

Jury Finds Guilty Verdict in Murder Case

A 100th District Court jury late Wednesday, Sept. 17, found Mrs. Dollye Mae Cooley guilty of the offense of murder without malice in the death of her husband and assessed her punishment at 5 years in prison.

Judge Charles Reynolds set the formal sentencing for Tuesday, Sept. 30.

Earlier in the day the grand jury had recommended that a certified public accountant be selected to audit the financial records of Collingsworth County for the period Oct. 1, 1968 to Oct. 1, 1969, and that the same auditor audit the records of the Sheriff's Department for the period Jan. 1, 1965 to Oct. 1, 1969.

Judge Reynolds granted the request of the grand jury that the time for which it is empaneled be extended from Nov. 3, 1969, when it would have expired, to Jan. 31, 1970.

In a tax suit, the State of Texas recovered a judgment for delinquent taxes and foreclosure against the Wellington Ice Company in the amount of $975.06.

Bid on Cotton

Don Milligan Named Manager of Compress

Traders Compress in Wellington has re-opened under the management of Don Milligan, who will be in charge of the unit at Shamrock also.

Mr. Milligan said that Traders Company has bid on a quantity of government loan cotton, and if the bid is accepted, approximately 20,000 bales of cotton will be shipped to the Wellington unit from California and Arizona.

A crew of workmen is now completely cleaning the compress here, he said.

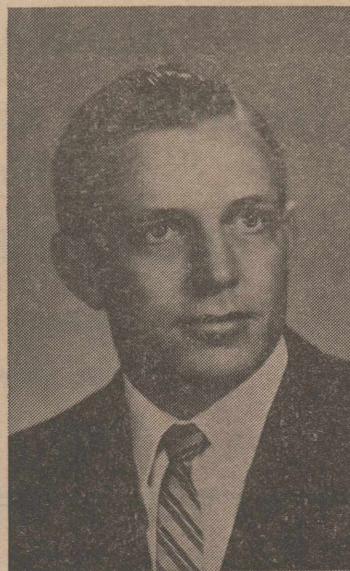

Mr. Milligan said that if cotton is brought here for storage, it will be compressed as it goes out, giving employment to at least 15 men at peak season. A partial crew will be carried year around.

Traders Compress, a pioneer in the trade, has merged with two other companies, North American Corporation and Pioneer Products, under the new name of Traders Company.

Robert S. Poston is president of the newly formed company, with general headquarters in Oklahoma City.

Mr. Milligan, who originally ran compresses in Oklahoma, succeeds F. H. Melton, who is retiring.

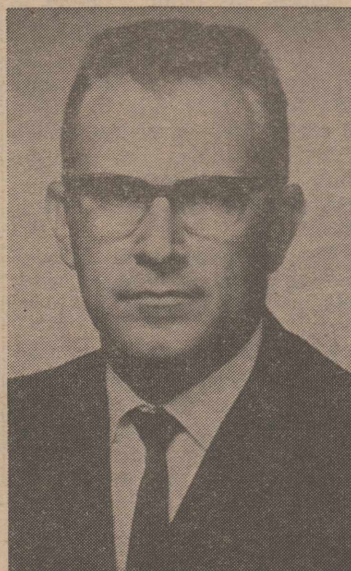

He comes here from Hobart, Okla., where for 13 years he managed the facilities at Hobart, Anadarko and Mangum. He will live in Shamrock.

Entry Deadline Set

Selection of Queen to Close Collingsworth Fair October 18

A colorful climax to the Collingsworth County Free Fair will be the selection of the 1969 Fair Queen.

Jack Sanford and Tom Wilkins, co-chairmen, said this week that the selection of the queen will be held Saturday, Oct. 18 at 7:00 p.m.

If weather permits, the pageant will take place on the court house lawn. A location will be announced later to be used if the weather turns bad.

The deadline for entries in the contest will be Saturday,

Oct. 11, and entry blanks may be had at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The Fair Queen Contest returns as one of the major events after a lapse of several years.

Rules were announced this week by Mr. Sanford and Mr. Wilkins.

Any girl who resides in or whose parents reside in Collingsworth County may enter the contest upon meeting further requirements. She must be over 16 years of age and under 20 at the time of the contest and must never have been married.

A queen and two runners-up will be chosen. Each girl must agree that if she is the winner, she will be available to represent the Chamber of Commerce at other area functions. If, however, she should be unable to do so when the time comes, the runners-up will be given an opportunity to represent the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce also reserves the right to screen contestants.

Out of town judges will be secured, Mr. Sanford said.

Wellington businesses will serve as sponsors for the contestants.

Girls who wish to enter the Fair Queen Contest may get full information and entry blanks at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Notify Chairman of Fair Parade Float Entries

All organizations and business firms who will have a float or other entry in the Collingsworth County Free Fair opening parade should report this to Donald Nunneley, parade chairman, or to the Chamber of Commerce office, Chairman Bill Moseley said this week. The parade will be Friday, Oct. 17 at 10 a.m.

"It is necessary that we have a good idea of the number of entries we will have if Mr. Nunneley is to place these floats to the best advantage, both from the standpoint of the crowd and of the sponsor," said Mr. Moseley.

Mr. Nunneley again urged groups and firms to have entries. Almost anyone who wants to participate is eligible, he said—civic and service organizations, churches, clubs of every type, schools or school organizations, business houses, farm groups and many others.

There is a section for commercial exhibits, such as new cars and farm equipment.

Horses will have their spot, as will bicycles for the small fry.

And leading it all will be That Skyrocket Band and at least one guest band.

Trio Unhurt in Accident

Three members of a Wellington family escaped injury Saturday morning, Sept. 20, when their car was in a collision at Claude.

Mike Davis, 17, was the driver, while his father, Neil Davis, and grandmother, Mrs. Travis Buske, were passengers in the car. They were en route to visit the Davis's younger son, Keith, in an Amarillo hospital. Mrs. Davis was with him.

Their car was already in an intersection where a caution light was blinking when another car made a left turn directly across their path, Mrs. Davis said.

Investigating officers cleared Mike of any blame in the accident.

Damage to the Davis car was estimated at around $700 and the trio waited in Claude until Mrs. Buske's car was brought from Wellington.

County Wheat Allotment Is 20,326 Acres

Collingsworth County's 1970 wheat allotment is 20,326 acres, Millard Brown, ASCS manager, said this week. That is approximately 12 percent less than the 1969 allotment of 23,165 acres.

Individual allotments were mailed to all producers earlier this month.

The provisions of the 1970 wheat program are similar to those in effect this year, Mr. Brown said.

The domestic marketing certificates will be based on 49 percent of the allotment, times the projected yield of the farm.

The national average price-support loan level will remain at $1.25 per bushel.

The required minimum diversion is an acreage equal to 30.3 per cent of the 1970 allotment. The full allotment may be planted to wheat.

However, additional acreage may be diverted for payment, up to 50 per cent of the wheat allotment.

Small farm allotments of 19.2 acres or less may divert the entire allotment and earn diversion payment.

Substitution between wheat and feed grain (or corn) will be permitted again in 1970 provided the producer participates in both programs. Whether barley will be included in the feed grain program in 1970 will be announced later.

There are other options in the wheat program.

If the farm has an oats-rye base, wheat may be substituted for oats-rye by diverting to conservation uses a percentage of the oats-rye base identical to the required percentage reduction under the 1970 feed grain program. Growers planning this substitution should discuss other factors with the ASCS.

A grower can sign up to overplant his allotment up to 50 percent, store the excess production, and be eligible for marketing certificates and price support loans on the wheat not stored under excess provision.

Assembly of God Sets Homecoming October 4 and 5

Homecoming services will be held at the Assembly of God Church Saturday evening and Sunday, Oct. 4 and 5, the Rev. James Jackson, pastor, has announced.

There will be a fellowship hour Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Morning, afternoon and night services are planned Sunday. Lunch will be served at Bura Handley community center.

All former pastors, former members and friends of the church are invited.

TSTA Dinner

Christian to Address Teachers Sept. 29

State Representative Tom Christian of Claude will address the teachers of Collingsworth County at the first meeting of the local unit of the Texas State Teachers Association Monday evening, Sept. 29.

The dinner meeting will be at Quail Gymnasium beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Christian is expected to speak on legislation passed during the last session which concerns the schools of Texas and teachers, according to John Alf Thomas, an officer of the organization.

Entertainment will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Whitehead of Plainview, who will give a program of songs and comedy numbers. Their daughter accompanies them at the piano.

Approximately 125 teachers and their guests are expected to attend from Wellington, Dodson, Quail and Samnorwood.

This is the first meeting of the local TSTA during the cur-

Annual Conservation Crops Tour Sept. 30

The 13th annual Collingsworth County Conservation and Crops Tour will be held Tuesday, Sept. 30, when businessmen, farmers and ranchers will have an opportunity to see experiments and demonstrations being carried on in Collingsworth County.

All of these are part of statewide tests by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Soil Conservation Service, and results here are incorporated into the official recommendations to Texas farmers and ranchers.

There will be seven stops on the tour.

Five agricultural specialists from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock and College Station will be here to discuss experiments carried out by the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration Program. They are Bob Metzger, area agronomist; Jim Valentine, area soil chemist; Frank Petr, area agronomist; Bob Berry, plant pathologist; and Ed Garnet, area farm management specialist.

The tour members will travel by bus, leaving the south side of the courthouse at 9:00 a.m. They will return to Wellington for a barbecue dinner to be served at Ellison Park at 12:30 p.m., served by the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District. The tour will end at the courthouse at 1:30 p.m.

Sponsors of the conservation and crops tour are six local agencies whose work relates to agriculture: Northwest Texas Research Demonstration Program; Texas Agricultural Extension Service; Salt Fork Soil Conservation Service; Farmers Home Administration; Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Program, and Collingsworth County Technical Action Panel.

This year's tour includes cotton variety, grass, terracing, and forage sorghum demonstrations, along with explanations of the loan program of FHA.

This tour is open to the public, the sponsors emphasize, and because the economy of the county is wholly dependent on agriculture, they urge business men, as well as farmers and livestock men to attend.

The first stop will be a cotton variety demonstration at the Troy Thomason farm. The experiment will be discussed by Don Reeves, county agricultural agent; Bob Metzger, area agronomist; and Jim Valentine, area soil chemist.

Tests to determine the winter-kill resistance of Klein 75 and Buffelgrass are being carried out with Texas A&M at the Dwyane Scott farm. There are three varieties of Klein, but 75 is the one in which they are interested. Planted this spring, it went through the summer well, said County Agent Reeves. Some of the tests are in rows, other plots are broadcast.

This is an upstanding grass, with real palatability and high tonnage. If it makes the winters, Extension personnel feel it will have real value here.

Buffelgrass also appears to be prolific, but those working with it don't know if cattle will find it as palatable. It also was sprigged this spring. Reeves and Reed will be the narrators. Tour members will see a Knaf

Gruver Greyhounds to Meet Rockets Here

Two undefeated teams meet on Powell Field Friday night, Sept. 26, when the Skyrockets entertain the Gruver Greyhounds. Game time is 8 p.m.

This will be the last non-conference game for the Skyrockets.

The Class A Greyhounds have a typical Gruver team. They are experienced, and their roster shows they carry 13 seniors.

They are not exceptionally big, but will outweigh the Rockets by several pounds per man, said Head Coach Thayne Amoneit. They are quick, agile and they have a tradition of winning.

The Greyhounds have an excellent defense, their first two games show. They use a 5-3-2 alignment and use a lot of "stunting" maneuvers.

Offensively they are not as explosive as some other teams, but they run the sweep and trap plays well and seem to make every play count.

While Coach Bill Mayfield has shaped a team that operates as a unit, several individual stand-outs have emerged.

No. 23, Larry Gumfroy, 150 pounds, a halfback, is fast and an excellent ball carrier. QB Donny Henson, 145, is also one of Gruver's top players, and at fullback is Wesley Maupin, 160, while the wingback is John Irwin, 143.

In the Greyhounds' line, No. 76, Kim Cluck, 196, at tackle, and split end Dwight Gillispie, No. 20 and weighing 150, are fine players.

Gruver has defeated two Class AA teams this year: Stinnett 22 to 6 in the opener and Memphis, which has an inexperienced line, 7-0 last week. The Greyhounds won their district last year and defeated Wheeler in the bi-district, then lost in the regional.

The Skyrockets are still beset by injuries. Ricky Nall and Nicky Watts, two of the more experienced players, were not working out Tuesday and Coach Amoneit said it is uncertain if they will get to play in the Gruver game.

If they are out, the backfield will probably consist of Charles Mauldin, Danny West, Larry Robinson and Hot Rod Jones.

The Rockets still have some improving to do, their coach said, although they played much better ball against Wheeler last week than they did in the opener with Hollis.

"There is improvement in the execution of plays, downfield blocking, line blocking, and also the backs are better able to set up blocks when carrying the ball," said the coach.

"I think the kids will improve each week, barring injuries," he said.

Memphis Man to Preach Sunday

Billy Ed Dixon of Travis Baptist Church, Memphis, will be the guest preacher at Faith Baptist Church for the evening service Sunday, Sept. 28. This marks the close of Youth Week for that congregation.

Breaks Arm in Football

Keith Davis, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Davis received a broken right elbow during the Wellington-Clauden Eighth Grade football game on Thursday night, Sept. 18.

He was hospitalized overnight at St. Joseph's, then transferred to Amarillo Friday morning.

Coach Carroll Nunneley said the accident occurred on the kickoff after the first touchdown, when Keith tackled the Clarendon youngster carrying the ball.

Highway Men at Design Meet

O. V. Johnson, resident highway engineer, Glen McLain and Willie Gragson, draftsmen with the Texas Highway Department attended a three-day highway design school in Lubbock Monday through Wednesday, Sept. 15 to 17.

New methods and procedures in highway design were discussed by department personnel.

This school was for offices in the Childress, Abilene, Amarillo and Lubbock districts.

Skyrockets Ride Mustangs Sept. 19

By JACK FORD

The Wellington Skyrockets continued on their winning way by downing a good Wheeler Mustang eleven 38 to 12 before an estimated 1200 football fans at Powell Field in Wellington Friday night, Sept. 19.

It was a game that kept the fans on their feet much of the time, and the Rocket fans enjoyed watching some great running and blocking by their team.

The Rockets were in control of the game from the opening kickoff until the final play of the game. The offense and defense players both did some good work.

The Rockets won the toss and received the kickoff on their own 25-yard line. In eight plays L. Robinson, D. West and R. Nall moved the ball to the Mustang 5. Danny West ran into the end zone for the first Rocket touchdown. Charles Mauldin ran for the extra 2 points. Rockets 8, Mustangs 0.

The Rockets came right back to score again after stopping the Mustangs who were forced to punt. A bad pass from center to the Mustang punter and pressure from Rocket Danny Brooks stopped the Mustangs on their own 26 where the Rockets took over.

D. West and L. Robinson moved the ball to the Mustang 24-yard line, then C. Mauldin threw a screen pass to L. Robinson, who followed his blockers perfectly, for the second touchdown. The try for extra point failed. Rockets 14, Mustangs 0 at the end of the first quarter.

The Mustangs came right back after a bad pass on a punt play put the Rockets on their own 7-yard line, where the Mustangs took over. In four plays they scored. The try for extra point failed. Rockets 14, Mustangs 6.

About midway of the second quarter the Rockets scored again. The Mustangs had a drive going until L. Robinson intercepted a Mustang pass on the 5-yard line and behind some great blocking, especially by Teddy McLain and Mark Kilian, ran 95 yards for a touchdown. Try for extra points was good. Rockets 22, Mustangs 6 at the half.

Opening the second half, neither team was able to move the ball. Toward the end of the third quarter the Rockets finally put another drive together.

The Rockets forced the Mustangs to punt and put the ball in play on the Rocket 39. D. West, L. Robinson, N. Watts and R. Nall moved the ball to the Mustang 6-yard line and then D. West ran for a touchdown. C. Mauldin ran for the 2 extra points. Rockets 30, Mustangs 6 at the end of the third quarter.

The Rockets again took advantage of a Mustang fumble recovered on the Mustang 39 by a Rocket. D. West, James Jones and Charles Mauldin drove to the Mustang 2. Then J. Jones ran into the end zone for the last Rocket touchdown. Mauldin then passed to Dallas Holland for the 2 extra points. Rockets 38, Mustangs 6.

The Mustangs got their final touchdown drive going and after taking the kickoff and putting the ball in play on their own 39, the Mustangs drove for 61 yards and the last touch-

B Team Meets Clarendon B Here Sept. 25

The Wellington Skyrocket B team will be host to the Clarendon B team at Powell Field Thursday evening, Sept. 25.

Game time is 7:00 p.m. This will be the second meeting for the two, as Clarendon won a close 14-6 game from the Rockets Sept. 18.

Coach James Stavenhagen is confident his team is going to be hard to beat this time.

"I think the kids were a little nervous and a little anxious when they felt they had to score," he said of last week's game. "I think with a little work on the interior linemen, our defense will be pretty good."

The offensive team is also coming in for some hard work this week to sharpen its playing.

B team cheerleaders will lead fans in cheering on their team. These include Jan McGill, Mitzie Pendleton, Landi White, Carole Cochran, Pam Patterson and Karen Maxwell.

Skyrocket B Drops Opener to Clarendon

The Skyrocket B team lost a defensive battle to the Clarendon Broncho B 14 to 6 at Broncho Field Thursday, Sept. 18.

It was the Rockets' first game, but Clarendon had defeated the Memphis B team a week earlier.

"Both teams played good defense, but our offense will have to improve some if we are going to win ball games," declared Coach James Stavenhagen. "We've got some young boys who are still not sharp with their blocking. Once they get a little better coordination on this, I think they will be able to move on football."

Clarendon scored first on a 2-yard plunge off right tackle, then a quarterback keep around right end gave the Bronchos the extra 2 points.

Clarendon kept this lead until thirty seconds before the first half ended, when Wellington mounted an offensive drive and Nickey Guthrie scored on the last play of the half, behind blocking of Allen Havens and Cecil Parker. The try for extra point was no good.

Clarendon scored again on the first series of downs after the half, but try for extra point failed.

From that point on, it was purely a defensive game on the part of both ball clubs. Wellington got several good drives started but couldn't push them through for the score.

Stavenhagen named as showing up well on defense Denny Carter, David Hodges and Jackie Pendleton.

8th Grade Spoils Clarendon Record to Take Opener 44-16

Wellington 8th grade football team opened the 1969 season with an impressive victory over Clarendon 8th grade, 44 to 16, in a game played Thursday, Sept. 18 at Powell Field.

"The overall team effort was exceptionally good for the first game of the season," said Coach Carroll Nunneley. "This is the first loss for Clarendon 8th grade in three years, so we feel elated over this victory."

The game was close during the first half, with each team moving the ball well and scoring. Wellington led 22 to 16 at half time. The Firecrackers dominated the second half, to score 22 points and not allowing Clarendon to score.

"We made some defensive adjustments at halftime that made the difference in the ball game," said Coach Nunneley.

Wellington received the opening kickoff on their own 35-yard line and moved the ball down to Clarendon's 5, where Clarendon intercepted a pass in the end zone to stop the first drive.

The visitors advanced the ball to their 40-yard line, but had to punt. The Firecrackers drove downfield 65 yards in 8 plays and scored from 5 yards out on an end run by Ivory Darton. The try for extra point failed.

Taking the kickoff, Clarendon went about 60 yards on running and passing plays and scored on an end run. The try for extra point was good and Wellington trailed 8-6.

Wellington scored once more in the first quarter on an end run by Mike Williams and the extra point was made by John Runnels to put the team ahead 14-8.

Wellington scored in the second quarter on a run by Ivory Darton with the extra points made by Mike Williams.

Then Clarendon scored with 10 seconds left in the period and the try for extra points was good.

Leading the Wellington scoring during the second half was Ivory Darton with runs of 70 yards and 85 yards. John Runnels scored from 50 yards out on an off-tackle play. Mike Williams made another touchdown on a 70-yard run around end and Runnels added the extra points to bring the final score to 44-16.

"Our linemen did a great job of blocking for our backs, enabling them to score," Nunneley declared. He named as outstanding linemen Terry Futch, Steve Kane, Dicke Johnson, Robin Maddox, Timmy Holton, Paul Wilbur, and Richard Sanders. Defensive standouts were Darton, Wilbur, Futch and Holton.

All squad members saw action in the game.

Collingsworth County FARM NEWS

By Don Reeves
County Agricultural Agent

The fall armyworm is still causing heavy damage to many fields in Collingsworth County. This pest attacks small grains, grain sorghum, corn and grasses, as well as alfalfa, peas and beans.

There may be as many as 5 to 10 generations of fall army worms each year. The larvae stage lasts about 20 days during which time they reach a length of one to one and one-half inches. When the larvae are full grown, they dig into the soil about an inch and pupate. The adult female emerges from the ground within two weeks and generally flies some distance before laying eggs in masses of about 150; female army worms usually produce about 1000 eggs.

The full grown larvae vary in color from light tan to green to nearly black. They have three yellowish white hair lines down the back from head to tail; on the side next to the yellow lines is a darker strip spotted with red. There is a prominent white inverted Y on the front of the head.

They can be controlled with insecticides and the fields should be watched very carefully as they can build up very fast and completely destroy a field of small grain in a short time.

Prussic Acid in Sorghum
Recent rains over much of the area have brought on regrowth of sorghums, sudan grass, sudan, sorghum hybrids and Johnson grass that suffered from the dry weather this summer or that was recently harvested. And this situation may pose a threat to grazing livestock.

New growth on sorghum sometimes develops a high prussic acid content and becomes a hazard to grazing animals.

The same situation develops when the growth of these sorghums is stopped by a freeze or frost. So farmers are urged to keep an eye on their stock for the next few months if their animals are grazing any of the different sorghum types.

Prussic acid acts quickly in the digestive tract of an animal. It can kill an animal within a very short time after the plant is eaten. Whether or not a poisoned animal can be saved depends on how soon the veterinarian can get to it.

Animals that have been poisoned may stagger and act sleepy before suddenly dropping dead. Severe muscular twitching is sometimes seen.

Labored breathing and frothing from a wide-open mouth are common symptoms. An animal may grind its teeth and turn its head into its flank. The breath usually has an almond-like odor and mucous membranes appear congested. Death results from suffocation, since the poison prevents the exchange of oxygen from the blood to the tissue.

Forage containing prussic acid can be fed safely if it is cut and allowed to cure completely in the field, or if it is put up as silage and not fed for several months. Mature plants with few suckers are seldom dangerous if growth has been normal. Grain sorghums or sudan stubble regrowth grazed in late fall can be very dangerous.

Frances Hill, Adolf Otto Schmidt Wed in Chapel Ceremony at Houston

Miss Frances Olivia Hill, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Creed Hill, and Adolf Otto Schmidt, of Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Adolf Schmidt of Emden, West Germany were wed Saturday, September 20 in the chapel of Bellaire Methodist Church, Bellaire, Texas.

The Reverend Jack Shelton solemnized the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory silk organza, combined with re-embroidered Alencon lace. In empress silhouette, the bodice of lace in the designer's own "bowknot" pattern was traced with bridal jewels. More lace accented the gently flared skirt and traced a path along the attached sweep train of illusion which cascaded to cathedral length. Her heirloom veil of Brussels lace was secured to a lace covered pillowbox, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias enhanced by two heirloom lace handkerchiefs.

Attendants for the bride were Mrs. Granvel Killian of Hollis, Oklahoma, matron of honor, Mrs. Frank Hoffer of Dallas, and Mrs. Charles Rhodes of Houston. Their identical gowns were of olive green velvet combined with peau satin, and they carried airy bouquets of yellow flowers.

Best man was Hans Sautter of San Francisco, California. Groomsmen were Volkmar Schmidt of Emden, West Germany, brother of the groom, and John Catlin of San Antonio. Serving as ushers were Timm Holz and Gerhard Steinfeldt, both of Houston. Mervin B. Cook of Austin was the soloist. The rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. John T. Jones of Houston at the Tejas Club.

Following the nuptial service reception guests were received at the Petroleum Club of Houston. The bride's table, where coffee and punch were served, was centered with a silver epergne of yellow flowers. The bride's cake and the bridegroom's cake, on nearby smaller tables, were encircled with smilax.

Miss Freda Walker of Midland and Miss Susan Mitchell of Houston alternated at the guest register at the reception. The couple departed for a honeymoon on the Gulf coast. Pre-nuptial courtesies in Wellington included a brunch given by Mesdames J. M. Orr,

Congratulations to the Sponsors of the 13th Annual Conservation Crops Tour September 30

This tour is a showcase of experimental work being done in this county as part of state-wide tests of Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

It is Collingsworth's Contribution toward making agriculture more profitable for all Texas farmers.

Two Cotton Tests

We call your attention especially to two cotton tests.

THE COTTON VARIETY DEMONSTRATION at the Troy Thomason farm was planted with seed from Farmers Co-op Gin. You will hear some of the Extension Service top agronomists and soil chemists discuss these. In the current cost-price squeeze, the right variety makes a difference.

THE WILT RESISTANT COTTON VARIETY DEMONSTRATION at Pat O'Hairs features experimental varieties, some not yet on the market. They are important to you, too. Disease resistant plants can determine how well you can stay in the cotton producing business.

Farm Tour Will Show How Collingsworth Helps Texas

What we see on the 13th Annual Conservation and Crops Tour Tuesday, September 30, is important to the county far beyond the three hours it takes to go on it. And it is also important far beyond Collingsworth.

The Northwest Texas Research Demonstration Program is part of the Texas Extension Service, and the results of tests carried out here become part of the recommendations that agency makes to the farmers of Texas. Some of the work completed in the past is accepted not only in Texas, but through the Southwest.

The Salt Fork Soil Conservation District has been a pace setter in conservation and soil building in Texas for many years. What is shown this year is further proof that their measures work.

In this day of skyrocketing farm costs, Farmers Home Administration has become the means by which many Collingsworth County farmers can own their land, and by which young men without other backing can farm.

What these agencies have to show next Tuesday is interesting. We hope every farmer and business man will try to attend.

Other Editors Say . . .

Hidden Costs

A practicing physician of a large western city, specializing in obstetrics and gynecology, has analyzed the so-called "hidden costs" of medical care. In 1949, the physician's charges were lower than now, but so were his costs. In 1949 he charged $125 for delivering a baby. Today the figure is $225. Similar increases apply to his other charges.

Commenting, the Industrial News Review has this to say:

The reasons for these increases sound familiar. Instead of paying $2.50 a foot for downtown office space, this doctor now pays $6.00 per foot. Instead of $125 per month for nurse and secretary, he now pays over $500 per month. And so it goes through a long list of overhead expenses which have doubled or tripled in the last 20 years. One of the largest cost increases results from maintaining an elaborate system of books to meet requirements of governmental agencies. The doctor, however, feels the patient today is getting a much better bargain than her mother did and adds, "The real culprit . . . is inflation . . . the greatest sources of 'hidden costs' in the private practice of medicine."

Many of us have a curiously blind spot about inflation. We consider it eminently reasonable that our own charges for our goods or services should be two or three times what they were 20 years ago. Yet we are almost invariably shocked to find we must pay similar increases for the services or goods of others. We seem unable to grasp the fact that inflation exacts its toll in every walk of life. Medical care is no exception. —The Watauga Democrat, Boone, N. C.

Looking to the Future

They're safely home, thank God!
In nine unforgettable days, with the eyes of the world, spellbound, upon them, they traveled to the moon, walked the lunar surface, and returned triumphantly to earth.

Now it's time for all of us, figuratively, to come down to earth, to help plan a practical future in this fantastic new frontier. We shall always look backward to July 20, 1969, for it's a date that forever will loom large in this history books, but it's important now that we look forward and not backward.

The exciting job of exploring space is only begun. The first unsteady step has been taken. Out there in the stars are new worlds to conquer with who knows what miracles to discover. Our leaders must contemplate the task before us with pragmatism yet with vision and optimism.

There are, of course, many pressing problems to be solved on earth, problems that will require the attention of our best minds plus vast outlays of money. We cannot afford to neglect them.

But then the entire program that sent Americans to the moon cost us only about one-half of one per cent of our gross national product. We therefore believe that we can pursue our space explorations and still have the resources, both intellectual and fiscal, to solve our domestic problems.

In short, we believe America has what it takes. We believe we can look to the stars without being stargazed. We have faith that the same ingenuity that conquered the moon can conquer all problems.

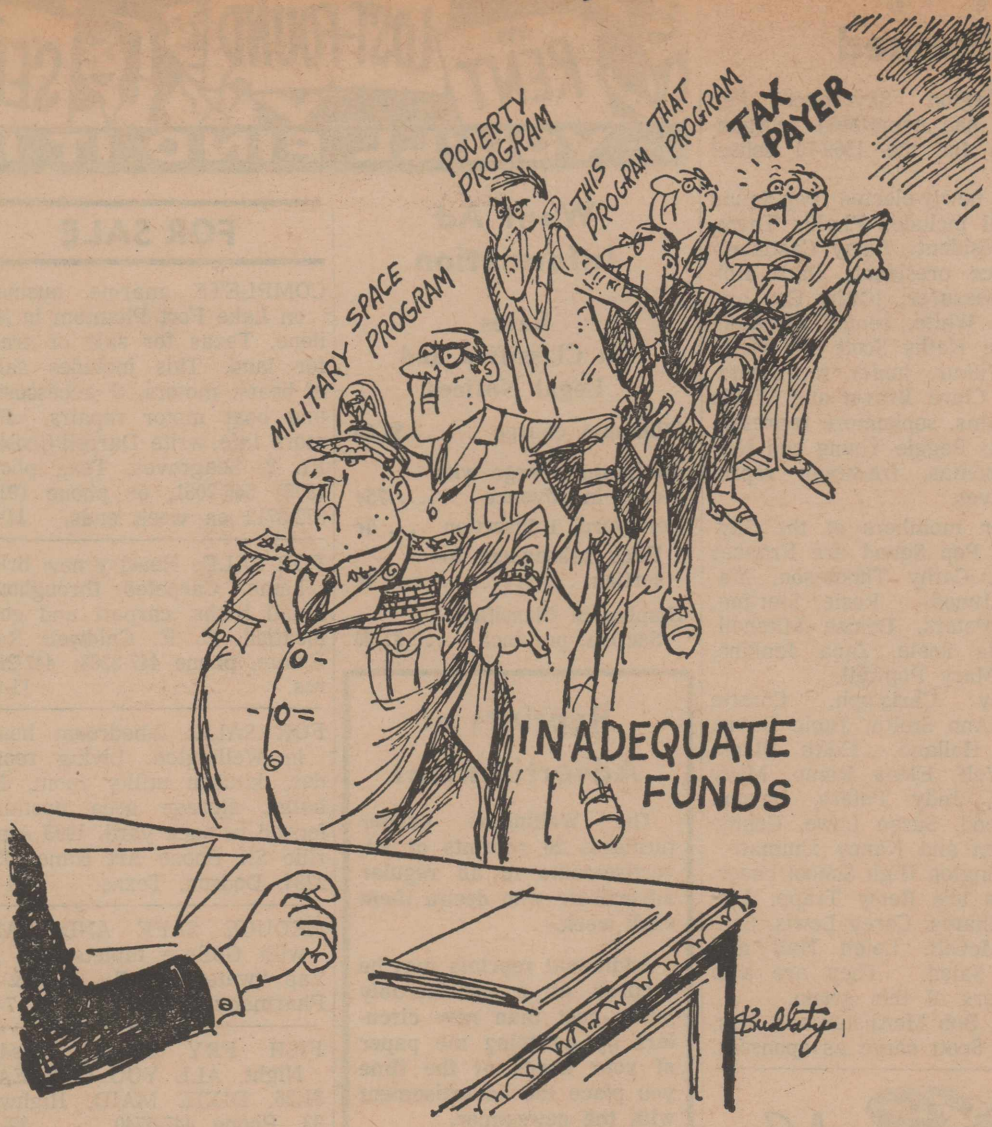

In the meantime, welcome home, brave Apollo spacemen! Our pride in you is as boundless as the space you traveled!

Keeping up with the Jones would be a lot easier if the Joneses weren't trying to keep up with the Smiths.

Financial Report

AUSTIN.—Gov. Preston Smith has signed into law a $5.8 billion 1970-71 state budget. This was after vetoing $4.4 million in miscellaneous spending items. Yet the expenditure set an all-time record.

Earlier, Smith approved a new record $348.6 million tax bill which takes effect Oct. 1. (In addition to state revenue, cities will get an estimated $6 million a year due to extension of the sales tax to beer and liquor. Sales tax rate goes up from 3 to 3.25 per cent.)

Smith also signed other acts of the special session, including legislation creating 28 new Texas district courts. He will name all judges to serve until the next general election. This may be the largest single amount of judicial patronage assigned a Texas governor at one time in state history.

Tax bill as passed by the Legislature provided plenty of revenue to fill the State's needs but Smith said his vetoes are "justified for the sake of economy perhaps more than anything else." Many of the items vetoed, he noted, were not part of the original House or Senate appropriations acts, and some were not even requested by agencies.

Gov. Smith vetoed the following items as now "unjustified or non-essential": Construction funds totaling $2.9 million for the Dallas Neuro-psychiatric Institute; $262,717 for the Department of Public Safety sub-district headquarters in McAllen; $250,000 for the Junction adjunct of Texas A&M; $160,000 for Texas Maritime Academy Pelican Island Development.

Also an appropriation of $225,000 for contracts of private lawyers to assist the Attorney General in tort claims cases in 1971; $172,000 for park land acquisition in Hardeman and/or Motley counties; $207,500 for acquiring land and development of Port Lavaca Causeway State Park; $50,000 for drilling a water well at Lyndon B. Johnson State Park in Gillespie County; $25,000 for Longhorn Cavern State Park; $29,000 for completion of a master plan for the Red River Authority; $60,000 for a fish raising facility at Stephen F. Austin College in Nacogdoches; and $65,000 for environmental pollution control studies at Prairie View Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Barnes for Senate?

Is Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, 31, about to become a candidate for the U.S. Senate against Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, 66?

Nobody can truthfully claim to know the answer to that, including Barnes himself, who says he has not yet made up his mind.

Yet, Gov. Smith opened up new speculation on the subject during the recent Southern Governors' Conference at Williamsburg, Va.

Asked by reporters if he thinks Barnes could beat Yarborough, Smith said he believes that is possible—depending on the kind of races run by each, their financial resources and a lot of imponderables.

Smith didn't claim to know, but the fact he was willing to discuss the prospective race at all was an indicator of the widespread circulation of the Barnes-Yarborough contest rumor.

Smith also told newsmen he feels Yarborough is in the best political position he has enjoyed since he went to Washington more than a decade ago.

Smith will, he emphasized, take no hand in the Senate race no matter who the candidates are.

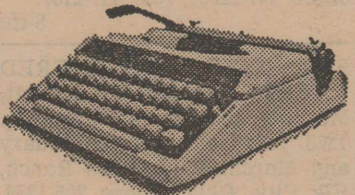

Lease Sales Set

A total of 338 tracts of University of Texas lands (111,812 acres) in West Texas will be placed on lease auction Dec. 16. Nov. 4, some 68 tracts totaling 496,871 acres will be offered in a school land sale.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said 125 tracts of university land in Hudspeth County will be offered at bonuses of not less than $1,000 per half section and at annual lease rentals of $1.50 an acre. This was reduced from former requirements of $5,000 per quarter section and $2 per acre. Former requirements will govern other tract leases.

In school land sale, 37 tracts in El Paso County had acceptable bonus reduced to $5 an acre and annual rental to $2. Other upland and riverbed tracts will command a $20 per acre bonus and $5 per acre annual rental. Those lying under bays, inlets and Gulf of Mexico lands will go at $25 an acre and a $5 per acre annual rental. Most of school

CROSSROADS REPORT

Report is that the law-writers are having some trouble getting down on paper the President's thinking on a new welfare system.

He threw them a curve by wanting the word "work" stuck somewhere in the section dealing with able-bodied welfare, and the wordsmiths can't agree on the correct definition of this formerly respected word.

Which is understandable, because Work, being effort that produces something useful to society, naturally is way out of the world of the Potomac pack of policy-primping professional public payrollites.

Therefore, they are not eligible to make contributions or receive benefits as elected personnel. Only officers of the two houses who are required to take the constitutional oath of office, can be so considered.

School Districts Warned

More than a dozen Texas school districts have drawn warning of deficiencies from the State Board of Education.

Crosby Independent School District lost its accreditation but can regain it when it meets state requirements.

Alpine received final warnings it may lose accreditation if conditions are not approved.

Also warned were Antelope, Bertram, Bridgeport, Calvert, Hemphill, Masonic Home, Hewitt, Rains, Elizario, Spur, Little Elm and Timpon.

State Board decided to permit 16-year-olds to enroll in adult basic education programs. New department of special education and special schools organization was approved.

Tiny insects, smaller than a grain of rice, have been responsible for killing 33 1/2 million cubic feet of pine timber in East Texas over the eight year period 1958-1965. Timber killed would build 3000 average sized homes. The culprit is the Southern pine beetle. The Texas Forest Service, U. S. CLEARINGHOUSE PROCESSES

Before checks reach the clearinghouse they must be sorted. The checks are separated according to the banks on which they are drawn.

Sorting is done electronically by means of magnetic numbers. There are two sets of numbers along the lower part of each check. The first set is used by the Federal Reserve Collection System.

The second set is the individual code allotted to bank customers. There are no two checking account codes alike.

After sorting according to banks, the amounts are totaled. These totals are recorded on slips and attached to each check bundle.

Messengers from each bank go to the clearinghouse with packages of checks. Packages are then exchanged. Thus each messenger receives checks drawn on his own bank.

When differences are computed, settlements are made.

SCD Converts Barn for Stock Show Use

Salt Fork Soil Conservation District is converting its machinery barn, located just behind the SCS office on 9th Street, to include facilities for a livestock show barn, Gary Reed, work unit conservationist, has announced.

It will be ready for use for the Livestock Division of the Collingsworth County Free Fair Oct. 17 and 18, he said.

The building, approximately 40 by 150 feet, will have a small section retained for machinery storage.

Lights were installed and a wash rack is being put in so exhibitors can wash and prepare their entries. Tie racks were added so calves can be kept inside during the show except for the periods when they are being judged, Mr. Reed said. A caliche floor was put down.

The fenced machinery yard will be available for judging the calves.

"This building belongs to the people of Salt Fork Soil Conservation District. Soil Conservation just administers it," he added.

Both the SCS personnel and Fair officials feel these facilities are better arranged and will make for easier handling of the calves.

Present plans are to retain the swine division at the old show barn on Amarillo Street between 7th and 8th, and move all calves to the SCD barn.

County Agent Don Reeves has indicated that a Youth Calf Show probably will be held in the winter, just before local calves are taken on the stock show circuit.

C. B. Carter Condition Same

There is little change recently in the condition of C. B. Carter, who is in St. Anthony's Hospital, Amarillo, his son, Charles Carter, said Monday.

Mr. Carter was critically injured when he was struck by a car as he assisted at the scene of an earlier accident, several weeks ago. The accident occurred near his home west of Hollis.

Mr. Carter is out of intensive care but he is not allowed to have visitors, Charles Carter said. Doctors have told the family he should begin to show improvement in about three weeks.

However, they have also said it will be about three months before they can set the bones in his leg, broken in three places in the accident.

August Bond Sales Reported

Saving Bond sales in Collingsworth County during the month of August totaled $2,026 according to County Chairman John Forbis.

The year-to-date sales totaled $35,575 for 36% of the 1969 goal of $100,000.

During August total sales of E and H Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares in Texas was $15,376,241, an increase of 6.8% over sales during August of 1968.

Tammy will represent Montana in the national competition to be in St. Paul, Minn., in January. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Raburn, 2921 Edwards, Butte, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Raburn.

Pam Patterson Places Third

Pam Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Patterson of Loco, placed third in the barrel race of the youth division of the Tri State Fair in Amarillo.

Her brother, Bart Patterson, and Susan Lowe also participated in the horse show events.

Muri Lacy Comes Home

Muri Lacy, who was critically injured in a one-car accident near Hollis Sept. 4, returned home from Amarillo on Thursday, Sept. 18.

Mr. Lacy is able to be up, and drove his car to town Monday, but he still must take things easy, Mrs. Lacy said.

Reed, Roper See No-Tillage Farming Work at Bushland

Gary Reed and Claude Roper of the Soil Conservation Service, along with other SCS personnel from the Amarillo and Pampa districts, visited the Southern Great Plains Experiment Station at Bushland Tuesday, Sept. 16 to observe demonstrations of no-tillage farming.

"You just go in and plant in the stubble, then you use lots of herbicides," Mr. Reed said in a brief summation of the method. There is no cultivation whatsoever.

"I think it has a place, for with the price squeeze we are in, we are going to have to cut down on the cost of operation. In Salt Fork Soil Conservation District we would have to use a modified system of the no-tillage farming, but I think it has merit."

The demonstrations at Bushland are now in the third year of a five-year program.

Yields have been a little better than in conventional tillage, using the same varieties, Mr.

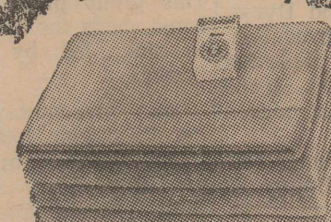

Reed reported.

C. E. Van Doran discussed dryland stubble mulch tillage and moisture conservation. Allen King, area agronomist for SCS, also spoke.

The Wellington men also heard discussions of feedlot management with regard to waste disposal, then visited the Bushland Station.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Tuesday, Sept. 23, brought in the first genuine norther of the 1969 season with its freshness leavening the fragrant smells of lush vegetation. It came on the eve of the Harvest Moon which is the grandest moon of all the seasons. It will reach its zenith of brilliance Sept. 25; but the magic of the Harvest Moon is not its fill. The marvel that makes it the favorite of the romantics is the natural fact that it rises near sundown and stays aloft until well after midnight and it is almost full when it rises for six evenings. It is hallowed in song and story on the printed page and the spoken word. The Harvest Moon is the moon young lovers will remember and the moon old lovers remember still.

The City of Quanah is another of our neighbors that publishes a financial statement as required by law. It actually publishes two statements in one. One is a statement of the financial condition of the city proper and the other is a statement of the water department. This is good as far as it goes; but the City of Aspermont publishes a financial statement that is more in keeping with the spirit and intent of the law. Aspermont publishes a statement that reflects the condition of the city. It also shows the amount of money received from various sources and the amount paid out for salaries and supplies, and these are broken down into the water department, police department, etc. It is the sort of statement that tells the taxpayers something about their city government. Wellington publishes no financial statement at all.

Amarillo passed a city sales tax this week by a vote of nearly four to one. The pitch most frequently heard was that a good part of the tax would be paid by out of town shoppers, and eliminate the need of increasing the tax on city property. That is true of a sales tax anywhere. One of the main arguments for a state sales tax was that tourists would pay a good portion of the total tax take.

Even so it is interesting to read a viewpoint of Amarillo that has nothing to do with taxes. It comes from the typewriter of H. M. Baggerly of The Tulia Herald:

If only Swisher County was out-of-step with Amarillo, it might be suggested that this is only a political disagreement, a "liberal-conservative" problem.

But what about Perryton and Ochiltree County... the most conservative area, possibly, in the United States? Ochiltree and Swisher counties have little if anything in common politically... yet, Perryton views Amarillo much as does Swisher. Perryton sees Amarillo as the city slicker who would siphon off every retail dollar from the North Plains... then steal a prospective meat packing plant, in effect killing the goose that laid the golden egg!

What about Friona? Parmer County's voting record is much more like Ochiltree's than Swisher's. Yet the mayor of Friona said last week that Friona would prefer to join the South Plains Council of Governments than one which might arise in the Northern Panhandle.

"Lubbock is moving," the mayor said. "Amarillo is standing still."

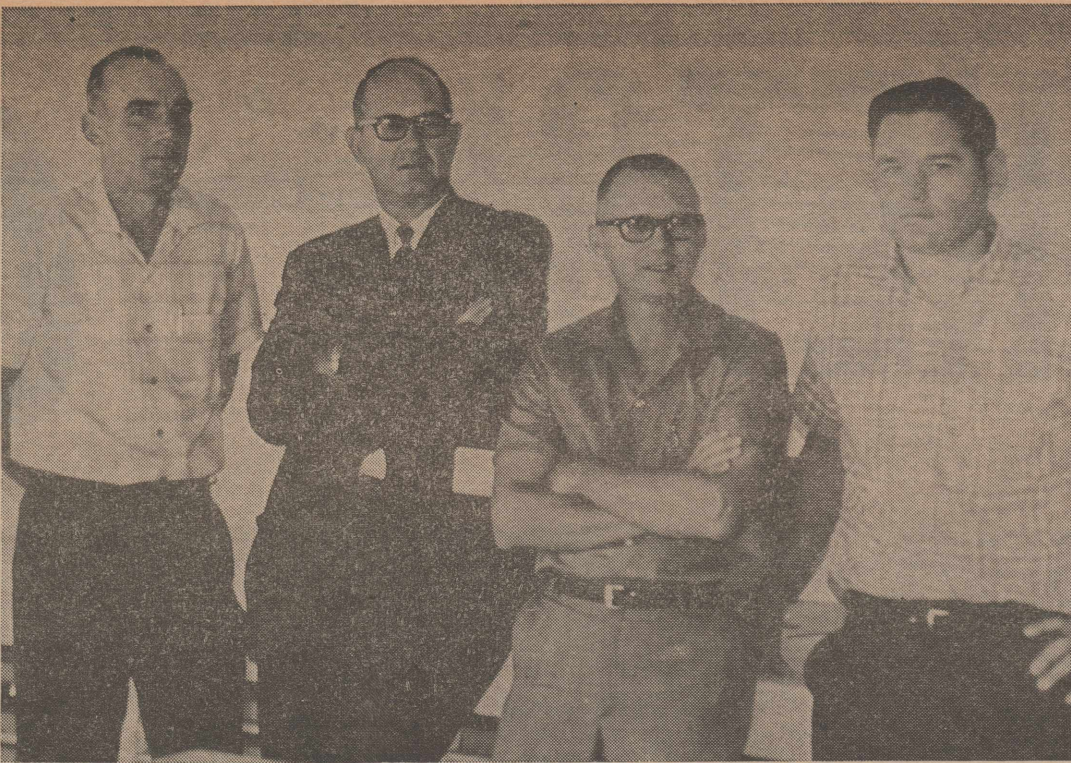

There may be those who would disagree with some of our observations... but none can deny that a feeling quite unlike that described in the earlier paragraphs of this column exists between Amarillo and the towns in her trade territory.

When Amarillo lost her air base, we didn't hear a sympathetic word in Swisher County! Such would not have been the case 25 or 50 years ago. And we doubt that many tears were shed in Perryton, Pampa, Friona, Dimmitt.

Amarillo... and surrounding towns in many ways are separated by half a world. Is there anything that can be done about this situation? We certainly hope so. It isn't a healthy situation. The area towns need Amarillo... and certainly Amarillo needs the area towns.

It is an asset to the small town to have a city within reasonable distance for professional entertainment, for merchandise not available in the small town, for transportation facilities, for medical specialists.

Both the city and the town need to recognize their de-

SECOND IN TOURNEY

Winning second place in the four flights of the Wellington State Bank Golf Tournament Sunday were these

Sixth Masters

J. Needham Wins Golf Tournament Sept. 21

Jackie Needham shot a six under par for the 54 holes to win first place in the 1st flight in the Wellington State Bank's Sixth Masters Tournament held Sept. 18 to 21. Other first place winners were: Tony Hurst, flight 2; L. B. Bratten, flight 3, and J. L. Harper, flight 4.

Needham selected a set of four woods for his prize; Tony Hurst a set of three woods and L. B. Bratten chose a Combo cart and J. L. Harper picked out a golf bag as their prizes.

Prizes were awarded to the top six players in each flight, making 24 awards in all, consisting of golf woods, combo cart, golf jackets, golf club covers, golf gloves, golf balls and putters.

"It was the largest tournament we have had to date," C. T. Hubbard said, "with 47 golfers participating in the tournament." Qualifying rounds were started on Thursday and continued through Friday and the final play ending Sunday. "We found that compacting the tournament into a single week end instead of spreading it out over two, as we have done in the past, proved to be much more satisfactory to the players," Mr. Hubbard declared.

Second place winners in the various flights were: Bob McAlister 1; Dr. C. L. Harrison 2; Cal Hurst 3, and Paul Hawkins 4.

Third place winners were: Willie Gragson 1, Kenny Brown 2, Mat Johnson 3, and R. T. Savage 4.

Fourth place winners: Henry Sullivan 1, Jackie Duncan 2, Kenneth Patterson 3 and R. L. Templeton 4.

Fifth place winners: Bill Long 1, John Coffee 2, Dee Burba 3 and Jack Needham 4.

Sixth place winners: Doc Barjenbruch 1, Mack Saied Jr. 2, Jerel Morris 3 and James Sullivan 4.

pendence on each other.

Mrs. Ed Henard sent a letter saying:

"I can't resist writing you—nothing could be worse than dove in stew. I always dip them in batter then fry crispy brown and serve on a platter. Alas each is entitled to his own view. Perhaps there is something worse than dove in stew."

Note: Everyone who has ever been in hollering distance of a chuck wagon knows that it never pays to argue with the cook; but I would like to observe that it is just too bad that a dove does not taste like a quail.

In the twenties and early thirties Joe Hardy, Dick Wiley and others held an annual dove stew on each September 1 at the old country club which is now the site of the Baptist Encampment. They served dove stew, beer and bread with an assortment of tidbits to nibble on until the stew was done. It may have been the beer; but I thought the stew was delicious.

demonstration here, also. An interesting experimental crop, it was planted here for the first time last year, grew prolifically and produced heavy tonnage. Knaf is used in the paper and wallboard industries. As yet there is no market for it in this area. Mr. Scott and Frank Petr, area agronomist, will discuss this crop.

A wilt resistant cotton variety test will be seen at the Pat O'Hair farm three miles south of Quail. None of the varieties growing in this test show signs of wilt disease. Mr. Reeves said, and two varieties look good. They are being checked for production along with wilt resistance.

The speakers here will be Mr. Scott and Bob Berry, plant pathologist.

The next stop will be at the Danny Davis farm at Rolla, where Raymond Hodges, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, Wellington, will discuss FHA farm loans.

Just south of Wellington, tour members will see parallel terraces on the farm belonging to Mrs. J. D. Wilson. This type of terracing continues to gain in popularity. Mr. Reed will be the narrator.

The David Baumgardner farm three miles south of town will be the final stop, where two demonstrations will be visited.

The first is a forage sorghum variety demonstration, which is considered of major importance in view of the county's growing livestock interest. A number of varieties will be seen. Discussing them will be Mr. Reeves, Mr. Metzger and Ed Garnet, area farm management specialist.

The last plot will be an Er-mela Love Grass demonstration, discussed by Mr. Reed. This is one of the varieties of love grass that seems especially adapted to this area.
