DONT STRIKE WARNS BOARD

Says I. & G. N. Walkout Today

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

By H. N. F.

Political wise ones down in Texas say that the Ku Klux Klan is going to be the great political question in this state the coming campaign. That the K. K. K. is not a question of the Klan, per see, but is really the question of churches. It is the Catholic church and the Baptist church, or perhaps the Protestant churches. It is related that the Baptist church is in the political saddle in Texas today; that the head of the Klan is a Baptist; that the Catholics everywhere are condemning the K. K. K. and that the Baptists are sawing wood. Whether this is true or not, it is a fact that the legislature failed to pass any law to stop the activities of the Klan. This is charged to the influence of the governor. Perhaps this is not true, for he seemed to have no influence with the legislature on any other question. However, it is certain that the Catholics, Jews and Klan critics are searching for a man to put against his Excellency for his second term. The men have been often spoken of. These are Alvin M. Owsley and Lynch Davidson. Others are also being considered, and it is certain that we will have some politics in Texas following heel-fly time. —Former Lieutenant Governor W. A. Johnson in Hall County Herald. H. N. F. and the former lieutenant governor are old and excellent friends but the former lieutenant governor certainly has a vivid imagination. Governor Neff has declared emphatically for the enforcement as well as the supremacy at all times of the written law of the commonwealth. Governor Neff in his message to peace officers, transmitting the opinion of the attorney general, appealed to the aforesaid peace officers to enforce the written law at all times and at all hazards, "regardless of creed or color or cult." He did not ask the legislature to enact laws for the suppression of the Ku Klux Klan or any other organization. He is the head of the executive and not the legislative department of the government. President Harding is a Baptist. This is his American privilege. Governor Neff is a Baptist. This is his American privilege. President Harding has ever stood for civil and religious liberty and there is nothing in the life or the speeches or the state papers of Harding or Neff to indicate creed intolerance, political bigotry or sympathy with any set of men or any organization that would ostracise or outlaw their fellow man for conviction sake alone. Robert Ewing Thomason is neither a Catholic nor a Jew. Alvin M. Owsley is neither a Catholic nor a Jew. Andrew L. Randall, grand master of the Masons is neither a Catholic nor a Jew. Davidson and Randall are native Texans, men of high attainments and high character. Young Owsley is a native Texan, a brilliant lawyer and orator who saw hard service overseas with an honorable record behind him and a brilliant future before him. Now why say the Baptist church is in the political saddle in Texas? Why say any church is in the political saddle in Texas. Dr. Samuel Palmer Brooks is one of the very able men of Texas, a gentleman of high ideals and lofty purposes. He made the race for the United States Senate two years ago and candidates who were members of other churches led him in the primary ballot. He did not get into the run-off. This reminds H. N. F. that in the campaign last year, Tom Watson of Georgia, appealed to Georgia democrats to spit upon the League of Nations because he said the Pope of Rome was responsible for it, while in Massachusetts and many other Northern and Eastern states, certain distinguished orators were appealing to American Catholics of Irish origin to vote to repudiate the League of Nations because John Bull was responsible for it and England would have six votes in the supreme council while brother Jonathan would have only one vote. And a democratic president, a Southern born democrat, a life-long Presbyterian, was the author or creator of the League of Nations and will shine throughout history as one of the greatest and purest statesmen the world has ever known. Politicians, for their own selfish purposes or to advance their own personal fortunes, very often make ignoble appeals to win to their support the unthinking or the uninformed. Former Governor Johnson is not one of the unthinking or the uninformed, but he keenly enjoys the sport of placing live coals on the back of the political tortoise in order to make it poor thing get a move on itself. When in doubt junk the penitentiary plant, sell the prison farms, build cement factories and utilize the three thousand convicts as road builders. There is another real issue that may be uppermost: A fair rendition of idle lands, held for selfish or speculative purposes, speaking of course of immense holdings, in order that all the farmers who farm and all the stock farmers engaged in the livestock industry may have their tax burdens lowered or lightened. A hint to the former lieutenant governor may be sufficient—that is if he is going to

MOTOR AUCTIONS AND SECURITIES ARE DISCUSSED

Roger W. Babson, Famous Economist, Makes a Forecast of Effect on Motor Car Securities.

"A Good Name Is More to Be Desired Than Great Riches," Is the Verdict of This Business Expert.

(Authentic statement by Roger W. Babson to be quoted only by The Wichita Falls Record News)

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. Oct. 21.—The automobile industry is entering a new era. The first stage was when the demand for cars exceeded the supply and we could not buy automobiles except for cash; the second stage was when the supply exceeded the demand and cars were sold on the installment plan and on time generally; the third stage which we are now entering is when there is an active market for standard makes of cars with a "bid and asked" price reasonably near together. The reason that I say automobiles are now reaching this third stage is because of the automobile auctions which are beginning to be held in the large cities.

Everyone remembers twenty years ago when most cities had their daily and weekly auction sales of horses. In some cities entire streets were given up to these auction sales to which the people came from miles around. These sales existed because horses were a standard commodity, and all except fancy horses and thoroughbreds had their market prices. The horse that would normally be quoted at $250 would have a ready sale at $295 and would usually be priced at not more than $275. With automobiles this situation of course has never existed. If a car had been run one day there was a depreciation of about 20 per cent, the amount of the selling commission; while if it had been run a few thousand miles, the depreciation became much greater. There would often be a difference of a thousand dollars between the "bid and the asked" price on a car that would be rated around $2,000. This, of course, has tremendously added to the selling costs and has been a great drag on the industry.

With the introduction of auctions for both new and second hand cars, the price level will soon be stabilized with the result that excessive selling costs and many other costly features of the automobile industry, will be eliminated. To the medium priced, honestly built, light cars, these auctions will be a great boom; altho they may result in putting some other makes of cars out of business. In other words, the automobile auctions —like the old horse auction—will be the acid test distinguishing the good cars from the poor cars, the companies which spend most of their money on selling from the companies that spend most of their money on materials.

What does this mean to automobile securities? It should help the securities of certain companies who are making standard, light cars, to sell at a reasonable price. It will help companies which have established their reputation for workmanship, accommodating local service and judicial advertising. A good name "is more to be desired than great riches" and this especially applies to the automobile industry. The securities of companies having such a good name should distinctly benefit during this third stage which the automobile industry is entering. On the other hand, these auctions make it all the more important that investors should show great discrimination in purchasing the securities of automobile companies.

General business is still dragging on the bottom. The Basonchart of Business Conditions shows activity—18 per cent below normal.

Two Negroes Flogged at Pilot Point

By Associated Press.

DENTON, Texas, Oct. 21.—Two negro boys were taken from jail at Pilot Point last night and severely flogged by a band of unidentified men.

W. J. Miller, editor of a Pilot Point paper, this morning found a notice on his office door reading: "Yes; we did it, applied the lash. This should be a warning to all loafers and lawbreakers." Written on the back of an envelope the notice was signed "K. K. K."

SENATE FIGHT OVER SURTAX RATE BREAKS

Republican Leaders Express Confidence That Compromise Plan Will Be Eventually Adopted.

Following Yesterday's Defeat Hurried Calls Are Sent for Absent G. O. P. Members to Return.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The long threatened fight over the income surtax rates to be written into the new revenue law broke today in the senate, but despite a sizeable opposition, republican leaders expressed confidence that the compromise plan embodying a maximum rate of fifty percent would be adopted probably before adjournment tomorrow evening.

Meantime, as a result of the defeat yesterday of the proposal to exempt from taxation income of foreign traders and foreign trade corporations received from sources outside of the United States, majority leaders sent out a hurry call to absent republican senators to return to Washington.

The absence of republican senators was commented upon in the senate by Chairman Penrose of the finance committee, in charge of the revenue bill.

"Questions of paramount importance are being disposed of here while republicans are absent and indifferent," he said. "I want to call the attention of the country to it. It will meet with comment and condemnation."

While defeated in the first skirmish over amendments as designed to aid American concerns in competing with foreign rivals for overseas trade Chairman Penrose said today an effort would be made later to get a provision in the bill to protect those concerns, particularly those being in business in the Philippines and China.

Only a few senators desiring to discuss the income surtax rates got the opportunity today before the senate recessed.

Senator Simmons told the senate that since the compromise amendment was very similar to one he heard of, he would not offer any objection to its adoption. Other democrats, however, opened a fight on the compromise. Senator Hitchcock, proposing an amendment under which the rates on incomes in excess of $100,000 would be the same as those in existing law. Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, contended that if rates were to be lowered on large incomes they should be lowered on incomes below $5,000.

ROAD TOLD TO CANCEL OPEN SHOP ORDERS

Officials of Tremont & Gulf Summoned to Appear Before Board for Alleged Violation of Ruling.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The labor board ordered the Tremont & Gulf, a sixty-seven mile long railroad between Tremont and Winfield, La., to suspend operation of an order establishing open shop conditions today, and appear at a later date for a hearing to show cause why it should not be held to have violated the board's orders.

The Tremont & Gulf posted a notice notifying all train and engine service employes that present contracts would be cancelled at six p. m., today, and road and shops operated under the open shop plan, subject to rules and regulations made by the company. All employes were ordered to signify their acceptance of the order in writing before six p. m., today and the bulletin added that those refusing to accept the change would not be called for service in the future.

The board notified the road that a date for the hearing will be set as soon as the employes file a formal complaint.

PAVED HIGHWAY TO IOWA PARK COMPLAINED OF

Chamber of Commerce Pronounces Construction Defective After an Inspection.

Rapid Disintegration Reported on Lake Road as It Rounds Out Its First Year of Service.

Although only approximately six months old, the concrete paving on the Iowa Park road is already breaking badly in spots, according to a Chamber of Commerce official, who with other representatives of the Chamber of Commerce made an inspection trip over the road Friday.

"There is no use telling me that concrete properly laid down would begin to break in this length of time" this official declared Friday afternoon, following his return.

"I am not an engineer, but I know enough to know that this is not as it should be."

The matter is to be taken up immediately with Potts and Prentice, contractors doing the work, immediately in an effort to confirm or obtain refutation of the impression of defective workmanship which the party declared that they had gained through their trip.

Several times in the past, complaints have been made to the Chamber of Commerce regarding the character of the construction, but engineers succeeded in reassuring the organization each time.

With six months of actual service, however, and the impression gained from the appearance of the road way after this use, the Chamber of Commerce people believe that they have something more definite to go on than the expert opinions.

Although no such official inspection has been made of the Lake Road, which is now rounding out its first year of service, it is also reported to be showing unmistakable signs of rapid disintegration. Good sized chunks are reported to have broken off at the edges, and the foundation to have settled well away from the concrete surface. Cracks from the weight of traffic is a resultant from the latter condition with damage from water between the surface and the grade to be a further expectation.

EXPECT WOMAN TO DIE FROM POISON DOSE

Suffering from the effects of a large dose of bi-chloride of mercury tablets, Mrs. Lillian Blair, 1108 Ninth street about 30 years of age and the mother of two children, both girls, and one about ten years of age and the other near fifteen, lay at the Wichita General hospital Friday night with but slight chance for recovery, according to the report of physicians who attended her.

Mrs. Blair was accompanied to the hospital by her husband, Paul Blair, where although never unconscious it was reported that her condition was extremely critical and that a period of 48 hours would be required before it would be possible to determine the outcome. The poison was taken about 5:30 o'clock. No reason for the dose was given.

ORDERS FOR TEXAS STRIKE NOT REVOKED

Chairman of Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen on Road Issues Final Instructions to Members.

Trainmen Are Told to Remain With Trains Until Run Is Completed Regardless of Time.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 21.—On being advised of the United States' labor board's declaration today that there would be no strike of the trainmen unless it was done in open defiance of the government, E. S. Thompson, general chairman of the brotherhood of trainmen of the International and Great Northern railroad declared: "It won't make any difference; the order to strike has been issued and we are preparing to strike."

Mr. Frame announced tonight, following a meeting of members of the union, that the strike of trainmen on that road would be a 100 per cent affair. Trainmen on the I. & G. N. are scheduled to strike tomorrow noon.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 21.—R. D. Frame, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, tonight issued final instructions to the six hundred members of the order, on the strike which has been ordered to begin on the International and Great Northern Railroad company of Texas at noon tomorrow and predicted that the strike will be 100 per cent.

J. R. Jones, superintendent of the I. & G. N., said tonight the company was prepared to move its trains and would give the public train service.

The strike of the trainmen on the I. & G. N., while starting at noon tomorrow, will not be in full force, that is to say, the men of that branch of the service will not be out completely until several hours later. The Sunshine Special leaves Laredo at 11:05 a. m. tomorrow, 55 minutes before the strike goes into effect. The instructions to the men in such cases is to report for duty and remain on duty on the train until the division point is reached. The Sunshine Special is scheduled to reach San Antonio tomorrow at 4:15 p. m., after which any member of the trainmen's order on it would be on strike.

Mr. Frame was interested in the news that the railroad labor board has ordered the chiefs of the brotherhoods in conference for next Wednesday and directing that the men remain at their posts, but made it plain that he was working under the orders of President Lee, who had ordered the strike and that unless that order was countermanded by President Lee the strike would start on schedule time.

Trainmen met this afternoon and received their final instructions from Chairman Frame. Mr. Frame's assistants at other division points on the railroad have given like final instructions. Every man will report for duty tomorrow morning as usual and will start out on his run even on trains leaving a few minutes before noon and will continue on duty until the end of their run though this will carry them past noon.

Delegates Will Honor War Dead

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—As now planned, the first session of the armament conference will be held early in the day of Nover ber 11. There will be no ceremonies and no addresses. The conference will adjourn immediately as a special mark of honor to the American unknown dead to be buried at Arlington cemetery on that day and also out of respect to the allied and American celebration of November 11 as Armistice Day.

The services for the unknown dead begin at the capitol early in the morning when the body will be carried out from its resting place in the rotunda and placed upon a gun carriage that will take it to Arlington cemetery. It will require about three hours for the military escort to reach the Memorial Amphitheater at Arlington and the ceremonies there are scheduled to begin three minutes after noon when President Harding begins his address.

PACKING HOUSE WORKERS PLAN FOR WALKOUT

Workers Favor Strike by 35,354 to 3,490; President of Union Calls for Conference Next Week.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Completion of the strike vote in the packing industry taken by the amalgamated meat cutters and butcher workmen, was announced here today by C. J. Hayes, president. He said the poll stood 35,354 yes and 3,490 no.

This was the second time within a few months that the members of the butcher workers' union have voted to strike. Last summer plans for a walkout virtually were complete when Secretary of Labor Davis called representatives of the packers and of the employes into a joint conference at Washington where the differences were settled amicably, the packers agreeing to extend the Aischuler war time agreement, through which Federal Judge Aischuler arbitrated packing house industrial questions, another six months, and the men accepting a wage cut. The extension of this agreement expired on September 15.

A conference of executive officers and representatives of allied crafts will be held here next week, Mr. Hayes said.

A strike of packing house employes at the John Morrell Company plant at Ottumwa, Iowa, which began this week, Hayes said, was the most important strike in the industry since the war. He reported one thousand men out.

SEVEN POLICE INJURED WHEN BOMB EXPLODES

Riotous Demonstrations Held in Paris in Protest of Death Sentence Against Communists.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—Seven policemen were injured tonight by the explosion of a bomb thrown into a crowd in Wagram Avenue during a meeting held by the French communist party in protest against the conviction for murder in Massachusetts of two Italian communists, Sacco and Vanzetti. Several of the manifestants were also hurt and six persons were arrested charged with disorderly conduct.

The meeting had been widely advertised as a protest against the American government, capitalists and the "execution" of Sacco and Vanzetti. The speakers were bitter in their vituperation of the American government and of American capitalists.

Ten thousand persons crowded into Wagram Hall and when the capacity of the hall was reached there was a large overflow of bellicose demonstrators outside. It had been announced as the intention of the leaders to lead the throng on a march to the embassy. Three platoons of mounted republican guards and hundreds of police ready for riot duty patrolled the vicinity, which is near the Arc De Triomphe, while additional forces were held in reserve at various points to handle the crowd when the meeting was over and prevent any demonstration or march in the direction of the embassy, around which a guard was also posted.

While the proceedings inside the hall were without incident, except for

GOVERNMENT TAKES HAND IN NATIONAL RAIL CONTROVERSY

Brotherhood Chiefs and Railroad Executives Summoned to Conference Next Wednesday; Workers Ordered Not to Strike Pending Board's Decision.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The government today moved to prevent a railroad strike and to enforce obedience by both unions and roads to decrees of the United States Railroad Labor Board, the board formally announcing that it had assumed full jurisdiction in the rail crisis and ordering the workers not to strike pending a conference between union heads and rail chiefs which is called for October 26.

A decision from this conference will not be announced until after October 30, the scheduled strike date, board members said, declaring that in this way a walkout would be averted unless the unions defied the boards orders not to strike pending a ruling.

The action was taken following receipt from Washington of information that every interested branch of the government would back the board in its attempt to settle the rail difficulties, members declared.

While both carriers and unions promptly announced they would comply with the order citing them to appear before the board next Wednesday, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, one of the organizations, which has called a strike, in a statement given out in Cleveland, asked by what authority anyone could compel a man to work and pointed out that the right to strike had been upheld by the United States supreme court.

At the same time trainmen on the International and Great Northern, a Texas road, prepared to carry out their plans to strike tomorrow and the maintenance of way and the firemen's unions, representing 400,000 rail workers, announced here that they would join the proposed walkout October 30. These two groups are part of the eleven unions numbering three-fourths of the nation's rail employes, which had voted to strike, but had not issued a strike call.

Besides stepping into the breach between the carriers and the five unions which have called a strike—the trainmen, the switchmen, the engineers, the firemen and the conductors —the labor board summarily ordered the Tremont and Gulf railroad, a 67 mile line in Louisiana, to rescind its ordeg installing an open shop effective at 6 p. m. tonight.

Provides No Penalty

If the unions choose to carry through strike plans, which the board asked them to defer, members of the board said that the next move would have to come from Washington, intimating that today's action exhausted their attempts to furnish the teeth which the transportation act, creating the board, was said by many to lack. At the same time it was pointed out that the transportation act gives the board power to cite the interested parties for alleged violation of its rulings, as it did today in calling next Wednesday's conference, but provides no penalties for violation of its decrees.

In connection with the labor board order to defer strike action, it was pointed out the "big five" union chiefs yesterday informed the board that the strike could not be postponed, as no arrangements for such a contingency had been made, although it could be settled.

Order Comes Unexpectedly.

The board's announcement today came as one of the most sensational developments in the rail crisis since

TEXHOMA IS STARTING NEW ARCHER TEST

The Texhoma started drilling Friday on a new Archer county wildcat, two and a half miles west, and slightly south of the producers on the Gose, Taylor and Coffman. This is the Texhoma's No. 1 Parkey.

It is interesting to note in this connection, that the Texhoma's wildcat record is still 1,000 for everything but Wilbarger county, where their first wildcat was temporarily abandoned several weeks ago.

While the company has drilled dry holes, after pools have been opened up, there is not an instance on record in the local fields where a Texhoma wildcat has failed to find production, the two Texhoma pools, the South Burkburnett shallow, and the new Archer county, being two of the most striking examples of the success of the Texhoma in wildcat ventures.

However it is understood that there is considerable "knocking on wood" in the starting of this new Archer county venture, for this is the furtherest into Archer county that the company has yet drilled, and Archer county is still untamed, except in small spots, after years of drilling.

FOURTH DEFENDANT IN KABER MURDER CASE IS ACQUITTED

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio. Oct. 21.—A verdict of acquittal was returned tonight in the trial of Mrs. Emma Colavito, for her alleged connection with the death of Daniel F. Kaber, a publisher, over two years ago.

She was tried on an indictment charging first degree murder. The trial had been in progress several days. She was the fourth person to face the jury in this case.

RAIL MEN TO STRIKE HERE ON NOV. 5; FOOD SUPPLY FOR 20 TO 30 DAYS ON HAND IN CITY

Six p. m. November 5 has been set as the date for the start of the railroad strike on all of the roads in Wichita Falls, according to orders received by Sam Francis, fireman on the Fort Worth & Denver, local strike chairman. Outside of the receipt of the order there has been nothing done by way of preparations, local railroad men say, and none of the representatives of the local brotherhoods profess to know anything regarding the strike outside of the date when it has been ordered.

Union officials declared that they did not know the number of men here to be affected by the strike. Operating officials would hardly hazard an estimate of the total number, except for his own road.

One operating official, however, placed the number of members of the four brotherhoods here to be affected by the strike at around 700. Should members of the shop unions go out in sympathy, it would increase the number of those striking to around 1000.

Some preparations have been made by local wholesale grocers toward securing a reserve supply of sugar and other staples but the consensus of opinion among local jobbers is that there will not be more than a 20 to 30 day supply of necessities on hand when the strike is called.

There has not been, nor is there expected to be any great attempt at laying up a large reserve supply, according to local jobbers, because of the opinion expressed by them that a compromise or rescinding order will be called before the visible supply of necessities has been used up.

In the fresh maet line, the supply represented by the local packing house representatives amounts to about 10 days' rations basing the demands as slightly above normal during the strike. The fact that there are a number of stock in this section which could in emergency be killed for food, wholesale butchers say, lessens the chance of a shortage in this commodity.

Retail dealers in food stuffs depend to such a large extent on the local jobbers that they are not worrying very much about the strike. If the wholesale houses have the supplies the public can buy through the retail end and they say there is no reason for them to make an attempt to secure a reserve supply looking toward a scarcity of food stuffs.

GOVERNMENT TAKES HAND IN RAIL WAR

the "big five" unions let it become known that they were formally sending out authorizations for a strike by their members. It was issued virtually without warning and at a time when the concensus had been that the governmental agency had met an impasse in its attempts to settle the crisis when its conference yesterday with the union chiefs was adjourned with the announcement that no results had been attained. Coming as the first instance where the board so decisively expressed authority which many railroad and labor men had maintained it did not possess, the board's action found most of the interested leaders too astounded to comment.

Tonight local railroad presidents refused to discuss the pronouncement other than to say that it would be complied with so far as they were concerned.

Withhold Comment.

They declared that they had not violated the board's decision and took the attitude that the citation really was directed at the unions alone, saying that the carriers were called in simply because it was necessary to have both sides represented. Under such conditions, they said it would be unethical to comment on the announcement or to attempt to interpret it in any way.

The decision of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employes and the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers in announcing that they would join a walkout was looked on by labor leaders as especially significant, one chief professing to see in the announcement a possible healing of any breaks which might have existed between the eleven standard unions which have voted for a strike without calling one, and the "big five." Leaders of several of these organizations had announced that they would attempt to keep their men from walking out despite overwhelming strike votes and had expressed hope that if their attempts were successful, their failure to support the "big five" might avert a walkout.

Other union leaders, however, said that it was by no means certain as yet that a majority of eleven organizations would strike.

RAIL FACTIONS CITED TO APPEAR BEFORE BOARD

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The United States railroad labor board at 1:15 this afternoon passed a resolution citing the big four brotherhoods, the Switchmen's union and all railroads named in the wage reduction order of July 1 to appear before the board next Wednesday morning, October 26, at 10 a. m. They are cited to appear so that the board may determine whether they have violated or are violating the wage reduction order.

The board also said that insofar as the threatened strike is the result of a dispute between the carriers and their employes concerning wages, rules and working conditions, "this board hereby assumes jurisdiction of said dispute on the statutory ground that it is likely substantially to interrupt commerce."

Meanwhile both parties to the dispute are warned to maintain the status quo on the properties of the carriers. The action by the board followed a conference which began at ten o'clock. Board members declined to say whether they had been in touch with Washington by long distance telephone during the morning.

Text of Resolution

The text of the resolution follows:

"Whereas it has come to the knowledge of the United States railroad labor board that a dispute exists between the following carriers and the following organizations of their employes:

(All railroads named in the wage reduction of July 1, embracing practically every line in the country, are listed here, and in addition the names of the big four brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America.)

"Whereas, information has come to this board that a conference was held in Chicago on the 14th day of October, 1921, between certain of the executives of said carriers and certain executives of said organizations of their employes, relative to the matters in dispute at which conference no agreement was reached, and,

"Whereas, immediately following said conference it was announced through the public press that the executives of said organizations of railway employes had issued and sent out to the members thereof orders or written authority to strike and that a strike vote had been taken on on the lines of the carriers mentioned, and,

"Whereas, the board's information is to the effect that said strike is threatened on two grounds; first, in opposition to the wage reduction in decision Number 147 of this board, and, second, on account of an unsettled dispute both as to wages and working conditions;

Violates Decision

"Be it therefore resolved by the United States railroad labor board,

"First, insofar as said threatened strike is in opposition to and a violation of decision No. 147 of this board, the above named labor organizations and each of said carriers be and are hereby cited to appear before this board for hearing as to the question whether or not they have violated or are violating decision number 147 and,

"Second, that insofar as said threatened strike is the result of a dispute between said carriers and their said organizations of employes concerning wages and working conditions, this board hereby assumes jurisdiction of said dispute on the statutory ground that it is likely substantially to interrupt commerce and said carriers and said organizations of employes are hereby cited to appear before this board at Chicago, Illinois, for a hearing of said dispute.

"The hearing on both of the foregoing matters is set for Wednesday October 26, 1921, at 10 a. m.

"Be it further resolved, that the secretary of the board notify each of the said carriers and its said organizations of employes, both by wire and by mail, of the date of said hearing, and furnish each of them with a copy of this resolution.

"Be it further resolved, that both parties to said dispute are hereby directed to maintain the status quo on the properties of said carriers until said hearing and decision."

The hearing will be open to the press and public and with more than 200 railroads and approximately third unions involved either directly or indirectly probably will last several days.

USE OF WAR POWER IN RAIL CRISIS THOUGHT UNLIKELY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The government will not exercise its war powers to avert the threatened nationwide railroad strike, a plan suggested in some quarters, it was stated late today in high administration circles.

The impression was given that the administration feels other avenues are open by which a settlement may be reached. No indication was given, however, as to what course would be followed or what information the government may have had from the labor board.

It was not indicated that a definite decision had been reached, however, and most of the evidence tended to ward the continuance of the waiting attitude adopted by President Harding while the negotiations between the railroad labor board and union officials are in progress and while the interstate commerce commission is putting into form its new rulings on important freight rates scheduled.

Should the war powers be invoked it is expected that the war department will be called on to perform most of the duties thus imposed upon the government. The degree of control which would be exercised over the roads would depend on the demands of the situation and might reach the proportion of direct governmental operation.

Personal data showing the occupation of every man in the service is a part of the permanent record of the war department, and is understood to show that a large number would be available from that source to give experienced attention to the task of railroad operation.

In addition, the government would expect considerable aid from volunteer help, officials having no doubt that men with railroad experience, now holding in many cases important positions would be ready to come to the aid of the government. It is understood that a large number of such volunteer offers already have reached Washington.

Invocation of the war-time authority would be expected to follow only in case the union leaders disregard the official notice from the railroad labor board and bring on a strike of such proportions that the railway companies themselves could not keep the centers of population properly supplied with the necessities of life.

In the absence of any indication the administration was considering mandatory control of the railroads, the action of the labor board in citing union heads and rail chiefs to appear before it was interpreted here as showing that the board had received assurances from Washington that its supervision of the situation was unaffected by the recent developments. The board's intention as understood here, was to determine whether th brotherhoods chiefs or the executives, or both, had not in fact already contravened provisions of the transportation act.

Declared Board's Affair

In high administrative circles it was reiterated today that it was "still the labor board's affair," while the president had not been advised officially of the board's action at a late hour, it was understood that he approved the move.

Although no definite decision against invocation of war time power was reached today, no doubt was expressed in official quarters that adequate authority was existent and could be employed should the period of negotiation prove fruitless. An amendment carried by the army appropriation bill of August 29, 1916, authorized the president specifically to take over transportation for the movement of troops and to continue such conrol, "in an emergency."

Supplementing this authority, it was said, was action of the national defense act and other statutes enacted prior to and during the war. Department of justice officials were understood to have examined into all of these and to have prepared for he president a memorandum on the subject.

A decision from the interstate commerce commission on the pending cases involving requests for freight rate reductions may be expected soon, it was again indicated at the commission. There was nothing, however, to connect the expected decision with the program being followed by the labor board in its negotiations with the labor leaders and railroad executives.

UNION CHIEFS WILLING TO COMPLY WITH ORDER

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 21.—Although the official order citing the railroad brotherhood chiefs and the railroad executives to appear before the railroad labor board next Wednesday for a hearing on whether the wage reduction of last July has been or is being violated and to consider the question of rules and working conditions, which the unions contend the being violated by the carriers, had not been received, local brotherhood executives tonight said they will respond to the citation and be on hand for the hearing which starts at 10 a. m.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said:

"I am perfectly willing to recognize any order from the board or any other proper authority that will tend to prevent the strike."

Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said:

"I certainly will be there if ordered," adding that all the other chief executives of the railroad transportation organizations "will go anywhere they are ordered to appear in connection with a settlement of the strike."

Chiefs Reticent

None of the local brotherhood chiefs would make other comment on today's developments. Regarding the order to "maintain the status quo" insofar as it might affect the strike of trainmen on the International and Great Northern, (Texas) scheduled to begin tomorrow noon, Mr. Lee's only comment was "I can answer tomorrow afternoon."

In connection with the assertion by the labor board in its official citation that it has assumed jurisdiction over the dispute between the transportation organizations and the carriers over rules and working conditions, Mr. Lee tonight said the board has notified him that it has ordered the Tremont and Gulf Railroad to withhold an order posted today abrogating all schedules between the company and the members of the "big four" transportation organizations at 6 o'clock this evening and asserting that employes unwilling to work under the open shop conditions will be considered as no longer in the company's services.

Posting of the notice was transmitted to Mr. Lee today by the local chairman of the trainmen's organization. Mr. Lee said he at once notified the labor board and asked whether the board would assume jurisdiction in the matter. The board replied, Mr. Lee said, that it had assumed jurisdiction and had notified the railroads to obey the law and to withhold the enforcement of its order.

Mr. Lee tonight also issued a statement outlining his position on alleged demands that teeth be put into the transportation act in which he asserted that those making the demand should also demand a law for "the regulation of his own business that will establish the same relations between himself and his employes he demands for railway employes."

BOARD'S ORDER BACKED BY GOVERNMENT AUTHORITY

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The United States railroad labor board today, backed by all the authority which the government can place at its disposal, called the railroads of the country and the five big unions to appear here next week and solemnly warned the unions not to strike until the board has heard their grievances and rendered a decision.

The board's action practically means that there will be no strike on October 30, unless the unions should choose to openly defy the government for it is hardly probable that a decision will be rendered by the board before that date.

While the transportation act gives the board no power to enforce its decision it is understood that last week's conferences between President Harding, members of the board, Attorney General Daughtery, Secretary of War Weeks and the interstate commerce commission, placed all the departments of government in accord as to what shall be done if either side moves in open defiance of the labor board.

Should the unions refuse to abide by the board's order, it has been pointed out, the board will, under the law, issue a statement to the public to that effect, and the president and his advisers can proceed to take such action as they consider necessary.

There has been some doubt whether the board could intervene and summon the railroads and unions to a hearing prior to an actual walkout but the board apparently has evaded that difficulty by its references to the conferences held a week ago tonight by union leaders and railroad executives. The board assumes jurisdiction because that conference failed to reach a decision and a dispute is pending as a result.

OPEN PORT BILL DOES NOT PREVENT STRIKES

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—The open port bill, which has been brought into prominence by the threatened railroad strike, does not prevent strikes, but is intended to prevent violence or intimidation by the strikers.

BABE'S SORRY AND WON'T BARNSTORM AGAIN THIS YEAR

By Associated Press.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 21.—Babe Ruth, home run king, confirmed late tonight the report that he had abandoned his barnstorming tour. He said he had reached an agreement with Col. Huston of the New York Yankees. He expressed regret at having violated the rules of organized baseball in engaging in post season exhibition games.

I. & G. N. is the first of the strikes in the United States. Other strikes decided upon by the big brotherhoods at their recent Chicago conference are scheduled to begin at 6 o'clock the morning of October 30. The strike scheduled to start on the I. & G. N. at noon tomorrow involves only the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which includes brakemen and switchmen. Conductors, fireman and engineers will continue on duty until 6 o'clock the morning of October 30.

Superintendent Jones said the road has employed guards in anticipation of any violence from the members of the trainmen's order but as a precautionary measure against any other lawless element that might seek to carry off the company's property.

He said the company had received "some applications" for employment to take the places of the strikers, classing the number of such applications as "quite a few," but said none had been employed up to that time. Mr. Jones declined to disclose the company's plans but made it plain that the company would make every effort to move its trains on its schedule time, or as near as possible.

It is not considered by the company, Mr. Jones said, that the strike of 600 trainmen will seriously cripple the road and no serious difficulty is anticipated before October 30, when the general strike is called for all roads in group No. 1 as classified by the brotherhoods.

ENGLISH SEND WAR VESSEL TO PORTUGAL

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The admiralty it was announced today, is sending the warship Calypso from the Mediterranean to Lisbon in consequence of the representations of British firms and British residents of the Portuguese capital. They express apprehension over the result of th recent political developments there.

News received in official quarters reports quiet prevailing in Lisbon today. Looting, however, had occurred on a large scale previously, causing the British interests to request the presence of a warship.

Spaniards at Lisbon also are apprehensive and have requested the Spanish charge d'affaires to afford naval protection.

The new foreign minister at Lisbon when approached with regard to possible disturbances replied reassuringly to the effect that the government had adequate forces to maintain order, the advices state, and that special attention would be given the protection of the lives and property of foreigners.

The streets of Lisbon were well policed today by the republican guards.

Details of the revolution, received here today by the Evening News from its Lisbon correspondent, pointed out that former Premier Granjo attempted to restrain the revolutionaries by persuasion when they demanded the resignation of the republican government on Wednesday morning. The soldiers, however, seized him and carried him aboard a cruiser as prisoner, says the Evening News' correspondent.

During the night, warships had bombarded Lisbon, says the correspondent who adds that subsequently it became known that former Premier Granjo, Admiral Machado Dos Santos, Captain Carlos Maia, former minister of marine, and Carlos Silva, former minister of war, were assassinated.

Postoffice Buildings Graphically Pointed Out to Representatives

Special to the Record News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The opening gun for an omnibus public buildings bill was fired in the House of Representatives today, when Congressman Walter W. Magee, of New York, a legislative veteran and a member of the powerful committee on appropriations, asserted that "it is time that the government resume a building program."

Whether or not Magee had received assurances that House leaders would back him, is unknown. But that his speech was approved by the House members who heard the address, was evidenced by the applause that greeted his speech.

Later it became known that Congressman J. W. Langley, of Kentucky, republican, and chairman of the committee on public buildings, will make a statement in a day or two, urging that one or two federal buildings are authorized in each congressional district in the United States.

The Magee speech and the forthcoming Langley statement will be of special interest to Texas. Dallas, Fort Worth, and Wichita Falls, are all in dire need of additional postoffice facilities.

Magee, in his speech, painted a picture of a rich nation refusing to properly care for its postal system. He pointed out that no omnibus public buildings bill had been passed since 1913 and that no separate federal buildings had been authorized in that time.

"In twenty years," he pointed out, "the government has spent only $168,0000,000 for public buildings. Not a postoffice," he said, "has been built since the parcel post was inaugurated, and the government has spent not a cent for new plants to handle this profitable branch of business. In 1921," he said, "the government paid out 1,663,076 in rent to relieve congestion in federal buildings and spent $9,213,050 more for repairs and maintainance.

He believed that this demonstrated that a building program would be a profitable investment for Uncle Sam. The New York solon said that there are many places in the United States where it is imperative that adequate postal facilities be promptly afford. Magee said that the government has provided hundreds of millions for rivers and harbors and good roads since spending anything on on public buildings.

"The construction of needed federal buildings, which will give additional employment to labor, provide sanitary and healthful working conditions for postal employes and meet the needs of the postoffice department in its purposes to attain the highest degree of efficiency, I feel will meet with public approval," the New York congressman concluded.

LAMONT EXPEDITION TO MEXICO HAS NO BENEFICIAL RESULTS

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 21.—In a statement issued today concerning his recent conferences with Mexican government officials, Thomas W. Lamont, the New York financier, said:

"A full conference with the Mexican government has as yet failed to result in substantial agreement upon any plan. I am therefore returning to New York and on my arrival there I shall make a full report on the situation to the American, British, French and other sections of the committee."

Mr. Lamont said he had made no plans for a return to Mexico City.

Mr. Lamont and his party will leave for the United States tonight proceeding probably by way of Brownsville and New Orleans. The financier at a meeting with the newspaper men this afternoon declined to comment for publication on any phase of his visit to Mexico other than was covered in his written statement.

The impression prevails, that so far as the international commission is concerned the negotiations it had in hand are at an end. It is understood that at no time during Mr. Lamont's stay here has been an offer of a loan to the Mexican government been made or intended."

fiery speeches, the crowd outside resented efforts of the police to keep them on the move. As the police were carrying out their orders, shots were fired from the crowd at the mounted men, one of whom fell. The man who had fired the shot was immediately cut down by the sabre of another mounted man. The police then closed the hall and would not permit any one to enter or leave it.

During the meeting the anarchist Libetaire and various communist newspapers, all of them calling on the workers to obtain the release of Sacco and Vanzetti were circulated freely throughout the hall.

After the meeting an unexploded bomb was found under the seat on the boulevard near Wagram Avenue. It was of the mills type and similar to the one sent to Ambassador Herrick and the one thrown among the police tonight.

ONLY ONE MORE DAY OF LAST CLUB OFFER

Personal Pride and Support of Friends Is Urging Candidates Onward

Absorbed in the urgent task of building $30 clubs of subscriptions, and thereby gaining 25,000 extra votes on each club, candidates in the Record News' famous prize race continue to sweep forward with all their might in order to gain as much advantage as possible before the offer closes Saturday night.

This is positively the last club offer of the campaign. It continues for only three more days.

Enthusiasm over the offer and campaign as well, now that it is nearing the end, is unbounded and spreading like wild fire.

It is becoming a matter of more than individual success that is involved in this most notable of newspaper campaigns. Not only are individuals striving might and main to top the list, but entire communities are watching the progress of their favorite and lending every support. Meanwhile, city candidates are pushing forward just as strongly. Behind them are legions of friends, bust campaign managers and organizations of various kinds.

And the result is a constantly increasing tide of subscriptions flowing into the campaign office. The votes are mounting higher and higher every day. Verily, it is the time when pluck and energy count the most.

Every club of $30 in subscriptions means an extra 25,000 votes besides all the usual regular votes.

The 25,000 offer gives every candidate a chance to show her heels to the rest of the contenders. No candidate is limited to just one club.

If she gets two, so much the better. Each club gets the 25,000 extra votes; each portion of a club gets its pro rata share of the extra votes.

A wide field for votes lies in obtaining "second payments." It will be possible for most candidates to induce subscribers they obtained earlier in the campaign to extend their subscriptions for a longer period—anywhere up to two years. Yearly subscriptions, for instance, may be doubled. And on these second payments many more votes are given than were issued on the first payment, as the candidate gets the difference between the votes received on the first amount and the total subscription. Besides the second payment applies on the last club offer.

As one candidate after another has expressed herself, she cannot let defeat overtake her, because of her personnel in achievement. Many have made their campaign matters of personality, and their families and friends have taken up the work as a matter of personal pride.

It is the spirit that is being installed in the candidates by friends and relatives everywhere, and is nerving the young women to do battle to the end. It is only by persevering that victory can be achieved.

Don't let idle rumors discourage you. They are bound to happen—these rumors—because some candidates try by this means to lessen their opposition. It is safe to predict that the margin by which the cars will be won will be so small that they will occasion the greatest surprise.

LITTLE LUCK IN GETTING JURY BY MAIL

Seventy-four on the one hundred and twenty postal cards sent out to notify prospective jurors to report for the regular weekly panel for October 10 have been returned to the sheriff's office with the stamp indicating that it was impossible to deliver.

Only the town or city address is given on the notices sent out and is for that reason that it is often found impossible to deliver them. No other address is given on the tax lists from which the names in the jury wheel are obtained.

NEW YORK ACCORDS ROUSING RECEPTION TO ADMIRAL BEATTY

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Amiral Earl Beatty of the British navy—the gallant sea fighter with the Nelson touch—landed today in New York from the liner Aquitania on his way to Kansas City for the American Legion convention.

Thousands of persons were massed at Manhattan's tip to greet the sea hero, who was welcomed by Lieutenant Governor Wood. To resounding cheers, the admiral motored to the city hall where he was given the freedom of the city before continuing to the home of Marshal Field, whose guest he will be.

While the admiral was taking leave of Captain Charles of the Aquitania at quarantine, another demonstration was going on in honor of former Premier Venizelos of Greece, also a passenger on the liner. Half a dozen craft bearing Greeks circled the ship to the cry of "Zeto Venizelos!"

To newspaper men, Admiral Beatty said he had not seen the United States for more than 15 years.

"It is a great pleasure to revisit this great country, to which we are so much indebted for assisting civilization to maintain itself and save the world from disaster," he said. "I place myself in the hands of the American press. I look on them as my friends and I am sure they will not let me make any slip."

Of the armament conference at Washington, he said:

"Everybody is hoping for great things. Certainly we are entering it with that idea."

Coal beds which have been found near the south pole show that at one time the climate there was mild.

SHE TOOK HER FRIEND'S ADVICE

Now is in the Best of Health Because she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Mich.—"I was not feeling well for several years and never was able to eat any breakfast and always complained of a headache or tired feelingwhich at times required me to stop my work and rest. I have never had a physician and never took any medicine for it until yours was recommended to me by a neighbor whom I used to visit frequently. I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am in the best of health and enjoy doing my work every moment of the day."—Mrs. L. M. DARRAS, 46 Howard St., Detroit, Mich.

It is not always in business that a woman is forced to give up her work on account of ill health. It is quite as often the woman who does her own work at home. When backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, when that bearing-down sensation attacks you, when you are nervous and blue, the one great help for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Did you ever-ride in a street car with someone near by carrying coffee in a paper bag? Of course, the appetizing aroma made you hungry for a cup of it, too.

When the person carrying that coffee reached home, the package was intact, but a large percentage of the flavor, the real life of the article, had disappeared into the atmosphere with the result, of a sure loss of many cents per pound. Think of it—paying a good price to get a quality coffee and then losing much of what you pay for—flavor—simply because its not packed right.

When you buy Hills Bros. "RED CAN" you get all the aroma and strength that you pay for. The vacuum tin keeps the flavor in.

EDITORIAL REVIEW OF EVENTS.

Cost of living is eighteen per cent lower than a year ago. Clothing has dropped to about thirty per cent. Food is a little higher but rents have dropped slightly as have fuel and furniture. This is the report submitted by the Federal Board of Labor Statistics. If it is inaccurate or misleading, then damn the statisticians. They are paid to do the work and if they are inefficient they have a damning coming.

Ratification of the peace treaty with Germany opens the way for settlement of the claims of American citizens against that country which total more than $250,000,000. This government seized property having a value of $500,000,000 from fifty thousand persons said to be alien enemies in war time. Senator Gilbert M. Hitchock of Nebraska voted for treaty ratification and twelve fellow Democrat senators stood up and were counted with the Nebraska leader. Hitchcock and his fellow Democrats adopted the proper procedure. A Democratic administration had a program. This program was rejected by the senate. An appeal was made to the country and the program and the Democratic party rejected by the voters at the polls. This is a democracy; the majority should rule. Now let the Republican administration assume the responsibility.

Prime Minister Lloyd George says the situation in England as regards trade and unemployment is worse than at any time since the end of the Napoleonic wars and that the world war is responsible for the condition. England was the most powerful of nations; England was the mistress of the seven seas; England was chief among commercial nations. England has been relegated to second place. War did this, too.

Colonel Albert M. Lasker's shipping board is ready to sell its stocks at a loss of almost $143,000,000. War called for the appropriations for the shipping board; war is responsible for the losses. Charge it to war losses. There was a vociferous demand in war time to bridge the Atlantic with American ships in order to save the day for the allies. Uncle Sam built the bridge. He saved the allies. He loaned them nine billions. Now the principal and the interest approximate eleven billions. His allies cannot pay the interest, let alone the principal, and Uncle Sam must pay his bridge builders out of his own treasury. France has a standing army of 800,000, the most magnificent military machine in the world. And yet France is too poor to pay interest on the billions borrowed from America and Americans. Europeans expect cancellations of the loans. There is a vast difference between realization and expectation.

Associate Judge O. S. Lattimore of the court of Criminal Appeals has held that the governor has power to revoke a parole. He spoke for the entire court. This is as it should be. If a convict is paroled and returns to his wallow in the mire, why shouldn't his parole be revoked. Somewhere in Texas there are one hundred and forty paroled convicts and there may be many revocations before the governor has finished the job.

Palo Pinto county has the Beddo gas well at a depth of 3600 feet and the Beddo well has a capacity of 1,500,000 feet of wet a greater capacity than the wet gas emitted from any of the Humphreys wells in the Mexia fields. Colonel Charles W. Wilson of the Mineral Wells Index should pipe the wet stuff to the Crazy Well Hotel for exhibition purposes. There are more gas spouters in the lobbies of the Mineral Wells hotels than in all the producing fields of Texas. And the colonel knows the most of them.

"Lest we forget," Mr. R. L. More of Vernon is reminded that a Pecos correspondent says with more than half the cotton yet to be picked and with the largest number of buyers of years, the Pecos Valley farmer has had a prosperous cotton year and has sold practically all that has been picked up to date. About the only stocks in the warehouses now are the ginnings of the last few days, during which cotton has taken a decline, and the turning loose of the large amount of money in the valley has had its effect on general conditions. About 1,900 bales have been ginned so far this year in the counties of Reeves and Ward where the cotton is confined to those areas near the river and springs where the fields can be irrigated. The year has been an excellent one for the longer staples, and these varieties have equaled or, in some cases, exceeded the gross yield of the shorter staple varieties and in addition have brought a premium of up to 7c. And, "lest we forget," the Pecos waters used for irrigation purposes contain fifty per cent more alkali than the waters of the big Wichita river and the immense water shed which feeds the river. "More on Alkali" is a funny little book but it doesn't cost More a cent. He does not pay the freight.

Praising the state fair of Texas as the greatest in the United States, a joint statement has been issued by those in charge of nine of the exhibits sent to Dallas by West Texas and Panhandle counties. It denies reports published in a Panhandle newspaper that there was a general dissatisfaction among the Panhandle exhibitors, especially over the awarding of prizes. The statement was signed by O. H. Loyd, Oldham county; W. J. Crouch, Lynn county; J. Sam Gaines, Swisher county; J. E. Rogers, Childress county; E. T. Powell, Terry county; J. W. Jennings, Lubbock county; G. C. McGowan, Baylor county, and B. M. Haskell, Haskell county. It says in part:

"It has been called to our attention that an article was published in a Panhandle newspaper in which the impression was left that fifteen Plains and New Mexico counties were not satisfied with the awards made in the exhibit department of the Texas State Fair and in which it was stated that we believed the awards to have been made unjustly.

"Therefore, we exhibitors, who have attached our names hereto, do declare that the article does not represent our views and that we did not give any authority for its publication. On the contrary we are satisfied with the judging; we believe that the judges were absolutely square, and that they judged our exhibits according to the score card.

"Furthermore, it is not so much for ribbons or cash prizes that we are exhibiting our products, but for the opportunity to exploit, before those not familiar with our resources, the wonderful opportunities of Northwest Texas and in so doing increase the population of our section. We appreciate the opportunity given us by the State Fair of Texas for this purpose and deny authority for any statement which could in the least injure the greatest State Fair in the United States.

"We wish to further state that Deaf Smith county, Texas, and Quay county, New Mexico, were mentioned in the article, are not exhibiting at the State Fair and that Curry and Roosevelt counties of New Mexico are not competing for prizes."

Herbert Quick the noted economist and writer in his Dallas address declared the electric locomotive must replace the steam engine if this nation is to prosper. Freight car capacities, he said, have increased one hundred per cent in the last ten years while locomotive capacities have increased only ten per cent. Governmental financing was advocated by Economist Quick as the method of bringing about the change to relieve the present situation. Cost of electrification will be a mere bagatelle—five billion dollars. When the government advances five billion dollars for this purpose Jones, the freight payer will turn anarchist or depart via the suicide route. Herbert is making a mistake. He should administer his medicine in broken doses to the Jones family.

THE MOVIES.

A million children, every night, behold the movie actors; in education, wrong or right, the films are mighty factors. And so the famous movie folk have influence unmeasured; their every move, their every joke, in youthful hearts are treasured. So they should make their lives so clean they'll sparkle in their beauty, and not seem angels on the screen, and demons when off duty. As artists true they should appear, and not as blooming smarties; they should cut out the booze and beer and all the frenzied parties. My little Willie goes tonight to see a movie story; the booze and beer and all the all smiling in her glory; but someone whispers to the lad, "she goes her gaudy courses as though she hadn't whipped her dad, and gained fourteen divorces." And Willie in admiring mood regards the hero's capers till Whisper says, "He's often stewed—I read it in the papers." Then little Willie toddles home, his sentiments unspoken, but mournful thoughts are in his dome—his idols have been broken. The Bluebeard door has been unlocked, one glance therein suffices; and little kids should not be shocked by tales of tawdry vices.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

MUSIC

Grand Opera is mighty fine,
And soon it will be all the rage.
It's quite the most expensive line
Of music that's sung on the stage.
It's called the standard, but for mine,
I much prefer the narrow gauge.

I guess it's pretty plain to see
That I am not much of a hand
For airs from France and Italy.
The kind of music I call grand,
And that which makes a hit with me,
Is singing I can understand.

I don't pretend to be a shark
On technique or capriccio,
And I am rather in the dark
On measures malincolico.
I know I'm an old-fashioned mark,
Because my wife has told me so.

But still, should you ask me today
What is the real and only thing
In music, 'cordin' to my way
Of figurin' it out, by jing,
I guess I would have to say
The songs my mother used to sing.

Charlie Chaplin has had the time of his life in Europe, but that seems strange inasmuch as they don't have any old-fashioned American pies over there.

HOW I LOVE YOU

Your hair is brilliant as the matin sun
And yet I do not love you for your hair.
Your mouth is like an amaranth, dear one,
And yet I love you not because 'tis fair.
Your eyes are brighter than the stars above,
Your lovely skin is white, like ivory!
And yet I fore none of these things love,
But bless a beauty the eyes cannot see.
I love you for the kindly soul in you;
The generous smile, and sympathetic tear;
The steadfast heart beneath, forever true;
The deeds that prove the source to be sincere.
I love you for such virtues as change never,
That I may love you truly, and forever!
—Frederick Schenck Slesinger.

TIMELY VIEWS NOT IN THE NEWS

Versailles Treaty Has Proved Economic and Political Failure, Says Isaac F. Marcosson.

"Instead of being an instrument of reconciliation, the Versailles treaty has proved to be merely a declaration of further hostilities," declared Isaac F. Marcosson, noted author and magazine writer, speaking recently in New York. "It is now regarded as an economic and political failure for the simple reason that it was framed by politicians, eager to exploit their own interests. Europe is littered with treaties, but most of them, so far as producing concord is concerned, are merely 'scraps of paper.' The illusion of peace is like the illusion of prosperity that followed the armistice, it is a punctured bubble.

"With the German control of Silesia repudiated, reaction or extreme Socialism is likely to get the upper hand and Germany will be forced into national bankruptcy.

"The new crisis in Germany may mean more than bankruptcy for the republic. France, Belgium and, to a lesser degree, England are vitally dependent upon the payment of the indemnity. Europe cannot prosper without a productive Germany, and American commercial expansion is now vitally dependent upon a restoration of business in Europe.

"The most pitiable spectacle in Europe today is Austria. Vienna is a capital without a country. The republic is like a man who has lost his head, his legs and arms and yet continues to function. Her future depends upon further American credits.

"The one bright spot in the survey of Europe in transition is the fact that Bolshevism is dead everywhere except in Russia, and it seems to be tottering there.

"After Germany, Russia is the second important factor in the world stabilization. So long as the purchasing power of its nearly 200,000,000 people is estimated from international commerce conditions cannot be adjusted.

"What is the remedy for all this European discord and conflict? First of all, there must be co-operation among the nations. In the second place, I believe that the allied debt to the United States should be cancelled, not for philanthropic reasons, but in the interest of the larger self-preservation which is today the chief task of the world. With this tremendous debt burden off their shoulders, our European debtors, and France in particular, could go forward with something like renewed hope and courage.

"The disarmament conference will be futile unless the delegates have authority to act and can forget their nationalistic politics. It seems to me that the first function of the Washington meeting will be to disarm the mind of envy, suspicion and malice.

"In the end you find that America remains the hope of the world. We could aid, if, in conjunction with England, we gave France a guarantee that we would come to her assistance in the event of unwarranted aggression by Germany. The French army of 800,000 men and all the imperialism that attaches to it would be demobilized and the great republic could turn once more to normal pursuits. We have a definite stake abroad and by remaining on the job can retrieve the peace, just as we saved the war."

Who's Who

ROBERT H. TYNDALL

Robert H. Tyndall, national treasurer of the American Legion, is a veteran of three wars and as a recently commissioned brigadier general in the national guard, is ready for another should occasion arise. His home is in Indianapolis, where he was born May 2, 1877.

When twenty years old he entered his military career as a private in the national guard. After serving in the Spanish-American war and in Porto Rico with General Miles' expedition, he returned to Indianapolis and entered the reorganized national guard and rose from corporal to major. With the latter commission he disposed of his business at Indianapolis to lead the Indiana artillery to Llano Grande, Texas. In the world war he was promoted to the rank of colonel and commanded the 150th field artillery in the Rainbow division.

During eighteen months overseas he led his regiment through five major operations. He was cited by the Fourth French army and by the armies of the North and Northeast under General Petain.

Mr. Tyndall succeeded Gaspar G. Bacon of Boston, resigned, as national treasurer, and has served continuously without salary. He also is treasurer of the Legion Publishing Corporation.

Stuffed Cabbage—Brown one small onion in a tablespoon of butter; to this ad one slice bacon; cook together a few minutes. Have ready a medium sized head of cabbage which has been hallowed out, also some celery cut very fine. First put a layer of celery in cabbage, then a layer of meat, and so on until full, meat on top. Put cabbage in a kettle, fill two-thirds up head with water, salted, and boil two hours, then add carrots and potatoes; cook a half hour longer. Make a sauce of the water left in the kettle and serve on a platter, cabbage in center and vegetables around—a dinner in itself.

Sponge Cake—Beat the whites and yolks of four eggs separately. To the yolks add one cup of granulated sugar which has been sifted four times. Beat thoroughly, then add four tablespoons boiling water into this; then sift one cup of flour and one teaspoon baking powder which has been sifted four times. Add vanilla and last of all fold the whites in and bake one hour.

Ambrosia Salad — Three small sweet oranges, three-quarters cup cocoanut, sugar to taste.

Peel oranges and with kitchen shears trim of as much of the white as posible and take out seeds, then cut in small pieces, add sugar let stand one-half hour, then add cocoanut and let stand till ready to serve. This is fine made one day for the next and kept in cold place.

A DOZEN SALAD HINTS

Crisp cool bacon on watercress, with French dressing.

Diced beets and peas, mayonnaise and lettuce.

Green pepper stuffed with cream cheese and nut meats, sliced on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Hearts of celery stuffed with cream cheese and sliced on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

A slice of tomatoe, thick with a cream cheese ball and mayonnaise on lettuce.

Two stripes of broiled bacon crisscros d across a slice of tomato, on lettuce with mayonnaise.

A little pat of cottage or cream cheese with a teaspoon of currant or bar-de-luc jelly on lettuce which has been well dressed with French dressing.

String beans and shredded carrots with mayonnaise, on lettuce.

Endive with orange segments, from which the skin has been removed, with mayonnaise. This salad is capable of very attractive arrangement. Place two segments of orange lengthwise and nicely fitted into a strip of endive, with a spoonful of thick mayonnaise between the pieces of orange. Place a couple of other leaves of endive on the plate.

Chopped celery and beet, with mayonnaise, well mixed and served in a cup shaped piece of lettuce.

Halves of canned pears drained of all juice and sprinkle with chopped pecan nut meats, with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Sliced stuffed olives and sliced celery hearts with mayonnaise on lettuce.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Sandwiches—Place crisp lettuce, sliced cucumbers, sliced tomatoes, a little onion, a few slices of bacon with mayonnaise between slices of hot toast.

Casserole of Lamb—Two pounds of lamb, two cups potatoes, two cups diced carrots, one small onion, cup cooked tomatoes, seasoning. Cut lamb into small pieces, roll in flour and brown well in hot fat with the chopped onion. Put in well greased casserole with the tomatoes and one cup hot water. Bake two hours, replenishing water from time to time. Add potatoes and carrots and bake about an hour longer. Thicken the gravy and serve hot.

Raisin Salad—Wash and dry one cup raisins, add two cups chopped apples an done-quarter cup lemon juice. Place this in a bowl lined with shredded lettuce, cover with mayonnaise, garnish top with small pieces of tart jelly and serve with wafers.

Candle Salad—Place a round slice of pineapple on crisp lettuce leaves. Stand a small banana in the center of pineapple with a large red cherry on top. Put spoonful of sweet mayonnaise around banana to imitate candle drippings.

Ceylon Curry—Dice the pulp of one pear. Beat the yolk of one egg into a pint of cream, adding a teaspoon each of curry powder and butter and one-half teaspoon of rice flour worked to a paste. Stir until the curry is thick and smooth, then add the diced pulp of the pear pepper salt and a little sugar.

A SUGGESTION

Save all the paraffin paper that comes in cracker boxes, etc., and use them to line cake tins, before the batter is poured in. Cut it to fit the pans, allowing it to come above the tin on the sides. Then you can lift the cake by the paper, and, too, it will keep the cake from burning.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HALLOWE'EN GOBLIN PARTIES

Two simple costumes and an elaborate owl outfit, all made of crepe paper.

The Hallowe'en party is one of the simplest of all holiday festivities to decorate for. Pumpkins, cornstalks, yellow crepe paper and cunning little black paper witches and cats and hobgoglins are all easily obtainable and make an attractive room almost without regard to arrangement. If the party is to be a costume or ghost party there are many simple and attractive costumes which can be made by the clever use of crepe paper, scissors, needle and paste.

Here are three home-made outfits. There is a kiddies' paper goblin dress at the left, an elaborate owl of paper in the center and a dainty witch's dance frock at the right.

Marguerite de la Motte.

Marguerite de la Motte, the pretty little actress who played with Douglas Fairbanks in "The Mark of Zorro" and "The Nutt," is to have an East Indian role next. "The Daughter of Grahma" is the name of the picture and Miss de la Motte will play the title role, that of Sarisvati, the daughter of Grahma.

The picture will be J. L. Frothingham's next production for release by First National. It is the story of India and English officialdom. Prominent in the story is the action which occurs in a ruined Hindu temple, which was reproduced with great pains by the producer and director. Much of the success of the reproduction was due to Technical Director Magee, an expert on Indian architecture and customs.

FILM SNAPSHOTS.

Booth Tarkington is glad Marshall Neilan is going to uce Wesley Barry in the film version of "Penrod." He calls Wes "a fine actor."

Betty Compson has commenced work on "The Little Minister," the Barrie story which Penrhyn Stanlaws is developing into a Paramount picture.

June Mathis who wrote the scenario for "The Four Horsemen," "The Conquering Power" and others, says her favorite indoor sport is reading the dictionary. However, she admits one drawback—the darned thing has no plot to it.

Jack Dempsey and Harold Lloyd are old friends. The champ visited the comedian in Hollywood and sat through a pre-showing of "Look Before You Leap."

Pauline Stark's mother plays a scene with her in "Flowers of the North." The story requires that a vision of the heroine's dead mother be shown * * * and one day, as Pauline's mother was watching the work proceed, the director observed the strong likeness, and pressed her into service.

There are 17,824 theaters in the United States devoted exclusively to the showing of motion pictures. This total is from compilations made by Oliver Morosco production from latest directories and theatrical guides. Greater New York leads with 604 motion picture theaters, excluding houses where combinations of film and vaudeville are shown.

Marching With the Legion

At least one woman will have something to say about how the men run the American Legion next year. Miss Ivy Ann Fuller, Manhattan, Kansas, is a full-fledged delegate to the Legion's national convention at Kansas City, October 31.

A movie actress in New York when the United States entered the war, Miss Fuller went into the Vassar college training camp for nurses. Completing her course she entered Mount Sinai Jewish hospital in Fifth avenue, New York. Later she served under the surgeon-general in the department of physio-therapy in Walter Reed hospital, Washington. She traveled with a chautauqua company after her discharge.

Miss Fuller's election as delegate at large representing the Kansas delegation was unanimous.

Ivy Ann Fuller.

What probably will be the first post of the Legion composed entirely of union labor men is being formed in Toledo, O. The post will meet in the Labor Temple there.

For a community feed, Legion men in Moorhead, Minn., took down their guns and bagged fifty prairie chickens. They then served supper in the post clubhouse.

A post of the Legion in Chicago is composed entirely of men who maintain and operate the city's "L" trains. Eight employes of the elevated were killed during the war and the Legion "L" post recently dedicated a bronze tablet to their memory.

Unemployed service men have been organized into house-to-house canvassing crews by the American Legion employment bureau of Minneapolis. They will sell women's handbags, booster name plates for automobiles and similar articles which are approved by the Legion.

A motion picture theater has been opened by the Legion post at Alto Vista, Kan. Popular movies are shown three nights a week to the townfolk.

The charge made by enemies of adjusted compensation for ex-service men that they will demand cash and then squander it is refuted by questionnaires sent out and collected by a Toledo, O., newspaper. Of 320 blanks returned 176, or 55 per cent, wanted farm or home aid; only 88 wanted cash; 40 chose the certificate plan and 5 per cent wanted vocational training.

While the veterans' bureau clean-up squad was touring Montana adjusting soldier claims, two service men appeared at Glasgow just as the party was leaving on the train. The Legion had the ex-soldiers examined on the train while the squad was en route to the next town. The train was stopped long enough to allow the doctors to use the stethescope on their patients. The Legion then furnished the men transportation to their homes.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

ARLINE'S TRICKERY AND ITS RESULT.

Ten days after leaving Wellsburg Cherry wrote to Ned explaining her fellings about the many questions that so often had worried her for many weeks now. In this letter also she poured out her heartaches, her despair and everything that she had ever wanted to tell Ned, but had hesitated about.

She went on to assure him that her trips here and there with Arthur had been perfectly innocent. In fact very often the only reason for her ever wishing to take them had been her loneliness and her doubts concerning him. She reproached Ned for accusing her of being "petty" and "jealous" because of Arline, and begged him to remember that in case he had decided that their marriage was a mistake, she, Cherry, would never put a straw in his way should he wish a divorce. At the end of everything she signed herself, "Your loving but perplexed wife."

For some strange reason Cherry directed this letter to Ned's office. Subconsciously it was because of a desire on her part not to let her mother-in-law see how often she was writing to him. Cherry still felt deeply resentful because of that lady, and knew how she sniffed at "sentimentality."

Two days later Arline opened the office mail, as usual, before Ned's arrival and saw the letter addressed to him, guessed from whom it came, and after a minute's hesitation, deliberately slipped it into the folds of her blouse. When Ned appeared ten minutes later she was as calm as ever.

Late that night, after she had finished many letters of her own, the guilty girl took out the letter and weighed it in her hands thoughtfully for several minutes. Something seemed to make her afraid of opening it, however, and after a long time she went over to a large secretaire in the corner and slipped it in among a lot of papers unread.

Ned, in the meantime, waited patiently for an answer to his tender letter. Then, as the days began to go by, one, two, three, even ten, and still no word from Cherry, anger arose with him, slow, resentful anger. She always seemed to fail him when he most needed and relied upon her. In spite of his worry and heartache he was too proud and obstinate to sit down and write again. He would die of the pain first.

Cherry, on the other hand, was going through the same circle. Her surprise at not hearing from her husband, after the long, confidential letter she had written him, was almost more than she could bear. At the end of the tenth day she broke down and wept as though her heart would break. There was no use to try to have faith in any man, least of all in Ned. No doubt in her absence he was amusing himself with Arline. Well, Arline he was welcome to. She, Cherry, was perfectly willing to step out and never let him see her face again. Oh, how her heart ached, even as she told herself bitterly that he was not worth the worrying about.

"I'll send Jane back home soon and start in to work again. That's better than losing my reason through grieving," she told herself at the end of her waiting period.

MANY FOOTBALL GAMES OF IMPORTANCE ON TAP TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Today's football schedule is studded with big games. In the east no less than five grid contests stand out boldly; one of which is an intersectional struggle of importance—that between Chicago and the Princeton Tiger at Princeton.

West Virginia Wesleyan will meet the Navy at Annapolis, Colgate will tackle Cornell, Syracuse will play Pittsburgh, Columbia will tackle Dartmouth and Detroit will meet Boston College at Boston.

The Southern game that will attract most attention will bring Rutgers and Georgia Tech together at Atlanta, while in the west three "Big Ten" games will be played, with Wisconsin at Illinois, Ohio State at Ann Arbor and Indianana at Minnesota. BURGLAR DON'T CARE FOR SILVER

Sympathy for the banking profession is thought by Tom Key, assistant cashier of the City National Bank of Commerce, to have actuated a thief who entered his home some time Friday morning and rifled the contents of a pocketbook.

"There were three paper dollars and one dollar in silver in the purse" Mr. Key said, "but he left the silver."

Mr. Key said this is the first time to his knowledge that silver has been discriminated against.

SOVIET GOVERNMENT WILL AGAIN ALLOW VODKA MANUFACTURE

MOSCOW, Oct. 21.—The superior economic council has decided to permit the manufacture of alcoholic beverages in Soviet Russia, partly for export, with a government monopoly, it was announced late last night. Establishments for the purpose, it is stated, will soon be offered for lease to private concerns.

Vodka and other liquors have not been manufactured in Russia for five years, and at the present time such beverages, except for Georgia wines, are unobtainable throughout Russia. Even alcohol for medicinal purposes is scarce.

GIANT OWNERS PLAN TO SEAT 50,000 AT POLO GROUNDS

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Plans for renovation and enlargement of the Polo grounds, Manhattan's great baseball park, which will increase its seating capacity from 38,000 to 50,000, have been completed.

ILLINOIS FEELS BUCKEYES ARE SURE TO WIN

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 21.—The Illinois football team returned from the Iowa game with no excuses for its defeat and with words of praise for the Buckeye men who defeated them. The Iowa team, composed largely of old men, is already playing in late season form and should go through the season without a defeat, Devine's men have Minnesota, Indiana, Northwestern and Purdue yet to meet and on paper look stronger than any of the opposing teams.

The Illinois squad has a hard week's work ahead of it in preparation for the Wisconsin game on Illinois Field this coming Saturday. Carney, Peden, Herrig and Crangle, who were not at their best last week, came through the game in pretty good shape and should be able to practice with the team this week.

For the last two years Wisconsin has been a tough nut for the Illinois to crack and there will be no over confidence in the Orange and Blue camp this year. The weaknesses in the line and the defects in tackling as brought out by the Iowa game will be remedied this week if hard work on the part of the coach and the members of the team can remedy them.

CONDUCTOR LOSES HAND IN ACCIDENT

J. A. Murphy, well known passenger conductor of the Fort Worth & Denver local between here and Fort Worth suffered the loss of his right hand at the wrist, when he fell from his train as it was taking a siding about 11 o'clock Friday morning at Alvord, Texas, according t onews received here by friends. Mr. Murphy, who is an old timer in railroad circles in this section, lives in Fort Worth.

KNICKERBOCKER TO PREACH SERMON ON RECENT LOCAL EVENT

"The sermon I am going to preach Sunday night," said Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker to a Record News reporter, "has both a general and a local history. The subject is 'Gambling with Death.' A number of times the past year I have seen tragic illustrations of it right here in Wichita Falls. I am going to use them in my sermon. The remarkable history and record of the sermon I will give in the discussion thereof.

"At the 11 o'clock service I am going to give some astonishing facts concerning the work of the church as a whole and its departments. Last year we challenged any church in the connection to equal our record and not one was able to do it. We are going to make the same challenge this year. Taken as a whole, we believe we will score more points than any church in Southern Methodism.

"Our great feature services continue to be popular and powerful. If we had only great crowds, we would consider them a failure, but there is scarcely a service without old time spiritual power and conversations and accessions on profession of faith. The following gives the details of the great features of the day's services:

A. "Gambling with Death," subject of the sermond Sunday night at 7:30. This sermon has a remarkable history and a remarkable record.

B. H. E. Gulbrandson, brilliant Norwegian pianistt, will play at 7:30 p. m.

C. Great instrumental quartette, Italian harp, two violins and organ at 7:30.

D. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Huckabee will sing a heart touching, gospel duet at 7:30.

E. Illuminated cross with musical accompaniment at 7:30.

F. Great chorus choir of forty at both services.

G. "The Infallible Law of Business and Religious Success," subject of the pastor's sermon at 11 a. m.

H. Athousand happy folks at Sunday School.

I. Judge Kay's brilliant lecture at the Olympic Theater at 9:30 a. m.

J. Mr. R. Vaughn Ray will render a vocal solo at the Olympic Theater at 9:30.

K. Inspiring report of the year's work at the morning service.

L. Old tmie conversion at almost every service.

M. Great crowds whose singing and fellowship is inspiring.

"This is the last Sunday before conefrence, which meets at Dallas. I will leave for conference on Monday night."

INSTALLATION OF STORM SEWER NOW NEARLY COMPLETE

The installation of the new storm sewer in Wichita Falls will be completed by the first of November, according to City Engineer Julian Montgomery. Construction of all the mains and laterals was finished Friday and the only part of the work that now remains is putting in the inlets at the corners.

HIGH ELEVEN IN GOOD TRIM FOR TODAY'S GAME

Coach Harry Viner will send his rejuvenated high school gridiron warriors into battle at Athletic park this afternoon against Graham high with the confident feeling that the local boys will "show something" to football fans who earlier in the season were somewhat disappointed in the team's showing. For a week Viner has been steadily drilling the boys in sensible fundamentals, and at the same time increasing the eleven's speed, and aggressiveness on the attack.

Graham has a strong team this year, but those on the inside who profess to know some of the tricks the local boys have learned recently expect to see Wichita Falls score not less than two touchdowns before the final whistle blows.

Coach Viner was "uncertain" yesterday regarding his line-up for the game, but his manner indicated that he had in the back of his "bean" a pretty fair idea of the names and capabilities of the eleven youngsters who will open the ball for the red and black.

"But the boys will give Graham a genuine battle," he remarked. "You can say that for me without reservations."

The game will begin at 4 o'clock.

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

Intersectional football is becoming more and more of a topic among alumni and followers of the big middle western colleges. The example of Notre Dame's yearly trips to West Point and the recollection of Michigan's rivalry with Pennsylvania during the years preceding the Wolverines' return to the Big Ten conference are not so much responsible for the recent wave of interest as Chicago's game at Princeton, the first of a two-year home and home series.

Both Illinois and Dartmouth alumni are quietly making advances which may result in a similar series between Urbana, Ill., and some large eastern city, and Minnesota also has entered the field of speculation, with rumors rife in Minneapolis over ennnces for a series with one of the big eastern schools.

Homer Baker, former international half-mile champion, who is government athletic director in the Canal zone, declares in a letter to a friend in New York that he has found a marathon runner who may be developed for the next United States Olympic team. The discovery is White Feather, full-blooded Indian from the same tribe as the great Tom Longboat. White Feather is with the United States army troops in the Canal zone. He trains, Baker said, three times a week over the roads from Colon to Gatun.

The Fall River, Mass., Field club soccer team of the newly organized American league, the professional circuit, includes two Portuguese stars, Manuel Perry Hurtado and Manuel Alives.

Jimmy Kelley, one of the cleverest of little bantamweights, has registered at the University of Notre Dame in journalism. Kelley claims wins over such men as Frankie Mason, Joe Mandell, Pal Moore, Babe Asher, Young Farrel and Joie Miller. He works out at the university gym every day and says school life has made him confident that he will be in the best shape he has ever been for a fight.

Five cities are desirous of holding the 1922 Grand American handicap trap shooting tourney, namely: Indianapolis, Des Moines, Chicago, Atlantic City and two New York City clubs.

"Stuffy" McInnis, first baseman of the Boston Americans, played 119 consecutive games without making an error at first base closing the American league season. He was charged with only one error all season. Everett Scott, the team's shortstop, rounded out 832 games with the finish of the season October 2.

Jack Wilce, Ohio State football coach, is a human enigma. No player ever has become intimately acquainted with Wilce who lacks the bluff heartiness of Yost, Stagg or Williams. On the football field everything is business with Wilce. He is as humane as any coach living, but finds that a far flung reserve line enables him to get better work out of his men. Wilce also is one of the shildest speaking coaches in the business. He never uses profanity himself and will not tolerate it from any of his players. It is said of Wilce that he never told Chick Harley he was even a fair player until the great Buckeye halfback had turned in his uniform for the last time. But he gets results.

NEW PAVING ON NORTH INDIANA HALF FINISHED

The concrete paving on the west side of Indiana street from Sixth street to the river has been finished and is now awaiting the passing of the required time for "curing" before it is opened to traffic. As soon as the mixers and other machinery can be moved the work will start on the east side of the street. The pavement is being built down one side at a time to open the muchly traveled street as soon as possible and to reduce the delay to vehicle traffic into Wichita Falls from the north.

Other work now being done by the street department includes repair to the pavement on Tenth street necessitated by the excavation for the new sewer and to the valleys or dips in the street.

WITHDRAWAL OF U. S. TROOPS FROM RHINE EXPECTED AT ONCE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The formal terms of ratification of the peace treaties with Germany and Austria have been sent forward to Berlin and Vienna, it was announced today. As soon as these formal exchanges have been completed with the former enemy powers, it is expected that immediate steps will be taken to set up diplomatic machinery and resume full normal delations with those governments.

American troops will begin moving out of Germany immediately upon the exchange of the ratifications on the German treaty, it was added. The movement, it was said, will be normal, but slow and will begin in approximately two weeks.

The withdrawal of the troops, it was said, had been delayed, because their presence in Germany had proved to be far from obnoxious and even desirable to the government and people of Germany. There are now approximately 15,000 American forces on the Rhine.

AUTO DEALERS HOLD REGULAR MEET FRIDAY

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Wichita Falls Automotive Dealers association was held last night in the club rooms of the Wichita Club. Dinner was served to the majority of the membership of the association before the business meeting. The meeting was well attended.

After the transaction of business talks were made by Captain W. S. Langford, Lloyd Weaver, J. M. McFall dealing with matters of importance to the body. In the absence of President Booth, Charles Nolen, secretary of the association, presided.

Night Police Chief Seeks Owner for Large Fat Fowls

There is either somebody in Wichita or Clay county who does not know how many turkeys and chickens they have or there is somebody who pays them very little attention, according to a belief expressed Friday night by Night Police Chief Lee McDonald, who is seeking the owner of six large fat turkeys and three or four chickens.

The poultry was acquired by Chief McDonald Wednesday night, following the arrest of four men who were later transferred to Henrietta under charges of stealing chickens. After being left at the police station for 24 hours awaiting an owner they were removed to the chief's home and are being cared for.

The chief says that he can't eat them, because they are "evidence" and must be preserved and that he is very anxious for an owner to appear. Members of the day police force report that a call has been received from a woman saying she believed the poultry was her property, but that she has not appeared to claim them.

S. M. U. IS DEFEATED BY AUSTIN COLLEGE AFTER GAME FIGHT

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Oct. 21.—Despite a gritty attempt to come back in the final period, in which the Mustangs scored their first touchdown of the year, the Austin College eleven from Sherman outplayed their rivals from Southern Methodist University here today and won, 17 to 7.

While the running attack of the Austin eleven was partially stopped, they took advantage of their opponents' breaks and piled up the score by consistent play. Captain Kitt's touchdown came after a determined march up the field in which the Methodists fought and slashed their way back across the goal line for the lone marker after once being pushed back for loss of the ball.

REAL ESTATE MEN TO PERFECT ORGANIZATION

LEWIS CALLS ON MINERS TO RESUME WORK

Kansas Mine Workers Injuring Only Themselves by Idleness, Union President Tells Members.

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 21.—A call for the immediate resumption of work by Kansas coal miners who have been idle since their deposed leader, Alexander Howat, was sent to jail under the Kansas industrial court law was issued today by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America in a letter sent to every union miner in Kansas.

"Those who urged the Kansas mine workers to continue idle in violation of the joint agreement are but false leaders pointing the road to inevitable disaster," said Mr. Lewis' letter, which also referred to approaching wage negotiations affecting the entire coal industry of the United States as "the battle which is to come," calling for unanimity among all miners.

In his letter Mr. Lewis referred to his suspension of Howat and others as officials of the Kansas district, declaring this action followed the decision of the international union's recent convention directing that strikers at two mines be ordered back to work.

"The welfare of the United Mine Workers of America," the letter continued, "depends upon its observance of the contracts which it negotiates and the honorable liquidation of the obligations thereunder assumed. It is not possible for the international union to countenance or permit the continuance of a condition in any district wherein the joint wage agreement is violated with impunity and the organic laws of the organization transgressed and ignored. Such was the condition in district 14 (Kansas) and by the same token the international union would permit changed conditions at the two mines or that the union was acting in sympathy with the Kansas industrial court law. Legal attacks on the law by Howat and other deposed Kansas union officials were said "not to strike at the heart of the measure" and the letter added that the international union could soon institute legal proceedings to challenge all the law's provisions which labor regards as unconstitutional.

"The mine workers of Kansas are only doing themselves an injury by refraining from work under present circumstances," continued the letter. "It is futile to believe that a stoppage of work will change the law. Laws are only changed in America by the force of public opinion manifested through the state legislatures and the federal congress. Those who urge the Kansas mine workers to continue idle in violation of the joint agreement are but false leaders pointing the road to inevitable disaster. It is the duty of every member of the United Mine Workers of America who took the obligation to abide by its laws, to now conform by the action of the international union and render every support to the officers of the provisional district organization. All mines should be immediately placed in operation without further delay."

Editor J. C. Thomas of the Childress Post is always interesting. The current number of the Post prints the following: "At the meeting of the local Masonic lodge, a strong appeal from Grand Master Randell was read in which he vigorously opposed the Ku Klux Klan and urged all Masons in Texas to refrain from encouraging or taking any part in the work of said organization. The Grand Master stated that in some sections of the country an effort is being made by the enemies of Masonry to leave the impression that Masons are responsible for the organization and spread of the Ku Klux Klan. This, he declared, is wholly untrue and he appealed to every good Mason, having at heart the prosperity and well being of the order, to so conduct himself and so guard his speech that no man can point an accusing finger at this ancient fraternity. After reading of the communication, it was proposed that Childress Lodge go on record as supporting the views of Grand Master Randell. The vote was taken and not a Mason present opposed same, indicating that Childress Lodge is 100 per cent behind the Grand Master in his opposition to this order and in his effort to let the world know that the Masonic Lodge does not endorse nor stand for the Ku Klux nor any of its doings anywhere." Editor Thomas says a brother editor received a letter containing $150 in currency and asking that the same be presented to Captain B. A. Merrick with a request that it be used in defraying expenses of Confederate Veterans to the Reunion at Chattanooga and "down at Vernon the Klan sent in $300 to the mother of the little boy that was killed Monday, mention of which is made in another place in this issue." Money appears to be plentiful in the west corner of Northwest Texas and in the lower Panhandle.

OIL EXPORTS FROM MEXICO AGAIN NORMAL

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Exports of petroleum from Mexico in September were again normal as a result of the settlement of the export tax controversy, which caused a suspension of shipments from that country by most of the companies controlled in this country. Exports for September amounted to 17,637,179 barrels, which is not far below the record month in history, that of January of this year, when shipments were approximately 18,400,000 barrels. In August exports were 5,528,000 barrels and in July 6,215,000 barrels, these being the two months when virtually all except the foreign controlled companies suspended shipments, following the imposition of the export tax on July 1.

It had generally been expected in local oil producing circles that shipments for September would be at or near a record, because of the fact that refiners in this country had eaten heavily into their supplies during the period of suspended shipments, and producers naturally drew much oil out of storage in order to replenish the supply.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey was the largest exporter of oil from Mexico last month, shipments of that country being 3,254,000 barrels under its own name. But in addition to this the International Petroleum Company of Maine shipped 1,103,750 barrels, which was bought by the Standard Oil Company under its contract with the smaller company. Mexican Petroleum was second on the list, with a total of 3,179,163 barrels. Other large shippers included Mexican Gulf, with a total of 1,183,294 barrels; Freeport Texas, with 361,649; Island Oil and Transport, 1,203,885; Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies, 1,196,907; U. S. Mexican, 148,537; Texas Company, 986,401; New England Fuel Oil, 150,439; Continental Mexico, 212,520; National Petroleum, 138,018; Corter (Atlantic Refining,) 427,089; Corona 984,234; Interocean, 51,412; National Oil, 51,640; East Coast, 365,644 and Mexican Eagle, 1,568,900. Figures for the latter company do not include the oil sold in Mexico.

It is predicted, however, that shipments in the future may not compare as favorably as those of September, because of the fact that a good portion of the oil exported in Mexico, as pointed out, came from storage holdings. Some of the fields recently have gone to saltwater, and as a result of the loss of the production of these fields it has been estimated that normal shipments in the future will be in the neighborhood of 12,000,000 barrels monthly, unless new fields are brought in speedily to offset the loss production.

CHARGE NEGRO WITH SERIES PETTY THEFTS

Belief that a solution to a series of bold daylight robberies by a negro residence section prowler had been reached was voiced by police Thursday following the arrest of Bruce Thomas, negro, at his home on Sullivan street, by City Detectives Humphries and Hembree and who spent large part of Friday working on those threads of the case.

Two watches found in the residence of the negro were said by officers to have been positively identified by C. F. Priebe, 1001 Seventeuth street as property taken from his residence early Friday. A fountain pen in possession of the negro was reported to have been identifed by its owner. Three pistols were also found in the negro's trunk.

Other robberies charged by police against the negro include the stealing of two children's savings banks at the home of A. L. Kirkland, 1611 Bluff street, the stealing of about $11 in currency from the home of H. S. Crane, 1305 Bluff street, and a robbery at the home of T. A. Keys, 1513 Twelfth street, all of which the black stoutly denied.

The negro was taken before Mrs. Crane Friday afternoon and after being identified as the negro she had hired a morning or two ago to move a flower pot, admitted that he had moved the basket. He however denied that he entered the home and stole the money. Police, however, were informed that a small niece of Mr. Crane had seen a negro skulker hiding about the place and without knowing of the negro having been hired to move the flower basket gave a description that exactly fitted the one arrested.

The negro was later taken to the home of Mr. Kirkland, where the small child who saw the negro who stole the money shook her curly head as a negative answer when asked if this was the one who took her "pennies and nickels." Mrs. Jules Ehlers, living near by declared however that she had seen the negro pass along the street there about that time.

The theft of a pistol from his room at a local hotel also was reported to the police Thursday by J. R. Carr.

Kell Declares as Much a Duty To Subscribe to Corporation Stock as to Buy War Issues

Reiterating formerly expressed belief that stock would probably pay as much as 30 per cent for the first year, Frank Kell Friday declared it to be as much a duty of business men to come to the relief of the agricultural and cattle industries through subscription to the agricultural and livestock trust company as was the subscriptions to the liberty loan bonds during the war.

Mr. Kell's statement was made in a wire to the organization committee of the trust company being formed for the southwest on request for an expression from him. The wire follows:

The Kellogg bill, which is now one of our congressional acts, provides machinery for the War Finance Corporation, working through the agricultural livestock trust companies and other banking institutions, offers the greatest relief to the agriculturist and live stock intrests of our country of any statute that has ever been passed since we have had a constitution.

The agricultural livestock trust company now being organized at Fort Worth as well as trust companies of like character all over the United States are quite as essential and necessary to aid the War Finance corporation to administer the law in its widest scope so as to reach every agricultural interest of whatsoever nature, including the livestock interests not only in our largest centers and densely populated sections, but in our sparsely settled range country in the western part of our state and the states of New Mexico and Arizona where banking facilities are meager and inadequate to care for the excessive demand now being made for immediate financial assistance by our agricultural and livestock interests.

An investment in the agricultural livestock trust companies which you are now organizing at Fort Worth will not only be a patriotic investment but will prove a highly profitable investment to any one taking any of the stock. It appears to me that the agricultural and livestock trust company which you are organizing will be able to pay its stock holders at the end of the first year not less than thirty per cent on the investment and might pay even better than this.

As loyal American citizens it is our duty to take our share of the stock in your organization just the same as it was our duty to take our share of the liberty bonds offered from time to time during the period of the war as the condition in which we now find the agricultural and livestock industry of this country was brought about by a condition of the war.

All the banks in the western part of Texas, all of New Mexico and a part of Arizona, and all of our citizenship engaged in the livestock activities can well afford to underwrite every dollar of the stock of your agricultural and live stock finance corporation if necessary because in doing so they help themselves and help a national situation and will make a perfectly safe and highly profitable investment.

Masons Enlarge Club Quarters

With the receipt of four new pool and billiard tables, work was under way Thursday at the Masonic temple to turn the entire second floor into club rooms. The club already has four tables which with the four new ones will be set up in the large room on the East side. Domino tables will also be installed in this room.

With a library consisting of over a thousand volumes and a large stock of periodicals to form a basis for the reading matter of the club, the W. room will be turned into a reading and writing room.

The move was decided upon by local Masons shortly after the installation of the club in the West room of the building some months ago.

The move was said to have been found more than successful and with larger crowds dropping in constantly to while away an hour or two, an increase of quarters was found necessary.

Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Rejections by the railroads unions of the plan proposed by the railroad labor board to avert a strike effected declines of 1 to 2 points among transportations in the first half of today's stock market session.

These losses were partly retrieved later when Mexican Petroleum became the leader of a driv against the shorts and announcement came from Chicago that the brotherhood chiefs and railroad executives had been cited to appear before the labor board next week.

Early reversals extended to steel, rubbers and leathers, the former being rendered more vulnerable by the poor statements of earnings issued by the Lackawanna and Republic companies. Equipments purchased a contrary course, however, and Motors strengthened with utilities and numerous merchandising shares.

Popular oils forged ahead almost from the outset, foreign issues leading, Tven Royal Dutch, which recently lost ground on selling attributed to Dutch interests, ignored the proposed senatorial investigation into its activities here.

Mexcan Petroleum registered an extreme advance of nearly eight points and all but a fraction of this was held. General Asphalt and Houston also showing substantial support. Sales amounted to 475.000 shares.

Call loans opened at 4 1-2 per cent but the demand for funds over the week-end was large enough to force the rate of 5 per cent shortly after midday without alteration, however, t otime quotations.

Sterling forfeited part of yesterday's sharp rise and exchange on France, Italy, Belgium and Germany eased, but Holland, Norway, Sweden and Spain improved and the Shanghai rate advanced in response to London's higher price for silver.

Buying of Liberty and Victory issues, all at medium to substantial gains, figured the lighter trading in bonds. Domestic rails reflected the heaviness of stocks, but foreign issues were devoid of especial features. Total sales, par value, $14,400,000.

DUN'S TRADE REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

The possibility of a widespread railroad was not without influence on business this week, but caused no conspicuous disturbance. Belief that a walkout would be averted was strengthened as action toward that end was mainly confined to speculative markets.

While requests to expedite shipment of goods under were made in some instances, there was no general anxiety regarding supplies of merchandise and forward demands were not appreciably affected.

The prospect of lower freight rates is entering into calculations, but the disposition to defer committments pending developments in this connection is manifest in comparatively few quarters. Despite existing uncertainties and retarding factors, the commercial revival is making gradual progress and the slowly rising trend of production continues in evidence.

Weekly bank clearings $7,008,625,000.

Grain

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Wheat prices took a decided upward swing today influenced by belief in various quarters that the president and his cabinet would find a solution for the threatened railroad strike. The market closed strong 3½ to 4½c net higher, with December 1.08 to 1.08¼ and May 1.12¼ to 1.12¼. Corn gained ⅛ to ⅞c and oats ¼ to ⅜ to ⅝c. In provisions the outcome varied from the same as yesterdays' finish to 35c higher.

Notwithstanding the break up of the parley here between railway employes representatives and the labor board, prices for wheat had an upward impetus throughout the day. Speculators led the buying and offerings were so readily absorbed that shorts hurried to cover and thus aided the advance. Improved demand for flour tended further to help the advance.

Corn and oats reflected the strength of wheat.

Provisions rose with hogs and grain.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A sharp advance in cottonseed oil today owing to strength in lard, grain and crude oil was followed by late reactions under selling by refiners and early buyers, with the close unsettled at a general net advance of 3 to 10 points. Sales 17,700 barrels. Prime crude 7.00 sales; prime summer yellow spot 8.40; December 8.77; March 8.98; May 9.12, all bid.

Cotton

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—An early decline from 250 to 300 points per bale was followed by a very substantial recovery in the cotton market today, but a good part of it was lost in the last half hour and the close was barely steady at a net decline of 25 to 34 points. After selling at 18.18 on the early break December rallied to 18.66 and closed at 18.48 compared with 18.77 at the close yesterday.

The market opened barely steady at a decline of 20 to 35 points and showed net losses of about 50 to 63 points during mid morning owing to late week cables from Liverpool, diminishing confidence in a settlement of the railroad labor dispute, unsettled tone of the early stock market and reiterated talk of relatively heavy ginning, returns forcing a revision of crop estimates. January sold off to 17.92 and active months generally were forced back to within 25 or 30 points of low prices Wednesday. Prices rallied rather sharply, however, during early afternoon on reports that there was to be another conference of railroad labor chiefs with the railroad labor board in Chicago next week.

There was also buying on the week end but the market met increased offerings around 18.41 for January which made a rally of 49 points from the low level of the morning. There was some Southern selling and liquidation by early buyers on the closing reaction of 18 to 20 from the best. It is reported that a Southern authority estimated ginning to October 18 at 5,700,000 bales and places this at 74 per cent of the crop which would point to a yield of about 7,700,000 bales.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—While values were depressed in the cotton market today from the opening, there were strong recoveries after mid-session as the result of new buying based on the very favorable showing of week end statistics. The close showed net losses on the day of 20 to 29 points, with December at 17.98, but at one time the market was nat let losses of 60 to 69 points with December at 17.58.

The opening was lower and for a while in early trading selling was very heavy as the result of a private bureau report counting ginning to October 18 at 5,700,000 bales, which it was claimed, represented but 74 pe cent of the crop. The trade sold, not so much on the total to October 18, but because of the statement that he crop was only 74 per cen ginned. The report, using the percentage given, pointed to a total crop of 7,700,000 bales, which was well above the crop ideas that have been entertained of late. The figures indicated ginning for this last period of 2,777,000 bales, which while some larger than expected, were under some of the private estimates of the week.

Around noon the market took on a better tone, as the result of the week's world mill takings of American cotton of 357,000 bales. Further strength was gained from the large export movement for the week. Late in the day the market was at its highest, within 12 or 16 points of yesterday's final prices, December standing at 18.13.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21—Consignments of steers, cows and yearlings moved scaleward with comparative freedom today at prices that were about in line with the week's decline. MANY WANT JOBS

APPLICATIONS ON FILE IN CASE OFFICIALS CALL STRIKE.

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Oct. 21.—Applications from unemployed men to fill places that will be made vacant in the event union railroad men walk out on October 30, are coming in daily, according to advices from general headquarters of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas and Texas & Pacific general offices here.

Applicants are being told to leave their names for call in the event a strike occurs.

The strike of trainmen on the International & Great Northern railroad, set for tomorrow, is regarded as a test in which union heads will try to feel out the sentiment of the public and rail executives before calling a general strike, according to local officials. It may also reveal what measures the road will take in meeting the strike and determine how it can operate on non-union labor, they said.

KERNEL COOTIE—PA HATES THAT KIND OF A GUY.

ROCKEFELLER FAMILY FIGHTING TO KEEP OUT STILLMAN SUIT

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Members of the Rockefeller family interested in $87,000,000 trust funds created by the will of the late James Stillman, today opposed efforts to draw them and all other potential beneficiaries into the divorce litigation begun by James A. Stillman, banker, against the former Fifi Potter, and baby, Guy Stillman.

Through counsel today they argued against a motion which would have all potential beneficiaries show cause why they should not be made co-defendants with Mrs. Stillman and two year old Guy, whose patrenity Mr. Stillman impunged. The move was made by John E. Mack, guardian for Guy, who told Supreme Court Justice Morschauser at today's hearing that his purpose was to settle in the one divorce action both the paternity of the child and his right to share in the fortune left by the elder Stillman.

Almet F. Jenks, counsel for Mrs. Percy A. Rockefeller and Mrs. William Rockefeller, sisters of James A. Stillman, contended this would bring into the case a large number of persons with no interest whatever in the litigation save under the will of the elder Stillman in which they were entitled to share.

He declared the court was without jurisdiction to grant the motion inasmuch as the original divorce action charging Mrs. Stillman with infidelity and branding the child illegitimate was statutory.

"If they want to jury, we are satisfied," explained Mr. Mack. "After all the whip hand does not apply to a court of equity."

Mr. Jenks asked Justice Morschauser to use his head, not his heart.

Mr. Mack suggested that both be employed.

He charged that the New York banker's sole object in bringing the suit was to have Guy judged illegitimate.

VICIOUS ATTACKS OF ROCKY KANSAS TOO MUCH FOR TENDLER

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Rocky Kansas, Buffalo lightweight, received the judge's decision after his 15 round bout with Lew Tendler of Philadelphia at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Kansas was the aggressor throughout most of the match, gaining the advantage in ten of the fifteen rounds. Tendler had the better of two rounds, the third and the fourteenth.

Kansas caught Tendler repeatedly with a vicious right hook which rocked him and slowed him up considerably. In the ninth round Tendler was floored with a right hook to the jaw, but he refused to take a count.

"SPRINGTIME" MAKES BIG HIT WITH CROWD PACKING THEATER FOR OPENING NIGHT FRIDAY

A seemingly endless variety of fetching costumes, a snappy and exceedingly well rendered list of musical numbers, combined with excellent work both on the part of the principals and members of the supporting cast down to those composing the youngest chorus, combined Friday night to make "Springtime," play staged by the Business Women's club of the Y. W. C. A. to "go over big" with the crowd that packed the house for its opening night.

In fact the play, the music, the costumes and the rendition of the various roles and specialty numbers was such as to put the show on a plane with the best of the professional musical show which have come to the Wichita theater in recent years.

The packed house for the opening night, according to members of the club in charge of the business end, is but an augur for what is to be expected at the matinee and night performances today, the house being reported as almost sold out for both performances before last night's show.

Individual stars would be hard to pick from last night's performance, for the principals, although favored by the wider opportunity offered by their various roles, did not fill their parts a bit more perfectly than did those cast in the parts of lesser prominence. Shades of Amateur Theatricals! But it was so. Seeing is believing, and those who did see were vociferious in expressing their belief. As far as amateur theatricals go, the show had nothing of that about it—it went through from end to end with a snap which is to be expected on the part of professionals.

The story of the show dealt with the blighted roomance of socially prominent New Yorkers of the vintage of 1868, and its very happy realization in this good year of Our Lord, 1921, through their grand children. Juanita Kinsey, who played the part of an elderly character, had a part which called for considerable narration in the opening scenes, and she put it over in a fashion which eased the rest of the play. Alzada Knickerbocker in the part of the susceptible young lady in the early scenes, and of the same party, considerably older but more susceptible as the years went by, made her part one of the features of the show. Charles T. Angle, a former professional, who was leading man, and Ruth Chandler, leading woman, played their parts to perfection, and their singing was of a class rarely seen in such performances.

C. F. Carter, who had the lead comic, went big with the crowd, as did his "wife," played by Grace Higgins. Bruce Dickson gave an excellent portrayal of the social butterfly model 1921.

Nowhere in the show was the acting more finished than that of the juvenile leads, played by Madeline Ruth McCarty, Joline Woods, Pauline Lyons and Harrold Simmons. The dancing of Ruth Smith drew a big hand, as did that of the several younger choruses.

The production was under the personal direction of T. T. McKinney, of the Rogers Production company, Mr. McKinney also taking part in several of the numbers. Miss Louise Clark was the accompanist, and the business end of the production was manager by Mrs. Charles F. Carter, the chairman of the Business Women's special committee on staging the show. The cast follows:

SURVEY FOR WAURIKA LINE NEAR COMPLETE

Work on the survey for the railroad line from Byers to Waurika will be completed within a very few days time, according to Capt. C. M. McFarland, engineer in charge of the work. The survey was completed to the river yesterday, and camp is now being moved to Waurika for the completion of the line.

From an engineering standpoint, the project is a very nice one, according to Captain McFarland, confirming the opinion expressed by Frank Kell and himself after the first preliminary inspection.

The bridge across Red river will be the largest item in the building of the road. No particularly difficult engineering problems will be involved in this, he says, although the building will be an expensive one.

The survey consists of one survey from Byers to the river, with a second one nearly run. One survey will be run into Waurika.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS PLAN REST ROOM

Plans for fixing up a girl's rest room at Senior High school and staging a Hallowe'en party were perfected at the regular weekly meeting of the Girls club Friday afternoon at the high school building. The girls will come to the school Saturday to put up curtains and otherwise begin decorating and furnishing the room.

The program for Friday afternoon included:

Humorous Debate—"Resolved, that I had rather be on the outside looking in, than on the inside looking out," between Miss Lillian Brannon on the affirmative and Miss Corinne Whaley on the negative.

Impromptu—Piano selection.

Following the program, it was announced that the city school board had ruled that the student clubs will not be permitted to ho[illegible] their meetings after night. The meeting was presided over by Miss Jo Betsy Miller, president of the club.

PARIS POLICE GUARDING U. S. CONSULATES

American Officials in France Continue to Receive Flood of Letters of Threatening Nature.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—Police authorities throughout France were today carefully guarding American consulates and other buildings occupied by citizens of the United States as a result of a flood of threatening letters received by Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador, and Alexander M. Thackera, American consul general here.

These letters came as a sequel to the explosion of an infernal machine in the home of Ambassador Herrick on Wednesday and were believed to point to a widespread plot to attack Americans in this country.

All the letters protested against the sentence of death of Nicolo Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, two Italians convicted last summer of first degree murder in a Massachusetts court. They asserted that American officials in France were representatives of the American government and that as such, would be attacked.

BELIEVE COMMUNISTS ENTER U. S. TO "CAUSE TROUBLE"

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—French police officials asserted today that more than one hundred members of the young communist organization in Europe had slipped through the immigration lines and reached the United States within the last two months for the purpose of "causing trouble if the two Italians, Sacco and Vanzetti, were executed for the murder of which they were convicted in Massachusetts last summer.

Many of these men, the officials said, had applied for passports to the American passport bureau in Paris and had been refused. The police are now working on the theory that some of these communists were responsible for the bomb sent to Ambassador Herrick which blew up in his home on Wednesday.

This theory is the result of a threat made by a young communist who said he was an Italian, at the American passport offices here last Monday, when the officials told him they could not give him a vise for America unless he conformed with the regulations. The applicant, who gave his age as 22, became angry when refused, exclaiming: "Somebody will get killed for this."

Ambassador Herrick when he returned to his office this morning found sixty-eight additional letters of protest in connection with the Massachusetts case, two of them containing threats of reprisals against Americans if the executions took place.

The communist mass meeting of protest against the conviction of the two Italians, called for tonight in one of the largest halls in Paris, is causing some apprehension.

G. O. P. MEN PREVENT VOTING ON BILL FOR REFUND COMMISSION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—A last minute switch in the plans of republican leaders prevented a vote in the house before adjournment late today on the Fordney bill to create a foreign debt refunding commission. It had been planned to press the measure to a vote today, but because of the absence of certain members, it is understood, action was deferred. The house adjourned until Monday.

Five hours of general debate had been completed when the house adjourned and a flood of amendments is expected when the bill is again taken up Monday.

TWO TALKS FEATURE AT POLICE MEET

A short talk on the various kind of automobile thieves and the kind of cars they seem to like best by chief field agent DeWitt of the Automobile Theft Bureau at Dallas and a general address by Judge C. F. Spencer featured the school meeting of policemen held Friday evening at the city hall.

"Exactly 50.3 per cent of all automobiles that are stolen are Fords, about 12 per cent are Buicks and about 7 per cent Dodges," DeWitt declared in the course of his address in which he urged that all police officers be able to know any make of car at a single glance as far as he could see it. The ability to know cars easily by make, he said, makes it easy then for him to distinguish any peculiarities the particular stolen car may have which they are at that time hunting.

In a short talk in which he stressed the necessity for honesty in every action and intent, Judge Spencer spoke of his long acquaintance with Police Commissioner Fitts and complimented the force highly for the good work being done.

Commissioner Fitts presided over the meeting and introduced both speakers.

Tangible Proofs Of Banking Service

The chief value of this bank's service lies in the fact that it gets home—it rings the bell—it applies power where power is needed.

As a patron, you're not interested much in how sincerely it wants to serve; you want to see the tangible proof of that service.

ECZEMA AND TETTER DUE TO IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

To Get Absolute Relief You Must Clear Your Blood of Waste Products.

The blood is the means by which all the tissues of the body are directly or indirectly nourished. You will at once realize that unless the blood is pure, some part of the body will become diseased.

Fiery skin diseases denote with unfailing certainty a weakened and impure state of the blood.

To correct the basic trouble—waste products—the blood must be purified. Don't clog your blood. Just clean it out. Nature will do the rest. Pure, rich, red blood nourishes the body and fights off disease.

S. S. S., the standard blood purifier and system builder, is the ideal remedy for skin eruptions. The effect of S. S. S. is to rid the system of the waste products which are causing the trouble. For over 50 years S. S. S. has proven to be of unusual merit. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 56 page illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free.

Personal medical advice, without charge, may also be had by sending a complete description of your case. Address Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 742 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, G. All drug stores sell S. S. S.—Adv.
