Hands Off Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)-The Carter administration says it has no plans to try to force a swift end to the shutdown of major trucking firms, now responsible for a swelling wave of production cutbacks in the auto industry.

"We are not contemplating any Taft-Hartley Act action at this point," Labor Secretary Ray Marshall said Tuesday in outlining a hands-off policy in a dispute between industry and the giant Teamsters union.

Fraud Bill Okayed

AUSTIN (AP)-Senators favoring a bill to "strike a balance" back from consumers to businesses in alleged fraud cases succeeded early today in cutting off a 15-hour filibuster against it.

The bill amending the 1973 Deceptive Trade Practices Act then gained tentative approval by an 18-7 vote.

Hanging In Pakistan

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)-Former Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, Pakistan's dominant political figure from 1971 to 1977, was hanged at 2 a.m. today at Rawalpindi's central jail after the general who ousted him rejected clemency appeals from President Carter and other foriegn leaders.

President Mohammed Zia ulHaq's military government said the body of the 51-year-old leader of the Pakistan Peoples Party was flown by the air force to his birthplace in southern Pakistan and buried there in the presence of two uncles and one of his two wives.

Boston Blackout Ends

BOSTON (AP)-Coffee perked in electric pots and plug-in shavers hummed again in Boston's Back Bay this morning. But after three days of on-again, off-again blackout, some 30,000 custmers of the Boston Edison Co. were warned not to throw out the instant coffee and the razor.

"Power is coming back house by house," the company announced. "We're not sure it will stay.

Sometimes it doesn't do any good at all to speculate or estimate.

Ed Vernon, the highway department engineer here, says work on the new traffic light system in Snyder now is in an indefinite delay because nobody knows when the poles will arrive.

They were originally scheduled to be here in time for the contractor to install them in January. But they didn't make it. Then, the supplier advised that they should be ready by March 24.

That date has come and gone, and Vernon said the contractor told him that the manufacturer won't set another date. So, it appears that they will simply have to wait until they actually arrive to make arrangements for installing the new traffic lights.

With women's lib and all, they say more and more women are retaining their original surnames after marriage. This has long been the practice in the entertainment world, but Cheryl Ladd is a notable exception. Married to the son of the late Alan Ladd, she opted for that family name, even when she became one of 'Charlie's Angels" and we wondered why. Now we know. Before she married, her name was Cheryl Stoppelmoor.

SNYDER THEATRICALS—Jerry Worsham, center, the Snyder High School drama teacher, directed "Macbeth," one of two one-act plays that won top billing at a University Interscholastic League contest yesterday. Co-Winner With Lamesa...

Snyder Play Going To Regional Competition

Snyder and Lamesa were the co-winners of a University Interscholastic League district theatrical meet held yesterday in the Snyder High School auditorium.

The two casts will go to regional competition April 18 and 19 in Odessa. The winners of the Odessa meet will enter state competition the first weekend in May.

"Macbeth," the Snyder High School production in the one act play contest, also topped the judge's choice for an all-star cast along with best actor and best actress honors.

Named best actor was Bryan Lewallen who played the character of Macbeth in the Shakespearian play. Nell Sears won best actress honors for her portrayal of Lady Macbeth.

Named to the all-star cast from Snyder were Baron Land and Perry Robertson. Receiving honorable mention to the all-star cast were Sherilyn Campbell, Donna Browning, Nova Love, and Mark Robertson.

Play director Jerry Worsham said his response to the play's success was one of "relief."

"I was very pleased," he said. "I am relived to have the first step over."

"Macbeth" featured a "very strong and disciplined cast," "incredible costumes," and an "opening that was beautifully theatrical," said Worsham in reviewing the notes he took from comments made by play judge Ramona Peebles.

Worsham's "The Corn is Green" production last year won second place in state competition. Plays directed by Worsham in 1976 and 1977 won first place in state meets.

Other productions featured in the district meet yesterday included "A Game" by Lamesa, "The Diary of Anne Frank," by Sweetwater, and "Cinderella" by Lake View High School of San Angelo. The Lake View play was named alternate.

Light Frost Chills Area

A light frost nipped the Snyder area early today, but apparently damage to young spring vegetation was light.

The official thermometer at the city water treatment plant dipped to a low reading of 30 degrees shortly before sunrise, but by 7 a.m. it had moved up to 33 degrees.

Spring growth in gardens and young fruit appeared to weather the sub-freezing temperatures well, although some vegetation may have been set back. It was believed that the temperature did not remain below freezing long enough to cause any appreciable damage to fruit.

Nuclear Threat Declared Over

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)-Gov. Dick Thornburgh declared an end today to the threat of "immediate catastrophe" in the nation's most serious nuclear accident, but athorities still waited for Three Mile Island's disabled reactor core to reach a cold shutdown.

Only then, they said, would they declare all danger past.

"We can heave a sigh of relief," Thornburgh said on NBC's "Today" show. "The threat of any immediate catastrophe is over," he said. "Now we must face up to the long-term consequences of this event - we have serious public health problems, environmental problems and economic problems to grapple with."

In Speech Thursday...

Carter To Unveil Oil Tax Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)-President Carter makes a nationally broadcast address Thursday night to outline a plan which is expected to let domestic oil prices rise to world levels while taxing away from oil companies most of the resulting profit.

The president also is considering announcing formation of a presidential commission to investigate the nuclear accident at Three Mile Island in Pennsylvania, a mishap that further complicates Carter's already uncomfortable energy dilemma.

Carter's decision to seek about 20 minutes of broadcast time at 9 p.m. EST Thursday, prime evening television viewing time, was announced Tuesday at the White House.

The immediate impact of Carter's expected action will be further upward pressure on the already soaring prices of gasoline, home heating oil and other petroleum fuels. Gasoline could go up 7 cents to 15 cents per gallon during the next 2½ years, according to various unofficial estimates.

White House officials, who asked not to be named, said Carter also will ask Congress to enact a tax plan vaguely similar to his "welhead tax" proposal that Congress refused to enact last year.

The tax proposal would funnel most of the proceeds from the increase in domestic oil prices into several areas. The annual proceeds are estimated at $3 billion to $5 billion by 1981.

Carter said in Dallas March 24 that such a tax would be used in part to promote solar energy, alcohol fuel and other renewable energy sources. White House officials said Carter also would propose using the money to promote mass transit and to provide tax rebates to the poor.

The base price for oil from the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries is $14.54 a barrel and many OPEC countries charge more than that. By comparison, the price of most domestic oil covered by federal controls is about $9 a barrel.

Ask Us

Q--It was our understanding that the personal property tax would involve every taxpayer in the county. Why, then, have only property owners received the tax form?

A--The personal property renditions at this time affect only taxpayers in the Snyder Independent School District, since that is the only agency that has made plans to assess personal property taxes this year. The forms were mailed to those on the property roll because the tax office had that mailing list on hand. Failure to receive a form does not excuse a taxpayer, however. Those who did not receive the forms should pick them up at the school tax office. In cases where such things as automobiles, boats, etc., are not rendered by the owner, they will be picked up by the assessor from registration lists. The law provides that the assessor shall render any property that is not rendered by the owner.

Deposits Near Record Levels

Both deposits and loans showed substantial increases over last year in first quarter reports from Snyder financial firms.

Deposits in banks and savings and loan accounts totalled $127,565,276 at the close of the first quarter of 1979, while the over-all total for loans was $83,796,189.

At the close of the first quarter last year, the deposit total was $119,510,763, while loans totaled $74,184,944.

The first quarter totals were only slightly below the all-time records set at the close of 1978. Highs for the year usually are set in the fourth quarter. The records set at the end of last year were $128,223,156 for deposits and $84,080,415 for loans.

Local banks had deposits totalling $81,917,872, up from $78,194.249 for the corresponding report last year.

Bank loans were up from $38,895,525 this time last year to $45,147,579.

West Texas State Bank reported deposits at the close of the first quarter totalling $37,933,837 and loans of $19,755,194.

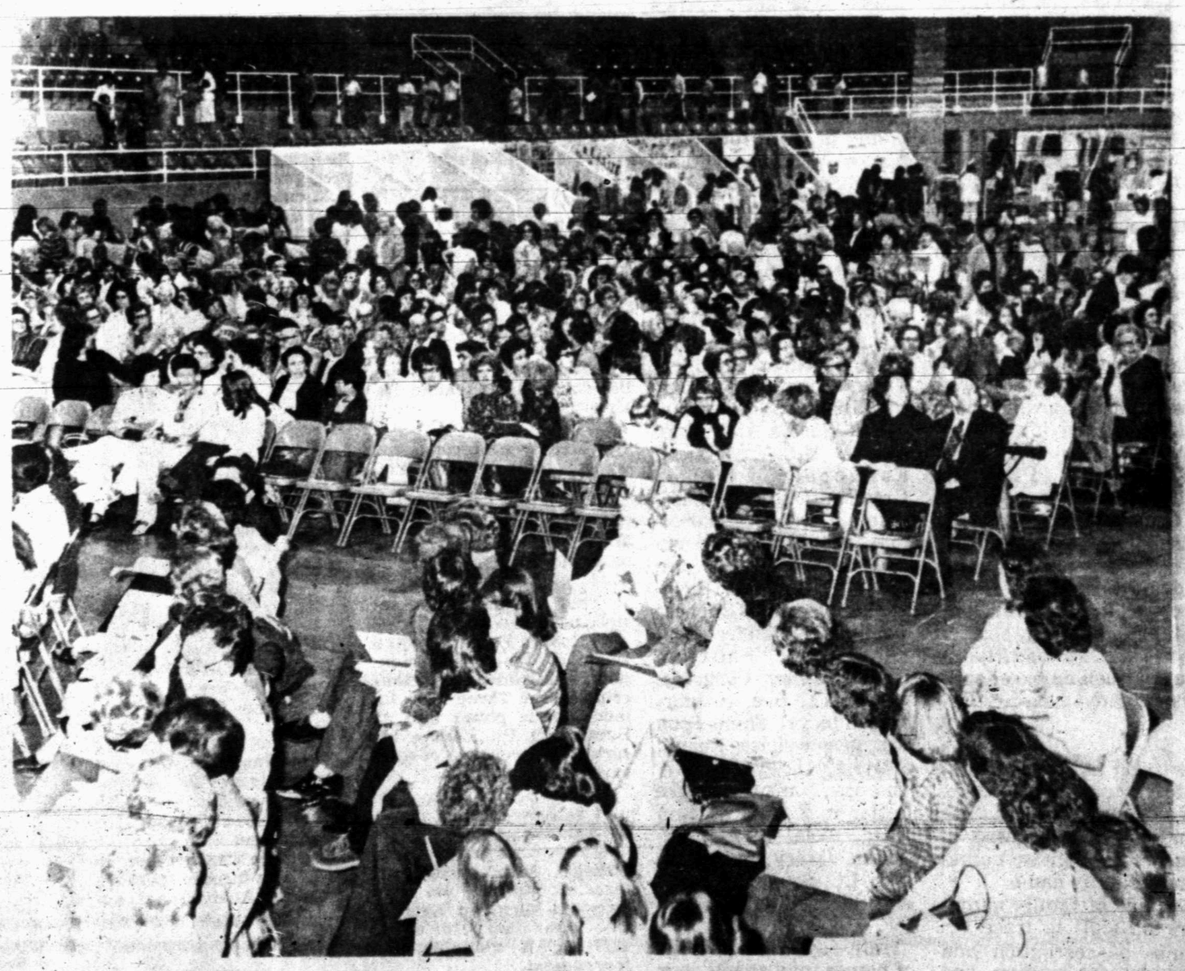
Snyder National Bank's deposits totaled $43,984,035 and its loans amounted to $25,392,385.

Savings and loan firms had deposits of $45,647,404 and loans totalling $38,648,610.

Snyder Savings and Loan had deposits of $32,406,441 and loans of $30,164,239.

First Federal Savings and Loan reported savings accounts totalling $13,241,063 at the end of the quarter, and loans of $8,484,371. Brenda Hedges, assistant vice president, said a upsurge of deposits since Jan. 1 accounted for an unusual variation between the deposit and loan figures.

"We'll be getting these new funds out on loans as quickly as possible," said Mrs. Hedges.



FASHION FAIR AUDIENCE--A crowd estimated at 1,300 to 1,500 persons was on hand Tuesday night in the Scurry County Coliseum for Fashion Fair '79. The event, sponsored by the Scurry County Extension Service and The Snyder Daily News, featured demonstrations and a style show, along with exhibit booths of local merchants. (SDN Staff Photo)

inflated bureaucracy

If you have any doubts about the federal government being a major contributor to inflation, just take a look at the Council on Wage and Price Stability.

This is the agency set up by President Jimmy Carter to mastermind the battle against inflation. It is headed by Alfred E. Kahn.

The new agency is seeking an increase in its budget for the current fiscal year from $2.21 million to $6.95 million. But that's not all. Next fiscal year it wants $8.48 million.

How does it plan to use these extra millions?

It's the time-worn by story of bureacuracy at its best---or worst, depending on how you view it. The council plans to expand its "permanent" staff from 39 to 233 positions.

This of course, comes during a point in time when the president and his staff are urging Americans outside of Washington to hold down their increases to seven percent or less.

At this rate, Americans may determine that it costs too much to fight inflation. A few more cases of this type---and there will be more, you can rest assured---and we could all save money by letting inflation run unchecked.

the big fringe boom

American wage-earners do not keep their heads above the economic waters by salary alone.

Supplementary compensation in the form of health and life insurance, pension plans and the like have become a major and still growing contributor to total employee income.

According to a survey of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, such fringe benefits have been increasing at almost twice the rate of actual wages. For 152 large companies surveyed, monetary value of benefits went up 162 percent between 1967 and 1977 compared with an average 98 percent rise in wages.

The packages tend to be more fully packed in larger firms than smaller operations. Among industries, the most beneficial is petroleum with an average of $6,481 in benefits. At the other end of the scales, the average for textile manufacturers is $2,639.

Overall, the benefits share of average employee income has increased from about a quarter of wages in 1967 to more than a third currently.

That's some fringe.

the chinese type

For American firms anxious to keep a step ahead in the race to do business with China, a New York importer has come up with the perfect new item of office equipment.

It is a Chinese typewriter, the real thing from Shanghai and equipped with 2,500 characters, presumably sufficient to record all the steel mills, hotels, soft drinks and other Western wonders the mainlanders are so eager to buy.

Available for $1,750, it is capable of writing forward, backward, up and down. At that price, that would seem about the least that ought to be expected of it.

my turn

by jo ann nunley

I am sure that the entire group of workers and participants in the Fashion Fair '79 were pleasantly surprised at the excellent attendance Tuesday night at the coliseum. Many estimates were at the 1500 mark, with which I agree.

Judging from the reaction of the crowd, everyone thoroughly enjoyed the entire program including the very attractive booths.

During a program of this type, one couldn't help notice that there was very little moving about and very few if any leaving before it was over. This testifies to the quality of the show.

Congratulations go to the organizers and planners of the show and to the local merchants whose cooperation was evident. Many cities our size do not have the opportunity to see such an excellently coordinated event.

Do you like your name? Most of our names derive from Christian names and generally consist of one or two given names and a family name.

Origins of family names are difficult to trace because of corruption and changes in spelling and pronunciation. Many old words are now obsolete. For many years, spelling of a name depended on the discretion of the writer. The same name might have been spelled in different ways, even in the same document.

If you are not exactly pleased with the sound of your name, take note of some of the following names and occupations compiled by writer John Train, a name collector:

A. Moron, education officer; Bunyan Snipes Womble, lawyer; Cardinal Sin, Archbishop of Manila; Cigar Stubbs, U.S.A.; El Kickapoo Banfill, lecturer; Justin Tune, chorister; Gaby Von Bagge of Boo, baroness; Gaston A. Feeblebunny, U.S.A.; Fanny Fangboner, nurse; Groaner Digger, undertaker; Lavender Sidebottom, masseuse; Grecian T. Snooze, universfty student; and Pinemak Swingle Hogencamp Umback, spiritualist minister.

And Iris Faircloth Blitch, former Congresswoman; T. Hee, restaurant employe; Shine Soon Sun, geophysicist; Ronald Supena, lawyer; Mr. Vroom, motorcycle dealer in S. Africa; Ima Hogg, social leader; Dr. Zoltan Ovary, gynecologist; I.C. Shivers, iceman and Silence Bellows, editor.

Train says that this list of names may strain your credulity, but all of them have belonged to real people.

at wits end

by erma bombeck

According to the Wall Street Journal liberation of women has brought about an increase in the number of men who shop for groceries.

This, in turn, has loused up the advertising campaigns. Men obviously buy products for different reasons than women.

Offhand, I'd guess that men don't get too choked up about whether their wives would prefer dressing to potatoes, get fussy about peanut butter for their children, or care much if their cats danced all the way to dinner.

If someone offered my husband $50 for his old shirt in a laundromat, he'd throw in his entire closet.

Advertising is geared toward women who are serious about taking care of their families. If their coffee is mountain grown, they'll have a successful marriage. If they can get their husbands' bad breath in remission, they'll be promoted. If they force-feed a bowl of hot cereal into their children, they're good mothers.

Did you ever watch men shop? I divide them into three categories. There's the Little Old Listmaker. He has a list that is so rigid, he will not deviate one single item. If the list says, "Pick up laundry," he'll buy one on the way home.

At the other end of the spectrum is the man I call the Party Shopper. Old Hats-and-Horns goes up and down the aisle like he knows exactly what he is doing. At the check-out, he will rack up $87 worth of smoked oysters, assorted crackers, chips, dips. and enough beverages to supply a PX during a siege.

There's the man whose mother was a procurement officer and passed down her philosophy on volume buying. If you can buy four rolls of toilet tissue for 80 cents, think what a saving you could rack up on 62 rolls.

To get to men, I suspect advertising executives will have to use the macho approach.

Any day now you'll probably see Robert Conrad put a can of Tidy Bowl on his shoulder and challenge you to "Knock it off! I dare you!" Or a man who mixes a pitcher of Kool-Aid and says to his kids, "You only go around once in this life and you might just as well go around with all the gusto you can get!"

Until this happens, men are just going to be content getting a cheap thrill out of squeezing the you-know-what with Mr. Whipple.

WASHINGTON (NEA)- The only thing in life as certain as death and taxes is the existence, somewhere or other, of a poll purporting to measure public opinion about both.

No aspect of modern living, no corner of the American psyche is safe these days from the probing curiosity of the professional pulse-takers.

The pollsters are everywhere, and they're ready and able to prove anything you'd like them to. As the old aphorism goes, figures don't lie but liars sure can figure.

Is President Carter looking for public support for the administration's forthcoming Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty with the Soviets? Then he shall find it - in polls by CBS and the New York Times (63 percent in favor) and by NBC and Associated Press (81 percent support).

Do opponents of a SALT II treaty question such responses? Well, of course they do - and why not, when a survey by George Fine Research, Inc. shows only 20 percent of the public in favor of such a pact?

Should Congress adopt tougher gun control laws? One would think so, judging from Gallup and National Opinion Research Center polls which have shown, for nearly two decades, that upwards of two-thirds of the public favors such a move.

But then again, why be hasty? A new Decision Making Information survey shows an identical two-thirds majority opposed to additional gun controls.

The examples could go on, indefinitely. For every poll producing a majority opinion in favor of something, another can be found to yield exactly the opposite result.

Which might be harmless enough fun, not to mention lucrative employment for pollsters, were it not for the tendency of elected public officials and policy makers to put so much faith in survey data.

Politicians, who are past masters of the art of manipulating words to produce a desired response from their audiences, should be the first to recognize myriad ways in which poll questions can be rigged to yield a particular response. Instead, they swallow the results without so much as a grain of salt and happily regurgitate those which buttress their own biases.

Opinion research, notwithstanding the claims of its practitioners, is far from an exact science. While it is indeed possible to select a statistically sound sample that is representative of the population as a whole, it takes more than a fair sample to produce a good poll.

As responsible pollsters will readily acknowledge, the wording of survey questions and the order in which they are presented can drastically alter the responses elicited.

The format of a poll - personal interviews versus telephone queries - can likewise influence the outcome, since complex multiple-choice questions cannot effectively be asked by phone.

A carefully constructed poll conducted for a client such as a newspaper which has no particular ax to grind can be a useful, if limited, guide to public thinking on a particular issue, especially if the same question is asked over a period of years.

So-called "advocacy" polling, undertaken by professional survey firms but using questions dictated in whole or in part by their special interest clients, is far less likely to produce an unbiased result. If you know who commissioned a poll of this sort, you can almost always predict what it will show-without even looking at the data.

Opinion polls make delightful reading for politicians, journalists, businessmen and indeed the general public. But let the reader beware. Polls, like computers, suffer extensively from the "GIGO" syndrome - Garbage In, Garbage Out.

Cooking exciting and nutritious meals for one or two diners is a challenge that begins at the market and continues in the kitchen. Frequently time, money, preferences and lack of enough variety make preparing large roasts and full recipes impractical.

Mini-House Party Set

Texas Woman's Missionary Union (WMU) will present a "Mini-House Party" April 6-8 at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

The Mini-House Party, which will feature Christian missions, is one of six regional meeting celebrating the centennial of Texas WMU. The WMU is an auxiliary to the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Women and men from Baptist churches in the area will attend the Mini-House Party, which is a regional version of a popular statewide meeting. "Brave Past-Bold Future" is the theme.

The Mini-House Party will begin with registration at 1 p.m. Friday, April 6, and conclude on Sunday morning, April 8. Registration fee is $3 per person. Speakers will include Cal Guy, missions professor, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Boswll, missionaries, Brazil; Mrs. Charles Love, missionary, Guyana; and Mrs. Woodson Armes, writer, Stephenville.

choices adapt well to serving one or two, according to Reba Staggs, home economist for the National Live Stock and Meat Board. For example, beef sirloin steak is an appropriate cut to buy for two meals. When cut in half, one piece can be cubed for kabobs and the other broiled for hearty steak dinner.

Pork chops are another item that can be purchased in small quantity for braising or broiling. The cook's seasoning touches can make them gourmet fare.

Ground beef is another practical choice to serve one or two. It mixes with numerous ingredients for a variety of entrees.

Careful creativity is essential in planning tantalizing menus and imagination is an important ingredient when converting leftovers into new dishes.

Some recipes, such as the following two, are easily divisible to serve one or two.

Sirloin-Pepper Kabobs

1 beef sirloin steak, cut 1½" thick
½ cup salad oil
¼ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon brown sugar
¼ teaspoon onion powder
12 squares sweet red or green pepper (1½ x 1½ inches)

Remove bone and cut steak into sixteen 1½" cubes. Combine oil, lemon juice, salt, paprika, dry mustard, sugar and onion powder. Add marinade to beef cubes. Cover and refrigerate 4 hours or overnight. Alternate beef cubes with pepper squares. Place on grill making certain coals have burned down. Grill 15 to 20 minutes, turning occasionally until brown. 4 servings.

Beefy Green Peppers

1 pound ground beef
2 large or 4 small green peppers, cut in half and seeded
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
½ cup instant rice, uncooked
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup catsup

Cook green pepper halves in boiling salted water 5 minutes. Invert and drain thoroughly. Combine ground beef, rice, onion, salt, pepper and catsup. Spoon into the peppers. Place peppers in a shallow baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Top with catsup or cheese the last 5 minutes of baking, if desired. 4 servings.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

The bidding needs some explanation. West's three diamonds was a weak jump overcall meant to show a strong six- or seven-card suit with little outside strength. North's three spades was rather light; he should have passed. East's four diamonds was intended to impede the opponents, but South judged his hand good enough to barge into slam.

Even though East-West have a cheap save in seven diamonds (they go down four tricks), they judged their defensive prospects adequate to defeat the contract.

An original heart lead by West would have defeated the contract, but he could not be blamed for going with the king of diamonds. When dummy came down, declarer did not like his chances. Aside from the unlikely occurrence of a queen-jack club doubleton, there did not seem many favorable ways to go.

Regardless, South found a way to make the contract. He ruffed the opening diamond with the king of spades and led the queen of spades to dummy, where he overtook with the ace. He happily noted the fall of the spade nine from the West hand.

Declarer ruffed another diamond in his hand with the eight of spades and led his carefully preserved five of spades to dummy's six. After ruffing another diamond, the stage was set. Declarer played ace, king and a third club.

East was end-played. He had to win with the queen. He now had the dubious choice of either playing a heart away from the king-jack into North's queen or playing a diamond and giving declarer a ruff and discard. Whichever way he went, the slam was cold.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Tip top shape — but big

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 34-year-old woman, 5 feet 10 with a large frame and weigh 186 pounds. I run four and a half miles six days a week, bike four miles six days a week and swim at least one and a half hours a week. I only consume 1200 to 1300 calories and that's a balanced diet. Also, I'm very active during the day and spend very little time sitting. Why does my weight stay high? Is it most beneficial to do push ups, leg lifts, pull ups and sit ups every day or every other day? I would appreciate your comments.

DEAR READER — You sound like you're in top shape. Since you're 5 feet 10 and have a large frame, it follows that you are just a big woman. There is nothing wrong with that.

You need to learn to think in terms of the difference between fat and muscle. That determines whether or not you need to lose weight and how much. You can tell by noticing how much fat there is under your skin. The waist and small of the back is a good place to check that. If you have much of a fat roll around the middle, then you do have some fat to lose, but if you're all muscle, forget it.

I'm rather dubious about your statement that you only eat 1200 to 1300 calories a day, particularly if you're telling the truth about how much physical activity you do. A person your size would normally use 1500 calories a day if they just stayed in bed all day and did nothing.

There is a basic law of nature that you can't change, any more than you can change the fact the sun comes up in the east. Energy is neither created nor destroyed. This is called the law of conservation of energy. If you are going to spend that much energy, you'll need to consume an equal amount of energy to keep from losing weight.

I'm so convinced that either your story isn't true or else that you need some help on how to count calories that I'm sending you The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet. This is a balanced diet of about 1300 calories a day. If you stick to that and follow the exercise you're doing, I'm confident that you will lose weight. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Regarding how frequently you should do the the set of exercises you mentioned, it depends upon what your goal is. If you want to use up calories, the more frequent the better. If you are interested in growing muscles, then you really only need to do them about every other day. In fact, good studies show that once you've developed good muscle size and strength, a good program that uses the muscles to their fullest extent once a week is adequate to maintain them.

Calisthenic exercises as you describe do not stimulate large muscle development. Muscles get only as large as they need to be to lift a given weight. The larger the weight you lift, the larger the muscles become. Pull ups might cause you to develop large arm muscles because they must support all 186 pounds of your body weight.

Mishap, Two Thefts Logged

Two alleged thefts and a minor traffic accident were the objects of police investigation yesterday.

J.M. McKinney, the owner of railroad ties being discarded by the Santa Fe Railway, told officers he found approximately 75 crossties at a private residence. He reported the incident to police after he and another subject were unable to determine disposition of the property. Police reports indicate the matter will be submitted to the district attorney.

Ms. Warren Badger, manager of the Cozy Courts Apartments, told officers a tenant skipped out owing her $194 in rent and taking with him $20 worth of her linen.

The only traffic accident yesterday was at the intersection of 37th St. and Ave. V. At that location, reports show, a 1976 Oldsmobile driven by Islasu Blaklev Minor and a 1964 Chevrolet driven by Marion Wren Jackson collided at 2:55 p.m.

Nuclear Hearings Set

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) —Testimony on the environmental risks of operating floating nuclear power plants proposed for the East and Gulf coasts was scheduled to begin today at a Nuclear Regulatory Commission hearing here.

NRC spokesman Clare Miles in Washington said Tuesday that the hearing, which could last until Friday, is on a year-old application by Offshore Power Systems Inc. of Jacksonville, Fla., to manufacture eight offshore plants.

Environmental groups in New Jersey and Washington have raised questions about the effects of normal radioactive and thermal discharges on living organisms and other elements in the food chain.

The company, a Westinghouse subsidary, is seeking permission to construct plants and sell them to utilities along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

OPC said none of the proposed plants have been sold, but there is speculation that as many as four of the eight could be located off the Texas Gulf Coast if buyers could be found.

Al Cellier, president of OPS, said Tuesday that the Pennsylvania accident should have little impact on hearings, but he said he was concerned that public reaction to the accident may cause utilities to lose confidence in nuclear power.

"I consider it (The Harrisburg accident a serious accident, but I don't consider it a disaster," said Cellier, who added that news reports have been exagerated. "My God, the most horrible of horribles has happened up there and the system works."

That system, and how it works is the target of environmental groups, who believe that an accident at a floating plant would have more severe consequences because contamination could spread across a wide body of water.

Snyder Off To Good Start...

Tigers Edge Cubs, Take 3-3A Lead

Coach Albert Lewis' Snyder Tigers took control of the wheel here yesterday and they'll be driving hard for the next several weeks.

With two outs in the fourth inning, Toby Neves smacked a fast-dropping looper between the shortstop and left fielder to send pinch runner Wes Partain scrambling for home plate.

The run turned the trick for the Tigers, who hung on to chalk a 2-1 win over Brownfield and take control over the District 3-3A standings.

Having faced and defeated Lamesa 4-1 on Monday, Snyder boasts a 2-0 record while both Brownfield and the Tors - who meet each other Friday - are 0-1.

"I feel like we're real fortunate," commented Coach Lewis. "Both Lamesa and Brownfield have good pitchers. They are improved over last year. We're going to have a tough time with them."

Lewis especially gave praise to Brownfield's Roy Lee Tealer who fanned 10 Snyder batters yesterday and walked only one.

"I had heard he was good but I didn't realize he was going to be as good as he was," Lewis added. "He was great. Our younger players are going to have a lot of trouble with him. But, hey, I don't want to give him all the praise, we've got a real fine group of pitchers, too."

Tony Degrate opened the game for Snyder and hung on until the fourth inning when Brownfield tied the score 1-1 with the aid of a single, a sacrifice and a double.

Sid Everton, supporting a 0.83 earned-run average, came in and hurled the final three innings, picking up a save in the process.

Degrate struckout five batters and allowed two hits. He walked three. Everton fanned four Cubs, gave up no hits and walked none.

Snyder cashed in early as Bryan Vincent, lead-off batter, secured first base and reached second on a passed ball. Mitch Mackey slammed him around moments later, and Everton brought him in on a single.

Brownfield tied the game in the top of the fourth inning after Murphy singled on, Ricky Romero chopped a sacrifice to get him along and Tealer punched a long double to bring him home.

Snyder went back ahead to stay in the bottom of the stanza. Scott Crenwelge drilled a single and Neves brought runner Partain (for Crenwelge) in. Kyle Short also slapped a base hit to push Mike Hicks (running for Neves) to second, but with two outs already accounted for, Tealer struck down the next batter to retire the side.

The Tigers, 12-6 for the season, will host Lamesa on April 10.

'Coaters' Tourney Tees Off At WTC Course Saturday

The first annual Gold Coat Memorial Scholarship Golf Tournament will be held at Western Texas College course April 7.

The single-day tournament is open to all local and area golfers, and was instituted by citizens wishing to honor the memory of Bentley Baize and Loren Sullivan, and others to be named in the future.

All proceeds will go to a Western Texas College general scholarship fund.

The tournament, a Florida Scramble type, will have tee times at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. A $10 minimum entry fee, plus a $4 green fee for non-members of the WTC Course, will be the charge.

The meet will consist of 72 two-player teams on a first-come first-serve basis.

Plaques will be awarded for first through fourth places, and a number of other prizes will be given also.

Goldcoaters and college representatives stress that those not wishing to participate, but interested in donating to the fund, make checks payable to the WTC Gold Coat Scholarship Fund and mail or take by the local chamber of commerce. Donations are tax deductable.

Anyone wishing to participate in the tournament is asked to make reservations at the WTC Pro Shop or call 915-573-9291.

Girls Run District Track Meet Here

The District 7-B Girls high school and junior high track and field meet will be held at Tiger Stadium here tomorrow beginning at 9 a.m.

Eight junior high and seven varsity teams will vie for honors. The top two places in each event will advance to regional.

Coming in as favorites in the meet will be Loraine and Roby, whose larger schools give them more depth than Ira, Westbrook, Highland, Hermleigh, Hobbs or McCaulley. McCaulley will run in the junior high division only.

Despite the expected dominance of the two schools, several others have some top talent.

Highland returns state champion miler Hope Fullwood. Miss Fullwood ran a 5:20.5 recently this year.

Ira fields some of the best material in the district with Linda Cooley in the shot put and Donna Layne in the high jump.

Roby's dominance will speak clearly with the likes of Mary Nell Clayton, a 35-plus triple jumper who has also to her credit a long jump of over 17 feet.

The junior high 400 meters will kick off the morning prelims. Field events are scheduled to begin after the trials, at 10:30. Finals will begin at 2 p.m.

In junior high competition Roby and Ira are the favorites. Dana Parham is one of the top 100 dash athletes in the area, as is Kelly Bryant in the 200 meter dash. Both are from Ira.

Hobbs' Mary Cave is a definite threat in the 800 meters.

The meet is open to the public. District 7-B boys high school and junior high action will be held here on April 12.

Bryant Speaks To WGA Group

Don Bryant, golf professional at the Snyder Country Club, was the guest speaker of the Snyder Women's Golf Association yesterday. Over 30 members were on hand as the organization held its first luncheon and business meeting of the year at the clubhouse.

Bryant informed that new ladies tee boxes and cart paths will soon be added to the course. He then led a discussion concerning golfing etiquette and rules of play.

In addition to the regular Tuesday play days, the women's group will sponsor a mixed foursome on the first Sunday of each month. The "Twilight Swingers" program, a mixed foursome event held each Friday, is also sponsored by the ladies. It will begin May 4 at 5:30.

Carolyn Greene encouraged all members to help with concessions for the men's Pump-Jack Tournament, April 28-29.

Pauline Ellis, Nancy Richard, Doris Gard, Ramona Reed and Irene Lemen were welcomed as new members.

Strong Lineup At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Lanny Wadkins, the only two-time winner on the PGA Tour this season, heads the strongest field the $250,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament has managed to assemble in more than a decade.

"I'm playing pretty well right now," said Wadkins. "When you've got it going, you want to keep it going."

While Wadkins, winner of the Los Angeles Open and Tournament Players Championship, had this event on his schedule from the start, several players made last-minute entries, decisions that gave the old event its strongest lineup in many years.

"I need to play. I need the work. I admit I may be looking forward to the Masters next week, but I had to play," said Hale Irwin, who made a late commitment for the event that gets started Thursday on the 6,984-yard, par-72 Forest Oaks Country Club course.

Tom Weiskopf, who hasn't finished higher than 67th in his last four starts, was another late entry, obviously needing to sharpen his game for the Masters in Augusta, Ga. - the event that often prompts many leading players to skip this tournament.

This year, however, so many exempt players - 143 - entered, PGA deputy commissioner for tour operations Clyde Mangum had to expand the field from the planned 144 to 150 to provide spots for the 72 men attempting to qualify.

Stars Set For Cage Play In Levelland

Little Dribbler All-Star Basketball teams from Snyder will be in Seminole April 5-7 for the regional tournament.

The Major Division team, made up of boys 10-12 years of age, will play 1 p.m. Thursday against the Seminole National team. Winner of the game will play Kermit at 7:15. Kermit drew a bye in the opening round. The winner of the Thursday night game will play at 7:15 p.m. Friday.

Play for the Junior Division team, made up of 9-year olds, will begin at 4:45 p.m. when they meet the winner of the Seminole American-Kermit game. The junior team drew a bye in the opening round. The winner of the Thursday game will play at 4:45 p.m. Friday.

Seminole will be represented by two teams, the American and National, in the Major Division. Also playing in addition to the Snyder and Kermit teams will be a team from Lamesa.

Competing in the Junior Division will be two teams from Seminole, and teams from Snyder, Lamesa and Kermit.

Championship games for both divisions will be played Saturday, the junior game at 6 p.m. and the major division game at 7:15 p.m.

Hermleigh Second Place 7-B Golf

SWEETWATER — Westbrook girls fired a 530 to grab first place in the 7-B District Girls Golf Tournament here yesterday.

Hermleigh girls were second with a score of 537. Both teams - and the top two medalist - qualify for regional play April 18-19 in Levelland.

Medalist for the tournament was Rita Hinshaw of Highland. Hinshaw shot a 124 to win over runner-up Carla Young of McCaulley. Young fired a 125.

Other medalists were Lisa Anderson of Westbrook, 128; Von Del Henry of Hermleigh, 128; Maxann Preston of Ira, 130; and Sheila Jeffery of McCaulley, 130.

Those on the Hermleigh golf team were Jo Ann Henry, Ricki Gannaway, Lois Hess and Von Del Henry.

The District 7-B boys tournament will be held here on April 17.

Textile Works Of Munro On Display

Twenty textile works by Rebecca Munro of Austin will be on display in the Fine Arts Gallery of Western Texas College during the month of April.

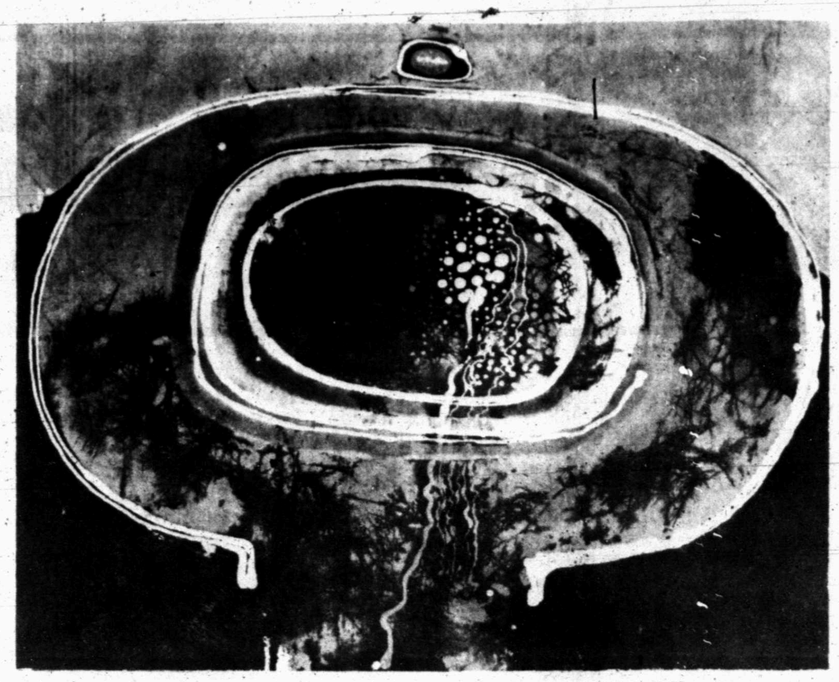
The gallery is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. each weekday and the public is invited to see the show without admission charge. While on campus, visitors are also invited to see the exhibit of graphics by Marian Ford of Midland in the Scurry County Museum.

Several of the works in Ms. Munro's show have been created using the traditional batik principle. Wax is applied to the fabric where the artist does not want dye to affect the material. The fabric is dipped in a dye bath and the wax is then melted out of the fabric, leaving unaffected the areas where the wax had been.

Other works are combinations of collage, painted on dyes, and printing with wood blocks or Javanese tjaps.

Ms. Munro received the Bachelor of Arts degree in art from the University of Texas in Austin in 1969. She participated in a Navajo Weaving workshop taught by Noel Bennett in 1975 and a workshop conducted by Dick Sauer on ikat dyeing last year.

She has taught a number of fiber classes in Austin and has been in numerous shows around the state. She currently exhibits her work in galleries in Austin, Houston, San Antonio and Dallas. She is a past president of the Weavers' Co-op of Austin, and served on the Vending Commission for the City of Austin's Peoples' Renaissance Market for the Arts and Crafts from 1976-78.



BATIK -- This batik is similar to those by Rebecca Munro of Austin now on exhibit in the Fine Arts Gallery at Western Texas College. The show includes textile works created by batik and various other fiber techniqu s, and it is to remain in the gallery through April 27.

More Rabies Cases Found

AUSTIN (AP)-More rabies cases are being found from samples submitted to the Department of Health laboratory here, Dr. Foy McCasland, director of Veterinary Public Health said Tuesday.

"There is a considerable increase in positive samples from dogs this year and there has been a constant increase since 1975," McCasland said.

He said the laboratory normally tests about 7,800 samples for rabies each year. In 1975 about 4.2 percent of the samples turned up positive. For the first part of this year, he said, the samples were 15 percent positive.

"We are concerned because of this increase," McCasland said. "A lot of skunks are found to be rabid but the real danger to humans is from dogs, who may get it from the skunks."

McCasland said the vaccines used for dogs is considered as effective as it has been in the past, "although no vaccine can e 100 percent effective."

The veterinary bureau estimates there are at ast 50,000 dog bite cases in Texas every year, although most of them are never reported.

"We believe if we can get 75 percent of the dog population vaccinated we can prevent the spread of rabies," he said.

New Option Available To Veteran Pensioners

Veterans and widows receiving pensions from the Veterans Administration may elect to make a change in their benefit payments, E.H. (Dan) Dever, Scurry County Veterans Service officer, said.

In the envelope with their VA checks on March 1, 1979, the pensioners were furnished with a card relating to this new option. Pensioners need counseling by someone familiar with the law to determine whether they should make the change, Dever said. The pensioners have the right to continue receiving under their current law of entitlement, or to change to the new law which went into effect Jan. 1, 1979. Once an election is made to change, the benficiary cannot go back to the old law benefits.

Pensioners with little or no income from other sources may receive considerable increases in their benefits. Those with large amounts of income may, following competent counseling, find they can receive larger monthly payments by remaining under their old entitlement.

Dever is available for counseling at his office in the Western Texas College Administration Building each weekday. He will be out of the office Thursday and Friday this week to attend a workshop for county service officers in Big Spring. Persons wishing to make appointments with Dever may call his office at 573-8511, extension 212.

A Pension Seminar for Senior Citizens is scheduled in the Senior Center at 1 p.m. on April 11.

The administration building of Texas Southmost College in Brownsville was once the post hospital of Fort Brown, established in 1846. It was in the hospital that William Crawford Gorgas, later U.S. Army Surgeon General, first began his work that led to elimination of yellow fever as a recurrent epidemic in Texas.--Texas Highways Magazine

Untested Concrete Said Used In Texas Reactor

GLEN ROSE (AP)-Untested concrete has been used in construction of portions of the Comanche Peak nuclear power plant in North Central Texas, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported today.

For at least three years, concrete inspectors at the plant under construction southwest of Fort Worth periodically failed to properly perform certain quality control tests related to the composition of concrete, its condition when being used and its strengths after it was already in place.

The Star-Telegram reported its findings in a copyright story by Michael Millenson, who spent four months investigating it.

The failure to perform the tests occurred both intentionally and because the concrete was poured too quickly to inspect, the newspaper reported.

In some cases the results were forged, it reported.

Officials of companies involved in the plant construction denied there are any quality control problems now.

But officials at Texas Utilities Generating Co., charged with final approval of quality assurance program at the construction site, acknowledged there were "management problems" with the Richard W. Hunt Co. of Chicago, which ran the concrete testing laboratory until mid-1978.

TUGCO is a subsidiary of Texas Utilities Inc., the parent company of Texas Electric Service Co., Dallas Power & Light and Texas Power & Light.

TUGCO assumed responsibility for the concrete testing lab in July. Officials said any difficulties which existed previously have been solved.

Quality Assurance Manager Ron Tolson said that 70 percent more concrete was placed in 1978, than the year before, and with a staff of 40 percent below what estimates showed would be needed.

"We've got a happy group of people and a very productive group of people," Tolson said.

He denied that quality control problems had been widespread under Hunt management or that safety had been compromised in any way.

But those with first-hand knowledge of the test failures and independent experts contacted by the Star-Telegram stressed that the probability was very small that the tests which went unperformed would affect the concrete enough to pose a danager to the public.

Death Probed In Abilene

ABILENE (AP)-Authorities are looking into the death of a Abilene woman, who according to the death certificate, died following the the accidental administration of a dose of a solution containing formal-dehyde.

Ollie Sutton, the the husband of Shirley Jean Sutton, requested an autopsy and a police investigation following the death of his 35-year-old wife at Hendrick Medical Center.

But Sutton said he would not hestitate to go into the hospital for treatment.

"I have an uncle who is a heart patient and he says 'Oh, I'm afraid to go to Hendrick.' I'm not afraid to go back...It was a human error; not the building itself, but someone inside," said Sutton.

Time for Reflection

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the man who seriously injured a boy on a bike struck home with me. (He said he didn't even see the lad until after he hit him since it was dark, the boy was wearing dark clothes and had no lights on his bike.)

Abby, that's exactly what happened to our son—only he was killed instantly.

We live in New Hampshire, and a few years ago they started giving the kids in all the elementary schools packets of reflector buttons (called "Hot Dots"). They're about the size of a quarter, have sticky backs and can be attached to clothing, boots, bikes—anything a child wears or carries. These Hot Dots light up in the dark and make the child visible to motorists.

Every time I see a youngster at night with those reflectors on his clothes and bike, I can't help but think that if my son had had them when he was riding his bike that rainy night, he'd be 22 years old now.

NEW HAMPSHIRE MOM

DEAR MOM: I checked out the Hot Dot Safety program and learned that since Gov. Meldrim Thomson Jr. initiated it in 1974, New Hampshire's child pedestrian death toll has been reduced 40 percent.

But Hot Dots are not for children only. Adults, especially older folks, should use them on their coats, hats, shoes and umbrellas!

DEAR ABBY: This is in reference to the 12-year-old boy who was struck by a car while riding his bike in the dark without lights.

Twelve years ago Ted did the same thing. Fortunately, he was not hurt, but his bike was badly damaged. The next day, the man who hit him came to the house with his insurance agent—all apologies, offering to repair the damaged bike.

Ted's face lit up, but his mother, who had very strict principles, said, "Not a penny will he get! Ted disobeyed my orders by riding his bike at night before he had his lights fixed. He could have been crippled or killed. I will not allow him to be rewarded for disobeying me. The bicycle repairs will come out of his allowance!"

And that's the way it was.

Maybe our insurance rates would go down if we had more people with principles like Ted's mother.

SUSIE

DEAR SUSIE: And so would our juvenile delinquincy rate—which is even more important.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and very much in love with a wonderful guy. There is only one thing wrong with him. When he makes a date with me, I can never be sure if he will keep it. He has stood me up about half the time, but when he starts explaining the reasons, I forgive him and we start in again where we left off.

He's a real neat kid, Abby. Is there some way I can get him to quit standing me up? If it weren't for that, he'd be perfect.

KATHY IN AIKEN, S.C.

DEAR KATHY: That one imperfection is probably the most revealing clue to your boyfriend's character. His word is no good. If a man's word is no good, he is nothing. And a girl who gets herself involved with a guy like that is headed for misery. The word from here is: "lose him."

Do you hate to write letters of condolences, congratulations, and thanks. It's not difficult when you let Abby guide you in her booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Tax Credit For Targeted Jobs

Employers who hire certain persons in disadvantaged categories can get a significant tax credit under the new Targeted Jobs Tax Credit (TJTC), says the Texas Employment Commission.

This elective tax credit applies for certified employees hired after Sept. 26, 1978. It amounts to 50 per cent of the first-year wages up to $6,000 and 25 per cent of second year wages up to $6,000, says Anna K. Carman, office manager of the Sweetwater TEC office.

Local job service office of the Texas Employment Commission can provide employers with the names of agencies which certify eligibility of the workers, and provide a tax credit voucher, and an IRS tax credit certificate within 72 hours, Mrs. Carman explained.

Persons certified for TJTC hiring include those receiving Supplemental Security Income; the handicapped as referred from Vocational Rehabilitation; youth 18-24 from low income families; Vietnam era veterans under 35 and economically disadvantaged; receipients of State or local welfare for 30 days or more; youth 16-18 in cooperative education programs; and disadvantaged ex-convicts (convicted of felony) and hired within five years of conviction or release.

For further information call Texas Employment Commission in Sweetwater, 235-8418, or visit the office at 114 W. Broadway.

Payments Due Corn, Sorghum Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers who participated in the 1978 corn and sorghum acreage set-aside programs soon will be getting federal subsidies totaling $265 million as "deficiency" payments.

The payments will be made by county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service "in early April," Ray Fitzgerald, head of the agency, said Tuesday.

Payments will run about $175 million to grain sorghum producers and $90 million for corn farmers, he said.

The deficiency payments make up the difference between the national average market price for the first five months of the marketing year that began last Oct. 1 and the "target" prices specified in the program.

Price Of Beef To Rise 20 Percent By Summer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Beef prices, already setting records, will rise about 20 percent this year, probably reaching their highest point this summer, the Agriculture Department estimates.

The department said Tuesday the rise in beef prices "probably will peak sometime during the summer," when an increase in pork and poultry supplies is expected to help stem the rise.

But that still means the all-out beef price used by economists probably will be about $2.18 a pound by year's end - compared to last year's record average of $1.82 a pound.

The all-cut average, $1.62 a pound in February 1978, had soared to $2.14 a pound this February, when the average price was 32.3 percent higher than the same month in 1978 and 4.4 percent above the average price in January of this year.

The latest estimate of a 20 percent hike in beef prices for 1979 outdistances Agriculture Department estimates released in January. At that time, officials said beef prices might rise an additional 14 percent this year.

On a brighter note, Agriculture officials also reported Tuesday that retail pork prices "will decline, but the extent of their decline will be limited by the reduced beef supply."

They predicted that 1979 pork prices "are expected to average just above" the 1978 price of $1.44 a pound.

The steady increase in beef prices is blamed by analysts on an abundance of beef in 1976 and 1977. A record 42.6 million cattle were slaughtered in 1976, sending prices for a pound of choice beef down from $1.55 in 1975 to an average $1.48 in 1976.
