"YOUR HOME COUNTY PAPER"

FORTY-SIXTH YEAR | SNYDER, TEXAS, THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 1, 1934. | NUMBER 38

FORMALITY TO BE FORGOTTEN AT C. OF C. ROUND-UP FRIDAY

HOME HYGIENE AND FIRST AID WORK MAPPED

Red Cross Chapter Expects to Enroll Many Men and Women In Classes to Begin Soon.

Red Cross classes in home hygiene and first aid will be organized here within the next few days, it was decided at a called meeting of county Red Cross officials yesterday afternoon.

Final plans for the two educational enterprises are being mapped today with the assistance of R. H. Ziehm, field representative of the American National Red Cross, at whose suggestion the work was launched.

Dr. Charles B. Reed has agreed to teach the first aid classes, and Mrs. Ivan Elkins, graduate nurse now working with the CWA health program, will be in charge of the home hygiene class. Both will serve without pay, as will all committee members and county Red Cross officials who are assisting in organizing the classes.

R. L. Williams has been named as chairman of the first aid committee. He will have Willard Jones, A. A. Bailey, M. M. Gideon and W. W. Smith as committeemen.

Expect Large Class.

Mrs. R. H. Odom is home hygiene chairman, with the following associate committeewomen: Mmes. Joe Caton, W. R. Bell, Wayne Boren and H. L. Wren.

Those interested in taking the 15-hour first aid course are requested to call Stinson No. 2. The chairman asks that only those who plan to complete the course enlist, since the demand is expected to be so heavy that the class may become too large. Housewives and mothers who wish to enroll in the home hygiene class should leave their names at Stinson No. 2. This will be a 30-hour course.

Mr. Ziehm points out that remarkable results have been achieved in many towns and cities through the courses. A number of West Texas towns have completed or have begun such work. Among men who will be expected as students in the first aid course are firemen, peace officers, teachers, gin workers, and especially CWA foremen and workmen. A Red Cross first aid certificate will be awarded each person who completes a course.

Arrangements for Classes Made.

Classes will be held in the district court room. First aid work will be presented on Monday evenings, beginning March 12, 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. Home hygiene classes will be held on Wednesday mornings, 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock, beginning on March 14. Books for both classes may be secured next week from M. M. Gideon at the Texas Electric Service Company. They will sell at cost—about 50 cents per copy.

Lectures, discussions and demonstrations will be featured in each class.

The field representative is devoting Wednesday and Thursday to conference with county Red Cross officials and organization of the first aid and home hygiene classes. The County Red Cross chapter is headed by the following recently-elected officials: Chairman, J. S. Bradbury; vice chairman, Marcel Josephson; Roll Call chairman, Maurice Brownfield; treasurer, J. D. Mitchell.

Snyder Wholesalers Will Go to Lubbock

Approximately 75 wholesale lines and 200 retail merchants are expected in Lubbock for the eighth semi-annual Wes-Tex New-Mex wholesale clothing market March 10 to 14, inclusive. Several local merchants are making plans to attend the affair.

A style show for the retail merchants will be staged March 13 under direction of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, with several wholesalers participating.

The market is being held three weeks prior to Easter and will enable merchants to purchase merchandise to fill in stocks with the latest Easter styles before the holiday buying rush.

Reorganized Club Joined by 57 Men

Less than three weeks after the new Lions Club idea was definitely broached to local business and professional men, 57 members were reported by Secretary J. P. Nelson.

This announcement, which means that all service club membership records for Snyder have been broken, was made at the close of Tuesday's luncheon, which was the second regular meeting of the club.

Ralph Odom, chairman of the membership committee, broke into the select group of "master [illegible]" Lions when he brought in [illegible] of the new members.

Thirty-six members had been rolled at the banquet held [illegible]ruary 12, five more had been [illegible]dded by February 20, and 16 [illegible]re by Tuesday of this week.

Sale of Beer Not Legal, Says Judge

County Judge Robert H. Currutte stated yesterday that sale of beer in Scurry County is absolutely against the law, and that any case filed in his court will be prosecuted.

He said that no beer can be legally sold during the 30-day period prescribed by law for the effectiveness of the beer election vote, for no seller has applied for or been granted a county license. "Even if the county had gone wet," the judge pointed out, "beer could not be sold in this county without a license."

Several beer dealers are said to have interpreted the 30-day fenture in the official notice of election results as giving them authority to dispense the brew until March 24.

COUNTY PLAYS HOST TO FIRST RAINS OF 1934

Steady Fall Wednesday Night Said To Have Practically Covered This Trade Territory.

Rainfall that began as a drizzle late Wednesday and grew to good proportions as the night wore on, was the first precipitation of any size that has come to Scurry County in 1934.

The fall in Snyder at 8:00 o'clock this morning had climbed to 1.10 inches, and it is reported that practically the entire county has received at least a small amount of moisture. The chief beauty of the rainfall is that it is coming slowly, and little of it is running off the land.

Untold benefits will be gleaned from the first-of-March rainfall, since broken land and pastures were beginning to be distressed about the lack of moisture.

The weather man fooled everybody during the past few days.

When he swooped the mercury down to 12 degrees Sunday night, every prophet thought winter was at last on its way. But when Tuesday turned cool instead of cold, and Wednesday turned lukewarm and dampish, nobody knew what to prophesy.

Cotton Program Made Effective Through Sign-up

A sufficient number of cotton production adjustment agreements for 1934 have been signed to warrant Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to declare the program effective, and to accept producers' agreements which are in proper form and receive administrative approval.

Individual acceptances will be sent to producers who have signed agreements to reduce their cotton acreage by from 35 to 40 per cent.

The total cost of the 1934 cotton adjustment program is estimated at 130 million dollars, of which approximately 50 million will be distributed to producers this spring. Field forces are given a reasonable time to complete their work and to finish negotiations with indivdual producers who have not yet signed agreements.

Reports from the local county agent's office indicate that the county committee will probably have the last of the contracts in hand by the latter part of this week.

Hamlin Whipped By Big Bad Wolf Team

Colorado's Wolves Friday held the basket ball championship of district 5, having won two straight games in a deciding series with the Hamlin Pied Pipers. The second was won Thursday night, 36 to 15, the opening match having been won by a score of 37 to 12.

The Pipers conquered Dunn, the Scurry County champions, for the privilege of representing the east end of the district against the rampaging wolves.

Their sweep of the Hamlin series sends the Wolves into the tournament for honors in region 2. The meet will be held at Abilene this week-end. Winners of the regional title will go to the state meet at Austin the second week in March.

Income Tax Deputy At Hotel Saturday

H. C. Broaddus of Big Spring, deputy income tax collector, will be in the lobby of the Manhattan Hotel Saturday to assist Scurry County people in making out their income tax returns.

Since the returns must be filed not later than March 15, it is imperative that those who are uncertain about details of filing should see the deputy. No charge is made for his services.

Half of the tournament will be held this Friday; the last half Tuesday evening of next week. Six o'clock is the beginning time both evenings. High interest in debating has been manifest in the county this year, and large crowds are expected to hear the arguments.

The question for debate is: Resolved, That the essential features of the British system of radio operation and control should be adopted in the United States.

Faculty Praises Relief Activity In Schools Here

The following resolution, addressed to Joe Monroe, relief commissioner of Scurry County, was passed Wednesday afternoon by the faculty of Snyder City Schools:

"You have been instrumental in alleviating conditions of a deserving but unfortunate group of children in our midst. It is recognized that there is the closest of correlations between scholastic attainments, citizenship attitudes, and proper physical sustenance.

"We have observed, as a result of the very nourishing meals furnished by you, a distinct improvement in all phases of school activities.

"The grades have been greatly improved; more wholesome attitudes have been noticeable; and the physical well-being of the child has been unbelievably developed.

"We appreciate the interest which you have taken in this humanitarian cause and we recognize the value which has resulted from it."

Rabbit Push Keeps Up Through Friday

Yesterday's successful rabbit drive at Camp Springs was just a starter.

A second full day's drive will be held today unless the weather continues too damp, and a third is planned for Friday.

A number of hunters took part in the Wednesday drive, which netted hundreds of kills near Camp Springs.

Fire Claims Garza County Ranch Home

Fire believed to have originated because of a defective flue burned the Novis Rodgers ranch home in Garza County to the ground Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Rodgers and ranch employees were some distance from the house at the time, and did not arrive in time to save any house furnishings.

Mrs. Rodgers, formerly Miss Helen Boren, a teacher in the local schol system, was away from her work yesterday because of the disaster.

ONE ACT PLAY PLANS PUSHED

Since proceeds from the county-wide one-act play tournament that is to be staged here March 8 and 9 are slated to take care of Interscholastic League expenses, an extensive advertising campaign is being pushed under direction of Charles S. Owens, director of this event, and E. O. Wedgeworth of Fluvanna, director general.

All major schools of the county are expected to have casts in the tournament, which will begin at 7:30 o'clock in the local high school auditorium. Admission prices will be 20 and 10 cents.

An effort is being made to carry forward ticket selling drives in each school of the county.

"We Can Only Look With Confidence And Trust to 1934," Says W. J. Ely

"With such a leader as our great president we can only look with confidence and trust that we are gradually getting back to normalcy," wrote W. J. Ely, local director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerc, when he was asked by "West Texas Today," official WTCC magazine, to write what he thinks about 1934.

Mr. Ey's opinion, along with that of directors from other sections of West Texas, appeared in the February issue of the regional magazine. One-third of the directors held that conditions are much better, that the worst is behind, and that recovery is definitely ahead. Another third —Mr. Ely's group—was extremely hopeful. Twenty-six per cent wrote "moderately better, with continued progress." Seven and one-third per cent were uncertain.

Continuing his reply, the local director said:

"We entered last year broken in soul, yet with some degree of hope that the sun would not go down on us, and now at the beginning of another year we know that our hope has been well founded. I believe the kindly hand of providence has had no little to do in selecting him (our president) at this critical time.

"I only hope and trust that Mr. Roosevelt will keep his health and that not a hair on his head will ever be touched or harmed."

Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, president of the WTCC, has this to say of the new year: "With a measure of profit to producer, manufacturer and retailer together, with an appreciable return to gainful employment for those who labor, we of West Texas should and do show an upturn in hope and confidence."

D. A. Bandeen, WTCC general manager, said: "West Texas in 1934 with average weather conditions will be one of the brightest spots on the nation's business map. With natural advantages enabling low production cost, and due to hypodermics injected by the federal government, no similar territory in the United States in 1934 will excel the West Texas economic condition."

FIRST LIBRARY PROGRAM 15TH

A miscellaneous program featuring more than 200 grade school children will be presented in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, March 15. Proceeds will be used for purchase of new books for libraries of the local schools.

Misses Hattie Herm and Nona Carr are directing the program, in which all grade school teachers will take an active part. An intense ticket selling campaign will be staged next week.

A second program is being planned by high school faculty members for April 13, with Mrs. Hilton Lambert directing. A full-length drama, with vaudeville acts, will be presented.

Revival Meeting at The Church of Christ

The Church of Christ cordially invites you to bring your friends and attend the series of gospel services, beginning Sunday, March 11. Bro. G. F. Mickey of Idalou will do the preaching, and promises to do his part considerately and prayerfully.

The song services will be in charge of home forces. Come and enjoy this feast of good things. The building will be warm and comfortable. Someone will gladly call for you and take you home after service if you wish to come and do not have a conveyance. We want you to come.—O. D. Dial.

Bon Ton Cafe Now In a New Location

Vic Montgomery announces this week that his cafe has ben moved to the location five doors north of the Snyder National Bank. The new location affords the cafe operators and customers more room and convenience in the bigger and better quarters.

The cafe will serve free coffee all day Saturday, and invites its old customers and new ones to visit and eat there.

$10,032 MORE OPTION MONEY

An additional $10,032 in cotton option money was received here on Monday morning for distribution to 81 Scurry County farmers.

The last batch of checks was received Monday, February 5. It totaled $39,961.76, and went to 286 farmers. A total of 277 checks were received several days before that date.

Monday's checks bring the total of the three batches from the $20 per bale advance on 1933 contracts to $90,458.28.

Entertainment plans for the meeting of the Oil Belt Educational Association at Big Spring, March 16-17, have been disclosed here through unique programs. The big seven in the entertainment line is listed as banquet, bridge, dancing, billiards, barbecue, golf and courtesy transportation.

Young Garza Demos To Hear Candidates

The Young Democratic Club of Garza County will be host Tuesday evening of next week to candidates for Congress in the new nineteenth district, and to candidates for Garza County offices, at an open meeting in the Post High School auditorium, according to W. Richard Cavett, county chairman of the Young Democrats.

Among congressional candidates who have accepted the invitation are Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, George Mahon of Colorado, Judge Homer L. Pharr of Lubbock, and Fred O. Halle of Spur.

Scurry County Young Democrats and others have been invited to the meeting.

Leon Guinn Tells "Time" a Thing or Two About the Curse of Tut's Tomb

Leon Guinn of Camp Springs, that persistent young delver into facts and fancies, has broken into print again. Readers of his "Current Comment" column in The Times will enjoy the following Leon letter, which was published in Time, the weekly newsmagazine, issue of February 12.

Pharaoh's Curse.

Sirs:

For several years my passion of a hobby has been excavating things archeological in West Texas including mammals and the famed dinosaurs. The "finds" have been loaned to various educational institutions. It was, therefore, with pleasure I noted Time's audit of facts concerning the curse of Pharaoh (Time, Feb. 5.)

I should like to comment on an angle of the Pharaoh legend, until now unnoticed by newsmen and expedition leaders of things scientically ancient. In order to clarify the unnoticed angle, it would be timely to mention embalming as practiced by the Egyptians in King Tut's reign.

When death bowed before an Egyptian's door his soul was supposed to enter heaven, called the Lands of the West. In burial rites earthly objects such as bread, tunics and beds were placed in the tomb for use in the afterwhile.

Actual embalming of the body required 70 days. One embalming group (lectors) supervised embalming (according to wealth, etc.); the lectors removed body organs and washed them in palm wine (mostly alcohol). After washing the body with palm wine Nile water was used. The body was placed in a trough full of saline water, generally obtained from salt lakes.

On the 37th day the body was again palm-wined and allowed to be exposed until the 56th day in sand, being treated with oils of palm, olive, cedar and cinnamon. A gummy substance obtained from India, myrrh, was generously used. The 56th day the shell was filled with chaff and aromatic oils, bitumen and myrrh. Until the 70 days were up embalmers wrapped the body in bandages (2,700 yards linen).

Thus we find the mummy: dust that has not returned to dust, due to preservative fluids. History has decreed the names of some preserving agents be forgotten. But we know they were very poisonous (embalmers were few and highly skilled).

The very air in tombs became thus destructive to life. In opening these chambers fresh air caused the poisonous air to become an invisible curse—the curse of Pharaoh.

Myrrh, alcohol, saline agents and bitumen blended perfectly, yet the mixture was invisible poison. Men have breathed it and lived. It has been so in numerous historical excavations of note; even in excavating trinkets Montezuma had sealed at death.

Now science should determine how effective this poison unwittingly (or wisely?) made centuries ago really is. Could that be the curse of Pharaoh, scientific owls to the contrary?

LOCAL CITIZEN 51 YEARS DIES AT HOME HERE

J. W. Woody, 80, Passes Away Monday After Brief Illness; Among Snyder Founders.

J. W. Woody, 80, died Monday night at 9:00 o'clock at his home in East Snyder, after a two-day illness from a heart disease.

The veteran of many frontier experiences came to Scurry County almost 51 years ago and settled on a farm five miles southeast of Snyder. That was in the winter of 1883. In 1920 he moved to Snyder, where he resided continuously until his death, with the exception of two years, 1925 and 1926, when he returned to his farm.

He was one of the founders of Snyder, and was a resident of the county when Scurry County was started in the summer of 1884.

Funeral rites were held Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock from the First Presbyterian Church, with Rev. R. B. Hester, Primitive Baptist minister, and Rev. E. C. Lambert, Presbyterian minister, officiating. Mr. Woody was a lifelong member of the Primitive Baptist Church.

Burial was in the Snyder cemetery, with the Odom Funeral Home in charge. Pallbearers were the four sons, John L. Webb and Ray Hardin. The seven children were present for funeral rites.

Surviving are Mrs. Woody; three daughters, Mrs. Ethel Champion of Raisin City, California; Mrs. Mary Grubbs of Delano, California; and Mrs. Ray Hardin of Snyder; four sons, Robert Woody of Snyder, Jim Woody of Gail, Houston Woody of Snyder and John Woody of Midland; one sister, Mrs. Shrildia Reed of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; and two brothers, George Woody of Spokane, Missouri, and Aze Woody of Sterley.

Small Quota of Men Continuing Sanitation Work

Work on the Scurry County sanitary projects, slowed several days because of uncertainty as to federal funds, has been renewed through state assistance, with about six men back on the job.

M. K. Maples, county director of the work, is inspecting schools under direction of Dr. H. E. Rosser, county health officer. Two school privies are being constructed this week, and work will be carried forward throughout the country when the school work is completed.

Mrs. Ivan Elkins, health nurse, is attending sick families. Later she will make a tour of the schools for the purpose of weighing and measuring underweight children.

Seth H. Steele, district sanitary supervisor, was in the local office Saturday. He has 10 counties under his supervision. He stated that while this county falls far below its neighbor counties in units completed weekly, he realizes that it is due to the fact that the county has the smallest quota of men for sanitary work of any county in the state.

The sanitary construction men are starting work in the Gibson lumber yard. Anyone interested in privy construction may call there at any time to inspect the work.

Mrs. Elkins wishes to express her appreciation to Mrs. Ben Bean, Mrs. J. W. W. Patterson and others who assisted her in securing aid from the Red Cross this week to assist those in distress.

School Census Will Be Taken in March

March is the school census month.

Frank Farmer, county superintendent, requests that those delegated in each school district to take the census call at his office for the supplies.

It is contemplated that the county's scholastic population will show a decided increase over last year.

HOG MEN HERE AGAIN TUESDAY

A number of Scurry County hog raisers gathered in the Commissioners' Court meeting room Tuesday evening to discuss with W. R. Lace, county agent, new phases of the government's hog reduction plan. It was indicated at that time that a number of farmers will take advantage of Uncle Sam's 1934 offer.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said Tuesday that the processing tax on hogs would be increased from $1.50 per 100 weight to $2.25 at midnight Wednesday.

This is the last of the progressive increases planned when the tax was placed in effect. Receipts finance the corn-hog production control campaign.

C. OF C. SPEAKER

Judge W. R. Ely, member and former chairman of the state highway commission, will be principal speaker at the Chamber of Commerce banquet that is to be held here Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the National Guard armory. He has long been identified with the progress of West Texas, and has been a consistent friend of Snyder and Scurry County.

ENGLISH TO BE HOST TO CHIRO GROUP SUNDAY

West Texas Chiropractic Society to Hear Dr. James R. Drain Of San Antonio.

The West Texas Chiropractic Society will convene in regular monthly session Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. English in West Snyder.

At least 50 or 60 delegates are expected from a territory that includes Albany, Abilene, Brownwood, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Big Spring and Post.

Dr. James R. Drain of San Antonio, president of the Texas Chiropractic College, will be the principal speaker. Dr. English extends a hearty invitation to his patrons and friends to attend this meeting, which begins at 2:30 o'clock. "It will be well worth your time to hear this able and instructive speaker, and we invite you to come hear him," is the message of Dr. English.

A business meeting will precede the open forum. E. J. Anderson is scheduled to welcome the visitors.

The local chiropractor entertained the society in April of 1933.

Frolicsome Time At Luncheon For Lions This Week

It was a frolicsome group of Lions—more than 40 of them—that gathered in the Manhattan Hotel dining room Tuesday at 12:15 o'clock for the second regular meeting of the newly organized club.

Announcement that former membership records had been broken was evidently the signal for letting down the bars of levity. Before the affair had ended, C. Wedgeworth had been officially named, and a WWW code had been practically completed for the four bachelor members—Herman Darby, W. R. Lace, Harold Brown and W. E. Holcomb. The Tail Twister was also there.

The president pointed out that definite plans for a permanent constructive program would be mapped by the board of directors and committee chairmen Thursday evening, and presented to the club at its next regular meeting. The board session is called for 7:30 o'clock in the Manhattan Hotel.

Abe Rogers presented the Lions Club code of ethics, with comments.

Entertainment was provided by Charles S. Owens, who drew applause with two popular numbers, and by a stringed instrument trio, Felix Jarratt, Curtis Jarratt and Nig Stringer, whose music was likewise pleasing to Lons' ears.

Names of the new members, with their committee assignments, will be published in next week's Times.

Grocery Stores Get Cleared for Spring

Two local grocery stores picked last week-end to complete their housecleanings in preparation for the coming of Spring.

N M. Harpole and Melvin Newto cleaned and moved and removed goods and shelves last week, and painters gave things a thorough dose of coloring. "It was the cleanest store in West Texas," Melvin declares.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Josephson gave their Pick and Pay store not only plenty of new paint but a complete rearrangement of display shelves and counters. Even front-window spaces were reformed.

ELY, BANDEEN WILL BE CHIEF LOCAL GUESTS

More Than 200 Men and Women Expected at Annual Gathering In Guard Armory.

The usual banquet formality will be cast to the winds Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when more than 200 Snyder citizens and their guests will gather in the National Guard armory for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

With W. R. Ely, member of the state highway commission, as principal speaker, and several other distinguished guests, including D. A. Bandeen, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, officials of the organization are pointing toward one of the most successful gatherings on record.

An addition to the entertainment menu was announced several days ago by Willard Jones, chairman of the entertainment committee. It will be "Good Medicine," a one-act play in which Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Owens and Mrs. Wayne Boren have parts.

Ticket sales indicate that wives and other lady friends will make up a large part of the attendance. While Boss Baze and the boys who are assisting him in preparing the banquet do not promise a Waldorf-Astoria plate at 25 cents, they say that the food will be substantial enough for the men and stylish enough for the women.

Harrie Winston, president, and J. W. Scott, secretary, will make reports of the old year's work and outline prospects and plans for the new. Members of the board of directors are likewise scheduled to have part on the speaking program.

There will be music, there will be tap dancing, there will be drama, there will be eats, there will be good speeches, there will be fellowship. The 1934 Chamber of Commerce banquet is to be an undoubted success.

Candidates Invited To Speak at March Meet of Democrats

The six avowed candidates for congress from the new nineteenth congressional district will be invited to attend the March session of the Young Democratic Club of Scurry County, it was decided at the regular February meeting, held in the district court room Tuesday evening.

Extensive advertising of the meeting is expected by the young party members to bring one of the biggest political rallies of the year.

Several members of the club took part in the Tuesday evening discussion as to whether or not a constitutional convention should be called in Texas in the very near future for the purpose of rewriting the state's constitution. Herman Darby, president of the young partisans, was in the chair. The discussion waxed lively, and veered toward an out-and-out debate.

Several new members of the club were enrolled by Secretary R. L. Williams.

Wallace Jones of the First Christian Church, Colorado, sang a group of Hawaiian songs in accompaniment to the strumming of a ukulele, while saucily dressed Hawaiian maidens presented colorful leis as party favors to each person present.

The following represented countries in appropriate numbers, dressed in native costume: Mrs. W. R. Martin of Loraine, representing Japan with a vocal solo, "Poor Butterfly," and Mexico with a rendition of "La Paloma"; Mrs. Virginia Peden Deter of Colorado enterpreting Italy with a vocal number, "Venitia," (Zemecnik) and Germany with violin in "La Zingana," (Carl Bohn); Switzerland, Mable Ernest Cooper, violin; Spain, Holland and Ireland by dancing girls; Texas, vocal solo, "Texas, Texas," Mrs. N. The tea table was covered with cream lace placed over red satin and centered with a large bouquet of red rose buds placed in a silver vase. Silver tea services were at either end of the table with Mmes. L. G. Mackey, Frank Mackey, Bob Fee and Ed Jones Jr. pouring. Plates containing chicken sandwiches, sugar wafers and red and cream tea minis were passed in the dining room.

The following members of local federated clubs were present for the tea: Mmes. Lee T. Stinson, H. P. Brown, R. D. English, J. C. Stinson, Max Brownfield, P. W. Credit Group In San Angelo This Week For School

Two local representatives, O. P. Thrane and J. C. Ezell, and A. M. Cooper of Sweetwater, secretary of the Sweetwater Production Credit Association, were in San Angelo Tuesday and Wednesday of this week for a district school of production credit associations. Mr. Thrane is Scurry County director and Mr. Ezell is local inspector.

Ten associations sent representatives to the meeting, which was presided over by Tully C. Garner, president of the Federal Intermediary Bank of Houston. Several other officers of the bank were also present. The San Angelo meeting was one of several gatherings of similar character.

The two local men were impressed with the sympathetic and helpful attitude taken by leaders in the organization. They declare that although loan seekers may expect delays for a short time, until the loan agencies are well organized, better service may be expected later.

Applications are now being received for loans through Mr. Thrane and Miss Maude Mary Akers, application writer. Mr. Cooper declares that all loans will be made on a business basis and according to the security furnished by the applicant.

George Mahon Gets Place in Publicity Sent by Democrats

A series of non-partisan comments on the nineteenth district congressional race, sent from Lubbock by the Young Democrats, features this comment concerning the candidacy of George Mahon of Colorado:

"From the southern part of the district last week came indications of such wholehearted support of George Mahon that the 33-year-old candidate from Colorado is being marked as a leading contender for a place in the run-off. To Mahon goes the distinction thus far of being the only candidate in the race for whom clubs have been organized to actively support his candidacy Colorado, Mahon's home, organized in mid-January a George Mahon for Congress Club. Big Spring, formerly in Mahon's judicial district, followed suit, and last week a club was organized at Loraine. Mahon was reared on a farm near this town.

"Mahon's personal popularity in Scurry, Borden, Nolan, Howard and Mitchell Counties, where he has served several terms as district attorney, is said by his friends to be such that 90 per cent of the votes in these counties conservatively can be counted on to go for their 'favorite son'."

A Book or Two

Found in the Rental Library of Mrs. Mabel Y. German

Mrs. Roosevelt Speaks.

Anna Eleanor Roosevelt (Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt) has found time, among all her other activities, to write a book, "It's Up to the Women," in which she appeals to women to do their part in the present crisis. The book covers briefly a variety of topics: reduction of income, budgets of time and money, family health, recreation, divorce, professional women, social work, women in public life, women and peace, and similar subjects. Filled with practical, helpful suggestions, the book is valuable mainly as a stimulant to the sluggish housewives of America.

Mrs. Roosevelt has written this book in much the same conversational style as her syndicated articles are written. According to one critic, "she has spread her talent very thin. However," he states, "it is only natural that anyone who circulates as fast as Eleanor Roosevelt and sounds off so often on so many subjects should not consistently display minervan wit and wisdom." Her purpose, it seems, is not to write in skillful, beautiful style nor too witty and wise. Her aim is to make an appeal to the women of America in simple, every-day language.

"I am merely pointing out," she says, "that women, whether subtly or vociferously, have always been a tremendous power in the destiny of the world and with so many of them now holding important positions and receiving recognition and earning the respect of the men as well as members of their own sex, it seems more than ever that in this crisis 'It's Up to the Women'!"

Local Girls, Dunn Boys Win Practice

Snyder girls and Dunn boys came out on top of the heap at Dunn Tuesday evening, in a three-way practice debate tournament.

The local girls won a unanimous decision from Colorado girls. Colorado boys won from Snyder, then Dunn boys won from Colorado.

Both Snyder debate teams, and probably others from the county, will attend a huge invitation tournament at Abilene this week-end.

Ernest E. Tate of Snyder enrolled in the West Texas State Teachers College Conyon, for the second semester, along with 96 other entrants.

Texas Will Give Medal to Leader In War On Crime

In a nation-wide war on crime, which has been endorsed by President Roosevelt and approved by the Department of Justice, the United States Flag Association is awarding a medal in each state to that person who, during the year 1933, did the most "to advance and encourage the enforcement of law" in such state.

The Texas winner is to be selected by a jury of award, composed of Judge Nelson Phillips of Dallas, W. P. Hobby of Houston and James V. Allred, attorney general. These judges request The Times to state that recommendations for the person to receive the honor will be gladly accepted by the jury.

"In our judgment," the jury says, "the conferring of this medal or award will be a tremendous honor to the person entitled to receive it, as like medals are being awarded at the same time in each state of the union. The American gangster and law violator has been too much "hero-ized," and the U. S. Flag Association is anxious to take a real step forward by endeavoring, as far as possible, to offset this wave of maudlin sentiment by arousing interest in law enforcement. Vicious, violent lawlessness must cease."

Times Thanked for Candidate Publicity

The Times has received a letter from Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, candidate for attorney general, in which thanks are rendered for publicity given in a recent issue. In part, the communication reads:

"The press of Texas performs a great service in giving publicity to the qualifications of the various candidates because it is almost impossible to acquaint the voting public with the facts unless the press helps out."

(Note: The Times proposes to give all candidates for state office an "even break" in publicity. The picture and a brief outline of the qualifications and platform of each candidate will be published on receipt.)

CONFIDENCE COLUMN

John Keller, furniture dealer, is highly pleased with the steady movement of his merchandise in recent months.

"I had begun to think that folks would never return to the age-old fact that furniture makes the home—and tells what you are," Mr. Keller said this week. "But now that dollars have begun to move more steadily, many Scurry County residents are building back the former beauty of their homes."

At one time late in 1933 Mr. Keller purchased a carload of furniture, and added to this lot almost daily. Even with this heavy purchasing, he is again having to restock continuously. He reports a good demand for standard furniture, and adds that the little "knick-knacks" that really make the home are moving steadily.

It is Mr. Keller's opinion that the depression has taught people that furniture and other such home needs count more in the long run than the things of doubtful value that were held high in former boom days.

R. C. Grantham Has Rug Cleaning Plant

R. C. Grantham, who announced last week that he was installing complete equipment for a Hamilton Beach electrical shampoo and drying process, stated yesterday that he has already reaped good results from this new service.

Mr. Grantham proposes to go to rug and carpet owners' homes to do the specialized work, or to do it at his own plant. He states that the new system not only cleans floor coverings completely, but adds years to their life.

Nothing to Worry About.

Don't worry, little fruit tree, don't you cry. You'll be all leaves (and no fruit) by and by (if we have another series of warm-and-then-cold spells).

A Newspaper Commentary.

Some newspapers that come to the Times office are like the ancient young knight, Lochinvar, in one respect: They come out of the West. But we can't understand why.

Good Old Legislature!

Pessimism Pete says the only reason he can see for the existence of the legislature is to give newspaper editors a permanent opportunity to throw thorns and thistles, sour grapes and critical words.

A New and Worser Disease.

Talkative Tillis thinks the poet-thinker who committed a federal crime in order to keep out of the Texas prison at Huntsville must have been suffering from prisonary Lone Starosis rather than pulmonary tuberculosis. He'd been to Huntsville before!

Congratulations, Wedgeworth!

Superinitendent C. Wedgeworth of Snyder schools is neither engineer, horticulturist nor landscape artist, but he is leading the parade that is giving this city a remarkably beautiful school campus. Public-spirited citizens will rally to his request that trees, shrubs and flowers be donated for the new park that has been magically produced from Dry Creek's former bed.

A Word to Silent Parents.

A word is due that large group of silent parents who are content to let the Parent-Teacher Association row along with a nucleus of hard-working members. In not many weeks the local association is to entertain a district convention of P.-T. A.'s. That means cooperation in members, in homes, in time, in money. Hitherto silent parents should rally to the support of this organization that helps so faithfully to make our schools more bountiful in service.

The Friday Banquet.

Ticket sales for the Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday evening should run well above 200. Strictly speaking, it will be no banquet at all, for there will not be food a la banquet style or style a la banquet style. There will just be an old-fashioned round-up of neighbor with neighbor and appetite with appetite. A number of citizens who have been keenly disappointed at the inactivity of the Chamber of Commerce during 1933 are hoping against hope that a more definite program of work and progress will be mapped and carried out in 1934.

A Far Cry From Austin.

While Young Democrats were in the district court room Tuesday night waxing hot in a discussion of a constitutitnal convention for Texas, the legislature was disobeying the suggestion of the people that money be appropriated for a centennial celebration in 1936. It is interesting to notice that the people s suggestion was made by constitutional amendment—one of 13 amendments passed within a handful of months. It would seem that even the astute representatives do not give a tinker's dam for what the patched constitution or the thinking people demand.

The Worst Is Yet to Be.

Burton Kline, writer of national repute, notes that France is trying to decide whether to whip Hitler now or let Hitler whip her later. He notes, too, that while a few legal lights are arguing in the United States over the question of whether every point in the New Deal coincides with a scrap of paper called the constitution, military lights in Austria are preparing for a battle royal between Nazis and the Dollfuss regime. Yet another writer states that France, Germany and Austria will be at war within two or three months unless events take a decided turn to the right.

You Are Missing Something.

Those who are fortunate enough to escape sitting in an editorial chair are likewise fortunate enough to miss many of the mailing pieces that form a continuous stream of swishy-swashiness. In almost every community there is at least one person who believes he is ordained of God to become a writer. So he writes, and the weekly newspaper becomes the waste-basket. Fortunately, a rich well of artesian water springs into being once every blue moon, and the weary occupant of the editorial chair concludes that the fly is worthy of the ointment, after all, and that all that is written is not horrid.

Worthy Aspirations.

The preamble written by the Texas Agricultural Association, organized at Dallas early in December, is well weighted with worthy aspirations, such as: "The chief aims and purposes of this association are to voice the aspirations and to assert the rights and defend the interests of farmers, livestock producers and rural home makers of Texas; to cooperate with similar associations in other states rendering a like service and to the entire agriculture of the nation, and to endeavor to cooperate with all governmental agencies and to promote and correlate agricultural and cooperative organizations." May the aspirations become profitable action is our hearty wish.

After the Cold Wave.

Since winter has come in all its pent-up coldness, there is little doubt but that the man who stood on the street corner a few days ago and said he would like to see a good hard freeze, is now sitting before his wife's fire and moaning that he would like to see a long warmish spell. Another interesting aftermath of the winter wave is that the King of England and other dignitaries may now put on their red flannels with safety and unction.

Scurry County and Her Front Yard—Across the Atlantic.

It would be difficult to convince Scurry County citizens that Hitlerism in Germany, Dolifussism in Austria, and anti-scandalism in France have an arrow-true effect on their pocketbooks. We would not be Americans if we became upset or even excited over the exploits of "foreigners"—unless those foreigners happened to be trampling ever so lightly on our nationalistic toes.

But recent events in Europe are effecting us quite perceptibly. As The Texas Weekly points out, Hitlerism's rapid rise meant new uniforms and new flags by the hundreds of thousands. Since Germany is one of our leading cotton buyers, this new demand for our staple crop undoubtedly helped the market to continue its climb upward. Strange as it may seem, it is no doubt true that new uniforms for soldiers of the swastika meant new dresses for the wives of Scurry County cotton farmers.

This rather round-about example of international relationships may help us to understand what Editor Peter Molyneaux is talking about in this excerpt from last week's issue of The Texas Weekly:

"A new tariff move by the administration seems in prospect, jinging from certain events of the past week. The most significant of these events was the issuance on Monday by the February Policy Association of New York and the World Peace Foundation of Boston of a 15,000-word pamphlet, written by Secretary of Agriculture Henry M. Wallace. It is titled 'America Must Choose' and it sets forth three possible courses facing the country, one of which Mr. Wallace says must be taken. These sources are extreme nationalism, extreme internationalism, and a middle course which Mr. Wallace himself favors. "If we continue toward nationalism," he writes, "we must be prepared to make permanent the withdrawal from cultivation of over 50,000,000 acres of fairly good farm land, and face the consequences of all the social and economic dislocations which are bound to ensue. If, on the other hand, we choose not to put our agriculture under so high a degree of interior tension and discipline, we must drastically lower tariffs and reorganize undustry, so that we can receive from abroad another billion dollars' worth of goods each year. The planned middle course I propose as a basis for present discussion is one precisely half way between these two extremes, a line of march along which we would lower tariffs enough to bring in another $500,000,000 worth of goods annually, and permanently retire of our good agricultural land some 25,000,000 acres."

"Mr. Wallace makes it clear that he would regard it as a calamity if the present drift toward extreme economic nationalism should continue and that if he had only his own views to consider he would favor full internationalism. "We are approaching in the world today one of the most dramatic moments in history," he writes. "Will we allow catastrophe to overtake us and, as a result, force us to retire to a more simple, peasant-like form of existence, or will we meet the challenge and expand our hearts so that we are fitted to wield with safety the power which is ours almost for the asking?"

Europe—and all other points north, east, south and west—is assuredly in the Scurry County front yard. We should insist that Uncle Sam make the most of his opportunity to send his back-yard doctrines to the dump ground.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

NOT LIQUOR ALONE—BUT AAA THROUGH ZZZ.

By Rev. W. C. Childress, Pastor, First Methodist Church, Abilene, in West Texas Today.

Broadly surveying it, Franklin D. Roosevelt's program falls into two classifications. One is financial and economic, the hardheaded side of recovery upon which I may as well admit at the outset, I cannot speak with any degree of competency. The other is social and moral—in a way of speaking, the sentimental side. It is that side that interests me, a preacher, and looking at it I find myself baffled, grieving, because its seven major objectives—not one, but all—are not winning the immediate and full-hearted approval of my class. I mean, the preachers and what we preachers speak of and think of as "church people."

Much has happened in the United States in a short time. Revolutionary ideas have sprung into events and accomplishments of overwhelming importance and significance with such startling rapidity that a great many of us have already seen them as they have flashed by. Into minds such as ours, minds accustomed to traveling the beaten and ordered paths, minds accustomed to long patient waiting and, perhaps, steeled to repeated defeat, the picture has not yet registered clearly. We see the blur, but we have not yet fully realized that our own little world has changed in a day—and how gloriously.

Business has thought faster than we. On the financial and economic aspects of the president's program the nation's business men are best qualified to pass the judgment, and they have done so, and it is a mighty "aye," even this early in the game. It is a strange paradox, a downright phenomenon, that, first, the government's domination of business has won the complete approval and cooperation of the class dominated (a class, which, we might have assumed a short time ago, would have bitterly set itself against the program as an encroachment on its own deeply rooted system of doing business); and that, second, with a millenium fairly at hand for the social reformer, he has been slow and grudging in his realization and appreciation of the victory.

Program.

I look at the program. Under the general heading of financial and economic I place the monetary policy, the tariff policy, the agricultural policy. Then I take other policies that, while they may be financial and economic, are also emphatical, social and moral, and, for my own convenience, group them under the following seven headings:

1. A minimum wage law.
2. Regulating hours of employment.
3. Outlawing child labor.
4. Responsibility of the strong to the weak.
5. Seeing that everyone has an opportunity to earn a living.
6. Use of public funds for reduction of want.
7. Prohibition repeal.

It is rather a sad fact that too many preachers, too many church people, and too many social and moral workers in general, instead of taking this part of the recovery program in its entirety, are looking around, above and below—and seeing only prohibition repeal. Too often and in too many circles I find a downright hostility to the president because he, more than any other man, has taken the eighteenth amendment out of the constitution.

This particular amendment came in as a result of a long and cruel fight, against tremendous odds. Public sentiment had to be created, and that in the face of the most bitter and hostile opposition whose loudest voice was a shameful voice and whose championship fell on a class—saloonmen themselves and friends of saloonmen, political and otherwise—for which I, as a preacher, naturally feel only contempt. The scars of many grim fights linger as mute but eloquent testimony to the earnestness of men and women engaged in a long warfare.

Looking at such a background, and then looking at my own group, perhaps it can be then said that it was easy and natural for those who had been foremost in the struggle against the liquor traffic to see President Roosevelt's attitude toward prohibition repeal a menace to all that had been accomplished at the cost of so much blood and treasure and prayer. Seeing that far, and no farther, perhaps it is not, after all, so strange a phenomenon that these devoted people have not taken notice of, and comfort from, the other points in the president's great program.

Prohibition.

As for myself, I dare to draw this conclusion on the face of what we have called the prohibition movement: it is my solemn conclusion that it never did have a chance to succeed. There never has been a movement so lied about, or attacked so abominably. From the time of its inception as an integral part of the constitution of the United States, and until its final repeal, it has been subjected to the most relentless, most vicious and false propaganda that ever has assailed any sort of movement fathered and desired by a large group of people. Nearly without exception the metropolitan press, along with the most influential weekly and monthly periodicals of the country, have kept up savage warfare upon prohibition's every effort to vindicate itself and justify its existence. Every sort of crime has been charged up against it from bootlegging to mayhem on dumb animals, from racketeerism and gangsterism to the mumps, until it has been apparent for some time that prohibition would not be permitted to live and function as an integral part of the law of the commonwealth. Against such tactics, how would it have been possible for the eighteenth amendment to be wholly successful in doing the thing that it was designed to do.

The fatal blow was struck when the amendment was brought into politics and made a political football for both of the major parties. Its doom was sealed when it was taken out of the realm of a great moral movement and by a clever political group made the battleground of cheap political skullduggery. Its future? A great many of its friends have come to believe that the only way it can be made an effective and lasting remedy for the ills it was designed to cure is for it to receive a mortal wound, and its life blood be poured out again in some form that will merit the confidence and support for those who have always been the enemies of the demon rum and have the havoc it has caused in the lives of untold millions.

That it will come again in some such form, I do not for one moment doubt. It is unthinkable that the American people will quietly submit to the tyrannous and ruinous demands exacted by traffic in liquor upon the moral and political life of the nation.

(concluded next week)

"What was you in jail for last summer, Sambo?"

"For borrerin' money, sah."

"But they don't put people in jail for borrowing money, do they?"

"Dey do in some cases, boss. Now in dis case I had to knock de man down free or four times fo' he would lend it to me."

A regret for the mistakes of yesterday must not blind us to the tasks of today.

Teacher—"Why, you dirty boy. Why don't you wash your face? I can see what you had for breakfast this morning."

Boy—"What was it?"

Teacher—"Eggs."

Boy—"You're wrong, teacher; that was yesterday."

Another Bank Holiday.

Friday is another bank holiday. March 2 celebrates the beginning of Texas independence, but to most folks it will mean only that they cannot gain entrance to the Snyder National Bank. No post office services will be halted, since March 2 is not a national holiday.

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

A doctor will tell you that the careless use of strong laxatives may do more harm than good.

Harsh laxatives often drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit individual need. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gently helps the average person's bowels back to regularity. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is little "convenience" in any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. All druggists, ready for use, in big bottles. Member N. R. A.

Broadcasts Will Be Aid to Local Tourist Traffic

General business in Snyder should benefit this year from an increase in tourist traffic which is expected to result from a series of unusual radio broadcasts by Continental Oil Company, sponsor of the Conoco Travel Bureau, beginning Wednesday night, February 14.

Figures just released show that the Conoco Travel Bureau during 1933 routed a total of 48,775 tourist groups to and through Texas, many of whom were visitors in Snyder.

Conoco's radio programs this year, while including some comedy and a wide variety of music, both vocal and instrumental, will feature dramatized vacation tours to outstanding scenic and pleasure resorts throughout America. Towns visited by these radio motorists will be described, thereby receiving some valuable tourist publicity, as the broadcast will go out over 27 NBC stations.

The February 14 program, 9:30 to 10:00, Central Standard Time, will enact a thrilling trip from Wichita, Kansas, to the Southern Colorado Rockies, and will also include a talk by Tony Sarg, internationally famous artist who created the funny illustrations for the Conoco Bronze Gasoline advertisements now appearing in this newspaper.

In promoting vacation travel the Conoco Travel Bureau is making a definite contribution to improvement of general business conditions. This is proved by a survey just completed, showing that the average Conoco Travel Bureau vacation tourist spends $250 and travels 3,400 miles, and that the sum he spends is parceled out in towns along his route in this manner: miscellaneous retail purchases, 25 per cent; restaurants, 21 per cent; hotels and cottage camps, 20 per cent; transportation, 20 per cent; amusements, 8 per cent; confectionery, 6 per cent.

Delinquent List Is Checked by County

The Commissioners' Court was busy early this week in checking delinquent tax rolls of Scurry County. Practically no other business had been transacted during this regular session of the court.

The percentage of delinquencies is not yet known, but the county dads expect to have a definite report ready in a short time.

Prehistoric Relics Are Discovered by S. H. S. Student

One student of Snyder High School, Homer York, has shown a great interest in collection of ancient relics, which are to be found in abundance near his ranch home in Borden County. He recently discovered, buried near his home, an Indian skeleton, which, despite the many centuries it must have been imbedded deep in the soil, was still in good condition. A pile of rocks arranged in regular formation and a slight incline in the ground led Homer to make his exploration. Buried with the skeleton were found a number of trinkets, with five arrowheads. It was a custom of the Indians to bury some personal belongings with the dead. The arrowheads are on display in the science department of the school. The skull of the one-time savage was in a bad shape of decomposure when exposed to the air. The teeth, however, are still in perfect order.

The skeleton is still kept at the York ranch house, and interest in the curio has led many people to see it.—The Tiger's Tale.

Fair Season for Texas, Railroad Report Declares

Following is the Santa Fe Railway's February 1 crop report for the state of Texas:

Light to heavy rains fell at intervals during the last month over practically all areas of the state; very light, little more than a trace, in the northwest. Favorable weather, prior to January rains, resulted in a greater than normal amount of winter plowing and moisture was readily absorbed. Most areas now have a fair to good season in the ground. Temperatures are above normal, and severely cold weather would benefit soil physically as well as aid in insect control.

Indications are that Texas cotton farmers are willing to sign cotton acreage restriction agreements. The belief is general that under normal climatic conditions, production this year will be little, if any, less than the crop last year. Intensive cultivation will be carried on and every allowable acre will be worked.

Tomato plants in the hot-beds of East Texas are growing vigorously and will be moved to cold frames the last half of February. The number of plants now growing indicates that the acreage for 1934 will show a 50 per cent increase.

Fields are being prepared in North Texas for early onion planting. Ultimate acreage for 1934 is undetermined, but prospects are that there will be a substantial increase.

Northwest Texas has about 4,000,000 acres of wheat, condition somewhat spotted, due to dry weather.

Royce Eiland Best All Around Boy of School, Say Boys

Royce Eiland was recently elected by popular vote as the best all-around-boy of Snyder High School. The occasion has been adopted by the boys after perfecting a similar organization by the girls.

The second and third choices, respectively, were Fred Wolcott and J. C. Morgan.

Congratulations, Royce! We are proud of you and you deserve this distinctive honor which was given to you by the boys of Snyder High school.—The Tiger's Tale.

Texas Lines Up With Nation For Acreage Cutting

A United Press report from College Station in Sunday papers indicated that Texas cotton farmers have pledged themselves to withdraw approximately 5,400,000 acres from production in 1934, according to an estimate of H. H. Williamson, state extension service agent.

Williamson's estimate was based on complete reports from 192 counties and an incomplete check of 50 additional counties. The final complete check, he said, is expected to increase considerably the total acreage withdrawn from production.

Advices received from AAA headquarters at Washington showed the total acreage withdrawn in connection with the federal government's curtailment program to approximate 12,150,000 acres. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, it was indicated, will declare the 1934 program in operation on the basis of present estimates.

The national quota originally announced was 15,000,000 acres.

For Hard Coughs or Colds That Worry You

Creomulsion is made to give supreme help for coughs or colds. It combines 7 helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is for quick relief, for safety.

But careful people, more and more, use it for every cough that starts. No one knows where a cough may lead. No one can tell which factor will do most. That depends on the type of cold.

Creomulsion costs a little more than lesser helps. But it means the utmost help. And it costs you nothing if it fails to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it. Use it for safety's sake. (adv.)

SAYS FARMER WILL GAIN ALL THRU LOYALTY

Idle Rumors Started by Certain Agencies Would Hurt Farmer, Agent Declares.

The cotton farmer has all to gain and nothing to lose through continued loyalty to the government and the Roosevelt administration, according to W. R. Lace, county agent, when he was interview Tuesday by The Times.

Declaring that certain agencies in the county that are starting idle rumors are doing so for the sole purpose of getting cotton out of the farmers' hands, the agent emphasized the fact that the government program succeeded to the vast benefit of the farmer in 1933, and that the new 1934-35 program is likewise on the road to heavy producer profits.

Mr. Lace referred particularly to agencies that are approaching the farmers who took the 10-cent loan on their cotton last fall when the market was approximately 9 cents per pound. He said that farmers who are talked into turning loose their cotton to such agencies are running the risk of drastic losses.

Twelve hundred Scurry County farmers received about $360,000 directly from the 1933 program, or an average of $300 per farmer, not to mention the benefits from the government-made price rise and from various indirect sources, the agent continued. An administration that could produce such results in one growing season is certainly deserving of the continued 100 per cent support of cotton producers, he said.

The present local cotton market, ranging around 12 cents, is due almost altogether to government action within the past few months, Mr. Lace said. "Stick by the government and the government will continue to stick by you," is his final suggestion.

Harley Sadler's Brand New Show Here Next Week

Harley Sadler, appearing in a brand new tent theatre, with a special heating system, will be in Snyder for a week's engagement starting Monday night, March 5, under the auspices of the American Legion and the National Guard. The Harley Sadler show has undergone a complete reorganization, and this year is said to be bigger, better and different from any other Sadler show, with big time vaudeville predominating.

The tent will be located west of the fire station.

Harley Sadler presents his company characterizations in the manner which has endeared him in the hearts of people all over Texas, while Billie Sadler will be seen in a line of leading roles, supported by an exceptionally strong cast. The big-time vaudeville includes Mundee and June, jugglers; The Whitehouse Twins, singers and dancers; Ewert and Barry, accordionists and dancers; Bart Couch, juvenile sorgster; the Fox Sisters, singers and dancers; Ralph Thomas, xylophone player and dancer; Goldie and Wilson, Alpine Yodlers; and many others. The music is furnished by Joe Golforb and his 12-piece band.

As a special added feature, Harley Sadler presents Roy E. Fox and his popular players. For years Roy E. Fox's popular players was a was a household phrase in Texas, noted for clean, wholesome entertainment. It was on this show that Harley Sadler obtained one of his first jobs in the show business. As the years went by, Sadler acquired an interest in another tent show, later becoming owner and manager of the present show, which has earned the reputation of being the most successful repertoire show in America. Fox, in the meantime, left Texas with his family to play big time vaudeville, and the Fox Sisters have played nearly every major vaudeville circuit, and are famous for their fast singing and dancing routines. Fox, longing to bring his daughters to the scenes of their childhood, and Sadler, ever on the alert to give his patrons something really worthwhile, made a connection whereby Roy E. Fox's popular players became the special feature attraction with Harley Sadler and his own company.

The opening play Monday night in Snyder is "Merton of the Movies," said to be one of the best of present day comedy dramas, showing each member of the cast to excellent advantage, with eight acts of big time vaudeville. Popular prices will prevail. For the convenience of those who cannot come until late, a few rows of special numbered reserved seats will be on sale Monday, March 5, at Stinson Drug No. 1, at a small additional cost. One lady will be admitted free Monday night when accompanied by a paid adult ticket and the ladies' free ticket contained in this issue of The Times in the show's advertisement.

Extension Work In Physical Ed. Offered By Tech

If enough Scurry County teachers are interested, a Texas Tech extension course in physical education will be offered here beginning Saturday of this week.

This word comes from J. F. McDonald, head of the extension department at Tech, to C. Wedgeworth, local superintendent. Mr. Wedgeworth states that about half of the required group of 21 will be enlisted from the local faculty, and he is confident that at least a dozen more can be recruited from other schools of the county.

Teachers who wish to take the course should get in touch with the local superintendent immediately, since Tech officials must be notified not later than Friday evening.

The course would be completed in eight weeks, with the instructor holding a class every other Saturday. Credit would be given for three semester hours. Fifteen dollars is the tuition for the course. Physical education will be required of all teachers in all schools, beginning in 1935. Teachers are thus given an opportunity to complete half this requirement at once.

SAFETY. With the new Ford V-8 you get an all-steel body, safety glass, welded steel-spoke wheels, exceptionally low center of gravity and more braking surface per pound of weight than any other American-made car we know of.
