War Move Well Timed But Trivial

BOLIVIAN-PARAGUAYAN ROW FAMILY AFFAIR

By CHARLES F. STEWART
One of the Journal's Washington Correspondents

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Warfare between the South American states of Bolivia and Paraguay would be about the same military proportions as a conflict between Bolivia and Paraguay.

Yet the two little South American republics surely did pick the psychological moment for dramatic effect, to get into their frontier row.

Acting Foreign Minister Palacio of Bolivia was embracing President-elect Hoover, on the Maryland's deck, off Antofagasta—Bolivia and Paraguayan soldiers were pot-shooting one another across the border—the Inter-American conference on arbitration and conciliation was opening in Washington—Dr. Elias Ayala, Paraguay's diplomatic representative, was scouting for safety out of Bolivian territory—they timed it so that all these stirring events were happening practically at the same time.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The Senate Foreign Relations committee today voted 14 to 2 to report the Kellogg multilateral peace treaty to the senate.

Wink Victim of Rum Ring Yet Missing

WINK, Tex., Dec. 18.—P. C. (Denver Blackie) Burcham, believed by officers to have been the victim of a "mob" whiskey running "ring," early today presumably still was wandering about this semi-arid, bleak country with starvation a dreary possibility.

Starvation is Drearly Possibility Seen for 'Denver Blackie'

Reports this morning said a dozen tired posses including more than a hundred men headed by Texas Rangers and Rio Grande border patrolmen, had not found Denver Blackie. The possemen believed he escaped death in an abandoned and dry tank, where he reportedly was bound by the liquor gang, only to stumble out into the surrounding little-settled near-desert. They are searching both sides of the Texas-New Mexico state line hereabouts.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The Senate Foreign Relations committee today voted 14 to 2 to report the Kellogg multilateral peace treaty to the senate.

The vote was taken on a poll of the committee by Chairman Borah after it was agreed to report the "interpretative" resolution of Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, to the Senate "without recommendation."

Senator Borah was undecided whether to report the treaty to the Senate late today or await another committee meeting tomorrow. An immediate report would put the treaty in place to be taken up ahead of the naval cruiser bill but with the pact now out of the committee room no stubborn fight is anticipated against giving the long standing cruiser measure the right of way.

Those voting for the treaty included Senators Borah, Johnson, Edge, Capper, Gillett, Reed of Pennsylvania, and Fess, of the republicans; Swanson, Pittman, Robinson, Walsh, Harrison, and George of the democrats, and Shipstead, farmer-labor.

Senators Reed, of Missouri and Bayard, of Delaware, both democrats voted against reporting the pact.

Senators Moses and McLean, republicans, voted "present" on the poll for reporting the treaty.

MANY ASK FOR PLAINS BOOK

DELUGE OF REQUESTS FOR LITERATURE ECHOES AD

A total of 144 inquiries and requests for the booklet "Farm Life on the South Plains," follow-up literature of the $12,000 advertising campaign of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce launched in four leading farm publications this month, had been received by the South Plains, Incorporated, yesterday when a check-up was made.

Due to the fact that the initial advertisement appeared in the Progressive Farmer, most of the inquiries received to date have been from various points in this state.

Requests for the information booklet began to come in yesterday from all parts of Oklahoma following the appearance of the advertisement in the Oklahoma Farmer Stockman.

The requests, however, were not restricted to these two states, and the latest mail brought inquiries from various sections of the nation including such states as Florida, Minnesota, and Indiana.

Copies of the follow-up booklet are being sent out immediately upon receipt of the requests.

WAR THREAT

small; against the latter because the Argentines' tempers are comparatively mild.

Her troops' system is to swoop into a disputed region and build a row of blockhouses. By the time they are caught at it, they generally are pretty well dug in.

The trick is easier than it may sound, for that part of South America is almost uninhabited except by wild Indians, who know nothing about frontiers.

Evidently, however, in the present instance, a Paraguayan border patrol appeared on the scene of one of these Bolivian advance movements inopportunistly and a fight ensued.

The danger is not that Bolivia and Paraguay are waging a campaign. They lack money—let alone numbers.

The peril is, if matters are allowed to drift, that some of the bigger republics will be drawn in—much as occurred in Europe in 1914. South America has the makings of a big war—about the meanest imaginable situation for the United States—a thousand times too large a mouthful for all the marines this side of the Rio Grande to masticate.

But the Inter-American conference on arbitration and conciliation referred to above as having just held a session in Washington. That sounds like a peace loving out. How about its good offices?

If you want a favorable report on the Inter-American conference on arbitration and conciliation, consult anybody but President Irigoyen of the Argentine Republic.

Along among the Latin-American states, Argentina was unrepresented at the conference here.

President Irigoyen rather noticeably omitted to send any delegates. Unofficially he has explained why. "He had one experience with the League of Nations, he says, and one was enough. He took Argentina into the league to see how it worked, and then he took it out."

Internationally, arbitration, according to Senator Irigoyen, is "the bunk"—or Spanish words to that effect.

Inasmuch as President-elect Hoover appears interested in South

This occurred. The Blue Punk told the officers, after the men originally owning the contraband had brought it safely through the Juarez Mexico, border patrol.

The authorities went yesterday to the tank described, found bits of rope, barbed wire, and bloody fish-line. They deduced Burcham had freed himself but had become lost in trying to make his way back to some town.

Then Sheriff "Pecos Bill" Priest got together big bosses of oil field workers "Tough Johnnie" Northcutt and "Rattlesnake Willie" Wright and were reported to be assisting in the searching along with Warren (Tombstone) Smith and "Del Rio" Earl Young of the border patrol.

America, South America seems to have decided to give him a run for his money.

So much has not been stirring on that side of the equator in years. Our president-elect will have shing worth while to tell about when he gets home from that tour.

Put Yourself In Another's Place
If You Doubt Your Course

The surest way of finding out whether you are doing right by others is to mentally put yourself in their place and think how you would feel. That must be my answer to the writer of the following letter.

It's a fine thing to do once in awhile, even if you have no special problem in connection to solve. Try to get a dispassionate view of yourself. Too much of that sort of thing is likely to make one introspective, but a little is very wholesome.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: Have been reading your column for a long time and I am in trouble with a married man. He loves me and I have been loving him and meeting him after work. I am 20 years old and he is 30. He said he did not love his wife and was going to meet me just the same so she would leave him. Am I doing right? My mother don't know it. Please tell me what to do."

"V. K. W."

The man is old enough to be your father. Isn't he, my dear? How would you like your father to be meeting some little snip of a girl secretly? Would you think him very nice, and would you enjoy the thought of your mother's feelings? Well, this man's wife and family probably would feel the same as you and your mother. If this man is so bent on having his wife leave him why doesn't he openly tell her he doesn't love her any more and does love some one else? Why does he need to meet you secretly? How is she going to know about it? Turn him down, my dear, and leave the married man alone. Get a boy friend who is not attached to anyone but you.

Doubtful: Let the boy friend visit with whom he likes, and say nothing about it. If you show you are jealous you will only drive him away. Just be jolly and sympathetic and interested when you see him and he will probably see you are his best pal.

Blue Eyes V: If your letter is serious and true you are preparing yourself for a very unhappy life, my dear. The married men are just amusing themselves with you. You are losing the opportunity of making girl friends, for they will not be chummy with a girl who is building that kind of a reputation; neither will young men who want a real girl pal. Why don't you throw up your job, go somewhere and get a job where you are not known and try to make real friends not the kind with whom you are now associating? Think it over. Also think of your mother. She, too, is going to suffer if you continue.

D. BEER BARON HAS BAD DAY

THREE SPIRITED LEGAL SOCKS TO THE JAW TAKEN BY SALTIS

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—Joe Saltis, Chicago beer baron, who played hide and seek with federal and state authorities for 208 days, finally surrendering Saturday, appeared in federal court yesterday in the role of a gentleman farmer from Minnesota and took three hard legal socks to the jaw as a result.

Calitis, wanted to serve 60 days for carrying a pistol, and wanted by the government in connection with charges that he violated the prohibition laws, appeared before Federal Judge Wilkerson intending to plead not guilty to the federal charge and ask for a continuance while he served the gun-toting sentence.

Instead, an assistant United States district attorney moved that a $5,000 bond on which Saltis had been at liberty and to save which he surrendered, be forfeited. So the judge entered judgment on the charge and asked for a continuance while he served the gun-toting sentence.

Next the government attorney suggested that Mr. Saltis should have a new term in jail for every day he had been absent on a charge of contempt of court. The judge granted the motion to cite him for contempt.

By this time Saltis' attorney managed to get in a word in behalf of the crest-fallen Joe. He suggested that bond be fixed. The government objected and Mr. Saltis was remanded to the custody of the United States marshal pending his next round with the law Wednesday when some of the subjects discussed yesterday will be considered further.

About that time he learned that Mrs. Mabel Reinecke, collector of internal revenue, had started an inquiry into his income tax returns after his boat which he is now a landed Minnesotan with cows and horses and a golf course on his farm.

REBELS ROUT ROYAL COUPLE

REVOLTING AFGANS IN MOVEMENT AGAINST 'WESTERN' KING

(By Associated Press) LONDON, Dec. 18.—The British government is keeping close watch on Afghanistan where King Amanullah and his progressive Queen Souriya were reported yesterday to have sought refuge in a Kabul fort from a rebellious army. It is not likely that the British will interfere because all reports of the trouble ascribe it to rebellion against the western reforms introduced by the king since his return from an European tour early this year.

Queen Souriya has sought abolition of the confinement of Purdah and of polygamy for her sex while her dictatorial consort has proscribed for his followers many departures from ancient customs and religious acts designed to bring them into conformity with the modern world.

The highly important strategic position that Afghanistan holds on the Indian frontier makes tranquility in that Central Asian country particularly desirable to the British. News from Moscow in connection with the rebellion is awaited with particular interest since the Bolsheviks from time to time have evinced strong interest in Afghanistan. It is recalled that King Amanullah included Moscow in his grand tour.

There is no tendency here to blame Moscow for the Kabul troubles—which have been simmering for some time, but British officials fear that Soviet agents may make the most of them to extend their influence in that section of Asia. However, the famous Khyber Pass is the last word in frontier defense with new forts and military roads and the British have little fear for the direct safety of their Indian interests.

WASTE IS USED

Stalks Of Grains May Some Day Bring Profit

Farmers may yet see the day when corn stalks and grain sorghum stalks, as well as wheat straw, and similar heretofore-looked-upon waste products, will have a ready market for cash, same as the grain.

The December 15 issue of The Prairie Farmer, in which the first advertisement of "The South Plains" appeared, was printed on paper made from corn stalks. This national farm publication, which is published at Chicago, remarked of the corn-stalk paper edition as being in fact a "From the farm back to the farm" movement.

The corn stalk pulp, out of which the paper was manufactured, was made by a Danville, Ill., company and made into paper by a manufacturing company at Kalamazoo, Mich., the entire process requiring only six hours of actual operation. Discovery of the use of corn stalks for paper was made by Dr. Bela Dornier, a Hungarian.

Kidnapers Of Boy Face Trial Today

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—Twelve men who have no scruples against inflicting the death penalty for kidnaping even though the ten-year-old victim suffered nothing worse than a black eye today were sworn in as the jury to try Angelo Pettit, Andrew Cappellano, and his 16-year-old son, Tony, for kidnaping little Billy Ranieri.

More than 300 men were examined before a dozen could be found who passed the state's qualifications regarding the death penalty.

Billy, son of Frank Ranieri, well-to-do contractor, was kidnaped last September and held prisoner for 13 days while the abductors tried to collect a ransom, set at first at $60,000 from the father.

The boy had identified the three on trial as his abductors.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croceote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

TECH HAS LAST BASKETBALL PRACTICE UNTILL AFTER HOLIDAYS

SQUAD WILL BE REDUCED AFTER XMAS

ONLY TWENTY MEMBERS TO BE LEFT ON TECH TEAM

With final examinations and other Yuletide pastimes facing them, the Tech cagers went through their final practice session of 1928 Monday night at the college gymnasium and will lay aside basketball togs until December 31, when Coach Vic Payne calls the candidates together to resume training for the strenuous season ahead.

The present squad of fifty cagers will be cut down to a maximum of twenty when training is resumed after the holidays. Coach Payne announced last night. This will enable the Matador mentor to concentrate upon a fewer number and round a machine into form for the games which follow.

With but three letter men around which to build a case team, Coach Payne is facing the problem of developing court stars from the host of sophomores on hand. In the ranks of the recruits, however, he will have a number of promising performers. Among these, Hodges, Puckett, Fisher, Vincent, Hardberger and Peterson have looked good in early practice.

Starting training on December 21, the Matadors will meet their first opposition of the new year on January 4 when the Wayland College Jackrabbits return for another contest. On the following night, the all-stars from the Spur Athletic club will meet the locals.

The twenty cagers who are asked to report for training after the holidays are: Forwards—Hodges, Coppage, Puckett, Dalton, Hunter, Taylor, Rainwater, Robinson and Peterson. Centers—Fisher, Wilkins, Tadlock, Fincher and Gee. Guards—Kerr, Vincent, Hardberger, Nix, Dewitt and Matheny.

Annual Sport Review-1928

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

1928 JANUARY 1928

Rogers Hornsby MacDonald Smith Tommy Loughran Clifford P. Hoffman

BY NORMAN E. BROWN Sports Writer for Central Press and The Journal

A close scrutiny of the sport happenings of 1928 does not leave the reviewer with a feeling of contentment.

The year witnessed among other things, the voluntary passing of the world's heavyweight champion from the active list; alarming inroads on America's supremacy in world track and field athletics; the failure of the U. S. athletes to retrieve last season's tennis, and a baseball season that was featured by lack of interest through the greater part of the campaigns of the major leagues at least, and which ended in an unsatisfactory series between the two big league entities.

There were really but two redeeming features of the year's activities—the success of America in tennis, and the general play in that sport, and the sensational surprises which featured the college football season.

And yet, a day by day review of the year reveals that, by and large, we had considerable sport, dished up for our edification and amusement, as they say in the showbusiness.

The first activity of general interest, for instance—the victory of MacDonald Smith in the Palos Verdes open golf tournament—proved to be of some significance as it turned out to be a warning that Smith was to prove a Wellington for the jolly golfers all through the winter season. Smith beat Harry Cooper when that intrepid youth took four puts on the thirteenth green.

And then followed—
N. 2—Stanford University's 7 to 6 victory over the Pittsburgh eleven, at Pasadena. Pitt scored the first touchdown and missed the point after touch-down. Hoffman's passing and line plunger brought Stanford a touchdown in the third quarter and the extra point after gave them the game.
N. 3—Gene Sarazen defended his Miami Beach open golf at the beach.

JAN. 4—Jack Britton, once master of the welterweights, was booted from the ring in the fifth round of what was declared a "no contest" with one Floyd Hybert at Cleveland, Ohio.
That same day the New York Yankees paid $4,000 for Lyn Lary and Jimmy Reese, rookie infielders of the Portland Pacific Coast League club, for delivery in 1929.

N. 6—Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champ, risked his title against Leo Lomski and, although dropped twice for the count of nine in the first round, won the decision on points in 15 rounds.

JAN. 7—The Army and Navy athletic officials broke off football relations terminating a discussion over the three-year varsity rule.

JAN. 8—MacDonald Smith won the $10,000 Los Angeles open golf title by defeating Harry Cooper by three strokes.

Bob Farrell, famous grid coach of Lafayette, Johns Hopkins, W. J. Pennsylvania and Navy, died following an operation.

JAN. 10—The baseball world was startled by the trading of Rogers Hornsby by the New York Giants to the Boston Braves of Catcher Frank Hogan and Outfielder Jimmy Welch.

JAN. 12—Jack Sharkey and Tom Heeney (later to meet Gene Tunney) fought 12 rounds to draw in New York.

JAN. 20—Jack Delaney, attempting a comeback in popularity, stopped Jack Humbeck, Belgian heavy, in Chicago, 125 to 114, in the pocket billiard match, and the always spectacular Willie Hoppe of New York, who beat the former champion, Otto Reisel of Philadelphia, 50 to 35.

sixth round at Boston.
Lew Tendler, old lightweight fighter, failed in comeback effort as welterweight when outpointed by Ace Hudkins, Nebraska wildcat, in New York bout.

JAN. 22—Larry Nabholz won El Paso open golf tourney, noosing out MacDonald Smith by one stroke, with a 12-foot putt on the eighteenth green.

JAN. 23—Paolino Uradun, Spanish heavy hope, knocked out Romero Rojas in the third round in Mexico City.

JAN. 31—Jack Dempsey announced that he has not quit the ring (Watch February's review for the kick back on this).

In Springfield, Ill., a bullet struck a cigaret lighter in a man's pocket and he was saved. It was inevitable that some day one of those things would prove to be of use.

YOUTH MAKES FINE SHOWING

CUBAN NOW FOREMOST CONTENDER AFTER NATIONAL TITLE

CHICAGO, Dec. 18—A twenty-year old Cuban youth named Jose Armando, fighting under the warlike nom de plume of Armando Santiago, today became the foremost contender of the world's junior lightweight championship as a result of his surprising two-round knockout victory over Joey Sangor, of Milwaukee, last night.

Sangor, hitherto regarded as the outstanding contender for the 130 pound title, was smashed to defeat in a spectacular battle that stunned the 10,000 spectators who filled the coliseum. The freckled-faced Milwaukee boy had accepted the match merely as a warm up for his championship encounter with Tod Morgan, of Seattle, the titleholder, in Milwaukee on New Year's day.

The upset of Sangor was the feature of the revival of boxing at the coliseum, which also witnessed the victory of Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, world's light heavyweight champion, scored over "Big Boy" Peterson of Minneapolis. Loughran, bidding for a fame as a heavyweight championship contender, decisively beat his heavier and taller opponent in ten rounds, spotting him 17 3-4 pounds in weight.

GOLF ROUND WILL START IN FAR WEST

CREAM OF TOURNAMENT PLAYERS ARE READY FOR FEATURE GO

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—Technicians of the ancient and honorable game who have been foregoing for many weeks in Southern California, tomorrow start a cycle of golfing that will not wane until the fairways of six courses in this section have been covered, and a treasury pot of $25,500 been divided.

The cream of the nation's tournament players has come to match strokes in a four weeks golfing duel that will be climaxed by the Los Angeles open with a purse of $10,000 for the pros, and a dazzling array of trophies for the amateurs. Such leaders of the clan as Walter Hagen, holder of the British open championship; Leo Diegel, National P. G. A. champion, and Tommy Armour will trade the fairways in company with stellar golfers from every section.

The trek gets under way with the qualifying round of a $2,500 open tournament on the sporty nine hole course of Santa Catalina Island, lying a score of miles off the California coast. More than one hundred professionals, and half as many amateurs have entered the island event. Two days of qualifying will cut the large entry list down to 100 players for the tournament proper, scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Among other notes of prosperity, the Department of Commerce reports that the supply of nuts is adequate this year.

What Terrible Saps!

There was a time not so many years ago, in what is sometimes referred to as the good old days, when almost all of the big baseball deals were made over the bar in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York. The winter meetings were then very heavy drinking sessions for baseball and to some extent the meetings that followed in the drier period were game attempts to live up to the old standard.

The baseball clans all gathered this year in Toronto for the most widely attended session the minor leagues ever have attended. The minors were all there and the major leagues had their representatives in full force. And Toronto had everything to provide the old amusements.

"But it wasn't a wet session," an American league magnate said on his return. "I didn't see a stew all the time I was there. We had our root in stockings with champagne, whisky and cordials. We had a party one night for a lot of baseball men and eight New York baseball writers. And you might not believe it, but all that whole bunch drank was a quart of whiskey and a bottle of gin."

When Babe Ruth was approaching a new contract with the New York Yankees two years ago the baseball writers were not a bit backward in suggesting that Col. Ruppert should pay the big fellow some very large dough. No dough is too much dough for the Babe because so much of it goes right into circulation.

It was suggested that the good colonel should pay the Babe at least $100,000 a year and the colonel certainly like to spend my money playfully remarked—"You fellows for me."

It has become a habit in baseball to spend the good colonel's dough for the reason, perhaps that he has so much it would take a squad to spend it. Every time a minor league club owner wants to inflate the value of his franchise or boost the price of a ball player he announces that he is about to do business with the Yankees.

In recent weeks it has been reported that Colonel Ruppert had bought the Syracuse, Nashville, San Antonio, Atlanta, Chambersburg and Asheville ball clubs and that they might organize a new league of eight clubs.

Knute Rockne told the Notre Dame boys that he would be forced to invent a new system for 1929 in which a new and deceptive style of offense would be stressed. And he said also that he was entirely to blame for the loss of the four games that were dropped this year by his Notre Dame team.

The Rock is just the kind of a fellow to say that about himself, but it is interesting to figure if he would have admitted his guilt if one of his subs on the bench had charged him with it.

Among the most valuable tips of the day to stock speculators is the advice furnished by Mr. Isaac Newton.

WALKER OFF FOR GAME ON WEST COAST

WILL START TRAINING THURSDAY WITH TEAM FROM THE WEST

Tech's representative in the East-West football classic in San Francisco on Dec. 29, Ransome Walker, left by automobile Monday afternoon for the scene of the big charity contest, in company with Mr. and Mrs. John Dalrymple of this city. The Matador backfield ace expects to arrive on the west coast in time to begin training with the West forces on Thursday.

Coach Buck Bailey, former teammate of Victor Payne at Bethany College in West Virginia, is directing the Western team. A message from him last week notified Walker of his selection.

With the announcement that Beavers, Arkansas fullback and all-Southwestern conference star, would play in the charity game in Dallas on New Year's day instead of the East-West game, only three grid-ders of the southwest are left on the West roster. These are in addition to Walker, Petty of A. and M. and Cowan of Sull Ross.

The performance of Walker against the leading stars of the Eastern firmament will be closely watched by fans of this section.

PEDAGOGUES GET BACK LAST SEASON FORM TO WIN, 21-11

In a battle of brawn and floor strategy, the Teachers' quintet of the City League, trampled the National Guard aggregation under foot last night at the high school gymnasium and emerged from the hard fought contest with the long end of a 21 to 11 score. Beginning their old form after a defeat at the hands of the Business College five last week, the Pedagogues again loomed as dangerous contenders for the crown in the city loop.

Trying the basket from all angles, the Teacher forwards followed up their shots and on almost every attempt were given an extra throw at the goal. Penetrating the defense of the Soldiers with rifle-like passes and a deceptive pivot, the Pedagogues were able to get in close scoring quarters almost at will. Their defensive game held the Army forwards helpless except at times.

With but five men in the house to carry on the game, the Teachers brewed their necks and went at the Sam's forces with a determination that would not be denied. The game was a fast and furious affair from the first to the last whistle and the last quarter found the cagers fighting savagely for the advantage. George Brown, star center on the Teacher five, went out on fouls in the final minutes of play and the winners finished the game with four men.

Liston, Morgan and Brown led the Teachers' attack while for the Army, Crites, Hale and Allen were outstanding. With five field goals, Liston led in scoring and Brown came next with eight points.

The box score:

Teachers	P.O.	F.T.	Pts.
Liston, f	5	0	10
Morgan, f	0	1	2
Brown, c	4	0	8
Barnett, g	1	0	2
Perryman, g	0	0	0
Totals	10	1	21

Army	P.O.	F.T.	Pts.
Adkinson, f	0	3	3

Crites, c	2	0	4
Allen, g	0	1	2

Montgomery Ward girls downed the Myrick Building girls in the opening contest of the evening by a score of 22 to 14. Led by Sally Simmons, the Montgomery Ward five took the lead at the outset and increased their lead as the game wore on.

Simmons led in scoring with 13 points and her team-mate came next with nine. Ashmore of the Myrick team also scored nine points to lead the losers.

LEWIS WALKS OUT OF BOXING RING

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 18 (AP)—Ted (Kid) Lewis, former welter-weight champion, walked out of the ring in the first round of his 10 round bout with Charley Delanger, Canadian light heavyweight champion, here last night.

The men had hardly squared off when Referee Lou Marsh ordered Lewis to remove a rubber mouth-piece. After some dispute the Briton obeyed. Then Marsh warned Lewis for holding. The veteran of 250 or more ring encounters paid little or no attention and when Marsh broke up several clinches by main strength, Lewis held up his hands, hopped through the ropes and stalked away to his dressing room. Delanger was awarded the decision and the boxing commission announced Lewis' end of the purse would be turned over to charity.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"These wagons, scooters, cars and bikes are things that every youngster likes," said Scouty. "I am glad that we have helped to fix them right. Just think of all the fun ahead for tots who jump right out of bed, and run down to their Christmas tree to find these things in sight."

Then Clowny said, "I guess it's true. I think that I would like one too. Perhaps, if I ask Santa he will give me one for keeps. And, if he does I know that I'll make all you other Tinites smile. My, snucks he'd never miss one, 'cause he has just heaps and heaps."

Then Scouty broke right in and said, "Now don't be silly. Use your head. Just leave it all to him, and do not beg a single thing. I really think the proper way is just to wait till Christmas day. Perhaps we'll all be tickled with the present it will bring."

"Ah, that is absolutely right," mumbled Santa as he came in sight. You all must stop your worrying, 'cause I'll take care of you. If you're as good as you can be, a pack of lovely things you'll see. Remember, it depends on how you act, and what you do."

And just he started off once more. "We're going to make some candy canes," said Santa, with a grin. "We'll let fat Clowny be the cook. The rest of you can start to look for lines on which to hang them, and for bags to put them in." The spud very cheerily boiled and did not a bit of candy spoiled. Brave Clowny stood and stirred it and he did the job up fine. Soon Carpy packed some canes away where up till Christmas they would stay. Then Copy did his share by hanging several on a line.

Seek Boost For Production Limit

AUSTIN, Dec. 18 (AP)—Application of oil operators in the Winkler county field to increase the field's production limit from 150,000 to 175,000 barrels daily, was taken under advisement by the State Railroad Commission today after a brief hearing.

The present restriction, with production prorated among the producers, was prescribed as a conservation measure. F. G. Lydecker of the Atlantic Oil Company declared that "pinching" of production, if continued, might "kill" several wells. The gas lift is on a decrease, he said, and the field is going down. Other testimony was cumulative of his in its essentials.

HOOVER TURNS ON FAR CORNER

BOARDS SHIP FOR TRIP TO RIO DE JANEIRO FROM URUGUAY

(By Associated Press) MONTEVIDEO, Dec. 18.—Turning the far corner of his Latin-American trip, Herbert Hoover today boarded the U. S. S. Utah enroute for Rio Janeiro where he will spend three days before beginning his long homeward voyage. Mr. Hoover has prepared an extensive program for the president-elect as a farewell to the good will tour which has carried him more than 10,000 miles for the establishment of more cordial relations. Concluding his visit to Uruguay, Mr. Hoover carried from this republic deep impressions of its desire to contribute to the peace of the Americas. He gave expression to these impressions in an exchange of speeches with President Compigny at a farewell banquet which was attended by a distinguished company of Uruguayan and North Americans. Mr. Hoover said that Uruguay demonstrated that the moral weight of nations is not based on size or numbers, but upon the spirit and character of a people. Uruguay is thus an example of the profound political truth that national greatness springs from the heights and depths of the national soul. After leaving Rio Janeiro on Christmas Eve, Mr. Hoover will resume his future itinerary. Apparently he has decided to eliminate some West Indian stops which were originally planned and possibly Havana will be excluded from the return voyage. Mr. Hoover is believed to be anxious to get to Florida for conference with party leaders on the makeup of his cabinet.

SPUR DECISION WILL BE GIVEN

RULING TO BE HANDED DOWN BY FEDERAL COURT JUDGE

Decision in the injunction suit of the West Texas Utilities company against the city of Spur will be delivered at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning by Federal District Judge James C. Wilson in the Lubbock division of the federal court for the northern district of Texas, he announced shortly after noon today. Judge Wilson opened court at 10 o'clock this morning and then adjourned until tomorrow. In addition to the Utility-Spur case ruling, rulings will be made in the bankruptcy cases up for review before the court. With the return of these decisions the business of the initial session of the federal court in West Texas concluded, and Judge Wilson and Deputy Marshal Doug Campbell, the only of the federal court attaches still here, will return to their homes at Fort Worth. Ruling in the injunction suit will mark the end of a prolonged litigation between the West Texas Utilities company and the city of Spur as an outgrowth to a light and power war in that city.

Four Prisoners Break From Jail

WOODVILLE, Tex., Dec. 18 (AP)—Four prisoners, one convicted of murder, another awaiting trial for murder and two convicted of robbery with firearms, are at large, having saved their way out of the county jail here. John Jackson, who escaped from the Louisiana state penitentiary several years ago was among those who made his get-away here. Jackson was waiting trial on charges of having killed two peace officers when they went to his house to arrest him for Louisiana authorities. Carl and Austin Watkins, sentenced to five year terms for robbery and Jesse Adams, convicted of the murder of Tom Allen are the other fugitives.

BOOZE WAR

(Continued From Page 1) I was really scared, because I knew I had to drink it, and don't drink. But finally I downed it. "I thought the stuff would set me on fire, and I drank the glass of water that was served mighty quick. I said 'see you again' as naturally as I could, and got outside." Meanwhile the far-reaching effects of Mrs. Wilson's startling gesture upon the saloon where she asserted liquor had been served her husband and daughter continued to be felt. County grand jury investigation of the liquor situation here got under way yesterday but was halted suddenly before nightfall when Prosecutor James R. Page began an investigation of reported intimidation of witnesses.

BOLIVIA

(Continued From Page One) preparations were in evidence everywhere today. Paraguayans have rushed to arms by the thousands and many of them were already on their way to the northern border today. It was announced officially that 50,000 had volunteered and of these, 30,000 were accepted and incorporated into the army as officers and soldiers. Announcement was made that a group of men, described as deserters from the Bolivian army, had been captured in Lambare, near Asuncion. They were being held incommunicado by the police there. Three Shiploads Leave Three steamers carrying numerous forces combining both units of the regular army, civilian volunteers and officers belonging to the military reserve, left for an unnamed destination in the north. Many of those who sailed had enlisted at the armories not more than 24 hours previously. Great crowds stood in line in front of the war office and the military academy awaiting their turn to be enrolled. Most of the men in line were accompanied by their mothers, wives or sweethearts universally maintaining a brave calm. Several military officers who were killed after a revolt some years ago returned to the capital today ready to serve in event of hostilities against Bolivia. Automobiles and trucks rolled rapidly through the streets carrying volunteers to concentration quarters. The minister of war ordered that all arms in the possession of civilians be immediately turned over to the government. A sanitary service has been organized.
