren, Jr., was master of ceremonies.

Boren introduced Harold Lacik, unit manager for R. E. Smith, oil production operator for the Sharon Ridge-Canyon Field.

"The world could well focus its attention to the people of this area, who through their pioneering spirit, joined the unitization and water injection operations which resulted in the production of the billion barrels," said Lacik.

"One billion barrels would circle the earth at the equator 23 times," Lacik continued, "And still the production goes on.

"Today, more than ever, the world could gain from the history and courage of the folks from this area."

Boren also introduced Bill Vestal, independent production engineer and Mayor of Snyder, who gave the principal address.

Vestal said the Canyon Reef oil fields of Scurry County reached two significant milestones in October of 1973—the 25th anniversary of the discovery of oil in this prolific formation, and the production of the billionth barrel of oil from the field.

"The well by which we stand today," Vestal continued, "Was selected to be the one from which the symbolic billionth barrel was produced. Even more remarkable, perhaps, is the fact that the billionth barrel was produced when current oil producing rates were at record levels. These events did not occur by chance or luck, however, but were the direct results of steps taken by far-sighted, conservation minded oil people more than 10 years ago.

We are here today to dedicate this historical marker in recognition of the first billion barrels of oil production from this great field.

Vestal traced the development of the Canyon Reef field after its discovery in 1948. He told of the unitization of the field which ultimately will result in double the amount of recovery originally estimated.

"When the demand for domestic oil began to increase in the late 1960's and the oil fields of Scurry County were called on for ever increasing oil production, they were able to deliver because of the plans executed by far-sighted, conservation minded oil men almost 20 years before," Vestal added. "Cumulative oil production has now reached 1.1 billion barrels and already exceeds any reasonable estimate of primary recovery. This has been accomplished with current oil producing rates at all time record levels."

Vestal also stated that he believes the release of oil production from price control would be a tremendous incentive to others to develop secondary and tertiary oil recovery methods as rapidly as possible.

Included among those present was Ed Mlcak, area supervisor for SACROC, who called the Canyon Reef Field "a unique field."

"There are none as large with the possible exception of the North Slope," Mlcak stated, "And we're fortunate to have this large field in Scurry County.

Mlcak was a young engineer in 1948. At that time, he was in charge of drilling the initial discovery well.

Mairl McFaul, production foreman for Chevron, also said a few words, praising the "pioneering people" who live in Scurry County.

Others present included Bill Williams, maintenance foreman for Chevron, Mrs. Boren, Rev. and Mrs. John Gaston, and Bob Clifton, radio station KSNY.

Rev. Gaston, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation, and Mrs. Boren unveiled the marker.

VIEWPOINT

Extra Cost Guaranteed

The Texas Senate has had difficulty in trying to get a bill to a vote that would set up a state commission to regulate utilities. This could well be fortunate for the consumer, at least so far as can be determined at this time from information made available on the subject.

Proponents of a state utilities commission have expressed concern over the fact that Texas is the only state without one. And so far, that appears to be the best argument they can make in support of the proposal to establish one.

Not even the most avid supporters of a state utilities commission would predict that consumers could expect lower rates for their utilities if one should be established. And they could not guarantee that service would be any better, or that supplies would be enhanced. And, although Texas is the only state without such a state-wide regulatory body, its utility rates are not the highest in the land. In fact, they are considerably lower than most states that have had such agencies, or commissions, for a number of years.

There is one thing all can guarantee, however, if a state utilities commission is established it will result in another bureau that will cost the taxpayers money to operate. This has been estimated variously from a million to two million dollars per year---at the beginning.

People Estimate Low

The world population picture may be grimmer than anyone believed. Not only are there more people than the official figures show, but the growth rate is higher than previously thought.

According to the generally accepted projection by the United Nations, the world's population was not expected to cross the four-billion mark until about this time in 1975. That figure was actually reached early in 1974 says the Environmental Fund, an independently financed foundation active in the population field.

Moreover, world population growth apears to be 90 million a year instead of the 75 million year previously estimated.

Most world population estimates since 1945 have been too low, says Fund director Robert C. Cook. Census-taking methods vary widely in sophistication and accuracy. For example, in underdeveloped countries, about two-thirds of births and deaths are never recorded.

Even in the United States, official figures are short of actual number. The U.S. population is at least 217 million, rather than 212 million, because the 1970 census missed more than 5 million people and these have not been added to the official count.

The world's most populous country, China, claims to have 800 million people. But the Fund estimates a miminum population of 917 million, and even this may be too low since the most recent census, that of 1953, is considered unreliable. Some demographers calculate a Chinese population as high as 1.055 billion.

Bones Of Young Females Found

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Peace officers said today they have found human bones which may be parts of five young women at the edge of an east Bexar County lake.

Sheriff's deputies searched a 60-acre area around Churchill Estates Lake for more bones while awaiting a precise medical examiner's report on the bones found so far. Officers did not rule out the possibility some of the bones may have come from animals.

Sheriff's Lt. Alfred Carreon said his men found several shoes, including a pair of women's silver platform shoes at the water's edge.

A women's decomposed body and what is believed to be bleached bones from two or three other young women were found by a fisherman Wednesday. Searchers found still more bones today, leading Carreon to speculate he may have in his possession parts of as many as five young women or teen-age girls.

About 20 deputies, Texas Rangers and city police searching through head-high brush and weeds today found ribs thought to be those of a small person. Carreon said he believed all of the bones came from "small women."

County Medical Examiner Dr. Ruben Santos said the decomposed body found Wednesday was that of a nude woman or teen-age girl who was wearing fingernail polish. Aside from the shoes, no other clothing has been found.

Nearby convenience store owner D. F. Davee said a customer told him earlier today he has noticed buzzards circling the area in recent months but thought nothing of it since the area is criss-crossed by cattle trails.

Citizens Band Club To Meet

The Citizens Band Club (SECO) will hold its monthly meeting Friday night at the Union Community Center.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the main topic will be planning for the jamboree to be held in June for the Association for Retarded Citizens. All members of the club have been urged to be on hand to help plan the jamboree and visitors will be welcome.

Handbook Tells About Medicare

Most people have a pretty good idea of what Medicare covers. They know that it helps pay for most major health care—for example, inpatient hospital care and doctors' services during an illness. But what are the things Medicare does not cover?

That question, according to Don Minyard, Social Security Branch Manager in Big Spring is one that people frequently ask about Medicare.

"The completely new edition of Your Medicare Handbook answers this question," Minyard said.

The new handbook was mailed by the Social Security Administration to more than 23 million aged and disabled Medicare beneficiaries, and to hospitals, doctors, and other health care professionals late last year. Anyone who for some reason did not receive a handbook can pick up a copy at any social security office.

"A prime feature of the new handbook," Minyard said, "is a comprehensive listing of services and supplies that Medicare does not cover, as well as those it covers only under certain conditions."

"For example," he said, "Medicare does not pay for preventive medicine, such as physical checkups and routine eye and hearing examinations. Drugs and medicines the beneficiary buys himself are not covered. Neither are eyeglasses or dentures."

Another chapter in the new handbook describes two other important rules about Medicare coverage, according to Minyard.

"Just because a beneficiary is in a hospital or other health facility does not automatically guarantee that his expenses will be covered," he said.

"Medicare cannot cover care that is not considered reasonable and necessary for the treatment of an illness or injury, even though it is furnished in a hospital or skilled nursing facility participating in Medicare. Also not covered is a hospital or skilled nursing facility stay, when primarily custodial care is provided--such as help in walking, getting in and out of bed, bathing, dressing, eating, and taking medicine."

The handbook also contains showing what services are covered and what services are not covered when a beneficiary is in a hospital or skilled nursing facility, or is receiving care from a home health agency or a doctor.

Some types of care and some services are covered only under certain conditions or in specific situations. For example, Medicare does not cover health care outside the U.S. except for certain situations involving Canadian or Mexican hospitals. These are also explained in the new handbook.

"Many beneficiaries," Minyard said, "assume that whatever their doctor prescribes for their treatment is automatically covered under Medicare. This isn't always true, and we hope that the new medicare handbook will clear up this misconception."

Minyard said every beneficiary should keep his handbook in a safe place so that he will have it when he needs information about Medicare. "To find out what page the information is on," he said, "all he has to do is look up the subject in the index."

When a beneficiary can't find the information he needs in the handbook, he can get it simply by calling any social security office, Minyard said.

Pupils Present Kiwanis Program

Mrs. Roy McCloskey's 5th grade class at West Elementary School presented a program on American History at the regular luncheon meeting of the Noon Kiwanis Club, held Wednesday at the American Restaurant.

They discussed the beliefs of several of the American presidents, and they sang several patriotic songs.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Jim Tully, president.

Gaylord Perry, a member of the Sunrisers Kiwanis Club, was a guest of the Noon Club.

Hike-Bike Campaign Is Slated

Teresa Walker has been named Chairman of the Snyder 1975 "Hike-Bike for Retarded Citizens", it was announced today by Felton Stephens, president of the Snyder Teens Aid the Retarded unit.

"On May 3," Miss Walker announced, "Residents of Snyder will have an opportunity to take part in this worthwhile event. We hope every one who can will join us in the "Hike-Bike" either as participants or sponsors."

The Hike-Bike campaign calls on volunteer citizens to either "hike" or "bike" for retarded citizens, over a measured course. Businesses and individuals are asked to pledge so much per mile, for each mile walked or ridden by participants.

The "Hike-Bike" will take place on May 3 at 8 a.m. Hikers and Bikers will meet at the Humble Smith school, and the course will run 22 miles. Check points will be set up at intervals along the route, to accurately clock miles covered by participants.

"Hike-Bikes have been very successful in other parts of the country," Miss Walker stated, "and have raised thousands of dollars for the mentally retarded. I know we can count on the citizens of Snyder to make the campaign here an outstanding success."

Interested walkers or riders or sponsors are urged to call Teresa Walker at 573-9849 or Mrs. Robert Miller at 573-7271.

Senior Citizens Denied Credit

WASHINGTON (AP) — After paying cash all their lives, elderly Americans now trying to join the "credit society" are denied charge cards because they're too old, a witness has told a House panel.

Some of these persons make substantial retirement and investment incomes but are victims of an apparent arbitrary age cut-off on credit privileges, a consultant to two national retired-persons groups testified Wednesday.

John B. Martin said there is a clear pattern of discrimination against older persons by certain national credit card companies, department stores, gasoline companies, banks and other credit-granting institutions."

Utility Pole Cut In Half

A utility pole was cut in half in an unusual mishap here yesterday.

City Police said Harold Wayne Krantz of Roue 3, Wills Point was driving a 1972 Model Ford 2½-ton truck in the 1600 block of Twenty-fifth Street about 7 o'clock last night. A 1975 Model Metamora mobile home he was towing came loose from the truck and crashed into the utility pole. Damage to the pole was estimated at $250.

Guests this week of Mrs. Jess Brown were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eiland of San Grabel, California, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hall of Stanton and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown and son.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pete White were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rainey of Colorado City. Other guests of the White's last week were Tommy Jones of Garland and Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Taylor of Dunn.

Ella Lee Hickey of San Angelo recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence T. Merritt.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Hall were Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Mize, Naomi and Brandy of Plainview, Lyda Shipp and Clemy Andress of Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Harris and family of Sweetwater.

Sorority Celebrates Anniversary

Beta Sigma Phi, a social, cultural and service organization for women, plans the celebration of the Forty-fourth Anniversary of its founding. Celebrations will take place in the 24 countries in which the organization's 250,000 members in 10,500 chapters exist. The organization is not connected with any school or college and is non-political and non-sectarian. The keynote of Beta Sigma Phi is friendship.

Chapters of five different degrees meet the growing needs of various age groups. Members are active in small Chapter groups and each Chapter adapts the plans for social, civic, and service and cultural activities to fit the interest of its members.

Internationally the Chapters have created three special funds: The International Loan Fund, through which members help one another; the International Endowment Fund, through which vast sums have been donated to cancer research, cystic fibrosis, homes for under-privileged children, and many other causes; and the Exemplar Fund, which helps to support Literacy Village in India.

Prince Likes To Be Ordinary

OTTAWA (AP) — Prince Charles says that the best compliment anyone can pay him is to say, "Oh, he's so ordinary."

The Prince of Wales made the remark Wednesday while attending a session of a student-run model Commonwealth conference. He answered a series of informal questions from the floor which became a relaxed open chat with the high school pupils.

He told the group that he feels he can live a fairly normal life in spite of being the heir to the British throne.

"A most important thing is to retain your sense of humor," the prince added. "If you lose that, and your ability to laugh at yourself, you're defeated."

Some kinds of fish have a strongly developed sense of smell to help them find food — except the catfish, which will bite on bait that other fish find objectionable.

AWBA To Hold 'Bosses Night'

The American Business Women's Association held it's regular monthly meeting in March in order to plan bosses night scheduled for April 24. Eura Beckham, president opened the meeting at 7 p.m. Following the luncheon, program chairman Clara Mae Noah introduced the evening's entertainment. Mrs. Margaret Dell Pilcher presented "Music–the International Language", interjecting comments and explanations concerning the origin, implication, and rhythms of the various pieces as she played. Selection included those of Mexico, Brazil, Germany, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Czechoslakia, England, and Italy, as well as many others.

Betty Bynum of Glen Bynum Co., a speciality advertising company, gave the vocational address. The company has been established in Snyder for ten years, explained Ms. Bynum, as she briefly touched on certain interesting elements of her field. In the absence of Beverly Stoltz, Frances Williams read the minutes of the previous meeting. In preparation for the big event, Eura Beckam brought the members up-to-date on preparations for bosses night. Annually, members invite their bosses as guests for the evenings meal and program. Letters from the members are judged prior to the celeration, and the best representation of that boss's outstanding assets qualify him or her for 'Boss of the Year.' Speaker for the evening is Joe Reaves, instructor in Social Sciences at Western Texas College. A short "Tribute to Bosses" will be presented by Jan Bellamy, staff announcer at KSNY Radio. All members are encouraged to be present and guests are very welcome. Irene Brooks, of Merle Norman Cosmetics, will act as hostess. Other business included appointment of members to a commitee to nominate an outstanding senior citizen for the Sunrizers Kiwanis Club of Snyder. They are: Margaret Crockett, Nita Brown, Ora Wells. Helen Fiensod received the Friendship Guard to two new members inducted into ABWA from the National Office in Kansas City, Mo.

The highlight of the evening was the induction of five members; Barbara York, Dolores Jones, Marilyn Smeltzer, Nita Cooper, and Vern Beasley. Anita Brown gave the invocation and the meeting was dismissed at 9:30 p.m.

Local Art Professor To Judge Art Show

SWEETWATER—Beta Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi announces that C. Warren Cullar, assistant professor of art at Western Texas College in Snyder, will judge the art divisions of their Spring Country Fair to be held on Saturday, April 26, in the Nolan County Coliseum Annex between 1 and 7 p.m.

A native Texan, Cullar earned his B.A. degree from Abilene Christian College and his Masters of Fine Arts from the Instituto Allende, San Miguel de Allende, Guanajuanto, Mexico. Watercolorist, workshop leader, college art professor, Cullar enjoys participating in art production of all phases. Before he began concentrating on watercolor about three years ago, he experimented with a variety of media including acrylics, oils, and graphics.

To promote his growth as an artist, Cullar paints in a new locale every summer for the challenge of expressing the colors, terrain, and other unique features of such diverse environments as the waterfalls of Colorado and the sea-scapes of Maine. Not all of his subjects, however, are remote; some of his best paintings come literally from his own backyard. Nor are all his subjects representational. He recently won, for example, the $500 purchase award at the Texas Watercolor Society Twenty-Sixth annual show in San Antonio for Reflections, a nonobjective radiant watercolor. He is looking forward to painting in Taos, New Mexico, this summer.

In addition to Cullar, Mrs. Tim Everett of Sweetwater and Mrs. E.F. Duncan of Roscoe will be awarding prizes in the sorority's show. First, second, and third place awards will be given in each of the categories of oils, pastels, water color, acrylics, charcoal, collage, mixed media, sculpture, decoupage, tole painting, china painting, ceramics, open crafts, embroidery, knitting, crocheting, needlepoint, quilting, and open needlework. In addition, the judges will award a grand prize in each of the three major divisions of art, crafts, and needlework. Entry fee for all divisions is one dollar. The only restrictions concerning entries are that persons submit no more than one entry per category and that anyone having taken honors in the chapter's previous shows not submit their winning entries.

The second phase of the fair will be the display and sale of wares by area craftspersons. Individuals, organizations, and businesses are presently reserving booth space to sale baked goods, handicraft items, and various art media. Fee for the space is five dollars.

Persons wishing to enter items for competition in the show should bring their work to the coliseum annex between 2 and 7 p.m. on Friday, April 25. Each item should be marked with the entrant's name, address, and telephone number. Persons interested in reserving booth space or who desire additional information concerning any phase of the fair should contact either Janice Wagner (236-6028) 1313 Josephine: Dixie Beattie (235-2921) 1101 E. 13th: or Mary Esch (235-2268) 1403 Stanley.

OUR MAN ON BROADWAY

Dick Maurice

One of the hottest couples in Hollywood these nast few years has been STEVE McQUEEN and his ALI MacGraw. Because Steve so desperately believes in privacy, it has been almost an impossibility to get responses from the McQueens about anything they do—including their professional lives. Therefore, speculation has been running very strong these past few months that there is "deep trouble" in the McQueen household and that it is only a matter of time before the "storybook couple" will announce their divorce. One of the reasons for this assumption has been Ali's daily visits to a psychiatrist. The visits are followed by off-the-record conversations at times with friends (in which she allegedly tells them about how unhappy she is that day and the following—how exstatic!). Ali's remarks have been compounded by McQueen campers claiming that some days they see Steve motorcycling around the hillside wearing what appears to be a happy face and the next day the face of a man ready to commit you-know-what. To add more fuel to the fire is the McQueen's reluctance to even socialize with intimates who might be able to cast a more intelligent light on the subject matter. Any which way you want to look at it, the McQueen marriage is still topic Number One on the social call board.

Hey, did you know LEONARD BERNSTEIN's housekeeper has orders to lock the pantry after he's finished dinner? No, I don't know what for. Either he's dieting or he's chintzy.

They say MARLENE DIETRICH's actually singing for her supper at age 74. I can't believe she's that flat. I mean in terms of money. . . . .

BRUCE DERN says buddy JACK NICHOLSON will retire from acting "after a few more films" and concentrate solely on directing.

KAREN VALENTINE says she lost all that weight via acupuncture. "They just stuck pins in my ears!" she confesses. Anywhere else? Just asking. . .

ROCK HUDSON is absolutely dying to play the late Gen. DOUGLAS Mac ARTHUR in that big-budgeted spectacular Universal's planning? But a friend told me that—if and when the highly expensive project gets off the ground—you can bet CHARLTON HESTON will be portraying the General.

PETER FALK forgot his underware! His socks too! When Falk travels, he's always forgetting something. It's all he can do to remember to pack his clothes. In the meantime, he makes do by washing out his underwear and socks and letting them drip dry over-night. Does the "Columbo" star ever get any help from his wife, Alyce? Nope! Falk says: "Alyce does not help me pack. She once threw my suitcases out of the window." In that case, suitcase or otherwise, Peter Falk is bound to find something interesting to talk about - even if it's only his underwear!

Did you know that ROD McKuen once strained his voice so badly that doctors warned him that he might never be able to sing again? Needless to say, Rod recuperated 100 percent, although that's why his voice sounds so gravel-ly today.

Who said, "I regret being an actor everyday of my life. But acting is the only way I know of making a living."? JAMES FARENTINO, that's who.

DICK and TOM SMOTHERS had a great time putting on a reporter at a recent interview when the scribe mentioned to Tommy that he'd like to discuss his wedding. "I married a Las Vegas stripper with seven children," Tom told the interviewer with a straight face. Then Dick cut in: "She's not a stripper anymore. Seven kids takes a lot out of you, you know." "How do you know?" Tom snapped. To which Dick replied: "I saw her in a bathing suit. She's okay for small clubs—but no more Vegas."

Needless to say this was all in fun. . .ROCHELLE SMOTHERS has never been a strip tease artist. But she does have seven kids and Tom is ecstacically happy with her.

Look for TED KENNEDY to have a change of mind about the Democratic presidential race. Even his cousin GORE VIDAL (he's actually Jackie O's relative) made the "prophetic" remark when he recently appeared on a talk show.

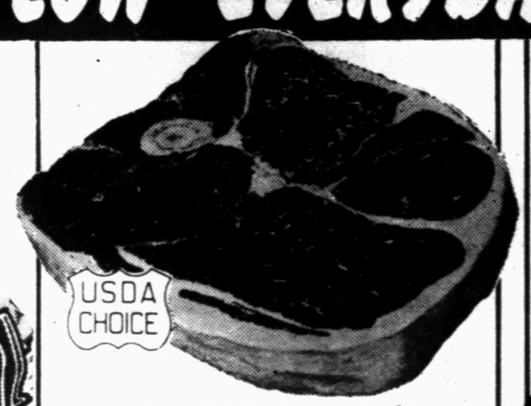

Oh boy, is ANTHONY QUINN gonna be in REAL trouble with his wife, YOLANDA! The lady says she has E.S.P.! Well, if that's true—and she's "Seen" all her wandering hubby has wandered into lately—then Tony had better start explaining.

Astro Pitcher Gets 1st Win

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

It was nice to see the kid get his first major league baseball victory. It was also nice to see the kid get his first major league shutout.

Maybe it was even nicer that they weren't the same kid. That way, everybody had something to smile about.

Doug Konieczny, after suffering through five losses in the majors, three last year and two this time around, finally got around to the win column Wednesday night when Houston beat San Francisco 3-2 in the first game of a twinight doubleheader. Roger Metzger and Ken Boswell gave him the runs he needed and Ken Forsch gave him some much-welcomed relief.

In the nightcap, it was Giants' rookie Pete Falcone who wore the grin after he wore down the Astros 3-0 with a five-hitter for his inaugural shutout in the majors.

In the rest of the National League it was Chicago 9, Philadelphia 3; New York 7, St. Louis 1; Montreal 5, Pittsburgh 0; San Diego 7, Los Angeles 1, and Atlanta 5, Cincinnati 4 in 11 innings.

"I felt good," Konieczny understated. "I don't know if I was throwing as hard as in past games, but I had good command. I was throwing the ball where I wanted it."

Metzger got behind him with two RBI on a squeeze bunt and a sacrifice fly while Boswell tripled in the other run.

Chris Speier's double and Bruce Miller's single gave Falcone the only run he needed — but the Giants got two more anyway on Falcone's single, a sacrifice, a stolen base and catcher Skip Jutze's throwing error and on Gary Thomasson's homer.

"I never thought I'd pitch my first shutout this year," Falcone said. "It helped my confidence. Maybe I can pitch another one."

Cubs 9, Phillies 3

Bill Madlock doubled and singled to drive in four runs in Chicago's pounding of the Phillies.

The Cubs' 13-hit attack also included homers by George Mitterwald and Rick Monday.

Mets 7, Cards 1

"Things are going so good I hate to have a day off. When you're going this good, you want to play." Manager Yogi Berra said after his Mets parlayed Tom Seaver's four-hitter and Rusty Staub's grand-slam homer off Bob Gibson into their fourth straight victory.

Expos 5, Pirates 0

"There are two ways to do it — give them nothing or get something," Montreal Manager Gene Mauch said after his Expos beat Pittsburgh. "If you don't give them anything, you don't need much."

Woodie Fryman has what it took to shut out his former Pirates teammates for the second time this season. He scattered seven hits, struck out nine batters and contributed a run-scoring single in a four-run second inning.

Padres 7, Dodgers 1

Mike Ivie, Randy Hundley and Bobby Tolan drove in two runs apiece for San Diego to end a personal 15-game winning streak by the Dodgers' Don Sutton and enable Joe McIntosh to record his first major-league complete game with a five-hitter.

The Padres, winning for the seventh time in the last nine games, raked Sutton for two runs in the second inning and one in the fourth, then chased him in the fifth when Ivie singled for two runs and Hundley doubled for two more.

Braves 5, Reds 4

Mike Lum drew a one-out walk from Don Gullett in the 11th inning and, with two away, Larvell Blanks doubled him home to push the Braves past Cincinnati.

"I was expecting Clarence Gaston to hit for me," Blanks admitted. "I took a couple of steps back toward the dugout but they just motioned for me to get up there and hit. I figured I better go ahead and do something."

WESTERN GOLFERS—The Western Texas College golf team will participate in the final WJCAC Golf Tournament Friday at the Hobbs Country Club course in Hobbs, N.M. Going into the final match, the Westerners were in third place, trailing leader Odessa JC by 9½ points. The Westerners also will compete in the Region V Golf Tournament April 28-29 at the Lake Waco Country Club in Waco. Team members are, from left to right, bottom row, Terry Bruner, Ross Wortham, Grant Collyns, Marty Pate, Bryan Hargrove and Arnold Madril; and, top row, Carter Wiggins, Jeff Richardson, Mark Hargrove, Robin Nail (golf) sweetwater), Kyle Howard and Coach Bob O'Day.

WTC Golf Team Goes To Hobbs

The final Western Junior College Athletic Conference golf tournament will be held at the Hobbs Country Club in Hobbs, N.M. Friday. Tee off is on tap for 9 a.m.

Odessa College leads the Western conference through nine tournaments with 82 points, and New Mexico Junior College is in second place with 77 points. Western Texas College is in third place with 71½ points. Other places in the conference: Midland College 62 points, Howard College and South Plains, tied with 48 points, Amarillo College 39½ points, New Mexico Military 34, Frank Phillips 18½, Clarendon 12½.

Four WTC golfers are in the top 10 in individual conference standings and could be all-conference if they play well at Hobbs. Sophomore Mark Hargrove and Freshman Arnold Madril are tied for fourth place with a 75 average. Freshman Bryan Hargrove is in sixth place with an average of 75.29, and Sophomore Kyle Howard is in seventh place with an average of 75.63. John Stinson of Odessa College leads the conference with a 74 average. Ten players with the best averages are chosen all-conference. A player must participate in eight tournaments to make all-conference.

Tryouts for Major and Senior Leagues will be from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Friday at the same park.

All eligible girls, ages 8-18, are still urged to register during the tryouts. The girls should bring their birth certificate and one parent with them.

Bulls Eliminate Kings, 101 To 89

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

Some Kansas City fans tried in a not-so-subtle way to tell the Chicago Bulls: "You stink."

But Chicago Coach Dick Motta couldn't disagree more. He's a picture of cool confidence.

Amidst a hail of spray deodorant cans — which had been passed out free to fans outside the arena — and other debris, the Bulls built an 81-69 lead and went on to a 101-89 victory, eliminating the Kings 4-2 in their National Basketball Association Western Conference semifinal series.

"We're the best defensive team in pro basketball," Motta said. "If we play like we did against the Kings, we'll go all the way. This was our toughest series."

With 8:40 left in the game and the Bulls leading by 12 points, frustrated fans began the barrage. The game was delayed five minutes when the Bulls, en masse, launched a counter-attack and stormed after a heckler but were restrained before reaching him.

Kings Coach Phil Johnson could only look ahead to next year.

"Next year ... next year ... I told my players," Johnson said. "They may think last year's training camp was hard, but wait until this one coming up."

Bob Love led the Bulls with 26 points, and Nate "Tiny" Archibald had 26 for the Kings.

In the other NBA playoff game, Buffalo beat Washington 102-96 to even that Eastern Conference best-of-seven semifinal at three games apiece. The deciding game of the series will be played Friday night at Landover, Md.

Buffalo's Bob McAdoo, who admitted after the game he was "dead tired," scored 37 points anyway. "I stopped pressing in the fourth quarter," said McAdoo, who scored 22 of his points in the first half. Jim McMillian was excellent in a supporting role with 20.

Washington's Phil Chenier, who had scored 19 points before intermission, could manage only six in the second half.

Two playoff games are on tap in the NBA tonight. Houston travels to Boston in an Eastern Conference semifinal series which the Celtics lead 3-1. And the Golden State Warriors take a 3-2 Western Conference semifinal lead into Seattle.

Indiana won the 1975 Big Ten basketball crown by taking all 18 league games.

Tigers To Visit Lamesa Friday

The Snyder High School varsity baseball team, sporting a 13-10 season record and a 4-3 district mark, tangle with the Golden Tornadoes in Lamesa at 5 p.m. Friday in an important district contest.

"They've got Sam Jefferson back, and he will probably pitch against us," declared Tiger Coach Speedy Moffett.

Jefferson is the lad who beat Brownfield, the team tied with Snyder for the district lead, earlier in the season. He is a strong right hander.

Moffett said he probably would start either Ricky Beard (5-5) or Gary Greenele (4-2). He listed probable starters, according to batting order, as follows: Randy Gressett rf, Kelly Ragland 2b, Robert Alderete ss, Ernie Simons c, Richard Tovar lf, Sid Perry lb, Danny Brumley 3b, Barry Blalock cf, and either Ricky Beard or Gary Greenlee p.

Although Lamesa is only 2-5 in district, they have beaten Brownfield twice and will be especially tough at home. A victory for the Tigers would give them a half game lead over Brownfield in the district race.

The same two teams, Snyder and Lamesa, will tangle again at 5 p.m. next Tuesday in Moffett Field here.

JV Hosts Cooper Today

The Snyder High School junior varsity baseball team was to host Abilene Cooper's JV at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Moffett Field.

"They've beaten Abilene High four times and have a tough team," declared Snyder Coach Albert Lewis.

The Snyder JV has a 4-3 record for the season. Lewis said he probably would start Kelly Ragland on the mound. Kelly has a 3-0 record.

Lewis listed probable starters, according to batting order, as follows: Kyle Sikes 3b, Kelly Ragland p, Phil Robinson cf, Ricky Beard lf, Tony Lewis lb, Dennis Buchanan 2b, Kenny Crow rf, Calvin Reese ss, and Lee Allen Jarrell c.

The Tiger JV will meet Lubbock High's JV at 4 p.m. Monday in Lubbock.

Tommy Jacobs was a 17-year-old amateur when he played in his first Masters golf tournament at Augusta, Ga., in 1962. He's the youngest amateur ever to compete in the event.

Golf Team At Region

The Snyder High School golf team, runnerup to Sweetwater in the district tournaments, will join the Mustangs for competition at the Regional Tournament today and tomorrow at Andrews.

Coach Geral Greene will take five boys to Andrews: Bernie Weems, Richard Turnbow, Stan Talbott, Ricky Ator and Don Stoker. The four low scores will count in the standings.

Sweetwater won the District 3-AAA tournaments with a final total score of 1294, three strokes better than the Tigers.

Sammy Smith of Sweetwater was district medalist with a 316, and Snyder's Richard Turnbow was runnerup with a 318.

Winner of the regional tournament will advance to the state tourney.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

★★★

Q. While cleaning out my desk, I came across the contract, bills and other documents relating to the remodeling job I had done on my kitchen several years ago. Can I throw these papers away or are they still important for tax reasons?

A. Keep these papers. In the event you ever sell your home, the basis of the property (generally what it cost you, increased by the cost of any improvements) will have to be computed in order to determine your gain or loss. Thus, such records should be kept for as long as they are material in determining the basis of the original or replacement property.

Q. I understand that the IRS winds up with thousands of undelivered refunds each year. How can this happen?

A. The usual reason for refund checks going astray is that taxpayers move and leave no forwarding address with the Postal Service. Still other taxpayers neglect to correct the label attached to their tax return. Taxpayers contacting the IRS about their refund should give the name and address as it appeared on the return, social security number and the type of form filed. Often IRS employees can find out almost immediately what happened to a refund check through a computer system available in many IRS offices. Before October 1, undelivered refund checks can be remailed almost immediately to the new address. After October 1, however, all undelivered refund checks are cancelled. Issuing checks in response to inquiries received after that date takes considerably more time because special processing is required.

Q. I lost my refund check. Can I get a duplicate?

A. Yes. Report the loss to the Internal Revenue Service Center where you filed your return or to your District Office -- either will supply the forms you need to apply for a replacement.

Alcohol And Male Sterility Are Related

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A panel of doctors studying alcoholism says it has found a definite relationship between alcoholism and male sterility.

Dr. Joshua Perper, chief forensic pathologist for the Allegheny County coroner's office, says severe testicle damage was found in men with a history of alcoholism and it could result from two causes.

He said damage to the liver could prevent the liver from neutralizing female hormones produced in the male, or the alcohol itself may be toxic to the testicles.

Whether there is also a direct causal link between liquor and consistent impotence remains undetermined, Perper said in an interview Wednesday.

"It is very hard to say whether the changes in the testes may be associated with impotence," said Perper. "Impotence may be psychologically related and requires the study of living individuals."

Perper said he and two other physicians discovered the highly damaged testes during a study of unexplained deaths among alcoholics.

"These were heavy drinkers who did not have severe liver disease," said a participating researcher, Dr. Lewis Kuller, an epidemiologist at the University of Pittsburgh.

"When they died, it was not of classical cirrhosis and it was not at home or under medical supervision. We are trying to find out why they die when the only observable damage is a fatty liver."

Perper said a fatty liver condition is considered reversable and not very serious.

During autopsies to determine the cause of death in these men, the researchers said they routinely examined the heart, pancreas, liver and testes. It was then that the atrophy in testes was found.

Tips Come Down As Menu Goes Up

DALLAS (AP) — The recession has brought another malady to the American scene--the tipless waitress.

Lois Austin is one working in a restaurant in Northwest Dallas.

Like many of her counterparts, she is the sole support of herself and three children, ages 4, 6 and 8.

She earns only a dollar an hour because federal law provides that all persons who are tipped should be paid one half the $2 minimum wage.

Mrs. Austin depends on tips for her livlihood.

"Every time the menu prices go up, tips come down," she said. "In good times I used to average $100 a week in tips alone; now my average take home pay is down to $105 including tips.

"That's happening at a time when my cost of living has kept rising just like everybody else's.

"By the time I hire a babysitter, pay my rent, buy food for the kids, pay the doctor and get the absolutely necessary clothes and school supplies for the two in school, there's not a cent left for any kind of emergency. I just don't dare have an emergency because if I get behind I'm sunk."

Fran Baker works in a downtown Dallas hotel restaurant, making $1.05 an hour plus tips, which average about $80 a week.

As for waitress work, "there's lots of it and you can learn pretty fast," Mrs. Baker said.

"But things are sure getting tight. People just don't have as much money to leave in tips as they used to. When we write out that check, we can see the look on their faces. I usually know about what I'm going to be tipped before people leave the table."

Mrs. Baker is luckier because her two children are grown and married.

"We survivied through the years on tips," she said. "It was lean then but I don't know whether we could make it now."

Peter Reynolds Dies In Fire

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)— British actor Peter Reynolds, 50, died in an apartment fire early Wednesday. He had appeared in 25 movies in Britain before moving to Australia in 1969. He later played in Australian television serials and portrayed a top-hatted Englishman in cigarette commercials.

Dr. Lamb

What is high cholesterol?

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—While I was in Florida I had my blood pressure and heart tested by a machine in a store. The man told me my heart was beating 20 times more than it should every minute.

When I saked what caused it he said cholesterol around the heart. He seemed to think it was serious. I have been trying to find out what foods are high in cholesterol but haven't succeeded. I am overweight. Would loss of weight relieve me of this condition? Can you tell me where I can find out about cholesterol?

DEAR READER—If you are overweight it would be a good idea to correct the problem. You should have some tests done to find out whether you really have a high cholesterol count and what your blood fats picture really is. That may have a lot to do with what you need to do in terms of a low cholesterol diet. For more information about this, write to me in care of this newspaper at P.O. Box 1551, Radio City, Station New York, N.Y. 10019, and ask for my report on cholesterol. Send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents to cover costs.

Let's look at your real question, your heart rate. You can't tell much about the circulation from a casual heart rate. Many normal people have higher rates during the day. In general I believe those people with relatively slow rates during the entire day are in better health (if they don't have a heart condition like heart block that causes the slow rate.) Many healthy persons have a sharp rise in heart rate when they are excited.

As an experiment take your heart rate when you first wake up in the morning. Then take it in the middle of the afternoon and again after your evening meal. You will probably see a wide range. Just find your pulse at the wrist and count it for a full minute to find out your heart rate.

If you have a persistently fast heart rate it could be from lack of good physical conditioning, too much coffee or too many cigarettes, if you have either of those habits.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Please give us some information on an extra rib, especially one located on the right shoulder at the neck.

DEAR READER—Most of your vertebrae have a short bony process that is really the stub of an undeveloped rib, one on each side. Occasionally it becomes a fully developed rib. I noticed a recent case report in a medical journal of one found in the pelvis, which is quite rare. Those found in the neck are fairly common and are called a cervical rib.

The cervical rib may not cause any problem at all. In some cases it is located in such a way that it creates pressure on nerves, blood vessels or affects muscle and tendon function. In these few cases the symptoms depend entirely on where the pressure is. In such cases it may be necessary to surgically relieve the pressure.

For the large number of cervical ribs causing no symptoms at all, they are best left alone.

Houston Approves No Smoking Areas

HOUSTON (AP) — City councilmen have approved on the first of three readings an ordinance which would prohibit smoking in public elevators and other areas.

Violations of any provisions of the ordinance approved Wednesday would be punishable by fines up to $200.

Edward Cazares, an assistant city attorney, said a section of the ordinance prohibiting smoking in any area which the owner or operator of a business establishment might designate was "questionable." He said the section could not be successfully defended in a law court.

"You have questions of the improper delegation of power," he said. "This is definitely a problem area."

David Sentner Dies Tuesday

WASHINGTON AP—David P. Sentner, 79, veteran Washington and New York correspondent for the Hearst newspapers, died Tuesday. His newspaper career began in 1924 with United Press and International News Service in New York. He went to Washington in 1942 as chief of the Hearst Newspapers Bureau, a post he held until his retirement in 1964.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This could be an expensive day if you get involved in a business area you're unfamiliar with. Avoid complicated deals.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Plan first as to how you'll handle important matters today. Your on-the-spot decisions are not reliable.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't try to palm-off tasks you should be doing. You'll only have to do them later — with a possible penalty.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't jump in too hastily on a business tip you may learn of from an influential contact. It isn't that good.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you try to rule the roost with too heavy a hand today, the family may take some steps to dethrone you. Walk softly. Forego the big stick.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be extra-careful when traveling today. Keep a sharp eye on those who share the road, whether you're walking or driving.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) In your eagerness to satisfy a whim, you're likely to pay far more for something than you would if you were in a more practical mood.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You may have to set your desires aside the next few days in order to meet demands of others. Just don't be a complete patsy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be wary. Don't unthinkingly say or do something today that will cause a serious breach between you and a close friend.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't try to run the show within your clique today. Be democratic. Let everyone have a voice.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A goal you have in mind today will not be in accord with an associate's, yet you must do what's best for you. He'll understand in the long run.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Little things you would normally overlook in others tend to irritate you today. Be conscious of this. Avoid nit-picking.

Your Birthday

April 25, 1975

You'll form some unusual alliances this year. They'll take you off on new paths. It will work out well if your associates know where you're going, even if you don't.

Alarm Clock Routine Ticks Her Off

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a wonderful professor. I also work. About three times a week he arises early to work on a special project or to attend an early faculty meeting, so he sets the alarm for 30 minutes earlier than he really has to get up. When the alarm goes off, it awakens both of us. He then sets it for 30 minutes later, rolls over and dozes until the alarm goes off again.

Meanwhile, I am being robbed of 30 minutes of sleep.

I think he should be a big enough boy to set the alarm once for the time he has to get up.

Is there a solution? Please don't suggest separate bedrooms because I'd rather lose sleep than lose HIM.

Sign this, "For whom the bell does NOT toll" or

"TICKED OFF"

DEAR TICKED: Have you asked him to please knock off the two-alarm routine? If not, do. If he refuses, insist on a compromise whereby he sets the alarm twice every other time.

DEAR ABBY: That letter about the wife who didn't like her husband's mustache brought back memories.

Years ago, I had the same problem. I waited patiently for my husband to shave off a big walrus mustache he had grown "just to see how it looked."

Finally, one day when he was asleep on the couch, I got a scissors and nipped off one side of it! He awakened with a start, and said, "What's coming off here?"

I sweetly said, "Your mustache, dear."

He laughed and kissed me. And he never grew another mustache again.

AN 85-YEAR-OLD WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: You're lucky your husband was so good-natured. I'll bet some wives have ended up in the divorce court for less.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice about telling later-comers to come an hour ahead of the time you really want them will not work. I know. I used to be anywhere from 30 minutes to an hour late every time, and no amount of kidding or criticism would change me.

One Christmas Eve some close friends (I'll call them the "Greens") invited me to drive with them to their parents' lovely country home. I was to be at the Greens' at 6 p.m. "Please, this time, don't be late," they pleaded. "It's a long drive, and we want to leave at 6 p.m. sharp!"

Of course I was late, but as I walked up their front stairs, I looked at my watch and saw it was only 6:15—which was "early" for me. But the house was dark and there was a note on their front door: "Sorry, Pal. We waited for you until 6:05."

I was furious. But I will say that I am grateful to the Greens for teaching me a lesson I will never forget.

That was the last time I was ever late.

ON TIME

CONFIDENTIAL TO C. IN OKLAHOMA CITY: Forget him, dear. He is not mature. A mature person is willing to accept the consequences for his actions. A "man" who sneaks around to see a girl behind her parents' back is immature.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Pollution, Cancer Linked

WASHINGTON (AP) — A four-year study to map areas of the United States which have the highest cancer rates indicates a strong link between some types of cancers and particular kinds of industrial pollution, federal cancer researchers said Wednesday.

"What we have here is a whole new series of clues to the origins of cancer," said Dr. Joseph F. Fraumeni, a member of the National Cancer Institute team that worked on the project.

Fraumeni said some of the findings from cancer maps developed by the team have been turned over to health officials studying cancer levels in Florida, Louisiana, Michigan, New Jersey and northern New England.

Among the project's findings were these indications:

—High bladder cancer levels around areas of heavy auto production.

—Significant lung and liver cancer levels arond concentrations of chemical industries.

—High lung cancer rates near copper and lead smelters.

The pollution-linked cancer maps, to be published next month, cover 34 different types of cancer found in white males and females throughout the United States.

The researchers said they are now working on a separate study of cancer concentrations among blacks.

No Television Disappoints Ford

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — President Ford has expressed disappointment that the opening ceremonies at Old North Church in Boston last week was not nationally televised.

Ford's press secretary, Ron Nessen, told reporters on Wednesday that the President and Mrs. Ford watched a videotape of the ceremonies at the White House on Tuesday night.

Nessen also said that Ford expects to attend a "fair number" of upcoming bicentennial events round the counrty.

SHARP TURNAROUND FROM 74

Discounts, Gimmicks Are Hope Of Airlines

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's domestic airlines have turned to discount fares and in-flight gimmicks in hopes of pulling out of an economic tailspin now in its fourth month.

The trend is a sharp turnaround from last year when airline fares rose 15 per cent and the industry reported its biggest profit since 1967.

Air fares have shown no sign this year of coming down, but the discounts now available allow travelers to save between 20 and 40 per cent on the price of a regular coach ticket.

The airlines began offering discounts early this year after the economic downturn, rising unemployment and higher air fares combined to cut sharply into the number of passengers they carried each day.

The Air Transport Association says airline traffic was down 2.8 per cent in January 1975, compared to January 1974. The decline jumped to 6.1 per cent in February and slowed to 3.8 per cent in March.

ATA estimates that the decline in traffic, combined with rising fuel and labor costs, resulted in a record $190-million deficit for the industry in the first quarter.

The airlines traditionally lose money in the first quarter. For example, they lost $2.7 million in the first quarter of last year even though they finished the year with the fourth-best profits in history.

Discounts were chosen as a passenger inducement rather than across-the-board reductions in air fares because discounts are less disruptive to airline profits.

Discounts can be tailored to attract passengers who would not have made the trip otherwise. If they are tailored carefully, most passengers who would have flown anyway will not be able to take advantage of the lower fares.

For example, a businessman has little use for an excursion fare that requires him to stay in one city for seven days minimum. Yet such a discount plan could easily attract vacationers who were originally planning to stay at home or drive instead of fly.

The discounts available today vary from market to market and from airline to airline. The savings depend on factors such as when and where the traveler is going, how long he plans to stay and whether he can make his reservation well in advance.

Several airlines also have asked the Civil Aeronautics Board — CAB — to let them offer discounts to youths, senior citizens and families.

The CAB ruled several years ago that youth fares and family fares were illegal because they discriminated against other passengers. However, the board reversed itself recently on youth fares for international flight to Eurpoe after U.S. airlines complained they were losing youth traffic to Canada, where the fares remained in effect for European travel.

Although the discounts can save passengers money, they also can be confusing. The same fares are called by different names by different airlines. In addition, there are so many discount fares available that the passenger may have trouble determining which is best for him.

Trans World Airlines, for example, has 20 different fares in effect on its flights between New York and Los Angeles. Prices for coach seats in that market range from a high of $364 round trip — the regular, no discount fare — to a low of $216.

To qualify for the lowest possible fare, known as the Demand Schedule fare, the passenger must make reservations and pay for his ticket at least 60 days in advance. There are other restrictions, such as a penalty if the passenger cancels out at the last minute.

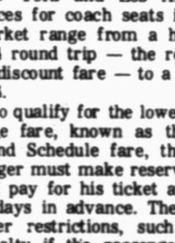

If the passenger cannot make reservations two months in advance, he can fly between New York and Los Angeles on what TWA calls its Daylight Saving fare and what United Airlines calls the Bicentennial fare.

That discount, which ranges from 20 to 25 per cent depending on the season, reduces the cost of the round trip to $291 in peak season and $273 in off-peak season. The traveler must stay between 7 and 30 days.

The passenger can obtain an even bigger discount by traveling on a night excursion instead of a day excursion ticket. The night excursion fare between New York and Los Angeles round trip is $255.

The discounts are not limited to coast-to-coast flights. The Bicentennial or Daylight Saving fare, for example, is available on flights of over 750 miles — more than half the routes operated by trunk airlines.

Young Women Should Avoid Mammography

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Routine X-ray examinations for breast cancer in women under the age of 35 should be avoided because the screening procedure itself may cause tumors, a Food and Drug Administration advisory panel says.

The advisory committee also called for more studies on the safety and effectiveness of such X rays, called mammography, in women aged 35-50 years. The panel also urged physicians to determine whether female patients are pregnant before taking abdominal X rays.

The FDA's Bureau of Radiological Health has taken the recommendations under consideration. But Dr. William S. Cole, associate director for medical affairs, said the under-35 prohibition "makes good sense."

The rush by thousands of young women for breast X rays is "a mistake, growing out of hysteria," he said in an interview.

The advisory committee's recommendations were spurred by reports that some college health clinics are advising coeds to undergo routine mammography. More and more women are seeking breast cancer examinations since the wives of President Ford and Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller underwent surgical removal of cancerous breasts.

Cole said mammography is not very effective in young women because they have firmer breast tissue which may obscure X-ray detection of tumors. No one knows the risk of low-dose radiation, he added.

In addition, said Bureau Director John C. Villforth, the two X-ray films required for each breast and use of improper equipment and techniques are resulting in radiation overexposure for many women.

The advisory panel recommended that women under 35 avoid mammography if they have no complaints, no personal or strong family history of cancer and no physical evidence of cancer such as a lump.

Cole said the effectiveness of mammography in women aged 35-50 may be answered in two or three years when the National Cancer Institute and American Cancer Society complete data from their mass screening of 270,000 women in 27 cancer-detection clinics around the country.

Retail Price Increases Lurking

WASHINGTON (AP) — After months of sagging farm prices, consumers began to see some price relief at food store counters last month, but Agriculture Department experts say another round of retail price increases is lurking around the corner.

The retail cost of a market basket of farm-produced food in March dipped $9 on an annual basis, the first decline since last July, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday.

But Larry V. Summers of the Department's Economic Research Service said cattle prices have risen in recent weeks and that retail beef prices are expected to follow suit. The effect could be that over-all food costs will resume their rise, he said.

Further, he said, hog producers have cut back so much that pork prices are going up. Much of future prices still depends on 1975 harvests and the general tone of the nation's economy, Summers added.

Summers said the department will issue a new appraisal of 1975 food prices on May 8. Despite a slower pace of increase this year than in the first half of 1974, consumers can expect some further rises through midyear at least, he said.

Meanwhile, Agriculture Department figures showed that a supply of market basket food — theoretically enough for a household of 3.2 persons for an entire year — cost an annual rate of $1,821 in March.

That was down $9 from February's record rate. Farmers also saw another decline in the prices they are paid. Of the price paid by consumers, the farmers got $714 on an annual basis in March, down $10 from the February rate. Middlemen who transport, process and sell food saw their share increase by $1 last month to $1,107 on an annual basis.

Although considered by the department as a major food-price indicator, the market-basket index includes less than 90 per cent of what families actually buy to eat, officials said.
