The goal for 1983 is $1,500. Moneys will be used locally for emergencies such as food, clothing, transportation and medical care. The money is also used for state projects such as natural disasters, tornadoes, floods etc., homes for unwed mothers, aid to prisoners and families, missing persons bureau, youth centers and many more.

Rains Spot County

Spotted showers, some accompanied by hail, have visited Lynn County since last Saturday with a total for the week and month in Tahoka reaching 1.25 inches. Total for the year in west Tahoka is 7.67 inches.

Hail from Tahoka and vicinity eastward in the Central Church area destroyed some cotton that farmers had been lucky enough to get up.

Cool nights climaxed by an unprecedented low of 49 degrees recorded Tuesday morning has stunted growth of cotton that is up, and some farmers report cotton dying.

Large areas of the county however, still do not have sufficient rain for planting, especially in the southwest quarter.

Although time is running out for planting cotton, some farmers have been dry-planting and others say they will plant up to the last of the month if they have to.

WOODWORK BY DALTON

YOU'VE HEARD IT BEFORE: There is no such thing as a free lunch. This means that there is really nothing of any consequence free, because somebody has to pay for it, although it may be free to some. The U.S. Postal Service recently shut down four similar pyramid promotions which had been operating in the northern half of Texas. They were Money Tree, from Fort Worth; Mile High Society of Brownwood; and The American Dream and Golden Opportunity, both of Midland.

All four represented they were a membership service, planned to issue quarterly newsletters which would contain tax tips, investment data, etc., and stated that by participating in the membership drive, members could expect to receive large sums of money by soliciting new members and getting part of their membership fees. Mostly they asked for initial investment of $15 to $20, and are variations on the chain letter scam.

There are better plans for making money than sending it to some such group (it's usually in individual anyway). For example, I remember when I worked for the Lubbock-Avalanche Journal back in the 50s and 60s. I considered several times selling tickets on my weekly pay check and then drawing the numbers out to see who would win it. With a $100 check, I figured if I could sell 11 or more chances at $10 each, I'd come out ahead. I never could sell that many, however.

WOMAN OF THE house to the Maid: "When you wait on my guests tonight at dinner, please don't wear any jewelry."

Maid: "I don't have anything very valuable, ma'am, but thanks for the warning."

DECIPHERED: A group of beachcombers found a milk bottle with a water-soaked message in it.

Obviously, someone needed help, but no one could read the message. They took the bottle to the local authorities and waited eagerly for the results. Finally, this message was deciphered:

"Two quarts of milk—no cream."

Council Considers Insurance Proposal

Tahoka City Council Monday night considered proposal for supplemental health insurance for city employees. David Black with Mass Group Marketing, Inc. of Odessa will approach the employees with the insurance plan, then the city will withhold the premium from their paychecks if the plan is accepted.

Mayor Mel Leslie presided at the meeting with council members Jim Solomon, Tom Cooper and W.O. Whorton present.

Council members also approved partial payment of $76,212 on street improvements contract No. 183.

In other matters the members approved specifications and bid date for a new pick-up.

The placing of a $50 reward sign for information leading to dumping trash at the entrance of the sanitary landfill was discussed and approved.

Brown - Williams Exchange Vows In Stratford

Cherie Imajean Brown and Jonathan Gregg Williams exchanged double-ring wedding vows Saturday, March 12, at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Stratford with Dr. Genoa Goad officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Harold Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams of Tahoka.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length wedding gown of sheer organza and re-embroidered chantilly lace over bridal taffeta designed with a sweetheart neckline, sheer bishop sleeves, and a bell skirt. Inserts of lace enhanced the neckline, waist and sleeves. A pleated overlay of lace complimented the skirt ending in a sweeping chapel length train. Her veil of imported illusion with a border of matching chantilly lace fell from a coil of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses.

For something old, the bride wore the wedding ring of her late mother, Corethia Brown; her dress was something new; something borrowed was a heart shaped pendant belonging to her step-sister; a blue garter completed the tradition.

Olinda Boardman, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied soloist, Kathy

MRS. GREGG WILLIAMS nee Cherie Brown

Payne, as she sang "You and I," "The Wedding Song" and "You Light Up My Life."

Best man was Keith Williams of Vernon, brother of the groom.

Ushers were Ricky Don Williams of Tahoka, brother of the groom, and Joe Bob Petrey of Dennis.

A reception was held at the church immediately following the ceremony. Serving the refreshments were Letitia Kelly, Donita Gibson and Sherrie Baker. The bride is a graduate of Stratford High School and attended West Texas State University.

Ground Beef, A Real Bonus

Add a big bonus to your food dollar by shopping for ground beef. Special sales on ground beef are important money savers. Before buying, review how to get the most for your money.

Consider which lean to fat category of ground beef will be the best buy. The three categories of leanness are stated on the label:

Not less than 70 percent lean—lower price.

Not less than 75 percent lean—medium price.

Not less than 85 percent lean—higher price.

One recent USDA study compared 75 percent lean to 85 percent lean ground beef. Both lost about the same amount of weight, but the 75 percent lean lost more fat and the 85 percent lean lost more water. The 75 percent lean patty, or least costly one, was judged the more juicy and flavorful.

Also anticipate how you will be preparing the ground beef. If you are using the meat in a recipe without browning first, or in a low calorie recipe, then you'll prefer the 85 percent lean ground beef. Leaner meat creates a firm product which cooks slower than the one with higher fat content.

The 75 percent lean ground beef is also recommended for recipes in which the meat does not have to be browned before adding other ingredients. It reduces the cost of preparing meat loaf, meat balls, or ground beef casseroles. You get a firm product (at a lesser cost) with this type of ground beef.

Use ground beef with high fat content in recipes where the meat is browned and the drippings poured off, such as tacos or chili. This will provide a moist and juicy product which cooks faster.

Make a note of the amount of ground beef to be purchased. One pound contains about four (3 oz.) servings after it is cooked. Buying in large economy packages usually provides more meat for less money. To re-package a large amount of beef into smaller servings, re-wrap in moisture proof freezer paper and freeze immediately. If you will be preparing the ground beef in patties, shape the patties prior to freezing them.

Think of the nutritional value of ground beef when you buy. You want the most nutrition you can buy for your money. Ground beef provides complete protein which helps maintain growth and repair of body tissues. Beef is a good source of the B-complex vitamin which helps change food to energy and aids in digestion. It provides iron needed for healthy red blood cells and the transfer of oxygen to cells. Beef also adds zinc which is needed for chemical changes that occur in protein, carbohydrate and fats after digestion and absorption.

Let ground beef be a real bonus for you. Remember it when considering cost, versatility, nutrition and just plain good flavor.

Borden Davis Is Honored

Friends of Borden Davis, Tahoka citizen for 64 years, filled Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church Thursday night to hear speakers roast and pay tribute to Davis and his family.

Truett Smith, principal speaker, poured it on the honoree with fact and fiction stories in Borden's life to the hilarity of the crowd.

Dr. K.R. Durham told of the "good things" in the honoree's life as a citizen and church worker and declared Borden's life has been a success in every way.

Frank Hill recounted a resume of his life here, including at least nine different business endeavors.

Pete Hegi, on behalf of friends, presented Davis with a plaque in recognition of his years of service to the community.

Clint Walker, master of ceremonies, also took occasion to add to the fun.

Prior to the talks, Marlin and Diane Hawthorn presented a humorous skit of Borden's courtship of Minnie.

Borden Davis and Minnie Curry were married June 1, 1924, in the home of Rev. J.M. Doshier, Baptist pastor. They have one daughter, Mrs. Gaynelle Brookshire of Lubbock; two grandchildren and a great grandson.

Borden came to Tahoka in 1919 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Davis, and he farmed with his dad until 1921. He worked a while for the Sante Fe at Tahoka, Seagraves, Slaton, Dalou and Post.

He worked for McCormack Hardware a year, then went to Geo. W.

Small Hardware and Furniture, remained with that store when operated by Harris and Applewhite, later by W.M. Harris. While there, Mr. Harris sent him to an embalming school, in connection with the store. At first he prepared bodies for burial in private homes, then in a small room in the rear of the store, and finally at Harris Funeral Home, where he helped out until Martin White bought the home, now owned by White's widow.

He was with Applewhite's Brownfield Farm-all Agency a year, then operated service stations until about 1953, when he bought the tire repair shop from Mrs. Violet West. In 1962, following the death of W.M. Harris, he bought the hardware business and building which he operated until 1972 when he sold out to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Whitaker. He retained his picture framing business which he moved to the old First National Bank building where he operated until he sold the frame shop to Mrs. Charles Jaquess in 1982 and retired from active work.

Women of the Baptist church served refreshments.

Theodore Roosevelt was the first U.S. President to visit a foreign country while in office. He traveled to Panama.

Since the bagworm only completes one generation a year and spreads very slowly from plant to plant, picking the bags off infested plants in the winter will help a lot toward controlling this pest. But if bagworms were present on the plant last year and control measures were not applied, chances are very good that an insecticide will be needed this spring.

Insecticides which can be used to control bagworms include sevin, dursban, diazinon, malathion, dylox and orthene. The biological insecticide Bacillus thuringiensis can also be used. To obtain effective control, thorough coverage of the foliage is important. Always read and follow label instructions when applying insecticides.

Tick Problems Blossom In Spring

Ticks are already an early problem across much of Texas this spring. A relatively mild winter probably was responsible for better than average survival of ticks in our area. More problems are expected.

Ticks are biting, blood-sucking parasites. Their feeding results in blood loss and irritation to pets and to people, and the possible spread of diseases.

The most important disease transmitted by ticks is Rocky Mountain spotted fever. Two deaths from this disease have already been recorded this year in Texas.

The brown dog tick is the most common tick around home landscapes in this area. They are reddish-brown in color.

A female tick can lay several thousand eggs, beginning a two-to-four-month life cycle. Ticks require four blood meals; three to grow to adults and one to lay eggs. After each feeding, the tick drops off the host animal and hides temporarily until the next growth stage. Tick control requires treatment at three sites simultaneously. The pet, the yard and the interior of the home must each be treated at the same time. This is the only way to break the cycle.

Heavy infestations in the home probably will require the assistance of professional pest control operators. The inside of the home can be treated with sprays containing diazinon, ronnel, or Dursban. Particular attention must be paid to nooks and crevices where ticks hide.

Outside the home, diazinon, Sevin or Dursban can be used. Pay particular attention to areas frequented by pets, such as dog houses and trails along fences.

Pets are the third site which must be treated to succeed in tick control. Light infestations can be controlled by rubbing Sevin dust into the pet's hair. Formulations of Sevin dust greater than five percent shouldn't be applied to puppies or young kittens.

Severe tick infestations may require three applications at seven to 10 day intervals to obtain adequate control.

If a tick becomes attached to the skin, remove it with a slow, steady pull. Be careful not to break off its mouthparts.

A drop of chloroform, isopropyl alcohol, ether, acetone or fingernail polish rubbed over the tick may help to remove it. It can be removed a half-hour later with less damage to the skin because its oxygen supply is cut off.

Always apply an antiseptic to tick bites. If your hands touched the tick, wash them thoroughly with soap and water to reduce the risk of spreading disease.

On a positive note, the Extension agent said, once ticks are controlled around your home, you are unlikely to be reinfested unless tick-infested animals enter the yard, bringing new pests with them.

Until recently, only about 20 percent of American women used their sewing machines twice a month or more. But economics has created a new interest in home sewing, says Ann Vanderpoorten, a clothing specialist. "When women can make a quality dress for 30 percent of what it would cost in the stores, they are bound to be interested," she suggests. Even employed women are returning to home sewing as the pattern companies and fabric makers make their products more compatible with the working woman's lifestyle. "They are aiming for the customer who wants to make something simple and fast," she says. Home sewing has also gotten a boost from the recent interest in crafts. Research shows that 30 percent of sales in fabric stores now go toward crafts and home decorating materials, says the specialist.

A car that shifts manually has been estimated to get an average of two miles more per gallon of gas than a car with automatic shift.
