County Gins 22,350 Bales With Harvest Now Slowing

Collingsworth cotton ginings were reported this week at approximately 22,350 bales, and if good weather holds, the crop probably will be harvested by the first of the year, gin managers reported Tuesday.

Joe F. Knoll, manager of the Lutie Gin, estimated that his customers probably will bring in around 200 more bales from the area that includes much of the cotton land north of Salt Fork.

The grade is holding up all right but the staple is a little short, he said.

Some of the irrigated cotton in the Samnorwood-Dozier area has averaged three-quarters of a bale, the top yields reported.

In the Wellington area, cotton is estimated to be approximately 85 percent out.

Robert Barjenbruch, manager of Wellington Gin, believes the harvest will be finished in two weeks if the weather stays good.

Laverne Jones of Farmers Co-op reported that while light spots have been in the cotton most of the fall, more straight spots are showing up. Micronaire and staple remain good.

The turnout has dropped to 16-18 percent she said, and yields are from a fourth to third of a bale per acre.

Although both gin plants are in operation, time has been cut to one shift of about 15 hours.

Grover Graham, manager of Davis Gin at Dodson, said he is also getting some cotton that is grading straight spots. Turnout has fluctuated widely, from 25 percent down to 15, but with none of it what it should be.

Price also has varied, from 82 cents down to 73 during the season. Just now 1" staple cotton is bringing about 3600 points over the loan cotton for a grade. Like other ginners, Graham estimates the cotton will be out by January 1 if good weather holds.

He also said it has been a long time since he's seen a crop like this one. He compared it to that of 1936, one of the poorer crops the county has raised.

WTU, Cities Reach Settlement Agreement on Rate Increase

The Public Utility Commission of Texas has approved a settlement agreement which authorizes West Texas Utilities Company to raise its rates, effective December 15.

Upon the advice of Don R. Butler, attorney who is representing the involved cities, the Wellington City Council approved a motion to accept the settlement agreement in its meeting Monday night, Dec. 15.

The proposition will be presented to the Dodson City Council Friday, Jan. 19.

The agreement was reached by WTU and a number of intervenors, including 15 cities in its service area, after several days of negotiations. Stipulations in the settlement were based almost entirely on recommendations of the PUC staff.

The compromise agreement will amount to an average increase of 6.2 percent in WTU's rates, compared to the 8.27 percent requested in an application filed by WTU September 30. The amount allowed is almost the same as the company's only previous rate increase which was implemented in 1973.

The increase in annual revenue will amount to $9,547,192, compared to the $12,729,691 the Company had requested.

The new rates will go into effect automatically in unincorporated areas and in 26 cities which had denied the increase and had their cases appealed to the PUC. The other 55 incorporated cities in the WTU service area had suspended action on the rates and are expected to approve the PUC's decision. Wellington and Dodson are two of the towns which suspended the rate.

The new rates will vary for different customer classifications, based on cost of operations for each class. Residential customers will pay 6.6 percent more, commercial customers 1.1 percent more, industrial customers 9.4 percent more and municipals 20.8 percent more.

The new residential rate is 4.54 cents per kilowatt hour, compared to the present average of 4.26 cents. This means the average residential customer, who presently uses 702 kilowatt hours per month, will see his bill increase from $29.94 to $31.90.

Tommy Hudson, local manager said the Company is generally satisfied with the outcome of the rate case, although the settlement is for considerably less than has been sought.

"We are pleased that WTU and our customers were able to settle on a friendly basis without getting involved in a lengthy and costly hearing," he said.

10,204 Acre Oil and Gas Lease In Southwest Collingsworth

The largest acreage leased for oil and gas in this county by one individual in recent years was that of Mrs. John Deaver of Memphis, who entered into the lease agreement with Robert W. Waddell, whose address is given as Austin, according to the lease filed in the office of Helen Gollighugh, County Clerk.

The lease totals 10,204.965 acres, and it is in the extreme southwest part of the county. One small tract is in Hall County. Part of the land lies in the Wellington Independent School District and part in the Memphis Independent School District.

The primary term is for 10 years.

The bonus payment was not given in the lease, but the rental is $1 per acre pre year.

The lessor is to receive 1/8 royalty of any production. The lease stipulates that it is for oil, gas, gaseous substances and sulphur. It states that it is not for coal, lignite, gravel or unrelated hard minerals.

The late John Deaver, a long-time Memphis lawyer, was a former 100th District attorney.

Included is 75.6 acres in n/2 SW/4 section 15.

All of the lease acreage is in Block 19, and includes 75.6 acres in N/2 SW/4 section 15, sections 33, 34

Children's Drawing for Bicycle Certificate Set

Some lucky boy or girl will win a gift certificate for a bicycle in the last of the Chamber of Commerce Trades Day drawings Christmas Eve, Tommy Hudson announced this week.

The next Chamber of Commerce Christmas drawing for script will be Saturday, December 20, at 4 p.m. on the south side of the courthouse.

Three drawings will be held Christmas eve. The first will be at 2 p.m., with the others to follow immediately.

The last drawing will be for children only, although they must be accompanied by a parent or another adult.

That drawing will be for a gift certificate redeemable from at one of the participating Wellington merchants who sell bicycles.

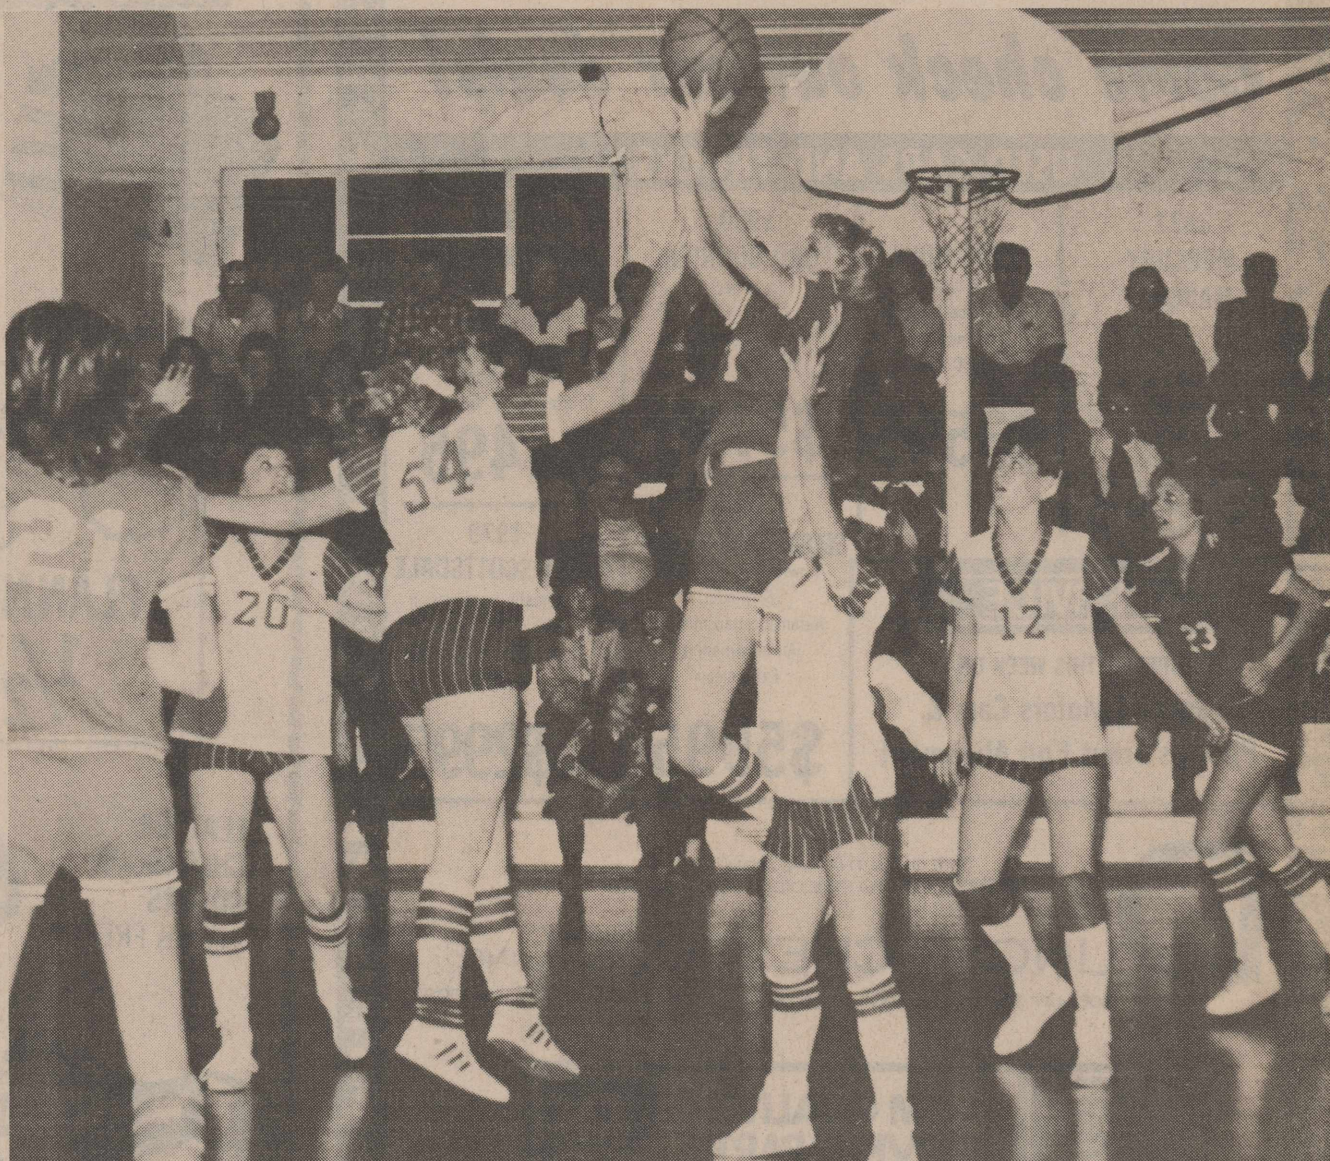

This method is being used because the size of the child cannot be known, nor if the winner will be a boy or girl.

"We are holding the drawing at 2 p.m. so the winner will have time to make selections using all of the $100 in script, according to Hudson, who is chairman of the trades day program.

Winners of the $100 in script at the Saturday, December 13 drawing was Kenneth Patterson.

The lucky tickets at both drawings so far came from Ace Hardware, Hudson said.

 at Dodson reported that better yields he has received this fall are a third of a bale on dry land to a bale and a half on irrigated cotton. "A lot of the seed is immature," he said.
 Micronaire remains good and the staple is about an inch. Barton agrees that the cotton crop could be finished by the first of the year.

 Earlier this week the price of cotton seed dropped $10 per ton, from $130 to $120 county-wide.
 The price of cottonseed oil broke and the price of seed followed, some of the ginners explained.

Firemen Given $75 FB Check

The Wellington Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $75.00 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of Wayne S. Martin.

The money will be used for their loss prevention program.

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay volunteer fire departments

this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department in their program.

AT GIRLSTOWN

Karen, 9, of the Borger Campus of Girlstown, U.S.A. models the coat she wants. Her sister, Becky, 11, at right, shows the shoes she hopes to receive for Christmas.

Girlstown Aided By 2T-1 Lions

Why not give a new coat and a new pair of shoes for Christmas? The Lions Clubs of District 2T-1 are sponsoring their 12th annual Coat and Shoe Fund Drive for Girlstown, U.S.A. Each of the 124 girls residing at the Austin, Borger, Lubbock and Whiteface campuses of Girlstown, U.S.A. will be given a gift certificate to be used to purchase a new coat, shoes and other needed clothing for Christmas.

Two of these clubs are the Wellington Lions Club and Samnorwood Lions Club.

"For many of these young ladies this will be the first time in their lives to have a new piece of clothing for their own," said District Governor Lynn Cherry.

Any funds raised in excess of the clothing expenses will go toward the purchase of a new van for the Borger campus.

These tax deductible contributions should be sent to: Girlstown Christmas

Fund, Box 67, Amarillo, TX. 79105.

Holiday Hints Shopping for Gold Coins

Beautiful jewelry for men and women can be created from small gold coins.

You don't have to be a Wall Street wizard if gold is an item that's on your holiday shopping list.

One way to shop for gold—either as an investment or a gift—is to buy coins. Experts point out that Mexican coins offer the widest range available.

Two Girls

John Lennon's wife had requested a 10-minute memorial at 2:00 p.m. Eastern time. That made it 1:00 p.m. in Wellington, Texas. I thought about joining the throng in Ellison Park for the memorial,
but decided it would be a one-man throng.

So I walked to the tv set and flipped through the channels to see if the event was being covered live.
The Sunday afternoon regulars—pro football, old movies, outdoors series—filled the screen. The networks had been programmed by another generation.

So I flipped off the tube. I didn't quite come to a prayer for John Lennon, but there was a rush of memories.

My experience with John Lennon and the Beatles was defined by two 15-year-old high school girls.

The first girl: During my freshman year in high school a letter from a hip friend in a college town included this line: "What do you think about the Beatles?" I had never heard of the Beatles. In fact, the writing was a little scrawled and I thought it said the "Bettes." I hadn't heard of the Bettes either. My solution in reply was to ignore that line of the letter, so as not to appear insufferably backward in the hinterlands.

It wasn't long, though, until radio station KOMA in Oklahoma City (a Wellington teenager's link to the outside world in those days) was playing "I Want to Hold Your Hand" and I safely replied that I thought they were "pretty neat." I can't remember now if I actually saw that Ed Sullivan Show or if I've just seen so many clips of it that I think I saw it. No matter. After the Sullivan show, we all knew for sure who the Beatles were and we bought the Meet the Beatles album.

The second girl: A couple of years ago, when a movie version of Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band (a movie with Beatles music but without the Beatles) was making the rounds it came up in conversation with a neighbor. I offered an old album:
"I've got the original if you'd like to hear it sometime." Her reply: "The original what?"

An era had ended. John Lennon's death was the public finality, but for me the era ended with that neighborhood conversation.

In between those two encounters the Beatles wrote and sang the songs of a generation's high school and college days—the songs that stay with you for a lifetime.

One memory:

A chartered bus rolls along the interstate highway bearing fraternity brothers and dates to a college football game in 1967. The group sings along to a tape: "I get by with a little help from my friends" from the Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band album.

The group on that bus was conservative by later college standards. But as the group moved through college some flirted with the drugs the album alluded to, and some got involved in various ways in protest movements. The Beatles broke up just about the time the bus group was breaking up to find their way in the mainstream to America.

If the bus carried the same people today it would be filled with an aerospace engineer from Ft. Worth, a banker and a television newscaster from Austin, a heavy equipment dealer and a lawyer from Houston and a couple of dozen other middle Americans and their wives.

The significance of the Beatles and of John Lennon was that they made all the transitions that the generation made that loved their music. John Lennon's last album was a group of love songs to his wife, but the line that came to mind last week was from an earlier album: "Ob-La-Di, Ob-La-Da, Life goes on. Lala, how the life goes on."

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The 67th Texas Legislature will convene on Jan. 13, 1981, and on opening day there will be 43
new faces in the House and Senate, decidedly more conservative.

Presiding over the Senate
will be Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby with a ten-year tenure in that office.

Sitting in front of the House will probably be Speaker Bill Clayton, considered a shoo-in for an unprecedented fourth term.

And in the Governor's Office is still the first Republican in over a hundred years, Bill Clements. Clements was a "rookie" during the last session, but in a short
two years he has become a seasoned veteran. He has several proposals for the Legislature, including initiative and referendum, tax relief, legalized wiretaps and public education reforms.

Clements has never been stronger. He spearheaded Ronald Reagan's victory in Texas, and stands now as one of the President-elect's closest advisors. He had a hand in the defeat of three liberal state senators and even more state representatives.

Initiative and referendum
go hand in hand with tax relief, depending on the mind of the voters. If I&R
were available to Texas voters, one might very well see a tax revolt at the ballot box
similar to California's Proposition 13.

Wiretapping is important to Clements who has declared war on narcotics trafficking.

The Governor also wants
a regional primary election
for Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma. The primary would force all candidates to address issues of special interest to the Southwest and make them more responsible to its needs.

Clements is expected to back a $780 million, 22 percent pay raise for school teachers over the next two years. He also wants competency tests for new teachers and a reformed curriculum in public schools that will concentrate on the basics.

It may or may not be everything his way this session for the Governor. Only when the dust settles in June will anyone know the answer.

On The Spot

Periodically, people have talked of the demise of the Republican Party—now it's the Democrats who are worried.

Texas traditionally has been a "three party" state with liberal Democrats on one end, Republicans on the other, and conservative Democrats in the middle (skillfully playing both ends against one another).

The balance was upset in 1978 when former Atty.
Gen. John Hill used liberal strength to upset conservative Gov. Dolph Briscoe in the Democratic primary.
Many conservatives went over to help the Republican Clements and the rest is well known history.

The conservatives who did remain in the Democratic Party during the past two years found themselves hard put to defeat certain liberal proposals . . . the Killer Bee incident is just one example. And once defeated in the smoke-filled convention rooms and committee
rooms, the conservatives
were not inclined to go out and support the party in a big way.

Clements' Republicans appealed to them and many have changed parties, for all practical purposes, creating a two-party Texas.

However, in the Legislature there are still a good many conservative Democrats, all worried about the future of their party. And despite Republican gains,
there are still enough liberal-moderate members to make three strong factions. The old squeeze play will no doubt continue, but who will be squeezed the most?

A good guess is that the Republicans will make a strong anvil on which the conservative and liberal Democrats can beat one another.

Players To Watch

In the House of Representatives, where the 150
members make for interesting play-action, keep your eye on Republican Bob Davis and progressive Democrat John Bryant . . . and, of course, the veteran Bill Clayton.

In the Senate, Hobby
heads the conservative Democrats, Walter Meng-
den and Betty Andujar lead
the Republicans, and Carl Parker and Lloyd Doggett

are top moderate-liberals.

And to add a further dimension, while it may be handy to classify legislators
into handy factions and labels, that classification
doesn't hold up every day.
Each must vote for his or her district, for his or her conscience. On days when that type of political integrity is in abundance, Texas
benefits from good government.

Wellington Leader Offers Texas, Collingsworth Books

The Wellington Leader has opened a book department which is now limited to those with a Collingsworth County background, by Collingsworth authors or with a Panhandle or Texas theme.

Other books will be added, as it is hoped the department will come to include all books written by Collingsworth authors or about Collingsworth, Henry Wells, publisher, announced.

The department is opened in time for Christmas giving, readers are reminded.

Available are Judge R.L. Templeton's books includes "The Death of Jimmy Littlewolf," which came from the publisher earlier this month. It has a Boys Ranch setting.

"Sand in My Eyes," by Seigniora Nonie Russel Laune is partially devoted to an early Wellington.

John Coleman's "Bataan and Beyond" is represented. Bob Wills story is told by his piano player, Al Strickland. Wills played for many dances in the Community Building some 30 years ago.

Texas Tech ex-students, especially those of the agriculture school, will like Donald Green's "50 Years of Service to West Texas Agriculture." Green recently said the late John Henry Baumgardner was one of his inspirations for the book.

There is a Larry McMurry (of "Hud" fame) book, and John Graves is represented.

"Through Time and the Valley" tells of the horseback journey of two Perryton men, John Erickson and Bill Ellzey, along the Canadian River, a journey back in time among fascinating characters of that part of the Panhandle.

Clarendon's Willie Newberry Lewis is represented with her "Between Sun and Sod."

There is Fred Tarpley's "1001 Texas Place Names." Three are from Collingsworth.

A section of children's books are included. Some are delightful stores of pioneer Texas youngsters. Others are biographies of Texas pioneers, including one about children captured by and raised with the Indians.

VFW-Guard Hold Pearl Harbor Event

Col. Sim Goodall, Ret., Memphis attorney and member of Glynn Moore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was the speaker at Pearl Harbor Day ceremonies held December 7, in conjunction with the National Guard.

Goodall paid tribute to the men who gave their lives in World War II, and to those who fought gallantly in it without considering their own wishes.

The ceremony commemorated the 39th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, which plunged the United States into World War II.

Johnson CJC Cheer Leader

Kaylo Johnson, Wellington freshman in Clarendon Junior College, recently was elected one of its cheerleaders for the coming year, according to Dr. Bob Riley, dean of instruction.

She also had a leading role in one of the productions by the drama department a short time ago.

"Kaylo contributes a lot to the college in several areas. We are very pleased to have students like Kaylo. In fact, all the students from Wellington contribute a lot to our campus," Riley said.

Rites for Mrs. Jones At Amarillo

Mrs. E.W. Jones, who worked closely with her husband, the late Dr. E.W. Jones, through more than 40 years that he practiced medicine in Wellington, died in Amarillo Thursday, December 11. Her health had been failing since April, but before that she continued to participate in activities that were part of her life in the 16 years she lived in Amarillo.

Mrs. Jones, the former Nell Broyles, was born at Graham August 3, 1892 and came to Dodson from Quanah as a bride in 1913. Shortly afterward, Dr. Jones began his practice in Wellington.

Few women have been so concerned of their husband's medical practice.

She went with him on house calls to many part of the county and in those early years she assisted him in surgery and x-ray.

She assisted Dr. Jones as the old Wellington Hospital was established. During the darkest days of the depression and dustbowl, they planned and built the older portion of the present hospital, which gave work to many unemployed men of the county. In 1938, with the county again turning toward prosperity, Mrs. Jones worked with her husband to transfer the hospital to the Dominican Order of the Catholic Church, which operated it until the early 1970s.

Mrs. Jones was a charter member and president of the Hattie Hunt Medical Auxiliary and was an early member of the 1924 Study Club. She was a member of Polk Street Methodist Church.

She remained in the background in many of the organizations with which she worked, the St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary, American Legion Auxiliary and others.

Also during the 1930s, Dr. and Mrs. Jones kept in their home boys living in the rural areas so they could continue their education and play football here.

When Dr. Jones retired from practice in Wellington in 1955, the couple moved to Lubbock, where he died. In 1964 Mrs. Jones moved to Amarillo, where her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. E.K. Jones live.

Memorial services were held in the chapel of Polk Street Methodist Church Saturday, December 13, with the Dr. Walter Browers, district superintendent of the Amarillo United Methodist District, officiating, assisted by the

Mrs. Ura Scott Arlie Pioneer Dies Dec. 10

Mrs. Ura Lawrence Scott, a member of one of the pioneer families of Arlie, who were instrumental in development of that area, died in Collingsworth General Hospital at 2:20 p.m. Wednesday, December 10.

She moved into Wellington about 10 years ago and was a resident of Thomas Nursing Center at the time of her death.

The daughter of the late Levi Lawrence and Nancy Payne Lawrence, she was born at Arlie August 28, 1900. With her brothers and sisters, she attended the Arlie School.

On September 7, 1919, she was married to J.A. (Fonnie) Scott, whose family was among the first to live in the area between Hollis and Dodson. Mr. and Mrs. Scott lived at Dodson a few years, then moved to their farm at Loco, located just south of the Childress County line on Highway US 83. They lived there until his death January 20, 1968, and she remained about two years longer, before moving into town.

BASKETBALL Wellington Samnorwood

Wellington girls and Hedley boys won the Samnorwood basketball tournament finals Saturday, Dec. 13, before a gymnasium packed with spectators and fans of the participating teams.

Wellington girls defeated Hedley girls 49-34 sending the Owlettes into second place. Just two weeks earlier, Hedley defeated Wellington by a heavy margin in the Clarendon Tournament, but Wellington girls were seeded No. 1 and Hedley No. 2 at Samnorwood.

The Rockettes played a good defensive game, but Hedley girls weren't able to hit the basket as well as in the two previous tournament games. Nevertheless, the game was closer than the 15-point spread indicated.

With 8 seconds left on the clock of the boys championship game, Wellington was ahead 59-58, with Hedley's John Scott in a one and one free shot. Earlier in the fourth quarter he had missed the front end of three one and one free shots, but he hit both of these and put up a 60-59 score. Rockets threw the score. The Rockets tried one more shot, but didn't sink it and Hedley took the championship.

Norwood girls defeated Estelline 53-37 to win third in their division, while Mobeetie boys took third in their division with a 62-47 win over Samnorwood.

GIRLS DIVISION 1st Round

In the first round of the girls bracket, Samnorwood girls defeated Allison 47-28, with Sally Kincannon scoring 23 points for Norwood and Tina Block 11 for Allison.

Estelline defeated Mobeetie 52-50 in a tournament upset. Mobeetie was seeded No. 3 and Estelline 7. Quarles scored 12 for Mobeetie's High and Darci Johnson 14 for Estelline.

Hedley won over Briscoe 52-31. Hedley's Sherrie Hill had 13; Briscoe's L. Swift, 17.

Wellington took a 59-36 win over McLean, with Kathleen Reeves scoring 12 points for Wellington and Leslie Skipper 9 for McLean.

GIRLS 2nd Round LOSERS BRACKET

Mobeetie defeated McLean 58-51. T. Killham had 17 points for McLean; S. Patton 10 for Mobeetie.

Allison defeated Briscoe 27-21 in the last game of the consolation bracket, T. Hall had 12 points for Allison, L. Swift 15 for Briscoe.

WINNERS BRACKET

Hedley won over Norwood 62-38. Kincannon scored 19 for Norwood, L. Ward 19 for Hedley.

Wellington took an easy 51-14 victory over Estelline with Sandy Morris accounting for 16 points for Wellington and Joyett 6 for Estelline.

GIRLS CONSOLATION FINALS

Mobeetie went ahead early to defeat Allison 44-21. S. Quarles scored 14 for Mobeetie, T. Black 8 for Allison.

3RD PLACE FINALS

Norwood took third with a 53-37 win over Estelline. Kincannon had 33 points for Norwood, Jouett 11 for Estelline.

CHAMPIONSHIP FINALS

BOYS BRACKET 1ST ROUND

The boys bracket opened Thursday with Mobeetie's 94-47 win over Allison. Danny Hilburn scored 18 points for Mobeetie, C. Nelson 31 for Allison.

The shot missed, Wellington rebounded, made a couple of passes down the court and shot the ball from deep in one corner. The buzzer went off while the ball was in the air and it didn't hit anything but the cotton.

In the next game, Hedley defeated Norwood 51-44. Lynn Tate had 20 points for Norwood, John Scott was high pointer for Hedley.

Library Old Paper Drive Under Way

Friends of the Library are holding an old newspaper drive, with the trailer again located inside the fence at Wellington Lumber Co., according to Mrs. George Porter, secretary.

Jack Davis is donating the use of the trailer, and it will remain for an indefinite time, unless bad weather makes it necessary to deliver the papers to the Hollis insulating plant which processes them.

"We urge everyone to support the county library by bringing their old papers to the trailer," said Mrs. Porter.

She also reminded that there will be a meeting of the Friends of the Library Monday, December 29, at 9:30 a.m. in the county library on the first floor of the court house.

LOOKING AT WELLINGTON

With Long, at left, are Councilmen Ralph Owens, Tom Wilkins and Willie Gragson, and Mayor Bill Hatch. Absent were Councilmen Lyndon Crelia and Gary Brewer. The picture was made by a young Wellington photographer, Ray Jeffrey, who is specializing in aerial photography.
