Junction, Kimble County, Texas, Friday, September 8, 1922.

Number 20.

Pecan Crop to be Small Is Prediction of Many.

Mr. Wallace, with the State Department of Agriculture was recently here to get first hand report on the local pecan outlook for the Department. He says that throughout the State the crop is expected to be small, in some places the estimate is as low as 5 per cent of a normal crop.

This county has a very scattered crop, as indicated by reports from people having pecan groves along the rivers. Some have practically the same crop as of last year, a very few report a better crop than last year, but a good many state that their crop will be very light.

Prospects are fair for a reasonable price, if the present industrial trouble is settled so shipments can be made, otherwise there will probably be a very small demand.

Local Business Houses Make Nice Improvements

The Dry Goods Department of the Hamer Company Store has been improved recently, both in appearance and convenience to clerks and customers. The high shelving that has been in the center of the dry goods side has given way to nice, substantial tables on which goods can be displayed to the satisfaction of the buyer, and plenty of room is available to customers to pass between the tables to reach every part of the store quickly.

Mr. Hamer has recently been to market centers to buy new goods for fall business which he expects to be very good, as the financial conditions are very much improved.

The Schreiner-Hodges Garage under the management of J. O. Wright, is at present placing a concrete floor over the entire space within their garage. Heretofore they have had only a gravel floor which was very unsatisfactory at times.

The front has also been changed so that more room is available for their accessory department and office. There is now only one entrance, the east entrance being closed and the office room taking its place.

School Opens September 11th

Prof. Clyde V. Cochran and wife arrived from Austin last Saturday and are getting acquainted with students and patrons of the school before the opening of school on next Monday.

Prof. Cochran, who will be superintendent and also instructor in vocational agriculture, was principle of the Laredo high school last year, and came here highly recommended as a man and as a teacher. He has been doing special work in the University this summer.

The school faculty is complete as announced some two weeks ago in this paper, and doubtless most of those living away from here will arrive by Saturday.

Notice to School Patrons.

There is to be a meeting of the teachers and members of the board at the school building at two o'clock Saturday afternoon to discuss plans for the opening of school Monday morning.

There promises to be a good year in athletics, as challenges are coming in already, for games for the season; so come on, boys, and let us make a record for Junction as being the cleanest sports and the hardest fighters in this part of the State.

Those pupils who are entitled to the "make-up" examination will come to the school Monday prepared to take such examination.

Clyde V. Cochran,
Superintendent.

KIMBLE COUNTY DISTRICT COURT CONVENED MONDAY SEPT. 4TH.

Many Civil and Several Important Criminal Cases Crowd Court Docket. Grand Jury Begins Work Monday Afternoon, Following Court's Lengthy Charge.

District Court for the September term was opened Monday morning at ten o'clock by District Judge McLean. District Attorney Christian, County Attorney Knetsch, most of the local attorneys and some seventy-five others were in the court room to hear the Judge's charge to the Grand Jury, which is composed of the following: B. B. Reese, James Prentice, R. M. Alexander, E. E. Bolt, E. J. Cowser, W. M. Henderson, J. A. Wallace, E. O. Bode, Tom Wilson, E. H. Kothmann, C. G. Montgomery, and J. N. Hodges. Mr. Hodges was appointed foreman by the Court. Messrs. Watters and Weaver were excused and Mr. Knox whose name was on the Jury list, is not in the County now.

E. A. Willis was appointed door bailiff and Omar Wright and Henry Taylor were selected for walking and riding bailiffs, respectively.

The Court began his charge to the Grand Jury about 10:30 and concluded a few minutes before noon. The usual instructions and legal information was included in the lengthy charge. Among other matters taken up was the reference of the Court to the efforts being directed by organizations towards law enforcement, outside the regular constituted authority. The following is taken from this part of the charge:

"Law enforcement, through the regular constituted authority, is necessary to the perpetuity of organized government and the preservation of civilized society. More than seven hundred years ago, Magna Charta was written in the rich red blood of the Anglo Saxon, and handed down to future generations as a constitutional guaranty of political and personal liberty, and a protection against tyranny. The principles promulgated in this great historic document, notable among which is the guaranty of a fair and impartial trial by jury, with legal representation, and confronted by the witnesses, have been embodied in our own constitutions, both the State and National, and constitute the basic principles of our system of government, and are justly prized as the greatest heritage of the American people. That which is violative of these fundamental principles, is inimical to, and destructive of organized government; and, therefore, not to be tolerated.

No man, or body of men, can assume the governmental prerogative of law enforcement, without violating the sacred principles of our constitution, detracting from his own patriotism, and lowering his own standard of citizenship. The best definition of a patriot known to me, is: A patriot is a man who loves his country and obeys its laws. If one fails to obey the law—especially the organic law of the land—it can but detract from his standard of patriotism. In order to love our country, we must not only bear it a sentimental affection, but we must believe in its institutions and traditions, and in its powers to function as a governmental entity. The numerous outbursts of mob violence in different portions of our State each of which is a stigma upon the fair name of Texas, repudiate both the sentimental affection and confidence in the functioning powers of the government, and give aid and comfort to anarchy and bolshevism. Failure to enforce law, may, ordinarily, be traced, either to misdirected energy and wasted efforts on the part of the well-meaning, or to the failure to recognize the spirit of lawlessness when masquerading in the garb of good citizenship; or, in many instances, to both these causes, coupled with an indolent public spirit. Instances are not wanting where well meaning men, disgrusted at the failure of law enforcement—occasioned, perhaps, by their own misdirected energy, or inability to recognize this spirit of lawlessness masquerading in the guise of good citizenship—have drifted into organizations of mystery and with masks over their faces usurp the governmental function of law enforcement, and, as self constituted judge, jury and executioner, proceed to inflict punishment upon wrong-doers. Under whatever name such activities may be conducted, whether as vigilante committees, white cappers, or Ku Klux Klan, mob spirit is the directing force, and same is a pending menace to organized government, and destructive of confidence in the judiciary.

These spasmodic outbursts of mob spirit, furnish notable instances of misdirected energy. These same men, without masks actuated by the same enthusiastic zeal, and putting forth the same degree of energy, in open support of an honest and efficient corps of law enforcement officers, would bring greater consternation into the ranks of vice and crime than all the tar and feather parties that have ever been staged. A one hundred per cent American citizen, in the broad open light of day, in the full majesty of his revealed manhood, is the greatest possible factor in good government in this, or any other age. There is no time or place when he needs to conceal his identity. The christialization of his life and activities furnishes the higher ideals of the community where he predominates. He is the hope of the commonwealth and the safeguard of civilization. He is actuated by the simple duties of citizenship, and no ritualistic form, or oath, however mystic or blood-curdling, can create a higher or more sacred obligation.

I cannot sanction all the invective and vituperation hurled against the individual members of the so-called "Invisible Empire," and yet, must unreservedly condemn, the usurpation of the functions of government, and flagrant violations of constitutional guaranties, inevitably involved in the activities of the organization. Invective and vituperation are merited only by evil purpose and design, but are frequently resorted to by demagogues to throw a smoke-screen around the demagogue, in order that he, or the rottenness for which he stands, may be accepted against reason and logic.

In the vast majority of instances, the incentive prompting membership in the Ku Klux Klan, is a desire for the suppression of crime and social corruption—a most laudable incentive—and it necessarily follows, therefore, that he is not actuated by vicious propensities; and stating it concretely, and at the same time comprehensively, a Ku Klux is a well meaning man with the wrong conception, trying to do the right thing in the wrong way. My earnest hope is, that these men may see their mistake, resign their membership, pull off their masks, and continue their efforts for the suppression of crime and immorality, but in the right way.

There is another class of masqueraders, however, more dangerous than the Ku Klux Klan, the class we find standing for low ideals, lawlessness and immorality, but masquerading in the garb of good citizenship, and so well disguised by hypocrisy as to make it difficult to penetrate the mask. As against the good intentions of the former, we have the vicious propensities of the latter, ever tending to the lower order of things, tearing down instead of building up, those conditions which are for the betterment of society and the elevation of human ideals. As we hope for the voluntary unmasking of the "Invisible Empire," let us, ruthlessly, if need be, tear the mask from the hypocrite; and, with well directed zeal and enthusiasm, join the determined throng in the campaign for law enforcement, through the regular organized channels, as American citizens, thereby add strength, instead of weakness, to the safeguards of social order."

Court Proceedings of Tuesday.

The several cases on the Court Docket were set shortly after court opened Tuesday morning. Two special venues have been drawn, one for the Bishop, case, which is set for Friday, and the other for the McDonald case which is set for Thursday.

The first case to come up was the State of Texas vs. Joe Taylor, on a petty theft charge. This case went to the jury at noon, and a verdict of guilty was reached about two o'clock, and punishment assessed at ninety days in jail and $100.00 fine.

County Attorney Fred E. Knetsch was "drafted" as official court reporter in the absence of the regular reporter. Mr. Knetsch was formerly a court reporter, but has not done any work of that kind in several years. Much delay and inconvenience, however, was prevented because of the fact that he was able to do this work in this emergency.

The case of the State vs. Wm. Wood came to trial Tuesday afternoon, and was expected to take up most of Wednesday.

The Grand Jury had not returned any bills up to Tuesday night.

An Error.

We made a serious mistake last week in announcing the newly arrived youngster at the Gully Cowser home, as a girl, when it should have been a boy. Errors of this kind are more easily made than one would ordinarily think, and we feel sure when Keezee grows up he will not hold us liable because his first newspaper notoriety was as a girl.

South Llano Man has Stroke of Paralysis.

Grandpa (J. D.) Hurley, father of Mrs. R. M. Stevenson, and grandfather of Judge Coke R. Stevenson, had a very serious stroke of paralysis last Monday afternoon about three o'clock, and since that time has been receiving careful medical attention, but has not improved noticeably up to time of our going to press, and it is feared on account of his advanced age that he may not recover.

He is making his home at the R. M. Stevenson ranch. Wednesday of this week he passed his eightieth year.

Card of Appreciation.

It is my desire to thank the citizens of Kimble County who have honored me with their support and confidence in my race for the Democratic nomination of Sheriff and Tax Collector.

Should I obtain the office in the forthcoming November election, it will be my purpose to show by all my private conduct and official acts that the confidence reposed in me is not misplaced, and with the help of and support of all good citizens of Kimble and adjoining counties, I trust to prove to the World at large that we, in this County, are as law abiding as the same number of people anywhere in the United States.

Yours respectfully,
Dee Gibbs,
Candidate for the Office of Sheriff and Tax Collector.

W. J. Bryan Will Again Enter Political Arena

Washington, Aug. 30.—William Jennings Bryan will toss his old campaign hat into the national political arena this fall, it was learned today from Bryan himself in an interview.

Bryan announced he would "take the stump" to his former political enemy, Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, who is seeking reelection to the senate from Nebraska. Bryan's endorsement of Hitchcock officially ends the oldest feud within the Democratic party and one in which a decade ago threatened to destroy the party.

A hope, as voiced by Bryan, is the election of a Democratic house in November as a preface to placing a Democrat in the White House in 1924.

"The question over which we once fought have all been settled and we all stand on the same platform now," said Bryan, in endorsing Senator Hitchcock. "I will speak for Senator Hitchcock and for the whole Democratic ticket in Nebraska. I shall open my campaign there about October 1."

The national issues, Bryan added, in the November elections, will be the revenue and the tariff bills and "Newberyism." He predicts, however, the industrial situation might displace all other issues if the coal and railroad strikes were not settled shortly.

Bryan declared himself for the bonus, but opposed to the tariff and ship subsidy.

R. L. Henry Resigns as Member of Ku Klux Klan

Waco, Sept. 1.—Robert L. Henry, former Texas Congressman and defeated candidate for the nomination as United States Senator at the July Democratic primary, today announced his resignation as a member of the Ku Klux Klan. He lauds the principles of the Klan in his announcement, but said he declines to affiliate with the organization "on account of the conduct of the high officials of the order in power at Atlanta, Ga., and in Texas."

In the recent Senatorial campaign the Klan was generally understood to have supported Earle B. Mayfield, who won the nomination. Henry was an avowed member of the Klan. Mayfield's political opponents charged him with membership in the organization, but he did not commit himself.

During the campaign friends of Henry asserted the Klan membership was acting upon orders from "higher ups" in not supporting Henry.

"To Hell With Injunction," Says Head of Carmen.

Kansas City, Sept. 1.—"I say to hell with this injunction," Martin F. Ryan, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, declared today, when informed of the Federal injunction granted in Chicago against the striking shopmen. Ryan is one of the union officials enjoined.

"I am a law abiding citizen," he added. "I am not fomenting any trouble. We can't be enjoined any more than we have been enjoined from doing every thing but breathing.

"Daugherty won't get far with this.

"The whole thing in a nut shell is, we have the railroads whipped to a frazzle. And now the Government steps in."

A Few Things the Strikers Are Restrained from Doing

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The injunction granted by the Federal Judge Wilkerson enjoins striking railroad men all over the country from:

Arguing with anyone who announces that he intends to go to work for a railroad.

Parading.

Holding public mass meetings to show how strong the striking organizations are.

Writing to a friend advising him to leave railroad employment.

Throwing stones at freight or passenger cars or locomotives.

Calling railroad employees names (this probably includes the term "scab.")

Walking down a railroad track or right of way.

Interfering with, hindering or obstructing in any manner the agents, servants or employees of the railroads in the performance of their duties.

Interfering with, obstructing or hindering the inspection, repair, operation or use of trains, locomotives, cars and other railroad equipment.

Preventing or attempting to prevent persons from entering railroad employment or from continuing in railroad employment.

Loitering in the vicinity of any railroad station, roundhouse switch tower, water tank, railroad yards or rail road offices.

Agreeing with the other union members to hinder workers from going to work.

Telling a worker that it is unsafe for him to remain in railroad employ.

Local Shopmen Find Employment in Fields.

The following statement relative to the efforts of the shopmen to find employment is issued by the Finance Committee: "The Federated Shopcrafts at Brownwood have established an employment office for the unemployed men who are out on strike, and are having considerable success, having placed thirty of the shop men on jobs picking cotton the first day. Reports from the men are very favorable and encouraging and it seems that they are as good cotton pickers as they are mechanics and will develop some record breakers within a week. "It is the intention of the Finance Committee to get in touch with all lines of work in a radius of fifty miles and will be prepared to furnish all classes of mechanics, such as machinists, boiler makers, sheet metal workers, water, oil, gas and steam pipe fitters, derrick builders, tool dressers, concrete experts and will have several competent foremen who can be used. Our men are all well qualified to perform all kinds of skilled work. We have men who have their own machine shops and can turn out any kind of lathe work, also expert welding. The Finance Committee will have charge of the office."—Brownwood Banner Bulletin.

John R. Box Buys Sixteen Thousand Pounds Pecans.

John R. Box of Knickerbocker has purchased about 16,000 pounds of last year's pecans from John P. Lee, off of cold storage at the West Texas Cold Storage & Ice Company and is having them moved to the cold storage space he has rented from the San Angelo Ice & Power Company. This will make about two carloads of pecans that Mr. Box has on hand. Last year when local pecan buyers were selling on a falling market and losing the profits they had accumulated at the early part of the season when prices were more stable, Mr. Box refused to take a loss, placing the nuts on cold storage here instead. This is the first time so far as is known, where pecans have been kept on cold storage here. Carlots have been shipped from here and placed in storage in the larger centers, but the practicability of storage here had never before been realized. —San Angelo Standard.

Local Man is Handy With Colors in Drawing.

The Executive Committee and the officers of the McCullough County Co-operative Exhibit are under obligations to Jimmie Stewart, local representative for Swift & Co., for a very handsome poster placard advertising the Exhibit for October 24th and 25th. The placard, which is displayed at the confectionery of Newman & Williams, is attracting no little favorable comment and really is a nice piece of work.

Stewart is a trained cartoonist and gets out two drawings each week for his company to use in publicity matter. He states that the Exhibit Poster is the first he has ever tried in color work.—Brady Sentinel.

Longest Village Street in Texas Will be Paved.

Fredericksburg—The longest village street in Texas and probably in the United States, is about to be paved. Running through Fredericksburg three miles and 90 feet wide, the paving will give a permanent surfaced roadway to an avenue that has been famous three-quarters of a century for its extreme length. Fredericksburg now has a population of 4,000, but is not incorporated as a city or town.—Center Point News.

PLUMS---AND PRUNES

The good things of this world have to be planned for, worked for, struggled for. There is no easy road to success. The plums are few—the prunes are many.

Nothing will insure the success of your plans quite so certainly, as a well-formed saving habit. An account at the bank, no matter how small, is an incentive to further saving. There is a satisfaction in watching your account grow, because it will in time be big enough to secure for you the things you have planned for. Our bank is a good bank for you.

Let Us Help You Get the Plums

STATE CAPITAL NEWS

From The Austin Statesman:

Texas History Basis of Many Theses by U. Students.

Of the thirty-four theses presented to the faculty of the University of Texas for the degree of Master of Arts this August, five deal directly with various phases of Texas history and development, and are expected to make noteworthy contributions to historical data on the Lone Star State.

Miss Lena Koch, Texarkana, has written an account of the Federal Government's management of Indian affairs in Texas, from 1846 to the Civil War, and this thesis covers, therefore, any important phase of the history of West Texas. Claude V. Hall, Floydada, traces the history of Floyd and Crosby Counties, from the dates of their organization up to 1898. Miss Carrie Belle Sterrett, Austin, has written a biography of Thomas J. Rusk; and Miss Harriet Smith, also of Austin, has written a biography of Ashbel Smith. Miss Frances Ryan, of Runge, has studied in her thesis the election laws of Texas from the days of Mexican domination to 1875.

These theses mentioned were all written after detailed study of original source material. Much of the material is in manuscript form. It is stated on reliable authority that the production of these theses is an indication of greater works yet to come, when the Littlefield Collection of Southern History of the University Library, has been further developed.

University Radio Will Broadcast Daily Lectures

What is considered to be a forward step in the "carrying" of the University to the people of Texas will be accomplished, beginning with the coming Fall term, when the University of Texas Radio Station will function under the supervision of the Extension Department of the University. The station, is now being thoroughly equipped in every detail for broadcasting, and in the future will send out large budgets of University of Texas news each day.

An Extension Council, composed of T. H. Shelby, chairman, Dr. A. C. Ellis, Miss Elva Bascom, J. E. Pearce and C. P. Patterson, will have charge of the working out of the daily schedule of news events which will be sent out under the direction of G. A. Endress, director of the University Radio Station.

It is planned to ask for the co-operation of the various schools and departments of the University in working out daily lectures and musical programs. These various departments will probably be grouped into six divisions, each having one day of the week for broadcasting its particular material. It is announced that the daily broadcasting of market and crop reports will continue with the assistance of the government leased lines from Kansas City.

Comptroller's Office Short of Stamps and Stationery

Because of the action of the Legislature in sealing too close the appropriation made for stationery and stamps for the Comptroller's department, Comptroller Lon A. Smith said he was compelled to borrow on his own personal note the sum of $300 to buy postage stamps to mail pension warrants to 15,000 Confederate pensioners for the quarter ending Aug. 31. These warrants said to be mailed before September 1 in order that they would reach their destination by the first.

The comptroller, in his budget two years ago, asked for $8,000 a year for stationery and stamps for his department, but the Legislature cut the amount to $6,000 annually. This resulted in the comptroller being forced to obtain a deficiency for $2,000 and issued deficiency warrants for that amount. The Federal Government, however, does not accept deficiency warrants, so Comptroller Smith was forced to borrow the money to carry on the official business of the department. He indicated, however, that he did not propose this should be made a practice for the future.

Governor Neff to Attend State Democratic Convention

Governor Neff is scheduled to leave Sunday for San Antonio to attend the State Democratic convention which convenes Tuesday morning. The Governor wishes to reach the scene of activities a day ahead, as he may attend the meeting of the State Democratic executive committee. It is understood an effort may be made at the convention to start a boom for Governor Neff for United States Senator when the term of Senator Sheppard expires.

State Treasurer C. V. Terrell, Comptroller Lon A. Smith and other state officials will leave Monday for the convention.

J. L. Chapman is Now Bank Commissioner

Austin, Sept. 1.—J. L. Chapman assumed his duties of commissioner of insurance and banking Friday, taking the place of Ed Hall, resigned. Commissioner Chapman announced that there would be no change in the personnel of the department, and it is understood there will be no change in the policy of the department, at least for the present.

Commissioner Chapman today attended the final meeting of the State Bank examiners and discussed with them the affairs of the State banking system.

Former Commissioner Ed Hall leaves Saturday for Dallas where he becomes a vice president and director of the Dallas County State Bank.

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried everything I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I am sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did take Cardui. It may help you, too.

Home Talent Play at Roosevelt Big Success.

The home talent play at Roosevelt, August 25th, "Not So Bad After All," was a pronounced success.

The audience was held in wrapped attention throughout the entire presentation.

The actors laid aside self-consciousness, thus acting their roles with wonderful dexterity, taking a perspective view from an amateur standpoint.

Praiseworthy remarks could be offered regarding the merits of characters individually, but we deem it hardly advisable, as those that were present could judge for themselves.

The play was a success for three reasons: In that the order and attention was above ordinary; in that the presentation was above reproach and commendable; in that the coffers of the Parent-Teachers' Association at Roosevelt was swelled fifty dollars above expenses, and later will be used for school purposes as it is seen fit.

U. S. Attorney Blames Strike Leaders for Texas Lawlessness

Ft. Worth, Aug. 31.—Charges that Fort Worth railroad strike leaders are becoming lax in their efforts to suppress violence and trouble in connection with the strike were made by Henry Zweifel, United States district attorney, in a conference with representatives of the shopmen, according to Ben Cooley, chairman of the strikers' committee.

Three officers of the Fort Worth shopmen's strike organization were called in for a conference with the United States attorney following the blasting of the Texas & Pacific tracks at Cleburne Junction Saturday night.

Besides that incident, a number of lesser disturbances were reviewed by Zweifel and he declared that the occurrences are becoming more numerous, Cooley said.

Canadian Astronomer Discovers Twin "Suns."

Dr. J. S. Plaskett, director of the Astrophysical Observatory at Victoria, B. C., has discovered and measured "twin suns" which have been named "Plaskett." The two suns are more than five times as large as any other known heavenly body. One of the twins is 75,000 times the bulk of "our" sun and 15,000 times as bright; the other, 63 times heavier and 12,000 times as bright.

Cy said. The strikers were not accused of committing the acts, but accusation was made that the leaders were not so vigorously attempting to prevent such trouble.

A Triumph for Value

IN the past two months Firestone has built and marketed more tires than in any similar period in its history.

This steadily increasing public preference is proof of the recognition by car owners of the greater values offered by Firestone. It is a tribute to Firestone men—all stockholders in the company—all actuated by the operating principle of Most Miles per Dollar.

The high average performance of Firestone Cords is without equal in the annals of tire making and is reflected by the general tendency to specify Firestone for hard service. Taxicab and bus lines, buying tires by the mile, are universally equipping with Firestone Cords.

There are many reasons for the high quality of Firestone tires but chief among the special manufacturing processes are double gum-dipping, thus eliminating internal friction by insulating each cord strand, and air-bag cure, insuring a well-balanced and perfectly shaped product.

Don't speculate in tires—you will find the right combination of price and quality in Firestone. Come in and let us tell you about the service these Cords are giving other car-owners whom you know.
