Editor's Viewpoint

By Lon Williams

Glenn Shelton, columnist with the Wichita Times and Record News, complimented our Burk newspaper this week. There is a special meaning to a pat on the back. Kinda like the old pro and the rookie. The Hired Hand was, and is a household word in my home, and first thing we read when the Times came. My dad still figures if Shelton writes it, it is "gospel". Of my column he sez "A man's mind doesn't have to run too deep to read you son."

Good Citizen Salute: To James Hayes, owner of the Burk Sweet Shop who has been regularly sending donuts and cookies to the folks at Evergreen Manor to munch on during their Saturday Night movie time!

Dove season opened and I've heard a lot of true stories from great white hunters. One, attributed to Buddy Preston, said: "Doves were so thick where I went, we got our limit when they flew into the hood of pickup. Never fired a shot." Folks that's thick. You gotta get up early to get ahead of a milkman!

New car showtime is upon us again. Jack Mathis and Joe Wolfe have set the big event. Mathis will show on September 18 Pontiac, Olds. and Chevy.; Joe the next day, September 19 with the Ford beauties. I love to see new cars.

I may not be the most knowledgeable football fan at the game, but I always try to be the loudest. Let's all go to IOWA PARK Friday and BACK THE BURK BULLDOGS!

COMMUNITY ACTION RECEIVES SPECIAL AWARD

Working together for a common cause can get results, and those results not only bring a sense of pride to the local community, it is recognized over a much greater area. This has been proven again in our community, by having received an award for the development of a park for use by all area citizens.)

Community Action Corporation (CAC) of Wichita Falls and North Texas area has been awarded the Local Initiative Award by Southwest Region Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) in Austin for converting an overgrown, junk-covered area to a community park in Burkburnett.

A letter from Walter H. Richter, director of Southwest Regional Office, to Cassius M. McCredie, CAC director here, states, "This award recognizes your project 'Community Service Center' as the best involvement of the local business community in your population group in this region."

He further writes, "I would like . . . for you to convey my gratitude and congratulations to the citizens of Burkburnett whose combined efforts have made this possible."

Freeman Park was officially dedicated by the Burkburnett mayor Aug. 24, 1968, after completion of a "job that couldn't be done."

Community Service Center in the northwest park of Burkburnett opened on the edge of weed-choked, overgrown bushes and tumble-down shacks that were rat-infested and mosquito-clogged.

The nearest existing park areas within the city would have required a three-mile walk. The center director and area citizens established a committee to locate property suitable for a park accessible to all area residents.

Citizens in all community areas were contacted to volunteer their time and talents. About three acres were acquired, and city and county officials along with garden club women and children all cooperated in a unified effort to clear the trashed area for a park.

While the project was under way, McCredie reported that "clean up" in the community became an epidemic.

The certificate of award received by the area CAC commends "the activities of the Community Service Center in organizing the efforts of residents and local businesses to convert an overgrown, junk-covered area to a community park."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MONTHLY MEETING

The Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce regular Monthly Membership luncheon was held Monday at noon at Town Hall in Burk.

About 40 persons were present for the meeting. Joe Gillespie, chairman of the Retail Trade Committee of the Chamber, reported to the group on the progress of the Chamber's 1969 SHOWER OF GIFTS which is underway now awarding over $2,000 in prizes and gifts including a beautiful fully furnished Travel Trailer to be given away on December 24th. Gillespie also unveiled a sign to be placed alongside the Red River Expressway indicating that the shortest route to 277 is thru Burkburnett.

Jim Fry, program Chairman for the event, then introduced High School principal Dan Schaffner who spoke to the group about the quality of Burkburnett schools. Schaffner told the group that at present 1,067 students are enrolled at Burk High School. The school is employing fifty-nine faculty members, most of whom have Master degrees or are working on degrees of various kinds.

Schaffner went on to outline the dynamic growth of Burkburnett High School over the past ten years. Showing the group a chart, it was pointed out that Burk High School had only 404 students in the 59-60 school year, 541 in the 60-61 year, 780 in the 63-64 year up to the 1067 in the 1969-70 school term.

A Tire Race calls for a man to ride his horse as fast as possible to a tire at the end of the arena, and without letting go of the reins of the horse, go through the tire and mount his steed and ride back. It is believed several of the above entries will never make it . . . period.

The Burk Riding Club Playday is held without charge and everyone is welcome. Acting President, Wendall Goins, invites everyone to come out Saturday at 6:30 p.m. for the fun. The Club has completed construction of new bleachers. And the concession stands will be open.

Message From The Postmaster

Poastmaster, W. T. Zimmerman, urges all parents to council with their children concerning the sanctity of the mail. It is again that time of the year when the mail box is another area for the school age child to explore on the way to and from school.

The Postmaster also wants to thank the patrons of this office for their extensive use of the Zip Code , as over ninety percent of all mail dispatched from Burkburnett is Zip Coded.

Southwestern Bell Files Rate Increase

WICHITA FALLS - Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has filed an application here for an increase in basic telephone rates.

The application would have the effect of increasing Burkburnett's basic telephone rates. These increases would include raising business one-party service from $14.50 to $17.25; residence one-party service from $6.25 to $7.75; and residence two-party service from $4.75 to $5.80.

"Taxes, wages, and company's investment in local telephone operations and the overall cost of doing business have all increased to such an extent that our earnings on local telephone service in this area have become inadequate," Southwestern Bell Telephone Company Manager, C. A. Deuschle, said.

Deuschle pointed out that the company has been able to hold the line on basic rates during the past several years because of several factors. He specifically pointed out sales activities, improved employee efficiency and technological advances as factors making it possible for the company to maintain current rates for so long while the cost of practically everything else continues to go up.

"Also, the company has done all it can to reduce expenses," Deuschle said. "Now, the only solution is to request an adjustment in rates in keeping with today's continually increasing costs."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Santa Maria, Calif.

Dear Sir,

Believe me I have always enjoyed my Burkburnett Star, but after getting the paper today and being able to see the faces in the pictures, and being able to read all the writing, it is like putting on a pair of glasses and to feel the paper, its like silk.

This is such an improvment I don't know what more you can do for it.

I am a former Randlett, Okla. resident but have lived here in Santa Maria, Calif. for 21 yr. but I come home each year. I will drop by in November to say HI!

The PAPER is GREAT!

"PRYANT"

Mrs. Nannie June Shields

Dear Informer-Star:

First I'd like to pay you the compliment of saying your paper is much improved and more interesting than the paper you bought which we subscribed to for many of the 48 years I lived in Burkburnett.

Thanks for printing my letter. I'll send you the answer I received and send it to the Astronauts with the rest of the mail or do just what you want to with it. He was thinking he was writing to a man as my name came out "Ballye" instead of "Sallye" in your paper - its easy for mistakes to occur.

Thanks sincerely
Sallye L. Gore

Dear Sir:

I read with amusement of your letter to The Burkburnett Informer. You answered one question, now answer another one.

Should a person who believes in God be allowed to have any say in where or when anyone that does believe in God, be allowed to have any say in when or where prayer be offered or whether astromauts should read the Bible in space. I believe in God, but I do not uphold a hypocrite.

The three men who went to the moon was the Devil religious practitioners on earth. The manifestations of worldliness. That worldliness is one of the greatest dangers facing God's people in the twentieth century cannot be gainsaid by anyone who knows the Bible and observes the current conditions within and without the church making the heaping up of riches the goal of living, preferring and selecting one's associates from among the people of the world, engaging in immodesty, dancing and divorce and etc. are some of the more prominent and prevalent manifestations of worldliness in our day.

Since Christ's Kingdom is not of this world (John 18:36) Let us not love the world (I John 2:15-17, or be a friend of the world (Jas. 4:4) or be conformed to this world (Rom. 12:2). This letter is an appeal to speak the truth in love. (Eph. 4:15) yet boldly (Eph. 6:19 and decisively. The line must be drawn indelibly sharply and distinctly between the church and denominationalism of the church and the world and the doctrines of men and the doctrine of Christ. Feel free to write me if you wish.

Yours truly
Mr. Cleddie Ellmore Evans

Dear Sir:

The crowning Victory of the Astronauts journey was to acknowledge the greatness of the Creator of this universe, and to recognize that all mankind is dependent upon His care and providence.

Nothing is more appropriate for them to do as these explorations are accomplished. Their individual rights are denied when they are forbidden to do so, and man fails in his main purpose - to glorify Him. It is fitting Christian men made this journey first and expressed their faith in the printed word and the Living God.

Yours Truly,
B. H. Sparkman

Tax Payer Have Rights Too

Any failure on the part of law enforcement officers to follow proper procedures in informing lawbreakers of their legal rights can result in light penalties or no punishment for perpetrators of the most vicious acts. It now appears, at long last, that the poor, battered taxpayer is to be accorded a little more official concern for his rights under the law.

The Internal Revenue Service has announced that an agent investigating alleged tax evasion must now advise the taxpayer at their first meeting that anything he says may be used against him, that he cannot be compelled to incriminate himself by answering questions or producing documents and that he has the right to seek assistance of an attorney before responding. Certainly, taxpayers should receive as much or more official consideration of their legal rights as do lawbreakers apprehended by the police. The Internal Revenue Service is to be commended for its action.

The Meaning Of Depletion

During months of furor overtax reform, the word "loophole" has been used with devastating looseness--particularly with reference to the percentage depletion provision of the tax laws as applied to oil producers.

The reason for percentage depletion has been clearly explained in a bulletin of The Chase Manhattan Bank. It says, "When the first income tax law was under consideration in 1913, much thought was given to ensuring that income was taxed but not capital. The farmer's crop could be taxed but not his seed corn; the factory's output, but not the factory itself. The natural resource industries presented a special problem. For example, as soon as a successful oil well was put on production, the owner, in effect, began selling his capital....an oil well can only produce a finite amount of oil. The revenue from each barrel contained a mixture of income and capital."

Percentage depletion is the means by which capital is preserved in the oil business. It insures continued exploration and development of the nation's oil resources. Proposals are now before Congress to cut or eliminate percentage depletion. The meaning of such an alteration in the tax laws to the average person was put in a few words by the head of a major oil company* when he observed, "The petroleum industry, whose rate of return on investment is below that of other manufacturing industries, cannot absorb this additional tax and would have to pass it on to consumers through increases in prices of petroleum products, particularly gasoline."

It behooves the American motorist to look with a skeptical eye on the arguments against percentage depletion based on the theory of closing a nonexistent "loophole." Closing this so-called loophole may well strangle the nation's most vital source of energy.

The best cure for such fires is prevention. Fire guards, advises County Agent B. T. Haws, should be constructed or re-

Guidelines Of Life

Lamoin Champ, pastor
First Baptist Church

One of the most prominent citizen of our community usually greets you with the question, "What do you know?"

My nature is such that I may answer his question with some more questions such as, "What subject do you have in mind?" or "Do you mean what do I know that you don't ?" or "Do you mean that I might know something new?"

Some who do not understand the Christian way say that we ask people to leap in the dark without giving them facts to act upon. The truth is that knowledge is very much a part of Christ's way.

We Christians are people of THE Book of Knowledge. We deal with the basic facts and questions of life. Jesus was the Teacher and commanded His followers to teach.

Intellectual knowledge is very important to us but primarily we need knowledge which is experiential. The word "know" in the Bible speaks of the mind but more important, of vital experience.

Therefore, Christians know the Person, who said, "I am... the truth." We read: "He that has the Son has life; and he that has not the Son of God does not have life. These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that you may know that you have eternal life." "We know we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren."

worked to protect grasslands from fires which may start along highways.

Fire guards, he says, may vary in width, but most are usually about 10 feet wide. They can be made by plowing, disking or blading with a road maintainer, old fashioned road drag, bulldozer, or any kind of machine which leaves the surface comparatively bare of vegetation.

One-eighth of the things we eat come from other countries. Latest figures from the USDA points out this faat. It is true, some of the imports are in competition with American producers but most are foods which we wouldn't otherwise have and many are among our favorites. For example, coffee, tea and cocoa are among our favorite beverages. Spices and tropical fruits, such as bananas, are other imported items used in great quantities.

Pecan producers should be on the alert for the destructive pecan weevil. The adults begin emerging from the soil in August and early September and begin feeding on the developing nuts. Feeding punctures cause the nuts to drop. The females puncture the pecan hull and deposit their eggs. The grubs feed on the kernel and destroy it. Be sure and check your pecans for this insect.

CHILDRESS - Reasons for renewed confidence in the future of the cotton industry will be pointed up here Thursday, September 18, in a meeting of growers and other segments of the industry, according to Charles W. Stenholm, Stamford, trustee of the Cotton Producers Institute.

In Memoriam

In memory of our beloved Mother, Mary Willingham, who died - Sept. 11, 1965 - by her children, Maxine, Ala, and Jude.

Though she is gone, she still lives in our hearts.
The voice that we loved is silent now,
And stilled is the helping hand.
But we know that God will use them both
In that wonderful heavenly land.
Though we say "She is dead," she still lives on
In memories tender and true,
And the cadence of her voice still rings
Our faith and hope, to renew.

Kari Cozby of Burkburnett is shown above with display of the many trophies she has won in area twirling competition. See story on Society Page.

Your Chamber Of Commerce

by GENE ALLEN

Your Chamber of Commerce monthly luncheon was held at 12:00 noon, Monday, Sept. 8 in Town Hall. The Special affiars Committee, with Jim Frye as Chairman introduced Danny Schaffner, our local high school principal, who presented the program.

"SHARE YOUR SUCCESS"

If you run a business in a community where your local Chamber of Commerce is "on fire" heavily involved in attacking or successfully preventing local problems, you probably expect that all chambers are equally good.

The same is true in reverse. If your chamber should happen to be caught spending all of its time on household chores and leaving the big jobs untouched, then you may have the idea that all chambers play a menial role in community life.

But what you and your fellow townsmen think of your local chamber of commerce is the image it bears and what others think of all chambers and other associations taken in general is the image you create for your national organizations.

And so we trade upon each other's success. No chamber conducts its affairs in isolation. Each of our achievements strengthens the hand of all. Any default causes all to suffer. It is the total of our successes which commands respect and makes our voices heard when we speak out on any issue.

Where you, the individual member, come in is through your active interest in your OWN local chamber. Every voluntary organization will be what its members want it to be. We should be known by our successes. Each of us should be adding our individual self, teaming up with others, to get the needed jobs done in our community. As our prestige grows the easier it becomes to recruit more help for our programs and the more we can accomplish for everyone's benefit. Let us make YOUR chamber one which shares its successes.

There is nothing wrong in change if the change is in the right direction. To improve is to change. To be perfect is to have changed often . . . Winston Churchill.

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE NEWS

TSgt. Nugent Reid Receives Ground Safety Award

SHEPPARD AFB, TEX.---The Air Force's highest award in the field of ground safety was presented Thursday, Aug. 21, to TSgt. Nugent E. Reid of Sheppard AFB, Tex., by Maj. Gen. Paul R. Stoney, commander of Air Force Communications Service, during ceremonies conducted at Headquarters, Sheppard Technical Training Center.

Sergeant Reid is the first recipient of the Chief of Staff Individual Safety Award. He earned the honored recognition while assigned as noncommissioned officer in charge of Ground Safety Division, Office of the Inspector General, Headquarters, Pacific Communications Area (AFCS) from Jan. 1, 1968 to Dec. 31, 1968.

The coveted award is made annually to the one individual who has made the greatest overall contribution to safety within the Air Force. Regular, Reserve and Air National Guard military and civilian personnel are all eligible to compete for the honor.

Sergeant Reid was selected for the high honor "in recognition of his dynamic efforts to improve the safety posture of personnel and equipment in Southeast Asia," as stated by Gen. John P. Mc Connell, former Chief of Staff for the Air Force, in a letter of announcement.

Initially as director of Safety with the Office of the Inspector General and later as the NCOIC of the Safety Division within the PAC Communications Area headquarters, Sergeant Reid's duties encompassed a wide range of activities from Safety research to actual conduct of surveys throughout the Pacific area. PAC Communications Area is the largest both in geographic area of responsibilities and in personnel strength of the global Air Force Communications Services' subcommands, encompassing some 80 million square miles with over 15,000 personnel stationed at more than 100 locations. Its area of responsibility parallels that of the Pacific Air Forces, prime user of its service.

PAC Communications Area's responsibility for managing, operating and maintaining intricate systems of vital communications, aids to air navigation and air traffic control facilities makes safety a prime concern.

Sergeant Reid's ability to sense safety problems and effect sound solutions resulted in safer working and living environments for AFCS men in the Pacific and especially those in combat. He determined, for example, that control tower personnel in Vietnam, perched high on wooden "stilts" enabling them to survey the entire area around airstrips, were extremely vulnerable to hostile enemy activities. Armor plating or suitable substitute material was needed. He also saw to it that all air traffic controllers were outfitted with flak vests and helmets.

In two instances in Vietnam, Sergeant Reid discovered excessive dry rot and deterioration of the main and bracing control tower supports. The towers were evacuated and mobile towers deployed and used until new structures could be built.

During inspections of units in Southeast Asia, Sergeant Reid recognized an urgent need for revetment protection of vital communications and navigational aid facilities, the loss of which could have severely impaired the air mission there.

He developed a highly unusual and extremely effective combat safety program for protection of Air Force Communications Service personnel and equipment in combat areas. He is presently formulating a Ground Safety Survey Guide covering Combat Safety that has possibilities for adoption Air Force-wide.

The large trophy symbolizing excellence in Air Force safety remains permanently in the Pentagon chambers of the Chief of Staff. Sergeant Reid's name will be the first to be inscribed thereon. At presentation ceremonies, General Stoney presented a smaller replica of the trophy to the top safety NCO, Brig. Gen. Harold R. Johnson, commander of the Pacific Communications Area, said of the award, "This is a singular accomplishment. I can think of no other equivalent individual award that has been made to a member of this command in the recent past. Sergeant Reid's important work in the area of ground safety is well known to me. His efforts over the past three years have had a measurable impact on the excellent ground safety posture we enjoy today, especially in Southeast Asia. Every member of the command salutes him for obtaining this distinctive honor.."

Sergeant Reid arrived at Sheppard in July after spending his three year tour at Wheeler AFB, Hawaii. He went to PAC Comm Area in 1966 after a brief tour of duty at Sheppard AFB, where he held his first position as a safety technician.

Since 1953, when he enlisted into the Air Force, Sergeant Reid has served at Goose Bay, Labrador Hunter AFB, Ga., Wiesbaden, Germany and Wheeler AFB, Hawaii.

Sergeant Reid's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enock Reid, now reside at 101 South East Street, Mineral Wells, Tex. He married the former Peggy Jean Russey of Wichita Falls, Tex., and have one daughter, Donna Kay, age seven.

Away And Up Up,

By EDDIE LAXSON

For 'has bens', present, and future pilots plus others classed as stable humans who chance to read this column each week a few words of introduction might be appreciated.

Many individuals revel from reading of others' mistakes, and the next 10 or 12 issues will be devoted to thrills and chills resulting from 30 years' of flying experience.

How about relating details involved in actual forced landings experienced during the past three decades for a starter? Most forced landings are caused by pilot error - not by mechanical failures. All of my unscheduled or unplanned landings have been due to my mistakes and can not be blamed on mechanical failure.

Experienced pilots may agree 100% with me. Civil Aviation Authority personnel may or may not agree with me in many of my future statements. Those who do not know about aviation may care to write and ask questions. Other pilots, students, and maintenance personnel could be interested enough to write detailing experiences. Keep in mind that contributor's names will not be used in this column unless written permission is given. All articles must be signed by the writer to be eligible for publication.

Flight instruction will be in line for column material. Maintenance personnel will not be slighted when their number comes up.

It is hopeful that many letters will be mailed to FLYING, % Informer-News, Box 906, Burkburnett, Texas relating their experience in any phase of aviation. Please sign your articles, but your name will not be used unless you agree.

Read this column to get the nature of the material used, and if you have had a similar experience or care to add or subtract, agree or disagree then sit down and let me hear your side of the story - others will want to know, also.

Next week look for a zero degree temperature forced landing early one morning at Cordell, Oklahoma.

Sheppard Medical School Graduates Last Class

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas - The Medical Service School of Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., graduated its last class Friday in the advanced Medical Service Technician (MST) Course after more than 20 years of instruction. With it a new MST course was born for the training of the independent medical technician.

The graduation of more than 50 students culminates the training of the well known course which was initiated at Randolph AFB, Tex., in the late forties. At that time, such titles as "Substitute Doctor," "Lite Medic," "Doctor Assistant," "Independent Duty Medical Technician," were discussed for the course. For it was to be no ordinary course.

Originally, it was designed to train medical technicians to fill in for the physician on isolated radar sites and other remote stations where the number of personnel assigned would not justify a full-time physician. These men were trained in such areas as physical examination, emergency treatment of cardiac cases, treatment of injuries due to trauma, operation of the X-ray machine, basic laboratory procedures, operation of the electrocardiograph, pharmacy procedures, food inspection, water testing for both chlorine content and bacteriological count, administration, military law, and forensic medicine. This is only a partial listing for it was soon found that these men were "The Medical Service" on isolated sites.

After the academic portion of the course was completed the students were sent to preselected hospitals for training under the direct supervision of a physician. They were rotated through the dental clinic where they extracted teeth, and put in temporary fillings under supervision. On the wards, they accomplished physical examinations and histories of patients, under the watchful eye of a physician. They were further rotated to pharmacy for practical experience in filling prescriptions and basic compounding of drugs. In the medical laboratory, they performed various tests on blood and urine to further equip themselves to make a presumptive diagnosis and be able to communicate the findings to a physician by telephone or radio. From the laboratory, it was on to the Air Force clinic (dispensary in those days) for more practical work in screening patients, suturing lacerations and dealing with other emergencies.

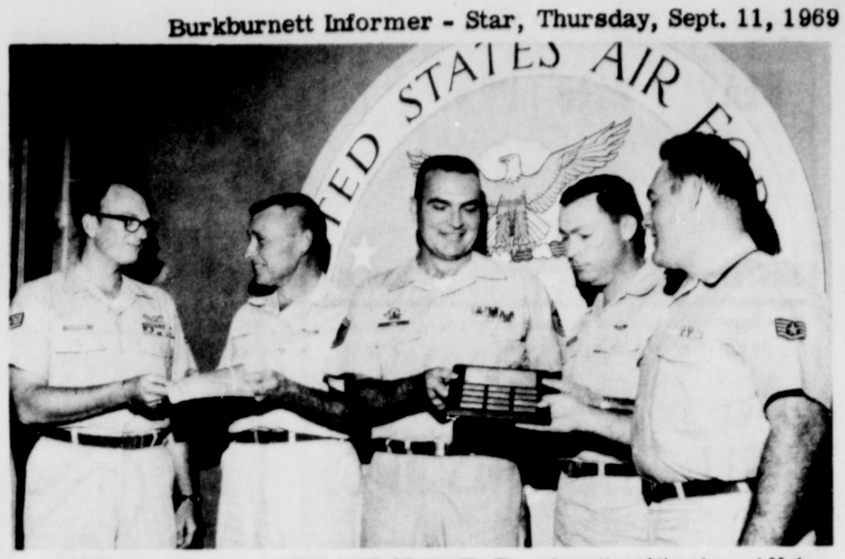

These independent technicians have performed with distinction throughout the world from off-shore facilities to the most remote reaches of Alaska, Asia and Europe. In these assignments, they have had to accomplish all of the duties, relative to the health and welfare of the personnel, normally carried on by the entire hospital staff at base level.

The hospital training was dropped from the course in 1953. It then became a 19-week course, training in the same areas, but leaving normal on-the-job training to fulfill the practical aspects. It was later reduced to 17 academic weeks, and has continued at that length to the present day.

As a result of a staff study conducted in 1966 at Sheppard's Medical School, it was discovered that a very small percentage of the total technicians trained were being assigned to their independent duty within a reasonable period of time after training. Upon recommendation of the school commander, the Air Training Command surgeon directed the discontinuation of the 17-week advanced course, which graduated more than 4,500 students since 1951, and the development of a new course with two phases. One would emphasize the nursing assistance-type training required for technicians assigned to hospital duty, and the other would specialize in only independent duty oriented training.

The nursing oriented training was initiated at Sheppard in July 1969 under the Department of Nursing. The 9-week Medical Service Technician-Independent Duty course began Sept. 3, 1969, and is conducted by the Department of Medicine.

The new MST course is performance oriented. For example, each technician must be able to start intravenous infusions. In the classroom he will receive instruction, including a demonstration, after which the students will pair off and practice on each other. Another course requirement is for each student to be able to pass a tube through the nose into the stomach to release poison and for other purposes. This procedure is also practiced on each other, as well as many others which require student performance to adequately teach subjects grouped under areas of "Site Medicine," "Management of Common Disorders," "Emergency Procedures and Examinations," and "Military Public Health." The course is culminated with one week of clinical application at the U.S. Air Force Hospital at Sheppard. During this last week of training, the student will train in the hospital environment by performing as a physician's assistant, in such areas as the Emergency Room, Cast Room, Eye Clinic, Mental Health Clinic and others. After his hospital training, he will be on his own as an independent medical service technician, sharing the burden of responsibilities of the medical profession.

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas---THE LAST OF MANY--The culmination of the advanced Medical Service Technician course of Sheppard's Medical Service School is represented in the presentation of the last graduation certificate to SSgt. Ronald H. Wuichner, left, by Col. Jack D. Bashaw, chief of the school's Department of Medicine. Also in recognition of the occasion, the course honor graduates, Staff Sergeants William K. Weddington, second right, and Norman V. Carr, present an inscribed plaque to the course supervisor, CMSgt. Lyman C. Long. Ceremonies were conducted Friday at the Medical Service School.

LOCAL SPORTS FANS VISIT COWBOYS

Two Burkburnett families, the T. M. Cornelius's and Coach and Mrs. Bill Froman were in Dallas over the weekend for the Dallas Cowboys vs. New York Jets football game. After the game, the two Burk couples were guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Holman, who is a member of the Cowboys team. Among the other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Dan Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Manders, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Morton, and Lance Rentzel and his actress wife Joey Heatherton.

They were informed Bob Hayes will be off the football field for about 6 weeks following surgery. Also, Craig Morton will be out of action for 4 weeks with an injured index finger.

BHS Emporium

by ROY HUDSON

School has finally gotten in the full swing. You now see students being ushered down to visit with an assorted group of administrators. Mr. McClain has the band out every morning, drilling and re-drilling them to prepare a show for the half-time of the first game. And as the band marches, Coach Froman practices the football team, in hopes of reaching a goal that has long been sought at BHS. Teachers pound and push knowledge at the students, trying to gain back some of what was lost during the summer months. Organizations are starting to function again. New sponsors have been appointed to some, and members are joining or trying to become members of others. The GROWL is getting ready to put out its first paper, while the 1970 DERRICK staff is starting work on the annual. The classes are starting to organize; the Seniors, to be the best ever; the Juniors, to give a good Jr.-Sr. Banquet; the Sophomores, to prepare for next year; and the Freshmen, to learn what it's all about. The students have a spirit that has been lacking in the past few years at school, and with this spirit, I think that this year could turn out to be a great one at BHS.

GO GET UM BULLDOGS

Season Opener Set Friday At 8 P.M.

"The big difference this week is - " Coach Bill Froman of the Burkburnett Bulldogs remarked "the scoreboard lights will be turned on."

The 1969 Burk Bulldogs, after having scrimmaged two brusing top ranked football teams, open the season against the Iowa Park Hawks, another of the state's powerhouse teams. Iowa Park, in the playoffs of Class AA last year, and scheduled to move up to AAA football next year, returns almost all of the lettermen from a highly successful season. Coach Tommy Watkins highly-touted squad reportedly scrimmaged Jacksboro where scores were kept and the Hawks came through with a 46-6 scrimmage victory.

The Hawks will again be in action by three-year lettermen and Senior Quarterback Jim Calpp. And they return two All-State AA stand-outs from last year: 224-lb Senior Guard Craig French and 185-lb. Fullback Steve Berry.

Iowa Park defeated Burkburnett last year 18-6. The Bulldogs are out to avenge the loss this year.
this year. "We've watcher the Hawks twice this year" Froman told the INFORMER in the regular Monday morning Coaches session with Editor Lon Williams. "They are big, overpowering, similar to the Coyotes and have excellent football players." "They are probably rougher defensively this year than last" Froman went on "offensively it is too early in the season to tell."

Iowa Park sports one of the best records in the state in all Classes over the past five years. "They have a wealth of talent, depth, and experience" Coach Froman reports.

The Hawk lineup for the game according to Coach Tommy Watkins will be: Offensively:

IOWA PARK HAWKS
Offensive Lineup..

LE	Greg Ancell	150 J
LT	Gary Frazier	218 S
LG	Newt Newman	180 S
C	Jerry Pittman	185 S
RG	Craig French	224 S
RT	Don Harrison	190 J
RL	Jacky Perkins	190 S
QB	Jim Clapp	165 S
FB	Steve Berry	185 S
Tailback	Jeff McDonald or Steve Webb	150 J 160 J
Wingback	Mark Thompson	165 S

The Bulldogs defeated Iowa Park in 1967 14-8 at Iowa Park. "This will be a typical IOWA PARK-BURKBURNETT game . . tough fought . . close . . a great rivalry . . a sell-out game . . . all the ingredients that make football the tremendous sport it is."

Burkburnett has a strong ball club this season returning 14 lettermen from last years club. How strong Burk really is will be indicated in the Friday night showdown with the Hawks.

Burk faces an extremely tough schedule this year. Coach Froman, in view of that, has secured two rugged scrimmages to set the mood for the season for the Bulldogs.

Froman rarely praises this year's team, but there is a sly grin that could indicate a surprise for several Bulldog foes this season.

"We've got some good tough and talented football players" Froman sez "and nobody is gonna play us without knowing they've been in a battle."

The starting lineup for the Bulldogs will probably look like this:

Offensive Lineup:

LE	Rick Reasoner	80	170 lb	J
LT	Bob Larson	75	220	Sr.
LG	Mark McLean	62	180	Sr.
C	Ken Youngblood	50	175	Sr.
RG	Junior Gray		180	Sr.
RT	Drake Andrakes	74	210	Sr.
RE	Joe Mendez/ Jim Sims
QB	Robby Young	15	140	Sr.
LH	Joe Karstetter	20	160	Jr.
RH	Mike Hanks	12	145	Sr.
FB	Don Brown	35	190	Sr.

Defensive Lineup . . .

LB	Doug Locke	165 Jr.
DE	Cliff Whitt	200 Jr.
DB	Keith Stiene	140 Jr.

Specialty teams:
Punting: Mike Hanks

HIDDEN HOT SPOT FISHING

Some of the best fishing holes in the world are almost hidden by all the water around them.

Most anglers fishing the big man-made lakes miss these hot spots because they spend most of their time fishing above the dam which forms the reservoir, while the best fishing is often not in the lake, but below it.

For there, in the deep pool at the foot of the dam, is where large numbers of fish tend to concentrate. The fishing authorities at Mercury outboards say that this is especially true of hydro-electric power dams. When the generating turbines are operating, the discharge of fresh water from the lake into the river below will cause fish to move upstream, coming right to the dam.

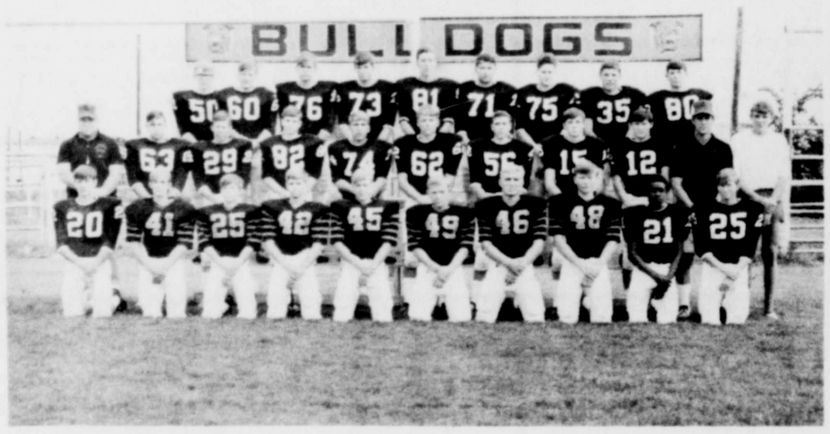

When the turbines are operating, the discharged water sets up odd currents and fish will move with these feeding on insects, crayfish and crippled fish which have come through the turbines.

Visiting anglers may have a difficult time trying to judge when these good fishing times occur, so there are a few things to keep in mind if you want to try these hidden hot spots.

Electrical appliances are heavily used at certain times of the day, therefore generating plants are going to operate in accordance with the demand. On hot days, in areas where there are many homes with air conditioners, the power load is greatest during the hottest part of the day, and the turbines will be operating at their peak during early afternoon and on into the night.

Darkness also brings an increase in the demand for electricity, and night fishing below the power dams is often excellent.

The fishing experts at Mercury suggest checking with the power company operating the dam. They can often tell you when they expect to be operating the turbines and will also advise you of the safety regulations necessary for fishermen in small boats when the plant is in operation.

SEASONS CHANGE

For a time leaves are green, then in early fall they become brilliant with many colors. Finally they turn brown and fall from the trees, leaving them drab and lonely looking.

God never changes, he is an ever present help.

"For I am the Lord, I change not"

Attend church and learn more of God's wonderful and never changing love.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

A recent USDA survey pointed out that many American homemakers roast meats at too high a temperature. Half of those interviewed roast between 350 and 375 degrees. Extension Consumer Marketing Specialist Gwendolyne Clyatt recommends a temperature of between 300 to 325 degrees. Only one of seven homemakers surveyed reported using a meat thermometer as a means of measuring doneness. Mrs. Clyatt says the meat thermometer is almost foolproof.

Double-Rich Brownies

Who can resist a brownie? No one, especially when it's dark and rich with two kinds of chocolate. These moist and chewy brownies have unsweetened chocolate in the batter and semi-sweet chocolate chips sprinkled on top for added flavor and a polka dot look.

DOUBLE CHOCOLATE BROWNIES

- 2 squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate
- ⅓ cup butter or other shortening
- ⅔ cup unsifted all-purpose flour
- ½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup chopped nuts
- ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate chips

Melt chocolate with butter over hot water. Mix flour with baking powder and salt. Beat eggs well; then gradually beat in sugar. Beat in chocolate mixture and vanilla. Add flour mixture and mix well. Stir in nuts. Spread in a greased 8-inch square pan. Sprinkle with chocolate chips. Bake at 350° for 25 minutes (for moist chewy brownies) or about 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean (for cake-like brownies). Cool in pan; then cut into squares or rectangles. Makes about 20 brownies.

Now Open Tuesday thru Saturday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Faster Barbecuing Method

COLLEGE STATION Microwave ovens may replace conventional methods for barbecuing of meats and poultry; they do the job more than three times faster.

Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist with Texas A&M University, says conventional methods of barbecuing are time-consuming and cumbersome and she cites some new studies on microwave barbecuing.

Researchers at Southern University, Baton Rouge, La., working under an Agriculture Research Service contract, compared microwave oven-smoking and conventional hardwood coal barbecuing on fresh pork, ham, beef and chicken. Actual cooking time by microwave was only 3 minutes a pound for spare ribs and chicken halves, 5 minutes for beef brisket, and 6 minutes for fresh ham.

A trained taste panel rated all meats barbecued by microwaves as good as meats over hardwood coals, adds Mrs. Myers.

Is there an Area Code for Mazar-i-Sharif, Afghanistan?

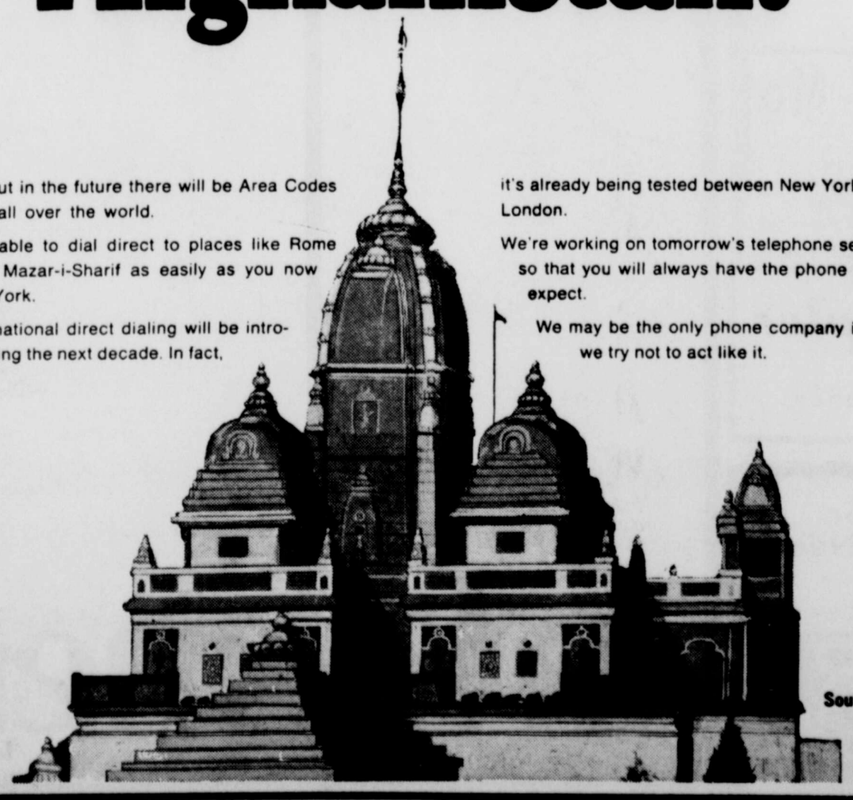

Not yet. But in the future there will be Area Codes for cities all over the world.

You'll be able to dial direct to places like Rome and even Mazar-i-Sharif as easily as you now call New York.

Yes, international direct dialing will be introduced during the next decade. In fact, it's already being tested between New York, Paris and London.

We're working on tomorrow's telephone service today so that you will always have the phone service you expect.

We may be the only phone company in town, but we try not to act like it.

Nancy Walker Tells Of Learning Dive

By LINDA GAYLE LAY

DENTON - "It was scarey, to say the least," said Nancy Walker, recalling her first dive off a 10-foot diving board. "I was so afraid I would land wrong and kill myself, but thanks to a combination of luck and skill, I made the dive without getting hurt."

Nancy is a sophomore physical education major at North Texas State University and her hobbies include diving and swimming.

"I taught myself to dive by watching others," Nancy said. "I never had any diving lessons, but I just started out by diving off the side of the pool and when I had enough confidence in myself, I graduated to the board."

When preparing to dive, Nancy concentrates mainly on her approach. "What I think of before I dive, is a person doing the same dive perfectly," Nancy said. "Then I try to copy that person. I also try to remember what I did wrong on my last dive."

Track and field, the running broad jump and the discus are among the other sports Nancy enjoys. "I hope to teach physical education at the elementary level when I get out of school," Nancy said.

Nancy is a member of Chi Omega, social sorority, and a member of Green Jackets, a service club at NTSU. She is also vice-president of the Womans' Recreation Association, and has been nominated for "Who's Who on American Colleges and Universities."

Nancy hopes to attend medical school and work in the field of physical therapy.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Walker of 1201 Shadylane.

CAROL SUE BEARDEN
MRS. LYLE ECKLEY

Carol Bearden Wins Contest

11-year old Carol Sue Bearden of Burkburnett was named the winner of a Junior Missionary Essay contest sponsored by the Nazarene Churches in the West Texas district recently.

Entries in the contest had to be over 300 words and chosen from a number of subjects on Missionary activity. Junior age children from over 100 Nazarene churches participated.

Included in the West Texas District are churches from Lubbock, Amarillo, Big Spring, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls. As many children as desired entered the contest from each church. They were required to write to a Nazarene Missionary, read books about the missionary and gather all articles possible written by or about the missionary.

Carol Sue, a 6th grader in Burkburnett, chose Miss Elizabeth Cole, RN as her favorite missionary. Miss Cole is a missionary to Swaziland, Africa, who has served the lepers for over 21 years. Miss Cole was awarded one of the highest honors of the English when she was presented an award by the Queen of England for her efforts.

Carol Sue was awarded a beautiful corsage by Mrs. Lyle Eckley, President, of the West Texas Missionary District, in a ceremony held August 25 at the District Camp grounds at Glen Rose, Texas. She also received a $16 certificate which will go to help pay her way to the Boys' and Girls' camp next year.

By winning first place in the Junior Missionary Essay contest this month; and by winning first place in the District Junior Quiz last month, Carol Sue has taken top honors in the two events held each year on the district level. This is the first time this feat has ever been accomplished by one individual.

MISS AMERICAN LEGION- 1970—Immediately following her selection as the new Miss American Legion of Texas, Miss Gloria Gene Moore is presented with a bouquet of roses and the winner's trophy during the 51st Annual Department Convention in San Antonio. Department Commander Walsh is shown presenting her to her subjects for the coming year. The lovely lass is the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Moore of Edinburg and was sponsored by McAllen Post 37. The green eyed beauty is 5 feet 5 inches, weighs 113 pounds with measurements of 36-23-35. Miss Moore, who will be a freshman at Pan American College, Edinburg, in September, held the 1968 Miss Sixteen of Rio Grande Valley title before winning the McAllen July 4 Bathing Beauty Revue. She was also drum major for the Edinburg High School Band and was selected Miss EHS during the past academic year at EHS. First Runner-up was Miss Marilyn Rodriguez, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Rodriguez of San Antonio. She was sponsored by Alamo Post 2, San Antonio. Should for any reason the winner fail to continue her reign, Miss Rodriguez would step in and serve the remainder of the year.
