MISSIONARY'S DEATH MADE KNOWN TODAY

He Was Brother of Onetime President of University of Texas; Three Children Survive; Wife Dead.

SEIZED SUNDAY

Educated at Austin College of Sherman, He Went to China in 1907; Family From North Carolina.

NANKING, China, Nov. 4. (AP) The Rev. J. W. Vinson, member of the American Presbyterian mission at Haichow, Kiangsu province, has been slain by Chinese bandits. United States Consul General Willis R. Peck was advised today.

Vinson was kidnapped last Sunday. His death presumably occurred yesterday. Immediately on receipt of news, Peck asked the Chinese for details of the incident.

At the instance of the American government, he had made representations to the foreign office following the kidnapping and was assured the Chinese government would do all in its power to obtain the release of Vinson.

The missionary is survived by three young children, all of whom live with relatives in Lexington, Va. His wife died several years ago.

Captured recently, news of Vinson's slaying was forwarded to Peck by Dr. Lorenzo Morgan of the Presbyterian mission at Haichow.

It was Dr. Morgan who reported Mr. Vinson's capture by the bandits. The capture took place about 30 miles south of Haichow.

SHERMAN, Nov. 5. (AP)—The Rev. John Walter Vinson, Presbyterian missionary reported slain by Chinese bandits at Haichow, Kiangsu province, was reached in Sherman.

He was the son of the late Capt. and Mrs. John W. Vinson, who died in Sherman. A brother, Dr. Robert Ernest Vinson, formerly was president of the University of Texas and now is president of Western Reserve university at Cleveland. Another brother, Will A. Vinson, is a prominent attorney of Houston and a member of the board of trustees of Austin college at Sherman.

Other brothers and sisters are Chalmers Vinson, Paint Lick, Ky., who married Miss Nan N. Wharton of Sherman; Walter Vinson and Miss Brice Vinson, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. J. W. Culver of San Antonio, and Mrs. W. A. McLean of Cuero, Texas.

From North Carolina, the Vinson family came to Texas from North Carolina many years ago. Captain John Vinson, ex-Confederate soldier, was a cotton buyer. All the boys of the family were educated at Austin college and the family home still stands near the campus. John was graduated from the college in 1903, taking his bachelor of divinity degree from Austin Theological seminary in 1906. He went to China in 1907 and has been a missionary there since that time.

Relatives in Sherman had heard recently from Vinson, the latest letter, received by B. L. Brice, stating he had been in ill health and had been in a hospital for treatment but had returned to his home. Vinson married Miss Jeanne DeForest Junkin in 1906 and she died six or seven years ago. Their three children are with her sister, Miss Lila Junkin, at Lexington, Va. A son died several years ago, when he was 14 years of age.

Wichita Falls Mayor Is Studying City's System

Mayor Walter Nelson Jr. of Wichita Falls, was so interested in the Pampa city government that he asked City Manager F. M. Gwin to send him a statement of revenue and expense of the city for last month and a copy of the city budget. He declared that Pampa's should be proud of their city and its government. He visited here Tuesday night and Wednesday.

He was particularly impressed with the equipment, which is the best obtainable and was purchased with the idea of long life. Pampa's new and large buildings surprised the young mayor.

Mayor Nelson was in Pampa to assist in organizing the junior chamber of commerce.

SON TO CAMPBELLS
Jimmie W. Campbell, 7-3-4 pounds, was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. "Bob" Campbell at 5 o'clock this morning at Pampa hospital. Mrs. Campbell and the baby are doing nicely, according to hospital attendants. Mr. Campbell was still making a slow progress to his office about noon, his many friends causing the delay.

J. Crouts of Amarillo is here on business this week.

RIDDLE OF RUSSIA LESS PUZZLING IN LATE YEARS

Industrial Production Twice That of Czarist Regime, Asserts Observer.

Editor's Note: Fourteen years of reconstruction and development of industry in Soviet Russia is surveyed in a factual analysis prepared by official sources in connection with the celebration on Nov. 7 of the anniversary of the revolution.

By STANLEY P. RICHARDSON
MOSCOW, Nov. 5. (AP)—Fourteen years after the October revolution, Soviet Russia looks back on its dreams of industrialization and credits itself with steady progress toward their fulfillment.

That it still has a long way to go to attain its objective of surpassing within a decade the most advanced capitalist countries is acknowledged. But its industrial advances, compared with those of czarist days, cannot be doubted if official figures are to be credited.

Under the aegis of Lenin that the country must be changed from a backward agricultural to a highly industrialized-agriculturalized nation Russia's renaissance is being unfolded.

Three Stages
Without going into the social and political aspects involved in reconstructing the country from an absolute monarchy into the world's first worker's and peasant's republic under the dictatorship of the proletariat, an official summary of industrial achievements during the 14-year period, especially for the Associated Press, divides industry in the new Russia into three stages.

The period of recovery from 1917-1922 when the economic life of the country was at its lowest ebb from the effects of world war and civil war was the first. Next came that of the reconstruction, or rehabilitating and reorganizing these portions of industry which could be salvaged.

Introduction of Lenin's new economic policy in 1921 was the turning point. Until that time the industrial paralysis of the country had grown from bad to worse. In 1918 industry yielded only one-third of the return in 1913, in 1919 one-fourth, and 1920 less than one-fifth. Such an important branch as metallurgy produced only two per cent of the pre-war level.

Rapid Progress
The new economic policy, which put an end to military Communism and invoked instead banking and other capitalist facilities, laid the foundation for a rebirth of industry. This is illustrated in official statistics showing that in the succeeding five years, 1922-1927, reconstruction was so rapid that industry not only reached pre-war levels but surpassed them by five per cent.

From this point was but a step to the Five-Year plan, under which increased from 1,300,000,000 roubles (about $500,000,000) in 1928 to 2,965,000,000 (about $1,182,500,000) in 1930. By the close of 1930 industrial production as a whole had more than doubled that of the peak of czarist Russia.

Three Arrests on New Indictments

Three of the four persons named in indictments returned by the 31st district grand jury last night have been arrested and are in jail here. The fourth person indicted had not been arrested noon.

Joe Chambliss and Beulah Mae Bridges were arrested on an indictment charging possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale. Judge W. R. Ewing had not set their bond at noon.

One man is in jail charged with forgery in connection with a check made on the American National bank at McLean.

The grand jury is still in session and more indictments are expected soon.

Speeders Fined In City's Drive To Promote Safety

Nine speeders have been fined in city court since Monday morning and others will get the same medicine unless they cut down speed within the city limits, according to Judge J. H. Blythe and Traffic Officer Joe Persky.

The motorists fined were traveling between 25 and 60 miles an hour when caught by Officer Persky. One of the offenders was in a school zone.

Motorists as a rule obey the speed laws within the school zones, according to the traffic officer who says that his school police are doing great work and that motorists obey their signals. The speed limit in the school zones is 15 miles per hour.

Both Generals In Phone 'Fight' Claiming Victory

AMARILLO, Nov. 5. (AP)—Both sides in Amarillo's telephone fight claimed today that victory was in sight.

Mayor Ernest O. Thompson, who is directing the fight against the Southwestern Bell Telephone company for lower rates, estimated that one-third of the city's 10,400 telephones had been ordered disconnected, and he exhibited signed communications to back up the statement.

This number of telephones—more than 3,000—represented only 1,100 of the more than 7,000 subscribers. The subscribers, however, included 29 hotels, two of them owned by the mayor and the largest in the city.

Hailey Disagrees
G. N. Hailey, district manager of the telephone company, said that 63 subscribers actually had been disconnected. He said this number included only three hotels—two of them the mayor's—and estimated the number of telephones thus affected at 1,000. The other hotels, he said, had rescinded their orders after being interviewed by company representatives.

Hailey said the company had more than 600 "disconnected" orders filed that had not been investigated. He said that at least 50 per cent of the orders were being rescinded as telephone company representatives interviewed the customers, and that 75 per cent of those having their telephones disconnected asked for the instruments to be left in place.

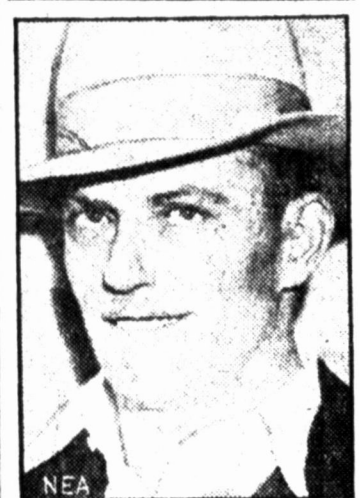

He said eleven orders for new connections were received unsolicited yesterday.

Will Stand Firm
Officials of the company gathered here in conference. Hailey said they would stand firm on their announcement Sept. 1, when rates were cut slightly, that the new rates would reduce their earnings to less than 7 per cent and that a further reduction would be impossible.

Amarillo's mayor, whose administration has been marked by reductions in rates by every utility service the city, said he was "greatly encouraged and surprisingly pleased with the way the people have responded to the plea to join in the fight."

"They are learning how easy it is to get along without telephones," Mayor Thompson said. "You can't imagine how quiet and peaceful it is not having a telephone ringing constantly. I can work unmolested for the first time in years. Even our hotel guests are not complaining. Business men are having to walk a few blocks to transact business formerly done by telephone, but they get more exercise and are happy about it."

Jail Houdini

Jack Martin, alias James Barfield, above, arrested at Detroit as an escaped convict for murder of a Macon, Ga., cotton broker, told of a long series of jail breaks, burglaries, auto thefts and holdups, police said. Martin said he would rather be shot than return to the chain gang of the millidgeville, La., penal farm, from which he escaped by holding up a guard with a wooden pistol.

Five of the directors will serve one year and five two years thereby keeping five experienced men on duty at all times.

The directors will elect officers from within their group.

TEXAS COMPANY BUILDING ENTERED—$17 IS STOLEN

Glass in Rear Door Carefully Removed—Checks Are Not Taken.

The Texas company warehouse on East Tying street was entered some time last night and $17 in cash taken from a cash box hidden in a filing cabinet.

Checks amounting to more than $100 were left strewn on the office desk. The filing cabinet drawer was damaged when pried open with a pin bar.

Entrance to the place was made through a rear door. The glass in the door was carefully removed and placed on the platform leading into the building. Officers believe that two men did the job, one holding the glass while the other removed the strips which held the glass in place. The thieves apparently knew

SOVIET PAPER SAYS AMERICA IS MENACED

Quotes Former Japanese Premier as Saying His Country Must Control Pacific Through Iron Rule.

TENSE SITUATION

Chinese Attack Forces Japan to Reinforce Troops and Strengthen Position at Manchurian Bridge.

MOSCOW, Nov. 5. (AP)—The newspaper PRAVDA, resuming its attack on Japanese policies in Manchuria today published what it described as a secret declaration by Baron Tanaka when he was premier of Japan in 1927 asserting that Japan must crush the United States to capture China.

This document, said Pravda, bears out its charge that Japan's present action in Manchuria is a long planned part of its efforts to extend the Japanese hegemony in the Pacific.

Japan's aggressive tendencies will not end with China, said the newspaper. "It has designs on the Philippines, the Malayan Archipelago, Guam, Tahiti, Samoa, and Australia."

Then the editorial quoted the alleged Tanaka statement which it said had been published recently in China. For its own protection, this document said, "Japan must remove its difficulties in Eastern Asia by establishing a policy of blood and iron. If we intend to win control over China we must first crush the United States. To capture China we must also capture Manchuria and Mongolia."

Imperialistic Policy
The conflict of Manchuria, said Pravda, may presage a fight for a new division of the world, for it is inseparably linked with conflict among imperialist nations for control of the Pacific. The Japanese occupation was described as "the worst kind of aggression, typical of imperialism, and an interference for a new imperialistic war."

The only reason war has not already begun, says the newspaper, is because Soviet Russia is exercising a strong policy of peace and is revealing the motives of the imperialism.

TOKYO, Nov. 5. (AP)—The Japanese war office issued a communique tonight announcing "positive and effective measures" had been decided upon to cope with the threatening position facing Japanese occupation troops at the Monrei river bridge at Manchuria, where 100 were killed and wounded yesterday in a battle with Chinese forces.

The communique said reinforcements were being sent to the scene of battle. Tokyo newspapers announced a mixed brigade of 4,000 troops would be sent from Japan to the occupied area to replace tired Japanese soldiers who have been holding the positions in the occupied Chinese territory since the outbreak of trouble Sept. 18.

No Peace in Sight
Yesterday's fighting seemingly has produced all hope that China and Japan might patch up their troubles by Nov. 16, the date set by the League of Nations for withdrawal of Japanese soldiers from the occupied areas.

War Minister Matsuoka received to attend the meeting Monday. Mesdames C. P. Buckler, Lon Blansett, H. H. Hicks, Raymond Harrah, Alex Schneider, O. H. Booth, George Walstead, Frank McNeill, Charlie Thut, I. Baum, A. B. Zahn, J. T. Glover, Henry Thut, Frank Allison, W. C. Mitchell, and F. M. Gwin.

Visitors today included Lynn Boyd, J. L. Lester, C. T. Hunkapiller, C. P. Buckler, J. M. Harris, Ray Ray N. Johnson.

East Texas Gets Bulk of Drilling

AUSTIN, Nov. 5. (AP)—Of the 861 permits to drill for oil and gas granted by the railroad commission in October, 685 were in the East Texas oil area comprising the counties of Gregg, Smith, Upshur, and Rusk.

October was the banner drilling month of 1931. Three hundred and eighty three producers in the four counties were brought in during the month. Only eight dry holes were recorded. Gregg led with 369 permits, Rusk had 215, Smith 58 and Upshur 43. There were 180 producers brought in in Gregg county, 176 in Rusk, 14 in Upshur and 13 in Smith.

There were 47 producing wells brought in in the state during the month and 62 dry holes. Of the total producers 104 were gas wells.

There were 180 producers brought in in Gregg county, 176 in Rusk, 14 in Upshur and 13 in Smith.

"Love Triangle" Principals

Two of the three principals in the "triangle" which is said to have caused the slaying of Mrs. Walter Maddux, St. Louis woman who was first rendered unconscious with ether and then killed by a razor, are shown above. Walter Maddux, 25, denied any connection with his wife's killing when he was arrested and placed in jail at Kirkwood, near the scene of the crime. Clara Fish, 19, a boarder at the Maddux home, made varying "confessions" regarding the case.

GAPS IN HIGHWAY 60 TO BE CLOSED NEXT SPRING

Paving Near Higgins Will Be Started Soon—Road Is Much Shorter.

Grading and drainage structures on the new route of highway 63 between the east Gray county line and Canadian have been completed and accepted by the state highway department, according to P. S. Bailey, division engineer.

The new road, which was opened to traffic yesterday, cuts 11 miles off the route from Pampa to Canadian. It reduces by about 6 miles the route from Miami to Canadian. Only 6 miles of the old road was used. Beyond Canadian grading and drainage are being completed on about 25 miles of road. Paving will get under way early in the spring except for a trip at Higgins which will get the concrete in the latter part of this month.

This highway improvement is part of the important transcontinental route, U. S. 60. Gray county's complete of the paving through this part of the Panhandle will be made next year in connection with the county-wide paving project.

Rapid progress is being made by Oklahoma in the improvement of highway 60. The latest contract is for grading and drainage on the strip from the Texas county line east to Arnett.

Bridge Tourney Will Be Planned In Night Meeting

Plans for a bridge tournament to be held on the evening of Nov. 13 for the benefit of the Pampa public library will be furthered at a meeting of a group of women Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the library room.

The tournament will be held in the Mitchell building under the direction of Mrs. C. P. Buckler. A Thanksgiving theme will be stressed, and a varied program is being arranged. Vern Spruencer's orchestra also will entertain.

The following women are asked to attend the meeting: Mesdames C. P. Buckler, Lon Blansett, H. H. Hicks, Raymond Harrah, Alex Schneider, O. H. Booth, George Walstead, Frank McNeill, Charlie Thut, I. Baum, A. B. Zahn, J. T. Glover, Henry Thut, Frank Allison, W. C. Mitchell, and F. M. Gwin.

Rogers and Hawks Taking an Outing

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 5. (AP)—Will Rogers and Capt. Frank Hawks, took off from Winburn field in two planes this morning for King's ranch, near Kingsville, for a few hours outing before Rogers leaves for California.

"Ambassador" Bill was in the plane of J. H. Lapham, local oil man, while Hawks flew his record-breaking mystery ship.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Rogers will fly to Uvalde to interview his old political crony who, Rogers says, is the speaker-elect of the national house of representatives, John Gardner. At 6:25 p. m., he will board the Southern Pacific at Uvalde bound for Douglas, Ariz., or El Paso, Texas, where he will take a plane for Los Angeles.

Hawks is to leave the King ranch this afternoon for Wichita, Kan., where he will look over a new speed plane which is being built for him there.

Mrs. Julian Barrett is ill.

NAVY LEAGUE TO WELCOME FAIR INQUIRY

One Dissenting Member Issues Statement Declaring That Criticism of President Was Not Justified.

PROBE IS BEGUN

Gardiner Says Light Needed On Present Conduct Of Naval Affairs—Hopes Nation Is Aroused.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—Full support to the statement of William Howard Gardiner attacking the administration's naval policy was given today by the executive committee of the navy league with only one dissenting vote.

A formal statement issued by the executive committee of the organization at a moment when the committee named by President Hoover to investigate the truth of the charges was just sitting down around a table for its first session, affirmed "its faith in the statements issued by the league's officials" and welcomed "any impartial and comprehensive investigation which will throw much needed light on the present conduct of American naval policy."

"To this end," it continued, "the Navy League gladly offers its records without reservation. Furthermore it resolves to pursue the purposes and policies for which the Navy League was founded."

Henry Breckenridge, the only dissenting member to the vote by which the statement was approved, said in a separate statement it was his "deep conviction" that William Howard Gardiner, president of the league, in his statement had used "unseemly and unjustified language concerning the president of the United States."

He added that this language "will not serve the best interest of the navy or of the Navy League" and should not be approved by the league.

Simultaneously, Gardiner issued a statement of his own: "I wrote the pamphlet published by the Navy League on Oct. 28 in the 'dark of the night.' I wrote it in the hope that it would bring home to my fellow countrymen and to our selected representatives in the executive and legislative branches of our government, what I sincerely believe to be the very serious condition that confronts our country."

The majority report by the executive committee was signed by Walter Bruce Howington, chairman of the board of directors; Gardiner, as president of the league; Henry Cabot Lodge of Beverly, Mass.; Nelson Macy of New York City; T. Douglas Robinson, former assistant secretary of the navy; James W. Wadsworth Jr., former senator from New York, and M. M. Hubbard of Chicago.

Oklahoma Bank Is Robbed Today

KONAWA, Okla., Nov. 5. (AP)—Three robbers looted the First National bank of Konawa today of between $4,000 and $5,000. They escaped in a small touring car after forcing the cashier to accompany them from the building. He was immediately released.

Four bank employees and two customers were in the bank when the robbers entered, one robber holding a pistol on the group while the other two climbed over the cage and scooped up the money.

The robbers sped northward toward Hazel with a posse of officers and citizens in pursuit.

Woman Mistaken For Burglar, Shot

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 5. (AP)—Mrs. Matilda Flores was near death in the county hospital suffering from a pistol bullet wound sustained early this morning when she was mistaken for a burglar in the Lee H. Scott home.

Scott, filling station owner, said he heard a noise at his bedroom window shortly after 2 o'clock and saw a man peering into the room. He obtained a pistol and turned to see a form standing beside a window in a rear room of the residence. Thinking the man had entered the house, Scott shot and Mrs. Flores, housemaid fell to the floor.

SMILE DAYS ARE LAUNCHED

V. Earl Earp, state commander of the American Legion, has inaugurated a "Smile Day" play to be sponsored by posts of Texas.

There have been a number of reasons for people of the southwest to smile lately. Oil, cotton, and wheat have soared sensationally. Industry is beginning to put men back to work.

But the Legion's Smile day is more than psychological; there is a concrete goal. That goal is the collection of surplus clothing for the needy. The drives are citywide and the results huge. While other organizations have plans for feeding the jobless, the Legion has chosen to clothe them. It is a plan in which every household supported by wage-earners can contribute without difficulty.

Governor Sterling has issued a Smile day proclamation. Various mayors are doing likewise. When Pampa's turn comes it is to be expected that this confident community shall smile broadly and contribute accordingly from its stores of surplus clothing.

Commander Earp has pledged 450 posts to sponsor Smile day clothing campaigns.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (NEA)—Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy, when he comes here to talk things over, will serve as sort of a tomato net for Premier Benito Mussolini.

Mussolini wanted to come to Washington. His embassy here broached the matter to the state department. The department hemmed and even hawed. The project lapsed. Secretary Stimson and his subordinates, it is learned, had reeled at the thought of guarding thousands of roofs and office windows as Benito rode through New York streets. The least that might be expected of anti-Fascists, they were sure, was a bombardment of over-ripe tomatoes. Visions of New York Fascists and anti-Fascists fighting and tossing each other from high rooftops strengthened the fear that Mussolini's entry might turn into a terrible international mess.

So here comes Grandi.

H. G. Wells, at a tea given by the Overseas Writers, proved to be short, chunky, voluble, soft-spoken and very genial. He makes a noble effort to keep his large bald spot covered. He teamed here with his publisher, Nelson Doubleday, who is for all practical purposes about 11 feet tall. Egged on, Wells talked frankly and fully of international problems, but not for quotation.

"Remember," he said in parting, "I didn't say a thing against France."

Whereupon there was a great roar of laughter.

There was a dinner the other night for John Beard, the British labor leader. The committee, made up of people interested in labor problems, asked Senator Costigan of Colorado to preside. Everyone showed up in ordinary dress, having been told Beard was "that kind of a labor leader." Everyone, that is, except Senator Davis of Pennsylvania, former secretary of labor, who arrived in full dress.

Davis sat at the head table with three sheets of prepared speech. He said he had been asked to preside and had come all the way from Pennsylvania. Costigan got word to committee members that he was withdrawing in favor of Davis. They sent back assurance that he had been asked to preside and would be expected to do so. Costigan thereupon presided and the party was over before Senator Davis had a chance to make the speech. The misunderstanding has not yet been cleared.

Public Printer George H. Carter fires any of his apprentices who get married. His latest victim is Rudolph Snakenberg, 23 years old, who married three weeks ago and notified his superiors by letter. About a year ago Carter discharged several apprentices who had married, reinstating some of them later.

First diplomatic parties of the season indicate that the embassy liquor situation continues to tighten. Most diplomatic salaries have been cut and two legation staffs are paid in pounds sterling which aren't worth as much as they were. Guests find the punch less satisfactory and the practice of serving hard liquor in secluded side rooms more prevalent. The best that can be said for most embassy punch is that it makes you sick if you drink enough of it. Party veterans always shun it and begin search at once for the side room and its highballs.

It's getting so Chicago won't tolerate killings in hold-ups.

ABOUT NEW YORK

By William Gaines

NEW YORK—Who said gossiping over the telephone was the restricted pleasure of women of the small towns—where they have sewing circles, and such things?

Here in New York you can't get a "flat rate" for telephone service—that is, you can't get the company to charge you a certain number of dollars for the use of an instrument by the month, regardless of how many calls you make. Maybe it's the same in other big cities now, but the point is—

At New York's telephone headquarters they list a certain number of calls you may make for a specified sum of money. For all above that number the subscriber is charged a certain amount.

Curious about this situation, we interrogated a charming brunet employed at one of the paying desks.

"Mister, don't you realize," she shot back, "that if the company didn't do something to discourage the gossiping of women over the telephone we simply couldn't handle the volume of business calls we have in Manhattan?"

That, to be sure, struck us as being something of an innovation, considering how many hundreds of purely business calls we have made from our home address—and paid for. But, I suppose, we must be public spirited.

Should We Bother?

Because Allan Langley, who came here from Newport, has the most complete of those match-folder collections in existence? You know, the sort of coverlets you get on your hand-out matches, advertising this and that.

Because Charles Ruggles' dad objected to his going on the stage?

Because the real estate agents of New York have found that the occupants of small apartments are the city's nomads? They move oftener than the people who occupy the larger places.

The Tale of Two Cities

Once upon a time there were two villages that sprung up side by side in a pioneer country. One had a wonderful location on the banks of a beautiful river and the land about that river's banks was most productive. Those who tilled this land grew wealthy and a railroad came into the town to transport away the products of farm and ranch.

The other village was located nearby in the midst of a scrub oak forest. The soil was unproductive and the river many miles away. But the pioneers who settled there decided that their village was going to be a great city.

They worked together, cleared away the black jack forest and piped water waters many miles to their village. Every man made his home a beauty place and all men worked together to make their village a great city while those in the first village were content to let matters rest as they were.

Today the population of the first village is 10,000 persons, in the second "village" there are 250,000 souls and it is growing every day. Even though the first city had all the advantages in the beginning.

If this was a real fairy tale we would tell of the wonderful fairy who spread its wand over the industrious citizens of the second village and brought them railroads and factories and business, but this is a true story of what co-operation has done and will do.

This is a true story of Oklahoma City, one of the new great cities of our Southwest. In years to come it will be the story of other cities in this section of the Southwest. We believe that it will be considered by citizens of Clayton.—The Union County Leader.

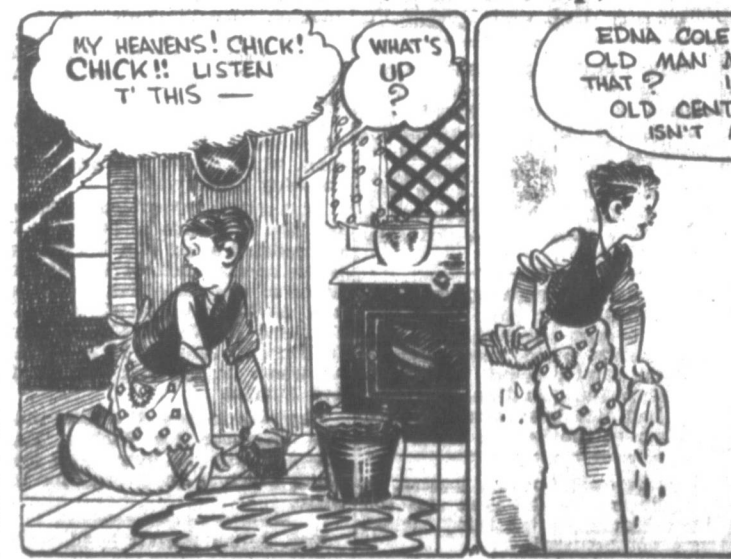

Anyway, it's a cinch the average girl knows a trombone player the minute she kisses him.

Business may be bad, but doctors have plenty of patience.

dreamed she could feel possessed Mary at Inspector Kane's indifferent words. Within a few hours of each other, someone's hand had struck down the two people she loved best on earth, except her sweetheart, Dink. She had thought of the wheels of justice as grinding slowly but surely toward the capture of that man. While he lived how could anyone with a drop of pity in his heart, rest content?

"Everything that could be done has been done," Kane said. "If the jewels ever turn up—or if we find the car, we'll have positive evidence. Nothing to do but wait."

Mary suffered a feeling of vast disillusionment concerning the processes of justice and that great institution known as "the Police."

Perhaps Kane felt her criticism, for his affability gave way to grievance.

"Police work is not so simple as some people think, Miss Harkness," he told her. "It's hard enough at best, and when people put stumbling blocks in our way—well—if you'd been frank with us about your brother coming to the house that night, we could have had the story out of him at once—and the case settled. It's too late now. We can do nothing but let the matter drop."

Slowly the implication of his words came home to the girl. "What do you mean by that?" she asked. "You mean you think Eddie came in—and killed—"

Kane looked at her keenly. "I meant only what is self-evident from the facts in the case," he said. He made a restless movement of dismissal. "I don't think we'll get anywhere threatening this way any further, Miss Harkness. You come in and see me again any time you like. If I have anything to report, I'll be glad to tell you."

Mary said, "Tell me what you meant."

"Well, what do you think?" he burst out. "What are the facts? He held up two massive fingers and ticked them off, one at a time. "Your brother had opportunity, and he had motive. What does it matter that he never did such a thing before in his life? How do you know he didn't? What do you know about him, anyway?"

Before she could answer, he added with an air of wisdom, "Nobody on earth knows less about a man than his sister. Unless it's his mother, maybe."

"You think that Eddie killed Mrs. Jupiter?" Mary was shivering uncontrollably. She sat stiffly, fighting for self-control, cold fingers gripping tightly the gloves lying in her lap.

"There was nothing left but to take it off people that had it and wouldn't miss it—the guests at your

Eddie had to get his hands on $15,000 and do it in a hurry. We know that much. I had those boys in those roommates of his. One— an elevator boy in an office building. He was the one got your brother in the way of following the races. He used to place bets for 'clients' in the building. Eddie made a little pile and was feeling rich, so he went down to the tracks and started playing the sport. He met some 'big shots' and the boys didn't see quite so much of him for awhile. But it wasn't long before he was back. He'd got hold of the long end of a 15-to-1 shot, and couldn't pay off.

Eddie knew that, and he knew more than that—if he didn't come through quick, he was due for a good beating-up, at least."

TRICK GYMNAST TO TACKLE OTIS CLINGMAN HERE TONIGHT

KIMBALL TO SHOW TRICKS OF MUSCLES

Red Michaels and Wildcat Willie Will Battle in Preliminaries.

Fred Kimball will do clever things with his trick muscles before his engagement with Otis Clingman at the Majestic tonight, but the big question is whether he can do anything substantial to the former sailor.

Kimball is well proportioned and well muscled, and has a reputation, but he looks somewhat frail compared with Clingman. The latter has spent several years training muscles independently. As a result he has an uncanny control over them. Moreover, his study of muscles has given him a wide range of wrestling holds, some of which are very painful.

Clingman, who regards Kimball as a freak, has no intention of being beaten by tricks. He is seriously starting the season with intentions of getting somewhere, and will take no chances. He plans to do things to Kimball that the latter will not accept in the name of gymnastics.

The blood and thunder preliminary will be between Red Michaels and Wildcat Willie, the latter of LeFlore. Young Kelly and Little Ernie, who are 4 and 5 years old, respectively, will open the program at 8:30 o'clock.

British Empire Has New Policy

LONDON, Nov. 5. (AP)—An all-British empire financial policy, including an empire central bank, an empire currency, new consideration of silver values, and empire tariffs was before the country today.

The national government, the committee declared, should either summon an international conference on silver immediately or "make haste" to be represented on any such conference called by any other country and it recommended restoration of silver to its former place in the monetary system of the world.

No permanent system of bi-metalism was mentioned but the report declared measures should be taken to increase the purchasing power of the consumers of India, China, and the Far East by authorizing central banks to keep "an equitable proportion" of their metallic reserve in silver.

Defendant Tells Of Triangle Slaying

GEORGETOWN, Nov. 5. (AP)—On the stand in his own defense, Ray Click, 33, testified yesterday he killed A. W. Walker after learning Walker had been associating with his wife.

In describing the shooting, Click said he was driving his automobile in Llano when he came to a grader, being operated by Walker. Click testified Walker began to curse him and that he then stopped his car, got out his gun and began shooting. The defendant said he had been told his life was in danger.

Defense witnesses testified to seeing Walker and Mrs. Click together on different occasions. Walker was killed in September, 1930.

HUGE DRIVE FOR ROCKNE IS UNDER WAY

Notables Speak on Radio for Project; Coach's Pep Talk Heard.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—Notre Dame men in many parts of America gathered last night to pay tribute to Knute Rockne, famous football coach who was killed in an airplane accident last spring, and to open a campaign for $1,000,000 to build a permanent memorial to him in a field house on the Notre Dame campus.

A nation wide radio hookup linked the meetings together as outstanding speakers from various gatherings went on the air.

At New York, where one of the largest gatherings brought together about 200 Notre Dame alumni, Mayor James J. Walker, in opening the broadcast, said New York only ball coach who was killed in an airplane accident last spring, and to open a campaign for $1,000,000 to build a permanent memorial to him in a field house on the Notre Dame campus.

Heremen Introduced Notre Dame's famous "four horsemen," Don Miller, Elmer Layden, Harry Stulldreher, and Jim Crowley, were introduced over the radio by Grantland Rice, sports writer.

The Rev. Matthew J. Walsh, former president of Notre Dame, also spoke from New York. Mayor Anton Cermak added his tribute and Will Rogers concluded the broadcast, speaking from San Antonio, Texas.

One of the interesting parts of the New York meeting came when a record of a "pep talk" delivered by Rockne to his team, was played on a phonograph.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 5. (AP)—In a serious mood, Will Rogers, America's cowboy humorist, paid tribute to Knute Rockne in an address at a banquet of Notre Dame alumni here last night.

The banquet was one of a series held throughout the country for the purpose of promoting a campaign to erect a Rockne memorial.

In discussing the congressional election he said he planned on flying to El Paso, near here, to see Rep. John Garner, Democratic candidate for speaker, before continuing his trip to the coast.

"You know, he's our next speaker now," Rogers commented.

SEATTLE GIRL TO BE GIVEN MANY MARKS

Helene Madison, 17, Holds Sixteen Records; Breaks Many in Year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—Helene Madison, 17-year-old Seattle, Wash., girl, is due for official recognition as the outstanding swimmer of the United States if not of the world when the 1931 crop of athletic records is presented to the Amateur Athletic union meeting at Kansas City Nov. 15, 16, and 17.

Of the 145 world's records and American marks to be considered, Miss Madison has made 37. During the year, her first of competition, the Seattle girl smashed 10 world records, and 17 American records and if the new times are recognized, as they undoubtedly will be, she will hold every women's swimming record from 100 yards to one mile, and there are 16 different marks listed between these limits.

In track and field sports feminine athletes also outshone their male rivals and when it came to breaking records, Mildred "Babe" Didrickson of Dallas smashed eight track and field records. Stella Walsh, the Cleveland filer, shattered seven sprint marks. Betty Robinson of Chicago, whose track career was shattered by an injury received in an airplane accident, annexed four new records, while the leading record breaker among the men, Leonard Spencer, New York athletic club swimmer, set three marks to tie with three women athletes for the next place on the list of record breakers.

Outstanding among the masculine performances were a 9 2-5 second 100-yard dash by Hubert Meier of

Airplane Pilot Saves Train As Bridge Blazes

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Nov. 5. (AP)—Engineer Charles Utter is indebted to an airplane pilot for the safety of his Burlington passenger train patrons.

The pilot, Harold Nymann saw the Chicago-Denver train No. 3 speeding toward a burning railroad trestle yesterday afternoon.

He nosed his ship over the locomotive, banked sharply and flew along with the train, gestulating to the engineer. The puzzled trainmen brought his train to a halt a quarter of a mile from the bridge. Passengers dazed and were brought into the city on special cars.

MASTRO HAS NO SUCCESS WITH CHAM

Battalino Carries Fight Game Challenger Wins Decision.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (AP)—Earl Mastro today was another one of the boys who have tried to knock a featherweight championship cro from Bat Battalino's head with being able to do more than lose it slightly askew.

The hardy youngster from Hartford, Conn., who can be depended on to fight like a champion when his title is the prize, did show that last night in the Chicago stadium, winning the decision after 10 blistering rounds to thwart Mastro's challenge. The Chicago Italian, a master boxer, fought a recklessly game fight but the champion's ruggedness and never cease attack won him the favor of referee Dave Barry and one judge.

The other judge cast his vote for a draw.

Mastro came so close, however, that Barry's score card showed 49 points for the champion to 48 for the handsome Chicago youngster.

Battalino, as usual, set his own pace and maintained it almost without variation every second of the way. A left hook to the body and a right to the jaw sent Mastro down in the second round but the challenger bounced to his feet before a count could be started. Mastro hit the floor again near the end of the sixth when Battalino crashed a left to the body and stayed down for a count of nine.

Tools Are Stolen At White Deer

Word has been received by city officers of the burglarizing of the Edwards Chevrolet company at White Deer sometime yesterday morning.

A quantity of tools and several pairs of overalls were taken by the thieves. The tools were large and a car or truck must have been used to haul them away.

The thieves entered the building by breaking out a rear window. White Deer and Carson county officers are working on the theft but have few clues to follow.

Youth Confesses Slaying to Wife of His Victim

WACO, Nov. 5. (AP)—Through the bars of his cell in jail here last night, William C. Beck, 19, former University of Texas student, told the widow of the man he had confessed to slaying he did not know why he did it.

Taken to see Beck at her own request, Mrs. O. L. Jones asked the prisoner if he killed her husband. Beck answered he did.

"After he fed you and was good to you, you killed him why did you do it?" Mrs. Jones asked.

"I don't know," Beck sobbed as he covered his face with his hands. Mrs. Jones was taken from the cell row when she collapsed. She was accompanied by Sheriff Leslie Stegall.

Jones was killed six miles north of Waco, Sept. 3. In a signed statement purported to have been made to police, Beck said robbery was the motive, and he obtained $2,000. Jones had picked Beck up to give him a lift to Waco where he was going to call on his girl.

WHEAT SOARS AGAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (AP)—Spurred by reports drought had cost Russia a loss of 150,000,000 bushels of grain this season, wheat prices vaulted today to new record heights. There were predictions of smaller shipments of wheat from Argentina to Europe. Trade was on a big scale. Opening at 3-8 to 1-1-8 cents gain, wheat continued to climb. Corn started unchanged to 7-8 up and afterward rose further.

New York May Become Center of World Finance

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—The man who helped a dozen nations back to monetary stability today, told the United States that the American gold standard and dollar are virtually impregnable.

So strong are they, Dr. Edwin W. Kemmerer of Princeton University, said in a speech before the Advertising club, that New York has the opportunity of replacing London as the world's financial center.

Dr. Kemmerer, who was a principal advisor in the formation of the Dawes plan and who helped several South American countries back to the gold standard, labelled "ignorant" or "timid" or "envious" those persons who have expressed fears of the breakdown of the gold standard.

"We in America," he said, "still have the largest supply of monetary gold of any country in the world, and the largest supply that any country has ever held in the history of the world. Until September last, this stock had been increasing month by month, with only an occasional slight interruption, since the summer of 1928."

"We have recently lost seven hundred millions of this gold, but this amount is only about 14 per cent of our September maximum holdings and merely puts us back to about the figure we had in January of this year."

"We still have an excessive amount of gold, not, because we reached out and grabbed it, but chiefly because so much has come but it will be put to work when people abroad and people at home come to believe it can be put to work safely and profitably."

Farm Board to Undergo Scrutiny

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—The searchlight of inquiry is to be turned on the farm board late this month by the senate agriculture committee.

Any and all complaints will be taken up for airing, Chairman McNary of the committee informed the board at conferences with it this week.

McNary has called the committee to assemble here Nov. 24. The farm board members were asked to appear together with representatives of organized agriculture.

Organized agriculture is prepared to fight for continuance of the two-year-old board in the face of some threats from congress for its abolition. The farm leaders will, however, advocate some supplementary legislation to the farm marketing act. This proposed legislation will take the form probably of appeals for authority for the board to invoke either the equalization fee or export debenture, two long-controverted forms of relief.

Turkeys Said To Be Plentiful And Right in Price

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—The price of your Thanksgiving dinner—turkey and trimmings—depends largely on the weather man.

There are plenty of turkeys gobbling their last gobbles in the Dakotas, in Texas, in Maryland and New York, according to reports obtained by the New York state department of agriculture and markets.

If the weather is warm when they arrive in the city they will have to be sold as quickly as possible at any price that can be obtained. If the weather is cool, they will keep longer, the turkey appetite will be up and the price will climb a bit higher. It is expected a 10-pound turkey will cost somewhere around three dollars under ordinary conditions.

Offering prices to dealers in Texas are from 10 to 12 cents a pound.

Election Row Ends in Shooting

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Nov. 5.

(AP)—H. H. Denhardt, former adjutant general of the Kentucky National Guard and former lieutenant governor, was wounded early today in an encounter on a downtown street here. He was shot once in the shoulder and was believed to be in a serious condition.

Witnesses told police Denhardt was shot by W. K. Dent, a Republican worker in Tuesday's election. The shooting was said to have resulted from ill feeling over political issues. Denhardt is a Democrat.

Dent was one of four men named in warrants issued yesterday as the result of a shooting Tuesday during the election. He was charged with assault and battery. During Tuesday's altercation at one of the suburban precincts, Henry Hines, former police judge and a Democratic worker, was alleged to have fired a pistol at Dent. The bullet lodged in election cards in Dent's pocket. Hines was charged with malicious shooting and carrying a concealed deadly weapon.

"I liked Chesterfield right from the start"

"NO, I don't know a blessed thing about how cigarettes are made. But, of course, I would want the tobacco to be PURE. And then I've heard that the blending is very important. I'd want that to be done just right."

"Then the paper. I don't like paper that you can taste—or smell when it's burning. I'd want that pure too."

"Another thing. I want to smoke whenever I feel like it—without worrying about smoking too many. So I want my cigarettes MILD."

"But the main thing, of course, is TASTE. I don't care for over-sweetened cigarettes. I much prefer those that are just sweet enough."

"Chesterfield seems to satisfy in every one of these ways. That is why I'd rather have a Chesterfield."

SMOKERS tire of too much sweetness in a cigarette, and they don't like ranciness. For a steady diet, they want a cigarette like CHESTERFIELD—a mild and mellow smoke, free from any over-sweetness or any harshness or bitterness. That's why more and more smokers every day are changing to CHESTERFIELD.

Good... they've got to be good.

favorable report was given this morning on another new school feature. Children of Woodrow Wilson school are taking physical exercises for 15 minutes each have already advanced far enough that they are able to give directions for visitors. This afternoon they are assisting with a program at the Parent-Teacher association.

Next week will be a busy one for many Pampa citizens. Every school in Pampa is to observe National education week with daily chapel services. Some of these schools are holding the chapel services by grades—with a different speaker for each grade. Consequently, people in every business and profession in Pampa are at work on the subjects assigned them, trying to think of something interesting to tell the youngsters.

We have found out that one of the easiest ways to give a chapel "kick" is to ask questions. The kids have more knowledge of things it goes on in their schools and in Pampa generally than the average man realizes, and they like to tell it to their know.

Yesterday we gave a menu suggested by home economics students of Texas State College for Women. Today we are including another: Breakfast: Cream of Wheat with raisins, scrambled eggs, toast, coffee, milk. Lunch: Ham souffle, buttered pinhead, cabbage and carrot salad, red and butter sandwiches,ocha sponge. Dinner: Crown Rib Roast, potatoes (baked), buttered beets, lettuce and tomato salad, biscuit, butter, baked apples.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

Probably no meat is more universally popular than roast beef. For formal or family occasions, for many persons or few, some cut of beef is suitable for roasting. The choicest and tenderest cut is the filet or tenderloin of beef. Although it is the highest in price there is no waste of any sort in bone, poor meat or fat. For formal dinners, filet of beef is unexcelled.

Next to the filet, the best cuts for roasting are the porterhouse and "prime" rib cuts. Many discriminating persons prefer these roasts to the expensive and more delicate filet, contending that the bony cuts are more flavorful and juicy.

Most of the fore-quarter supplies the coarse grained, inexpensive cuts usually used for stews and pot roasts. The prime rib roasts are the only choice cuts in the fore-quarter. When the bones are left in a rib roast, it is called a "standing rib" roast. Scraping the meat from the bones and re-rolling and tying the meat in shape produces the popular "rolled roast." The rolled roast is easier to carve, but the standing roast is superior in flavor because the bones add much to the richness of the meat and the gravy.

Variety in Roasts
From the substantial hind-quarter comes the flank, which contains no bone and may be cooked in many appetizing ways. The sirloin and porterhouse furnish juicy steaks and roasts that are suitable for special occasions. A middle cut of the sirloin, the back of the rump and the chuck rib all are used and make excellent roasts of varying prices.

The preparation and cooking of roast beef is very important. Salt should not be added until the meat is at least half done. Salt sprinkled over the surface of raw beef will extract the juices, which defeats the initial purpose of roasting.

Before putting a roast in the roaster, wipe it well with a damp cloth but do not put it in water. Cold water has a tendency to draw out the juices and also toughens the fibers of the meat.

Heat is the first essential in securing the best results in all beef cooking. Intense heat is applied for the first 15 minutes in order to sear the outer surface of the meat. This coagulates the albumin and forms a type of crust which seals in the juices and flavoring matter. Beef is the only meat which is treated this way. Pork, veal and lamb are roasted in an even temperature.

Much Is Reckoned by Weight
It is also important that the weight of the roast is known. Seasoning and time of roasting are reckoned according to weight. Allow one teaspoon salt and 1-8 teaspoon pepper for each pound of meat. Fifteen to 30 minutes are allowed to the pound for roasting. A rolled roast which is more compact than a cut containing bones requires 20 minutes to the pound if the meat is wanted rare. A stand-

PLANS MADE BY AUXILIARY AT MEETING HERE

A basket supper will be served and plans made for the building of an addition of Sunday school rooms to the First Presbyterian church at a meeting of the church membership Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Plans for the meeting Wednesday and for a cooked food sale to be held at Piggy Wiggy No. 2 Saturday were made at a meeting of the Presbyterian auxiliary Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. N. Dilley. Mrs. Mark Long was co-hostess. A song and the Lord's prayer preceded the business session.

A rising vote of thanks was given Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hobart for their offer to donate a house to be moved and designated for church use.

Preceding the program, Mrs. Hobart reported on the tribal life of Hebrew women. Jochebed, Pharaoh's daughter, was discussed by Mrs. J. E. Dever, after which Mrs. C. H. Todd discussed Zipporah, Moses' wife, and Mrs. R. F. Dirksen told the story of Miriam, sister of Moses.

Visitors included Miss Helen Leech, Mrs. A. B. McAfee, Mrs. M. J. Perswell, and Mrs. William Jones. Members attending were Mesdames John V. Andrews, George W. Briggs, Tom Clayton, R. F. Dirksen, J. E. Dever, V. E. Fatheree, Frank Foster, A. A. Hyde, T. D. Hobart, P. C. Ledrick, C. T. Mullen, F. P. McSkimming, Dave Pope, Quinn, T. W. Sweatman, Ted Scott, Richard Shields, E. O. Snead, C. H. Seniors Are To Attend Picnic

At a meeting of the high school senior class following the chapel exercises, Wednesday morning, announcements regarding the class rings and class dues were made by Joe Freeman, who is president of the class. It was also announced that the senior class will have a combination picnic and party on Nov. 11. Plans for a very interesting party are being made by the program committee, of which Miss Bernice Whiteley is chairman.

Altar Society Has Gathering

Sewing for welfare work followed the regular business meeting of the Altar society, Holy Souls church, Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. H. Sullins. Mrs. J. E. Dwyer was co-hostess.

Those attending were Mesdames R. M. Bellamy, H. A. Blymiller, Lynn Boyd, H. B. Carlson, Ed Carrigan, M. Conley, Dee, A. D. Drake, B. Emerson, Eckert, E. Fitzgerald, J. G. Garman, F. J. Gill, Mary R. Rand, A. M. Moore, M. S. Roche, A. B. Zahn, L. H. Sullins, and J. E. Dwyer.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. C. T. Hubert.

ing rib roast needs only 15 minutes to the pound to be roasted rare. Twenty-five to 30 minutes to the pound will produce well done roasts. An additional 15 minutes must be calculated to allow the heat, which is a poor conductor of heat, to become hot to the very center.

Pre-heat oven to 500 degrees F. Put in roast, uncovered and cook at this temperature for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 degrees F, and roast at this temperature for the required length of time. If the temperature is carefully watched and the time calculated, even a small roast proves satisfactory.

Never add water during the roasting process. The meat itself furnishes plenty of moisture and water causes loss of flavor. A self-basting or open roaster can be used. If an open roaster is used the roast should be basted with the liquid in the pan every 10 or 15 minutes.

BUILDERS of PAMPA

The progress and development of any city is the result of the energy and effort of the business men and firms who make it up. The businesses listed on this page are permanent institutions and have contributed much to the upbuilding of Pampa.

This page will appear in the News-Post once each week and will contain something new and interesting each time. A study of its stories will give a new knowledge of the reasons for the individual successes. Help these merchants in their program.

E. J. AYER ESTABLISHED ONE OF PAMPA'S FIRST MATTRESS FACTORIES

And now it is mattresses made while you wait. A few years ago an order for a mattress had to be placed and then a long wait before it could be delivered, but now the AYER'S MATTRESS FACTORY on South Cuyler street makes mattresses while the customer looks on and sees that only the choicest cotton is put in all mattresses and the best workmanship put into its manufacture.

Ewell J. Ayer was born in Wood county, Texas. He has had many years experience in the business, having had factories at Van, Mineola, and Lindale. He came to Pampa two years ago and opened the Ayer's Mattress Factory. Since that time the factory has been enlarged more than twice its former size. New and modern machines have been installed and the best work possible can be put out. No order too large can be given.

A large stock of every kind of mattress made is available at all times. Baby mattresses of three grades of cotton are available. Day-bed pad of two grades of cotton may be had at any time. Mattresses are made from three grades of cotton. All cotton used is purchased in Gray and Donley counties. Most of the cotton used comes from near McLean.

Fifteen patterns of ticking are carried in stock at all times. A mattress can be re-built in less than two hours time and customers are always urged to watch the process. A special discount of 20 per cent is made on cash and carry jobs.

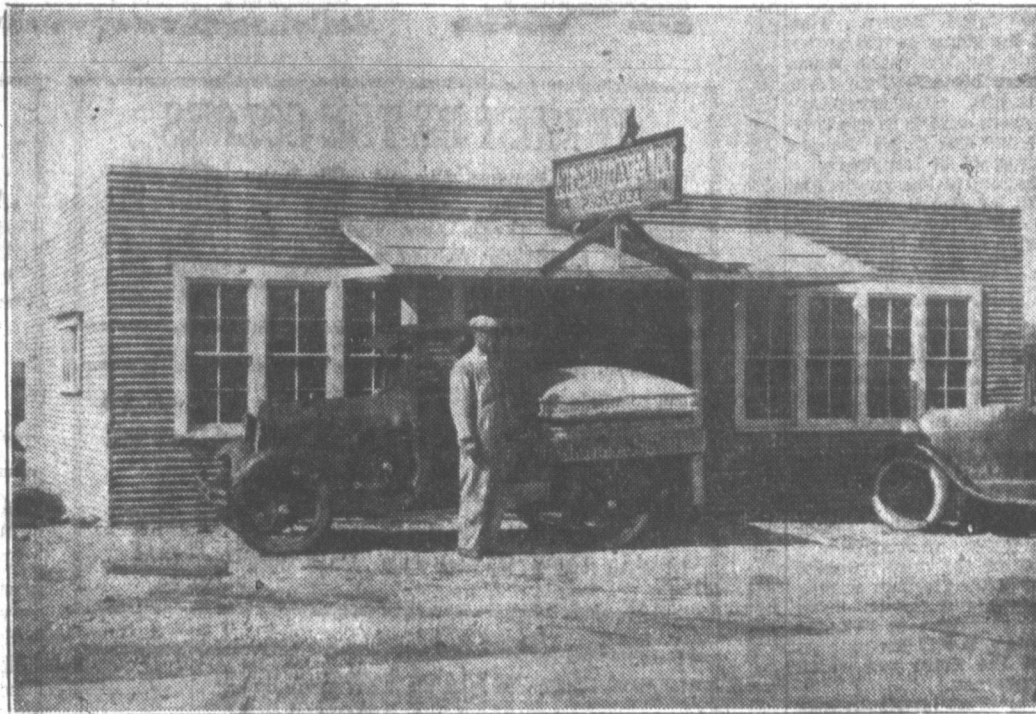

Fast colors are used if requested and only the grade of cotton specified by the customer is used in making or re-building mattresses. Louisiana feathers are stocked for the manufacture of pillows which are also made at the factory.

Mr. Ayer gave Captain Ray Chastain of the Harvesters one of the second best mattresses made in the factory as an award for being the best player on the Harvester squad in the game against the Amarillo Sandies. Woven sateen ticking was used. Mrs. Chastain is quite proud of the award and is showing all her friends the beautiful workmanship and quality of the mattress.

Mr. Ayer also made the mattress out of Erasmus Tack's cotton, picked as a loser in a wager on the Amarillo-Pampa football game. The name of the coaches and every player on the Harvester squad was on the mattress which Mr. Ayer delivered to Tack Monday afternoon. "Our motto is that we please our customers," Mr. Ayer says. "We have not had a dissatisfied customer since we started in business here that we have not made satisfied, and what is more we don't ever expect to have one, as we do all our work as we promise our customers," he states.

"We invite Pampa folks to inspect our works and see how we make or re-build mattresses," Mr. Ayer says. "It is because we use nothing but the best material and the best grades of cotton in our mattresses that we can afford to make this offer," he declares.

"Our prices are right and our workmanship guaranteed," Mr. Ayer says. "We may not be able to do as cheap work as some larger factories but we certainly do better work and we guarantee every mattress that leaves our factory and we are on hand to stand behind that guarantee," says the owner and manager of one of Pampa's leading industries.

First Transcontinental Flight In 1911 Is Recalled—C. P. Rodgers Made Very Adventuresome Trip

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—Pilots who guide aerial liners across the continent on a 36-hour schedule turned today on the march of progress and the memory of Calbraith P. Rodgers.

Just 20 years ago today he ascended the country by completing the first transcontinental flight. His time from Sheepshead bay, Brooklyn, to Pasadena, Calif., was 49 days, and everybody declared it was grand.

Starting from a Brooklyn race-track in his Burgess-Wright biplane, the tall birdman from Havre de Grace, Md., stuck to it through all kinds of adventures. He smashed against a hickory tree at Middletown, N. Y., tangled with a barbed wire fence at Red House, N. Y., raced a black eagle across a stretch of Texas, broke up a circus performance at Lordsburg, Ariz., made a forced landing in a desert and was bothered by "etheral asphyxia."

He was wrecked so many times that when he finished all that remained of his original plane was the vertical rudder and drip pan. All other parts had been replaced.

A special train, carrying his wife and mother, accompanied him, and he found delight in beating in into stopping places. Once in a while, however, he would get off his course for he followed the railroad tracks and the forks bothered him.

But when he landed at Pasadena, Nov. 5, 1911, he had added 1,985 miles to the world record for cross-country flight. His longest non-stop hop was from Stoval Landing, Ariz., to Imperial Junction, Ariz. It was 133 miles and he made it in 125 minutes.

A few months after the transcontinental flight, when the country was still ringing with his fame, he was killed in a crash into the surf off Long Beach, Calif.

Many Colleges Will Help Needy By Benefit Games

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—America's college football players have heard the call to come to the aid of the unemployed and needy and have responded with offers of 128 college teams to help in one way or another.

Already 53 teams have arranged special games, the proceeds of which are to go to charity, it was revealed by the first report of E. K. Hall, chairman of the football rules committee, who took over the task of handling the gridiron program after Owen D. Young had issued a call for aid on behalf of the president's organization on unemployment relief.

Fifty-seven more are planning special charity games; seven have agreed to give the net proceeds of one regular game to relief funds and 11 will contribute a percentage of the receipts of a regular game. In making his report, Hall praised highly the efforts of the colleges to lend a hand and added that "further reports make me confident that literally hundreds of other colleges and schools throughout the country will have their part in this project."

Grains Advance To New Figures For This Season

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (AP)—The grain market climbed steadily higher today, setting new records for the season with each bulge and rapidly making back the losses of past months.

Opening firm and withstanding one burst of profit-taking after another, wheat showed unusual strength. May crossed the 70 cent mark at the opening and March followed suit later, leaving only December at 60 cent quotations. Until yesterday, none of the wheat contracts had sold at 70 cents or better since last May.

After an hour and a half's trading, wheat was from 2 to 2 1-4 cents higher than yesterday's close and around 23 cents above the low point of the season, just one month ago today.

Corn responded even more to the bullish enthusiasm, gaining as much as 2 5-8 cents. Oats and rye were strong, most of the future setting new high prices for the season. Speculative strength appeared to be so great that there was little need of bullish news. There were reports however to strengthen the sentiment for higher prices—notably the lack of Russian exports and a story of drought in that country.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5. (AP)—A month of rising wheat prices has brought the southwest a gain in value of $75,000,000 on its total 1931 harvest and $30,000,000 on the estimated portion still held in storage by producers.

Of the 367,641,000 bushels grown this season in Texas, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, reliable figures place the amount withheld from market at 144,750,000, about 100,000,000 bushels of which is from Kansas' record-breaking 223,641,000-bushel crop.

The price upturn since the low point was touched Oct. 5 has exceeded 20 cents a bushel.

COTTON FAIRLY ACTIVE

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5. (AP)—Cotton had a steady and fairly active opening. Cables came in slightly better than due and first trades here showed gains of one to two points. As the northern market advanced more than the market here and as stocks opened steadier, prices gained a little further after the start. December trading up to 6.52, January to 6.59, and March to 6.74, 2 to 3 points above yesterday's close. Later in the first hour prices eased 2 to 4 points on some hedge selling but near the end of the first hour the market was firmer again and rallied about 4 points owing to firmness in wheat's opening.

The undertone was rather firm and prices appeared to be tending upward.

A private estimate today made the crop 10,637,000 bales. Another private report estimated the ginnings to Nov. 1 to 11,902,600 running bales.

LIFE IN RENO DEPICTED BY LA NORA FILM

Can real love be found in Reno, America's greatest "divorce colony?" The answer is yes, as seen in "The Road to Reno," Paramount's revealing, dramatic, and at times humorous story of mixed-up families and mixed-up rates, now at the La Nora theater.

In revealing filmman's answer to this intriguing question, Paramount brings to the story of "The Road to Reno" a cast of favorites headed by five who are of stellar reputation: Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Peggy Shannon, Lilian Tashman, William Boyd and Irving Pichel.

Pichel is the quiet, home-loving husband of Lilian Tashman, an ultra-modern woman who is seeking a divorce in Reno for no less a reason than that it seems to be a smart and fashionable thing to do. Peggy Shannon is their daughter and "Buddy" Rogers is the young college graduate who falls in love with Peggy.

In Reno, where most of the action occurs, Peggy meets William Boyd, an about-to-be-divorced roue, whose blandishments make her forget, for the moment, the handsome and serious-minded Rogers. The romance of the young couple seems to be headed for the rocks, when Boyd transfers his affections from Peggy to Lilian. This complication brings about a crisis in the lives of all concerned and draws the action to a prospect of happiness.

Comedy honors of the production are captured by Skeets Gallagher, the wise-cracking young man who made laughter ring in "It Pays to Advertise," "Up Pops the Devil" and others.

German Officer in Africa Still Carries on War

RIO DE ORO, Spanish Africa, Nov. 5. (AP)—Orders are orders to a proud officer of the once splendid Uhlan guard of the German empire, so Lieut. Erich von Satzen, down in the desolate wastes of France's African frontier, is still carrying on his share of the world war which ended 13 years ago.

No order to cease hostilities ever has reached him. "Tell the people back home," the lieutenant recently told the second "that in the south you found Erich von Satzen of the second Uhlan regiment, sent here by the imperial government in 1916 and forgotten by the new government of Germany. Tell them he is still obeying orders. Tell them he is still fighting against the French."
