The SDN COLUMN

In an era that appears to be geared mostly to the future, it is surprising how many people are interested in their own social heritage and that of others.

One reason may be that Americans have become a race of travelers, and as modern transportation facilities enable more and more people to familiarize themselves with regions outside their own places of residence, it is likely to continue.

For many years, people in eastern regions of the United States have been capitalizing upon the natural interest man has in what has gone on before. Only in recent years have people in other regions of the country moved to "catch up" in this field.

In Texas, the bulk of the work is being done by the Historical Survey Committees, and despite a relatively late start, the progrss has been encouraging.

Scurry County has one of the most active Historical Survey Committees in the state, and the local panel has been cited several times for its work in marking and preserving objects of historical interest.

However, it still was a surprise to me to learn that no less than 33 historical markers have been erected in Scurry County. That is what it amounts to when you list them on paper, as Mrs. Esther Boren, secretary of the committee, did the other day.

Scurry County has seven Medallion Homes, six townsite markers and 20 other markers of historical sites and events available for public inspect-

BLOODY NIGHT IN ORANGEBURG

Students Die In Riots

By KENT KRELL
Associated Press Writer

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (AP) — Three Negro students were killed in a brief but bloody exchange of gunfire with police Thursday night in the fourth night of violence on two adjoining college campuses.

Thirty-seven other persons were injured in the outburst, which started when state troopers and National Guardsmen attempted to push the students back onto a campus to douse fires they had started.

The crack of gunfire or fireworks could be heard throughout the night from the grounds of South Carolina State College and Clafflin College, both predominantly Negro institutions, but this morning all was quiet.

The outbursts began Monday night with a rock-throwing demonstration against the All-Star Bowling Lanes, a privately owned alley operated by Harry K. Floyd on a segregated basis. Students from the two colleges have been trying for months to integrate the facility.

Thirteen persons were injured in flare-ups earlier this week.

Chief J. P. Strom of the State Law Enforcement Division said Cleveland Sellers, 25, South Carolina coordinator of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), was arrested after the incident Thursday night on charges of inciting to riot. He was taken to the South Carolina Penitentiary at Columbia and held under $50,600 bond.

Associated Press photographer Dozier Mobley, who was on the scene of the shootings, said the incident lasted only three or four minutes.

He said the students had set a bonfire near the entrance to South Carolina State College, another near a warehouse across a street, and another by throwing a gasoline bomb against a nearby home of an elderly white woman, Mrs. Mamie Brunson.

About 50 policemen moved in from an intersection 1½ blocks away where the college area had been sealed off. They were followed by about 50 National Guardsmen.

Mobley said the police ordered the Negroes back onto the campus so firemen could enter the area. The police then moved in and the Negroes began throwing rocks and bottles, Mobley said. One patrolman, D. J. Shealy, was struck with a club.

Police took Shealy to a cruiser, which left for a hospital. Then the police started back up a slope toward the group of about 75 Negroes and a shot rang out.

"Get down," the lead policeman yelled. "They're shooting at us!"

"Then the shooting started," Mobley said. "In a few minutes it was quiet and the police moved up the slope and started carrying down the dead and injured." Several ambulances carried them to Orangeburg Regional Hospital.

The dead included Sam Hammorr, 18, and Delano Middleton, 17, a high school pupil. Henry Smith, 18, died several hours later. Hammon and Smith were students at South Carolina State.

Red Pressure On Increase

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — Helicopters landed U.S. troops on Saigon's racetrack today to help rout out diehard Viet Cong forces as the North Vietnamese increased pressure against Da Nang and more Communist tanks were reported sighted near Khe Sanh.

Heavy fighting was reported across South Vietnam's northern sector, with 321 Communists and 67 U.S troops killed Thursday, most of them in battles around Khe Sanh and Da Nang and in Hue. Another 170 Americans were wounded.

Troops from the U.S. 199th Light Infantry Brigade were landed in the center of the Saigon racetrack and quickly took up positions to bolster South Vietnamese forces having slow going blasting the Reds out of Cholon, the Chinese quarter and adjoining areas on the southwest side of Saigon.

Thursday night the Viet Cong burned down a block of homes just south of the track. The region had deen declared pacified two days ago, but the Viet Cong either surfaced from hiding or slipped back into the city. A Viet Cong battalion is reported to control 20 blocks east and south of the race course.

It was the third time American troops ha' been used in the battle of Saigon that began last Wednesday. Paratroops of the 101st Airborne Division were helicoptered onto the roof of the U.S. Embassy when Red commandos invaded the embassy grounds Jan. 31. Two days later an armored column of the 25th Infantry Division helped clear out Viet Cong forces from the racetrack area.

Elsewhere below the northern provinces, the big Communist offensive against the cities launched 10 days ago appeared tapering off. But the U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese forces were still battling doggedly in Hue, the old imperial capital in the north, and fighting drew closer to Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and the nerve center for Allied operations in the northern provinces.

GARBAGE FESTERING

NY Guard Callup Refused

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay rejected early today the recommendations of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's special panel for ending the 8-day-old sanitation men's strike.

Hours later, Rockefeller turned down Lindsay's renewed call for National Guard help in removing the tons of festering garbage.

The striking sanitation union had agreed to the special panel's offer of a $425 annual pay increase, only $25 above a state mediator's proposal made before the strike. The city had also rejected the $400 settlement offer.

Asked if he thought the Guard would be called out, Rockefeller replied: "No, I honestly don't."

The governor said he was "very hopeful" that Lindsay would change his mind about the formula offered by the special mediators.

Shopstewards for the strikers, voted unanimously to accept the recommended settlement, which would have raised their pay $425 a year retroactive to July 1.

Grimland haggard at a predawn news conference, Lindsay declared: "I said yesterday the city would not pay blackmail in order to conclude this strike. The proposed settlement, in my view, asks the city to pay a little blackmail."

Lindsay was known to have felt that a strong stand might help bring an end to the rash of illegal civil employe strikes that have marked his administration. It was apparent he was disappointed in not getting firmer support from Rockefeller, a Republican like himself.

Garbage was piling up in the city's 6,000 miles of streets at the rate of 10,000 tons a day. Fire engines began regular patrols of the streets, and vacant lots were used as public burning sites.

The poorer neighborhoods, lined with tenements which lack incinerators, suffered most. Residents stacked garbage along the curbs in piles that overflowed into the streets. Wind scattered paper, baring the rotting residue of dinner tables.

Children still played in streets of these neighborhoods, but not all of them. "No sir, I won't let my kid go out in the street," said a lower East Side mother. 'And where are they going to go?"

A health emergency was declared. Officials feared an explosion of the rat population and an accompanying typhoid danger.

Midland Patrol Car In Fatal Mishap

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — A police patrol car and an automobile collided at an intersection in Midland late Thursday night, killing a minister's wife in the auto.

She was Mrs. Esther Dixon, about 41, wife of the Rev. Lloyd Dixon, pastor of the Free Methodist Church in Midland.

Alone in the patrol car was J. R. Holbrook, who received minor injuries. Investigators said Holbrook was answering a disturbance call.

Medders To Keep Farm

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—The Ernest Medders, who promoted rumors of an oil inheritance into a $3 million debt, will get to keep their showplace farm after all.

Joe Huffstutler, bankruptcy referee, signed a court order Thursday allowing them to keep the 185-acre core of their one-time extensive holdings. The farm is called Colonial Acres and was the scene of lavish parties given for Texas and national leaders.

The Medders' financial pyramid collapsed last year and they accepted bankruptcy. Under Texas law, a homestead cannot be taken for bankruptcy, and the Medders selected the farm as their claimed homestead.

Some of the creditors disputed the claim.

The Medders came to Texas from Memphis, Tenn., in 1961 and began building their farm holdings and soon were accepted in the best society.

Medders said in court he was able to borrow the money, most of it from the Poor Sisters of St. Francis, a Roman Catholic order. He believed he was an heir to the Pelham Humphries Estate, including oil-rich land in East Texas. The claims made by many persons to the supposed estate have been lost many times in courts.

US Transports Airlift Thousands

SAIGON (AP) — American transport plans began evacuating to safety today thousands of Vietnamese and Laotian soldiers and civilians who descended on the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh after the fall of the Lang Vei Special Forces camp.

Big C130 transports started flying the 5,000 to 6,000 refugees to Da Nang to refugee centers.

They included about 2,000 Laotian civilians and some soldiers from a Laotian army battalion who escaped to Lang Vei last month after their post in Laos was overrun by the North Vietnamese troops; local Brou mountain tribesmen, Vietnamese civilians and about 200 Vietnamese and Montagnard irregulars from the garrison of the Lang Vei Special Forces camp.

The horde of refugees streamed to the outer defensive wire of the Khe Sanh base late Wednesday and throughout Thursday, but the Marines refused to let them in and took away the weapons from the soldiers among them.

By Thursday afternoon, said Brig. Gen. Winant Sidle, chief of information of the U.S. Command, there was quite a mob of them along the defensive wire at Khe Sanh. There were Laotian soldiers, dependnts of the soldiers, Brou tribesmen and others, including probably some from the Lang Vei camp where the fighting was. By 3 p.m. yesterday there were five to six thousands of them there. Who knew who they were?"

Sidle said Col. David Lownds, the Marine commander at the Khe Sanh base, "faced a remarkable problem with all those guys on his hands. Some of them were armed and there was no one there to sort out who they were. He made what I believe was a wise decision. He put them all in one spot and took away their arms. After all, it was possible there was some of the enemy among them.

"This morning (Friday) the Marines are sorting them out. They moved them into different groups and they gave back the arms to the Laotian soldiers and the Vietnamese irregulars. Now they are moving them out of Khe Sanh."

OFFSHORE MINERAL WEALTH

Louisiana Asks Share Of Revenue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louisiana officials will launch a serious effort next week to persuade Congress and the country that federal income from mineral leases in the offshore areas should be divided among the states.

Under their theory Louisiana is entitled to a major share of this income, now estimated at about $500 million annually and increasing from year to year.

Members of the state's congressional delegation are slated to meet with Gov. Jon McKeithen and other state officials Monday in New Orleans to consider what legislative approach to take on the matter and the best strategy to follow.

McKeithen and Sen. Russell Long, D-La., are to testify Wednesday before a Senate Interior subcommittee which is considering legislation dealing, in part, with this offshore revenue.

Before this subcommittee is a bill by Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Interior Committee, which would earmark all the offshore revenues the next five years for the land and water conservation fund, which is used to buy park and outdoor recreation land.

The subcommittee also has an administration proposal that about $100 million of the offshore revenues be earmarked for the land and water conservation fund.

And a third bill before the subcommittee, by Long and Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., would divide the offshore revenues among the states. The method proposed would give a coastal state 37½ per cent of revenues derived from adjoining offshore leases and then would divide the remainder among all the states on a population basis.

Since the bulk of the offshore revenues come from oil and gas leases in the Gulf of Mexico beyond the Louisiana boundary, Louisiana would receive the bulk of the divided monies under such a formula.

In 1967, for instance, the offshore revenues totaled $676 million. Under the Louisiana formula, that state would have received something over $200 million.

However, the Louisiana bill introduced in the House by all the state's representatives and championed by Rep. Edwin Willis, D.—hasn't received much support, and most of the congressional delegation concede privately it has little chance. Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall, among others, has expressed opposition.

Hearing Set On Amendment Plea

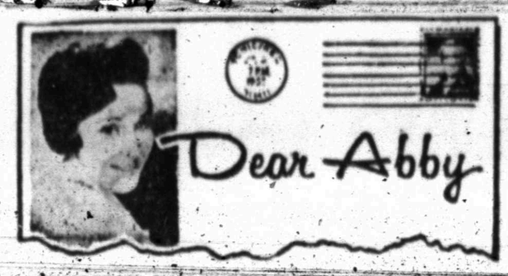

The Texas Water Rights Commission has set a hearing in Austin for 2 p.m. March 7 on an application by the Colorado River Municipal Water District to amend its permit for the Robert Lee lake.

The amendment will be for a terminal storage for highly mineralized waters removed from the normal low flow of the Colorado River above Colorado City. It does not increase the district's appropriation of water.

Included in the original permit was a provision for low water diversion works in order to improve the quality of water going into the Robert Lee basin. The permit, however, did not include provision for a terminal storage beside the river to hold the diverted, mineralized waters.

Because this does not alter the amount of water appropriated to the district and because it will improve quality of water below the diversion works, O. H. Ivie, general manager, said he was hopeful that the application would find no opposition.

If the amendment is granted by the commission, a meeting of the CRMWD board likely will be called a few days later to let contract for the diversion works and terminal storage. Also due to be let at that time is a water filtration plant for Humble's IAB Field in Coke County.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice is needed badly. I am a 15-year-old girl. My best friend (I'll call her Tammy) is also 15, and she's about three months pregnant. Tammy isn't married and she doesn't have one single friend but me.

The boy who got her pregnant took off, and she doesn't even know where he is now. She says she doesn't care, as he showed his true colors by running away, and she is better off forgetting him. I agree with her.

Abby, if Tammy's folks find out they will kill her. I can't ask my mother to help her. She wouldn't let me even speak to Tammy if she knew about this.

Tammy keeps talking about running away or killing herself. I can't take a chance on getting a letter at my house and neither can Tammy. Someone might get suspicious and open it, so will you please tell me in your column if there is a home for unwed mothers who would take my friend in? She doesn't have any money. Thank you.

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Find "SALVATION ARMY" in your telephone directory. Listed under it is BOOTH MEMORIAL HOSPITAL. Telephone either number, explain the situation, and they will help you. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I am a working girl; 23, married two years and am extremely happy with my husband and my job. However I have a problem which borders on the ridiculous.

I have had this same job for five years (long before I knew my husband) and I have always gone to lunch with a group of my co-workers. The men outnumber the women but most of the men are old enough to be my father. Furthermore, I am not naive, and I can tell when a man has more than just a plantonic interest in me. And believe me, nobody around here has!

My husband resents my lunching with these men. He thinks that because I am attractive and extremely bosomy, every man I know has designs on me.

His jealousy is getting me down. Must I give in and stop these harmless luncheons just to please a jealous husband? I pay for my own lunches and there are always other girls along.

BUGGED

DEAR BUGGED: If you "give in" to one unreasonable demand, a precedent will have been set, and others are sure to follow. There is nothing wrong with lunching with your co-workers. Tell your husband to grow up and to show a little more confidence in himself and in you.

DEAR ABBY: What happens to parents when they become grandparents? Mine are too young to be getting senile, but they certainly don't show the good judgment in handling MY children as they did when they raised me.

My parents ruled their children with an iron hand. No backtalk, we did as we were told, and if we forgot our manners we heard about it. We weren't permitted to eat between meals, and we had to be in bed with lights out at a certain time, and no nonsense.

But you should see the way they handle our children! All rules and regulations laid down at home are out of the window at the grandparents' house. The kids whine and beg until they get their own way. They talk back, and are fed soft drinks, candy, and cookies — all they want at all hours. And they don't have to nap or do anything they don't want to do.

I love my parents, Abby, but I wish they realized how tough they are making it for me when they do this. It's difficult for children of any age to tell their parents anything, so you would do me (and millions of others) a great service if you printed this. Thank you.

The E. W. Clark, A. D. Dodson, F. J. Grayum, the Harrell Ranch, W. A. Johnson, R. L. McMullan and W. B. Stanfield homes have been awarded historical medallions. The townsites of Dermott, Dunn, Fluvanna, Hermleigh, Ira and Snyder have been marked.

Also during the period of 1962-67, markers have included the "witness" tree, the county tree marker, the first oil well in the county, the courthouse, the J. Wright Mooar marker, First State Bank building, Canyon Reef Oil Field marker, O. P. (Pack) Wolf grave marker, Camp Springs, Marcy Expedition camp, Von Roeder Seed Farm, RS&P Railroad, Engine No. 5, Prairie Dog marker, Mackenzie Trail marker, county's first lawmen, the Knapp marker, Pete Snyder's store marker, the First Methodist Church and First Christian Church.

All of these markers call attention to places and people of significance to Scurry County's history. The most famous to outsiders may well be the J. Wright Mooar marker. It is the one beside the white buffalo replica on the northwest corner of the courthouse property. The buffalo replica calls attention to a white buffalo which was killed by Mooar northwest of Snyder.

The replica was the "brainchild" of Hugh (Brud) Boren Jr., chairman of the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee. However, I doubt that even Brud envisioned the interest that the white buffalo would create among passerby. People from out of town seem to be more interested in it than the home town citizens. But, people usually are more interested in the "sights" in somebody else's town than they are in those of their own.

Hollywood Hazardous

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Oceanographer Jacques Yves Cousteau came through unscathed when he recently explored Mediterranean depths for a lost French submarine. But he found the movie capital more hazardous.

Cousteau was given a traffic ticket as a pedestrian Thursday. Cousteau, 57, said he was returning to a television production office from lunch when two officers summoned him to their patrol car.

"Obviously they were sure there was something illegal about me because of my casual attire—corduroy pants and brown sweater," he said.

For 20 minutes they questioned him, he said, before writing a ticket for crossing the street against a red signal.

The usual fine is $10.

Six Die In Jericho Clash

TEL AVIV (AP) — Five Arab saboteurs and an Israeli soldier were killed in a clash today six miles north of Jericho on the western side of the Jordan River in territory occupied by Israel, the Israeli army announced.

The shooting occurred when an Israeli army patrol came upon a band of seven infiltrators.

The army reported earlier that 10 persons were killed on the Jordanian front Thursday: two Israeli civilians and three soldiers, four Arab raiders and one Swiss civilian.

However a Jordanian spokesman in Amman, said eight Jordanians, including a woman and two children, were killed and 43 wounded in an afternoon-long battle across the Jordan River on Thursday. A Jordanian spokesman claimed the Israelis turned big artillery on refugee camps.

The Israelis charged Jordan with igniting the flareup with a machine-gun barrage, and an army spokesman said three Israeli soldiers died in the battle across the river.

Humble Oil Asks Allowable Hike

HOUSTON (AP)—Humble Oil & Refining Co. has asked the Texas Railroad Commission to increase the state's February oil production allowable immediately.

Humble, the nation's largest producer of crude oil, hiked its February nominations for crude requirements from 597,000 to 617,000 barrels per day.

Humble, the domestic exploration, producing, refining and marketing affiliate of the Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) made the request in a telegram Thursday to Jim Langdon, chairman of the Railroad Commission the state's oil and gas regulatory body at Austin. The commission is to hold regular monthly proration hearing Feb. 15 to set the March allowable.

Langdon was not available for comment but commissioners Ben Ramsey and Byron Tunnell said they had not seen the telegram. However, Tunnell said Coastal States had requested an increased allowable.

"Humble Oil & Refining Co. respectfully requests an immediate increase in Texas allowable for the month of February," Humble's telegram said. "Humble has an immediate need for additional suitable crude oil to meet February demand and has been unable to purchase crude after extensive canvassing of the market."

The request was sent by J. F. Bennett, general manager of Humble's supply department.

Last week Langdon acknowledged the commission had been approached about boosting the February allowable but he said the commission was not ready at that time to call a special hearing.

"We want to watch it over the weekend," Langdon said.

He said there had been an unusually strong demand for domestic crude but added that hasty action of boosting allowables could pose "some inherent pitfalls."

The February allowable based on a 47 per cent factor was designed to yield about 3,319,170 barrels of crude a day.

Make Pralines A la New Orleans

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

IF YOU'RE a praline-fancier and favor the sugary-sweet variety made famous in New Orleans, then this recipe is for you.

Why are we so sure? Because recently a friend sent us a box of the pralines from New Orleans and we did a side-by-side taste test.

If you enjoy concocting candy at home, a candy thermometer is a worthwhile investment. But even with the thermometer, some candy-cooks like to make a water test. To be exact about this, drop exactly one-half teaspoon of the candy mixture (using the ½ teaspoon from a measuring spoon set) into ¾ cup of very cold water. If the mixture forms a soft ball that flattens when you remove it from the water, the candy has reached the soft-ball stage needed for this recipe.

After your pralines have been made and stored, you may expect them to turn a lighter color in spots. This is quite in order. We found the "bought" pralines sent to us from New Orleans had the same coloring shades.

Pralines have an interesting history. The story goes that they were originally sugar-coated almonds popular in Paris. When French cooks brought the idea to New Orleans, southern cooks concocted the pecan variety.

New Orleans Pralines

1 package (1 pound) light brown sugar
1 can (6 ounces net weight) evaporated milk, undiluted
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups pecan halves

Into a 2-quart saucepan turn the sugar, evaporated milk and corn syrup. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally, until temperature reaches 238 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of the mixture forms a soft ball when tested in very cold water. Remove from heat. Add butter; do not stir. Cool to lukewarm (110 degrees on a candy thermometer.) Add vanilla and beat until creamy. Stir in pecans. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper. Shape with a spoon into a 2½ inch circle, spreading pecans. Allow to remain undisturbed until the pralines are firm and sugared. Makes 1½ pounds.

France To Spend $108 Million On Culture, '68

By DANIEL GREGORY
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — France's minister of culture, Andre Malraux, walked up to the speaker's rostrum in the National Assembly and laid it by the line. He wanted 17 per cent more than last year in the name of French culture.

The deputies listened and with relatively little squabbling gave Malraux what he wanted.

What will Malraux do with his record $108 million budget?

Reminding the legislators of the radical implications of industrialized life, Malraux outlined a future role of the state whereby culture would be made free to the public in the same way as primary education.

"Our civilization involves the most brutal rupture with the past the world has ever known. There have been breaks already, such as the fall of Rome, but never have they occurred in the span of one generation. We are of the generation which will have seen the world transform itslf in the course of one life-span," he said.

"Now, for the first time, this civilization does not know its raison d'etre."

With preserving former values in mind, the ministry will continue its work of restoring and maintaining historical monuments with renewed vigor next year with an allocation of $4.4 million, an increase of $600,000.

Repairs, at the Louvre Museum and at the palaces of Fontainebleau and Versailles will total $13.3 million. Other historical monuments, castles and palaces will receive $12.6 million for restoration and upkeep, whie the allocation for national museums goes down by $3.2 million.

Love of the past and its treasures, said Malraux, has changed from being the exclusive interest of the bourgeoisie to that of national governments for the benefit of the state, primarily through nationalization. He said preserving their respective past had become an obsession of Red China, the Soviet Union, the United States, Egypt West Germany and Poland.

He gave the example of the United States where a so-called 18th Century furniture style, French provincial) had been created by borrowing from French and English designs.

"Our modern world is one of skyscrapers inhabited by the 18th Century," said Malraux.

Art and special expositions, particularly those from abroad, are proving to be a continuing success and last year's great attraction was the display of furniture, jewelry, statues and pure gold death-mask of Egyptian King Tutankhamen.

The display was seen by 1.3 million visitors at the rate of 7,000 a day. An exposition of Russian art treasures at the Grand Palais off the Champs-Elysses was an equal success.

The allocation for art exhibit, including those from overseas organized by the Ministry of Culture, again has been increased and will by $572,000 for 1968.

Malraux told the assembly he sought to increase the number of these exhibitions but stressed that organizational, maintenance and security costs increase proportionately.

The wavering French movie industry was given a slight break with a reduction in receipt taxes amounting to $730,000.

In justifying this action, Malraux pointed out that tax scales had not been changed toward movie making in 20 years and that is was still classified as a "luxury industry." The ministry's white paper underlined that film making in France had declined substantially during the last 10 years because of foreign competition.

In keeping with its reputation as a city of light, the budget for illuminated fountains at adjoining Versailles, Marly and St. Cloud was raised to $300,000.

The slow but sure increase in spare time made available to most as a fruit of industrialization was indicated by Malraux as an area needing greater recognition by governments in general.

"If a generation from now, as is most probable, we arrive at a four-day work week, it is evident that imagination will play a major role during the other three days," said Malraux.

As an example of what he has in mind — a modest start — Malraux announced that the ministry was boosting its nationay scholarship for drama and music by nearly 18 per cent to $12,627,400.

The rest of the budget will go for other projects and for administration of the growing Cultural Ministry.

Malraux applied his energies to the job in hand by starting in 1961 a project to clean the capital's historic buildings and monuments of several centuries of soot and dirt.

His activities since have kept him in the national and international public eye. The publication of his "Antimemoires" in the fall and subsequent discussion in some literary circles of his candidacy for the Nobel Literature Prize indicate further the scope of his personal involvement in cultural activities.

Eye-Witness Account Of Life Spying

CONTACT ON GORKY STREET. By Greville Wynne. As tense as any spy novel, this is a real life account of Wynne's participation in the celebrated Penkovsky affair.

Oleg Penkovsky Wynne called him Alex was a high ranking Soviet security officer. He gradually came to abhor the dictatorship of his country and delivered to the West great quantities of intelligence material.

It was Wynne's job to be the pipeline for getting this secret information out. As a businessman trained by British intelligence officers, he served as a shepherd for trade delegations between the two countries, and brought Penkovsky to London and Paris in 1961, where a whole battery of experts recorded, night after night, the Soviet officer's memorized data. Wynne also smuggled Penkovsky's microfilmed data out of Moscow.

In 1962 Wynne was kidnapped by the Soviets in Budapest while he was preparing an escape route for Penkovsky, unaware that the latter had been picked up in Moscow.

This is a running account of Wynne's arrest, his sojourn in Moscow's infamous Lubyanka prison, the joint "trail" of the two men in 1963, Wynne's commitment to a hellhole at Vladimir, and his eventual release in exchange for a Soviet spy.

The story of Wynne's gruelling physical battle for survival, his resistance to interrogation under appalling conditions, the farce of his well-rehearsed "trial," all make starkly terrifying reading.

This is a book full of shudders and terror, but it also is a record of the author's spirited indomitable fight for life and principle.

Celery seeds and dry mustard are excellent additions for an oil-and-vinegar dressing that is to be served with fruit salad.

Newport Opera Festival Canceled

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera will not return to Newport, R. I., next summer. The Met Board of Directors said the company could not again absorb a loss of $100,000, as it had to do in 1967.

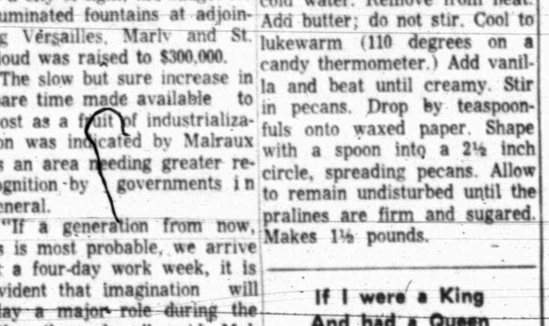

For the past two years the Metropolitan gave concert performances of opera at the open-air site of the Newport Jazz and Folk Festivals. Bad weather in 1967 caused low attendance and convinced the Met management that a covered performing area is necessary.

The Met had planned a Puccini Festival for Newport this year. Last summer it presented a Verdi Festival, with song, chamber music and other smaller works of Verdi performed as well as full-length operas.

Wallace Claims Backlash Is Against Big Government

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — George C. Wallace, the former Alabama governor seeking the presidency as a third-party candidate, has long insisted his political support stems from a backlash against big government, rather than a white backlash against civil rights.

"There isn't any white backlash that I know about," he said in an interview last year.

"There is a strong backlash among the voters all across the country but it isn't against anyone because of race," he said. "It is against the idea of a big federal government trying to solve problems that should be solved on the local level."

But though the segregationist slogans and appeals for defiance of federal courts that made Wallace a symbol in the Deep South have largely disappeared from his public statements, the racial issue is never far away.

Wallace's statement Thursday in which he formally announced his candidacy contained only one brief allusion to race—a comment that "The typical American of all races is tired of riots." But the subject dominated reporters' questions.

Asked whether he still believed in school segregation, he said, "Public education is a problem for determination by the states."

Although "we have supported in the past a separated school system" in Alabama, "we have an integrated school system in our state.

"We have had more mingling of the races in Alabama" than in any Northern city, he said, adding: "People of all races are wanted and needed in Alabama.

"Our state has obeyed the laws," he went on. "We don't advocate disobedience."

But in March 1962, waging his successful primary campaign for the governorship, Wallace pledged to defy federal court desegregation orders. He recalled that as a state judge he had refused to permit voting records to be handed over to the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

"I plead guilty to refusing to obey this federal court order that this federal judge had issued," he said at the time.

Five years later, in a farewell speech to the legislature before turning the governorship over to his wife, Lurleen, Wallace sounded a similar note.

"We should never stop fighting judcial tyranny," he said, "until it is rid of judges and bureaucrats who believe that their individual 'notions' are superior to the law written in the Constitution which they swore to uphold and defend."

Wallace was asked Thursday what he would do about desegregation and civil rights if elected president. He said he would appoint different kinds of judges and ask Congress to repeal civil rights laws.

But first, he went on, "I would stop bureaus from writing guidelines that go beyond the law.

"The first thing I'm going to do is to bring all those briefcase-toting lawyers from HEW back to Washington and throw all of their briefcases in the Potomac."

Wallace and HEW—the Department of Health, Education and Welfare—have been at odds for years over HEW's moves to desegregate schools and hospitals.

He was asked how he thought he could end what he termed "crime running rampant in every city of the nation."

"If I were the president of the United States, you could walk in the streets of Washington, D. C., at any time," he said, "even if we had to bring in 30,000 troops and station one every 30 feet with a bayonet."

Then, without being asked, he looked at the reporters with a questioning expression and said: "When has it come to have racial overtones to say you are standing fo. law and order."

Junior Editors Quiz on MERCURY

QUESTION: Why is mercury called a metal when it is a liquid?

• • • •

ANSWER: We think of metals as hard shiny substances. It seems strange to realize that mercury, which we see in fluid form in our thermometers, is actually a metal. But mercury meets the chemical specifications for metals, in that it conducts heat and electricity, may be fused with other metals, and so on. All metals will become fluid with enough heat. The peculiar thing about mercury is that it is in a fluid form at temperatures in which we live, while other metals are solid. If the temperature falls to 38 degrees below zero, however, it will become solid. When mercury is heated, it expands in size and when cooled, becomes smaller. This is why it is used in thermometers (right), since it keeps going up and down inside the glass tube and so tells us exactly what the temperature is. Fluid mercury rolls along quickly. It was named after the mythical Mercury, messenger of the Roman gods, who was very fast and quick. Mercury has many uses. It is combined with chlorine to make the medicine calomel. Mercuric chloride is used as an antiseptic. Mercury is used in making a red paint called vermilion.

Miniskirts A Problem For Males

By BERNIE GOULD

NEW YORK (AP) —One of the problems facing the American male today is what to do about the miniskirt.

Most of us males are cowards. We sneak a look. But when Miss Miniskirt glances back at us, we look away, hurriedly. That's where we make the big mistake, being embarrassed.

We shouldn't sneak, we should stare. And if Miss Miniskirt looks our way, we should stare even harder.

She may sit more primly on the subway or bus seat opposite us. She may even try—though it's probably a losing battle—to jerk her skirt down lower.

Above all, she'll be furious. Furious that we stared at a portion of her anatomy that she left uncovered purposely so we would look her way.

Isn't that just like a woman?

The point is that men—some of us, at any rate—have developed guilt complexes over these miniskirts. We're deathly afraid of being caught staring. And subconsciously we hate the miniskirt because it makes us feel uncomfortable.

Well, it wasn't our idea for the gals to wear above-the-knee skirts. Sure, we enjoy looking—as long as the gal we're looking at isn't our mother, sister, or wife, or girlfriend, or daughter. It's okay, of course, if it's someone else's mother, or sister, or wife, or girlfriend, or daughter.

So the answer to the problem of the miniskirt is to do just what the girls want us to do—look. Even stare.

And maybe someday the women will wise up, and the skirt will go down. Then men can breathe a sigh of relief, feel comfortable again on subways, buses and in cafeterias, and daydream about how wonderful it was when the gals used to wear their skirts above the knees.

Bengals Begin Home Stand Against Ponies

Snyder's Tigers tackle Sweetwater's Mustangs on the County Coliseum court tonight with hopes of remaining in the District 3-AAA title chase.

Sweetwater already has been eliminated from title considerations but the Ponies could spoil Snyder's title bid. The Tigers must win to remain in contention for the crown. Tipoff is set for 8 p.m. The "B" contest gets underway at 6:15 p.m.

Coach Ned Underwood of the Bengals sent his squad through another drill Thursday — this time on the Coliseum boards. All hands were pronounced in top shape, both physically and mentally.

Tommy Bullard, Mickey Almond, Drake Snyder, Jim Patrick and Frankie Grimmett were working together on the first unit. The alternate unit had Jed Williamson, Mitch Rambin, Jerry January, Gus Tovar and Benny Ward. Craig Bell alternated with Tovar on the second team.

The Tigers, with a 3-1 record in the second half, are tied with Levelland and Lamesa for second place while Dunbar, unbeaten in four starts, holds a one tilt lead.

Leading the opposition tonight will be Sidney Green, 6-5 post man who was all-district last season. He'll get help from Bill Donnelly, 6-1½ and one of the better outside shooters in the loop. Other starters are Kenneth Williams, Aubrey McCain and Bobby Faust or Joe Butler. Bobby Towell and Kenneth Monroe also are ready to lend a helping hand.

"They run a 2-1-2 set on offense with a single post," said Underwood, "and they employ a man-to-man defense and like to press some."

He said the Tigers couldn't afford to underestimate their opponents at this stage of the race.

"We've got to win the remainder of them," he said.

Coach Jerry McLeod said he was pleased with the way the "B" team is operating now. He sent the squad through another drill Thursday on the Tiger court.

"That McNair (Lee) is a hustler on defense — he's aggressive and can hit with a variety of shots."

McLeod listed probably starters as follows: McNair, Randy Rushing, Dennis Carlton, Bill Hood and Don Light.

The varsity shouldn't have too much difficulty with the Mustangs, but the "B" team was beaten by the Ponies in their last outing, 90-85, and will be out to even the score.

Eligibility Upheld At Lamesa

The District 3-AAA executive committee held a meeting at Lamesa yesterday morning and upheld the eligibility of two Golden Tornado basketball players — Jerry (Tap) Mason and Carl Collins.

The meeting was called by District Chairman Paul Jones of Littlefield at the request of Lamesa. Lamesa had received word from Dr. Rhea Williams of the University Interscholastic League that the eligibility of Mason and Collins had been called into question by several other members of the district.

During the meeting, it was determined that both boys are eligible, there being insufficient evidence to the contrary. It was brought out that Collins went by the name of Carl Burton last year. He moved to Hobbs, N.M. last summer but did not enroll in school there, apparently returning to Lamesa prior to the beginning of the current school year of his own accord.

Another meeting could be called if additional evidence comes to light, it was pointed out.

Attending from Snyder were Ben Brock, high school principal, and Wayne Tryone, athletic director.

Idle Pipers Go Back Into First

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Pittsburgh stands idle the rest of the American Basketball Association season, it might win the Eastern Division title, but the same is partially true for Minnesota.

The Pipers took the day off Thursday night and slipped back into first place by five percentage points over Minnesota, which dropped a 123-121 decision at New Jersey on Bruce Spraggins' free throws after the final buzzer.

The night before it was the Muskies who took advantage of an off day to gain the top spot while Pittsburgh lost. They get another chance tonight with an open date while Pittsburgh plays at Oakland.

In other games, Denver broke Indiana's five-game winning streak with a 98-91 victory in Kokomo, Ind., and New Orleans lost to Anaheim 122-118 on the West Coast.

In the National Basketball Association, Chicago routed Detroit 131-110, Baltimore topped San Diego 106-102, Los Angeles fell to Seattle 115-110 and San Francisco stopped Cincinnati 126-109.

After 60 minutes of basketball, Minnesota had to sit by and watch Spraggins drop the last of his 30 points that spoiled the Muskies' 20-6 surge to tie the game at 121. Erv Inniger produced the tie for Minnesota with a jump with 10 seconds left before Mel Daniels fouled Spraggins under the basket at the buzzer.

Les Hunter had 41 points and Daniels 24 for Minnesota.

Byron Beck spurred Denver with 29 points and 18 rebounds. The Rockets broke open the game with a 23-4 burst in the first half and took a 58-43 halftime lead as Beck had 21 of his points.

Steve Chubin collected 11 of his game-high 31 points in the last six minutes in triggering Anaheim's triumph over New Orleans. The Amigos led by seven points before the Bucs drew even 99-all with seven minutes left.

A minute later Chubin caught fire and capped his outburst with a pair of free throws with eight seconds left, giving Anaheim a four-point edge.

Doug Moe topped New Orleans with 23 points.

Volleyball Girls Rip Cooper Twice

Snyder High School's girls volleyball team defeated Abilene Cooper in Tiger gym last night. The varsity put down the Cougars 15-9, 13-15 and 15-0 while the "B" team whacked the visitors 15-11 and 15-8.

Mina Emerson led the varsity girls with 12 points, and Gracie Hill contributed nine. The Cooper girls had difficulty returning the serves of Mina. She served nine straight before the opposition was able to pick one up.

Becky Austin tallied 10 points for the "B" team girls, and she served 10 in a row.

Coach Kay Echols said she was pleased with the Snyder girls. They go to Colorado City next Tuesday.

Villanova's Bill Andrejko had a .610 completion percentage during the college football season. He hit with 114 passes in 187 attempts.

Westbrook Juniors Win

FLUVANNA — Westbrook won two Junior High basketball tilts that were hotly contested here Thursday night. The visiting boys won 30-25 and the girls emerged triumphant 22-12.

M. Fuentes paced the boys with 13 points while Luis Contreras led Fluvanna with nine points. Westbrook overcame a 10-11 deficit in the first half.

Westbrook's girls outscored Fluvanna in each of the first three quarters behind the 11-point production of Janie Matlock. Pam Shoemaker led Fluvanna girls with nine points.

The varsity is at Westbrook tonight.

Foot Hockey?

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Romania hockey goalie Constantin Dumitras has developed a unique way of putting the puck in play after a save. Instead of dropping it to the side or placing it on the ice and kicking it as most goalies do, he punts it much like an American football player.

Changes Plans

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Craig Flakman, U.S. hockey player who suffered a dislocated ankle in a game against Sweden, now has problems of another sort. He and his wife Sandy were planning on going to ski in Germany after the Olympics. "I guess we will go to Spain and sit in the sun instead," he said.

Frenchman Killy Takes Gold Medal In Olympic Ski Race

By MORRIS ROSENBERG
Associated Press Writer

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Jean Claude Killy, France's cool colossus of the ski slopes, won the men's downhill race at the Winter Olympic Games today while three American girls sprang a major surprise by sharing silver medal honors in the 500-meter speed skating test.

Killy, 25-year-old ace of the powerful French Alpine team, beat countryman Guy Perillat by a slender margin for the gold medal in the downhill, with J. Daniel Daetwyler of Switzerland third and the four-man American contingent far off the pace.

The victory opened Killy's bid to match the 1956 feat of former Austrian star Toni Sailer, who won all three Olympic Alpine events — the downhill, slalom and giant salom.

Mary Meyers of St. Paul, Minn., Dianne Holum of Northwood, Ill., and Jenny Fish of Strongsville, Ohio, provided the speed skating fireworks, finishing in a startling three-way tie behind gold medalist Ludmila Titova of Russia in the women's 500-meter race.

The American trio finished with identical times of 46.3 seconds—two-tenths of a second behind the winner—and each will receive a silver medal, highest award ever captured by U.S. girls in Olympic speed skating competition.

Killy, the world's premier skier, zipped down the Chamrousse slopes in one minute, 59.85 seconds to win the downhill race, postponed Thursday because of bad weather, by less than one-tenth of a second.

Perillat, starting in the No. 1 position, had set a bristling race of 1:59.93. Daetwyler finished in 2:00.32 and fourth-place Heinrich Messner of Austria in 2:01.03.

Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., skiing on a tender left ankle which he sprained two days ago during practice, could do no better than 18th, with a 2:03.40 clocking.

Dennis McCoy of Bishop, Calif., was 21st in 2:04.82, but the other two U.S. starters, Jere Elliott and Jim Barrows, both of Steamboat Springs, Colo., were among five of the 62 skiers who did not finish.

"I just skied badly," Kidd said. "I was terrible at the turns. My ankle was all right. It gave me no trouble."

Killy announced after the race that he would retire from competition after the World Cup race in Heavenly Valley, Calif., April 5-7. "I'm very happy about this victory," he said. "I'm especially happy I showed that I was in as good form as at Portillo two years ago."

Killy won the downhill event at the 1966 world championships at Portillo, Chile.

The 2,890-meter downhill course was slowed by above-freezing temperatures when the race, which had been postponed Thursday because of wind, snow and fog, got underway.

Both Kidd and McCoy said the course was very fast in the top reaches and slow on the lower part.

Unknown Powell Leads Open Field

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The par wreckers of golf, who had a pretty busy day in the first round, set forth again today in the $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open Tournament with virtually unknown Jimmy Powell in the lead.

Powell, a strapping 6-footer who teaches the game for a living at Indian Hills Golf Club in Riverside, Calif., gave such more renowned pros as Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper and Arnold Palmer a lesson on how to whip the Torrey Pines Golf Club's par 36-36—72.

He did it Thursday over the 6,792-yard layout with 32-32—64, the lowest score of the 1968 PGA winter tour, and moved into today's play with a lead of two strokes.

Nicklaus, ending a three-week vacation from competition, was three shots back of the leader with 33-34—67. Casper was in the 68 bracket after 34-34 and Palmer was even par with 36-36—72.

Sixty-six of the 144 starting pros bettered par. It was rather frightening. But Nicklaus and some of the others predicted that the bombardment would relax when the tees are put further back and the course lengthened in the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Four players were tied at 66—Ron Reif with a 31-35; Ray Floyd, 33-33; Ron Funseth, 32-34, and Tom Weiskopf, 32-34.

Nicklaus was deadlocked with Dave Hill and Marty Fleckman at 67. Casper was asked if he was surprised that a 68 still left him in a tie for ninth place.

"Thats the way this game goes," said Casper.

Bulls Halt Loss Streak

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Bulls, who had lost nine games in a row, gave the Detroit Pistons an excellent chance to make it 10, but the Pistons seemed too embarrassed to take advantage of it and now the Bulls are working on a winning streak of one.

Late in the second quarter of their National Basketball Association game Thursday night, the Bulls were trailing by 15 points. Imagine their surprise when they won by 21, 131-110.

Jerry Sloan led a drive late in the first half that closed the gap at the intermission to 61-57 and early in the third period Barry Clemens, with five points, sparked a Chicago surge of 10 straight points and the Bulls were never threatened after that.

In other NBA games, Baltimore edged San Diego 106-102, Seattle whipped Los Angeles 115-110 and San Francisco humbled Cincinnati 126-109.

In the American Basketball Association, New Jersey edged Minnesota 123-121, Denver beat Indiana 98-91 and Anaheim upended New Orleans 122-118.

Jim Washington led the Bulls with 22 points and Sloan had 20 while Dave Bing had 22 for the Pistons.

IRA WINS 3 OF 4 WITH LORAINE IN 70-B SHOW

IRA — The host Bulldogs won three of four tilts with Loraine here Thursday night. The varsity boys took their District 70-B clash by a 69-62 count while the girls came out ahead, 36-24. In the Junior contests, Ira's girls won 40-14 but the boys fell, 32-35.

Johnny Ezell roped 23 points to pace the varsity boys while Doug White and Ricky Holladay contributed 10 points. It was an overtime match in which Ira put in seven points in the extra period while holding Loraine scoreless.

Louis Rose and Tim Hamilton led Loraine scorers with 20 and 18 points respectively while Mike Walker made a 10-point contribution.

Ira's varsity girls allowed only one point in the middle two periods, although they trailed 9-10 after one quarter. The strong performance in the middle two periods boosted Ira into a commanding 27-11 lead, and they fought off a late rally to preserve the victory.

Connie Sterling and Carolyn Rogers were high for Ira, each putting in 11 points. Gaye Green rang the hoops for 14 points for Loraine.

Jan Kruse and Janie Roddy meshed 11 and 10 points respectively to lead the Junior girls to victory, but Loraine held the upperhand in the boys tilt.

Next Tuesday, Fluvanna will host Ira in two varsity contests.

South Viets Oust French Newsman

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government today gave Francois Mazure, a correspondent for the French news agency, Agence France Presse, 24 hours to get out of the country.

The government accused Mazure and his agency of writing articles "detrimental to the well being of South Vietnam." Nguyen Ngoc Linh, director-general of information, said many articles by AFP Newsmen were "pro-Viet Cong" and AFP was "spreading false rumors and false news."

Linh added that Mazure was being expelled because he "allowed himself to be captured" briefly by the North Vietnamese in Hue and "was writing about North Vietnamese operations on South Vietnamese soil."

Linh warned foreign newsmen that the government takes a dim view of correspondents who talk with the Viet Cong or North Vietnamese troops. Government sources said the government first had planned to close the AFP bureau in Saigon, which has serveral newsmen in addition to Mazure.

Mazure is the second foreign newsman expelled from South Vietnam this year. The government refused to renew the visa of Everett G. Martin of Newsweek magazine and he left last month.

House Education Panel Slates Meet

AUSTIN (AP)—The House Education Committee will meet in Kilgore Feb. 20 for the first of 10 public hearings over the state to determine Texas' vocational and technical education needs, Rep. George Hinson, Mineola, announced Thursday.

Hinson, committee chairman, said, "Texas stands tall in many fields of education, but vocational-technical education is not one of them, I regret to say.

"We must find out why we are lagging behind other states comparable to Texas in this area of educational opportunity, and what the real needs are."

Bankruptcy Trend Growing

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If present trends continue, some 190,000 Americans will file personal bankruptcy petitions this year, about 18 times the number of just 20 years ago. About $1.5 billion in bills will be written off.

This estimate, which comes from Linn Twinem, chairman of the Consumer Bankruptcy Committee of the American Bar Association, reflects the abuse of credit not only by recipients but very often by the grantor as well.

So disturbing has the trend become — bankruptcies are growing at a rate faster than the population or the use of credit— that the Bar Association and others are now trying to have the Bankruptcy Act amended.

The association has endorsed a House bill that would give referees in bankruptcy discretionary authority to deny petitions in cases where it is felt a wage earner can pay his debts out of future earnings.

As matters stand now, individuals file for bankruptcy not only because they cannot pay their bills but because bankruptcy is so easy. The stigma that existed 15 years ago seemingly has diminished with the growth of credit and the mobility of individuals.

The factors that drive a person toward bankruptcy, however, have not lessened. They may have become worse, in fact. Overloading of an individual with credit, often at difficult repayment terms, is a widespread abuse. Threats to garnish salaries or to repossess furnishings often is the activator.

Especially disturbing to Twinem is that many bankruptcies may be unnecessary.

"Studies conducted by universities have determined that from 25 per cent to 45 per cent of the people that filed petitions could have paid their debts out of future earnings," he says, "if they had been properly advised and so disposed."

This place much of the blame on legal advisers themselves, some of whom are unfamiliar with alternatives to straight bankruptcy, and on businessmen, who generally are felt to have a responsibility to educate their customers.

In Twinem's view, many people overloaded with bills would be better off seeking relief in Chapter 13 of the Bankruptcy Act. This enables a person to avoid bankruptcy by paying debts out of earnings over a three-year period.

However it imposes a three-year supervisory obligation on the court's bankruptcy referee, whereas if he advises the petitioner to file for straight bankruptcy the matter is handled completely in a few weeks.

Merchants naturally like Chapter 13 because they get some of their money back. But why should an individual want to pay his bills when he can be released from them? Obviously for personal reasons, of course.

Twinem offers a few more reasons for using Chapter 13: an individual obtains protection from creditors and assistance in prorating bills, he cannot lose equity in property whereas he might in straight bankruptcy, he can be released from burdensome contracts he retains a much better credit record.

Students Take To Air

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Because their city is nearly 500 square miles in size, urban affairs students at the University of Southern California took to the air. Thirty-two students inspected Los Angeles by helicopter in order to get an over-all view of metropolitan problems. The goal of the class, said a spokesman, is to train students to "think urban."

Composer To Wed Studio Secretary

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Composer Meredith Willson, 65, and Rosemary Patricia Sullivan, 46, a movie studio secretary, took out a marriage license Thursday for a Valentine's Day wedding.

Willson, who wrote the musical "The Music Man," said they would be married privately at a friend's home and honeymoon in Hawaii.

It will be the third marriage for Willson and the first for Miss Sullivan, a native of Marion, Ohio. His second wife, Rini, a Russian-born actress, died of cancer in December 1966 at 54.

Extra Benefit For Mayor

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Miss Ann Uccello has discovered an interesting fringe benefit in her job as Hartford's mayor—mail from would-be suitors.

The attractive 45-year-old Republican became First Lady of Hartford when she polled the most votes in last November's City Council election.

Then the mail began coming in. "Judging from your picture in our paper, and from your outstanding qualifications, I don't see how you have remained unmarried," wrote one Louisianan.

Harry, a Pennsylvnia resident, is another letter-writing admirer: "I have some swell newspaper pictures of you and think you are very attractive." Harry was kind enough to enclose two photographs of himself.

And a Connecticut songwriter penned the following lyric:

"Love love love love love love love
"That is all I dream about
"Love love love love love love love . . ."

Asks Hike In Pensions

AUSTIN (AP) — Ausin Rep. Wilson Foreman asked Gov. John Connally Thursday to permit the special legislative session this year too consider raising retirement pay for state employes.

Foreman, in a letter sent to Connally and distributed to Capitol reporters, said funds are available in the retirement system to give a "substantial increase."

He noted that Connally vetoed a bill last year to increase retirement pay. Connally criticied the bill because legislators were included in it.

"It was extremely unfortunate," Foreman said, "that some of the members of the legislature were more interested in looking out for their own future welfare by putting into the bill this large percentage increase for their retirement."

Exhumation Is Delayed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Thursday that excavation for graves of convicts whom prison inmates said were murdered and secretly buried would cease until he is assured such excavation is legal.

Rockefeller said Thursday he had asked the state police to check the legal aspects of exhumation and report their findings to him.

The State Penitentiary Board had given Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton the authority to dig at will and Murton had planned to resume digging at Cummins Prison Farm next week.

Three skeltons were discovered at Cumnins Jan. 29 after inmates informed Murton they had seen prisoners killed and secretly buried at the prison.

Student Is Expelled

DENISON (AP) — A student, 17, accused of hitting a teacher and shoving him against a wall was expelled Thursday by the school board. A doctor took five stitches in the head of the teacher, David Donohoo.
