Quit Hearings, Write Tax Bill, Carr Urges

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP)—Speaker Waggoner Carr said today the House must quit hearings and write a 300 million dollar selective tax bill.

He told the House that he recommended that the Revenue and Taxation Committee "report a bill to the House which includes a broad array of selective taxes — including, but not confined to, selective sales taxes." With the money raised, Carr said public school as well as college teachers should get raises.

Carr said his proposal is well established and "is not contrary in principle to the tax program recommended by the governor, inasmuch as more than 50 per cent of his tax recommendations were for increases in existing sales taxes."

Speaking distinctly from a prepared text, Carr said it would be "a broad-based tax" and not "a synonym for a general sales tax." He recommended taxes be increased on natural gas, liquor, cigarettes and corporations as recommended by Daniel and "include most, if not all, those items presently taxes but omitted from his program."

As Carr spoke, the Senate wrapped up its first local and uncontested calendar, passing 46 local bills.

Carr met yesterday with industrial and financial leaders from throughout the state and was reported to have told them "to get on or get off" his proposals to solve the state's growing deficit and future needs. They were reported to have agreed to back him.

Carr said Daniel's tax program "in total is inadequate to the task before us," and added:

"I am convinced that we should put the cost upon as broad a segment as possible — not just upon a few segments of our people or economy."

The House applauded. Earlier, the members agreed unanimously to take up the state's major two billion dollar plus spending bill at 10 a.m. Monday.

TEARS IN COURT—As the prosecution told the court it intended to prove that Mrs. Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas murdered her former lover, the late Forrest Teel, Mrs. Nicholas broke into tears. Several times throughout the opening statements of the prosecution and defense she wept at the mention of Teel's name. Beside her in court at Indianapolis is one of her attorney's Frank Symmes. Mrs. Nicholas is being tried on first degree murder charge in the slaying of Teel. (AP Wirephoto)

Three Youths Are Injured

Three Snyder youths were injured, only one of them admitted to the hospital in a one-car accident near here last night.

The accident occurred at 8:10 p.m. 4.6 miles west of here on U. S. Highway 180. The 1952 Chevrolet in which the youths were riding went off the pavement, where the driver lost control, and the car moved back onto the pavement and struck a bridge railing.

In the car were Jimmy Smith, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Smith, Green Hill addition, driver of the car; Robert Ezell, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ezell, Taylor Avenue; and Patsy Henry, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Henry, Lamesa highway.

The youths were taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital, where they were treated in the emergency room. Smith was admitted to the hospital for treatment of extensive lacerations around one eye.

2 Soviet Attaches Expelled By Mexico

By CHARLES H. GUPTILL

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico has ordered two Soviet Embassy attaches expelled from the country, charging they had a hand in the Easter weekend rail strike. Two other Red attaches were reported marked to go.

An official source said the second secretary of the Soviet Embassy, Nicolai M. Remisov, and a military-naval attache, Nicolai V. A[illegible]nov, were given until Friday to get out of the country. They reportedly plan to take a Canadian airliner Friday morning to Toronto.

Two members of a diplomatic mission from an unidentified Soviet satellite also were reported to have been declared no longer welcome in Mexico. There was speculation they were Czechoslovak or Polish.

The strike fizzled Monday after the government had rounded up an estimated 3,000 leftist union leaders and followers. The government said it had evidence the strike was a Communist plot.

Workers flocked to their jobs Tuesday and officials said [illegible] trains were back on the run. Many of the workers said they had been coerced into striking by threats of torture or reprisals against their families.

The two Soviets were said to have had regular contact with Demetrio Vallejo, leftist rail union leader who organized the last three national rail strikes. He was arrested Sunday and reportedly talked to authorities about the Soviets' role in the walkout.

Official sources said the activity of the two Soviet officials was "not consistent with the democratic regime which Mexico observes."

Day Of Grace On Car Tags

Today is a "day of grace" in registering autos in Texas.

Deadline for registeration is March 31, but no penalty is being charged for driving vehicles today without new license plates.

The penalty will be charged beginning tomorrow, however. Geral Greene, county tax assessor-collector, said penalty for driving a vehicle on a public road without 1959 registration beginning tomorrow is 20 per cent of the cost of registration of the vehicle.

Any persons registering vehicles after today must sign an affidavit that they have not driven the vehicle on a public road, or pay the penalty, Greene said.

While most residents here observed the deadline, many were registering their vehicles today, Greene said.

By mid-morning there had been 9,944 vehicles registered here for 1959. That included 6,671 passenger cars.

23 Persons Cast Absentee Ballots

A total of 23 persons became absentee voters in school board elections in Scurry County before the absentee deadline yesterday.

Dan Cotton, county clerk, said 22 persons had voted and one ballot was secured before the deadline which must be mailed in and received by his office by 2 p.m. Saturday.

The school board elections will be held Saturday.

Six persons had voted absentee in the city council election by noon today. That election will be held next Tuesday. Deadline for absente voting is midnight Friday. Voting must be done with K. O. Pitner, city secretary.

Texas Area Hardest Hit

By WILLIAM JOLESCH
Associated Press Staff Writer

Tornadoes slashed from the Texas Gulf Coast into the midwest areas of Missouri and Kansas [illegible] night and Wednesday and killed six persons and injured at least 59. All the dead were Texans, as were 51 of the injured.

The main line of twisters struck at Vaughan and Bynum in North Central Texas, near Gainesville in North Texas, near Kingston, Okla., near the Texas border, and at Silver City, 30 miles west of Tulsa, Okla.

Tornadoes hit Henderson and Marshall in far East Texas, while hurricane-force winds ripped the Gladewater-Kilgore-Longview section in the general Marshall-Henderson area.

An isolated tornado dipped down on a boat works on Galveston Bay on the Texas coast, sinking a cabin cruiser and damaging mooring sheds.

A freak tornado dipped into Marshall, unroofed one home and then lifted early today.

Another tornado cut a path 500 feet wide in Henderson, causing extensive damage but no injuries.

The line of tornado weather rolled hundreds of miles into Kansas and Missouri. Kansas City underwent a tornado alert for 15 minutes but no twister struck there.

A tanker plane from Bergstrom Air Base near Austin crashed during the turbulence and all aboard died. The tanker normally carries a crew of four.

Three persons perished at Vaughan, a village of 50 persons about 70 miles south of Dallas. Two died at Bynum, east of Vaughan. An automobile was tossed off the highway north of Bynum, killing Mrs. C. B. Bruner of Waco.

The main Waco-Dallas highway the six miles to Bynum had the appearance of a battlefield where two armies had fought foot by foot.

The scene reminded this reporter of the battleground from Anzio to Rome in World War II.

Smashed automobiles, tractors and wagons, tossed into fields and ditches, were in evidence almost everywhere.

Tattered clothing and bedclothing fluttered from trees and fences. Mailboxes hung at crazy angles. Snapped utility lines strewed the roads and fields and many utility poles had snapped.

Jack Tripplett said the tornado "hit just like lightning." It sheared half of his 6-room stone house away and demolished the barn. None of the family suffered injuries.

Bill Orr, his wife and four children, searched through the ruins of their home at Bynum Wednesday morning, picking up remaining valuables and the children's toys.

Said Orr, "I heard this terrible roar at about 9:15 p.m. and my wife and I jumped up and grabbed the kids and ran into a southeast bedroom and jumped under the bed. We just got under the bed when the tornado hit. It actually hit twice. The first time it shook the house. The second it pitched about 100 feet and turned it around."

Residents of Bynum had the appearance typical of tornado victims. They appeared stunned and bewildered by the tragedy, moved about slowly and talked in hushed tones.

The freak Marshall tornado badly damaged the brick home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Spencer in a thickly populated area of a new housing addition. It took off the roof and heavily damaged the interior. The tornado lifted back up and touched nothing more.

Debris from the Spencer home struck a house across the street. No one actually saw the twister, but many persons reported the typical tornado roar at 3:30 a.m.

At Vaughan, the twister flattened all the half dozen houses, the gas station and two churches. A cotton gin was ripped in half.

KILLED IN STORM

HILLSBORO, Tex. (AP)—Killed in the tornado which struck Vaughan and Bynum, small Central Texas towns south of here last night, were:

Harliston Stanford, about 40, Vaughan.

His sister, Mildred Stanford, about 50, Vaughan.

Mrs. Minnie E. Lee, 74, Vaughan.

Mrs. C. B. Bruner, Waco, Tex.; Garnett Cain, Bynum, about 50; and Ben Harris, Bynum.

AF Serves Notice On Russians

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP) — The U.S. Air Force served notice on the Soviets today it will go on flying high altitude transports to West Berlin "if at any time a military requirement is established."

An Air Force spokesman made this statement shortly after a Soviet Embassy warning that complications would arise if the United States persisted in flying planes to West Berlin at altitudes above 10,000 feet.

The spokesman said that if at any time a military requirement is established for transporting cargo or military personnel in or out of West Berlin the high-altitude planes will be used.

"The most efficient altitude for carrying cargo over relatively short runs is between 20,000 and 30,000 feet, depending on winds and cargo," he added.

A guarded statement from the Soviet Embassy hinted that explosive incidents might erupt in the three air corridors used by Western planes into the isolated city unless there is a settlement of the dispute which became public Tuesday.

The U.S. State Department has declared that the United States will continue to fly planes into Berlin at whatever altitude it deems necessary.

The dispute came into the open when the United States and the Soviet Union traded protests over the flight of a U.S. Air Force transport into West Berlin last Friday.

Roddy Rites Tomorrow

Jack W. Roddy, former Fluvanna resident, died yesterday at El Paso from injuries suffered in an auto accident.

He died in Province Memorial Hospital in El Paso after being involved in an accident March 20 between El Paso and Las Cruces, N. M.

The body was returned here today by Bell Funeral Home.

Services at noon today had been set for 4 p.m. Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church.

Four Airmen Die In Tanker Crash

By EDDIE KOLENOVSKY

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP)—An Air Force tanker plane crashed on a small mountain near here during a thunderstorm last night, killing the crew of four.

The 4-engine jet KC135 was on a routine training flight from Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin.

The base listed the crewmen as:

Lt. Rodney [illegible]nderlitch, 25, San Antonio.

Maj. Jesse L[illegible] M[illegible], 41, Wichita Falls.

Lt. Philip Camilio de Bonis, 25, Newark, N.J.

Sgt. Herman Allison C[illegible], 35, Tampa, Fla.

An Air Force officer said indications were the plane "came apart" before it hit the impact area. He pointed out that two of the jet engines were only damaged when they hit the ground.

The officer said the pilot radioed only three minutes before the crash that everything was all right.

The craft crashed and exploded in a cedar-covered area. Wreckage was scattered over a half mile area. The largest piece of the plane intact was only four by 5 feet.

The site of the crash is the Pink Stone Ranch, 40 miles southwest of the Central Texas town of Belton.

Willard Parker, who lives across the road from the ranch, said he was awakened by a loud roar and saw a big orange colored explosion on the mountain.

Another witness, M. F. Moore, who was standing in the door of his home looking out at the storm, said he saw the plane plunge into the mountain with a large trail of fire trailing it.

Auction Ring Stock Selling Rapidly Here

Most of one group of stock was already sold in the proposed corporation to operate a livestock auction ring today as those planning the ring prepared for a Thursday night public meeting which is expected to complete the beginning organization.

Aubrey Headstream, manager of the Production Credit Association here, who is serving as contact man for the proposed auction ring, said this morning that eight of the 11 seats on the corporation's board of directors have been filled by sales of "A" stock.

By this morning the organization had a total of $41,700. Of that, $40,000 is for the eight seats on the board and $1,700 is for "B" stock. There is good prospect that the other three seats on the board will be sold before tomorrow night's meeting.

The proposed corporation would have the "A" stock, which will be in blocks of $5,000 for each seat on the board. Then there would be "B" stock for smaller investments by farmers and ranchers. Both those two groups of stocks would draw dividends from profits. A third kind of stock, "C" stock, would be for businessmen and would not draw dividends from profits, since the merchant's dividend would be in the trade drawn by the weekly livestock sale.

Headstream said "B" and "C" stock have not actually been solicited so far, but the $1,700 has already been invested in "B" stock, and there has been strong indication from many businessmen here that they will be among those buying "C" stock.

Stock sales may raise as much as $100,000, Headstream said, which should be adequate to finance the beginning of the auction ring. In preliminary planning, a special committee discussed the possibility of a 60 by 80-foot barn with lots. The barn would have a rock or brick front and would be heated and air conditioned. There would be a cafe in conjunction.

Headstream said there has been many suggestions both from "A" stockholders and those interested in "B" stock that the profits be "split down the middle," or that dividends from profits would go out to both "A" and "B" stockholders, rather than making the first percentage go to preferred stockholders.

That will be a topic of discussion at the meeting tomorrow night. A special committee which has been studying the proposed livestock auction ring proposal and which led in a previous public meeting called tomorrow night's meeting and is urging that all farmers, ranchers, and businessmen interested attend, and give their suggestions. The committee said that in the previous meeting many good ideas were brought up, and some may be used.

It is expected that after tomorrow night's meeting the organization will be on its own, working under the board of directors now being formed.

Tomorrow night will be the time for any suggestions. "This will belong to all of us, not just 11 stockholders," Headstream said, urging attendance at the meeting.

After tomorrow night's meeting the board is expected to solicit [illegible] and [illegible] stock in the corporation.

Western Foreign Ministers Preparing Package Proposal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western foreign ministers were reported today to be framing a package deal to propose to the Soviet Union for settlement of the Berlin crisis and the larger issues of German reunification.

The foreign policy makers of Britain, France and West Germany gathered at the State Department with Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

They were under pressure to make some basic German policy decisions by night, since they are scheduled to report to a meeting of the foreign ministers of NATO Thursday on their plans.

The talks, begun Tuesday, were resumed against a background of increasing tensions over Soviet control of traffic in Allied air corridors between West Germany and West Berlin.

The Soviet Embassy in East Berlin declared "complications" would result if the United States persisted in flying transport aircraft into Berlin at altitudes above 10,000 feet.

The U. S. Air Force in Germany said transports, which operate most efficiently between 20,000 and 30,000 feet, will be used on the Berlin flights as necessary in spite of Soviet warnings.

Three Soviet jet fighters buzzed a transport which first went to Berlin last week at 25,000 feet. The Soviets followed that incident with their demand for U. S. acceptance of the 10,000-foot ceiling. The State Department rejected this demand.

U. S. officials said that the principle involved was unhindered Western use of air, sea and land routes into Berlin. The Soviets have challenged the right of the Western powers even to continue their Berlin occupation roles and have threatened to turn over control of the access routes across East German territory to the German Communist regime.

It was this threat, raising the specter of a Red blockade of West Berlin, which triggered the Berlin crisis last winter and impelled the United States, Britain, France and West Germany to begin reviewing their over-all German policies in preparation for negotiation with the Soviet Union.

The Western foreign ministers intend to probe the Soviet willingness, if any, to negotiate at Geneva next month on German unification and European arms control measures.

They were reported to be pessimistic about the possibility of a favorable Soviet response, but were described as agreeing that the effort must be made.

Union Official Is Sought In Killing

BARBOURVILLE, Ky. (AP) — State police searched the strike-torn [illegible] coal fields today for a United Mine Workers official sought for questioning in the killing of a non-union mine operator.

The official was not identified but Public Safety Commissioner [illegible] Sturgill said "we feel he is the key to the solution of Woodrow Smith's death."

The 40-year-old operator was [illegible] while he and a companion headed for a [illegible] home after pickets [illegible] mine on [illegible] near here.

Smith's companion was unharmed but was taken into protective custody. He was not identified.

Smith was trying to avoid trouble, Sturgill said. Pickets had been harassing him for two days to sign a contract.

The UMW has been on strike in [illegible] since March 9 to back up demands for a $24.25 a day contract, a $2 increase over the old agreement.

[illegible] rocks were thrown [illegible] the coal to mines [illegible] a contract in the nearby Hazard area.

Miners who were among 500 pickets who tried to halt activity at the Ashland Oil Co. and at Jakes Fork Coal Co. State police broke up both demonstrations.

UMW officials charged [illegible] one woman was struck by a state trooper.

Approximately 70 to 100 pickets were present at Smith's mine prior to the shooting.

Sheriff Paul Stamper said that after Smith and his companion left the [illegible] they were accosted by five men with guns.

Learning Smith's identity, the sheriff said, the men yelled, "That's the man we want" and marched Smith away. Smith's body was discovered about an hour later.

Appellate Court Restores Railroad Commission Order

AUSTIN (AP) — The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals reversed today an oil case which it said would have brought confusion to the industry if the judgment of the lower court was permitted to stand.

The court held that the Railroad Commission's order denying American Trading and Production Corp.'s application to drill a test well in Midland County was valid.

American sued the commission to vacate an order denying their application for a permit to drill a well on a 160 acre tract in the Azalea (Strawn) Gas Field. The well was sought as an exception on the ground of legal confiscation only, to the commission's statewide density order and special field rules which prohibit the drilling of a gas well on less acreage than a 640 acre proration unit.

Murphy Baxter, Joseph O'Neill Jr. and Phillips Petroleum Co., owners of the offset leases, intervened in the case on the side of the commission.

Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts, in a nonjury hearing, set aside the commission's order and enjoined it from interfering with American's drilling.

Judge Robert Hughes, in writing the court's opinion, said the validity of the judgment depended on the existence of the 160 acre tract as a separate tract prior to the time the 640 acres tract was subdivided subsequent on the effective date of the density rule and such subdivision was illegal.

After tracing the history of the tract's ownership, the appellate court concluded that O'Neill was vested with the title to the leasehold interests covering the tract when he conveyed the leasehold interest of the tract to American.

American argued that the two cornering quarter sections were not continuous because they have but a single point in common, a point being an infinitesimal having neither length, breadth or depth.

The commission said it was the practice to consider cornering tracts to be contiguous within the meaning of the commission rules and that thousands of fields have similar rules.

"It would not be difficult to imagine the confusion which would result in the industry if we were to adopt American's theory," said Hughes in reversing the case.

Requests For Annulments Increasing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — City dwelling Roman Catholics are asking marriage annulments from the Vatican in increasing numbers and the reason probably is social pressure, a New York psychologist reported today.

The appeals for such separation come largely from urban areas where Catholics are in the minority, said Dr. Irene R. Kiernan, child guidance expert for the New York City Board of Education.

These Catholics, Dr. Kiernan said, are under pressure to accept the dominant culture of the community, which includes groups that accept divorce which the Catholic Church does not.

Dr. Kiernan, who is a Catholic, set forth the results of a survey in a paper for the American Orthopsychiatric Assn.

For the decade 1947 through 1956, Dr. Kiernan said, the Sacred Roman Rota, highest Church court, made 1,576 decisions on annulment appeals. The number of cases increased from 62 in 1947 to nulment appeals. The number of cases increased from 62 in 1947 to 246 in 1955 and 238 in 1956, she said.

As the number of applications increased, the percentage of decisions favoring annulment decreased. This, she added, may have been due to an attempt on the part of the church to discourage annulment.

Alcorn Mum On His Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn conferred with President Eisenhower today amid reports that he is about to resign from his party post.

Alcorn, who has headed the GOP National Committee since January 1957, met briefly with Eisenhower at the White House. His visit was not announced until after he had left, and newsmen had no opportunity to question him.

Early today Alcorn told a reporter he was not prepared to say anything at the moment.

The New York Times today quoted highly placed political sources as saying Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky) would most likely be Alcorn's successor. A Washington dispatch to the Times described Morton as a "middle ground Republican who claims neither the liberal nor conservative label."

Morton, 51, is in the third year of his six-year Senate term.

He served three terms in the House as a representative from Louisville, his home city, from 1947 to 1953. He retired from the House in that year and became assistant secretary of state for congressional relations. In that capacity he functioned as the State Department's contact man.

DAY OR DATE—Here is an outfit that can go from office to dancing date with the greatest of ease. Of white cotton broadcloth with black embroidery trim, it consists of a full-skirted dress with camisole top and a cover-up jacket.

COUNTRY GIRL—This charming sundress is made of old fashioned calico in a brown and white border print. The full skirt and trim waist line flatter the figure, and the border is used for vertical contrast.

Full-Skirted Dresses Designed For Flattery

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Girls will be girls this summer.

St. Louis designers, noted for keeping in touch with junior fashion tastes, are showing the kind of clothes that make girls look romantic, show off a trim waist line and take to a whirl of petticoats.

Fabrics run the full gamut from old fashioned muslin, voile, and calico to the newest miracle fabrics with drip-dry or wash and wear talents. There is a strong trend toward combinations of black and white in summer cottons; but all the popular vivid pastels also are present in quantity.

The summer crop of St. Louis fashions puts much emphasis on feminine details, such as dainty lingerie trimmings, embroidery and lace accents.

A favorite summer outfit for the younger set, as shown here, consists of full-skirted bare top dress and cover-up jacket to see a girl through practically any occasion from a morning shopping trip to an evening date. With the jacket, the costume is right for street or office wear; without the jacket you can go sunning or dancing with equal ease.

Sports wear highlights coordinated outfits of matching or contrasting shorts, skirts, shirts and jackets, often shown in a new crisp arnel sharkskin, which takes well to tailoring, resists soil and wrinkling, and is easy to wash.

There is considerable emphasis on sailing fashions this season, in line with the growing popularity of water sports. These outfits are trim and nautical, made of sturdy fabrics that hold their own in sun and salt water.

Tasty Treats

Wash raisins and spread out in flat pan. Cover, heat slowly in moderate oven until they puff and wrinkles come out. You will find this the easiest way ever to plump raisins.

Prune Coconut Bars

Ingredients: ½ cup butter, ½ cup light brown sugar (firmly packed), 1 cup sifted flour, 1-3 cup light brown sugar (firmly packed), 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons prune juice (water in which prunes were soaked), 2-3 cup chopped pitted soaked prunes, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, ¼ cup orange juice, 2-3 cup blanched almonds, 2 eggs, 1 can (3 ½-ounces) flaked coconut.

Method: Cream butter and ½ cup brown sugar; mix in flour until crumbly. Pat rich mixture into baking pan (9 by 9 by 1¾ inches) having it come up about 1 inch around edge. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 20 to 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Mix 1-3 cup brown sugar, cornstarch and salt; add prune juice, chopped prunes, orange rind and orange juice. Cook and stir constantly until thickened. Stir in almonds; spread over baked mixture. Beat eggs until thick; mix in coconut. Spread over prune mixture. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until coconut is lightly browned around edge.

UCCW Holds Meeting Monday

The United Council of Church Women held their regular meeting Monday morning at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. W. F. Gregg gave the devotional "The Width of the Cross."

Mrs. J. W. Leftwich introduced the speaker, the Rev. Donald M. Hungerford, vicar of the St. John's Episcopal Church, who gave a message on "The Life of St. John the Apostle." The Gospel of St. John, he said, is a theological gospel, where he accepts Christ and His purpose and then proclaims it for all to know and believe.

The business session was called to order by the president, Mrs. Robert Patterson. She read an article stating the deplorable treatment and lack laws to give the migrant worker who is a citizen of the U. S., and the state of Texas, a citien's rights. The council was urged to write our [illegible] representative to vote for Bill 51, which would keep the migrant ministry in the state budget and also study the laws which need to be enacted for his protection.

The host church served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Try Casual Hairdo, Not Careless

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

The only thing out of line with your tired of face may be your hairdo. If it gives a top-heavy look to your features — it may make you look bigger than you are.

"What you look like above the neck can influence the proportions below the neckline," says Eddie Senz, an authority on makeup. "Bulky, massive hair framing the face and gross exaggerations of your brows and mouth can destroy the necessary balance between the hair and face area, throwing the rest of the body out of proportion."

Many young people are achieving a careless rather than a casual look in coiffures, says Senz.

"A hairstyle with a free-flowing natural look is attractive and appealing if it is controlled — if its casual lines result from expert shaping and tapering, if the setting is planned to appear neatly controlled or casually natural when combed and brushed. The mass of hair is then reduced to the proper proportion for the head."

Many teen-agers do not realize how important it is to achieve this casual look through proper channels, says Senz. They are likely to try to offset the hair unruliness by emphasizing face makeup, heavy brows and an unnatural definition of the mouth.

"Makeup should be used as a corrective device to improve feature faults and as an accent to bring them into sharper focus. Both desirable effects can be achieved with delicate makeup — be glowing loveliness, not a painted look," he says.

One mistake some young people make is penciling their brows in hard, angular lines. This completely overshadows the eyes, which in a young girl should be played up. Another beauty boner is extending the mouth line beyond its natural outline, and with too intense lipstick, says Senz.

When it comes to [illegible], Senz usually prescribes [illegible] close to the head, look for young girls to elongate the shape of the face, particularly if it is chubby. Bangs may be worn but should be airy and flattering with [illegible] of the forehead showing, he says. This will help give [illegible] look instead of a round silhouette to the face.

OUR VIEW

Life Of A 'Character'

Weird characters have dotted society from the beginning, including goldfish swallowers, flagpole sitters, marathon dancers and their ilk in recent years, but reports indicate that the "beatniks" beat them all.

Beatniks supposedly consist of persons, usually within a well-defined age bracket although by no means limited to it, who are determined to become "characters."

They take pride in ignoring conventions, and they disavow inhibitions.

Saul Pett, the Associated Press writer, describes them as something of a unique generation in our times. One of the followers may have presented the best description of the Beatniks when he commented on his life in a "colony" in San Francisco.

"Here, there is no obligation to do anything or be anything," the beatnik said.

That may appear to be a picture of utopia. What could be better than a life with no obligations? Well, a life with obligations, mostly, and if history repeats itself the beatniks will learn about it.

Many of the beatniks profess active connection with the arts, but Pett was informed that less than two per cent of those who frequented the colony he visited produced anything creative.

What about the future? Chances are that the beatniks eventually will make a contribution to society. Many a former goldfish swallower may be found in the top echelons of business, industry and the professions today.

Many learn that it requires plenty of work to become a character.

Dulles' Absence Leaves A Vacuum

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The absence of John Foster Dulles, ill with cancer, has left a vacuum in Washington. At this time of trouble with the Soviet Union he could have been making the most use of his special technique.

That technique was to hold news conferences where he could do a number of jobs at once: Get across American viewpoints, state foreign policy positions, float trial balloons, answer the Soviets, try to put them on the defensive.

Secretary of State Dulles held more news conferences than any other member of President Eisenhower's Cabinet.

Undersecretary Christian A. Herter — the man who is taking Dulles' place—has not held a news conference since Dulles went to the hospital Feb. 9.

It is understandable that Herter should be reluctant to sound off. Although Dulles was in the hospital, Eisenhower consulted with him frequently and Herter could hardly try to run the show.

Eisenhower relied on Dulles in foreign affairs to an amazing degree and delegated to him enormous power and responsibility, particularly as a spokesman.

Eisenhower's news conferences were never the same as Dulles' if only because he lacked Dulles' detailed knowledge of events abroad. But he also lacked Dulles' training and skill in language.

Eisenhower, with Dulles no longer at his side in recent weeks, has asserted more leadership in foreign affairs than when Dulles was in there carrying the ball. The President has been increasingly forceful.

Anyone who ever attended a Dulles news conference could not but admit he was a master at using the precise phrase to get the exact effect he sought.

A great deal which could be said about the Berlin crisis is going unsaid because Dulles isn't there.

Herter has held no news conferences and Eisenhower's news conferences provide about all the administration is saying on Berlin.

The recent conference here between Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is a good example of how Dulles' presence on the scene is missed.

The British managed to pump out to correspondents—or to selected correspondents—the British viewpoint. The American viewpoint in the talks with Macmillan was much less publicized.

Dulles, if he had been around, would have taken care of that.

Ironically, it is possible the Soviets have agreed to a foreign ministers meeting on Berlin — preliminary to a summit meeting —because it seems unlikely Dulles could attend it.

Before the Soviets ever created the Berlin crisis they were calling on Eisenhower early in 1958 to meet them at the summit.

They had long correspondence with the President about it. But early in that letter-writing campaign the then Premier Bulganin made it plain the Soviets did not want a foreign ministers meeting with Dulles.

Bulganin didn't mention Dulles by name but even so he was almost insulting in the way he told Eisenhower that trying to do business with Dulles, from the Soviet viewpoint, was no good.

It was only in March — after Dulles' condition had been diagnosed as cancer and it seemed probable he would never return to his post — that the Soviets agreed to a foreign ministers meeting before holding a summit conference.

Cancer Seeds May Lurk For Years

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—The seeds of cancer may lurk in your body—an unwanted gift, planted perhaps as long as 100,000 years ago in the cells of an ancestor.

Only a few such seeds among the trillions of cells of your body could start deadly, uncontrolled cancer.

As these seeds—perhaps sleeping viruses—were passed on generation to generation, they may have awakened from time to time, bringing a sudden and unexpected cancer attack.

This is a theory expressed at this week's American Cancer Society seminar on cancer research and progress by Dr. Ludwik Gross, cancer unit chief of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Bronx, N.Y.

These sleeping viruses somehow hitchhike a ride through the centuries with the genes of the cell —getting passed along with inherited factors from one generation to the next, Dr. Gross suggested.

What awakens the deadly virus?

Radiation—the chance hit of an atomic ray — might provide the trigger. Or some chemical poison unrecognized as dangerous might do the trick.

Dr. Gross has succeeded in following inherited leukemia through only a few generations of mice.

But he feels the theory explains why cancer seems to strike so often within certain families.

Describing his work on mouse leukemia, Dr. Gross told of a mystery gland and the strange role it plays in cancer of the blood and blood producing areas of the body.

The mystery gland is the thymus. In humans this little gland in the chest seems to have no function after birth.

But in mice stricken with leukemia, removal of the thymus means survival. Some mice were intentionally infected with leukemia and then operated on for removal of the thymus. They never developed the disease.

It is possible that the thymus is the target of the leukemia-causing virus, Dr. Gross said. The thymus may be the nest where the virus multiplies.

Fiery Crash Kills Four

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Three Americans and an Italian bystander were killed Tuesday in the fiery crash of a twin-engine U.S. Navy transport plane which failed on take off with 21 aboard. Ten persons were injured.

The military version of the DC3, carrying 5 crewmen and 16 passengers, was taking off from Naples' Capodichino Airport for Malta when one engine quit.

The U.S. Embassy in Rome said all aboard the plane were U.S. naval personnel or dependents.

Horse Rescued From Railroad Trestle

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A saddle horse caught its hind legs in the ties of a railroad trestle Tuesday, but a freight train was stopped before it reached the bridge.

A motorist driving by under the bridge alerted the New York Central Railroad. The train was delayed 1½ hours, while 14 men used ropes and planks to free the horse.

Bette Phillips, 17, said she was riding over the bridge in suburban Perinton when an automobile frightened her horse and made it slip. She was not hurt. The horse was only bruised.

Carney Sidesteps Complicated Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Life can get awful complicated if you let it," said Art Carney. "But why let it?"

Carney now is riding a one-man success wave in television. But it has stirred a minimum of echoes in his home life.

When the studio lights die down after a performance, Carney heads for his 55-by-100-foot plot in suburban Yonkers, where he and his wife, Jean, and their three children live quietly.

"We have a nice family life and we want to keep it that way," said Art. "My wife and I live in the same kind of neighborhood we both were born in, and most of our close friends live in the neighborhood. Our life isn't all show business."

Carney is a friendly, easy-talking man off camera. But he has always shown a stubborn insistence in working toward his own goals. During a break in rehearsals for his show, he talked of his start in the business.

"I always was a loner," he said. "In high school I would have been frightened at the idea of joining a dramatic society. But I enjoyed working out my own act—tap dancing and impressions—which I did at school affairs."

Art spent some years as a novelty band singer and club entertainer before going into radio, determined to become an actor.

The war slowed him for a time. He went into the Army a private and came out a corporal.

A few days after entering European combat his leg was riddled by enemy shrapnel. The war also left him slightly deaf in his right ear.

"I still get $55 a month from the government for my bum leg," he said. "And I can still use it."

Carney has never had a real television show of his own, and says he isn't in any hurry for one. He has been signed to do eight special shows next season, ranging from revues to straight drama and children's programs.

"I prefer it that way, rather than doing a straight comedy series," Art said. "I like to do a little bit of everything."

Asked his personal philosophy, Art said:

"Once, while walking a country churchyard, I came across a gravestone that said: 'She lived not for herself but for others.'

"It has stuck in my mind ever since. It is so true. I don't know anyone who is unselfish, who is always thinking of others, who is personally unhappy. It is impossible."

UNEVEN RACE—Coming in for a landing at International Airport, Los Angeles this passenger plane scatters the rabbit wildlife that abounds on the field. An unofficial "live and let live" pact between International Airport and its wildlife has so far, protected hordes of rabbibts, but trouble looms in the sanctuary. Cause of complaints are the throngs of rabbits that are killed by the planes. Their bodies attract buzzards, which pose a real threat to the planes. Khrushchev Exploits Agriculture Interest

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Stubby Nikita Khrushchev planted himself in the middle of a field, surrounded by awed farmers and Communist functionaries. A brisk freeze fanned the tiny wisps of white hair on his nearly naked round dome.

"Here," exclaimed Khrushchev, pointing dramatically to the corn "is the complete sausage on the handle! Here is beefsteak, here is bacon! How will these plants look in a month and a half, when harvest comes? The cobs will be half yard long. Now you understand why I am so enthusiastic about corn!"

This was the new Khrushchev of recent vintage, Khrushchev the boss. He spoke about the pressing need for animal fodder. Who would dare remind him that his own experimenting in the past had gravely endangered the U.S.S.R.'s livestock population?

Khrushchev owed much of his career to his interest in agriculture and his knowledge of the farmer. Boss at last, he could talk confidently about his big ideas. It hadn't been so in the past. His first big idea about farming, in fact, almost cost him his head.

As a member of Stalin's inner Politburo and chief of the Ukraine, Khrushchev conceived the idea of revolutionizing collective farming.

In general charge of Soviet agriculture was Andrei Andreyevich Andreyev, old "Triple A," weak, inefficient, always tottering on the edge of disaster. For the aggressive Khrushchev, Andreyev was a pushover.

Farms, said Khrushchev, would be transformed into agricultural factories. Farmers would become farm industry workers. Small collectives would be merged on a vast scale into huge farm factories.

Khrushchev's real goal, inspired by Stalin, was to abolish all private plots, the kitchen gardens by which the peasants set great store. He would build instead communal agrogorods—farm cities.

He reckoned without the peasants. There was grumbling, resentment, even resistance. He pushed through thousands of amalgamations, but suddenly Stalin slapped him down and halted the program.

The coal miner from Kursk listened in brooding silence at the 20th Communist Congress in October 1952. Georgi Malenkov, Stalin's dour right hand, referred to Khrushchev as one of "our individual executive workers" who erred in trying to force farm consolidation.

"They tried," thundered Malenkov, "to bring about at a forced tempo the mass resettlement of villages in large collective settlements, to demolish old collective farm installations and homes of collective farmers, to create instead agrogorods."

But Khrushchev had bounce. Despite this awesome blast, he emerged from the 1952 congress a member of the expanded Presidium which supplanted the Politburo, and a member of an expanded party secretariat. He lost no time in nailing down his influence.

Malenkov would live to rue his words. Long after Stalin's death, Khrushchev would revert to 1952 and blame Malenkov for the sorry state of Soviet agriculture then. He would succeed in having Malenkov thrown out of the hierarchy.

To hear Khrushchev tell it, he had nothing to do with the whole business until he stepped in with the cure.

Shortly after the 1952 congress, the lives of all Politburo members were in grave danger. Stalin, to quote a diplomat of the day, had "reached for the bottle again." A new blood purge was in the making. Stalin's assistants fabricated a fantastic story about a plot of doctors, most of them Jewish, to poison Stalin and other leading figures.

Luckily for the Politburo—some say it was more than coincidence—Stalin died in March 1953.

At that moment, Khrushchev seemed only an also-ran in the power sweepstakes, scarcely noticed. But Stalin's body was not cold before the plotting began.

Malenkov took both Stalin jobs premier and first party secretary, in control of both party and government. Within two weeks, Khrushchev nudged Malenkov from the party job.

Those were nervous days. The new leadership, calling itself "collective," felt impelled to promise abundance to the long suffering public. It apparently felt the need of popular support, something unheard of in Stalin's day. The whole fantastic story of the doctor's plot was reversed. But not for three years did the Soviet public learn why.

At the 1956 congress, Khrushchev sobbed out the terrifying story. Not a man on the Politburo had been safe, he recalled, after the obscure Dr. Timashuk unfolded her fantastic tale of the plot.

"Let us recall the affair of the doctor plotters," said Khrushchev. "Actually there was no affair outside the declaration of the woman Doctor Timashuk who was influenced or ordered by someone—after all she was an unofficial collaborator of the organs of state security—to write Stalin a letter in which she declared that doctors were applying supposedly improper methods of medical treatment.

"Such a letter was enough for Stalin to reach the immediate conclusion that there were doctor plotters in the Soviet Union, said Khrushchev. Stalin personally called the investigating judge and gave him instructions, advising him which investigative methods should be used. These methods were simple: beat, beat and once again beat."

Nursing Home Is Receiving Patients

The new Snyder Nursing Home, which is occupying the building which formerly housed the Snyder Hospital, opened today and is receiving patients.

L. B. Swansberger, manager and one of the owners of the home, said he expected to begin today with four to five patients and will be taking patient applications. The home now has 50 beds and is capable of expanding to more than 100.

Beginning with a staff of six persons, the home will later add to its staff. Types of patients will include those who have had strokes, heart trouble, the aged, and any other type convalescent patients, including those who need care for broken bones. The home will serve Snyder and the surrounding area, providing general nursing care.

Swansberger said he is now in the process of moving the main office of the home to the room formerly used by the hospital as an emergency room. The main entrance will be on the east, however.

Also on the east will be a separate entrance to the offices of Dr. Wilton N. Jones and Dr. John W. Raines, who use the clinic portion of the building.

The beginning staff at the home includes Swansberger, manager, Edna Carraway and Julia Huffman, nurses aids; Zada Chapman, relief nurses aid; Mary Chauncey, cook; and Corene Isbell, maid.

Jack R. Propps of Oklahoma City, partner with Swansberger in the nursing home, will be here much of the time to help with operation of the home.

Both Swansberger and Propps operated nursing homes in Oklahoma, and Propps owns two such homes in that state now. Both have served as presidents of the Oklahoma Nursing Home Association.

Cancer Crusade Training Session Set

A special training session for women who will be workers in the house-to-house canvass of the 1959 Cancer Crusade here has been scheduled for 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The meeting will be held at the school administration building, according to Mrs. Frank Lefeuvre, chairman of the house-to-house canvass and president of the Parent-Teacher Association city council. The P-TAs will furnish workers for the canvass.

Jimmy Bennett, field representative for the American Cancer Society, will be at the meeting to help give workers instruction.

The Cancer Crusade officially opened here today and will last throughout April. Miss Ruby Butts is chairman of the crusade committee. Head of the advance gifts division and downtown area is H. A. Johnson, Jr.

Goal for the 1959 crusade here is $4,900. Of the funds, 25 per cent goes directly to nationally planned research projects, 15 per cent for production of exhibits, pamphlets, movies and other tools for professional and public education on cancer, and 60 per cent remains in the division where it is raised for program activities within the division.

Functioning locally on a year-round basis are the service committee, headed by Mrs. Norman Spencer, and the education committee, of which Buford Browning is chairman. Included in the service committee's work is the making of surgical dressings for cancer patients, prepared by a group headed by Mrs. Homer Ray.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS

THE CITY BASEBALL League which has operated here for several years is disbanding this season.

Moon Mullins, who has served as the league secretary almost since the league began, revealed today that the league has decided not to operate this season and would turn the park over to the kids fulltime.

In the past the City League and the Pony League have been sharing the diamond in the northwest corner of Towle Park.

The league has lost money the past couple of years and then, too, it has been a difficult task to line up sponsors.

Sun Oil, a charter member of the league had already decided not to field a team this season and this prompted the league's move to call it quits.

We still believe the city could organize an all-star team for week-end games. As far as we know the park here will still be available on Saturday's and Sundays.

A West Texas amateur league is currently in the organizational stage that includes towns in this area. A team from here, we feel sure, could get admitted to the league if interested.

Anyone interested in forming such a team for the West Texas League, we'll be happy to inquire about the possibility of gaining a berth in the league.

Teen Agers To Share Park

Snyder's two teen age Leagues, the Pony League and Graduate Pony League, will probably now share the northwest diamond in Towle Park.

The two teen leagues probably will share the park in one of two ways.

(1) Each league play one game per night Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, making it a doubleheader on each of these nights, or

(2) Each league play a double-header two nights a week, either Monday or Tuesday or Thursday or Friday.

This would amount to the same number of games for each league and for each team. The four teams in each league must each play two games per week and this could be done by either of the above two methods.

Orchids To Tigerettes

Congratulations are in order to the Snyder High School girls volleyball team who last night nailed down their second straight District 3-AAA title.

Local fans can honor these girls by turning out in large numbers for their next game here Friday night against Abilene. The Tigerettes have already finished their district schedule but have three more non-conference games on tap before the playoffs.

In addition to the Abilene game, the Tigerettes have a home-and-home series with Forsan.

Snyder Country Club pro Bob Henderson and perhaps other local linksmen are planning to take in the West Texas Pro-Amateur tournament tomorrow in Brownfield.

Anyone interested in going to Brownfield is asked to contact Henderson at the pro shop.

No Change Reported On Ted's Condition

BOSTON (AP) — Hospital bulletin No. 2 was awaited today on the condition of Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams — unwilling owner of baseball's celebrated pain in the neck.

The 40-year-old outfielder was protected from outsider while doctors attempted to determine the cause of his ailment at New England Baptist Hospital.

A 46-word bulletin in mid-day Tuesday gave out little information except that Williams had "a rather uncomfortable night" because of pains in the neck and right shoulder.

Orthopedic specialists conferred but there was no further announcement. The arrival of Dr. James L. Poppen back from vacation reportedly was awaited by other doctors.

X-rays at the hospital confirmed that Ted apparently has no broken or dislocated bones and evidently is not suffering from arthritis.

Roberts Whiffs 16 As Tigers Triumph, 7-0

The Tiger baseballers notched their second shutout in a row yesterday when southpaw Tim Roberts hurled a two-hitter to lead the Bengals to a 7-0 victory over the Monterey Plainsmen at Lubbock.

Roberts turned in perhaps his finest performance of his career yesterday in striking out 16 Monterey batsmen, including the first nine to face him. Roberts walked five.

The victory pulled the Tiger season record to 4-5. It was Roberts' second win against one loss.

In the preceding game Norman Gladson had blanked San Angelo, 3-0, also on a two-hitter.

The Tigers gave Roberts all the working margin he needed in the first inning when they erupted for four runs. Then the Black and Golders added a brace of runs in the second and a singleton in the third for all their scoring.

Monterey didn't get a runner aboard until the fifth. Rival pitcher Art Whitaker broke the spell by working Roberts for a walk on a 3-2 pitch.

Shortstop Jim Harris, leading off for the Plainsmen in the sixth, got the first hit off Roberts, a single to left. The other hit off the Tiger lefty was an infielder off the bat of Ronald Bandy in the seventh.

Monterey made only one serious scoring threat. Roberts issued three of his five free tickets in the fifth to load the bases with two away. Then he worked a 3-2 count on Arlan Flake before zipping a third strike across to kill the Monterey threat.

Spencer Dyer opened the game for the Tigers by drawing a walk and has moved to second when Johnny Drake was hit by a pitched ball. Kenny Drake then singled to left to send Dyer in with the first run. Terry Lee walked to load the bases and Mike Moffett also received a free ticket to force J. Drake in with the second run.

Jerry Fleming flew out to center with K. Drake scoring from third after the catch to make it 3-0. Catcher Ronnie Wylie got life on an error to again load the bases. Keith Moffett followed with a single to right to score Lee but a double play caused by a base-running blunder choked off further scoring.

Wylie rounded second and headed for third on K. Moffett's hit obviously thinking M. Moffett had scored on the hit but M. Moffett stopped at third. Wylie got in a run-down and was finally tagged out and in the meantime Moffett broke for the plate but was tagged out.

Roberts opened the Tiger second inning with a single and he later scored on another single by K. Drake. Kenny circled the bases on two errors. His single got past center fielder Billy Adams and Kenny had circled second and headed for third when the throw came in.

Second baseman Dennis Willett took the throw-in from Adams and in turn pegged the ball to third baseman Jack Hamilton but the throw was in the dirt and the ball got past Hamilton, allowing Drake to score easily. This boosted the Tiger lead to 6-0.

Mike Moffett set up the Tigers' final marker when he doubled to lead off in the third. Moffett proceeded to score when Whitaker made a bad throw to first on Wylie's infield tap.

The Tigers managed only one other hit off Whitaker after the third but the early onslaught was easily enough to emerge the victor.

After Roberts had fanned the first nine to face him, Harris broke the streak with a fly to center. But Tim came back to whiff the next two to make it 11 strikeouts out of 12 batsmen.

The Tigers will return to action Friday when they will entertain the Tony's Westerners at Towle Park, starting at 4 p.m.

Sammy Snead 5-1 Favorite In Masters

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sam Snead, budding star of television, was made the 5-1 betting favorite today to snare his fourth Masters golf championship.

Mainly on the strength of his phenomenal 13-match unbeaten streak in the nationally televised series, the West Virginia slugger drew top advance billing over Ken Venturi of San Francisco, 6-1, and a trio of past winners, defender Arnold Palmer, Cary Middlecoff and Ben Hogan, bracketed at 8-1.

Although open betting in this Dixie fairway extravaganza is strictly verboten, a bookmaker has printed a "line" which is flagrantly distributed in the hotel lobbies and around the course.

The 72-hole tournament — the 23rd edition of Bobby Jones' brainchild—opens Thursday on the lush Augusta National course where President Eisenhower's [illegible] hook is no stranger. There's a round a day through Sunday.

The advance odds may undergo some quick revision overnight in view of the redhot practice performances of 1956 champion Jack Burke Jr. of Houston, Tex., who has had successive rounds of 66 and 64.

Although it's strictly "shadow boxing," as Burke admits, these were two of the finest back-to-back rounds ever played over the monstrous 6,980-yard, par 72 course—for keeps or for fun.

In two days Jackie, who is listed as a 12-1 shot, has had 14 birdies, 22 pars and not a single bogey.

Snead, winner here in 1949, 1952 and 1954, is still riding the crest of his television winnings, which have amounted to $28,000.

Playing on tough courses, he met the game's top players and beat them all over a period of several months, ending last November. He averaged 67.2 strokes for 13 rounds, never went over 70 and had one 63—a record at Sea Island, Ga.

"Snead is playing better golf than he did 15 years ago," said Ray O'Brien, former PGA tournament director and now technical director for the TV series.

Snead's odds are 5-1 to win, 2-1 to place and even money to finish third. Venturi, the pick of the newsmen, is 6-1, 3-1 and 3-2.

Ninety golfers, including an array of past champions, are expected to tee off.

Tigerettes 3-AAA Volleyball Champs

The Snyder High School girls volleyball team, the Tigerettes, put the clincher on the District 3-AAA title last night with a 23-21 victory over Sweetwater at Sweetwater.

The victory enabled the Tigerettes to finish with a perfect district record of 6-0.

Sweetwater which could have tied the Tigerettes for the title by winning last night, finished second with a 4-2 record, both losses being administered by the Tigerettes.

Lamesa finished third with a 2-4 record and Colorado City wound up in the fourth spot with a 0-6 mark. Lake View, fifth school in 3-AAA, didn't participate in volleyball.

Last night's win gave the Tigerettes a season record of 13-10.

By winning the district crown the Tigerettes made it two straight district championships.

Last night's regulation game ended at 19-19 and the Tigerettes then won out in the three-minute overtime that followed.

Members of the Tigerette team last night were Joyce Skains, Nan Dunn, Blenda Stone, Helen Ivison, Kay Keller and Anna Lou Jones.

The Tigerettes will now advance to the regional tournament to be held in Odessa, April 23-24.

In a B game last night, Sweetwater won 28-21.

Roy Harris Fights Tonite

DALLAS (AP)—Roy Harris has his third fight since his failure against world's heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson when he meets light heavyweight Donnie Fleeman tonight.

The speedy young man from Cut and Shoot rated seventh, hopes to win decisively and show he's still one of the top boxers of the major class. He thinks this will help him in getting another title match if Patterson gets rid of two boxers he'll meet soon—Brian London and Ingemar Johansson.

Harris fought Fleeman, the Texas light heavyweight champion who ranks ninth nationally, last December and won by a mile although unable to deck him.

The fight tonight will be nationally televised (ABC) and will be for the Texas heavyweight championship, something Harris has held for several years.

The 12-round bout goes on at 10 p.m. EST. The scoring will be by the 10-point "must" system.

Vying in interest with the Harris-Fleeman fight will be the second appearance of Joey Giambra, who had an arm operation seven months ago. Giambra was highly ranked among the middleweights at the time he went into inactivity.

Tonight Giambra meets tough Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., a boy Joey has beaten twice before.

Conley Traded To Phils For Lopata, Two 'Bonus Babies'

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

In 1951, the Philadelphia Phillies gave Ted Kazanski $80,000 to sign a bonus contract.

Two years later Pittsburgh gave Johnny O'Brien a "five-figure" sum to join the Pirates.

Tuesday the Milwaukee Braves gave the Phils virtually nothing but a longshot for both infielders, plus power-hitting catcher Stan Lopata.

The longshot is long, 6-foot-8 Gene Conley, the basketball-playing pitcher who had 0-6 record for the National League champions last season. His earned run average was 4.88 in 26 innings. Since 1954 when he won 14 games as a rookie, the 28-year-old right-hander has been going downhill.

Going to Philadelphia with him were infielder - outfielder Harry Hanebrink and infielder Joe Koppe, neither of whom is a proven major leaguer. Hanebrink, 31, hit only .188 in 63 games with the Braves last season, and Koppe, 27, appeared in only 16 games, going 4-for-9 in his infrequent batting chances.

Both O'Brien and Kazanski, although weak hitters, have proven they can play a major league game at second base, where the Braves need help the most. Kazanski is 25, O'Brien 28, and the latter, a right-hander, can pitch a few innings in a pinch. Lopata, 31, hit 116 home runs in 11 years with the Phils and he is a strong replacement for Braves' No. 1 catch Del Crandall.

The trade followed a full day of exhibition games in which Philadelphia and Milwaukee both lost.

Jim O'Toole, Cincinnati's $50,000 bonus left-hander, tossed no-hit ball for four innings as the Reds stopped the Phils 5-0 on three hits.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who continue to pace the NL with an 11-7 exhibition mark, whipped the Braves 9-2. The Dodgers broke a four-game losing streak as Gene Snyder and Billy Harris allowed the Braves only seven hits.

Kansas City beat the New York Yanks for the third straight day, 4-2. The A's got to rookie John Gabler in the ninth.

Baltimore, atop the major league spring standings with a 12-6 mark, had to go 11 innings against Washington before winning 9-8 on a two-run single by Bob Nieman.

The Chicago Cubs lashed Boston 11-6 after Red Sox starter Tom Brewer blew a four-run first inning lead fashioned by Bill Benna's grand slam homer. The Cubs banged out 16 hits, including homers by John Goryl and Earl Averill.

Bob Friend gave up 15 hits but went the route for Pittsburgh as Don Hoak homered in the eighth to break a 4-4 tie.

Billy Pierce and Bob Shaw combined on a six-hitter for the Chicago White Sox in a 3-1 victory over St. Louis.

San Francisco, getting homers from Bob Schmidt and Orlando Cepeda, defeated Cleveland 7-5.

O'Brien Probable Fill-In For Red

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, seeking a second baseman to hold together their pennant winner, today looked to Johnny O'Brien to fill the gap left by ailing Red Schoendienst.

O'Brien was acquired by the Braves Tuesday night in a 3-for-3 swap with the Philadelphia Phillies, who apparently feel that their own second base problem is solved.

The Braves got O'Brien, hard-hitting catcher Stan Lopata and utility infielder Ted Kazanski for pitcher Gene Conley, infielder-outfielder Harry Hanebrink and long time minor league infielder Joe Koppe.

"O'Brien could figure strongly in our infield," said Manager Fred Haney of the Braves. After trying seven men at second this spring, Haney was wary about handing the job to the light-hitting O'Brien, but added: "He's a scrappy little hustler. I like his style of play very much."

The Braves, with the tubercular Schoendienst out for at least a year, have been rebuffed by contending clubs in an effort to land a second baseman on the open market, but the Phils, looking for pitching depth, decided Conley, now playing professional basketball for the Boston Celtics, is a good gamble. In making the trade, they firmly installed George (Sparky) Anderson, the rookie acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers in the off-season, at second base.

Kazanski has played second, third and short. The Braves said he would be assigned to Louisville in the American Assn.

Conley had an 0-6 record and a 4.88 ERA with the Braves last season but insisted he wasn't given a fair chance. He turned to pro basketball this winter and has been a holdout.

Both Koppe, 27, and Hanebrink, 31, have to prove themselves. Koppe played only 16 games with the Braves in '58, and Hanebrink, although appearing in 63, hit only .188.

Lopata could be a big man for Milwaukee. Although he slipped to nine homers last season, he has hit 116 in 11 years with the Phils and is excellent backstop insurance behind Del Crandall and Del Rice.

Celtics, Nats In Showdown

BOSTON (AP) — The Syracuse Nationals attempt to snap Boston's home-court hex and eliminate the Celtics tonight in a Garden showdown for the right to represent the Eastern division for the National Basketball Assn. championship.

All even after six games in their best-of-seven struggle, the Nationals face a monumental struggle to sweep past the Celtics and into the NBA finals against the Minneapolis Lakers, Western division conquerors of mighty St. Louis.

In the three previous games in Boston, the Celtics have clobbered the upset-minded Syracuse team by margins of 22, 22 and 21 points, respectively.

Key members of both teams nursed minor ailments, but all hands are expected to be ready for the vital engagement.

The Syracuse-Boston winner will average a best-of-seven finals at home against the Lakers Saturday afternoon, with the second game on Sunday. The third and fourth contests will be in Minneapolis-St. Paul on the nights of April 7 and 9.

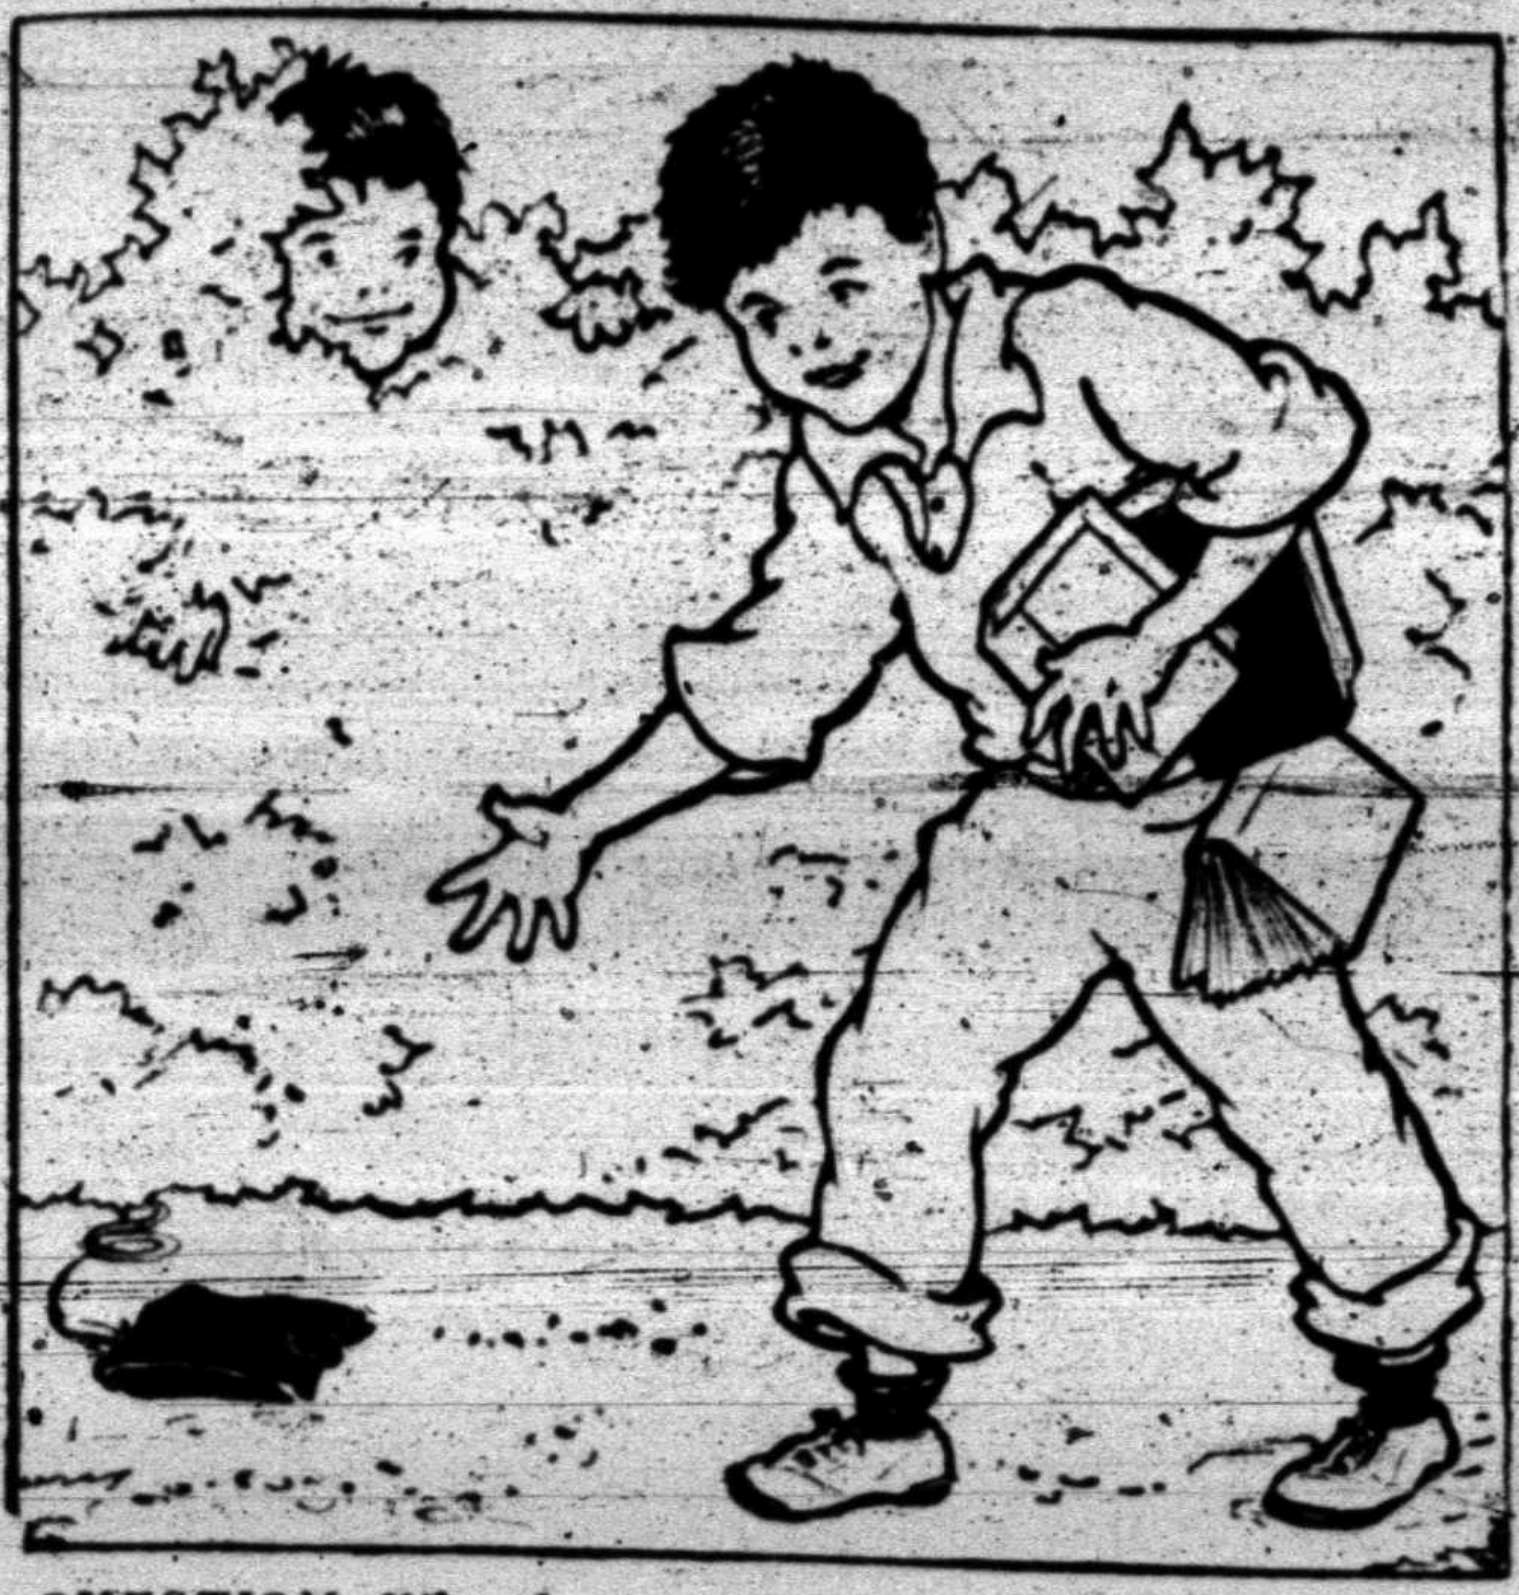
Junior Editors Quiz on CUSTOMS



QUESTION: Why do we celebrate April Fool's Day?

• • •

ANSWER: April 1 is a popular day with people who like to play practical jokes. Sugar bowls are filled with salt, candy with cotton and each occupation has its own joke. The custom of playing jokes on April 1, or of sending friends "on a fool's errand" is very old. In some way it apparently comes from the festivals held in ancient times at the beginning of spring — the all-important growing season. One legend associates it with the dove that Noah sent out from the Ark in search of land. Whatever the source, there is evidence the Romans played April Fool jokes. In England, however, the custom didn't come into general use until the 18th Century.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: The boy in our picture is about to bite on the old pocketbook joke. Can you think of a good joke that won't do anybody any harm?

Bigamist To Take No. 2

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Ernest Sears Jr. gave up his first wife, their two children and a new home in Florida for his second wife and a prison term of one to two years.

His lawyer said Tuesday that Sears wanted to "serve his time so he could be with the woman he loved."

Sears, 23, was convicted of bigamy last month. The charge later was reduced to attempting to commit a felony. Sentence was suspended on condition he return to his first wife and support her and their children.

His lawyer, Dan Garfinkle, said Sears went to Winn, Fla., and got a job and a new house.

"But last Thursday he kissed his first wife goodbye and came to Nasville to be with his second wife," Garfinkle said.

Panel Will Probe Gasoline Prices

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie named an investigating committee Tuesday to probe gasoline prices which range from 25-40 cents per gallon in Idaho.

The governor sent a telegram to 10 major oil companies saying he has learned that "some prices currently used in the trade violate the Idaho Unfair Sales Act and state antitrust statutes."

Smylie also asked the major oil companies to correct the situation.

Grand Jury Due To Complete Session

The Scurry County grand jury for the February-March term was expected to complete its session sometime today.

The grand jury, which was considering cases which had come up since its last meeting early in its term, met Monday but recessed until today, according to Wayland G. Holt, district attorney.

Students To Attend Forum In Austin

[illegible] students from Snyder High School will attend the Pan American Student Forum of Texas convention and contests in Austin Friday and Saturday.

The forum is an organization of high school and college students throughout Texas who are interested in developing ideals of Pan Americanism and better inter-American relations.

Sponsored by the Good Neighbor Commission of Texas. The organization encourages a respect for and better understanding of all nationalities in the Americas, based on a more thorough knowledge of all nations and their people in the Western Hemisphere.

At the convention, Lavada Holmes of Snyder will compete in the "interpretation of Spanish" contest, which includes vocabulary in words, sentences, paragraphs and expressions, both written and oral, as well as listening to stories in Spanish on tape and answering questions concerning the stories. The entire contest is in Spanish.

A second year Spanish student, Miss Holmes will compete with third and fourth year students, many of them Latin Americans.

Rosanne McCloskey will enter the piano solo contest, playing "Malaguena."

Competing in the vocal ensemble contest will be Brenda Pitts, Linda Mize, Lynda Gayle Miller, Paula Keaton, Kathy Crooks and Judy Wallace, with Miss McCloskey as accompanist. They will sing "Lady of Spain" and "Las Chiapanecas."

Voting delegates from the local Spanish Club to the convention will be Miss Mize and Miss McCloskey.

Accompanying the group as sponsor will be Mrs. Wendell Shiflett, high school Spanish teacher.

The PASF has representation in 183 high schools and junior highs in Texas, with a total membership of more than 6,000. With a Spanish language teacher sponsoring each chapter, members learn not only the language but also arts, culture, history, and socio-economic features of the Latin American republics.

The PASF grants four scholarships annually to two student members and one sponsor to study at an institution of his choice in Mexico. A fourth scholarship is granted to a student from South or Central America to study for one semester in Texas. Money for the scholarship fund is raised by individual clubs.

Main speaker for the convention will be David R. Taylor, sales manager for Pan American World Airways in Houston.

Board Will Meet Here

The board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association will hold a meeting in Snyder Saturday.

The luncheon meeting will be held at the Village Restaurant.

At the meeting, the board will make plans for the annual WTCCMA meeting, which will be held sometime in August. Definite date and place of the meeting has not been set. The WTCCMA has a membership of managers from 132 counties in West Texas.

A fishing party is planned for the board at Lake J. B. Thomas Saturday evening.

Charlie Young, manager of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, is president of the association. Grady Elder, chamber manager here, is secretary.

Pair Attending Session In Dallas

The Snyder schools will be represented by two men at the meeting of the National Mathematics Association in Dallas.

The meeting opened today. Already at the meeting is Clois Henry, assistant high school principal, who next year will be director of instruction for the school system.

Going Thursday evening will be Ollie Peek, high school math teacher. The meeting will last through Saturday.

At the meeting the association will have discussions on various techniques and new trends in teaching, new course offerings, curriculum work with gifted, average and slow-learning children, and other sessions.

At a banquet which climaxes the meeting, main speaker will be Dean L. D. Haskew of the University of Texas.
