FIFTH OSO

Sun Watcher Sent Aloft

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A solar observatory rocketed into space today to study the sun during a period of maximum flare activity and to help warn astronauts on the moon of perilous radiation storms.

The satellite, OSO5, rode aloft in the nose of a three-stage Delta rocket at 11:48 a.m. EST, aiming for an orbit 350 miles above the distorting blanket of the atmosphere.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported early phases of the flight went very smoothly after the Delta blazed into the sky.

The satellite is the fifth in a series of Orbiting Solar Observatories launched by the space agency.

A broken dike on the San Joaquin River near Antioch, Calif., flooded Sherman Island and blocked State Highway 160 north of the Antioch Bridge today. Some 200 persons fled their homes.

Cong To Free More Prisoners

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong said today that they will release more American prisoners of war but gave no indication of how many or when.

The statement was made by the Viet Cong radio during repetition of a claim made Tuesday night that Spec 4 James Brigham, an Ocala, Fla., Negro and one of three American prisoners freed New Year's Day, had been "assassinated" after he returned to the United States so he could not tell the Negroes the "truth" about the war.

Brigham, 21, died Sunday in Washington after an operation for a brain abscess apparently resulting from a wound when he was captured.

The broadcast today said: "We appeal to the progressive American and international peoples, through justice and humanity, to bring this matter to light and to condemn U.S. authorities for their retaliatory act . . . and to preserve the safety and happiness of the prisoners who were and will be released."

Pound Sterling Soars

LONDON (AP) — The pound sterling soared on the London exchange today, reaching its highest level since the international monetary crisis last November.

The pound reached $2.389 Tuesday, a 26-point rise in two days, to close at $2.386. It opened today at $2.389 and quickly jumped to $2.391, a rise of nearly one cent since the November crisis.

Dealers had various reasons for the sudden show of strength. Some said it was a sign of returning confidence in Britain.

Couple Released

HOUSTON (AP) — A man and woman have been released on personal recognizance bonds after being charged by federal officials with carrying a dangerous weapon aboard an airplane.

Randall Don Chapman, 19, and Melinda Elizabeth Cubison, 21, waived preliminary hearings Tuesday when they appeared before U.S. Commissioner Ralph Fowler. Both are former University of Houston students from Houston.

FBI agents arrested the pair Monday after a Trans-Texas Airways plane landed at the Houston International Airport on a flight from Dallas.

The charges allege that Chapman displayed a .22-caliber blank starter's pistol during the flight. FBI agents said such pistols can be used to fire live bullets.

Hears Evidence

BURNET, Tex. (AP) — The Burnet County Grand Jury convened today to hear evidence against Clyde Durbin Jr. in connection with the death of University of Texas sophomore Keitha Morris, 19, of White Deer.

Miss Morris' nude body was discovered in Inks Lake Jan. 9, the day after the body of her picnic date, John Albert White, 21, was found near Bull Creek just outside of Austin. Durbin, 21, of Dallas, is charged in Travis County (Austin) with White's slaying.

Evidence was presented to the grand jury by Burnet County Dist. Atty. Louis Crump, the Austin American-Statesman reported.

Travis County Dist. Atty. Bob Smith, who will present evidence to the Travis County Grand Jury Jan. 28 in White's death, was in Burnet today.

3rd Czech Burns Self

PRAGUE (AP) — Prague Radio said that a 23-year-old locksmith set himself afire during the night in the town of Brno, at a square where a memorial to Jan Palach had been erected.

It was the third attempt by a Czech at suicide by fire within a week, but Palach's is the only one so far for which a political motive has been established.

Some of the strikers remained with their bedrolls in an enclosure in front of the fountain and other young people joined them, but most left.

Similar hunger strikes were reported in other cities.

GOOD CONDITION

The locksmith, Miroslav Malinka, suffered second-degree burns over about 12 per cent of his body and is in good condition, the broadcast said.

Palach, a 21-year-old student, set himself afire in Prague last Thursday to protest the reversal of the country's reform program as a result of the Soviet occupation. He died Sunday.

Radio Prague said Malinka attempted to commit suicide by gas last year and was awaiting trial on a burglary charge. The broadcast said the young man told his father a few days ago he would kill himself because he was afraid of his trial.

Josef Hlavaty, 25, set fire to himself in Pizen Monday and was in critical condition. The newspaper Vceni Praha reported that he had family problems and had spoken "several times of suicide."

Palach's suicide note had said other students were ready to burn themselves, starting Tuesday, until press censorship was lifted and the Soviet occupation force stopped distributing the propaganda publication Zpravny. But there were no immolations in Prague during the night.

Early today police forced a group of hunger strikers memorializing Palach to remove their

Not Policemen's Very Best Friend

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Sidney Foye of rural Sun Prairie reported to Dane County authorities that thieves entered his home and lugged off a food freezer, a refrigerator and a vacuum cleaner.

Foye said the appliances were apparently padded with bedding taken from a bedroom where he kept two watchdogs.

When officers arrived to investigate, Foye's dogs were in his yard and wouldn't let the officers on the property until Foye called them off.

COUPLE HELD AT TERMINAL

ODESSA (AP) — A Dallas couple was delayed in leaving the Odessa-Midland Regional Air Terminal Tuesday night because of a remark.

An airline stewardess said one of the pair asked if their flight was going to Cuba. The plane's captain was summoned and the question repeated.

The couple was removed from the plane and questioned by FBI agents. The unarmed couple was allowed to take a later flight.

Nixon May Not Extend Surcharge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's budget director hinted today that Nixon—if he can trim spending plans far enough—might back away from support of extending the 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

CABINET

He did so following a three-hour cabinet meeting, which came after the swearing in of 11 of Nixon's Cabinet members.

Budget Director Robert T. Mayo told newsmen he has a mandate from Nixon "to keep the budget under strict control" and will look, program by program, at the budget President Johnson submitted earlier this month for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"We hope to get it down," said Mayo, referring to the Johnson-prepared spending blueprint which envisioned a budget surplus of $3.4 billion.

BUDGET COSTS

In response to questions, Mayo acknowledged that budget cuts—if deep enough—might make it unnecessary to extend at least part of the 10 per cent surcharge past its scheduled June 30 expiration date. But he emphasized that under present circumstances Nixon stands by his support of Johnson's call to Congress for a one-year extension of the full amount of the tax.

Chief Justice Earl Warren administered the oath individually to the 11 department heads at an 8 a.m. nationally televised ceremony in the East Room of the White House.

TAKING OATH

Also taking the oath because they will sit in on Cabinet meetings were Budget Director Robert P. Mayo and Charles W. Yost, ambassador to the United Nations.

messages from the Pueblo directed to the White House.

DELAY

A White House spokesman said last year, shortly after the Pueblo was seized, that there had been a delay in informing then President Johnson. The delay was attributed to the time it took presidential aide Walt W. Rostow to compile information for a briefing. When the joint chiefs of staff were informed has never been disclosed but the then Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was said to

Foreman Visits Ray, Reports To Judge

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Percy Foreman, the Houston, Tex., lawyer who is chief counsel for James Earl Ray, met for two hours Tuesday with his client who goes on trial March 3, charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Foreman came to Memphis after a two-week bout with the flu.

He declined to either confirm or deny that his jail cell meeting with Ray concerned a week-end telegram from the Rev. James L. Bevel, one-time King aide, in which Bevel told Ray, "of course, I know you are not guilty."

Bevel, a director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference which was founded by King, said in Philadelphia Sunday he would be willing to defend Ray against the murder charge.

have received word nine minutes after the Pueblo sent its final message.

By then the North Koreans had taken over the ship, one crewman was wounded fatally and the other 82 aboard were headed for 11 months imprisonment.

Bucher said earlier his assignment was to conduct surveillance on Soviet ships in the Sea of Japan and monitor North Korean radar.

It was halfway through his narrative Tuesday that Bucher told about messages designed for his commanders in Japan and ultimately the White House.

PRECEDENCE

"I raised the precedence (on the messages) from flash to critic," Bucher said, a Navy priority rating that meant they went "immediately and straight to the White House." He said he told his radiomen to keep the channels open.

When the subchaser was first spotted, Bucher said, he went to the wardroom and looked at it through binoculars.

"There were 10 to 12 people on the bridge, most of them with binoculars trained on us and watching us. I suspected this was nothing more than routine surveillance."

He reported raising flags to show the Pueblo was taking hydrographic tests.

NOT APPREHENSIVE

"I was not particularly apprehensive," Bucher said but added (See PUEBLO, Page 4, Col. 1)

Foreman said he also met with Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle Tuesday.

"I told Judge Battle I would report to him the first day I was able, and I did," said Foreman.

Bevel has refused to elaborate on why he feels Ray is innocent, but it is a matter of record that a subpoena was issued Oct. 28 for Bevel to appear Nov. 12, when Ray was first scheduled to go on trial.

That summons was issued by Birmingham, Ala., attorney Arthur J. Hanes. Just before his trial was to begin, Ray replaced Hanes with Foreman, forcing delay of the trial to its tentative new date.

ON GROUND

Bevel in previous statements has said he was standing on the ground at the Lorraine Motel when King, standing on a second-floor balcony, was struck by a rifle bullet.

SWEEPING PROGRAM FOR THE 'IMPOVERISHED' HANDED NIXON

Minimum Income Recommended To Replace Welfare

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Urban League has recommended to President Nixon that public welfare be replaced with a minimum income for all Americans, and that a $2 an hour minimum wage, tied to the cost of living, be fixed for all workers, including those in marginal jobs.

"We believe the urban-racial crisis confronting America represents a far more dangerous threat to the stability of the nation than any other problem—foreign or domestic," the League said in a report made public today.

"The inescapable fact is that the gap between whites and blacks has not been closed," the report added, citing the areas of black unemployment, median family incomes for Negroes, and the mortality rate of black babies.

"The report further declared: 'American cities are becoming blacker and poorer . . . frustrations in the ghetto are high. It would be folly to take comfort from the relative quiet of the past summer. Beneath the surface the situation may well be more explosive than in previous years, the result of the hardening of attitudes and a clearer view of the extent of relative denial.'

Entitled "A Call to Action," the Urban League report set a target date of 1976—the nation's 200th anniversary—for solving "the basic domestic problems haunting this nation."

The report said: "The Johnson administration mounted an unprecedented attack on these problems and, in the process, created a great deal of good legislation aimed at relieving the hardships and inequities imposed on minority groups and the impoverished. Too frequently, however, the economic requirements of the war in Vietnam precluded full appropriations."

In its 51 pages, the Urban League report stressed among other issues:

Inflation—The League said it "considers it unthinkable to combat inflation by manipulating an increase in the unemployment rate."

Manpower Development—Called for "a vast expansion of currently successful manpower training programs (On-Job Training, Neighborhood Youth Corps and Special Impact Programs) on a scale calculated to meet the nation's total needs."

Rural Economic Development—Citing the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Rural Electrification Administration, recommended "the establishment of a similar agency to stimulate and coordinate the economic development of rural areas in the predominantly rural states."

Inner Cities—"A comprehensive plan for the economic development of the ghettos should draw on the full tax, credit and subsidy powers of the federal government to induce the participation of private industry and should allow for full ownership by blacks once a given enterprise has become competitive."

Welfare—Its earliest replacement by an income maintenance plan. Meanwhile, adoption of the affidavit system for eligibility and establishment of a minimum standard for public assistance payments "below which no state may fall."

Family Planning—Expansion is recommended for existing services, with convenient locations and hours and "where this is impossible, we submit that available resources may be put to better use by providing the individual woman with funds to permit her to see a doctor privately."

Day Care—"There is a special need for facilities for the care of children from birth to the age of three to enable the teenage mother to finish her education in order to improve her chances in life."

Education—The report urged the administration to "give credibility to the right of minority groups to determine their own destiny by supporting, via both legislation and appropriations, the concept of community participation in the control of educational and other institutions."

Housing Act of 1968—"Fully funded, it would increase total housing production to 2.6 million units a year, or about double the current rate, and increase production of low and moderate income housing to 600,000 units per year, or six times the current production of such housing. This latter provision would permit us to eliminate all substandard housing in the country in 10 years. This goal must be met."

Malnutrition—"The Food Stamp program is a fundamentally sound and dignified delivery system, but changes must be made in it to make sure that it is used effectively to fight the hunger of the poor."

Armed Services—"We consider it essential that military authorities take all necessary steps to reduce tensions and improve the racial climate in the armed services."

Suburban Blight—Citing what it called the emergence of suburban ghettos, the League urged "that the Department of Housing and Urban Development take consistent action both to reverse the present trend and to prevent deterioration of suburban areas in the future."

Police—"The report recommended a White House conference of police chiefs, community representatives and law enforcement experts "to devise specific proposals for improving police forces and for bettering police-community relations."

The Sky's Falling

Traffic Sergeant J. D. Campbell narrowly escaped injury Tuesday morning when a length of pipe, which apparently fell from the Crawford Hotel as he was passing by the demolition project, stabbed into the roof of his patrol car. Patrolman Richard Cantwell is shown surveying the damage to the car roof. In addition to the dent in the car, the windshield was cracked.

Giant Munitions Stockpile Captured

SAIGON (AP) — American air cavalrymen leapingfrogged North Vietnamese to mount a winter offensive against the South Vietnamese capital. The spokesman said there were no enemy troops guarding the stockpile. He said there could be several reasons for this — that the Viet Cong hadn't distributed it quickly enough, that they took a chance that it might never be found, or that they fled when they realized they were outnumbered.

The loss of the three Air Force F100 supersabres raised to 333 the number of American planes downed in combat in the South.

One plane was hit on a strike mission Tuesday near Saigon and crashed while making a landing approach outside Bien Hoa air base, 15 miles north of the capital. The pilot did not eject.

Previously, U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have captured more than 600 tons of enemy weapons, ammunition and food up and down the country in the last three weeks, enough to feed 27,000 troops for three weeks and to equip 1,000 Viet Cong soldiers fully. The capture of supplies and munitions northwest of Saigon is believed to have been a major factor in the

HCJC Did Not Share In Grants

Howard County Junior College did not share in the distribution of $818,331 in federal grants to 30 Texas colleges Tuesday.

The funds will be used to buy laboratory and other special equipment, including closed circuit television equipment.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, HCJC president, said that the college here received an allocation last year for library assistance, which exhausted its equipment eligibility this year.

What the college is most interested in now is a matching federal-state grant for construction of a vocational-technical building. Plans for this are virtually complete, and only funding is required. HCJC has most of its half.

Smith To Tap College Pal?

AUSTIN (AP) — One of Gov. Preston Smith's first major appointments will be an old college friend as uniformed head of the Texas National Guard, informed sources say.

Sources say Smith has decided to name Brig. Gen. Ross Ayers of Friona, commander of the 36th Infantry Brigade, as adjutant general of Texas. He would replace Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop.

Smith said Tuesday he would have no comment "at this time."

Ayers, 58, is a former Lubbock school principal and a commercial farmer. He led the 36th Brigade in 1966 through a period of intensive training after it was designated one of the nation's top priority units.

Ayers and Smith attended Texas Tech together. Ayers received a bachelor's degree in 1934. Later he received a master's degree in education from the University of Texas. Ayers was decorated for heroism in World War II.

The adjutant general's current salary is $20,500 a year, plus a house and utilities.

piron says "we still have a tough strike on against several of the largest companies."

As the walkout entered its 18th day today, an estimated 50,000 of the union's 60,000 oil workers were still on strike.

Gross said the union agreed to contracts submitted Tuesday by Atlantic-Richfield and Marathon Oil. Formal ratification of the contracts were not expected until late this afternoon however.

Some 2,100 Atlantic-Richfield workers in California and 375 at Port Arthur, Tex., are affected by the contract. The OCAW said. Marathon's contract at Texas City, Tex., involves 260 members.

Union Pure Oil was the first company to come to terms with the OCAW. The union says all contracts must be similar to Union Pure's before they can be accepted.

Contracts already signed with Union Pure, American Oil Co., Mobil, Cities Service and Humble average hourly wage increases of 66 cents over the next two years. Prior to the strike, the oil workers were averaging $3.80 an hour.

Among the major companies which have not signed agreements are Texaco, Gulf, Sinclair, Standard of California, Shell, Phillips, Continental and Standard of Ohio.

The 1,385 oil workers at the Mobil refinery in Beaumont, Tex., returned to their jobs with the midnight shift Tuesday, according to T. E. Conery, secretary-treasurer of Local 4-243.

South lost sight of the facts in today's hand and followed a course of action that could not possibly succeed in bringing home his four hearts contract.

North opened the bidding with one diamond. East's jump overcall of three spades was well calculated to impede any relaxed exchange of information by the opposition. South was, in fact, so crowded by the preemptive bid, that he felt obliged to take a stab at four hearts and hope for the best.

West opened the deuce of spades. East played the ace and continued the suit. West ruffing away declarer's king with the deuce of hearts. The shift was to the king of clubs and North was in with the ace.

The ace and king of hearts were cashed; however, when West showed out on the second round, East was revealed to have a trump trick. South must, therefore, find a parking place for his losing club, or else he will be set.

In desperation, declarer started to run the diamonds. East ruffed in on the third round with the queen of hearts and then exited with a spade. South was now permanently disconnected from dummy and, in the end, he was obliged to concede the setting trick to West's queen of clubs.

Declarer was totally unrealistic in his approach. The early play in spades and hearts had clearly revealed that East held 10 cards in those two suits—seven spades and three hearts. When he followed to the first club, 11 of his cards were known. It was physically impossible for East to have more than two diamonds, and there was not the remotest chance that South could obtain a club sluff in time.

South's only hope was that East had a singleton club and could not get his partner in to cash the setting trick. Observe that, if declarer concedes a trick to the queen of hearts immediately, East can do no better than to return a spade which South ruffs. Now he is in position to run the diamonds and discard his club loser.

Rain Leaves California Soaked From End To End

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Days of drenching rain left California soaked from end to end today, bringing an official state of emergency and fear for the safety of 10 persons trapped by a flooding stream.

For the first time in history, the U.S. Weather Bureau said, everyone of its California stations reported rain Tuesday.

As flood-stricken cities called for aid, Gov. Ronald Reagan signed a declaration of emergency enabling the state to release funds and seek federal money.

A 16-inch total downpour hit the Ojai-San Luis Obispo area of west-central California, trapping six boys and four men in an isolated area of Los Padres National Forest. The men included a sheriff's deputy, a Navy chief petty officer and a U.S. Forest Service ranger who had tried to rescue the youths who had gone on a weekend hike.

Major concern centered on Sacramento and San Joaquin Valley rivers where levee breaks could flood rich farmlands. High flows were reported in the Sacramento, Cosumnes and Stanislaus rivers.

Sherman Island, where 200 residents were evacuated Monday night when a levee broke, was about two-thirds under water.

Hints Errors By 'Higher Up'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., says that if testimony is upheld charging the USS Pueblo was inadequately equipped for defense and destruction of secret equipment, "then someone higher up in the line of command has been guilty of a very grave dereliction of duty."

Russell, chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee, said that testimony by the Pueblo's captain, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher at a Navy court of inquiry indicates "a tragic mixture of errors" in outfitting the ship.

"I do not want to prejudice this testimony," Russell said in an interview. "This is the statement of one man and perhaps the Navy has some satisfactory reply to it."

Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., who serves on a special committee headed by Russell to supervise operations of the Central Intelligence Agency, said he was "greatly disturbed" by the Navy command's failure to install so-called destruct equip-

Prostitutes Pester Policemen In Paris

PARIS (AP) — The rich and elegant residents of the French capital's most exclusive street are pestering the police to chase the prostitutes away from their front gates.

The complaints come from the Avenue Foch, the wide, leafy thoroughfare that is home in Paris to Aristotele Onassis, Sophia Loren and a thousand other wealthy capitalists, conspicuous consumers and society page fixtures.

After dark prostitutes in minicars come from outside the area to prow the avenue while a few others take station in front of the mansions and luxurious apartment houses. They like Avenue Foch because it is quiet and free of heavy automobile and pedestrian traffic.

The girls in cars stop for men waiting along the street or flash their lights at a car with only a man in it. The residents find the lights annoying, also.

"I know it's extremely disaagreeable to these people," said the chief of the vice squad, Pierre Ottavio. "We're harassing the girls as best we can and arrests are made every night. But the girls are clever, and arrests are not easy."

An arrest can't be made until a girl actually solicits a customer. Ottavio says the Avenue Foch girls seem to have a sixth sense about plainclothesmen.

and only make their approach when they find someone who looks "manageable" and "not like a cop."

The police estimate that only about 30 girls work the Avenue Foch and nearby Boulevard Lannes, near the Bois de Boulogne.

Prof Says You Can Live With Cancer

DETROIT (AP) — Cancer can be lived with, a University of Minnesota professor told an audience of doctors Tuesday.

Basing his talk primarily on experience with one woman patient, Dr. B. J. Kennedy told a cancer conference of the American College of Physicians and Surgeons "I want people to know that you can live with cancer, just as you may live with diabetes or tuberculosis or arthritis."

Dr. Kennedy said too many persons feel cancer and death are synonymous, that since there are so few definite cures many don't even bother seeing their doctors when they think they may have the disease.

But Dr. Kennedy told of one patient he first treated 16 years ago. Now 77, she had had one breast removed four years earlier because of cancer, then was given X-ray treatment for bone cancer a year after that.

Dr. Kennedy said he first saw her two years after the bone treatments, when cancer began to affect her spinal cord. He said large doses of estrogen, the same hormone contained in birth control pills, relieved the pressure on her spine and she lived normally for four more years.

Then her cancer reappeared and her pituitary gland was removed. "That was 13 years ago," Dr. Kennedy said, "and she's been free of cancer ever since."

Claiming Lebanese Army Seals Border

By The Associated Press

Syria charged today that Lebanese troops are cracking down on Palestinian guerrillas and preventing them from crossing Lebanon's southern frontier to attack Israel.

The newspaper Al Baath, published by Syria's ruling Baath Socialist party, said several guerrillas of the Al Fatah organization were rounded up Friday night when they returned to a commando mission in upper Galilee.

The paper said the Lebanese army has sealed the border and banned guerrillas from crossing into Israel.

Al Fatah is the largest and most effective of the Arab Guerrilla movements.

Al Fatah officials in Amman, Jordan, reported Tuesday that Lebanese authorities had asked the movement not to use Lebanon as a base for its operations.

In Lebanon, meanwhile, authoritative sources said a mission of three French officers had arrived in Beirut to advise the government on its defense needs.

The team is made up of two staff colonels from the French army and one from the air force. The Lebanese army asked that it be sent following President Charles de Gaulle's outspoken condemnation of the Israeli commando raid on the Beirut airport and his retaliatory ban on the shipment of French military supplies to Israel.

During the night Arab saboteurs blew up part of the main highway in upper Galilee two miles east of the Lebanese border. The Israeli army announced, but there were no casualties and traffic was not halted.

In the Gaza Strip, Israeli troops shot and wounded an Arab they said was trying to escape arrest in Gaza City. The army said the man was suspected of blowing up a tractor. The occupied Gaza Strip was still tense because of the shooting Monday of 10 Arab women and girls during an anti-Israeli demonstration at Rafah. One of the women was killed.

Nhan Dan said the United States was "forced" to halt the bombing of North Vietnam and accept an undivided round table for the talks. In the same way, it said, the Americans eventually will be forced to accept the Hanoi and NLF programs as a basis for negotiations in Paris.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officials expect their adversaries to restate their position. Washington and Saigon have rejected these demands repeatedly because they consider their fulfillment would be the prelude to a Communist takeover in Saigon.

But the Americans and the South Vietnamese will study closely the way in which the other side presents its views to detect any shades of difference or hints of a softening.

Peace Talks Look Like Tough Action

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam's speedy agreement to begin substantive peace talks Saturday appeared a hopeful omen to some U.S. officials today, but they warned again that long and difficult bargaining lies ahead.

These officials, said the apparent willingness to negotiate seriously does not necessarily mean Hanoi and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front will reduce their demands.

This was apparent in an editorial of the official Hanoi newspaper Nhan Dan, broadcast Tuesday by Radio Hanoi a few hours after the agreement for a Saturday session was announced.

The only way to halt the Vietnam war, said Nhan Dan, is for the United States to comply with Hanoi's four-point program and the five NLF demands—an end to American "aggression in Vietnam," withdrawal of all non-Vietnamese troops and liquidation of their bases, noninterference in South Vietnam's political future and South Vietnam's eventual reunification with the North.

Vets To Be Welcomed

The Veterans Recognition Committee was formally organized Tuesday night at a meeting called by Mayor Arnold Marshall.

The group was formed by representatives of eight service clubs here. Present plans call for the committee to secure names of Big Spring men returning from the service, and the men will be honored by one of the participating clubs at a club meeting.

Mayor Marshall told the group he plans to write each of the returning servicemen a letter in which he will welcome the man back to Big Spring and civilian life.

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will act as a clearing house for the names of the servicemen. Joe Matthews, chairman of the group, expressed hope that parents and friends of area men being discharged from the military service will notify the chamber office, and give his name, address and phone number.

After the servicemen return, he will be contacted by a member of one of the local service clubs and invited to the meeting. At the meeting, he will be introduced and recognized as a veteran of the military.

Assisting Matthews with the committee's work will be Dewitt Bunn, vice chairman, Tom Hammond, secretary, and one representative from each of the eight service clubs.

ed that he ordered the engines prepared to maneuver and emergency message blanks broken out.

Then, he said, CWO Gene Howard Lacy "reported sighting three torpedo boats headed in our direction, operating from the same location (Wonsan Harbor) as the sub chaser."

The sub chaser then hoisted flags demanding "heave to or will fire." Bucher said. "I was momentarily confused as to just what he meant by that message since I was dead in the water."

Bucher said he signaled, "I am in international waters."

As the torpedo boats approached, Bucher said Quartermaster Law fixed the Pueblo's location at 15.8 miles from nearest land. Bucher said this was confirmed by Navigator Edward Murphy Jr. and "I myself went down to the wheelhouse and manned the radar . . . and confirmed it."

A junior officer asked about scuttling the Pueblo, but Bucher said it would have taken more than 2 1/2 hours and the vessel was in only 30 fathoms of water.

"Also the water temperature was freezing," Bucher said. "A man cannot survive but very few minutes in that kind of water—perhaps less than five minutes."

At this point, Bucher said he ordered his men to prepare to destroy the classified material. "At about the same time, two MIG aircraft, I believe they were MIG - 21s, passed directly over the ship. 'Friar Tuck' (the nickname for the oceanographer) got that damn gear up here," Bucher said he shouted, "I'm leaving!" I said on the bridge, "I'll be damned if they are going to get away with that." So I got under way out to sea.

"I ordered a modified general quarters and hoisted the flag signals, hoping to confuse the sub chaser. 'Thank you for your consideration,'" Bucher said he messaged, "I am departing."

"They started playing porpoise, crossing my bow at 10 yards, and keeping all guns aimed at me. I did not feel at any time, though, that there was any point in going to war. I was completely and hopelessly outgunned. To man our .50-caliber machine guns would have been to send a man up to that gun, and that would have been certain death to him."

Bucher said the sub chaser again signaled "heave to, or I will fire on you."

"I ignored this," Bucher said. Then, he said, the firing started.

Jurors For Shaw Trial Will Draw No State Pay

Vladimir Shatalov, Boris Volynov, Yevgeny Khrunov and Alexei Yeliseyev were given a traditional outdoor airport reception and street parade despite the bitter cold of 11 degrees below zero.

They were awarded the Order of Lenin and made Gold Star Heroes of the Soviet Union, the country's highest honors in an indoor Kremlin ceremony.

Citizens bundled in fur caps and heavy overcoats stamped their feet and cheered from temporary grandstands, while the four men marched through their llyushin airliner on a red carpet to a stand crowded with dignitaries and the cosmonauts' families.

Will Crimp Heat Wave

By The Associated Press

An inbound cold front promised today to put at least a mild crimp in Texas' winter heat wave.

It was foggy and clouds hung low, meanwhile, this morning up and down the Red River Valley, over most of East Texas and through areas near the coast. Skies were clear to partly cloudy elsewhere.

Overnight temperatures dipped no lower than the 50s in 60s at many points, and it stayed above freezing throughout the state.

McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley posted a summer high of 90 degrees Tuesday and the mercury hit 86 at Alice, Brownsville and Laredo. Numerous places had readings in the 70s to low 80s.

Paul Explains Art Process

L. B. Paul, commercial artist with GAMCO Industries, Inc., showed examples of the steps required in producing the color slides used as teaching aids when he addressed members of the Big Spring Art Association Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. McClinton.

Paul explained that the staff of five in the GAMCO art department did extensive research to get authenticity in details of their drawings and paintings, before the photo graphic department used "color blind" film to separate each work into four plates isolating the reds, yellows, blues and black. By over-printing these four colors, any color range can be achieved in the final color print.

GAMCO produces transparencies and teaching aids in many fields, including literature, science, math, and most recently are working on histories of minorities.

Two other members of GAMCO's art department, Kay Sevey and Bill Windsor, accompanied Paul. Other guests were Mrs. S. L. Thurman, Maj (ret.) and Mrs. Bowden Hampton and Mrs. Francis L. Cormier, Coahoma.

Mrs. Paul Bruns, BSAA president, conducted a short business meeting setting rules and awards for the spring open art exhibit to be held April 25-27.

A Devotional For The Day

We give thanks to thee, O God; we give thanks; we call on thy name and recount thy wondrous deeds. (Psalm 75:1, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for the beauty that greets us each day. May our eyes be opened that we may see and our hearts be touched that we may rejoice. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Don't Tamper With It

At virtually every Texas legislative session, a move is made to transfer some of the Permanent School Fund, other than its investment income, to the Available School Fund so as temporarily to reduce the amount of state taxation necessary for the public schools.

As the current session is expected to carry out a school-improvement program at unprecedented cost, requiring a steep hike in school taxation, a more determined effort than ever before may be made to milk the Permanent School Fund.

Already prepared is a bill by Rep. Don Cavness that revives an earlier proposition by his father, State Auditor C. H. Cavness. It would divert all but 27 1/2 per cent of oil and gas revenue (equivalent to the depletion allowance) from public school lands from the Permanent School Fund to the Available School Fund.

That would reduce new school taxation by $30 to $50 million a year, taking much pressure off legislators. However, it would also curtail growth of the Permanent School Fund, which now stands at $758 million, by a like amount. Investment income from that fund plus school taxes make up the Available School Fund from which allocations to local districts are made.

The basic objection to this proposal is that it is one-shot relief, which would have to be made up with still higher school taxation in years ahead. Oil and gas are exhaustible national resources, and once the reserves under the public school lands are exhausted, the major source of income to the Permanent School Fund will be cut off and it will remain relatively static.

So long as the Permanent School Fund, actually a massive endowment, is expanding, it helps to keep state school taxation from rising faster than it otherwise would. It just does not seem sensible to us to dip into the fund now, for temporary relief, when that would only increase state school taxation in the years ahead.

The Permanent School Fund has been working well, as an increasingly valuable educational asset, since the present constitution was adopted in 1876. And we think it would be wise to leave it alone.

Worth Considering

County commissioners, in informal discussions, listed about 12 miles of county roads which might be considered on a schedule of upgrading to pavement this year. We hope that this mileage can be obtained, for in recent years the conversion of dirt roads to the permanent system has fallen behind the goal set nearly two decades ago by the court.

We are not familiar with what sections they had in mind, but we venture that the time is approaching when some consideration should be given to extending Baylor from 25th over the slope of South Mountain to connect with the road that serves the Silver Heels, Driver and Country Club areas. This would shorten the distance to these points by several miles to those in the east and southeast parts of the city. This would complete the loop on a belt that has borne and will bear increasing traffic.

Indians In Texas A New Way Of Life

DALLAS (AP) — They break with the deep-rooted family ties, the traditions of many centuries, and turn their backs on the old ways.

From the Everglades of Florida to the snow-swept fishing villages of Alaska's Aleutian Islands, they come to Dallas and Fort Worth.

DESPITE THE MELANGE of different tongues, customs and backgrounds, they seek a common goal: A place in modern society.

They are Indians.

Choctaw and Cherokee from Oklahoma.

Hopi and Navaho from Arizona.

Blackfeet from the Northwest.

Grosventre from North Dakota.

And most of them face a wrenching readjustment.

They are assisted in their strange migration from reservation to Texas metropolis through the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) employment assistance branch in Dallas.

The head of the office, Robert Beames, is himself quarter Choctaw and a direct descendant of Sam Houston.

agency has helped relocate 400 single adults and families. He estimates that in the Dallas-Fort Worth area today there are 7,000 to 8,000 Indians.

Beames' office arranges to train the Indian in a skill, land him a job and, in the meantime, give him and his family enough money to live on until he can become self-supporting.

Ted Haven and his wife Lori have been married only a few months. He became a welder trainee. He is of the North Dakota Grosventre and she is of the Blackfeet.

"My parents are still in North Dakota. But we are going to make our place here," he said.

James Tate, a Comanche from Cyril, Okla., has completed a course in automotive mechanics, and now talks with enthusiasm about his job as a diesel mechanic in a bus station.

ANOTHER SUCCESS story centers on Edward Wolf, who came to Dallas four years ago at age 30 with a wife, four kids and an eighth grade education. Today he is chief welding instructor at a Dallas trade school. He earns some $10,000 a year.

But for every success story there are other, sadder tales of bafflement, homesickness and failure to adjust to urban life.

"Indian people have very close family ties and they miss their relatives back at home.

"Homesickness is the No. 1 reason they leave the city," Beames said. A lot of them will learn a skill and then go back home and get a job. Maybe they won't make as much money, but they are nearer to their people," Beames said.

Beames recounted the story of the Alaskan Eskimo who became a skilled welder in a few short months, then suddenly returned to his fishing village.

"The cars, the noise," he said. "I have to go where it is quiet."

"I would guess 25 to 30 per cent of those who complete their courses go back home within a year," Beames said. "But most of them eventually come back because they can't find work back home in the trade they have learned."

Billy Graham

One of the best people I know has suffered for years, patiently, and uncomplainingly. Why do such things happen when there are so many evil people who have good health? I just cannot understand this.

Sickness, trouble, disease, and death are the lot of this life, and "being good," or trusting Christ do not guarantee immunity from any of these things. David wrote: "My flesh and my heart faileth; but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion forever." (Psalm 73:26)

Here we see the difference in the attitude toward suffering between God's people and those who have never trusted Him. David was caught in the anguish of suffering; "My flesh and my heart faileth," but he went on to say, "God is the strength of my heart."

I heard about a man the other day who is a retired minister. He has had two cerebral, a serious eye operation, and a stroke within the past two years. I am told you could not meet a happier, a more grateful, and a more optimistic person. His wife is confined to bed with a disease from which she will never recover, but her attitude is the same as his — uncomplaining and joyful. With a tear of joy moistening his eyes he said to my friend: "The Lord has been so good to us. He has never forsaken us in our hours of distress."

You say your friend too is uncomplaining. That's characteristic of a child of God. After all, we are aware that "in this world we shall have tribulation," but we know that this earthly existence is temporary, and that our destination is heaven, so we "endure this light affliction" happily, realizing that brighter and better days are ahead. Never feel sorry for a real Christian. He has adequate resources for whatever may befall him.

STRANGE BEDFELLOWS!

John Cunniff Nixon Expecting A Lot From Business

NEW YORK (AP) — One mistake that President Nixon is perhaps less likely to make than his predecessors is to permit confusion in his communications with business.

He has at least two major factors in his favor: first, his Cabinet appointees are thoroughly familiar with business affairs; second, he can profit from the experiences of Presidents Lyndon B. Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

THERE ARE indications that Nixon will be expecting a lot from business, especially in helping to solve the critical social ills of the nation. He subscribes to the new concept of business that sees its role not simply as a moneymaker but as a social catalyst as well.

Harassed by problems of education, urban blight, pollution and integration, government increasingly is soliciting the aid of businessmen, with their skills in problem solving and management.

But the new relationship of business and government may bring conflict also.

plan of things. He tried to bring businessmen closer to government. He solicited their cooperation.

The manner in which he did so, however, created some distrust. Perhaps businessmen are Bible readers, for their fear of the familiar Johnson entreaty, "Come, let us reason together," suggested they knew the rest of the passage.

It follows, from the Book of Isaiah:

"COME now, let us reason together, says the Lord: though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they are red like crimson, they shall become like wool.

"If you are willing and obedient, you shall eat the good of the land; but if you refuse and rebel, you shall be devoured by the sword; for the mouth of the Lord has spoken."

Regardless of the individuals involved, the fact is that business and government are being forced into alliances today, for neither can do alone what each knows must be done in rebuilding society.

Hal Boyle Let's Look At The Record

NEW YORK (AP) — In an abnormal time, it is the desire of most people over 25 years of age to be normal.

They aspire to a pattern of life in which they will think, dream and act within limits that satisfy themselves and yet also make them acceptable to their friends and neighbors.

HOW CAN you tell if you have reached your goal? What standards of conformity or nonconformity do you apply?

Admittedly it is a difficult thing to measure. But here is a ready-made guide that may be of help. Simply ask yourself these questions:

When trouble comes your way, do you invariably admit it was your fault, confess your mistakes, and manfully shoulder the blame?

During the football season, if the wife or kids want to switch to something besides a gridiron game, do you accede to their wishes because you believe that in a well-run family every member has equal rights?

CAN YOU give up a bad habit — such as smoking, drinking or eating jumbo sandwiches after midnight — for three months without a single relapse?

Do you always tell the truth in every situation. In other words are you the kind of character they used to describe in the Old West by saying: "His word's as good as his bond?"

If someone tells you that a new best-selling novel is terribly, terribly naughty, does that reinforce your determination not to read it, since you are against filthy literature?

SUPPOSE you were already 15 minutes late to an appointment on a rainy day, and had a 10-yard head start on an old lady racing to get the only cab visible for blocks. On reaching the cab door, would you gallantly hold it open for the slow-footed beladame and try to find another cab for yourself in the pelting rain?

How about your tax bills, buddy? Have you always leaped over backward in dealing with Uncle Sam? Have you never fudged on a report to him even a teeny-weeny bit?

Well, as Gov. Al Smith of New York, used to say, "Now let's look at the record."

If you answered each of these queries with a guilty "no," quit worrying. You're too normal ever to need a headshrinker.

But if to each of them your answer was an invariable "yes," you have a problem. You are clearly out of the usual norms of normality.

shall be as white as snow; though they are red like crimson, they shall become like wool.

"If you are willing and obedient, you shall eat the good of the land; but if you refuse and rebel, you shall be devoured by the sword; for the mouth of the Lord has spoken."

Regardless of the individuals involved, the fact is that business and government are being forced into alliances today, for neither can do alone what each knows must be done in rebuilding society.

To Your Good Health That Important Pea-Sized Gland

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the purpose of the pituitary gland and what vitamin does it require? — R.F.H.

It doesn't require any particular vitamin — but it is a mighty important little organ. It's no bigger than the size of a pea and is located at the base of the brain, just in back of the top part of the nose. But my, what influence it has!

The pituitary could well be called the "master gland" of the body. It produces hormones which regulate the other endocrine glands — thyroid, pancreas, adrenals, ovaries, testes.

The other glands in turn, by a process called "feedback," keep the pituitary informed of their activity, so the "boss," or the pituitary, keeps them operating at proper level — most of the time.

Serious trouble with the pituitary is not common, but if, for a hypothetical case, the pituitary failed to function, all the other glands would slow down. In such rare cases as removal of the pituitary, it then requires administration of proper hormones to govern all those other glands, to keep the patient in reasonable health.

An added task of the pituitary is to control growth, by producing, at the appropriate time in life, "growth hormone," about which experts are gradually learning something. But it's a difficult problem.

If the pituitary develops a tumor, the result can be acromegaly, or gigantism — the patient begins to grow. This is not an even, balanced growth, however. Some parts of the body become oversized, others do not. Some intricate (and fascinating and useful) surgical techniques have been developed to treat this.

Another pituitary chore is maintaining proper water balance in the body. This is controlled by the posterior part of the gland. Deficiency there results in diabetes insipidus (quite different from the common "sugar diabetes") with the patient drinking and eliminating tremendous amounts of water. Medications to stimulate the proper part of the pituitary are employed to control this.

Individual differences involving other glands also may occur — faulty secretion of thyrotrophic hormone can mean deficient function of the thyroid, for example. In that case, medical science has become quite proficient in restoring proper balance. The same, within limits, is true of the function of some of the other endocrine glands.

Clearly, there is a lot yet to be learned about the endocrine (glandular) system, but it is encouraging to stop and take stock of what has been accomplished so far.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A friend recently had a lump removed from the neck and the doctor called it a low grade malignancy. What is the difference between a low grade malignancy and what they call cancer? — E.A.S.

Malignancy is a synonym for cancer. The term "low grade" is used for certain types that either do not grow rapidly or have little tendency to spread. Other types grow rapidly and metastasize (spread to other parts of the body) quickly.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Bigger, And Bigger, And Bigger

Now that the Texas water plan includes a proposal for giant canals, one of them to arc from the Mississippi through North Texas into the South Plains area of West Texas, the engineering and construction problems challenge the imagination.

THIS WILL be like cutting a channel for a major river and lining it with concrete or some other stabilized material for a distance of 700 to 800 miles — and in general up hill. It would make the pyramids look like ant hills by comparison.

Yet it can be done, even by contemporary technology. There's no telling how much easier and quicker it might be done when tomorrow's technology responds to the challenge of necessity.

WHEN CONTRACTORS built the earthen dam for Lake J. B. Thomas back in 1951-52, people were impressed by the scrapers and belly dumps which, in some instances, could haul around an amazing 20 cubic yards of material in one load. Now that the Colorado River Municipal Water District is constructing another dam near Robert Lee, the smallest scrapers are larger than the biggest ones on the Lake Thomas project. The largest belly dumps, when heaped up, carry 55 cubic yards at once. Whereas, most front end loaders pick up a yard or two of earth in one operation, the Robert Lee project has one that will gouge out 12 cubic yards a whack.

OBVIOUSLY, earth moving machinery gets bigger and bigger. When the National Aeronautics and Space Administration realized no rail track could continuously support loads required for transferring the Apollo-Saturn missile from the Vertical Assembly Building to the launch pad, they turned to a company which had made ponderous machines for open pit or strip mining. The result was a most remarkable machine. A group of us saw this recently at Cape Kennedy, Fla. It is so big that it can crawl under the 5.5 million-pound missile and its ponderous steel mobile launch platform and supporting steel tower, jack it up and crawl 3.5 miles to the launch pad. Once at the pad, it crawls up a five per cent grade and yet maintains the missile within 10 minutes of perfect arc.

PERHAPS SOME statistics will impress its size upon you. The vehicle weighs 5.5 million pounds by itself. It is 131 feet long, 114 feet wide, and has four double track crawlers (one on each corner), each 10 feet high and each of the shoes on the crawler track weighing a ton.

It moves by means of 16 electric traction motors powered by four 1,000 KW generators which are driven by a pair of 2,750-horsepower diesel engines. In addition, a pair of 1,065 hp diesels drive a pair of 750 KW generators that handle the power-jacking, steering, lighting, ventilation and electronics systems.

WITH THE mobile launcher and missile aboard, the total load is 11 million pounds. This is so heavy that the machine moves over parallel road tracks which are approximately 100 feet apart and which were trenched eight feet into the ground for selective fill and topped with eight inches of big river gravel.

If our space engineers can come up with a contraption such as this now, what can they do a decade hence in designing a machine to cut a canal? Such a monster could rip out trees, earth and all but the toughest rock in gulps that stagger the imagination. Although it would cost millions, it could cut costs sharply and shorten the time for realization of the river-to-desert canal dream.

Holmes Alexander Look Homeward, Citizen

WASHINGTON — Altruism, as a French savant said about ghosts and platonic love, is something everybody talks about but nobody has ever seen. Self-interest, superstition and sex always rear their ugly heads. Beware the ulterior motive.

That's a far-out lead-in to a report on Foreign Aid given to President Richard Nixon by a top-drawer committee of businessmen and Labor leaders, and right off the report calls for further generalization.

THE BUSINESSMEN (most prominent name is David Rockefeller, Chase Manhattan Bank) come out strong for overseas giveaway. The Labor leaders (most prominent name is George Meany) come out with reservations. Shall we judge from this that hard-hearted capitalists on the Advisory Committee on Foreign Assistance Programs have turned humanitarian, and that the American working classes now turn the back of the hand to suffering mankind in less fortunate countries?

Not so. The human spirit is governed, like the physical universe, by the Law of Gravitation. Common sense is a centrifugal force with a pulling power that we call self-interest. Capitalists want government-subsidized investments which are disguised as "foreign aid," and Labor leaders want government-protected jobs at home.

IT'S WISE to read this report (top-signed by Cornell University president James A. Perkins) and its demurrer (counter-signed by Joseph A. Beirne, Communications Workers of America) with the primal rule of life in mind.

All men like to get while the getting's good. And Mr. Nixon, who wants to be "everybody's" President, had better read it with the good of 200 million Americans in mind.

The businessmen of the committee argue in the cliches of self-centered globalism. They say that Mr. Nixon ought to oppose the "tide of withdrawal" that has developed in Congress and in American public opinion. They say that the rest of us, the Forgotten Americans who pay taxes and fill the military ranks with our offspring, ought not to "look forward" and "disavow concern" for the Hottentots.

FELLOWS LIKE Beirne and Meany (AFL-CIO) "disassociate" themselves from the report, and not because they love America less or the world more. Foreign Aid, under whatever name, is an export service for goods and services, and also for jobs. A Labor leader ought to think twice before he supports programs for training and paying foreign blue-collar. Mr. Nixon's Forgotten American ought to count up to 10 before he tells his President and his Congressmen to go right ahead with programs that have been exporting dollars and soldiers ever since way ultra-internationalism became a way of American life.

MR. NIXON had better turn this runaway trend around. Not with a violent reversal which would dislocate our on-going obligations in foreign marts and on foreign battlefields, but in a gradual arc that obeys the homing instinct of American self-interest.

David Lawrence The Problems Of Transition

WASHINGTON — As one administration comes to an end and another takes office for four years, the government doesn't exactly stand still, but it loses a lot of momentum. Appointed officials have left their jobs, their tasks often unfinished, and a great many day-to-day decisions are being bypassed pending word from the newcomers as to what policies are to be applied.

IT IS DIFFICULT to estimate the loss of time involved in a change of government — the inevitable delays and the perplexity of career officials, who try to avoid making positive answers to the public until the desires of the new administration are formulated.

There are, of course, many phases of governmental operation which are covered by specific provisions of law, and these can be carried on without much difficulty. But the big departments of government have not been functioning normally for several weeks due to the transfer of the presidency and the change of the top men in departments and executive agencies.

MANY CONSTRUCTIVE things have happened during the transition period, as outgoing officials have spent much time with some of the individuals designated for high offices in the new administration. The important decisions will come only when the new President has met with his cabinet, and major policies have been discussed and adopted.

Probably the most complex of all activities is the handling of governmental expenditures and the making of plans for further appropriations. The word "budget" is heard frequently, but in reality there is no accepted definition of it. Each administration constrains the law in its own way and issues its own regulations, but authority is not sharply outlined.

MANY OF THE appropriations are designed to cover more than a single year, and sometimes not all of the funds intended for a 12-month period are expended. Also, pressures begin to be applied by members of Congress to see that money is spent in their respective areas. This presents a problem for every administration — how to maintain friendly relations with the members of the Senate and House and yet apportion public funds equitably among the different states of the union.

Matters of foreign policy are usually more efficiently handled during a transition than are domestic affairs. The Department of State has what are known as "career officers" who continue to serve irrespective of the political party which happens to come into power.

MOST CIVIL SERVICE employees in all departments remain in their jobs. But changes are made in the upper echelon of supervisory officials. These are the persons who have to interpret policy and pass the word down the line.

The Defense Department also is able to maintain a certain continuity because appropriations, as a rule, cover more than one year, and projects that are started cannot be abandoned without a heavy financial loss.

BROAD DISCRETIONARY authority is bested in many departments of government. While Congress specifies in detail just how it should be used. Transitions from one administration to another would be less painful if the laws of the land, and particularly appropriation acts, were more clearly and comprehensively written as to how and where the money is to be spent.

Editorials And Opinions The Big Spring Herald

6 Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Wed., Jan. 22, 1969

Big Springers Attend ESA District Meeting

Mrs. Robert Cox of Lambda Alpha Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Odessa, was named beauty queen at the ESA District Eight meeting held Sunday at the Motor Hotel in Midland. Mrs. Cox will represent the district at the state convention in Houston May 16-18.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Tyrene Osborne, former Powers model and dean of Columbia Secretarial College in Odessa; Miss Franchelle Moore, society editor of the Midland Reporter-Telegram; and Cecil Bridges, manager of Cecil Electric Service Company at Stanton. Runners-up were Mrs. Ted Gordon, Mu Delta Chapter, Crane; and Mrs. Charles McNeese, Beta Eta Chapter, Midland.

The Midland City Council of ESA hosted the event, and 87 members attended from Andrews, Big Spring, Crane, Fort Stockton, Kermit, Midland, Monahans, Odessa and Snyder. Mrs. Bill Crow represented Alpha Chi Chapter of Big Spring, and others from here in attendance were Mrs. Ray Weaver, Mrs. Bob Rogers, Mrs. C. W. Utley, Mrs. Bob Oliver, Mrs. Mike Moore, Mrs. Jackie Touchstone, Mrs. Frank Perry and Mrs. Glyn Mitchell.

An invitation was read from Gov. and Mrs. Preston Smith to attend the annual March of Dimes tea Jan. 30 in the governor's mansion at Austin. Mrs. Don Hyman, district president; and Mrs. Charles Collins, co-ordinator both of Kermit, plan to attend, along with Mrs. Richard Bartlett, Beta Eta Chapter, Midland, social service director for the ESA state council. The state council will meet Feb. 8-9 at the Inn of the Golden West in Odessa, and the next district meeting will be held in April at Monahans.

Inaugural Ball Gown

Mrs. Richard Nixon, who became first lady of the land Monday, poses in the gown she wore that evening at the Presidential Inaugural Ball in Washington. It is mimosa yellow of double faced silk satin. The belt of the bell-shaped skirt is embroidered with Byzantine scrolls of gold and jewels, as is the jacket. The gloves are eggshell tone kidskin. Karen Stark of the Harvey Bern house did the design.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

If you had no interest in the inauguration then, television-wise, Monday was a dull thud for those who like the "tube."

Perhaps I'm a sentimentalist, or perhaps it was that I had never been able to view an inaugural parade and in the same period of a few seconds view the departure of a past president from Washington, D.C., but I found the experience a touching one.

The Republicans were so happy, and they had a right to be — and the Democrats so loyal that they were at the airport to wish the Johnson family a fond farewell . . . some of the good friends wept. One would bet their feet and backs were a lot more comfortable Monday night than the Nixon's feet and backs.

MRS. LAWRENCE ANDERSON, and Mr. Anderson, and Mrs. Puckett was acquainted with the governor from the days when she was district president of the Parent-Teacher Association.

If you watched the parade and stayed until the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band came into view you saw the drum major, LATHAN WOODS, hold up his first two fingers to denote which number would be played next. This happened just as the band passed in front of the hippie-yippie and general-deserter crowd who know this as the "peace" sign. They mistook the band instruction and instead of throwing garbage as they had been doing, they cheered. I wonder if any of them ever figured out that it signaled a musical number?

With such a crowd at the six balls, does it make you wonder what they did back about 15 years ago when all the ball gowns were worn over three or four crinoline skirts?

A fitting tribute to the late MRS. BETTY JEAN FISHER was printed in the bulletin from her temple, TEMPLE EMANUEL, in Wichita, Kan., where she died Jan. 3. She was an active person who devoted her time and talents to the welfare of others, having been president of her sisterhood, worked in the temple's religious school, served as president of the city's chapter of AAUW, as a leader in Girl Scouts, and only recently had accepted a position as head dietitian at St. Luke's Hospital.

Mrs. Fisher was reared in Big Spring where she was buried on Jan. 5. Her mother, MRS. JOYE FISHER, has made her home in Wichita for the past few years. Her address in Wichita is Parklane Towers, Apt. 5-E, Zip Code, 67218.

Carolyn Gladys Bedell Weds Donald McIntire

Mr. and Mrs. Clay R. Bedell, 409 College, Coahoma, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Gladys, to Donald Gale McIntire of Portland, Ore.

The bride was honored with a gift shower Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Henry Booth at Coahoma, and cohostesses were Mrs. Hezzie Read, Mrs. Willie New and Mrs. Vernon Hinsley.

The wedding was held Monday in Midland, and the bride was attired in a A-line dress of pink lace fashioned with long, fitted sleeves and scalloped neckline.

Approximately 40 guests called between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. and were served refreshments from a table covered with white linen and appointed with milk glass. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white gladioli and pink carnations.

Serving as attendants for the bridal couple were the bride's sister, Marilyn Burgess of Sand Springs, and the bridegroom's twin brother, Ronald McIntire of Portland, Ore.

The honoree, who was attired in a pink dress, was presented a corsage of kitchen gadgets.

Mrs. McIntire is a graduate of Coahoma High School where she was a member of the Future Homemakers of America and the Library Club. She has been attending the LVN School of Nursing at Howard County Junior College. McIntire is employed by the Shell Oil Company in Odessa where the couple will reside following a wedding trip to El Paso and Juarez, Mexico.

Beauceants Fete Supreme Officer

Mrs. Charles J. Doey, supreme worthy president of the Social Order of Beauceants, was honored Monday evening with a dinner and reception in Midland following a joint inspection of Midland Assembly No. 143 and Big Spring Assembly No. 211.

Other high-ranking officers in attendance were Mrs. Cordon Purdy of Glendale, Calif., supreme marshal; Mrs. Lory Absher of Midland, supreme assistant marshal; and Mrs. Ruel E. Smith of Roswell, N.M., supreme inner guard. All work of the order was exemplified.

The next local meeting of the Beauceants will be Feb. 10.

Mu Zetas Discuss Courtesies

"Introductions and Invitations" was the program theme presented by Mrs. Jerry Jordan and Mrs. Charles Boadle at Monday's meeting of Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Bob Lewis, 2720 Larry, was hostess, and Mrs. Jerry Hewett was cohostess.

News Director Talks To ABWA Members

"Women in Broadcasting" was the topic discussed by Bob Lewis, news director of Radio Station KBST, at Monday's meeting of the Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association, at Hotel Settles.

DONALD R. CLOUD

New Director Of Marketing

Donald R. Cloud has been named director of marketing for DPD Manufacturing Co. of San Antonio.

The 31-year-old graduate of Texas A&M University and Harvard's Graduate School of Business was formerly a divisional sales manager for Allied Mills, Omaha, Neb. His wife is the former Fan Barber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barber.

The six-year-old company Cloud joins was first to patent an air conditioner for the radiator-less, rear engine-drive Volkswagen automobile. DPD is now one of the leading producers of air conditioners for all four types of the German-made vehicles. Business last year exceeded $1 million through dealer sales in the U.S. and overseas. Major expansion and new marketing strategy, which Cloud will manage, include negotiations with Volkswagen of America for authorization to distribute DPD products through all VW dealers in the nation.

Don P. Dixon, president of the corporation, said Cloud is slated for a key role in the company growth program to increase sales, develop new products and make acquisitions.

MIAMI (AP) — Nineteen mercenary airmen hired by a church group to run the Nigerian blockade of starving Biafra said Tuesday they joined the hazardous mission for money, adventure and idealism.

The group then left Miami for a base on an island off the coast of Africa. Joint Churchaid U.S.A. has hired the airmen and obtained four C97 cargo planes with U.S. government assistance.

"I'm doing it for the dough and for the adventure," said flight engineer Ted Wolery of Los Angeles. "Nobody is going to do this for a hundred bucks a week."

Ron Hess of Van Nuys, Calif., commander of one of two C97 planes that left Miami Tuesday said he was in it for "money and excitement and a chance to do something for mankind."

"It's not much for us to risk when you consider that 6,000 to 7,000 people die every day in

Lions Vote To Buy Glasses For Seven

STANTON (SC) — The Lions Club Tuesday voted to buy glasses for seven needy children, and decided to place copies of the history of Texas Lions, "Fifty Years of Service," in the Martin County Library and in the high school library.

John Wood, deputy district governor, presented Bill Terry with the Top Texas Club Builders Award for bringing in new members. It was announced that Wood had recently received a "Membership Development Award."

Don Edwards, Midland, presented the program showing slides of the sports event for the handicapped that he attended last Spring in Norway. The event was sponsored by the Lions there in cooperation with the Norwegian government. Larry Hyatt, Midland, assisted in the presentation. Twenty-one members attended.

Says It Would Be Better If Sex Secrecy Removed

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Temple University psychiatrist says parents keep sex education from their children and then criticize and disapprove when the youngsters find out for themselves.

Dr. O. Spurgeon English said Tuesday that sex is "something everybody wants to do but nobody wants to talk about." He said it would be better if it were not cloaked in so much secrecy. "It causes a lot of trouble with the young because the older people won't talk up," English said in an interview. "They imply they know everything, but they don't know how to describe what it is."

English contended that if young persons "knew more about what sex was for—its positive values and its dangers—then they would have a more sane and orderly and certainly a richer sexual life later on."

"Much of the later sexual experimentation and affairs that go on are because people are taking up unfinished business which their parents could have satisfied," he added.

"They feel they've missed something."

His advice to males between 25 and 30: "Think well of sex yourself, ignoring the cliches that have made it seem shameful. And, above all, think better of the person from whom you obtain sexual gratification."

Dear Abby

At 70, Looks For A Bride

DEAR ABBY: Time has passed too fast. I am an old bachelor (now 70) but I'm in good health, have a nice home, automobile, and my hobby is raising roses.

Sometimes I get a little lonesome for female companionship (not sex, I'm all through with that) and I'm wondering if maybe I shouldn't marry one of those old widows who has been after me.

I know I'm not perfect, but there always seems to be something wrong with the women I meet. Either they are looking for a meal ticket or they talk too much.

What do you think?
CONSIDERING: DEAR CONSIDERING: Why not? But be sure you get a quiet woman who's not looking for a meal ticket, wants only male companionship, and is also "through with sex," or you'll have a bigger problem than loneliness.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently had a lovely dinner party in our home. One of the couples asked us in advance if they could leave a little early because they'd left their child at home ill. Naturally we said yes.

Well, almost immediately after the dinner this couple put on their coats and made the rounds of all the guests saying goodnight. Needless to say, they broke up the party as others started leaving right after they did.

so, what do you think? ELSIE DEAR ELSIE: I think guests who depart "early" should do so as inconspicuously as possible. (I also think your husband was probably glad to call it a night and get to bed himself.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN IN CLEVELAND": Your husband could be going through the male counterpart of "change of life." A man who has worked hard for 27 years, and has been a good husband and father, is not likely to go off the deep end permanently.

Almost every man after 50 becomes a little worried about growing old, and losing his appeal. His ego needs a boost, and there is always that predatory female around, ready to flatter him and make him feel "young" again. He falls like a ton of leadwood; then the big thrill wears off and he comes trotting home to mama, feeling a little ashamed, but with a nice warm glow inside, knowing there is life in the old boy yet.

The smart wife doesn't put on an academy award scene. She swallows her pride, accepts a little "blame" for not being as affectionate and reassuring as she might have been. And above all, she never mentions it again and she tells NO ONE.

If the woman above is you, and the man is your husband, follow this advice, and your man will spend the rest of his life knocking himself out trying to make it up to you.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Toland Elected Rotary Director

Barney Toland was elected a director of the Rotary Club, it was announced at the club's luncheon Tuesday. Lowell Jones, president said Toland's election was made by the board. He succeeds Tommy Ross who has moved up to treasurer.

Jones also told members that the club had voted money to continue the work with Boy Scout troop 1, sponsored by Rotarians.

Jim Simpson and Bud Krings with Hughes Tool Co. presented a film of tunnel drilling equipment as manufactured by their firm. They were introduced by Dave Duncan.

Limiting Grazing Can Net Profits

Winter pastures can be better utilized if they are grazed less, according to Dr. J. Neal Pratt, extension agronomist at Texas A&M University.

Most winter pastures, such as small grains, contain high amounts of protein and other nutrients, and continuous grazing is usually unnecessary for beef cattle. Approximately one or two hours of grazing per day is sufficient for a beef held on medium growth pastures, he adds.

"Grazing every third day is also a good practice to follow. Research has shown that limiting the amount of grazing for beef cattle can more than double the profits to livestock producers," Pratt says.

The agronomist points out that it is a different story for dairymen and in many cases stocker producers. In such enterprises where most of the animal product is marketed, winter pastures can be used to a greater extent.

Free choice feeding of high quality hay is usually recommended and can mean extra days of grazing and profits from winter pastures.

Ample fertilization can help raise the usefulness of winter grazing land. Pratt advises producers to start thinking now of topdressing if additional grazing is on the slate for the early spring. A soil test is the best way to determine fertilization and limestone needs, he adds.

Awards Dinner

The Washington Baseball Writers presented awards for the 1968 season to outstanding members of both major leagues in Washington last night.

Player: Manager Mayo Smith of the world champion Detroit Tigers; Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees; Frank Howard, Washington Senators and St. Louis Cardinals' Pitcher Bob Gibson, the National League's MVP award winner.

Musial And Campy Added To Shrine

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Musial and Roy Campanella, brilliant rivals for 10 National League seasons, have become rookie teammates on baseball's most illustrious roster.

Musial, the incomparable St. Louis stalwart who holds more individual records than any player in history, and Campanella, the great Brooklyn catcher whose career was cut short by a crippling auto accident, were voted into the Hall of Fame Tuesday.

A record panel of 340 veteran members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America enshrined the pair, who won NL Most Valuable Player awards three times apiece and were among the most popular diamond stars in modern times.

Musial was swept into the Hall in his first year of eligibility. The slugging outfielder-first baseman Cardinal stand-out for 22 years, was named on 317 ballots. Only Ted Williams had ever drawn a higher percentage of the votes cast.

Campanella, paralyzed from the waist down since his mishap 11 years ago this month, made the Cooperstown, N. Y., shrine after having fallen eight votes short of the necessary 75 percent a year ago.

This time, he was named on 270 ballots and became the second Negro among the 95 players in the Hall. The first was Jackie Robinson, Campy's Dodger teammate.

Lou Boudreau, former Cleveland shortstop and manager, was the only other candidate to receive more than 200 votes. He got 218, 37 less than were required.

"I wasn't concerned about the vote being unanimous," said Stan the Man, 48, who retired in 1963 and now is a Cardinal vice president. "I was just concerned about being voted in. A majority is enough.

"I'm certainly pleased. And I'm happy to be able to go in with Roy because down through the years he was a great opponent."

ALL HE ASKED
"This completes my baseball career, and there's nothing more I can ask for in life," said Campanella, 47, who owns a liquor store and remains active in baseball as an instructor at clinics in the New York area.

He also paid tribute to his co-entrant into the Hall, "Musial," said Campanella, "was not only one of the most outstanding hitters, but one of the top gentlemen in the National League."

Musial set 64 individual records that still stand, including NL career marks for hits, 3,630, and runs batted in, 1,951. He compiled a lifetime batting average of .331, with a 1948 high of .376, and led the league's hitters seven times. He hit 475 home runs.

Campanella, one of the finest defensive catchers in history, batted .276 lifetime and hit 242 home runs for the Dodgers. He established NL highs for a catcher by swatting 41 homers and knocking in 142 runs in 1953, the second of his three MVP seasons.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

For the first time in several years, Big Spring won't be hosting the Region VI-B basketball tournaments (boys and girls).

Format of the state playoffs has been changed, with the result that eight bi-district winners from throughout West Texas will gather at Levelland to see which teams go on to the state meet.

Class A teams will stage their Regional meet at Lubbock again.

Only four Class B teams will qualify for State this year. Last year, six Regional champions went to Austin for the tournament.

The Regional meet always drew well here and, no doubt, would have played to large turnouts this year, since Forsan and Sands are fielding strong teams and likely will qualify again this year.

Add this to the list of things I have never understood:
After President John F. Kennedy was murdered, a group of Washington Redskins, wearing their football suits, muscled their way through the lines on the day of the funeral, reached the limousine in which the chief executive's widow was riding and presented her with a football.

"I'm sure it was meant to be a gentle gesture. What made them think, however, that it was a football the widow needed in her hour of bereavement?"

The 1969 Big Spring High School baseball team will start the season with only three regulars back from last season but will be in good shape for pitchers.

Jimmy Newman and Thomas Ham, both experienced flingers, are back.

An Eastern newspaper says that several years ago Norman Van Brocklin bought 119 shares of Minnesota Viking stock at $100 a share.

This year, when he was named coach of the Atlanta Falcons, he disposed of the stock — at $2,000 a share. That would amount to a tidy profit of $216,000.

Rice University has gone 11 years without a football championship and 14 years without a basketball title in the Southwest Conference.

Only Baylor has been on a starvation diet in those two sports longer.

Coach Don Stevens of Forsan says he thinks his basketball team "came of age" in one of the few defeats it has suffered this season — a tournament loss at the hands of highly-respected Crane.

The Buffaloes made Crane work for everything it got, then decided if they could play that well against a respected power, they were as good as the best in their class.

An upswing in basketball fortunes at Forsan would be of enormous benefit in all sports out there.

In Martin County, when people refer to "D. Jones averages," it's likely they are referring not to the Dow-Jones stock quotations but to the basketball prowess of David Jones, their star high school athlete.

One of the leading point getters in West Texas basketball, David should pick up a lot of support in this area for all-state honors.

Not long ago, he was named Most Valuable Player of the Caprock tournament in Lubbock and that designation covered not only the division in which Stanton competed, but the classification for the larger schools, as well.

NBA Leaders Win; Knicks Hottest Team

Baltimore and Los Angeles easily padded their division leads, but the New York Knicks established themselves as the hottest team in the National Basketball Association—and the hurtingest.

The Knicks made it 17 victories in 19 outings with a 113-106 decision over the less than super Seattle SuperSonics, but the triumph was a painful one. The Knicks lost scoring star Cazzie Russell, their second casualty in the last five games.

BREAKS ANKLE
Russell suffered a broken ankle at the end of the third period in a scramble for a loose ball and will be in a cast from six to eight weeks, Phil Jackson, a reserve forward, was lost last week to a back injury.

Russell had 18 points and the Knicks had an 88-82 lead before he left, and went on to score their 13th consecutive home court victory behind Willis Reed's 27 points. Len Wilkens had 31 points for Seattle, which has lost 18 of 20.

Baltimore, meanwhile, breezed past the host Chicago Bulls 116-93 for a four-game lead in the Eastern Division, and visiting Los Angeles crushed Milwaukee 122-105 for a three-game bulge in the West as second-place Atlanta lost at San Diego 124-113.

Cincinnati rallied for a 113-107 overtime triumph over San Francisco on the West Coast in the other game.

In the only American Basketball Association game Minnesota dropped the New York Nets 113-104 in Duluth, Minn.

Earl Monroe, Jack Marin and Kevin Loughery led Baltimore to a 66-44 halftime lead that set the verdict. Monroe finished with 32 points.

WEST GETS HOT
Jerry West scored 28 of his 44 points in the first half for a 57-48 Los Angeles lead and Milwaukee never caught up. West finished with 15 of 20 from the field and 14 for 14 from the free throw line, outdueling the Bucks' Jon McGlocklin, who scored 33 points.

Elvin Hayes scored eight straight points in a 14-point San Diego run midway through the final period that made the Hawks the second hottest team in the NBA as they lost for only the third time in 21 games.

Cincinnati, playing the final three periods minus Oscar Robertson, out with a leg injury, scored eight points behind with two minutes left before John Tresvant climaxed a furious rally with a free throw that tied the game at 100 with 24 seconds left. Tom Van Arsdale scored six of his 28 points in the overtime for the victory. Rudy Larusso finished with 37 for the Warriors.

Minnesota, missing injured regulars Connie Hawkins, Art Heyman and Charlie Williams, still rolled up a 40-29 first quarter lead against the lowly Nets and breezed in behind Chico Vaughn's 34 points.

New Governor To Address Texas Lawmakers Thursday

AUSTIN (AP) — After a late night at Gov. Preston Smith's inaugural ball, Texas legislators meet briefly today to invite the new governor to address them.

Today also was Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes' first day in his new job as presiding officer of the Senate. Barnes, 30, picks up the gavel after four years as House speaker.

Smith will speak to the lawmakers Thursday morning.

It's one of the time-consuming rituals of Texas government that before the governor can address a joint session of the legislature with his program recommendations, the lawmakers must pass a resolution inviting him. The constitution requires the governor to present his recommendations and "state of the state" message.

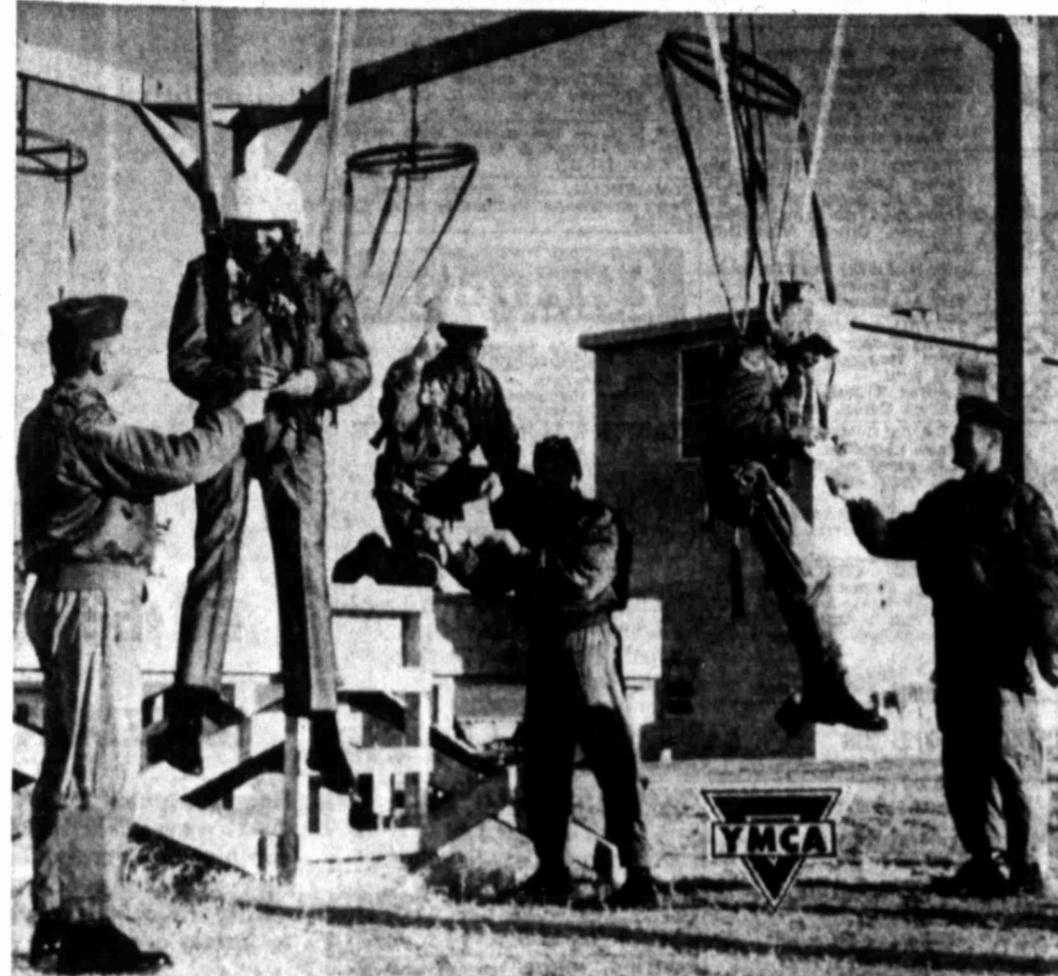

Both Barnes and Smith were sworn in Tuesday afternoon.

Smith's speech will bring to an end the required formalities of the legislature's first two weeks. Barnes and House Speaker Gus Mutscher also are considering special addresses to their respective houses.

The new governor is not expected to make many detailed recommendations, aides said, but will deal with state problems in general terms.

Smith's budget and tax recommendations will not be included in Thursday's message. It will be a couple of weeks, aides said, before the budget is written, and longer than that before the tax message is issued.

The point is, they insisted, that anyone who signs up as a participating member of the Big Spring Y will be falling into a mighty good thing. # Sirhan Murder Trial Locked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The retired antique dealer from Los Angeles and defense attorney Grant B. Cooper said the jury was locked today in court room maneuvering that could delay seating a jury for another week or more.

At that point, Chief Deputy Dist. Atty. Lynn D. Compton withdrew the prosecution's acceptance of the jury, saying it wasn't the same jury as was seated Friday. He used a peremptory challenge to remove from the panel Dora Jacob.

Cooper later used a peremptory challenge to remove Leslie H. Laney, a postal employee.

Henry Miller, a civilian employee of the Long Beach naval shipyard, was tentatively seated.

Judge Herbert V. Walker excused one prospective juror after she announced: "I am unequivocally opposed to capital punishment, whether done by an individual or the state."

Walker also excused two women who objected to being sequestered in a hotel for months. They both said their sons are returning home from Vietnam.

During the questioning, Sirhan thin and sallow maintained a calm expression smiling and nodding several times to his mother, Mary, and his brother, Adel, seated in the back of the courtroom. Sirhan read a newspaper clipping about the trial handed to him by defense attorney Russell B. Parsons. And, at one point, consulting with Parsons, Sirhan appeared to cover his mouth to stifle a giggle.

The use of peremptory challenges was started unexpectedly Tuesday, the day on which it had been indicated a tentative jury would be accepted.

Sirhan is accused of fatally shooting Sen. Robert F. Kennedy last June.

Both sides had hinted earlier they might waive the 20 challenges allowed them to remove a prospective juror without citing a reason. But as the trial entered its third week Tuesday, each side used one such challenge.

The prosecution last Friday accepted a tentative panel of jurors "as now constituted." The defense was to give its decision Tuesday.

Then one tentative juror, Helen L. Woodworth, was excused for medical reasons. She was replaced by Geraldine Scherer.

Muddy Shortcut

SANTA SUSANA, Calif. (AP) — Kris Cottingham, 7, got stuck in the mud while going to school Tuesday. Firemen had to build a plank runway to rescue him. Kris had taken a shortcut in a heavy rainstorm through a new subdivision site and sank up to his thighs. After a change of clothes, he arrived for classes—a bit late.

There's more to Volkswagen economy than 27 mpg.

It's only the beginning. Volkswagens take pints, not quarts, at oil changes. And average 40,000 miles to a set of tires. You can skip the expense of anti-freeze and broken water hoses, too. VWs are air-cooled. Then there's something you may not give much thought to right away, Depreciation. Give it some thought. VWs don't change every year like domestic cars. So you can sell a 2-year-old Volkswagen for more money than some domestic cars that cost more new. Even if you kept it as long as 5 years, you'd still sell it for more than you'd get for that domestic car. So anybody who tells you how much money VWs save you on gas isn't telling you the whole truth.

He Who Laughs . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arriving at the Smithsonian Institution for one of the inaugural balls, Richard Nixon spotted Chief Justice Earl Warren. Remarking that the other eight members of the court were expected at the same party, Nixon said: "This is one way to get all nine justices to dance to the same tune."

Awards Are Made At VA Hospital

Manuel B. Gutierrez Sr., nursing assistant at the Veterans Administration Hospital, received the Director's Commendation from Jack D. Powell, hospital director, Tuesday at an employee recognition ceremony.

Gutierrez was cited for excellence in improving communications and services to the public by his explanations and courteous attitude to newly admitted patients in performing his duties as nursing service escort.

The award is given periodically to employees who improve public communications and services. Gutierrez is the fifth VA Hospital employee to be honored since the inception of the award three years ago.

Five hospital employees having a total of 100 years in federal service were given length of service awards. Robert W. Waters, assistant chief of medical administration, and Chester E. Sturdevant, medical technician of laboratory service, were awarded 25-year pins.

Verdean M. Kirby, plumber in the engineering division, received a 20-year pin, and Talmadge L. Oxford, purchasing agent, and Richie L. Arnold, corrective therapy assistant, received 15-year pins.

Those recognized for suggestions improving patient and employee safety, improved communications, and better utilization of supplies and services included Mrs. Mattie L. Andrews, building management division, Mrs. Annie L. Branson, nursing service, and Mrs. Dene Sheppard, medical administration service. They all received certificates of appreciation.

Recipients of cash awards and certificates of appreciation were Manuel H. Olague, dietetic service, Mrs. Donna Armes, medical administration, Vernean H. Kirby and Robert L. Rister, engineering division, Mrs. Joyce N. Kennedy, laboratory service, Robert W. Waters, medical administration, Victor B. Wrye, dietetic service, Jess E. Witcher and Henry D. Dubree, engineering division.

Nixon, Warren Warming Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and Chief Justice Earl Warren, long reported at personal and political odds, are seeing a lot of each other lately—even to the point of sharing a morning pot of coffee today.

At Nixon's invitation, Warren agreed to swear in 11 of the dozen members of the new Cabinet at a White House ceremony this morning after the chief justice dropped by for sun-up coffee with the President and the 11 Cabinet secretaries.

Warren was at the White House, too, to swear in 81 members of Nixon's personal staff, including secretaries who, while not required to take an oath, were invited to participate in the event so they would feel more a part of the Nixon team. Warren, of course, administered the presidential oath to Nixon Monday.

Coolness between the two reportedly developed when both were powers in California politics and increased because of Nixon's disagreement over liberal decisions by the Supreme Court under Warren.

The President scheduled the Cabinet oath-taking ceremony for today expecting all 12 of his nominees would be legally qualified by then to assume their new positions. However, a delay in senate action on the nomination of Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel to be secretary of the interior barred him from taking the oath with his colleagues.

The National Security Council, which Nixon plans to use regularly for policy making consultation, held its first meeting Tuesday. The session lasted nearly two hours.

During the rest of the month, news secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, said the council will meet twice a week—on Wednesdays or Thursdays and on Saturdays. Ziegler said Director Richard Helms of the Central Intelligence Agency opened Tuesday's meeting with a briefing on the global situation, which in turn led to a discussion of basic foreign policy and security issues including the Vietnam war.

He reported Nixon already has received reports outlining possible alternate courses on such matters as Vietnam, the nuclear nonproliferation treaty and possible talks with the Soviet Union on arms reduction.

Nixon is expected to make greater use, too, of formal Cabinet meetings. During the Kennedy and Johnson administrations sessions of the Security Council and the Cabinet were held irregularly and, for the most part, were routine in nature.

Methodists Want More Aid For New Nations

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The 25-member United Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief unanimously adopted Tuesday a statement calling for increased economic aid to developing nations in the form of one percent of the U. S. gross national product.

The international agency of the 11 million member United Methodist Church also urged stepped-up efforts in worldwide population control and a commitment by all American political parties to the cause of world economic development.

The committee statement, adopted on the closing day of the two day annual meeting, said that "realistic targets" for economic aid to developing countries should be set and regularly revised.

"We suggest the immediate target of one per cent of the U. S. gross national product, which would involve a 25 per cent increase on current levels of economic aid," the statement said.

The committee also allocated a total of $449,299 to relief, refugee resettlement, world hunger, community development, family planning and other projects in more than 20 countries. Included are $50,000 for emergency relief to victims of the Nigeria-Biafra war and $50,000 for refugee service in Vietnam.

In earlier action, the committee also honored four persons who will serve the needs of refugees in Vietnam.

The United Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief is active in such areas as relief, rehabilitation and refugee service. Its next meeting will be May 19-20 in New York.

Opposes Salary Raise, Wants A Public Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John J. Williams says he is determined to force his fellow senators into a public vote for or against the $12,000 pay raise suggested for them. He's against it.

The Delaware Republican said he is confident he can get a roll-call vote within three weeks on former President Lyndon B. Johnson's recommendation that congressmen's pay be boosted from $30,000 to $42,000 a year.

"This is not the time for us to be raising our salaries by 40 per cent," Williams declared.

"If we give these kinds of raises, how can we ask private industry to hold the line and try to stop this inflation?"

Under a new law, the congressional pay raise—and others for high federal officials—will go into effect Feb. 14 unless one house of Congress vetoes it. Williams has introduced a resolution of disapproval. Presidential pay already has been raised from $100,000 to $200,000 a year.

A special commission headed by Frederick R. Kappel, former chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., recommended paying congressmen $50,000 but Johnson trimmed it to $42,500 on the suggestion of House and Senate leaders.

He recommended paying Cabinet officers $60,000, a $25,000 increase, and similar boosts for Supreme Court justices.

Tells The Truth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater losing Republican presidential nomination four years ago, became a beaming, popular magnet for inaugural autograph seekers as he joined the Republican revelry Monday night over Richard Nixon's elevation to President.

Goldwater quipped to an inaugural ball crowd: "After 1964 I feel like the only kamikaze pilot who ever made a round trip."

Muskie Kicks Off 1972 Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund Muskie, lifting a page from the Nixon handbook of political campaigning, takes off today on a meat-and-potatoes banquet blitz he thinks could lead to the White House in 1972.

Speeches to the Democratic party faithful in Dallas and Fort Worth are the first stops on a tour that by March will have taken him to 12 states with time out for prestige-building visits to Japan and England.

The Maine Democrat and defeated 1968 vice presidential candidate says, of course, that he hasn't decided at this early stage whether to seek his party's presidential nomination in 1972.

But he admits interest in the idea and readily acknowledges that he'll be testing the winds and stashing away IOUs from local Democrats as he ranges from coast to coast.

"That is what Nixon did so much of—and so well—during the years the Republicans were out of office," Muskie told an interviewer.

"Whether there will be a personal payoff for me, as there was for him, I don't know. But I think the effort is worthwhile," he added.

Muskie sees his role as opening a dialogue between local Democrats and the national organization and giving party workers "the feeling that their efforts are recognized by the national leadership."
