Bombers Lash Jap Shipping

Big Cargo Vessel Wrecked And Two Small Boats Hit

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Thursday, May 6.—A small formation of Liberators wrecked a 5,000-ton cargo ship and damaged two 500-ton vessels in a raid late Tuesday afternoon on Japan's north New Guinea feeder base of Newak.

The details were disclosed today in the noon communique.

The Japanese tried unsuccessfully to drive off the raiders with fighter planes and ack-ack. One of the enemy interceptors was damaged.

Heaviest Recent Action

The aerial action was the heaviest directed at shipping in the vicinity of Wewak, on the north New Guinea coast 450 miles northwest of the Allied base of Port Moresby, since a convoy sought to land supplies there April 15. In that action, two merchantmen were sunk, two rendered unseaworthy and two were forced to flee with their escort of three warships.

The Allied four-engined bombers struck at dusk both at the town and at shipping near Kairiru island. Several direct hits started one cargo ship to settling in the water.

Heavy bombs fell in the town and along the waterfront, causing explosions and fires. The two damaged 5,000 ton ships were near the bombed jetties.

All Allied Planes Return

The Japanese plane downed was one of nine which rose to challenge the small formation of bombers from the Fifth air forte. Heavy anti-aircraft fire also was encountered but all the Allied bombers got back to base.

The Wewak raid was the only activity reported in the sector northeast of Australia.

To the northwest, a medium bomber attacked the area of Timika, Dutch New Guinea.

Other medium bombers raided Toeal on the Kai islands, starting fires in the barracks and wharf area.

JAPS FEVERISHLY BOLSTER RING OF OUTER DEFENSES

WASHINGTON, May 5. (AP)—The first report of an American air attack on a new Japanese base in the central Solomons indicated today that the enemy is working feverishly to bolster his outer defenses against the gradually tightening ring of American bases.

A Navy communique related that on last Tuesday, Solomons time, American fighter, torpedo and dive bombing planes struck

Coal Operators Offer Proposal

Concession Made On Four Demands

NEW YORK, May 5. (AP)—Anthracite coal operators today submitted what they termed their work contract proposals to the United Mine Workers, expressing willingness to concede "ni substance" four of 21 demands but declaring "impossible of fulfillment" an increase in pay of $2 daily and portal-to-portal pay.

The miners' answer was that operators "should desist in their continual rejection of mine workers' proposals and initiate counterproposals covering the major points involved."

John O'Leary, UMW vice-president, said he and Thomas Kennedy, UMW secretary-treasurer, and several other members of the miners' anthracite negotiating committee would remain in New York to meet with anthracite operators again tomorrow at 11 a. m.

John L. Lewis, UMW president, was absent today, attending a UMW policy committee meeting.

Asked whether any anthracite contract agreement would have to be approved by Washington authorities, Kennedy said: "the important thing is not whether the War Labor board or some other body has to approve it—it is to arrive at a contract." He repeated that the anthracite and bituminous negotiations were "separate and distinct."

The War Labor board has announced in Washington that its three-man fact-finding committee named in the bituminous dispute would study the anthracite situation at a later date.

So far as major proposals concerning increases were concerned, operators at today's session informed UMW representatives nothing could be gained by further discussion. Ralph E. Taggart, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, operator-spokesman, presented what they said was their final position.

Operators' Proposals

The operators asked an indemnity against strikes unauthorized by the international UMW board. Besides four proposals to which they might accede "in substance," operators added they might be able to adjust to three other miners' demands, but contended any other concessions "would completely destroy the anthracite in-

Ten Men Killed In Explosion At Mine

LaFOLLETTE, Tenn., May 5. (AP)Ten miners were killed today when an explosion shattered the main tunnel of the Etna Coal and Coke company, rescue workers reported on returning to the surface tonight.

Eighteen other miners were found alive by the rescue squad.

The searchers found the survivors of the blast deep in the tunnel behind a barricade they had erected in an effort to protect themselves from blackdamp, dread fumes released by coal mine accidents.

The rescuers said all 18 survivors appeared to be in good condition and most of them were able to make their way to the surface unaided.

Senate Plans Early Action On Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, May 5. (AP) — With a majority apparently leaning toward some version of the Ruml skip-a-year plan, the Senate Finance committee will begin consideration tomorrow to the House-approved pay-as-you-go tax bill.

Chairman George (D-Ga) asked Treasury representatives to appear at a closed hearing tomorrow morning. He said he saw no reason why the committee should not make major policy decisions by Friday at the latest, and report a bill for Senate action next week.

Ban On Pleasure Driving Tightens

WASHINGTON, May. 5 (AP)— A nation-wide campaign to enforce the ban on use of B and C gasoline rations for pleasure driving was announced today by Prentiss M. Brown, director of the Office of Price Administration.

The campaign is directed only against the non-essential use of these supplemental rations. There is no restriction on the use of A book rations.

B and C book holders, if found driving for pleasure, may be required to show that they are doing so on their A ration.

Every effort will be made to detect violators, Brown said, "and not only to revoke their present rations but ot suspend their right to any further rations for an appreciable time."

No Snooping Campaign

Brown said that this was not to be a "snooping campaign," and that cars would not be stopped on the highways, but that drivers would be interviewed by police and OPA investigators upon occasion, and that in some cases "licenses number will be noted and the drivers will be asked to present an explanation to the district OPA office." He said police would cooperate with OPA in turning in license numbers of cars found near race tracks and other amusement spots "out of

Plan For Coal Seizure Set Up

Ickes Moves For Even Distribution

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Preparing against any new coal emergency, Fuel Administrator Ickes today set up machinery under which he may seize coal from persons or plants with safe margins of supply and divert it to those caught short.

The action was taken at a time when coal miners of the nation are at work under a 15-day truce pending attempts to settle wage demands.

Ickes issued regulations setting up procedure under which he could act to protect war plants and essential civilian users from shortages, regardless of whether they arise from a work stoppage, faulty distribution or other cause.

Must Be Essential

He offered reassurance, however, that "the normal distribution of coal will not be disturbed . . . unless such action is absolutely essential."

"However, when it becomes necessary to divert coal ip emergencies, I shall not hesitate to do so," he said.

Under the regulation, Ickes can "issue from time to time specific directions requiring, forbidding, or otherwise providing for the delivery of solid fuels (all types of coal) by or to any person or persons."

Moreover, he can order any "produce, wholesaler, dealer, or other person" to divert, or he can suspend deliveries to particular users so that coal can be freeed for other purposes.

In Public Interest

"The marked increase in fuels requirements incident to the war economy of the United States threatens certain inequitable distributions of solid fuels," Ickes said in explanation of his unprecedented authority. "This regulation is issued in the public interest and to promote the war program. . . .

"I have heard of instances where users have been deprived of coal, or have had difficulties in getting coal, because of discriminatory practices by producers and other suppliers. Such instances will be thoroughly investigated and appropriate action will be taken to correct them when they are discovered."

The regulation declared that anyone "willfully" violating any of its terms or falsifying records kept in connection with the regulation, either "by any act or omission," is "guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine and imprisonment."

It further specified that violators "may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as his deemed appropriate."

Tojo At Manila On Tour Of Inspection

(By The Associated Press)

Premier Tojo of Japan arrived in Manila Wednesday on a military inspection trip, the Tokyo radio announced in a broadcast early today.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said Tojo also planned to have "a frank exchange of views" with Jorge Vargas, chairman of the Philippines executive commission.

The nearby American fortress of Corregidor fell to the Japanese a year ago.

Great Quantities Of Foods, War Supplies Go To Russia

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP) — The United States has sent Russia "several thousand planes," "many tens of thousands" of trucks, jeeps and other military vehicles, and over one million tons of foodstuffs.

This was disclosed today by Lend-Lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius, jr., in his most detailed report on the extent of this country's assistance to Russia. Altogether, shipments up to April 1 aggregated 3,500,000 long tons, he said, and were valued at $1,825,477,000. A long ton is 2,240 pounds.

In the first three months of 1943 shipments were 35 per cent greater than in the preceding quarter, and more than twice the total shipped in the corresponding period of 1942.

The overwhelming majority of lend-lease shipments have reached Russia, Stettinius said, adding that losses were suffered principally on the north Russian route, and a large proportion of the supplies are moving by the Persian Gulf route.

The lend-lease administrator reported that among other items sent to Russia were:

Thousands of tons of steel and armor plate, copper, brass, aluminum, zinc, tnt, toluol and other chemicals, large quantities of railroad rail, signal and other communications equipment, and

Strike Instigation Is Made Crime In Plant Seizure Bill Passed By Senate 63 To 16

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 5—Legislation making it a crime to instigate a strike in war plants or mines which have been taken over by the government swept through the Senate today by a vote of 63 to 16.

As sent to the House after three days of debate, the measure was a much-amended version of the bill by Senator Connally (D-Tex.) to give congressional sanction for government seizure of struck plants and mines. Originally introduced months ago, it had lain dormant until John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers chieftain, refused to submit the soft coal wage dispute to the War Labor board and the miners' work stoppage developed.

Wage Dispute Settlement

The final version also contained a clause, insisted upon by Republican members, vesting in the War Labor board statutory power to enter and settle labor disputes.

That amendment, pushed through by Senator Danaher (R-Conn), was plucked out of a far more sweeping proposal by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) which would have permitted the attorney general to apply to circuit court for injunction to enforce the board's decisions. The Taft amendment lost, 34 to 45, but the Danaher proposal carried on a standing vote.

If finally enacted, Danaher said, his amendment would give the WLB full authority to settle wage disputes without necessity to adhering to the so-called Little Steel formula, which permits general wage rises not to exceed 15 per cent above the level of Jan. 1, 1941, to compensate for increased living costs. The decisions of the board would be final, subject to review by the courts on questions of law.

Provisions Of Bill

The bill provides that the government may take over "any plant equipped for the manufacture, production or mining of any articles or materials which may be required for the national defense or which may be useful in connection therewith," whenever the President proclaims that a strike or other labor disturbance has interrupted production.

When a plant or mine has been taken over by the government under those terms, the bill provides a fine up to $5,000 or imprison-

Andrews Crash Takes 14 Lives

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP) — Fourteen persons were killed in the plane crash in Iceland in which Lt. General Frank M. Andrews, commanding general of Army troops in the European theater, lost his life, the War department reported late today.

In addition to Andrews and Bishop Adna W. Leonard of the Methodist church, who was making a tour of the war zones, the victims included Brig. Gen. Charles H. Barth, 39, chief of staff to Andrews, and Col. Morrow Krum, former New York and Chicago newspaperman who was public relations officer at Andrews' headquarters.

One Survivor

There was one survivor, Staff Sgt. George A. Eisel. He was injured but not seriously. His home is Columbus, O.

Others killed with the names and addresses of their nearest relatives, were:

Chaplain (Colonel) Frank L. Miller, chief of the plans and training division in the office of the chief of chaplains; Mrs. Mildred D. Miller, Washington, D. C.

Lieut. Col. Fred A. Chapman; Belia G. Chapman, Grove Hill, Ala.

Major Theodore C. Totmad; Mrs. Sarah-Ann P. Totmad, Jamestown, N. Y.

Chaplain (Major) Robert H. Humphrey; Mrs. Maybelle P. Humphrey, Lynchburg, Va.

Captain Joseph T. Johnson; Thomas F. Johnson, Los Angeles.

Captain Robert H. Shannon; Ralph E. Shannon, Washington, Iowa.

Captain James E. Gott; Mrs. Ella A. Gott, Berea, Ky.

Master Sgt. Lloyd C. Wier; John W. Wier, McRae, Ark.

Tech-Sgt. Kenneth A. Jeffers; Allen Jeffers, Oriskany Falls, N. Y.

Staff Sgt. Paul H. McQueen; Mrs. Mary Cannon, Endwell, N. Y.

Barth was the son of the late Brig. Gen. Charles H. Barth, formerly commanding officer at the Veterans Administration facility at Leavenworth, Kas. Barth went to the European theater only recently after serving under Andrews as assistant chief of staff in the Middle East. His home was at Walker, Minn.

Reds Smash On In Kuban Drive

Now In Nine Miles Of Big Nazi Base

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Thursday, May 6—The Red Army has killed 7,000 Germans, captured the rail junction of Krymskaya, and pushed on eight miles to occupy Neberdjayevskaya, only nine miles from the Black Sea port of Novorossisk, last big Axis base in the Caucasus, Moscow announced early today.

The midnight communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said eight other villages had fallen to the advancing Russians, who also captured 80 guns, 220 machineguns and other war material in their power drive to oust remaining Axis forces clinging to the Caucasus.

Smashing German positions on a 15-mile-wide front, the Red Army troops were supported by Soviet airmen who were heavily strafing the retreating Germans, the communique said.

The fighting raged over a 30-mile front from a point just northeast of Novorossisk to the lower Kuban river valley on the Taman peninsula to the north.

Big Russian bombers also were disclosed to have flown at least 450 miles across the Black Sea to pound the German-occupied Rumanian port of Constanta Tuesday night, and other Axis rear line objectives also were bombed.

Yalta in the Crimea opposite the Caucasus, Bryansk and Gomel in central Russia, and Brest-Litovsk in Poland also were attacked by the Russian air force. Brest-Litovsk is on the 1941 border of Russia and Germany.

Fires And Explosions

Many fires broke out and heavy explosions were observed in ammunition dumps and rail yards following these night attacks, Moscow said in a broadcast.

The entire Russian land front appeared to be coming alive, with fighting reported in various sectors between the Black Sea and Leningrad in the north, but the most violent actions were confined to the Caucasus.

The Russians were using much American equipment in the unfolding offensive.

Berlin already had acknowledged the loss of Krymskaya, 17 miles northeast of Novorossisk, and sought to minimize its importance. Capt. Ludwig Sertorius,

Liquor Curfew Bill Is Signed Into Law

AUSTIN, May 5. (AP) — Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today signed the curfew bill which provides for earlier closing hours for alcoholic beverage establishments and prohibits public consumption of beer during certain hours.

Because the bill did not get enough votes in the Senate to put the emergency clause into effect, its provisions will not become operative until the middle of August.

Under terms of the curfew bill, liquor may be sold only between 9 a. m. and 10 p. m. on week days compared with 7 till midnight at present. There was no change in Sunday prohibition of distilled spirits sales.

The bill also provides beer may be sold until midnight during the week and one hour later on Saturday nights. A 15-minute period for public consumption is allowed after sales stop. Sunday sale of beer may not start before 1 p. m.

Yanks Closing In On Bizerte

Column Also Moves South To Aid Of Stalled British

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, May 5. American and French troops have reached a point only 10 miles from Bizerte while another American column swinging southeast from Mateur was reported tonight to be threatening to turn German positions which have been holding up the British First Army 20 miles west of Tunis.

Three columns, two of them American, were converging on Bizerte in northern Tunisia. A French column reached Cap Koran, 10 miles west of Bizerte and at the edge of a plain leading to that city, one American column pushing along the northern edge of Lake Achkel below Bizerte repulsed a German counterattack at Djebel Cheniti, and another American column driving northeastward from Mateur was only five miles short of Ferryville.

Eight Miles Across Lake

Ferryville is 10 miles above Mateur and only eight miles across Lake Bizerte from the heavily fortified naval base. As a supply port for the Axis forces Ferryville already has been rendered largely useless by concentrated American air bombing.

Big Allied guns now can shell both Ferryville and Bizerte.

Pushing out of the captured highway hub of Mateur the Americans were reported to have made a five-mile gain east of that city, and to the southeast repulsed another light enemy counterattack launched from Djebel Makna, a ridge on the east side of the River Tine.

It was this latter American thrust aimed at Tebourba, 18 miles west of Tunis and about the same distance southeast of Mateur, that was threatening to outflank the Germans who have been holding up the British First Army east of Medjez-el-Bab.

Dispatches said that American patrols already had taken Eddekhila, only six miles west of Tebourba. A junction of the two forces would facilitate a direct Smash at Tunis.

Indicate Cape Bon Stand

The stubbornness of the German defenders opposing the British First Army and the Eighth Army in the south suggested the Axis command was bent on keeping the way open into the northeastern tip of Tunisia, the Cape Bon area, for a final stand. All along the western and southern rim of the Axis defense arc the Germans were offering violent resistance.

The German hurled 30 tanks against the British First Army in a counterattack yesterday east of

Dortmund Feels Full RAF Fury

Heaviest Raid Of War Lashes City

LONDON, May 5. (AP) — The largest concentration of four-engine bombers ever sent out on a war mission bashed Dortmund, Germany, last night with a 1,800-ton blockbuster saturation raid approximating the weight of destruction heaped on Cologne by more than 1,000 planes nearly a year ago.

The size of the RAF attacking force over Portmund could only be gauged by the fact that the loss of 30 planes was not considered excessive. In the official language of the air ministry the raid was described as "very heavy."

Terrific Explosions

Canadian participants in the Dortmund raid told of "terrific" explosions and fires caused by the cascade of four and two-ton blockbusters and tens of thousands of incentiaries dropped on the toolmaking and war industrial city of half a million population, which is a neighbor of bombed-out Essen and a canal cross-roads of the blasted Ruhr.

The official German version from the daily Berlin communique said:

"Last night British bombers attacked western Germany and dropped numerous high explosives and incendiary bombs, mainly on residential quarters in the city of Dortmund. The population suffered losses. Major damage was caused to buildings in the town. Thirty-six bombers, mainly four-engined, were shot down by night fighters and air force anti-aircraft artillery, according to news received so far."

Then, commenting on a German raid which the British dismissed as trivial, the Berlin communique added:

"A strong formation of heavy German bombers dropped numerous explosive and incendiary bombs on targets in southeast

Revamped Chiro Bill Approved

AUSTIN, May 5 (AP)—In debate spiked by bitter words the House of Representatives today accepted Senate amendments to a bill regulating and licensing chiropractors in Texas

Rep. Arthur Cato of Weatherford provoked a storm of debate when he asserted from the floor:

"It is general knowledge that the chiropractors spent $25,000 in the House."

"That's a lie," shouted Rep. Ennis Favors of Pampa.

Rep. W. T. McDonald of Bryan interrupted to say that he agreed with Cato that consideration of the Senate amendment should be postponed but "you ought to apologize for what you say."

"I'll amend my statement to say that lots of parties and feeds and liquor parties were thrown," declared Cato.

The bill, by Rep. Manor Westbrook of Magnolia Springs, as amended in the Senate, places tighter restrictions on chiropractors—not heretofore given legal status in Texas—than voted by the House. Opponents declared chiropractors sought a bill to protect them against future competition while proponents declared it was designed for protection of the public and to better the profession itself.

The measure sets up a nine-

Oil Firm Loses By Instructed Verdict

SUPERIOR, Wis., May 5 (AP) — Judge Patrick T. Stone ruled today that the Northwestern Oil company of Superior had failed to show it had suffered damages and ordered a directed verdict in favor of seven major oil companies which were being sued in federal court by Northwestern for $750,000.

The judge held that Northwestern had failed to offer evidence that it had sustained any injury damage either to its business or property because of the alleged conspiracy or the alleged acts of the defendants.

Northwestern, an oil jobber, claimed it had suffered damages because of an alleged conspiracy between Socony-Vacuum, Phillips Petroleum, Mid-Continent Petroleum Products, Pure Oil, Shell Oil, Sinclair Refining and Continental Oil companies to fix prices in 1935 and 1936.

Japs Destroyed In Own Trap During U. S. Raid On Island

SAN DIEGO, May 5. (AP) — How the Japanese met destruction in their own trap when U. S. warships raided an enemy base at Vila, on Kolombangara island, early in March, was told today in the naval hospital here.

Before the raid was finished, Vance said two large destroyers had been sunk and the strategic enemy airfield thoroughly bombarded. He said practically no damage was done to the U. S. ships.

Bombarding the airfield at Vila seemed like suicide, the naval officer said, as the ships had to go about 17 miles in the channel to get at the base, and the waterway was only five miles wide.

Vance said two enemy ships were sighted hiding near shore when his ship, which was leading, entered the bay. The enemy apparently was waiting for all of the ships to enter the channel before moving into a firing position.

"We wasted no time speculating, though, and sent a salvo of torpedoes at the first ship," Vance said. "Just before the 'fish' hit, most of our other ships opened fire.

"Our shells were flying so fast that it seemed they would bump each other. They made a path of fire which looked solid enough to walk across.

"The enemy destroyer started to burn, then broke in two. It went

IN THE MAIL

SOMEONE sent this little rhyming letter and we are reprinting it because we think it shows how our fighting boys heed warning not to divulge military information. We hope it does not prompt a deluge of home-made poetry. It just happens to be in rhyme.

"Dear Maude: I'm censored
Can't write a thing,
Just that I'm well
And then sign my name.
Can't tell if it's sunny,
Can't tell if it rains,
All military secrets
Must secrets remain.
Don't know when I'm going
Don't know where I'll land,
Couldn't inform you
If met by a band.
Can't tell where we sailed from,
Can't mention the date,
And can't even remember
The meals that I ate.
Can't keep a diary
For such is a sin,
Can't keep the envelope
Your letter came in.
Can't find a flashlight
To guide me at night,
Can't smoke a cigarette
Except out of sight.
Don't know for sure
Just what I can do.
Except sign the envelope
And mail it to you."

SOMETIMES so-called "older girls" are not sure whether or not to refer to themselves as "girls." We sometimes have wished there was a word that described a person who was too old to be called "girl" and yet not old enough to be referred to as "woman." Perhaps you don't know what we are talking about but if you are feminine and over 25 and under 45 you understand.

Here are some questions you might ask yourself to determine whether you may rightfully call yourself "one of the girls."

Do sale people say, "You'll like that dress it has such youhful lines," when they are trying to make a sale?

How long has it been since anyone said, "Woo woo" when you passed?

When you meet soldiers and sailors down town do they pass by without taking a second sneaking look?

Have the first gray hairs appeared to worry you into wondering whether or not you'll dye your hair when they start multiplying?

Do you think the words to the popular songs are terrible?

Do you make it clear that a friend who is slightly older than you is out of your age group?

Do you get a thrill when someone remarks how young you look?

Do you apologize for the age of your oldest child by telling strangers how young you were when you married? "I was just a child" is the usual phrase.

Do you think college students are "terribly young" or "frightfully silly?"

Do you become angry when someone guesses your age?

Are you reluctant to let anyone know exactly how old you are?

If you truthfully answer "Yes" to most those questions you should be referring to yourself and your friends as "women." Because you no longer are one of the "girls."

DID YOU KNOW? From whence came "chevrons" the stripes noncommissioned officers in the Army wear?

The chevron represents the apex of a roof and is an architectural term. In by-gone days the wearer of a chevron was "the head of the house" or clan.

Saroyan Book To Be Reviewed Tonight

Ticket sales are continuing for the review of Saroyan's "The Human Comedy," to be given by Rabbi Isadore Garsek tonight at 8:11 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium. Roscoe Wilson Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring the review and proceeds will be placed in War bonds for the time being and later will go toward furnishing the Wilson school lunch room.

Texas Tech Council Of Women Graduates Elect Officers And Complete Activities

When representatives of the Tech Council of Women Graduates met at the home economics building Tuesday night, an election of officers was conducted and the season's activities completed. Those placed in office were as follows:

Mrs. J. G. Bateman, president; Mrs. J. Neuel Bryan, vice president; Miss Verna Crump, secretary; Miss Ferrelline Tucker, treasurer; Miss Ruth Craig, reporter.

Mrs. Oscar A. Kinchen presided in the absence of Mrs. Yancey Price, chairman, who has gone to Camp Robinson, Ark., to join her husband, Lt. Price.

The council voted to cancel a yearly spring tea that honors women members of the graduating class and instead to buy a War bond and place it in the Paul Whitfield Horn Memorial fund as a tribute to the class. The memorial fund is jointly sponsored by the council and the Quarterly club to assist women to do graduate work at Tech college or in other graduate schools.

Because of the unsettled times, it was agreed to leave next year's program plans to the discretion of the executive committee.

Growth Of Cattle Mart Phenomenal

L. A. Howard, one of the owners of Lubbock's cattle auction market, predicted there will be $20,000,000 worth of cattle sold in the ring here during 1943. If the present rate of sales continue, there will be 300,000 head of cattle sold, he said.

Howard brought the phenomenal story of Lubbock's five-year-old cattle auction market to the Rotary club here Wednesday. Last year, he said, 200,000 head of cattle went through the ring here, their sale bringing $11,000,000. This year there are far more cattle and the price is higher.

Hog Market Needed

The speaker said Lubbock needs a hog market just as badly as it needed a cattle market. Success of the cattle auction sales, he believes, with a 50 to 100 per cent increase in volume each year the last, is proof that the market is serving a real need. He said a hog auction market would meet with equal success, and also that a sheep market would pay handsomely.

Not all of the cattle sold in Lubbock are sold in the auction ring. Howard said there are many thousands of head disposed of by various firms and individuals before they ever reach the auction ring, but he said all the hogs an sheep sold here are disposed of to buyers who handle only fattened hogs and who pay only the market prices. No feeder hogs are sold here. Buyers of hogs and sheep who want to come here find no facilities that will accommodate them, and the few who do come have too look around on the individual farms; perhaps they find what they want perhaps not.

Great Number Of Sheep

Howard said north, west, and south of Lubbock there are more sheep than in any similar area in the United States. Those areas produce a great number of sheep. The immediate Lubbock area is a feeding area, but Lubbock is in the midst of this sheep production and has no market facilities. A buyer has to go to Kansas City to buy a sheep that is grown in the nearby San Angelo territory, he said.

The highest price ever paid in the Lubbock auction ring for a beef cow was $293. The lowest price paid was 50 cents. Howard used these figures to illustrate the practical side of the market facilities.

"You may think this cattle market here is a big thing, and it is," Hoard said, "but I'm telling you it is a small child now to what it will be in a very short time." He then told of the tremendous feed crops, their valued market process when fed for meat production, and the natural increase in livestock over a wide area in every section from Lubbock.

Great Development

In presenting the speaker, Walter Posey of the First National bank said when he came to Lubbock in 1904 there wasn't anything in this country but cattle. There were no farms. At that time, and for a long time afterwards, he estimated the number of cattle in Lubbock county at 10,000. Howard concurred in this estimated later when he spoke, and said Lubbock county now has 50,000 to 60,000 head of cattle, in contrast, and that every other West Texas county has developed its cattle industry, along with farming, in proportion.

Howard said the market here had faced some difficulties and some puny efforts to legislate it out of existence, and other handicaps as it grew and expanded its service, but these had easily been overcome because of the assistance rendered by the chamber of commerce, the newspapers, the banks, and the meat slaughterers and other friends here.

Abernathy Schools In Bond Sales Drive

ABERNATHY, May 5. (Special)—High school and elementary grades classes are in spirited competition to determine which can sell the most war bonds before 8:30 o'clock Friday night, when a nominee of the successful class will be crowned queen at a school style show and bond selling session.

Sophomores were leading Tuesday, their $19,000 edging the seniors' $16,000. Other classes were making a good showing.

There will be exhibits at the Friday night show, and members of the home economics department will model clothing they made. Candidates for queen will enter the school gymnasium through an arc of roses.

W. V. Swinburn, superintendent who is directing the program, and Mrs. Evaughn Hackler, home economics teacher who planned costumes and details of the style-show, listed candidates as: Icy Mae Prock of the seniors, Oneta Rhodes of the juniors, Peggie Boren of the sophomores, Billy Jean Petty of the freshmen, Bonnie Ruth Littleton of the seventh and eighth grades, and Joy Garwin of the fifth and sixth grades. There may be other candidates announced.

City Swimming Pool Opens About June 1

City swimming pool in Mackenzie state park will be opened about June 1, and prices will be about the same as of last year.

The fact that the pool can be operated this season is due to foresight on the part of officials last summer. They were able to obtain enough chemicals to be used in purifying the water to last through the coming season. Those chemicals aren't available now, and no one knows when they will be.

Lt. Gen. Andrews Had Brother Living Here

Lt. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, late commander in chief of American forces in the European theater has a Lubbock brother, Henry Andrews of 1314 Thirty-first street.

Gen. Andrews was killed late Monday when a B-24 in which he was completing a tour of defense base inspections crashed in Iceland. So important was he in plans of the inner war council, invasion of western Europe may be delayed because of his death, conjecture has said.

The Lubbock relative is in a veterans hospital at Albuquerque, N. M., but his wife, an employe of Hilton hotel, told reporters of the relationship.

"The general was the youngest child of the family," Mrs. Andrews said. "His mother died when he was born. He was taken by grandparents, and my husband did not see him until he was grown. The grandparents, in the meantime, had died, and Frank had joined the Army at 17 or 18 and had fought in France in World war I. We were in Louisiana when he came to see us. The visits were repeated.

"Frank was all Army—through and through. He and my husband had not had childhood relationship, so they tried to make it up in those brief visits, but fell back to talking Army. They had a common understanding there.

"General Frank was a real nice man. Everybody liked him. It was quite a shock to read of his death."

The Lubbock brother, suffering of a mastoid condition, expects to remain in Albuquerque possibly several months, Mrs. Andrews said.

Business Heavy At Ration Board

Lubbock county "beats a path" to the rationing board door . . . as is evidenced by a summary for April showing issuance of thousands of books and certificates during the month.

The gasoline summary shows: A books, basic books for passenger car gasoline, 386; B books, 1,234; C books, 830; D books, for motorcycles, 6; E books, 123, and R books, 1,214, for non-highway uses; T-1, 834; and T-2, 424, for trucks and commercial vehicles.

During the month the following were issued in the food division, food certificates for institutional and industrial users, boys in service home on furlough and medical patients, 1,288; sugar certificates, 396; war ration book No. 1, 256; war ration book No. 2, 404.

Special Shoe Stamps

Special shoe stamps were issued to 49 persons.

Tire and tube recapping certificates were issued in the following numbers: grade 1, passenger tires, 319; grade 2 passenger tires, 419; grade 3 passenger tires, 292; passenger tubes, 451; truck tires, 528; truck tubes, 460; implement tires, 211; truck recapping service, 176.

Tire and tube rejections, due for the most part to shortage of quota, were: Grade 1, 96; grade 2, 184; grade 3, 111; passenger tires, 124; truck tires, 82; truck tubes, 43; implement tires, 11.

Forty certificates were issued for new passenger automobiles and nine for bicycles.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

This is a nationwide warning being published in the interest of protecting public health.

In cooperation with the United States Food and Drug administration, the Centaur company of Rahway, New Jersey, manufacturers of Fletcher's Castoria warns all holders of Fletcher's Castoria, that is wholesale druggists, retail druggists, country storekeepers and consumers, to discontinue the sale and use of the article because it has been discovered that all such Fletcher's Castoria which has been shipped since March 1st, 1943 contains a foreign ingredient which causes nausea and vomiting.

As neither consumers nor retailers can tell the difference between the packages made before March 1st and those produced thereafter, it is necessary to withdraw and recover all Fletcher's Castoria outstanding.

Everyone is asked to search the medicine chest and to return to the retail dealer for refund any and all such Fletcher's Castoria purchased during the last 60 days. Please notify all your friends to do likewise.

If you are a retailer, please immediately discontinue the sale of all Fletcher's Castoria on hand and return all stocks to the manufacturer for refund.

It is urgently necessary for health protection that you follow these instructions faithfully.

This is the announcement that was made over the radio yesterday. It applies to Fletcher's Castoria sold in the United States only.

Where the "So-Called" Hopeless Do Get Well

CASE HISTORY No. 1243. Lady age 29 who had suffered from severe insomnia, unable to sleep for nearly two weeks. Back hurt all the time aching in left shoulder for four years, sinus trouble, and constipation. Had tried many kinds of remedies without results. She came to a chiropractor as a last resort. The spine was X-rayed, especially the upper neck, in different angles, and she began taking chiropractic service. After the first few days she began sleeping soundly. The adjustment released the nerves and in a few weeks time all symptoms had disappeared and under a complete course of adjustments, she felt like a new person. This case thought so much of Chiropractic, that she had mother take adjustments, and she responded wonderfully.

CASE HISTORY No. 282. Lady age 73 had a pain under shoulder blade. Had high blood pressure, tingling sensation in right hand, severe dizziness in head, pains in knees and ankles. Under a course of Chiropractic, she was greatly improved and continued adjustments off and on for many months for other necessary ailments. Although not entirely well she states that the adjustments had saved her life from some form of paralysis.

WHAT DOES A CHIROPRACTOR DO? The chiropractor locates and corrects the cause of physical suffering so the nerve impulse traveling from the brain to the affected organs of the body can rebuild that particular part that is dis-eased, and the brain can control the body the way it should. Brain or nerve energy is transmitted over the body's network of nerves. These nerves come from the spine, and it is in the spine that these nerves can be "pinched"; and the flow of energy over them may be impeded or partially cut off. It is the Chiropractor's duty to locate the points of nerve interference and to correct that by the proper adjustment. When you deal with nerve energy you are dealing with the spiritual something that controls the welfare of the human body.

YES You can still be an AVIATION CADET!

• If you want to fight for your country in the air, where there's need for your skill and daring—if you want to be ready for a future career in aviation—the opportunity is still open to you.

1 If you are 18 to 26 years old, inclusive, and have not yet been called for induction under Selective Service, you may apply at once at the nearest Aviation Cadet Examining Board to take your physical and mental examinations. No school or college credits are required. If you pass the examinations and are found acceptable, you will be given a letter to the Armed Forces Induction Station requesting your assignment to the Army Air Forces upon induction. You may then volunteer for induction through your local Selective Service Board. After induction you will be assigned for preparatory training, upon completion of which you will receive your appointment as an Aviation Cadet and have an opportunity to become a Bombardier, Navigator or Pilot—one of the "Three Musketeers of the Air"!

2 If you have already been called for induction, you cannot apply direct for Aviation Cadet training. But, if you are assigned to the Army, you have the same opportunity open to every soldier, 18 to 26 years old, inclusive, to apply for Aviation Cadet training after you are in the ranks.

3 If you are 17 but not yet 18, you can go now to your Aviation Cadet Examining Board and volunteer for enlistment in the Air Corps Cadet Enlisted Reserve. Air Corps Enlisted Reservists are called to active duty for pre-flight training at the end of the first school semester after reaching the age of 18.

Limits Placed On Purchases Of Corn

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP) — With feed supplies dwindling under the record war time livestock production program, the War Food administration took steps today which it said were designed to prevent hoarding of corn by feeders, feed mixers and manufacturers. It placed limits on the amounts of corn which may be purchased or delivered.

At the same time, the agency called government loans to growers on about 55,000,000 bushels of corn grown in 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941. Borrowers will be required to redeem this grain by July 1 or deliver it to the government as payment of their loans.

To Stimulate Marketing

The food administration said that inasmuch as corn is selling at more than the loan value, borrowers could redeem the grain for livestock feed or for sale on the market at a financial advantage.

Officials said call of the corn loans should stimulate the marketing of corn during the next few weeks when the grain will be needed by processors and feeders in deficit corn producing areas.

Supply Is Limited

An order directs that purchases and deliveries of corn by manufacturers and feed mixers be limited to a 45-day supply and purchasers by feeders to a 90-day supply, including present stocks on hand.

The order, effective immediately, was described as designed to prevent an accumulation of corn by one user at the expense of another.

Country elevator operators will be permitted to accept corn on condition that they offer it for sale within 30 days of delivery.

The order does not affect deliveries under contract, including futures, made before April 14.

Plant Seizure Bill

ment up to one year for any person convicted of coercing, instigating or inducing any person to interfere with operations of the plant by lock-out, strike or slowdown.

On the suggestion of his colleagues, Connally agreed to modify the penalty clause to exempt from the fine or imprisonment anybody who merely ceased to work or who refused to accept employment.

At one point in the debate, Connnally argued with majority leader Barkley (D-Ky) over criticism of the penalty provision.

May Be False Teeth

"I introduced this bill last session," Connally said, "and everybody asked me why I didn't put some teeth in it. As soon as I put a couple of little milk teeth in it, the same people want to call in the dentist, pull them out and send the bill to the judiciary committee nursing home."

The tall, drawling Texan was speaking in opposition to a motion, later defeated, by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) to recommit the bill.

"You didn't necessarily have to put a whole set of false teeth in it," Barkley objected.

"The senator from Kentucky," replied the Texan, "perhaps is more familiar with false teeth than I am."

Wheeler, in opposing action now, said he didn't believe that the Senate ought to vote on a bill such as Connally measure while "a spirit of hysteria" was abroad.

Russian Front

a Nazi commentator, said in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press that Krymskaya was "absolutely insignificant" from a strategic point of view, and that the Germans gave it up as a means of "economizing forces for larger and more important projects."

Now A Familiar Phrase

Sortorius used the now familiar German phrase of "shortening the front" in describing the loss of Krymskaya.

The Russians, however, said in the midnight bulletin that the Germans had converted Krymskaya into "a most important and heavily fortified strongpoint," which was won after fierce fighting.

Besides killing 7,000 Germans in the fighting around Krymskaya, the Russians last week said that 7,000 more Axis troops had fallen in a six-day series of unsuccessful counterattacks, presumably trying to unbalance the start of the present Red Army offensive.

Krymskaya is a rail junction which affords Red Army liaison with other Russian forces fighting in the Kuban valley sector to the north.

Much Destruction

Several dozen German blockhouses and dugouts were destroyed yesterday in the Kuban valley secter, the communique said. Soviet gunners also were reported to have destroyed two German tanks and 27 trucks carrying infantry and supplies in supporting the "violent engagements" being fought there.

The Russian aim clearly was to expel the Germans from the Caucasus so that more Red Army troops can be released for summer operations elsewhere on the long Russian front.

Moscow dispatches said the Red Army was receiving much American material aid in the northwestern Caucasus because of its relative proximity to Iran and an improvement of communications in that middle eastern country where United States supplies are shipped overland after rounding Africa.

News Briefs

Fire destroyed several stacks of feed, a shed filled with maize, a chicken-house, and several miscellaneous out-buildings on the J. A. Clark ranch, 5 1-2 miles west of town, yesterday, according to the fire department.

The safe at the Midway theater was burglarized late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, and about $101 in cash appeared to have been taken, the city police announced yesterday. They were still working on the case.

A 16-year-old negro boy was held in the county jail last night on a charge of raping an 8-year-old negro girl .

Fires was started in a blacksmith shop at Avenue E and Thirteenth street last night supposedly by an electric welder that was left turned on. The fire department stated that the damage was confined largely to the instrument.

smaller quantities of electric furnaces, presses, forging hammers, and other machine tools.

Along with aircraft and motor vehicles, food shipments now hold the top pirority, Stettinius said. Most lend-lease shipments of dehydrated vegetables are going to Russia along with wheat flour, sugar, canned meats, dried peas and beans, lard and vegetable oils. So that the Russians may produce food in newly-developed agricultural areas, this country also has shipped 8,000 tons of seeds.

Yanks Closing In

Medjez-el-Bab, but today's communique said 12 of them were destroyed, including two 60-ton Tigers. The enemy's infantry waves also were broken and thrown back.

British Tommies then were said to have gained ground in their effort to take the last hill barring them from swarming onto the plain leading to Tunis.

Steadily Sap Nazi Strength

Although both sides have suffered heavily in this area between Medjez-el-Bab and Pont Du Fahs, the British First Army steadily has been sapping Nazi strength. An example of this was the announcement today that the British had taken 5,000 prisoners, 4,000 of them Germans, since April 21, the eve of the current Allied offensive.

Farther south the 19th French corps commanded by Gen. Louis Marie Koeltz was making headway in its effort to crack open the southern approaches to Tunis. These troops by nightfall yesterday had reached a point only eight miles from Zaghouan, and a communique tonight said they had gained "many miles" since then in the attempt to outflank Axis positions in the Pont Du Fahs sector 14 miles to the west.

French By-Pass Town

The French by-passed Pont Du Fahs in their eastward sweep toward Zaghouan, whose capture would threaten the encirclement of the Germans who are holding up Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's British Eighth Army in the Enfidaville sector 23 miles to the southeast.

From Zaghouan a road leads eastward to the coast at Bou Ficha. Tunis is 28 miles north of Zaghouan.

Meanwhile the Eighth Army's artillery still was pumping shells into the Axis mountain nests, and its patrols had several clashes with the enemy north of Enfidaville.

Jefferson Favored In Schoolboy Track Meet

SAN ANTONIO, May 4. (AP)—A terrific one-two punch in the sprints makes Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio a prohibitive favorite to repeat as champion in the state schoolboy track and field meet Friday and Saturday at Austin.

Charley Parker, the 16-year-old "pony express" of the Mustang team, has won 33 races without a loss over a two-year period and is favored to add two more victories to his string in the finals of the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes next Saturday, and it wouldn't be surprising to see a teammate, Jack Grieder, chase him home in each race.

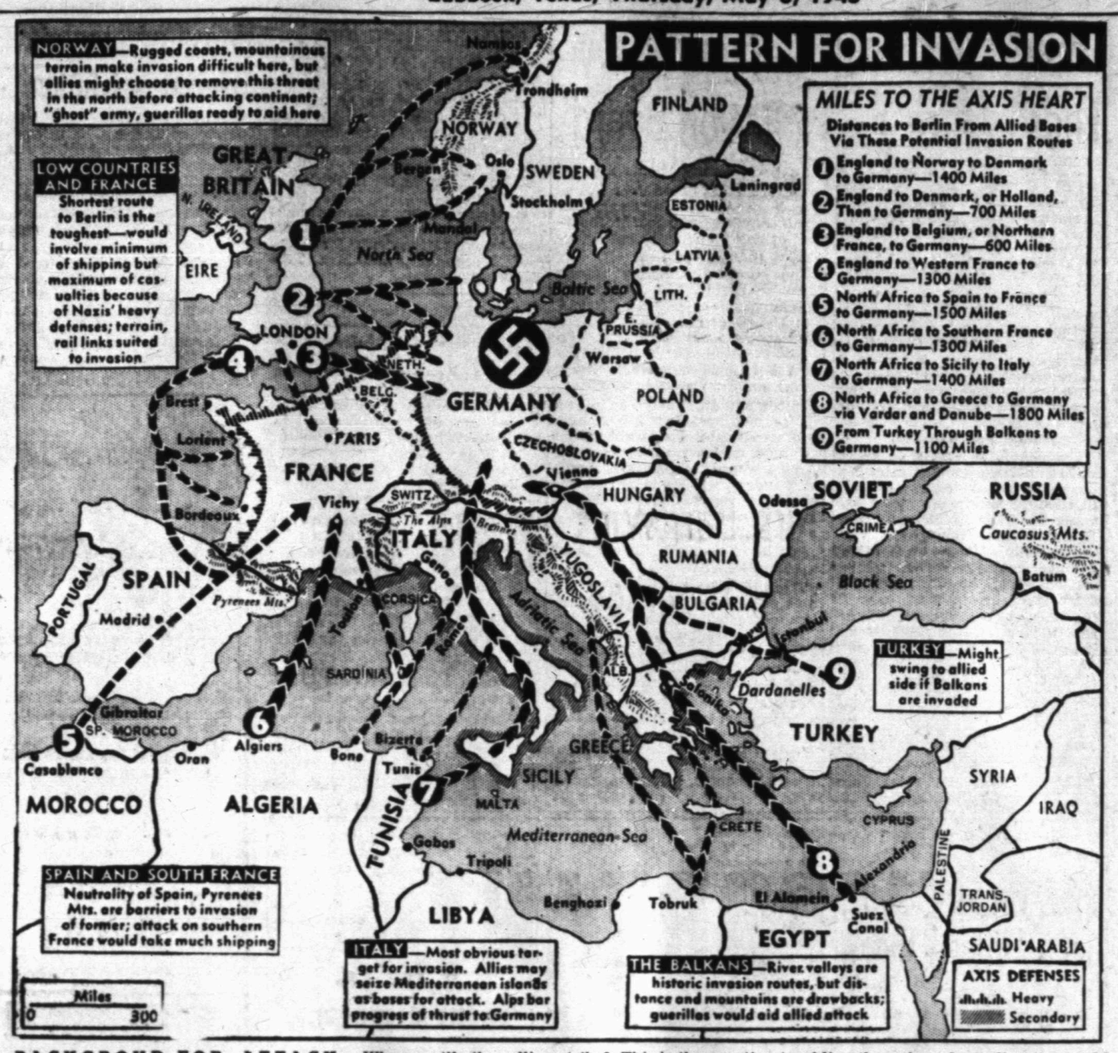

Parker, who won both the short dashes in last year's championship meet, has been victorious in 14 races this season and the only real competition he has had came from Greider, another 16-year-old. Twelve times the second half of the Mustangs' knockout wallop has finished second to his buddy. Once he ran third, behind another Jefferson ace, Bill Eagle, because of an injured back, and another time was scratched out of the finals because of the same injury.

Nation Suffered Loss In Death Of Andrews Says Fort Worth Kin

FORT WORTH, May 5. (U.P.) — Death of Lt. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, European theater American commander, "was a great misfortune for the United States," his uncle, the Rev. W. B. Andrews of Fort Worth, said today.

"I am sure that his plans for the invasion would have been successful," Rev. Andrews said.

He added that Gen. Andrews was "a very fine man."

Renowned Violinist Thrills His Audience

Albert Spalding, renowned violinist of the Metropolitan Musical bureau, thrilled a huge audience of students and townspeople who packed Lubbock High school Wednesday night, with the skill that has won him the highest acclaim throughout the world.

Appearing under auspices of the Tech artist course, on the final number for the season, Spalding gave a performance that may well go down as one of the most outstanding ever to be brought here for an artist course program.

Accompanied by Andre Benoist at the piano, Spalding was applauded to five encores. Encore numbers were: Schubert's "Ave Marie," "A Hungarian Dance" by Brahms, a Rumanian Gypsy dance, a Spanish Serenade (Chaminade), and "Londondery Air."

The world-famous violinist's career began 21 years ago when he graduated, at the age of 14, from Bologna Conservatory of Music with the highest honors accorded anyone since Mozart. Since that time he has made concert tours all over the globe, has been engaged with every leading symphony orchestra in America and with every first-class orchestra in Europe.

Having had over 60 original compositions published, he has won recognition as one of America's foremost composers.

Jap Ships Lashed

at enemy installations at Vanga and at Ringi Cove on Kolombangara island about 185 nautical miles northwest of Guadalcanal airfield and about 125 from the new American base in the Russell islands.

A fire was started at Vanga Vanga, the communique said, and "smoke was observed in the Ringi Cove area." Navy men here said they were without information as to the nature of the Japanese installations.

Now that the United States has moved into Ellice islands in the south central Pacific, has disclosed the occupation of the Russels north of Guadalcanal, and has brought increasing pressure to bear on Kiska in the Aleutians, the assumption here is that the Japanese are devoting every ounce of energy to the strengthening of their positions in antipication of hard fighting ahead.

Some authorities here already are of the opinion the enemy can be thrown out of Kiska only by American troops landing under fire and fighting with guns, bayonets and grenades. Months of aerial pounding have not forced the Japanese to withdraw.

England on the night of May 4."

Heaviest Raid Yet

Dortmund has been only an incidental target of previous RAF missions until it was singled out last night for the greatest blow delivered by the RAF heavyweights. It was noted that while Cologne became synonymous with destruction from the air because of the tremendous number of bombers used on the historic raid about a year ago, some of them were of the lighter two-engine types.

Dortmund thus became the first German city to feel the full weight of the biggest heavyweight air fleet marshalled anywhere in the war for a single devastating blow.

An RAF spokesman said the aerial offensive was keeping four out of five German night fighters pinned down on the defense of Europe and that Goering's air force was outnumbered on the three main fronts—Russia, Africa and Europe—and has lost the battle of production as well.

May 15 Deadline For Bicycle Registration

Registration of bicycles by the city police, which has been going on since February, will reach its deadline on May 15, Police Chief Don Reeder warned yesterday. The registration fee is 35 cents, but after May 15 a 50-cent penalty will be added.

To give children who ride their bicycles to school a special chance to register, from two to four policemen will be on duty at the Junior High school on Friday from 1 to 1:30 p. m. to receive registrations, and at the Senior High school on Tuesday during the morning and after school hours, Reeder said. Similar registrations will be held in all other schools at dates yet to be announced.

Children are asked to bring the correct change, 35 cents, and ownership papers, to facilitate registration.

Roosevelt FFA Boys Fete Dads

Roosevelt Future Farmer lads and their dads were told at a joint meeting in the Mexican Inn Wednesday night they are farming in the most progressive, and perhaps ultimately, the most productive agricultural belt in the entire world. Their speaker was Ray L. Chappelle, professor and head of the department of agricultural education at Texas Technological college.

The meeting was featured by a banquet, tendered by the 46 FFA boys of the Roosevelt school in honor of their fathers. A number of other guests were presented, each making a short talk. The food was Mexican style.

Chapelle compared the modern West Texas farming methods, where one family works a section of land, with Japan's average acre and a quarter size farm; with India's and China's primitive farming where hunger is never absent because of the enormous populations; and with Argentina's vast farming areas and tremendous cattle herds—and a meager population of less than four millions.

Stone Introduces Guests

R. L. Stone, the chapter's adviser and vocational agriculture teacher in the Roosevelt school, introduced the guests. Two other speakers were Oscar Allen and Earl Gene Beach of Cotton Center. Both are Lone Star farmers, and each related his own FFA project experiences. They came to Lubbock with their agricultural teacher, G. K. Bullock, especially to take part in the meeting.

A. H. Leidigh, dean of agriculture; O. T. Ryan, area supervisor for vocational agriculture; both of Texas Tech, also were introduced, and each spoke briefly.

W. A. King, area supervisor of war production training, attached to Tech college; H. W. Gest, itinerant teacher trainer of Texas A. and I. college, Kingsville, were other guests, each bringing a brief message.

Coral Sea Battle Hero Will Be Honored In Vessel's Launching

HOUSTON, May 1. (U.P.) — The U. S. S. Ricketts, a destroyer escort vessel named for a hero who died in the battle of the Coral sea, will be launched May 10 at the Brown Shipbuilding Co.'s yards here, the Navy's public relations office announced today.

The late Lt. Ernest Milton Ricketts, USN, for whom the warship is named, was awarded posthumously the Congressional Medal of Honor for extraordinary heroism and gallantry aboard the aircraft carrier Yorktown.

Sponsor of the ship will be his widow, Mrs. Betty Jane Ricketts.

Lt. Ricketts, a graduate of the U. S. Naval academy in 1931, continued to direct attempts to put out a heavy fire despite wounds he had suffered, which proved fatal.

LAFS Enlisted Men Given Advancements

Advancement for 14 enlisted men at Lubbock Army Air field were announced yesterday.

Seven of the group, formerly glider pilots in the replacement pool at LAAF, have been sent to the infantry officer candidate school at Fort Benning, Ga. Texans included on the list were Robert A. Teague of Plainview, Royce G. Carlton of Lufkin and James W. Favors of Dallas. Others were Gordon D. Phipps, Des Moines; Richard J. Barron, Brooklyn; Robert H. Bibb, Nashville, and Ralph G. Vergenz, Watertown, Wis.

Promoted rank of master sergeant was Otis K. Mickelson of Wesby, Wis., non-commissioned officer in charge of the Link trainer section.

Texans boosted to technical sergeant were Oliver B. Edgar, 1511 Fourteenth street, formerly of Abilene; Milton H. Campbell, Fort Worth, and Waldon Pack, 3201 Twenty-first, formerly of San Antonio. Others raised to the same rank were Earl R. Frost, 2406 Tenth street, formerly of Norman, Okla.; Francis H. Fisk, Winfield, Kans., and Richard L. Bigham, Waxhaw, N. C.

Toll Of 11 Jap Ships In Year's Time Wins Crosses For Texan

WASHINGTON, May 5. (U.P.) — A toll of at least 11 enemy warships and merchantmen taken in little more than a year's operation by an American submarine has won three Navy crosses and the Army's Distinguished Service Cross for her commander, Lieut. Cmdr. Charles C. Kirkpatrick.

Kirkpatrick, 35, of Cocoa, Fla., a native of San Angelo, Tex., now has been named flag lieutenant to Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet.

After Pearl Harbor, Kirkpatrick commanded a submarine which prowled waters off Japan, China, the Aleutians, and the Solomons. At one time he was borrowed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur and was decorated by the Army for completing a special job.

Kirkpatrick's bag, made during four patrols, consists of one destroyer leader, one destroyer, one submarine, eight merchant ships, and several lesser craft.

"One of our most remarkable sinkings took place when we ran upon a single Japanese transport," Kirkpatrick recalled. "We put three torpedoes into her and she sank in less than two minutes. We ran around for an hour and a half amid the wreckage but we didn't sight a single survivor."

Knudsen Refuses To Take Sides

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 5. (U.P.) — Lieut. Gen. William Knudsen, Army production chief here on an inspection tour of war plants, refused today to take sides in the rubber-aviation gasoline controversy, declaring:

"More plants mean more rubber; more planes means more gasoline; we've got to have both."

Aircraft To Decide War

Predicting the Allies will win the war and that aircraft will be the deciding factor, Knudsen said he had found on his trip that "we're getting the job (of production) done" and said the country should talk more about the 95 per cent of war workers who build implements of war, rather than the 5 per cent absentees.

Not only during the war but after it, the general—a former Ford Motor company executive and former president of General Motors Co.—said air travel will play an increasingly important role in American life.

Will Travel By Air

"Airplanes take us where we need to go," he said. "Air cargo takes along the necessary working materials."

"And how do we get to the airport?" he asked, and answered: "Cars, of course."

Knudsen and a party of other Army officers are on a tour of midwestern aircraft plants.

Some Prohibitions

The bill prohibits chiropractors from advising against vaccination, anti-toxin or serum treatment and bars members of the profession from treating patients for infectious or contagious diseases. Annual renewal of licenses and attendance of a four-day post-graduate refresher course is required of licensees.

The House accepted Senate amendments by a vote of 70 to 58. Lieut.-Gov. John Lee Smith broke a 12 to 12 tie vote in the Senate finally to pass the bill.

The House voted a $22,081,000 rural aid appropriation for the next biennium and the Senate cut the allotment to $16,888,000, approximately the same as currently authorized. The House vocational education bill authorized a $1,211,000 expenditure and the Senate left the appropriation unchanged from the current biennium, $1,186,000.

The House concurred in Senate amendments to a bill appropriating $40,000 to the Texas Defense Guard for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Mustering only 53 affirmative votes in the House, a Senate bill levying a uniform tax of 3.25 per cent on premiums collected by life insurance companies in Texas apparently died for the session. The present tax is graduated from 3.1 to 4.65 per cent.

Meeting Set Tonight On Three WPB Orders

Lubbock and South Plains construction and plumbing contractors will have an opportunity tonight to ask questions concerning the War Production board orders governing the industries.

An open meeting, presided over by Norwell W. Harris, from the El Paso district office of the WPB is to be held at the West Texas Gas company auditorium starting at 8 o'clock. Construction order L-41 and plumbing and heating orders L-79 and P-84 will be open to round-table discussion, Harris said.

All who are connected in any way with the construction industry are urged to attend the meeting, and ask questions covering the orders.

Medical Publication Poses Problem For Local Draft Boards

CHICAGO, May 5 (AP) — The journal of the American Medical association in an editorial on medical aspects of selective service dependency regulations said today that "any child born after Sept. 15, 1942, could not be considered as having been conceived before Dec. 8, 1941 in the absence of overwhelming evidence on the contrary."

The editorial said that as a result of recent regulation changes "it will become necessary for local selective service boards to determine beyond reasonable doubt in certain borderline instances whether a child has been conceived before or after Dec. 8, 1941, in order to classify the registrant correctly.

The three demands which operators said might be adjusted involve establishment of minimum shift rates for all classifications of employes, continuous shift operations, and vacations.

Embarkation Areas Claimed Congested

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP) — Assailing official red tape, a congressional committee called today for "direct action" to alleviate congestion and overcrowding in war production centers and embarkation areas.

The house naval affairs subcommittee based its report on an investigation of conditions in San Diego, Calif., but it also has studied the situation in Hampton roads, Va., and San Francisco.

WLB Said Worst Offenders

The War Production board was charged in the report with being the "chief offender" in blocking an orderly and efficient solution of San Diego's problems.

Because of the necessity of obtaining approval of minor officials for specific community projects great delays on very important undertakings usually resulted, the report said, adding:

"On innumerable occasions requests, both public and private, for priorities of various kinds have been lost. Other applications have remained unacted upon for months and even for more than a year. The apparent policy of having each official of a dozen or more bureaus leisurely satisfy himself as to the correctness of the application before the head man gives a decision granting a priority rating may be the orthodox method of conducting a peacetime business enterprise, but it will never win a war. Direct action is needed, and that alone will produce the results essential to victory."

Recommends Director

For San Diego the subcommittee recommended appointment of "an over-all director or expediter" clothed by the president with authority to act.

The report also recommended inauguration of a curfew requiring juveniles under 16 to be off the streets by 10 p. m. and formation of labor-management committees in all war plants as a means of increasing production which, it said, is being threatened because of conditions existing in the city.

The subcommittee plans to conduct similar surveys in Portland, Me., and Newport, R. I.

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

THESE two important steps may help you overcome the discomforts or embarrassment of sour stomach, jerky nerves, loss of appetite, underweight, disgestive complaints, weakness!

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.

So with ample stomach digestive juices PLUS rich, red-blood you should enjoy that sense of well being which denotes physical fitness . . . mental alertness!

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need as it is especially designed to promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach and to build-up blood strength when deficient.

Three-Year Hunt Ends In Arrest

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 5. (AP)—FBI officers today announced the arrest of a 54-year-old dredge fireman had brought to an end a three-year hunt for John Donald Willmore, wanted in Nebraska on rape charges involving a 14-year-old girl.

The man, taken into custody on a boat in San Antonio bay on the Refugio-Aransas county line, denied he was Willmore but officials said his handwriting and physical characteristics corresponded to those of the man wanted in Nebraska down to the minutest detail.

Held For Nebraska

The man was arraigned before United States Commissioner Julius A. Mount under the unlawful flight statute and was ordered held under $5,000 bond for removal to Thayer county, Nebraska.

The rape offense in Nebraska charged against Willmore was committed March 27, 1939. Willmore, who is married and the father of adult children, disappeared the following June. He was traced to Kansas where his trail was lost.

The arrest of the man here came on a tip to the FBI from Chief of Police McCoy of San Benito, Tex., and Constable McMillan of Cameron county. McCoy and McMillan recognized the picture on a recent FBI identification order issued on Willmore as a man known to them as having worked in the fruit and vegetable business in the Rio Grande valley for the past three years.

Rites For Mrs. Ford Set At Lockney Today

Following a 7:30 o'clock service Wednesday evening at the Rix Funeral Home chapel here, the body of Mrs. Jimmie Davis Ford, was to be taken today to Lockney mhere final rites are to be conducted at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ford, 76, had lived on the plains more than 40 years. She died in St. Mary's hospital here Tuesday night. Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church, of which Mrs. Ford was a member, officiated at the service here. He will assist the Rev. George E. Turrentine of Muleshoe in the services at Lockney today. Burial is to be at Lockney.

Active pallbearers are A. R. Meriwether and Estes Woodburn of Lockney, John Russell of Estelline, Harry C. Delaney, Paul Hardwick and H. D. Stanley of Lubbock. Honorary pallbearers are Dr. J. L. Guest of Plainview, W. W. Brown of Littlefield, J. T. McClain of Floydada, Will McGehee of Hereford, and the following Lockney men: N.T.A. Byars, Sam Miller, Jake Griffith, Walt Griffith, Arthur Barber, Frank Perkins and Hubert Frizzell.

Mrs. Barr Wins New Trial Plea

AUSTIN, May 5 (U.P.)—The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today granted a motion for rehearing and ordered a new trial for Mrs. Juanita Barr, who had been given a four-year sentence in Dallas for the fatal shooting of Dancer Blanche Woodall.

The reversal was on the ground that introduction of testimony before a grand jury by Evelyn Proctor, sister of Mrs. Barr, was admissible only for the purpose of impeachment and should have been so restricted.

This testimony quoted Mrs. Barr as having said her husband's infatuation for the dancer might "pass off as other affairs have passed off."

Beauchamp Gives Opinion

Judge T. L. Beauchamp, in the opinion granting a rehearing and retrial, said: "Throughout the trial the state sought to show Eddie Barr's association with other women as an important fact bearing on appellant's defensive theory—in order for us to say that the many love affairs of Eddie Barr with other women could have no effect on the mental status of the appellant at the time of the homicide, we must reach such a conclusion as a psychological fact."

Judge Beauchamp then said that one person may react differently from another and the admission of the unrestricted testimony was harmful because the theory of the state was to show a "calloused affection" not sensitive to the conduct of the appellant's husband.

The shooting took place at the home of Mrs. Woodall in Dallas April 12, 1941. Mrs. Barr had gone there, her attorneys contended, after she had brooded over her husband's infatuation for the dancer and shot Mrs. Woodall during a momentary period of insanity.

Barr, then a Dallas newspaper columnist, did not testify at the trial.

Fort Worth Fat Stock Show Planned In 1944

FORT WORTH, May 5 (U.P.)—Postponed in 1943 because of war conditions, the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show will be held in 1944, directors announced after their annual meeting.

The 1944 show will be held March 10-19.

All directors of the show were re-elected, at business sessions in Fort Worth yesterday.

Mussolini Takes To The Balcony Again

LONDON, May 5. (U.P.)—Premier Benito Mussolini, in a balcony speech to a crowd in the Piazza Venetia today said "Italy must and will return to Africa," the Rome radio reported.

The broadcast version of Mussolini's pep talk said he was greeted with loud cheers when he appeared on the balcony to speak on the occasion of swearing in new members of the national directorate of the Fascist party.

"Nine years ago the conclusion the African campaign and creation of the Italian empire was announced from this place," he said.

"This development has by no means been concluded. If recent happenings have led to the present situation, this means only a pause, not a conclusion of the development."

WAS DEAFened NOW HEARS CLOCK TICK

A. M. Bostchenon, Newark, N. J., writes: "Before using Orotone Ear Drops, I was so deafened I could not hear the clock tick. After using Orotone, I can now hear the clock tick with both ears." Thousands now hard-of-hearing would hear clearly and distinctly again, and get relief from buzzing, ringing head noises, clogged up feeling in ears, if impacted wax that blocks ear canals and presses on sensitive eardrums was removed. Try safe Orotone as directed. Contains an ingredient especially recommended for this purpose. Druggists, Health Food Stores.

IN AN EMERGENCY OUR AMBULANCES

WILL speed you to a hospital where you can be under the care of a first class Doctor in less time than an ambulance driver will take to diagnose the case and apply his remedy, whether it be a splint or an oxygen tank. All licensed embalmers are given first aid courses during their training, but seldom get to use them in emergencies because it is more practical to rush the patient to a hospital which can usually be done within two of three minutes.

THINK THIS OVER—If your child should be injured, would you prefer having an ambulance driver diagnose the case and apply his remedy, or would you rather have the child rushed to your Doctor in your hospital?

Rookie's Balk Lets Yanks Beat Bosox

9th-Inning Mound Error Gives New York 4-3 Verdict

NEW YORK, May ', (AP) — A rookie error by Anton Karl, who accidentally got off the rubber while pitching with the bases loaded in the ninth inning, gave the New York Yankees a run on a balk today and a 4-3 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

The American league leaders provided Hank Borowy a 3-0 margin in the first three innings, one of the runs being Charley Keller's second homer in the first frame.

But the Red Sox kept scrapping. In the fourth Bobby Doerr tripled and scored on a fly by Al Simmons and in the ninth they knocked Borowy out with two runs to tie the score. In this rally Tom McBride walked, Doerr singled and after Simmons had popped foul, Tony Lupien also drew a pass.

Murphy Gets Victory

At this point Johnny Murphy came to the mound and was greeted by Pete Fox' second double of the game for two tallies. Joe Cronin batted for Jim Tabor and was intentionally walked to load the bases again, but Johnny Peacock grounded into a double play.

The Yanks came right back at Karl, who had taken over Boston's pitching duties after Tex Hughson was removed for a pinchhitter in the eighth. Roy Weatherly singled, Keller walked, Joe Gordon bunted, forcing Weatherly, and Nick Etten also walked to fill the bases.

Then Karl pitched to Bill Johnson without having his foot on the rubber and a balk was called giving the Yanks the game.

Murphy was credited with his third victory without a defeat, although he faced only three batters.

SWC Athletic Events Get Underway Today

HOUSTON, May 5. (AP)—Tennis and golf tournaments open the annual Southwest conference spring athletic carnival at 9 a. m. tomorrow with the University of Texas heavily favored in both sports.

Golf competition, will be at the Brae Burn Country club and tennis on Rice institute courts with finals in both sports scheduled for Friday.

The conference track meet, banner event of the spring carnival, closes out competition. Saturday afternoon at Rice field. Track preliminaries are scheduled Friday in the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes.

Only in golf will all seven conference members be represented.

All Liberty ships have a distillation system to transform sea water into potable fresh water.

Fortmann To Try His Defensive Patterns In Collegiate Ranks

CHICAGO, May 5. (AP)—They'll have two quarterbacks at the University of Pittsburgh next fall—one in the backfield and one in the line.

Defensive quarterbacking will be emphasized by Dr. Danny Fortmann, one of football's greatest guards of all time. Fortmann, the boy prodigy from Colgate, has held fast to a place on the last five all-National league teams and expects at least one Pitt line prospect to become as proficient in directing defense as he himself was during his seven years with the Chicago Bears.

The 6-foot, 210-pound star will join the Panther coaching staff next season, working under the school's new coach, and his own close friend, Clark Shaughnessy.

Many Formations

Defensive quarterbacking is a phase of football developed to a high degree by the professionals. And Dr. Danny has been the chief developer. From his position at guard he matched his wits with opposing quarterbacks, maneuvering the Bears with as many as 20 different alignments for a single game.

Against the Green Bay Packers, for instance, he had to know and direct 15 separate defensive patterns for Don Hutson alone. In the two clubs' last eight meetings, the Packers, even with Hutson, the pass-snagging wizard, have won only one from the Bears.

Quarterbacking was not the only forte the "Doc" became noted for in the National league. In 1940 and 1941 he literally tackled the Bears into a championship. Over a period of three games, the young surgical interne made 39 per cent of the team's tackles.

Finished College At 19

But it was his defense direction that made him one of the Bear's most valuable players. He performed for a team regarded as having the finest personnel ever assembled on one roster—a personnel in which there was little to chose between the regulars and substitutes. Yet Fortmann played more than 50 minutes in every game for the last two seasons. The Bears couldn't get along without his sixth sense of outwitting opponents.

Although he played seven seasons with the Bears, Fortmann is still only 26 years old, having graduated from Colgate when only 19. He finished a collegiate premed course magna cum laude.

Whether he will find a boy at Pitt with his natural gift of defensive alertness remains to be seen. If he does, Panther opponents likely will have some tough battles on their hands next fall—defensively, at least.

ASKMENOW WINS

BALTIMORE, May 5. (AP)—Hal Price Headley's Askmenow showed today that she had lost none of her class as she carried the familiar navy blue and white colors of the Kentuckian to victory in the 21st running of the $10,000 added Pimlico Oaks.

The Juvenile filly leader of 1942 drove to a length decision over King Ranch's Too Timely, running the mile and one sixteenth in 1:45 4-5.

THE FAMOUS 'LONG COUNT'—No incident in boxing history caused more controversy than the famous "long count" in the second Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney battle in Chicago Sept. 23, 1927. Dempsey, seeking to regain the crown Tunney had won from him the previous year, floored Tunney—but failed to go to a neutral corner. That delayed the start of the count and Referee Dave Barry blamed Dempsey for the alleged 14-second count. It possibly cost Jack the title, for Tunney came up from that seventh-round knockdown and won the decision. The above Foto-Flashback, fifth in the AP series of ten, shows the beginning of the count.

Jesse Flores, Mack's Rookie Pitcher, Off To Good Start

PHILADELPHIA, May 5. (AP)—A Mexican bull-fighting fan who never saw a major league ball game until April 20 is the pitching sensation of the infant season in Philadelphia—and probably among players the American league over.

In a word, Jesse Sandoval Flores, up from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league, is "wowing" 'em for Connie Mack's Athletics with a screwball that baffles the best and control that veterans are calling uncanny.

The A's hired Flores on trial after the Chicago Cubs had rejected him, and Connie wasn't optimistic.

But in 34 innings, Jesse has allowed only three runs—two actually earned—and only 13 hits.

Siebert Impressed

Connie took up his option after he went 15 2-3 innings against Washington and allowed no runs and five hits for a 2-1 victory.

First Baseman Dick Siebert, a veteran of the majors, says "I've never seen a youngster break in with such stuff and poise—standing out there watching him you'd think he'd been pitching in the big leagues for years."

Back in Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico, where Jesse hails from, bull-fighting was the No. 1 sport and Jesse says, "Sure I love bull fights, but once I started pitching baseballs in the back yard, I said to myself, 'Jesse, this is your game!"

Not an A's fan disagrees.

Paul Dean Shines In First Comeback Try

ST. LOUIS, May 5. (AP) — The box score of the Detroit Tigers-St. Louis Browns' series opener hints at the drama of a former star pitcher starting a comeback attempt against the team he beat twice in the memorable World series of 1934.

In cold print, it listed "Dean" as a pitcher for the Browns — a terse identification of the once great Paul Dean, who paired with brother Dizzy to reach baseball fame in the gashouse days of the St. Louis Cardinals. In the 1934 World series against Detroit, "Me 'n' Paul" each won two games after pitching a total of 49 victories during the regular season.

Arm trouble forced Paul out of the major leagues and he tried without success to return with the Cardinals and then with the New York Giants before the Browns bought him from Houston, via Washington, this winter.

Making his first appearance with the Browns yesterday, he allowed only one hit in 4 1-3 innings of relief pitching, getting the mighty Rudy York twice with two men on base.

Although his arm has lost its power to fog the ball across the plate, Dean displayed what Manager Luke Sewell called "deceptive speed." He showed a fine curve and perfect control, bearing out Texas league reports that he now was pitching "with his head as well as his arm."

SPAAF To Start Turk Sunday

Last Sunday afternoon a large opening day crowd saw South Plains Army Flying school hand Lubbock Army Flying school a 7-6 setback in the baseball curtain-raiser as Hubber park.

Just as big a gathering is expected next Sunday when South Plains Army Air field and Lubbock Army Air Field teams clash in a doubleheader, starting at 2 o'clock on the same diamond.

But don't let those names fool you, folks, because the same teams will be playing—it's just that the two local air bases have both officially changed their names this week.

Few Lineup Changes

In fact, the changes in names will be about the only differences as the SPAAF and LAAF nines tangle for the third time, as managers of both teams are expected to field about the same starting teams.

The only switch expected to be made in the SPAAF starting crew will be at the pitcher's post, where Flight Officer Doug Turk has been named to oper by the South Plains manager. Lt. Nathan Eubank. Turk was with Birmingham of the Southern association last season.

He will be the third SPAAF hurler to see action in the series, as S-Sgt. Joe Pinder and S-Sgt. Guy Anderson both chalked up victories last week-end.

Program Re-Arranged

As reserve hurlers, Lt. Eubank has a group which includes George Potter, a lefthander; "Diz" Young, a speedballer; Jim Kolozy, semi-pro veteran, and Lt. Stan Derda, also an experienced first baseman.

Clashing in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader will be the negro teams from the two posts. The negro game was originally scheduled first on the program, but yesterday a change was announced, moving the whites' game to the head of the program, with the negro contest as the nightcap.

SUSPEND WHEAT SUBSIDY

WASHINGTON, May 5. (AP) — The War Food administration will suspend its 30-cent-a-bushel wheat export subsidy program May 14, officials said tonight.

Cubs' Passeau Bests Cards' Lanier In 14th Inning, 2-1

CHICAGO, May 5 (AP)—Claude Passeau, veteran Chicago Cubs' righthander, and Max Lanier, St. Louis Cardinals' southpaw, dueled through 14 action-packed innings today before an "inning ending double play ball" bounded freakishly over Second Baseman Jimmy Brown's shoulder to score the run that gave the Chicagoans a 2-1 victory.

Heinz Becker, Cub rookie first baseman, was on second base with one out in the 14th when the Cardinals elected to have Lanier pass Shortstop Lenny Merullo to pitch to weak-hitting Catcher Chico Hernandez. The strategy seemed perfect when Hernandez sent a double play grounder right at Brown, but the ball veered away and over his shoulder to center field while Becker scored.

Musial's Error Costly

Stan Musial, who hit two triples, a double and a single, fumbled Becker's leadoff single in the final frame to put the winning run on second.

Passeau, in hanging up his first victory of the season after failing to finish seven innings in either of his previous two starts, was confronted with Cardinals in scoring position in every inning but the third, seventh and 14th. Lanier traveled a different path. From the end of the seventh through the 13th he allowed only one single. Each team made 12 hits, however.

DODGER SBLAST PHILS

BROOKLYN, May 5 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers collected 23 hits today to overwhelm the Philadelphia Phillies 18-6 behind Max Macon, who gave a dozen safeties but allowed no scoring till the sixth inning. The Brooklyn blows included Dolph Camilli's second homer of the spring.

GIANTS TAKE TWO

BOSTON, May 5 (AP)—The New York Giants swept a doubleheader from the Boston Braves today, 5-1 and 7-3, winning the second game on the strength of a six-run sixth inning after homers by Buster Marynard and Sid Gordon had propelled them to victory in the opener.

REDS NUDGE BUCS

CINCINNATI, May 5 (AP) — Bucky Waters pitched and batted the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-2 victory over Pittsburgh tonight in the first night game of the season, knocking in two runs with a single and holding the Pirates to five hits.

LHS Trackmen Go To Austin

Eight members of Lubbock High's track team—all those taking first or second places in the recent regional meet at Canyon—left last night for the state schoolboy meet this week-end at Austin.

Accompanied by Coach E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, the Westerner team made the trip to the Interscholastic league finals by bus.

All four members of the sprint relay team that won at Canyon—Austin Rose, Bobby Martyn, Bob Brewer and Burl Gene Moore—were included in the group.

Others going to Austin were: Elwood Taylor, who finished second in the regional half-mile run; Billy Cope, who was second in the discus throw; Johnny Davis, second in the pole vault, and E. L. Graham, second in the mile run.

Moore, in addition to anchoring the relay team, will also compete in his specialty, the quarter-mile run. At Canyon, he finished a close second in the quarter-mile event.

Preliminarys in the state meet are Friday, with the finals Saturday. More than 1,200 delegates from schools over the state are expected.

"May It Last" is the motto of Idaho.

That Extra Something!
...You can spot it every time

WHETHER in a sport or anything else, you can always spot the fellow who has the edge. Just to drink ice-cold Coca-Cola is to understand why it is the best-liked soft drink on earth.

Many make soft drinks. Only The Coca-Cola Company produces Coca-Cola. The finished art of long experience gives it exceptional goodness. This delicious drink offers a taste all its own. More than just quenching thirst, it adds refreshment . . . refreshment that goes into energy.

The only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself. You've found that out already, haven't you?

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coke. Both mean the same thing . . . "coming from a single source, and well known to the community".

No need to tighten up over studies. A pause now and then for ice-cold Coke relaxes the tension—brings you back to the task refreshed.

"KEEP 'EM GROWING"

You see every day the slogan "Keep 'Em Flying!" To keep a plane flying you wouldn't put a few gallons of gasoline in and expect the plane to keep flying. There are poultrymen who feed their chicks a bag of chick starter and then expect the chicks to keep on growing. This is a mistaken idea. There are more pullets ruined from the 6th to 12th week than there are from the 1st to the 6th week. With our government asking for more poultry and eggs this year do not neglect those pullets. Get your Everlay Growing Mash, a bag full of vitamin, minerals and protein and "Keep 'Em Growing!"

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

Write---But Write Right!

SEVERAL times recently, The Morning Avalanche has urged citizens to write their views to their congressman and senators; to write direct to the White House concerning any policy having to do only with the executive branch of the government, and with which they agree or disagree. We believe that letters from citizens to elected officials can be very helpful in a democracy — assuming that such letters are straightforward, honest and without vilification.

Although we did not know it at the time, numerous other editors and some radio commentators were offering counsel similar to our own, and many Americans have been following the advice.

Some people, however, do not seem to know how to write an official in a way in which (1) he will be impressed; (2) he can—or will—act; and (3) he can easily understand. We are sorry to report that in recent weeks and months Washington officialdom has been the recipient of so much "crack-pot" and unintelligible mail that the normal force of intelligent communications has been lessened.

A Washington correspondent informs us, for instance, that a heavy percentage of mail to both the executive and legislative branches has been downright insulting. Much of it has been so poorly written, and presented in such lengthy form, that recipients do not have time to fool with it. One congressman received a letter of almost undecipherable longhand, written on both sides of 110 pages of stationery 8½ by 16 inches in size. Although much of the letter was abusive in nature, the congressman waded through 68 pages—then gave up in disgust. He doesn't know yet what his constituent had in mind; he probably never will know.

We still believe in the theory of letters from citizens to those in authority. We still believe they'll help make a better country—a country more representative of the rank and file, which is what a democracy is supposed to be. But we urge that those who do write their officials do so in a manner that their efforts bear fruit.

* * *

HERE are some good rules for letter-writers to follow when penning their opinions to officialdom, from the White House on down:

State your case briefly, and simply.

If you are mad, or glad, state your reasons—but quickly, and in decent fashion.

Don't take up the official's time with whom you now, who your relations are, how much political power you have, etc. If your congressman is the right sort—and most are—he won't care how powerful, or how weak, you may be, politically speaking. And if you are a big shot, he probably knew your name before you knew his, anyhow.

Unless the matter involved is of great moment, write, don't telegraph—because the telegraph wires already are overburdened with essential war messages. And, above all, write carefully, plainly, with pen and ink—unless you use a typewriter. Typewritten letters always are more easily read, naturally get first and most sympathetic attention.

Don't let these words—or those of anyone else—deter you from writing your views to Washington, to Austin, to city or county officials, or to all of them. You have a right to express yourself and the proper sort of official, be he President or constable, will appreciate your interest.

But remember, there are always two ways to do anything: the right way and the wrong way. If your letters are written the right way, you have done yourself, your country and your public servant a favor; if they are written the wrong way, everybody loses.

The birth rate in this country is increasing rapidly. Even women who have never had babies before are having them.

The One Minute Sermon

The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.

The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth.

He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them.

The Lord preserveth all them that love him: but all the wicked will he destroy.—Psalms 145: 17 through 20.

"Me?" said Tubac. "You ain't believin' I'm counterfeitin'—"

"Look!" the marshal said. "Either you talk, or . . . Hell! I've wasted enough time—"

"I sh'd say so!" Tobac flicked a thumb at the recuperating banker. "There's the guy you're lookin' for — the Great Hi Grab. The Widows' Friend. The Orphans' Advisor. He takes care o' my money or me — every nickel I spent comes outa his vaults."

The marshal's hard eyes turned grim focus on Haines. "What about this, Maines?"

"This is preposterous!" Haines snarled thickly.

Mueller said to Haines: "Jones got an account with you?"

"No—y-yes. Come to think of it, he opened one yesterday; but you—"

"That's only half the truth," Tubac growled. "He give me a receipt written in some kinda fading ink an' when I got out to the ranch all I had was a blank piece of paper—"

"I explained all that," spluttered Haines. "It was a prank of my clerk," he assured Mueller hastily. "I fired the man quick as I learned of it—"

"Yeah—I'll bet yuo did! Ask him," Jones jeered, "where he gets all the money to buy X & L on margin!"

Maines looked about ready to swoon. "This—this is ridiculous!" he snarled. "It's nobody's business what I do with my money—"

"If," grinned Jones very meaningly, "it's your money."

"I think," Mueller said, "I'll have a look at your books—"

"You'll do nothing of the sort! You've no right—"

"Are you tryin' to tell me how to run my business?"

"It's high time somebody told you!" Haines, almost beside himself with fright and anger, was in no mood to prune his language. "You monkey with this bank an' I'll have that star off your shirt so quick it'll make your head swim!"

"Oh, you will, will you?" Jinx Mueller said softly; and Tubac, on a sudden hunch, said:

"Guess I better leave you gents to iron this out by ourselves. Bankers an' counterfeiters is outa my class. I'll be across the street."

Tubac was feelin good as he pushed through the mob that was crammed like sardines in the lobby. Bug-eyed and gaping, they were all standing round for a look at the two-bit nester in the brush-scarred chaps who thought he could buck Grab Haines and his backers.

Tubac threw back his shoulders and, cuffing his hat to an arrogant angle, strode through the crowd crowd, flinging out smiles like he'd seen Haines do; and then, by the door, he saw Archie McGillis, and Sheriff Ike Shallet was right by his side.

"Well, well!" Jones said. "Come sneakin' outa your holes again, have you? Where's the widders an' orphans Haines sent you to round up? Better ketch him some quick 'cause he's sure goin' to need 'em!"

"Ahr—you an your blowin'! Why'n't you rent yourself out fer a windmill " sneered Shallet; but McGillis stretched out his fingers to stop him.

"Here—hold up, mon! What's a brewin' in there?"

"Why'n't you push in an' see?" blared Jones loudly. "Hell of a bank director you are—don't even know what's goin' on in the place! If this sheriff was worth a fifth part of his badge he'd arrest you for criminal negligence! An' that reminds me," he muttered and, breaking loose of the storekeeper's hold, he jostled his way to the cashiere's window and shoved Haines' receipt through the grill.

"I'll be takin' my money," he said grimly; then he noticed the others had followed him.

"You'll have to take this down to the teller's window—" began the cashier; but Jones cut him off with a bellow. "What's the matter? Ain't it good? Has that darn potwalloper tricked me ag'in? First he gives me a receipt that ain't nothin' but a blank piece o' paper. Now he gives me another an' you won't pay—"

"Just a moment, sir—ah—er—I'm afraid I didn't understand what you wanted—"

"What're you doin' in a bank then?" Jones spluttered. Biggest passle of imbeciles I ever stumbled onto! There's Haines' signature right on the line — see it? A'right then! You goin' to give me my money or ain't you?"

"Pay it, mon! Pay it!" yelled McGillis, jumping up and down in his excitement.

"Oh! So you're tryin' to gimme the bum's rush, are you?" Tubac folded his arms. "Well go right ahead! Just roll up your sleeves—"

"Pay 'em!" snarled McGillis; and the cashier was doing his best to. And Ike Shallet was beginning to look ugyl. But Jones wasn't to be hushed that way. With all this crowd looking on it was too good a chance.

"I put thirty-five hundred dollars in this widow-robbin' joint an' I ain't pullin' my freight till I get it!"

"They'rea -gittin' your money, you blame idjit!" snarled Shallet.

"What's the matter? Ain't they got it here?"

Grabbing Jones' hand the sheriff, spluttering like a dew-damped firecracker, slapped a thick sheaf of greenbacks into it and started him doorward.

But Jones hung back, digging in his spurred heels, and suddenly he loosed a yowl that would have done a Comanche credit. "Hey!" he shouted. "I don't want this printin'-press stuff!"

"What's the matter with it?" Ike said, bristling.

"How do I know? I'm just a poor dumb ignorant — Well! I would shut up if you'd give me back my thirty-five hundred!"

"Here!" The cashier came running with a big sack of coin and McGillis with his cheeks the hue of a tomato snatched it out of his trembling hands and dumped it into Tubac's arms.

Tubac needed no further prompting. With all this racket he was going to catch it if Jinx Mueller came out and spotted the cause. But just as Jones reached the huge brass-bound doors, opportunity came in like a pig on a platter.

It was Sloppy Gus, the stableman, and Tubac yelled with a hand to his mouth: "Lather it up if you're wantin' your money, Gus. The U. S. Marshal's got Haines in the office an'—"

After that it is doubtful if even an iron horse's whistle could have made itself heard.

Dozen Men Held On Narcotics Charge

HOUSTON, May 5. (AP)—Twelve persons, including the leader of a New Orleans dance orchestra, were charged with consiracy to violate the United States marihuana tax law in complaints filed today in the office of U. S. Commissioner W. F. Carothers here.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney Harold Bates said that the charges grew out of transactions between New Orleans and Reynosa, Mexico, which involved the narcotic.

Charges were filed against James Anthony Kelliher and Ola Dee Oldham, New Orleans musicians; David Francis Banks, New Orleans radio announcer; Sidney S. Givot, master of ceremonies at a New Orleans night club; Leroy C. Colburn of Lake Charles, La.; Felix A. Salinas of McAllen, Tex., and Reynosa, Mexico; Wilson Frampton, the orchestra leader, and Gilmore Picou, Charles Braun, Otis James, Charles James, and Stephen J. Boudro Jr., all of New Orleans.

Cotton Price Floor And Ceiling Asked; Local Man In Party

WASHINGTON, May 5. (AP) — J. E. McDonald, Texas agricultural commissioner, said today he and other southern states commissioners have recommended to the Office of Price Administration the establishment of a floor price of 23½ cents a pound and a ceiling of 25 cents a pound on government sales of stocks of ⅞-inch middling cotton.

He told the Senate Agriculture committee the group was in accord on a plan for sale of government stocks rather than the establishment of arbitrary ceilings. The OPA, he said, is considering either plan as a cotton price stabilizer.

Establishment of a 23½ cents a pound floor, McDonald said, would guarantee the producer at least 22½ cents. But he said this would not quite cover labor costs, adding that the group was hopeful that the price would reach the 25-cent ceiling.

"The 23½ cents, he testified, "will mean an increase of 1 cent a pound (to the producer) over the temporary ceiling of 21.47 cents."

The recommendation, the witness said, was made to Deputy Price Administrator J. K. Galbraith, "who promised us that further hearing will be held before a permanent plan is adopted.

Joining in the plea, he said, were these state agricultural commissioners: Tom Linder of Georgia, Roy Jones of South Carolina, Nathan Mayo of Florida, L .M. Walker of Virginia, H. K. Thatcher of Arkansas and W. Kerr Smith of North Carolina. Also in on the conference with Galbraith, he said, were Ralph W. Moore, former master of the Texas Grange, and W. O. Fortenberry, Lubbock, Texas, cotton producer.

NET PROFIT DECLINES

NEW YORK, May 5. (AP)—Coca-Cola International corp., reported today its net profit for the quarter ended March 31, was $1,003,436, equal to $4.84 a common share, against $1,030,370 or $4.92 a common share in the comparable quarter of 1942.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE Russian-Polish controversy regarding the bodies of 10,000 officers buried in a Smolensk graveyard provides the first illuminating example of the racial clashes which will rend the United States in the postwar period, even before the powers sit down at a peace table. Washington's realization of the innate dangers explains why President Roosevelt has intervened to obtain a peaceful settlement, if possible.

Polish citizens exercise enough political strength to control at least 12 key states which have an electoral college representation of more than 150 ballots. In a close contest they could determine the 1944 presidential outcome in certain New England states, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio and Indiana. They are a tribal race in their voting, and usually team up with the Irish. These two rebellious peoples have a strange affinity. And the sons of Eire, like the Poles, resent our military tie-up with the Soviet.

What we are witnessing now is a preview of the 1944 campaign. In that struggle every foreign group will react according to the way its "old country" has been treated by the administration in preparing for postwar settlements. Poles, Irish, Scandinavians, Czechs, French and Italians will punish or exalt the Roosevelt regime depending upon FDR's attitude toward their fatherlands.

The affair will be a throwback to the 1920 race. Warren G. Harding rolled up what was them an unprecedented majority because Woodrow Wilson had antagonized almost every racial bloc by not supporting the claims of their native lands at Versailles. As the present argument between Moscow and the Warsaw government-in-exile reveals, Mr. Roosevelt faces the same peril. It is doubtful whether he can extricate himself from the international web of foreign and domestic intrigue which he has spun for himself.

BICKERING: Although Under-Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson has been hailed as one of the ablest public servants in the Federal establishment and even mentioned as a candidate for President or Vice-President, the former New York jurist should watch his step at this particular moment. In tangling with Rubber Boss William M. Jeffers he has run into a formidable antagonist.

Patterson impressed Washington on his arrival as an extremely levelheaded individual and proceeded to prove that the original estimate was correct. With Secretary Stimson handling merely administrative matters, he took charge of the military production problem and licked it. He skated around the rivalries and intrigues which had defeated his predecessors.

Then one night at Baltimore, Jeffers declared that War department supervisors were delaying and jeopardizing the output of weapons, including the key commodity of rubber. The Omaha man was tapped on the wrist of OWI Director Elmer Davis for speaking out of turn but he never retracted the charge.

From that moment Patterson seemed to lose his head and his perspective. He has erupted with explosive indictments which even mild Donald M. Nelson has found it necessary to repudiate. He has resorted to the old trick of making innuendoes to a few favored writers. In short, he has permitted his prejudice to influence his official judgements. Smaller men in the capital—Harold L. Ickes, for example—have exhibited petittiness time and again, but nobody expected Patterson to make that error.

To be fair, these disputes on the national stage should not be exaggerated unduly. They happen every day within private industry but never get into the headlines. However, except in a few cases, the bickering among businessmen does not affect the lives of Americans fighting overseas or preparing to go abroad in the service of their country. Otherwise these "hates" in the District of Columbia are just good clean fun.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

PRIOR to the head-on collision of President Roosevelt and John L. Lewis, a rumor was assiduously circulated that AFL and CIO leaders secretly hoped the defiant UMW chieftain would win his wage fight so that all the other unions could cash in on his victory.

Top men in labor vehemently deny this allegation. They cite as proof of the story's falsity the fact that their representatives on the NLWB voted unanimously against Lewis; that had their organizations been scheming to use John L. as a trial balloon their men would have taken his part or would have stalled. Privately their excoriations of Lewis are more vitriolic than those of the most embittered mine operator.

They are maddened by the feudal lord of the pits because they fear that his action will visit upon their entire movement the sins of this one disturber; that the Connally bill authorizing government seizure of struck industries will be only the beginning of a chain of punitive legislation binding all workers in a strait jacket.

Rcently there were signs of an era of good feeling developing between capital and labor. Without fanfare, officials of businessmen's societies and union spokesmen met to formulate a written program for war and, especially, postwar cooperation. Last week, for the first time in the history of the United States Chamber of Commerce, its annual convention in New York was addressed by William Green, AFL president, who received a tremendous ovation from his erstwhile ideological opponents.

Thanks to John L. Lewis, that reapprochment may now end and the dark old days of class struggle be revived.

ALIENS: There are certain phases of the soft coal miners strike threat which in the hullabaloo escaped public scrutiny. A flirtation had been going on between John L. and Republican politicians, who were convinced that it was merely a matter of time before the Welsh prodigal would re-enter the AFL and regain control.

Then, it was believed, this organization would become even more conservative, and the CIO would swing to an extreme leftist position, leaving President Roosevelt supported by only a rump labor group.

Lewis has always flipflopped from one to the other of the two national parties. He trailed along with Harding, Coolidge and Hoover; he switched to the original New Deal bandwagon. Finally he reversed his stride and followed Willkie. The Republicans pigeonholed several union curbing bills in order to tempt the opportunist again. But the recent coal crisis stirred the conscience of the GOP.

Another feature of the emergency is somewhat ironical. Labor leaders say that the majority of the miners affected are Slavs, mainly from Poland and Czechoslovakia. Although they have lived in the USA many years, a large proportion of them never bothered to take out citizenship papers. These aliens are so strategically placed that they can tie up the war effort of the United States. Thus they also hamper a nation which is trying to liberate their homeland and their ensalved relatives.

Here And There In Texas

By HUGH WILLIAMSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

A STUDY of Young county taxes showed "gross inequalities in the assessment of real estate," among other things.

The study was undertaken by representatives of the Young County Land Use Planning committee, the Texas Agricultural Experiment station and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Taxation was listed, the report says, "by the county land use planning committee as one among 15 or 20 major problems of agriculture in Young county."

The survey attempted to answer such questions as: To what extent is all taxable property being taxed? Are properities assessed for taxes at comparable values? Is a good job of collecting taxes being done? Is the tax dollar being spent so as to secure the greatest amount of goods and services?

"One of the first inqulries dealt with the relative importance of intangible property such as stocks, bonds, and notes in the county and the extent to which it was being reached for taxation."

Covers Ten Years Period

A compilation of all properties probated for a 10-year period was made and "each property classified as real estate, chattel, or intangible. . . . This analysis shows that intangibles composed 38 per cent of the total property probated."

But a study of one year's tax roll revealed that intangibles composed less than four per cent of the total property taxed.

In other words, 62 per cent of the taxable property of the county was paying 96 per cent of the property taxes.

* * *

THE report continues: "In an effort to get a rather specific measure of the nature and extent of inequalities in the assessment of real estate, assessed values of both farm and ranch lands and city properities were compared with bona fide sales prices and values set by appraisal committees."

For 181 farm properties sold during a five-year period the ratio of their assessed values to actual sales prices varied from 11 to more than 100 per cent.

Urban Properties The Same

Findings reported in the study of urban properties revealed much the same story.

"In general, small properties are being over-assessed and large properties under-assessed," the report said.

"Although the county is endeavoring to assess at 50 per cent of true value, comparisons of sales and assessed values revealed that individual assessment ratios ranged from 2 per cent to more than 700 per cent. . . .

"The evidence indicates that portions of the gas and light properties are probably under-assessed. In addition, there is some indication that oil and gas pipe lines may be under-assessed."

AD valorem tax collections for for one year were $468,624 and delinquent taxes outstanding for the previous 20 years were $323,348, or 69 per cent of the one year's collections.

"The analysis indicated that farm and ranch lands and personal property secured by such lands constituted 36 per cent of the county assessed value but accounted for only 11 per cent of the taxes delinquent," the report said.

A good purchasing system, the report declared, will bring about price reductions of 15 to 20 per cent, and savings in purchasing individual items, of supplies often range from 10 to 40 per cent.

This example was given; the high bid on a contract for truck tires was $1,320.75; the low bid was $930.15, the difference between the high and low bids representing a saving of 29.6 per cent.

THESE recommendations were made: 1. The land use planning committee should endeavor to assist the county board of equalization in arriving at equalized values on farm, urban, and utility and farm properties.

2. In order that intangible properties may be taxed effectively, consideration should be given to the provision of a personal income tax by the state. It is suggested that such a tax be graduated, that it have a property tax offset, and that some means be provided so that the state will share the proceeds with the units of local government. Experience in several states has demonstrated that it is almost impossible to reach intangibles under the general property tax.

3. The state should provide machinery through which assessments may be equalized as between counties.

4. In order that substantial agreement may be reached concerning the value of properties which are assessed by several units of government within the county, the units should cooperate in determining a 100 per cent value for each such property.

5. The land use planning committee should tender its assistance to the county officials in strengthening the tax collection procedure.

6. The county land use planning committee should cooperate with the local officials to the end that expenditures may be economically and efficiently handled.

CHAMPION SNAPPER
Grown From
Chillicothe Experiment
Station Seed. Treated with Ceresan. Germination 90%.

This seed is from a crop that averaged 570 pounds of lint per acre. The staple is uniform ⅞ to 15/16 inch. There was only one bale of 13/16.

Bred for earliness and light burrs that enable gins to make high grades from snaps and give turn outs that compare with Hybred.

Recleaned and graded fuzzy seed in 3 bushel bags, $6.60 per bag.

Kemgas treated-tested seed is $10.65 per 100 pounds.

Mail check and we ship freight prepaid to your railroad station at above prices and you save time and tires. We allow freight if you call for seed.

HALF & HALF PEDIGREED SEED FROM SEED FARM NEAR VERNON, CERESAN TREATED, GERMINATION 94%
This is the thin rind, light burr, high linting, early strain of Half & Half kept pure by a prominent seed grower who commenced working with Half & Half when its originators switched to Hybred.

An average of 1,600 pounds of snapped cotton made 500 pound bales. It is not unusual to get a strict middling 500-pound bale from 1,500 pounds of snaps.

This is short cotton 13/16 and ⅞ inch staple but it went in the Government Loan at better prices than staple cotton because it made higher grades.

Recleaned and graded fuzzy seed in new 3 bushel cotton bags at $6.80 per bag.

Kemgas treated-tested seed at $11 per 100 pounds.

Mail check and we ship freight prepaid to your railroad station and you save time and tires. We allow freight if you call for seed.

Nazi's Child Is Reported Held

LONDON, May 5. (AP)—Reuters quoted the Istanbul correspondent of the French independent news agency today as saying Dutch patriots have kidnaped a daughter of Arthur Seys-Inquart, German high commissioner of the Netherlands, and were holding her as a hostage.

Dutch sources in London said they were unable to confirm the report.

The Istanbul account said the Gestapo had been unable to find any trace of the girl. The report said further that Dutch patriots had marked for death 47 alleged traitors in Holland. Fourteen of these were said to have been killed already, among them Gen. Hendrik Alexander Seyffardt, once commander of the Dutch army and described as the lone general officer to connive with the Germans. He was shot Feb. 8 and his assailant has not been reported caught. Reference works show that Seysz-Inquart in 1930 was the father of two children.

Former Tech Student Is Back From Duty On Caribbean Patrol

Chief Warrant Officer William E. Patty, jr., is back home—for the first time since he joined the regular Army five years ago.

He is a maintenance engineer whose station is a lonely post set on the arid shores of a tropical lagoon. His duties are to keep the planes of that sector of the Caribbean patrol fit from tail assembly to prop hub.

Advent of Uncle Sam's widespread warbirds and a rainy season that deposited 18 inches of moisture where only two institutionally belongs keeps the natives in that vague locale—north of the equator and east of the Panama canal — scratching their heads, when they are not busy trying to thumb out sandfleas.

Diversion of officers and enlisted men in such far south outposts is work—with an occasional trip to the post theater and a less occasional venture at cray fishing.

Two sisters are in the States. There is Genelle, a freshman at Texas Technological college, and Evelyn, a dietician at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He'll visit them and then report for duty, about the 20th.

Patty studied engineering three years in Tech, worked briefly in the circulation department of Avalanche-Journal publications, then enlisted. He completed Curtiss Wright Technical institute at Glendale, Calif., then went to the Caribbean.

BUYING WAVE BOOSTS STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 5 (AP)—Buyers returned to the stock market today after profit casching had stalled leaders for much of the forepart of the session.

Stocks climbing into new high ground for the year or longer included New York Central and Southern Pacific, each up 1, Great Northern preferred and Northern Pacific, each 1¼; General Motors ⅝, U. S. Rubber ¾, DuPont, 1¼, and Standard Oil (NJ) 78. Among others ahead at the finish were Alleghany, United Air Lines, Eastern Air Lines, Santa Fe, up 1⅜, Pennsylvania Railroad, up 1⅛ and Lackawanna, up ¾.

U. S. Steel closed unchanged at 56⅝. American Telephone was off ½, United Aircraft down ⅞ and Phillips Petroleum off ⅛.

The rail advance boosted the Associated Press average of 15 carriers .7 of a point to a new 1943 high at 36.8, while the index of 60 issues rose .3 to 50.7, the highest since April 11, 1940, all components reaching peaks.

Scrap Metal Drive To Begin In New Mexico

DALLAS, May 5. (U.P.) — New Mexico business firms and individuals were urged today to sell their scrap metal to available dealers, in anticipation of army scrap collection activities scheduled to been May 15.

Maj. Gen. Richard Donovan, commander of the Eighth Service command at Dallas, announced that an army mobile salvage collecting detachment from Ft. Bliss, Tex., had been ordered to begin New Mexico scrap collections.

Gen. Donovan said the drive was prompted by a shortage of scrap metal at the steel mills.

He added that the Army would provide labor and transportation to remove scrap for those who donate it outright to the government.

Second Election For Pantex Plant Ordered

WASHINGTON, May 5. (U.P.)—A second election to determine the sole bargaining agent for all employes of the Certain-teed Products corp., Amarillo, engaged as switching foremen, switchmen, and student switchmen, has been ordered by the National Labor Relations board.

The order was based on a complaint by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen that through error its name was not on the ballots in a previous election, won unanimously by the Order of Railway Conductors.

On the ballots the name "railway" was substituted for "railroad" in the petitioning union's listing.

FACILITIES ARE EXPANDED

FORT WORTH, May 5. (U.P.) — The nation's railroad facilities are being expanded to meet rapidly-increasing war demands, E. J. Engel, president of the Santa Fe railroad, said in Fort Worth yesterday.

Engel came through Fort Worth on an inspection tour of Santa Fe properties.

Eight Airmen Die In Idaho Bomber Crash

BOISE, Idaho, May 5. (AP) — Eight Army airmen were killed when a Gowen Field bomber crashed yesterday morning at Mountain Home, 50 miles southeast of Boise, Capt. W. H. Whitmer, public relations officer, announced today.

Earlier reports from the scene said three bodies were found in the wreckage, which was scattered over a farm, but nothing regarding the fate of the others was disclosed at that time.

The bomber was on a routine training flight.

Whitmer said the dead included: Second Lt. Lewis A. Lillard, Culpepper, Va.; Second Lt. Thomas M. Homer, Greencastle, Pa.; Second Lt. Rector Arney, Bluefield, W. Va.; Second Lt. Luther Chase, Albuquerque, N. M.; Staff Sgt. Richard M. Campbell, Calera, Okla.; Sgt. Melvin Kaizer, Shrewsbury, Mass.; Sgt. John W. Strickland, Jacksonville, Fla.; Sgt. Otis L. Blackwood, Fentress, Miss.

Reduction Of Royalties For Oil Found On U.S. Lands Is Announced

WASHINGTON, May 5. (U.P.) — Joel D. Wolfsohn, assistant commissioner of the general land office, declared today that the lowering of royalties for oil found on public lands to a flat 12½ per cent should encourage new oil discoveries.

Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes has signed a provision effecting the reduction under a revised law.

When the original law was passed in 1920, the purpose was to try to keep down the production of oil "as a conservation measure."

"The government therefore devised a system whereby holders who took oil out of public lands had to pay a royalty of 12½ per cent and up," Wolfsohn said, "depending upon the number of barrels of oil produced. The more the oil well produced, the higher the royalty.

"But at the present time, the government wants to find all possible source of oil existing in the country today. And so the question arose, what can the government do to reward new discoveries of oil."

Authority was therefore granted Ickes to charge "a flat 12½ per cent and no sliding scale" in those cases where government lessees discover a new oil pool, or an additional oil supply by digging a deeper well.

Move Taken Against Gas Black Market

Both the Office of Defense transportation and Office of Price a d m inistration acted Wednesday to remove a potential source of black market gasoline by arranging for the prompt recall of "T" coupons of operators whose mileage has been cut.

A truck operator whose allotment is reduced now is required to surrender his "T" coupons to the ODT when his operations are reviewed, or when his revised certificate of war necessity is issued. His original certificate is void and must be surrendered with the coupons. Receipts will be given by the ODT for the surrender certificates and all coupons will be destroyed. Certificates which allow operators more gasoline than they require will be corrected.

The move came about because it was found some operators have "T" rations in excess of need, according to Richard E. Wood, Lubbock district manager of ODT. Some were issued erroneously, and some operators have reduced their mileage below original intentions, through joint action, and otherwise. Virtually all red tape will be eliminated, and the ODT has moved to place a number of men in the field immediately to enforce the new regulations, Wood said.

Spanish Students To Make Tour Of Mexico

DENTON, May 5. (AP)—Students of Spanish at the North Texas State Teachers college will turn summer Spanish courses into an instructive 40-day tour of Mexico during the school's second summer semester, it has been announced.

Using Mexico City as headquarters, the group will make several excursions into various places of interest.

Italy, Tex., Answers Musso With Her Sons

ITALY, Tex., May 5. (AP) — Action speaks louder than words.

In 1939 business men of this central Texas town of 1,200 urged Premier Mussolini by cable not to declare war on France.

Mussolini acknowledged receipt of the cablegram by inquiring of his New Orleans consulate the kind of people living here.

Today, Italy, Texas, has answered Mussolini concretely by sending more than 100 of her sons —nearly a tenth of her population—to fight the Axis with guns.

News Briefs

The first group of Army reservists of Texas Technological college received calls to active duty Wednesday, according to Dr. Harry L. Kent, liaison officer. Dr. Kent said that only a part of those who had been notified that they may expect calls received them, and these constitute a very small portion of the Tech reservists. All who had received calls Wednesday were senior students.

A South Plains Zone rally will be held tonight at 7 o'clock at the First Church of the Nazarene, 1311 Avenue Q, according to announcement by Rev. Albert F. Laing, pastor. Speakers will be Rev. I. C. Mathis, district superintendent of Dallas; Rev. John L. Knight, Mineral Wells, superintendent of the Abilene district; Rev. Hadley Hall of Amarillo, president of young people's work in the Abilene district; and Rev. Laing, who is chairman of Sunday school in the Abilene District. Seven West Texas towns comprise the South Plains zone.

Complaint was filed Wednesday afternoon in county court against Imogene Martin for aggravated assault on Nellie Williams.

Pfc. Gustav D. Schmidt, son of Mrs. Mary Ellen Schmidt of Lamesa, was wounded in the Pacific area, the War department announced Wednesday. Four hundred seventy-three soldiers had been wounded in action in various theaters, including three Texans, the War department announced without qualifying the period embraced.

The marketing class of the division of commerce of Texas Technological college, composed of 25 junior and senior students, visited the Santa Fe Railway station here in there Wednesday afternoon field trip, and R. F. Bayless, local agent, discussed the place of railroads in the war effort and the use of railroads in the marketing of products to and from West Texas.

A son was born in Lubbock General hospital Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Clint Faulkner of Lubbock route 1, a daughter to Sgt. and Mrs. H. J. Koeppel of 1923 Nineteenth street. Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Prestridge of Waco are parents of a son born in St. Mary's hospital, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Peterson of Lubbock route 6 of a son born in West Texas hospital.

The conviction of Bob Vaught —not the Bob Vaught who recently was transferred to Lubbock from Eastland as a federal employe—was reversed and the case remanded to the Lubbock county court Wednesday by the court of criminal appeals. Vaught had been assessed a year's jail sentence for conviction of transportation of liquor. Former opinion in the case of Paul Young, fined $100 by a jury for liquor law violation, was withdrawn and the appeal was dismissed.

C. D. McClain, deputy supervisor of district 2 of Texas Liquor Control board, was improved in condition Wednesday. He had been ill since Sunday, of bronchitis.

A Mother's day greeting was cabled by L. C. Tatom, jr., to his mother, of 2219 Fifteenth street in Lubbock — from somewhere in England. The son is a civilian airplane technician.

A list of trial jurors to serve at the May 17 term of U. S. district court in Lubbock was drawn Wednesday by Mrs. Olive Fluke, deputy court clerk, and C. E. Luce, deputy U. S. marshal. Present to witness the drawing, as required by law, were George Dupree, G. H. Nelson, and W. W. Campbell, three Lubbock attorneys.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (U.P.) — Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, said today that drafting of fathers will begin "sometime in August, if not sooner."

He made the statement in a letter to a Senate military affairs sub-committee in opposition to a bill by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., to forbid drafting of fathers. Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson also sent a letter opposing the bill. Stimson and Hershey likewise went on record against a measure by Sen. Kenneth McKellar, D., Tenn., to prohibit draft deferments for civil service employes.

"Any bill that would prohibit induction of fathers, or even provide exemption until the end of the year, would prevent us from filling our quota," Hershey said.

Selective Service figures were presented showing that of the 3,000,000 childless white men aged 18 to 35 who weer not in the Army at the first of the year, 2,800,000 would go into the armed services during the year or be placed in the 4-F classification (unfit).

Others Appeal Cases

The other 200,000 would be mainly appeal cases and men who have gone back to the farms and are therefore occupationally deferred.

Only 45,000 18-year-olds become available for the armed forces each month, the others being deferred for educational or occupational reasons, according to the Selective Service figures.

At the same time there are only 425,000 childless whites between 18 to 35 who were not in the not physically acceptable or could be used only in limited service.

Would Defer Fathers

Figures are similar for negroes, it was pointed out, and negro fathers can expect to be inducted about a month after the first white fathers.

Wheeler's bill would defer, until otherwise ordered by Congress, all men who were married before Dec. 8, 1941, who have maintained a bona fide home, and who have one or more children.

Wheeler contended the plan to have 10,800,000 men in the armed forces by the end of the year contemplates a larger army than can be transported overseas. He said there is no need to call up fathers until the soldiers now in training have actually gone into combat areas.

House Tax Bill Would Exempt $3,500 Pay Of Members In Service

WASHINGTON, May 6. (U.P.) — The House-approved Forand-Robertson tax bill would give members of the armed forces an additional tax exemption, by providing that the first $3,500 of their service pay shall be taxfree.

The exclusion may be applied only to pay received as a member of the services. It could not be applied to other income—interest from investments, for instance. It would be retroactive to cover all service pay received since Dec. 31, 1941, and would last until the President proclaims the present war is ended.

Effect of the provision is to make the first $3,500 of pay as a soldier, sailor, Marine or Coast Guardsman tax-free. This will exempt all enlisted men and officers through the rank of major in the Army and lieutenant commander in the Navy.

University Of Texas Is Tuned To Wartime

AUSTIN, May 5. (AP)—University of Texas engineering laboratories are tuned to war research as classrooms are geared to turning out manpower for military engineering units and war industry.

Eleventh in the nation in the number and variety of engineering research projects, the university leads in this state with more than 30 different studies.

★ Now that physical replacements are impossible, it is important that you check up on your property — screens, plaster walls, metal flashings and gutters, floors, metal equipment, wooden shingles or siding, foundations of concrete, brick or stone, so that maintenance work may be taken care of and surfaces properly protected. China Aid Pledge Being Fulfilled

By GLENN BABB
Associated Press Staff Writer

The United States Army's heavy bombers have reached the China theater and already gone into action. Tuesday's raid on the Saman airport on Hainan island, off the south China coast, is proof that the pledges of greater aid to China made by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill after Casabianca are being carried out.

But for the Japanese this operation has a still more sobering significance. It means that at last the day is here when American air power is firmly installed within range of some at least of their own homeland cities. The big Liberators, four or five squadrons of them, that virtually wiped out the Saman airfield, must have flown from bases from which they also can reach such ports as Nagasaki or Moji, the naval base at Sasebo and the heavy industry centers of Kurume, Kumamoto and Fukuoka, all on the southwestern island of Kyushu. The big four-engined war birds that have carried such devastation across the Mediterranean to Italy are now in a position to span the China Sea to strike at Japan.

GLENN BABB

The Japanese must have had an inkling of their presence in China. For several weeks the enemy air force has been on a hunt for some much-feared base in southeastern and south central China, heavily raiding towns in Hunan, Kwangsi, Kiangsi, Fukien and Chekiang provinces. After the Doolittle raid on Tokyo last year, it will be recalled, the Japanese Army carred out a 100-day campaign through Chekiang and Kiangsi which cost them some 50,000 casualties in an effort to stamp out bases from which their islands might be reached. They got some of them, but they did not, or could not, hold the occupied territory and most of it reverted to Chinese control.

The base of the Liberators remains a secret but probably it is west or south of the territory which the Japanese overran last year and beyond the reach of any similar expedition this year.

General Chennault, commander of the 14th U. S. Air force, of which the Liberators form a new unit, has just been in Washington to present to the President and the high command his own views on his needs and opportunities for carrying the war to Japan. That certainly implies that the first heavy bombers are only a beginning.

The targets of Tuesday's attack suggest that one of the first objectives of the 14th Air force will be the crippling of Japan's lifeline to her conquests in the south. From the south-central China region from which the Liberators probably flew several more vital points on those routes can be reached. From that region southern Hainan is just a short two or three hour jaunt for the big B-245—450 to 550 miles. It is hardly an hour further to Formosa, a Japanese possession for half a century and still more important as a military depot and training ground.

But that does not exhaust the possibilities. From those same areas, or others a little to the east and still beyond reach of the Japanese Army, Kyushu is less than 1,000 miles. That island, whose ports, coal mines and factories have played such a great part in the war on the continent and the south seas, also has a deep sentimental significance for the Japanese. They believe that on Kyushu the descendants of the sun goddess Amaterasu first touched Japanese soil to establish the empire of Nippon. Doubtless it will provide the first 1943 targets for the punishment of the Japanese homeland. Tokyo lies some 700 miles beyond and its next bombing may belong to a later phase.

More Than 20 Dairy License Fees Paid

G. G. Hunter, city milk sanitarian, said more than 20 milk and dairy license fees had been paid.

This is the largest number to be paid so soon during his long connection with the city, Hunter reported. He predicted that most of the remaining 61 operators who help supply Lubbock milk needs will make their payments within the next few days. The new license fees became due May 1.

The unusual number of early payments is attributed by officials to the sharp reduction in city fees put into effect by the city commission several days ago.

Morale Is Said High In Pacific

Boys in the Pacific zone of fighting keep high morale—even the wounded wanting to get well and get back into the thick of it—but will be glad when the war is over.

So reported Chief Machinist's Mate Roy C. Andrews of Amarillo Wednesday in Lubbock.

Andrews, who is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McDonald, 1905 Twenty-fifth street, is recovering from wounds suffered in the battle of the Solomons and expects to return to sea duty again in a few months. His destroyer was sunk by the Jap divebombers in the battle and Andrews and survivors of the ship were in the water about an hour before being picked up. Shrapnel tore away part of his left hand but the wound is healing rapidly.

Formerly An Engineer

Andrews, 45, who is well known in railroad and Veterans of Foreign Wars circles here, was a locomotive engineer for the Santa Fe before re-enlisting in the Navy in May 1941 after having served in World war I. He wears the order of the Purple Heart, the national emergency and star, European, African, Asiatic and Pacific and American sector campaign bars, the Victory and good conduct medal and the Mexican campaign bar. He participated in two months of fighting in the Solomons area.

At least five direct hits were scored on his ship by the Jap divebombers who pulled out of their dives between 1,000 and 500 feet in the battle, Andrews said. More than half of the crew of the destroyer was lost when the ship was hit.

Andrews is the father of two sons, Bill Andrews, who played football at A. & M. last year; and John Andrews, a member of the Amarillo Sandstorm team. Mrs. Andrews is with him on his visit here.

Levelland Man Now In Nazi Prison Camp

Staff Sgt. Joe C. Taylor, 21, of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Taylor of Levelland, who was reported Feb. 15 by the War department as missing in action in Africa, is being held as a prisoner in a camp in Germany, he has informed his parents by letter.

His parents received a letter from him May 3, written from the camp and dated March 19, stating that he was 'very well treated' and that he received a food package each week through the Red Cross. He requested his parents send him a package containing much-needed toilet articles through the Red Cross.

Sgt. Taylor, a 1937 graduate of Levelland High school, enlisted in the Army in Feb. 1941 and went overseas last June.

Hunt School Wins In Bond Sales Contest

Students from George M. Hunt school have bought $1620.45 worth of defense stamps since the beginning of the second war bond drive, Lennon Hill, principal, announced.

Hunt school won the $25 first prize among Lubbock public schools in a scrap metal drive held in March. There was an average of approximately seventy - one pounds of scrap metal per person at that school. Senior High school won second place.
