Mrs. Kennedy Scores Major Triumph On Visit To Canada

By FRANCES LEWINE

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—A First Lady only four months, 31-year-old Jacqueline Kennedy scored a major triumph here on her first state visit abroad.

Flying back to Washington today, she had the acclaim of 20 Canadian officials and the man in the street. She had been applauded in parliament and by thousands of others.

And, if Canada was a sample, it was predicted Mrs. Kennedy's appeal during a visit to Paris late this month may be even greater.

Ottawa, capital of a nation where more citizens are of French descent, provided Mrs. Kennedy something of a trial run for her Paris trip.

She "has conquered all of our hearts," was the way the speaker of Canada's senate, Mark Drouin, summed it up.

And Prime Minister John G. Diefenderfer told parliament people in the streets of Ottawa had greeted Mrs. Kennedy with "a special glow of warmth."

The President and Mrs. Kennedy wound up the major program of their two-day visit to Ottawa at a party they gave Wednesday night in honor of their official hosts in the picturesque setting of the U.S. Embassy overlooking the Ottawa and Gatineau rivers.

It was a small, formal dinner party, with only 20 guests, but 12 others were entertained briefly after dinner.

Mrs. Kennedy was reported exhausted after a long day of sight-seeing and ceremony. But she and the President stayed at the party until 11:05 p.m.

In a traditional ceremony at Government House earlier in the evening, the Kennedys, in their formal evening attire, had come out to the front entrance to thank policemen and Royal Canadian Mounted who guarded them during their brief stay.

For her final appearance in Canadian society, Mrs. Kennedy wore a striking pink ribbed silk organza gown, with three tiers of deep ruffles at the bottom of the long flared skirt, a three-strand pearl necklace and dazzling long drop earrings.

Her wardrobe, designed by Oleg Cassini of New York, had attracted much attention.

As the Kennedys drove the mile to the embassy from Government House, crowds lined the route to catch a final glimpse of the couple.

The First Lady's schedule Wednesday, which drew crowds of some 8,000, was keyed to her favorite interests—art and horses.

She was cheered and applauded at Canada's National Gallery, where her taste in art was cited by the director as impressive, and at the barracks of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police where she watched the famous musical ride of 22 horsemen on black mounts.

Plainview HD Club Meets

The Plainview Home Demonstration Club met at the Lloyd Mountain School Tuesday at 2 p. m., with Mrs. C. L. Lee as hostess.

The program, "Keeping Young By The Way You Work," was presented by Miss Butts, an agent for the organization.

Highlighting the business session was the election of Mrs. Lee as nominee for THDA.

Mrs. J. N. Eicke served refreshments, and as part of the entertainment asked each member to describe her most embarrassing moment. Mrs. Turner Forrest was winner of the hostess gift.

Members present included Mesdames Jesse Koonsman, Turner Forrest, C. L. Lee, J. M. Rosson, Jake Greene, Clarence Moore, W. M. Dabbs, N. N. Eicke, Mose Bogenstein, J. A. Mirick, and Miss Butts.

Mrs. W. E. McMillan will host the next meeting of June 6.

Hermleigh HD Club Holds Crafts Meeting

HERMLEIGH Special—The Hermleigh Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday in the Central Baptist Church here for an all-day crafts session.

Collectively, the club produced 26 pieces of work, with 10 members being present plus two visitors.

Each member brought a covered dish, which served as the noon meal for those in attendance.

BREEZE THROUGH THE SUMMER with fresh 'n ready dairy foods is the suggestion of Texas Dairy Princess, Luanne Knolls. This year will mark the silver anniversary of the nation's annual June salute to dairying and its many contributors. And a tip of the hat, too, to ole Bossy, who provides "natures most nearly perfect food"—milk.

Get Together Club Meets

Nineteen members of the Get Together Club met Tuesday for a luncheon at the Village.

Spring flowers and fruit arranged in wicker baskets were featured in table decorations. Place cards bearing the club name were decorated with miniature sprays of artificial flowers.

Mrs. John Grinstead, club president, directed a business meeting preceding the meal. Games of cards and Canasta were played later.

Others attending were Mesdames Ida Thurston, Bob Bennett, Marvin Force, Willie Masters, Fred Kizer, G. A. Parks, Jr., Bobby Burnett, Gerald Hicks, Billy Evans, A. C. Newman, Harley Smith, Jack Harless, Frankie Kubena, Milton Stephens, R. L. Brasley, Richard Hardin, Ray Atkinson and Billy Joe Middleton.

Altrurians Told About Ecuador

The Altrurian Club had a surprise program at its meeting Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Gray of Loja, Ecuador, showed slides and made comments on Ecuador.

Mr. Gray is an employee of the International Cooperation Administration of the U. S. Government, which is part of the State Department.

He served as extension advisor (country agent advisor) to the Ecuadorian Extension Service from December of 1958 to March 1 of this year in Loja, which is 450 miles from Quito, the capital of Ecuador.

As extension advisor, he helped local Ecuadorian extension agents develop local programs for betterment of agriculture and agricultural methods in their areas. The local agents were helped to plan and carry out field days, farmers meetings and demonstrations in 4-H Club work, field crop production and vegetable production.

He also helped agents organize and carry out various result demonstrations in improved seed selection, fertilizing, disease and insect control and recommended cultural practices.

Supervision was provided for planting, budding and distributing 10,000 budded citrus trees to small farmers in the area. Gray also was advisor to 4-H Club projects, which are patterned after those in the United States, and as advisor for animal and crop projects.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray were presented to the club by Mrs. R. L. Gray and Mrs. Hugh Boren.

Mrs. Gray's comments on Ecuador were from a woman's viewpoint, presenting a view of the customs, and physical aspects of the people, their social customs and economy.

Nineteen members of the Altrurian Club and two guests, Mrs. Pat Patterson and Mrs. J. M. Carter of Waxahachie, attended the meeting. Mrs. C. T. McLaughlin was hostess.

Batting Title Awarded Dyer

The Snyder Tigers' study in perpetual motion — Spencer Dyer — swept the majority of the individual batting honors for the season just past, which saw the Snyder nine getting itself edged out of the title picture by Lamesa's surprising young slugger Tornados.

Dyer, the team's dapper, hot corner dandy, was not only a pillar on the hitting side of the ledger, but was also a valuable mainstay on defense. His arm, manipulated on the order of a buggy whip, made easy work of countless potential base hits over the course of the season.

He nabbed the team batting title with a healthy .417 average. His 120 at bats were high for the season, also, as were his total of 50 base hits, 32 runs scored, and 12 stolen bases.

First sacker-outfielder Waldon Ware was the team leader in two base hits landed with nine and in triples with three.

Backstop Ronnie Wylie unloaded the greatest number of circuit squashes of any team member — three. And centerfielder Mike Moffett garnered the runs batted in crown with 22.

Versatile Freddy Miller, normally a pitcher by trade, found time to pace Tiger district hitting with a resounding .455 mean on the strength of 10 base knocks in 23 plate appearances. He manned the keyhole sack through the greater part of the 3-AAA campaign at such time as he wasn't toiling on the mound.

Miller worked the greatest number of innings from atop the hill, as he hurled a total of 77 frames. His record of nine wins and three losses was the top mark as far as the "regulars" were concerned.

Bennie Greenfield, a leathery left-hander, posted the most admirable earned run average for the year with a 2.56 reading. Right-hander Charlie Gladson, the third member of the Snyder nine's "big three" mound corps, was the strikeout artist of the staff. He whiffed a grand total of 49 opposing batters during his 53 2/3 innings of duty, an average of almost one per inning.

Following is a recap of the season record as posted by the team, along with a wrap-up of the individual performances as registered.

The first line as listed after each player's name has to do with his overall record for the campaign, while the second concerns only his district showing.

Tigers Win; Now Five Games Up

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

About all you could say for Phil Regan during spring training was that he was a junior member who might fill an open spot on the pitching staff for the Detroit Tigers, a club listed somewhere between New York, Baltimore and Chicago in the American League pennant picks.

Both prognostications are in need of revision.

Regan has become an unbeaten regular, and he's done it by whipping New York, Baltimore and Chicago — for a 4-0 record.

The 24-year-old right-hander nailed the Orioles a second time Wednesday night, putting away his third straight complete game with a six-hit 9-1 victory as the Tigers once again battered Baltimore and gained a five-game lead in the AL race.

Washington helped boost the Tigers along by sweeping a two-game stay in New York, defeating the Yankees 8-7, Cleveland beat Boston 1-0 in the only other game scheduled in the AL.

In the National League, San Francisco stayed three games ahead of the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in the ninth inning. Second-place Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 4-3, Cincinnati clipped Philadelphia 2-1 and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Milwaukee 2-1 in 11 innings.

Regan, who was 0-4 as a rookie in 17 games last season, walked just one man and struck out three. He lost a shutout in the fourth inning, when Brooks Robinson hammered a 2-home run for a 16-game hitting streak.

The Tigers clubbed the Orioles to their fifth straight defeat with 15 hits, two by Al Kaline, who had a triple and a double and drove in three runs. Kaline's triple broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth against loser Jack Fisher (1-4).

'DOUBLE WINNER' IN CENTURY, LOW HURDLES

All-State Honors Go To Crawford

HOUSTON (AP) — Ted Nelson of Andrews and Billy Foster of Dallas Sunset, a couple of record breakers, head the Texas Sports Writers Association 1961 all-state schoolboy track and field team.

Nelson, who helped the Mustangs from West Texas to the State AAA championship, paced the 220-yard class with a 20 1/2 and then turned in a great 46.5 to gather in the 440-yard title.

The 46.5 by Nelson in the quarter-mile was a national record.

Foster, the sprinter from North Texas, made three positions on the 12-event card, which placed three performers at each spot.

Foster led the 100-yard dash with a 9.5, followed Nelson in the 220 at 20 1/2 and nabbed the broad jump, going 24-10 1/2.

Snyder's Jesse Crawford and Arlington's David Bailey also were double winners. Crawford made it in the 100-yard dash, with a 9.6 and in the 180-yard low hurdles with 18.7.

Bailey was picked in both hurdles, doing the 120-highs in 14.1 and the lows in 18.6.

The 1961 all-state track team was picked by a committee consisting of Charles Holmes of the Dallas Times-Herald, Joe McLaughlin of the Abilene Reporter-News, Bill Hart of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, Jim McLernore of the Austin American and Bill McMurtry of the Houston Chronicle.

The 1961 all-state track team, with best times or distances in parenthesis:

100-yard dash — Billy Foster, Dallas Sunset (9.5); Boyd Timmons, Houston

120-yard dash — Charlie Previer, Abilene (14.1); Gene Westmoreland, Lamesa (15.49); Charles Laub, Pasadena (15.63).

180-yard low hurdles — David Bailey, Arlington (18.7); Walter Hayburn, Wharton (19.4).

180-yard high hurdles — Henry Pickett, Orange West (18.0); David Bailey, Arlington (18.1); Jess Crawford, Snyder (18.7); Bobby Gilbreath, Iowa Park (19.1).

200-yard — David Glover, Abilene (18.0); Russel West, White Oak (18.1); Jim Lancaster, Temple (18.7).

300-yard — Wilbert Patterson, Brazosport (19.7); Jim Lancaster, Temple (19.1); Preston Smith, Grapevine (19.2).

400-yard — Warren Brattford, Odessa Park (14.9); Louis Paul, Channel view (13.8); Bob Penn, Midland (13.9); High Jump — Jerry Franklin, Abilene (17.5); John Butler, Channelview (16.9); Gary Overcash, Andrews (16.9); Broad Jump — Billy Foster, Dallas Sunset (24.10); Herbert Brown, San Antonio (24.10); Robert Brown, San Antonio (24.10); Bobbie Merrill, Greenville (23.5).

Goldjackets To See Action Here Tonight

Snyder's Goldjackets (Negro girls) are to engage a local team here at Winston Park tonight, as the "jackets" go out in quest of their third victory in as many starts.

Game time has been set for 8 o'clock.

Maxine Thompson has received the starting pitching assignment for the Goldjacket pine, with Rosnell Walker slated to catch.

Greif Showing Is Memorable

Remember that 7-0 blanking in Little League play of Tuesday night? Bill Greif, a right-hander, was on the throwing end of things for the Giants and the win was at the expense of the Cubs.

During the game he sent an amazing total of 17 Cubs down via strikes, with only one put-out on the part of his team and 1 hit on the non-strike-out route.

His performance tied an all-time local Little League record as set seven years ago.

TULANE SIGNS "BIG DADDY" FROM TEXAS — Clayton Downing, nicknamed "Big Daddy", sends the scales soaring to 290 pounds on approval of Tulane University football coach Andy Piney after the New Orleans school signed him to a grant-in-aid scholarship. Downing, of Lindale, Tex., played offensive fullback and defensive guard in high school, scored 27 touchdowns in two seasons. (AP Wirephoto)

RED CARPET BAGGER

Muu Muu Is Likely Hawaii's Rebuttal To Mother Hubbard

BY INEZ ROBB

Until six months ago, if an inquiring reporter had asked the average American for the definition of muu muu, the customary would have divided pretty evenly into two segments.

Half would have said that muu muu was French for moo moo, as in cow. And the other half would have thoughtfully agreed that muu muu is the feminine of Mau Mau.

Now all of us alert voters know that the muu muu has come into the Union along with Hawaii and that it is a shapeless, feminine garment enveloping its wearer like a tent or a wayward sheet. Beside it, the Arab djellaba is a clumsy, form-fitting garment, and old-fashioned flannel bathrobe a sleek, sexy and revealing trowser. A barrel will do as much for even B.

Most of the time I think as well of my sex as I do of any other sex. But there are occasions, and the muu muu craze is one of them, when I think less girls have rocks under their locks. Any woman over the age of 18 should instantly realize that the muu muu is the native's revenge. It has taken the inhabitants of the Pacific Islands a hundred years and more to arrange it for "the mills of God grind small."

For it should be as plain as a white convertible that the Hawaiians, probably acting in cohorts with all the Polynesian peoples, are finally via the muu muu, paying us back for the missionary Mother Hubbard.

The muu muu is no longer, no less than the old and hated Mother Hubbard, under native sponsorship. The shapeless, sexless Mother Hubbard arrived in the islands simultaneously with American missionaries. Conversion and clothing went hand in hand in islands where a flower in the hair constituted everyday wear, with the addition of a palm leaf or so for "more formal occasions." Only the Balinese belles appear to have escaped the Mother Hubbard blight.

Other islander cookies suddenly found themselves swathed in a balloon made with a narrow yolk terminating just north of the front balcony and from which was suspended—to the heels—a whole lot of material.

Oversight, nature's children discovered themselves wrapped in a cocoon of calico. Undoubtedly, the only women who were happy about it were those who any place a large measure hit, were either a perfect 28 or 32. Could Kipling have had this situation in mind when he wrote "somewhere east of Suez, where the best is like the worst?"

Confusion must have reigned, so to speak. All of a sudden a century ago in the islands you couldn't tell Diana Dees from Skinny Emms, and right now you can't do much better on the mainland. As far as the girls are concerned today, the muu muu is the great leveler. Who can guess, under all that yardage, what the reducing pills have done? The coming summer may pass into history as the one in which it was impossible to tell the girl who had eaten herself out of shape from the one who couldn't eat herself into one.

Or, just possibly, this summer will be immortal as that in which Pacific Islanders, descendants of the Mother Hubbard Brigade, laughed themselves sick that they have avenged their maternal ancestors' humiliation by sending the muu muu back to the mainland as high fashion.

Tina Lever, the fashion designer who once lived in Hawaii, tried to launch the muu muu 10 years ago. But it sank like a suit poodle. Apparently, it took staidness for Hawaii to turn the trick. Now who can't see the joke, are stuck with it including heaven help us, the bare feet that are de rigueur with the muu muu, Big Daddy, Daddy. It's going to be BIG this season.

covered themselves wrapped in a cocoon of calico. Undoubtedly, the only women who were happy about it were those who any place a large measure hit, were either a perfect 28 or 32. Could Kipling have had this situation in mind when he wrote "somewhere east of Suez, where the best is like the worst?"

Confusion must have reigned, so to speak. All of a sudden a century ago in the islands you couldn't tell Diana Dees from Skinny Emms, and right now you can't do much better on the mainland. As far as the girls are concerned today, the muu muu is the great leveler. Who can guess, under all that yardage, what the reducing pills have done? The coming summer may pass into history as the one in which it was impossible to tell the girl who had eaten herself out of shape from the one who couldn't eat herself into one.

Or, just possibly, this summer will be immortal as that in which Pacific Islanders, descendants of the Mother Hubbard Brigade, laughed themselves sick that they have avenged their maternal ancestors' humiliation by sending the muu muu back to the mainland as high fashion.

Tina Lever, the fashion designer who once lived in Hawaii, tried to launch the muu muu 10 years ago. But it sank like a suit poodle. Apparently, it took staidness for Hawaii to turn the trick. Now who can't see the joke, are stuck with it including heaven help us, the bare feet that are de rigueur with the muu muu, Big Daddy, Daddy. It's going to be BIG this season.

Dream Pal Is Answer To Problems

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Every body has a dream pal. I have one, too. I call him George Rustproof.

If science really wants to do something for mankind, it will quit worrying about the problems of outer space, and do something about those of inner space.

It will do something about removing the pressures of civilization that weigh on us all. And the best way I can think of for science to do that is to create millions and millions of George Rustproofs—at least one for every home.

Just who is this George Rustproof? What is he like?

Well, George is my dream version of the genius that sprang to attention whenever Aladdin rubbed his magic lamp. He is a metal slave, a robot if you will, but a collection of animated wires, nuts and bolts loyal to your every purpose.

George is the kind of true-blue friend everyone yearns for from birth. He may be only an electric wire, but he simply picks them up by the scruff of their neck, brushes their teeth—and tosses them bodily into their bunk.

At parties George mixes and serves the perfect martini; then politely but firmly throws out into the hall any guest who asks for a third one for the road.

George is also ready at any time, whenever you're feeling blue, to sit down and let you tell him the long sad story of your life. He will nod, listen, eyes gleam with affectionate appreciation. Now and then he runs around, pats you on the back and murmurs huskily, "Gee, Buddy, how can one man put up with so much and still keep smiling through?"

If George has a fault, it is this: You have to watch him to keep him from turning over the television set and trying to choke it to death. But this is because he thinks it is a rival trying to take his place.

As said earlier, George Rustproof is just a dream pal. But lately I find myself dreaming about him more and more.

Castro's Ransom Request Is High

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's offer to trade invasion prisoners for 500 bullfighters, viewed in strictly commercial terms, could cost from $6 million to $27 million.

A Key West equipment dealer, Charles E. Clark, said Wednesday night that his company's product ranges from $12,000 to $54,000 per unit, depending on its size.
