Senate Passes Big Tax Revision Bill

Lubbock Looms As Certain Victor In District Contests

Final Decisions To Come After Athletic Meet

Local Contestants Run Up A Total Of 71½ Points With Plainview In Second Spot

By OPAL McMAHON
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

LEADING by a wide margin in literary contests conducted Friday and Saturday at Texas Technological college, Lubbock city schools appeared likely to win the all-around district championship.

Tabulation of points in literary events and volley ball as announced late Saturday by Dr. R. E. Garlin, director of awards, showed Lubbock placed first with 71 1-2 points; Plainview, second, 39 1-2 points; Lamesa, third, 29 points; and Crosbyton, fourth, 22 1-2 points.

Plainview Is Second

Winner of the all-around championship will be determined at conclusion of athletic events Friday and Saturday. Lubbock, champion of last year's meet, will win the meet this year unless Plainview places first in track and tennis singles and doubles, which would be unusual for one school.

Approximately 900 contestants and visitors came here for the meet Friday and Saturday. Dr. A. W. Evans, director general, estimated. Saturday brought ideal weather for contests, but a sandstorm and low temperature had caused postponement of outdoor athletic contests and had cut down attendance Friday.

Lubbock Wins Listed

Lubbock contestants secured points through winning second place in high school junior girls' declamation, 8 points, and first place in the following: Boys' extemporaneous speech, 15 points; girls' extemporaneous speech, 15; boys' debate, 20; high school senior boys' declamation, 7; high school senior girls' declamation, 7; tie for third place in volley ball, 2 1-2.

Many winners in the district meet will compete in the regional meet in Canyon April 23.

Hot Clue Found In Frome Case

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, April 9.—Confident they had found at last today the trail of the elusive killers of Mrs. Weston G. Frame, socially prominent Californian, and her daughter, Nancy, authorities tonight scoured the international border country of Southern Texas.

Object of their hunt was a mysterious, "nervous" blonde, believed

REWARD DOUBLED

AUSTIN, April 9. (AP) — Governor James V. Allred tonight doubled his previous $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer or slayers of Mrs. W. C. Frome and her daughter, Nancy, West Texas torture murder victims.

In addition to the $2,000, the governor offered $500 for information leading to recovery of missing baggage, clothing and personal effects of the California women. Rewards offered by private citizens bring the total to $3,500.

seen as late as yesterday at Sonora, Texas, 94 miles north of Del Rio, and a male companion.

Sheriff Is Confident

"I believe we have located the trail of the killers for the first time since the bodies of Mrs. Frome and Nancy were left on the desert," declared Sheriff Chris Fox, director of the widespread murder investigation.

The lagging, apparently stalemated investigation of the 10-day-old murder mystery was galvanized into new life by reports from Del Rio that the two suspects had been seen there a week ago.

The California women were tortured and slain a week ago Wednesday in the desolate mesquite reaches of the West Texas desert, and their bodies found near Van Horn last Sunday-night.

Probably In Mexico

Dove-taling information previously obtained, reports were sent Fox that the black coach driven by the blonde and her male companion carried California and New Mexico license

Colonel Visits Tech Show

COL. Earnest O. Thompson, of Amarillo, member of the Texas Railroad Commission and candidate for governor, returned to familiar ground here last night when he inspected the wonders of the tenth annual Engineers' show at Texas Tech. Col. Thompson was for five years a director of Texas Tech and has taken an active interest in the college since it founding.

"Visit Me At Mansion And Sleep In Sam Houston's Bed," Invites Thompson

THIS business of aspiring to the governorship after six years as a member of the state railroad commission is "only an application of the old lift-the-animal-as-a-calf-every-day-and-you-can-lift-him-when-he's-a-bull philosophy," said Col. Ernest O. Thompson, gubernatorial candidate, in Lubbock Saturday.

"Red" Thompson—he dislikes the battle-earned appendage of "Colonel"—sat in his Lubbock hotel governor's suite or dynamically paced back and forth when talking weighty legislation with an ebb and flow of friends or saying where the fish bite.

Human Sort Of Fellow

A human sort of fellow, this Ernest Thompson. He'd have to be. His bare feet were scorched plenty of times when, as a little red-headed button, he trudged along a five-mile Amarillo route delivering papers.

A kindly housewife once invited him in where there was shade and cold water. He wriggled his toes appreciatively and said:

"Do you know what I going to do when I get grown? I am going to make Amarillo the biggest town in the country, with street cars and everything, so newsboys won't have to walk so far delivering papers."

Some Of Dream Fulfilled

In the late 20's some of that dream began to be fulfilled. As "Amarillo's Fighting Mayor," he drew statewide acclaim by reducing every utility rate in the town, cutting of taxes and bringing a saving to taxpayers

Ohio Chemical Company Will Purchase Supply Of Helium

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP) — Secretary Ickes announced today the Ohio Chemical and Manufacturing company of Cleveland would be permitted to buy for $60 a shipment of helium that would have cost more than $6,000,000 in World war days.

The announcement was made in connection with the first consignment of helium to a non-governmental agency. It included 15 cylinders to be used in hospitals, clinics and sanitariums for the treatment of patients suffering from respiratory diseases.

City Attorney Of New Orleans Taken By Death Saturday

NEW ORLEANS, April 9. (AP) — Edward M. Robbett, 57-year-old city attorney, died suddenly today.

He was appointed city attorney in 1934 after serving as assistant city attorney from 1926. He had served in the legislature as senator and from 1907 had been a practicing lawyer in this city.

Bitter Struggle By FDR Looms

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—An historic upsurge of opposition appeared tonight to have forced Roosevelt administration leaders to abandon hope of regaining control of the 75th congress.

Instead, they looked for a fairly quick adjournment, to be followed by a tremendous, nation-wide struggle between the president and his critics in the 1938 political campaigns. It was considered certain the president would carry the fight for his policies to the voters, perhaps by a long stumping tour.

No Personal Recrimination

Mr. Roosevelt's first official reaction to the tremendous blow the house dealt his program by defeat of the reorganization bill last night was a letter declaring there should be no "personal recrimation" over the bitter fight.

He sent the following letter to Majority Leader Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.), one of the leaders of the unsuccessful struggle to put the re-

McCraw Favors Boost In Tax On Resources

First Part Of Platform For Race Revealed; Sales And Income Taxes Opposed

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 9.—Slightly higher taxes on natural resources, pipe lines and public utilities, provided additional revenue is needed to finance an adequate social security program, were advocated today by Attorney General William McCraw in the first part of his platform for the 1938 governor's race.

McCraw condemned both a general sale and an income tax and said sufficient governmental economies probably could be effected to permit the state to take a tax holiday. He added, however that old age pension grants must be somewhat enlarged.

To Leave For Florida

The attorney general will leave tomorrow for Florida for resumption of hearings on the E. H. R. Green inheritance tax case. He said the remainder of his platform would be made public either in his opening speech at Arlington two weeks hence or shortly before it.

The state liquor control board was singled out by McCraw as one spot where substantial savings can be made. He said the annual appropriation to the board could be reduced "probably a quarter million dollars" without serious impairment of its activities. He added that State Auditor Tom C. King had estimated governmental economics amounting to between $2,500,000 and $4,000,000 a year could be effected.

Program Is Ordered

"The people," he said, have ordered their state government to carry out a broader, more enlightened social welfare program. Failure to discharge this program will merely add uncertainty to those in need, will aggravate the uncertainty facing those upon whom the burder rests.

"The best estimates obtainable are that the teachers' retirement fund will need $2,250,000 on January 1. Child welfare will need $1,500,000—if Texas is to receive federal aid for this cause. To care for the blind will require $400,000. Old age assist-

Strong Government Will Start To Rule In France Today

PARIS, April 9. (AP) — France's "man of the hour," radical-socialist Edouard Daladier, met threats of disorder and increased strikes today with a blunt warning that a "strong government" would begin to rule the nation tomorrow.

Socialist leaders, after a long talk with the premier-designate, told deputies he planned to demand full decree powers in the economic and financial field for a period of six months.

Looks Like Filling Of This Role Will Prove Problem

VERNON, April 9. (AP)—The senior class of Vernon's negro high school, after considerable thought, has selected its annual class play.

It will be "Snow White and The Seven Dwarfs."

The "Snow White" role has not been cast.

Scenes As Icy Blizzard Gripped Texas

State Carriers Meet In City

Star Route Mail Carriers association of Texas offered support to Col. E. O. Thompson in his race for governor, at its second annual meeting Saturday night in Hilton hotel.

Price Bankhead, president of the association, in a response to a welcoming address of Durwood H. Bradley, city attorney, expressed need of a governor that would meet the demands of star route mail carriers. Immediately afterward, a banner lettered "Elect E. O. Thompson Governor of Texas," was lowered.

Wants New Industries

Earl C. Evans, executive secretary of the association, was master of ceremonies.

Speaking in behalf of the star route carriers, Thompson found fault with the present system of bidding on routes every four years.

Thompson pointed out that when he was mayor of Amarillo, all utility rates there were reduced and as railroad commissioner he was instrumental in obtaining utility rate reductions.

"Introduce new industries into Texas," Thompson said, "and make this state a working man's paradise and a rich man's dream."

State officers of the association attending the meeting were: Bankhead of Big Spring, prsident; J. P. Patterson of Childress, vice-president; Mrs. R. W. Cudd of Matador, secretary-treasurer; W. R. Fleming of Channing, national legislative director, and Clifford Hultquist of Ganado and L. W. Segler of Albany, state directors.

He is president for this year of the college YM-YWCA.

He will work toward his master's degree at M. I. T.

"Who's your Hollywood favorite?" Charlie was asked.

Doors Of England's Court Are Closed

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to Great Britain closed the doors of the Court of St. James today to American women, who are merely visiting in London.

He wrote Senator Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass) he considered "undemocratic" the practice of American ambassadors in selecting every year a "small number of young ladies from a long list, every few, if any, of whom he has ever seen."

Accordingly, Kennedy said he had concluded to confine presentations to the families of American officials in England and to members of American families who are domiciled in England.

Temple Man Named President Of Texas Ex-Students Unit

AUSTIN, April 9. (AP)—Reunion dinners, a parade, election of officers for the Ex-Students' association and several sports events featured the second and concluding day's celebration of the annual University of Texas Round-Up today.

Governor James V. Allred, acting President J. W. Calhoun, university regents and other dignitaries participated in a three-mile long parade which included more than 50 floats built by student organization and several bands.

Hulon W. Black of Temple was re-elected president of the Texas Ex-Student association.

Business Given Boost; Profits Costs Stricken

Proposal To Broaden Income Tax And Hike Surtax Rates Of Individuals Killed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9—A $5,000,000,000 tax revision bill, overhauled by the senate finance committee in an announced effort to encourage business, went through the senate today without an audible "no" vote.

Shorn from the measure was the administration's tax on undistributed profits, much criticized by business; and the capital gains tax was sharply modified.

Goes To Conference

A joint conference committee now will seek to adjust differences between the senate measure and a far different bill passed by the house.

A surprise 34 to 33 vote in the senate inserted in the bill a proposal by Senator Borah (R-Ida) to make interest on future issues of governmental securities subject to federal income taxes. This interest now is exempt.

May Be Striken Out

The Borah proposal was opposed by Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) and Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the administration leader. Removal of the tax exemption, Barkley contended, would bring no net revenue to the government, because higher interest would have to be paid on federal issues.

Informed tax authorities said the Borah proposal probably would be stricken out by the conference committee.

The senate rejected the often-offered proposals of Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) to broaden the income tax base and increase surtax rates on individual incomes.

The base broadening proposal, which would have cut exemptions from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons and from 1,000 to $800 for single individuals, was killed on an oral vote.

La Follette argued his proposal

Winter Relaxes Its Cold Grip

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Floods drove hundreds from southern river basins today while winter reluctantly relaxed its grip on the rest of the country.

In the deep south, the Coosa, Alabama and other central Alabama rivers surged toward predicted record crests while coast-guardsmen and other rescuers raced to air endangered households.

Freezing In Some Areas

Freezing weather in some sections of Dixie threatened to add to suffering and blast young crops.

Warmer weather cut into the snow blanket that stretched northeast from the Texas Panhandle to the upper Atlantic coast.

Red Cross reports showed a toll of 82 killed, 612 injured and 109 homes destroyed by sporadic tornadoes and floods which swept south and central United States between March 28 and April 7.

44 In Last Three Days

Unofficial reports indicated 44 of those deaths had occurred within the last thre days.

National hadquarters of the Red Cross announced it would maintain twenty-four hour office service to send aid wherever it might be needed. However, the weather bureau predicted warmer weather tomorrow for much of the middle west and eastern seaboard.

Yesterday 12 relief workers were ordered to strategic points of central Alabama and Mississippi. They were detailed to be ready for floods arising from the unseasonal snowfall caused by falling temperatures through the Mississippi valley and great plains states. Some rivers in

Mother Welcomes Her Son For First Time In Patrol Wagon

CHICAGO, April 9. (AP)—Mrs. Frances Grant welcomed her infant son for the first time when he came home today in a patrol wagon.

The 24-year-old mother got only a glimpse of her boy, Ronald, after his birth March 26 because he was placed in an incubator.

The baby was started for home yesterday in a portable incubator in a physician's automobile, but a snowstorm stranded the car in a park and police were summoned to complete the journey.

Republic Steel Is Blamed For Death Of Three Strikers

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP) — The labor relations board blamed the Republic Steel corporation today for the death of three "little steel" strikers last July 11 in a riot near the corporation's Massillon, Ohio, mill.

Backing up the unsuccessful C. I. O. strikers for the second time this week, the board decided the Republic had violated the Wagner labor disputes act on eight counts before and during the bitterly fought dispute.

Hitler Says Invasion Of Austria Was Will Of God; 50,000,000 Vote Today

(By The Associated Press)

VIENNA, April 9. — Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler tonight justified his whirlwind annexation of Austria, by declaring it was "the will of God" and pleaded for 50,000,000 voters to endorse the creation of the greater Germany in tomorrow's plebiscite.

Addressing 30,000 wildly cheering followers in the final appeal of the plebiscite campaign, the Austrian-born Hitler exclaimed:

"I believe it was the will of God to send this little boy to Germany to make him fuehrer of the reich and to bring Austria back to Germany."

He warned his enemies never to attempt to seize power here because 75,000,000 Germans would rise against them.

"Now I am in power and I shall not give it up."

In another breath he said his name "will stand out forever as the son of this great country."

Pleading for a favorable vote tomorrow, he declared:

"Just as you don't have to be ashamed of me, I don't want to be ashamed of you . . ."

Millions of Germans throughout greater Germany and elsewhere listened in to a broadcast of the speech.

Their day is tomorrow when they will vote on Austro-German union, effected after German troops marched into Austria, March 12, and the new reichstag of the greater Germany.

Nothing in the 1,900 years of Austria's recorded history stood as an equal to the demonstrations with which the nazis made their last bid for favor in the

Pampa Survivor Will Recover

PAMPA, April 9. (AP)—W. I. Martin, lone survivor from asphyxiation of eight persons who sought warmth in a snow-bound oil field home, regained consciousness today and physicians said he probably would recover.

First reported to have lost his life also in the tragedy, Martin was carried with great dificulty over highways deep in snow to a hospital in Pampa. He was barely breathing when neighbors broke down a door to the home and found it filled with fumes from burning gas stoves.

List Of Dead

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Turner and their two children, Leroy, about 10, and Anova Fay, 8. Mrs. W. I. Martin, Edwin Martin, 10, and Betty Joe Martin, 6.

The Turners formerly resided in Carnegie, Okla., and the Martins in Bristow, Okla., and relatives from that state were expected here today to make funeral arrangements.

The Martins were spending the night at the Turner home, and investigators said the victims apparently were overcome in their sleep.

Mrs. Martin's body was found on the floor of one of the bedrooms, and officers theorized that she collapsed as she sought to reach safety.

President Roosevelt Considering Extended Ocean Fishing Trip During Summe

Voyage May Be To The Azores

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—President Roosevelt, close friends disclosed today, is considering a summer fishing trip that would take him by warship to one of three areas far from the United States.

While a final decision rests on when congress adjourns, it was said he was thinking of boarding a cruiser at some southern port around mid-July to strike out for the far off Azores and Madeira islands in the lower Atlantic,, the Leeward and Windward islands in the Caribbean, or the Galapagos islands in the Pacific.

Looking For New Paradise

Having trolled Florida waters last December and the western Gulf a year ago, the president was described as looking for a new fisherman's paradise.

The vacation trip would take him far from the political scene at a time when many primary election campaigns are at their peak. It would end soon enough, however, to permit a speaking trip or two before late primaries and the November election.

Might Go To Bat

Mr. Roosevelt has indicated indirectly his wish for re-election of certain senators and his friends said they would not be surprised to see him go to bat for some others.

Friends said that while there had been only "general talk" thus far of the three alternative voyages, it was a good bet one of them would materialize.

The trip probably would require a month and be made either on the heavy cruiser Indianapolis used on the South American good will voyage in 1936, or one of the navy's newly commissioned 10,000-ton cruisers—the Brooklyn, Philadelphia or Savannah.

Annual election of officers will be added feature of the luncheon at Hilton hotel Wednesday at which A. C. Raines of Dallas will be honor guest of South Plains chapter of the Texas association of Life Underwriters, according to announcement Saturday by Chas. A. Whitacre, president here.

Present officers of the chapter, additional to Whitacre, are Sam A. Henry, sr., vice president, and Gradie W. Bownds, secretary-treasurer. Nominating committee members are Neil Wright, Dude Buster and Earl Hunt.

Raines' address on the subject, "How to Get Started and How to Keep Going," will be the sixth of a monthly series arranged for Texas clubs by O. D. Douglas of San Antonio, president of the state association.

Raines is agency director of the Dallas division of the Great Southern Life Insurance company, described as one of the largest in the south, having sold approximately $125,000,000 in life insurance since he took charge in 1924. While an agent in the field he was credited with having sold more than $1,000,000 worth of life insurance during each of five consecutive years.

Whitacre also announced Saturday that Rayford B. Hills has been appointed chairman of a committee to investigate and report on the proposal that the chapter here be incorporated; that Bownds has been named delegate to the national association convention in Houston next September, that Buster will be in charge of local arrangements for participation in national insurance week next May, and that Hunt is chairman of the membership committee.

Enrollment For Jal Is Record

JAL, N. M., April 9. (Special) — Net enrollment of the Jal school system is about 465, a record, with an average of about 425 in attendance. J. L. Burke, jr., superintendent, reports.

The district is completing an 8-room addition, to be used for grade work. Sakes and Ingle of Lubbock were contractors and M. C. Butler, Lubbock, the architect.

No Mexican Students

There is not a Mexican student in the school, Burke said. In one corner of the district are two Mexican families, but they have been sending their children to another district, as the bus from that district passed by their home. Not a single negro child attends school. There are several negro families but none have a child of school age.

Jal is the fourth wealthiest district in Lea county, with a property valuation of over $3,500,000. Hobbs has a $7,000,000 valuation; Eunice, $6,000,000 and Monument, $4,500,000.

Burke formerly attended Texas Technological college, Lubbock and holds an M. A. degree from a summer session three years ago. He taught at Hobbs and also in Texas before coming here. Recently he rejected an offer to leave Jal for another district.

IT'S NEWS!

The Standard Tudor

FOR YEARS, only the biggest, most costly cars had 8-cylinder engines. When the Ford V-8 engine was first introduced, people welcomed the finer performance that 8 cylinders provided, but kept their fingers crossed on economy. It somehow seemed as if 8 cylinders had to use more gasoline.

But the news spread that Ford V-8 cars were giving just as good gas mileage as cars that did not offer 8-cylinder advantages. Good design, not number of cylinders, determined economy. By last year, four million people had stepped up to the 85-horsepower V-8 class. Then the slightly smaller 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was introduced.

Reports soon rolled in from owners averaging 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. More than any Ford car had ever given! A new standard of economy — a low price — and the smoothness of 8 cylinders! That was NEWS!

America bought 300,000 Ford V-8 "60s" the first year and is still buying. If you'd like to know why — if you'd like to save money all ways — see and drive the 1938 version of this thrifty, modern car.

Nation's Foremost Sailplane Pilots Gather At Wichita Falls For Flights

Ideal Weather Is Predicted

By JAMES S. PAYNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WICHITA FALLS, April 9.—Some of the nation's foremost sailplane pilots will attempt during a five-weeks expedition opening here tomorrow to prove motorless flight feasible anywhere in the United States.

They hope by hitch-hiking on wind currents of West Texas' vast open spaces to dispel the popular fancy soaring and gliding were meant only for sections of rough terrain.

Ideal Conditions Forecast

Ideal flying conditions were forecast for tomorrow in the wake of West Texas' April weather onslaught.

Lewin B. Barringer of Philadelphia, general manager of the Soaring Society of America, which is sponsoring this first American plains-country expedition, arrived yesterday with a crew of three.

Chet Decker of Glenrock, N. J., 1936 national soaring champion, and Richard C. Du Pont of Wilmington, Del., society president and holder of the American distance record of 188 miles, planned to attend later.

Dr. Karl O. Lange, of the Harvard university metecrological research departments, was to arrive Tuesday as official observer.

Robert Lee Moore was to head a Gainesville, Tex., crew and Duane Skiles a Denton, Tex., group.

Tulsa Is Destination

Tulsa had been tentatively approved by officials as the destination in competition for the $1,000 Martindale prize awaiting the first pilot flying more than 200 miles to a pre-determined goal.

Planes owned by Du Pont, Decker, and Vernie Ross of Wichita Falls were to serve visiting pilots. A fourth was being built here for the society by Harland Rose, 1937 American titlist.

Short public exhibition flights were planned on Sundays unless wind conditions promised record flight possibilities.

Sailplane and glider flying has been done mostly in rough areas where horizontal wind currents strike sides of hills or mountains, "bounce up," and create updrafts which lift motorless craft to heights from which they can glide until caught and boosted by another.

But it was discovered updrafts prevailed invariably under certain types of clouds, particularly the cumulus variety, which have dome tops and flat bases. They abound over the West Texas Plains country.

The sailplane pilot in level country hitches his craft to a winch tow cable to get into the air. He then cuts loose and hunts for an updraft —those currents which create "bumps" in normal powered flight—to gain altitude.

Barringer said he hoped the plains experimental expedition would prove the ease of motorless flight in any part of the United States. He voiced the hope also sailplaning would become a prime American sport, as much international rivalry has developed.

The present world distance record —made in level, plains country—is held in Russia. No world soaring record is held in the United States.

European nations, sensing the military value of mass education in flying, were quickest to encourage gliding.

First Detailed Record Of Yaqui Indians' Easter Festival To Be Filmed At Party

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

First detailed record, including motion pictures, of a religious festival still old when recorded tribal history began was disclosed Saturday as the especial objective of the third Holden expedition to the wildest Yaqui Indian country of old Mexico.

Dr. William Curry Holden, leader of the party and four others who have specialized tasks, left early Saturday on schedule, trailing a heavily loaded supply truck which departed Friday. They expect to reach their destination Tuesday night, travelling the last 200 miles through a desolate, rugged untamed waste where they will be fortunate to maintain an average speed of eight miles an hour.

Eight In Party

Leaving with Dr. Holden were Dr. J. C. Wagner, who will continue study of medical practices among the Yaquis; Dr. G. C. Turner, who will study the teeth of native children; Dr. J. C. Anderson, who will make motion pictures; and Winston Reeves, Lubbock commercial photographer. Those aboard the supply truck were Reeves Henly, Winford Baze and Lewis Jones, students in the arts and sciences department at Texas Technological college.

Dr. Holden is dean and director of historical, archaeological and anthropological research at Tech and director of West Texas museum.

Returning By Invitation

In some respects, the expedition is unique among those which have been permitted to make studies of the untamed tribes in Mexico. For one, they are returning there by the specific and cordial invitation of the chiefs of the particular people they are to visit. For another, they will go there with the assurance from a people who ordinarily fear cameras that they will be permitted to "make all the pictures they wish."

The picture making condition was one of those specifically laid down by Dr. Holden, after receiving an invitation to visit the tribes, before he would agree to organize another expedition. Dr. Holden subsequently learned that this condition was discussed at great length at a conclave of tribal chiefs a few Sundays ago. They sent word from that conference that "we can deny our American friends nothing they may ask."

Made With Strategy

That attitude, Dr. Holden related, contrasts sharply with the reception of the first expedition in April, 1934. Then the Americans were received with frank suspicion. The only pictures then made were the result of strategy. Dr. Wagner, for example, made motion pictures through a hole in his shirt.

The fact that the attitude has changed was attributed by Dr. Holden to what he termed some "lucky breaks" which enabled them to win the confidence of the Yaquis. One of those "breaks" was a surgical operation performed by Dr. Wagner to remove a bullet which an old Indian fighter had received in his back many years before.

The particular people the expedition are to visit are described as being perhaps the only unconquered Indian tribe on the North American continent. They are centered about the small native village of Torin, on the flank of Bacatete mountains about 300 miles south of Nogales, Ariz., and within 30 miles of the Gulf of Lower California. The mountains are a comparatively small detached range covering an area somewhat larger than Lubbock county. Those mountains, although supposedly rich in minerals, have never been explored by white man. The Mexican government never has succeeded in conquering them, although military garrisons are located in Torin and other villages.

Slavers Made Them Captives

First to penetrate the region were the Jesuit priests who adjusted themselves to conditions and won the confidence of the natives, not only for themselves but for all white men. As a consequence, according to history, slavers who later appeared were warmly received, and were enabled to make captives of many of the Yaquis, most of whom died as slaves in silver mines.

The result was a heritage of suspicion and hate toward all white people which has continued to the present, and of armed neutrality with occasional guerrilla outbreaks between Mexicans and the "unreconstructed" Yaquis, among whom every boy and man is constantly armed with rifle, pistol and knife, all of which they use expertly.

Found Pagan Rituals

The early Jesuits found certain pagan rituals prevalent among the tribesmen. Instead of trying to stamp out those rituals, in which many native dances of origin perhaps a thousand or more years ago were a colorful feature, the missionaries undertook to give them new meaning. In this they succeeded to the point where the religious festivals became a blending of rituals of the church with the dances, chants and costumes of paganism.

Most colorful of the festivals in the particular village of Torin was described as being the Fiesta de Gloria, a pre-Easter pageant, which has been presented annually with religious significance for perhaps 300 years or longer. This is the event of which the Lubbock expedition will make record.

Have Held More Aloof

While Fiestas de Gloria are not unusual in themselves, the pageant in each village has characteristics peculiarly its own to be found no where else in the world. There is a strong probability, it is believed, that the Yaquis of Torin village, having held more aloof from white man's influence than perhaps any other tribe, may be nearer to complete uniqueness than any other.

The pageant is described as being a sort of passion play depicting the crucifixion, resurrection and ascension of Christ. The fiesta begins Wednesday night and continues without interruption until Sunday noon. It involves continuous chanting, marching and dancing, with every tone and step among the thousands supposedly having a significance peculiarly its own. Some of the participants do not sleep, or rest from the moment the celebration begins until it ends. Most of the others "cat-nap" at infrequent intervals, all taking a minimum of nourishment and water while the fiesta continues.

The new expedition, Dr. Holden hopes, will make possible an accurate check as to how closely the fiesta follows schedule. Members of the first expedition worked in relays, with the result that record was made of the exact time when various phases of the pageant began. If it should develop that the same schedule is followed this year as in 1934, it will be accepted as evidence that the fiesta has been presented in almost identical form further back than history goes.

Dr. Holden said, on departure, the expedition probably will return to Lubbock April 21.

Two Considered For Texas Post

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 9.—Dr. Luther H. Gulick of Columbia university and Dr. Homer Price Rainey, native Texan and director of the American Youth commission, are being seriously considered for the presidency of the University of Texas, an informed source disclosed today.

The university's board of regents may further discuss selection of a new president at a conference here tomorrow but final action probably will not be taken until in June. The field of possibilities has been narrowed to six.

Graduate Of Austin College

Dr. Rainey is a graduate of Austin college, Sherman, Texas, where he played football some 20 years ago.

Dr. Gulick, 46, is professor of municipal science and administration at Columbia.

Regents said that despite the $17,500 annual salary they were authorized to pay the new president they were not being swamped with applications from the nation's outstanding educators.

Skeleton Of Negro Located In Well

BEAUMONT, April 9. (AP)—Officers today lifted from a Tyler county well the skeleton of a negro and filed charges of murder against Joe Collier, former runner for a disbarred Jefferson county attorney.

District Attorney R. M. Briggs of Silsbee, whose three months investigation of the bizarre case led to discovery of the body and filing of the slaying charge, said he obtained a statement from Collier.

Another murder charge in the case will be filed today, Briggs said.

Beaumont police, Hardin county deputies and Sheriff T. A. Nicholson of Tyler county found the skeleton after information furnished by a Houston negro several days ago.

Willie Ray, the slain negro, had been awarded a $275 compensation claim after suffering an injury while working for a trucking contractor Briggs said. He disappeared Sept. 6, 1935.

Investment In New Homes In First Quarter Of 1938 Tops Figure For 1937

Heavy Spending Reported Here

Investment in new home construction here during the first quarter of 1938 exceeded that for the same period of 1937 by 126 per cent.

Such investments this year exceded by $111,604 the expenditures for new construction of ALL types in the corresponding period a year ago.

Duplex Houses Built

In January, February and March of this year, 201 places of habitation have provided homes for a total of 218 families. Corresponding figures last year were 65 places and 81 families. The fact that there are more families than structures is accounted for by the duplex houses built within the periods.

These facts were disclosed Saturday from the records of the three months compiled at the city building inspector's office at the request of the federal department of labor.

Totals Are Shown

Here are the comparative home construction totals by months in the quarters:

Monday—	1937	1938
January	$ 58,600	$ 60,416
February	24,035	115,957
March	66,625	160,955
Totals	$149,260	$337,328

Margin this year over last, $188,068.

This year, 47 new homes were built in January, 68 in February and 86 in March. Corresponding figures in 1937 were 20, 18 and 27.

The amazing preponderance of home building this year is further emphasized by the fact that permits for all types of construction in the first three months of 1937 totaled $225,724, which is $111,604 short of the total for new homes alone in 1938. The first quarter total for all building in the period this year was $543,575, according to the official records.

Election Of County Seat Of Ward County Set May 10

BARSTOW, April 9. (AP)—Ward County Judge Fred P. Snelson today ordered an election May 10 on petition for removal of the county seat from Barstow to Monahans.

Approximately 1,500 persons in the Monahans precinct had signed the petition.

The attorney general's office ruled no other name could be placed on the ballot with that of Monahans, but that voters might write in their choice on the ballot.

Arkansas Convict Is Given Long Term

REFUGIO, April 9. (AP)—A jury in state court, first rebuked for an earlier decision, today found Harry Wells, escaped Arkansas convict, guilty of robbery with firearms and assessed his punishment at 99 years in prison.

Wells, also under federal indictment for the robbery of the Luling State bank March 5, grinned when the verdict was read. No notice of appeal was given.

The convict was tried here for the robbery of Curtis Peoples. He was ordered returned to the United States marshal at San Antonio.

The jury, which started deliberations yesterday afternoon, handed its first decision to Judge J. P. Pool, who glanced at it and handed it back to the foreman with the remark:

"I cannot receive that kind of a verdict under the law."

Fifteen minutes later it returned its 99-year verdict.

REWARD IS OFFERED

BARSTOW, April 9. (AP) — The Ward county commissioners court today authorized payment of $100 toward the growing reward for information leading to arrest and conviction in the Frome murder case.

Courthouse Park Soon Will Be Stocked By Squirrels; Other Parks May Get Them

Courthouse park soon will be stocked with squirrels unless "Uncle Andy" Gillespie should lose his patience.

This was the word received Saturday by K. N. Clapp, chairman of the city park board, who believes that tamed squirrels which would beg for nuts and other goodies would add an attraction to city parks. He proposes that they be put in Courthouse park first, because escape would be difficult, and then to distribute the increase to other parks as they became tamed.

Experiences Difficulty

However, he experienced difficulty in securing the desired gray variety of squirrel, finally enlisted the aid of Gillespie who then was visiting his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Rodgers, 1906 Broadway, Lubbock.

Before Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie returned to their home recently at Lometa, Lampasas county, a great "squirrel country," he promised to see what he could do.

Advices Saturday said that boys had captured a number of young sqirrels—so young, in fact, that they cannot be shipped. The letter added that Gillespie first fed them with a medicine dropper and that now they are large enough to take milk out of a spoon. He was uncertain, however, how long it will be before they may be large encugh to take care of themselves.

Attitude Of Lubbock Men Upon Business Conditions Sought

Attitudes of Lubbock business and professional men toward national business conditions and government policies are being obtained in a survey to be completed Tuesday by a class in Economic Cycles and Business Forecasting taught by Dr. Karl E. Ashburn at Texas Technological college.

Questions are asked concerning primary causes of the current business recession, what the government should do to improve economic conditions, which if any of the various government agencies should be abolished, which government policies have contributed to the recession and to economic stability, belief in general philosophy of the New Deal, and whether the federal budget should be balanced in the immediate future even though such action might increase economic distress.

Approximately 40 men, including some government officials, will have been questioned during the survey, begun April 1 by 15 students, said Dr. Ashburn.

Senator Connally Says Desperate Situation Is Facing The Cotton Farmers

Support Of Tax Plan Is Urged

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP) — Senator Connally (D-Tex) said today a "desperate" situation was in prospect for the south's cotton farmer in the 1939 season.

Urging support of a tax bill amendment seeking processing levies on agricultural products, Connally said acreage levies reduced under the new farm program, from 18,000,000 to about 11,500,000.

Must Provide Money

It is the duty of congress, he said, to provide money to supplement the farmer's earning, adding the $110,000,000 available from the general revenue fund fould fall far short of the requirement.

"Where are you going to get this money if you don't get it from a processing tax?" he demanded.

The Texan said only soil conservation benefits could be paid out of money now available, leaving no provision for parity payments.

'Transplanted' Solar System Exhibited At Tech During Show

The universe was placed on the campus of Texas Technological college for the Friday and Saturday Engineers show.

The scale model of each celestial member in its relative position to the sun was biult by Dr. R. S. Underwood and members of his astronomy class. The bodies were placed on six-inch platforms beside the walk east of the main Engineering building at the college.

A clay ball representing the sun, 10.4 inches in diameter, was placed opposite the north end, and the planets were ranged scuth of it, the most distant one shown, Saturn, being near the flagpole in the center of the campus.

Foot To Million Miles

Using a scale of one foot for each million miles, the model of the earth is exactly 92.9 feet from the sun, representing the 92,900,000 miles solar distance. Mars will be 141.5 feet, indicating a celestial span of 141,500,000 miles. Other "transplanted" bodies are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

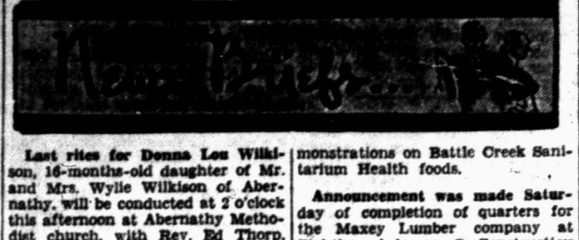

Were it possible to accelerate the velocity of light commensurate with the physical scale employed by Dr Underwood and his assistants, then light would pass from the earth's sun to the other planets at the rate of 2,235 inches a second, in comparison with the 186,772 miles a second, rated in solar space.

Couldn't Set It Up

Distance, still on the modified scale, to the nearest neighbor sun would be 4,630 miles — so that if Dr. Underwood had installed another clay ball to represent that body he would have been compelled to set it up about where Buenos Aires is, or Paris.

The present model, which was built specifically for the show, is to test this method of representation, and is said to be the first attempt of this kind in the world. If this method proves successful, plans will be worked out to have a more carefully designed model built that will become a permanent feature on the campus.

Assisting Dr. Underwood in preparing the models were Charley Davis of Lubbock, Roy Sanders of McCamey, and L. V. Assiter of Floydada.

Scout Egg Hunts Are Arranged

Six Easter egg hunts have been arranged for Boy Scouts of South Plains council next Saturday and Sunday, according to announcement at council headquarters here Saturday.

Biggest of the events will be at Mackenzie park from 3 to 4:30 p. m. Saturday for scouts and cubs of Lubbock, Slaton, Post and Tahoka. J. C. Reynolds, chairman of the committee in charge, said approximately 2,000 eggs will be hidden, some of them carrying prizes.

Other Hunts Scheduled

Other hunts in the council will be from 2:30 to 4 p. m. Sunday. They are, with sponsors and chairmen of the committees in charge:

Brownfield, district scout committee, chairman to be named; Crosbyton, Lions club, R. H. Orman; Lamesa, district scout committee, A. G. Bearden; Matador, Lions club, J. R. Whitworth; and Plainview, Elks club, C. A. Butcher.

TO DISCUSS CIRCUS PLANS

Two meetings Monday will continue with preparations for the council-wide scout circus at Texas Technological college stadium, May 6, according to M. E. Heard, chairman of the general committee.

At 5 p. m., the Slaton committee will meet at the office of J. H. Brewer, activities chairman there, at the call of Weber Williams, general chairman, to discuss participation in the camp, activities for the next month and the camping program.

At 6:15 p. m., the general circus committee will meet at Hilton hotel here to complete plans for an encampment at Camp Post next week-end for scouts who will be members of good will parties April 28 and 29 intended to publicize the circus.

Three good will groups will leave Lubbock simultaneously April 28 and will present programs in every community in the 20 counties in South Plains council, according to J. D. McPhaul and Hugh Dryer, co-chairmen of the tours committee. Transportation, meals and lodging will be supplied the boys on the trip. Each group will consist of 16 scouts and several leaders, the chairmen said.

TRAINING COURSES SET

Leadership training courses are to open at Floydada First Christian church Monday night and at Matador High school auditorium Wednesday night, each at 7:30 o'clock, according to Lyndon T. Grant, assistant council executive.

Walter Travis will preside at Floydada and Paul Eubanks at Matador. Five night sessions will be held with recesses Saturday and Sunday.

Other meetings in the council announced by Grant were the northern district executive committee at Young's cafe, Floydada, at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, and the eastern district committee at Ralls Thursday at 7:30 p. m. George Kirk will preside at Floydada and Ned Hogan of Spur at Ralls.

REGISTRATIONS SET RECORD

Total registration of 205 scouts for summer camps to begin May 29 is larger than on the date of actual starting of encampments in any previous year, Marshall Mason of Post, council camp chairman, reported Saturday. Indications are that more than 500 boys will be registered this year, he said.

The unusually large number is attributed to the fact that Go-to-Camp clubs were inaugurated this year, offering a bonus to scouts who accumulated their fund a dime at a time.

Construction Of Electrification Lines In Area Will Be Started By April 20

Working Order Said Received

Construction of rural electrification lines in Lubbock county will begin before April 20, according to H. B. Lee, Rural Electrification administration field engineer who arrived here Saturday with the information that the working order had been issued the preceding day.

According to the contract between the South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., and Mattison-Wallack and company, work must begin within 10 days after receipt of the order.

Specifications Given

According to specifications, the three lines will run: (1) from Tahoka along the highway to Woodrow, then east through Union and east and north to Posey; (2) from Avenue P in Lubbock to Southwest Ward, thence to Levelland highway and from there to Hurlwood; and (3) from Lubbock along the Canyon school road to Acuff, with a branch turning north at Canyon school to Idalou and Liberty school, thence west to College avenue and thence north and south three miles each direction.

Charles C. Fagg, project superintendent, received information that the contractors have completed all necessary arrangements for materials and supplies and are ready to launch construction work. Barring unusual circumstances, the contractors expect to complete the first unit of 116 miles within two months.

Board Of Directors

Members of the board of directors of the cooperative organization are W. M. Ross, president; C. Z. Fine, vice-president; A. B. Allen, secretary-treasurer; M. H. Vardeman; S. S. Allcorn, C. E. Lilley and L. E. Countess.

Ross, in discussing the project, urged farmers to wire their houses immediately for electricity.

"The lines will be up in two months," he said, "and naturally everyone will want lights and power just as soon as they can get them. Wiring early will avoid a last-minute rush."

Two civil actions were filed Saturday in the United States district court here with Mrs. Olive Fluke, deputy clerk.

The United States, through its district attorney, Clyde Eastus, filed suit against H. C. Ragland and the Port City Warehouse and Compress company relative to seven bales of cotton which allegedly were stored at the warehouse, which assertedly were sold to Ragland, and on which the government had issued a loan.

The Liberty Mutual Insurance company brought an action against Frank M. Billman of Tahoka, Lynn county, to get aside a ruling of the Industrial Accident board made in the action of Billman, employe, against Texas Utilities company, employer, and the insurance company, assurer.

120-Passenger, 300-Mile-An-Hour Sky Mammoth Designed For Oceanic Duty

America will have a titanic super-clipper winging its way to Europe in half a day, with 120 passengers and a crew of 16 on board, if designs issued by the Seversky Aircraft Corporation are carried out. The new air liner has a 250-foot wing span, can carry 43,000 pounds over 5000 miles at a minimum speed of 250 miles an hour. In case of national emergency it could be converted into a super-dreadnaught of the air, take on ten 2000-pound bombs and a sizable torpedo boat, extend its cruising range to 12,000 miles at 300 miles per hour. The draughtsman's phantom view above shows the unique design and luxurious "ocean liner" accommodations: (1) dining salon and promenade; (2) cocktail lounge and observation deck; (3) control bridge and officers' quarters; (4), (5), (6), (7) passenger staterooms in wings and fuselage; (8), (9) engine compartments, fore and aft; (10) galley; (11) crew quarters; (12) cargo space (13) landing foyer.

Flames Leaves Family Without Clothing Or Shelter; Unable To Obtain Work

A fire which destroyed the small three-room residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hansford and all their clothing and household goods left them with only the clothes they were wearing at the time of the blaze.

Between 10 and 11 o'clock Saturday morning flames leveled the residence on North Second street outside the city limits of Lubbock. The fire originated from a cook stove.

Hanford, 58, his invalid wife suffering of paralysis, a daughter, Hattie Sue, and a 21-year-old son, Charlie, were left without hopes unless they are able to obtain work and obtain it immediately.

Hansford said he had worked several days since moving here from De Queen, Ark., four months ago, and said his son had worked a few days with the city, but that their work was not regular. He asked the Avalanche-Journal to assist him in obtaining any type of work, which both he and his son will welcome.

Quilts Are Removed

Only three quilts and a blanket in the way of the Hansfords' belongings were removed before the house was destroyed. Hansford said he would have been able possibly to hold the fire in check until arrival of the fire department or at least to remove a portion of the furniture and the household goods had not so much time been required for him to remove his wife who was unable to leave without assistance.

The family was removed to the small home of relatives at 2412 West Elm street in the Arnett and Benson addition and Saturday night they had made no arrangements relative to where they would live. They had no insurance.

The Order of the Eastern Star collected a quantity of clothing and bed materials and the Masonic lodge chapters here gave money as did several other organizations and individuals.

Other Efforts Are Made

Other efforts are being made to assist the family.

"We've been living in the county four months and, so far, we've had awful hard luck," Hansford said, but was able to muster a grin.

"My son and I would appreciate any kind of work so that we may be able to restore the goods we lost," he added.

Any persons or organizations wishing to offer any assistance to the family in their times of need, it was pointed out, may leave clothing, money, or household goods at the Nineteenth street fire station at 2201 Nineteenth street, the Avalanche-Journal offices, or at the 2412 West Elm street address.

Persons unable to deliver articles to those places may have them picked up by calling Guy Casey at the Nineteenth street fire station, telephone number of which is 1271.

Firemen Are Called

Firemen were called to the scene of the fire, but the flames were out of control before they arrived.

Firemen made two other calls Saturday. They extinguished a blaze at the Fair Park filling station on east Broadway a few minutes after 4 o'clock that afternoon. Dick Green was operator of the station. The flame, according to records at the fire station, resulted from faulty electric wiring.

Five minutes before 5 o'clock that afternoon they were called to a burning fence at 1112 Fourteenth street address. Damage to the filling station and the fence was slight, firemen said.

Plans For The Entertainment Of Doherty Will Be Made

Committees will be appointed and other plans made for the entertainment of Daniel J. Doherty, national commander of the American Legion, at the semi-monthly meeting of Allen Bros. post at the hall Monday night, officials of the post announced Saturday.

Invitations will be sent to Legion posts throughout the area to join in welcoming him, officials of the post said.

An entertainment feature of the Monday night also will be the first showing of motion pictures made by Arno Dalby when he visited Hawaii recently. They will be shown if the developed films are available in time.

So Crippled Could Not Turn In Bed

Then Gly-Cas Easily Restored Health; Lumbago, Kidney Troubles Conquered; Mrs. Cagle Like New Again

"It is a pleasure to tell others about a medicine that gives such wonderful health as this new Gly-Cas", said Mrs. I. R. Cagle, 1416 W. 5th Ave., Pine Bluff, Arkansas. "My system was clogged with poisons from forty years of constipation and in spite of all I tried I could not find anything to help me. My stomach was soon affected until everything I ate caused distress afterwards. The past ten years, my kidneys have added to my discomfort and then lumbago attacked me and the suffering I endured was most unbearable. I would actually be confined to my bed at times so crippled I would have to be turned. Medical authorities seemed to lose their effectiveness when put against my case and medicines failed completely—but not Gly-Cas—once it was given to opportunity to help."

"My entire system has been toned by this remedy," she continued. "My stomach and bowels are now regulated and functioning properly, my kidneys are fine and lumbago has left me entirely. All those poisons that filled my system and had really "wrecked" my health have been eliminated and I feel better than I have in forty years—think of it—Gly-Cas—did all of this for me—no wonder it is such a popular medicine today."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Lubbock County Reduces Taxes Despite Need For Increased Expenditures

Annual Printed Report Offered

Despite the need for increased expenditures, Lubbock county has been able to reduce taxes and to make more stable its financial condition, a second annual printed report of Joe Y. Boyd, county auditor, shows.

Conditions is outstanding, in fact, in spite of an expenditure of $6,000 for tax system cards which will do much to revolutionize the system of asssessing and collecting taxes; approximately $11,000 improvements on the court house and an increase of $3,500 voted to go to chartiy. The general fund was lowered almost $20,000 in those three transfers. Yet the budget was revamped and the county still had a cash balance of more than $19,000 at the end of the year.

Copies Are Printed

Where before two years ago there was an original statement as of the year and three copies, Boyd now has printed 100 copies, which go to court officials, libraries, chamber of commerce, publishers, business men and county auditors.

Boyd, up to the year ending June 1, 1937, was president of Texas State Auditors association, and, the year before, was vice president of that body. It was his suggestion that auditors exchange printed forms reflecting conditions of their counties that has been put into practice almost state-wide.

Boyd pointed out one reason the county is in excellent financial condition is due to the state's payment of most of the road indebtedness. The rest largely is attributed to careful buying by the county and spending, he said.

Is Carefully Indexed

Well bound, the financial report is carefully indexed, and contains 36 pages. The index, to give some idea of its completeness, refers to officials, statistics of city and county, tax levy, general fund receipts, general fund disbursements, jury fund, charity fund, road and bridge for the four precincts, road and bridge fines, officers salary fund, library fund, permanent improvement fund, new courthouse sinking fund, permanent improvement sinking fund, park sinking fund, road and bridge sinking fund, road bond sinking fund, permanent school fund, recapitulation for all funds, cash reconciliation statement, bonds, warrants and interest paid, statement of indebtedness, sinking fund requirements, assessed valuations, and statement of securities owned.

The directory of the official family lists all from the district judges down to caretakers of the Old Folks home. Statistical information ranges, for the entire county, through organization, population, area, railroads and mileage, cities, towns and population, type of land, crops, livestock and the like.

Percentage Is Given

Proud of the low tax rate of 50 cents a $100, Boyd presents the per cent of collections for current and delinquent levies from 1932 through 1937, which was only 35.92 per cent in when he made up copy for the printer but which, it is indicated will approximate 91 per cent. In 1932, the percentage was 92.50; in 1933, 93.54; in 1934, 90.77; in 1935, 91.75, and in 1936, 89.47.

Percentage of collections is on the increase despite the fact the tax rate has been 50 cents the past three years, lower by 6 cents than in 1932, 8 cents in 1933, and 1 cent in 1934, and that assessed valuations, in the main, have been lowered. This factor particularly is found in assessments on land, city property, road bed, rolling stock and intangibles, when compared with 1932 and 1937. Assessments on personal property, telephone and telegraph lines and bank shares have been hiked, but the total assessed valuations of 1937 were only $22,835,085, as compared with $22,411,423 of 1932, when the tax rate was 6 cents higher.

The tax rate for 1937 was divided thus: General fund, .2250 cents; jury fund, .0900; permanent improvement fund, .0575; park maintenance funds, .0175; library fund, .0275; court house sinking fund, .0275; permanent improvement sinking fund, .0225; road and bridge sinking fund, .0050, and road bond sinking fund, .0300.

In a recapitulation of all funds, the auditor's balance was showed to be $148,881.47, receipts $352,068.90, disbursements $354,336.58, as of Jan. 1, 1937.

In his statement of indebtedness on bonds and warrants, the auditor showed the amount of bonds and warrants of all county-wide issues to total $892,000, the amount retired $149,000, amount outstanding $743,000, and cash on hand to meet the county's part of immediate obligations on bonds and warrants $19,255.74.

In the table, he went further to show dates of issue, dates of maturity, interest rates, and per cent payment on given issues by the state.

Miss Helen Hart is assistant auditor and assisted in preparation of copy for the printer.

Big Spring's Choice

Miss Charlene Fallon, above, will represent Big Spring in the social festivities at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Wichita Falls, April 25-27.

Tech President Will Take Rest

Upon advice of his physician and after more than a month's illness, President Bradford Knapp of Texas Technological college left Saturday for a lower altitude and to consult other medical specialists, probably first at Temple. He was accompanied by Mrs. Knapp.

"Although President Knapp has been improving slowly but steadily, his physician feels that he should get entirely away from his various responsibilities for several weeks. While resting at his home he has actually been working from one to three hours per day on administrative matters of the college," it was announced from his office at Tech.

Retired To His Home

Dr. Knapp retired to his home March 2 upon order of his physician that he rest because of nervous exhaustion. Besides duties at the college, he had filled many speaking engagements out of town in weeks preceding.

During his absence, an executive committee of three persons will take care of executive business. Dr. James M. Gordon, dean of arts and sciences, Dr. Harry L. Kent, director of administrative research, and W. T. Gaston, business manager, are members of the committee. Dr. Kent will have charge in President Knapp's office and in taking care of routine matters he will add to his signature, "acting for the president of the college."

Improved Considerably

Dr. Knapp has improved considerably in the last week, but his pulse remains at 40, or 36 below normal, which, however, is an improvement over two weeks ago. His blood pressure is normal, and other tests show excellent result, but "his physician believes that absolute rest is required," according to announcement from his office.

Dr. Knapp went to bed after taking part in the Tech Arbor day program on March 2 only a few minutes. On March 8, he took part in the library cornerstone laying program, board of directors' meeting and introduced Gov. James V. Allred, who in turn introduced Mrs Franklin D. Roosevelt, that night. Otherwise he has been confined to his home.

President Walter C. Temple of the Scottish Rite hospital announced today that the New York business leader would attend the unveiling at which several thousand Texans interested in the work of the hospital in behalf of crippled children would be present.

Keith Morgan has been actively connected with President Roosevelt in the Warm Springs Foundation, of which he is a director. He is also an official in the new National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

MASON BUYS RESIDENCE

LITTLEFIELD — H. M. Mazon, manager of West Texas Cotton Oil mill here, has purchased the residence of M. G. Vinther, where he and Mrs. Mazon have been living since they moved here. Mason plans some improvements and additions. He also will beautify the grounds.

Local Officers Back From Van Horn Area

Frank Mills, Texas ranger, Capt. W. W. Legge of the Lubbock office of the Texas Highway patrol, and John Keller, associated with the Department of Public Safety, Saturday returned from the Van Horn area where they participated in the investigations into the torture deaths of Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter, Nancy.

Mills left again Saturday afternoon by airplane for an undisclosed destination to continue investigations. He said officers were leaving uninvestigated no possible clues in one of the Southwest's most brutal slayings.

He had a detailed list of the articles taken from the Frome automobile and asked that persons seeing any luggage resembling them report to nearest officers or to Sheriff Chris Fox of El Paso.

Among the luggage taken were initialed black wardrobe trunk, light leather gladstone bag, overnight bag of color similar to gladstone bag, and gray snake purse, brown wardrobe trunk, black square bag pasteboard box with initialed linens, light blanket and red Navaho blanket, dark blue purse. Mrs. Frome's luggage bore initials of H. E. F. or H. F., and the daughter N. E. F. or N. F.

Health Insurance Is Studied By Social Security Board

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP) — The Social Security board is studying the advisability of a federal health insurance program.

Under the proposal, the federal government or the states would pay benefits to wage earners and low-salaries workers while they were out of work because of sickness, but would not undertake to provide for medical service or hospitalization.

Officials said the cost probably would be covered by a payroll tax to be shared by employers and employes, similar to the old age annuity tax.

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson Is To Attend Ceremony In Tucson

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, associate professor of education at Texas Technological college, left Saturday for Tucson, Ariz., where he will officially represent Tech at the inauguration of the university's new president, Dr. Alfred Atkinson, Tuesday.

He will represent Tech in place of Dr. Knapp, who is ill.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Jackson and their son, Lamar, and Miss Maurine Patton, student from Clovis, N. M.

"March Of Time" Is Sponsored By Servel, Inc., Again

Sponsoring the popular "March of Time" for the second consecutive year, Servel, Inc., will be on the air again in 1938, according to B. Sherrod of Sherrod Bros., Servel Electrolux distributor in this vicinity, according to information received from Geo. S. Jones, jr., vice-president and general sales manager of Servel, Inc. This outstanding program which dramatizes news-events featured in the headlines of newspapers, will be broadcast over an N. B. C. coast-to-coast network for thirteen Thursday evenings beginning April 7 and ending June 30.

"As those in this vicinity who make a practice of listening to the 'March of Time' already know, the broadcast consists of a graphic studio presentation of outstanding headline news events throughout the world as they happen, and thus the program is of paramount interest to everyone," said Mr. Sherrod. "A large company of actors assembled in the studio of the National Broadcasting company enact scenes dramatizing these news events after scripts have been prepared by experts in radio broadcasting.

Impersonations Well Done

"So well done are the impersonations of leading personalities in current history, through simulation of their voices and gestures, that all the important news of the world is brought to the fireside with a skill, realism, and picturesqueness that makes listeners feel that they are actually present when the events portrayed take place. Kings and queens, dictators, presidents, generals, and others in the public eye throughout the entire world become familiar to those who tune in their radios when this popular broadcast is on the air.

"Thus thousands upon thousands of radio listeners find that an ideal way to keep abreast of the world is to listen to the 'March of Time'."—Adv.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—A tumult of buying today rolled up the broadest advance in security markets in months, leading stocks rising $1 to more than $6 a share.

Big-scale buying at the stock exchange opening in wake of the unexpected defeat of the administration's reorganization bill in the house transformed the ordinarily tame Saturday session on the exchange into a feverish market.

The administration setback brokers said, obviously was a surprise to most traders, and was construed bullishly by many as possibly indicating the blocking of further reform or restriction legislation.

Coming immediately on heels of reports the administration was preparing another spending and lending drive in an effort to start business recovery, brokers said the news imparted fresh impetus to a strong rally from the March decline which has added billions of dollars to quoted values the past week.

Orders hit a market rather rare of offerings and prices of many shares jumped $2 to $5 or more on intial blocks of 1,000 to 6,000 shares.

In two hours of trading, 1,414,480 shares changed hands on the busy "big board" compared with 828,290 in the full five-hour session yesterday and only 330,350 Thursday.

Buying embraced bonds too. Railroad obligations, badly depressed in March, scored one of the sharpest advances in recent months. Contributing to the demand, bond men said, was anticipation of the rail message President Roosevelt is expected to send to congress early next week.

Most commodities also were up moderately.

Unitd States Steel, General Motors, General Electric, International Harvester, Standard Oil of New Jersey and other key industrial stocks were taken in sizable blocks at advances of $2 to around $5 a share over Friday's close. Eastman Kodak, less active, jumped nearly $7.

Cotton . .

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 9. (AP)—Cotton futures prices gained almost 50 cents a bale on the exchange here today, principally because of defeat of President Roosevelt's reorganization bill and unfavorable weather in the belt.

Other factors behind the rally were the brisk advance in stocks, activity in goods markets, increases in the amount of cotton placed in the government loan and steadier foreign markets.

Initial advances of 3 to 4 points were shown and the upturn continued most of the day with gains of about 50 cents a bale being registered near the end.

The May option closed at 8.71, July at 8.77, Oct. at 8.85, Dec. at 8.98-bid to 8.87-asked, Jan. at 8.88 and March at 8.93-bid to 8.94-asked, or 6 to 7 points above the previous close.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—Cotton continued to advance today on commission house and trade buying influenced by action of stocks and better sales of cotton goods. July rallied from 8.61@8.68 and closed at 8.64, with final prices 7 to 8 points net higher.

The market opened 2 to 5 points higher in response to steadier Liverpool cables and a more active domestic demand. Bombay sold as the discount of that market under New York widened to more than 1 cent a pound. The best prices for the day were established in the early trading but later prices sagged partially.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, April 9. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.62 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 8.77 cents a pound.

One of the earliest strikes in the United States was the strike of the New York City carters in 1684.

southern plains states.

In Alabama, thousands had to leave their homes because of flood menaces. Boats were used to remove citizens of Prattville, Ala.

In Nebraska and Iowa more than 200 towns and communities were out of telephone communication.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 9. (AP) — Wheat prices fluctuated within a one-cent range in a quiet market today and wound up practically unchanged.

The market was steadied by moderate buying stimulated partly by strength in securities and reports of further light purchasing of importers in international trade. A forecast of warmer weather in the southwest and reports of welcome precipitation throughout much of the grain belt weakened July and September contracts which represented new crop wheat.

Wheat closed 1/8 higher to 1/2 lower compared with yesterday's finish, May 84 7/8@85, July 81 1/2@81 5/8, September 82 1/4@82 3/8; corn unchaged to 1/4 off, May 60 3/8, July 61 3/4, September 62 1/4, oats 1/4 off to 1/4 up, May 28 3/8, rye 5/8 to 1 down, May 60; lard unchanged to 2 points up.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, April 9. (AP)—Demand for grain continues to show improvement here. Estimated receipts Saturday were wheat 21 cars; corn 2, oats 1, and sorghums 1.

German Vote

plebiscite.

Miles of flags fluttered. Every store—even in the Jewish districts—every bus and street car, truck and automobile displayed Adolf Hitler's picture, red-white-and-black nazi banners and slogans.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels proclaimed today "the day of the greater German reich." He ordered a two-minute silence to memorialize nazi dead.

Similarly in Berlin, marching, singing and blaring bands spread the festivity at noon on the command, "raise flags," broadcast from the Vienna city hall.

Throughout the world, Germans in foreign countries have been boarding German ships for the past week to cast their ballots.

Among the 50,000,000 from whom the nazis expect an overwhelming endorsement of Austro-German union, will be tens of thousands who have streamed into greater Germany from nearby foreign countries.

Jews cannot vote since they are not considered citizens.

All voters must be checked against the registration lists which are estimated to contain 50,000,000 names in greater Germany out of a population of 75,000,000. Hitler already has said, "when I cast my ballot I will have behind me an army of 50,000,000 — the greatest in the world."

Tax Measure

to lower exemptions would not "soak the poor" but would preserve the country's credit and protect the poor against "uncontrolled inflation."

The idea was opposed by Borah and Senator Norris (Ind-Neb), the latter arguing that "there is no justice in passing the hat among the poor people and making them contribute one, two, three or four dollars in order to raise about $60,000,000 a year."

Process Taxes Opposed

Earlier, the chamber killed, 53 to 24, a proposal by Senator Pope (D-Ida) to raise $212,000,000 annually for additional farm benefits through the imposition of processing taxes on field corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco, rice and synthetic fibers.

Pope and Senator Connally (D-Tex) argued this revenue should be added to the $500,000,000 now available for farm benefits, else agriculture purchasing power would fall far below that of industrial workers.

Sponsors of the senate bill were reluctant to predict the outcome of the senate-house committee conference, but some said the house action in pigeonholing the government reorganization measure had strengthened chances for enactment of the senate version.

of nearly a million dollars a year.

His outstanding record in administering municipal government attracted attention of the then Gov. Ross S. Sterling, who appointed him to the railroad commission when former Gov. Pat Neff resigned to become president of Baylor university. Twice has he stood successfully for election to that post, one of the most important in the state.

Brings Order Out Of Chaos

Even his opponents admit that the chaos in the oil industry, a condition that daily was costing the state millions of dollars from wasted production, has been resolved into orderliness since his assuming a post on the commission.

Listening to those who came in to shake hands with the gubernatorial candidate, one could hear appreciation from various population classes. He was praised for the fact farmers and ranchmen have benefitted hundreds of thousands of dollars because of reduced rates on livestock, feed and farm products; that in administering laws regulating motor vehicles operated for hire he has been diligent in demanding observance of safety measures and in taking trucks and buses off traffic-congested arteries as much as possible; that he won a notable victory in state rights when efforts were made to put the control of Texas oil resources in the hands of the federal government, and that he had proved himself a champion of the small man and of the consumer.

Young Officer In War

Col. Thompson was the youngest lieutenant-colonel in the American expeditionary forces, obtaining to that rank through bravery under fire when in charge of all the machine guns of the 90th division. Earlier, he had worked his way from newsboy to magazine salesman, newstand work, hotel worker, and thence into higher education, where despite his having to make his way his grades were so high he was president of his law class in Texas university. He went through business school, as well, and when he returned to Amarillo after army service as a volunteer he established a reputation as an attorney before being elected mayor.

He'd much rather talk about rainfall and hamburgers (which he eats near the capitol building in preference to going to a fashionable dining room) and crops and fishing than about himself. He likes to get out of bed early (a practice arising from the days when he got out and met the 4 a.m. train and started delivering papers, when he had not been in bed long because of having to sell confections at the old opera house); he likes nothing more than thick steak carved from a Panhandle cow, or barbecue—unless it is a second helping— and is a "nut" about rifles. He "rings the bell like a three-alarm fire," his friends say, either with a rifle or a six-gun.

Likes Songs Of Range

His wife is an operatic singer but, in secret, he professes a like for the doleful song of the range. A voracious reader, he tears his pages off newspapers as he finishes with them, and throws them out the windows of his train or into a waste basket.

He wore a hat so long a friend threw it in an ashcan; he borrowed a comb and brush from a perfect stranger on a Pullman and, a few days later, that fellow sent with his regards a similar comb and brush, with friendly chiding.

He speaks the language of the common man, yet he falls readily into abstruse points of law with the attorney.

Friends Are His Luxury

"My only luxury is friends, and talking to them," he said. "If I ever get too busy for them. "If I time to quit."

Col. Thompson laughed with his audience at the question: "Do you find it significant that you are in the governor's suite here at the hotel?"

"Come and visit me at the governor's mansion," he said. "Tell your friends to come and see me. I'll let them sleep in Sam Houston's bed. I'm going to win. One section of Texas is lining up for me just as strong as another—but one can not discount the fact I lived out in this section and these are home folks. I have no hesitancy in asking everybody in this section—from the cowpoke to the banker—to write their friends in other sections of the state to support me. I believe I know what Texas needs—and I am not backward in asking the people to see that I get a chance to be sure Texas gets what the state has coming."

New Plank Added

He added another plank to his platform when here, that of supporting passage of helpful fish and game laws.

"There are in Texas more than half a million hunters and fishermen," he said. "Sports constitute one of the greatest heritages of American life. My happiest recreation has come from hunting and fishing and my understanding and sympathy are with those who share with me that love of outdoor sports.

"Fostered by intelligent legislation, the proper measures of propagation and conservation of wild life can make of our fields and forests, our lakes and streams, a very paradise for hunters and fishermen. I shall continue my efforts to reach this goal and, as governor, would urge and support the passage of helpful fish and game laws."

For Law Enforcement

His platform, earlier announced, had advocated strict enforcement of all laws governing the conduct of those engaged in the life insurance business; opposition to new taxes; state obligation to the expressed will of the people in the teacher retirement fund, needy blind and dependent children; farm and ranch benefits through coordination of state efforts with federal farm programs, farm and ranch getting an "even break with protected industry"; favoring of the establishment of a laboratory in Texas to develop new uses for cotton; increasing efficiency of rural schools, maintaining of the $22 state allotment, or more, and liberal appropriations for state colleges; a fight against gambling of any sort; creation of a three-member board with authority to make all sales and leases of public school land; liberal old age assistance pensions based upon need; socialized state medicine; prompt provision for the mentally ill, getting them out of jails; favor or organized labor in its reasonable demands; adoption of proper child labor statute; exclusive state control of natural resources in Texas; creation of a state agency to fix utility rates; "taking the government back to the folks," in a decentralization; opposition to growing concentration of rental business "in the hands of a few large foreign chain store organization." and opposition to a listed number of "isms."

New 'Sudden Death' For Germs

Killing disease bacteria on food and utensils by ultraviolet radiation is the newest scientific wrinkle, perfected after five years of research by Drs. Harvey C. Rentschler and Robert F. James of Bloomfield, N. J. Hailed as a "new dimension in antisepsis," the process utilizes a selected ultraviolet waveband in special lamps such a those indicated by arrows in the above picture of a New Jersey meat market showcase. The rays kill typhoid germs, for instance, in a few seconds. Black molds on food also are destroyed, but require a longer time.

Boston To Sandy Hook Storm Warnings Are Ordered Posted

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—The weather bureau ordered storm warnings posted tonight from Boston to Sandy Hook, N. J. The bureau said the storm off the New England coast would continue to move northeastward, attended by strong northwest winds along the New England coast.

ance funds must be supplemented. Living costs are higher and the pension check of a year ago doesn't go as far today. It is generally acknowledged that old age assistant today does not even reach all the needy.

Adds Up To Millions

"All this adds up to a little more than four million dollars. Bear in mind, these are minimum estimates. Probably five million dollars will be needed. It could be a million under that mark and could be a million more.

"There is considerable duplication and overlapping of effort in our state government. When the state tries to do a job and the county has the responsibility for it, it is generally true that nobody does the job. The taxpayer does not complain when he knows he is getting his money's worth out of his taxes but he does and should complain at useless duplication, waste and extravagance in his government.

"We are assured by the experience of the first six months of this fiscal year that our revenues from existing taxes are going to be tremendously increased.

"I am confident that strict economy and business increase will take care of the situation. Should we be disappointed in a continued business increase, I shall look to those who are best able to pay to furnish funds to care for the aged, our needy children, the blind and match the teacher retirement fund. Those best able to pay are the corporate interests controlling our natural resources, together with the pipelines and public utilities. With them I would apply the yardstick of proportionate fairness." organization bill through:

"Dear Sam:

"Thanks for the fine fight. Will you also thank the speaker and the others.

Question Of Policy

"The reorganization bill is intended to simplify and improve the public service. With this single objective in view, I have given it my earnest approval.

"The question presented is solely one of policy. Therefore, the legislative developments of yesterday offer no occasion for personal recrimination and there should be none."

It was believed by some observers the last paragraph was an effort to avert any widening of the Democratic party breach. It was recalled that the vote of 204 to 196, by which the house sent the reorganization bill to the limbo of a committee, found many ordinarily "faithful" New Dealers in the opposition ranks.

May Revive It

Observers noted Mr. Roosevelt spoke on the reorganization bill in the present tense, indicating perhaps an intention to try and revive it at a later date. There was no sign in congress, however, of any move to bring it back for debate this year.

Moreover, there was a widespread opinion that chances of 1938 action on the wage-hour bill, a key item on the Roosevelt program, had virtually vanished.

Senator Hatch (D-NM), who voted for the reorganization bill, said the effects of its defeat had been "greatly magnified" but added much of the Roosevelt program would be slowed up.

"I feel certain the machine, which was prcbably driven into Mexico, is the murder car," Fox said.

Search for the mystery blonde centered betwen Sonora, Texas and San Antonio.

Deputy Sheriff C. W. Taylor of Sonora reported a blonde woman answering the description of the one seen at Del Rio had abandoned a car there yesterday under mysterious circumstances. It was a black coach with California plates.

"She said she didn't have time to wait for a repair to be made on the motor, and left on a San Antonio bus after telling several persons she was going to Florida," Taylor told Fox.

"One of the mechanics at a garage in Sonora noticed a pistol lying on the floor of the car. The woman took it out and put it in her handbag.

"She removed four good pieces of luggage and hurried off to the bus depot, where employes noticed she seemed extremely nervous and closely watched the baggage."

First Hint That Contest Of Recent City Election Is Planned Heard Here

Voters' Names Being Studied

First hint that a contest of last Tuesday's city election may be attempted was given at city hall Saturday.

R. L. Ewing, insurance man who has been a vigorous critic of the administration, asked and received permission to examine records of the election and from them supervised the preparation of a copy of the names of those shown by judges to have voted in the city contest.

Qualifications Studied

Although efforts to contact Ewing for a statement were unsuccessful, his expressed intent was quoted as having been to ascertain whether any of those who voted in the election were not qualified.

While an investigation of that kind was described by officials as being a stupendous task, the law permits the filing of a contest within 30 days after the official declaring of results of the particular election. That statute would permit the filing of a contest of the city election any time up to and including May 7.

According to attorneys here, it also would be necessary to show that there was a sufficient number of allegedly invalid votes to change the result of the election. Then it would be necessary for the those protesting to prove that the votes were invalid and that by throwing them out, the results would have been changed, before a contest could be successful.

Validity Of 40 Necessary

In the city election, officials said, it would be necessary to question the validity of at least 40 votes, which was the officially declared majority of C. E. Slaton over former state Senator Pink L. Parrish in the contest for mayor. Slaton's poll was set officially at 1,596 votes and Parrish's at 1,556.

W. B. Price and Hub Jones were winners of city commission contests by much larger majorities.

Those filing the protest also are required, officials said, to post a bond sufficient to cover the possible expenses of the action, just as in any civil proceedings. Costs however, would be paid by the eventual loser. Those costs might easily run into several hundred dollars, experienced observers said.

Anderson Seeks Precinct Post

J. M. Anderson of 1512 Broadway made the following statement Saturday in connection with his candidacy for constable of precinct one, Lubbock count, subject to the democratic primaries:

"When I decided to ask the voters of precinct one to elect me to the office of constable, I did so with full knowledge of the responsibilities of that office. I served four years as deputy sheriff in Jones county under T. J. McClure and E. K. Register, and eight years in Fisher county under R. P. House and A. B. Lambert. I lived in Crosby county nine years prior to coming to Lubbock in 1935. My records as a peace officer and as a man are open for investigation.

Strict Enforcement

"My policy insofar as the office of constable is concerned shall be strict enforcement of the law, immediate execution of all papers placed in my hands, and courteous treatment of all persons with whom I come in contact. I believe my past experience has fitted me for this office, and I assure you that I shall fulfill the duties imposed upon me to the very best of my ability.

"Your careful investigation and earnest consideration og me before casting your vote in the democratic primaries this year shall be greatly appreciated."

Lubbock's Professional Ball Team Here Tuesday; Play Wednesday, Thursday

California All-Stars To Oppose Hubbers At Local Park To Open Exhibition Card This Week

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

THE baseball season opens in Lubbock this week!

Lubbock's first professional baseball club in nine years broke spring training camp at Longview yesterday, where it has been working with candidates for three Chicago White Sox and Dallas Steer "farm" teams, and headed for West Texas.

General Manager Harry Faulkner, "agent" of the White Sox, who has been boss of the Longview team in the East Texas League for the past four years, is heading a party of 28 baseball men due to arrive in Lubbock Tuesday night.

Play In Sweetwater

The arrival here was postponed one day due to change in the exhibition game schedule. A game was scheduled in Wills Point yesterday, but postponed because of weather. A contest booked for Sweetwater has been postponed until Tuesday. The squad will come on to Lubbock after playing the Clovis club of the West Texas-New Mexico League. The Hubbers are coming to Sweetwater today, however.

Local fans may see the professional Hubbers in regulation action Wednesday, and again Thursday, when they meet the National Baseball School All-Stars, touring from Los Angeles, at the local park in a two-game series. That'll be the start of an exhibition schedule that will precede the opening of the West Texas-New Mexico league championship race April 27.

Games have been booked with the Amherst Reds, the Littlefield club and the Amarillo Phillips "66" Oilers, hot rivals of Lubbock semi-pro clubs for the past several years.

The Amherst club, managed by John Bradley, is to play here next Sunday, April 17. Littlefield, managed by Puss Ballard, is due here on Friday, April 22, and the Amarillo Oilers play here the following Sunday, April 24.

Open At Clovis

The professional Hubbers open the championship schedule at Clovis with a two-game series April 27 and 28, return here for a three-game series ith the Clovis club, general managed by Josh Billings, with the veteran South Plains star catcher, Dick Ratliff, captaining and managing the club on the field.

Training for the Hubbers probably will resume at the local park Wednesday morning, at which time Faulkner will welcome local and sectional ball players who desire to "try out" for the club. Among those expected to report Wednesday is Harold Crites, slugging outfielder who has been with the semi-professional Hubbers for years. Any others who wish to try out, are welcome to do so, Faulkner said.

The squad of 28 due here Tuesday night includes six players who have been released by the White Sox and will go from here to Clovis to try out for the Clovis team.

The remaining 22, including Faulkner, are under contract to the White Sox, although they have signed Lubbock contracts. Six of these must be released or sent to other farms before the championship season ends, and the team must be within its 14-player limit ten days after the season begins.

Manager Is Named

In a message to the Avalanche-Journal, Faulkner said that Hack Miller, slugging catcher who has been with the Dallas Steers in spring training, had been selected playing captain and field manager of the Hubbers. He has been with Longview, and will be one three "class men" allowed on the team. Faulkner had high praise for Miller, and for Pope Mize, outfielder, brother of Johnny Mize of the Cardinals, and for a young Iowa Pitcher, "Butch" Angaran, a youngster who grew up pitching against Bobby Feller, now of the Cleveland Indians.

Another pitcher on the Hubber roster is Jerry Blanchard, the big left hander who has pitched for Sam Rosenthal's semi-pro clubs here for the past two summers. Blanchard was acquired recently from Oklahoma City of the Texas League, having been obtained by Oklahoma City from Tyler.

Park To Be Ready

Blanchard probably will draw the opening pitching assignment against the California All-Stars who play here Wednesday and Thursday.

The California club is a hand-picked team of standouts from Jess Orndorff's National Baseball School of Los Angeles. The All-Stars left the west coast late last week for a leisurely trip eastward. They are to play in Tucson, El Paso and Clovis before appearing in Lubobck.

The Sweetwater Board of City Development is sponsoring Tuesday's Hubber game in Sweetwater.

Sam Rosenthal, president of the Lubbock Baseball Association, said yesterday that everything would be in readiness for the Hubbers when they arrive here. The ball park will be dragged and reconditioned in time for the opening of the exhibition season Wednesday.

GAME POSTPONED

FORT WORTH, April 9. (AP)—Cold weather caused postponement of the Texas Christian-Baylor baseball game here today.

Hartay And Sampson Are Re-Matched For Main Event

At the suggestion of many fans and the request of Dick Sampson, a re-match of main event wrestling men has been scheduled for Sled Allen's Auditorium Wednesday night.

Sampson, defeated recently by George Hartay, the husky little Hungarian, wants another shot at him, and Hartay accepted the challenge. They were signed up for this week's main event, and the patrons may expect a real contest.

Pogi Meets Mandell

Gorilla Pogi, his sore nose healed, comes back for a whack at the nifty Bostonian, Jack Mandell, in the semi-final. This contest is due to be quite rough and tough, with Mandell holding a slight edge in the "future books" because of his greater height and reach and his ability to worm out of the torturous holds that the South American knows how to establish.

Two distinct "foreigners" will be at each other's throats in the opener. After kneeling upon his prayer rug and doffing his fez, the veteran Pasha Bairam Bey of Turkey will match wits and skill, if any, with the Persian fellow, Prince Omar.

Tech Netters Drop Hardin-Simmons

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

ABILENE, April 9.—Texas Tech's Red Raider racqueteers gained a 4-2 margin over Hardin-Simmons university here this afternoon, gaining both doubles and two singles matches.

Boyd, No. 1 Cowboy netter, swept to a straight-set, 6-1, 6-3 victory over Wilson Chapman, elongated champion of the Border conference, in the feature setto of the day.

King vanquished Sidney Moore in like fashion, 6-4, 6-3, for Hardin-Simmons' second win in the No. 2 clash.

Harry Jordan required but two sets to take Simmons' McKinney, 6-1, 6-4. Aubrey McCarty evened the count for the invaders with a smashing defeat of McCollum, by two 6-2 counts.

Jordan and Moore put the Raiders in the lead in first doubles match, although extended by Boyd and King. Forced to 18 games in the first set, the Tech players dropped the second, but captured the third. Scores were 10-8, 2-6, 6-2.

Chapman and McCarty polished off McKinney and McCollum, 6-2, 6-2.

The Tech team moves into Denton Monday to engage North Texas State Teachers. The remainder of the week the Raiders will play on Southwest conference courts.

War Admiral-Seabiscuit Race Is Opposed By C. V. Whitney

NEW CORK, April 8. (AP)—The New York Sun said today that C. V. Whitney, vice-president of the Westchester Racing association, probably would oppose the suggested $100,000 match race between Samuel Riddle's War Admiral and Charles S. Howard's Seabiscuit, slated for Belmont Park in the fall.

The Sun said it had learned from associates close to Whitney that he is "unalterably opposed" to match races and "extravagant purses" and pointed out that since his family and that of the Vanderbilts own controlling stock in Belmont Park, Whitney's voice is "almost certain" to decide the matter. The Westchester Racing association operates Belmont park.

"Frozen Gloves" Tourney Draws Eskimos Boxers

KING ISLAND, Alaska, April 9. (AP) — They're brewing fistic medicine on this Bering Strait island instead of the kind that comes in bottles and pills in the battle against tuberculosis and other illnesses which take their toll among Eskimos.

The fistic medicine, Fr. Bernard R. Hubbard, "Padre of the Glaciers," announced today, will be the first annual "frozen gloves" amateur boxing tournament lasting for three days starting next Thursday, April 14.

The tourney will conclude six months of rigorous physical training during which Ed Levin, former Santa Clara university athlete, taught the Eskimos how to sling leather instead of harpoons.

"This experiment to build up the resistance of the tribe by training the children with physical rather than medical correctiveness is gratifying successful," Hubbard said.

Levin agreed, saying "I would match these Eskimo yougsters against any collegiate stars of their weight anywhere."

The boys now are tapering off the heavy training, which not only includes lots of gym work, but road work on miles of Bering Strait ice floes and dizzy climbs along the rocky island cliffs to strengthen legs, arms and shoulders.

Gasser Keglers Are Tied For Lead In Bowling League

Lubbock Printing company's keglers put it on the West Texas Gassers again in the regular Lubbock Bowling club matches last week, while the American Optical company defeated Lubbock Tailors and gained a tie with the Gassers for first place in the league standings.

Last week's matches, bowled at Lubbock Club alleys, saw the Printers, now in third place, win two games and run up a total of 2599 to 2481 for the Gassers. The gas company team took one game, Bell bowling a 215 game to give the Gassers the contest, 852 to 817. The Printers played with a 108 handicap, but did not need it to win.

Bell was high scorer of the match, running a three-game total of 575 to protect his lead among individuals of the league. He has blasted over 7664 pins for an average of 197.

Begey of the Printers tied Bell's single game and total score, with 215 and 575. Laverty, with a high game of 200 and a total of 549, was next.

American Optical company swept their match with the Tailors, even spotting the Tailors an 88 handicap. Hammett of the Opticians led the attack with games of 214, 153 and 202, and a total of 594, high for the week. The Opticians took all three games by comfortable margins and rang up a total of 2676 to 2434, despite the handicap.

The team standing after last week's matches:

Shotgun Artists Invited To Try Skill At Skeet Today

Men handy with their shotguns who are fretting until another shooting season comes around are invited to keep in practice by attending the regular Sunday skeet shoots at the Lubbock Gun and Skeet club traps.

There's a shoot scheduled for today, and nimrods may try their fortunes at skeet or regulation straight-away trap shooting.

The bang-bang begins at 2 o'clock, and there'll be plenty of ammunition for all.

Texas League Is Ready To Open Golden Jubilee Baseball Season Wednesday

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, April 9.—Shy weather-over the Texas league, busy recording snow, sleet and rain the past few days, got about as far out on the limb as honest weathermen venture today and opined spring weather would prevail for Wednesday's opening of the loop's golden jubilee year.

One new club, one brand new manager, two slightly "soiled" skippers, and scores of strange faces appeared in the lineup for start of the fiftieth year.

Absent five years, Shreveport was back in the fold with the nucleus of the abandoned Galveston franchise. At the helm was Claude (Bubber) Jonnard, veteran hurler who has welded together a surprisingly strong club in spring drills.

Five Skippers Return

Only five managers who started the '37 race were back for more. They included Homer Peel, Fort Worth; Zach Taylor, San Antonio; Al Vincent, Beaumont; Bruce Connatser, Tulsa, and Jim Keesey, Oklahoma City. Ray Brubaker arrived just in time to get in on the tail-end of Dallas' losing streak last year and Ira Smith came back to Houston after a brief fling with the St. Louis Cards.

Peel's Fort Worth Panthers, Texas and Dixie champions, were back with almost the same lineup, with the glaring exception of behind the plate where Vern Mackie has filled a spot considered weak last season.

Tagged as a team not to be trifled with is Houston, peppered with newcomers and strengthened by a St. Louis management that wants to bring in a Texas League pennant. None are counting too heavily, however, on Paul (Daffy) Dean, the major leaguer with the sore arm, to come through.

Indians May Be Tougher

Oklahoma City, full season winner last year, comes back with a slightly altered lineup which, if anything, will make them more potent than ever. San Antonio and Beaumont again are experimenting with youngsters while Dallas has a rebuilt model featuring some fast aging gen's such as Phil Todt, first base; Bob Fenner, catcher; Fred Russell and Sal Gliatto, pitchers. Tulsa, its infield troubles about straightened out, can go if its hurlers come around in better form than shown in spring games.

Dallas opens at Fort Worth Wednesday, and unless skippers change their minds, Umpires Welsh and Fowler will look over these batting orders: Dallas—Rigby, 2b; Clarke, 3b; Cazen, lf; Pool, rf; Fenner, c; Laske, cf; Todt, 1b; Lavey, ss; Gliatto, p. Fort Worth—Flippen, ss; McDowell, 2b; Frink, cf; Peel, rf; Moore, lf; McLeod, 3b; Stebbins, 1b; Mackie, c; Greer, p.

Five thousand by day; 7,000 by night was the attendance forecast for Oklahoma City, where Tulsa opens. Umpires Naylor and Passarella will work with: Oklahoma City—Bilgere, 3b; Hack, cf; Stoneham, rf; Keesey, 1b; Sodd, lf; Friar, c; Brower, ss; Sigafoos, or Monaco, 2b; Brillheart, p. Tulsa — Zontini, cf; Crawford, 2b; Schino, rf; Jones, lf; Connatser, 1b; Parker, ss; Howell, 3b; Clawitter, c; Twardy, p.

Nine Umpires Hired

Three umpires, Coe, Wilson and Steengrafe, will work for opener at San Antonio, where Houston is on deck. San Antonio—barring belated aid from the parental St. Louis Browns, will start: Byrnes or Criscola, rf; Silber, cf; Gryska, ss; Newman, lf; Scharein, 3b; Stanton, 1b; Berardino, 2b; Hornsby or Swift, c; Jack Kramer, p. For Houston—Epps, cf; Antonelli, 2b; Watwood, 1b; D. L. Smith, lf; Lang, rf; Repass, 3b; Davis, ss; Turner, c; Winford, p.

Nine umpires will work in the league this season, Secretary Milton Price explained, although no one man will be known as the "odd" one and assignments will be shifted throughout the season.

TEXAS LIGHTWEIGHT LOSES

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 9. (AP)—Jimmy Garrison, 133 1-2, Kansas City, handed Nick Peters, 134, San Antonio, a severe beating in a 10-round bout at the jammed Legion Stadium last night but failed to knock out the slugging Texan.

New Wolverine Coach And Captain Ready

Fritz Crisler, upon whom Michigan is depending to lead it out of the football doldrums, is shown above with his arm around Ford Janke, captain of the 1938 Wolverine eleven, as they talk over football problems in spring training. By meeting a squad of more than 40 for the off-season drills, the former Princeton mentor made his formal debut in Big Ten grid ron circles.

The Folks Will Be There To Watch "Murder On The Ice" On Tuesday

CHICAGO, April 9. (AP)—Murder on the ice, in three acts, will be presented at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night by the crippled Chicago Blackhawks and the Toronto Maple Leafs, battling in the third game of the Stanley Cup hockey series.

With the Hawks threatening a hair-raising contest in retaliation for their injuries, the game will be played before a sellout crowd of 16,321. Every seat was sold five days after the Hawks, without the services of their regular goalie, Mike Karakas, unexpectedly upset Toronto in the first game of the series, 3 to 1. Twenty thousand spectators could be jammed into the stadium if the fire authorities permitted.

The teams play the fourth game of the series here Tuesday night and, if necessary, return to Toronto for the fifth and final game Thursday night. The sale for Tuesday night's game already indicates a sell-out.

The Hawks, who achieved one victory, suffered one defeat, four injured legs, and some wounded pride, emerged embittered from the hospital list today with a determination to "get even" for the battering they received Thursday night.

Elwyn "Doc" Romnes, whose nose was broken, will wear a special nose guard to protect his schnozzola. Karakas, whose broken toe started a rumpus heard throughout the hockey world, will be back in the game wearing a special made shoe.

Karakas, with eight others, comprised the hospital list. Art Welbe and Alex Levinsky carried patches and needle work in their faces.

Bill MacKenzie, rugged 185 pound defense star, bellowed defiance.

"Hell, you ain't seen nothing yet!" he exclaimed. "Wait until tomorrow night."

Follow The Horses To Fair Park For Polo Game Today

When the horses parade down Broadway at 2 o'clock today, it'll be a signal for one and all to trek out to the Fair Park race track and watch a free polo game between two Lubbock teams.

It'll be the "finishing up" practice game of the Lubbock poloists in preparation for the start of the West Texas Polo Association championship schedule which begins a week from today.

Today's game, free to the public, is designed to excite interest in polo here. A 30-game schedule has been adopted by the West Texas association, composed of Lamesa, Lubbock, Plainview, Clovis, N. M., and Lockney.

Horses Are Trained

All of the teams have been putting their horses and their mallets through intensive training, and today's gave will reveal the best that Lubbock can place on a polo field.

Well-trained horses which know how to follow the ball and which respond nobly to every whim of their riders, ambitious riders who have labored long and painfully with their mounts, will be seen in action.

The Lubbock team opens its championship schedule next Sunday against Lockney, the game to be played there.

A 25-cent admission fee will be charged after today's game. This is fandom's chance to get acquainted with polo.

Texas Longhorns In Quadrangular Meet Victory Saturday

AUSTIN, April 9. (AP)—University of Texas tracksters coasted to an easy victory in a quadrangular meet with other Southwest conference schools here today.

The Longhorns totaled 107 1-2 points to Texas Christian's 41; Baylor's 17 1-3 and Southern Methodist's 9 1-6.

Wendel Siebert of Texas, conference half mile champion, took individual scoring honors with firsts in the quarter and half and running the winning mile relay team to total 11 1-4 points.

The Steers grabbed first places in all events except the 220-yard dash and shot put. Baccus scored S. M. U.'s only victory by outdistancing Graves of Texas in the furlong, won in 21.5 seconds. Robert Erwin of T. C. U. won the shot put.

Most of the Christians' points were tallied by Erwin, Cook and Hall who totalled 19 points in the weights. Hall, the football star, entered more events than any other performer, placing in all. They included the quarter, furlong, sprint relay and javelin.

Science has not been able to explain satisfactorily just why some lightning flashes show up black when photographed. The only explanation, so far, is that the wave length of the light causes the unusual chemical reaction.

Meadowbrook Club Members Asked To Meet Today

Golf players of Meadowbrook club are asked to meet this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, at the Meadowbrook club house, to discuss plans for the 1938 "ladder" tournament.

Members are to meet with Professional J. W. Byrne to elect officers, select captains and divide the club membership for a "starting point" in the tournament.

Byrne reports that four out of town clubs already have invited Meadowbrook to compete in intercity matches, and it is expedient that the local club make organization and be ready to play as early as possible.

State Badminton Tournament Goes To Abilene This Week

ABILENE, April 9. (AP)—Badminton takes a place in the state's competitive sports field next week, when shuttlecock swatters from all parts of Texas gather here for the game's first statewide tournament. The meet starts Friday night and continues through Saturday.

Championship events will be staged in men's singles and doubles and mixed doubles.

A state badminton association will be formed during the tourney. Abilene players already hold membership in the American Badminton association.

Taming Hemsley Is Vitt's Worry

NEW ORLEANS, April 9. (AP)—Oscar Vitt, hired to manage the Cleveland Indians, finds his chief job lies in managing Rollicking Rollie Hemsley and keep the roisterous backstop on the wagon, away from loose firewater.

HEMSLEY

All the other Redskins on the Indians' reservation in sunny New Orleans are easy to handle but Rollie likes his moments of gaiety.

With Hemsley in shape to coach and coax Bob Feller, to aid the other hurlers and to shift some of the catching burden from Frankie Pytlak, the Indians are a downright tough ball club. If Vitt can keep Rollie marching down the straight and narrow, watch out for those Redskins.

Vitt has come up with one of the prize recruits of the spring season in third-baseman Ken Keltner, a 6-foot, 180-pounder who has been whaling the ball hard in exhibition games. And John Kroner has shoved anxious rookies into the background in his campaign to grab second base. Hal Trosky at first and Lyn Lary at short round out a snappy infield.

The Indians boast just about the best pitching staff in the league headed by Feller and John Allen. The Iowa farm boy speedballer appears in great shape and given a chance to pitch regularly in turn, bolstered by Hemsley behind the dish, should have a fine season. Allen, who won 15 games and lost only one last seasan, is figured good for at least another 15 wins this year.

Melvin Harder, Earl Whitehill, Al Milnar, Willis Hudlin and Dennis Galehouse round out the strong staff of twirlers. Rookie John Humphries has been looking good, too.

The outfield has punch and speed and, all in all, everything looks bright for the Indians, if Vitt can keep a harness on Hemsley, inject some more pepper into the Tribe and teach them the lost habit of winning games on the road.

Meadow Wins District Volleyball Title; Track, Field And Tennis Re-Scheduled Friday, Saturday

WINNING three out of five games Meadow defeated Spade for the district girls volley ball championship at the Texas Technological Saturday afternoon.

Spade had advanced to the finals by defeating Ralls and Whitharral.

Meadow reached the finals with wins over Southland, Abernathy, and Lubbock.

Other events of the scheduled district track meet were postponed until next Friday and Saturday.

Outstanding players of the tournament were Jamie Ruth Deckard of Meadow and Helen Brown of Spade.

Members of the winning team were Emma Lou Bell, captain; Loyce Hollers, Jamie Ruth Deckard, Francil Henson, Edna Lee Duffy, and Kathleen Garner.

Texas Tech Niblick Swingers To Play Buffaloes Today

Texas Tech's varsity golf team, finishing high in the recent student championship tournament, unlimber their guns at intercollegiate enemies today, meeting the West Texas State Teachers college Buffalo swatters at Lubbock Country club.

The team matches begin between 11:30 and 12 noon today. There will be four singles matches of 18 holes each.

Coach J. W. Jackson of the Red Raider golfers said last night that three "starters" were definitely known, and that the fourth would be between John Bell and Donald Doherty.

Allen Heads Team

Mason Allen, captain and No. 1 man of the team; Lindsey Telford, last year's No. 1 man, and winner of the Border conference championship, winner over Allen in the final match of the recent student tournament, and Jack Carlson, another member of last year's successful team, are definite starters against the Buffs.

The Tech will invade New Mexico a week from today to battle the Clovis Country club team. Jackson said about twelve players would be taken to Clovis.

Aggies Rally To Beat Mustangs

COLLEGE STATION, April 9. (AP) The Texas Aggies came from behind today to defeat the Southern Methodist Mustangs, 9 to 3, and take their third straight Southwest conference baseball game.

Despite sophomore Ralph Lindsey's four-hit pitching, the Aggies lagged until the sixth inning, when they scored three runs on a walk, an error and Catcher Charley Kirkpatrick's double. Kirkpatrick stole home in this frame.

They then nicked Billy Dewell, who relieved Guy Dougherty in the seventh, for four runs off three hits and four walks in two innings to ice the game.

Today's loss was the Mustangs' second in three days, the Rice Owls having split a series with them Thursday and Friday.

Texas Mines Track Team Beats New Mexico Aggies

EL PASO, April 9. (AP)—Texas School of Mines opened the track season today with a surprising 77 to 54 victory over New Mexico Aggies.

Rangy Paul Carlton figured prominently in the Muckers' triumph, winning the mile and two mile runs. Other Mines victors included Gerald Thompson in the javelin and discus, Ed Cashon in the 440, Cesar Arroyo in the broad jump and Salvador Trevino in the low and high hurdles.

For the Aggies Hamill won the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Yurcic the shot put and Thompson the high jump and pole valut.

NEW ASSISTANT AGENT

LAMESA, April 9.—X. B. Cox, jr., has come here from Robert Lee, Coke county, to be assistant county agent, Joe Williams, agent announced. He succeeds Joe Matthews, promoted to agent at Pecos.

Texas Schoolboys Play At Dallas For Golf Title

DALLAS, April 9. (AP)—Schoolboy golfers from 16 cities tonight had filed entries for the Texas high school tournament starting Tuesday over the rugged Cedar Crest country club course here.

Freckled, pint-sized Earl Stewart, jr., of Dallas, defending champion, was back with the putter that won him last year's title, again rated to pace the field.

From San Antonio, however, came a big threat in Joe Moore, jr., Thomas Jefferson student, who ranks as one of the landing amateurs of Southwest Texas. Moore, who recently led San Antonio's municipal qualifiers in the 36-hole tourney to determine entrants for the Texas Golf association meet, loomed as Stewart's big foe.

Finals On Saturday

Entries will be accepted until the qualifying round starts, C. D. Bowley of Dallas, chairman of the tournament committee, said. Cities with players registered now included Alpine, Abilene, Cleburne, Gilmer, Palestine, Pampa, Jacksboro, Sulphur Springs, Troup, Waco, Wichita Falls, Texarkana, Fort Worth, San Antonio, and Dallas, with its teams from Woodrow Wilson, Terrill Prep, Highland Park, Sunset and Tech schools.

The 36-hole championship finals will be played Saturday. Cards turned in during the qualifying rounds will be used in the fourman team matches. Entrants must be certified as eligible under interscholastic athletic regulations.

Strafaci Takes North-South

PINEHURST, N. C., April 9. (AP) —Frank Strafaci of Brooklyn annexed the North and South amateur golf championship here today with a 5 and 4 victory over George T. Dunlap, jr., of Pinehurst, in the 36-hole final.

The match was played in a blustery wind and Dunlap, five times winner of the tournament, did not handle the conditions so well as the Brooklyn player. Dunlap, a heavy favorite, was seven down at the end of the first 18 holes.

He carried his opponent to the 14th hole before he lost. The Pinehurst golfer started out on the second round by winning the first and second holes, sinking a 40-foot putt on the second for a birdie 3. He won the sixth, halved the next four, won the next three to become four down.

Then he lost the par four fourteenth after sending his fourth 50 feet to hang on the lip of the cup for a 5. Strafaci was on the green in two and took two putts to clinch the championship.

No Perfect Scores Yet In Big Bowling Tournament

CHICAGO, April 9. (AP)—The perfect 300 has yet to appear in the 38th annual American Bowling congress.

Only four perfect games have been recorded in A.B.C. history. The last of these was three years ago.

A total of 178,398 games will have been bowled by the best keglers in the land by the close of the A.B.C. April 19. So far two efforts to achieve perfection have stood out.

Carroll Davies of Milwaukee pitched ten straight strikes. His eleventh shot was a weak hit, though in the 1-3 pocket, and left the No. 10 maple standing. He knocked it off for a 289 game which still ranks as the best single game score in the tournament. It later was equalled by George Stumpka of Lyons, Ill., who opened with a spare and then added his string of strikes.

'Popeye' Melillo: Spinach Did It

SAN ANTONIO, April 9. (AP)—Spinach, boys and girls, will make big, strong second-basemen of you.

Take Oscar Melillo, for instance, a gent who has gnawed his way through several gardens of greens since physicians tagged him a dying man 10 years ago.

MELILLO

Melillo, now a player-cach for the St. Louis Browns, had to be coaxed away from a spinach bucket to tell his story. Oscar, 38, probably won't play regularly for the Browns—a younger man now has the job—but he'll be around if a pinch develops.

In 1928 Melillo was told he had only a short time to live because of a kidney ailment. He bought up all the spinach in sight, threw in a few more vegetables, and, two years later, shattered a major-league record by handling 572 assist in 148 games. It broke a mark Nap Lajoie had set back in 1908.

Three years later—still on the spinach diet—Melillo pulled a stunt with the St. Louis Browns which may never be equalled. He made only six errors in an entire season of second-basing. And then in 1931 Melillo, never decorated for lusty hitting, clubbed out a .306 average which, with his fine fielding, gave him a spot on a sort of "All-America" team Babe Ruth picked.

Melillo still has hopes of playing more baseball.

"It all depends on my legs. They will decide how much playing I do."

And how did Melillo beat the "death rap" back in '28?

"I just stored away the vegetables—mostly spinach—ate no fried foods, quit smoking and chewing and did what I thought best for my health."

To this day Melillo starts his order for at least two meals daily with: "Give me some spinach and, etc."

Hubbers Heading For Hub

By Collier Parris

THE PLAYING MANAGER and captain of the Lubbock Hubbers in the West Texas-New Mexico league will be a nice looking, husky chap named Hack Miller.

Miller, a youngish fellow with a large background of sandlot, sempro and professional experience, also will be the No. 1 catcher on the Hubber team. He is a right hander, a capable back stopper— and a powerful swatter of the ball. He played with Longview last year, and was a member of the all-East Texas League squad.

This information comes from Harry Faulkner, general and business manager of the Lubbock club, who for the past four years ran the Longview entry in the East Texas.

Faulkner called your correspondent yesterday, just before the club broke camp at Longview.

"We're heading for Lubbock," Faulkner said, "and will be there Tuesday. Whether we play our exhibition games enroute depends upon the weather, which is pretty raw here just now."

Faulkner who will be a large favorite with folks in every business and walk of life here, then went on to say that Miller would be the field manager and captain, "but I'll be out there also, to do what I can," Harry said.

HE went on then to tell about two other prize catches on the Lubbock team. "I'm going to have a pretty fair ball club, but we'll wait until after we've won a few games before bragging."

Pope Mize and "Butch" Angaran, Faulkner said, are a couple of lads we'll like in Lubbock. Mize is an outfielder, Angaran a pitcher. Mize is a brother of Johnny Mize, prize "rookie" with the St. Louis Cardinals who is expected to bloom into a full-blown regular with the gas house gang this summer.

Lubbock Pitcher Better Than Bob Feller

Angaran is a husky young pitcher from Iowa.

"If you want to know anything about Angaran, ask Bob Feller of the Clevelands" Faulkner suggested, and went on to explain that Angaran played on a rival high school team in Iowa against Feller—and during three years of rivalry, Angaran had a higher games won average than Feller! Angaran won more games than Feller, and won more from Feller than Feller won from Angaran during their high school days. You'll recall that Feller went direct from high school to the Indians.

WHY Angaran's work was not more closely observed by the scouts, and why he wasn't signed by a big league team hasn't been explained.

It is highly possible, however, that White Sox scouts signed Angaran at about the same time the Indians signed Feller, kept him under wraps last year, and plan to give him further seasoning in the minors before bringing him up.

Faulkner talked enthusiastically about Angaran.

If Angaran is as good as Faulkner believes, and if Lefty Jerry Blanchard is as good as he was last year, the Hubbers won't need many more pitchers.

"Lefty's doing all right. A bit wild, but he has a nice fast ball, and if he learns control, he's definitely in line for a big promotion," Faulkner said.

Miller, of course, will be listed as one of the three "class men" allowed each team in the West Texas-New Mexico league, meaning players of unlimited experience. Faulkner probably will have two more of these, and perhaps as many as five one-year men—players who have had but one year of pro ball. All the others must be raw rookies, so far as professional experience is concerned. Semi-pro experience, of course, does not count, and we know a lot of good ball players who have not played professional ball.

The Hubbers will make their debut here Wednesday in the first contest of a two-game exhibition series with the National Baseball School All-Stars. The game is to start at 3:30 o'clock, at the ball park. Make your plans now to turn out and give the boys a big hand.

Lubbock is getting a break in baseball this summer, and it's up to us to show our appreciation.

Heavy Struggle Looms For '37 Champions

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—Stormy weather, which has upset the semi-final week of training for big league ball clubs and cancelled a score of exhibition games, may be the tipoff on the forthcoming pennant races.

The world champion Yankees and their victims for the past two years, the Giants, probably will be the expert choices to win again, since past performances have an annual habit of being a decisive factor in prognostications. Yet the latest signs all point toward possibility, for a change, that the American League will develop a more wide open race than the National.

But Joe Could Help

The Yankees may explode the theory to bits, just as soon as they get the recalcitrant Joe DiMaggio back into the fold, but it is impossible now to escape the suspicion that the world champions are "riding for a fall." A poor start for the Yankees would give their chief rivals, Detroit and Cleveland, the encouragement they need to make a real fight for the pennant.

Without DiMaggio, still scornful of the club's $25,000 salary offer, the Yankees do not resemble the same club that finished 13 games in front of the Tigers and 19 ahead of the Indians in 1937. Moreover, there is doubt whether Joe Gordon adequately will fill the big shos of Tony Lazzeri. The pitching staff, outside of Ruffing and Gomez, looks like another problem.

Detroit's power and the possibility of improved pitching, based on addition of Vernon Kennedy and a comeback by Schoolboy Rowe, combine to make the Tigers a formidable contender.

Cleveland Is Strong

For several reasons, Cleveland may be the sensation of the race. The tribe has acquired fresh spirit under its new big chief, Oscar Vitt. Part of the infield problem seems to have been solved by development of a rookie star at third base, Ken Keltner. Potentially, the pitching staff headed by Johnny Allen, Bob Feller and Mel Harder, is the best in the league.

Bad luck caught up with the White Sox, just when it looked like Jimmy Dykes' outfit would go places. The loss of Shortstop Appling with a broken ankle, following the trade of slugging Zeke Bonura for Joe Kuhel, robs the Chicagoans of their one-two punch. The condition of Monte Stratton's pitching arm is another source of worry.

Meantime, the Giants seem better fortified than ever. The latest break in favor of the National League champions is return of Clydell Castleman to the fold. If this powerful young righthander is fully recovered from a spinal operation he will solve most of Manager Will Terry's pitching problems. With or without Burgess Whitehead at the start, the team will continue to be well fixed at second base, where Lou Chiozza has shown his versatility once more.

The Giants have the best catching combination in the league, in Danning and Mancuso; one of the best keystone pairs in baseball; and alternate sluggers in Hank Leiber and Wally Berger for the centerfield spot.

Cubs After Giants

Chicago looks like the one club capable of upsetting the Giants, but expect for the addition of Tony Lazzeri to the board of strategy they do not appear stronger than last year.

No team with such an outstanding trio as Dizzy Dean, Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize can be discounted but it remains to be seen whether the Cardinals develop pitching, catching and infield strength otherwise or sufficiently to become real contenders.

On form and spring probabilities the Cards do not shape up as strong as Pittsburgh.

Fifth Session Of Lubbock Safety Council Set Monday

The fifth session of the Lubbock Safety council will be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday night in the Junior High school auditorium.

Valentine And Petty Advance To Final In Southwestern Golf Go

TUCSON, Ariz., April 9. (AP)—Russell Valentine, university of Arizona ace, and Robert Petty, Roswell, N. M., emerged as finalists tonight a thrill-packed day of play in the annual Southwestern golf tournament.

Valentine, former Arizona State champion, dropped a 26-foot putt for a birdie three on the 19th hole to defeat Jack Harden, El Paso, veteran and 1935 Southwestern titleholder, in a semi-final match.

Petty went to the finals with a two-up victory over Jim Canning, another Arizona collegian who scored one of the major upsets of the tournament by defeating Dave Peter, Arizona State champion, 3 and 2, in the morning round.

The record gallery of the tournament looked on as Valentine and Harden battled on even terms through the regular 18-hole match and were forced to an extra hole before the collegian, usually an erratic campaigner, dropped the deciding putt from the edge of the green.

Petty easily bested John Price, Tucson, 6 and 4, in the quarter-finals, while Valentine was eliminating Knox Corbett, Tucson, 1 up. Harden had no trouble with Harold Tovrea Tucson, his quarter final opponent, winning 6 and 5.

Valentine and Petty will meet in a 36-hole final tomorrow.

Roy D. McPherrin, El Centro, Calif., was elected president of the Southwestern Golf association, and members voted to hold the 1939 tournament in El Centro. The association agreed to use handicapping in future tournaments.

Two Americans Back In Spain

ST. GIRONS, France, At The Spanish Frontier, April 9. (AP)—Border authorities said today that two American volunteers who fled from the northeastern Spanish war zone across the mountainous frontier had been sent to Bordeaux to be repatriated.

Their names were given as John Sullivan, 30, of Seattle and Charles Cox, 25, of Florida, both former members of an international brigade fighting for the Barcelona government.

Trudge Into France

The pair, tattered and weary, trudged into France yesterday and told authorities they had fought in a battle before Lerida, on the western Catalonian front.

They said when the government line broke they decided to try to reach France. They hiked and hitched rides for nearly 100 miles and finally made their way across the 7,000-foot Aula peak, near St. Girons.

Cox had been wounded in the leg but Sullivan was unijured. Police said both declared they had had "enough" and wanted to return to the United States as soon as possible.

Entertainments Of Varied Nature Enliven Week-End Society In Lubbock

Junior Students Give Prom And Crown Queen

QUEEN Merle of the House of Haynes reigned over festivities at the Junior prom given at Texas Technologieal college Saturday night from 9 to 12 o'clock in the gymnasium. Miss Haynes is an arts and science student from Hobbs, N. M. She is president of D. F. D., girls' social club, and La Ventana beauty. The queen was elected by members of the class Monday.

The throne was banked with artificial grass, and a garden theme was carried out in decorations. James Buchanan, electrical engineering student, was in charge of unique lighting arrangements. Vari-colored spot lights played over the coronation ceremony and the floor show.

Elmer Tarbox, president of the junior class, crowned the queen with a replica of the famous St. Edwards crown used in coronation ceremonies in England.

Queen Wears White Lace

Miss Haynes wore a dress of white lace, redingote style, over satin. She was presented with a bouquet of red roses. Clark Ed Jones was her escort.

Ladies-in-waiting were defeated candidates in the queen election. They were:

Miss Queenelle Sawyer, Brownfield, who wore turquoise chiffon with silver accessories and a corsage of sweetheart rosebuds. She was escorted by Wayne Winkler.

Miss Jean Fagala, Greenville, wearing rose chiffon with gold accessories, and escorted by Jack Carlson.

Miss Margaret Hemby, Sweetwater, wearing an empire frock of white starched lace with silver accessories and red carnations. Her escort was Lloyd Morgan.

Miss Mancy Nell Wingo, Plainview, wore a picture frock of white mousseline de soie banded in white lace. Her accessories were of gold and her corsage of American beauty roses. She was escorted by Eldon Rawlings.

Miss Geraldine Gibson, Royalty, in a Grecian model of white chiffon and silver accessories, wore a halo of blue cornflowers. Maurice Chernosky was her escort.

Miss Kay Donahue, Sweetwater, wore blue taffeta with gold accessories. Her escort was Bobby Watson.

Clever Floor Show

Misses Bette Krauss and Katrina Brewer were included in floor show song and dance numbers. Talented negro entertainers also furnished novelty numbers. The senior class prophecy was read as a surprise feature for seniors, who were guests of honor.

Ned Bradley's orchestra played for dancing.

Besides seniors, who were distinguished by special tags, guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Allen, Miss Ruth Pirtle, and Messrs. Harry Morris and George Benson.

A committee composed of Joe Stanley, Rufus Ryan, and Gloriadel Bowen was in charge of financial arrangements for the dance.

Decorations were in charge of Charles Barnard, Misses Mary Florence Van Horne, Fagala, and Sawyer.

There Are Verve And Color In This Easter's Parade And The Blues Have It Again!

SWINGING . . .
Down the avenue comes an Easter harmony in blue and gray. The wide-sleeved dark blue wool coat tops a gray, white and blue printed frock. From the blue straw hat falls one of the ever-present veils.

DOWN . . .
The blues have it again in these Easter clothes. The bloused navy blue wool coat at the left is worn with pink camellias, a blue and dusty pink dotted rayon frock and a trim pillbox hat. At the right is a navy blue and white printed dress and dark blue wool redingote accepted with a close cluster of white hyacinths. The brimmed hat has a white-dotted veil, which gives it a romantic, springtime touch that's different. Designs are by Del Monte-Hickey.

THE AVENUE
White pique revers spiked with white carnations smarten this black worsted suit designed with a slim short skirt and fitted jacket. Doeskin gloves and wide-brimmed hat add more white accents.

"Ti-Pi-Tin," which is now being drummed into our ears by way of the air and records, was written by Maria Greva, a Mexican woman who is a United States citizen and resident of New York. She wrote it in her native tongue, had it translated, and prevailed on Horace Heidt to play it. Now it's goodbye to "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen" and the swing version of "Loch Lomond."

FORGETFUL GUESTS

THE complexities of life, the weather, recurring state of absent mindedness, these three factors may be to blame for the siege of forgetting to attend social engagements that has struck society the last few weeks. We wonder how one goes about apologizing for such a breach of etiquette?

We know of a couple who, thinking they had nothing better to do, drove up and down the streets admiring the yards. It wasn't until late that night that the wife remembered they had been invited out to dinner. She apologized the next day but the hostess was rather cool in her replies.

Two young women who entertained with a dinner party recently delayed the meal awaiting the arrival of one of their guests. Finally deciding he wouldn't come they went ahead and served the meal. A Lubbock matron in reporting a dinner last week said, in checking over her guest list, "Oh yes and one failed to show up."

We believe apologizing pays. If you know how to go about it. However, the bruise may grow into a sore spot, because no one likes to think her parties are considered of such small importance that her invited guests forget about them.

WHAT CAN WE WISH?

WHAT can we wish that this day, this year may bring to us? Nothing that shall make the world or others poor; just those few things which in their coming do not stop with us, but touch us rather as they pass and gather strength:

A few friends who understand us, and yet remain our friends.

A work to do which has real value without which the world would feel the poorer.

A return for such work small enough not to tax unduly anyone who pays.

A mind unafraid to travel, even though the trail be not blazed.

An understanding heart.

A sight of the eternal hills, and unresting sea, and of something beautiful the hand of man has made.

A sense of humor and the power to laugh.

A little leisure with nothing to do.

A few minutes of quiet meditation.

The sense of the presence of God from Lou to Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: My friend wrote again suggesting an excellent pen name for me, and from the looks of things I may have to resort to it soon. People don't seem to like me anymore by my right name. All I've heard lately is adverse compliments about my writing.

Yes, I meant compliments. I'd rather be bad enough to be noticed than be merely mediocre in my writing.

People are always getting all over me for being such a gossip. Did I ever say anything bad about anybody? No, and that's more than my critics can say. That's that, I reckon.

My friend, whose cleverness I often omit from my letters lest my boss offer my job someday to her, wrote Friday:

"Nice weather for camels.

"I suppose you have also heard that the Kelly Polks of Carlsbad are parents of a daughter born April 1. They have named her Ruth Ann.

"J. D. Lehr, ex-Tech student, is now in Borger with the J. M. Huber corporation. He seems to like the job well and the company is building a new laboratory for him.

"I should have one or perhaps two 'scoops' for you soon."

I sure hope so, Pal, for I'm running a bit short in the scooping business.

I HADN'T even heard the rumors of the marriage of Mildred Mitchell and Jack Hankins, although several people told me yesterday they knew it two weeks ago.

Now that I'm ready to spill the beans about Margery Clevenger of Hobbs, N. M., and Tom Simmons, I find I'm too late to be considered news. I find that it is fairly well-known about town that they have set the marriage date for August or thereabouts. Just to remind you that I've been "in the know" I'll quote from my letter of August 9:

"I'm expecting someone to make off with Thomas B. Simmons, jr., by August, and I have an idea as to whom the young lady will be. More about that later."

I promised to help you catch up on who's who in the homebuilding realms, but the weather has been too unpleasant for investigation. I do, however, have a few notes that may or may not be news to you.

The Fred W. Standefers moved the past week into the new W. A. Jackson home on Twenty-first street. The Charles Reads and D. K. Bondurants are neighbors now that the Reads are into their new home.

I heard the other day that the I. C. Enochs of Jackson, Miss., former Lubbock residents, are planning to spend the first part of the summer here.

There's quite a bit of talk in the air of interesting summer trips. Now is when the biggest ones are planned you know, but I hate to say anything about them so soon.

I guess most of the Tech faculty people will be trekking back home for Easter. I am unprepared to tell you where any of them are going.

THERE'S a new bachelor in town! I haven't seen him yet and I haven't learned his first name nor how to spell the last. Rinehart. Those who've been more fortunate say he's young, personable, small of stature and has a dapper mustache. He is opening an F. H. A. office here. B'lieve I'll build me a house.

There are some lovely spring teas and things scheduled for the near offing, many of them for high school and college seniors. One of the most interesting events of the entire club year, I think, will be the achievement day tea which the City Federation under worthy leadership of Mrs. J. S. Johnson will stage April 22. Watch for it.

Yours, Lou.

Annual Open House Is Well Attended

Five hundred persons had registered at the annual open house in the Texas Technological college home economics division by Saturday noon, Miss Margaret W. Weeks, division dean, said. At least three hundred more were expected to register in the afternoon.

Total enrollment was expected to fall short of last year's one thousand visitors because of adverse weather conditions which prevented rural guests from attending, the dean said.

Pioneer Club Will Postpone Meeting Scheduled Tuesday

Instead of meeting this week at the regular time, the Pioneer Needle club will meet the afternoon of April 19. Mesdames Pebble Talley and L. D. Rankin will be hostesses.

George Innes is considered the greatest of early American landscape painters.

The coffee tree is native to Africa, but today the Latin American republics furnish four-fifths of the world's coffee, and, although the cocoa tree is native to South America, most of the world's supply now comes from Africa.

'The Seven Last Words' To Be Presented Tuesday; Churches' Programs Today

Milam Home To Get Proceeds

"The smallest of these" will be beneficiaries when the crack choral and orchestral units of Texas Technological college appear in a fourth annual presentation Tuesday night in Senior High school of "The Seven Last Words," Theodore Dubois' world-famous oratorio.

Children of Milam home, at 1107 Twenty-fourth street—some of them from homes brokekn by death, some by poverty, some by human frailties and some handed directly down to the home from the courts—will be afforded the chance to continue living in a "Christian home where the advantages of education, both music and academic, balanced diet and warm clothing are provided.

From 4 to 15 Years

There are 14 children there now, ranging in age from 4 to 15 years. There are eight rooms and a large room that serves as a dormitory for girls.

"We have had as high as 31 children, and a few times have had to turn away those needing our care," said Mrs. W. T. Milam, who founded the home seven years ago.

"The home was begun when I took into it nine children who had been deserted by their mother. All but two of them were placed in other homes before long, but the idea had taken root. Three years ago the home was chartered by the state and, twice a year, a state worker comes here from San Antonio to check our records and to make case investigations. Now, the home draws from a radius of 75 miles and we need accommodations for 50 children."

Other Agencies Give Support

Mrs. Milam began saving for the home by selling oil paintings she had done after studying with the western painters at Santa Fe and one month in the east. A roomer's pay went into the fund. In recent years there has come support from various agencies, including church classes and the Junior Welfare league, which is in charge of a ticket sale for Tuesday night's presentation.

Children are not admitted when they are more than 14 years old, but those who were admitted are not released from the school if they have not been adopted by outside families when they reach the age of 14 or above.

The oratorio last year was broadcast over KFYO and numerous persons called in their appreciation. This year, it is hoped everyone who possibly can do so will attend.

The Junior league Monday will sell tickets at Wiley's Drug store, Bowen's Drug store, Hemphill-Wells Co. Little Book shop, Kuykendall Chevrolet company, and at the Information office, room 101, at Texas Tech.

The oratorio program:

"THE SEVEN LAST WORDS OF CHRIST"

Introduction, soprano solo.

"O all ye who travel upon the highway, hearken to me and behold me, was ever sorrow like unto my sorrow? For the Lord Almighty hath dealt bitterly with me. Call me now no more Naomi, from today call me Mara."

First Word

Baritone and tenor soli, with chorus.

"Father forgive them, for they know not what they do.

And the people clamor'd: He is death guilty, take him, take him, let us crucify him!

Be his blood on us, and on our children! Then they did crucify Jesus, and the two thieves, one at His right hand, and the other at His left hand."

Second Word

Duet for tenor and baritone, with chorus.

"Verily, thou shalt be in Paradise today with me, Amen, Amen, I tell thee. Hear me, O Lord, and remember me when Thou comest into Thy kingdom."

Third Word

See, O woman, here behold they Son beloved.

See, son, mother bowed in anguish, Who beside the cross doth languish Where on high her son is borne. Is there mortal who not feeleth, To behold her where she kneeleth, So woefull and forlorn?

Fourth Word

Baritone solo.

"God, my Father, why hast Thou forsaken me?

All those who were my friends, all have now forsaken me and they that hate me do now prevail against me, and he whom I have cherished, he hath betrayed me.

Even the wine that I have chosen, and that I have planted, wherefore art Thou now so strange? turned into bitterness, that I by Thee am crucified?"

Fifth Word

Chorus, and soli for tenor and baritone.

"I am athirst."

And the Jews then passing by him, all did rail upon him, and wagging their heads at him, they said to him

"Ah! Thou wouldst fain destroy the temple, if thou be Jesus, Son of the Father, now from the cross descend thou, that we behold it, and believe on thee when we behold it.

If thou art king over Israel, save thyself then."

Sixth Word

Tenor solo and chorus.

Father, into Thy hands I commend my soul.

For Thou art my God and my Father, Thou art my Savior.

Into Thy hands I commend my soul."

Seventh Word

"And with a loud voice Jesus cried exclaiming, "It is finished."

And he did bow His head, and rendered up His spirit.

And it was about the sixth hour, and the sun was darkened, and darkness covered the earth, until about the ninth hour, and the veil of the temple was rent, and all the earth did quake, and the rocks, and all the graves were opened wide."

Prayer

"Christ, we do all adore Thee, and we do praise Thee forever, for on the Holy Cross hast Thou the world from sin redeemed."

Organized Labor Is Taking More Active Role In National Politics

Strength Will Be Tested At Polls

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Organized labor is taking a more active role than ever before in backing candidates for public office. Its position is discussed in the following article, last of three on the 1938 elections.)

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP) — Organized labor may wield the balance of power in many elections this year. While a true measure of labor strength must await the counting of ballots, recent developments in such key states as New York and Pennsylvania have made political leaders wary of treading on the toes of the workers.

Four Units Strongest

Organizations with which these leaders must reckon in selecting candidates and formulating platforms are John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization; Labor's Non-Partisan league, dominated by Lewis; the American Federation of Labor, and in New York state, the American Labor party.

Their task is complicated by the split between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. This has brought demands from William Green, A. F. of L. president, that members of his organization withdraw from Labor's Non-Partisan league and pursue independent political courses.

Strength Demonstrated

The American Labor party demonstrated its strength by marshalling 482,000 votes for the re-election of Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia in New York City last November.

Creation of the American Labor party of New Jersey followed the New York victory.

Labor's most spectacular political stroke so far this year has been in Pennsylvania. There John L. Lewis, flouted by the Democratic state committee, put up Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. The state committee picked a Pittsburgh attorney, Charles Alvin Jones. The primary will be May 17.

Would Control Delegates

Should Kennedy, an officer of Lewis' United Mine Workers, win both the primary and general elections, the C. I. O. leader would be in position to control the state's large block of Democratic convention delegates in 1940.

Elsewhere labor's activities are manifold. President Green of the A. F. of L. has endorsed Democratic Senator Pepper of Florida for re-election, and Labor's Non-Partisan league also is backing him. In Kentucky Senator Barkley, whose renomination is opposed by Governor A. B. Chandler, won the blessing of Labor's Non-Partisan league.

League officials say that among primary candidates they will back are Senators Bone (D-Wash), Thomas (D-Utah), Thomas (D-Okla) and Brown (D-NH).

Body Of Missing Technician Found; Bullet In Brain

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo, April 9. (AP)—The body of Arthur Beardsley, dental technician missing since January 3, was found today in the Colorado river with a bullet in the brain, and Sheriff Charles Lumley said "it looks like murder."

The body was located five miles below a Grand Junction bridge where Beardsley's car was found, blood-flecked and its motor still running, at the time of his disappearance.

At the end of 1935, the total capacity of all freight cars owned by Class 1 American railways amounted to 88,677,106 tons.

Traffic Safety Work Stressed

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 9. — Regimentation, a new catchword on the political horizon, has a genuine meaning in Texas.

Legions of school pupils, teachers, businessmen and agencies of state government have mobilized in an attack on traffic accidents.

Theirs is the education division of the "Three-E" army of roadway safety which includes also engineering and enforcement divisions.

New Division Is Aiding

Dovetailing their work are the newly created traffic division of the state highway department, a special safety division of the public safety department, in command of Capt. George Schauer, the governor's traffic safety committee and thousands of private individuals, child and adult.

Each has separate objectives but all join hands in a common fight—educating fellow man to eliminate the hazards he creates for others.

About 10 Per Cent Accidents

"About 10 per cent of traffic mishaps are accidents," says W. H. Richardson, jr., chairman of the public safety commission. "The rest are casualties—self-inflicted or resulting from the carelessness of others."

He believes one of the best corrective measures is education, although he does not discount enforcement and education.

To that end highway patrolmen will begin a campaign in May, when the force will be increased by 100 men, which includes there features:

Organization of 750 schoolboy safety patrols. It organized 82 last year and has requests from 200 schools for installing more.

Talks before 250,000 members of parent-teacher groups, civic clubs, schools and churches.

Increased operation of safety lanes for courtesy inspection of brakes, lights, horns, steering gear and wheel alignment of 500,000 automobiles, compared with 105,000 inspected last year.

Program Being Formulated

In the highway department which is concerned chiefly with engineering, public education will receive more attention. Commissioners appointed Harry S. Phillips of Waco head of a new traffic safety division. He is formulating a program which will tie in with educational work of the public safety department and citizens groups.

Gov. James V. Allred, alarmed at mounting accident tolls, mobilized a statewide committee of business and professional men and women a year ago to carry the gospel of sane driving into all communities. The group is planning expanded activities this year under direction of C. J. Rutland of Dallas.

Courts Last Resort

"We can't do much about the present crop of reckless drivers," said Richardson, "but for the best avenue is through schools and the public rostrum. The last resort is the courts."

He is of the opinion education is producing good results and credits schoolboy patrols with the almost total absence of accidents in school areas policed by them.

Safety consciousness is spreading to many fields. Recently a student government congress held at the University of Texas was devoted mainly to betterment of campus safety among Texas colleges and universities. The movement originated among students themselves.

Grasshoppers In Texas Expected

COLLEGE STATION, April 9. (Special)—Egg counts made by county agricultural agents and federal and state entomologists during the fall and winter indicate that Texas may expect a severe grasshopper infestation in the late spring and early summer of 1938, according to R. R. Reppert, entomologist of the Texas A. and M. College extension service.

Surveys conducted by Reppert have led him to anticipate a much more severe infestation than was suffered in 1937.

In 9 counties, he expects that almost all susceptible crops will be attacked by the insects, in 7 counties half to three-fourths of the crops are endangered, in 17 counties the anticipated infestation will be from 30 to 50 per cent, and in 48 counties the insects are expected to affect from 4 to 30 per cent of the crop.

Major Outbreaks Expected

In addition, Reppert expects infestations of varying degrees in 23 counties in which complete surveys were not attempted. Major outbreaks are indicated in the upper Panhandle and in north and north central Texas, with probable damage in the middle valleys of the Brazos and Trinity rivers.

The control measure hinges upon putting out poisoned bait as the grasshoppers emerge, and before they have had time to spread and multiply, Reppert pointed out. The 1937 control campaign returned more than a hundred dollars for each dollar spent, and saved crops valued at more than 6 million dollars.

It is estimated that there is a probable need for 14,000 tons of bait in the 1938 control campaign, or approximately six times the amount used in 1937. Plans have already been made for the distribution, mixing, and application of this material.

Twenty-two per cent of Chile's working population finds occupation in the more than 8,000 different manufacturing enterprises established in the country.

Easter Holidays Open This Week

Easter holidays will be granted this week to students of Texas Technological college, Draughon's Business college, and Lubbock public schools.

College holidays will open at 6 p. m. Wednesday and classes will be resumed at 8 a. m. the following Tuesday, April 19. Many faculty members, as well as out-of-town students, plan to spend the holidays away from Lubbock.

Public school students will be dismissed Friday.

Hollywood On The Loose..

Hollywood Producers Get Big Headache Trying To Guess At The Wants Of Fans

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 9.—Short takes: A story is told of a couple of movie executives who were discussing the current Hollywood panic. "What we'll have to do," said one, "is get to work and make some good pictures."

"Oh, don't get excited," soothed the other man. "There must be an easier way than that."

Nevertheless, the industry is in general agreement that good pictures would be the solution of its troubles. Good, substantial pictures with more acttion and less talk, with more emphasis on story values and less attention to the costly whims of arty theorists.

The movie-makers would give a lot to know whether the fans are fed up with musicals, or whether they're tired of sophisticated slapstick. Do they want westerns, murder mysteries, fantasy or what? I'll stick my neck out far enough to predict a renaissance of romance on the screen. Love has been having a tough time of it lately.

Brring!

YOUTHFUL gyp subscription salesmen, who must be working their way through reform school, are driving the movie stars crazy by actually getting on the studio lots and ringing dressing room doorbells. They use the wildest misrepresentations in their sales talks, claiming to be relatives of employes or the sons of starving former stars. Certain truck drivers double their wages by smuggling solicitors inside studio gates.

"You can't," objected Scotch Ella Logan.

Accent On Accents

HOTTEST item in the line of leading men is young Douglas Fairbanks. Less than a year ago he could be hired practically for buttons. Now he's drawing $100,000 from Universal for the picture with Danielle Darrieux. . . . At odd moments he has been skipping over to RKO for retakes on "Having Wonderful Time," which seems to have been a sorry job of miscasting an acquired British accent into a story about Jewish stenographers and their Bronx boy friends in a summer resort in the Berkshires. Touches of dialect are being inserted belatedly.

METRO is making dignified but eager overtures to Miss Garbo and Stokowski for an appearance together in a picture. No sale . . . Marlene Dietrich went back to Paramount—but only to have some new portraits made by a photographer who's accustomed to her whims. She paid for them. . . Incidentally, Josef von Sternberg has a new protege whom he may bring here after changing her name. Right now she's Hedy Pdunfmayer. . . Back in Paris, Mireille Balin insists that after recovering her health she'll return to Hollywood for a promised picture with Clark Gable.

Twisted Tongues

WORDS most frequently mispronounced on the screen are decadent, harass, research, impious, address, sacrilegious, contractor and supervisor. Almost any word, though, may muddle a player's lines. For example, Jimmy Cagney happened to blow up on the word "newspaper." Right away it became a sort of mental hazard and he ruined five successive takes, always faltering on the same word.

"We"

GRACE MOORE'S husband, Valentin Perara, uses the matrimonial "we" in speaking of his wife's activities. "We sang on the radio," he says. Or, "We recorded three numbers yesterday." Or, "We have a sore throat." . . . Mary Pickford wants Buddy Rogers to give up his orchestra leading, but he wants to work. . . . Rudy Vallee still impersonates Maurice Chevalier, a fading memory.

An uppity young actress accused a dowager of the stage of stealing her scenes. The veteran said, "My dear, but that's absurd! If you were a shoplifter, would you operate in a bargain basement?"

AWIDELY favored plan to solve the problems of Hollywood extras may be the placing under contract of more than 1000 people by the major studios. This would eliminate the Central Casting Bureau and would assure the junior stock players a living wage—with a $35 weekly minimum and an additional $5 a day for every day worked. But if the scheme is adopted there'll be a wild scramble for the best prospects—especially for cuties. Some of the executives already have their lists prepared.

LIGHT-WEIGHT JACKET

A light-weight sports jacket of windproof, shower resistant tan or navy poplin that actually folds itself into a snug little packet when not needed and which will fit neatly into the pocket of your golf bag is just the sort of extra protection wanted for a day of golfing in changeable spring weather. It has adjustable cuffs and waistband, a free-swinging, belted back, slide fastener front opening, and two slanted slit pockets.

Reorganization Of Texas Senate Is Proposed; Would Consider Special Needs

Texas Professor Advances Idea

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 9.—Reorganization of the Texas senate on a functional basis with the cotton planters of East Texas, ranchmen of West Texas, tenant farmers, and the oil, lumber, sulphur, commercial, banking, and manufacturing interests electing representatives, is suggested by Dr. O. Douglas Weeks, professor of government at the University of Texas, in a study published by the Arnold Foundation of Southern Methodist University.

Under this system the house of representatives would continue to stand, theoretically at least, the author says, for the general good, whereas the senate would stand for the particular good.

Would Select Third Group

Dr. Weeks discusses the suggestion of two unicameral parliaments—one for political and the other for social decisions but says a more practical idea is that of a subordinate council, functionally chosen and operating alongside the present parliament, without power to legislate but with initiatory and advisory functions in regard to social and economic legislation.

"All American legislatures, Dr. Weeks says, "while delegating to other agencies of government the power to make decisions broadly legislative in character, have an opposite tendency on petty matters with which they are not competent to deal and which in all other representative systems are discharged by administrative authorities.

Pass Too Many Bills

"Legislatures pass too many petty bills, too much private and local legislation, which invade the rightful sphere of other departments of government."

Although admitting a unicameral legislature might cut down the volume of legislation passed, Dr. Weeks doubts it could decrease the number of bills introduced and considered.

A representative assembly is necessary under any kind of a liberal regime, Dr. Weeks says, but the form ad structure are not of paramount importance. It is far more imperative, he contends, that its function be limited to making a relatively few fundamental decisions of public policy so that its efficiency and responsibility may be increased.

"Americans believe their legislators are in office primarily to serve powerful lobbyists or petty constituents, or both, and they have largely forced the legislator to accept this theory," Dr. Weeks thinks.

The business of legislation has become as much a matter for experts as that of modern administration, Dr. Weeks says. The end of the present advance towards what seems the ultimate abdication of the representative assembly in determining major policies is by no means in sight.

Pecos Wells Are Features Of Week's Oil Activities

BY JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

Spraying of a small amount of oil by Cardinal No. 1 White & Baker following a shot to promise opening of a new Pecos county pool four miles west of the Yates field, and completion of a northeast extension to the Chalk pool in Howard county furnished widely separated oil developments in West Texas this week. A Gulf wildcat on University land in eastern Crane county showed oil in amount sufficient to cause pipe to be run and cemented preliminary to testing, and further high geological markers were logged by outposts and wildcats in Yoakum, Gaines and Andrews counties.

Cardinal No. 1 White & Baker in Pecos county showed in excess of one-half million cubic feet of gas and an estimated 25 barrels of oil daily while cleaning out after an 80-quart shot from 1,618-39 feet. It had plugged back from 1,802 to 1,639 feet to shut off sulphur water. Location is 330 from the south, 2,330 feet from the west line of section 36-Z-TCRR.

Makes Heads Of Oil

Magnolia and Tex-Mex No. 1-A McKee, northern Pecos county wildcat in section 24-9-H&GN, made 12 heads of oil when 7-inch pipe was drawn above Simpson sand at 5,271-80 feet in rerigging rotary to deepen from 5,444 feet in lime and shale. Stanley Thompson's No. 1 Elsinore, Pecos county wildcat in section 53-D-GC&SF, was drilling by tools lost at 7,212 feet, where several weeks ago it showed gas. Floyd Dodson's No. 1-A Texas-American Syndicate, northern Brewster county wildcat in section 66-10-GH&SA, was fishing for a baller at 7,785 in sand.

H. L. Lockhart's No. 1 A. R. Huesinger, two-mile northeast extension to the Chalk pool in southeastern Howard county, was completed at 2,925 feet with a daily potential of 963 barrels following a 940-quart shot. It is in the southeast corner of section 67-29-W&NW, four miles southwest of the Snyder pool. The Texas Co. No. 1 H. H. Wilkinson, southwestern Howard wildcat in section 32-34-1n-T&P, topped the Yates sand at 1,751 feet, 701 feet above sea level, and drilled ahead at 2,390 in salt and anhydrite.

Has High Lime Show

Helmerich & Payne No. 1 Ohio-O'Dowd, 2 1-2 miles southwest of Denver pool production in southwestern Yoakum county and in the northeast corner of section 896-D-John H. Gibson, was credited with the highest brown lime top in the area, 3,830 feet, 202 feet below sea level. Solid lime tops were high in Shell No. 1 Dowden, in the northwest quarter of section 894, at 4,300 feet, 701 feet below sea level, and in Shell No. 1 Dora Roberts, wildcat in section 793, at 4,410 feet, 716 feet below sea level. No. 1 Roberts is 1 1-2 miles southwest of The Texas Co. No. 1 Walker, a small discovery well three miles west of the Denver pool opener.

Devonian and others' No. 2-A Duggan, east offset to the most southerly well in the Duggan pool in southeastern Cochran county, swabbed 13 barrels of oil hourly bottomed at 5,063 feet, after retreatment with 3,500 gallons of acid. It is in the southwest corner of labor 13, league 55, Oldham county school land. Helmerich & Payne staked a wildcat, No. 1 Westheimer & Daube, in west central Cochran county, 1,-289 feet out of the southeast corner of labor 14, league 147, Stonewall county school land.

First Pay Topped

Topping first pay at 4,934 feet, Honolulu No. 1-77 Slaughter in the Slaughter pool in southwestern Hockley county filled 300 feet with oil in drilling to 3,967 feet. It is in the southeast quarter of labor 77, league 37, Zavala county school land, an east offset to Stanolind No. 1 Slaughter. Gulf No. 1 Gordon, three-quarter mile farther southeast, in the northeast corner of section 6-X-psl, was cleaning out following a 320-quart shot, with a plugged back depth of 5,060 feet.

Searching For Murder Fiends

APPEAL of authorities investigating the barbarous Frome murders to the general public to be on the alert for clues seeks to bring into the case the most effective possible weapon.

If that cooperation could be obtained, and if you as an individual here and elsewhere over the country would watch for these particular murderers, probably they would be in custody within a few hours.

We admit that spontaneous cooperation of that sort is almost impossible to secure. It is hard to arouse the mass of people to such indignation that apprehension of the criminals becomes instinctively a personal matter.

But it has been done. Recall the Hickman case in California a good many years ago when the murder of a little girl was so ferocious that a nation demanded justice. The capture of that murderer was due to the fact that an ordinary citizen was keeping his eyes open.

That could happen in the Frome case. Probably, it will be a "tip" from some wholly unexpected source which will lead to apprehension of the murderers. The point to remember is: The probability of a solution is in almost exact proportion to the number of individuals who are watching for the fugitives.

Mr. Smoot's Reform Measure

A few may agree with former United States Senator Reed Smoot of Utah in his denunciation of the spreading use of tobacco, but none will envy the crusade he apparently has undertaken attempting to do something about it. Obviously he has butted into a stone wall, which is not especially unusual for a senator—either past or present.

Most users of tobacco may agree with the former senator that they, individually, smoke or chew more than is good for them. A great many men may agree they have added admiration for the woman who does not smoke. Overwhelmingly, they favor restrictions of sales of tobacco to minors.

But also he will discover that with rare exceptions, the user of tobacco will contend that the benefit he derives from the pleasure of his habit more than offsets any injurious effects the weed may have. He will learn that, overwhelmingly, people accept the double standard insofar as smoking is concerned.

All in all, it seems a trifle pathetic that a man of the background and with the proven ability of Mr. Smoot should expend energy upon an anti-tobacco crusade when so many other things so much more important are in need of an able advocate.

Looking Ahead With France

ONE of the most hopeless of all forecasts is an attempt to predict what next turn the French government might take.

Paradoxically, one of the most confident predictions which can be made on the international stage is that regardless of the governmental turn in France, it will not be a dictatorship. Conceivably it might be revolution—perhaps will be rebellion unless the nation's economic distress is relieved—but at the end, the affairs of government are almost certain to be in the hands of a democracy and not the hands of any one, two or three men.

The fact that democracy is a mania with the excitable French people has rarely been more dramatically demonstrated than in the crisis leading to the downfall of Premier Blum's cabinet. World observers are agreed and then French people undoubtedly know that a stabilized currency is perhaps the first essential to a cure for their economic ills. Yet when Premier Blum demanded dictatorial power, not over the government but solely in dealing with the currency problem—no soap!

The French have had too much experience with dictatorships in the form of absolute monarchies and then Napoleon. No European people of the last several hundred years were worse downtrodden than they, and none swung quite so far toward the other extreme as did the French following their Reign of Terror. It is not improbable that the Blum overthrow is a direct heritage of the hate which flared into the Terror.

Woman loses her power when she tries to use it publicly. A man isn't afraid to argue with one he doesn't live with.

Mr. Johnson says you can't reason a woman out of anything because she wasn't reasoned into it.

The One-Minute Sermon

And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins.

British War Officer, Brigadier General Frank Percy Crozier, Writes Of War, Grim Pitiless Business, In "The Men I Killed"; Norma Patterson And Crate Dalton Put West Texas Oil Boom Between Boards

"THE MEN I KILLED," by Brigadier General Percy Crozier; (Doubleday, Doran, New York).

IT isn't often that a general lets his hair down and tells all. Brigadier General Frank Percy Crozier of the British army does it in his new book, "The Men I Killed" and the result it something to keep you awake nights.

Crozier

What Gen. Crozier does is simply to take the veil off of ordinary combat procedure and let you see it in all its unadorned rawness. War is a grim and pitiless business; Gen. Crozier shows why that must be so and how it works out.

So he tells about the things that must be done to maintain discipline in action, tells of officers shooting their own men to avert a panic, tells how he himself ordered machine guns turned on the retreating Portuguese troops during the German break-through of April, 1918—tells, indeed, how he shot and unnerved British officer on that same day.

Did He Like Them?

Did he like to do these things? Not in the least. Then why did he do them? Because he had to; because, in war, there are times when men can be steeled to hold fast only by the knowledge that they will be shot if they fail. It isn't pretty—but it is an inescapable part of war.

Gen. Crozier is equally frank in other respects. The average British officer rom 1915 on, he says, was "an all-round idiot," and the higher his rank the greater idiot he usually was. His remarks on the blundering incompetence, as he calls it, of the British high command are enough to make Earl Haig turn over in his grave.

But the general doesn't stop there. If war is so ugly and ghastly, he asks—why not keep out of war? Why not stop all this frantic preparing for the next war and try, instead, to remove the causes that are bringing that war on?

Why not, indeed?

That Magic Word—Oil!

"OUT OF THE GROUND," by Norma Patterson and Crate Dalton; (Farrar & Rinehart, N. Y.).

WEST TEXANS will grin reminiscently when they read the artful descriptions of West Texas sandstorms in the novel "Out of the Ground" by Norma Patterson and Crate Dalton; but they will chuckle softly to themselves when they read David blew into town in the midst of the last sandstorm of the year.

The authors, whose homes are in Dallas, have collaborated to give a stirring, authoritative panorama of a typical West Texas town during an oil boom. Waldo, the mythical village, is located about 100 miles west of Fort Worth. Over-night the earnest hard-working people in this somnolent village are turned into a milling mass of feverish people bent on making a fortune. The old substantial houses become obstructed by tents, shacks, shanties, hovels, and when timber ran out David moved to town old Sol White's smokehouse to use for his office. The law of the town became 'take what you can get away with' rather than the former reign of the golden rule.

Pumpkins Into Chariots

This transformation had taken place because oil had been discovered. Oil! The magic word that turns pumpkins into chariots and sensible men into savage money thirsty animals. Oil got into the blood of the people and the constant beat of the drillers serves as the novel's background.

David, an aspiring young lawyer, returns to Waldo, his native town, to practice. He is clever, shrewd, and will fight to uphold his high principles. But he is young and made mistakes. He rides the boom to the top and falls with his neighbors. It was not until money was gone he realized that to everyone in the rabble throng, and to men everywhere who sought in life a metallic pot of gold as their life's obect, must come disillusionment and a shattering . . . and men would go on finding money inadequate and insufficient.

Book Technical In Places

In some places the book is rather technical suggesting the engineering knowledge of Crate Dalton, but the literary skill which binds the novel together reveals the writing of Norma Patterson. Bits of delightful Western philosophy interspersed throughout the book show that the authors had a true conception of Texans' hearts.

The novel recently ran in serial form in the Holland's magazine under the title 'Derrick Town." Norma Patterson is one of the younger contemporary writers and has manuscripts published in popular magazines. She is the wife of Crate Dalton.—R. L. L.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON'S present-day hero of the commonplace is Aubrey Williams, whether you agree with the Roosevelt system of relief or not. The assistant W.P.A. administrator has performed a magnificent job during the absence of Chief Harry Hopkins.

Last fall Mr. Williams got bad news from W.P.A.'s chief economist and one of the most expert at the capital—Leon Henderson. So he set to work to provide for a tremendous expansion in the W.P.A. organization if circumstances bore out Mr. Henderson's prognostications. They did—unfortunately. Between last August and March the number of people needing and placed on relief increased by 900,000—more than the population of Washington, more than the combined employes of the steel and automobile industries. Mr. Williams had to prepare projects, obtain local sponsors, jimmy an extra $250,000,000 out of Congress, set up relief staffs in scattered localities—feed and clothe the poor.

He's a deceptive fellow—this ex-preacher from Oklahoma. Through thick spectacles and childlike eyes he peers at the world with an eternal expression of wonderment, as if he didn't know what it was all about. But behind that countryman's countenance lies a big heart and a shrewd mind for which 2,300,000 down-and-outers today give thanks.

IRONIC: In such present-day Yankees as John O'Connor and Burton K. Wheeler the Sam Adamses and John Hancocks of revolutionary days have their lineal descendants. Messrs. O'Connor and Wheeler are the leading rebels of 1938.

Mr. Wheeler killed the Supreme court reform bill, and the New York member led the revolt against the government reorganization measure in its original form. It was he who forced the House leadership and the President to compromise until the final draft was only a shadow of the first proposal. Thought a New York City man, John's years of study at Brown and Harvard universities betray themselves in his strong Harvard accent. Only a man with a fighting heart and real courage could be elected from the heart of Tammany in spite of his Bostonian pronunciation. He loses it when he gets mad, however, and then you know why New Yorkers like this man O'Connor.

His independence is no new thing. For years he jeopardized his renomination, sometimes his reelection, by telling the unpleasant truth to the big bosses. Now he has told it to the head man, and gotten away with it. But it seems ironic that Wheeler, a Massachusetts man by birth, and O'Connor, a Bay Stater by education and tradition, should head the fight against executive domination rather than a Norris or a Borah or a LaFollette. Maybe rebel blood will tell, after all!

RULERS: The most popular men in Washington these days are economic experts. Any kind will do—private or governmental. The business and industrial world is sitting at their feet, anxious to know where the next blow will land.

Some weeks ago Whirligig wrote a simple item about Dr. Constantine E. McGuire, who serves as an economic adviser for banks, industrial corporations, the Vatican and numerous South American countries. Ever since both he and Whirligig have been besieged with requests that he supply the same service to various companies throughout the country. Leon Henderson, W. P. A.'s economist, and probably the best at the capital despite his pronounced pessimism, receives daily requests for advice on future trends. Both men, incidentally, are so busy that they can take on no new clients.

In the old days—the good old days—people used to write to their Congressman for such information. They thought he was all-powerful and omniscient. But now the economists rule the nation's roost.

WORKER: President Roosevelt revealed the strain which the depression has imposed on him when he arrived at Warm Springs for his recent visit. It's a burden which the American people, in their unconscious carelessness, are likely to forget.

As F. D. R. settled down in his little cottage on the hill, he was asked about arrangements—for breakfast, Secret Service attention, automobile transportation, etc.

"Never mind all that," sighed the President. "I came down here to sleep. I have been working until 3 o'clock every morning for weeks, and I'm tired."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

WITHOUT in the least condoning Richard Whitney's performance, it can fairly be said that to some extent he was the victim of circumstances. He was in financial distress as far back as 1932. At that time it was vitally important to Whitney's associates to keep his head above water as a symbol, and also to prevent ruinous repercussions that might have followed his collapse.

In return for their assistance, Whitney carried the torch in the futile fight to keep the Stock exchange independent of government regulation—and continued to carry it right up to the moment of his fall. The psychology of the support that was given him from '32 on undoubtedly helped him to believe that this jam was no worse than others and that he could be pulled out of the hole again as he had been before.

Whitney's career as a Wall Street spearhead was over when the axe was allowed to fall. His associates had come to realize—even if he didn't—that the slow but steady occupation of new ground by the S. E. C. had forever doomed the regime that he represented. But if the '32-'37 situation were repeated, it would probably be handled the same way as before. It seemed so reasonable and natural at the time!

RISE: Last Monday Edward Stettinius, Jr., aged 37, took Myron Taylor's place as chairman of U. S. Steel. Insiders do not anticipate sensational new broom stuff, but are watching for significant backstage changes.

Active command of Big Steel's destinies has passed into young hands all along the line, not just in the chairman's office. This should mean new vigor and a more progressive outlook in the corporation's policies. For years U. S. Steel rode somnolently along on its reputation and steadily lost ground to competitors. Now it should again become a dynamic and potent factor in shaping industrial history.

Another angle: Mr. Stettinius' late father was a Morgan partner—and he knows who made him chairman. Morgan industrial influence is again on the rise behind the scenes regardless of Whitney complications. This does not imply—as some people have erroneously suspected—a reversal of Mr. Taylor's attitude towards labor. Mr. Stettinius and his Morgan backers privately agree that union recognition has come to stay.

ODDS: Robert R. Young, the youthful financier who bought what he thought was control of the former Van Sweringen empire last year, is bucking a formidable combination in his single-handed fight to retain control of Chesapeake Corp.—and through it of the profitable Chesapeake & Ohio railroad. The Guaranty Trust Co., of N. Y. is definitely lined up with the faction that wants to throw him out—with Morgan interests in the background.

Unkindest cut of all, some of the people who helped finance his venture—men associated with General Motors and duPont—have turned against him. They haven't liked his independent ideas.

EDGE: President Roosevelt stands to lose political prestige in several states this year as a result of Democratic primary fights. New York, Pennsylvania and Kentucky are notable examples. But he is likely to score a consoling victory in South Carolina.

Governor Olin D. Johnston is the administration candidate in that state's senatorial primaries against the veteran incumbent "Cotton Ed" Smith. A comparative youngster of 42, Johnston has been a 100% New Dealer. He even got his state legislature to pass a resolution endorsing the President's Supreme court reform plan last year and has publicly advocated a federal wage-hour bill—anathema to most southern politicos, including Smith.

U.S. Doesn't Expect War But She's Ready--Just In Case War Might Come

GUARDING THE THINKERS
This ornamental cannon stands on the steps leading to the War College at Washington where the Army's big minds thresh out problems of possible wars.

BY ALEXANDER GEORGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 9 — Twenty-one years after the United States' entrance into the World war finds the nation ready, as never before, for possible conflict with a foreign foe.

Not only is the navy strong and growing stronger. Not only is the small U. S. army highly trained and mechanized. But plans also have been laid for mobilization of America's resources — half the world's total. They are detailed "to a gnat's eyelash," as one veteran officer explains.

Planning was the big military lesson America learned from the World war. While in that conflict it was necessary to make all these plans by rule of thumb after the United States declared war. Now they are all set down in writing — just in case.

Strategists will tell you they neither want nor expect war within ten years. But they say that if war should come — even next month —the levers are ready to start the vast mobilization machinery.

Fortunately, at the time of our entry into the World war we had time to mobilize. It was several months before we were able to assemble and equip a force large enough to exercise a material influence on the outcome of the hostilities. In a future emergency we may not be so fortunate.

"Hence, common sense dictates that in time of peace we should consider carefully the steps necessary to mobilize quickly for defense. The very fact that we may be able to assemble and equip speedily a large and efficient army greatly lessens the probability of war."

Virtually every step in the intricate process of putting a huge nonmilitarized country on a war footing has been blue-printed.

Even The Two-By-Fours

TENTATIVE allocation for the production of planes, guns, steel helmets and a thousand other requirements have been made to 10,000 plants. Surveys of the productive capacity of these and thousands of other plants have been completed.

Specified is the number of two-by-fours that will be needed to build cantonments for training recruits. Sites for these camps have been chosen.

A joint army and navy committee has drafted a model selective service law and has worked out tentative regulations for conscription. Plans are drawn for co-ordination of railway, motor and air transport.

The 12,000 officers of the regular army and 96,000 officers in the reserve corps have orders directing them where to report for duty on M-day, the commencement of mobilization.

The highly mechanized regular army, 170,000 strong, and national guard troops numbering about 195,000 would be mobilized, theoretically, in 20 to 30 hours. Training nucleus for hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of citizen-soldiers would be the 96,000 reserve corps officers. Because of this large officer contingent built up since the World war, new soldiers could be trained much better and more quickly than in 1917-18.

12,000,000 Men

IN 1917 at the first registration of all men between 21 and 30 inclusive, 9,586,000 were listed for potential military duty. The first registration in a future war is expected to include men in the same age bracket. If it should take place this year, 11,000,000 to 12,000,000 men would be registered.

Army planners say that more than a million men must be obtained for the land forces in the first four months, 300,000 of them in the first 30 days. In addition to selective service recruiting, plans are being developed for getting volunteers through local recruiting committees, including representatives of such organizations as the American Legion.

Poised for swift flight to threatened points would be the general headquarters air force. The GHQ is slated to reach a strength of 1,000 modern planes by 1940. Their defense would be supplemental to fixed fortifications at harbors, heavy railway and tractor-drawn coast guns and the mobile army units.

A war advisory council, serving as the President's special war ministry, would be in general control of the combatant, economic and public morale forces.

A war resources administration would co-ordinate munitions requirements and the needs of the civilian population. A war trade administration would control imports and exports and negotiate trade agreements. A commission would control prices and another would have charge of war finances. There would be selective service and war labor administrations.

More Definite Check On Wheat Crop Loss In Area Expected During Next Week

Crop May Stage A Comeback

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

With the first stage of the devastating blizzard of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, passed, grain men and farmers are awaiting a possible check-up of wheat to determine the approximate extent of damage from the below freezing temperatures.

First estimates placed the damage at better than 50 per cent the first day after the freeze, Thursday. Additional low mercury on Friday caused a higher estimate.

Blast Hopes For Crop

That the damage done has blasted hopes for a record wheat crop is undoubted; but that the crop is entirely lost is not held by many who are in touch with the situation.

Wheat is one crop that can come back after severe setbacks and make a comparatively fair yield, with proper weather conditions following the bad spell. No one can positively assert just the exact extent to which wheat will stand cold or wind damage or dry weather, and make some kind of a crop.

Some Damage Certain

Undoubtedly wheat that was in the boot stage, or where wheat had begun to head, was damaged. Several reports have come here of where heading had been in progress of forming. These were from Crosby, Floyd, Hale and Swisher counties in this area. Over east, off the Caprock, around Crowell, Childress and other points, similar reports were heard.

Some land blowing was had during the 48 hours or more of high wind. Where the wheat might otherwise not have been injured to any great extent, blowing away of soil from around the roots could expose the roots to serious damage. How much wheat was damaged by blowing can only be guessed at.

Would Have Been Good Crop

Acreage in Lubbock's territory was estimated at about 1,350,000 acres. Before the freeze, it stood, under normal conditions, to have averaged probably 18 to 20 bushels per acre. A possible 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushel crop would not have been far off.

It is altogether probable that an average of seven or eight bushels per acre can be harvested from most of the acreage, provided other conditions are right. However, the average may not exceed five or six bushels. There will be reports of yields in excess of those totals.

Grain men generally believe that next week will permit a more accurate check of the extent of crop damage than at this time. By that time warmer temperatures will have come, possibly some rain and growth of the plant may be beginning.

Dean A. H. Leidigh, of Texas Technological college, whose Texas wheat experience dates back more than 30 years, said some of his notes on the 1907 freeze were interesting. He was then engaged in experimental work around Amarillo. The freeze was about April 22 that year.

With temperatures up to 90 degrees that March, rapid growth had begun. Winter wheat that looked like it would produce from 10 to 25 bushels actually produced three and four bushels. A hail in June added to damage. Other crops, oats, barley and rye, had low yields.

Strawberries Being Shipped Out Of East Texas; Price Is Good

TYLER, April 9 (AP)—About 75 crates of Smith county strawberries are being shipped daily from the Lindale area northwest of Tyler. Lewis Pierce a buyer, says they are bringing from $1.50 to $2 a crate. The Lindale sector also is the center of Smith county's blackberry crop.

An unusually advanced spring indicates that an early variety of blackberry, the McDonald, will start moving probably by April 15. Heretofore, May 10 marked the ripening of this variety.

Pierce predicts the blackberry crop will be large because of recent rains. Pierce thinks if weather conditions continue to be favorable growers may expect to make as good or better crop as last year. As there is practically no hold-over from last year's crop, Pierce says growers expect a good price.

TO RECEIVE $115,000

UVALDE, April 9 (AP)—Uvalde county farmers and ranchmen will receive approximately $115,000 for their participation in the 1937 farm and range programs, F. W. Hall, county agent, says. Included in the program was 244 farms with 58,148 acres in cultivation, and 186 ranches with a total of 587,641 acres.

Soil And Water Conservation Work In Garza County Is Outstanding; Results Of Program During Past Year Are Cited In Reports

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

POST, April 9—Garza county farmers and ranchers are moving forward with their soil and water conservation program. The unusually good crops of last year made possible the carrying out of many improved soil and water conservation practices that might have otherwise been neglected. Through the close working of the Extension Service and the practices carried out in connection with the soil conservation program many farms have been terraced and contoured.

The local County Agent J. W. Potts has pushed very vigorously this conservation program and has at all times enjoyed the cooperation of all farmers, ranchers and the vocational agriculture teacher L. H. McElroy of Post High school. Farmers in every community of the county have helped their neighbors with the running of lines and every available level in the county has been busy since early last fall.

Large Yields Reported

The large yields made on farms that were terraced or contoured clearly show the usfulness of these practices. Elmer Cowdrey of the Graham community in 1937 averaged 571 pounds of lint cotton per acre as did Mike Custer of the Close City community on contoured land. Mike also harvested a crop of wheat that produced approximately 35 bushels per acre. This was some ten bushels above the county average. Both of these farms are farmed on the "level." Their 1937 yields are almost two hundred pounds per acre above the county average.

W. F. Lancaster of the Pleasant Valley community has made record yields for the past two years on land which was contoured and treated with green manuer crops. In 1936 he averaged 552 pounds of lint cotton per acre and this is approximately three times the yield for the average farm for that year. In 1937 he averaged 523 pounds per acre. Lancaster in 1937 produced more than two bales per acre on a small tract that had a heavy growth of green sudan turned under on it in the summer of 1936.

These three farms are given only as examples to show what soil and water conservation practices can mean in terms of increased yields. There are many other such examples in Garza county and the following figures will reflect the great amount of work that has been done in 1938 to further improve the farms and practices of the county.

Work Is Increased

Already terraces have been constructed on 2645 acres. This is more than twice the amount that was terraced in 1936. This figure would be much larger had sufficient equipment been available to do the work. Another five thousand acres has been contoured. All of this work has been directed by the local Extension Service agent.

Garza county ranchers have also been busy with their program and during 1937 they constructed 112 reservoirs for storing surplus water and to help retard erosion on their grass lands. These 112 reservoirs were constructed in compliance with the 1937 range conservation program. The dams contained a total of 162,563 cubic yards of material.

Ranges Are Treated

Small demonstrations have been established to show the value of terracing and contouring of pasture land and these no doubt will lead to a much wider use of these practices by the ranchers of the county. A total of more than 416,000 acres was included in the 1937 range conservation program in the county. These men are already carrying out additional practices for compliance under the 1938 program. The range improvement work will continue on an equally as large a scale as in 1937 and many new practices will be inaugurated.

Garza county farmers and ranchers are proud of the progress they have made in comparison with the state average because at least 75 per cent of the farmers and ranchers in the county are at present carrying out some soil and water conservation practice and terracing, contouring and tanking are the leading practices.

On Missouri Mule

Gov. Gordon Browning of Tennessee was only one of 30,000 visitors and the unabashed mule the governor is astride in the photo above was only one of 5,000 mules when Columbia, Tenn., staged its Mule Day festival. With all cars barred from the main streets, the ordinarily abused mule became something of a town hero for a day. A King Mule was honored—but no Queens of Beauty.

Much Poisoned Grain Is Mixed At Office Here During March

Largest mixing of poisoned grain for campaigns against pocket gophers and prairie dogs for any month in the history of the Lubbock mixing plant of the U. S. biological survey, was in March according to J. Edwin Barker, head of the district here. Mixture was of 67,109 pounds of grain.

Of this amount, 35,000 pounds was shipped to a group of East Texas counties where a gopher control campaign is under way.

Remainder was to West Texas and Northwest Texas areas, where control of prairie dogs is being sought. In this section farmers and ranchmen cooperate with commissioners' courts in control work.

Grain sorghums, mostly milo, is bought by contract and used as the basis of the poison mixture. A special type of poison has been developed by the survey's laboratories in Denver for this work.

The Lubbock station is the only one of its kind in Texas. So far this fiscal year, since July 1, 1937, 225,000 pounds of grain has been used. February was the previous peak, 64,000 pounds.

New Land Is To Be Broken Out

LEVELLAND, April 9. (Special)—Between 35,000 and 40,000 acres of sod land in Hockley county is going into cultivation this year, as far as declaration of intentions by property owners, show.

Chief block is the 12,000-acre tract, sold out of the South Ellwood pasture to the federal government as an addition to the Ropesville project of the Farm Security administration. Crop land of this block is 8,600 acres, which has been broken out. The remainder will be used for pasture.

Ellwood Land Is Sold

Ellwood estate also has sold about five sections of land in the North Spade pasture, near Anton. They have sold a number of labors with some of the land previously in cultivation, in other parts of the county. Part of these labors was not previously in crop.

In other sections of the county there has been a number of instances of labor to section sod land being put in cultivation.

New residents, according to Harvey Pool, have come into Hockley county and bought land for establishing a home. These people have come from Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma, as well as from East Texas and South Texas.

Most of the new land will have cotton as a major crop. There will also be some large grain sorghum acreages. New residents have built homes and brought their families and farm equipment with them.

Heavy increases in the production of crude oil in Carifornia and the importation of large quantities of Mexican and Venezuelan crudes, have given a great impetus to the production of petroleum asphalt in the United States.

Herd Moved To Far West Is Outshining Corn Belt Cattle; Battles Practices His Theory

YAKIMA, Wash., April 9 (AP)—It's a far cry from Congdon Castle—white stone battlemented Scottish mansion with its irrigation-ditch moat in this onetime sagebrush desert valley—to the tall corn and fat cattle centers of the Middle West.

Yet, from virtually every international livestock exposition, press dispatches report:

"Aberdeen-Angus Cattle—Congdon and Battles' Rosemere Herd, Yakima, Wash., 1st."

O. V. Battles, herd owner, has been handling beef cattle since he was 13 years old. He has developed his prize herd by constant application of the theory:

"Each parent exerts an equal influence on the offspring."

Started With 2 Cows

His father, a Maqueota (Jackson county, Iowa, steer feeder, died in 1898, and Battles took over management of th farm. He became enthusiastic over Aberdeen-Angus in 1905 and founded the Rosemere herd on two cows and a bull of Black Woodlawn stock.

In 1916, Battles became a partner of the late Chester A. Congdon of Duluth, Minn., owner of a stock and fruit ranch here. They moved the Rosemere cattle, except for a small auction sale herd, from Maqueota.

In The Open All Year

Today there are 600 cattle on the 600-acre ranch and their international show record has not been approached by another herd, their owner says.

"Certain offspring may more resemble one parent or the other when both parents are good," Battles asserts, "but subsequent generations are almost certain to combine the good qualities of both."

The Rosemere herd lives in the open the year around; pastured two or three to the acre of bluegrass and white clover, with corn ensilage and alfalfa as the principal additional feeds.

The Suez canal was begun in 1859 and completed in 1869.

Flood Damages To Property And Livestock Are To Be Surveyed

FORT WORTH, April 9 (AP)—Flood damages to property, livestock and agriculture will be discussed at six southwestern meetings to be held this month, it was announced today by L. P. Merrill, regional conservator of the Soil Conservation service with headquarters here.

The meetings and their dates:

El Paso April 20; Fort Stockton April 22; Alexandria, La., April 25; Texarkana April 27; Vernon April 29.

Shreveport date to be determined later.

The flood problems concern the Red, Rio Grande and Pecos river watersheds. The meetings are part of nation-wide survey.

Nature's Pace Is Doubled By Plant-Growing Acid; Artificial Lotion Is Producing Miracle

ITHACA, N. Y., April 9. (AP)—Indole compounds, chemicals never found in a plant, are putting roots on shrubs quickly at Cornell university. The experiments have been reported by Henry T. Skinner, of the department of floriculture and ornamental horticulture.

They point to realization of a scientific agricultural miracle—use of an artificial chemical to outdo nature. Mostly in plant improvements science has been confined to imitating nature. One imitation, to grow roots, has been use of auxins, substances made by plants themselves.

But in a derivative of indole the chemist makes a magic, artificial lotion. It puts roots on rhododendrons and azaleas at about twice the speed of nature, roots of a much better quality.

Indole is made synthetically, from amino acids. Its compounds can be made from natural products, especially indigo blue. But even then they are in a form which probably never existed in nature.

For putting roots on plants the indole compounds are made principally with acetic or butyric acid, both artificial. Acetic is the flavoring matter of vinegar; butyric the smell in rancid butter.

A single rhododendron leaf will grow into a bush with the aid of the magic lotion, if it has a bud at the end of the stem. The stem is soaked in the acid two hours, then planted in sand with the leaf above the surface.

Data On Cotton Loans Is Given

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, April 9.—Farmers who have cotton under a 1937 Commodity Credit corporation loan may receive cotton price adjustment payments at the rate in effect June 30, 1938, regardless of whether it has been sold, Geo. Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural conservation committee, announces.

"If a farmer has cotton under such loan and desires to sell it, the loan must be paid in full before the cotton is sold, he said.

Does Not Have To Sell

"A farmer, however, does not have to sell his cotton to qualify for a cotton price adjustment payment," he added. "Cotton not sold before July 1, 1938, will be considered to have been sold the preceding day, June 30, whether it was under loan or not. The date of sale controls the rate of payment."

Reports have been received at state AAA office that some farmers with cotton under loans have been selling "equities" and receiving sale certificates in return, Slaughter said. Payments cannot be made on the basis of such so-called sales and persons buying "equities" on loan cotton cannot obtain payments when they resell.

Not More Than 3 Cents

Under the law, cotton price adjustment payments will be made on part of the 1937 crop, he explained, and the rate of payment in each case will be the amount by which the average price of cotton on the day of sale is below 12 cents. In no case will the payment be more than three cents a pound.

When a farmer sells his cotton prior to July 1, 1938, he may receive a payment. If the cotton is under loan, title and possession cannot be delivered and, therefore, payment cannot be made on a sale of the producers equity.

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 72 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Across the room, on a cot, lay the evil Mafka, asleep. Evidently he slept in fear, because many weapons lay close to his hand. And on a table near him rested the mystic jewels—the great diamond of the Kaji, and the emerald of the Zuli. Tarzan crept closer.

First he removed the weapons; next he carried the two jewels to the fireplace and hid them on the ledge of the secret corridor. Then, moving as silently as a ghost, he returned to the cot and laid a hand on the magician's shoulder. Mafka awoke with a start.

"Keep still and you will not be harmed." Tarzan's voice was low, but it was the voice of authority. "Do not kill me," Mafka pleaded. "I do not kill old men—unless they force me to," the ape-man replied; "so do not raise an alarm."

Quickly, with strips torn from the bedding, Tarzan bound and gagged the terrified magician. Then he returned to the secret passage. His next business was with Gonfala, the Queen who was both angel and fiend. It was in her power to promote or wreck his delicate plan.

Test For New Voters In Texas Proposed

SMU Law Dean Suggests Plan

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 9. — An educational test for all new voters in Texas is proposed by Dean Charles S. Potts of the school of law of Southern Methodist university.

The test, requiring completion of a substantial part of the common-school or high-school curriculum and administered by the public school authorities, he said, would encourage all boys and girls to remain in school until they had attained at least the legal minimum of training.

Penalties Are Suggested

Loss of the right to vote, to hold office, or be employed in government service is suggested by Dean Potts as a penalty for persistent neglect or refusal to vote.

Contending it still is too early to be sure of the ultimate results of universal adult suffrage, Dean Potts said that certain more or less alarming symptoms have become manifest. One is the apathy and indifference of a large number of voters and another that less than two-thirds of the 45 per cent of the total adult population that pays poll taxes votes.

Results Of Votes Cited

Figures compiled by Dean Potts show that in six recent Democratic primaries in Texas only from 23 to 30.7 per cent of the adult population voted for gubernatorial candidates, and the percentage of the adult population voting on constitutional amendments varied from 4.5 to 16.6 per cent.

"Perils through which the democracies of the world are passing demand that we reexamine with great care the theory of universal suffrage on which our governments now rest," Dean Potts said.

"Our present universal suffrage laws mark a wide departure from the theory and practice of the revolutionary fathers, who held to the doctrine that political power, including the right to vote and hold office, should be vested only in those who owned land, or, as they phrased it, 'had a stake in the country'."

Court Is To Open At Morton On Monday

Headlining court activities of this area this week will be the opening of a two weeks term of 72nd district court at Morton in Cochran county.

Judge Daniel A. Blair will open the term with the impaneling of a grand jury at 10 o'clock Monday morning. At that time he also will call all dockets except the appearance docket which will be called at that hour Tuesday morning.

Criminal Docket Light

Burton S. Burks, district attorney, said he had been informed by Cochran county officers that the criminal docket was light with few investigations for the grand jury. Burks will be assisted in his work with the grand jury by Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney.

Judge Blair Saturday closed a three-weeks term at Levelland in Hockley county.

Civil Cases In 99th

The 99th district court of Judge E. L. Pitts has scheduled for this week the hearing of jury civil actions. A jury will report at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, attaches of the court said.

The second week of criminal cases will be heard before a jury and Judge J. J. Dillard in county court.

For hearing this week are: Tuesday, establishing a lottery against L. O. Griggs, aggravated assault against Serapio Armenta; Wednesday, establishing a lottery against David Martin, swindling with worthless check against Cora Mittillar; Thursday, swindling with worthless check against Haskell Ford, maintenance of a disorderly house against Buster Bailey, and maintenance of a disorderly house against Mrs. Buster Bailey; Friday, swindling with worthless check against George Garms.

Hal B. Hamilton Of Ft Worth Purchases Ranch Near Del Rio

DEL RIO, April 9. (AP)—Hal B. Hamilton of Fort Worth recently purchased the 6,600-acre ranch, belonging to the J. B. Moore estate, five miles west of Del Rio. The sale price was reported as $72,000. Possession is to be given June 1.

The late J. B. Moore resided in Del Rio from 1912 until his death. He was one of the organizers of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' association and its president for two years. He was also one of the organizers of the Del Rio Wool & Mohair company, and served as the firm's president and general manager for six years.

The expression "stone-broke" originated from the old custom of breaking a craftsman's stone when he failed to pay his debts.

Release Writer

Center of a parliamentary tangle, condemned to prison one day and freed the next, was Don C. Brown, well-known Alberta, Canada, newspaper columnist, above, who was ordered jailed after he offended a member of the Alberta legislature by allegedly misquoting him. Brown's supporters charged he was the victim of "Hitlerism," and obtained his release by passing a counter motion the next day.

Brownsville Plans Its Trapon Rodeo

BROWNSVILLE, April 9 (AP) — The third International Tarpon rodeo will be held at the mouth of Rio Grande between April 15 and 30, J. H. Batsell, president of the International Tarpon club, announces. The club was formed two years ago for the purpose of handling the event.

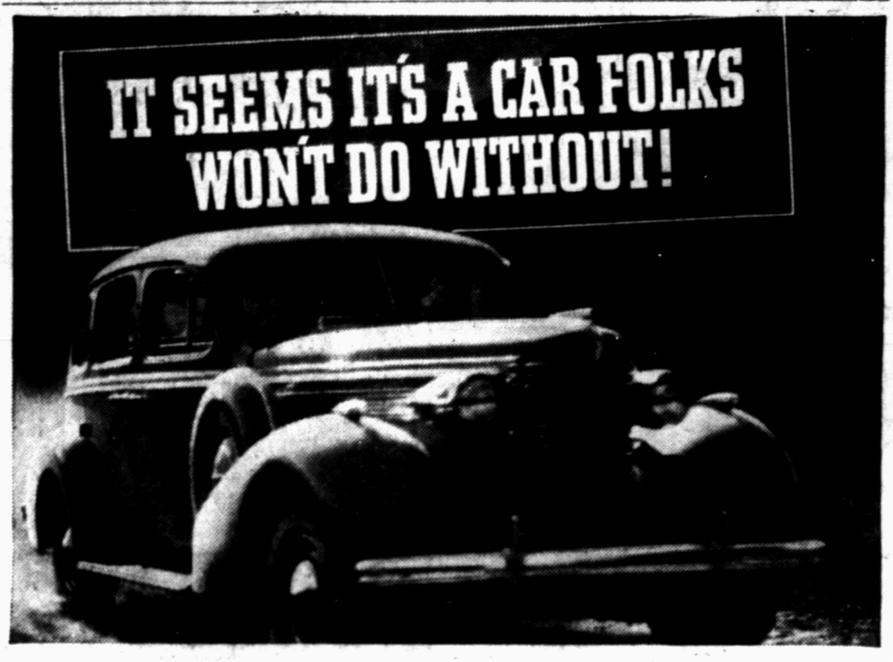

The International Tarpon rodeo has no equivalent in the country, and the mouth of the Rio Grande is one of few spots where tarpon may be caught from shore. The big silver kings are appearing there and until the second week of May anglers are expected to seek this portion of the gulf.

Catching tarpon from shore is considered more difficult than landing one from a boat, where the fisherman is aided by the boatman in maintaining contact and stance.

International rodeo anglers are divided into teams and fish from both sides of the river. Arrangements are made yearly with customs and immigration officials at Brownsville and Matamoros to permit ready crossing of the stream.

Matamoros will enter a team, and it is expected Fred Maley, who won the Port Isabel rodeo last summer, and J. W. McDade will head a team from San Antonio. A Houston team to include Dick Freeman, sports writer, is being considered, and invitations will be sent to other cities to form teams, rodeo officials said.

At last year's event a big tarpon was hooked simultaneously by anglers on either side of the river. The fish finally was landed on the American side.

WE were pretty sure we had a great car when some months ago we checked the final blueprints on the 1938 Buick.

It had the new and mighty DYNAFLASH engine for sparkling action—the sensationally desirable TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING for a lullaby of a ride.

Looking ahead in that promising day, we figured we had every chance of getting our sales share by reason of what this car gave the buyer for his money.

Now, when times are sterner, it appears we built better than we knew—we've got a car folks just won't do without!

This great new Buick was first introduced to the public last fall. Through September, October, November, it sold in steadily increasing volume.

In a period when sales of other cars were sliding off it went ahead, in one month actually outselling one of the Big Three of the lowest-priced field.

It's still going ahead—not car Number Seven or Eight, as one might expect by its price-class, but one of the season's Four Best Sellers!

There is only one explanation of such a record when made by a car in the thousand-dollar bracket.

Such a car is so good—has so much of value in it—people just won't do without it!

That's the convincing sort of car you're about to drive when you first take the wheel of a 1938 Buick.

If you haven't yet handled a new Buick, you ought to—just to see what such a car is like!
