Prisoner escapes from jail

Mitchell County law enforcement officials were searching Friday for a prisoner who escaped from Mitchell County Jail Thursday about 6:30 p.m.

Sheriff Wendell Bryant said Lina Quintana Meza, 36, an illegal alien from Mexico, was being held for evading arrest, criminal trespress and criminal mischief. He was also being held for the U.S. Border Patrol.

Meza was discovered missing by the jailer after she heard the back door of the sheriff's department close while she was on the telephone. The door to the cells had been unlocked to allow trustees to carry food trays to the prisoners on the second floor.

Bryant said his department along with the Colorado City Police Department and reserve units of both departments made a search for the suspect Thursday but were unable to locate him.

Meza had been in the jail since Sept. 6 after having been arrested by city police.

Commissioners pass to Industrial Team

In a called meeting Tuesday morning, that had only approval of the payroll on the agenda, Mitchell County Commissioners' Court dumped the prison project into the lap of the industrial team, approved a joint Airport Zoning Board and approved the salary of the Court Reporter for district court.

David Janca, Executive Director of the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, notified Judge Bill Carter last Friday that the Chamber would like to withdraw from the private prison project it had initiated, and turn it over to the county, along with the video tape and other documents. Judge Carter said it was the concensus of the court that the proper approach is to pass the video tape and the responsibility on to the Industrial Team, with indication that the Court was willing to work with any organization on this project.

A letter was received from the Texas Aeronautics Commission indicating the need for the creation of a Joint Colorado City and Mitchell County Airport Zoning Board. This Board is to establish the hazard zone at the Colorado City Airport, which is required to

FROM THE SCRIPTURES— Wisdom calls aloud in the streets, and lifts up her voice in the squares, crying from the busy markets, and at the entry of the towngates: "O heedless ones, how long will you choose to be heedless, and scoffers delight in scoffing, and senseless folk hate knowledge?" QUOTES OF THE WEEK—Some interesting comments I have noted while attending various local public meetings:

Gene Dow

Dee Hearn, City Council: "I didn't realize it until I became a member of the City Council, that the City does more with less money than any other governmental agency, such as streets, water, sewer, police and fire protection, garbage collection, park and cemetery maintenance, licenses, permits, inspections, animal control, etc."

Syl Monks, Town Hall meeting concerning the cemetery: "If you don't take care of your dead, you are probably not doing a good job with the living."

Paul Hunter, County Commissioners' Court: "A motorgrader is just as important to the operations of our precincts, as computers are in other county offices ... they just cost more."

Sonny Emerson, public meeting on prison: "Most people under age 34 still cannot pour pee out of a boot."

Bill Preston, County Commissioners' Court: "What's right and what's legal are not always the same."

THE LONE WOLF SAYS, "Age is a question of mind over matter. If you don't mind, it doesn't matter."

A rather undersized freshman was at this first college dance. Despite his small size, he was sure of himself in his own way. He walked over to a beautiful and oversophisticated sorority girl and said, "Pardon me, Miss, may I have this dance?"

She looked down at his small size and lack of a fraternity pin and said, "I'm sorry, but I never dance with a child!"

The freshman bowed deeply and said, "Oh, I'm sorry, I wasn't aware of your condition."

He did graduate work in public relations at the University of Oklahoma. After working for seven years as a newspaper reporter and editor in Oklahoma and Texas, he worked 30 years for the Dow Chemical Company in Texas and Michigan where he served as manager of news and information services and as director of public relations. He retired from Dow in 1986. He and his wife, Frances, have homes in Midland, Michigan, and Tahlequah, Okla. They have six children living in Idaho, Michigan, Georgia, Missouri and Oklahoma.

The Coffey family moved to Colorado City from Vernon in January, 1936. Coffey's father worked in the grocery business in Colorado City for 42 years. His father died in 1978 and his mother in 1977.

"I have a number of mother's columns and am selecting items that will be of genral interest to those who knew her and her love of Colorado City and Mitchell County people," said Coffey.

Members of the various committees for this year's reunion include:

District and departed for the eight-stop tour.

TOUR STOPS

At the Jack and Ross Train Farms, the participants were shown how both chemical and mechanical weed control has been used on CRP grasses. At the Dee Boyd farm, they were shown how he properly prepared the seedbed and utilized his self-designed rolling chopper, to obtain a strong stand of Love grass on his CRP land.

At stops on the Carl Guelker and Mark Raschke farms there were demonstrations of several different varieties of planted cotton, with some obvious comparisons on how they perform in Mitchell County.

Midway on the tour, the group was treated with watermelon, furnished by Travis and Tony Turner at the stop at the old Rogers School.

At the Terry Haggerton Farm there was an interesting demonstration of plant population and seeding rates which vividly showed difference in boll count and prospective yields when planted at 2 plants per foot, 4 plants per foot and the current standard of 6.7 plants per foot.

Then on the last farm stop at Ray and Gerry Ritchey Farms there were four demonstrations on the use of plant growth regulators, foliar fertilizers, sidedress fertilizers and early season insect control.

Soil conservationists, the Extension Agent staff, and representatives of chemical and seed companies were on hand to explain the demonstrations and answer questions.

LUNCH, ENTERTAINMENT

Last stop after the three-hour tour was back at the Lone Wolf Electric Co-Operatorium where 111 people enjoyed a barbecue lunch and musical entertainment by the Farmers and Merchants Band. After a welcome to the group by David Janca, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Bobby Lemons, co-chairman with D. M. Smith of the Chamber Agricultural committee, introduced Pat Porter of Vealmoor as the featured speaker. The large crowd enjoyed a humorous presentation by Porter, made possible by City National and First National banks.

It was judged another successful annual event, which is sponsored by the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Mike Mauldin, County Extension Agent; Kevin Wright, Soil Conservation Service; Don Stewart, ASCS office; Alton Pyborn, FHA supervisor; Mitchell County Soil & Water Conservation District, Crops Subcommitee of County Program Building Committee; and Overall County Program Building Committee.

Car rolls into lake

A run-away 1986 Oldsmobile was recovered late Thursday evening after rolling into Lake Colorado City.

The car was owned by the John Hoopers of Stanton. It was parked near their lakeside home near the south end of Cherry Creek road, and being loaded for their departure, about 5:30 p.m. Deputy O. D. Majors, who investigated the incident said Mr. Hopper reached into the car and turned on the ignition to activate the trunk release button and accidently knocked the car out of gear and it began rolling down a steep grade toward the lake. He rode the car into the lake trying to get it stopped, but was able to get out before the car disappeared under the water.

Robert and Alan Ramage were called in with their scuba gear to locate the car. It was finally located some 150- to 200-feet from the shore. Terry Upshaw with Dossey's Wrecker Service pulled the car from the lake about 9:15 p.m.

Appraisal directors meet

The Board of Directors of Mitchell County Appraisal District arranged for audit of its books, approved its 1988 operating budget, and prepared to call for an election of Board members at a public meeting held Thursday evening in the Curriculum Room of the CISD Administration Building.

Complying with a new state statute, the Board signed a letter of engagement with Joe Moren, local CPA, to audit the District's books.

After granting a salary raise totaling $2,543 for employees, the Board approved the 1988 budget totaling $159,480.62.

In the past the call for election for District board members has been issued by the County Clerk. Under new statutes, the Board itself will call for the election, but the date has not been set.

The Board also discussed needed repairs in the appraisal office. It was agreed that the School District, from whom space is rented, be given another 30-days to get the ceiling tiles and venetian blinds repaired. If not repaired, the Appraisal office would have the work done and send the bill to the school district.

Current bills totaling $78,884.40 that had accumulated for May, June and July were approved for payment.

Board members present were R. B. Bruce, chairman; William Conaway, Richard White, Ed Roach, Frank Brownfield and Elmer Martin. Member Kathy Bassham was absent. Others present were the Board's attorney Tom Rees and Moren.

Man charged in theft of car stereo

Police Chief Bobby Sparks said the arrest came following an investigation by Sgt. Tim Atkins.

Atkins was investigating a residential burglary which occurred Sept. 21 at 18th and Hemphill streets. During the course of the investigation, Atkins recovered a car stereo taken Aug. 30 on 17th Street from a vehicle owned by Larry Paul Raschke.

Charged with the vehicle theft was Billy George Dering.

No charges have been filed in the residential burglary during which firearms, stereo, television set and a small amount of money was taken from the home of Israel Davila.

Juveniles charged in burglary

Two juveniles have been charged with felony burglary, said Police Chief Bobby Sparks.

Sparks said the arrests came following an investigation of the Sept. 15 break-in at the Colorado Middle School gym during which $60 in cash, three pocket calculators, four watches, a pair of tennis shoes and several wallets were taken from the boys' locker room.

The burglary occurred between 5:30-7:30 p.m. while the football players were at practice.

Entry was gained into the gym by forcing open a locked door. Several other doors were forced open and 18 lockers were ransacked and burlgarized, said Sparks.

Sparks said Officer Vince Ariaz, upon further investigation, recovered $5 of the cash, all the watches, the tennis shoes and one calculator.

New hospital budget studied

The Mitchell County Hospital district board of directors, meeting in a budget workshop session Thursday, studied a proposed budget for the coming fiscal year of about $300,000 more than the current budget.

The new budget is expected to be adopted when the board meets in regular session Tuesday at 6 p.m., said Ray Mason, hospital administrator.

The proposed budget shows Mitchell County Hospital with a total of $2,884,000, compared with the current budget of $2,532,000; Valley Fair Lodge, $695,950 compared with the current budget of $675,000; and Home Health Care Agency, $86,900, compared with the current budget of $98,000.

Mason said the increase in the hospital and nursing home budgets is due to an anticipated increase in revenues for the next fiscal year which starts Oct. 1.

Weddings

Candlelight ceremony unites couple

Rebecca Jil Erwin and Ricky Barrera Alvarez exchanged wedding vows on the evening of Sept. 12 in a candelight ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Colorado City. Rev. Glenn Roenfeldt officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Norma Jo Erwin of Colorado City and the late J.R. Erwin. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Able O. Alvarez of Colorado City.

Pianist Peggy Faulkenbery presented wedding music "You Belong to My Heart" and "Bind Us Together". "Ice Castles" was presented by Ann Gregory at the piano accompanied by Bob Newman on the trumpet. The "Bridal Chorus" by Wagner for the processional was presented by Mrs. Faulkenberry who also played as Sonja Lawson sang "You Needed Me" by Randy Goodrum and "Wither Thou Goest" by Guysinger. The traditional "Wedding March" by Mendelesonn served as the couple's recessional.

Escorted down the aisle, the groom's parents lighted one of the outside candles beside the unity candle.

The bride's older brother, Russell Erwin, escorted their mother as she lighted the other candle beside the unity candle.

Escorted to the altar by her oldest brother, Randy Erwin, the bride wore a white gown of taffeta designed by Alfred Angelo. It featured a Queen Elizabeth neckline and fitted bodice with venise lace, faux pearls and sequins. Renaissance sleeves were ornamented with sequins, faux pearls and embroidery. The basque waistline extended to an A-line skirt with embroidered appliques, decorated with sequins and simulated pearls. A cathedral-length train was accented with ornamental appliques and embroidery. To complete her attire, the bride wore a designer tricorner hat trimmed with a two-tier pearl edged cathedral-length veil.

She carried a traditional nosegay bouquet of bridal white and pink roses, stephanotis and baby's breath encircled by seed pearls and pink hearts. The bouquet was tied with flowing streamers of pink and grey ribbon.

As the couple lighted the unity candle, Sonja Lawson sang "Whither Thou Goest", accompanied by Peggy Faulkenbbery.

After the pronouncement of the bride and groom, the Lord's Prayer was said in unison by the minister, the bride and groom and the guests.

Mothers of the bride and groom wore corsages of large cattbya orchids with pink throats. The bride presented each with a rose during the ceremony.

Matron of honor was Bethany Norris Elmore. Bridesmaid was Julie Waid. They wore identical formal gowns fashioned of pale suede pink satin. The fitted bodice featured a round neckline, buttoned back to the waist which was accented by large pink ribbon bow on the side. Dropped pouffed sleeves swept the edge of the shoulder. A rounded waistline complimented a floral skirt. They carried long stemmed pink carnations connected with interlocking pink and grey ribbons.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tailed coat, white pleated shirt, white tie and vest. His attendants wore light grey tuxedos with tailed coats, light grey ties and cummerbunds.

Keith Ruddick of Lubbock served as best man. Groomsman was Mike Bailey of Snyder. Ushers were David Northcutt and Joe Rivera, both of Colorado City.

Sarah Lawson and Devann Franco served as candlelighters and flower girls. They wore dresses of cotton satin with lace overlay accented by a pink satin bow.

The altar area was centered around a set of seven-armed candlebras with a large arrangement of pink gladioli, carnations and alstroemeria flanking each side. Pews were marekd with pink lace wedding bows on top of grey ribbon and greenery. In addition, pink candles in cut glass vases with greenery were placed in each stained glass window of the church.

Her something new was her wedding dress. Something old and something borrowed was her mother's diamond wedding band given to her by her father. Something blue was the garter.

A reception followed in the church parlor. The bride's table featured a three-tiered wedding cake with a spiral staircase decorated with pink candles. The wedding cake was topped with two white satin wedding bells surrounded by the shape of a heart. A silver punch bowl and silver appointments were used. The centerpiece was a combination of the bride's family Bible and her wedding bouquet. Sally Smith and ReeNe Culpepper served.

Pam Kent and Jessie Alvarez served a two-layer chocolate chip cake decorated with fresh strawberries and almonds from the groom's table which also featured a silver coffee service.

Assisting in the reception were Oma Peters and Bertha Dolberry, close friends of the bride's mother.

Ann Gregory played tradition wedding music during the reception.

Rice bags and ribbons were presented to the guests by Kristie McMillian Byrd.

Courtesies

ReeNe Culpepper, Pam Kent, Vivian Beights, and Dora Alvarez, the groom's mother, were hostresses at a bridal shower at the Housing Authority Building on Aug. 30. Homemade cake decorated with pink trimming and a set of white wedding bells trimmed in lace centered the table. Homemade pink ice cream punch, brownies, mints and nuts were served. Fresh ivy was used as centerpieces for each table which were decorated with lace tableclot hs over pink, overlayed with grey bows.

A miscellaneous shower honoring the bride-elect was held in the home of Mrs. Leigh Erwin on Sept. 7. Hostesses were Frances Grisham, Louise Moore, Doris Jones, Ann Gregory and Sonja Lawson. Refreshments included punch, white cookies decorated with with pink flowers, and assorted mints. Pink candles served as a centerpiece on lace tablecloths over pink satin.

A lingerie shower, hosted by Denice Gregory Bradbury, Diane Gregory, Dianne Jones and Leigh Erwin in the Erwin home on Sept. 10, also honored the bride-to-be.

Go after the prison

Colorado City and Mitchell County are about to drop the ball, again, on a golden opportunity, that could be of tremendous benefit to this city and county.

After a series of meetings, prompted by the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, that have proven promising, albeit some unresolved entanglements at this point, Executive Director David Janca suddenly announced that the Chamber feels it has done about all it can do toward promotion of the Private Prison proposal. Although it was willing to give assistance, the Chamber wanted to hand the reins over to the City and/or the County. The City hasn't had a chance to act on the matter as yet, but the County Commissioners' Court, which has been rather "cool" on the project all along, quickly washed its hands and dumped it into the lap of the Industrial team.

Here is a project that has the potential of adding over 500 jobs, $285,000 in annual sales tax rebate and prospect of making Colorado City the headquarters for a national-wide private prison development.

Yet, the support of our local officials and leaders appears to be rapidly deteriorating.

The Record believes that the people of this county, gave local officials a mandate—by a vote of 508 to 4—to pursue the prospect of getting a private prison established here. Thus, we feel that it is the bound and duty of local community leaders and city/county officials to pursue the proposal with vigor and enthusiasm until such time as it is proven to be impractical or legally or financially impossible. Sure there are some legal and technical stumble blocks at this time. But usually when there is a will ... there is a way. It is certainly time for the legal counsels of all parties concerned to sit down and work out the proposals and contracts to see if they can be lived with and if the plans meet all legal requirements. It may not work, but that is certainly not known at this time.

Nowadays there is always a certain amount of gamble, concessions, work and costs involved in attracting industry, and the prison proposal is no exception, and it's a good prospect.

No telling how many times we have heard the statement, locally, "we could have had Texas Tech here!"

Years down the road, we would hate to hear a similar comment from the last few remaining residents, "we could have had a prison here" instead of at Robert Lee or Ballinger or anywhere else, because our local officials were reluctantly sitting on their hands back in '87.

Let's get after this project. If it works, great, we got a good, new industry. If it doesn't work, we can say "well, we tried".

Ray Mayo

Sitting in the high school auditorium while attending a pep rally this past week brought forth memories of when I attended pep rallies in the auditorium at the old high school.

True, we never held a pep rally like the one I attended Monday night. This was an academic pep rally - the brainchild of Principal Jerry Reynolds.

Nonetheless, it had the same characteristis of the football pep rallies we've become accustomed to through the years.

The band played, the cheerleaders led yells, the twirlers and flag corps performed. There was a special speaker, teacher David Woods, who stressed the importance of academics and of striving for excellence.

Student leaders were introduced by their sponsors. Various organizations and their members were recognized. At the end, the school song was sung and parents and students were dismissed to visit teachers in their classrooms.

As the audience rose to sing the school song, I quietly slipped out the back door.

Although I'm a graduate of CHS and still loyal to the school, I must admit I never learned the words to the school song. For that matter, I never learned the words to the junior high school school song either.

The reason I never learned the words to the school songs is that I was always in the band. Whenever the school song was being sung, I usually had a clarinet stuck in my mouth.

Pep rallies were always something we students looked forward to back in the ancient days of the '60s. Before H. Ross Perot and House Bill 72, pep rallies were actually permitted to be held during the school day. Whether it was an out-of-town game or in-town game determined when during the day the pep rally was held. The band would occupy the stage and the stern-faced football players would sit in the front several rows of the middle section of the auditorium. Sometimes, the band director would get a wild hair and have the band march up and down the aisles while playing "When the Saints Come Marching In" or something to that effect. Anyway, it made for a noisy pep rally.

Of course, there is another reason why I never bothered to learn the words to the school song or just about any other song for that matter.

My singing has been compared to that of the final dying wail of a buzzard that's just bounced off the windshield of a passing 18-wheeler.

Actually, I learned long ago that my vocal cords were not meant to be used for singing. Even the shower doesn't improve the quality of my singing. So public performances are out altogether.

So I just have to contend with the dirty looks I get from my wife and from the choir leader at church as I remain mute during congregational singing. But, I can just imagine the looks I would get if I opened my mouth!

My singing (in)ability just further proves the old adage that silence is indeed golden at times.

Martha Paul wore print sack dresses. Lots of print and plenty of sack, to be precise.

Women are supposed to have long, slender legs, and curves are to be restricted to designated areas. They are expected to stay thin - even if it takes Slender shakes, diuretics and laxatives to accomplish it.

Martha's figure had gotten away from her. She was big-boned, too. Really. Just like the rest of the Pauls.

Martha's parents indugled her. Nobody can argue that. Well-to-do girls don't get hungry, except when they starve themselves, and they seldom starve themselves until they've been instructed on how to dislike themselves.

Martha's parents ignored all that. They cared about each other, big bones, or no. This was a family big on love handles. The anorexic figure couldn't stay in vogue forever, they told her.

Nobody mentioned this to some of Martha Paul's classmates, though. Classmates whose smallness was matched only by the smallness of their vision.

Some were the queens and cheerleaders, and Martha tried to be a member of their pep squad for a while. After she ignored subtle hints to lose weight, though, she was confronted. They told her she was an embarrassment to a rich tradition.

Real gems.

Martha did have a sense of humor. Once she discovered she could put on a huge furry costume and be the school's mascot, it was a new ballgame. She would lumber onto the field at halftime as small, slender people in the stands laughed at her somersaults. Nobody wanted to look like Martha. But they sure liked being around her.

She learned how to tell jokes to the boys at the post-game dances while the other girls danced. Yet, when the boys wanted to hold girls, they always looked over the series of look-alike Barbies. Small, underweight and bushy-haired girls who talked to each other about hair and fat people and looked miserable in a fashionable sort of way.

Oh, they smiled at the boys to offer encouragement, but once the dancing started they had little to say.

Sooner or later, the boys would drift toward Martha and have a few laughs.

She always drove herself home, and she always planned the next day to keep her mind from settling on the size issue. In time she was the school's most active volunteer. You wanted something done, you talked to Martha and she got it organized.

Sometimes late at night, she admitted yielding to fantasy. She knew how others saw her, but it had little to do with the real Martha.

Her mind was as petite and seductive as her classmates' bodies. When she closed her eyes she could see boys looking at her with the traditional cravings of youth. She wasn't really an angel, but her social life sometimes made her seem like one.

Given a choice in this society, Martha, who is past 40 now, might stiff prefer to be small and thin, and even boring. Books have become her companions and diplomas have filled her walls. She is as respected as anyone I know and people genuinely care about her. Still, nobody seems to see the petite woman inside the large frame.

She's tried enough diets to write her own book, but even when her weight is down, the petite look is still a fantasy - as are her gentlemen callers.

It's debatable who's had the more exciting life, Martha, or the bubble heads who snubbed her. It's less debatable who's had the more interesting life.

Letters to Editor. . .

To the editor:

The Colorado City Museum is most appreciative to Rockwell Bros. Lumber Co. and manager Donna Owens for the donation of 6½ gallons of paint to paint the museum building. Our thanks and appreciation is extended to John Tom Merritt and Bill Nix who did the painting.

The museum is the property of the City of Colorado City and its citizens. Contributions by you are gratefully accepted and are highly valued. Every citizen should have an item placed in the museum to serve as a reminder to our postarity that our time and lives spent in Mitchell County will be noted in years to come.

It is our personal responsibility to give or will items to the museum before death. Many times a family estate is "sold" to a bidder and items needed for the museum are gone from the county forever. Please make your commitment before your death by contacting our curator, the city or a board member. The items will be given a catalog number and a card of information with donor's name will be placed on the item. The museum accepts small, large, well used, indoor or outdoor items, furniture, farm implements, pictures, photos, some clothing, dishes, kitchen items, collections, quilts, etc. Why not take a minute to make that contact to give items to the Colorado City Museum? Visitors from far and near will greatly appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Ray Anne Carlock

To the editor:
To the People:

The Parent-Teacher-Student Organization will have its first meeting on Monday, Sept. 28, at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

New officers will be elected and there are several new ideas for PTSO projects to be done throughout the year that will be discussed. For instance, a scholarship from the organziation, regular recognition of academic achievement, and maybe even a group of volunteer tutors to help students achieve their best. The potential is unlimited.

Come and see just exactly what all this is about.

See you on Monday night.

School crossings

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to know the reason that the intersection of 12th and Hickory has no crosswalks, when the City knows there is a school one block away. I have observed many students after school having to wait on traffic. I thought the pedestrian had the right-of-way.

I, personally, have had to go out and stop traffic for a seven year old girl to cross the street. I also believe there should be a law officer patrolling this area. Many people fail to stop at these signs, which are spelled S-T-O-P. What can be done? Please help.

A concerned Citizen.

Beeman hosts Self Culture Club

The Self Culture Club met in the home of Fannie Beeman Sept. 18 at 3 p.m.

The meeting was presided by Elizabeth Elliott, first vice president, in the absence of Pearl Watson, president. The collect, pledge to the U.S. flag and American Creed were led by Mrs. Elliott. The minutes were approved as read and the treasurer's report given.

The program was on Americanism and Eddie Barclay presented a report on "Nation Set to Salute the Miracle of 1787".

"In 1787, the nation's leaders met in Philadelphia to salvage a floundering government and to create order out of chaos," she said. "After their work was finished, it resulted in a document that shook the world and promised a more perfect union - the Constitution of the United States."

She noted that in 1987, the freedom loving people from around the world converged on Philadelphia once more for "We the People 200" to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the Constitution.

"We the People 200 will not just celebrate history, it will make history," she said. "Congress has been invited to convene in speical session in Philadelphia for the first time since 1800."

Sept. 17 was "Constitution Day" and resulted in a great American star-spangled celebration, she said.

Members present were Lil Brown, Joy Culwell, Jewell Tiller, Elizabeth Elliott, Dona Reed, Linnie Williams and hostess Fannie Beeman.

The Calvary Baptist Mission in Colorado City will be constituted into a church on Sunday, Oct. 18, at 2:30 p.m.

The mission, sponsored by Calvary Baptist Church, was begun in May, 1984 and Felix Silva was called as the pastor. In June, 1984, property was purchased with funds given by the Payne Baptist Church upon its disbanding. Payne Baptist Church also gave its buildings and provided funds for them to be moved to the 17th Street location.

Matching funds from the Baptist General Convention of Texas, the mission and some churches in the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association provided for the bricking of the buildings. The state convention provided salary supplement for three years.

The mission has planned an appreciation dinner to be held at Calvary Baptist on Nov. 3.

Ballinger squeezes past Wolves, 14-7

BALLINGER—If the Colorado City Wolves had been fishing here Friday night, they would have a good story about the one that got away.

The sport was football, however, and instead the Wolves are looking at an 0-1 district 5-3A record, after losing a tough 14 to 7 contest.

Balllinger running back Terry Strambler, gained 248 yards on 37 carries—gaining all but 64 yards the District favorites got.

Despite his numbers, the game was a classic struggle. Key plays gave the Bearcats the 14-7 lead at the half and the defensive struggle continued in a scoreless second half.

Ballinger moved to 4-0 and 1-0 in District play, while the Wolves are 2-2 in 1987.

"The Kids played well," said Coach Tom Ramsey, after the game. "Two big mistakes really cost us. The punt return and Ballinger's punt recovery. Our plan was just to try to stop him (Strambler). We had to hold on to the football. We thought this was going to be be a defensive ball game. In our games with Ballinger, who ever scores twice usually wins."

"It hurts, but the season is not over. We are still shooting for the playoffs. We feel we can get there. We've got a good enough football team. All the scores came off the mistakes by the offensive unit. Otherwise, you might have seen a scoreless ballgame."

Take away Strambler's yards and take back a few plays, and Colorado City would be in the District driver's seat. As it stands, it looks like another war in District 5-3A, which last year had five teams still looking for a playoff spot in the final week of play.

Colorado City outgained Ballinger in the first half, but couldn't stop Strambler enough times in the second half.

The Wolves bobbled the opening kickoff, then went 79 yards on a drive to the Ballinger 25. Quarterback Ismael Silva lost a snap on first and 10 on the Ballinger 26—stalling the drive which included 19- and 11-yard runs by Pat Tillis.

A hit by Sophomore Tracy Edwards on Strambler in the Ballinger backfield then set the tone for the defensive struggle.

The Wolves got the ball back but an errant pitch by Silva got the second drive off to a bad start.

Colorado City punted again on its third possession. Ballinger's James Clayton returned the punt 42 yards to the Wolves' 18. On the next play Strambler juked around the right side for a score with 9:09 left in the half. Ricky Arispe sacked Ballinger quarterback Phillip McBee on the extra point attempt.

A six-yard run by Edwards and a 3-yard run by Silva preceeded a 9-yard scoring run by Beau Rees. Rees fought through the left side for the score with 5:21 left in the first half. Ray Rivera kicked the point after.

Rees fumbled the ball at his own 33 the next time Colorado City got the ball. Seven plays later Ballinger's Paul Green scored from 2-yards out with 17 seconds left in the half. McBee threw to Robby Ogle on a fake PAT kick for a 14 to 7 halftime lead.

Colorado City got excellent field position on its first possession in the second half, but didn't capitalize despite a 19-yard completion from Silva to Rivera that made it first and 10 on the Ballinger 44.

The rest of the second half was defense as Colorado City's Mark Russell and Ballinger's Paul Patton recorded interceptions.

Colorado had 9 first downs, 169 rushing on 39 attempts, 5 punts for an average of 33.2, lost 1 of 1 fumble, completed 2 of 7 passes with one interception for 27 yards, and had 3 penalties for 12 yards. Rees and Tillis gained 74 and 64 yards respectively.

Ballinger had 16 nfirst downs, 287 yards rushing on 48 attempts, 4 punts for an average of 33.2, lost 2 of 2 fumbles, completed 3 of 10 passes with one interception for 25 yards, and had five penalties for 30 yards.

protect the airport from adjacent future hazards, as well as provide property owners knowledge of what type of construction and structures are permissible adjacent to the Airport. The City Council had approved creation of the Zoning Board in July. On motion of Commissioner Paul Hunter, the Court approved action to create the Board, and after checking with the City to see who it had appointed, would name county representatives to the Zoning Board.

District Judge Weldon Kirk had presented a court order to the Court establishing the salary of 32nd District Court Reporter Charles Walker at $34,813.80. Since this figure includes the 5 percent salary increase approved by the Court for all County employees for 1988, no action was necessary. Mitchell County's share of the Court Reporter cost will be $10,291.05.

County Treasurer Ann Hallmark presented the regular 2-week payroll, in the amount of $37,686.85, which was approved for payment by the Court. She also requested a chair for her office. She was told to get some prices and report back to the Court.

All members of the Court were present for the meeting.

Lions to have afghan and TV set drawings

The Noon Lions Club of Colorado City will be conducting two fund-raising drawings during the Mitchell County Fair next weekend.

At the Club's meeting Friday, Tandy Curlee announced that Nellie Bunch had knitted a beautiful afghan and donated it to the Lions Club, in appreciation for help received to obtain a pair of eyeglasses.

The Lions will conduct a drawing for the afghan, as well as a 19-in color TV set with remote control, at the conclusion of the Fair. Donation tickets are available from any member of the Lions Club.

For the luncheon program, Syl Monks gave a report on the background and activities of the local Crime Stoppers organization. He pointed out that since its organization the local Crime Stoppers had paid out $3,342.40 for tips that had led to indictments for crimes observed; $54,800 in stolen property had been recovered from tips; and $10,950 worth of narcotics had been confiscated. Just recently, it was reported, a 11-year-old boy's tip to Crime Stoppers had led to the solving of the recent Hutchinson school breakin.

CMS teams win

Colorado Middle School football teams remained undefeated and unscored upon after wins at Ballinger Thursday.

The eighth grade Wolves, who were undefeated in the 1986 season, are 2-0 in 1987 after beating Post the first week and Ballinger 18-0 Thursday in Bearcat Stadium.

"It was crazy," said defensive coach Ed Wilson. "We had a big time. They(Ballinger) were running a little trap play. It was giving us trouble but we adjusted."

"Jesse Gonzalez and Oliver Sosa had a real good game. Sosa had a real good time, he got after it. Rudy Melendez had a good game but it was more of a team effort.""Offensively Kevin Green had a heck of a game," said Wilson. "Alex Ridge(running back) got after it. Cade Proctor(running back) had a good game. In the second half we had a lull and started making mistakes." The Wolves led 6-0 after one period and ended the scoring with two scores in the second quarter.

Green rushed for 168 yards on 16 carries and caught 3 passes for 58 yards. He also returned a punt 65 yards for a score.

Proctor scored once on 6 carries for 25 yards. The other score was by quarterback Shayne Anderson. Anderson had 4 carries for 14 yards and completed 4 of 13 passes for 83 yards.

Also carrying the ball were Jason Stone, 5 carries for 28 yards, and Cody Ridge, 3 carries for 56 yards.

Justin Smith had one reception for 25 yards.

Interceptions were two by Jeff Potter and one each by Greg Parkerand Justin Sullivan, who had a 57 yard return on the interception called back. Fumble recoveries were by Jason Stone, Jesse Gonzalez and Gabriel Salazar. The Wolves had 281 total rushing yards and 83 passing yards for a total of 374 yards.

"It was the greatest first half of play I've ever seen by junior high football team," said offensive coach Chuck Claxton. "We scored the first three times we touched the ball. If we can play four quarters like we played the first two it'll be hard to beat this team. The defense gave up 13 yards total offense. It was superb throughout the contest."

The seventh grade Wolves had also beaten Post and moved to 2-0 by beating Ballinger 8-0. Frank Briseno put the Pack on the board with a second quarter safety of the Bearcats.

David Castillo got a fourth quarter score by catching a 22 yard pass from Justin Zamarippa. Castillo had another catch for 20 yards. Zamarippa finished 2 for passing for 42 yards and had 3 carries for 6 yards.

Jaime Rivera carried 9 times for 84 yards while Tracy Lentz had 5 carries for 24 yards. Kelly Ramsey, also a quarterback, had 4 carries for 12 yards suffered an interception in two pass attempts. James Franco added 27 yards on 2 carries.

The Wolves had 153 yards rushing and 42 passing for a total of 195. Michael Humphrey had an interception for the Wolves.

"We looked solid," said Wilson. "We had some good hits. Johnny Martinez and Mike Dossey had good games defensively. They(Ballinger) had something like negative 6 yards rushing.

JV, 9th lose

Ballinger Bearcats won high school football games at Wolf Stadium Thursday by beating the Colorado City junior varsity 14-0 and the Wolf freshmen 26-0.

The loss dropped the Colorado High School JV to 2-2 after opening the season 2-0. The ninth grade Wolves stand at 0-4.

Two fumbles and three interceptions cost Colorado City's JV in an otherwise close contest. The defensive struggle appeared headed to a scoreless halftime until Ken Land was intercepted by Ballinger deep in Colorado City territory. The Bearcats scored on the very next play on an 11 yard roll-out pass to the right side with 40 seconds left in the half. The Wolves stopped the points after run for a 6-0 halftime score.

Ballinger snuck in a score at the 2:03 mark of the third quarter on a halfback pass across the width of the field. The play covered 29 yards and the Bearcats passed for the extra points to end the scoring.

Adon Deloera, Jesse Franco, Danny Luera and Ray Sutton led the tough Wolves defense.

Colorado City had 8 first downs, 108 yards rushing on 36 attempts, 5 punts for a 28.4 average, lost 2 fumbles, 5 penalties for 38 yards and completed 2 of 11 passes for 14 yards while suffering 3 interceptions.

Bobby Arocha gained 77 yards on 12 carries while Manuel Martinez added 37 on 6 carries.

Ballinger had 10 first downs, 32 yards rushing on 29 attempts, 8 punts for a 22 yard average, 7 penalties for 45 yards and completed 8 of 15 passes for 105 yards.

Ballinger had 236 yards of offense in the freshmen contest. The Bearcats stalled at the Colorado City 15 on their first possession but started the second quarter with a 96 yard scoring drive. A 34 yard run put the Bearcats on the board with 8:06 left in the half. An extra points pass fell incomplete-leaving the score 6-0.

The Bearcats went 82 yards on their next possession-scoring from from 5 yards out on the last play of the first half for a 14-0 lead and passing for the extra points.

The Bearcats intercepted George Ramsey in the third quarter and returned the steal for a score at the 5:17 mark. The Wolves blocked the PAT kick.

Ballinger intercepted Colorado City again on the Wolves next possession then scored two plays later for a 26-0 lead. Felilpe Heredia blocked the PAT kick.

Johnny Pineda and Steve Williamson recovered fumbles for the Wolves, who had 7 first downs, 95 yards rushing, 3 punts for a 41.3 average(Ramsey), lost 1 of 2 fumbles and completed 4 of 8 passes for 43 yards with 2 interceptions.
