Area Business Men Estimate Gas Shutdown Losses Top $500,000 Daily

Closing down for a day of businesses in Lubbock and on the South Plains costs a conservatively estimated $500,000 in volume, a survey of representative businesses in Lubbock and over the area revealed today.

In Lubbock alone, business curtailment caused by the gas shortage holidays totals at least $250,000 a day, perhaps much more, it was estimated.

Taking 1945 business census figures compiled by the U. S. Bureau of Census Lubbock has a total of 1,269 businesses of various types. Of this total, 757 are retail establishments, 127 wholesale, 66 manufacturing and 319 service establishments. Figuring an average of less than $200 in receipts a day for a day such as today, business volume for these firms would total more than $250,000.

On the basis of the 1945 figures, an average day's volume of business in Lubbock was $238,200. Retail sales during that year ran $38,739,000 while wholesale firms had a volume of $35,603,000 and manufacturing firms turned out $9,022,000 in finished products.

In 1945, these 1,269 firms had a total of 4,275 employes who were paid $4,033,186 in wages.

Conservatively estimating Lubbock's growth during the past three years, the total number of firms has probably increased above the 1,500-mark with an estimated 6,000 employes drawing $10,000,000 in annual wages.

Many of these employes in retail, wholesale and manufacturing plants lose during the gas holidays because they are paid on an hourly basis.

Closing of grocery stores in Lubbock alone costs an estimated $50,000 in receipts, wholesalers estimated today. They said grocers averaged about a 10 per cent loss in volume during the week of the recent gas shortage holiday.

Germany Said Used As Tool Against Reds

U. S. Charged With Whitewash Effort For Her Allies

(By The United Press)

MOSCOW, Feb. 12—Britain and France intended to use Adolf Hitler as a tool and worked to turn his armies loose on the Soviet Union, Russia charged today in a second summary of captured German documents.

Russia said that the United States, by publishing selected documents from the 1939-1941 German foreign office file, tried to whitewash Britain and France for their appeasement policy.

Big War Hatched

"As far back as 1937 it became perfectly clear that a big war was being hatched with the direct connivance of Great Britain and France," the Soviet charge said.

"The fact that the American government undertook to make the German file public while excluding documents pertaining to the Munich agreement shows that the United States government is interested in whitewashing the heroes of the Munich treachery and in putting the blame on the Soviet Union."

The Russians promised that a new installment in the propaganda war of German documents would be published soon.

Effect Is Explained

The effect of British and French diplomacy in the Munich period was to conclude virtual non-aggression treaties with Hitler while refusing Russia's requests for concerted action against Nazi aggression, the statement charged.

The statement referred to three documents to substantiate the charges:

1. The summary of a talk between Hitler and the Earl of Halifax, then lord president of the council and later foreign secretary, on Nov. 19, 1937, at Obersalzburg.

2. The summary of a talk between Hitler, Nazi Foreign Minister Joarhim Von Ribbentrop and the late Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, on March 3, 1938, at Berlin.

3. A report to the Berlin for-

Fine Assessed In Guilty Plea

W. C .Sellers, 27, who was returned to Lubbock from Fort Worth Wednesday to face a felony theft charge, pleaded guilty of a misdemeanor check law violation and was fined $50 and county court costs, a judgment signed by County Judge Walter Davies showed this morning.

Sellers had not posted a court bond on the felony charge, the sheriff's department said. The check charge was filed in January, officials said.

He was returned here by Dep. Sheriff Leonard Lott.

Youth Is Held

Juvenile officials briefly held a 10-year-old boy in connection with his allege possession of a horse and saddle.

Officials said he claimed to have bought the property, but didn't remember from whom.

Suspicion was aroused, and investigation invited, after the boy allegedly ran the horse into an enclosure at a packing company and told persons there that he had left a saddle behind a grocery store. Officials took charge of both the horse and the saddle and were inquiring into ownership.

John W. Wilson, city-county juvenile counsellor, was directing investigation.

Wilson said the boy explained he had paid another boy $25 "down" and planned to pay addi-

Monday Is Deadline For Tax Collector

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—If you paid $500 or more to a doctor, lawyer or servant last year, there's a tax collector's deadline to meet Monday midnight.

It applies, too, if you paid $500 or more directly to a landlord—not through an agent—or to anyone else if the payment wasn't subject to the wage-withholding tax.

Persons making such payments must report them by Feb. 15. But Monday will be the final date this year because Feb. 15 falls on a Sunday.

Blowing Snow Is A Menace To Traffic

(By The United Press)

Snow and rain fell over most of the eastern portion of the nation today with blizzard conditions in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles extending into the second day.

The strong winds which drifted yesterday's heavy western snowfall moderated somewhat, but blowing snow still reduced visibility from Dodge City, Kan., southward into the Texas Panhandle.

One Person Injured

One person was injured last night when two coaches and a parlor car of a Denver & Rio Grande passenger train were pushed off the track and hurled into a deep, snow-clogged canyon by a heavy snowslide near Alamosa, Colo. Rescue workers inched down the steep walls of the ravine to rescue the 14 persons trapped in the cars.

Fifteen persons were injured, two seriously, when a bus skidded off an icy highway 10 miles south of St. Louis and crashed into an office building.

Twenty-four passengers suffered minor injuries at New York when their northbound Third Ave. elevated train rammed into another at the 42nd street station. The motorman said his vision was obstructed by rain and snow.

Snow Widespread

The weather bureau said the snow area extended from the central and southern plain states northeastward into the lower Great Lakes region and most of

HIS "PRESENCE" COMFORT TO HER

Mother Refuses To Bury Body Of Son

(By The United Press)

FARMINGTON, Me., Feb. 12.—Mrs. Rita Brown, 44, said today that "only a mother can understand" why she has kept the sealed casket containing the body of her son in her living room since it was shipped home from a battlefield cemetery last November.

"How can I think of Earl and his love for warm days and have him placed in a grave that is chopped out of the frozen ground?" she asked gently as she sat, hands folded, in the shadowed room looking out on snow-blanketed Farmington.

Sets Place For Him

It wasn't the weather, however, that prevented re-burial of 22-year-old Earl E. Sawyer when his hermetically-sealed casket was brought home Nov. 15 from the European cemetery where it lay since he was killed in the Battle of the Bulge.

The five-foot mother explained that she delayed services because she though Earl would have liked to spend Thanksgiving with his family. She set a place for him at the table where she and her three high school-aged daughters ate their holiday meal.

"Then," she said, "I suddenly remembered that in his last letter to me Earl said he wanted—oh, so much—to be home for Christmas. How could I go on with arrangements for burial when I read the words that he had written?"

It wasn't long after that bittersweet Christmas that town officials came to Mrs. Brown and asked about her plans. "I told them," she said, "that Earl was to remain

Housing Bill OK Forecast

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) predicted today Congress will pass a long range housing bill this year.

The Wisconsin lawmaker, vice chairman of the House-Senate housing committee, made this forecast after talking with GOP leaders in Congress.

At the same time McCarthy recommended in a report to the joint committee that there be no provision in the program for government operated or owned public housing projects.

"Private enterprise must be our chief reliance," McCarthy declared.

Prices Remain High

He said the goal should be 1,500,000 new dwellings a year. But he added that about 700,000 of these probably "will continue to be priced out of the market" each year unless (a) "we are able to bring about a substantial reduction in prices" or (b) arrange for the government to stand part of the cost

McCarthy's report is based on hearings he held last fall in a number of major cities. Except for public housing, it largely parallels many features of the Taft - Ellender - Wagner (T-E-W) bill approved by the Senate banking committee last April.

Directors Of Texas Tech Meet Saturday

Directors of Texas Technological college are scheduled to gather in Lubbock Saturday for a meeting of the board, but the cold wave may prevent attendance of several members.

It is hoped that a quorum may be obtained for the meeting for there is an accumulation of matters since last September to be acted on by board members, Dr. W. M. Whyburn, Tech president, said this morning.

An effort was made to hold a meeting last Nov. 29, homecoming day, but not enough member showed up for a quorum.

"I Just Can't Get Along With Anybody"

Youth Confesses He Killed Schoolgirl In Jealous Rage When She Teased Him

(By The United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12—A 15-year-old schoolboy who "can't get along with anybody" admitted today he killed his high school sweetheart when she teased him about her love for another boy.

Thomas Marsh sobbed out his love for Dolores Conn, 16, as he confessed he shot her in a jealous rage after carrying her books home from school.

A telltale spot of blood broke down his story, maintained under 56 hours of questioning, that the puppy love shooting was an accident.

"I love her, I love her," Marsh cried as he collapsed, overcome with emotion, after his confession yesterday. "When she told me about another boy, I blew my top. I pulled the gun out of my pocket and killed her.

"I quarrelled with Dolores and everybody else. I can't get along with anybody!"

The boy had left high school to work on his father's ranch. He had been going out with Dolores for a year.

"I know he thought a lot of Dolores," her mother said. "I can't be bitter against anyone who cared so much for her."

Marsh walked home from school with Dolores Monday.

"She told me she was going with another boy," he told police. "That's what started it."

Markets Close Today To Get Short Respite

Economic Expert Says Inflation's Back Is Broken

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—More retailers and manufacturers joined the price cutting parade today in the United States. But in the world stock and grain markets traders mostly marked time.

London, Canadian and Australian stock dealers appeared merely intent on guessing what the U. S. exchanges will do when they reopen tomorrow after the Lincoln day holiday. Only in Singapore and Manila stock exchanges was a definite trend set. There prices went down sharply.

Trading Is Inactive

Winnipeg grain market, the only exchange operating today, reported trading inactive and futures prices of oats and barley steady.

Livestock price trends varied widely. In Chicago hogs were actively sold at prices ranging from 50 cents lower to 25 cents higher. Cattle prices were unchanged to 50 cents lower. Lamb was 25 cents higher.

East St. Louis stockyard prices showed hogs higher, cattle steady and no sheep sold. In St. Paul cattle trading was sluggish and prices slipped. Few hogs or sheep were sold.

Soap Prices Drop

The three big U. S. soap manufacturers—Procter & Gamble, Lever Brothers and Colgate-Palmolive-Peet—dropped wholesale prices 5 per cent. Fats and oils used in making soap have dropped recently.

More New York food retailers fell in line behind the big chain stores in price slashes.

The big chains' slashes on meat cuts averaged around 15 per cent.

Wholesale prices on hind quarters of beef dropped 4 cents a pound.

Boston food prices dipped slightly.

Cotton prices declined in the Alexandria cotton exchange with offerings high and demand small. Other cotton exchanges were closed.

The first decisive break in the rising price level came on Feb. 4. Since then prices have nose-dived on the commodity and security exchanges, and to a lesser extent in wholesale food and raw material markets. Grains and cotton led the slide. It still was on yesterday, but appeared to be losing some of

Negroes Seek Entry To Amarillo College

AMARILLO, Feb. 2 (AP) — The Board of Amarillo Junior college will decide next Monday on the applications of three negroes for enrollment.

The three are Robert and Loyd Smith and Robert Wilson, all of Amarillo.

They filed applications for admittance yesterday and said their pre-medical schooling at Wiley college, Marshall, Tex., was interrupted by a student strike against the teaching staff.

The applications did not ask admittance to regular classes.

Dr. R. P. Parcells, president of the Amarillo School board, said if the three could interest enough qualified negro students special night classes might be set up.

Sherman Man Killed By Hit-Run Autoist

DALLAS, Feb. 12. (U.P.)—A Sherman man was injured fatally last night by a hit-run driver near Garland, and his companion, also from Sherman, suffered a broken leg.

Charles Elliott died shortly after the accident. Dr. James Lay suffered a broken leg. They were returning to Sherman after witnessing the Golden Gloves fight tournament at Fort Worth. Their car had skidded off the highway and they had gotten out to investigate when the hit-run driver struck them.

Borger Explosion Remains Mystery

BORGER, Feb. 12 (AP)—An explosion felt by residents of Borger yesterday remained a mystery today.

Sheriff Hugh Anderson late last night said he had been unable to find any trace of the blast.

"There might have been some type of explosion somewhere in the vicinity," Anderson said, "but I checked all of the area and could find no trace of one."

Anderson said it was his opinion the blast was of a minor nature, since anything serious would have left evidence of destruction.

The explosion was felt in Borger around 1:30 p. m. yesterday and reportedly rattled dishes in some homes.

It was first believed to have been caused by exploding nitroglycerine, as several dumps of this explosive are located in the area.

However, Anderson said he checked on these and found none which had gone up in the blast.

Body Is Found In Hotel Room

BROWNFIELD, Feb. 12 (Special)—Mrs. Doris Vogler, about 60, of Carbondale, Ill., was found dead and her son, Capt. Donald Charles Vogler, about 25, of Carbondale, was found unconscious this morning at Wines hotel.

Captain Vogler was rushed to Treadaway-Daniel hospital in a Farley Funeral home ambulance. He was still unconscious under an oxygen tent this afternoon.

Mrs. Vogler's husband, E. W Vogler of Carbondale, had been notified and planned to come by airplane.

Mrs. Vogler was found dead and her son unconscious about 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Asphyxiation (carbon-monoxide gas poisoning) was determined as cause of the woman's death at an inquest conducted by County Attorney Virgil Crawford and Sheriff Ocie Murray in justice court.

Gas Fire Burning

A gas fire had been burning and no windows were up in the room where Mrs. Vogler's body was found in bed, and death was believed due to asphyxiation.

An investigation was being conducted by County Attorney Virgil Crawford and Sheriff Ocie Murry

Vogler—who was described as a captain in papers found in his possession—was lying near the door of the room in which his mother was dead when the Farley Funeral hom eambulance arrived.

The Voglers were reported en route from their home in Carbondale to a point in Arizona, where the son had been transferred by the Army. They had registered at the hotel near midnight last night and had planned to continue their journey early otday.

Wildcat Well Blaze Gets Out Of Control

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 12. (AP)—One of the worst oil well fires in this section in a decade roared out of control today on a remote site 25 miles north of Refugio.

The well is the Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 1 Powers and Woodworth, a wildcat which has been in trouble since Sunday.

Rain and freezing weather hampered efforts to control the well. It has been burning furiously 24 hours, spouting flames 100 feet in the air.

Business Holiday Is To Continue Friday

Mercury Dips To 9; Prospect Of Cold Homes For South Plains Is Held Out

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

Unless more gas is saved, there will be serious suffering in Lubbock before night, Mayor C. A. Bestwick and Earl B. Collins, Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, president, announced at noon today.

Mayor Bestwick called for a continuance of the emergency business holiday trough Friday.

"Still critical" was the 2 o'clock statement from West Texas Gas Co., which announced some homes in Lubbock may be without gas this afternoon unless all business firms cooperate in the emergency holiday.

Furthermore, home users in gas must use as little as possible in order to assure there will be enough gas to keep residents warm.

Temperature was 19 degrees at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and continued cold and cloudy weather was forecast for tonight, with a low temperature of five to 12 degrees Friday morning, as indicated by latest study of weather conditions. Cloudy to partly cloudy and warmer weather is forecast for Friday, with the temperature going no higher than 28 to 32 degrees, however.

Emergency Announcement Is Given

Here is the emergency announcement made by Mayor Bestwick and Collins at noon today, after the West Texas Gas Co. had informed them home supplies were endangered:

"Gas pressure in Lubbock has been dropping 10 pounds an hour since 6 o'clock this morning.

"If more gas is not saved and this situation corrected, there will be serious suffering in Lubbock before night.

"Mayor Bestwick and Earl Collins, president of the Chamber of Commerce, join in asking every business establishment possible to close and that all others cut the use of gas just as much as possible.

"They ask that where heat is thermostatically controlled that thermostats be set at 40 degrees.

"They also ask all homes to cut the use of gas just as much as possible. This can be done by using only one or two rooms and cutting the heat off from all others.

"Citizens of Lubbock are asked to heed this warning that they themselves may not suffer and that fellow citizens may not suffer.

"The business holiday will continue through Friday and everyone is asked for their wholehearted cooperation both today and tomorrow.

"The situation is serious."

The business holiday and schools holiday, which is in effect today in 44 towns served by the gas company, will remain in effect until further announcement, the Gas company reported at 2 o'clock.

Cooperation Of All Is Asked

The noon announcement by Lubbock's mayor and chamber of commerce president stated that the business holiday in Lubbock will continue through Friday and "everyone is asked for their wholehearted cooperation both today and tomorrow."

Whether there was any likelihood of pressure being built up during the night so that re-opening of business firms would be possible, the gas company was not ready to say.

"As far as we know there hasn't been a single home to be without gas," Ray F. Hinchey, vice president and general manager of the gas company said this afternoon. That announcement applied to all of the 44 towns served by the company. Levelland, in which some of the homes were without gas several hours during the emergency about two weeks ago, had not suffered loss of gas in any of its homes.

Pressure today was not lower than that during the recent emergency in which a holiday was declared, but was going down faster, the gas company announced.

Considerably more gas was being used during the present bitter cold weather, than during the previous sub-freezing siege. The gas company advanced the idea

BUSINESS IS AT A STANDSTILL

Public Gatherings Halted Over Area

All business, except essential services, such as hospitals, public utilities, drug stores and eating places, was in holiday here today, schools were closed, and most public functions had been cancelled, many of them for the balance of the week, as result of the bitter cold weather and the shortage of natural gas.

Business men were cooperating almost 100 per cent with the West Texas Gas company to conserve the short fuel supply, following proclamation of an emergency holiday by Mayor Clarence Bestwick similar to one proclaimed on Jan. 28 because of similar conditions.

Schools Are Closed

All public schools here were in recess, probably until Monday, most county schools were dismissed, and South Plains communities generally had declared business and school holidays also.

Caught in the midst of registration for the spring semester, Texas Tech college, which has a dual system of fuel, switched to fuel oil from the regularly used natural gas, and continued operation. Friday is the last day for registration for the spring semester without penalty, the announcement said.

Theaters were to be closed in the voluntary cooperative fuel conservation measure, and grocery store managers who last night were not certain what action would be taken today, were closed for the day. Skeleton crews were on hand at some stores during the morning filling bulk orders from public service places, but were using little or no fuel and expected to be finished and out of the stores before noon. Doors were not open to the

HAVE NO GAS—

Many Suffer In Icy Wave

Some Lubbock county residents manage to stay warm without gas, because they have no gas in their homes and heat with kerosene, with coal, with kindling gathered where they find it and because they go to bed when weather is cold.

Welfare workers are acquainted with such cases.

Wounded Vet Aided

For instance, the Red Cross has aided a war veteran who was near a land mine explosion in World war II. Not appearing to be hurt then, he later began to suffer "black-outs," not being able to see, and now is making efforts to establish with the government that the "black-outs" are due to the land mine explosion and to receive a government pension.

He and his wife and three children are living in a small house. During the siege of sub-freezing temperature which was ending about two weeks ago, a Red Cross worker visited the home; found the infant child of the couple to be in an apple box next the small kerosene stove, the father was sick and he and the two other children were in bed. The mother was out trying to thaw a water pipe.

They Live In Tent

One World war I veteran and his family live in a tent near Lubbock, using a coal stove to heat their living quarters. When weather becomes extremely cold, members of his family also go to bed to keep warm.

Then there are transient cotton pickers, who during cotton picking season sometimes live in their trucks, going from one place to another to pick cotton. During cold weather, they sometimes must depend on covering to keep them warm.

Such cases as those are not typical in Lubbock, but they are seen frequently by welfare workers who work with the needy—and who frequently find the needy with little heating facilities in their homes.

Three Frozen In Stalled Car

DUMAS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Two children and a woman were found frozen to death today in a stalled automobile near Stratford, Sherman county.

They were Robert Wayne Reynolds, two and one-half years old; Juanita House Reynolds, four, and Mrs. Jessie Toon. They were the children and mother-in-law of Robert O. Reynolds, ranch and ordnance plant worker, who with his 15-month-old son was taken from the car alive.

Gas Supply Ran Out

The car stalled in snowdrifts while the party was driving from a ranch to the Reynolds home at the Cactus Ordnance works. The car's heater failed when the gasoline supply ran out.

A farmer with a tractor broke through the drifts to the stalled car. The bodies were brought to a Dumas funeral home and Reynolds and his son were receiving treatment in a physician's office here.

Symphony Plans Changed By Gas Emergency

Alec Templeton Concerts To Be Staged In Lubbock On Tuesday And Wednesday

Because of emergency fuel conditions, the concerts to have been given tonight and Friday night by Lubbock Symphony orchestra with Alec Templeton as guest artist have been re-scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Miss Leona Gelin, symphony business manager, said at noon today.

The programs will be given at Senior High school auditorium. Holders of season tickets and those who had bought individual admission for Thursday are to attend the first concert and those who had bought tickets for Friday's concert will be admitted the next night.

Mr. and Mrs. Templeton and Stanley North, business manager, arrived by car shortly after midnight and slept until noon. North, who described the world-famed blind pianist as in good spirits and feeling "fine and dandy," said they had been on the road for 15 hours and had covered over 800 miles before they checked in at Hotel Lubbock. They drove here from Phoenix, Ariz., through sand, snow and high winds.

Cancellation of the programs tonight was a disappointment to North's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Walter H. North of Friona, who arrived yesterday to visit their son and to attend the concert.

The Templeton party planned to leave early this afternoon for El Paso where the pianist will be presented in concert Monday.

Trader Who Made $200,000 On Market Says He Had Luck

By JOHN RAINEY
United Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Feb. 12—Edwin T Maynard said today it takes only experience and luck to make a killing on the grain market.

Maynard, a 62-year-old member of the Chicago Board of Trade, was identified by Secretary of Agriculfure Clinton P. Anderson as the trader who made more than $200,000 in four days while other speculators lost millions in a record price collapse.

"Nothing Unusual"

Maynard made his killing by selling 1,000,000 bushels of wheat "short."

"It was nothing unusual," he said. "I've done it before."

Anderson said Maynard's profits on wheat amounted to $200,000 and he made another $100,000 to $200,000 on cotton and oats.

Maynard said he made around $200,000. Anyone who claimed he made more was only guessing, he said.

He said he didn't have any inside information as Rep. August Andresen, R., Minn., had charged.

"I'm a Republican," Maynard said, "and they have trouble getting inside information in Washington these days."

Read The Papers

He got his best dope, he said, from the newspapers. That's where he got his first tip that there were factors which would send the grain market to lower levels. He sold "short" and took his profits when the market cracked wide open last week.

It surprised him that anyone should get excited about his market gains.

"I've made or lost nearly that much before in 30 years in the market," he said.

"This just happened to come at a time when trading was being passed around as a political football."

He said it should have been obvious to one and all that the market was on its way down

"I only put to work the knowledge I gained in my experience," he said.

Men Don't Like The New Look, Picture Studio Designer Says

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 12 — The hippy frills and ankle lengths of "The New Look" are due for a downfall in Hollywood films. This comes from Paramount Designer Edith Head, who states the reasons: The men.

Panhandle Pair Who Live In A Trailer Welcome Price Breaks

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

A couple of Panhandle people want to shake hands with the guys who stuck the pin into the inflation bubble.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reece Miller have been cutting expense corners so long they count pennies at night instead of sheep.

Knows Food Prices

The Millers live in a trailer home at Southern Methodist university. Miller is a ministerial student with one year to go. When it comes to quoting food prices, the checker at the grocery store has nothing on him.

"I have learned a lot about economics just trying to get along," he smiles.

The trailer home is 25 feet long and the couch is reserved, generally, for Robert Clark Miller, five and one-half month-old son. At night, Robert Clark has his own baby bed at one end of the trailer and his parents share the couch at the other end.

Miller, stocky, blue-eyed veteran of the European theatre whose home is at Olton, gets his tuition and $90 per month from the government. In addition, he holds two Methodist pastorates—at Bristol, Tex., and Trumbull, Tex., that pay him a total of $700 per year. He is also supervisor of the trailer village and for this he gets $30 a month and the trailer rent-free.

He figures his income, including the free rent, at about $180 per month.

And the expenses:

Because of the pastorates and related visiting duties, Miller has to maintain an automobile. It costs about $20 per month.

"Food takes $60 a month," Miller said. "The other day I went to town and bought $4.98 worth of groceries. I carried them in one arm.

"Lucky for us, sometimes people in my congregations give me tomatoes and sweet potatoes and for Christmas, one lady gave me $5."

Doctor bills eat up $9 every month and the Miller's find they seldom have more than $3 or $4 per month to spend on entertainment.

As for clothing: "I hope to get a suit this year," said Miller. "My wife got a $32 coat this winter—it'll be her last for a long, long, time."

Myriel Miller, a golden blonde from Canyon, Tex., who has been married to her husband for four years, looked up from the pressure cooker she was adjusting and smiled . . .

"Don't I know it!" she said.

America's Air Program Facing Material, Personnel Shortage

By MAX B. COO
Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Feb. 12—A warning that the aircraft procurement program recommended by President Truman's air policy commission will strike a snag unless action is taken to guarantee sufficient aluminum and trained industrial personnel was given today by R. S. Reynolds, president of the Reynolds Metal Co.

The warning came in a statement sent to Senator Owen Brewster (R., Me.,) chairman of the congressional Aviation Policy committee. It urged that the situation which "delayed victory in World War II not be repeated." In 1940 Mr. Reynolds made a similar warning statement which was ignored. Later, an increase of 300 per cent in aluminum production was ordered.

Need Immediate Action

Citing the recommended appropriations increase of 116 per cent for air power during 1948 and 1949, Mr. Reynolds said 36 million additional pounds of aircraft aluminum would be necessary.

"Where," he asks. "Will this additional aluminum come from? This question blocks the plane program right at the start.

"Ordinarily the problem of aluminum supply could await solution as part of the industrial mobilization plans which cover many industries. But, since the Air Policy commission recommends that the air force be sharply expanded at once, industrial mobilization plans for aluminum also must be prepared at once."

Civilian Needs Met

He pointed out that "three-fourths of a plane is made of aluminum." He recommended a long-range plan which would inform the aluminum industry how much aluminum is needed, when and in what form "early enough to plan production and fabrication."

The aluminum industry now is turning out more than two billion pounds of aluminum products annually. This is about capacity for civilian goods. In addition to the Reynolds firm, the other two companies are Alcoa (The Aluminum Corp. of America) and the Kaiser Permanante Co.

EARTHQUAKE HITS

ATHENS, Feb. 12 (AP)—The press ministry said tonight a strong earthquake shook the island of Sacramento (Carpathos) Monday in the Dodecanese group. Fifty-two houses collapsed and 250 were damaged. No casualties were reported.

The so-called "heart" of a tree is really dead.

Lamesa Girl Scout Program To Be Held

LAMESA, Feb. 12 (Special)—Approximately 163 members of local Girl Scout troops will take part in a program to be presented at the high school auditorium on March 5, scouting officials have announced.

The program will be held in observance of the 36th birthday of the founding of the Girl Scouts of America, and will consist of 22 tableaux depicting the eleven phases of work done by the organization.

Members of the program committee are Mrs. Charnell Jobe, Mrs. Hugh Gaines and Mrs. Sam Richardson. Assisting in making plans for the event is Miss Mary Miller, district supervisor for the girl scouts.

The chorus which will take part in the program will be under the direction of Mrs. Paul Morgan.

Lubbock Delegation Going To GOP Meet

A delegation from the Lubbock Republican club was to go to Amarillo this morning to attend Republican party conferences there this afternoon and the party's Lincoln Day dinner tonight in the Crystal ballroom of Herring hotel.

Three hundred persons are expected to attend, said M. D. Temple of the Lubbock organization. The dinner is on the order of a statewide rally, since most of the party leaders of the state will be there.

The main speaker of the evening will be former U. S. Sen. John A. Danaher of Connecticut, one of the top leaders of the national organization and a widely known speaker.

Those from Lubbock who plan to attend are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Keeney, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chappel, Mr. and Mrs. Temple, Mrs. Wright Kerr, Mrs. R. G. Porter, Mrs. J. W. Triplitt, Otto Rhea and W. D. Girand.

HIND-FIRST

All ruminants, or cud-chewing animals, such as the cow, sheep, antelope, deer, goats, and camels, invariably use their hind legs first in rising.

MANY RIDERS

Most of the 23 billion transit passengers in American cities are carried by subways, electric trackless trolleys, and street cars.

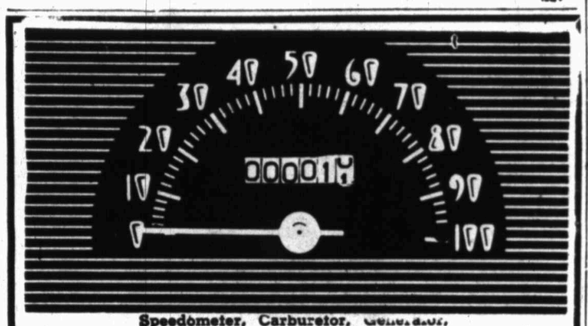

IT WAS CAMOUFLAGE

The Indians did not wear war paint for the purpose of terrifying their foes, but as camouflage to make them less conspicious.

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Adv

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Life Of Young Wife Is Shattered By Menacing Husband; Her Family Wants To Assist Her

DEAR Mary Haworth: Can you shed any light on the following: a case of character transformation that is beyond my understanding. I spent Christmas this year with my married sister and her family, who live in another state.

While there we were discussing her second daughter, a girl beautiful in personality, appearance and character, loved by everyone. She had married recently and I asked about her. My sister spoke of Jennie's beautiful home and all, but I though in a rather evasive way.

Then the eldest daughter told me they see very little of her, as she seems always to be under a strain if they are there, and is always disfigured by bruises (or black eyes) which she never offers to explain; and if they ask, she passes it off.

It was the family's feeling, though nothing had been said, that hre husband didn't want them in his home, so they hadn't been going, because they can't any longer have fun with Jennie, who was always so much fun before.

MAN DEFIES HER FAMILY'S CONCERN

WHILE we were talking Jennie and Bob, her husband, walked in. He was right on her heels. It seems he never lets her get two feet from him and if the family calls her into another room he always says to her, "Now no secrets," and she takes care to stay in his sight.

Jennie looked thin to the point of fragility and had a black eye Her mother, seeing this, and already upset by our discussion took a step she'd never taken before. She asked Bob if he was beating Jennie and said if so, he'd better cut it out—speaking in a rather light, menial, embarrassed way.

At this Jennie seemed to freeze and just stared horrified at her mother. Bob showed much the same expression. Both looked white and rigid. Then he said, very low and freezing, "She's my wife and it's none of your business. You don't support her. I do. And this is the last time she'll ever come in this house."

With that he turned on his heel and walked out, Jennie right behind him, saying, "I don't blame him; mother has no tact, accusing him of something he isn't responsible for—," which he heard. It all happened in a few minutes and left us in a sort of shocked condition. There was something horrifying about it.

I though to myself, "He doesn't even know for whom the bell tolls and no one will ever get the chance to tell him." I have expressed myself poorly, but if you can see the picture, can you understand it? I will appreciate your opinion: if there is something the family should know and do to help Jennie.

(Signed) R. L.

MAN'S CRUELTY IS ADVERTISED

DEAR R. L.: There is something horrifying about this picture. Bob is a sinister character and Jennie is deathly afraid of him. His diabolic cruelty is advertised not only by her battered flesh but more by her broken spirit and his generally menacing manner.

She ought to leave him, of course; but she is emotionally stymied, by equal parts of fear and infatuation, probably. Her reaction to her mother's comment was eloquent of strain and terror, lest her family discover the shameful nature of the relationship in which she is trapped, and lest Bob visit new excesses of cruelty on her, in retaliation for her mother's temerity or on the suspicion that she (Jennie) had leaked their secret: and it is likely that he habitually threatens her life on that score.

Her family should have the good sense to take no offense at her parting remark, and to read it aright as a pitiful self-protective utterance coined for Bob's ear. As to his reaction, it was surcharged with guilt and feat, too, but also backed by the menacing defiance that psychotics and criminals have in common.

GIRL IS BEYOND HELPING HERSELF

JENNIE is in a very bad way. She is under insupportable strain, the kind that leads to mental breakdown or self-destruction if indefinitely prolonged. As matters stand, she has lost capacity to help herself; and plainly it is her family's duty to move heaven and earth to safely deliver her from Bob's dominance, if possible.

Taking your narrative at face value, her parents are justified in employing legal counsel, the finest obtainable, to spearhead a private investigation of Bob's social history and what can be learned of his day-to-day, behind-the-scenes abuse of Jennie; and if the findings warrant concern for her very life, to use them as basis for investigating the parents—or community peace officers—with legal authority to tie Bob's hands while Jennie is spirited away to sane surroundings for restorative care.

I'm not sure such a program would succeed; but the gravity of the circumstances warrants a trial; and in any event, Jennie shouldn't be consulted in advance. Owing to her mesmeric terror of Bob, she'd spill the beans to him first off.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.

In Lawson Home

A coffee in Miss Gamble's honor was given Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. H. G. Lawson, 1602 Ave. X, with Mesdames C. H. Hamilton, E. A. Manning, Charles Ross, Harvey Austin, Clay Thompson and Clarence Whiteside as assistant hostesses.

A shell pink damask cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with blue and white sweetpeas and iris, chosen colors of the honoree. Background music was played during calling hours.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Lawson, Mrs. A. N. Gamble, mother of the bride-elect, Miss Gamble, Mrs. Milton E. Casey of Wolfforth, mother of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs. Arthur Earl Gamble. Ninety persons called.

Sunday Tea Is To Honor New B-PW Club Members

A tea to be given Sunday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Lola Keller 2313-B Main, by Lubbock Business and Professional club will be in honor of new members of the organization.

The club met at Hilton hotel Wednesday for a regular business luncheon. Members voted to buy an electric refrigerator for the Girl Scout cottage at Buffalo lakes.

Mrs. J. Lester Puckett, a guest, was present at the luncheon.

Lessons In Metalcraft Given For Leaders Club

Mrs. Galen Carr taught a metalcraft class for Girl Scout Intermediate Leaders club Wednesday morning at the Little House with 15 women attending. The class will be resumed Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock and all leaders and assistant leaders are asked to attend.

During a business session presided over by Mrs. C. E. Houston, plans were discussed for 10-day camps to be held at Buffalo Lakes this summer for intermediate scouts.

Fisher-Easter Vows Are Read In Pastor's Home

ANTON, Feb. 12 (Special)—A single ring ceremony read Saturday night in the home of the officiating Baptist minister, Rev. E. Robinson, in Clovis, N. M., united in marriage Mrs. Jenna Mae Easter and Earl Fisher of Anton.

Mrs. Fisher, who has served as postmaster at Anton for the last 13 years, formerly taught school here.

Bill Drafted To Aid Small Corporations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP) — Something should be done to help small corporations, says Sneator Fulbright (D-Ark.)

Their mortality rate, he told a reporter today, "is much too high."

Fulbright is drafting a bill exempting from federal taxation the first $15,000 of a corporation's income.

There are 40 different types of organism that can cause pneumonia.

Lewis, chairman of the joint local committee for Presbyterian student work of the U. S. Presbyterian and U.S.A. Presbyterian, will have charge of the open house, which will be open to the public.

Farmers To Benefit From Atom Research

AMES, Ia., Feb. 12 (U.P.)—Dr. Paul Aebersold, a member of the U. S. Atomic Energy commission, said today that farmers will be aided by research in atomic energy this year.

Aebersold, chief of the Isotopes branch of the commission, said that tracer or "tagged" atoms are being used now in investigation of plant disorders, plant growth and livestock.

He said that although atomic energy is "tremendous as a destructive force" it also must be considered as a big force in regard to the social, moral and spiritual influences it will have."

Work Begins Soon On Houston Tunnel Job

HOUSTON, Feb. 12 (U.P.)—Construction of the multi - million dollar Pasadena tunnel under the ship channel today was scheduled to start within the next three weeks.

The Harris County Commissioners court gave the construction firm of Merritt, Chapman & Scott of New York the go ahead yesterday. The company has been awarded a $6,331,062 contract for the bulk of the work.

It was expected the job would require two years if no steel shortages or other difficulties are encountered. Total cost has been estimated at approximately 7,500,000.

Damage Is Slight In Electric Power Drop

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 12 (U.P.)—Texas Eastern Transmission Co. officials today termed "slight" the damage caused yesterday when an electric power failure in Arkansas caused a loss of pressure in the Big Inch gas line supplying Eastern states.

The officials said they did not know what caused the power failure, but added that pumping resumed when the electricity was supplied from another source.

Inventory To Delay WAA Property Sale

HOUSTON, Feb. 12 (U.P.) — The sale of government surplus property in the Southwest has been halted for inventory, it was announced today.

R. V. Shirk, regional director of the War Assets administration, said the sales were stopped for a final inventory before a sweeping liquidation program.

Shirk said disposals in the Southwest zone approximated $950,000,000 in 1947 at acquisition cost. He said the WAA would try to liquidate as much property as possible before June 30.

Planes Aid In Wide Search

LONG BEACH, Cal., Feb. 12 (U.P.)—Two planes searched the desolate area near Punta Penasco on the Gulf of California today for two youths missing since their sports fishing boat overturned.

A Coast Guard plane yesterday located the wreckage of the ship which eight Americans had chartered Saturday. Six of them clung to the wreckage and were rescued by small craft which rushed to the scene.

Charles Fain of Flint, Mich., and Ralph Heaps of Nowata, Okla., still are missing.

Eldon Urshel, Tucson, Ariz., one of the survivors, joined the search in a private plane. Authorities held out faint hope the pair may have been carried ashore or still were clinging to wreckage.

John L. Lewis Has Birthday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (U.P.) — John L. Lewis is celebrating another birthday today—his 68th.

And, as usual on Feb. 12 for some years past, he has the country wondering whether he is going to lead his United Mine Workers out on another coal strike when warmer weather rolls around. He has raised the strike threat in a dispute over pensions for his miners.

Government officials are just as concerned over a coal strike next summer as one right now. They say uninterrupted production is essential to meet what promises to be a growing demand for coal.

Lewis Takes Trip

James M. Boyd, director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, said he expects many householders and industries to convert to coal heat because of hardships suffered in this winter's oil and natural gas shortages.

People must spend this summer buying coal if they want an adequate supply for the winter of 1948, he said, and a coal strike would "seriously" retard this stockpiling.

Lewis' anniversary coincides with that of Abraham Lincoln. But while most industries did business as usual today, anthracite pits and many other mines and plants were closed in honor of Lewis.

John L. is observing his birthday on one of his periodic motor tours to different sections of the country. He is probably headed south. His aides won't say.

While Lewis may be out of sight, he certainly is not out of mind of government officials and coal operators here.

75 Job Seekers On Texas Tech Roster

The student employment office at Texas Technological college has received approximately 75 applications for work by students since the beginning of the spring semester and they are still pouring in, James G. Allen, dean of men, has announced.

The majority of the applications for jobs state that the student is interested in any part time work that will help meet expenses while in school, but there is a great variety of experience represented among the applicants.

Conditions at present are in direct contrast to conditions last fall when there were far more jobs than there were applications for employment. Part of this is due to the fact that many of the students who were employed through the service during the fall semester are staying with their jobs and partly due to employers being unaware of the number and experience of applicants, the employment office stated.

"Some employers are prone to think that because a man is studying engineering he would be interested in only that one field of work, but that is seldom the case and most of them are interested in any type of part time job that will augment their income," Francis Beardon, assistant to the dean of men, said.

Henderson, Kirkpatrick Win First Golden Gloves Bouts

Earl Pollard Loses; Others Of Local Squad To Battle Tonight

WILL ROGERS COLISEUM, Fort Worth, Feb. 12 (Special)—Five of Lubbock's six regional Golden Gloves champions were set today to express fistic supremacy tonight as an All South Plains team in quest of the team championship in this, the 12th, annual state tournament.

The sixth lost last night by decision, and the crowd's boos reverberated and reechoed through this great coliseum long after the fighters had left the ring and others had entered.

Victory came easily, and rather quickly, for J. D. Kirkpatrick, the Petersburg puncher, who flattened Harold Williams of Port Arthur in 1:28 of the second round to win by a knockout, but Bill Henderson, Lubbock's other winner on opening night, and the state featherweight champ, encountered trouble in a long-armed, 16-year-old boy from Wichita Falls, Cleve Steed. Henderson floored him a couple of times for a seven count, but it still wasn't a typical Levelland Larruper fistic exhibition.

Both victory and defeat were bitter, indeed, for the third Lubbock fighter of the night. Earl Pollard, jr., who obviously outclassed Jack Woodruff of Dallas, the defending welterweight champ, only to lose on a rank decision, eased away, quite downcast, to his dressing room with the boos and hisses of the crowd ringing in his ears in open opposition to Woodruff's triumph.

Typical Exhibition

Kirkpatrick's exhibition was quite typical of the Petersburg fighter. Williams made the mistake for which Kirkpatrick was waiting. He came out in the second round and tried to outslug the South Plains fighter. He went down for the count from a terrific right.

The bout put Kirkpatrick a step nearer to ring combat with Tom Adams, the Brownfield light heavyweight, and defending champion, who also won on a shaky decision, and over a boxer whom the Petersburg fighter beat by technical knockout here only last week.

Adams beat Clifford Bradley of Amarillo, but those at the ringside saw Adams take a sharp pummeling from the Amarilloan, and the decision giving the fight to the defending state champion wasn't any too popular itself.

All Locals Fight

Second round fights Thursday night will feature debut of Lightweight Frank Telles, Middleweight Lonnie Balch and Heavyweight Gene James while Featherweight Bill Henderson and Light Heavyweight J. D. Kirkpatrick have their second bouts of the tourney.

James apparently will have a fairly good test in Relius Broussard of Temple, while Kirkpatrick will fight Norman Theis of San Antonio, who looked like a good boxer, but no slugger, in beating Inept William Coughlin of El Paso.

Balch, as he did in the interregional bouts between Lubbock and Amarillo, will meet the stiffest test of the Hub City fighters, going against top seeded Tommy Barron of Dallas, the defending middleweight champion. Balch is in good shape and ready for the fight, which could do much toward sending Lubbock's team on its way to the team trophy.

Telles is recovering from the fast and sweat treatment that caused him to shed 12-pounds in five days to get into the lightweight division. Trainer Bert Kahn calls him ready to go now and Telles says that he has retained his power. Considerable food is making him stronger and he is given a good chance of helping the Hub City team.

The Texas Tech slugger will meet Weldon Arbuckle of Wichita Falls, who is an unknown here.

Henderson, who didn't look at all good in winning his bout tonight, will take on Howard Van Winkle of San Antonio. The Santone boy also is an unknown.

Keeps On Punching

Alex Perez, the Amarillo middleweight, who won over Lonnie Balch during the Amarillo-Lubbock inter-regional fights, kept up his terrific punching to knock out Johnny Thompkins of Corpus Christi in the first round last night.

Lubbock's, and the South Plains', hope in the heavyweight division, Gene James, is not yet within striking distance of Charlie Simmons and his heavy title. The Dallas heavy had his hands full in a battle with a 17-year-old lad from Odessa on opening night. Don Thompson, the Odessa heavy, appeared not the least bit awed by the fact that Simmons has held the title two years, and proceeded to wade into him to make it a slam bang fight all the way. Simmons won it because Thompson's fists didn't pack the wallop to do sufficient damage.

Those who saw James in action here against the Amarillo heavyweight, Dickie Brown, know that both his fists pack plenty of punching power.

Dory Funk In Upset Victory Over Getz

Al Getz, Southwestern junior heavyweight wrestling champ, was the victim of one of the major upsets of the year Wednesday night at Sled Allen'c arena when he was defeated in the two of three falls feature main event by Dory Funk of Hammond, Ind.

Funk surprised Getz by copping the first fall in just 13 minutes with a "figure four," but the durable Dutchman from Pittsburgh rebounded to take the second fall in 17 minutes with a cradle split. Funk amazed the local mat fans by downing Getz in the decisive third fall with a series of drop kicks and body press.

Ace Freeman of New York City grabbed top honors in the second main bout by defeating Karl Gray, Milwaukee grappler, in two of three falls with the assistance of Referee Billy McEuin. Freeman took the initial encounter with a body scissors, then Gray evened the tally with a second fall victory using a body press. Freeman was awarded the third fall when Gray was disqualified for throwing the referee out of the ring.

Salvador Flores, the Mexico City battler, gained a decision over George Lopez in the preliminary bout with a face lock.

Wayland In Tourney

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 12 (AP)—Tyler, Wayland college of Plainview and Amarillo Junior colleges have accepted invitations to compete in the first annual statewide junior college basketball tournament at Texas A. & M. college, Tournament Director Marty Karow said today.

The 16-team event will be held March 1 to 3. The dates were reset after first being scheduled for February 26-28.

Food Is Offered

LONDON, Feb. 12 (U.P.)—An offer by the United States to supply food for all the athletes at the summer Olympic games today awaited acceptance or rejection by the Olympic executive committee.

The offer was made by President Avery Brundage and Treasurer Owen V. Van Camp of the U. S. Olympic committee after arrival by plane from St. Moritz, site of the winter games.

Between . . . The Lines

—— By JOE KELLY ——

FORT WORTH — Welterweight Earl C. Pollard, jr., knew he could beat Jack Woodruff of Dallas last night. He talked of little else on the way to Fort Worth Tuesday, and he planned each round in advance. The will o'the wisp boxer figured Woodruff's weak points and how he could capitalize on them. Both he and the Dallas fighter, rated No. 1 in the state bouts, had faced each other in the past and Pollard was sure of victory.

The Lubbock representative in the state Golden Gloves is a native of Dallas and has plenty of background to be a good fighter. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Pollard of Dallas, arrived in this city late Tuesday night. They wouldn't let their son know they were in the same hotel, or even in the city, for fear that he wouldn't get a good night's sleep. But Wednesday morning they made contact early, and the Lubbock fighter's confidence increased with the knowledge that he would have a lot of friends at ringside Wednesday.

Mr. Pollard is no stranger to the ring himself. He formerly fought as an amateur in the lightweight ranks and deserted the simon pures for the pros and went on to slug it out as a lightweight and as a welter. He admires his son's classy ring ability, his boxing prowess and his footwork, but frankly admits he won more fights by the knockout route than Earl, jr., ever will.

The entry of young Earl into the ring was no accident. He and his two younger brothers, now in California, were each given a pair of gloves when they were four years old by their father. From that time on they turned to fighting as most kids turn to football and other sports. But Earl's determination to stay with fighting had a shock when he was seven years old, His father took him to a bull fight and the sight of the gory bull was too much for the present welter. He wanted out of the arena and, for a time, his love of fighting was dimmed.

Then it returned and he went on with his amateur career. He was going fine in Lubbock, where his parents lived from 1931 until 1940, when the war beckoned. Earl went off to join the Marines, being stationed on the West coast.

As a light heavy in the Sea Dogs Earl won his first 12 fights then fought to a draw with a Mexican in his 13th. What wasn't known at the time was the fact he was threatened with appendicitis in his 13th fight.

He underwent an appendectomy and never regained the weight that had carried him in the light heavy class. When he entered school this fall, Earl only weighed 157 and, in the intervening period, he has shed 11 pounds to get into the welterweight class.

Whether he will be a lawyer, or enter the pro ranks, is not known yet. Even Pollard isn't sure. He has one year of law at S. M. U. under his belt, but has turned down many offers to enter the fight-for-pay class. Both of his parents are willing for him to fight professionally, if that is what he wants. And it remains a strong possibility.

There is one thing that might hamper him, although he says that it doesn't. He wears glasses out of the ring and his eyesight is not the best. He has considered wearing contact lenses and, if he could wear them successfully for fighting periods, he feels that they would do a lot for his ring work. He says that he punches by instinct, finding the range and then shooting his left and right, while only being partially bothered by the lack of glasses. He gives little indication of being bothered by the glaring overhead light, or the absence of his spectacles.

Willard Brown, former state welterweight champion and later beaten for the world's professional title by Lew Jenkins in 1939, is in town for the fights. He is operating a summer ranch for boys and a physical education school for boys in San Antonio in the winter. Brown mixes psychology, which he picked up at L. S. U., with ring knowledge to build strong minds and bodies in the boys . . . The fight crowd eagerly is awaiting the scheduled appearance of Jack Dempsey, the Manassa Mauler, who still packs a personal wallop in crown appeal . . . The Lubbock fighters are conducting themselves with quiet eagerness, making a good impression and winning friends . . . Tipp Mooney of Texas Tech drove a carload down here Tuesday and Wednesday hit the road in search of football players . . . Sports editors are as thick as flies, each one claiming a title for his team . . . Chuck Whitlock of the El Paso Times is bragging that only six Mexicans made their eight-man team this year. Bulldog Turner arrived here late Wednesday to take in the fights.

Stars Tee Off In Valley Open

HARLINGEN, Feb. 12. (AP)—The $10,000 Lower Rio Grande Valley Open started today with veterans of the tournament trail saying you can pick any one of a dozen players as favorite. Golf has become that close, they declare, and the 1948 record bears them out.

Six tournaments have been held this year and six different men have won them—Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum, E. J. Harrison, Bobby Locke, Skip Alexander and Sam Snead.

Palmer Favorite

If anyone is to be established as the general favorite here it is Johnny Palmer, the rapidly rising young man from Badin, N. C. It's because of his putting. The Harlingen municipal course is short—just 6,045 yards—giving the edge to the top man on the greens. Palmer stars at putting along with a very sound all-around game.

Another well-rated man is Bobby Locke, the Johannesburg, South Africa, invader who also excels on the carpets.

But all of the top men of golf except Sam Snead and Lew Worsham, the 1947 National Open champion, are in the field of 181 moving out today in the first 18 holes. Snead, winner of the Texas Open at San Antonio last week-end has quit the tour for a time. Worsham has a leg infection that is due to keep him out of action here.

The crack shots of golf who laughed at rain and cold at San Antonio where par figures were given their greatest battering are feeling none too good about conditions at the Valley Open. Winds of 28 to 38 miles per hour are causing general headshaking. However, they have been trimming par 35-36—71 figures pretty consistently in warm-up rounds. Several 65's have been recorded.

The field will be trimmed to 100 with today's round. Tomorrow some 40 more will be lopped from the list. The low 60 and ties of the first 36 holes will play 18 holes Saturday and 18 more Sunday in the battle for the $2,000 first money.

They started moving off the tees at 7 a. m. CST, and the last players will go out at 2:28 p. m. Thirty-seven of the entries are amateurs.

BOWLING SCORES

Southwestern Public Service keglers retained top position in the Ladies Commercial Bowling league by defeating Grollman's pin-topplers in two of three games Wednesday night at Lubbock Bowling club. Norma Crossland paced the Southwestern squad with a 195-551 series, while Frances McDowell topped Grollman's with a 144-402.

Hemphill-Wells jumped to the third spot in the loop race by drubbing the Westerner cafe five in two games as Artie Galloway tallied a 147-435 series. Flo Christensen led the cafe crew with a 151-441.

Larrymore Dance studio bowlers entered the win column with two victories over Hackel's. Billy Slover rolled a 158-456 for the winners and Gail Tyson chalked up a 160-394 for Hackel's.

Home Lumber and Supply defeated Glassman's by default.

The league standings:

Team	Won	Lost
Southwestern	37	20
Home Lumber	31	26
Larrymore's	30	27
Hemphill-Wells	30	27
Westerner	28	29
Hackel's	26	31
Glassman's	26	31

Two Teams Are Deadlocked In Second Spot

Playoff Between Abernathy And Sundown Is Planned; Site, Date Will Be Chosen

ABERNATHY, Feb. 12 (Special)—High school officials of Abernathy and Sundown High schools today were expected to complete plans, and designate the site, for a playoff between the two teams which will send one of them into the District 4-A basketball championship tournament.

The two teams are deadlocked in second place, each having lost three conference clashes.

Abernathy and Sundown school officials Wednesday were working out plans for the playoff. Both schools appeared to favor sending their teams afloor Tuesday night to break the deadlock with the winner of the single contest accompanying Tahoka to the district tourney.

Tahoka has won the championship of the south zone while Sudan and Levelland are definitely in as the winners in the north zone.

O. W. Marcom, superintendent of Levelland schools, and District 4-A chairman, has called a Saturday afternoon meeting at the Hilton hotel here to set the dates and the site of the annual tournament.

Abernathy will not be able to meet Sundown in the playoff before next week since its Antelopes are scheduled to meet the Post five in a postponed game Friday night.

Representatives of the Tahoka, Abernathy, Sudan, Sundown and Levelland schools will attend the Saturday meeting here.

The 1947 tournament was held at Sundown.

Tahoka, Abernathy, Levelland and Sundown all have large gymnasiums.

The Tahoka Bulldogs moved into the championship of the south zone Tuesday night by turning back the Abernathy Antelopes, 36-25, in Abernathy.

Sudan is unbeaten in conference play in the north zone, and Levelland trails with only one loss, that to Sudan.

Coach "Jake" Jacob's Bulldogs got themselves into the category of "the team to watch" when they began knocking off the area's stronger teams. Now the north zone, where Levelland and Sudan are perennial favorites, have begun wondering about this sharp-shooting quintet to the south.

Sudan and Levelland tangle in Levelland Friday night in their last District 4-A conference game of the season. The Levelland gym, which has a capacity of about 1,400, is expected to be packed past elbow room.

Longhorns And Bears To Meet Tonight For Loop Leadership

(By The Associated Press)

The University of Texas Longhorns and Baylor Bears settle the Southwest conference basketball race leadership tonight in Waco.

The result tonight will go a long way toward determining the champion.

Texas Defends Title

Baylor has already defeated the other major contender, Arkansas, while Texas has yet to meet the gangling Razorbacks.

And Baylor's smooth Bruins have just three more games to play—against two lower bracket clubs and another tilt with Texas.

Texas, defending champion and winner of 16 of 17 games this year, will be just an even bet for the first time in conference play this year.

The Longhorns have a slight advantage in speed over the Bruins, who have won eight straight games, but will be playing on the Bears' home court against one of the best defensive teams in the circuit.

Three Baylor players are among the first ten in scoring while Texas' main punch is Slater Martin and big Tom Hamilton.

Jackie Robinson, Don Heathington and Bill Johnson are the high scoring sparks of the Bears.

Four other conference games are scheduled this week.

Tomorrow night, Texas A. and M. is host to Rice at College station and Texas Christian meets Arkansas at Fayetteville.

Saturday, Arkansas and Texas Christian will complete their series at Fayetteville.

High School Mitt Matches Postponed

TAHOKA, Feb. 12 (Special)—A boxing meet between Tahoka and Lockney High school teams which was scheduled for tonight here has been postponed because of cold weather.

The tourney has been tentatively reset for Friday night, and if weather conditions continue bad Friday another postponement will be ordered, Coach Jim Foust of the Tahoka team said.

The teams will meet in the Tahoka High school gym.

Raiders To Tangle With Arizona State

A speedy Sun Devil quint from Arizona State at Tempe will match its smooth-working offense against the rangy shotmakers of Texas Tech in a Border conference battle at 8 o'clock tonight at the Tech gymnasium, with the Red Raiders seeking revenge for an early season defeat by the Arizona cagers on their home floor.

The Raiders hold the runner-up position in the Border conference basketball title chase, as a result of recent victories over Texas Mines and Hardin-Simmons, and a win over Tempe tonight would put the Techsans on the heels of the leading Arizona university Wildcats. The Tech quint has a record of five triumphs in conference play, against three defeats.

Tempe Is Revamped

Coach Polk Robison will depend on a group of veterans for a win over the Sun Devils, with William (Whistle) Banks and Eugene Gibson at starting forward posts, big Don Grove at center and Ardis Barton and James (Wimpy) Hill at guard slots. Grove is expected to continue to carry the brunt of the Tech offense, as he has done all season, with point-making assistance from Banks and Gibson.

The Tempe five has been revamped since the first tussle with Tech, but two stellar players—Forward Verl Heap and Carl Heath—are sure to get starting assignments. Both cagers have copped high scoring honors in numerous tilts this year and are ranked as two of the best hardwood artists in the Southwest.

Approximately 200 seats will be available for Lubbock fans, Tech officials announced last night, and will be sold on a "first come, first served" basis at the athletic office.

A special curtain-raising clash of special interest to South Plains cage fans has been carded at the gym at 6:15 o'clock, with the Texas Tech frosh battling the strong Wayland college Pioneers

In the last meeting of the two quints the freshmen edged the Pioneers, 53-52, on a last second field goal by Lonnie Balch; but Balch is now participating in the state Golden Gloves tourney at Fort Worth and will not be with the home five tonight. Rangy Verdell Turner and Ed Wilson, former Westerner cage stars, will head the starting lineup for the freshmen, with Charles Pinnell of Andrews, George Belcher of Portales, Ike Stuver of Ysleta and Bob Steely of Clovis competing for the other posts.

D. W. Harkins, the Levelland shotmaker, and Leon Burch will probably provide the offensive spark for the Wayland team. The Pioneers hold first place in the west zone of the Texas Junior college conference, with a season record of 15 games won and five lost.

China Facing Grave Danger Of Collapse, Even Dismemberment

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

One hesitates to use the loud pedal of pessimism, but it's necessary to record that China is in grave danger of collapse and even partial dismemberment.

Mind you, we are talking about a vast country which houses a quarter of the globe's population and theoretically ranks as one of the Big Five powers along with America, Russia, Britain and France. She has reached such a chaotic state economically, politically and militarily that she cannot save herself by her own resources alone. Only outside aid on a vast scale could turn the trick. Having said that you naturally think of Uncle Sam—and wonder.

Economy Blasted

China has just entered its Lunar New Year ("The Year of The Rat") and this normally calls for national celebration. However, Generalisimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government banned such observance because of the country's plight. Chiang told his lieutenants at a dinner that "this year will be better than the last," but apparently he was wise enough to let this non-committal remark lie where it fell.

The cold fact is that the country's economy has been blown to smithereens. It's so bad that the experts can't give an intelligible estimate of the disaster. People continue to die of starvation. The inflation is as crazy as the mad hatter.

This frightful economic disruption is in part a reflection of the political mess. Chiang has to struggle with powerful forces which make it impossible to establish an efficient government. War lords and other vested interests continue to put self before country, with disastrous results.

Communists Happy

Small wonder that the Chinese Communist Rebels have been making a field day of this politico-economic collapse which inevitably has crippled Chiang's military efforts to crush the rebellion. The position of the government as regards Manchuria is close to desperate, and to me that connotes near hopelessness. The Chinese Communists are in control of that great and rich country, and we can at least say that it will be a military marvel if Chiang can regain it.

Worse yet, there is a heavy exodus from cities which are threatened by the Communists in northern China. In fact, the government's position north of the Yangtse river through central China is bad generally.

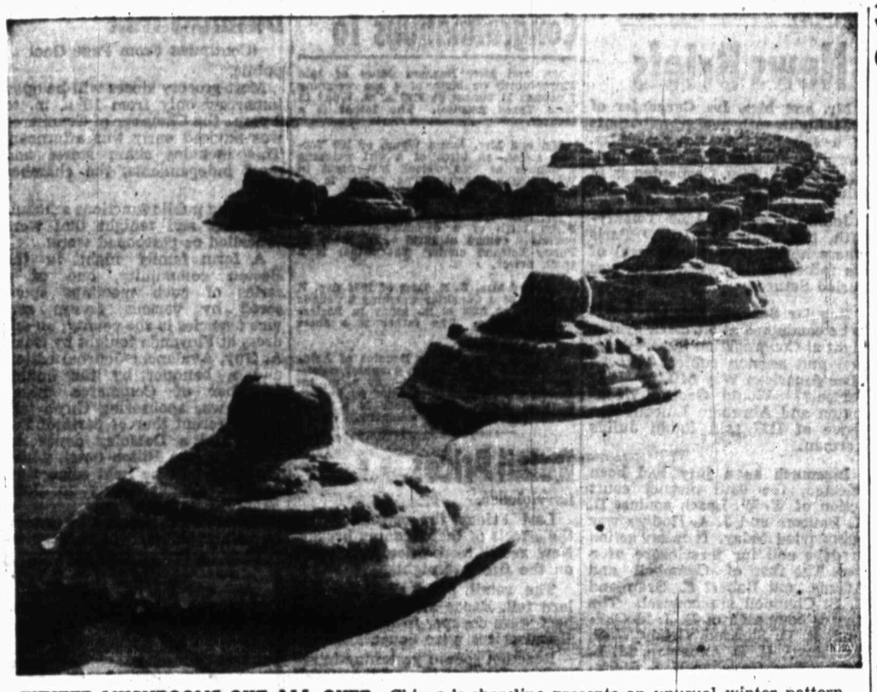

If the Chinese Communists are able to consolidate their hold on Manchuria, what have you? Well, obviously you have a separate state, for one thing. But that's far from being the whole story.

Chiang's government has charged that Russia has been giving the Chinese Reds material help in their rebellion. Of course that has to be proved, but if it is true (and neutral observers generally accept it) Manchuria would become another satellite of Moscow. This would multiply the already vast influence of the Soviet Union in the Far East so that she might be the dominant power in that part of the world.

Need Recognized

Recognition of China's great need is seen in the U. S. State department's request to the Senate Foreign Relations committee for an increase in the fund for Chinese aid. The new estimate is for $570,000,000.

Naturally $570,000,000 more won't save China. As a matter of fact, the problem is so vast that nobody knows whether it can be solved by money. Some close observers point out that China has had great experience with adversity, and say that on this basis her position isn't hopeless. Be that as may, China's salvation depends in major degree upon herself.

Supreme Court Rules On Bus Line Limits

AUSTIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—An El Paso jitney service may operate within the city and its suburbs but not beyond there without a Railroad commission certificate, the Supreme court held today.

In so holding, the appeal court remanded to trial court for such judgment the case of Juan Villalobos vs Miguel Holguin.

The trial court originally enjoined Holguin from operating beyond the city limits without a Railroad commission certificate. Civil Appeals court had remanded the case for a new finding of facts, but the Supreme court held that a reforming of the judgment was all that was necessary.

The Supreme court defined suburbs as territory lying between the city limits and the beginning of the first farm. Such territory, the court said, does not include the towns of Ysleta, Socorro, San Elizario and Clint, where the jitney service was alleged to have been operating.

Villalobos, who brought the suit, operates a motor vehicle transportation service between the towns named under authorization of the state-required certificate.

Final Rites Pending For W. L. Wright

LAMESA, Feb. 12 (Special) — Funeral services for W. L. Wright, 68, resident of Lamesa about 30 years who died Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock in a Lamesa hospital, probably will be conducted in Lamesa, but arrangements were pending arrival of a daughter from Florida, Higginbotham Funeral home reported.

Survivors include his wife, Virl, and four daughters, Mrs. C. M. Gay of Moran, Irene Wright of Odessa, Billie Wright, Miami Beach, Fla., and Ila Wright, Lamesa.

The Ma cedonians used artificial trout flies made of wool and chicken feathers in the Third Century.

News Reporters Know Everything Except What Is Happening In Their Own Office

By BOB WEDDLE
United Press Staff Writer

Folks who work on newspapers have a peculiar habit of knowing what everyone in town is doing except the people they work with every day.

We can remember times when the person across the desk from us was gone for a couple of weeks and we didn't even know where he had been until he got back—simply because newspaper folks, unlike some others, don't get their names in the paper every time they leave town.

Tyler An Exception

But the employees of the Tyler Courier-Times and the Tyler Morning Telegraph have figured out a way to keep themselves informed as to what the various members of the newspaper family are doing.

Each month they publish a diminutive sheet called The Spotlight—"by and for employes of the Tyler Courier-Times, Tyler Morning Telegraph and Radio station KTBB."

In addition to numerous feature articles aimed to tickle the funny bones of editorial employes and printers, the paper carries little bits of information about the newspaper men and women and their families.

When someone on the staff does something big—like Ray Holbrook's getting notice in Editor & Publisher for his series of articles outlining means of prison reform in Texas—it is recounted for the the other staff members in The Spotlight.

Free Publicity

In the second issue of the publication, dated Feb. 6, was a story telling about the printers of the Tyler papers making contributions to help purchase an iron lung for Tyler for use in case of poliomyelitis and other diseases.

Also on Page 1 of the same issue was a yarn about the Christmas party which the employes held, a squib about the new radio station, which is affiliated with the newspapers, and one giving credit to Mrs. Avis Waler for the crossword puzzle she drew for that issue.

At last a way has been found for a newspaper man to get his name in the paper besides as a byline over a story that might not be as good as he would like it to be.

Dec. 27 Is Deadline On Jap Immigration

TOKYO, Feb. 12 (AP)—Americans who have married Japanese may return home to establish residence before the Dec. 27 deadline set by Congress.

The U. S. Eighth army said today their homecoming will be permitted regardless of completion of tours of duty in Japan, or civilian employment agreements.

The "Alien Spouse" act exempts wives of occupation personnel from immigration restrictions, if such aliens establish U. S. residence before the deadline.

When the black roof of a large factory was painted white, the result was an interior which was cooler by several degrees in hot weather.

Weather Might Delay Golf Tourney Again

The West Texas Pro Amateur Golf association's winter meet dates and blizzards seem to arrive simultaneously.

Such a pro-amateur event was scheduled for Big Spring last month, and January's blast of icy weather caused postponement.

The 18-hole Medal play meet was reset for Friday, Feb. 13.

Herb Schroeder of the Country club, who Wednesday received a reminder from Morgan Hampton, chairman of the tournament committee, that the meet's reset date was near at hand, scratched his head, and wondered.

No golfers, in a large radius, had to be reminded that winter had again laid ice encrusting hands over the South Plains and West Texas.

Schroeder had heard nothing today concerning possible postponement of the tournament, and did not expect any information until late today. He felt it probable, the tournament would be postponed.

12 Cities Receive Water Meet Honors

AUSTIN, Feb. 12. (U.P.)—A total of 12 Texas cities received honors at the annual meeting of the Texas Water Works and Sewerage Short school held yesterday at Texas A. (U.P.) M. college, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, announced today.

Among the cities honored were Uvalde, Edinburg, Big Spring, Greens Bayou, Wichita Falls, Silsbee, Texarkana, Grand Prairie, Lott, Comanche, El Paso and Corpus Christi.

The United States oil industry is now refining more than 5,200,000 barrels of crude oil per day compared to the average of the peak wartime year of 1945 of 4,711,000 barrels per day, and to the prewar average of 3,861,000 barrels per day in 1941.

Troop Members Honor Scoutmaster

As part of the observance here of national Boy Scout week, parents and Scouts of Troop 5, honored their scoutmaster, W. A. (Mose) Hood, with a pot luck supper at First Christian church last night.

About 87 parents and Scouts attended. Arrangements were in charge of Francis (Punchy) Bearden, assistant scoutmaster of the troop.

As a mark of appreciation of his work with the boys, Hood was presented a bronze Boy Scout trophy on which his name and troop number were engraved, and also received a copy of a booklet containing the 21-year history of the troop. Information in the book was compiled by the assistant scoutmaster and troop mothers. Mrs. Hood was presented a dozen red roses.

The program included a short talk on the who, what and when of troop history, by Mrs. Frank Ford, and a humorous skit with music by a "quintet quartet" consisting of Jimmy Murray, Lowell Caddell, Cecil Caddell, and John Morrissett. Mrs. Lois Elliott, a troop mother, was accompanist.

How Good Is An Opinion?

That depends on who gives it. And on what it is based.

Certified Public Accountants give opinions on whether company financial statements fairly show assets, liabilities, profits. The OPA's opinion is based on an independent audit—which means an extensive financal examination.

In this examination he tests a wide variety of the concern's transactions, enough to satisfy him that its records in their entirety are reliable.

This kind of opinion is an informed and expect judgment by a responsible professional man. Naturally, the investor, banker, or creditor is reassured by this independent appraisal of a company's accomplishments.

Police Issue Traffic Plea

A police caution sounded this morning, asking motorists to "keep cars under control at all times and avoid negligence in their operation," was coupled with announcements that fines had been levied in 26 cases of negligent collisions in the last four days.

That figure did not include numerous other fines, including those for speeding, running stop signs and red traffic signals.

Others Are Fined

Nine other fines were levied for failure of motorists to have drivers licenses; two for driving after licenses had expired; one for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle, and various others.

Police said they had assessed recent fines against motorists for parking cars on the pavement.

The city ordinance requires that no car be left on a paved street between the hours of 2 and 6 a. m.

Seventeen negligent collision charges were filed in connection with 21 collisions within the four-day period, a check of records showed.

Caution Urged

Fines in such cases may be as high as $100 each.

In recognition of dangerous traffic conditions compounded of poor visibility, occasional patches of drifted snow and the uncertain response of engines made sluggish by low temperatures, police advised that extra-special care be exercised by motorists.

tional $25 for the horse and saddle. The saddle itself is worth $100, officials said. The boy said he had sold his bike for $15 and earned $10 more selling newspapers.

The horse is at J. W. Boyd's Packing company on East Broadway, the saddle at the sheriff's department.

Machines Are Stolen

Joe Burn of Amarillo, a guest of a downtown hotel, told officials someone had stolen 10 stappling machines valued at $100 from his car, parked in 600-block Texas Ave.

A 56-year-old Sundown man, H. W. Drinkard, was fined $50 and county court costs upon a plea of guilty of drunk driving, officials said. The arrest was by the state highway patrol.

A 29-year-old man was detained by police upon a request of San Angelo officials, for investigation into an informal theft from the person charge.

Fine Is Assessed

A fine of $50 and county court costs were assessed late Wednesday, and his driver's license was suspended six months, after a county court jury of which C. H. Tisdel was foreman had found Duel Dewitt Burden, 43, guilty of drunk driving.

County Attorney John Steele called one witness at the morning session, and introduced rebuttal evidence after the defense had placed two witnesses on the stand, including the defendant.

Francisco Yanez, 23, a Mexican, pleaded guilty of aggravated assault upon a Lubbock woman and was fined $25 and county court costs. He was charged jointly with Dave Romero, 19, another Mexican, Feb. 4. Romero posted a bond after pleading innocent, and will be tried.

Authorities Probe New Mexico Affray

SILVER CITY, N. M., Feb. 12 (U.P.)—Assistant Dist. Atty. J. R. Wrinkle and Sheriff Ben Deck today were investigating a shooting at Central, N. M., in which Deputy Sheriff Albert Parra received a bullet wound in the right shoulder.

The shooting, reportedly occurred yesterday at the home of Ed Woods in Central, where Deputy Parra was said to have spent the night. Woods reported the shooting to authorities and surrendered immediately. However, he claimed that Parra threatened him with a pistol while intoxicated, and that he shot the deputy in self-defense.

All Declare Holiday

Every one of the 44 towns served by the gas company declared an emergency business holiday for today, according to information received by the gas company, but some businesses were remaining open, possibly not aware of the emergency holiday.

Most firms were cooperating. Those not cooperating, the announcement revealed, are endangering the gas necessary to the health and welfare of South Plains residents.

In addition to cooperation of business firms, "It is going to take the cooperation of every home in using as little gas as is necessary to stay warm," the announcement from the gas company stated.

"Cooperation is fine, but it has to be more," the gas company announcement stated.

Shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, Hinchey had emphasized that "complete cooperation" of business firms not essential to health and welfare is necessary.

"We would do anything within our power to prevent any home from being without gas," he said.

Any failure to cooperate would only prolong the length of the emergency, he said.

He said cooperation was generally good, but expressed belief some might be unaware of the emergency early this morning. Men were checking meters to determine the rate of "take" in different sections.

Holiday Requested

The West Texas Gas Co. Wednesday night had requested business firms on the South Plains to declare the emergency holiday. Some schools had closed Wednesday because of weather conditions, and the gas company Wednesday afternoon had asked that all schools close.

Mayor Bestwick of Lubbock issued the emergency proclamation in Lubbock Wednesday night and said he felt "that all business firms and individuals should cooperate by closing."

Just how long the emergency would last was not known—depending, on when gas pressure can be built up so that there would be no danger to the supply for homes and businesses essential to public welfare and health.

Clouds Prove Aid

Clouds which blanketed this area were considered responsible for the temperature going no lower than this morning's minimum of 9 degrees, which was recorded about 1 a. m.

Wind was not as strong as it was at the same time Wednesday, but a north wind was blowing and about 25 miles per hour velocity was reported by the U. S. Weather bureau station north of Lubbock shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. Snow had been falling at intervals since 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, but precipitation had not been sufficient to measure as late as this morning.

Flights Are Resumed

Airline flights through Lubbock were resumed today. A Pioneer plane had landed before mid-morning and Braniff and Continental planes were to make regular flights today.

Snow and mist were reported from most points with which the Santa Fe dispatcher at Slaton checked. Of temperatures reported to the dispatcher, the low was four degrees at Canyon.

The U. S. Weather bureau station north of Lubbock reported freezing drizzle and snow were occurring over most of the state.

Amarillo's low this morning was five degrees and the 7:30 a. m. temperature was seven degrees, the weather station was informed.

Travel Is Delayed

The Associated Press said an ice coating—the worst of the winter in some places—halted or slowed ground travel over large sections of North and Central Texas today.

The Panhandle's blinding blizzard of yesterday slowed down and its accompanying norther spread to the Rio Grande from El Paso to Brownsville.

At Austin, State Highway Maintenance Engineer G. B. Finley said travel conditions over much of Texas were worse than in the last ice storm. He warned motorists to stay off the highways unless they had chains.

"The only cross-country driving should be of an emergency nature," he cautioned.

Ice conditions were reported from the Red river valley at Gainesville and Bonham as far south as San Antonio.

Interurban car service between Denison and Dallas and from Dallas to Waco was suspended this morning because of ice. Bus service between Fort Worth and Dallas also was cancelled in the morning. Morning bus and automobile traffic skidded on the streets of Dallas, Austin and San Antonio.

Three crew members of a Texas Electric railroad freight train were marooned five miles northeast of Hillsboro for six hours this morning after power was cut off on the Dallas-Waco line. P. D. Forbes, the conductor, said the men had only a lantern for heat. The men became walking icicles in a 200-yard walk to a highway where they met a taxicab which took them to Hillsboro.

Holiday At Midland

At Midland schools were closed today and the mayor called a holiday for all except essential businesses to conserve natural gas for home use. A spitting snow and sleet fall had not yet covered the ground. Oil and ranch activities were slowed down greatly in the Midland area by the intense cold. The low there this morning was 12 degrees.

Schools were dismissed until Monday at Gainesville, where a continuing sleet storm had laid a half-inch ice coat. At Bonham, east of Gainesville in the Red river valley, freezing rain coated trees and wires with ice. Gainesville had a low temperature of 20 degrees, Bonham 30.

Highway U. S. 75 was blocked south of Corsicana this morning by a huge trailer truck which skidded across the road. Other highways in that section were virtually impassable.

Ranchers in the San Angelo area feared a heavy loss of new-born lambs and some two months to 10 weeks old.

Boy Is Rescued

A five-year-old boy was rescued from a stalled truck yesterday when Pike Cluck of Gruver, Tex., rode horseback through deep snow and a freezing wind to bring him safely back to Gruver.

The boy and his companion and driver, Chester Barnes of Perryton, had spent Tuesday night in the truck when trapped by the blizzard. Barnes walked the estimated three miles to Gruver seeking aid and Cluck went after the boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Setiz of Spearman.

The weather also threatened misery to Colorado City, Haskell, Aspermont, Coleman, Rotan, Knox City and Albany. Butane gas supplies for fuel were low there and dealers at Knox City and Albany said they were rationing butane to all customers.

Film Show Proceeds Amount To $3,082.50

A report showing net profits to the club of $3,082.50 from the six-day showing of the McMillan African-hunt pictures was given the Kiwanis club at its luncheon today at Hotel Lubbock.

The report was made by Marion Sanford, project treasurer, who said that 6,576 tickets, including 1,939 children at the two matinee performances, were sold. Program was in charge of Dinty Moore, chairman of the club's committee. He introduced other committee members, including W. G. McMillan, who commented on various phases of the show. They included W. C. O'Mara and Dale Buckner.

Club President L. E. (Jack) Davis called on Durwood Bradley to read several letters from school principals expressing on behalf of children their appreciation for the generosity of a "good Kiwanian" who bought 259 tickets for distribution among underprivile g ed children who, they said, could not have seen the film otherwise. Davis did not name the "good Kiwanian," citing his promise his identity would not be divulged.

Davis announced that Brig. Gen. Roger M. Raney, commander of the U. S. Eigth Air force, who could not reach here last week or this week due to bad weather, had advised him he is standing by, and hopes to be here for the club's luncheon next week. Invocation was by Dr. M. Norvel Young.

Hearing On Bus Line Application Delayed

Hearing on the application of John Reed, doing business as Trans-Western coaches, for a certificate of convenience and necessity, was postponed, probably until sometime in March, after Horace Soule of Austin, an examiner of the state railroad commission, had heard Reed this morning in Lubbock hotel and objections had been filed by other witnesses.

Reed seeks permission to establish direct bus service between Abilene and Lubbock.

A hearing schedule for Feb. 19 in Abilene also was postponed, because of weather conditions and difficulty in getting interested witnesses to appear at the hearing here.

She said "Earl's presence" was a comfort to her through the cold winter months.

Blowing Snow

New England.

The snow in the New England states brought much warmer weather and communities which reported temperatures far below zero yesterday had readings in the 20's early today.

Heavy rain fell from eastern Texas and Arkansas northeastward through the Ohio river valley and eastward to the South Atlantic coastal states.

Memphis Has Heaviest

Memphis, Tenn., reported the heaviest rainfall with 2.07 inches yesterday, most of it between 6 p. m. and midnight. Rain was falling over the entire area from northern Florida to southern Pennsylvania.

At New Richmond, O., giant ice floes in the Ohio river smashed against the front of a mountainous gorge of ice and army engineers warned that if the gorge broke, "it's going to be bad."

New Richmond is 30 miles up river from Cincinnati and the engineers said that if the gorge breaks loose, it will rush down eight miles of open water before striking another gorge. If it breaks through the second gorge nothing will stop it from sweeping into the Cincinnati harbor, the engineers said.

Injunction Against Soap Firm Denied

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 12 (U.P.) The Soap Corporation of America can continue to maintain its factory in Wichita Falls.

The City of Wichita Falls yesterday was denied an injunction against the firm, after the plant was alleged to be a health menace and nuisance. The city petition alleged that the factory discharged lye and soap dust and obnoxious odors over an area of several blocks.

". . . Cities are built around industries," Louis T. Holland, sitting as a special judge in 78th District court, said in his decision, "and people who live in cities must forbear inconveniences."

Bandits Take $300 In Dallas Holdups

DALLAS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Bandits riddled two service stations with bursts of machinegun fire which narrowly missed the attendants, shot off a policeman's cap and escaped with nearly $300 in cash here early today.

The holdups were at the W. C. Roach Auto supply and the Whitlock Service station.

A few minutes after the holdups, Policemen J. E. Penny and G. N. Davis, cruising in a squad car, saw two men run across a street.

They called to the men to halt and were answered by a burst of rapidly fired shots. Davis' cap was knocked off by a bullet, which cut through a pad of papers he had placed inside his hat.

Funeral services are to be announced as soon as the body arrives here.

Judgment nici was signed Wednesday by 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue, ordering that Clarence Thornton, a negro charged with felony theft, and his surities, Eva Barnes and John Fair, both negroes, appear at the first day of the next term of court and show cause why a $1,000 bond should not be forfeited. Thornton had failed to appear when his case was called for trial Jan. 26. Citation was being prepared this afternoon by District Clerk Royal Furgeson. An indictment charges Thornton with theft of an elevator conveyor.

Retail Prices

its violence.

Last Friday the consumer felt the effects of the widening breaks. New retail food price cuts were on the fire last night.

The retail price of flour and lard fell. Bacon and some cuts of beef were cheaper in many stores. Bread prices were down.

Reaction spread yesterday to securities markets around the world. Stocks tumbled in Manila, Copenhagen, Sydney and Toronto. There was a slump on the London market, but prices there recovered before the British exchange closed for the day.

There were temporary rallies in the prices of grain during the week, but they were short-lived.

Tuesday Worst Day

The worst day of the week-long melee was Tuesday, when prices fell like ten pins. Stocks tumbled $1 to $5 a share Tuesday and sent the Associated Press average down to a new low since last June. Never before were so many issues traded on the New York stock exchange.

"The back of inflation has been broken," said A. W. Zelomek of New York, economic counsellor and president of the International Statistical Bureau, a private organization. Many economists agreed.

Zelomek predicted that commodity prices would fall 20 to 25 per cent within nine months. Most economists were chary, however, with any predictions for the future.

Wage Demands Continue

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson blamed mass speculation by small traders for the "boom and bust" commodity market.

A survey of AFL and CIO union leaders showed they generally regard current price declines as not enough to reduce their wage demands.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill) took the view that a protracted slump would cut national income and tax receipts. If the drop continued, he said, it might "eliminate all possibility" of income tax cuts this year.

But the housewife learned just last night that pork chops are as low as 39 cents a pound in Minneapolis. Durkee Famous Foods division of the Glidden company announced a three-cents-a-pound cut to wholesalers in the price of margarine.

More Cuts Expected

Shortening and starch were reduced in price yesterday. A chain store spokesman indicated last night that additional cuts were in the offing.

The American Meat Institute at Chicago said wholesale hams were down as much as 14½ cents a pound from the January peak in many cities. Bacon, it said, has dropped from 51 to 39 cents a pound wholesale; loins for roasts and chops as much as 6½ cents, while sides of dressed beef were off 3½ to 6 cents a pound.

There was just a hint of a firming note among the markets as the week of price breaks ended.

Hogs were 50 cents to $2 a hundred pounds higher at the close of the Chicago livestock market yesterday. But lamb prices sagged and beef cattle were mixed. Wholesale meat and butter prices continued to slip.

Einstein Winner Of "One World" Award

NEW YORK, Feb. 12. (U.P.)—Prof. Albert Einstein was named today as the winner of the Wendell Willkie memorial "One World Award" for 1948 which entitled him to trip around the world.

The committee said the presentation would be made at Carnegie hall, April 27. Previous winners of the award were the late Fiorello H. LaGuardia and Norman Corwin, radio writer.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?
If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment, flour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.
To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.
Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.
Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Most grocery stores will be open tomorrow only from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m., the Chamber of Commerce was advised early this afternoon. This includes chain stores and most independents, the chamber said.

Among public functions scheduled today and tonight that were cancelled or postponed were:

A farm family night in the Becton community, one of a series of such meetings sponsored by various farm service agencies in the county; an address at Floydada tonight by Chas. A. Guy, Avalanche-Journal editor, and a banquet by the Junior Chamber of Commerce there, which was sponsoring Guy's talk on his recent tour of parts of Europe; and a DeMolay dance set tonight at the Hilton hotel, which probably will be held some time next week, according to John Bradford, sponsor.

Lubbock Boys club, like numerous other places, will observe today as a holiday—because of a gas shortage.

That automatically means that a basketball game with Estacado, which had been scheduled for tonight, will be canceled, John W. Wilson, city-county juvenile counsellor said.

Houston Man Dies In Argument Over Dime

HOUSTON, Feb. 12 (U.P.)—A 34-year-old former city employe was dead of stab wounds today after he got into an argument over a dime on a street corner near the downtown section.

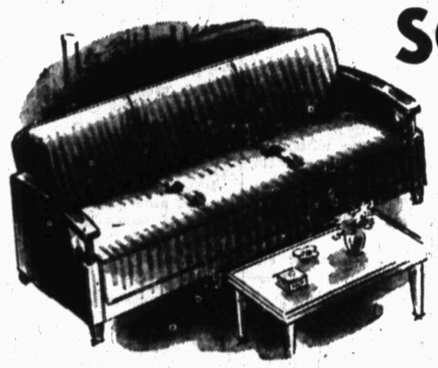

The victim of 11 knife wounds was William C. Russell, a former City of Houston truck driver.

In a written statement to police, Elliott B. Quinn, 57, admitted stabbing Russell with a pocket knife at the corner of Congress and La-Branch last night. Quinn was arrested in a hotel early today.

Quinn said the argument started after someone asked him for a dime. Quinn told the man he had no money to spare. He said another man walked over to him and started cursing him.

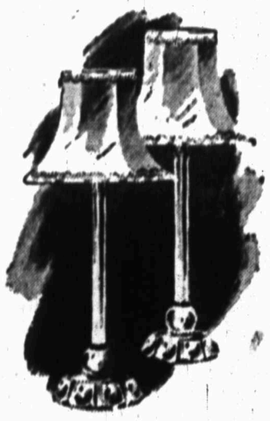

"He took a swing at me," Quinn said. "I ducked and reached in my pocket and pulled my knife. I don't know how many times I stabbed him."

Fifteen Hurt When Bus Hits Building

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12 (U.P.)—Two persons were in serious condition today as a result of injuries suffered when a bus skidded off the icy pavement on U. S. route 61 ten miles south of here and crashed into an office building.

All 15 passengers aboard the bus were injured in the crash but most of them managed to climb out the window of the bus.

The two badly injured, Terry Rice of St. Louis and L. S. Davis, Malden, Mo., were trapped in the wrecked bus for an hour. They were rescued by a crew of garagemen from St. Louis.

Mexican Craft Joins Missing Plane Hunt

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12 (AP)—A Mexican hydroplane has joined the search for a C-47 cargo plane missing since Tuesday.

The communications ordered the plane out and alerted the Coast Guard, airports and army plane bases in the Gulf area to be on the lookout.

The department said the plane was lost on a flight from Brownsville, Tex., to Campeche on the Yucatan peninsula. It is one of a fleet transporting fish from Yucatan to New Orleans, the department said.

Body Of Officer To Arrive Here Friday

Body of Lt. Geo. L. Musick, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Musick, sr., 2317 Eighth, who was killed Jan. 7 on the island of Guam, will arrive in Lubbock by Santa Fe train at 4 a. m. Friday.

Lt. Kenneth Taylor of the U. S. Navy will be escort.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the First Baptist church. Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor, will officiate. Burial will follow in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home.

FREAK SNOWSTORMS

Showers of snow may be made to fall from the ceiling, if a window suddenly is thrown open, allowing freezing cold air to rush into a small room containing warm, moist air.

Besides his parents, Lt Musick is survived by his wife and small daughter, who were residing in Jacksonville, Fla., and two sisters, Miss Elizabeth Musick and Mrs. Walter Walker, both of Lubbock.

Lt. Musick, a student at Texas Tech before the war, chose to remain in the service and had been stationed at Guam about six months.

Funeral Ship Docks At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12 (U.P.)—The funeral ship Cardinal O'Connell was anchored in San Francisco bay today with the bodies of 2,812 World War II veterans from Pacific battlefields aboard.

Military and civilian leaders were scheduled to pay respects to the war dead at memorial services later today before the bodies are unloaded and sent to the next of kin for burial in the United States.

The bodies, seven of them nurses and WACS, were from Australia, Guadalcanal and Hawaii.

The Cardinal O'Connell is the second army transport to bring back war dead from Pacific battlefields.

14 Rescued As Avalanche Hits Train

Coaches Swept Off The Track

ALAMOSA, Colo., Feb. 12. (U.P.)—A rescue train struggled back toward Alamosa today, carrying 14 persons who were trapped when an avalanche roared down a mountain slope and knocked three cars of their Denver and Rio Grande passenger train into a steep canyon.

The rescue train was creeping through gorges from which new slides threatened to sweep over the tracks at any moment.

Ten passengers and four crewmen were aboard the narrow-gauge D. & R. G. train when the avalanche of new snow rolled over in the narrow Toltec gorge between Alamosa and Durango. Two coaches and the observation car were swept off the track.

None Seriously Hurt

None of the passengers was reported injured seriously.

George Ottoway, a trainman, was crushed when the snowslide rammed the coaches 300 feet into a canyon. Railroad officials here said they did not know Ottoway's condition but they believed it was not critical.

The engineer walked to a ranch house through deep snow and zero weather to telephone for aid.

The rescue train carried doctors, nurses and section hands. It was slowed by the heavy fall of new snow, reported more than 12 inches deep on the 10,000-foot Cumbres pass, near where the slide occurred.

An Isolated Spot

Scene of the slide is in one of the most isolated spots along the railroad, which skirts the Colorado-New Mexico border for what railroad men call "the world's worst 200 miles."

The nearest highway is about three miles from the railroad, with almost impassable country intervening.

The snow hit the rear of the baggage car, pushing the other cars into the canyon only a mile from a spectacular 2,000-foot drop into the Toltec gorge.

Masonic Plans Are Deferred

It would cost $217,111.84 to construct a modern two-story Masonic lodge building as proposed in plans and specifications recently drawn, a building committee found upon study Wednesday afternoon of low base bids.

Since the Masonic bodies, which are equally represented on the building committee, had estimated Masonic financial resources at not more than $200,000, the commitee voted to defer action and to ask the architect and the general contractor, who submitted the lowest base bid to confer and determine what amount could be reduced by adoption of alternate plans.

Various Changes Possible

Such alternate construction, for instance, could dispense with plans for an elevator; could change exterior trim; could affect materials of partitions, and the like.

The committee, of which C. E. Maedgen is chairman, indicated it would reassemble after the building cost is re-figured on a basis of possible changes.

It is made up otherwise of H. B. Bryan, Charles Duncan, Neil H. Wright, Homer D. Grant, Burton S. Burks, Durwood H. Bradley, Parker F. Prouty, and Hubert L. Allen.

Tom G. McAbee's base bid of $192,813.84 was lowest of five offered for the general contract.

Bell Plumbing company's base bid of $7,524 was lowest of four submitted for plumbing work.

Peeples Electric shop's base bid of $8,350 was lowest of five submitted for the electrical contract.

John R. Hall's base bid of $3,200 was lowest of four submitted for the painting contract.

Lydick Roofing company's base bid of $5,224 was lowest of three submitted for the roofing contract.

Bidders Attend Ceremony

An anteroom to the lodge hall was crowded with biddets, committeemen and lodge officials when the sealed bids were opened.

Maedgen, presiding, informed the audience that the lodge had "hoped for about 25 years to construct a new lodge hall."

After preliminary figuring upon basis of low base bids, Maedgen

LUBBOCK AND PLAINVIEW POLICE CHIEFS ON THE JOB

Traffic Safety Drive's Goal

By R. C. HANKINS
Journal Staff Writer

Two South Plains police chiefs—Lewis Kittrell of Lubbock and Hoyt Curry of Plainview—are not taking lightly their recent appointment by Gov. Beauford H Jester to a committee on enforcement of traffic control laws and ordinances.

That committee, together with committee on laws and ordinances, public support, engineering, public information, and education, will meet with Governor Jester March 19 and 20 in Dallas, to assist in shaping an official action program for traffic control.

"Its effective application throughout Texas will exemplify our democracy at its best in meeting one of our most pressing domestic problems," the governor wrote Chief Kittrell and Chief Curry.

Matter Of Grave Concern

The governor pointed out that the 1947 toll of traffic accidents "is a matter of gravest concern to every Texan"—2,000 dead, 60,000 injured and an $80,000,000 economic loss.

"The decision to check effectively this intolerable drain upon our state's resources rests with you and me—and with every thinking Texasn," he further wrote. "The chief need is for uniform action which will put into effect proven methods for traffic control."

The Lubbock and Plainview police chiefs have returned from Austin and a preliminary meeting of their committee with the governor. At that meeting, some of the recommendations to be presented to him at the March meeting were crystallized.

Opinions Are Sought

Since their return, Kittrell and Curry have sounded the opinions of numerous other law enforcement authorities of the South Plains and far West Texas, as well as those of representatives of business and professional groups—hoping to assimilate a cross-section of suggestions that, if adopted, would do the most good to lessen the serious results of traffic mishaps.

General recommendations to the end that "adequate deterrence to violations" be created were made by the committee in the Austin conference. To attain it, it was recommended that state and cities conduct continuing traffic law enforcement programs of the type that will "induce maximum voluntary observance of drivers and pedestrian regulations."

Suggestions Offered

To implement that result, it was suggested that:

1. The courts, prosecutors and police departments should be given adequate personnel, properly selected and trained; modern facilities necessary for efficient operation; and sound administrative organization and direction.

2. All "ticket-fixing" or other political interference must be eliminated from enforcement processes.

Specific measures for bringing about effective, impartial and continuing traffic law enforcement include the following, which are recommended for uniform adoption throughout the state:

Special training of personnel for traffic duties, and establishment and execution of uniform enforcement policies that:

Avoid excessively liberal tolerances; make proper use of warnings and admonitions; secure prompt correction of vehicle safety equipment defects; extend leniency to non-residents only on non-hazardous violations of purely local regulations; give no special privileges to any groups or individuals; provide selective enforcement of pedestrian regulations; include the investigation of accidents by specially trained and equipped units, and the prosecution by the police of violators involved in accidents when the evidence warrants; put enforcement on selective basis, in acordance with the urgency of need as disclosed by current factual analysis of accident and traffic records; issue an amount of supervision and enforcement action that is at all times adequate for maximum violation deterrence, but avoid "arrest quotas," sporadic campaigns, and concentration on "easy" arrests for non-hazardous violations.

As to prosecutors recommendations were that specially qualified prosecutors should be in all courts handling traffic cases; and that sound methods and procedures, vigilantly followed, will be necessary to assure proper case

Death Blow Is Believed Given Rationing Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (U.P.) — The slump in commodity prices was viewed in Congress today as the death blow for rationing and price control proposals. But there were conflicting opinions on its effects on other legislation.

It was conceded that the price trend, if it becomes serious, may force a re-appraisal of legislative plans. However, there was no indication that Republican leaders considered it serious enough yet to revise their thinking on such things as tax reduction and rent control.

Strengthened Resistance

They never have been friendly toward President Truman's requests for price, rationing and allocation controls. The downturn in prices merely strengthened their resistance.

Chairman Charles W. Tobey, R., N. H., of the Senate banking committee, expressed belief the downturn woold not result in a weaker rent control law than would otherwise be approved. The present law expires Feb. 29.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D., Va., a banking committee member, said the price break "proves price controls are not needed." And Sen. Carl A. Hatch, D., N. M., said that "if prices level off, there will be no price control this session."

There was less agreement on the possible effects of the price trend on the European recovery program and the tax bill. A serious recession could affect those measures because of its effects on the government budget. As national income declines, tax revenues drop.

Girl Continues To Learn About State

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 12 (AP)—Ofelia Perez continued to learn about Mississippi today.

The young Mission, Tex., schoolgirl visited the state capitol yesterday after being feted at Greenville, Miss., Tuesday night.

The girl wrote the Greenville Chamber of Commerce some time ago for information on Mississippi. She also extended an invitation to Greenville residents to visit Mission during the citrus festival.

The Greenville trade body sent the girl an invitation to come see the state.

Yesterday, Ofelia signed the visitors' register in the office of the governor and appeared before the House of Representatives.

"I am glad to be here," the girl told the solons.

Vicksburg and Natchez are scheduled stops on Ofelia's tour. Miss Fay Tenne Zumwalt, Ofelia's school teacher, is making the trip with the girl.

Ashes Of Gandhi Consigned To Sacred Waters Of Rivers

ALLAHABAD, Feb. 12 (U.P.) — The ashes of Mohandas K. Gandhi were consigned to the sacred waters of the Ganges and Jumna rivers today while 3,000,000 Hindu pilgrims watched amid a shower of rose petals from six planes overhead.

According to the Hindu belief, the ceremony was the last step needed to send the soul of India's sainted leader ascending into the halls of Hindu immortals.

Gandhi's son, Ramdas, bent across the rail of a white amphibious duck and slowly sprinkled Gandhi's bones and ashes into the river from the brass urn that brought them to the sacred city of Allahabad.

A great roar arose from the throats of 3,000,000 Hindus as they watched the ceremony. Pilgrims stood neck deep in the waters and massed in endless ranks upon the sandy slopes of the banks.

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, Home Minister Sardar V. Patel and Education Minister Maulana Abul Kalam Azad watched from the duck while the ashes were consigned to the river.

"The last journey is over. The last rites are completed," Nehru said to the vast assemblage.

"For the last 50 years Gandhi has roamed from place to place. From the Himalayas to Kanya Kumari in the south, in the interests of his countrymen preaching fearlessness.

"Let us pledge this: "We carry out Gandhi's ideals and forswear violence and hatred."

Six planes of the Royal Indian Air Force flew over the duck as Nehru spoke, showering rose petals on the scene. Followers in other boats poured milk into the rivers as an offering to Gandhi's soul and Gandhi's son offered rice balls.

Thousands of other followers scooped up the water in their hands, drinking thirstily to partake in some quantity of the immortality that now has been conferred on Gandhi.

The urn holding Gandhi's ashes was placed in Ramdas' hands by another of Gandhi's sons, Devandas. Ramdas washed the urn in the river's waters when the ceremony was completed and placed it back in the boat.

The urn, as well as the third-class railway coach that brought Gandhi's ashes to Allahabad, will be preserved as a memorial.

Nehru dipped his feet into the river and Gandhi's two sons trans-

Congressman Not A Party To CIO Move

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Rep. Edward Garmatz (D-Md) said today he was not a party to the CIO's decision to support him in a recent election—decision which resulted in indictment of the union under the Taft-Hartley law.

The indictments charge Philip Murray, CIO president, and the organization with using union funds for political purposes, inasmuch as Garmatz' congressional campaign was endorsed in the union-financed CIO News.

"I am not responsible for, do not endeavor, nor do I intend to exercise any control whatsoever over the actions of any individual or organization," Garmatz said.

Prison Board Member Deplores Conditions At Darrington Farm

DALLAS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Conditions in the Texas prison system are so bad that 80 per cent of the convicts at Darrington Prison farm would prefer death to serving the rest of their sentences on the farm, B. A. Stufflebeme, Grand Prairie, Tex., banker and member of the Texas Prison board, said here.

"I firmly believe that if the men at Darrington farm were told that they had their choice of being gassed to death or staying on the farm and serving the rest of their sentences, 80 per cent would choose the gas chamber," Stufflebeme said.

Degrading Conditions

Darrington's inmates, "repeaters" under 25, include some of the most desperate criminals in the Texas prison system. The farm was the scene of a hunger strike against prison food shortly before Christmas. A shakeup in the farm's management followed a prison break recently when 11 convicts overpowered a guard and escaped.

Stufflebeme said that the prison system is the site of the "worst forms of moral degredation" because of lack of isolation facilities and equipment.

"In O. B. Ellis, the system's new general manager, we have a manager as well equipped by knowledge and experience as anyone in the United States to operate the Texas prison system," the board member pointed out. "But without the help of everybody in Texas—governor, legislature, and citibens—his hands are tied."

Antiquated Methods

The physical properties of the system have been allowed to deteriorate in the past to the point that they long nave been unfit for use in a modern penal institution, he explained.

Antiquated methods are in use, he said, although General Manager Ellis has indicated that he intends to modernize and mechanize farm work.

Masonic Plans

simply announced that, "It looks like we may not get a new lodge hall yet."

However, there was an air of hopefulness that something may yet be done to make the picture brighter. Some of the possibilities to be explored were discussed, but no announcements were ready for publication.

Bidders were thanked by Maedgen, and were assured that complete tabulation of bids as they affect alternate construction will be made, whereupon the building committee might wish to study some of them further.

The building, as proposed, would have units on the lower floor for commercial rental. It would be constructed of concrete and steel and brick.

Site of the construction would be on property owned many years by the lodge. A parking lot uses the property now.

The lodge years ago outgrew its present quarters, on the top floor of Citizens National Bank building.

presented and to prevent improper disposition or "fixing" of cases.

As to the courts, here are the recommendations:

Qualified judges to handle traffic cases in special traffic court sessions; efficient administration and proper court facilities; impartial disposition of all cases according to established judicial procedure; increased use of drivers' license revocations and suspensions as penalties through procedures established by state law; general adoption by jurisdictions of the improvements in traffic court administration recommended by the National Committee on Traffic Law Enforcement, and groups of the American Bar association.

The committee also recommended that the collection and analysis of traffic accident reports be put on an effective basis throughout the state and that full use be made of these records in guiding highway safety activities.

Oilman Offers Plan To Give $60 Month Pension For Aged

BY VERNON B. HOBART
United Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 12—A 70-year-old Texas plunger, who knew what it meant to have the collector knocking on his front door but finally beat the game with the oil-rich lands he bought as a younger man, asked the nation's congressmen today to give aged Americans a chance to finish out their lives without want.

In an open letter to congress, C. H. C. Anderson proposed a plan to take the place of social security and state pensions for the aged—a plan he said would give every citizen past 60 a $60 a month pension.

Plan Took Six Years

Anderson said his plan called for the money to be paid from the U. S. Treasury, but he said that most of it would come from the money now "wasted" on administrative costs for the present social security plan.

The elderly man, who came to Texas shortly after the turn of the century and bought a section of rolling prairie country, said he figured out his scheme while operating a Dallas employment agency. For six yaers, he said, he worked on the plan.

In his letter to Congress, Anderson said that "the object of this proposed law is to have it take the place of social security and state pensions for the aged, change the available age from 65 to 60 and pay $60 a month to every native born citizen starting at 60 . . ."

The transplanted Texan, who originally hailed from Illinois, said that his plan would "do away with the millions upon millions of dollars now spent in administrative expense of social security and state pensions."

He also said that the Anderson plan would relieve all business of what he called the "pest" and "great expense" of keeping present social security records, and would prevent what he called the "grave injustices under both social security and state pensions and the human slavery now existing under state pension administration."

The one-time homesteader, whose sand-blown lands turned into a mine of "black gold" after he had reached the retirement age as a Sears, Roebuck credit manager, charged that "all the money which has been collected under the present social security law has not been put aside."

Tax Needed

"The people will have to be taxed, as the need arises, to supplement any sum that has been accumulated," he said. "To even keep the records required under the present law has required the expenditure of millions upon millions of dollars, both by the employers and by the United States government.

"Only a portion of our people will ever get any of the benefits," he continued. "The administrative costs of both employers and the federal government could go toward paying the monthly payments to those entitled to them under the new law, and not now getting them, and would not be wasted money as now."

Anderson said that, if his plan was adopted, money paid into the present social security plan would be refunded.

The elderly man homesteaded a section in Ector county in Texas in 1907. Because of his wife's health, he was forced to give up his plans for development of the land and moved to Dallas. The depression caught his business and he was forced to the wall—$25,000 in the hole.

For 19 years he sreved as credit manager for Sears, Roebuck Co., and, when he reached the retirement age, he set up an employment agency.

It was through this employment agency, he said, that he found that a person in his late 30's had very little chance of getting a job. It also was during this period, he continued, that he figured out the expenses of the present social security plan would almost finance his own plan.

Last year, after he had sold his employment business, an oil company brought in a well on his property.

We've often wondered what happened to the man who first called it "near beer," but now we know.

He's the guy who figured out "easy payments," and now is labeling our woes as "temporary emergencies!"

THERE has been a great deal of loose talk lately upon the part of politicians, professional do-gooders, "liberal" columnists, etc., about "discrimination."

This being election year, and minorities being famous for voting as blocs, there will be more heard about "discrimination." President Truman recently had a hissy over what he calls "discrimination." Other politicos may be expected to do likewise. All are tarred with the same vote-hungry stick.

As always is the case when hearts bleed in public, in discussions of "discrimination" the actual meaning of the word has gone far afield. We are now told—not in so many words, but by inuendo—that it is "discriminatory" for any individual, or group of individuals, to choose associates and neighbors by any yardstick he, or they, may select. But we are not told that when—by enactment of law, or otherwise—an individual, or group of individuals, forces himself, or itself, upon others that the "others" in the case are being "discriminated" against.

Oh, no. That wouldn't be good politics, or "liberal thinking."

What does "discrimination" mean?

Well, a fellow named Noah Webster usually is considered to be an authority on definitions. Let's see what his dictionary says.

According to Mr. Webster's best seller, "discrimination" means:

"Act of discriminating, or state of being discriminated. That which discriminates; a mark of distinction. The quality of being discriminating; faculty of nicely distinguishing. A distinction, as in treatment; especially an unfair or injurious distinction."

Politicians in their vote-hunts and others in their search for questionable acclaim, accept as the only definition of "discrimination" that part which reads "a distinction, as in treatment; especially an unfair or injurious distinction."

All right. Let's look at the matter in that light.

Have a peek, Mr. Truman, Mr. Winchell, and all the rest of you.

JOE Doakes has a home in a section of Middletown. When Joe bought his lot, his deed noted certain restrictions. The idea of these restrictions was not to "discriminate" against anybody. It was to protect Joe from neighbors whose activities and general methods of living might cause the value of Joe's property to slump. Joe bought the place in good faith.

Now Mr. Truman, Mr. Winchell, and others, want to knock out the restrictions—and, along with them, a sizeable part of Joe's investment in his property.

Who is bein "discriminated" against here, gentlemen? It appears to us that it is Joe Doakes.

Bill Bloke, white or black, has a business—an insurance business which specializes, we'll say, in accident and health insurance most attractive to people in lower income groups. There are such businesses and some of them are all right.

Bill does a terrific business with negroes. So Bill decided that the best thing for him to do is to hire negro agents and collectors. There are businesses like that. And some of them are all right.

But, according to the Truman-Winchell viewpoint, Bill Bloke has no right to operate his business in away that to him appears best. He should be forced to hire whites, along with his negro workers, even though to do so would be against his best interests.

Who, Mr. Truman and Mr. Winchell, would be injured here by the sort of "discrimination you propose? It looks to us like the fall guy would be Bill Bloke.

AS majestic as it may be—despite frequently crazy interpretations of it—the law cannot be made the agency by which free men shall choose or accept their associates and neighbors. It cannot be made the agency, because free men of all colors and faiths will flaunt it as an unnatural law.

Mr. Truman must know this in his heart. He must know that his recent pontificating on the subject is identical with that of many politicians who have gone before him as they have angled for blocs of support at the polls.

It is a dishonest, or a prejudiced, citizen who will not admit that there are among people of different color or creed individuals as fully entitled to respect as any of those of his own color or creed. It is a short-sighted citizen who neither seeks, nor accepts, friendship with persons of different color and creed. It also is the short-sighted citizen who believes that the passage of laws can, or will, make all persons attractive to all others.

ONE of Lubbock's worst traffic bottle-necks at any time of the day—but especially from 8 a. m. to 9 a. m., and from 5 p. m. to 6:30 p. m.—is the "T" at Nineteenth and Texas avenue.

Anyone who has had occasion to try to get into Texas avenue from Nineteenth at that point knows how difficult it is. He knows, too, that with cars parked along the curb south of Nineteenth on Texas, it is very difficult to see what is coming from the south. He also knows that much of the traffic from the south aims at turning westward on Nineteenth, which makes for an additional hazard.

We are quite aware that Lubbock is getting a lot of traffic lights and that lights aren't usually placed anywhere except at complete intersections — which Nineteenth and Texas is not, due to the Nineteenth "dead end" there. Yet the fact remains that something more than a stop sign is needed there as Nineteenth enters Texas.

We believe a careful survey will indicate the need for a light.

BY DREW PEARSON: AMERICANS DEEPLY CONCERNED ABOUT NEEDY OF EUROPE

Citizens Generous Toward Those In Other Lands

WASHINGTON.—When the first Friendship Train finished its run across the country, Henry Kaiser, who acted as special conductor on the New York Central division, suggested that one way to solve European relief was to let the American people run a series of Friendship Trains from different parts of the country.

PEARSON

My reaction was that it couldn't be done. In the first place, the job seemed too tremendous. Second, I thought we had imposed enough on the railroads for free freight. Finally and selfishly, I told Henry that my office had been turned topsy-turvy by the job of running one Friendship Train, that I was a physical wreck from riding on it, and that I didn't see how any more trains could be organized.

However, Henry Kaiser was right. Even as we talked, the Wichita Eagle and other energetic citizens of the Southwest had organized a special wheat section of the Friendship Train. Simultaneously patriotic New Englanders had started organizing a Friend Ship carrying food and clothes to the British Isles, while today two Abraham Lincoln Friendship Trains leave from Lincoln, Nebraska, and Springfield, Ill.

So it is appropriate and fitting on the birthday of the Great Emancipator to review the attempts of many Americans to carry out his advice: "It is for us the living . . . to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced."

So much of this work has been carried on by indidivual citizens and groups of citizens that it is hard for any newspaper to cover it all. But it illustrates the fact that the American people have a deep and almost religious concern for the welfare of their fellow men; also that they themselves want to play a part in American foreign policy, not leave it entirely to diplomats.

And if the Marshall plan is able to harness this initiative, if it is able to use this healthy desire of the American citizen to be an active part of his own State department—then the Marshall plan will be a success.

Unquestionably, a central, coordinating agency such as that provided for under the Marshall plan is necessary to direct European reconstruction. However, the wise Marshall plan administrator will go out of his way to use the tremendous drive and desire of the American people to help their fellow men.

For instance, here are just a few of the things individual Americans, quite independent of their government, have done to carry on "the unfinished work" and build friendship abroad.

Maine To Louisiana

Up in Maine, a state which the Friendship Train could not visit, the Bath Iron Works received an order to build 30 fishing trawlers to replace part of the French fishing fleet lost in the war. And instead of sending these ships to France empty, the 33 Rotary clubs of Maine undertook to fill the first trawler, "The St. Patrick" with food and clothing for the people of France.

And on the other side, the Rotary Club of Nanties, France, has enthusiastically agreed to distribute this food and clothing in such a way as to build up French and American friendship.

In another New England city, the Eastport, Me., Sentinel carried an editorial suggesting that the sardine industry contribute a carload of sardines to the Friendship Train. Whereupon the Maine Sardine Packers association raised a carload and set it to Europe through the Unitarian Service committee.

Meanwhile, down in New Orleans, which the Friendship Train had to bypass, various patriotic citizens got together and decided to adopt the city of Orleans, France.

"While the city of Orleans, France, was being bombed," says Mrs. Henry Landry, head of the Orleans Foundation, "our own New Orleans gained 100,000 in population. We are prosperous. So we are giving a little of our surplus to the starving people from whence we came."

Accordingly, the SS Maid of Orleans is sailing from New Orleans the latter part of this month loaded with food.

Out in Detroit the other day, Jean Beliard of the French embassy was addressing the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce which raised a Friendship caravan for France. Suddenly he got a phone call from Kalamazoo.

"This is Henry Ford speaking," said the voice on the other end of the line. "No, not Henry Ford the auto man, but Henry Ford, the Mayor of Kalamazoo. We've adopted the city of Fougeres in France, and we want you to come over and give us a brief talk."

Beliard went. He reported to his government later and he has never seen a group where enthusiasm was so contagious.

MEANWHILE the seed-growers of Minnesota have worked out a counterpart of the care program, whereby packers of seed can be sent to European families so they can grow their own food. Reducing prices from $5.50 to $3.95, the seed-growers have arranged so that anyone can walk into a seed store in any part of the country and consign a package either to a friend in Europe or to an American relief agency which will distribute the seed. Enough seed to grow five tons of food is contained in each package.

Meanwhile several druggists in Camden, N. J., led by Sidney Zuckerman and Max Schwartz have been working on the plan of a drug Friendship Train; and in North Carolina, the Council of Churches has conducted a clothing drive under the slogan "Fill A Ship with Friendship."

Finally on the West Coast there was the great job done by the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Alaska in filling a special Friend Ship; while from California, the state's maritime training ship, "Golden Bear," is carrying a special cargo of canned milk along with 100 Marine cadets as special ambassadors to help deliver the food.

One of the most important phases of this whole spontaneous move toward American-European friendship is that most of the people who organized these drives are sending their own representatives to Europe as unofficial good-will ambassadors. And it was the experience of those of us who traveled on the first Friendship Train through France and Italy that the people of those countries truly appreciated the fact that Americans took the trouble to visit them personally. We discovered in real fact that the "gift without the giver is bare."

Also in the cast is her first sweetheart and her ex-husband's current un-huhney. Very Cozy. . . . Even with packed houses, "A Streetcar Named Desire" (the town's biggest dramatic click) doesn't expect to have its production costs paid off until April . . . Playwright Sidney Kingsley is practicing living in the East 51st Street Police Station. Getting up-close data for a new play . . . Paulette Goddard has no wardrobe problems in "A Miracle Can Happen." She plays the entire role in pajamas . . . Composer Emmerich Kallman ("Countess Maritza," "Marinka") is very ill . . Two show business lawyers have a sucker list (which they call "Angel List") containing 150 names of men who want to invest in shows. Most of it is b.m. dough on which the owners paid no tax. Federal agents call it "nervous money."

The Cinemagicians: An uninhabited entry from Italy titled "Furia" strips down to the bare facts of life. The reviewers hailed it as the best thing to come out of Italy since the news of Mussolini's flop. It's at the Rialto . . . Merle Oberon and Dana Andrews in "Night Song" keep the romantic story throbbing . . . "A Woman's Vengeance" whizzes along as though powered by uranium. Chas. Boyer's trouping gives it wings . . . "The Fighting Vigilantes" is out-doorsey enough for an overcoat. But its dialog makes you regret that you forgot your earmuffs . . . Some acceptable gamut-running via "The Marauders" is hobbled by yarn-stumbling . . . "You Were Meant for Me" (with Jeanne Crain as top flirt) is a melodious valentine to an era when hep-chicks were flappers and swing was jazz . . . M. Mellinger's soon-due epic, "Naked City," is better than "The Killers," which was merely remarkable.

THE Airistrocrats: Twist your dial to ABC on Thurseves at 9:30 New York time and listen to melodies made of velvet . . . Distressing to learn that Raymond Swing (one of the best) can't stay on the air because no sponsor has come forth. Mr. Swing was selling the most important product of all—common sense . . . The lassoing of prairie ballads by the Andrews Girls (on Club 15) deserves a batch of yipees . . . Henry Morgan's return to the air (Thursday 7:30 p. m.) was welcome over at these ears. Calm, easy-going nonsense. The satire on the awards was best, we thought . . . And then poor Arch Oboler came on next (with Candid Microphone, a pip) and was introduced as "the man who won more awards last year than any one" . . . Even those who don't know their brass from their oboe ill enjoy ABC's "Let's Go to the Met." It makes opera understandable by shearing its long hair and presenting the plots and music in crew-cut style.

The Last-Laugh Dept.: When we first revealed that draft-dodger Serge Rubinstein in Federal prison (Lewisburg, Pa.) was enjoying special privileges it was vehemently denied . . . (It always is) . . . Mr. Bennett, head of Federal Prisons, joined with the Warden in making official denial and said it was amazing how such things got into print . . . Then someone "got to" gullible Cong. Wolcott who who got himself on some front pages (in Washington and Chicago) with this headline: "Wolcott Calls Winchell Liar" . . . We let them get away with it, being too busy with other things to point out a Congressman's conclusions are not proof of a fact . . . Now the N. Y. Journal American is headlining a series by an excell mate of Rubinstein — which supports in detail the very statements for which Cong. Wolcott called us a liar . . . The Journal-American series calls for a Congressional investigation. It is a national disgrace that powerful politicians have appeared for the draft-dodger in the case of Serge Rubinstein vs. the Unknown Soldier.

THE Intelligensia: Little, Brown, the publishers of "Missouri Compromise" (by Tris Coffin), are completely mystified. Because McGrath (chairman of the Democrats' campaign to keep Truman in the White House) requested permission to quote it. The book lambasts the bejabers out of Truman. He's the Missouri "compromise"! . . . Sinclair Lewis's "Kingsblood Royal" was panned by most litree critics. It has out-sold anything he's done . . . "I Could Use A Man Like That Right Now!"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

BY 30, every woman should know—

How to size up another woman in one meeting.

How to appear so interested in the long-winded conversation of a bore, that he never realizes he is being one.

MILLETT

That if a woman is impressed by a man's wit or by his opinions, he'll be impressed by her intelligence.

That it is a waste of time and energy for a woman to try to make herself over to please a man.

That when a woman promises not to "tell a soul," she reserves the right to tell her own husband.

That if she wants her husband to notice something, it is better to call his attention to it immediately than to wait, and chide him later for not having noticed.

That no man likes to hear the words, "I told you so," or, "If you had listened to me."

Exactly what her type is, and how to play it up.

That it is wiser to be the kind who tells her troubles to other people.

WASTE OF TIME

THAT dressing to impress other women is a waste of time.

That no woman can feel really secure unless she has at least one good-looking outfit that it always ready to go, and enough food on her emergency shelf for a meal that can be ready in half an hour.

MOREY AMSTERDAM came home from a round of golf, and threw his bag in a corner. "How did it go?" asked a friend. "Well, I broke ninety," reported Amsterdam, "and you know I can't afford to break ninety clubs at the price they bring these days."

"I did beat my opponent one up. He was under a slight handicap. He had never seen a golf links before. He reached the first green in twenty-two strokes, and pulled out a driver. His swing caused such a wind it blew the ball into the cup. 'Now I'm in a fine jam,' he told his caddy. 'How in heck do I get it out of there?' "

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Dwindling Of America's Oil Supply Threatening Economy

WASHINGTON — We know all about the evils of a planned society because we are told about those evils practically every day. But we sometimes forget that penalties go with a completely planless society such as ours.

CHILDS

Last summer the Department of the Interior issued a rather mild warning on the subject of installing oil-burning furnaces. That warning came as the rate of installation of oil burners was establishing a new record with each succeeding month. The Interior department suggested that there might be an oil shortage in the winter of 1948-49.

Mild as the warning was, it drew an instant rebuke from the oil-burner industry. They were not, they said, paying their taxes to the federal government to have that government try to checkmate their business. And their objection had a lot of logic in it.

The United States today consumes more than 60 percent of all the petroleum produced in the world. In 1947 this country produced 60 percent of the world's oil and consumed 63 percent of it. This is more startling when it is put alongside the fact that the population of the Continental United States is only a little more than 6 percent of the population of the world.

In 1946, for the first time, the amount of energy this country derived from oil and natural gas exceeded the energy derived from coal. That is to say that oil and natural gas were more important than coal in running American industry and heating American homes. The statistics who measure those things say that slightly more than 16 trillion heat units came from oil and gas, while the total volume of heat units from coal was nearly a trillion less. In 1945, coal was ahead by nearly two trillions.

Oil Use Almost Doubled

This is a measure of the remarkable transformation that has taken place. It has occurred in every phase of industry as well as in home heating, so that today Americans are using nearly twice as much oil per capita as before the war. Although the railroads haul the coal and derive no small part of their revenue from this source, a recent survey showed that 92 percent of all new locomotives on order were to be powered with oil.

John L. Lewis, the miners' boss, gets some of the credit for this. The prolonged coal strikes of recent years have stimulated many to switch to oil. And now Lewis has picked this critical moment to breathe a hint of a new strike.

The country has only begun to understand how serious are the effects of the new industrial revolution. Some time ago the armed services were complaining that they could not get enough crude oil and aviation gasoline to continue routine training operations. The demand from the civilian economy was such that the big oil companies simply were not interested in bidding on army and navy needs.

Behind the immediate scarcity is the big question mark of future supply. Here, of course, the innocent layman gets into deep water. One school of experts has long maintained that, at the present rate of discovery, America could supply its own oil need, even in a war emergency, out of its own resources. Another and more numerous school has held that from here on out we would have to nail down a source of supply outside our own borders in order to be secure.

SECRETARY of The Interior Julius Krug, testifying before a congressional committee, presented a $9,000,000,000 program for producing oil from shale and coal. Out of this program would come a total of 2,000,000 barrels of oil a day, which is less than half of our current consumption. What is more, the program would take 16,000,000 tons of steel. Asking for 16,000,000 tons of steel, in view of the present shortage, is like asking for the moon.

Therefore, most oil men are now convinced that access to the vast oil reserves in the middle east is essential to U. S. security, and that essential, if it is an essential, puts the government right in the middle of the most perilous, tricky spot in the whole international scene.

LIMITED IMPUNITY

The North American king snake, with the utmost impunity, will attack any other snake on the continent. If it is bitten by a snake from Africa, India, or any other foreign land, however, it is immediately affected.

The coyote, following man into Alaska, has become a major menace to other wild life.

Today's Journal Editorial

THE DRIVE ON CARELESS DRIVERS

The Lubbock Police department can be sure of overwhelming popular support if it presses relentlessly the drive now announced as in progress against the types of traffic violations which are most likely to lead to accidents.

The most casual observer knows that disregard of the traffic regulations which make for traffic safety is too widespread in Lubbock. Even more convincing than the evidence supplied by observation is the proof contained in the fact there simply have been too many accidents of late. Only carelessness can explain most of them.

The most effective remedy for violations is to file charges and then to prosecute vigorously. Polite warnings are not enough. The fellow who thinks he will escape with a warning if caught won't be one-tenth as careful as he would be if he knew he was sure to face arrest, prosecution and punishment.

It is to be hoped police not merely will continue their present drive, but will redouble their efforts. Streets will be safe almost in direct proportion to the vigor with which traffic laws are enforced.

House Committee Studies Token Tax On Profits Of Farm Co-Ops

BY JAMES DANIEL
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 — A "token" taxation of farm co-ops' profits is under discussion in the House Ways and Means committee.

As outlined by Rep. Noah M. Mason (R., Ill.) the plan would retain the present tax immunity of co-op profits distributed as cash dividends to patrons. But whatever portion of their profits co-ops retained in their capital structure would be subjected to the corporate income tax.

Since many co-ops which have reached their full growth do not retain profits anyway. This amendment would operate mostly against expanding co-ops which declare patronage dividends, give their patron-owners script and keep the money in their treasury.

Double Tax Removed

Acknowledging that this approach would not remove the inequality between the taxation of co-operatives and ordinary business, Rep. Mason said the committee was agreed in principle on a separate course of action to equalize the burden.

This, he said, would be done by eliminating the double taxation of corporation stock dividends. Corporations are taxed before they distribute their profits and then their stockholders pay individual income taxes on their dividends. Co-ops pay little or no tax themselves. Whatever part of their profits is paid in cash to patrons is taxed at individual income tax rates when the patrons pay their taxes.

Half a dozen schemes have been outlined by the treasury whereby Congress could arrange for stockholders to get credit on their individual income tax returns for the amount of tax their corporations paid on their portion of earnings.

Taxpayers Pay

According to Rep. Mason. The co-op and single-tax provisions are due to be worked into a general tax-revision bill which the committee intends to present to Congress next month.

Co-op officials are among the principal advocates of the single-tax theory, although the effect of any such basic change in the federal tax structure necessarily will be to throw a larger part of the cost of government on individual taxpayers.

Opposition is already in sight. Rep. Robert L. Doughton (D., N. C.), who was Ways and Means chairman until the Republicans took control, said he was not a party to any Republican decisions on a new tax bill.

"They do these things now behind a curtain," he said. "When I was chairman we all took part. How they expect to reduce income-tax rates. Eliminate excise taxes and double taxation, and still get revenue, I don't know."

George Norman Heads Lamesa Country Club

LAMESA, Feb. 12 (Special) — Members of the country club met recently to name a new president, three new directors and lay tentative plans for the construction of new living quarters for the club's manager.

George D. Norman was elected president of the organization, succeeding A. B. Carpenter. A trio of directors was chosen, Glen Cope and G. B. Mayfield being named for the first time to this group and L. B. Vaughn being re-elected.

Other members of the board of directors are A. C. Woodward, T. F. Vaughn, Cecil Speck, A. B. Carpenter and Dee Hull.

Spring Fashion For American Women Featuring $300 Suits

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 12—Copies of three suits by one of America's foremost custom dressmakers will be available to American women this summer at approximately half their made-to-order prices.

The suits, from original designs of Charles James, are being manufactured by Conti, Inc., to sell for between $200 and $300 retail. Made to order in James' Madison avenue salon, they would cost upwards of $525.

Tie Silks Used

The three suits have been made up in handsome heavy tie silks. They feature the rounded, feminine lines for which James is noted and maintain to a striking degree the intricacies of construction which are the hallmarks of James' originality.

Soft ribbed black silk is used for one suit which teams its rounded bodice with a rounding neckline. Below the slimly moulded waist the hips are accentuated with a triple fold of fabric which curves into a dipped in back peplum. The skirt flares from an inverted pleat at the back and is rounded by seaming and stiffening at the front hipline.

The second teams a similarly rounded jacket in tiny red, blue and white checks with a black skirt with a front fullness which looks impossible. Groups of outstanding unpressed pleats round with the hipline to fall like a rounded arch.

The third suit, in a shiny bronze silk, has a slimmer skirt and slightly longer jacket, dipping round in back and in two sidewise points at the front.

Shantungs Included

The remainder of the firm's summer collection, designed by Luciano Conti, gives evidence of the James influence in the firm's work.

Notable among the silk suits and coats is a group of shantungs with brier, slim-waisted jackets and gracefully fulled skirts.

One, in gray, has a skirt cut bias in back and full with released waistline tucks in front. The jacket features a beautifully rippled collar and similarly ruffed pockets.

A green turquoise shantung has a petal-shaped peplum and elbow-length sleeves on the jacket above a skirt similar to the gray.

Prices on the Conti-designed costumes range upward from about $125.

Toy Balloon Fatal To Three-Year-Old

KELSO, Wash., Feb. 12 (AP)—A toy balloon killed a three-year-old boy here last night.

The young son of Mrs. James Schrader of Kelso toppled over while playing and died within a few minutes. An autopsy showed the balloon lodged in his trachea.

PREVENTED SOILING

The "antimacassar," or tidy for chair backs, gets its name from macassar hair oil. Women of the last century invented the tidy, and named it antimacassar, because it prevented oily hair from soiling chairbacks.

Arab Armies Ready For Holy Land War

By SAM SOURKI
United Press Staff Writer

ON NORTH PALESTINE FRONTIER, Feb. 12 — Hundreds of Arabs, their rifles slung loosely in their crooked arms, are pouring into Palestine before my eyes.

Hundreds more crossed the border from Syria and Lebanon in the last 48 hours.

These men tell me that there are at least 7,000 of their fellows already inside Palestine.

There is evidence that these men are preparing for a major operation against the Jews.

They wear khaki uniforms. They cross the border as easily as you cross a quiet street.

Right over there is a mountain village, somewhere in the Levant, from which Palestine is just a walk over the hilltop. And this is only one of the points where the Arabs are movin, into Palestine as the time approaches for the withdrawal of the British and the imposition of the United Nations' partition mandate.

I arrived by jeep after a back-breaking trip of many weary hours over muddy mountain tracks.

It is a scene of tremendous activity. Armed Arabs hustle back and forth from the market place in the village unloading trucks.

When I pulled up in the village a crowd gathered around. One man, acting as spokesman, demanded identification papers. He relaxed when I showed him my credentials.

Then I watched the men unload a cargo of rifles which were handed down from a truck to the "Mojaheddeen"—the fighters of the Jihad or holy war for which the Arab spiritual leaders called when the UN decision to partition Palestine was announced.

The man directing them spoke to me.

"You come upon one of our concentrations here. From here we cross into Palestine, just over the hilltop. There we disperse to previously assigned positions.

"This village is our storehouse for food. The trucks here brought rifles and ammunition. They go mainly to Palestine Arabs in the area.

"But we are well equipped. And we are ready to get started."

Courteous Driving Brings $10 Reward

BURBANK, Calif., Feb. 12 (AP)—Careful and courteous driving rates a reward once in a while, Miss Helen Hittson believes.

She sent a $10 check to Mrs. Yvonne Pessano with a note stating:

"Just because it seems that good and courteous drivers should be rewarded once in a while, I am inclosing a check as a token of thanks."

The incident came to light yesterday when Mrs. Pessano, slightly perplexed at receiving money from a stranger, told police.

Miss Hittson, it developed, had followed Mrs. Pessano's car for several miles recently and traced her through license plates. She said she puts aside 10 per cent of her earnings as business manager for a Glendale architect in a "do good" fund to make the awards.

Mrs. Pessano, in turn, donated the $10 to the March of Dimes.

Fire Causes Heavy Damage To Factory

CORSICANA, Feb. 12. (AP)—A fire swept the new Tex Sun Glove Co. factory here last night, causing a loss estimated by the company at $104,000.

Firemen fought the flames for more than three hours in subfreezing weather, but were unable to save the plant. Only the walls remained standing.

An adjacent metal warehouse containing finished gloves escaped damage.

Destruction of the long one story building, built approximately a year ago, resulted in throwing between 85 and 90 workers out of employment temporarily.

A company spokesman, S. J. Beebe, jr., said plans already were being made to house the factory in another structure until the factory can be rebuilt.

SOAP PRICES CUT

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—Proctor & Gamble Co., Lever Brothers and Colgate-Palmolive-Peet today announced price cuts of 5 percent at wholesale on all soap products, effective immediately.

Plot In Costa Rica Blocked

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Feb. 12 (AP)—Troops and police nipped today a plot to overthrow Costa Rica's government and install former President Rafael Caldron Guardia.

The attempted coup began with violence last night over Sunday's presidential elections. A policeman was killed and several persons were wounded in shooting which continued into the early morning.

Gangs Roam Streets

Gangs raced through the streets. They wore the blue, yellow and red armbands of the Republicano Nacional and the red armbands of the Vanguardia Popular (Communist) party, both supporters of Calderon.

Calderon trails by 10,000 votes in Sunday's election and has conceded the victory of Publisher Otilio Ulate Blanco, of the Union Nacional party. However, Calderon has charged fraud.

A government source said the coup was plotted by the Communists, and that the Republicano Nacional was not involved. He said the first step was a vain attempt to seize a barracks. He added it probably failed because the plotters struck too soon.

Shots Ring Out

Defense Minister Renne Picado, brother of the retiring president agreed yesterday to support Ulate.

Shots rang out frequently in the capital this morning. Half-tracks loaded with soldiers raced through the streets with sirens screaming. Mobile troops patrolled the business district. The presidential guard said machinegun fire broke out within the Bella Vista police and army barracks and that then the firing became general throughout the business district. People ducked into doorways or dropped to the sidewalks.

County Court Jury Hearing Postponed

A county court jury that was to have reported at 9:30 a. m. today to hear evidence in the condemnation action of The State of Texas against Jack Brown has been asked by County Judge Walter Davies to report at the same hour Monday, instead.

The move was made for two reasons: To cut down use of gas required to heat the courtroom, and to obviate necessity of jurors' travel, some of them over long distances, to court, Judge Davies said.

Property involved in the suit is an improved tract on Ave. A, which the city requires in construction of a traffic dispersal system of streets and highways.

POW Clubs Will Hold Reunion In Houston

DALLAS, Feb. 12. (U.P.)—Plans today were being made for the annual Texas Prisoner of War club's 1948 reunion, to be held in Houston June 19-20.

Henry L. Prichett, club secretary, said an excursion boat trip to the San Jacinto battleground would be among the events planned for the reunion, to be built around a "Texas History" theme.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester and Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, honorary president for life, are expected to attend.

Bureau Chief Gives Atom Bomb Warning

AUSTIN, Feb. 12 (U.P.)—Delegates attending the opening session of the annual meeting of the Texas Committee for Children and Youth were warned today that the United States must match the the atom bomb with skill in human relations or "perish as a result of its own discoveries."

Miss Katherine Lenroot of Washington, chief of the United States Children's bureau, told her listeners, "in the field of health alone, the United States government spends only $28,000,000 annually, out of a total of $625,000,000 spent for all research purposes."

"The amount spent for research in childlife," she said, "is infinitesimal. Yet we must match the atom bomb with skill in human relations if the human race is not to perish as a result of its own discoveries."

Miss Lenroot, the first of a panel of nationally known speakers scheduled to appear during the two-day conference, told the group that Texas is in a "peculiarly strategic position to advance international understanding and co-operation in behalf of children," because of its proximity to Mexico.

Earlier in her talk, Miss Lenroot had urged extended opportunities for all children without discrimination.

"Only if we progress toward this goal," she said, "will we be living out the principles of Democracy, human rights and human freedom which we cherish and wish to see preserved and extended throughout the world."

Hardin Cagers Down Southwestern Five

(By The United Press)

Hardin college dumped cellar-dwelling Southwestern, 61-44, in a Texas conference game at Wichita Falls last night.

Southwestern, without a conference victory after six games, meets McMurry at Abilene tonight. Only other circuit member to see action tonight is Austin college which meets East Texas of the Lone Star conference at Sherman.

LEAVES FOR U. S.

LONDON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Prof. Niels Bohr, Danish atom scientist, left yesterday for the United States, the Danish embassy said today.

One of the scientist's aides said in Copenhagen three weeks ago that Bohr soon would pay a "scientific visit" to the United States.

Snow, Ice, Mishap Don't Halt Stork

FORT WORTH, Feb. 12 (U.P.)—The stork, who flies in any kind of weather, completed his mission in Fort Worth today through ice, snow and an overturned automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Knight were on a 3:30 a. m. dash to the hospital for Mrs. Knight's blessed event. Their car slid on an icy stretch of pavement, went off the road and overturned.

With the aid of her husband and an ambulance driver, Mrs. Knight was transferred from the wrecked car to an ambulance. She arrived at the hospital in time for delivery of a six-pound boy 40 minutes later.

Kaufman Woman To Be Sentenced Feb 27

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12. (AP)—Mrs. Jane Bean, 20, of Kaufman, Tex., will be sentenced Feb. 27 on her plea of guilty to sending an extortion letter to Movie Actress Betty Grable.

Mrs. Bean entered the plea in federal court yesterday. She is charged with sending a letter to Miss Grable threatening to kidnap the actress' seven-month-old daughter, Jessica, unless $5,000 was paid.
