1611 decision due at court Thursday

County Judge Preston Wilson will announce his decision regarding FM 1611 during a special commissioners' court session Thursday at 11 a.m.

At that meeting, Wilson will break a 2-2 tie which resulted from a motion by Pct. 1 Commissioner Duaine Davis to reject a minute order by the State Highway Department. The proposed 3.7-mile extension of FM 1611, which the state has included in a $40 million road program, would link FM 1607 and Texas 350, completing a loop around the city.

During the court's May 12 meeting, Davis and Pct. 4 Commissioner Ted Billingsley voted to reject the state's proposal. Pct. 2

No 'rush to rigs' with oil hike

HOUSTON (AP) — Despite recent increases in crude oil prices, oil industry officials say the news is not good enough to begin dusting off idle drilling rigs partly because the start of the summer driving season usually pushes up prices.

"I'm happy it is going up. But I don't anticipate it will do much because there's nothing long term," Houston-based energy analyst Dale Steffes said Tuesday.

"It's extremely traditional," Steffes said. "It's euphoric around here because the price finally went up a little bit after going down for 120 days."

Crude prices have increased by nearly $4 a barrel in the past three weeks. On Tuesday, the price for June delivery of West Texas Intermediate, the main U.S. grade of crude oil, fell from $17.16 for a 42-gallon barrel to $16.04 on the New York Mercantile Exchange.

"The fundamentals have not changed, except we're going into the driving season," Steffes said. "They're anticipating that. But I don't see too much of a change in the world picture. Prices from OPEC haven't gone up any."

Mickey Gentry, a spokesman for Pennzoil Co., said the company had expected that by the end of th year prices would be around $20 for West Texas Intermediate.

Oil price increases were encouraging but not prolonged enough yet, said Conoco Inc. spokesman Tom DeCola.

"The little upward movement is not going to revive any drilling programs that have been put on hold," he said.

Hughes Tool Co.'s weekly rig count, the industry yardstick for drilling activity in the United States, continued to reflect the sour exploration and drilling environment, plunging to another post-World War II low.

Only 757 rigs were operating last week, down from 809 the previous week. The last time the count was this low was April 1943, when 805 rigs were drilling, Hughes reported.

More than 1,000 rigs have been idled since December, a month after oil prices began plummeting from $32 a barrel and bottomed out at about $11.

State contending 'savings' will pay for FM 1611 work

State highway officials, who have already gone on record in support of the extension of FM 1611 to create a western truck route around Snyder, released figures Wednesday which indicate "users" of the existing route would save sufficient money over a 27-month period to pay back the state's cost for the project.

Abilene-based representatives for the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation contend the addition of the "through" truck route would cause savings by eliminating added travel time and its related expense.

Specifically, they say cost savings would come with the elimination of an additional one-half mile distance and the reduced speeds now caused by traveling through the city.

According to figures released by W.R. Walker, district administrative engineer for the state, "users" following the existing route as opposed to the proposed route would pay an extra $1.2 million over a two year, three month period.

This $1.2 million figure reflects also the state's estimated cost to build its portion of the FM 1611 project.

Walker said the cost estimates were based on traffic information provided by the department's transportation planning division.

This uses the estimate that the average daily traffic for the route during 1986 would be 1,500 vehicles, 84 percent of these classified as light duty vehicles; 6.2 percent as single unit trucks; and 9.7 percent as heavy duty trucks.

A decision regarding the future of FM 1611 is due Thursday.

$35,000 expense...

Artist proposes bronze buffalo statue

A plan to cast a life-sized buffalo for the downtown square was presented to chamber of commerce members Tuesday by local artist Robert Taylor.

Taylor estimated a $35,000 expense to create the buffalo, costs related to "my work and casting." Casting involves making the bronze statue at a foundry from detailed models.

Taylor said he envisions the statue as a male "bull" buffalo standing some 7 ft. tall at the shoulder.

The project would commemorate the shooting of a female white buffalo by county pioneer J. Wright Mooar. On Oct. 7, 1876, Mooar killed the albino, reportedly one of only eight "white" buffalos ever killed in the U.S.

The event is used annually as the basis for Scurry County's historical celebration, White Buffalo Days.

Taylor said a casting process could be used to give the buffalo a white appearance, noting this color would be blended into the bronze rather than "painted on."

Taylor also presented a plan which he said could finance the project.

He noted he would first cast two smaller versions of the statue in limited editions. These could be offered for sale both by himself and the chamber.

He said he would donate all of the profits from those sold by the chamber. He estimated the chamber would have to sell 30 medium-sized bronzes and 60 small-sizes bronzes at a cost of $1,500 and $500 respectively.

Taylor noted he would also donate half of the profits from buffalo statues he sold as part of

July 4, Christmas planning revealed

Holidays as diverse as July 4th and Christmas prompted chamber of commerce reports Tuesday at the regular May meeting of the board.

Plans for an expanded Independence Day celebration were noted by July 4th Committee chairman Kent Horsley, while Marcie Dennis, chairman of the Cultural Affairs Committee, said her group is negotiating with West Texas ballet troupes to perform here next Christmas season.

Regarding July 4th, Horsley said the parade this year will feature motorized vehicles and three color guards provided by the National Guard, VFW and Vietnam Veterans organization.

He noted also that the fireworks display will be moved this year to the site of the old Tiger drive-in. In year's past, this has been done at the baseball fields at the west end of Towle Park.

Also new this year, the chamber has secured donations of pipe and labor to install flag poles on each side of the Towle Park entrance off College Ave.

Plans are to fly a U.S. and Texas flag from these poles and to hang a banner between the two welcoming individuals to the

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The best way to find a missing relative is to buy a cabin in the mountains."

It's official—the reins of Western Texas College have passed from Don Newbury to Harry Krenek.

When Newbury left for his new position as president of Western Texas College, he tried to make certain that he had cleared the campus properly.

Newbury made sure he turned in keys, credit cards, accounted for any equipment entrusted him in addition to making sure he had no outstanding parking or library fines.

Recently, Newbury was notified of an apparent oversight. A letter from the WTC library arrived requesting that he return a book that had been checked out to him.

Newbury called back to Snyder and said that before leaving town, he left the book with R.C. Patton, Higginbotham-Bartlett district manager and president of the WTC board of trustes.

The book, a biography of the late Congressman George Mahon, is entitled, "An Honest Man."

A couple being interviewed on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary said, "When we first got married, we made a pact, that in our life together I would make all the big decisions and she would make all the little decisions.

The man said the agreement had been kept for 50 years. "That, I think, is the reason for the success of our marriage."

Then he looked up and added, "The strange thing is that in 50 years there hasn't yet been one big decision."

Speaking of women, one fellow in the coffee shop declared the other day that his mother-in-law had many faults. "She's a terrible housekeeper. The only time that woman uses a broom is when she flies somewhere."

Time change to come earlier

WASHINGTON (AP) — National daylight-saving time would begin on the first Sunday in April, three weeks earlier than at present, under a plan approved by the Senate.

The proposed change is less ambitious than a four-week extension approved by the House last year. The House version included an extra week in the fall to provide more daylight during traditional Halloween trick-or-treating by millions of the nation's children.

The differences between the two plans will be resolved by a House-Senate conference.

The Senate approved its version Tuesday after defeating, 58-36, a bid to table and thus kill it.

Supporters of the measure, which was attached to a fire prevention authorization bill, said it would save energy, reduce traffic accidents, provide more recreation time and benefit the sporting goods, convenience store and barbeque industries.

The daylight-saving time extension plan is an emotional issue in some states, and Sen. Wendell Ford, D-Ky., said he would have launched a filibuster had the legislation before the Senate included the one-week Halloween extension.

Even so, Ford told the Senate that extending daylight-saving time through all of April will force many children, especially those who live in the western reaches of time zones, to go to school in total darkness, thus increasing risks they will fall victim to accidents or crime.

At present, daylight-saving time begins on the last Sunday in April and ends on the last Sunday in October in areas that do not specifically exempt themselves.

Debating the measure, Ford said the extension discriminates against rural areas and favors "elitist" suburbanites with leisure time.

Huggard trial set in Harris County

BROWNWOOD, Texas (AP) — Gary Arthur Huggard — whose abandoned daughter told police early this year that "Daddy hurt Mommy" and "Daddy put Mommy in the trunk — will be tried in Harris County for the murder of his wife, a judge has decided.

The body of Huggard's estranged wife, Christine, 32, was found Jan. 8 in the trunk of her car near here. An autopsy determined she had been beaten, strangled and stabbed about Dec. 30.

State District Judge Ernest Cadenhead on Tuesday granted a request by court-appointed defense attorneys that the trial be moved to Harris County. The lawyers for Huggard, 38, said they felt publicity here about the murder and Huggard's arrest could prevent a fair trial.

District Attorney Steve Ellis did not oppose the change-of-venue request.

Police found Huggard on Feb. 18, hiding in the air-conditioning vent of his home in Katy, a town west of Houston in Harris County. He was returned to Brownwood for trial.

Lawmen launched a nationwide manhunt for Huggard after his 3-year-old daughter, Angela, found abandoned at a rural church near Austin on Jan. 3, told police "Daddy hurt Mommy" and "Daddy put Mommy in the trunk."

Plant being readied

MOSCOW (AP) — Radiation levels are dangerously high at Chernobyl reactor No. 4, but a cleanup crew is getting the Ukrainian power plant's three other reactors ready to restart, the government newspaper Izvestia reported.

Izvestia also said Tuesday that a 19-ton bulldozer flown in from Chelyabinsk, an industrial city in the Ural Mountains, was helping build a heap of radioactive waste that would be buried where a fifth reactor was to have been constructed.

The account did not say when cleanup from the April 26 explosion and reactor fire would be completed, or estimate when the 92,000 people evacuated from within an 18-mile radius could return home.

Many of the evacuees were moved 80 miles south of the plant to the Ukrainian capital of Kiev, a city of 2.4 million people.

The State Department announced in Washington on Tuesday that it had turned down a Soviet invitation to send a diplomat to visit the area around Chernobyl.

Deputy State Department spokesman Charles Redman said there would be little reason for such a visit by a person who did not have the technical background to evaluate the situation in the fallout area.

He said the United States would welcome the opportunity for U.S. specialists.

Poetry club has meeting

Scurry County Poetry Society met May 19 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Killgo. President Garnet Quiett presided over the meeting. Sherry Byrant presented the invocation.

Dorothy Cox presented the program on "Writing the Pantoum." Cox told that the Pantoum was a type of chain verse of Maylayan origin, adopted by the French and popularized by Victor Hugo. Austin Dobson translated it into English.

Reading their own Pantoum poems were Janelle Burk with "Call of the Chisos," Sherry Byrant, "A Walk With Emily," Garnet Quiett, "The Snow," Dorothy Cox, "My Diet," and Christene Killgo, "No Sign of Rain" by Ramelda Nielson Gibson.

Cox read Threau's poem, "Nature," and gave the quote that inspired members to compose poems.

Reading their poems were Burk with "Eveningtide," Byrant read "Child of the Meadow;" Quiett read "That's Poetry;" and Cox read "The Hush of Night."

Byrant read her poem, "Rooftop Minister" at the last meeting of the Christian Women's Club Luncheon.

Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Decorating walls in bright colors

"We are covering our walls with pattern and draping our windows with fabric and dressing our beds in antique linens," Douglas said, adding that patterns in special demand include large and small florals, Paisleys and bright colors such as Turkey red.

Speakers at the symposium paid tribute to the great French hand-weavers of silk fabrics who reached their zenith in Lyons during the 19th century, before mechanization replaced them. Though these figures of the weaving world are today largely unsung and forgotten, the importance of Lyons as a textile center continues, according to Sheila Hicks, an American weaver and textile authority who lives in Paris.

Hicks is a consultant to a group of French textile firms which continue to supply the American market with home furnishings and fashion fabrics, selling textiles through American wholesalers.

Finding a 4-4 fit

With only 14 high-card points, South doesn't seem to have enough to take another bid. After all, partner raised only to two spades, showing six to nine high-card points plus spade support. But experience has shown that shaped hands such as South's 5-4-1-3 distribution play very well when partner can raise your suit. The try for game is justified, but how it is done is very important. Bidding three hearts is crucial, because in many cases the final game contract should be in the 4-4 major fit. Today's deal is an example.

With hearts as trump, South ruffs the second diamond lead and plays the king of hearts. East should let that hold the trick. When South continues with the heart queen, East should win and lead a third heart. South can now run all his spades, discarding the diamond jack and a low club from dummy. He now has only one more trick to lose — a club to West's ace.

Had spades been the trump suit, there would have been no play for more than nine tricks unless West foolishly grabbed his ace of clubs when declarer first led that suit up to the queen. The extra trick with hearts as trump comes from South's ability to ruff one diamond in his own hand while still retaining four trumps in dummy.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm so scared about getting AIDS that I'm considering making any man I get serious about get a blood test. How effective is the test for detecting AIDS and how long must a person be infected with it before the test can detect it?

DEAR READER — The blood test for AIDS is said to be more than 90 percent accurate. Like any blood test, however, there are bound to be false positives — and false negatives. Actually, the blood test detects if individuals have been infected with the HTLV-III virus; only a small percentage of these people will develop AIDS.

Rather than relying on a blood test to screen your social contacts, you would do better to have open and frank discussions with them before engaging in any intimacy. The prudent female should be extremely wary of promiscuous or bisexual males.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have pain in my hands when I hold something heavy like a water pitcher. Wringing out a rag causes terrible pain. One doctor told me it was all in my head, and an orthopedic specialist told me to lose weight. Where do I turn next?

DEAR READER — To a rheumatologist. Your problem appears to be in your hands, not in your head. An arthritis specialist may be able to discover the reason for your discomfort and suggest treatment. If you are obese, by all means lose weight. Remember that doctors who claim physical ailments are due to head problems often make this claim because they can't diagnose the ailment.

DEAR DR. GOTT — There used to be leper colonies to contain that disease. When I had tuberculosis in 1941, I had no choice but to go to a sanitorium. Why not the same for AIDS, to help the afflicted and protect the healthy?

DEAR READER — Your position is shared by others. Unfortunately, there is an increasing tendency to view AIDS as a disability rather than as a communicabale disease. In my opinion, this view is both dangerous and unrealistic. While no one has yet publicly suggested quarantining AIDS patients, such a desperate approach was successful in eradicating the final outbreak of smallpox on the Indian subcontinent. The political consequences of quarantine probably keeps it from being used for AIDS patients. However, with the disease exploding in the world, some drastic public-health answers may have to be considered in the future.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is there one address a person could write to in order to find out the addresses of organizations specializing in certain disorders?

DEAR READER — Yes, there is. Write to the National Health Information Clearinghouse, P.O. Box 1133, Washington, DC 20013-1133.

DEAR DR. GOTT — The overglaze porcelain colors I paint with carry a warning that they shouldn't be used on food-bearing surfaces. Why? What are the symptoms of lead and cadmium poisoning?

DEAR READER — Coloring solutions often contain dangerous compounds that can cause illness if eaten, breathed or consumed in trace amounts over a period of years. For example, cadmium can produce abdominal cramps, vomiting, difficulty breathing, headache, exhaustion and cancer. Lead can cause abdominal cramps, diarrhea or constipation, mental disturbances, paralysis, convulsions and shock. Chronic lead poisoning can produce anemia, loss of appetite and irritability.

Man's Overexposure Is Not Pretty Picture

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl who has an early morning paper route. Sometimes people are up and waiting for me, but one guy is always waiting for me in his underwear. Today he was there as usual—in his underwear, but this time he was doing his exercises, like touching his toes and reaching high with his arms up over his head.

I can't help seeing him. Abby, I don't see this much at home. One day he asked me if I was "embarrassed" and I told him yes, but he never bothered to put on a pair of pants or robe or anything.

I told my girlfriend about it, and she said I should tell my boss, but I'm not sure I should. At first I thought it was just accidental, but now I'm beginning to think this guy likes to see me get embarrassed. Please answer soon, and tell me what to do.

PAPER GIRL

DEAR PAPER GIRL: Tell your parents and your boss about the man on your route who is making you feel uncomfortable. They need and want to know. Do this today. Please write again and tell me where you live. I want to phone you.

DEAR ABBY: Here's a new twist on the perennial mother-in-law problem: Recently at my home, at dinner, my mother-in-law referred to police officers as "pigs" in front of my 8-year-old daughter! (She was peeved with a local cop for trying to do his job.)

I was shocked to hear my mother-in-law use that expression, but I glossed over it because I didn't want to make a scene. Now I worry because I think I should have said something to my daughter or my mother-in-law at the time.

Some perspective, please.

ELAINE B.

DEAR ELAINE: It's to your credit that you now "worry" because you missed an opportunity to do what a parent should do: Educate her child at an early age that "name calling" is bigoted and unacceptable. Even though the ideal moment has passed, it's not too late to tell your daughter. And don't hesitate to tell your mother-in-law privately how you feel.

DEAR ABBY: With high school proms coming up, please find room to rerun this piece I clipped from your column three years ago. It may save a few young lives. Thank you.

INDIANAPOLIS NEWS READER

DEAR READER: I agree, it's worth the space:

IT ISN'T THE CAR, IT'S THE DRIVER

"It isn't the car that begins to whine when forced to stop for an old stop sign—it's the driver.

"It isn't the car that takes a drink, then quickly loses its power to think—it's the driver.

"It isn't the car that fails to heed the dangers of reckless, discourteous speed—it's the driver.

"It isn't the car that steps on the gas and causes an accident trying to pass—it's the driver.

"A car may be bent and twisted awry, but it isn't the car that will have to die—it's the driver."

How presidential preference polls were born

NEW YORK (AP) - During presidential election years, hotel guests in America's early history were frequently invited to indicate their preference for the next White House occupant.

Thus were the first presidential preference polls born, according to Albert J. Gomes, who has written a book on lodging called "Hospitality in Transition."

In the early 1800s, first-class modern hotels were known as People's Palaces, embodying civic pride and serving as the center of business and social life in their communities, according to Gomes, an industry expert with Pannell Kerr Forster, a national accounting and consulting firm.

Teamster confab delegates united behind indicted chief

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Delegates to the Teamsters convention are uniting like a convoy of tractor-trailer rigs behind indicted president Jackie Presser, crushing proposals by dissidents that would weaken his hold on the nation's largest union.

The 2,000 delegates on Tuesday overwhelmingly rejected the call by less than 30 dissidents to cut Presser's current annual salary as president from $225,000 to $125,000.

"We should be paying him a million," one delegate shouted on the floor, triggering loud applause.

Presser, whose pay and expenses with the union actually total more than $750,000 a year because of other salaried positions he holds, was expected to win his first contested election for a new five-year term in balloting late today.

His opponent, Sam Theodus, president of a 5,000-member local in Presser's hometown of Cleveland, expects to draw more than the 10 votes the last challenger to an incumbent received, but not many more.

"If I get 10 percent of the vote, I'll be doing good, but I don't think it's going to happen," said Theodus, who declared his candidacy three weeks before Presser's indictment last Friday on charges of racketeering and embezzlment.

A proposed amendment by Theodus to the union's constitution calling for direct rank-and-file election of the Teamsters' president received less than a dozen "ayes" Tuesday.

Seven other amendments by a small group of dissidents, Teamsters for a Democratic Union, also were shouted down. Among them were measures to raise strike benefits and require only a majority rather than the present two-thirds vote needed for members to reject a contract negotiated by their officers.

However, the Teamsters adopted a Presser-endorsed amendment specifying by descending rank which 1,600 of the some 5,000 local officers will automatically get seats to the next convention in 1991.

All but a handful of the delegates and 4,000 alternates and guests here are viewing Presser's indictment just five days before he stands for election as an attempt to disrupt and weaken their union.

In 1634, Maryland was founded by colonists under Lord Baltimore.

Rozelle testifies USFL offered him a job once

NEW YORK (AP) - The first week of testimony in the USFL's $1.32 billion antitrust suit against the NFL is winding up with the jury having only heard from one witness - NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Rozelle completed his fourth day on the stand Tuesday and is to return again today as he goes point-by-point through evidence introduced during 13½ hours of earlier grilling by USFL counsel Harvey Myerson.

With NFL attorney Frank Rothman guiding him through the same points that Myerson stressed during his examimation, Rozelle disclosed that in 1982 he had been offered a job as the USFL's first commissioner. He said he turned it down and a question as to how much money he had been offered was disallowed by U.S. District Judge Peter K. Leisure.

He also made the following points:

- The television contracts with ABC, CBS and NBC were the result of evolution, not some grand design by the NFL to tie up the three major networks. The basis of the USFL's case is that it is the NFL's control over the networks that has kept the younger league from obtaining a network contract for its switch to the fall.

- He immediately took steps to quash the circulation of a presentation made to NFL executives by a professor at the Harvard Business School that the USFL calls one of the "smoking guns" in its case.

- He said the NFL had never put pressure on any owner not to buy a franchise in the USFL. He cited the example of Edward DeBartolo Sr.'s ownership of the USFL's Pittsburgh Maulers while his son, Edward Jr., owned the San Francisco 49ers, although he did not note that the NFL formed a special committee to study possible conflicts of interest in the dual ownership.

Rockets under no delusions; hope to clinch series tonight

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) - The Houston Rockets already are being acclaimed as an emerging NBA dynasty, but Coach Bill Fitch begs to differ with that increasingly popular appraisal.

"We have no delusions of grandeur," Fitch said as the Rockets prepared to try to knock the defending champion Los Angeles Lakers out of the NBA playoffs in tonight's game at the Forum.

"We understand that when we go into the Forum, it might be like the old days at the (ancient) Forum, with the lions, you know, thumbs up and thumbs down," Fitch said, going temporarily hazy on his Roman history.

"We're going to go in with the attitude that we're going to have to play the game of our lives if we're going to come out with a win.

"We fear them (the Lakers) more now than when we were even-steven," Fitch said. "The only people that are ruling out the Lakers are the guys that don't have to guard them, the guys who don't have to go in there and rub elbows with them."

The Rockets, who've beaten the Lakers three straight games after losing the opener of the best-of-seven Western Conference finals, are just one victory away from a matchup with the Boston Celtics for the NBA championship. The Celtics swept Milwaukee in the Eastern Conference finals.

If the Lakers win tonight's game, the series will shift back to Houston for a sixth game Friday. Another Los Angeles victory would bring the series back to the Forum for a seventh game on Monday.

The Rockets, however, don't intend to allow the series go that far.

"We don't even want to take the chance of letting it go back to Houston," said Rockets center Akeem Olajuwon, who averaged 31 points, 12 rebounds and four blocked shots in the first four games. "We just want to win this game and get it over with.

"What we have to do is just what we've been doing so far - play our game, go after every rebound, hold down turnovers. That's how we can beat them."

The Lakers, meanwhile, unsuccessful at stopping Olajuwon in the previous games, apparently have decided to concede him his points and rebounds.

"We're going to have to give up something," Lakers guard Earvin "Magic" Johnson said. "If he is going to get his 30 points, maybe we'll try to focus on their other guys."

The Lakers face the long odds of becoming just the fifth team in NBA playoff history to come back from a 3-1 deficit to win a series. The previous four times it was accomplished was in conference finals.

And, if they lose, the Lakers would become the 17th consecutive NBA champion to fail to successfully defend their crow. The last time a club repeated as champions was 1969 when the Boston Celtics did it.

Austin's Skaggs inks golf contract at WTC

Wes Skaggs, highly recruited player from Austin Westwood High School, has signed with Coach Dave Foster's Western Texas College golf team for next season.

Skaggs was District 8-5A medalist in 1984-85 and runnerup in 1985-86. The two-year co-captain was fifth in the region and seventh at state in 1985 and was 13th in the region in 1986.

In the summer of 1985, Skaggs was low qualifier for the Senior-Junior Tournament in Austin and won five Junior Tour Tournaments.

"Wes has had a real good junior-senior year and has improved consistently. I am looking forward to working with him," said Coach Foster.

WTC returns five players, including Mike Harrison, Brent Wilson, Matt Smith, Jimmy Walsworth and Scott Sawyer.

Take 1-0 lead in playoff series...

Errors help Tigers conquer Dunbar, 8-6

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

Call it divine providence, justice or a lucky break, Snyder's Tigers turned three sixth-inning errors into two runs here Tuesday to edge Lubbock Dunbar 8-6 in the first game of a best-of-three bi-district playoff series.

The series moves to Snyder for Game 2 at 1 p.m. Saturday. A third game, if necessary, will follow at approximately 3 p.m.

Tuesday's contest was tied 6-6 in the top of the sixth when Justin Webb walked aboard and scored the eventual winning run on a series of Dunbar errors.

After Webb's base on balls, Brad Holcomb hit a sharp ground ball to second baseman Carl Zamora, who threw wild to first baseman Tommy Torres. Pitcher Danny Lopez raced over, found the ball along the fence and hurled it towards home plate in time to catch Webb, but catcher John Ponciano dropped it, allowing the runner to score. Next-up Jimmy Velasquez then hit a shot back to Lopez on the mound but he also threw wild to first base and Holcomb raced home from third.

While Dunbar coaches and fans were undoubtedly taken aback, Snyder Coach Albert Lewis saw Dunbar's mistakes as a form of justice.

"They got their first two runs on errors we made and we got our last two on ones they made so it all worked out," said Lewis afterward.

Velasquez, 10-4, went the distance and took the win for the Tigers. He gave up seven hits but walked eight batters and struggled throughout much of the game, especially the middle innings.

"This isn't like the Jimmy we're use to seeing," said Coach Lewis. "He has struggled in the last two games. I'm not sure if his arm is sore or what, but we'll talk about it and check him out before Saturday. Jimmy did what he had to do, and the umpire, Steve Coleman, wasn't real consistent, either. That made it tough."

Dunbar committed eight errors and Snyder three for the game and that wasn't exactly the script Lewis would have written either.

"I didn't expect us to make any but I expected them to make a bunch. Hey, they have been making errors all year but still winning ballgames," he said in way of explanation. "I guess being in the first game of the playoffs I might have expected us to make a couple, but that's all. But you have to realize that although this is a senior team, they are still inexperienced in the playoffs. That makes a difference."

Snyder, ranked 10th in the state, is now 20-8 for the season and has won 13 of its past 14 games. Dunbar drops to 13-12 with the loss.

Dunbar took a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning. Larry Vidaurre singled and scored on a errant throw from catcher Ricky Hunter to third baseman Webb. Eric Gomez followed with a single and he scored on a throwing error by Webb.

Snyder tied the game in the top of the second. Steve Parker reached on an error attributed to Gomez at third base and Mike McWilliams and Chris Fryar followed with back to back singles off of Lopez to load the bags. Dennis Martinez then hit into a fielder's choice that saw Parker race across home plate. Next-up Kenneth Pickering, the designated hitter, followed with a double to score McWilliams.

Pickering, batting .183 going into the game, highlighted a 12-hit offense for the Tigers. He was three-for-three and drove in two runs. He also walked once.

"He didn't look like a .162 hitter (in district play) tonight," grinned Coach Lewis afterward. "Kenneth doesn't have a great batting average but he has been working hard and you know the potential is there. He showed it tonight."

"It felt great. I finally came out of my slump," said the Tiger athlete, who has been working on his hitting. "I used to watch the ball come out of the pitcher's hand and then try to pick it up before it got to the plate but now I'm watching it all the way in."

Both teams fought for control of the game. Snyder led 3-2 in the top of the fourth but Dunbar came back to regain the advantage 5-3. It was 6-5 in favor of Snyder in the top of the fifth and 6-6 in the bottom.

Highlights included McWilliams' fifth-inning single that scored Brad Holcomb and pinch runner Joey Felan. Holcomb had singled and Felan had come in to run for Velasquez, who had reached on an error by Dunbar short stop Vidaurre. Later in the inning, Pickering singled to drive McWilliams home.

Pickering's three-for-three effort led the Tigers offensively. McWilliams, Parker and Holcomb all collected two hits apiece.

Lopez, 9-6, was the loser.

The winner of the series will face either Crowley or Grapevine next week. Crowley took a one-game edge in that best-of-three series with a 3-0 victory Tuesday.

SAFE LANDING – Snyder's Steve Parker slides into second base safely as Carl Zamora tries to handle an off-target throw during Tuesday's bi-district playoff game between the Tigers and the Dunbar Panthers. Boggs aids Bo-Sox to victory

by The Associated Press

Wade Boggs helped the Boston Red Sox romp to a big lead, and then helped them turn the game into a rout.

A lot of people helped the Cleveland Indians get way ahead early in their game. But they got no relief and could not stay there.

"Tonight was a combination of lucky breaks for me," Boggs said after the first five-hit game of his career. The Red Sox scored six runs in the first inning Tuesday night and pounded out 20 hits in pasting the Minnesota Twins 17-7 at Fenway Park.

The Indians got off to an even faster start. They scored eight times in the top of the first inning, but then watched while the Milwaukee Brewers rallied for a 12-9 victory.

"I think everybody on the team thought we had a chance to come back. And we had nine innings to do it," said Milwaukee's Ernest Riles, who broke an 8-8 tie in the seventh inning with an RBI single.

In other American League games, Oakland got past New York 2-1, Detroit ripped Seattle 12-0, California stopped Baltimore 6-4, Chicago edged Toronto 2-1 and Texas beat Kansas City 4-0.

Boggs, a two-time AL batting champion, went 5-for-6 and raised his average to .386, tops in the major leagues.

Boston's unbeaten Roger Clemens won his seventh game going seven innings. He gave up five runs on nine hits, but got all the support he needed.

Frank Viola, 4-4, did not retire a batter, giving up five hits and a walk as Minnesota lost for the ninth time in its last 10 games.

Rangers 4, Royals 0

Mike Mason pitched a six-hitter and struck out a career-high 10, leading Texas past visiting Kansas City.

Mason raised his record to 4-0 and got home-run support from Darrell Porter and Pete O'Brien. Dennis Leonard, 4-4, took the loss.

Brewers 12, Indians 9

Milwaukee, stunned by Cleveland's first-inning explosion, came back on a solo home run by Dale Sveum and two-run shots by Cecil Cooper and Rob Deer.

Then, after Riles' RBI single put the host Brewers ahead 9-8 in the seventh, Paul Householder connected for a three-run homer later in the inning.

park for July 4.

In line with Christmas planning, Dennis said ballet groups from both Lubbock and Amarillo have indicated an interest in performing here.

She said Ballet Lubbock could perform the seasonal "Nutcracker" ballet Dec. 13. The cost would be $3,000 for one performance or $5,500 for both a matinee and night performance.

Lone Star Ballet of Amarillo is also interested in a spring performance here in 1987, she said. She noted they will perform for as little as $500 since the troupe's dancers are primarily comprised of college students who are not members of entertainer's guilds.

In other chamber business Tuesday, Ralph Williamson reported on a proposed "buyers guide" publication to be prepared by the chamber and distributed to newcomers to the city.

He said expenses for it should be borne by advertising in the guide.

Williamson, who heads up a chamber committee aimed at improving membership, also said a letter is to be mailed this week to chamber members currently past due on their membership fees.

It was noted some $15,000 in past due fees are now on the chamber books. Williamson said his committee is now attempting to determine which businesses are still viable as members.

Elizabeth Potts, president-elect, presided at Tuesday's meeting in the absense of Jack Denman. Directors attending were Roy Baze, immediate past president, Fred Castillo, Max von Roeder, Jerry Vestal, Mike Banta, Harley Bynum, Phil Fortune, Barbara Williamson, Donna Gray, John Daniel and Margaret Drum.

He added that his plans would be to cast the sculpture, but not to commission the large buffalo until given a go-ahead from the chamber.

Criminal negligence trial begins

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — No one tried to stop a 6-year-old boy from going outside to play, even though a pack of part-breed pit bulls had just attacked a collie moments earlier, a man testified in the trial of a man charged with criminal negligence in the child's death.

The testimony of Azar Lister Jr. came Tuesday in the first day of a trial against John Donald Shipman, the dogs' owners, on a misdemeanor charge of injury to a child.

1611 decision slated Thursday

Commissioner Hassie Sneed and Pct. 3 Commissioner C.D. Gray Jr. both opposed Davis' motion.

Some 30 local residents, including representatives with the City of Snyder and the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, crowded the courtroom to offer opinions on the proposal.

Opponents of the project cite cost of property for a right-of way and new fences as a major reason to reject the state's offer.

Proponents see the project as a way to reroute trucks off the square.

In other action Thursday, commissioners will consider a proposal by Bill Stephens to lease Xerox equipment.

Police clear tire thefts

Police report clearing a previously unreported misdemeanor theft incident with the arrest of a male suspect around 11 a.m. Tuesday.

He was charged with the theft of two tires and an auto battery from the yard at Grimmett Brothers Construction.

That theft is thought to have occurred sometime over the past four to six weeks.

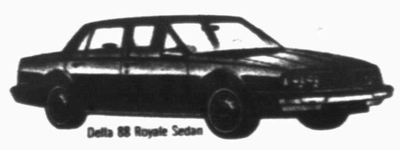

In other action Tuesday, police jailed two suspects on misdemeanor charges including one charged with driving while intoxicated and another picked up on arrest warrants issued for failure to pay fines assessed for traffic violations.
