PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK ...pages 9-11

14 Pages-1 Section Vol.73 No.19 | P.O. Box 92, Colorado City, Texas 79512 Sunday, March 5, 1978 | 15¢

JUDGING BY THE SMILES on this youngster's face, school really isn't all that bad. Public School Week begins tomorrow (Monday) with open houses and special activities planned in some of the schools. See Pages 9-11 of this issue for a look at what is happening during Public School Week.

Ambulance Service Slated As Reason

Three City Policemen Submit Resignations

Detective Sergeant Pat Fuller, Patrolman Joe Bob Martinez and Officer James Elston, members of the Colorado City Police Department, resigned recently.

Fuller, 28, has five years of experience, who was described by the County Attorney Pat Barber as "very efficient" and by his superior officer as "the best," gave this as his official notice:

"I request that you accept this as my letter of resignation from the Colorado City Police Department. My reasons are many, but all stem from the department being forced to drive an ambulance for Mitchell County Ambulance Service.

"The Service has been a thorn in the side of this department and I feel the City Council should have demanded a new system be established when the County and Hospital District pulled their men off the ambulance two years ago and placed the whole system on the Police Department.

"I have come to realize that this city's government could care less how much stress is placed on the men of the department as long as the job is done and they receive no complaints from voters.

"It is this non-caring that has prompted me to seek employment elsewhere, so I can continue in my chosen profession of law enforcement without the burden of a second profession hindering me or the department.

"As far as the Police Department is concerned, I have never worked for a better man nor has this department ever functioned as well as it does today. I have seen 32 people come and go in this department in my four and a half years and I am sad to say that it will not stop with my leaving. I wish it would.

"It will take a City Council that will fully back their appointed department heads and city manager, and citizens who care about all public servants and work with them in making Colorado City a safe and friendly place to live.

"I will always consider Colorado City my home and this Police Department my department. I only hope that the few good people in this town wake up and do something constructive before they lose the best chief this department has ever had."

Martinez's letter stated that his employment with the Colorado City Police Department would terminate Tuesday.

"Leaving was a difficult decision because this department is one of the best in the state for a town this size, but the ambulance service adds too much stress to a job that is at best difficult," Martinez stated. "My profession is law enforcement and I feel the ambulance service is a hindrance. I only hope that my next employer will treat me as well as you (Police Chief Fred McWhorter) have during my

Revenue Sharing Shown In Budget

Colorado City Council received a proposed budget for 1978-79 from City Manager James Campbell in a work session Tuesday.

The budget contained information as to the revenue sharing budget for the past year as well as a projected revenue sharing budget for the coming year.

The federal government allocates revenue sharing funds according to the population of the city. These funds are sent directly to the city government.

This past year Campbell and the City Council used those funds as follows:

City Hall remodeled, $5,098.20; Police Station remodeled, $5,400; Wallace Center, $2,500; Pickups (2), $7,142; Kindercare Center, $8,400; Mower for Ruddick Park, $2,125; Landfill loader, $36,590.75; Police cars (3), $14,135.28; Restroom (Ruddick Park), $3,852.19; Street Department building, $25,205; Police teletype, $1,516; for a total of $111,964.42.

The $25,205 indicated for Street Department Building was borrowed from the bank and $5,000 was paid on that note this year. The balance is to be paid next year.

The Wallace and Kindercare Center entries are contributions made by the city toward the operational costs of these two centers.

In next years proposed budget an estimated $52,676 in revenue sharing funds will be received and the expected expenditures are as follows:

Prior expenses, -0-; Street Maintenance building, $21,000; Kindercare Center, $8,400; Fire Department equipment, $5,000; Street Department equipment, $6,000; Police cars (2 new), $9,000; Wallace Center, $2,500; for a total of $51,900.

The council proposed salary increases above the eight per cent set forth in Campbell's proposal. The four department supervisors and their salaries are as follows:

--Brenda Tarter, financial supervisor, current salary, $10,080, eight per cent increase, $10,920, council increased to $12,120.

--Fred McWhorter, Police Chief, current salary, $11,640, eight per cent increase, $12,600, council increase to $13,680.

--Julian Mendoza, street supervisor, current salary, $10,320, eight per cent increase, $11,160, council increase to $12,360.

--Buford Rich, water treatment supervisor, current salary, $9,720, eight per cent increase, $10,800, council increase to $11,760.

City Manager, James Campbell is currently making $16,800. The council always sets this salary so no proposed increase was suggested. The council voted to give him a $3,000 increase bringing his salary to $19,800.

In addition to the salary received by the City Manager, he also receives $2,400 a year for car allowance.

The Water Treatment Supervisor is also furnished a rent free house and utilities.

Another item listed in the budget was a motel occupancy tax collected from travelers who use local motel facilities.

The tax went into effect Oct. 1 and first revenues were received in January amounting to $2,358.83.

This money, by law, must be used to promote tourism. The council will accept requests for this money from the community and will allocate it to promote tourism.

The Chamber of Commerce has submitted a list of suggestions for use of the money. They suggest the funds be used to publicize the Railhead Arts and Crafts Round-up, a reception for hunters and other scheduled events.

The council will review each request separately to determine its merit.

Western Auto Is Scene Of Crime

Western Auto on First and Walnut was burglarized Saturday morning.

About $3,248 worth of merchandise was reported stolen.

An estimated $810 worth of damage was done to the store when robbers apparently heaved a large rock through a plate glass window on the south side of the building to gain entrance sometime between 3-5:30 a.m.

An inside burglar alarm was ripped from the wall and all the wiring leading to the alarm was torn away.

The garage door leading into the shop area was ripped away apparently by crowbars and a vehicle backed into the shop.

Items listed as taken to date are two 25 inch TV's; two 9-inch portable TV's; one 40 channel CB radio; three digital clock radios; one eight track player; one AM-FM stereo recorder; one AC-DC-AM-FM radio and two car radios. Inventory is incomplete at this time, according to Police Chief Fred McWhorter who is investigating the break-in.

Palmer Announces Candidacy

"My family has been involved with the Colorado City Independent School District 44 years," said Coleen Smith Palmer, candidate to the school board.

Mrs. Palmer noted that she has been closely connected with the school system since she, her husband and three children attended Colorado City schools.

"Rather than talk about the problems in the school system, I thought I could try to do something about them," said Mrs. Palmer.

The "back to basics" method of teaching is something the school systems have incorporated into the classroom recently and Mrs. Palmer claims she is a strong supporter of that method.

"I have always felt that getting away from basics was bad," Mrs. Palmer said.

Born in Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. Palmer has lived in Colorado City since 1945.

Owner and operator of the gift ship, The Occasion, Mrs. Palmer has been active in the Girl Scouts, the Playhouse and her business is a member of the Chamber of Commerce. She has also been Lion's Club Sweetheart.

Mrs. Palmer and her husband have three daughters. They are Mrs. Margie Hays, who lives in Odessa, Jackie, who is a business education major at Texas Tech, and Mickie, who attends Colorado Middle School.

Another item to be discussed is the "Shop at Colorado City First" campaign, an idea launched by Jerry Putman, Chamber president. The object of the campaign is to encourage people to shop locally.

The possibility of the Colorado City Chamber joining the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is another item slated on the agenda. The matter of joining the Playhouse will also be considered.

Other items on the agenda include:

Rehearsals for the play will begin March 27 and the play will be presented in late May.

Annie Get Your Gun is currently in rehearsal at Colorado Playhouse and will be presented in April.

Goss Seeks Council Election

"I believe that fiscal responsibility begins at city hall and I would be inclined to vote against spending money merely for the sake of spending money," said Tom Jay Goss II, candidate for councilman.

"I ran for the City Council in 1977 and was defeated by one vote," said Goss. "I do not interpret this as an overwhelming mandate from the voters of Colorado City to run again, but I have had many friends ask that I do, so I'll try."

Goss, a photographer and writer, owns Goss Studio and is a correspondent to area newspapers.

In the past, Goss has served as chairman of the Mitchell County Red Cross. He has also worked with the scouting program in Mitchell County.

Prior to his retirement in February 1977, Goss worked for the U.S. Post Office. He was a clerk, assistant postmaster and a rural carrier.

Woman Of The Year Is Active In Community

"This isn't possible," Jan Lemons said when she accepted the award for being named the 1977 Business and Professional Club Woman of the Year at the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet held in late January.

Mrs. Lemons explained to the group that she had been on the committee to choose the Woman of the Year and another candidate had been selected.

But Mrs. Lemons was the choice of the committee composed of seven representatives who selected the Woman of the Year. Two representatives were from the B&PW, two represented the Chamber of Commerce, two were from the Ministerial Alliance and one represented the Home Demonstration Council. Mrs. Lemons was one of the representatives from the Chamber.

According to Mildred Free, president of the B&PW, the names presented for the Woman of the Year award were "really good and it was hard to decide."

But, based on Mrs. Lemons contributions to the community, she was the committee's choice.

"When she takes a job, she always does it well," said Margaret Bodine, one of the representatives to the committee.

"Anything the community does, she usually has her hands in it," added Mrs. Bodine.

Mrs. Lemons has been especially active in 4-H activities, serving as an organization leader, assisting in preparations for the County Stock Show and attending district and state training meetings for 4-H.

Mrs. Lemons' activity in 4-H affairs stems from her children's interest--her daughter and two sons are active participants in 4-H.

The Mitchell County Fair is an event in which Mrs. Lemons is greatly involved. She usually works preparing the agricultural products for judging.

Besides spending time working with 4-H projects and the fair, Mrs. Lemons also devotes many hours to church work.

A member of First Baptist of Colorado City, Mrs. Lemons is secretary of the young married Sunday School department. She also works with the mission organization and has served as director.

Through Mrs. Lemons work with the girl's auxiliary at the church, she became involved in working with the elderly.

One of the GA's service projects was to visit the elderly. Mrs. Lemons has continued visiting with senior citizens in the community, providing them with reading materials.

Mrs. Lemons has also served as coordinator of the Crusade Cancer Drive.

Noting that she finds her work with the Cancer Drive especially rewarding, Mrs. Lemons said, "With all the good things that can happen through research, this year may be the year to find the cure."

Mrs. Lemons explained that the Cancer Drive will get underway in April.

"All of the money donated is used for research," said Mrs. Lemons, adding that she felt like the money is well spent.

Mrs. Lemons and her husband, Bobby, who is a vice-president of City National Bank, married in 1962. They moved to Colorado City in 1966 when Bobby was Mitchell County Extension Agent.

Born in San Angelo, Mrs. Lemons was raised in Girvin and attended school in McCamey, where she graduated.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemons have three children. Dawn, 14, is a student at Middle School and Robert, 10, and Blaine, 8, are students at Hutchinson Elementary.

A registered laboratory technician, Mrs. Lemons received her training at Gradwohl School of Laboratory Technology in St. Louis, Mo. Although she has worked for Dr. W. S. Rhode, Mrs. Lemons is currently devoting her time to raising her children.

"When the kids don't need me anymore at home, I'll probably go back to work," Mrs. Lemons said.

Besides all the time Mrs. Lemons spends raising her children and offering service to the community, she still finds time for herself.

"I've been taking guitar lessons," said Mrs. Lemons. "It's something I do for myself."

SHE HATED TO SEW!

LAVON LANGDAN

LaVon Langdan, a self trained teacher in art of sewing, began her sewing career because she hated sewing!

She was determined to overcome the imbedded influence of a home ec. course in school that taught her archaic methods, better displayed in museums. Through sheer force of will she has been able to develop her own methods of shortcuts to sewing that have made sewing a pleasure rather than drudgery.

Her abilities have risen beyond the manual of sewing. She has developed a knack of fitting that has enabled her to design and sew for polio and accident victims, art models and exotic dancers who are more than amply endowed. For those who cannot buy clothes that fit nor flatter, LaVon designs and sews clothes that fit. This is her speciality. She has never found a sewing nor fitting problem she couldn't handle.

For the past 20 years, LaVon's first love has been sewing. She has taught extensively classes in machine operation, pattern alterations, sewing shortcuts, and machine repair. She was an assistant manager of an all female Singer Sewing Center in Boulder, Colorado, and left there to teach the newly developed Sunburst pattern System. LaVon has recently authored a new book, soon to be published called "Sew & Sew", the Sewing Machine Operation and Repair Reference Guide. She is now devoting her entire time to teaching home seamstresses how to make their own patterns and fit them.

The Rev. Robert Sloan performed the double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with a heart-shaped arch covered with greenery, pink carnations and burgundy roses.

On either side of the arch were candelabra holding pink candles, entwined with greenery and pink satin bows. Church pews were marked with votive cups holding candles, with greenery and pink bows.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father. She was attired in a white satin dress with overlay of sheer organza. The full sleeves of the gown were accented with wide cuffs trimmed with brocade flowers. Matching flowers traced the neckline and ruffled hem and were appliqued on the skirt. The coordinating walking-length veil was trimmed with the same brocade.

The bride's wedding attire served as "something new"; "something old" was an amethyst necklace belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ona Elliott; "something borrowed" was a pair of earrings belonging to the maid of honor; and "something blue" was her garter. She wore a sixpence in her shoe.

Jane Baylor of Sierra Blanca served as the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Althof of Roscoe and Laurie Mercer of Colorado City, sister of the groom. Junior bridesmaids were Sonja Mercer of Colorado City, sister of the groom, and Michelle Brown of Roscoe, sister of the bride.

Flower girl was Regina Reed of Roscoe, cousin of the bride, who was attired in a smaller version of the pink floor length gowns worn by the bridal attendants. The dresses featured full, gathered skirts accented with a wide band covered with sheer material of floral design and long sheer sleeves. The back of the dresses was adorned with a wide bow. Their headpieces were of pink carnations, babies breath and pink ribbons.

Each attendant carried a nosegay of carnations and babies breath. The flower girl carried a basket of pink carnations tied with a pink satin bow.

The mother of the bride wore a pink floor length dress and orchid corsage. The mother of the groom wore a pale blue floor length dress and orchid corsage.

Rick Norman of San Angelo was Best Man. Groomsmen were Tom Hollandsworth of Odessa and Randy Cook of Midland. Seating the wedding guests were Mike Brown, brother of the bride; Greg Mercer, brother of the groom; and Tim Green, cousin of the groom.

The fellowship hall of the church was the setting for the reception. The bride's table was laid with a white cloth accented with pink satin ribbon. The table was centered with an arrangement of pink candles, burgundy roses and pink carnations.

Appointments were of silver and crystal. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with a pink fountain, topped with love birds, wedding bells and pink flowers. Vicki Jackson, Becky Blair, and Nancy Cook served slices of wedding cake with pink punch and pink and burgundy mints.

The groom's table was laid with a burgundy cloth with an overlay of burgundy and white checks. The centerpiece was a burgundy candle.

The bride chose a 3-piece pink pantsuit with brown accessories and wore an orchid corsage for the couple's honeymoon trip to Denver, Colo. Following the honeymoon, the newlyweds will live in Houston.

Both the bride and groom are senior students at Angelo State University. The groom is currently doing accounting internship with the state in Houston.

State Farm To Return Dividend

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) -State Farm Mutual has announced it will return a 13.2 percent dividend to its Texas auto policyholders, beginning April 15.

It said the Texas dividends should total $13 million and will be a part of a $126 million nationwide dividend paid by the company.

"Because of a decline in the rate of claims among policyholders, the company wound up with large profit than it needed to meet its financial needs," State Farm said in a statement.

State Farm, which insures 982,000 vehicles in Texas, declared a 7.8 per cent dividend last August.

The dividend was one reason cited by former State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie for recessing an auto insurance rate hearing.

The hearing was never reconvened, and rates remain the same as they were in 1976.

"Conversations On Carpeting"

By Fred Butts

CARPETING AND YOUR CHILDREN

It used to be that couples with small children postponed buying the carpet of their dreams until after the children were grown. But times have changed and so has carpeting. Today, more and more couples are actually insisting on carpeting for their children's bedrooms and playrooms.

Are you wondering why carpeting and children are no longer considered natural enemies? For one thing, today's carpeting is practically "child proof". That's right, the non-absorbant, stain resistant fibers now used in carpet manufacturing can take the rough treatment usually associated with children. Spilled soft drinks and even poster paint won't ruin most easy-to-clean carpeting.

There are many other practical reasons for carpeting your child's room. A soft floor covering eases the inevitable falls, and lessens bruises and hurts. It has been found that a well maintained carpet harbors fewer germs than the conventional wood or tile floors.

Carpeted floors provide insulation against drafts too. This is especially important in baby's room or in areas where small children play on the floor. Of course we can't forget another important reason for carpeting childrens' rooms--less noise. Carpeting will actually deaden the many loud sounds made by excited children at play.

Considering a carpet for your child's bedroom or playroom? We have a fine selection to choose from. Come in and I'll show you around.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH by Russ Arnold

JEST FOR LAUGHS by PAUL FUNG JR.

Lorraine came home from kindergarten to report that her teacher had been sick that day. Since class had evidently been held anyway, her mother asked how the class managed. "Oh, everything was all right. We had a step teacher."

A woman replied when asked what she did the last time the TV set broke down in her home: "It was terrible. We did nothing — my husband and I just talked."

"Can you imagine that!" exclaimed a proud mother after reading a letter from her son in the army. "They've promoted my Brian for being the only one who had the nerve to hit that tough top sergeant. They've made Brian a court marshal!"

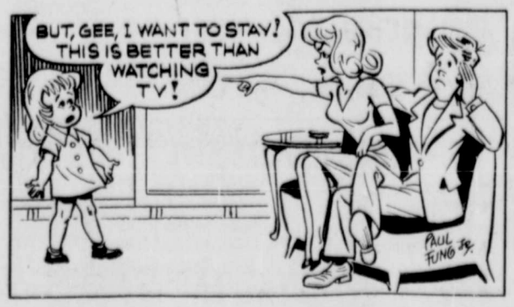

There was a tourist in New York City who walked up to a Fonzie type character and asked, "How do I get to Carnegie Hall?" The Fonzie chap looked the tourist up and down, and with a happy grin replied. "Practice, man practice."

My son, Randy found an old report card of mine and gave me mine with his that he just received. "Well, son, you're right. This old report card of mine you found in the attic isn't any better than yours. I guess the only fair thing to do is give you what my father gave me."

An executive is a man who will share the credit with the man who did all the work.

A musician was wildly in love with his girlfriend. Everytime he hummed a song he would start kissing her. One evening they were kissing when all of a sudden he stopped singing, and then he stopped kissing her. The girl looked up and said: "What's the matter?" He said: "I forgot that music." She said: "Fake it, fake it."

Luera Receives Sentence

Ernest Luera of Colorado City was sentenced to 12 years in Huntsville State Prison Thursday when a jury of three men and nine women found him guilty of aggravated assault on a police officer.

District Attorney Frank Ginzel presented evidence that Luera was stopped by Loraine Police Officer Robert Howell on July 28, 1977 for suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

Howell testified at that time Luera hit him with his fist, knocking him over the hood of the pick-up, then fled in the vehicle.

Testimony was given by former Colorado City Policemen Jerry Register and James Elston that they were contacted and set up a road block.

They testified that Luera was stopped by their road block and resisted and fought in an apparent effort to escape.

Testimony was given as to two prior convictions of Luera, one for assault with intent to murder and one for burlgary.

CRUCIFIED WITH CHRIST

Rev. Wayne Oglesby

Pastor

Oak Street

Baptist Church

"I am crucified with Christ, nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me." (Galatians 2:20)

These words of the great Apostle Paul have come to mean a great deal to many Christian throughout the ages. It reads almost as a prayer to those seeking complete dedication to the Lord and also springs forth as a song of victory to those who have found new meaning in life by the fresh indwelling of the spirit of Christ in their lives.

Paul speaks from a deep experience as he states that no longer is he controlled by the beckoning cries of the world but that he has literally died to self wishes and has found new life in the person of Jesus Christ. The indwelling Christ lives in his life and controls his actions.

Even with this life control, Paul is aware of everyday trials which come. His answer to the facing of life lies in his statement "I live by the faith." He is aware that Jesus loved him enough to die for him and believes that the same Jesus will provide for him.

How different would our lives be today if we would allow our inner self to be "crucified with Christ" in order that the spirit of God might control us? New joys would await us as we experience the hand of the Lord guiding our every move and decision.

It is all possible if we too would live by faith in the Son of God who died and lives for us.

six months as a police officer with this department."

James Elston, who resigned a few months ago, cited the service as the basic problem resulting in his resignation.

When the Colorado City Police Department assumed the responsibilities of the ambulance service, it was supposedly for the welfare of the community.

But the plan seems to have backfired.

When the ambulance service was turned over to the police department four men were furnished by the hospital district and two county men were trained in first aid to assist. The police only had to work the ambulance one week out of every 12 or 14, according to Fuller.

The runs have increased from that first estimated 100 a year to 364 last year. The hospital district pays the salary of one policeman but no longer supplies any personnel and the county no longer furnishes the personnel. The police force had not increased in manpower during that time.

In addition to police duty the men are on call 14 days a month.

The police are informed when they begin working for the force they must drive the ambulance. They will be fired if they do not wish to spend their off duty hours on call. Even under suspension from the force they carry the "beeper" (pager) and drive the ambulance, according to Fuller.

"The only thing that will soive the problem in this community is understanding," Fuller stated. He went on to explain that in a policeman's line of work, about one per cent of the duty hours are spent in physical situations and the other 99 per cent of the time is spent waiting for something to happen. Anticipation and a constant state of readiness is a must for a policeman.

He went on to add that not only his life, but the lives of citizens depend on the state of alertness the officer maintains.

"There is no time off," he noted. Even in church he can't find peace from the "beeper." One week he noted he got only 10½ hours sleep.

As criminal investigator, Fuller handles between 20 and 25 cases a month besides his street duties and supervision of vehicle maintenance. One of his main duties has been to assist the other officers in making reports and verification of those reports.

"I will be transferring my work load gradually. I have a month's leave built up and my vacation starts Monday if everything goes well," he stated.

"I hate to loose Pat--he'll be hard to replace," McWhorter commented. "I know the ambulance service is exhausting the men. I just wish I could do more for them."

I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank the citizens of Colorado City for being so good to me while I was a Police Officer here. Also I have never worked for a finer more capable Chief of Police than Fred McWhorter and I feel that if the citizens of Colorado City will back him, he will continue to perform the duties as police chief in a manner you can be very proud of.
