Supreme Court Justices Confer In Private About Bill Girard Case

By UNITED PRESS

WASHINGTON (UP)—Justices of the Supreme Court confer privately today on whether to accept appeals to resolve the legal complexities of the William S. Girard case.

The government Thursday labeled as "clearly wrong" last Tuesday's ruling in the case by Federal District Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy and asked the high court to overturn it as soon as possible.

McGarraghy upset the government's plan to let Japanese courts try Girard, a GI from Ottawa, Ill., on charges of slaying a Japanese woman who was scavenging for scrap metal on a military firing range. McGarraghy ruled that the soldier would have to be tried by an American military court-martial.

Girard's lawyers planned today to file an appeal of their own with the Supreme Gourt. They were seeking a writ of habeas corpus to have Girard released from custody. McGarraghy had refused to issue such a writ.

Dayton H. Harrington, Girard's Washington attorney, told a reporter that Girard, now confined to Camp Whittington in Japan, has not been charged with an offense under U.S. law.

"Our position is that he should not be held without being charged," he said.

The court could announce its decision on whether it will review the Girard case any time after today's conference is over. It normally makes these announcements after handing down opinions on Mondays, but has departed from routine in unusual circumstances.

The justices had been expected to finish their work and adjourn for the summer next Monday. But if the Girard case is accepted for argument, it could either extend the current term or provide for a special term as it did in 1953 in accepting the Rosenberg spy case for review.

The government has argued that the whole Girard tangle is a political problem to be handled by the executive branch of the government and not by the courts.

Girard's counsel, on the other hand, argued that the question is one of constitutional law and individual rights.

Mob Demonstrations Demand Japanese Trial For Girard

TOKYO (UP)—Police broke up a student demonstration outside the U.S. Embassy today, arresting four of about 200 teenagers who assembled to demand a Japanese trial for Army Specialist 3C William S. Girard, of Ottawa, Ill.

The demonstrators also carried placards accusing the United States of trying to "steal Okinawa" and planning to bring nuclear weapons to Japan.

There was some scuffling but no major violence when police dispersed the crowd.

Five demonstrators were admitted to the embassy, where they gave First Secretary Richard L. Sneider a petition demanding that:

—Girard, who killed a Japanese woman on a U.S. Army firing range in January in what he said was an accident, be tried in a native court.

—Nuclear weapons be banned in Japan, Okinawa and Korea.

The demonstration was essentially a protest against the U.S. district court ruling that Girard may not be tried by the Japanese.

Move To Offset Red Buildup Since 1953

By LEROY HANSEN
United Press Staff Correspondent

PANMUNJOM (UP) — The U. N. Command told a stony-faced Communist general today it was starting a major military buildup in the Republic of Korea to offset one carried out by the Reds in "flagrant violation" of the 1953 Korean armistice agreement.

The reaction was imediate and exactly as expected. North Korean Maj. Gen. Jung KookRok flew into a rage and accused the U. N. forces of intending to turn South Korea into a "base for atomic war." He called it a first step to prepare for a "new war."

Today's decision nullifying a key provision of the armistice agreement meant the United States would send into South Korea fleets of its latest atomic bombers and fighters—some 700 miles closer to Red China and Siberia. Later there may be atomic cannon and guided missiles.

Reds Violate Flagrantly

But doing so they were doing what the Communists already had done months ago. The North Korean air force, non-existent at the end of the war, has been built up to nearly 1,000 modern jets. Its beaten army has been rebuilt and rearmed with Soviet equipment.

The entire buildup was in violation of a key paragraph in the armistice agreement which froze the armed forces of each side at its 1953 military strength. The U.N. said the Communists buildup was a "flagrant, repeated and wilful" violation of the agreement.

The Allied decision was read out by U.S. Marine Corps Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzenberg, senior member of the U.N. military armistice commission and leader of a Marine division in some of the bitterest fighting of the war.

The U.N. Command later issued a special memorandum in Tokyo saying it decided to abrogate the "status quo" provision of the armistice agreement because it had to "meet the strength of the aggressor with equal strength."

"There is no law, human or divine, which obligates the United Nations Command to stand empty-handed, bereft of modern weapons, and invited suicide" while the Communists continued their own military buildup, it said.

It was received officially by Jung in the Quonset hut conference room of this neutral zone village. Jung, short, heavy-set and nattilly dressed, conferred in whispers with his aides during the 6-minute reading. He was impassive throughout.

But at the end of a 30-minute recess his impassiveness was gone. He stormed back into the Quonset hut, his well-tailored uniform quivering with rage and accused the U.N. of trying to cover up its own armistice violations by accusing the Reds of violating the 4-year-old truce.

Promises "Strongest Protest"

Jung said he was lodging the "strongest protest with your side." He called for the "peaceful unification" of Korea and the withdrawal of all foreign troops.

The historic meeting lasted one hour and 15 minutes. It marked the end of another key provision of the armistice agreement—Sub Paragraph 13-d which said no new equipment could be introduced into Korea once the fighting ended.

It was the second major provision nullified by the Allies after the Communists had made it a "mockery." The first was the decision to expel the so-called "neutral nation" truce supervisors, a decision taken after the Polish and Czech members made any form of inspection impossible.

Tornado Kills 9 At Fargo

By RICHARD HILL
United Press Staff Correspondent

FARGO, N.D., (UP)—A tornado wiped out six children in one family to boost the death toll in Thursday night's devastating twister to at least nine. Another 105 persons were injured.

Authorities desperately sought to contact the dead children's father, Gerald Munson, who was out of town and apparently unaware of the tragedy.

Only the mother and one child of the family of nine survived the disaster. Both the mother and her young son, Rickey, were hospitalized.

The latest reported victim was Don Titgen, about 27. Also killed were an unidentified man in his 50's and a woman about 40 years old.

The injured, many of them critically hurt, jammed the city's two hospitals. Emergency appeals were issued for blood plasma.

The city was plunged into darkness and communications were knocked out by the giant twister as it sliced a jagged path through residential districts on the north, west and east sides.

Servicemen Aid Cleanup

Gov. John Davis ordered a detachment of 200 National Guardsmen from Camp Grafton, N.D., to the city to aid in patrol and cleanup duty. They were joined by Naval and Air Force reservists, members of the Finley Air Force Base in Fargo, and state police.

The tornado, described by one witness as resembling a "huge, black arm," swept into the city from the west shortly before 8 p.m. c.s.t. It roared eastward and then veered to the north before disappearing.

Among the victims were three sisters, Phylis Munson, 6; Jeannette, 5, and Mary Beth, 1. A fourth daughter of the Gerald Munson family, Lois Ann, 2, was injured.

The other four dead, who were not immediately identified, included two children.

Mayor Herschel Lashkowitz estimated that 250 buildings were damaged or flattened by the twister with most of the damage on the North Side. The mayor said total damages would reach more than one million dollars.

The injured were rushed to St. Luke's and St. John's hospitals. A spokesman at St. Luke's said "There are emergency beds all over the building—in the cafeteria and in the corridors."

The Rev. Karl Schraeder, who watched the twister, said his church and a nearby Roman Catholic convent were wrecked by the twister. He said the scene "looked like a battlefield."

Burglars Hit Offices In Building Here

Two sets of offices on the fourth floor of the Hughes Building were ransacked last night with five desks in the offices being pried open.

The entering of the offices was reported to the police department this morning when people working in the offices came to work and found that the desks had been pried open.

The offices of W. J. Craig and J. B. Maguire Jr., attorneys, were entered and two desks were pried open. Other offices entered were those of George B. Cree Sr. and Curtis Douglas. Their desks, as well as the receptionist's desk, were pried open. A check of the desks by those persons using them revealed that nothing was taken, the police officers reported.

The investigating officers reported that apparently the persons who entered the office either had keys to the outer doors or that the doors had been left open. Investigation of the case was continuing late this morning and the officers were studying clues left at the scene.

Ranch Couple Lose Home Twice By Fire

By BILL NEAL
Pampa News Staff Writer

They say lighting never strikes twice in the same place. But you can't prove that by the A. L. (Shorty) Millers, a Pampa ranch couple.

"Maybe not lighting twice, but something just as bad," Mrs. Miller said.

Twice during the past eight days, the Millers' home has burned. First by lighting, then faulty wiring.

"I sure dropped my rabbits foot," Miller said.

No injuries resulted in either fire, but the homes were a complete loss. The Millers are parents of two boys, Danny Ray, 11, and Randy Dale, 6.

The first house, owned by John Bell, burned when struck by lighting June 12. It was about 12½ miles northeast of Pampa.

And the second, 21 miles northeast of the city on the flat windswept plains, blazed to the ground at 5:30 p.m. yesterday. It was owned by C. H. Clark.

No one was at home when the fire occurred. Mrs. Miller had taken Randy to the doctor, and Miller was about three miles away branding cattle.

"I looked up and saw it," he said, "and it looked like a big tree afire."

Miller said that the house was destroyed within 30 minutes after it started.

Mrs. Miller, returned from the doctor's office about 7 p.m., and was unaware of the fire.

"When I looked up and saw it, I thought I would lose my mind," she said shaking her head.

"The doctor said there was nothing wrong with Randy except he was just in a terrible emotional strain from losing our other home."

Some Gulf employees working nearby, raced to the home ahead of Miller and were able to salvage their washing machine and a set of springs.

At the first fire, Miller had also been gone, but Mrs. Miller and the boys were home. She was unable to go for help either in their car or pickup because of muddy roads. They had no telephone.

"Shorty was about ready to cry and I sure don't blame him," a neighbor said.

Miller has been ranch foreman for the Emmett LeFors ranch for the past 17 years.

"I guess we'll stay in town," he said. "We sure don't want to be a burden to our friends. Mr. LeFors said to rent a house and he'd pay for it."

After the first fire, friends had

Closing Hour On Saturday Agreed On

The Merchants Activities Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce met this morning in the Chamber office for the purpose of discussing uniform store hours for the summer months to be effective until September 1.

The group voted to recommend that stores observe 6 p.m. closing on Saturdays; however, because of the difference in store policies in Pampa retail stores, it was not possible to arrive at a week-day closing hour that would fit the schedules of all types of business.

Therefore, no uniform closing hour was arrived at.

Charles Cook, president of the committee, presided at the meeting.

Whisker-Growing Contest Forces Man Out Of Town

The whisker-growing contest planned here in connection with the Top o' Texas Rodeo has already forced one man to have to leave town.

Kay Fancher, publicity chairman for the contest, reported this morning that he has had to make plans to get out of town because of the fact that he can't get any work done for the number of people calling him and approaching him on the streets asking about the contest, wanting to know the rules, etc.

Kay, as he was packing his bags for his "get-away" this morning, said, "You don't have to sign anything, there is nothing to buy or write to get into this contest. All you have to do is grow a beard and be there when the judging is held."

The beards will be judged on the night of Aug. 6 during a street dance, he said.

Fancher said one person had contacted him who already has a beard and said that growing a beard had been one of the most gratifying experiences of his life. Fancher said the man had planned to be in the contest but felt that it wouldn't be fair for him to be judged along with the others due to the fact that he has spent 25 years growing his. Fancher said the judges would consider those who already had beards, however.

Fancher reported, "The Society for the Encouragement and Preservation of Whisker Growing in America has endorsed this contest wholeheartedly. Also, the national lobby for "Better Beards" is watching this particular area with interests, in hopes the practice will catch on all over the country."

He added, expressing deep disgust, "Those who feel they must shave, however, may buy shaving permits."

(Editor's note: Well, that's what he said anyway.)

Property Adjacent To Hotel To Sell

Commercial, industrial and residential sites adjacent to the proposed community hotel will be sold in the near future, according to Crawford Atkinson, chairman of the land committee of the Hotel Corporation.

"There have been many inquiries by the public as to how they may buy this land," Atkinson said.

The community hotel company bought a 160 acre plot in west Pampa. It is bounded on the east by Hobart Street, the south by Gwendolen, the north by Kentucky and on the west by a line where Zimmer street would run if extended.

The hotel will cover about 17 acres in the east central part adjacent to Hobart street. The rest of the land will be sold to private concerns. Business sites will be located generally on the east and south side and residential locations over the remainder.

The balance of the land, less 20 acres for city parks in a draw running through the property, will be sold.

Those interested should make applications to Atkinson, Box 2021, Pampa. The land committee will screen the applications then forward them to the executive committee which has the power to sell.

The quarter-section tract was orginally purchased from M. K. Brown for $125,000.

There is no deadline for applications.

Other members of the land committee are M. K. Brown, Hugh (Buck) Burdett and Lynn Boyd.

Further information can be obtained by contacting any member of that committee.

Boys Arrested After Throwing Fireworks

Two youths from White Deer were arrested last night for throwing fireworks at a passing automobile. The arrest resulted after a woman had reported the incident to the police department at 10.25 last night.

One of the youths, age 16, was taken before Judge Bruce Parker, juvenile judge, and the other youth, age 17, was filed on in Corporation court and posted a bond.

J. O. Dumas, ass't. chief of police, reported today that it was a violation of city ordinances to explode fireworks within the city limits and that any person, regardless of age, that is caught exploding any type of fireworks will be prosecuted.

He continued by reporting that if a juvenile is caught throwing fireworks, he will be taken to juvenile court, and all others will be filed on in the Corporation Court.

Dumas concluded by saying that it is a serious offense to throw fireworks at automobiles or people and that stronger charges will be filed against those caught throwing any fireworks at either people or automobiles.

Graham Declares Crusade Success

NEW YORK (UP) — Billy Graham said Thursday night that "more than twice as many persons have given their lives to Christ in our New York Crusade than in any other of our American crusades."

The North Carolina evangelist told a Madison Square Garden audience of 16,000 that in the first five weeks of his crusade more than 20,000 persons had made "decisions for Christ." Thursday night's 559 decisions brought the total to 20,611 since the crusade began May 15.

Graham said that "It's a sacred and holy obligation for us not to publish names of those who give their lives to Christ here, but if I were to tell you the names of some of those who have come forward, names known by all of you, it would shake this city."

Vehicles Secured For Parade

A total of 12 old time horse-pulled conveyances have been secured by the Top o Texas Rodeo Association for the rodeo parade to be held at 3 p.m. on August 7.

The announcement was made by the rodeo office. They reported that the equipment is being obtained from Fort Jordan at Clayton, N. M., and that local service clubs are being urged to sponsor the various items.

Some of the equipment is: a picnic wagon, an old time hearse and Jesse James' "Get Away Buggy."

Two of the vehicles have already been signed up by local clubs and the rodeo group reports that if the other ten are sponsored by local clubs it will help make this year's parade one of the most colorful in the history of the Top o' Texas Rodeo.

US, China Trade May Pick Up

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States has agreed to a cautious relaxation of the trade restrictions between Japan and Red China, informed sources said today.

The trade question was one of the most delicate issues taken up during talks here between Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and top American officials aimed at strengthening U.S.-Japanese postwar ties.

Kishi scheduled a final visit with President Eisenhower this morning to approve a joint communique expected to pledge close cooperation between the two countries in resisting Red expansion in Asia.

The communique also was believed to contain assurances that Japan will be given a greater voice in military and other cooperative arrangements between the two nations.

The White House visit followed a scheduled meeting between the prime minister and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Some Go Up In Flames

Slot Machines Get Watery Grave

GALVESTON (UP) — Nearly a million dollars worth of pinball and slot machines found a watery grave or went up in smoke in a huge bonfire today in the drive to "clean up" Galveston.

Hundreds of gambling devices taken from a gamblers' hideaway — the old Hollywood Club — were consumed by flames on the city dump. Others were ferried away and dumped unceremoniously into the Gulf of Mexico.

Crime-busting Attorney Genal Will Wilson, sparkplugging the drive to stamp out Texas Gulf Coast gambling and vice, personally supervised the operations.

Wilson personally dumped several machines overboard.

Wilson arrived in Galveston at 11 p.m. Thursday to direct operations after Texas Rangers and a host of assistant attorneys general headed by Cecil Rotsch had already burned some 200 machines.

The bonfire was put out at midnight because the Galveston fire marshal went off duty at that time and because the fire tenders had reached a horde of cast-iron "one-arm bandit" machines that wouldn't burn.

Wilson then ordered the machines loaded at pier 18 onto two boats of the Coastwise Pilot and Boat Service, towed five miles out in the gulf and dumped.

"I just came to see the fire," Wilson said in explaining his midnight visit to this famed pleasure island resort, chief target of his drive on vice. "It was the biggest one I ever expect to see made of slot machines."

Rangers, headed by Capt. Johnny Klevenhagen, who has added a sledge hammer to his arsenal of personal weapons for the vice raids, took the serial numbers of each machine as it was tossed into the fire or the gulf.

Klevenhagen estimated that more than 1,500 machines and other gambling paraphernalia was seized in the raid on the Hollywood Club, once a symbol of Galveston's past elegance. It has been closed since the 1930's.

Klevenhagen said about 75 per cent of the machines had been destroyed. More fire and water awaited the remaining equipment today, he said.

Among the gambling equipment found in the old club was a collection of $100 poker chips embossed with the name "Balinese Room." The chips were believed to have been in use at the swank club until two weeks ago when island gamblers spirited away their equipment in the face of threatened Ranger raids in the vice clampdown.

Nine-Year-Old's 'Airmailed' Letters Get Prompt Replies

NEW YORK (UP) — A 9-year-old apartment-dwelling girl who "airmailed" a number of unaddressed pen-pal letters out a fifth-floor window has received several answers—one from Rangoon, Burma.

Home with a cold last April 24, Janet Capron wrote several letters, addressed only to "Dear Somebody," asking that the recipients answer her and tossed the letters out the window.

The first reply came from a soldier at Fort Sill, Okla. He said he knew what it was like not to receive letters, then gave some friendly advice to little Miss Capron.

The letter from Rangoon began:

"As I was sitting down under a palm tree in front of my home at sundown one evening, your letter came blowing into my lap—driven by the first monsoon winds.

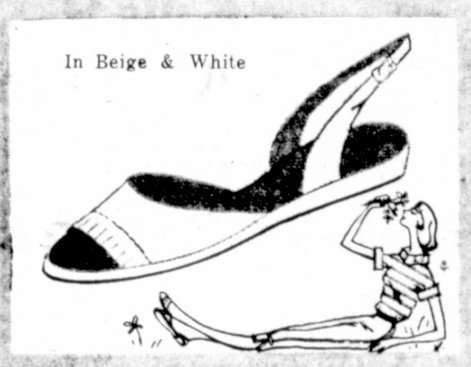

"Are you pretty? How old are you?" asked the writer, who said he did not read English well and that the letter was being written for him by an uncle.

It turned out, however, that the post office had aided Janet and the law of gravitation in the dispatch of the letters to Fort Sill and Rangoon. Not to mention a man named David B. Magee.

Magee, a neighbor of the Caprons, found several of the letters on the ground. To cheer the child, he mailed them to a soldier brother at Fort Sill and to another brother with the U.S. Information Agency in Burma. He asked that they reply or pass the letter along to someone who would.

Peggy Lee To Turn To Own Musical TV Show

By WILLIAM E. WALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Peggy Lee, winding up her third week on the Gleasonless Jackie Gleason program, is free now to turn to her own pet project — a musical TV show and writing.

"We've been working on a format for a TV show for a year," said the silver blonde singer, "and it's just been one thing after another.

"We had one format that was partly dramatic, but we decided to throw that out. And then we had another format that put me in a bar setting, but somebody decided it might not be such a hot idea for a girl to do a series in a bar.

Miss Lee, who'll host the Gleason CBS-TV show this Saturday after acting as guest vocalist for two weeks, is convinced TV is heading into a new cycle.

Music On Rise

"Music seems to be on the next turn of the wheel," she said. "Perry (Como) has shown how successful a singer can be on TV. And, of course, there's Dinah (Shore) too. Music is coming back.

"Still, I don't think there's any doubt that the singer works under a handicap on TV. They haven't completely solved the problem of sound yet and there's too much attention payed to all those props they feel they have to set up around a singer.

TV has developed very few singers of its own and Miss Lee thinks she knows why. "The trouble is," she said, "TV is not a place for beginners. It's no place to get experience. There's just too much to learn.

Start With Bands

"Most of the big singers of today started with bands, traveled on the road, got their experience the hard way. And I'd advise any kid today who wanted to become a singer to get that kind of work in — even if it means singing in joints."

Miss Lee herself is becoming more interested in writing than singing. She writes poetry and songs.

One of her present tasks is expanding "New York City Ghost," a poem she wrote four years ago which Victor Young set to music. She hopes to fatten it into a TV spectacular. She has written about 100 songs over the past 14 years and some have sold pretty well—"Manana," "It's A Good Day" and "I Don't Know Enough About You."

Germans Give Children Measles

MAIDENHEAD, England (UP) —"Darling," said Dr. Charles Stevens to his wife, "let's give the children German measles."

"Fine," said Mrs. Betty Stevens. "Shall we schedule it for their summer vacations?"

So the Stevens made plans to give their nine children—four boys and five girls—the German measles this summer so they would not have worse attacks later.

"It's much better for our five daughters to have German measles while they're young," Dr. Stevens said. "They won't catch it when they are pregnant—which could be dangerous.

Yul Brynner Injures Back

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Baldheaded matinee idol Yul Brynner today was recovering from a back injury received while filming a motion picture.

X rays revealed Wednesday that Brynner suffered a fractured vertebra while doing trick horseback riding for the scenes in the movie "The Brothers Karamazov" last Thursday. The actor first had been reported as having a severe back sprain.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South's overcall was eminently sound. It also was a horrible bid.

Not only was his hand strong enough to warrant a takeout double but he also held a perfect hand for that bid since in addition to his five-card heart suit he was well prepared for spades.

South probably expected to be able to bid spades later on but things did not work out that way. West and North passed and East bid one spade.

This took the spade suit away from South and after West had gone to two diamonds and East passed South decided that he wouldn't sell out at that spot and went to two hearts.

The game was match point duplicate so when it got back to East he put in a match point double which worked out very well indeed.

West opened his singleton spade. East won and gave West a ruff. West led the queen of diamonds. East won that also and gave his partner a second ruff. That made four tricks for the defense and West still had his two club tricks and East his jack of trumps so that the penalty amounted to 50 points and a well-deserved bottom score for North and South.

At all other tables the South player made the correct bid of "double" at his first opportunity. Eventually the hand would play at two or three spades by North or three diamonds by East.

There were no doubles and no big scores as all declarers either made their contracts or went down one trick.

These Forty Years!

Forty years ago, in June of 1917, the Humble Company received its charter from the State of Texas.

The Company was formed through a merger of the properties of a number of independent oil operators. Its founding brought together a remarkable group of men who occupy an important place in the annals of the oil industry:

R. S. Sterling and his brother, F. P. Sterling, the principal organizers of Humble Oil Company from which the present company acquired its name; W. S. Farish and R. L. Blaffer composing Blaffer and Farish; H. C. Wiess with assets from Paraffine and Reliance Oil Companies; Walter W. Fondren and C. B. Goddard, producers; and L. A. Carlton and E. E. Townes as lawyers.

All of these men contributed greatly in adopting the principles, in shaping the policies, and in laying out procedures that have guided the Company's progress through these forty years. Their influence will survive as long as the Company continues.

They possessed courage and business judgment. They established high standards of performance. They built a strong organization of competent men and women.

The Company, as it stands today, is a tribute to the leadership, the vision, and the work of its founders.

But it is doubtful that these men, with all their foresight, visualized the changes that have occurred in the oil industry since 1917, or the size and complexity of Humble's present operations, or the extent of the Company's contributions through the years to the progress of our society.

To all who have made those contributions possible—employees, customers, shareholders and the people of the states in which the Company operates—Humble extends its thanks.

Wheat Farmers Vote For Quotas

WASHINGTON (UP) — American wheat farmers have voted overwhelmingly in favor of rigid marketing quotas for their 1958 crop.

Preliminary returns from the 36 commercial wheat states showed today that 83.3 per cent of the farmers voting in the referendum favored rigid quotas.

It will be the fifth successive year that marketing quotas and acreage allotments have been in effect.

The returns tabulated by the agriculture department showed 143,333 growers favored quotas while 28,833 were opposed. The total vote was the lowest ever cast in a wheat referendum.

Two Men Arrested

Two men wanted on warrants in Grey County have been picked up by officers in other area, according to Sheriff Rufe Jordan.

The sheriff reported that both of the men were arrested last night after officers in Panhandle and Enid, Okla., were advised that the county had warrants for their arrest.

Robert Gillette was arrested early this morning in Enid, Okla., by the police department and is being held for this country on a warrant charging that he removed mortgaged property out of the state.

Jordan reported that if Gillette did not sign extradition papers, extradition proceedings would be started to return him to Pampa for trial.

The sheriff's office at Panhandle arrested C. H. Willoughby early this morning. Two warrents have been issued by the county which charge Willoughby with forgery and passing. Sheriff Jordan reported that Willoughby will be returned to Pampa as soon as Carson County completes action that is pending in that county against him.

Ice Cream Supper Honors Supply Pastor

An ice cream supper scheduled for 7:30 tonight in honor of the Rev. Roy Curtis will highlight the week's activities at the First Christian Church, 500 E. Kingsmill.

The Rev. Curtis, Director of the living endowment at TCU, is filling in for the Rev. Dick Crews, regular pastor, while Crews is on vacation.

The Rev. Curtis arrived yesterday in Pampa.

The Rev. Dick Crews left last Monday and is due back July 26. He will go to Berkley, Calif., for a three week training course and then take a three week vacation.

The supper will be held on the church lawn and the members are asked to bring ice cream, cake or cookies.

Nine delegates from the church are attending the junior camp, Cedar Glen Christian Camp, at Palo Duro Canyon. They will return next Tuesday.

Automobile Fire Reported Here

The only alarm received by the fires department yesterday resulted in a ride for the firemen and not much else.

The alarm was recieved at 6:18 p.m. when a car was reported on fire at 407 Lefors. The fire was out when the fire trucks arrived and firemen answering the alarm reported that only minor damage had been done to the car.

Tax Hearings are Continuing

Work on evaluations of property in Gray County continued today as tax men hired by the county continued working with the county tax evaluation board.

It was not known when the work would be completed and the final evaluations of property for the purpose of determining county taxes would be completed, Judge Bruce Parker reported.

The possible increase in county taxes discussed yesterday by Judge Parker with representatives of oil companies having property within the county cannot take place until after the budget hearings, if any tax increase takes place at all.

The reported tax increase will only be made if the county is required by the oil companies to pay for the casing and lowering of pipelines crossing right-of-ways of proposed roads. The work on construction of a paved road from Bowers City to Lefors has been held up for nearly two years because of such demands and the county commissioners feel that if the county must pay for such work, the county will have to raise taxes to have funds for the increased costs of new roads.

The hearing on the budget cannot be held until after August 15, according to state laws, and it will not be known until after the budget is approved whether or not the present tax rate of $1.29 per hundred dollars of evaluation will give the county enough funds for the budget.

It has been reported that if the cost of lowering lines on new roads is figured into the budget it will cause an increase in taxes, however.

'Not Guilty' Plea Heard

A plea of not guilty was entered in the only case heard in county court this morning.

Clyde Samson Long of Perryton pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated filed against him by the police department. A bond of $1,000 was set by Judge Bruce Parker.

Long was arrested by city officers at 8:40 last night in the 900

V. and Mrs. Vera Teague, both of Jack, Tenn., and Mrs. F. M. Birchett of Martin, Tenn.; one half brother, Linden B. Byrd of San Antonio; and two grandchildren.

The body will arrive here from Houston tomorrow morning. Funeral services are pending with Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Senate Spurs Union To Eye Boss' Conduct

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman John L. McClellan of the Senate Rackets Committee today challenged the board of the Bakery Workers Union to take a long look at the conduct of Union President James G. Cross.

"I would recommend that the union's executive board study the proceedings before this committee. The burden is now on the union to determine what action, if any, should be taken against Mr. Cross," the Arkansas Democrat said.

Cross has been accused in committee testimony of misusing union funds, of resorting to goon squad tactics and of conniving with employers.

But the union's executive board was scheduled to meet today as a special hearing board — not to consider Cross' conduct but to decide what action to take in the case of Cross' chief accuser, Union Secretary - Treasurer Curtis Sims. Sims was suspended earlier after charging cross with misconduct.

Sims, who was notified of the meeting as McClellan recessed his committee hearings Thursday, told newsmen he would be surprised if the board did not fire him.

McClellan announced, as Thursday's hearings closed, that the committee was through with the Bakers Union "for the present." There remained the possibility that the Sims case might change that decision.

Disarmament Cat Out Of Bag By Ike

By WILLIAM C. SEXTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (UP) — Authoritative sources here said today President Eisenhower let a Western disarmament cat out of the bag in his press conference remarks on the suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

The United States, according to the sources, is prepared to suspend nuclear tests temporarily—but has not yet won complete approval from its allies on the details of the proposition.

Eisenhower, at the news conference Wednesday, indicated the United States is willing to suspend the tests without a prior ban on the production of fissionable materials for nuclear weapons. Such a prohibition had been one of the keystones of Western disarmament policy.

U.S. disarmament delegate Harold E. Stassen referred to the President's press conference when he spoke at the London disarmament conference Thursday. He quoted Eisenhower's statement that the latest Soviet disarmament proposal, which included a call for immediate suspension of nuclear tests, are a hopeful sign.

Stassen added the United States is now ready to include some controls on nuclear tests in a "first step" disarmament agreement. But he did not indicate whether he had suspension in mind.

Authoritative circles here believed there has been a switch in the basic U.S. policy on suspension of nuclear tests but that Eisenhower had revealed it prematurely. It would be premature because Western consultations on disarmament policy here still had not cleared up their differences.

The conference was adjourned after Thursday's session to permit French delegate Jules Moch to return to Paris on government business.

The talks resume Tuesday and, Stassen requested sessions be held daily to permit him to present the new U.S. disarmament plan.

Pampans To Attend Convention

Twenty - five members of Jehovah's Witnesses from Pampa plan to attend a five - day district convention this summer, according to an announcement made by J. W. Nash, presiding minister of the local congregation.

Nash said that a peak attendance of at least 12,000 is expected at the Coliseum in Denver, Colo., July 10-14, where delegates will gather primarily from Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, South Dakota. Nebraska, Wyoming, North Dakota, Montana, Utah, Idaho, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. In addition, it is anticipated that almost every state and even some foreign countries will be represented.

Nash, in making the announcement said, "Jehovah's Witnesses have found meeting together in these conventions to be of great spiritual benefit. The primary purpose underlying all of our meetings is to gain spiritual vigor through Bible instruction, so that when we return home we can assist many people here in Pampa to better appreciate the Bible's message for our day."

He said Jehovah's Witnesses are a missionary society, and that as a result of each one "witnessing" to someone else, "their ministerial activity has spread to more than 160 lands, with an increase of 1,374 per cent in ministers in the last 30 years."

'Atomic Force' Talk Set At Christian Science

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science services, 901 N. Frost, Sunday.

Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' stilling of the storm at sea (823-27) is included in the selections to be read from he King James Version of the Bible.

Passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (182:32-4): "The law of Christ, or Truth, makes all things possible to Spirit; but the so - called laws of matter would render Spirit of no avail, and demand obedience to materialistic codes, thus departing from the basis of one God, one lawmaker."

The Golden Text is from John (1:1,3): "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. . .All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made."

Response Good To Reading Program, Sponsor Says

A good response to Lovett Memorial Library's annual reading program, which began this week, has been reported by Mrs. Lillian Snow, sponsor.

Some 33 first graders (of last year) attended Tuesday. Only 10 second-graders attended Wednesday due to a mix-up in the dates in The News' first story. Yesterday the third-graders were scheduled to meet.

The first graders of last year meet at 9 a.m. in the library each Tuesday, the second graders on Wednesday, and last year's third graders meet on Thursdays.

The program is set to run for six weeks.

These children select books from the library, take them home to read, and then discuss them at the next meeting. Next fall their school teachers will be given a list of the books they have read.

Lynn Tatum is assisting Mrs. Snow in the classes.

Search Is On For A Mate For Bubbles

PALOS VERDES ESTATES, Calif. (UP)—Marineland officials have ordered a vast search in the Pacific Ocean to find and capture a lover for Bubbles.

Bubbles has a bad case of spring fever. The spawning season has started and the 14 - foot globioephala soammoni (pilot whale) wants a mate.

Bubbles was captured last February off the Southern California coast and placed in a large tank at the Oceanarium here. The lovesick Bubbles is the world's only captive whale.

"She won't eat her daily ration of 60 pounds of squid anymore," William F. Monahan, vice president of Marineland, said. "She just nibbles on anchovies and gazes longingly toward the Pacific."

Tale of 3 Spies Bared In Cloak-and-Dagger Registration

By NEA Service

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Attention all foreign spies. If you haven't registered with the Justice Department, you'd better do it—or you'll be breaking a law. The penalty is five years in prison, a $10,000 fine or both.

So far only three cloak - and-dagger men have registered under a law passed last Aug. 1 calling for registration of persons who have ever served a foreign government as a spy.

Department of Justice offiials say this law gives them another weapon to use in its sttruggle against espionage and sabotage, as well as an insight into the training and methods used by other nations.

The registrations of the three men who have so far complied read like a novel on foreign intrigue.

Philipp Rouskov, a native of Bulgaria now running a delicatessen in Los Angeles, switched his allegiance as often as the average person changes the oil in his car.

Rouskov, who has a list of aliases as long as your arm, says he spied for Czechoslovakia against Germany before the Nazis overran that small nation, and later spied on Czechoslovakia for the Germans and Bulgarians.

His main duty was to recruit agents in the countries he visited and to report on the comings and goings of enemy embassy officials.

He has been a refugee since 1944 and has been in the United States since 1951. A Justice Department spokesman said registration under the spy law guarantees that this "retired" spy will stay retired.

A native - born American, who was known to his Russian friends as "Rider," has to be credited with pulling the neatest trick of the three registered spies.

Theo Kay Hollie says his Allied News Agency in Germany was subsidized by the Reds, who had trained him in espionage, while he informed on them to the U.S. authorities. At one time, Hollie says, he was taking money from the Reds and the Central Intelligence Agency at the same time.

Hollie says he was trained at Karlshorst, a suburb of Berlin, in 1954 and 1955. He learned how to reduce a negative to the size of a pin head.

Now operating an automobile agency in Munich, Hollie is proud of his accomplishments while posing as a Soviet agent.

The third spy, Alberto A. Colombo, is now running a quiet bar in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Columbo was born in Italy and is now proud to declare that he is a naturalized American. Colombo says he was not a spy by vocation, but as an officer in the Italian Royal Army he was "directed" to take courses in "offensive intelligence" at the Italian War College in 1941. He took additional training in Sofia, Istanbul and Jerusalem.

His main duty was administrative, directing agents, giving out assignments and collecting reports.

The Justice Department is not disappointed that only three people have so far registered. Officials say that as many as 70 to 80 persons have registered as conducting foreign agent activities under other laws. Another condiseration in estimating this low figure is the number of people exempted from registrations. That is, people who may be in the employ of the United States or one of its allies.

Movie Stars Are Called On For A Variety Of Things

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Movie stars are called upon for a variety of causes, even to help out frustrated bartenders.

The plight of the poor bartender came to light when a bourbon distillery began a national mixed drink competition.

For the southwestern regional finals, various film celebrities and members of the Hollywood press were called upon to judge original bourbon recipes submitted by bartenders from Southern California and Arizona.

Hollywood has seen parties for everything from supermarkets to Sophia Loren, but there has never been another one where guests from Liberace to backless starlet Vikki Dougan sat in a dignified meeting room at the Beverly - Wilshire hotel and thoughtfully tasted drinks.

Back to Bars

Between sips the judges, frowns of intensity on their faces, marked ballots.

"The purpose of this contest is to get people back into the bars for mixed drinks," explained Mike O'Brien, a vice - president of the (Early Times) distillery.

"We've lost a lot of customers. No, not from television, but the art of the mixed drink has faded. Most people get used to ordering just scotch and soda or bourbon and water. They forget that drinks can be pleasant for the taste and the color. The bartenders hardly have a chance to, well, create.

"They get frustrated from making just simple highballs."

In the contest were receipes for before dinner drinks, after dinner drinks and coolers. They were in little glasses and fat glasses. The concoctions were red, green, brown, pink, blue, purple. The judges were asked to mark their ballots seriously "because this means a lot to the bartenders."

A fanfare of music preceded each judging. About 50 frustrated bartenders, who had submitted recipes, sat nervously in the audience.

The winner was Tom Stenger, head bartender at the Ambassador hotel, who created a drink entitled, "Cocoanut Grove," after that hotel's famed night club.

Eggs of the Kiwi have a 75-day incubation period and the male bird does the setting.

Key to Improvement In Mental Hospital Is A Set Of Keys

Science Today
By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—A director of a 1,000-bed mental hospital reports that simply giving some patients keys to keep and to use will bring about an improvement in their mental conditions.

No other places, not even prisons, probably, are more thoroughly locked and keyed than mental hospitals. Yet, as Dr. Aaron S. Mason said, "almost complete silence is maintained" about those locks and keys.

"To the mental patient, the key is the most significant symbol of his helplessness," said Mason. "It is viewed as token of the whole structure of power and responsibility in the mental hospital."

Heads VA Hospital

Mason is professional services director of the Brockton (Mass.) Veterans Administration Hospital. There, as in other mental hospitals, every room, every closet, every cabinet — every cubicle or receptacle of any kind — has its lock and a corresponding key.

Certain Brockton patients are given keys to rooms in which they can carry out their assigned responsibilities and jobs. Although the hospital was opened in 1953, "no untoward incident has resulted from this policy." On the other hand, "we have observed marked improvement in some patients when they are given the recognition and responsibility of handling keys," Mason said.

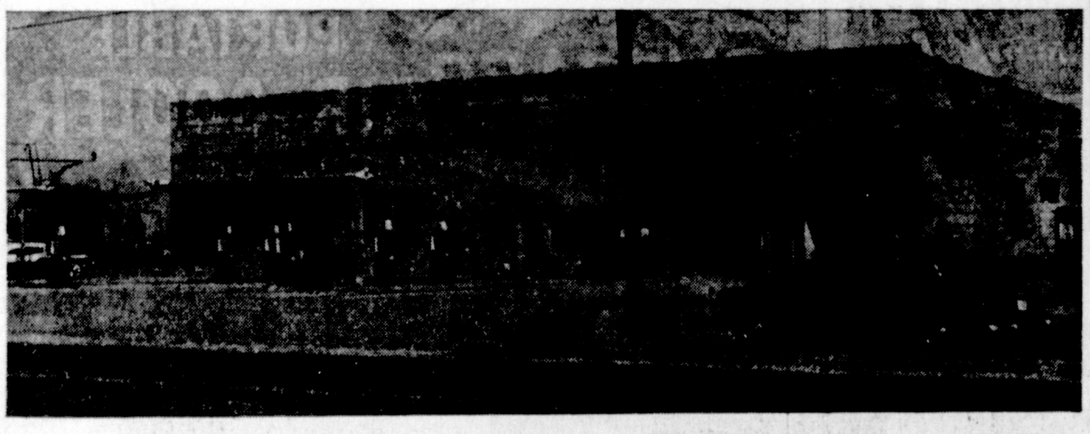

He looked forward to a day when locks and keys are used in mental hospitals in the same way they are used in homes—"mainly for the protection of property." He thought that more and more "the concept of custody and control" was dying out among mental hospital administrators and more and more they were accepting the "trend of the open hospital."

Some Hospitals Are Open

An "open hospital" is one in which there are no locked doors, and patients may come and go as they please. The advocates of this practice still are in a minority in psychiatry but definitely there is a "trend."

Mason said that at Brockton almost half the patients are in unlocked wards and their number has doubled in the last two years. A basic premise of the "open hospital" advocates is that if mental hospital patients are given to understand they are incapable of assuming responsibilities, they will react by being thoroughly irresponsible.

Smooth Even Tan Increases Glamor

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

There's no doubt about it, a smooth, even tan increases a girl's glamor.

If she likes, she can limit her summer make-up to a little powder and some lipstick. She can wear colors she'd never attempt when she's her usual pale self.

But while she's acquiring the tan, she has to take care. Her first sessions should be limited to 20 minute each at the most. Girls who try to acquire a suntan in one day are just asking for trouble.

She also has to keep her skin from drying out while she tans. A tanning cream, in addition to providing protection from the sun's rays, will help restore moisture to the skin and keep it soft and pliable during summer months.

Don't go into the sun at high noon. Go before 11 a.m. or after 1 p.m., if you want to avoid sunburn.

A nonoily suntan cream or lotion is most practical since it provides protection without greasiness.

MATURE PARENT

Women get much advice on how to keep a husband happy.

Men are told little about how to keep a wife happy. So this year instead of writing a column for June brides I am writing one for new husbands.

Memo to June grooms:

To be happy, women need four things their husbands can give them: love, appreciation, adventure and security.

A word about love. Husbands have been known to reply to a wife's tearful protest that "You don't love me any more: "I married you, didn't I?"

How stupid about women can a husband be? A man may think that when he marries a woman he proves his love for once and all. But a woman wants to be told every day of the world that she is loved. She wants to be told without having to ask. Furthermore, she wants her husband's words of love to be backed up by his interest in her as a person.

Now about appreciation. Women for whom homemaking is a major interest, work for appreciation. If they don't get it, they go stale on the job.

Adventure is something we are told men need more than women. Maybe so. But that is no reason for overlooking the fact that women need it, too. And what a husband should remember is that adventure may mean one thing to him and quite another thing to his wife.

Is it any sillier for a woman to get a sense of adventure from splurging on one "perfect outfit" or from redoing the living room than it is for a man to get a feeling of adventure from landing a fish or killing a deer? Of course not.

So even as you occasionally need to break away from the humdrum, so will your wife. And the way she chooses won't necessariy be the way you choose.

As for security. You are her security. The stronger you are, the safer she will feel.

One of the saddest things that can be said about a woman is, "Her husband is kind of a weak character. She's the real backbone of the family."

Here Are A Few Suggestions On How To Travel Pleasantly With Children

Traveling with children is an art! If you're planning on a long trip this summer, it's a good idea to plan the adventure so that the experience will be a pleasurable one for the whole family.

The important thing is keep the child busy and happy. Three gadgets that travel experts have advised to help the happiness along are a "mystery box," a "wiggle platform" and a shoe bag "filing cabinet."

The mystery box is actually a box or a fruit cake tin or even a shoe box, attractively decorated before leaving home, and kept tightly shut, away from curious eyes. Before starting on the trip, wrap some toys — one gift for each day on the road — and pack them in the mystery box. When the child begins to show signs of restlessness or boredom, pull out the mystery box and let them dig. But be careful in your choice of toys: try harmless items like toy cars, planes, boats, drawing books and dolls, and avoid things that might distract the driver or hurt the child in a moving car.

If your child gets cranky and contrary without a daily nap, a "wiggle platform" — so named for the action of its occupant, not its own characteristics, is a perfect substitute for Mother's weary shoulder. It can be made by stacking several pieces of luggage level with the back seat. Over this, place a crib mattress, and a pillow. A couple of favorite toys may be added, but probably won't be necessary.

When it comes to choosing a hotel, be careful in selecting one which genuinely welcomes children. This can make a great difference. Some distinguished hotels during the summer months literally turn out their red carpets with young guests in mind. The famous Mayflower Hotel in the Nations Capitol is one example, where everything is done to please the imagination of youngsters. Child psychologists were even consulted in designing special childrens' menus, so that mealtimes can be a cheerful experience for all concerned.

The important thing to remember when planning a trip with children, is that a happy, comfortable child, makes the trip more enjoyable for the whole family. And any motor trip is a thousand times more rewarding when the whole family can share in it and benefit by it.

Party Ideas Is Topic For HDC

Party ideas was the topic for the Merten Home Demonstratinon Club meeing on June 18 when it met in the home of Mrs. Jack Prather.

The program was presented by Mrs. Clyde Edmundson, who illustrated how to decorate a table with a tropical dish as the centerpiece. She cut a pineapple in half and removed the fruit which she mixed with other fruits; cherries, grapes, pears. Then the mixture was placed back in the shell, which was set on lettuce leaves and surrounded with whole apples, bananas, pears, and oranges.

Mrs. Edmundson suggested how to make other fruit dishes which are easy, as well as attractive, desserts; such as water melon shell filled with small fruit slices and used as a cradle centerpiece for a baby shower.

She also showed how to slice the top off an Angel Food cake and then fill with fruit.

Refreshments of rolls and coffee, tea were served to Mmes. A. M. Nash, L. F. Watt, Clyde Edmundson, Jack Prather, Vard Smith, and Kathy Watt.

The next meeting for the group will be held in the home of Mrs. A. M. Nash, 721 N. West at 9:30 a.m. on July 2.

Manners Make Friends

If you are named chairman of a committee, it is up to you to do the job to the best of your ability. It is better to turn it down than to do it half-heartedly.

If you haven't time to do a job properly, say so and let someone else take it over.

Try a decorative touch on lettuce, tomatoes and salads. Roll a cone of waxed paper, fill with mayonnaise and fold shut at top. By opening the point a little, you can squeeze mayonnaise out, forming any design desired.

"LEARNING IN SILENCE"

Psalm 46

"Be still and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth."

The purpose of this Psalm may be clearly learned by the expressions in it. The people were greatly disturbed because of reverses, wars, disasters, and other things. David seeks to quiet them by making a plea for God, and trying to turn their hearts and minds heavenward and to the great God.

IT IS AN APPEAL TO GIVE GOD A CHANCE. The people had forgotten God in the scramble of life. They had nearly voted Him out of their national life. God was no longer the God to them that He had been. At one time He had been recognized as their Leader and their God, and had done many wonderful things for them. He had fought for them when their army was small and ill equipped. Many times the enemy had been driven back by Divine help. David said, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble."

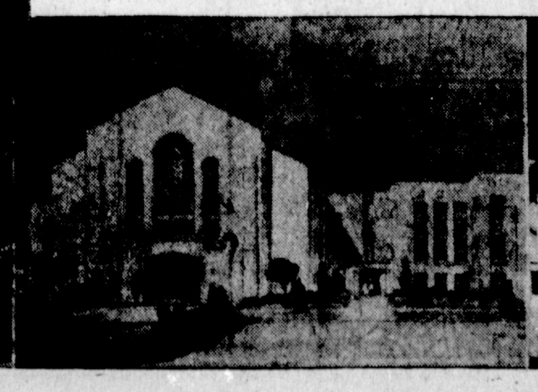

Israel had also crowded Him out of their individual lives. God honors the nation that honors Him. He will also bless the person that will place his trust in Him. As David appealed to Israel to give God a chance, he appeals to us as well. In this age of materialism, when men trust in wealth, organizations and efficiency, it is easy to lose sight of God. Let us learn that materialistic display does not always mean power.

David also appeals to the people of his day to GIVE OUR SOULS A CHANCE. Israel magnified the things of less importance—the material—and lost sight of all important things in life. Men need to learn that God is more important that gold. That we learn more in the silent moments of meditation in life, than in the glamor of the footlights. The Master said, "When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou has shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly." There in our prayer and meditation, reading our Bible we learn the deep secrets of God and gain greater knowledge of Him. I realize that open conflicts must come, but the outcome of them is determined beforehand in the secret place of prayer. All worthwhile things are learned n the secret place—Art, Music, Science, Poetry, Prayer, Faith, etc.

"Be still and know that I am God." The quiet places are God's school rooms, and He meets His pupils there. You recall that Moses said to the great host of Israel when they were alarmed and afraid because of the approaching of Pharaoh's host: "Stand still, and see the salvation of the Lord." Many victories are won on the knees, in the secret closet of prayer. We will get an answer if we tarry and listen. The psalmist said, "I will hear what God will say."

So today, may we take this Psalm and text with us. Take time to pray, to be holy, learn in silence, and hear the words of God: "Be still and know that I am God."

Rebels Blast Palo Duro, 15-5

By CHARLES CULLIN
Pampa News Sports Editor

The Pampa Rebels, scoring their eighth straight win of the season, rolled over the Palo Duro Junior Dons 15-5 in Oiler Park last night.

Off to a fast start, the Rebels scored 3 runs in the first inning from the hits of Billy Brown, Ray Stephenson and Gary Wilhelm. Following up in the second with slugging by David Marler, Mike Conway and Terrell, combined with a triple blasted by Clovis Shipp, Pampa ran in four more runs, pushing their total to 7.

Remaining idle through the next 3 innings the Rebs staged another exhibition of hitting power in the 6th with doubles by Brown, Haralson and Lake, plus a single by Shipp, which brought in their final 8 runs.

Power hitters for the Rebels were Brown, shortstop, who totaled 3 hits with a double and 2 singles, and Clovis Shipp, catcher, with one single and Pampa's only three-bagger of the night.

The Dons managed to squeeze in one run in the 5th inning off hits by Dave Ballew and Mack Poe, but later in the 7th posed their biggest threat when Rebel hurler Dale Lake allowed three men bases on balls, and with the bags loaded Ron Covington and Tommy Sweet tagged singles to bring in the Dons' final 4 runs.

Winning pitcher for Pampa was Mike Conway, who started the game and stepped out at the end of the 4th after pitching to 19 batters, striking out 8, and allowing only 2 hits, while giving up 5 walks. He was replaced by Dale Lake who threw until the end of the 7th. Lake is charged with all five of Palo Duro's runs but in pitching to 18 batters, he struck out 3 and allowed only 3 walks. Kippy Williams took the mound at the beginning of the eighth and pitched to five men, striking out 1, and giving up 1 hit and 1 walk.

Cagle Davis is charged with the loss for the Junior Dons after being relieved during the 6th inning by Ron Covington. Davis faced 32 batters and had 5 strike outs. He allowed 13 runs, 12 hits and 3 walks. Covington capped off the remainder of the game with 2 strike outs, one hit and 6 walks.

The Rebels gained their 15 runs from 13 hits, leaving a total of 7 men left on base. The Dons' runs came from 8 hits, with 13 men left on base.

Pampa's Legion team will go for it's 8th victory in Oiler Park Sunday night when they will play the Elk City Elks in Oiler Part at 8:15.

Chalk Seventh Straight Win; No Losses

Baxter Leads Pack Into 3rd Round Of Trans-Miss Tourney

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Walker Cupper Rex Baxter Jr. headed a batch of college youngsters who made up exactly half of the field as the 54th annual Trans-Mississippi golf tournament hit the third round today.

Actually, with Baxter as the bellwether, the University of Houston's NCAA defending championship team seemed to be using this storied tournament as a warm-up for the National Collegiate championship next week at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Four other members of the Houston team were in the field of 16 which set out over the troublesome 6,706 - yard Brook Hollow Golf Club course today in search of quarter-final berths.

In addition to the 21-year-old Baxter, from Amarillo, Tex., the Gulf Coast university also had Jim Hiskey of Pocatello, Idaho, in the top half of the draw and Bob Pratt of Seattle, Wash., Jacky Cupit of Greggton, Tex., and Frank Wharton of Dallas still in contention.

Cards Take NL Lead; Nip Pirates, 7-4

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Murry Dickson and Stan Musial, the only members of the last St. Louis Cardinal pennant winner still with the team, have turned back the clock 11 years to play a vital part in a .750-drive that's carried the current Redbirds into a half-game lead in the National League scramble.

Dickson turned in his fourth victory of the month as the Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-4, Thursday night while Musial stretched his hitting streak to 20 games. The Cardinals have roared along at a 15-5 pace this month with Musial batting at a .400-clip and driving in 19 runs in the 20 games.

The Cardinals had the aid of the New York Giants, who knocked the Milwaukee Braves out of first place with a 4-3 decision in 12 innings. The Cincinnati Redlegs vaulted from fifth to third place when they whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 6-1, and the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Chicago Cubs, 7-2, in the other N.L. games.

The New York Yankees ran their longest winning streak of the campaign to seven games with a 3-1 win over the Detroit Tigers and moved to within 1½ games of the American League lead when the Baltimore Orioles beat the first-place Chicago White Sox, 4-1. The Boston Red Sox downed the Cleveland Indians, 9-7, and the Washington Senators defeated the Kansas City Athletics, 9-4, in other A.L. activity. The Yankees and White Sox open a four-game battle for the lead at Yankee Stadium tonight.

The 41-year-old Dickson limited the Pirates to two runs and seven hits before retiring with a stiff arm after eight innings. Musial, who doubled in the first inning to keep his streak intact, drove in one run with a sacrifice fly in the sixth. Dickson beat the Dodgers in the pennant - clinching playoff game while Musial hit a mere .365 back in 1946 when the Cardinals last won a pennant.

The Giants beat the Braves when Gail Harris tripled in the 12th and scored on Johnny Antonelli's sacrifice fly. It was only the fourth victory of the season for Antonelli but marked the third straight time he beat his exteammates. Ed Mathews and Bill Bruton homered for the Braves.

Wally Post blasted a grand-slam homer in the fourth inning and Brooks Lawrence pitched an eight-hitter to lead the Redlegs to their second straight win over the Dodgers. Gus Bell also homered for Cincinnati while Duke Snider hit No. 12 for Brooklyn.

Harvey Haddix pitched a seven-hitter and collected three singles as the Phillies held fourth place with their victory over the Cubs. Ernie Banks hit his 13th homer for the Cubs. Don Kaiser suffered his fifth loss.

Roadrunners Meet Amarillo Tonight In Oiler Park

Pampa's newly organized baseball team, the Roadrunners, will play a semi-pro team from Amarillo tonight in Oiler Park at 8:15.

Appearing with the visiting team will be former West Texas-New Mexico players such as John Bruza, Jim Clarich, Frank Benatis and Bob Ramsey. The team is managed by Leonard Davis.

The Roadrunners won their first tilt Wednesday night over the Perryton Pioneers, 9-6, with Cecil Reynolds pitching. Max Molberg will start on the mound for Pampa tonight.

The Pampa team was organized in an effort to keep professional level baseball in Pampa, but it organized on a non-profit basis. All proceeds of the game will be donated to the Optimist boys work, and the team is sponsored solely by gate admission. The park is made available through the American Legion for the cost of the lights, pending sponsorship by a civic club.

Admission to tonight's game is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Next scheduled game is Tuesday night when the Pioneers of Perryton will play a return game in Oiler Park.

Monday's Wrestling Features Tag Match In Main Event

Monday night's wrestling at the Sportsman Club will feature a wild fray in which six top wrestlers will compete in an Australian tag match. Dory Funk, Dizzy Davis and Bob Geigel oppose Danny "Bulldog" Pleachas, Ivan Kola and Iron Mike Debiase in this main event match.

The semi - final will pit Iron Mike against Dory Funk in a 20 minute one - fall grapple. In the first event Plechas will oppose Geigel in another one faller with a 20 minute limit.

In last week's matches Davis downed Phelps and Geigel was victor over Kola in the first two events. In the main event, which featured Funk vs Plechas, each man had one fall to his credit when the "Bulldog" became rowdy and heaved the referee out of the ring, resulting in his disqualification and giving Funk the victory.

The matches, beginning at 8:30 are sponsored by the Pampa Shrine Club. Admission is $1.50 for ringside; $1.25 for reserved seats; 90 cents for general admission adult and 50 cents for general admission children.

AL Takes Lion's Share Of Major League Profits

By NEIL MacNEIL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — The 16 major league baseball teams produced $2,867,803 in net profits for their owners in the past five years.

An analysis of the financial statements of the clubs showed today that the American League took the lion's share of the profits—$2,683,192. The eight National League teams showed a profit for the five-year period of only $184,611.

Some of the teams, like the Brooklyn Dodgers, the New York Yankees, the Washington Senators and the Chicago White Sox, have turned in profits in every one of the five years from 1952 through 1956.

Others, like the Philadelphia Phillies and the Pittsburgh Pirates, have lost money in every one of the five years.

The financial statements were made public Thursday by a House judiciary subcommittee that has been investigating anti - trust features of organized baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

It was the first time that financial reports of the major league teams have been disclosed.

Sacred Cows

Edson B. Smith, financial editor of the Boston Herald, put it like this: "The United States government appears firmly committed to two policies: prosperity is a must; labor unions must be babied." After you trim off all the political foliage which surrounds our legislators, it would appear that Smith is right. Domestically, these are the two federal sacred cows.

Mr. Smith obviously knows something of economics. He is well acquainted with the fact that wealth is not money and that money is not wealth. Wealth consists of things which have value. And money is simply the symbol of the things themselves translated into understandable terms. A nation loaded down with money but containing little or no items of value, would be impoverished. Likewise, a nation filled with good of value would be a rich nation, even if there was scarcely any money.

But this fact, well known to most economists, is largely missing in the minds of our political leaders. Prosperity, in federal parlance, is related directly to the crackle of folding money in everyone's jeans. Thus, since 1940, the federal government has gone on what amounts to a financial rampage in which folding money has been pumped into our economic stream at unprecedented speed. The result is what we call inflation.

Almost any person who has studied economics will tell you that when there is a plentiful supply of a given item on the market, the price on that item will waver and fall. Whereas, if an item is in short supply, the price will tend to rise.

But in our money muddle, we see quite the reverse occurring. For example, take sirloin steak. In 1940 it was priced at 38.5 cents on the market. Today choice sirloin runs better than 80 cents per pound. Economically this should signal a shortage. It does not. We've got all kinds of sirloin in plentiful supply. In fact, people have taken to eating poorer cuts of meat simply because they can't afford 80 cent sirloin. We've got a surplus of sirloin and a surplus of inflation. Today's 80 cents is worth less than 40 cents on the 1940 market.

Take automobiles. In 1940 there were good new cars coming from the factories for $790 f.o.b. The same makes and models are available now for something close to $2500. This, also, should signal a shortage. It does not. We have a surplus of cars and a surplus of price—both surpluses arranged by the federal government, which has managed to dilute the value of everything by putting more negotiable paper into our financial stream.

This is the reason economists grow alarmed when they look at the national picture. The federal government is violating economic laws in its policy of insisting on prosperity. We have a plentiful supply of most of the world's goods and we have an even greater supply of money. The effect is to convince Americans that they are prosperous. The fact is that we have little more real wealth than we had in 1940, if we have as much.

On the subject of catering to union bosses, here is Smith again:

"So long as the union monopolies are encouraged to ask for more in the way of wage benefits than labor's productivity increases, and so long as employers continue to prefer to acede to labor's demands rather than risk a strike, which it is presumed they will so long as they can pass the higher wage bill along to the American public, it is hard to see how the purchasing power of the dollar is going to be stabilized."

There it is. And it is certainly time the American people realized that this is what happens. When the labor bosses declare that they are going to "soak" the employer and make him pay more for labor, what actually happens is that they compel the employer to "soak" his customers, thus driving up prices and hurting everyone including the workers. And if the federal government aids and abets this practice, which it does, we see the working out of these two general policies which Smith has shown.

By coddling unions and by inflating currency, the government deludes nearly everyone. The delusion merely precedes the deluge. When people discover that they are being fleeced of VALUE whenever they trade goods for money, since the money is unstable, they will execute what is called a "flight from the dollar."

And if anyone thinks that this is prosperity, wait until they experience the effect of that flight.

THE NATION'S PRESS

A SACRIFICIAL GOAT FOR THE JAPANESE

(Chicago Daily Tribune)

William S. Girard of Ottawa, Ill., an American soldier in Japan, has been surrendered to the courts of that nation to stand trial for the death of a Japanese woman. The action was taken by Secretaries Wilson and Dulles with the approval of President Eisenhower, according to his secretary.

The root of the evil is the iniquitous status of forces treaties. This country has agreed with many other nations that Americans stationed on their soil for their protection shall be surrendered to allen courts for trial for alleged offenses and thereby stripped of the constitutional protections of American citizens.

Girard was assigned to guard some weapons on a firing range in Japan. A group of Japanese invaded the range to pick up cartridge cases fired during American army maneuvers held earlier in the day. This was in violation of regulations for the range and Girard fired an empty cartridge case from a grenade launcher. It hit a Japanese woman and killed her. He said he fired at random, merely to frighten the scavengers away. Others of the scavengers alleged that he fired at the woman.

Investigation of the matter by American newspaper correspondents indicated that army public relations officers bungled the affair by suppressing information until Japanese newspapers and left wing organizations circulated unfriendly versions of the incident and created a cause celebre. The state department originally denied that its representatives in Japan had had any part in the handling of the matter, but subsequent information has cast doubt on these denials.

The status of forces treaty does not apply to acts by American military personnel while they are on duty, and the best information is that Girard was detailed to duty in the area. The Japanese, however, asserted that he was "resting" at the time, and thus off duty. Another section of the treaty subjects questions like this to arbitration in which the Japanese have the decisive word. As a result, American representatives insisted that they had no alternative but to surrender Girard.

What Principles Do Unions Use To Promote Justice?

Since so many people believe labor unions helped raise wage levels and thus have been good for employes, it might be well to inquire as to what principle they use to promote justice to see that each and every person gets all he produces—no more, no less. And unless each and every person gets all he produces, we are lacking in justice.

If so many people did not believe labor unions had some way of promoting justice, we certainly wouldn't have so many laws on the statute books that exempt labor unions from doing things that would be a crime, subject to fines or imprisonment, if done by any other person or groups. We wouldn't have such laws as the Clayton Amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, the Wagner Law, the Taft-Hartley Law, etc.

I can think of no principle that labor unions operate in harmony with. If anybody else can think of any principle they use, I would be glad to publish it.

One advocate of labor unions said labor unions operated on the principle of the greatest good for the greatest number. But, of course, that is not a principle because it is a question of human judgment as to what is good and the relative importance of a good act. A principle is a mathematical all-inclusive rule. There are no exceptions to it. The Ten Commandments are principles. They are all-inclusive. Certain statements in The Declaration of Independence are principles. Example: all men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, among these Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. If all men were not endowed by their Creator but just the majority, it would not be a principle. Majority rule is not a principle because the course of actions advocated by the majority is not eternal. They change with the will of the majority.

The statement in the Declaration of Independence that "governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed", is a principle. It does not say, as many people seem to think, that it is the consent of the majority. It is an eternal principle that always existed but was never put into operation before the Declaration of Independence was written, or since. To the degree that we follow that principle do we have the government the servant of the individual and not his master.

But labor unions disavow this principle. They operate under the theory that the agents of the majority have a right to take away from the individual his right to pursue happiness, to use his creative ability as he sees fit, so long as he permits each and every other individual to do the same.

As I see it, the labor unions violate the principle set forth in the Coveting Commandment. They would take away from the individual his right to use his creative ability in a manner that he believed would add most to the happiness of mankind. He would have to manage his creative ability as set forth by the agents of the majority of the union. In other words, it would be arbitrary and changed to increase the power of the unions. The labor unions violate the Coveting Commandment when they insist on taking away from an individual his right to select his own agent or make his own bargain. They do this for the sole purpose of exalting the members of the union at the expense of the other individual's inalienable rights.

If, of course, might-makes-right be a principle, then it might be construed that labor unions operate under a principle—but it is hard to conceive that might-makes-right is a principle, because when put into action its results change with the amount of might used.

Name The Principle

Unless some believer in labor unions can name an eternal principle that labor unions use to determine a fair and just wage for each and every individual, I am obliged to conclude that labor unions are operated on no principle and thus are unpredictable.

The well-being of mankind is based on eternal principles. It is based on confidence that men can depend upon contracts being carried out so that individuals can plan to give continuous service. Society that does not operate on principles, of course, cannot have a high standard of living. It is in continuous turmoil, with long periods of unemployment and almost continuous war and man being subject to the whims of the big boss rather than being subject to the eternal laws of God.

I can think of nothing more needed than for more and more people to come to understand whether labor unions operate under any eternal principle to promote justice. Just what principle do labor unions use to determine what is a just and fair wage for each employe?

Competition Is Reason For America's Greatness

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Reactions Of A Returned Traveler: It's worth going away for a while just to get that feeling you do when the stewardess says over the intercom, "Fasten your seat belts, please. We have started our descent and will land at Idlewild International Airport, New York, in approximately 15 minutes. Thank you."

Thank you, young lady, you think to yourself. . .Thank you for making my heart jump, and tingle scamper around at the base of my neck. . .And then you look out the window, and there's New York, looking like no other city on God's Green Earth, and you feel like disobeying the rules and standing up, getting your coat on, and moving toward the door so you'll be sure to be the first one off. . .The plane seems to take forever to taxi from the end of the strip to the unloading point, and when you do finally get off, and you see other people hurrying to planes headed for points across the ocean, you wonder why in the world they are going, and why they don't stay right here in the good old U.S.A., when you first get back. . .It may be corny, and musical - showy, but that's how you feel about it, and you want to stop utter strangers and ask them if they really do know just how good the U.S.A. is.

It's a bubbly feeling, getting back, and it sticks with you for a week or more. . .It takes that long to get really settled down and to start looing at everything around you with everyday eyes. . .If everybody in the United States could take a trip abroad, and stay a while the griping about this country by its citizens would be cut to nil, or almost. . .You just have to see how the rest of the worlh lives to appreciate these 48 states, bless 'em all.

If that's flag waving, then hand me another flag. . .I can handle two, or even three. . .I'm going back before too long, because I have some things I have to do over there — get Mary, for one thing — but while I'm here I'm going to load up on America as much as I can.

One of the things that overwhelms a returning American is the superabundance of everything in his country. . .You can't get over it. . .Everything is here at what must be a ratio of 10,000 to 1 to the rest of the world. . .You pass a necktie store and there are what appears to be a million neckties inside. . . The shop windows have more dresses, more suits, more sweaters, more shoes, more oranges, more bananas, more luggage, more bric - a - brac, more greeting cards, more automobiles, more pretty girls, more hustling business men, more buildings coming down, more buildings going up, more — well, just name it and America has it.

It's hard to believe that you ever thought Rome or London or Paris were bustling places once you set foot in New York. . . There's a sharpness to New York, a drive, a never - ending let's get-going air that keeps a man hustling . . .European capitols all but go to sleep at midnight. . .New York is just coming to life at that time. . . The lights dazzle a man. . .There must be a million bulbs glowing all the time. . .Cops are friendly enough, but they want action when they tell you to move along . . .The telephone operators are the most efficient in the world by ten times. . .No one is seated at a sidewalk table, sipping a drink and reading a paper as if time had come to a halt, and tomorrow was much too soon to get moving.

Suits pressed while you wait. . . Two - hour dry - cleaning. . . Three - minuted meals. . .And the cleanliness gets you. . .Let no one tell you this is not the cleanest country, inhabited by the cleanest people who ever lived. We must use more soap and water in a day than the rest of the world uses in a month. . .Barbers cut your hair quickly. . .Shoe shine boys operate as if night were coming on.

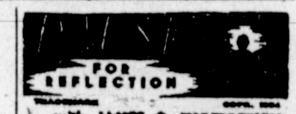

No wonder this country is out in front, and winging. . .There's action all the time. . .Everywhere. . . It's good to be home. . .

Have you heard the story about the chorus girl who said, "Of course, my boy friend is only a millionaire, but he spends money as though it came out of a UNION FUND."

JACK MOFFITT

Skyrocketing sales of tranquilizing pills are not noticeably lessening the amount of worrying we are doing. In fact, they are probably a good indication that we are worrying more and more.

The only true antidote for worry is worship.

"Trust in the Lord, and do good," says the Psalmist; "so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass....Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him ....fret not thyself in any wise...."

Certainly here we have the essential elements of worship: "Trust in the Lord....Delight thyself in the Lord....Commit thy way unto the Lord....Rest in the Lord. And we are told that, if we do these things, "he shall give thee the desires of thine heart....he shall bring it to pass." Therefore we are not to fret ourselves "in any wise."

What better formula for the prevention of worry could anyone ask than that? And the proof of the precept is in the practice. Those who truly worship most truly worry least. Try it and see.

Labor Movement's 'Gains' Jeopardized

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The wave of Congressional indignation over the widespread and scandalous misbehavior of numerous union leaders jeopardizes almost all the gains which the labor movement achieved during the Roosevelt - Truman era. Not the least of the losses may be a weakinging of the laws which guarantee a so - called "closed Shop."

The pro - labor statutes enacted during New Deal - Fair Deal days were designed to give the workers' representatives an equal status in bargaining with employers. They were meant to overcome the advantages which management enjoyed in dealing with millions of unorganized man and women over wages and working conditions.

The Government required both sides to sit around a table for peaceful settlement of their disputes, and if they could not reach an agreement, the question was to be resolved through intervention of the National Labor Relations Board.

The Taft - Hartley Act, which has been continuously reviled by the labor politicians, was enacted only 10 years ago in an attempt to restore the balance that had been upset by New Deal - Fair Deal "packing" of the National Labor Relations Board.

However, that law did not strike at what has now been revealed by the McClellan Committee as the basic evil of the current labor union setup — namely, the abolsute and unquestioning power which such bosses as Dave Beck and Maurice Hutcheson possess over millions of supposedly free Americans.

The system of collective barbaining has admittedly brought many gains to the workingmen in the form of higher wages, shorter hours and pensions, although it is question whether these advantages wouldn't have come about through the operation of economic laws of supply and demand.

But the lopsided arrangement has now led union members to ask whether their leaders have not used this new authority to betray their best interests.

The McClellan Committee disclosures reveal that millions of union members are only so many puppets to be manipulated by a few hundred men who have fought their way to the top. Ironically, many of these bosses never did a real day's work in their lives, and have been riding the "gravy train" engineered by New Deal - Fair Deal politicians.

Leaders like Beck, it has been demonstrated, can loot their treasuries as they please, and without any check by the government, by the states or by members. They can make or break strikes in cahoots with employers willing to palm their hands. They can blacklist a union or a member at their merest whim. They can elect and re-elect themselves to office.

In short, insofar as their management of their own unions is concerned, they are beyond and above the law. Despite all the laws that have been enacted to require spirit and a sense of responsibility within the union hierarchy, they they have no effect upon a union's internal affairs.

The statutes can be invoiked only when the unions become involved in a public controversy with management that threatens national security or the orderly operations of interstate commerce, Uncle Sam cannot go behind the closed doors of a union leader's office.

Congress has hesitated to penetrate this secrecy for several reasons. Many lawmakers fear to modify or rescind closed shop guarantees for personal political reasons; they are afraid of the so - called "labor vote."

Some have felt confident that the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee would "clean house," which they promise to do with respect to Beck. They may also discipline Hutcheson for his part in the Indiana highway scandals.

But Capitol Hill begins to wonder whether the AFL-CIO leaders can be trusted to insist upon radical reforms. Hutcheson, as a vice-president of the AFL-CIO Executive Committee, is understood to have voted to oust Beck. And now, it is disclosed that he is not above suspicion, inasmuch as he emulated the Teamsters' boss in seeking refuge behind the Fifth Amendment.

Thus, a perintent question with the legislators is: "Why did not today's eager labor reformers — Meany, Ruther, Carey, Dubinsky, Hayes — discover, expose and eradicate these evils during the many years of their leadership?"

Hollywood Boasts One Of The World's Greatest Composers

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP)— Hollywood has more than its share of colorful, lightheaded residents, but this community also boasts one of the world's greatest composers who celebrated his 75th birthday this week—Igor Stravinsky.

The foremost living creator of modern music is the elder statesman of many great names of art, literature and music who have formed a colony in the land of the motion picture. Authors Gerald Heard, Christopher Isherwood, Aldous Huxley and John Van Druten; composer George Antheil, violinist Joseph Szigeti and cellist Igor Piatagorsky also make their homes in Southern California.

Few film celebrities realize Stravinsky lives but a stone's throw from their habitats. He and his wife, Vera, dwell in a modest home in the hills above the Sunset Strip—the nightclub and restaurant row where sports cars roar and actors engage in late-hour fisticuffs.

Ike Sends Wire

Stravinsky, a small, delicate man, travels six months of the year to conduct his works, from his rarely heard "First Symphony" to his famous "Firebird Suite," in European cities. Last Monday, Los Angeles was honored with hosting the world premier of his ballet "Agon," and the American premiere of his "Canticum Sacrum" at a memorial concert at UCLA.

President Eisenhower sent a telegram congratulating the composer on his 75th birthday Tuesday.

While other men think of retiring at 75, Stravinsky already is planning to conduct in Japan.

Hard Worker

The composer still works as much as 15 hours a day in his dark, crowded study. It is filled with four desks and a piano. A drawing of Stravinsky by the French artist, Jean Cocteau, hangs on one wall. The room holds other mementos of the composer's fabulous life, including his large collection of Russian icons (religious paintings).

His wife recently took up painting, and her abstract pictures have been highly praised by artists who visit the home. Stravinsky sees few friends, among them Huxley, choreographer George Balanchine and photographer Sanford Roth.

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz.—Dr. Robert S. Richardson of the Mt. Wilson Observatory telling fellow scientists that astronomers are prospecting for water and oygen on Mars:

"This is being done particularly in preparation for space travel."

---

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Radio announcer Bob Howard on moderating a marathon debate on dogs:

"Those guys were driving me daffy. All day and night they were arguing."

WHY NOT?—Memphis motorists were amazed, day after day, when they saw a young man lying on a safety island on a busy street. A newspaper photographer finally asked him why. It developed that Robert Patterson, 19, just doesn't believe in standing when he can lie down. So he waits for his bus in supine position, frequently munching on a banana to pass the time.

Grasshoppers Invade Sacramento

CHICO, Calif. (UP)—A horde of voracious grasshoppers invaded the fertile Sacramento Valley today, devouring fruits, vegetables and range grasses in the worst infestation in 20 years.

Butte County Farm Agent Fred Platt warned that crop damage in Butte, Tehama and Yuba counties could reach 10 million dollars if the 'hoppers are not checked.

Already, he said, damage exceeds one million dollars from the flying plague. Cattlemen have had to buy feed for their animals.

The grasshoppers have been hatching in those three counties for the past two weks or so, with the menace growing worse day by day.

A spray plane covered 19,000 acres with poison Wednesday, but the grasshoppers were spreading over a much larger area than the plane could cover.

---

NEW YORK—A spokesman for evangelist Billy Graham on 1,000 Roman Catholics who have made "decisions for Christ" during the current crusade:

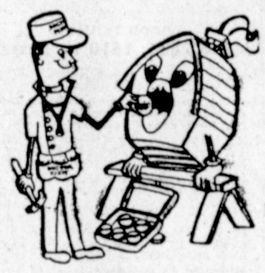

"We do not want to guide anyone toward any special denomination, nor do we approve of leading anyone away from his own church. Our object is instilling and renewing faith in Jesus Christ."

---

WASHINGTON — Chairman Loyd Wright of the Government Security Commission on a forthcoming recommendation to Congress for a new curb on what may be published:

"The purveyor of information vital to national security, purloined by devious means, gives aid to our enemies as effectively as the foreign agent."

WASHINGTON — Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, telling Congress that U. S. military power has forced Russia to talk peace:

"It is only because of the present strength of the free world that they seem to put less emphasis on violence at this particular time, while they continue to strive for an overwhelming military advantage."
