Foundation Poured For New Clinic Thursday

Business Improvement Also Started This Past Week

Following immediately on the heels of the completion of the postoffice building another major project was started in the same area this week when the foundation was laid for a stucco and the clinic that Dr. Sam Z. Prazier has planned to build sometime.

Material for the foundation was moved to the site directly west of the Plaza hotel, on North First Street, and preliminary construction was begun early in the week.

Contract was awarded to Harvey C. Allen, who designed the building, and the project, which is one of the largest of recent months, is due to be finished within 60 days. It will have nine rooms and will be only one-story.

The structure is being constructed primarily for Dr. Prazier's medical practice and clinic. It will have many convenient accommodations for minor surgery practice. Included in the plan are specifications for two detention rooms, a large reception room, X-Ray room, laboratory and test rooms, consultation room, two treatment rooms, a large office and hallways.

Plans call for a modern south front with an artistic design. Venetian blinds will be used for the windows and a modern heating system will be installed. The clinic will be one of the most complete of its type in this section, with plaster throughout the interior. New furniture and fixtures with a minimum amount of new equipment will be included in the project.

Another building of importance was undergoing extensive renovation, general repairs and extension, being the Richardson Variety Store, located on North Austin Street. Preliminary construction had advanced considerably this week after the workmen, employed on the project, reported good progress for the construction of a basement at the rear of the building. Following completion of this phase of the work it is expected that interior renovation will be started and the building will be arranged to accommodate both the Richardson Variety and Grocery Stores under one roof. The latter store at present is located on the north side of the Variety Store. The recent purchase of the building now occupied by the Dawson County Abstract Company, on the south side, resulted in the merger of the two establishments.

The front will also be modernized with unique windows and a white stucco front.

The Dawson County Abstract Company made arrangements for space in the building now occupied with the grocery business.

Large Attendance Expected Here For League Contests

Playground Ball And Contests Started Monday

The Dawson county league meet will take place at the Lamesa school campus on Friday and Saturday of this week. Every school in the county is a member, with one exception, and all the members will have representatives on hand. The playground ball and tennis matches were scheduled to have started last week, but unfavorable weather prevented those events, which were begun Monday afternoon of this week.

The Choral club contests took place Thursday night. Public speaking and other literary events take place on Friday beginning at 9:15 a. m. The one-act play contest will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium and a small admission will be charged to bear the expenses of the contest which is entered by Ackerly Lamesa and Klondike high schools.

Most of the playground ball contests were played Monday afternoon and all unfinished contests in these events will resume completion on Friday.

Track and field finals will be held Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess McWhorter left Thursday for Dallas, where they will spend several days.

Mrs. D. S. Day is spending this week with her daughter, Gertrude Day in Lubbock.

LUTHERANS TO DEDICATE NEW CHURCH SUNDAY

On South Fifth and Katherine Street stands a nice little Chapel, built by the St. Paul's Lutheran church of Lamesa, which will be dedicated to the service of the Lord next Sunday, April 3, in a series of three services.

The morning service which will be in the German language will find the Rev. E. Herber of Wilson, Texas, in the pulpit. The afternoon and night services will be in the English language at which service the Rev. C. N. Roth of Winters, Texas, and the Rev. F. T. Sager of Lockney, will deliver the sermons. Rev. Roth and Rev. Herber are former pastors of the congregation. The present pastor, Rev. L. D. Braun will assist at the services.

The local congregation is proud of its little church. It had been worshipping in the American Legion Hall, on Wason Street, for the past year. It appreciates very much the kindnesses of the Legionnaires in allowing them the use of the Hall.

St. Paul's congregation invites the public to worship with them at these dedicatory services, and at the regular services.

Interest Reaches Highest Point As City Election Near

Fourteen Candidates Make This Largest Campaign Year

The fourteen candidates seeking places on the City Commission and Mayor's office were making last-minute appeals to local voters this week in face of the approaching City Election here Tuesday, April 5. Two City Commissioners will be elected from the list of eleven candidates while there are three candidates for the mayor's post.

J. W. Bryant was chosen election judge, his assistants had not been reported late Thursday. The place for the election will be in the City Hall. The polls will open at 8 o'clock and will remain open until 7 p. m.

It is estimated at least 1,000 votes will be cast due to the unusual amount of candidates seeking office this year. It is reliably reported this is the biggest city campaign in the history of Lamesa. Only residents who have resided here for a period of at least six months prior to the election and who are otherwise eligible to vote are qualified.

City Commission candidates seeking election to the two vacancies this year include A. M. (Buck) Bennett, present commissioner who is in the race for re-election; E. C. (Clyde) Adams, R. Y. (Bob) Lindsey, R. A. (Rufus) Pruitt, S. C. (Sam) Albertson, A. D. Hefferman, R. E. Speck, John T. Sanders, M. Hatch, Grade Scott and J. C. Hart. One of the vacant places was left by W. B. McWhorter, who is in the race for mayor.

W. L. Marr, present mayor, is seeking re-election and is opposed by Mr. McWhorter and L. E. Eager.

Campbell Grocery Being Remodeled

Remodeling is underway this week at the Campbell Grocery, on North Austin Street, where additional shelves are being constructed to provide a larger stock. A new spray system vegetable rack has been installed and the management announces preparations are being made to carry a full stock of seasonal fruits and vegetables during the spring and summer.

Considerable other improvement in the form of painting and new arrangements will keep the store abreast of the times with similar improvements in the business section of the city.

SPECIAL AGENT COMPARES 1936-37 COTTON GINNING

R. S. Stanfield, census enumerator for the Department of Commerce, has issued the comparison of the 1936-37 cotton ginnings in the county. He reports there were 64,128 more bales produced here than for the 1936 season. An all-time record of 110,767 bales were reported in the final announcement for the season just closed.

OUTSTANDING LAMESA RESIDENCE

The A. E. Jacobs seven-room two-story rock-veneer, which is located at 710 South First Street, was one of the very first type of better homes constructed at the beginning of the current building boom, that began during the early part of 1937. Since this home was constructed several months ago there have been more than twenty-five of the exclusive type of residences erected in the city, and many others in the rural areas.

CCC Anniversary Will Be Celebrated Tuesday

History Of Local CCC Camp Reveals Many True Facts

The camp will hold open house April 5, 1938, in cooperation with the Soil Conservation Staff and in commemoration of the fifth anniversary of the CCC organization. All citizens of this area are cordially invited to attend. The camp will be open for visitors at 9:30 a. m. and will remain open until 6:00 p. m. The Soil Conservation service will conduct field trips to the country to inspect various work projects conducted by the camp. Trucks and guides will be ready in front of the Soil Conservation office at 9:30 a. m. These trucks will return to camp by noon so that any one making the trip will be back in town for lunch and for inspection of the camp. Guides will also be stationed about the camp to conduct inspection tours of the barracks, the mess hall, the kitchen and other buildings of the unit.

The Federal law establishing the CCC Camps became effective on April 5, 1933. The purposes of the organization as proclaimed at the time were (1) to provide employment for a large number of idle young men throughout the nation, (2) to provide training whereby these American youths might be conserved as useful citizens and be prepared to enter civilian employment and normal social life of their respective communities at the end of their term.

Former Businessman Of Lamesa Killed In San Angelo Crash

Funeral services were conducted at Novice, Coleman county, Monday afternoon for J. L. Pope, a former business man of Lamesa, who died shortly after an automobile accident at San Angelo Sunday night.

The accident occurred at 8:30 and he died at 12:25 in the San Angelo hospital.

Mr. Pope was the brother of Mrs. J. W. Smith, Jr., of this city. He is survived by a widow and four children.

FINAL TOPPING ON HOUSTON ST. EXPECTED SOON

Paving of the four blocks on North Houston Street is due to be finished within the next week or two. If favorable weather permits the first topping will be poured over the caliche base sometime in the early part of next week and the project will be finished soon afterward.

Present arrangements are to pave the original four blocks that were planned and stop one block south of the intersection with Highway 15. The street is destined to be one of the busiest thoroughfares in the city since the postoffice has opened, and a committee sought to get an appropriation through for extension one block further, but apparently failed in their efforts.

OWNERS RUSH TO REGISTER CARS ON FINAL DATE

Automobile owners were rushing to the tax assessor collector's office to obtain new license plates in view of the final date to operate vehicles with 37 license is Friday.

There has been a tremendous increase in registrations and Thursday was by far their busiest day of the past month. It was revealed that 2,120 passenger plates had been issued up to Thursday morning, 232 commercials and 193 farm trucks had been licensed.

Mr. Herndon, tax assessor-collector, estimated that there will be an increase of at least 300 vehicles over the previous year.

Two New Candidates Announce This Week

W. W. Petteway and M. C. (Cager) Kidd joined the Dawson county political race this week, and their formal announcement is contained in another section of the Courier.

Mr. Petteway is seeking election as District Clerk while Mr. Kidd is a candidate for sheriff. Both are well-known in Lamesa and throughout the four precincts.

Postoffice Opens Friday In New Permanent Home

SISTER TO LOCAL WOMAN KILLED IN CRASH SUN.

Miss Delma Carver, 14, sister of Mrs. Travis Richardson, and her brother Norman, 18, were listed among the dead and injured, resulting from one of the worst automobile accidents of recent years that occurred near Tahoka about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon when four persons were killed and six others were seriously injured.

Delma, who was a member of the Tahoka seventh grade, died from a broken neck, soon after the head-on collision with a vehicle driven by Mrs. L. J. Barrett, a Lynn county resident, who was last reported in a very serious condition.

Norman was driving the death car—a coach in which nine other youngsters ranging in age from 14 to 21, were riding. His companions who were killed in addition to Delma included Jay Ried 21, who lived on the Carver farm, three miles south of Tahoka, Johnny Lane and Ethelda Scaaefer, 14, who lived on a neighboring farm.

The driver of both cars were reported in serious condition.

Farm Agent Office Occupies Quarters In New Postoffice

Many Advantages Over Former Location Are Evident

The Dawson County Agricultural Association, which has been housed in the Dyer building on South First Street for some time vacated the building Wednesday when the office fixtures, records and personnel was moved to new quarters designed for this phase of work in the post office basement.

The new location, although affording slightly less space than is needed, will afford better accommodations, is better ventilated, lighted, has many conveniences and will be operated at less expense to the government. The building is well located for the convenience of farmers. Entrance to the office will be made through a door on the northeast corner.

Arrangements were made for an office in the First National Bank building for the Emergency Feed & Seed Loan office, which has been located in the same building with the farm agent department.

J. D. Dyer, who owns the vacant building, announces that he is preparing to open a hardware and auto parts store there within the near future.

CCC ENROLLEES FIND INDIAN'S REMAINS MON.

Members of the CCC camp, who were doing construction work on a dam at the J. H. Dean ranch, 12 miles east of town, Monday afternoon discovered a skull of a human body protruding among the rocks and after considerable excavation and examination it was revealed it was the remains of an Indian. The entire skeleton was recovered in broken bits, together with copper bracelets and instruments, which were apparently weapons at the time of the burial. The body from all indications was buried in a sitting position and was facing the west. Many years of wind and rain erosion had partly uncovered the form and from observation the skull had been exposed several years.

Broken decorated beads and other ornaments were recovered with the body. The discovery was carefully collected and brought to the local headquarters. It is the property of J. H. Dean, who was out of town at the time, and it was not known whether he will want it. Efforts were being made early this week to have specialist examine the specimens thoroughly. The fact that an iron type barrel was among the collection led Soil Conservation authorities to think the body was buried after the appearance of the white men on the Plains.

Miss Quixie Bee King of W. T. S. T. C. Canyon, attended the funeral of H. M. Meek here Saturday.

Vernon Smith made a business trip to Big Spring Monday.

Keys To Building Were Given Postmaster At Dedication

Friday morning marks the beginning of a new era in the postal service for Lamesa and Dawson county. Employees began moving the equipment of the department into the new postoffice building early Thursday evening.

The keys to the building were turned over to the postmaster last Saturday afternoon, by William Nichols, construction engineer, who was one of the speakers at the dedication ceremony, which culminated activities that began in 1928 to secure the building.

Mr. Nichols presented Mr. Taylor with the keys following his brief talk in which he emphasized the importance of this building to the people and the government. "Not only should it serve for postal facilities, but may it rather be symbolic of the American citizenship," he urged.

A sudden change in the weather interrupted plans for an outside program. Likewise prevented a number from attending. Karl A. Crowley, solicitor general, who was scheduled to have been the principal speaker wired his regrets that bad weather, west of Fort Worth caused him to return to that city. Nevertheless, an interesting program was conducted in the work room of the new building and was attended by about 125 persons including visitors from surrounding areas, former local postmasters, and citizens of the city and county.

The dedication was made more interesting by the presence, and a few words from the widow of the first postmaster, Mrs. J. J. Lindsey, whose husband was named postmaster in 1903.

Headquarters For Local WPA Office In New Location

Storage And Projects Housed In Church Basement

Mrs. R. G. Ragan, supervisor for the WPA sewing room, and Mrs. Jack Phinley, who is in charge of the house keeping aid project, are conducting the activities of their respective projects in the basement of the Church of Christ since they vacated the old Kutch building, north of the Plaza hotel on North Houston Street, recently. Mrs. Jim Medlin, county welfare worker is located in the grand jury room in the court house, as previously announced, while the relief commodity store room occupies a portion of the church basement.

Mrs. Ragan has charge of 33 women who are making clothing for relief clients and Mrs. Phinley has fourteen ladies in her department.

It was the intention of the Commissioners' Court to rent the building for the local highway engineer, who has been stationed here, but the property was sold a few days ago to Bob and H. D. Brown. The building has been partitioned to provide space for two business locations and H. D. Brown is preparing to open a modern steam and help-selly laundry in the south side of the building.

Mr. Brown reports that laundry equipment is now being set up and he plans to open his new business some time during the latter part of next week. It was not reported what type of business will occupy the other portion of the building.

J. C. Kerr, resident engineer, who has been transferred to Lamesa for several local highway projects, has an office over the First National Bank.

Installs New Fruit And Vegetable Rack

W. H. Strange & Son, who operate the Lamesa Grocery on North Austin Street, have just installed a new Super-Cold fruit and vegetable electric refrigeration rack. The new box is said to be one of the few of its type in West Texas.

With the new improvement all wet vegetables can be carried on the display floor in exactly the same appearance as they present when harvested in the morning dew. Fruits and vegetables can be kept fresh and crisp for an indefinite length of time. See their ad elsewhere in the Courier.

TO THE VOTERS OF LAMESA

If I am your choice for a place as commissioner, I promise to render you the very best service I know how. Not being any more familiar with the problems of the city than any interested citizen, I am making no bold promises which I might not be able to fulfill. But I do promise, if elected, to face the problems and do the best I can to be the most benefit for the people.

I favor a progressive program, paving projects to be advanced with the city's need and growth these to be paid for as far as possible by government aid.

I favor every move that will tend to help Lamesa with her growth and progress. I believe in Lamesa today as well as her future and shall do all in my power to aid in her development.

I do promise to diligently "Study and Work" at the job to serve with honor to myself and without disappointment to you who support me. It has been my intention to see everyone, but if I have missed anyone let this be a personal solicitation for your vote and influence.

Sincerely,
JOHN T. SANDERS.

TO THE VOTERS OF LAMESA

As the date for the city election nears I would like to remind the voters of Lamesa of my candidacy for City Commissioner.

I have resided here for the past fifteen years and am a tax payer. I feel that my experience with the city for the past four years has given me the experience that qualifies me for the position. For during this time I have become acquainted with the problems of our city. I believe improvements can be made. I firmly believe in the enforcement of our laws.

It is my desire to see each one of the voters personally, but due to a death in my family, I was called out of town during the weekend and may not be able to see you all. If I should be honored as your choice, I shall do my best to faithfully discharge the duties and make the kind of commissioner you would like. I earnestly solicit your support.
Respectfully,
ROY E. SPECK.

TO THE VOTERS OF LAMESA

In making my announcement of City Commissioner, I did so realizing the great responsibilities of this office. For the benefit of those who do not know me, I have lived in Lamesa and Dawson County since 1907. Have tried during this time to the best of my ability to make Lamesa a city that we all might be proud of.

I stand for impartial rights among our entire citizenship, and for streets, cleaner alleys, a strict impartial law enforcement, more law protection to business district especially in the fall of the year.

I am in favor of passing city ordinances to the effect all non-residents keep weeds and rubbish from vacant lots owned by them.

I think we should all work together to make Lamesa one of the cleanest and most attractive cities in Texas.

I have tried to see and talk to each and everyone of your personally, but my business has required a portion of my time, and I might have missed some of you.

Your vote and influence appreciated.
GRADY SCOTT

Farmers Are Warned On Certified Seed Laws Of The State

For information of farmers who desire to buy State Certified Seed and to correct certain misinformation with regard to the field seed certification law, J. E. McDonald, commissioner of Agriculture, gives information concerning State Certification tags which are placed on the seed. The information was supplied at the request of local seed distributors, and is as follows: Merely a red tag on seed or an individual's statement does not designate seed as State Certified, it was explained. State Certified Planting Seed carry a red tag with the Seal of the State of Texas upon it, as well as the facsimile signatures of J. E. McDonald, commissioner of Agriculture, and R. V. Miller, chief, division of field seed certification.

The white tag which is found attached to every sack of planting seed is not the certification tag, but the tested seed label, and the information on this tag is based on a mechanical analysis of a sample of the seed. This tag gives evidence as to mechanical purity, inert matter, weed seeds, noxious weed seeds and germination, but does not give evidence as to the varietal purity of the seed in question. Because some seed on the market have carried a red tag, farmers in many instances have bought them on the belief that they were State Certified Seed. We caution people who are interested in buying State Certified seed to observe the tag closely and be sure it has the Seal of the State, and the two signatures above mentioned on it before they buy them as Certified Seed. No seed are State Certified regardless of any claims unless this tag is attached to the bag.

A PLEA FOR THE EAST SIDE RESIDENTS

I do not know whether it is appropriate for one who is only on the paying end of our school system to give expression as to what the policy of operation should be, but citizens of the East Side of Lamesa have appealed to me to assist them in getting full consideration of their request for a grammar school in their vicinity. I know of no other way that I could help them than to bring the matter to the attention of our school authorities and citizenship.

Most of the residents of this locality are people who possess only small means and their children must walk to school, and in doing so must contact two busy state highways and one railroad, whereas, if they had their own little school they would be safer, and much anxiety of their poor parents as to whether they would return alive would be relieved.

As one of the tax payers I would cheerfully pay any additional cost in my taxes that the serving of this vicinity with their own school would cause. Respectfully,

J. E. GARLAND

P. S.: In time the mangled corpse of some poor little child, who had not succeeded in making safe passage to the distant school, will be a more eloquent plea than can be written now.

BARTLETT H. D. CLUB REPORT

"The home is the picture of the family who lives there," said Miss Phenix to the Bartlett Home Demonstration club, Wednesday, March 23, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Stewart. "All out-buildings should be hidden from front view by screen plantings. A mixture of evergreen, flowering and deciduous shrubs may be used for a pleasing, peaceful and beautiful frame for your home."

There were six members including one new member, Mrs. M. Shelton, two visitors and Miss Phenix present at the meeting.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, April 13, at the home of Mrs. S. M. Harry. The program will be control of flies, by kitchen demonstrator, Mrs. T. L. Wallace.

RECREATION ASSOCIATION WILL MEET APRIL 2

The Recreation Association of the Home Demonstration Council will meet in the office of Miss Mattie Phenix at 3 o'clock p. m. Saturday, April 2. There will be new games for the representatives to carry back to their clubs.

METHODIST NOTES (Welch Charge)

Pastor still sick, but improving. Unable to attend services Sunday. Mrs. Walker has been sick, but is improving. Sunday was a bad day and attendance was off in number. Not with standing reports show very interesting Sunday school session.

It is strange how effective a little sprinkle of rain is Sunday morning. It is just too bad to go to church, but by afternoon though the sprinkle increases you can see cars going in every direction. Well some may be sick, others going after doctors for sick and some necessarily caring for the sick. If so the Lord let his face shine on them, but if just a hatched up excuse, it won't work for you nor for the Lord. It works for the devil to hinder the work of the Lord. But underneath the excuse stands a true record and in judgment the Book will be opened and the record will be read as seen by the clear seeing eye of the Judge (Jesus Christ). You may call attention to your record of excuses, but the time of deception has passed. The Deceiver has been claimed and you will have to acknowledge the justice of God in your own condemnation.

What will be your wishes then? Will you wish for more and better excuses, and more forceful words and expression to satisfy the pastor and ease your own conscience and set aside the judgment of the Righteous Judge? No you will wish you had one more chance on Sunday morning of March 27, 1938 to get up and get yourself ready and go, though the sprinkle of rain to the place of worship and render what service you could to the Lord of Hosts. Singing convention meets at Welch next Sunday afternoon. Everyone invited.

Welch has some of the brave and faithful ones.

East Side Citizens Petition Board For Grammar School Site

A delegation of citizens living for the most part east of the railroad met with the school board on Tuesday night to state their desire for the construction of a school building in their vicinity. The main reasons presented were (1) that the children may avoid the hazardous highway crossings in going across town, (2) that the building may be nearer pupils and thus more convenient and (3) that portion of town may be aided in development.

The building site proposed is just east of the old Lubbock highway, which it was stated, could be had without cost to the district. An elementary school of six grades was the type of school requested.

It was brought out at the hearing that the district must provide for approximately 400 primary children in the light of the current need.

The board took the matter of locations of building under advisement and will reach a decision in the near future.

Cotton Under Loans Eligible For Price Adjustment Payment

College Station, March 28.—If a farmer has cotton under a 1937 Commodity Credit Corporation loan he may receive a cotton price adjustment payment at the rate in effect on June 30, 1938, regardless of whether or not the cotton has been sold, according to Geo. Slaughter chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

If a farmer has cotton under such a loan and desires to sell it, the loan must be paid in full before the cotton is sold, he said.

"However, a farmer does not have to sell his cotton to qualify for a cotton price adjustment payment," he pointed out. "Cotton not sold before July 1, 1938, will be considered to have been sold on June 30, whether it was under a loan or not. The date of sale controls the rate of payment."

Numerous reports have been received at the state AAA office at Texas A. and M. College that farmers with cotton loans have been selling their "equities" in the loan cotton and receiving sale certificates in return, Slaughter said. Payments cannot be made on the basis of such so-called sales and persons buying "equities" on loan cotton obtain payments when they resell the cotton.

Under the regulations cotton price adjustment payments will be made on part of the 1937 crop, he explained, and the rate of payment in each case will be the amount by which the average price of cotton on the date of sale is below 12 cents. In no case will the payment be more than three cents a pound.

When a farmer sells his cotton prior to July 1, 1938, in a bona fide sale with title passing from producer to buyer, he may receive a payment on that cotton. If the cotton is under loan, title and possession cannot be delivered and therefore, payment cannot be made on a sale of the producer's equity.

CCC ANNIVERSARY TO THE VOTERS OF LAMESA

In keeping with these avowed purposes, CCC Camps sprang up in all sections of the nation. Many camps were assigned to the flooded areas to engage in the restoration of normal industrial and agricultural life and in setting up flood control practices and facilities. Other camps were sent into denuded forest areas to replant millions of trees and to remove thousands of forest fire hazards. Still other camps were established in the dreadful "Dust Bowl" area of the Great Plains to set up agencies designed to control wind erosion which included the program of shelter belt tree planting.

The Lamesa camp was established as one of the latter type. It was set up in August, 1935 as a wind and water erosion project. During the two and one-half years of its history, the camp has trained some 1300 men in job work in social and work discipline, in health and sanitation, and in better recreational habits and educational attainments. In addition to the training given these reclaimed youths, the Government has paid them approximately $200,000 in pay checks for their personal support as well as to the support of their dependent families.

Thru out the history of this camp, an effective educational program has been in progress. Of the 1300 men who have served enrollment periods here, approximately 100 of them have attended classes of various academic and vocational classification. Many of these men are now gainfully employed in the various communities of West Texas as a direct result of the training received in this camp.

The camp has its own kitchen and mess hall. Here wholesome and ample food is prepared and served. Four cooks and a number of assistants are employed in this service. Sanitation and efficiency are the treasured watchwords in this kitchen. Daily inspections require that the mess be superior in balance, quality, quantity and palatability. It is an almost invariable rule that the men gain weight and physical strength from the day they enter the camp.

Cleanliness, orderliness, and sanitation are demanded of the men in the care of their barracks, the camp area, and other camp buildings. Every man entering the CCC service is guaranteed the very best medical attention available. A regular service doctor or a per diem doctor is available for camp duty. The service of the doctor and the medicine that he may administer are free to the enrollees. In case of surgical need and hospitalization, the enrollees receive these services free of cost. Many men in this camp have received operations and periods of hospitalizations extending over six or more months. In addition to the free service, these men receive their regular pay while under treatment.

Every man joining the company must undergo a course in safety training. All truck drivers and others entrusted with driving any vehicle must be familiar with and observe safety rules. At least one period each week is devoted to teaching and discussing safety measures. Every man must become safety minded and observe safety measures or get out of the service.

when he helped organize the town, spoke briefly. Dismissing the use of a public address system, Mrs. Lindsey recalled that she and her husband lived in a small two-room house, with the post office in the front. She recalled how her husband had faith in the future growth of the city, and always said someday Lamesa would make a city. "I can pass over the river, now, knowing that we have such a beautiful building here," she said.

Postmaster Taylor presided as master of ceremonies at the dedication. Conway E. King, high school band director, with some of his students, gave

R. A. PRUITT, For City Commissioner. PATRICIA CHURCH NOTICE Sunday is Communion Service day at the Methodist church at Patricia and the pastor, Rev. C. M. Currey, urges all members to be present and other Christians are invited to attend.

RAINS MEASURE 43 INCH IN DAWSON COUNTY FOR TWO DAY PERIOD OF PAST WEEK Mrs. Jesse Paulk, who is the local weather observer for the Department of Agriculture, reported 43 inch of rain fell in this immediate area Saturday and Sunday nights. Other reports from points east of Dawson county were to the effect that as much as six inches of rain fell in surrounding territory to Abilene. Wind and hail were followed by severe storms in the Anson area.

The local moisture was especially helpful to small gardens, lawns, and grazing pastures. The early corn crops in scattered areas of the county were aided to a great extent. Only a very few farmers have planted this early, however.

Invent Modern Wire Measuring Machine Ira Ashley, and his assistants at the Ashley Electric Company, on south Austin, have perfected a new type of wire measuring machine, which is very small and effective. The machine works automatically with two wheels that measure any type of wire in feet and inches. The device has required a great deal of time and effort, but is a very near perfect and measures within a fraction of being accurate.

TO THE VOTERS OF LAMESA

Next Tuesday it will be your duty and privilege to cast your votes for the ones you want to serve you as City Commissioners, for another two years. It has been my privilege to have been one of your commissioners for the past two years and in this capacity I have at all times done the things that I thought were for the best interest of our city.

We have, of course, made mistakes, and anyone, for that matter, will who tries to do anything at all; but, I will say in connection with this, that there have been some things done, since I have been one of your City Commissioners, that I am very proud of. One of which is our City traffic lighting system; and in addition to that, we have already made plans and arrangements to begin installation of a good up-to-date sewage disposal plant that our city has been in great need of for a number of years.

By our co-operation with the Federal government we will be able to obtain this disposal plant without any additional taxes to raise the present taxes of the citizens of Lamesa. We have also been able to meet all of the city's outstanding obligations and debts that are now due, and at the same time we have taken up $8,000.00 worth of bonds that would not have been due for 20 years, and by paying this, we have saved $8,000 worth of interest that would have been lost had the debts been allowed to go to maturity; and at the same time reducing the city's debt.

Of course, I am always glad to make any improvements that you citizens want done but as our city already has many obligations that we are now paying on and since we feel that our property owners taxes are high enough already, I will be, as I have been in the past two years, for just what improvement that we really need; and at the same time do my best to reduce the city's obligations—So much for that. I want to say to the ladies of Lamesa that I have not been making a house-to-house campaign and bothering you by handing out cards and soliciting your vote. I am trying to see you in town, but should I fail to do this, please don't think that I don't want your vote, for I really do, and I am confident that without your support I cannot be re-elected.

I have nothing to say against any of the other ten candidates for City Commissioner, but there can be only two men elected to these offices and I will consider it a very high honor if, on next Tuesday you will see fit to leave my name on the ticket and again elect me as one of your commissioners. In conclusion, my promise to the voters is "Honesty and Economy."

Thanking you, I am A. M. (Buck) BENNETT.

Luncheon Club Will Work For Increased Cotton Allotments

The program at the Luncheon Club Tuesday noon was devoted to round-table discussion regarding the recent Cotton allotment that was designated for Dawson county for the current year. Following considerable expressions it was decided that the acreage should be equivalent to that of Lubbock and Lynn counties and a committee consisting of the following: W. M. Yates, Bill Boyd and James Sumpter president, vice-president and secretary, respectively, was appointed to investigate the possibility of obtaining an increase.

Members of the club expressed the opinion that Dawson county's allotment should be equivalent with that of Lynn county especially, although they hardly expected as large allotment as Lubbock received. Dawson's quota was announced for 114,374 acres as compared with 153,640 acres for Lynn county and 159,322 acres for Lubbock.

It has been indicated the county agent will also assist in an effort to raise the acreage.

Local Seed Firm Has Kemgas Treated Seed

For an experiment last season Andy Brown of the A. D. Brown Gin Company, near Ackerly, and his associates planted Kemgas seed for the first time. They were so well pleased with the results this year they constructed a Kemgas delinting and treatment plant that is located near their gin to process seed for the farmers in West Texas.

W. H. Lane, managing partner of the firm planted Kemgas delinted seed with eight 4-row tractors at the Verbest farms planting about seven pounds of delinted seed per acre. He stated the seed germinated faster and the plants made a stronger growth with more cotton to the acre. He says he planted one-third more with each 4-row machine, as there are few stops to refill with seed and no fuzz to choke the planter boxes.

The new process delints and disinfects and then recleans and grades the seed. It is reported that many farmers in this county are planting the Kemgas seed, which is sold by Billingsley seed stores here. Further information can be obtained from their ad contained in this week's Courier.

Farm Security Helps Farm Families Plan Live-At-Home Budget

Every business man realizes the importance of considering the future needs of his business and how these needs may be met, and the farm home is no exception to this rule, according to Miss Gladys Wright, home management supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in Dawson, Gaines Borden and Andrews counties.

At this time of the year, Miss Wright and S. P. Collins, rural rehabilitation supervisor for this agency, are busily engaged in helping farm families plan their needs and devising ways to meet them. Each farm family cooperating with the FSA is assisted in determining its needs for the next year, which includes the needs for crops, food for the family, clothing, medical attention, schooling, recreation and similar requirements, not forgetting the amount of money necessary from month to month. After that budget which is based on thrift.

Farmers are taught the value of balanced rations for their livestock. They are encouraged to improve the care and breeding of livestock to insure maximum production. They are advised to plant their field crops in accordance with approved practices for the locality in which they live, not forgetting the importance of soil conservation methods. Another important phase of the FSA's planning program is the storage of surplus feeds in good years for use in years when production is below normal. It is here that trench silos their usefulness.

Following a visit Monday of Mrs. Ruby DeLong, district home management supervisor from the Regional Farm Security office in Amarillo, Miss Gladys Wright, local home supervisor in Dawson and adjacent counties, announced an annual achievement contest will be conducted for Farm Security borrowers in this and other counties in the district.

Earning the living at home is one of the main factors this program stresses. This is essential, according to Miss Wright, if the family is to become self-supporting and financially independent.

These families that earn 75 per cent of the living at home will be awarded a blue ribbon, those earning 60 per cent will be given a red ribbon. Mrs. Matthews will personally make these awards the latter part of December of the current year. An example of five would need the following: 100 quarts of fruit; 400 quarts of vegetables; 50 hens and 150 baby chicks; two hogs and one beef; two cows for dairy products, and a complete record of all farm and home operations. Keeping an accurate record of all operations is absolutely necessary to any successful business, according to Miss Wright who says that bookkeeping is equally essential to the farmer if he is to make a success of his business.

Home management supervisor work with the farm wives in home improvement, family health, production of poultry flocks and gardens to meet needs of the family's balanced diet and also add to the family's annual income through food preservation and sales of surplus commodities.

In setting up a farm and home, plan the rehabilitation supervisor and the home management supervisor for the Department of Agriculture agency know that in order to develop properly balanced plans the family must fully recognize the need for keeping expenditures well within their income. This

Farm Security Will Finance Community Sponsored Projects

S. P. Collins, county rural rehabilitation supervisor, says that modern farm machinery, new farming methods have largely replaced the old. Modern transportation, processing and marketing have greatly changed our methods of handling farm products. These advantages often are beyond the reach of the small farmers. It is hard for a farmer, using tools and taking his own crops to market, to compete successfully with big producers as it would be for a shoemaker to make his shoes by hand and compete with a modern factory turning out thousands of pairs. Through the fault of no individual, struggle, Mr. Collins said, becomes equal.

Consequently the small farmer in order to survive must join hands with his neighbor. A small farm cannot support the more modern and expensive equipment nor high-priced breeding stock. But a group of farmers, pooling their interests, can afford these improved services.

Mr. Collins explained that the community cooperative service program of the Farm Security Administration is designed to meet precisely this need for rural rehabilitation borrowers and other low-income farmers. It is intended to help groups of small farmers finance the purchase of machinery, livestock, and equipment which none of them could afford alone.

Rehabilitation field representatives will study the needs of prospective borrowers with them. They will draw up definite cooperative service plans and help the borrowers enter into working agreements with their neighbors.

When two or more farmers agree to use the same service, equipment or property, this is a community service, Mr. Collins explained. Here are a few examples: line graders, spreaders, potato diggers, hay balers, ensilage cutters and silo filling devices, hauling and trucking services, dusting and spraying rigs, community canning services, certified seed improvement services, pure-bred sire services for livestock improvement, tractors and equipment services including plowing, harrowing, ditching, cultivating, harvesting, health services, veterinary services.

The Farm Security Administration can make loans for a community service that is owned and operated by an individual for the benefit of a group; jointly by several members of a group or by the group as a whole (unincorporated association). However loans are made only to rural rehabilitation clients of this agency and other low-income farmers who cannot get credit from other lending agencies, public or private.

Loans for these services are repaid within a period ranging from one to five years, according to the amount of the loan, the type, and life of the service. Longer periods can be arranged

Vote on Cotton Quota Heavier Than Old Bankhead Vote

College Station, March 28.—A comparison of the Texas vote of the cotton marketing quota referendum with that of the 1934 Bankhead balloting shows that 82.25 per cent of the farmers voting favored the quota plan while 82.5 per cent voted for a continuation of the Bankhead system in the 1934 referendum, according to E. N. Holmgren, administrative officer of the AAA in Texas.

Complete returns from the 235 Texas counties producing cotton show that 246,091 farmers took part in the voting with 217,425 favoring the plan and 28,666 against it.

In 1934, Texas farmers numbering 222,061 returned a majority of 82.5 per cent for a continuation of the Bankhead plan in the following year. The tabulation shows that the vote was around 6 per cent stronger for control measures in 1938 than in 1934.

In the cotton producing states as a whole the vote was 92.4 per cent for the cotton quotas while the 1934 vote was 89.4 per cent for Bankhead allotments.

Only one state, California, failed to return a two-thirds vote favoring the quota plan in the March 12 referendum. Farmers there favored the plan by 65.4 per cent as compared with 64.5 per cent in the 1934 Bankhead balloting.

Other states which did not return a two-thirds majority for the Bankhead Act in 1934 were Oklahoma with 60.4 and Kansas with 63.8 per cent. Both states favored the quota plan by more than the stipulated majority. Oklahoma with a vote of 70.4 per cent. The 29 cotton farmers who took part in the recent referendum in Kansas shifted sharply when only one producer cast a negative ballot.

Louisiana had the highest percentage of majority for the quotas when 98 per cent of her producers voting favored the plan. Other states which returned exceptionally large majorities were Mississippi and Arkansas, 97.1; South Carolina, 96.5; Alabama, 95.9 and Missouri, 95.1.

Mayor Proclaims Annual Clean-Up Week April 3-10

Drive To Rid City Of Trash And Rubbish Starts Monday

Mayor Marr has proclaimed the week of April 3 to 10, as local Clean-Up Week in keeping with the statewide observance of this period as an effective means of fire prevention. The week has been set aside by Governor James V. Allred for the annual clean-up campaign. It was announced that the city will furnish free wagons to haul the trash and rubbish away if the residents will cooperate in the movement and rid their property of rubbish cans, etc. The schedule will be announced later for the wagon service, according to the mayor.

The Texas State Department of Health and the Fire Insurance Department will jointly sponsor the week. Clean-Up Week is an important week in Texas, important because every dollar in property destroyed by fire is a dollar lost forever. "Careless housekeeping" in the home and in business paves the way for unestimated fire loss, and all fire loss is to a large percent preventable by exercising recognized laws of fire prevention and control.

Every citizen has pride in his home city its streets, playgrounds, parks and buildings. Homes and buildings freshly painted, with well kept lawns and gardens, increase values and intensify community interest. Cleanliness creates confidence.

The past decade has been entirely too many Texans lose their lives by careless daily use of fire. Preservation of human life is an important matter. Any agency which contributes to greater human safety of life deserves the attention of thinking citizens. Clean Up Week in Texas is such an agency. Its advantages are obvious; its contribution to a cleaner, safer, happier place in which to live, no matter how large or small the community.

Cities and towns of Texas will conduct clean-up programs of far reaching activity. Schedules are cleaning, draining, graveling of alleys, cleaning city parks and playgrounds, malaria control, fire prevention, garbage and trash disposal, thorough spring house-cleaning for city and home will be encouraged.

Clean-Up Week, among its other functions, focuses public attention on the dirt and disease problem. It helps to make Texas a healthier, cleaner place in which to live.

H. M. Meek Died Friday Following An Acute Heart Attack

Funeral Services Held At Methodist Church Saturday A. M.

H. M. Meek, a prominent citizen and businessman of Lamesa for the past fourteen years, suffered a fatal heart attack early Friday morning at his home on North Bryan Street. Mr. and Mrs. Meek and their daughter, Mrs. H. M. Stovall, of El Paso, had visited a daughter, Mrs. J. Hardy Morgan, near Big Spring, earlier in the day and returned home about 2 o'clock. Mr. Meek went into the kitchen to make some coffee and suffered the attack while apparently waiting for the coffee to make. Mrs. Stovall smelled parched coffee and went to investigate. She found her father sitting at the table. He had been dead several minutes.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church with Rev. D. J. Murray, pastor of the Presbyterian church officiating. Services were attended by several out-of-town relatives and friends, and a large number of business associates and friends. Interment was in the Lamesa cemetery.

Mr. Meek, who was 60 years of age, formerly resided at Teague, where he was a member of the Baptist church. He was a native resident of Arkansas and resided in Lampasas before moving to Dawson county several years ago. He came to this city and opened the Meek Grocery and Market, which he operated on North Main Street. He was a member of the Chamber of Commerce and was active in the up-building of the city.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Evelyn Meek; and the following children and step-children: Mrs. Clay Ross, Lubbock; Mrs. J. Hardy Morgan, Big Spring; Misses Ussery and Bettie Meek and Darrell, a son of this city; I. C. J. W. Holder, Mineral Wells; Milton Holder of Carlsbad, New Mexico; Mrs. Stovall of El Paso and Mrs. W. Price and Carl Rountree favored the audience with two vocal numbers "Kentucky Babe" and "Punctily Punctula".

L. Donnell, project foreman for the Lamesa Soil Conservation Service Camp and F. A. Vestal project superintendent made short talks on the various phases of the SCS work and the connection that it affords in some instances to wild game protection. Mr. Vestal introduced Phillip Allen, of Amarillo, regional conservator, who was the main speaker. Mr. Allen spoke primarily on the methods being practiced on the Plains in fighting wind erosion and the steps that are being taken in rebuilding the agriculture of the plains.

Slide pictures of terraces, methods of gully control, reforestation and of other scenes, which included pictures of the Dawson county farms, were shown. The pictures proved to be unusually interesting and served to explain the benefits of the project to those who were not familiar with this service.

Brought to Light . . .

By HARVEY SMITH

By far the most impressive talks at the recent post office dedication was a brief comment by Mrs. J. J. "Mother" Lindsey, widow of Lamesa's first postmaster, who spoke a few words reviewing the early history of the local office. The audience was quiet as possible as everyone listened somewhat reverently to grasp the few words she spoke. "Mother" Lindsey braved inclement weather, that prevented even the principal speaker and hundreds of others from attending, in order that she might be present. She revealed that it truly was a dream realized. She expressed the hopes of her late husband that some day Lamesa would be a city. She stated she had lived to see those dreams come true and was now contented to "pass over the river, knowing that we have such a fine building here." She revealed it was more than she had expected to see in Lamesa.

A. S. Page, representing the government, expressed the view that the new building was another milestone reached in Dawson county and West Texas.

Yes, sir, "Spring building fever" seems to have affected Mr. and Mrs. Lamesa. Several new projects were begun this week. The forerunner of which is the new tile and stucco clinic of Dr. Sam Z. Frazier. The location is directly west of the Plaza hotel, where the foundation for a building 45 feet by 45 feet was being laid. Other projects in the business area started during the week included the extension and general renovation work of the Sam Richardson building on lots 9 and 10 in block 19. The improvement will be in excess of $3,500 and the two stores owned by Mr. Richardson will be merged under the one roof. Work was well underway constructing a basement at the rear of the property to be used for storage.

In the residential area, J. D. Dyer is constructing his third rent house on the property near his home on South Fourth Street. The J. W. Strong stucco on North First showed speedy progress and the finishing stucco was being applied to the Geo. D. Norman apartment on North Third Street. The St. Paul Lutheran church has a new building on lots 1 and 2 of the Lee Addition, on South Fifth Street where a big dedication program will be conducted the coming Sunday. H. J. Woodall has purchased a block of the C. H. McCormick property on North Fifth and plans to build a new residence, according to reports. There are many other projects that are planned for the immediate future.

The 1,300 enrollees in the Civilian Conservation Corps station in the dust bowl area of the Southern Great Plains will celebrate their fifth anniversary April 5, at various Soil Conservation camps in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. These youths have been cooperating with the SCS in fighting wind erosion. Lamesa citizens will be invited to inspect the work done by the young men, who are enrolled in the local camp. There are 127 enrollees at present in the camp here, which was established in August of 1935. When the camps were established throughout the country in 1933 thousands of CCC youths were given employment, and offered practical educations and training that enabled them to better themselves in the business and industrial world after spending a few months in the service.

In the local camp, as is the case will all camps, classes are offered in vocational education, business administration, including typing and bookkeeping. Classes are available in manual training, engineering, agronomy, cooking and auxiliary subjects which include arithmetic, spelling, etc. Perhaps there is not another federal project that has meant more to the youth of America today than the civilian service camps.

County welfare workers and those who deal directly with the under privileged and unfortunates of this county find many problems that they are unable to do much about, despite the good work they are doing. Only the other day an elderly man, who recently came to this county went to one of the county public officials and related his difficulty in obtaining WPA employment. Unfortunately in that particular case the man was not eligible for the government work according to the requirements. Nevertheless he was willing and able to do any type of manual labor as he had dependants and needed work badly. Maybe in the course of a few years situations of that nature will be corrected. There is a movement underway at present in some twenty-four counties in Texas where eligible families are placed on farms that they are destined to own in the course of a few years. There's the Ropesville resettlement project, near Lubbock, where the method was recently put into effect and from reliable sources it was reported that Fay Davis of the Family Selection division of the State Department was in Dawson county last week interviewing families that are likely prospects for the projects.

A very pathetic story was related here this week by Mrs. Ruby DeLong Matthews, regional district home management supervisor of the Farm Security office, who has visited the negro concentration camps in Cochran county where drastic steps were taken last week to aid some 300 negro men, women and children, many of them seriously ill suffering from the lack of nourishment.

From all accounts it seems the negroes were transported to the area in the harvest rush last fall and since completion of the cotton picking season, they have been stranded there with little or no food, or transportation to return to their former East Texas homes. Adding to their plight, she stated, unfavorable conditions during the season prevented many from making enough money to eke out a bare existence and were forced to seek shelter in rudely constructed dugouts.

The matter is out of the jurisdiction of her office, as well as was the case with the relief and other government agencies, but it was brought to the attention of Robert B. Gragg, of the Amarillo state department of labor office, who conducted an investigation and after surveying the pitiful condition that existed began an immediate movement to supply food and medical attention to the needy. Landowners and farmers, who had them in charge were warned to make some effort to transfer the unfortunates back to their homes. The matter is in no wise a reflection of the county, but is the responsibility of the men who were so eager to get their services, yet were unmindful of their plight until the situation became so noticeable that an investigation became necessary.

ACKERLY H. D. CLUB

"The passerby can judge the people within a house by looking at their yards," said Miss Phenix at the Ackerly Home Demonstration club meeting with Mrs. J. W. Middleton on March 24. There were thirteen members present and one visitor, Mrs. Jones.
