Bill Stultz And Two Passengers Killed In Crash

Aviator Is Second Pilot To Successfully Cross North Atlantic Ocean To Be Killed In Plane Fall

Stunts Are Fatal

Tailspin Causes Open Biplane To Go From Control Of Pilot; Shoes Hung In Controls Believed Cause

(By Associated Press) ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., July 1. (P)—Bill Stultz was killed in a crash today. He was the second successful airplane pilot to cross the North Atlantic ever to be killed in a plane smash. Two other men were killed with him.

The first crossing of the North Atlantic by plane was made just 10 years ago, John Alcock and Arthur Whitten Brown, and the same year Alcock was killed when his plane fell.

Since then Lindbergh has crossed that treacherous sea, and Chamberlin and Levine, the Byrd expedition, Brock and Schlee, the Bremen crew, those of the Yellow Bird and Amelia Earhart, Lou Gordon and Wilmer Stultz.

Alive Until Today. All of these have kept on flying and, with the exception of Baron Von Huenfeldt, of the Bremen crew who died a natural death in Berlin last February, all were alive, until today. Then Stultz took up a couple of friends to do a bit of stunting and a few minutes later both Stultz and the friends were dead.

They went up in an open biplane owned by John Hay Whitney, Stultz's employer, and about 300 feet from the ground they went into a tailspin. The two passengers, Pasquale Castelluccio and Edward B. Harwood, were dead when pulled from the wreckage, and Stultz died as he was being carried into the hospital in Minneapolis.

Stultz Unconscious. Stultz did not regain consciousness. See FLYER KILLED, Page 10

Spanish Aviators Are Nearing Home

Principals Of Attempt To Span Atlantic Are Aboard British Aircraft Carrier Following Their Rescue

(By Associated Press) GIBRALTAR, July 1. (P)—Major Ramon Franco, Major Eduardo Gonzalez Gallarza, Captain Julio Ruiz De Alda and Sergeant Pedro Madariaga were nearing home tonight aboard the British aircraft carrier, Eagle, after floating for a week in the open sea southeast of the Azores Islands aboard their hydro airplane Dornier Wal 16.

Their week of privation and danger left them in good health, and they will write a happy conclusion to the first chapter of their attempt to fly from Spain to New York when the Eagle disembarks them here tomorrow.

The Eagle is expected to enter Gibraltar harbor about 9 a. m., but may not dock until several hours later.

No Plans Announced. Until the aviators land and announce their desires, no plans will be arranged definitely. A tentative schedule calls for an early luncheon at the Spanish consulate-general in Gibraltar where Franco and his comrades will express formal thanks to British officials of the fortress.

The aviators probably will take the first train to Madrid and home after the ceremony of thanks is over.

Reports today said that the Eagle almost had abandoned hope of finding the fliers when an airplane unexpectedly sighted them bobbing on the surface of the sea. The previous night had seen heavy seas and a storm of such proportions that it was feared the fliers never would be found alive.

GAS THEFT CHARGED

Three Youths Confess To Siphoning Here

Three local youths Monday were being held in the city jail on charges of theft of gasoline, following their arrest Sunday. One of the youths gave his age as 14 while the other two stated they were 18.

All three of the boys confessed to the charges and stated that they had been siphoning gasoline from automobile tanks. At the time of their arrest they had about four and one-half gallons of gasoline in a six-gallon can.

Local Boys Use 'Nigger Shooter'

Three Lubbock youths last evening turned modern William Tell and instead of the ancient bow and arrow used by that famous character, employed the more up-to-date "nigger shooter" for their exploits.

Just as S. S. McKay, 2323 15th street, reached the end of the pavement on 20th street a rock came hurtling through his windshield scattering glass in every direction and on the occupants of the car. No one was injured by the flying glass though the shield was demolished.

Mr. McKay, upon questioning the three boys, could gain no information as to which one sent the missile in the car. Each boy denied having anything to do with it and blamed the other. Police will investigate today.

Solons Planning For Adjournment Of Session Today

Breach Between Senate And House Over Educational Appropriations Healed As Limit Is Removed

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, July 1.—The 41st legislature was putting its house in order tonight, preparatory to adjourning the second called session sine die tomorrow.

The breach between the house and senate over the educational appropriation bill was healed, the house rescinding its former action placing $16,500,000 as the deadline on the total. The senate had been holding out for $17,000,000.

Work On New Bill. The conference committee went into executive session and was held tonight on an entirely new bill. In order to get it out in time for action tomorrow, it would be necessary to work the entire night.

The house concurred in senate amendments to its four-cent gasoline tax by a vote of 104 to 14. The dual bill, levying a 4-cent gasoline tax and registration fees against motor vehicles will become effective immediately if the governor signs it.

The bill provides for a 50 per cent reduction in the schedule of automobile registration fees.

Reports Adopted. The house adopted conference reports on the eleemosynary and department bills. The eleemosynary measure appropriated $10,482,836 and the departmental bill carried a total of $12,938,225.

BOX CAR ROBBED

Two Front Wheels Taken By Robbers Sunday Night

A box car on the Fort Worth & Denver tracks in southeast Lubbock was broken into Sunday night and an investigation showed that robbers escaped with two front wheels complete with 29x5.50 casings on them and two cases of tools.

Entrance into the car was gained by breaking the seal on the door. Officers are searching for clues that might lead to the identity of the thieves but late Monday had found none.

The father of the boy, who came to Houston to aid his son, declared after the ruling that an appeal will be taken.

"The Torchbearers," Little Theater Production, To Be Offered Tonight

A PLAY in which characters rather than plot predominate, "The Torchbearers" is to be presented this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the high school auditorium as the final Little Theater production for this season.

This three-act play is a satire on amateur acting and Little Theater work and draws much of its appeal through the human traits of characters represented.

Under the direction of Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the department of public speaking at the Technological college, this play has been in preparation for several weeks.

The story is of the average small town husband and wife, the wife suddenly taking a liking to art and under the tutelage of the average small town dramatic director, she appears in a Little Theater production much to the misery of her husband. She receives such an ovation that she is content with nothing short of New York, but after much persuasion her husband convinces her that it is much better to retire and be remembered as a great artist than

Nix Found Guilty Of Poisoning His 17-Year-Old Wife

Young Malta Farmer Given 99 Year Sentence After Confessing Slaying To Jury In Trial At Boston

Defendant Smiles

Trial Rushed Due To Fear Mob Violence; Crowds Hear Verdict Without Comment; Ask Death

BOSTON, Tex., July 1.—Ode Nix, young Malta farmer, was found guilty tonight of poisoning his 17-year-old wife and sentenced to 99 years imprisonment.

A courtroom crowd which had dwindled from the pressing throng of 700 which about four hours previously had heard the young man's death demanded received the verdict without audible comment.

Nix smiled slightly when the verdict was returned. The jury retired at 5 p. m. Transferred To Paris.

Nix was transferred tonight to the Lamar county jail at Paris, where he was held for a time shortly after his arrest.

Date for passing sentence was not set, and it was not indicated whether an appeal would be taken.

The jury's verdict was reported to have been a compromise, 10 jurors desiring to assess the death penalty, one a life term and the other acquitted.

The fate of Nix was placed in the hands of a district court jury here late today after the prosecution had demanded the death penalty.

The defense pleaded for leniency on the ground that a stroke of paralysis had left Nix partly disabled and mentally unbalanced.

Trial Speedy. The trial was one of the speediest in the history of the county, having been rushed because of the bitter feeling created by Nix's confession that he fed a capsule of poison to his wife. Mob violence once was threatened. The confession was not introduced.

The state resisted after introducing rebuttal witnesses to refute testimony of Nix' father that the farm youth had been abnormal since suffering a paralytic stroke in 1925. Nix, sr., was the only defense witness. Young Nix' mother, bedfast from nervous prostration since the day of her daughter-in-law's death, was brought into the courtroom but did not testify.

Investigation Ordered. Mrs. Vinitia Nix, mother of a five-month-old baby, died June 18 a few minutes after neighbors heard her screams and found her in convulsions. The finding of Nix' dog dead, its body contorted, and the attitude of Mrs. Nix toward her husband.

Funeral Services Of Weaver Youth Are Held Monday

Accident Victim Dies Sunday Following Collision Here Saturday Afternoon; Burial In Cemetery Here

In one of the most impressive services ever witnessed in this city, the body of Carroll Weaver, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Weaver, 1901 Broadway, was laid to rest Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Lubbock cemetery while hundreds of sorrowing friends came to pay their tribute to the young life that had been so suddenly snatched away.

Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated while Rix-Sanders was in charge of arrangements.

Carroll died Sunday morning at 9 o'clock following injuries sustained Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the automobile which he was driving collided with another and overturned at the corner of Fourteenth Street and Avenue X.

The young man was a student last year of the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, and there had made quite a reputation as an athlete, a lover of clean sports, and was active in the affairs of the corps of cadets of that institution.

He had planned to enter Lubbock high school this coming year and would have been a senior.

Popular among the younger set he exemplified a splendid code of morals in school activities, his teachers said. "In Carroll's death the student body of Lubbock high school will feel a keen loss," said Coach Henry Frank. "Aside from being an excellent student, he carried into athletics a desirable influence for promotion of clean sports. We had looked forward to his being with the squad next year."

"A conversation with L. B. Plummer of the military institute, revealed to me the high esteem with which he was held as a student and

Well Dressed Man Sought In Death Of Georgia Prof

Body Of A. H. Johnson Is Found Slumped In Auto In Remote Section Of City; Robbery Is Theory

(By Associated Press) ATLANTA, July 1.—A well dressed man with a "black eye" tonight was sought by police in their efforts to explain the death of Professor A. H. Johnson, of Hartwell, Ga., whose body was found slumped in his automobile in a remote section of the city early yesterday.

Police believe this man with his finger wrote the succinct message "driver unconscious" on a glass window in Johnson's automobile after parking it with its owner dead on the front seat.

The man sought was described as a coroner's inquest by W. W. Wise, employe at a garage where Johnson had driven late Saturday. Wise said Johnson "had been drinking heavily, so heavily in fact I didn't think he should have been permitted on the streets."

The garage man also said Johnson seemed suspicious of his companion, who described himself as a "scholar" of the University of Georgia.

The robbery theory was dampened by Wise's testimony that Johnson paid him for some work, taking a one dollar bill from his wallet which "as far as I could see was a lone one at that time."

Claim Portrait Resembles Frog

LOS ANGELES, July 1. (P)—James Cruze, motion picture director and John Decker, painter, brought a little disagreement over art into court today. Cruze sued Decker for $200,000 damages.

The suit was based on a portrait of Cruze painted by Decker in a prison cell. Cruze refused to accept the painting, whereupon, he alleged, Decker placed the painting in a Hollywood art store window and entitled it: "James Cruze—in prison for debt."

Cruze sets forth that not only was his position in the picture objectionable to him, "it was the most surprised man in the world when I saw it. Mouth like a gargoyle; face like a frog; it made me look like an apache, or something worse."

Gordon made a short talk in which he stressed the importance of school officials keeping step with the advance of the modern times by continual appraisal of their own work, seeing that their methods are measuring up to the growth. He also made a plea for school consciousness on the South Plains.

Following Dean Gordon's talk, Superintendent M. L. H. Baze, of Tahoka, favored the group with two selections on a saw.

Short Talks Made. Short talks were made during the program by Dr. A. W. Evans, Dr. J. C. Grayberry, Mrs. O. Legg, county school superintendent of Hale county, Miss Mae Murfee, county superintendent of Lubbock county, F. O. Boles, of Littlefield; Burl Bryant, of Wichita Falls and Mr. Baze.

Warning Given On Parking Ordinance

Motorists who park their automobiles in the center of the street or in the alleyways will be subject to a fine, Chief of Police John Lemond warned yesterday.

Chief Lemond pointed out that it is violation of the city ordinance to park any kind of a vehicle, including delivery trucks, in the center of the street. Delivery trucks, however, are allowed to park in the alleys, he said. The fine for parking private cars in alleys is not less than $5.

"The law says that delivery trucks or other vehicles must not be parked in the middle of the street and we mean to enforce that law," said Chief Lemond. He also stated that automobiles must be parked inside the red line near alleys and street corners. If your car is out of the mark and a heavy truck smashes into it—then, according to the law, you are just out of luck.

Chairman Senate Committee Claims To Have Picture Of Creager Taken With Negro; Deny Claim

(By Associated Press) DALLAS, July 1.—The words "nigger lover" were passed at the concluding session of the U. S. senate patronage committee's investigation here today by Rene B. Creager, republican national committee man for Texas, who returned to the stand to deny charges made by other witnesses. The committee adjourned finally late today.

Creager also threatened to prosecute Harry M. Wurzback, former republican congressman from Texas, for accepting a contribution of $50 toward his campaign expenses from E. J. Keudell, San Antonio mail clerk. Wurzback was defeated for reelection by a democratic candidate. He ran without the support of the state republican organization.

Says Check Accepted. Wurzback, Creager charged, accepted a $50 check from Keudell for primary expenses. Wurzback was indicted but "excused" on the ground that the law did not cover donations for primaries. Creager said, adding he believed it his duty to see that the former congressman is prosecuted for accepting the second check.

At the morning session, Harry Beck, Dallas, charged the state republican organization was interested only in controlling patronage. He said the Creager "machine" is a "pie counter."

Denies Statement. Beck rose to his feet. "That's false; untrue," he shouted.

In the midst of Harding's testimony, after he termed Miss Livingston avaricious and grasping, his attorney had the boy stand up. "Did you ever see this young man before?" the attorney asked.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Have you ever been told in a most flattering sort of way that it is only the delicate skin that is the key to beauty? And have you thought that you would cheerfully forego the distinction of having a fine, delicate skin to be without the little brown spots that speckle it during the summer season? Certainly it is true that only the delicate skin freckles, but also it is true that you can prevent this type of skin from freckling and keep it always fair and lovely, no matter what the season. So do not despair and feel that you would rather be thick-skinned and free from freckles. It isn't necessary to be thick-skinned at all, in any sense of the expression. Naturally you will have to exercise more care than your less delicate-skinned sisters to keep your skin unharmed by the summer sun. But you will find, I think, that the problem is not a difficult one.

Most people think that freckles come in the summertime. As a matter of fact they usually begin to come in the late spring. And that means that from the day when the first crocus shows its yellow head, you should have begun to take anti-freckle precautions. But if you did not, you can begin now to repair the damage, and then go from here with your protective measures.

A good bleaching or freckle cream is your first consideration. Be sure that you select a reputable one that will not damage your skin. Use it systematically, according to directions, until your freckles are gone. And supplement your treatment with plenty of protective care. That is, do not venture out into the sun and wind without first applying a generous layer of sun and windproof cream or sunproof lotion as a make-up foundation. Over this you should use a good face powder that is also recommended for its protective qualities.

When you have effectively campaigned against your first crop of freckles, don't succumb to the feeling of satisfaction that comes with winning a victory, but keep on with the anti-sun offensive. After your freckles are really gone, and you have prevented others from coming, you will not need, naturally, to continue with your bleaching treatment. But you will need to keep your skin stimulated and healthy active. For this purpose I suggest that you use a good skin-clearing cream, such as a beautifying skin food. This has mildly bleaching properties, but it also acts as a skin regulator, which keeps the circulation active and the complexion fine and clear. If you have not yet acquired a full crop of freckles, the use of such a cream may be enough to remove the first faint powdering of light ones, and you can continue with it as a skin regulator without resorting to a stronger bleach.

Freckles are not pleasant acquisitions; not, at any rate, the large, splotchy, orange or cinnamon variety. The freshness of a soft, clear, creamy skin is much more to be desired. And since most skins that freckle are not pleasant acquisitions, I have seen them become an older woman's very delicate, golden type that blend so charmingly with red-gold hair. But on most women, young and old alike, freckles are not pleasant acquisitions; not, at any rate, the large, splotchy, orange or cinnamon variety.

MISS MEADOR VISITOR

Former Resident Visits In Lubbock Yesterday

Miss Mary Meador, of Amarillo, who lived in Lubbock until recently, visited with friends here yesterday. Miss Meador has been the guest of her sister in Slaton for several days.

WOMAN'S DAY

The bare leg row now crops up in McKeessport, Pa., where four freshmen girls were sent home for coming to school sans stockings.

I'm for the common sense of the mother who asked the principal what he'd do if he had to keep daughters in silk stockings to the tune of twice $1.95 a week. Bare legs are no more deadly than bare arms or bare faces and some day all the to-do will seem the twaddle it is.

MABELLE'S PRINCE

Nothing so riles a dyed-in-the-wool American with our dyed-in-the-wool ideas about marriage as to hear that Prince Louis of Bourbon, cousin of King Alfonso of Spain, has issued the ultimatum to Mrs. Mabelle Gilman Corey that he won't marry her after all, unless she increases his lot to a guarantee of one thousand dollars a month for pocket money, and a home befitting his station in life. And there is little doubt that Mabelle will give him the increase he demands.

A WOMAN TRICK

Emily Newell Blair has been vice-chairman of the democratic national committee for eight years, and Mabelle Walker Willebrandt, needless to say, has been as powerful in the republican party.

Now Mrs. Blair takes her pen in hand in the June "Woman's Journal" to laud her party rival, Mrs. Willebrandt, for her very actions in the last campaign which brought her anything but praise from some male members of the opposition party.

Mrs. Blair rightly realizes that a strong woman in public life is a feather in the bonnets of women of both parties in public life.

COUNCIL MEETS

Presbyterian S. S. Workers Meet Wednesday

The Sunday school workers council of the First Presbyterian church is meeting at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the church, according to an announcement made yesterday.

The world will find yellow gold well lost if through it they acquire an escort, companionship and the prestige given the middle-aged wife but not the middle-aged woman alone.

FIRST LOVES

Mary Eiken, the former film star, and Edwin Carewe, motion picture director, are to be remarried, rumor has it following a two-year separation and divorce.

They aren't the first two to find the power of the first love over any successive ones.

Heavy Sales Mark Stock Market In Monday's Session

Mart Fails To Take Fright In Flurry Of Call Money As Sales Move Forward In Vigorous Pace

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, July 1. (P)—The stock market failed to take fright in another flurry in call money today, and moved forward vigorously, total sales again crossing the 4,000,000 share mark. Some profit taking came in, particularly in the utilities, as money mounted to 12 per cent soon after midday, after renewing at 10, but almost coincident with a jump to 15 per cent late in the session a vigorous rally set in. The rails were buoyant throughout the session, some 10 issues reaching new high ground in gains reaching a maximum of 8 1-2 points in Delaware and Hudson and this tendency to steady the market. The maximum upturns of 50c on fat lambs. Range lambs in Chicago scored 14.75 and 14.50 was obtained for natives. Texas yearlings on the Kansas City market brought 10.00 to 10.75.

Call Money Soars.
The call money rate was sent soaring by withdrawal of about $20,000,000 by banks and it was reported that 20 per cent was bid in the outside market for a short time, but funds soon appeared and it became evident that the official rate would be held at 15 per cent. A factor in the money pinch was expiration of rights for approximately $215,000,000 in American Telephone bonds. In addition, the banks which borrowed heavily at the Federal Reserve bank last week required funds for the semi-weekly settlement at the reserve institution. Flurry Is Severe.
Although this was the most severe flurry in call money since the middle of May, it was not particularly disturbing, as it was accompanied by a further ease in time loans, in which even the shorter maturities commanded a flat rate of 7 1-2 per cent against 7 1-4 to 3-4 on Friday.

Favorable Weather Reports Reflected In Cotton Markets

NEW YORK, July 1. (P)—Favorable weather and crop reports combined with relatively easy Liverpool cables were reflected by liquidation together with considerable local and southern selling in cotton today. Prices made new low ground for the present movement, with October contracts selling off to 18.27 or 40 points below Saturday's closing quotation. The close was at the lowest, with the tone barely steady at net declines of 25 to 40 points. The opening was easy at a decline of 20 to 20 points in response to the easier cables and reports of favorable weather in the south over the week-end. Four more of the private end-June crop reports were published and showed differences of opinion both as to acreage and condition. A few July notices were reported early but at the close of July was only 32 points under October compared with a difference of 47 points at the close Saturday. Private cables reported London and Continental liquidation in Liverpool. Port receipts today 2,504. U. S. port stocks 773,183.

ness and so he could not tell what had happened, but there were two mute witnesses, a left and a right shoe that did not make a pair. That told the story well enough for those with imagination.

It was the first time Castelluccio and Harwood had been up. Stultz took them through loops, and on one of the loops witnesses said he barely missed a rooftop.

After the plane crashed investigators in the crumpled forward cockpit found one right shoe caught in the rudder control on one side and a left shoe similarly caught on the other side. Castelluccio and Harwood had sat together in that cockpit and those reconstructing the accident saw evidence in these unmarked shoes that they had been terrified by the stunting as unintentionally had jumped their feet in such position that they had taken control of the ship from the pilot.

sending Miss Livingston, leaped to his feet.

"It's my chance now," he exclaimed. "Let the record show Hardinge is crying."

John Bussian, attorney for Hardinge, had made a similar declaration when Miss Livingston was on the stand.

Bussian now ignored Erlich and went on.

"Did you ever tell Miss Livingston that you didn't like this boy?" he asked Hardinge.

"No!"

"Did you ever tell her he was a weakling?"

"What's the point to this?" demanded Erlich. "Miss Livingston never testified that he said such things."

"That's all," said Bussian as the younger Hardinge plowed through the spectators to leave the court room.

Hardinge continued his story of unappreciated love. He said Miss Livingston wanted his whole estate, that she was not satisfied with a mere $100,000 bequest in his will. During December, 1927, she grew more and more avaricious and that she never was good natured unless she was buying something, he said.

Mrs. Nix's body was exhumed from a little country cemetery by lantern light and an autopsy performed.

After four hours of interrogation Nix signed a confession. He had caused his wife to take a capsule filled with poison, and also narrated how he had tried to induce her to eat a poison coated sandwich previously.

athlete at the New Mexico institution.

Many telegrams were received by the family Monday from friends and relatives of every section. One message came from New Mexico Military Institute signed by Col. D. C. Pearson, superintendent of the school, and the whole corps of cadets, expressing the "deepest sympathy and sorrow for the loss of so splendid a life."

Relatives from out of the city who were present at the funeral services were: D. Moncrief, sr., and D. Moncrief, jr., of Lawton, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moncrief, Newton, Okla.; and Miss Kizzie Lee Moncrief, all of Waco; Miss Evelyn Jones, of Belton; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Medlin, Miss Mary Frizzell, all of Stamford, and E. W. Nance, of Waxahatchie.

As a mark of respect for the Weaver family and to the deceased, the flag at the city hall was flown at half mast all day and city administration offices closed for the day at noon. No work was being done on the city-Santa Fe underpass, Broadway at the railroad tracks, Monday afternoon, Mayor Harley D. Woods announcing that municipal labors, as nearly as possible, were being held at a standstill. Offices of the Board of City Development were closed throughout the afternoon.

Survivors are the parents, a brother, A. V. Weaver, jr., and a sister, Miss Catherine Weaver. Active pall bearers were C. E. Maedgen, T. B. Duggan, Neil H. Wright, W. A. Bacon, D. N. Leaverton and W. "Nigger Lover"

"I've got a picture of you with a negro," Senator Smith W. Brookhart, chairman of the senate committee, interjected.

"No, you haven't," Creager said. "No such picture was taken."

"We have other information to substantiate that picture," Brookhart declared.

"You have been informed of lots of things and assert them as true when they are not true," Creager replied.

Allen Bailey, former prohibition agent, had told the committee that Dave Morris, prohibition administrator for this district, took a bribe from a Dallas druggist. Creager said the evidence in that case was said before Roy Haines, then chief of the prohibition department at Washington, and that Morris resigned but was not prosecuted. He contended it was the duty of the department head to prosecute Morris, while Senator Kenneth McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, another committee member, said he believed others than the department head should have seen Morris punished.

Favors Enforcement

Answering a question by both Senators Brookhart and McKellar, Creager declared he was in favor of enforcement of the Volstead act and that if another election should be called he would vote for prohibition.

Referring to Bailey's charge that he had gotten liquor at Morris' request because "Creager and Nolte are in town," Creager declared that Morris never had given him liquor. He denied Bailey had paid a $100 note made to the republican organization. Records, Creager claimed, showed Bailey paid only $7.50. He defended Henry Zweifel, former United States district attorney at Fort Worth, whom Bailey had attacked for allegedly failing to prosecute a case.

Assaulting Wurzback from another angle, Creager said the former congressman had pledged to support Herbert Hoover for president in the last election, but that Wurzback wrote a letter to C. C. Littleton of Fort Worth in which he asked Littleton to show a republican leader literature derogatory to Hoover.

Farm Board May Be Fact In Week

WASHINGTON, July 1. (P)—One week from today — if President Hoover has his way — the Federal Farm Bureau will be a fact.

He has filled three of the eight posts. Of the three others offered appointments, one said today he would accept for one year and Mr. Hoover hopes to have definite replies from the other two within twenty-four hours.

Charles C. Teague, prominent in California agricultural cooperatives, said he had informed the president he was willing to serve a year. The White House declined to say whether such an arrangement would be satisfactory.

W. S. Moscrip of Lake Elmo, Minnesota, and Alexander H. Lezz, of Chicago, are those from whom early word is expected.

Those who have accepted membership are James C. Stone of Kentucky, C. B. Demman of Missouri and Carl Williams of Oklahoma. Stone will represent tobacco, Demman livestock and Williams cotton.

Teague is identified with the fruit industry, Moscrip with dairying and Legge would represent general business interests.

Death By Suicide Is Verdict Given

Body Of Aged Man Is Found In Trunk In San Antonio Garage Sunday Afternoon; Poisoning Is Cause

SAN ANTONIO, July 1. (AP)—Suicide by poisoning was the verdict rendered by Justice of the Peace John F. Onton today following an inquest over the death of Earl A. Hutchins, 52, whose body was discovered Sunday afternoon in a trunk in a garage in the rear of his home here.

The body was discovered by Miss Agnes E. Faulkner, nurse in attendance on the dead man's wife, who is seriously ill. Hutchins had gone to the garage early Sunday as he frequently did to look over papers he had in the trunk.

The nurse, searching for him, found the body Sunday afternoon. He had been last seen by Irene Hurd, domestic in the home.

When discovered the body was doubled up in a small trunk with the lid down.

Detectives learned the man had been in bad health for several years. He came to San Antonio from Michigan a month ago.

Had Almost Given Up Hope States Abernathy Lady

Three Years' Trouble Overcome By Orgatone—"I Will Always Praise It," She Says

"After suffering for three long years my health has been restored by the use of Orgatone, and I am so happy over it that I just feel like I want every body to know about this wonderful medicine," said Mrs. Charles F. Phillips, who resides on Rural Route 1, Abernathy, Texas, while in Bowers Drug Store, Lubbock, Texas.

"During all these years" continued Mrs. Phillips, "I suffered terribly from indigestion and stomach trouble. After eating I would have a very uncomfortable feeling on account of my food souring and causing gas to form. I was very nervous all the time, so much so, that the slightest noise would upset me. I also suffered with awful pains in the small of my back, and this with all my other troubles, made it almost impossible for me to get a good night's sleep. Sometimes I would get so dizzy I could hardly stand on my feet. I was getting worse run down all the time until I was hardly able to do my housework.

"I have taken so much medicine that did me no good at all, until I was very much discouraged over my condition, and had about come to the conclusion that I would never be a well woman again. I made up my mind to try Orgatone, however, and I commenced to improve before I had finished the first bottle. In fact, it is really wonderful the way Orgatone overcame my troubles and built me up. Why, I'm enjoying as good health in every way now, as I ever did in my life. My stomach troubles are gone and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. I never have that pain in the small of my back any more, and those dizzy spells have left me entirely. I don't think I ever had a better appetite, and I thoroughly enjoy all the time, and I sleep like a child every night. I'm enjoying such good health and have gained so much in strength that I can easily do all my housework myself. Orgatone is certainly a wonderful medicine, and as long as I live I will praise it for the good it has done."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowers Drug Store who are direct laboratory agents. Adv.

Immigrants From Mexico Reduced

WASHINGTON, July 1. (AP)—A more rigid application of immigration regulations was said today by Representative Box of Texas to have cut the number of entrants from Mexico within the last few months to half the number for the same months of last year.

This he added, coupled with the enforcement of the new deportation law, had given rise to the belief among many of the residents of southwestern states that his bill to apply the quota restrictions to Mexico had been passed.

The Texas member, ranking democrat on the house immigration committee, said he intended to reintroduce his bill to enforce the quota provisions upon Mexico.

House Withdraws Total Of $16,500,000 For Appropriations; May Avert Third Special Session

AUSTIN, July 1. (AP)—The house of representatives today rescinded its former action in placing a limit of $16,500,000 on the total to be appropriated for support of the educational institutions. The action may avert a third call session.

On suggestion of John F. Wallace of Teague, chairman of the house appropriations committee, the house lifted the restrictions on its conference.

Mr. Wallace recommended that the action be taken "for effect." He told the house membership that some progress towards reaching an agreement with the senate over the bill had been made and that he was hopeful of avoiding a third special session.

Auto-Barbers Cop From Tradesmen To Enter Circle

Santa Fe, Hardware And Auto Barbers In Charmed Circle; Season May Be Split Here

Joe Chisum's Auto-Barbers jumped into a three cornered tie for first place in the Lubbock City League Monday evening by pouncing out a 10 to 1 decision over the Carpenter-Painters in a four-inning contest that was halted by a sandstorm while the winners were at bat in the first half of the fifth stanza.

The Auto-Barbers are deadlocked for the top rung with the Hardware Dealers and Santa Fe nine, all with 8 wins and 6 defeats for an average of .571.

Two of these leading teams, the Auto-Barbers and Santa Fe, meet today and one is certain to go into the undisputed leadership of the loop. Several team managers have expressed the desire for a split season, but no definite action has been taken. The Carpenter-Painters are trailing by eight games and would be greatly helped by a halved season.

Del Morgan's delivery again baffled the opposing batsmen in yesterday's game, the husky high school mentor holding the Tradesmen to three bingles in the four innings the game went. Paul Keith, on the mound for the Carpenter-Painters, was no puzzle for the Auto-Barbers. After the Puckett crew had come back with a counter in the second to knot the count at one all, the winners began an onslaught that netted four runs in the third and five in the fourth. Morgan led the attack with a double and a triple.

Santa Fe 14 8 6 .571
Hardware Dealers 14 8 6 .571
Auto-Barbers 14 8 6 .571

Officials Of Texas League In Dallas Today To Settle Split Season Question

division club can be mustered to the cause, the 1929 season in the Texas league will be split at a special meeting of the club owners here tomorrow.

"While the purpose of the proposal is not to take up the proposal to have the race, it is significant that the session, which could have been called two weeks ago, was delayed until the most appropriate time to act on this proposition," the News will say.

Ostensibly, the real cause for the meeting is to decide on the manner of operating the business of the circuit during the remainder of the campaign, action on which is necessitated by Pres. J. Doak Roberts taking a leave of absence until December 1, on account of ill health.

Other matters of importance on the schedule are the hearing by the executive board of Shreveport's appeal on the decision handed down recently throwing out the second game of a double-header won by the Sports over the Houston Buffs, and a discussion over the grade of baseballs now being supplied to the loop.

"Several angles enter into the basic for conceding there is a chance that the split program will be adopted. It would include a playoff for the pennant for Dallas even though the Steers were beaten in the second half. Such a series, it is believed, would net the owners of each of the participating clubs in the neighborhood of $20,000. The Athletics get out by their regular salaries out of a pennant playoff.

Big Bill To Meet Henri Cochet In Duel Wednesday

Frenchman Favored To Beat Old Rival In Semi-Final Match Of English Meet; George Lott Beaten

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 1. (AP)—Bill Tilden fought his way into the semi-finals of the Wimbledon tennis tournament today but a younger American, George Lott, fell victim to a tri-color racket.

In an even break for French and American forces, Jean Borotra eliminated Lott in a quarter-final match 6-3, 6-3, 6-4 shortly after Tilden had defeated Pierre Landry 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, 7-5. Tilden meets his old rival, Henri Cochet in a semi-final duel tentatively set for Wednesday.

Cochet is favored over Tilden and Borotra is the logical choice over H. W. Austin, youthful Englishman who won the other berth among the last surviving four.

The famous Helms of the United States—Miss Wills, champion, and Miss Jacobs—came through to the semi-finals in impressive style today and a third Californian, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, also still is in the running. Mrs. Bundy, winner of the title 24 years ago, and Miss Joan Ridge of England, meet tomorrow in the only quarter-final singles match yet to be played.

Miss Wills won today from Miss Bobby Heine, of South Africa, 6-2, 6-4. Miss Jacobs advanced, 6-1, 6-0, as the expense of Mrs. C. G. McMillan, Englishwoman. England gained one of the semi-final berths. Miss Elsie Goldsack downed Miss Ruth Tapscott, South Africa, 6-2, 6-3.

The youthful Austin scored for Britain over Baron von Kehring of Hungary, 6-2, 8-6, 6-3.

In other matches today, Miss Wills and Frank Hunter defeated Mrs. John Hill and G. P. Hughes of England 6-3, 6-2, in mixed doubles, and John Hennessy, Indianapolis, and Miss Marjorie Morvill, Dedham, Mass., were eliminated, 6-0, 8-7, 6-1, by another English team, Malcolm and Miss D. Cole.

Wilder Allison of Texas, and John Van Ryn of the American Davis cup team trimmed Jan Kozuloh, Czechoslovakia, and E. D. Andrews, former New Zealander, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

BENNETT MISSING
Indiana Grid Star Unable To Be Found At Academy

WEST POINT, N. Y., July 1. (AP)—When Military Academy authorities checked over the list of some 400 newcomers to West Point today they found no trace of "Chuck" Bennett, University of Indiana half back and all-Western Conference star, whose candidacy for entry here attracted attention last fall.

Bennett, after closing his career at Indiana by being officially recognized as the most valuable player to any Big Ten eleven, was named for appointment to West Point as an alternate, but evidently changed his plans.

Carlsbad Closing Rumor Is Denied

Statement That Lake Is Formed Above Cavern Is Branded As False By A. B. Davis, Supt. Bolles

A telegram was received in this city Monday which stated that rumors had gone out from this city that Carlsbad cavern had been closed due to the formation of a lake above it. These reports were branded as false by A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Superintendent Bolles of the cavern and Secretary Minter of the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce.

Local officials stated that they had no idea how the report got out and that they had heard nothing of it until the arrival of the following telegram:

The secretary's statement was made in connection with suggestions from London that the naval arms limitation question should be approached more on the basis of the United States and Great Britain not going to war than on one of equal strength.

WASHINGTON, July 1. (AP)—Secretary Stimson indicated today the United States would insist upon the doctrine of parity in naval discussions.

"The doctrine of parity in my opinion is of great importance," the secretary said, "as a means of determining not how two nations are to shoot at each other, but as a means of helping them to agree not to shoot at each other. ROOSEVELT EIGHT SETS NEW WORLD'S NON-STOP RECORD

MARMON-BUILT STRAIGHT-8 BREAKS ALL RECORDS FOR CONTINUOUS OPERATION OF ENGINE AND CAR

BULLETIN INDIANAPOLIS MOTOR SPEEDWAY, July 1—A terrific gale and cloud-burst which ripped roofs off grandstands and strewn the track with wreckage concluded the Roosevelt non-stop endurance run at 6:40 last night after this car had set a world's record of 18 days, 8 hours, 40 minutes without stopping engine or car.

A Roosevelt straight-eight stock car has shattered all existing records for non-stop engine and car operation. The best previous non-stop car record was 162 hours. The best previous record for sustained operation was made in the air—the airplane Fort Worth was aloft 172 hours, 32 minutes, 1 second. Running continuously since 10 a. m., June 12, the record-breaking Roosevelt, as this was written, had more than doubled that mark.

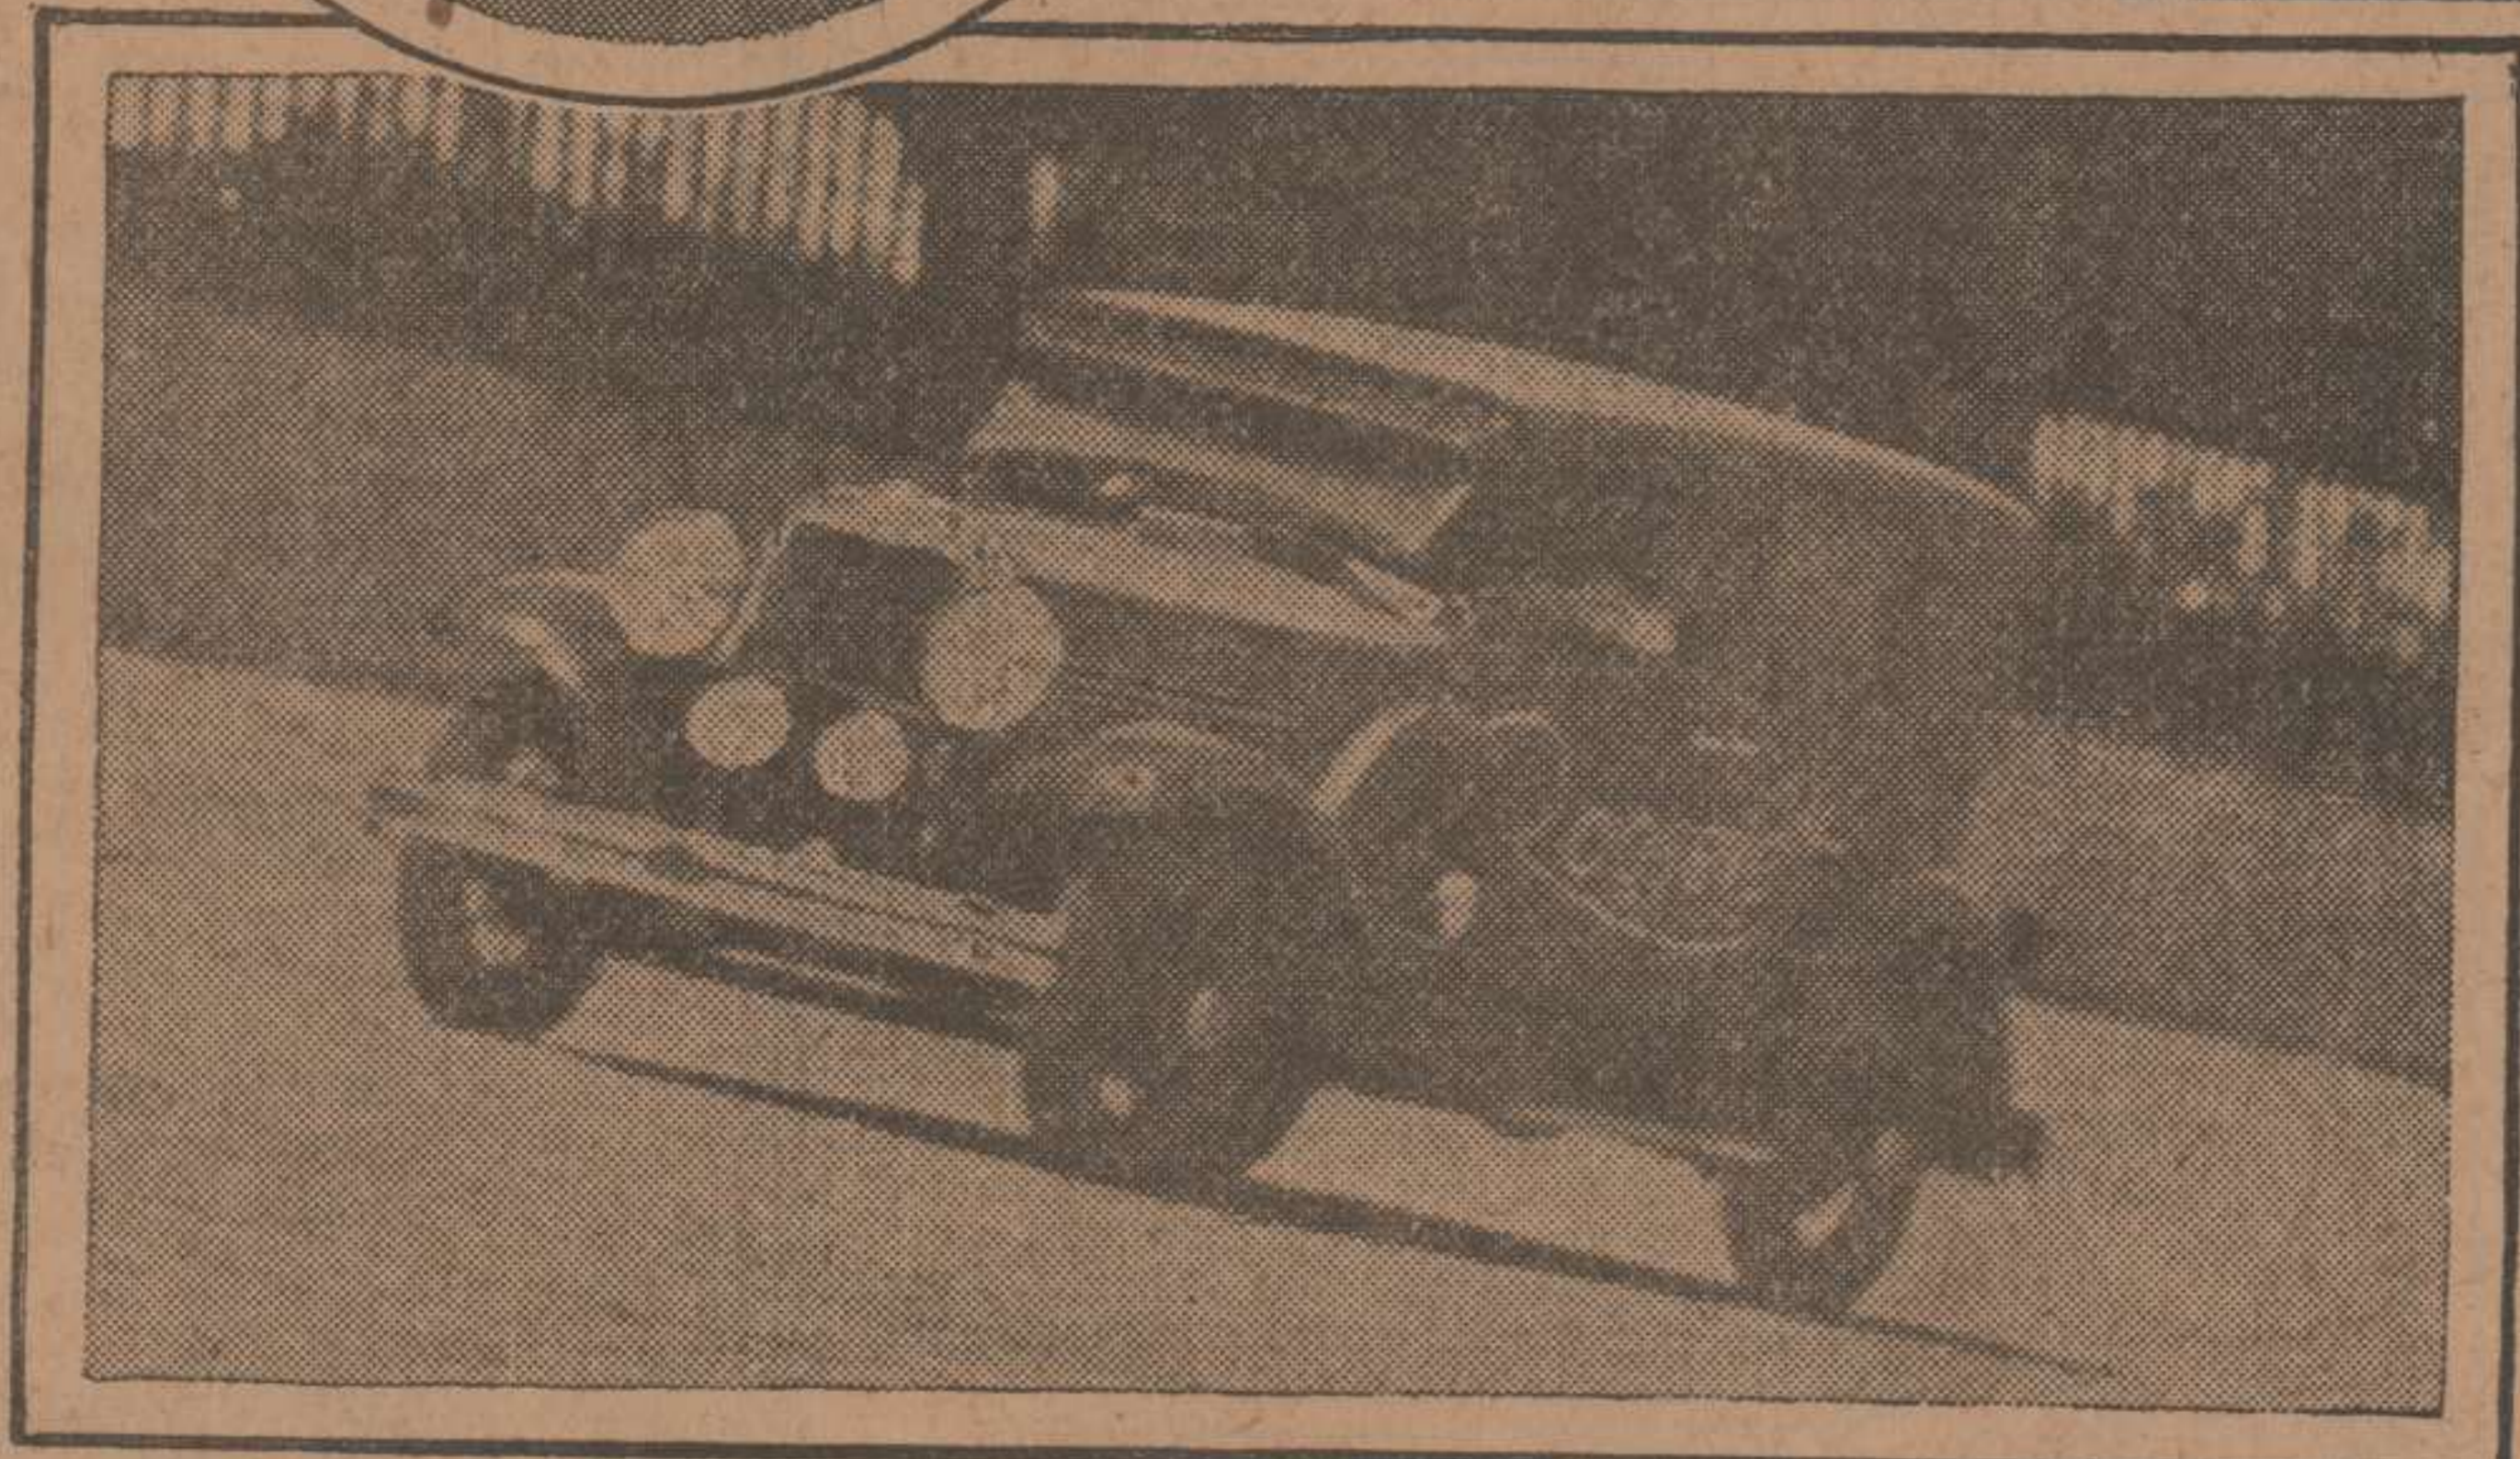

The rules of the contest board of the American Automobile Association are that the car must be continuously on the move under its own power. The killing of the motor would disqualify it. The failure of a valve spring, a gasoline line, the vacuum tank, a connection in the electrical system—any of these or hundreds of other things might bring the run to an end. Yet this Roosevelt Eight has kept on and on.

24 Hours a Day

No road conditions could possibly compare with the constant beating and vibration of the two and one-half miles of 18-year-old bricks which make up the Speedway. Through day and night, rain and blistering sun, it has gone on, the engine never permitted to rest.

Just think of an automobile going from New York to Los Angeles, immediately turning around and coming back to New York; then after arriving in New York immediately going to Miami; and from Miami to Detroit; then from Detroit to Dallas, and doing all this without the motor once being shut off or the wheels stopped rolling. That, in equivalent distance, is what the Roosevelt has done—never stopping, rarely slackening its speed. Record is subject to official A.A.A. and A.I.A.C.R. confirmation after completion of run.

ROOSEVELT EIGHT IN SOUTH TURN ON INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY—After smashing all existing records for continuous operation, the Roosevelt kept right on going. A strictly stock car plus maximum equipment—shock absorbers, bumpers front and rear, trunk rack, two extra wire wheels, tires, tubes and covers, completely ready for the road.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord. Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart.—Psalm, cxix, 1.

DRIVE CAREFULLY

NINE persons were killed while fourteen others were injured in Texas motor car accidents over last week-end. One of the fatalities, said indeed to relate, occurred within the city limits of Lubbock.

The motor car is a boon to business. It is likewise a boon to pleasure and unfortunately indeed is the family of today which has no automobile at its service.

From what The Morning Avalanche can learn of the tragic collision which sent one of the city's fine, promising young men to an untimely death it was just one of those occurrences—an accident in every sense of the word.

Whenever there is more than one automobile on the same block there lurks danger. The utmost care and precision in motoring is the only method by which appalling fatalities can be held to their lowest possible ebb, and even then there will be some accidents.

Every day, right here in Lubbock, we see too much carelessness, too much lack of thought in operation of motor vehicles upon our city streets.

Be careful when you sit behind the steering wheel of your automobile. Remember, the other fellow may not be as careful as you are and by exercising caution you not only protect the other fellow from yourself but you protect yourself from the other fellow.

Let's make Lubbock known as "the safety first traffic city"—and at the same time guard against fatalities which may any day snuff out the life of a loved one or a friend. It's the very least we can do.

THOSE WHO KNOW

The British Medical Association is urging all medical practitioners to join in cooperative scientific investigations. Apparently, some one got the revolutionary idea that perhaps the ordinary doctor has quite enough sense to be worth using if only he can be introduced to tasks which will not too greatly overtax his time.

There are some thirty thousand general practitioners in England, to whom the association is appealing to do their bit that all together can do much. All are interested in the science of medicine and all have some knowledge of that science.

The tasks of observation, of reasoning of experiment, which are assigned to the scientist would do the unscientific much good. Scientific research of an original nature develops the mind as no other exercise can.

If even a tenth of the world's population were skilled in the art of thinking clearly and critically, as a scientific man must, this would be a better world and the evolution of man would be much farther advanced than it is.

For many years steel has been considered the fundamental and greatest industry, and in certain respects it will remain so. But there has been in process of building in recent years a corporation that now stands greater than the United States Steel Corporation.

This "upstart" is the General Motors Corporation, whose earnings now exceed those of the United States Steel Corporation, the largest organization in the steel industry.

Only once in its history has United States Steel exceeded the record profits of General Motors and that was in 1916 when the steel industry in this country was reaping abnormal profits from European war orders.

The combined resources of General Motors and the Ford Motor Company far exceed the combined resources of United States Steel and the next largest steel producing corporation. And the gross business and gross profits of the automobile industry doubtless are more than those of the steel industry.

Since the United States has become a nation on wheels, it should occasion no surprise that an automobile manufacturing concern has swept to such a dominating position in industry.

The automobile needs steel, but the need of the steel industry for the business of the automobile manufacturers is nearly as great. Loss of this business would wipe out the profits of the steel industry and a large part of the industry itself.

Spare the rod, and spend the next 13 years wondering whether he will become a master of ceremonies in a movie.

BISHOP CANNON SLIPPING INTO SHOES OF WAYNE B. WHEELER, SAYS STEWART, AS NAPOLEON OF PROHIBITION FORCES

BY CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 1. — Bishop James Cannon, Jr., is rapidly slipping into the shoes of the late Wayne B. Wheeler. Not officially, to be sure. Dr. Francis Scott McBride doubtless will continue to direct the Anti-Saloon league's Washington activities. Dr. McBride is by no means a failure. He simply is not a genius—like Wayne B. Wheeler. He lacks the veritable X-ray political insight and the tremendous, tireless virility of his remarkable predecessor.

Wayne B. Wheeler was prohibition's Napoleon. It was his movement got out of hand in his day for one single moment. The instant it even thought of it he attacked it. His attacks were so furious—and yet so tactically inspired—that most rebellion never had time to gain any strength before it was smothered.

The Anti-Saloon leaguers were prohibition's shock troops when Wayne B. Wheeler was in command. The others were helpful. They supplied weight and numbers when required. The Anti-Saloon league, with Wayne B. as the whole outfit's generalissimo, remained the entire body's combat nucleus.

This is not now the case. The Anti-Saloon league today is only one division of the dry army, among several. It probably is not the best disciplined or most formidable. Authority is scattered.

No single individual is recognized as prohibition's grand marshal—as Wayne B. Wheeler was. Not that he was formally so recognized. It was tacit. Perhaps that was better than a more formal recognition. He led by virtue of his unqualified ability to lead.

The result of this disunion—not friction, but plain lack of team work—is that prohibition is fighting defensively at present. True, it is fighting back. It is powerfully entrenched, too.

It certainly is in no immediate danger. Still, it is on the defensive—which Wayne B. Wheeler never would have permitted to happen. Everything else being equal, he believed—as every great tactician does believe—that the advantage invariably is more or less with the attacking side—so long as it can keep on attacking.

Obviously the drys need a strong personality—to regain the initiative for them. Bishop Cannon looks like the man. It may not have occurred to the bishop, himself, that he was doing so—quite likely he did it unconsciously through sheer force of circumstances—but he has been treading for quite a while in the direction of the dry leadership which has been vacant since Wayne B. Wheeler's death.

Not since Wayne B. Wheeler's last visit there, has a dry leader made a White House call that had any pep in it—until the other day when Bishop Cannon was received by President Hoover.

It was announced, indeed, that his call had no special significance. But that always was the announcement when Wayne B. Wheeler called. However, every time he did call, a pro-dry spurt of some sort invariably followed. For instance, it was just after such a call that President Harding got on the water wagon.

Directly following Bishop Cannon's call, President Hoover issued his statement deploring recent wet-and-dry tragedies, but putting it up to border communities to lend a hand toward law enforcement in order to stop them.

It may have been only a coincidence; all the same, it was mighty reminiscent of Wayne B. Wheeler days. There is no blinking it, prohibition enforcement's tendency is to slacken unless it is kept punched up constantly. Wayne B. Wheeler surely did that—call the poker. Bishop Cannon promises to be as capable at it as Wayne B. was.

Ripon was to have been the birthplace of another grand old party, it seems. Then the federal agents arrived.

For some reason or other, the assertion that a man has the courage of his convictions is most commonly found in conjunction with the opinion that his judgment is rotten.

BICARBONATE OF SODA IS GREAT REMEDY FOR ACID BURNS

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBURN

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygieia, the Health Magazine

When a concentrated acid is put on the skin, it draws water from the skin and burns the tissues. It unites with the protein material of the skin to form compounds.

In Germany it was found that burns of the skin from acids constituted 12 per cent of all accidents in the chemical industry and of the acids involved nitric acid was responsible for 125 cases; sulphuric acid for 77, and hydrochloric for 36. In a British government factory one out of every four accidents was due to acid burns.

Hydrochloric acid is used in a great many industries, in which it is also called muriatic acid or spirit of salt. Workers may be injured even from inhaling the acid in high concentration when it is used during the pickling or cleaning of baths in copper and tinplate factories. Sometimes workers are injured by the bursting of a carboy during transportation.

The burns from hydrochloric acid are slight if they are washed immediately, as compared with burns from sulphuric and nitric acids.

Nitric acid is among the most powerful of the acid substances used in industry. Enormous quantities of this acid are used in the manufacture of explosives and in many instances it is used in 100 per cent strength. When splashed on the skin, pure nitric acid strikes like a white-hot piece of acid that straw and is responsible for a burn when it is spilled on them. When nitric acid is added to alcohol or turpentine, these substances explode.

Ordinary concentrated commercial nitric acid contains 30 per cent water and while dangerous, it is not so dangerous as the pure nitric acid. Workers in these industries not infrequently have ulcers around the finger nails and at the finger tips from contact with the weaker acid.

Sulphuric acid is the most important of the acids in the chemical industry. When this acid burns the skin, the ulcer that follows has sharply defined edges and tends to heal rather slowly. Usually a burn from sulphuric acid heals within six weeks.

The first treatment following the burn by an acid is to wash off the acid as quickly as possible with a solution of bicarbonate of soda and to leave the wound in the soda solution for some time. This solution serves to neutralize the acid. People who are working with acids regularly should wear gloves whenever possible.

GARFIELD SHOT

On July 2, 1881, President James A. Garfield was shot and fatally wounded by Charles J. Guiteau, a man whose vanity had been offended by the refusal of an office and whose unbalanced brain had been excited by dissension in the republican party.

The crime, which took place in the railway station at Washington, excited the horror and execration of all parties alike; and foreign nations joined in the universal sorrow and indignation.

For eight days after the shooting, Garfield lingered between life and death. Toward the end of August, his medical attendants felt his last chance of recovery depended upon removal from the malarial climate of Washington.

On September 6, he was taken by train to Elberon, N. J., where he died 13 days later on the 19th.

The assassin was convicted after a protracted trial in which the only defense offered was that of insanity. Guiteau was hanged in the jail at Washington June 30, 1882.

President Garfield was born in Cuyahoga county, Ohio, in 1831 and was the twentieth president of the United States.

Today's Poem

SONG

(From "Abdelazer") Love in fantastic triumph state Whistling bleeding hearts around him flowed.

For whom fresh pains he did create And strange tyrannic power he showed.

From thy bright eyes he took his fires Which round about in sport he hurled;

But 'twas from mine he took desire Enough to undo the amorous world.

From me he took his sighs and tears From thee his pride and cruelty;

And every killing dart from thee. Thus thou and I the god have armed.

And set him up a deity; Ext my poor heart alone is harmed.

Whist! thine the victor is, and free!

—Alphra Behu.

Upturns Reported In Wheat Market

CHICAGO, July 1, (P)—Sensationally bad crop reports from Nebraska, the Dakotas and Canada brought about sharp upturns in wheat today, but the gains failed to hold well. Big receipts of wheat in the southwest, together with heavy deliveries of wheat here on July contracts, largely were responsible for setbacks from the day's top prices.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1-8c to 58c above Saturday's advance and provisions unchanged to 15c down.

Besides drought effects on spring wheat both north and south of the Canadian boundary, reports were at hand that because of excessive high Nebraska wheat crop has been injured equal to 15,000,000 bushels in the last few days. Meanwhile, the dearth of rain was so pronounced in Canada that some dispatches said 60 per cent of the crop is at a critical stage, and that 46 hours of good rain would be needed to prevent further serious impairment.

HELD IN JAIL

Ray Wallace is being held in the Lubbock county jail here through failure to make bond on a forgery charge.

Wallace was arrested Saturday in Albany and returned to this city Sunday.

Public Opinion

A denial to the most unreasonable report that has ever appeared in the Avalanche-Journal.

We find that there is only about ten percent of malt sold by the wholesale houses here, is sold in the city of Lubbock, the balance going to their vast trade territory.

100,000 bottles of beer is a large estimate of the beer consumed in Lubbock. We have approximately 4,000 people here that drink beer, and there is about one out of every ten that will drink 208 1-2 bottles a year.

The reporter that made his investigation as to the malt sold would have done well if he had shown who and where the 4,588,500 bottles of beer were consumed. He led us to think it was the population of Lubbock alone. But I would like for you to know it is the population of the vast trade territory which is 200,000 or more and not the 22,000 mentioned.

We further find that the little town of Hobbs, New Mexico, buys more bottles and malt than the city of Lubbock. Where is all the malt sold being consumed, is it in the city of Lubbock? Think of the cities of this district supplied with malt from the wholesale company from which our reporter got his material and report would lead people to think that our city was wide open as far as the beer question is concerned.

We are under the impression that we have a clean and law abiding city and should be advertised as such; and not harnessed with the report that there are 4,588,500 bottles of beer consumed here annually. His average should have been based on the population of Lubbock's trade territory, the same being approximately 220,000, giving you an average of 20.8 bottles per person a year.

When you learn the facts it isn't so astounding is it? O. B. CONLEY.

LONDON, (P)—Twenty-five more persons were killed on British railroads in 1928 than in 1927, but the injured were 1,200 fewer. The Ministry of Transport 1928 figures show 460 killed and 24,210 hurt; for 1927 the totals were 435 and 25,403.

COPENHAGEN, (P)—Denmark's national wealth has doubled since 1907, according to official statistics. The country's net debt abroad is only 10 per cent of her wealth, so she owns 90 per cent of her fortune.
