DALLAS ADOPTS MANAGER PLAN

City Charter Amendments Get Big Vote

DALLAS, Oct. 10. (AP)—First returns tonight from an election on 39 city charter amendments which propose the council-city-manager form of government for Dallas, effective May 1, indicated that all of the proposals had carried by majorities of approximately two to one.

DALLAS, Oct. 10. (AP)—After several weeks of more or less apathetic agitation, the question as to whether Dallas would adopt the city-manager form of municipal government was passed on by the electorate today.

Thirty-nine amendments to the city charter, which now provides for a mayor and four commissioners, were on the ballot. They were drawn up by the Citizens Charter association, which worked for the new form of government.

Mayor J. Waddy Tate, who was given the soubriquet of "the hot dog mayor" because of his propensity for serving hot dogs at his political rallies, was the center of opposition to the proposed change. He is serving his first term.

The polls opened at 8 a. m. and closed at 7 p. m. Voting was reported early as about 50 per cent of normal. A state law prohibited giving out the trend.

Judges reported few ballots were split, despite the fact the large number of amendments offered many issues on which to pass. Prior to the election, the size of the ballot was considered by some to be inimical to the proposed new governmental form.

The daily newspapers and most civic organizations supported the amendments.

ELECTRA TO DEDICATE NEW FIELD TODAY

Civic Leaders to Join In Ceremony Opening Steel Stands

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

Coyotes and Tigers Ready For Annual Battle On Gridiron

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

The Wichita Falls Coyotes journey to Electra today to assist the Electra school board, the Electra Chamber of Commerce, and the city's Rotary and Lions clubs in the dedication of its new stadium, a steel construction with a capacity of 3,000 people.

Incidentally, the Electra Tigers also will be on hand.

It will be after the speechmaking of the various school and club officials in the dedicatory ceremony that the Coyotes and Tigers will stage their little party.

Gala Occasion for Electra

This little party, featuring the football clash of two of the strongest teams in this vicinity, has resolved into an annual classic, and a record attendance at the game is expected. Electra is doing its share to bolster attendance, a move having been on foot this week to persuaded employers to be lenient and allow a certain per cent of their employes to attend the game. It will be a gala occasion for Electra and for Wichita Falls fans as well.

Wichita Falls will send its quota of several hundred people, including students of the Wichita Falls High school, and interested fans from the ranks of the grownups.

The Tigers, coached by Harvey Stanford, E. M. Tampke, and Wilbur Presson, will seek to maintain their unstained record of last year. In the 1929 classic at Wichita Falls, the fighting little Electra bunch scored two points on a safety after blocking an attempted Coyote punt, and battled the Pack to a standstill the remainder of the game to cinch the victory. Over-confidence on the part of the Coyotes was hinted as one of the main reasons for the Wichita Falls defeat. Whatever the cause, the Electrans won, and their annual game with the Coyotes is about all that matters to them—and to the Wichitans as well. So the Tigers can look back at last year and claim an "unstained" record, having whipped the Pack, even if they were mauled by other opponents.

The Coyotes, on the other hand, don't even know how to spell the words "over-confidence" this year, and when they lope around the field enclosed in Electra's new stadium Saturday, they will have started in quest of sweet revenge.

Tigers "Inspired"

The Electrans have taken cognizance of the fact that the Coyotes battled the Lubbock Westerners hard last Saturday, and they are expecting a tough bunch in the Wichita Falls team. The Coyotes, on the other hand, know they will be playing an "inspired" team when they run up against the Tigers, and consequently they, too, expect a modicum, or more, of bone-crunching.

Both expectations will be more than realized, judging from the amount of practice both teams have put in in preparation for the tussle, and judging, also, from the expres-

Forced Down In Scilly Islands, Atlantic Fliers To Complete Hop Today

CROYDEN, England, Oct. 10. (AP)—More than 150 miles off their course, Capt. J. Errol Boyd and Lieut. Harry P. Connor safely brought down the veteran transatlantic monoplane Columbia soon after 5 p. m. (noon eastern standard time) today in the Scilly isles, ending a flight of a little more than 24 hours from Newfoundland.

It was the veteran Columbia's second transatlantic hop.

The airmen telegraphed to London from Tresco, one of the island group off Land's End, tip of Southwestern England, that they hoped to get away early tomorrow for Croydon airdrome, their destination.

Land on Beach

Their message, sent to Charles A. Levine, who flew the Atlantic with Clarence E. Chamberlain in the Columbia in 1927, stated that the monoplane was undamaged. They landed on a beach on the little island. Both were well.

Word of the Columbia's landing reached officials at the airdrome here from the coast guard station on St. Mary's island, close to Resco. This message said motor trouble had forced the monoplane down, less than 300 miles short of its goal.

Another report, received at Penzance, Cornwall, however, said that a damaged gasoline tank had cut short the flight.

The solitary telegraph line to Tresco from London shut down at the regular hour this evening, but was reopened later to let a few messages through for the aviators.

Friends Relieved

Before confirmation of the fact that the Columbia had come down was received, the last previous report had showed her in the Atlantic shipping lane about 200 miles off Land's End. Boyd and Connor were not sighted anywhere in Ireland, though civic guards had been told to keep on the watch for them.

Apparently their course took them well to the south of the Free State.

Information that the sturdy monoplane's second crossing was at an end was received with relief by a small crowd that had gathered at Croydon airdrome to welcome the aviators after their dangerous journey.

Among those at the field were Charles A. Levine, the boxer Dave Shade, who came over from Paris by airplane to greet the aviators, and members of the American and Canadian colonies in London.

Misses Course

Lieutenant Connor, reputed to be an excellent navigator, failed to hit "the nail on the head" as he did on the Columbia's flight from New York to Bermuda some months ago. He was more than 150 miles off the course from Newfoundland to Croy-

SUIT CHARGES DOHENY PLOT

Sensational Allegations Made in Petition

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10. (AP)—Sensational allegations of a plot between Edward L. Doheny, multi-millionaire oil operator and the Richfield Oil company, a major gasoline producer of the Pacific coast, to defraud certain stockholders of the Pan-American Western Petroleum company were made today by John C. Blythe of St. Louis, in filing suit in federal court demanding an accounting.

Blythe charged Doheny, anticipating a victory for the government in an oil lease canceling suit affecting the Pan-American company and under consideration in the federal court here, sold a controlling interest in the company to Richfield for "a wholly inadequate and unconscionable sum."

Made co-defendants with Doheny and the Richfield company in the suit are the Petroleum Securities company, the Pan-American Western Petroleum company, J. C. Anderson, Fred Ritter, C. W. Smith and R. M. Sands.

Blythe, who represents himself as appearing for all class B stockholders in Pan-American, charged Doheny sold the controlling interest in an "effort to get out from under."

WILDCAT FINDS BIG PRODUCTION NEAR GRAHAM

T. B. Slick's No. 1 Jeffery Strikes Same 'Pay' As Nash Gusher

ESTIMATED AT 2,000

First Hour's Gauge Shows 100 Barrels Placed In Storage

The uncovering of another deep producing area in the territory about three miles north of Graham in south Young county is assured by the showing in the T. B. Slick No. 1 Jeffery in the D. Brown survey, abstract 16.

The well, an absolute wildcat, about 10 days ago encountered the pay at a depth of 3890 feet and when drilled five feet filled 2000 feet of fluid in the hole. Casing was set and cemented. Thursday the plug was drilled and from reports in the field the well is estimated anywhere from 1,000 to 2,000 barrels. According to reports in the first hour after drilling in it flowed 100 barrels.

The new producer is also located about three miles north of the Nash & Windfohr No. 1 McCloud that blew in last summer breaking all North Texas records by reaching a peak of 25,000 barrels per day.

The well is apparently producing from the same formation found by Nash & Windfohr in their "wonder wells" on the McCloud lease near Graham.

It was immediately after Nash & Windfohr brought in their huge producer that the late Tom B. Slick visited the Graham field in person and bought "everything in sight." It was said the "king of the wildcatters," as the famous operator was known, spent at least a half million dollars for leases around the gusher. The No. 1 Jeffery is the first well drilled by the Slick interests on these holdings to show sizeable production.

Mr. Slick died in a Baltimore hospital several weeks ago.

West Texas Jurist Adopts Policy Calculated to Cut Down Divorces

COLEMAN, Texas, Oct. 10. (UP)—Marriage and the home, the basis of orderly society and organized government, are losing sanctity at an alarming rate in Texas, District Judge E. J. Miller said here today in taking a stand to eliminate easy divorces in his district.

"The very spirit and purpose of marriage has been forgotten in this day of easy divorce," Judge Miller said. "Instead of entering this relation with a view to making it a permanent state, and granting all reasonable concessions, it is becoming, too often, a temporary or trial affair."

Divorces in Texas has increased from 8,504 in 1916, to 18,073 in 1929, Judge Miller said. With due allowance for the increase in population, the gain is more than 100 per cent, he pointed out.

He announced that henceforth he will grant no divorce on grounds of "cruel treatment" unless the parties concerned have been separated 12 months or can show good cause for earlier action.

In announcing a set of stricter rules on divorce, the judge said he hoped to end the practice of running into courts with trivial, imaginary and exaggerated charges and the granting of divorces wholly upon the testimony of the complaining party.

'Jiggs' Perry, Itinerant Lovemaker And Accused Slayer, Escapes Again

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 10. (AP)—Police who had heard they were close to the elusive George "Jiggs" Perry, sought by Wisconsin authorities as the slayer of one woman and as the bigamous swain of several other living ones announced tonight that Perry apparently had fled elsewhere.

Chief of Police M. G. Goodwin said a search of trains, buses and places where Perry was known when he was here in recent months had failed and that the bigamist and alleged wife-slayer apparently had heard of the search here.

Goodwin said Miss Dorothy Davis 21, Blytheville widow's daughter who knew Perry here, received a letter in which Perry promised to visit her today. Mrs. Clyde Davis the girl's mother, said she knew nothing of the letter and understood Perry had gone to Chicago from St. Louis, where police hunted and failed to find him yesterday.

automobile identified as hers in a garage there.

Authorities believe Perry fled to Blytheville from St. Louis where he took his fourth bride last Monday. A letter found in his abandoned luggage at St. Louis indicates, police said, that Perry had been friendly with a Blytheville woman.

Bride No. 3, Mrs. Hackett, was found slain on the Lac du Flambeau Indian reservation in northern Wisconsin, Oct. 4. Late in June, Mrs. Hackett and Perry were married in Chicago and journeyed to northern Wisconsin for their honeymoon in Mrs. Hackett's car. Perry checked out of a hotel at Eagle River, Wis., July 6. A short time later he appeared at Cleveland, Ohio, where he visited briefly with bride No. 2, who was Kathryn Gebhardt. She married Perry last January.

Perry's first wife, whom he married here in 1912, told police he abandoned her 14 months ago, shortly after their third child was born.

In each of his bigamous marriages Perry has represented himself as being the son of wealthy parents, but in financial difficulties because escapades which his parents disapproved. In each instance, however, he was said to have declared that marriage would bring forgiveness and financial independence.

Perry left a St. Louis hotel Wednesday night after his picture had been published in newspapers as the man wanted in Wisconsin. When police searched the luggage which he left behind they found a note from Miss Dorothy Davis of Blytheville.

The Blytheville lead was followed up when Mrs. Dorothy Hagerty, a widow who said he became engaged to her, informed police he had told her of leaving his car at a garage in Blytheville.

District Attorney O'Connor of Vilas county, was informed that Perry also had been traced to Montgomery City, Mo., where he had stayed recently at the Pearson hotel and had attempted, it was understood, to strike up an acquaintance with Margaret Pearson, daughter of the proprietor.

GAINS BODE REBEL VICTORY

Brazilian Revolutionists Pierce Lines

by an additional 5,000 troops. The communique said:

"The state of Sao Paulo is now invaded. The insurgents who are in possession of most of the territory are now heading for the capital."

Successes in North

The total rebel forces in the state of Parana that will eventually be thrown against Sao Paulo are estimated at 42,000.

Rebel successes in the north are reported even more threatening to the waning federal cause. Espirito Santo, yesterday one of the three loyal states, was today invaded successfully by the revolutionists.

Rebel headquarters have been established in the towns of Itabapuana, Miracoma, and Madeira, all on the Espirito Santo-Rio de Janeiro border, and advance columns of rebel cavalry are reported to have thrust as far south as Ciudadcampos, important railroad center in Rio de Janeiro, which gives the insurrectionists an operating base within striking distance of the capital.

Armies Isolated

Thus the government armies have been isolated into four uncoordinated units:

1.—The northern army, reported rapidly disintegrating before rebel attack in the state of Bahia.

2.—The north central army, gathering for the defense of Rio de Janeiro.

3.—The south central army, mobilized about Sao Paulo.

4.—The southern army, concentrated with the Brazilian fleet for a rear attack on the Parana rebels which so far has failed to materialize.

Southern rebel headquarters at Porto Alegre announced today that the cruiser, Santa Catharina, has surrendered to the rebels. Messages have been sent the commanders of the battleships Rio Grande do Sul and Bahia asking them to give fealty to the cause of the revolution.

FEDERALS SEIZE TWO STEAMSHIPS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 10. (UP)—The ministry of marine commandeered three Brazilian steamships in port today, incorporating them in the Brazilian navy temporarily to meet the rising rebellion which threatens the capital on three sides.

A presidential decree was issued calling out the federal district military police reservists of the ages of 25 to 40, to remain in service during the present state of seige.

The capital remained calm despite war-like preparations and claims of rebel victories.

U. S. ASSENTS TO SALE OF BOMBING PLANES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. (UP)—The United States government will assent to the sale of bombing or other military airplanes by American manufacturers to the federal government of Brazil, but not to the Brazilian rebels.

Responsible government officials today made this clear in a statement of United States policy, following disclosures that overtures to the navy department for purchase by Brazil of a certain type of navy plane has been denied. Such a sale might disclose naval secrets, it was said.

Raley's Tax Collections Set Record For 10 Days

OCEAN FLIERS FORCED DOWN

'Columbia' to Resume Trip To London Today

don. Tresco is roughly 290 miles by airline from Croydon, which lies slightly south of London.

Officials at the airdrome had made preparations to guide the Columbia even if the flight were prolonged late into the night. A circular beacon flashed out as soon as darkness fell, and because of a slight mist hanging over the field, the fog lights were turned on.

In view of the message from the airmen announcing their take-off for Croydon tomorrow, Mr. Levine stated he would remain here to greet them. Previously he had said he would take a train for Cornwall tonight and fly on to Tresco in the morning.

FLIERS TELL OF HAZARDOUS TRIP

TRESCO, Scilly Islands, Oct. 10. (US)—Capt. Errol Boyd and Lieut. Harry P. Connor, who successfully ended a transatlantic flight from Harbor Grace, N. F., to Tresco today, tonight discussed the hazards of their 2,300-mile journey in the Columbia with the mayor of Tresco.

Danger dogged the Columbia almost from the moment that it took off from Harbor Grace, Captain Boyd said. He told the mayor:

"After leaving Newfoundland, we encountered rough weather, which grew worse, and finally developed into a condition little short of a hurricane during the late afternoon and night yesterday.

"Despite the fact that the dangerous part of the flight was made in the darkness, and that we were unable to check our course by sighting many steamers, magnificent navigation by Lieutenant Connor brought the Columbia safely through.

"Only for the fact that we had a slight oil spray and trouble with the gasoline feed lines, we would have gone on to Croydon and arrived there for dinner tonight. However, we expect to be on our way tomorrow."

He landed here 17 minutes after Lauro Ingals, seeking a east-west record for women, had set her plane down on the local field.

OIL PRORATION STUDY PLANNED

Oklahoma Commission To Probe Complaints

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10. (UP) Reasons for and against curtailing Oklahoma's potential oil production will be investigated fully by the state corporation commission, its members agreed tonight after they extended the present proration schedule 10 days to allow for disposition of the present hearing.

The present curtailment, limiting the state's petroleum production, has been attacked by a group of independent operators on grounds that it is illegal, favors major producing companies and allows price fixing. Other operators have petitioned the commission to extend the proration until the first of next year.

The meeting turned into a general investigation of alleged price fixing through manipulation of the oil curb, adopted voluntarily by one group of operators, when J. B. Dudley, attorney for protestants against the measure, demanded that the commission "go to the bottom of the charges." Officials of 30 of the largest oil companies in the nation were subpoenaed to appear before the commission next Monday to testify regarding proration.

Ray Collins, state oil umpire, after testifying that potential production of the Oklahoma City field alone is sufficient to supply the crude oil demands of the entire nation, admitted on cross-examination that oil companies paid him $2,000 a month for his services.

Oklahoma Synod Opposes Compulsory Course

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 10. (UP)—Major E. P. Parker, commandant of the University of Oklahoma R. O. T. C., declined today to make any statement concerning the resolution of the Presbyterian synod meeting at Muskogee, opposing compulsory military training here and at Oklahoma A. & M. college, Stillwater.

Major Parker said he saw no use in stirring up a newspaper argument over what was already an established practice and that he did not have anything to do with the compulsory side of training.

President W. B. Bizzell was in Shawnee and could not be reached for his opinion on the matter. He has always cooperated with the military training department, however, and has served as chairman of a national committee on military training in universities.

Beginning students at the university not over 21 are required to take two years of military training. If they are over 21 they may substitute physical education courses.

Business Council Approves Bond Issue for College by 40-1 Vote

Francis Opposes Program in Debate at Luncheon; Chest Subscriptions Total $72,000

After extended discussion the business council of the chamber of commerce Friday noon balloted a heavy majority favoring a bond issue for the Junior college as proposed to the chamber of commerce directorate Wednesday.

The recommendations were that the Junior college act be accepted, that an early bond election be called to provide $300,000 for the erection and maintenance of a junior college separate from the high school, and that the state legislature at its next session be asked to amend the Wichita Falls school district act, increasing the present tax rate of $1.00 per $100 valuation to $1.15 in order to take care of Junior college plans, as the present school system is using all funds now available.

Harrell Leads Discussion

The discussion of the recommendations began with J. T. Harrell, chairman of the special committee.

"It will be a great mistake if we do not continue the Junior college," Mr. Harrell said.

"As to the cost per capita, the present proposed venture is no experiment. We know what the cost will be."

Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of schools and member of the special committee, in analyzing the cost of the erection and maintenance of a new junior college, stated that the cost of the present college has not been heavy. Overhead has been low due to the combination of the Junior college and high school and that even when the college had as many as 350 students, salaries had never amounted to more than $30,000.

"From our own experience," Dr. Cantwell said, "we believe that a separate junior college will cost only slightly more, and the additional tax of 10 cents to 15 cents, plus additional money received as tuition from outside students which will amount to approximately $10,000, will adequately take care of the needs.

"Although it had been originally planned to incorporate the Junior college into a county school district, it was known that the Wichita Falls school district would have to bear the burden of three-fourths of the tax. Our share would amount to about $60,000, which would provide for 400 college students. If the project were made county-wide, extra revenue would amount to about $10,000 more and would result in a much larger number of students. The cost to operate a junior college solely for the Wichita Falls school district will cost about $5,000 more than if it were a county institution. It means a great deal to us to control the college, and if it were a county school, possible political troubles would ensue. To make the project county-wide, it would require three distinct elections for the bond issue, the failure of any one election killing the project. Therefore, it is believed that an additional 12 cent tax in the Wichita Falls school district will prove ample."

Francis Opposes Plan

Judge A. H. Britain explained the legal phases of the proposed new college and of the special Wichita Falls school district act.

J. T. Harrell explained that present school bonds are being retired at the rate of $50,000 per year and that the time is now fast approaching when school taxes here will be cut and that if the 15-cent tax is added that it would be only a short time until the present $1 rate would be adequate and the 15-cent addition would be dropped.

Charles I. Francis vigorously opposed the move to approve the recommendations and the project to erect a new junior college here.

"The present grammar schools and high schools," he said, "are not up to the standard of efficiency that they should be. Salaries for teachers, from the superintendent on down, are so low that we cannot draw teachers of enough ability to make our schools efficient. If we want to spend additional money, let us spend it in improving our grade and high schools in order to have a first class school system instead of adding a 'half-baked' junior college to an already inefficient system. If we must spend more money, let us spend it to make more efficient what we have.

Calls School "Luxury"

"Furthermore, the proposed tax increase will not take care of a new junior college. The property valuation of Wichita Falls is inadequate to raise a sufficient amount of money. The people of the city can not stand the extra tax to make such a project possible. Wichita Falls already has the greatest bonded indebtedness of any city in Texas, and will soon need an additional million dollars to take care of the water problem and another million for drainage. A city, like an individual or a business, at times must cut its expenses. A small junior college for Wichita Falls would be a luxury and now is the time that we can least afford luxuries."

Following arguments pro and con for the move, a motion that the council approve the recommendations and go on record to be in favor of the erection of a separate building for a junior college here was voted 40 to 1.

Preceding the discussion of the college question, S. H. KIDD'S KIDDING

Lamesa Farmer's Story Makes His Name Seem Apt

Special to The Record News

LAMESA, Texas, Oct. 10.—You don't have to believe this one. A Dawson county rooster lays eggs. J. L. Kidd, owner of the feathered prodigy, who lives nine miles south of Lamesa, didn't believe it either at first, but on having his suspicions aroused he kept the chanticleer in a coop until he laid three eggs. The bird is of the White Leghorn variety, with all the characteristics of the male. He has the long sickle feathers in his tail, large comb and hackles, medium length spurs, and to all intents and purposes is a full fledged masculine bird. But he or she lays eggs. The bird cackles upon laying, instead of crowing, however, according to Kidd.

Petition Seeks Election In Pottawatomie

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10. (UP)—Sponsors of a petition asking removal of the Pottawatomie seat from Tecumseh to Shawnee filed a request with Secretary John E. Luttrell of the state election board, today for a certified copy of the number of votes cast in that county in the 1925 and 1928 elections.

Before an election can be called to change a county seat, the petition asking the referendum must contain signatures numbering at least 25 per cent of the vote cast at the previous state election.

A delegation of Pottowatomie citizens presented petitions bearing 6,700 names to the governor yesterday asking that he call the election. Governor Holloway said he would ask Attorney General J. Berry King what the proper procedure in the case would be.

Children Desert N. Y. Schoolrooms For Matrimony

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—One little girl of 12 and another aged 13 were among 483 New York children who left school to get married last year, the annual report of the superintendent revealed today.

At the age of 14, 20 boys and girls were dropped from the rolls because they were married. Eighty-three of the brides and bridegrooms were only 15. The rest of the 484 were 16-year-olds.

The report does not reveal the identities of the children and tells nothing about them save the age at which they were married. Something of their social background is revealed, however, by the fact that 365 of the 483 were students in the continuation school, which is operated for boys and girls who leave school and go to work before they are 17 years old.

One teaspoonful parsley.
One egg.
Two tablespoonfuls flour.
One-half cupful chopped tongue or ham.
Three-fourth cupful milk.
Six hard cooked eggs.
Bread crumbs.

Chop eggs and mix with ham, parsley and seasoning. Melt butter stir in flour, then add the milk and boil gently three minutes, stirring constantly. Add egg mixture, and if necessary add more seasoning. Cool mixture, then divide it into nine portions, and make each into a neat croquette, brush over with the egg beaten with one tablespoonful of water, roll in bread crumbs and fry in hot fat. Drain and garnish with chopped parsley. Temperature, 390 degrees F. or so that the fat will brown a cube of bread in 40 seconds. Amount, nine croquettes.

Tomato Appetizers
Six tomatoes, diameter 1½ inches
One-third of Roquefort cheese.
One tablespoonful cream.
One tablespoonful cavair.
Water cress.
One-eighth teaspoonful celery salt
Six rounds of toast—diameter three inches.

Many palates enjoy this appetizer. Remove skins from the tomatoes, scoop out the centers, sprinkle them with salt, invert and let chill for half an hour. Fill centers with the cheese crumbled and blended well with cream and celery salt. Accent each tomato with cavair or spread on toast; lace the filled tomato on toast and garnish with water cress. Serves six.

Crown of Pork With Small Onion

Cut pieces containing six ribs from each side of a rack of pork, having the two pieces of the same length and height; remove the backbone and make an incision between the ribs; trim each rib above the eye as for French lamb chops; turn the rib bones outside and the eyes of the chops inside and sew the two pieces together. Mix a cup of sausage meat with a cup of stale bread crumbs, softened in cold water and wrung dry; add an egg, beaten slightly, and additional seasoning, if needed. Put the crown in the baking pan, and the sausage mixture in the open space inside the crown, cover the bones with buttered paper, dredge with salt, pepper and flour, and bake in a slow oven between two and three hours, basting every 10 minutes with drippings, to which a little hot water is added. (One inch cubes of fat salt pork or raw potatoes may be placed on each rib bone instead of the buttered paper to prevent bones from burning.) Saute' to a delicate brown enough small peeled onions to fill the crown; add stock and let cook until tender, glazing the onions with the stock as it cooks away. Remove the crown carefully to a serving-dish, so as to avoid breaking the sausage filling, place the onions in the center above the filling. Remove paper, salt pork or potatoes from the bones and place cranberries, olives, or paper frills on them. If apples are not served in some other manner, garnish with saute 'd apple rings or apple sauce and sprigs of parsley.

Jellied Pineapple Relish Salad
One package lime Jell-o.
One pint boiling pineapple juice and water.
One tablespoonful vinegar.
Three slices canned pineapple, diced.
One cucumber, diced.
One-half cupful stuffed olives, finely chopped
Three-fourths cupfuls sweet pickles, finely chopped.

Dissolve Jell-o in boiling pineapple juice and water. Add vinegar. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in pineapple, cucumbers, olives and pickles. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves eight.

Chess Pie
Four egg yolks.
Two cupfuls sugar.
One tablespoonful flour.
One cupful sweet cream.
Two-thirds cupful butter.

Line pie plate with flaky pie crust; pour in the mixture made in the following—beat egg yolks until light, add sugar, moisten flour with cream and add the smooth mixture to the egg yolks and sugar, add melted butter. A little nutmeg may be grated over the top. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 10 minutes. Reduce temperature to a slow oven—250 degrees F. and bake until the custard has set. Cover with a meringue made of the whites of egg, sugar and flavoring.

Chicken Tyrolean
Six English muffins.
One pound tomatoes.
One and one-half cupfuls cooked chicken diced.
One-fourth pound cooked ham.
One-half cupful sweet pickles.
Parsley.
Two cupfuls Veloute' sauce.

Split a muffin for each person and toast it. On each piece put a slice of tomato, broiled or sauted. Pour over this diced chicken and cooked ham cut in dice heated in Veloute' sauce (white sauce made with chicken stock instead of milk) Garnish each with sweet pickles and parsley.

One cup double cream
One-half teaspoon vanilla.

Some Southern Sweet Potato Dishes

In many parts of the South no dinner is considered complete without a sweet-potato dish of some kind. It is the company accompaniment, in many households, for such delicacies as fried chicken, baked Virginia ham, roast pork and roast duckling. 'Possum is always served with sweet potatoes. The 'possum is skinned, drawn and soaked in salt water for at least half an hour, then wiped dry, dredged with flour and roasted the same as fresh pork—the meat is very fat and similar to pork. The potatoes are cooked during the last hour in the roaster with the meat and are basted often with the drippings. 'Possum is best in the fall when persimmons, their favorite food, are ripe.

Baked, candied or fried are the most familiar ways in which sweet potatoes are served. They are delicious prepared in those ways, but there are many simple combinations that are equally as good and are as easily prepared. They are very appetizing when they are boiled, peeled and mashed, and seasoned with butter, salt and pepper, with hot milk added to make them light and fluffy. If the mashed sweet potatoes are placed in the oven to brown they are better still. They may be flavored with orange or pineapple juice or with cooking sherry and with nutmeg and cinnamon. Often chopped peanuts, pecans, almonds and raisins are combined with them. Then they may be put through a pastry-tube and used instead of white potatoes as a decorative border. A planked steak, for example, with a sweet potato border, is more festive looking than is one with an Irish potato border.

Sweet potato patties may be made from cold boiled, mashed potatoes, or the mashed potatoes may be seasoned, shaped in croquets, rolled in crumbs, eggs, and crumbs and fried in deep fat. Delicious croquets may be made by adding to each pint of potato pulp one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one beaten egg, four tablespoonfuls of blanched almonds, finely chopped and enough hot milk, or cream, to make of a consistency to handle. Deep fat is also used for French fried sweet potatoes. The potatoes are first boiled with their skins on, then peeled and cut in lengthwise strips, fried in deep fat, drained on brown paper, sprinkled with salt and served hot.

Sweet potatoes may be broiled with steak or chops. For broiling, scrub the potatoes, cut in crosswise sections without peeling, in half-inch slices. These should be served with melted butter or with gravy.

There are many versions of glazed or candied sweet potato recipes, all of which are delicious. The potatoes are usually boiled with their skins on, then peeled and sliced in strips. After this they may be put into a pan, dotted with butter and brown sugar and browned in the oven or under the broiler flame. Some people use maple or corn sirup instead of brown sugar; still others prefer to make a brown sugar sirup, using for one pound of potatoes about three-fourths cupful of brown sugar, an equal amount of water and four tablespoonfuls of butter. These potatoes are cooked slowly in the sirup in the oven.

RECIPES

Candied Sweet Potatoes
Six medium-sized sweet potatoes.
one and one-half cupfuls brown sugar.
Two tablespoonfuls butter.
Two bananas.
One-fourth cupful lemon juice.
One teaspoonful salt.
One-half cupful water.

Oil a baking dish and place a layer of boiled, sliced sweet potatoes in the bottom. Sprinkle with a little salt, brown sugar and pour over it some of the lemon juice. Dot with butter. Add a layer of sliced bananas, then another layer of potatoes, with the seasonings, until all are used, having a layer of sweet potatoes on top. Pour water over all and bake slowly for one hour at 350 degrees F. Serves six.

Sweet Potato Surprise
Two cupfuls riced sweet potatoes (about three medium sized).
Dash of pepper.
One egg, beaten.
One-half cupful crushed corn or bran flakes.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
Eight marshmallows.

Boil and peel potatoes and put them through a ricer. When partly cool, add egg, salt and pepper. If mixture is very dry, add a little milk. Flour hands, if necessary and form mixture into balls with a marshmallow hidden inside. Roll in branflakes or cornflakes. Fry in hot crisco (375-385 degrees F., or when a small piece of bread browns in 40 seconds). Fry until brown and drain on soft paper. Serve at once. Serves eight.

Lum Lum
Two cupfuls diced cooked sweet potatoes.
One cupful diced tart apples.
Four tablespoonfuls maple sirup.
Three tablespoonfuls bacon fat.
Salt.
One-half cupful water.

Mix the potatoes and apples together and add the sirup, fat and salt. Bake in a covered dish until tender, remove the cover and brown. The flavor is much better if baked at a temperature of 300 degrees F. for about one hour.

Sweet Potato Dessert
Four medium-sized sweet potatoes.
One-fourth cupful sugar.
One-half cupful raisins.
One cupful milk.
One tablespoonful melted butter.
One egg.
One-third cupful chopped nuts.
Salt.
Nutmeg.
Marshmallows.

Parboil the potatoes, peel and slice. Beat the egg, add the sugar, salt, nutmeg and milk. Pour the mixture over the potatoes. Add nuts and raisins. Turn into an oiled baking dish; dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven until mixture is firm. Cover top with marshmallows and brown. Time—45 minutes. Temperature, 300 degrees F. Amount, six servings.

Kentucky Sweet Potato Pone

Grate enough pared raw sweet potatoes to make two cupfuls; add half a cupful of melted butter, half a cupful of brown sugar, half a cupful of seeded raisins, three well-beaten eggs, the grated rind and juice of one lemon, and one-quarter of a teaspoonful each of cinnamon and nutmeg. Mix all thoroughly and bake in a buttered pan one and a half inches deep in a slow oven—325 degrees F.—for 45 minutes.

Sweet Potato Custard

This custard is to be served hot, as a vegetable with a dinner and not as a dessert. It may be used, however, as a filling for a pie if one tablespoonful of sugar is added. Mash well three cooked sweet potatoes of medium size. Add two eggs, well beaten, one-third teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, one-half cupful of brown sugar, and three cupfuls of milk. Mix thoroughly, bake in a slow oven until firm, pour into buttered baking dish and Cover with meringue or marshmallows. Brown.

Youngest Senior Class at Altus Starts Digging for Diplomas

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Oct. 10.—The largest senior class in the history of Altus High school is also one of the youngest in average age, statistics of the school, which have been compiled, reveal.

Eighty-three members compose the senior class of this year, and with only one or two exceptions all are graduating members.

The youngest graduating senior in the class is Bernice Meier, 16 years old, who will have attained her seventeenth birthday approximately two months before she graduates. Donald McVey, who will not be 17 until next January, is the youngest boy.

Mother in Class

Mrs. V. E. Thrasher holds the distinction of being the eldest in the class, and perhaps the oldest person to ever graduate from the local public school system. Her age more than equals the combined ages of the two youngest members of the class, and she is the mother of Melodiese Thrasher, high school freshman.

Although the unusual youth of a large percentage of the class this year has resulted in an unusually low age average, the 1930 class as yet holds the distinction of having the youngest member. Helen Whiteside, 1930 alumnae was only 15 years of age at the time of her graduation.

Present and Future

We have stated that your independent grocer is a public spirited man. Almost always he is a man of family, too. He is sending his children to the public schools here in Wichita Falls, training them to become good citizens, contributors to community progress. He wants his boy to grow up and enter his business . . . to become a loyal Wichita Falls booster like himself.

But, suppose in a dozen years or so there is no business for the son to "work into." Suppose his retail establishment has been supplanted by a chain store, managed by a man from out-of-town. What then? His boy . . . and hundreds like him . . . will be forced to seek work in New York or Chicago. And instead of a sturdy body of loyal, progressive business men to further its growth, Wichita Falls must depend on the fickle support of chain store managers whose one ambition is to be transferred to a bigger field! Are we supporting our public schools to this end?

of the crust is SHORTENING

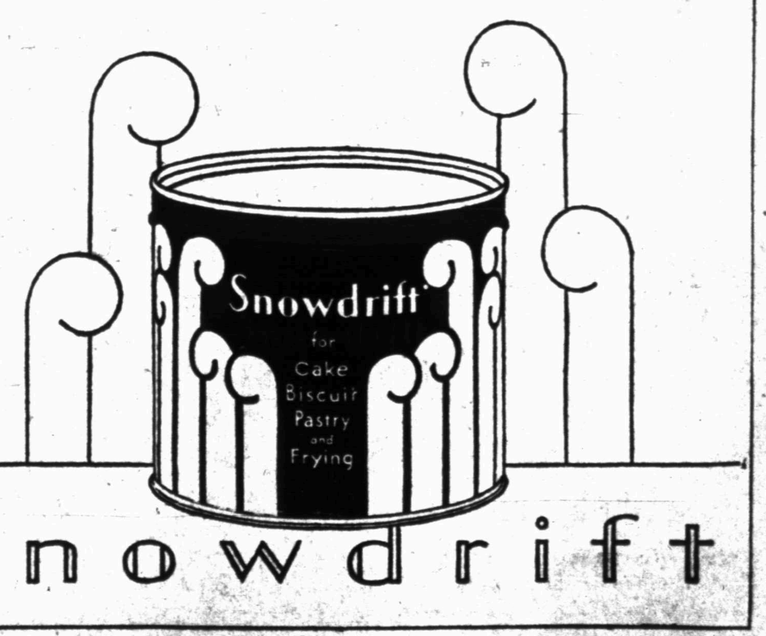

HAVE you ever stopped to think that almost one-third of the pie crust is the shortening you use? Doesn't it seem important, then, that the shortening should be pure, fresh and sweet . . . good to eat?

And when you serve the pie at your table you actually eat this shortening. Certainly it should be as fresh and good as the finest eggs, and as sweet and pure as the best milk.

The Wesson Oil people make Snowdrift for folks who feel that nothing can be too good to eat. The extra quality, extra care they put into every pound costs you ever so little more. And Snowdrift is pure—made from a selected oil as fine as a choice salad oil, free from animal fat. It is creamed while fresh and hurried into an air-tight, sealed can so that all its goodness is brought to you. Nothing, not even air, can touch it until you break that seal.

Snowdrift is Down in Price

Snowdrift is now down in price . . . at its lowest price in years. There's added goodness for every bit of cookie or hot-bread. There's an added sureness in baking. And the satisfaction of knowing that Snowdrift is as good and wholesome as any food you serve the family. Price Snowdrift and see how little it costs to have all the helpful "extras" for every day cooking.

Mr. Ford's Prophecy All Serene by 1950 Cheering Up the Kings Ireland Bans Slang

By EMILE GAUVREAU

Henry Ford's prediction of workmen earning $27 a day as a minimum wage (by the year 1950) is a heartening prospect. It comes at a time when such a roseate future might help sustain the failing hopes of a percentage of the millions of unemployed. But 1950 is a long way off and hunger, alas, cannot be fed on courage alone.

In his book, "Moving Forward," Mr. Ford sees the workmen as advanced into the leisure class. He also holds that, in the matter of productivity, there will be no such thing as an age deadline, so that the man over 40 will be as valuable as the man of 30. And as to the various attempts being made today by large concerns to cut wages, he denounces these as precipitating "a sad ending to our national progress."

Perhaps Mr. Ford is a true prophet. But the country would appreciate him more if, at this moment, he put aside his brush and paint, left his glowing picture of the "American Scene, 1950" unfinished, and turned instead to practically solving the industrial problem at hand. With his millions Mr. Ford could do more than almost any other man in this direction. The world today needs action, not prophecy.

The exiled King of Greece, now living in London, declares that he expects to be recalled to the throne "sooner or later." With governments crumbling or in a state of chaos all over the world, and with discontent over employment at the breaking point, the recall of kings to power is far from a pipe dream of royalists.

England tried a commonwealth under Cromwell, but went back to kingship. The republic of the French revolution developed into a monarchy, with Napoleon as emperor. In ancient times, the democracy under Pericles was supplanted by an oligarchy, and then by the despotism of an alien Caesarism. Democratic Rome became an oligarchy, then a government of consuls, then a triumvirate, finally a dictatorship.

Germany is the most modern instance of the swing of the pendulum from autocracy to revolution and the establishment of a republic. From that it has swung to Hitlerism. From Hitlerism to—what? Let us remember that Wilhelm is still alive and still very much beloved by many of his people.

Ireland has attempted many censorships of late. Perhaps the most futile is its attempt to keep out American "slang" from contaminating the sober speech of its citizenry. To accomplish this Ireland contemplates putting a ban or censor on all "talkies," newspapers, books and magazines that emanate from the abandoned United States.

The slang of today is the language of tomorrow. Not the least colorful and expressive part of our English vocabulary is made up largely of words that, at one time or another, were proscribed. All languages are polyglots or street terms, local argots, foreign phrases, catch words and the anathematized "slang." At first these are received into the language only provisionally, hedged round with brackets or quotations. Ultimately they attain full orthoepistic rank. Read Shakespeare and realize it.

Some will tell you that the only way to account for the "rags to riches" rise of so many Americans is to say that they read Horatio Alger in their youth and modeled their lives to the code of their heroes. John Thompson Dorrance, canned soup magnate, who started at $7.50 a week and died after accumulating $100,000,000, would have amazed Mr. Alger.

Al Capone's life, at last, is in the hands of the police. His biography has just been issued at $3 the copy.

A former tramp has become a popular portrait painter in London. He should do well, what with his experience at canvassing.

Children and Dishpans

COMPULSORY dishwashing never puts a rainbow 'round the dishpan. But it does have a lot to do with that chronic business of being too tired to wash the dishes. Just the same, mothers can't seem to break themselves of the habit of putting tea towels in their daughter's hands and suggesting that they wash the cups and saucers and brush the crumbs away.

But now Miss Marion S. Van Liew, chief of the home economics education bureau of the University of the State of New York, and education director of the home-making center in New York City, has cast her influence with the daughters. Mothers are all wrong. Compulsory dishwashing, according to Miss Van Liew, has given millions of girls a drab outlook on home economics. It has made them hate housework.

And it is all their mothers' fault.

Still with a large family that must be fed three times a day, to say nothing of after-school bread-and-butter-and-jelly sandwiches, it isn't always possible for a mother to attend to the cleansing of the plates if she would darn the family socks, sew on the family buttons, wash and iron and scrub and sweep and dust and bake and stew and nurse and market and plan the menus and tell the agents that she isn't interested in anything today!

Of course, if Sally and Sue and Mary didn't have to assist in the cleansifying of the dishes they would have the thrill of novelty when they dip their own rosebud china into the foamy suds.

It is a sad state of affairs. If modern labor-saving devices can't strengthen the case for the after-dinner exercises there seems to be little to be done about it—except let the mothers attend to the ablutions of the china.

Dishwashing used to be something that every normal girl had along with measles and mumps and chickenpox. Now it would appear that it should be banished from the childhood ailments along with the other hindrances to health and freedom.

There is nothing to do, apparently, but let the others perform the purification rites for the porcelain and dresden—unless common sense arises to remark that children don't always need quite as much coddling as the experts seem to think.

A Point to Remember

DIRIGIBLE FLIGHTS during the last three or four years probably had most of us pretty thoroughly persuaded that the lighter-than-air craft was by far the safest form of aerial transportation available today. But now the R-101 bursts into flame and kills all but four or five of her passengers and crew, and the old doubts are coming back stronger than ever.

A couple of points, however, are worth remembering. In the first place many aeronautical experts had their doubts about the R-101 from the beginning, from the viewpoint of design and construction. She was the world's largest airship, but not the best. And in the second place, it is well to bear in mind that hydrogen gas filled her gas cells. In this country non-explosive helium is used, and the safety factor is immeasurably increased.

The R-101's tragedy is shocking, but it does not necessarily prove that dirigibles are too dangerous for commercial use.

An Accounting

AN AUDIT of all books, records and accounts of county officers, ordered by the commissioners court to cover the last three years, seems to The Record News to be quite a good thing. There seems to this newspaper to be no possible objection from the viewpoint of either the office-holders or of the county.

The fee system is a pretty sorry and complicated affair at its best, but it probably can be kept functioning in a more efficient manner if treated to the occasional tonic of a public accounting. In instructing the grand jury here this week, Judge P. A. Martin said something that fits all county offices, as well as those of the law enforcement branch. Said Judge Martin:

"The grand jury report is read by everybody and has the effect of silencing the fellow who sits on the sidelines and unjustly criticises the officers. But it also makes a negligent officer more diligent."

Wholesome Entertainment

THE world's series is one of those American institutions that we could not very well get along without.

To be sure, graybeards have a way of wagging their heads at our absorption in sport, and they are now reminding us that watching a ball game is a poor way of getting exercise. The world series is being compared with the old Roman gladiatorial shows—less bloody, but no more useful.

Just the same, it serves a good purpose. If it does nothing else, it gets our mind off of our troubles. In addition, it gives us a number of thrills and injects a bit of color and excitement into a routine that often gets rather drab.

In other words, it's fine stuff, and we should be none the better off if it were abolished.

A Case for Investigation

ATTORNEY GENERAL MITCHELL announces that his department will make a rigid investigation into Ralph S. Kelley's charges that large oil companies are getting title to enormously valuable oil shale lands in Colorado to which they have no legal claim. It is to be hoped that the investigation will be complete and conclusive.

Kelley's charges are extremely serious, given added weight by his long record of service in the interior department. They are, in fact, altogether too serious to be passed over. If there are facts and figures to sustain them, those facts and figures should be given full publicity; and if the charges turn out to be without foundation, that fact too should be made known. Mr. Mitchell cannot get at the truth too rapidly.

HEARTBREAK GIRL

By ROB EDEN

Nick Walther, wealthy Hollywood real estate man, mistakes Gail Stuart for a boy when he picks her up on the road, 50 miles from Los Angeles, not learning her true identity till he takes her to his home for dinner. She is dressed in boy's hiking clothes, and tells him she has hiked all the way from Kansas, ambitious to become a movie star. He laughs at her because so many thousands have had the same ambition and failed. When he learns she is serious, however, he decides she deserves a chance and sends for Tod Janson, as she changes into her feminine finery she has carried in her knapsack.

"You wouldn't stand a show of getting a job in Hollywood for months and months. Don't you see that this is your chance?"

CHAPTER III

Tod Janson was none too prepossessing. He was short, hardly much taller than Gail, thin almost to emaciation, and very homely. His nose was large, and his ears prominent. The girl thought she had never seen such large ears. When he spoke it was in a rasping voice. He barely acknowledged the introduction to Gail, and turned immediately afterward to Walther.

"Well, what is it, Nick? Got something up your sleeve?" He lighted a cigaret and smoked it furiously, drawing the smoke deep into his lungs with every puff. Now and then he flicked an imaginary speck of dust from his immaculate suit.

"Not me this time. It's Miss Stuart. She wants to get into the movies. What do you think about it?"

Janson glanced impersonally at Gail, and raised his eyebrows slightly. "Forget it," he said.

Gail's fingers were cold, as she clasped them in her lap. Janson's quick retort had hurt her.

"No, seriously, Tod, she wants to get into the movies. Can you do anything for her?"

If only they wouldn't speak so impersonally. As if she were not present. As if they were alone, and discussing her among themselves. Gail shivered with embarrassment.

Brutal Frankness

Janson turned to the girl and studied her carefully. "Pretty," he remarked, as if that didn't mean anything in the world. Gail flushed but the blush wasn't noticed. Her face was crimson already.

"What do you think?"

"Terrible clothes." Janson lit another cigaret from the butt in his hand.

Gail wanted to run away—anywhere, wanted the room to open up and bury her. Terrible clothes! These things she had bought in Fairview so carefully. Spending more money than she could afford on them—

The hat she had chosen, fitting snugly to her head, the dress that clung to her slim figure like a glove, the coat that matched it exactly. Mr. Janson was rude—. She hated him.

"Why don't you forget it?" Janson asked her. The sound of his voice cut her like a knife, and she couldn't answer.

"She won't," Walther said for her.

"Stand up," Janson ordered abruptly, and Gail stumbled to her feet, feeling horribly awkward. She knew he was looking at her, appraising her, but she was glad she couldn't see him. Her eyes were closed.

"Good figure," Janson mumbled, "but there are thousands of good figures in Hollywood. I might get her a test at one of the studios for a small part, but she's got to have some clothes."

"How much do you need?" Walther asked, reaching for his checkbook.

"Five hundred dollars will do it." Again Janson lighted a cigaret from his burning stub, and then tossed it carelessly in an ash tray.

Gail Hesitates

Walther was making out a check, writing it on his knee. When he had finished he handed it to Janson.

"No!" Gail cried. "I won't have it—I didn't know you were going to do this! Don't you see? I can't accept any money."

"My dear girl—you're not accepting any money," Janson broke in quickly. "This is for me."

"But—"

"You'd like a test at one of the studios, wouldn't you?"

"Yes, but if Mr. Walther is going to pay for—"

"Don't be silly, Miss Stuart," Nick interrupted. "I'm paying Tod Janson for his services—and for some clothes for you. You aren't even going to see the money."

"I know, but regardless of that, you are giving him the money for me. Oh, I won't have it—"

"Why the scruples, Miss Stuart?" Janson asked, laughing.

"I'm not used to accepting money from men—" Gail bit her lips, when she saw the smile on Walther's face at her words.

"Don't be so foolish, Miss Stuart. If you like we'll merely call it a loan and when you're making a lot of money you can pay me back. How's that?"

"I don't like it—"

Janson interrupted. "You must understand that you can't go into a studio these days and demand a screen test. It isn't done. The way has to be prepared very carefully. Perhaps, though," sarcastically, "you'd like to do extra work for years before even getting a chance?"

Extra work. That was the way Carlos Cross got her chance, Gail nodded. "That's what I expected to do."

"There are thousands of pretty girls on the extra lists now. Thousands. You wouldn't stand a show of getting a job in Hollywood for months and months. Don't you see that this is your chance?" Janson looked to Nick for corroboration, and Nick nodded seriously.

Accepts Loan

Gail's heart sank. She had come so far—

"I'm asking nothing in return, Miss Stuart. I often help screen people, and it isn't just you. Probably I'll never see you again. As I said, you may regard the money as a loan."

"But I have some money."

"Five hundred dollars?" Janson asked quickly.

"No—." She was ashamed to say how little she had. How very little. Her fifty dollars seemed so paltry now. Nothing at all. She had counted on it doing so much. Keeping her until she found a job doing extra work—

"Do you want me to go ahead with this or not?" Janson twiddled the check in his fingers. He was looking at Gail.

Before she could answer, Nick replied for her. "Yes, of course. Do your best."

"And it's to be a loan, Mr. Walther," Gail put in hastily. "I'll pay you back as soon as I can. Do you want me to sign something?"

"Nothing."

"I'd rather—"

"Not necessary. I'll leave you with Mr. Janson now, as I have an engagement."

Gail looked at the clock. It was midnight, and hardly the time in Fairview to start on a party.

Janson picked up his hat which was lying on the couch. "I'll take you home."

The knapsack seemed so awful to the girl as she took it and left the room with Janson, after shaking hands with Walther. When they were outside, and getting into the publicity man's roadster, she tucked it under her feet hoping he would not see it.

"Where to?" He asked as he started the car.

"I—just got in—and—." She was glad he hadn't seen her in her hiking clothes. Glad Walther had made her change. She smoothed her wrinkled coat in dismay.

"Haven't registered at a hotel yet?"

"No—" relief in her tones.

"Any special place you want to stay?"

"No."

"What about the Roosevelt? Nothing like having a good address when you land in Hollywood."

"Sounds all right."

But when Janson drew up before

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Acne

Question—R. A. asks: "Will you please tell me how to clear up a blotchy skin. I do not think it is acne, but believe something is wrong with my diet as my face breaks out more when I eat sweets."

Answer—You are suffering from a form of acne which is caused by an impure blood stream from improper food combinations. You are eating too much carbohydrate food, and I would advise instead plenty of fruit and non-starchy vegetables. Constipation must also exist in your case, which should be corrected before the condition of your skin can be helped.

Water With Meals

Question—L. O. writes: "In your menus you never mention any drink with a meal. Is water not to be used with meals?"

Answer—If you feel thirsty at mealtime drink a small amount of water without ice. It is much better, however, to do your water-drinking between meals. Let your thirst dictate the amount, and you will finally get into the habit of drinking away from meals and not with them.

Angina Pectoris

Question—J. M. C. writes: "I have a pain under my left arm, but sometimes it moves about where the heart is, and then down under the ribs. I have been bothered for over four months.—I was examined twice. The first doctor said I had a cold in my lungs and the last one said I was suffering from indigestion. Do you think indigestion would give me a pain for four months, or would it be heart trouble?"

Answer—Your trouble is caused by gas pressure which causes indigestion and this produces heart trouble because of the pressure of gas against the heart. The pain in your side and arm is called Angina Pectoris.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 10.—President G. J. Gilles presided over the Lions club luncheon Thursday. Baker, chairman of a committee recently appointed to investigate the matter of supplying milk to undernourished children, reported that between 15 and 20 children had been found who need this aid. The club voted to instruct the committee to attend to the details of supplying the milk to the children. The money for the milk will be taken from the club treasury, but the members will be allowed to contribute to the fund.

Robert P. Hall discussed the state ruling to dispense with the office of county highway patrols or traffic cops. The club went on record as in favor of retaining the highway patrol. Mr. Hall also spoke in behalf of the community chest drive. The club members were urged to contribute as much as possible to the fund.

W. A. Asbill was in charge of the entertainment features and presented Miss Ethel Varnell, physical education director of the high school girls and one of the directors of the pep squad, and members of the pep squad in songs, stunts and yells. LIONS SQUARE ACCOUNTS WITH PLAINVIEW BY 38-13 VICTORY

TEAM AVENGES 1929 DEFEAT

Vernon Huskies Superior In Most Departments

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 10.—Vernon won revenge for last year's defeat at the hands of Plainview today by defeating the Bulldogs here this afternoon, by 38 to 13. The Lions outclassed the visitors in every department of the game except the aerial play, and the outcome was never in doubt after the first few minutes.

Lions Lead in Yards

The Lions made 17 first downs to 11 recorded by the visitors. Vernon gained its yardage on running plays, while the Bulldogs took to the air for most of their gains. The Bulldogs attempted 35 passes, completing 13, with three intercepted. The Lions tried 11 passes, with eight complete and one intercepted.

Lawrence led Vernon's attack, making gain after gain on a cut back over tackle, and around the end. Walker was the outstanding performer for Plainview. He snagged passes with machine like regularity to take the Bulldogs down the field in a 50-yard drive for the second touchdown.

Air Attack Successful

The Bulldogs defense held fairly well in earlier part of the game, and the score was 12-7 at the end of the half, but was unimpressive at times in the face of the aerial attack of the visitors, but Plainview was similary weak against the line play of the Lions.

Lamesa Wins Decision Over Tahoka Bulldogs

Special to The Record News

LAMESA, Texas, Oct. 10.—Lamesa Golden Tornadoes were two touchdowns better than the Tahoka Bulldogs here Friday and won, 19 to 6, in spite of a high wind, which interfered with the Tornadoes' offense materially. Richard Davis, halfback, and Douglas Hill, quarterback, for the Tornadoes were outstanding stars, carrying the ball for the burden of Lamesa's gain. Jake Salzer at center and Wilford Ham at tackle, added strength to the Tornado team at both offense and defense. The Tornadoes, although stiffly opposed by the Bulldogs in the hardest fought and the first conference game outplayed the visitors in every stage of the game, chalking up 16 first downs to the opponents seven.

Berg Wins Unpopular Decision Over Petrolle

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (US)—Jack "Kid" Berg won an unpopular decision over Billy Petrolle, the Fargo express after 10 rounds of fast and furious milling at the Madison Square Garden tonight.

Jack proved himself another "Joe Grim." He took it, and took it plenty and it was his ability to take it, it is presumed, that won him the official verdict.

But the fans thought otherwise and booed so loud and long that the semi-final, which went on after the main bout, was delayed for several minutes.

Tipton Scores Victory Over Eldorado, 18-0

Special to The Record News

TIPTON, Okla., Oct. 10.—Tipton high school scored an 18-0 victory over Eldorado high school at Eldorado Friday afternoon, in a game which has no bearing on conference standings.

Captain Southall was the principal aggressor on the Eldorado line in Friday's encounter, smashing through for two touchdowns early in the game. Cochreham added the third touchdown for the victors.

Tipton will play Consolidated School No. 11 next Friday.

Lubbock Football Coach Affirms Eligibility Of His Players

FRNKA PRAISES COYOTE MENTOR

Reversals of District Games Possible

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Every Westerner on Lubbock's football team which defeated the Coyotes here last Saturday, 13 to 10, was eligible to play in the game, Coach Henry Frnka of Lubbock told The Record News in a long distance conversation Friday night.

This statement is not so startling, generally speaking, because coaches usually see to it that their players are eligible, but it is important today in view of the fact that the question of whether some teams in the district have ineligible players under the new 10-semester rule of the interscholastic league has been discussed heatedly during the past few days by coaches and league officials throughout the district.

It was raised here Thursday when it was rumored one or more Lubbock players were ineligible to play last Saturday, and Coyote followers were wondering what would happen if it proved true that such was the case.

Westerners Rumored Affected

It was pointed out by C. A. Davis of Quanan, director general of district No. 1, that had some of the Lubbock players been ineligible, the Coyotes would be privileged to protest, the protest being heard by the directors of this district.

There had been, however, not the slightest intention of Coyote officials to file a protest had it proved true that any Westerner was ineligible. Coach Holton said he "had perfect faith in the coaches of this district," and he believed they would "do what was right."

Thursday night it was impossible to get in touch with Coach Frnka of Lubbock to learn whether or not any of his players were ineligible. Friday, however, he was reached, and his statement should clear up the matter so far as the Coyote-Westerner game of last Saturday is concerned.

Meanwhile, the statement appearing in afternoon editions Friday that a reversal of a score in a game in which ineligible players participate is impossible, was proved erroneous.

The statement said directors of this district last year had provided that in cases where ineligibles were discovered after a game had been played, the game was to be counted, and not reversed.

Provision Eliminated

This provision was eliminated from rules of this district some time ago, according to Mr. Davis. It was eliminated after Mr. Davis had been informed by Roy B. Henderson, interscholastic league head at Austin, that should a game be counted in which there were ineligibilities, the district entrant in future bi-district competition in the state championship would be ruled ineligible to compete.

Coach Frnka, in a statement to The Record News Friday night said he appreciated the attitude of Coach Barry Holton and officials of the Wichita Falls High school, in not planning a protest had Lubbock ineligibilities been discovered.

"Coach Holton was right," said Frnka, "If I had learned some of our men were ineligible, I would have sent him a telegram, saying he won last Saturday's game.

"But we have no ineligibilities. I knew of the 10-semester rule early in the summer, and had our squad checked before the season opened. I have been in Lubbock five years, longer than any of my men have played on the team, and I would know if any are ineligible."

Pampans Get Even

He also related humorously that the new rule probably had "something to do" with Lubbock's defeat at the hands of Pampa in the first conference game.

Pampa, he said, had a player, Jimmy Ayres, star tackle on the first team, who was ineligible under the rule. Pampa officials, he continued, were notified of this before the game. The loss hurt the Pampans, and "they got sore and whipped us," to use Coach Frnka's words.

Denton High Rides Over Jacksboro, 19-0

Special to The Record News.

JACKSBORO, Texas, Oct. 10.—The Denton high school eleven rode through the Jacksboro team here today, winning a 19 to 0 decision.

Two touchdowns were made in the first period and one in the second quarter. The Jacksboro team then rallied and held them scoreless the remainder of the game, even holding their foes for downs within a few yards of the goal. Turner, Jacksboro half, gained most of the yardage for his team, specializing on wide end runs.

Special to The Record News

NEWCASTLE, Texas, Oct. 10.—Newcastle high school was buried under a 39 to 0 score here Friday afternoon when a heavy and aggressive Bowie high eleven overpowered the local gridsters.

Bowie depended principally upon end runs for its advance, but scored two touchdowns on forward passes and one on a Newcastle fumble.

ARCHER CITY, Texas, Oct. 10.—The Archer City high school team Friday defeated Fairview 26-4 in the first conference game of the season.

Wright carried the ball over. In the second quarter Strahan also scored, and in the last period Wright again carried the ball for touchdowns. The thriller of the game, however, was when Fleming, substitute, intercepted a pass and ran 40 yards for a touchdown.

The Archer City team played a straight consistent game with practically no outstanding stars. Brystly, huge tackle, was Fairview mainstay, time and again blocking the Archer City plays.

The line-up is as follows:

OLNEY CUBS CRUSH STAMFORD, 32-0

Special to The Record News

OLNEY, Texas, Oct. 10.—Albert Ackers' well-oiled Cub machine smashed the Stamford high school team in a non-conference game here today, 32 to 0. With their running game stopped in most instances by the strong visiting line, the Cubs took to the air with telling effect late in the game. After an exchange of punts early in the game Goode raced 46 yards for the first score. Goal was missed and the remainder of the first half was fought on even terms. Early in the third quarter Goode passed to W. Gilmore who raced 20 yards for a score but Olney was offside and the score was nullified. On the next play Graves smashed his way for 30 yards and a score. A pass added the extra point. Stamford kicked and the Cubs passed to Duckworth who raced 45 yards for a score and failed on try for extra point. After three tries at the line Stamford punted, and passed, Goode to W. Gilmore and Duckworth, carried the ball close to a score. A few plays later Graves made 25 yards over tackle and Duckworth took a short pass and raced 15 yards for a score. An intercepted pass by Duckworth and 25-yard return placed the ball in position for final score by Duckworth. The Cubs made 12 first downs to four for the visitors.

Graham Steers Beat Bridgeport

Special to The Record News

GRAHAM, Texas, Oct. 10.—The Graham Steers won their third game of the season by defeating Bridgeport in a hard fought game by the score of 19 to 6. Bridgeport drew first blood in the first few minutes of play by intercepting a forward pass and racing 85 yards for their only score. The kick from placement for the try for point was wide. Late in the second quarter Graham launched a drive to tie the score when Harley recovered a Graham fumble across the goal line for a touchdown. The Steers failed in their attempt for the extra point. By two more sustained drives the Steers were able to put across two more touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters. Turney and Whatley carried the ball across for the score, Nicklos taking the pass for the extra point. The game ended with the ball on Bridgeport's one-foot line in Graham's possession with first down.

Special credit is due the Steer line with Lisle, Bingham, Starbuck, Nicklos and Kimbrel playing one of the best games of their career. Parsley, Wheeler and Wignall showed up well in the backfield.

Clinton Loses, 13 to 6, In Conference Game

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Oct. 10.—Mangum high school chalked up its fifth straight victory of the season and its second conference triumph here Friday afternoon in a 13-6 win over Clifton.

The game was played on a muddy field, with both teams compelled to resort to defensive tactics. E. Busby, fullback, and John Goad in the line were the outstanding performers for Mangum. The local eleven will meet Altus next Friday.

Hawks Defeat Zundy Men, 28-0

By PAT WILEY
Record News Correspondent

IOWA PARK, Texas, Oct. 10.—In a hard fought tussle on the local gridiron the Hawks carried a decisive victory over the Zundelowitz eleven, 28 to 0. The game was a hard fought contest from the beginning of the game to the final whistle. Although victorious the Hawks agreed that this was one of the hardest contests that has beset them in the past few seasons of hard struggles.

With Cobb's feature run and the many other thrilling features of the game there was no one outstanding player on either team but acted as one machine and with much precision.

The scores were made by Kildow, scoring three of the four touchdowns by the Hawks. The other was made by Captain Cobb.

Coach A. D. Neal started the following line-up in the skirmish: Dell Harbior and Lloyd Smith at ends, Guy Cowart and Corliss Davis as tackles, Vernon Cowart and Neal Monroe as guards, Dick Burney as center, Garland Cathey and Bedford Cuningham as halfbacks, J. C. Cobb as quarterback, and Ferren Kildow at fullback.

Coach Roy Golden, of the Zundelowitz gridsters started the following: Ben Kelley and Woody McFadden at end positions, Charles Rice and Corvet Hunn as tackles, Farris Johnson and Ramond Tarkington as guards, Dick Marchant at center, Billy Robertson at quarterback, Philip Williams and Frank Rusk as halfbacks and Ralph Hines at fullback.

Lloyd Copeland of Iowa Park umpired the game while Harrold Cheeves of Abilene Christian college, refereed.

Rockne's Team In Spotlight Again

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—For the second successive Saturday, Knute Rockne's stalwarts from Notre Dame hold a prominent place in the football spotlight. Their suicide schedule carires them against the Navy in a big interscentional struggle at South Bend.

Mid-West and far West come to grips at Minneapolis where Stanford's Cardinals hope to duplicate Vanderbilt's one-sided win over Minnesota.

Two of the best teams in the South—Georgia and Georgia Tech—sally northward to take on Eastern opponents, Georgia endeavoring to repeat its victory of last year over Yale and the Golden Tornado heading for the hang-out of Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh.

The Centenary "Gentlemen" from Shreveport, La., much tougher than their name, rate close to an even choice against an Iowa eleven which already has met defeat.

On the Pacific coast, the struggle for supremacy waxes warm with Southern California faring northward to face the Washington State aggregation that upset California a week ago and with California venturing against St. Mary's in a resumption of rivalry that resulted in a scoreless tie last year.

Nebraska and Oklahoma, both contenders for the Missouri Valley Big Six crown, oppose each other at Norman, Okla., and in the Big Ten the headline games are Northwestern-Ohio State at Evanston and Michigan-Purdue at Ann Harbor with considerable interest also to the clash between Wisconsin and Chicago at Madison.

Jules Constantin was elected president of the City league. C. E. Dietrich was named vice president; E. F. Fruechte, secretary, and J. V. Leggett, treasurer.

Team captains in the City league were named as follows: Jules Constantin, C. E. Dietrich, Art Kuntz, George Merkle, Harry Katz, Homer Donohoo, L. S. Sternberg and Stanley McGregor.

The latter will meet next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in room 500, Waggoner building, to perfect plans for the coming season, it was announced.

Bowlers at the meeting were treated to a dutch lunch by Spudder Bowling alley officials.

Floydada Trounces Roaring Springs, 32-0

Special to The Record News.

FLOYDADA, Texas, Oct. 10.—In the first conference game of the season the Floydada Whirlwind football team defeated the Roaring Springs Yellowjackets here today 32 to 0. The Yellowjackets were badly outmatched and at no time during the game came near scoring. The Whirlwinds made two touchdowns and kicked goal twice in the first half. Welch and Heald were the outstanding players on the Whirlwind team.

Coyotes and Electra Tigers Meet Today in Annual Football Classic

sions of defiance issuing from the corridors of both of the schools.

Coach Barry Holton and his assistant, Bill Morris, kept the Coyotes on the run all week, ending with a lighter workout Friday afternoon. The first of the week they reviewed what they had learned from the powerful Lubbock Westerners. Then they spent a day or two ironing out faults that appeared in the Lubbock game. Then the drill changed to a review of plays, including some new ones. Interspersed each day were heavy scrimmage drills. Thursday came the climax, with the toughest scrimmage of the year. The boys have been too busy plunging the line to think of over-confidence. Their minds have been attuned to the one thought: "Whip those Tigers."

On the other hand, Coach Stanford has been doing the same thing with his boys, and they have been memorizing a similar motto, with the word "Coyotes" appearing after the snarling command. The Tigers realize they will have a double duty to perform Saturday, to-wit, protect their reputation, and ward off a team hungry for vindication.

Probable Line-ups

The student bodies of both schools have been foaming at the mouth in various pep rallies, and expending, it would seem, as much energy as the objects of their shouts on the scrimmage field, and the combined result of the sweating of the players and the shouting of the pep squads should produce Saturday the emotional pitch that is regarded as the proper thing in the atmosphere of a football game.

Coaches of both teams Friday made the customary announcement that they were undecided on a starting lineup. From Electra it was reported, however, that the following are "almost certain": Cecil Eaton and Millard Welch, ends; Joe Smith and Horace Birdsong, tackles; Leonard Curfman and Brooks Adams, guards; and Monty McDannald, center. As concerns the backfield, the following were announced as "probable" starters: Aubrey Smith, quarterback; Roger Golden and Coye Sandefer, halfbacks; and Cloyd Smith, fullback. Eual Sandefer and Robert Cloninger are other backfielders who may be used. Other reserves who could be sent in include Ben Rippy and Paul Groves, guards; C. W. Sanderlin, George Ellis and Ross Head, ends; Lee Parnall and Pete Delashaw, halfbacks; and Pat McNamara, fullback.

Coach Holton was more definte. There is only one doubtful position, right guard. Either Elvis Goodman or Max Sepkovitch are avilable. Goodman may get the starting assignment, Coach Holton said, but both are due to play in the game.

Electra will be minus the services of Roy Curfman, star lineman who was held ineligible under the new 10-semester rule.

GETS REVENGE

Local Colored Eleven Whips Dallas Team, 19 to 0

A fast and clever football team from Booker T. Washington colored school of Wichita Falls scored an easy victory, 19 to 0, over the Booker T. Washington school of Dallas here Friday afternoon, in a game that was thoroughly interesting from the standpoint of good football and thoroughly entertaining from other standpoints.

The local eleven scored two touchdowns in quick time after the game started, a 20-yard run from a trick play accounting for the first and a perfectly executed forward pass giving the second.

The Dallas team then braced and held the locals to one touchdown for the remainder of the game. The local goal was never threatened.

The local team gave every evidence of having been well coached, getting off its plays smoothly and with plenty of variety. Its forward passing was especially notable. Dallas tried about a score of passes, completing only one.

The game was played with no time out for injuries and with very few penalties, considering the large number of opportunities for same.

In winning, the locals obtained the revenge they have been waiting for for five years. In 1925 in a game at Dallas they were badly defeated.

Roland Garros stadium will seat 12,000 spectators at the Davis cup tennis matches next July, instead of the 10,000 only who were able to see the play this year.

CYCLONE LOSES TO WELLINGTON

Memphis Drops First Loop Battle, 18-14

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Oct. 10.—The Memphis high school Cyclone met its first conference defeat here Friday afternoon in a thrilling battle with Wellington high school, the latter holding an early lead to win by a score of 18 to 14.

Opening up a sensational attack in the third quarter, Memphis scored its first touchdown when Hammonds hurled a 30-yard pass into the arms of Pearson, who dashed 50 yards across the line. Combined line attack and forward passing produced another counter in the final quarter.

Wellington opened with a rush to score two touchdowns in the first quarter. Both teams are of class B classification. Memphis will play Turkey high school next Friday.

Austin College Wilts At Pony Attack

DALLAS, Oct. 10. (AP)—Southern Methodist university paraded a world of reserve power in crushing the Austin college Kangaroos, 34 to 0, at Ownby stadium today. Team after team was hurled at the visitors, and one looked about as good as another.

While little more than a hard workout for the Mustangs, the game provided Coach Ray Morrison with a very important discovery. He learned that in Kenneth Travis of Amarillo and Charlie Hearon of Greenville he has a pair of flashing sophomore backs who can go places with a football.

40 Ponies Play

Of the more than 40 Mustangs who cavorted during the afternoon, including 17 various and assorted backs, Travis and Hearon were outstanding. The Kangaroos never really stopped Travis, and it was seldom they checked the fleeting Hearon. Walstad of Pampa, another sophomore, also made several brilliant runs while he was in the fray.

After being held scoreless during the first quarter, once failing to count after gaining a first down on Austin's four-yard line, the Mustangs took on paprika midway of the second period and scored three times before the half. Travis was the spark plug, carrying the ball almost single-handed from the 27-yard line for the first touchdown, passing to Hopper 20 yards for the second, and returning a punt 40 yards for the third.

Walstad added another goal in the third period on a pretty seven-yard sprint off tackle, and Hearon put across the last one, plowing through five yards after a pass to Hawn had placed the ball in scoring distance.

Amarillo Player Stars

The name of one Kenneth Travis, of Amarillo, was written large in Mustang victory. He carried the ball across the line twice and added the extra point as many times.

Coach Morrison allowed his regulars to loaf on the bench for the most part, throwing them in the breaches only to run up additional points occasionally. The motley array of second and third string players was able to hold its ground but did little scoring unassisted.

The air-minded Mustangs gained an even 200 yards on seven successful passes, while 10 attempts were wasted. The Kangaroos spasmodically resorted to aerial efforts at times, but completed only three passes for 40 yards with nine failures.

Three thousand spectators saw S. M. U. register 21 first downs to a half dozen by the Kangaroos.

FROGS OPEN RACE WITH ARKANSAS TODAY

DALLAS, Oct. 10. (AP)—Two outstanding attractions fleck the Southwest conference grid program tomorrow, the opening game of the championship race at Fort Worth between Texas Christian and the University of Arkansas, and an intersectional bout here between the Texas Aggies and Tulane's Green Wave.

At Houston the Rice Owls also had an out-of-state foe on their hands, University of Arizona, but the invading Wildcats were not regarded as a serious threat to the Owls' undefeated, untied record. The University of Texas Longhorns were paired against the Howard Payne Yellowjackets, Texas conference kings, at Austin, and Baylor prepared to joust the Trinity Tigers on Carroll field at Waco.

Mustangs Rest

The weary Southern Methodist Mustangs faced a day of leisure, having entertained the Austin college Kangaroos here today. Of the two major tussles in North Texas, the Aggie-Tulane bout here promised to supply the greater fireworks, with the Greenies slight favorites over the Farmers.

Texas Christian, dedicating a costly new arena and with the inspiration of the 1929 championship banner floating from its peak, was a heavy favorite over the Razorbacks. Coach Thomsen of Arkansas, in fact, has conceded the decision to the Frogs by at least four touchdowns. His team came out of last week's combat at Tulsa university badly crippled.

The Frogs were in fine fettle and confident of getting away in front of the conference pack. Coach Francis Schmidt will start what is regarded as his strongest combination, including Leland at quarterback, Hinton and Spearman at halves, and Griffith on the wings.

Porkers Have Threat

Arkansas, according to reports, has one ball carrier who must be watched. He is Winton (Cowboy) Kyle, a brilliant man in a broken field. Although the Porkers were soundly trounced by Tulsa last week, the statistics revealed that Kyle gained 190 yards on running plays and returned punts and kickoffs another 88 yards.

Baylor and Texas were in line for some close inspection from conference scouts. The Bears' close scrap with Purdue last week awakened a suspicion that Coach Jennings at last has his team primed, and their showing against the heavy Trinity eleven will do much to clarify things. Trinity, say those who saw the Tigers trample Daniel Baker last week, is nobody's set-up.

The Longhorns, somewhat outplayed in their scoreless wallow with Centenary last week, will have to show the boys something against Howard Payne if they continue to occupy a contender's chair.

and stocks. New December contracts after selling off to 10.21 rallied to 10.44 and closed at 10.39. The general market closed steady at net advances of 10 to 12 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 6 to 10 points in response to the relatively easy Liverpool cables and some overnight selling orders which seemed to come partly from the South and were accompanied by reports of a little more hedging.

The comparatively small volume of southern selling here after the opening, came in for considerable comment, and some thought that hedging was being held off the market pending Monday's meeting of the cotton trade at New Orleans. Some scattered buying was also reported, possibly in anticipation of constructive developments at this meeting but the factors most generally mentioned on he advance were the comparative scarcity of contracts and the rallies in grain and stocks.

The New York cotton exchange service estimated domestic consumption for September at 385,000 bales compared with 352,000 in August and 546,000 last year. Liverpool cables said there had been hedging and local liquidation in that market. Exports today 9,486, making 1,513,920 so far this season. Port receipts 100,634. U. S. port stocks, 3,052,226.

Futures closed steady, 10 to 12 points higher. Spot, quiet; middling, 10.30.

Panicky Day in Stock Market Ends With Notable Recovery

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (US)—A hectic stock market, during which volume swelled above 6,000,000 shares and panicky conditions prevailed in various issues, today culminated in a sharp recovery which created substantial net gains throughout the list.

In a vicious drive against a particularly well-selected list of specific stocks, the bears created a serious situation which brought its own correction in that powerful banking buying, for the first time in many days, appeared and completely overpowered the bear selling. The rallies which ensued in these hammered stocks were spectacular as the declines, which were rather startling. The market was featured by the fitful decline and equally sensational recoveries in these issues, the weakness in which gave rise to renewed vicious rumors concerning the financial position of houses and individuals identified with the stocks, which reports were proven completely unfounded so far as difficulties of firms were concerned.

All developments of the day in industry and trade were completely submerged as the market responded only to its own internal conditions.

The market was still in the throes of the persistent but orderly selling when the entire list was thrown into a further sharp break by the outbreak of concentrated and huge selling in Fox Film, General Theaters Equipment, Utilities Power & Light, Loew's, Industrial Rayon and other similar issues.

The very viciousness of the selling wave overpowered all support in these stocks and they broke, respectively, nine, eight, eleven and thirty-four points at their lowest levels of the day. Loew's and Industrial Rayon weakness was immediately attributed to the forced liquidation of one of the former most active operators, who had been identified with these two issues. The Fox, Theaters and Utilities Power selling, while presumably inaugurated by a powerful bear clique hammering these stocks for weaks, undoubtedly brought out tremendous liquidation, with the probability that several tremendous accounts in these stocks were thrown overboard. It is understood, however, that the most gigantic of all accounts in these three stocks was only temporarily disturbed.

There is no question but that the buying which came into Fox, General Theaters and Utilities Power was for the account of one of the most powerful banking institutions in the country, whose support has always been furnished to these companies since last year's panic.

The extent of the rally, which probably caught many shorts unprepared, may be gauged from the net loss of 1¼ points in Fox, 2⅜ in General Theaters, and 2½ in Utilities Power and Light. Loew's, which attracted considerable scattered buying as it approached a 6 per cent yield, closed off 2⅜, but Industrial Rayon, recognized as a speculation, finished down 18 points on the day.

Under influence of the severe weakness in the above group, the entire list slumped to new lows, but it was quite obvious that a different kind of buying, far more important than anything witnessed in weeks, had developed. Steel Common reached a low of 144½, but it yielded very stubbornly and at the first display of relief in the more speculative issues the premier Steel issue rebounded sharply to register a net gain for the day of 3⅛ points. The experience was similar with most other high-grade stocks, after dipping into new low ground they reversed and closed higher on the day, with the average gain for leading industrials over six points. Public Utilities faring less favorably but gaining about a point and a half net, while Railroads shares closed with modest fractional gain.

To what extent short covering contributed to the day's recovery can only be guessed, but it is certain that during the weak spells considerable buying was accomplished by the bear element. But the principal buying came from banking sources. There was no concerted banking pool support, nor was any required. Nevertheless, there was definite evidence, and no pains were taken to obscure the information, that substantial buying orders had been placed in the market by interests identified with leading banks and banking houses.

Decline in U. S. Steel unfilled orders by 155,000 tons during September was ignored as a market factor, although the report was somewhat more pleasing than anticipated. The huge volume of transactions indicated that the market had seemingly reached the conclusion of its present phase of adjustment.

Crane County Well Makes 40 per Hour

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Oct. 10. (AP)—Cranfill Brothers Oil company and Gulf Production company's No. 1 J. B. Tubbs, west central Crane county wildcat well, which topped the pay Monday at 4295 feet, a record depth in the Permian lime, was flowing an average of 40 barrels hourly today, after having been drilled to 4300 feet.

The well's performance was heralded as the most important oil development in West Texas since group No. 1 Oil Corporation's No. 1-B University in Reagan county obtained production at 8525 feet.

When the well was first opened up last Tuesday it flowed a solid six-inch stream of oil for five minutes.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 10. (AP)—Fair demand was reported for all grains except sorghums today with traders getting together on price ideas although the sharp late advance in contract values still gave quoted prices a nominal appearance. Mills were bidding 89 to 90c for number 1 hard wheat of any protein and exporters remained out of the market.

Buyers were waiting for the new crop grain sorghums hoping for lower prices on that commodity.

Estimated receipts: Wheat, 22 cars; corn, 14; barley, 3, and sorghums, 3.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn, No. 2 mixed 95@96; No. 2 white or yellow 98@99.

Oats, No. 2 red 51@52.

Barley, No. 2 nominally 67@68.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 1.70@1.72; No. 2 kaffir 1.40@1.45.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 10. (AP)—Wheat prices developed notable strength today after early setbacks, and climbed as much as 3⅝c a bushel from the day's bottom level. Active buying on the part of previous sellers was an outstanding feature. Diminishing receipts of wheat and liberal export clearances attracted special attention of traders, and so likewise did statements by a leading authority here that wheat values had been thoroughly deflated months ago, that commodity purchasing power was the lowest since 1850, and that there was absence of intrinsic connection between stocks and grain.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm, 1⅛-2⅝c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¾-1⅝c up, oats at ⅝-1c gain, and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 25c.

Stubborn resistance to selling pressure in the grain pits was apparent today from the outset, and less notice was taken of stock market influences than has been the rule of late. This was especially the case with regard to downturns in security values.

Corn and oats followed wheat, with corn traders evening up to prepare for the government crop report. The official estimates of corn production turned out to be in excess of latest private forecasts, but not being based on husking returns appeared to lose somewhat in significance according to some trade experts. Oats temporarily touched new low price records for the season.

Provisions averaged lower, responsive to downturns in hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, December 77⅞-78, 82¼; March 81⅝, 85¾; May 84⅛, 88⅝; July, offers, 90. Corn, December 79⅝-⅝, 85⅝-⅞; March 80⅝, 86⅝; May 83⅛-⅝, 88⅝-⅞.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Oct. 10. (US)—Wheat traders derived optimism in the late trading today not only because of the recovery in stocks. A factor of perhaps greater importance was the fact that the wheat market had strongly resisted pressure fractionally above the recent lows and then displayed a heavily oversold condition. Most traders inclined to the opinion that a further recovery could easily follow further strength in stocks.

While the intepretation of the corn report was slightly bearish, some traders were outspoken in their views that considering the decline in corn values which appears based solely on stock weakness, the report should be discounted at these levels.

Curb bids on corn were slightly below the market's finish, but there were few offers that could be traced below the close.

Bulburd, Warren & Chandler say: "A significant feature of the present situation is the continued falling off of country offerings of grain in the face of almost constantly lowering prices. The only conclusion that can be drawn from this is that farmers are not letting the abnormal action of either the stock of the grain market stampede them."

Rumsey and company: "We believe that grains and commodities as well as stocks, are on the bargain counter today, and judging from the action of today's market we should say that the bargain hunters are beginning to shop."

HEARTBREAK GIRL

By ROB EDEN

the hotel Gail knew it was all wrong. Too expensive for her purse. The Spanish lobby frightened her, she followed Janson through it. She had planned to go to a cheap boarding house at first, something she could afford. Then when she was making more money, she could get a little apartment. This hotel worried her, but she was afraid to voice her fears to Janson. He seemed so sure of himself, so sure it was right for her to stay here.

A woman dressed in a pale shell pink chiffon dress passed.

Three diamond bracelets glittered on her right arm, and around her throat was a short necklet of the same stones. She left a trail of jasmine perfume behind her, and Gail still had a vision of her carmine lips, her white face long after she had passed. The face was disturbingly familiar but the girl could not place it. Some actress on the screen whom she had not seen many times.

She let Janson go to the desk and arrange a room for her, because he had quickly walked over to it when they entered, and because, too, she was afraid. He came to her presently, and handed her a key. "A nice room, reasonable, on the seventh floor, with a bath. Good night." He was turning away when she caught his arm. "When will I see you—about the test?"

"I'll call you tomorrow."

She explored her room thoroughly before she sat down. Done in Spanish style, with coarse crude effective hangings on the walls. A soft rug on the floor. Tile set in the dark oak dresser. Lovely.

Heaving a big sigh, she sank down in a lounge chair, and took off her hat. She had never dreamed of a room like this. Never. She had thought she would have a room something like she had at Aunt Margaret's. Plain, with an iron bed, and an improvised dressing table. A painted wardrobe in one corner. Frayed clean curtains at the windows. She had never known any other kind of room . . .

This was heaven! She snuggled further into the big chair. A grand beginning.

Her first day in Hollywood, and already she owed Mr. Walther $500. The sum was enormous to her. It was about Aunt Margaret's income in a year. Five hundred dollars. Would she ever be able to pay it back?

And this room? What was she paying for it? She would find out in the morning.

HULL NAMED FIELD UMPIRE

Wichita Man to Oversee Proration

L. V. Hull, Wichita Falls operator, was elected umpire for the North Texas oil fields Friday at a meeting of the proration committee of the North Texas Oil and Gas association. The committee was acting under authorization given by the executive board of the association at a meeting Sept. 22. Selection of an umpire was made in a secret ballot.

Mr. Hull announced he had accepted the appointment and he is expected to assume his duties about Oct. 15. Mr. Hull has been operating independently for the last several years. He formerly was general manager of the Wichita Pipe Line company and has a wide experience in transporting and marketing crude oil.

The duties of field umpires in Texas since the statewide proration order went into effect are mostly to guard against discriminations, assist orderly marketing of oil and to help producers in complying with conservation regulations. The expense of the new office will be borne by the producers of the district.

Mr. Hull will act as umpire in Archer, Baylor, Clay, Cooke, Foard, Montague, Wichita and Wilbarger counties.

53 New Oil Locations Staked in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10. (UP)—Oklahoma staked 53 new locations during the past week. Oklahoma county had the largest number of locations for new oil wells with 15.

The state's total initial production for the week was 64,178 barrels from 32 new producers. Six new gas wells had an initial estimated gas volume of 211,000,000 cubic feet. Oklahoma county with nine new wells producing 55,245 barrels of oil led the state in initial flow.

Twenty-one oil tests were abandoned in the state last week.

Huge Well Added To Van Pool Production

VAN, Texas, Oct. 10. (AP)—Estimated at between 60,000 and 75,000 barrels of oil daily, the George B. Anderson No. 1 W. A. York oil well blew in early today on the York 50-acre tract in the Van pool, Van Zandt county. It was the first independent well within the unified area in the pool and one of the pool's largest.

After running for 30 minutes for cleaning, the well was turned into storage tanks. When it first came in, it spewed oil 500 feet through a six-inch pipe. The location makes it possible to drill 10 offsets.

SHAFFER ADDS ONE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10. (UP)—Jack Shaffer added a new oil gusher to the city field today when the No. 1 Vinita park well in NW NW 2-11-3w blew in with an oil flow of 620 barrels the first hour and 15 minutes. The well was shut in when sand started cutting connections. Gas volume was estimated at 15,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Howard County Plans Road Issue

Special to The Record News.

BIG SPRING, Texas, Oct. 10.—Crystallization of sentiment in Howard county for a county-wide road bond issue has become much more apparent within the past week and it now appears an election will be called very soon.

It is proposed to provide funds for permanent improvements on highways 1 and 9, both state-federal roads, and for similar work on certain important county roads.

A county-wide road committee is in the process of organization, with representation from all parts of the county. At last week's meeting of the Business Men's club M. H. Morrison, for 20 years a leading advocate of good roads, declared his belief that the time was ripe for submitting the issue.

AIR EXPRESS OFFERED HERE

Local Agency to Handle W. A. E. Shipments

Express service by air to and from the principal cities of the nation is now available to Wichita Falls residents through the Railway Express agency and the Western Air Express, it was announced here Friday by Tom L. Davis of the express agency.

The Western Air Express, one of the principal lines of the nation, operates a schedule between Amarillo and Dallas through Wichita Falls and express shipments here will go out over the W. A. E. lines.

Rates for the new service are based on quarter pounds, and persons desiring to make shipments may bring their packages to the Railway Express agency in the same manner that packages are handled for railway express. The express agency will also pick up at the airport and deliver to the consignees all air express received here.

Chief Warns Boys On Breaking of Windows

Many complaints by residents in the western part of the city of gangs of boys breaking windows have been received by city police, according to Frank Burns, chief.

In most cases servant houses have been the object of the boys' atacks.

"We do not like to arrest boys on charges of this nature and we earnestly request that parents take some action to prevent occurrences of this kind," Chief Burns said. "We believe that parents can do more to stop this than we, but unless complaints cease, we will be compelled to arrest the offenders and turn them over to juvenile authorities."

STRAND: "The Santa Fe Trail" with Richard Arlen, Eugene Pallette, Junior Durkin and Mitzi Green. Charley Chase comedy, cartoon and sound news.

MAJESTIC: Fifi D'Orsay in "Those Three French Girls." Short subjects and sound news.

STATE: Jean Hersholt and Eleanor Boardman in "Mamba." Comedy and sound news.

Mitzi Green probably enjoyed making "The Santa Fe Trail" more than any picture in which she has appeared, for she gets to ride a horse in the newest Arlen westerner. And when Mitzi and Junior Durkin, who isn't so bad himself, tear down the road at about 50 clop-clops per minute and jump a brick wall as if they had been cowboys a few dozen years, the audience almost cheers.

The newest about Mitzi and Junior, incidentally, is that they are to be Tom Sawyer and Becky in the new Mark Twain picture to be released soon . . . but not soon enough.

There is something strangely familiar about the climax of "The Santa Fe Trail." When the villain suddenly crumples to the floor just after starting to blow Eugene Pallette's brains out, and Richard Arlen steps through the window, nonchalantly pocketing the gun that fired the happy ending, I seemed to remember something from somewhere that ended practically the same way. Of course, it might have been a dream . . .

Execpt for the advertisements, the program at the Strand is one of the best arranged here in some time. The news reel shows some really keen shots of a football game and some Chinese children being introduced to a toothbrush instead of Sir Thomas Lipton, Bobby Jones and Knute Rockne. The Charley Chase comedy is typically Charley Chasey, and the cartoon is one of the celeverest yet designed—worked out by someone who knows his "hants" and ghosties.

JAILED ON INDICTMENTS

Deputy Sheriff Dick Morris went to Paris Friday to bring back a negro and an automobile which the negro is charged with having stolen here in September. Warren Belcher, also a deputy under Sheriff W. G. Bralley, went to Sinton on a similar mission, the car in question allegedly having been stolen by a Mexican from the Ward Produce company here in August. Indictments were returned against both men by the October grand jury, it was stated.

Deputy Morris returned from Dallas Thursday with Truly Davis, indicted by the October grand jury on a charge of forgery, according to Sheriff Bralley.

Archer City To Join Caravan To Haskell Fair

Archer City will add several cars to the caravan leaving Wichita Falls Thursday to attend the Haskell county fair, according to Wilburn Page, secretary of the Junior chamber of commerce.

Grady Bell, manager of the Archer City Chamber of Commerce, and Frank Power, former mayor of Archer City, were in Wichita Falls Friday to attend the business council meeting, and expressed enthusiasm for the proposed trip to Haskell, promising to make an effort to add an Archer City group to the caravan.

Those already intending to make the trip from Archer City are Mr. and Mrs. Grady Bell, Frank Power, Ollie Brewer, Archer City princess to the fair, May Brewer and Mrs. C. A. Montgomery.

SEVEN BILLED IN TAX FRAUDS

New Orleans Grand Jury Returns Indictments

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10. (AP)—The Orleans parish grand jury today returned indictments against seven persons in connection with the tax frauds alleged to have been carried on by a group of former employes of the back tax bureau and other city departments through which thousands of dollars are reputed to have been stolen.

Those named in the indictments are Hugh Ritchie and William Kleinfeldt, former clerks in the delinquent tax office; John Scherer, former clerk in the treasurers' office; August Seeber and Lawrence T. Kirn Jr., former tax clerks; Sam Bosofsky, another city employe, and Henry Ulmer, a city hall clerk.

The indictments, practically the same in all the cases, charge embezzlement of public funds and forging and uttering as true certain documents for the purpose of committing fraud.

After reporting the seven indictments the grand jury resumed its deliberations of the past two weeks with the expectation that further indictments would be brought in.

Nearly two score witnesses already have been examined before the body.

District Attorney Eugene Stanley charged in his investigation of the fraud that back taxes were collected, during the past three years, false receipts issued and fraudulent entries made on the city's books.

HOMING PIGEON

A homing pigeon was caught Friday afternoon in the yard of Mrs. E. G. Scott, 1604 Pearl street. Mrs. Scott said that the bird was very thin and probably had been on a long flight. The figures "1366 Aug. '28" were on a band on the pigeon's leg.

"Getting out my heaters too early?....

You wouldn't think so if you'd had a party spoiled as I did last fall!"
"YOU HAVEN'T heard about my famous 'Alaskan' bridge party? I thought everyone knew about it by now. It happened about this time last fall. The weather seemed ideal. I worked like a Trojan and resolved never to attempt such a large party again. Along about ten o'clock that morning I thought it was getting chilly but I was so busy that I didn't notice it much. At two o'clock I began to worry because it was decidedly cooler, and by four it was so cold everyone was playing in their wraps. I was simply frantic . . . . every heater I had was stored away . . . . anyhow, it was too late to get them out. You can't imagine how embarrassed I was, because practically every friend I have was there. It cured me though . . . . the weather will never trick me again!"
Now is the time to get out your gas heaters to avoid any uncomfortable periods and perhaps embarrassing situations. Weather statistics show that during the fall in this section of the country we always have unexpected cold snaps blow up with but a moment's notice. Drop in at your local gas company or gas appliance dealer and inspect the latest model heaters they have on display. There is a gas heater, especially designed, for every room of your home. You will enjoy their new beauty and be glad to learn of their increased efficiency.
