The first, or front page, of the souvenir issue is dated April 16, 1912, and carries the account of the sinking of the ocean liner Titanic in which 1,400 persons perished. All items on the front page of the issue dealt with the sinking of the Titanic, except a two-paragraph story about chicken stealing in Kansas and a one-paragraph report on the attorney general's approval of a Harris County bond issue.

Capping off the series of major events is one which school children of today will reczll—John Glenn's space trip around the world, the first for this country. It is carried on the reproduction of the Chronicle's front page of Feb. 20, 1962.

Two events of subsequent years may be eligible for such a souvenir edition now—the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, and the landing on the moon by U.S. astronauts.—WACIL McNAIR

FOR TALKS WITH PRESIDENT TITO

Nixon In Belgrade

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The first American president to visit Yugoslavia, Richard M. Nixon arrived in Belgrade today for talks with President Tito.

The Middle East situation was high on their list of topics. Tito is a leader in the so-called nonaligned world, owing allegiance to neither superpower, and was a close friend of Gamal Abdel Nasser. But he decided to forgo the Egyptian president's funeral Thursday in order to hold to his schedule and receive Nixon.

The U.S. chief executive flew here from Naples, Italy, where he reaffirmed the American commitment to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The President spent 65 hours in Italy, concluding his visit with conferences with NATO commanders ane U.S. envoys stationed in the Mediterranean area.

He told his Naples audience that the Mediterranean should not be an American sea but one "that will belong to all people."

Standing in bright sunshine on a plaza in front of the NATO headquarters building, the President said that "in a period of instability, uncertainty and a possible lack of confidence," people need an instrument they "can hang onto."

He said NATO is that instrument, and declared that the United States "remains strong and firm in its commitment" to the alliance.

Nixon asserted that NATO serves the best interests of all its member countries and said the United States is determined that the Mediterranean "will not be our sea but a sea that will belong to all peoples."

Nixon went to the headquarters to discuss the "general strategic posture" of the United States in the Mediterranean with the chiefs of NATO's southern command.

On Tuesday, he called top U.S. diplomats from 13 Mediterranean countries together for a conference on the problems of Europe and the Middle East.

The meeting focused on the future of the Middle East in light of the death Monday of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Nixon also was expected to discuss potential solutions to the persistent Middle East crisis in his talks today with President Tito of Yugoslavia.

Guerrillas Charge Truce Violation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Palestine guerrillas charged that Jordan's army broke the uneasy truce today by shelling two towns in the northern part of the country.

A statement broadcast over Danascus radio said Irbin, 50 miles north of Amman, and Ramtha 10 miles to the east, came under artillery fire and "the roar of the explosions can be clearly heard from the Syrian border."

The guerrillas charged the bombardment was "an open violation" of the truce agreement reached in Cairo Sunday between King Hussein and the Palestinian Leader, Yasir Arafat.

The Palestinian charge came after an Arab committee named to supervise a settlement of Jordan's 11-day civil war announced in Amman that fighting had ended and calm prevailed throughout the kingdom.

In another sector of the stormy Middle East, Israel has declared its willingness to extend the cease-fire with Egypt.

Dignitaries Gather For Nasser Rites

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

CAIRO (AP) — Kings and presidents are gathering in Cairo for Gamal Abdel Nasser's state funeral Thursday, but the fallen Egyptian president's cortege will belong to the people.

The government requisitioned Cairo's major hotels to house the dignitaries, who began arriving Tuesday night. Millions of Nasser's subjects also poured into the city and its suburb, Kubbem, where his body lay in state in the presidential palace and will be buried in a public mosque.

Cairo Radio said the funeral procession will begin at the old revolutionary headquarters on Gezira Island in the Nile River and will end at the mosque, five miles from Kubbah Palace.

The high-ranking foreigners —the United States will be represented by a five-man delegation headed by Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Elliot Richardson—will march across Kasr el Nil Bridge into Cairo, through Liberation Square and onto the premises of the Arab Socialist Union, by Nasser's decree the only political party in Egypt.

There the heads of state and official representatives will withdraw, and the mourning Arab multitudes will take the procession through areas which Nasser had developed early in his reign to symbolize change in Egyptian life.

Burial will be at Manshiet el Bakary Mosque, built with public donations two years ago. Nasser himself contributed to the project.

According to Moslem tradition, Nasser's interment should have been within 24 hours of his death Monday at the age of 52. It was delayed to allow representatives of foreign governments to arrive.

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union, Nasser's most prominent patron during the last few years, was among the first to arrive. Weeping as he left his plane, he was embraced by Anwar Sadat, the acting Egyptian president, and Gen. Mohammed Fawzi, commander-in-chief of Egypt's military, their eyes reddened by tears.

A UNITED FUND AGENCY

Boys' Club Serves 600

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of articles on the Scurry County United Fund and the service agencies it supports. The articles were prepared by Mrs. Bootsie Coleman, member of the UF campaign publicity committee, of which Mrs. Joe Pitts is chairman. Today's article deals with the Scurry County Boys' Club.

The Scurry County Boys Club, under the direction of Jack McGlaun, has been approved by the Board of Directors of United Fund to receive 37.84 per cent of the total goal of $42,442.44 in the current campaign.

Boys Clubs of America were originated in the 30's for underprivileged boys. In Scurry county, where there is no YMCA, it serves boys of all economic levels. Scurry County Boys Club was chartered in January, 1957.

Snyder Public School system gave land and existing building to Scurry County for the specific use as a Boys Club. The existing building burned in 1965 and was rebuilt with funds from insurance, county and from the Dora E. Cunningham Trust Fund by Dan Gibson.

Donations through United Fund represent virtually all of the money to operate the Boys Club. Utility bills are paid by Scurry County and the county Park Department keeps the grounds. The Snyder Public School system provides custodial care of the building and also provides buses for trips and the cost to employ a college student to help at the club during the summer months. The Cunningham Trust Fund through Dan P. Gibson Estate makes capital improvements.

All money is utilized locally except one per cent of the budget, which is sent to National headquarters and is fed back to the local Boys Club through instruuctional material on programs and other useful information, as well as tangible items donated at the national level by private industry and distributed to the local boys clubs. The return value to the Boys Club far exceeds the one per cent ($160 in 1970-71). The past year some of the items received were an abundant

How to get someone to see a psychiatrist

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: You frequently recommend psychiatric help, but you never say how to get a person to see a psychiatrist, and that's our problem.

A member of our family needs psychiatric help. Our family physician told us so, but if we just mention the word "psychiatrist" she tears the place apart, saying she isn't "crazy." Do you think we could prevail upon a psychiatrist to come to the house and pretend to be just a "friend"—or a regular doctor? That way he could observe the patient, and maybe win her confidence, and then later on treat her? If she knew he was a psychiatrist, she wouldn't even stay in the same room with him.

She likes and trusts the family physician, but HE says he can't do any more for her, she needs a psychiatrist. She refuses to go. Any suggestions?

MEMBER OF THE FAMILY

DEAR MEMBER: No reputable psychiatrist would permit himself to be introduced to a patient as a "friend" or even a "regular doctor." When the patient learns that the psychiatrist was part of a plan to trick her, she will lose all confidence in him and I wouldn't blame her. Ask the family physician, whom she likes and trusts, to try to persuade her to see a psychiatrist. Honesty is still the best policy.

DEAR ABBY: Can you please tell me where the custom of kissing a lady's hand originated? And why? S. C.

DEAR S. C.: It originated in France. A person has to start somewhere, and I suppose that's as good a place as any.

DEAR ABBY: People have written to say they were offended because they had received gifts which were obviously "used," and they accused the giver of trying to save money.

Whenever I have occasion to give a gift to a cherished friend, I first try to find something among my possessions that I have owned and loved [a small piece of jewelry, a rare old book, a piece of antique silver or china]. I am not trying to save money. I merely want to give something of "mine" which I hope will be considered more precious than a newly purchased item.

Many of the recipients have told me they were deeply touched by such a gift. And I sincerely hope that no one thought me "cheap" or shabby.

YOUR HIGGANUM CORRESPONDENT

DEAR CORRESPONDENT: I agree. A cherished item from one's own personal collection of treasures makes a far more precious gift than a newly purchased item. But there are those materialistic dolts around who regard an antique as a white elephant—whose giver is trying to get off for "peanuts."

DEAR ABBY: A widower wrote in to say that he had arranged for a little pleasure with a female companion at a local hotel, and was very much surprised when the daughter of a friend knocked on his door. I would like to ask the gentleman: "Whose daughter did you expect?" D. D.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Dynamite Truck Explodes

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — A truck loaded with commercial explosives, apparently hit by a sniper's bullet, disintegrated with a shattering blast on the western edge of Springfield early today. The truck driver was presumed killed.

The Missouri Highway Patrol reported a few hours later two men and two women had been arrested in connection with the case. Their names were withheld.

A witness told authorities he saw a man in a passing car fire a shot at the truck as it approached the Springfield city limits on Interstate 44.

The truck was operated by Dynamite Motors, Inc., of Joplin, Mo., which specializes in transportation of explosives and radioactive materials.

The firm has been struck by Teamsters Local 823 since Sept. 14.

The FBI joined sheriff's officers and the highway patrol in the investigation. There was no immediate indication of motive.

The blast, felt 15 miles away, dug a crater 30 feet deep and 50 feet wide in the highway, blocking all four lanes. It caused considerable damage in the area.

The truck driver was identified by the company as John Galt, 48, of Oklahoma City.

The peewee football program is not financed from the Boys Club general fund. It was begun from private businesses, the local Jaycees and individuals, and has become self supporting.

The boys are charged $3 each for a uniform fee and may work this out at the Boys Club. There are 188 boys between the ages of 9-12 signed up for football this year. Working out fees is a general practice also for boys wanting to go to camp or for their membership fees. The membership fees range from 50c. to $2 depending upon the boy's age.

Membership last year totaled approximately 600. Fifty-six boys went to the Boys Club Camp at Lake J.B. Thomas this past summer.

Through the Boys Club 128 boys were taken on Snyder School buses to Lubbock last fall to see Texas Tech play Baylor.

Activities at the Boys Club include: woodwork, arts and crafts, photography, boxing, trampoline, basketball, and story hours in the library. There are 4 large pool tables, 2 bumper pool tables, a shuffleboard, a miniature bowling game, and many small games.

Volunteers who work at the Boys Club are: Ann Powell, library; Foy Nutt, arts and crafts; Henry Loyd, boxing. The Club averages 60 to 70 boys attending each day.

Other organizations which use the Club facilities are: The Palette Club, Tops, and plans are underway for a womens exercise program in the mornings and mens Thursday night work-outs. Repeal Asked On Adult Censor Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — Discounting fears that pornography corrupts either individual Americans or the nation's moral climate, a divided Presidential Commission on Pornography has called for repeal of most U.S. adult censorship laws.

The commission's report recommends state laws against exposing children to smut or putting it on public display — but no ban on written erotica in either case — and a mass sex education program partly to blunt the public's taste for perverted sex information.

The final report was kept under wraps for release this afternoon but a two-week-old copy still subject to revision was obtained by The Associated Press.

The finding that pornography does not cause sex crimes is modified, apparently at least in part because of statistics showing an increase in rape arrests since an increase in erotica in the United States.

But the report still says extensive investigation has "found no evidence to date that exposure to explicit sexual material plays a significant role in the causation of delinquent or criminal behavior among youth or adults."

And it says the powerful influences in the current flux in U.S. sexual values include ready availability of contraceptives, the changing American woman's role, increased education and mobility — not the increase in pornography.

Three dissenting commissioners accused the commission majority of manipulating evidence and proposing moral anarchy. They recommended stiffer antiobscenity laws, prosecuting divisions in the Justice Department and state film censorship boards like Maryland's.

The recommendation for repeal of all 114 federal and state laws against importing, showing or selling erotica to adults was approved by 12 of the 18 commissioners.

They said censorship laws are so vague they are unevenly enforced and sometimes used against legitimate material and are rendered ineffective by a lack of public support.

Check Astrological Sign Before Choosing Perfume

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

We splurge a bit more on beauty accessories when we plan a vacation. For many girls, vacation is a time for romance.

No matter how practical minded one is about a budget all the year, a last-minute rush to beauty counters for scents and nonsense—false eyelashes, wigs, postiches, perfumes, bath oils and lotions—is part of the vacation fun.

When an inexperienced buyer decides to buy toilet water, cologne, scented soap, she may feel a sense of indecision. Is this scent too strong? Is this one too sweet? Is this so light it isn't worth the price?

If one has no other guide, a lot of scent cues may be found in astrology, if you look for it, suggests one perfumer. Little clues to your fragrance personality may be found in your horoscope chart—you might never think to consider a heady or floral scent if you didn't get clued in. Anyway, it is a fun way to select scents, says the young-minded company Hattie Carnegie, who has even given perfumes youthful names such as Agogo.

For example, they point out, if the Aquarian woman is born under the sign of rippling water and has a changeable and independent nature, she likes to do things her own way. For her, a heady fragrance drenched in jasmine may be just the thing.

And then there is the Pisces personality with its kind, generous sensitive nature that may be responsive to fragrances in sweet, flowery scents that go with a feminine, appealing personality.

Aries ladies have a reputation of being prime movers and innovators in their communities and jobs, say astrologers, and their perfumes should have a bit of tangy spiciness.

Venus is supposed to be ruler of the Taurean female, who is clingy, feminine, but totally aware of what she is doing. If she graviates to rose scents in fragrances, she may be on the right garden path.

Gemini girls have an intellectual nature, the stars say, and they are attracted to high places in social and business life. With her dual characteristics—she is born under the sign of the twins—she should have a selection of fragrances. A wardrobe of scents from soft to sultry may be necessary to satisfy her many moods.

Life in a steel and glass penthouse might be the style pace that would be set by the moon child born under the sign of Cancer, if astrologers are on the right track. She likes the modes of the moment, they confide, and carries the idea into fragrances. She will put her fragrance choice into soap, talc, skin perfume, and she will be attracted to zingy blends with enough woodsy undertones for come hitherness.

Women born under the sign of Leo are born managers, the stars say. Their perfume should pack a wallop to go with their authoritarian nature. And they are candidates for the exotic, hypnotic Oriental scents that may hold people under their spell.

On the other hand, Virgo, the sign that follows, is a reflective thinker sign, they tell us, and the scent should be chosen after deliberation. They will not be dissuaded from a lyrical kind of scent that persuades them that there is a real reason for wearing it.

Another star performer is the Libra woman, a one-scent type, who will select a perfume and wear it year after year. It is supposed to go with her sense of loyalty—she weighs intuition against intellect before reaching a final decision on a perfume, which might well be a flower scent.

The Scorpio woman may be intensely emotional, say the star gazers, and she may mirror this in her perfume preference. She is the ideal homemaker type and may be attracted to fragrances that are redolent in herbs with mossy highlights for seductiveness.

Quick-witted Capricorn women radiate femininity, and they often choose musky fragrances with flowery highlights. Perfume is the instinctive selection of these luxury loving types.

A good listener, excellent hostess and enthusiastic companion like the Sagitarian woman may enjoy scents that are steeped with romantic allusions—a strong scent of a delicate flower, like a garden that has just burst into bloom or a woodsy mixture that goes with her to the outdoors.

Even if one doesn't believe in astrology, it can be fun pretending, when there are so many interesting facets to it.

Altrurian Club To Give Scholarships

The Altrurian Club met Friday, Sept. 25, at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. Ross Blanchard, Sr. as hostess.

In the business session the club voted to give a scholarship to a suudent in Texas Western College, also to make a contribution to a music scholarship for a Snyder student in Texas Tech.

The course of study for the year is on environment. At this meeting the educational environment of the community was the topic.

Two very informative talks were given by Mr. J. M. Kayser who is concerned with the federal programs on remedial work and Headstart in the public school system and Mrs. Nellie Smith, an experienced teacher with exceptional children.

Mr. Kayser reviewed some of the problems and successes that have came to the Headstart and kindergarten projects which began in 1965. He explained the laws that govern the elegibility of children to be admitted to these classes, and told of the personel and equipment that is involved at the present time.

Mrs. Smith devoted most of her remarks to an analysis of the retarded child and the efforts of parents and teachers to guide this child in the fullest life possible to him.

Mrs. Smith said mental health may be partly determined by these three measures:

1. Our action adjustments or attempts to meet and overcome life's problems
2. The maintenance of inner stability when we must meet changing needs and circumstances.
3. The ability to see and judge correctly the world in which we live and to be ourselves as part of that world.

The hostess served a dessert plate to fourteen members.

Payroll Fringe Benefits Increasing Every Year

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If anything is more likely to rise than taxes it appears to be payroll fringe benefits, as they are called. Experience in the past 20 years shows that taxes don't always rise annually. But the record shows benefits do.

In fact, so large a portion of payrolls consists of indirect payments that the word "fringe" has become a misnomer and the word "benefit" is beginning to sound as dated as corporate paternalism.

The latest survey of the situation by the National Chamber of Commerce shows that benefits now average 27.9 per cent of employer payrolls, which is to say that more than a quarter of your income may not show up in your paycheck.

The sharp contrasts from one company to another in the amount of such compensations make salary comparisons almost meaningless these days, and often disguise tremendous advantages and disadvantages in certain companies.

Many couples who wonder why their neighbor seems to do so much better on the same salary, for example, may find the answer lies in a free company car, pension, life and health insurance, profit-sharing, bonuses, product discounts, free eduation and so on.

The Chamber survey, which is made once every two years and involves more than 1,000 companies, shows such payments through 1969 were up 330 per cent in 20 years, and 19 per cent since the previous survey year of 1967.

In 1949, the companies involved reported they paid $477 in benefits per worker. In 1969, this figure had risen to $2,052 for each employe.

The biggest increase, as might be expected, was in Social Security contributions which, being legislated, have little to do directly with corporate generosity. In 1949, the tab to companies was $27 a worker; in 1969, the figure was $335, a 1,141 per cent rise.

Unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation, also legislated, were up substantially, but some of the biggest increases were in pensions, insurance, vacations and other voluntary arrangements.

Some of the increases may be attributed to the long and strong economic surge of the 1960s that forced companies to compete more imaginatively for skilled workers, but that tells only part of the story.

Collective bargaining has a great deal to do with the rise. So has the growing recognition of workers that, as a social unit, their company can supply many services, such as insurance, that could not be afford separately.

Junior Editors Quiz on U.S.NAVY

QUESTION: Was there a time when there was no U.S. Navy?

* * *

ANSWER: In 1631, while we were still a colony of England, the Massachusetts colonists built a small bark, The Blessings of the Bay, to fight off pirates and maintain order. Several more such little fighting ships were built (upper left) and these are referred to as the Colonial Navy. In 1774, the colonists were taking things into their own hands, establishing a Continental Congress. This Congress, in 1775, established a small navy, which we refer to as the Continental Navy. If small, it was mighty in spirit. When the captain of the English Serapis demanded of John Paul Jones, captain of the badly battered Bonhomme Richard if he was ready to surrender, Jones yelled back, "I have not yet begun to fight!" But with the end of the Revolution, Congress decided to disband the navy, selling the last of its 53 ships in 1785, this date marking the beginning of the time the U.S.A. was without a navy. But by 1794, pirates in Barbary began to attack American ships and Congress authorized the building of six frigates. A new American navy — THE American navy, was then reactivated and has served our national purpose ever since. It is a mighty force toward the maintenance of peace.

Boyle Opens Mail And Learns

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Excessive drinkers who think a good diet safeguards them from brain damage may be in for a disillusionment. Tests made at the University of Florida College of Medicine on two groups of mice gave these results: mice fed an adequate diet plus alcohol learned more slowly, forgot more quickly than those fed an adequate diet without alcohol.

What color is your bathroom? A survey found that 40 per cent of the nation's bathrooms are now decorated pink.

Folklore says that if you find an unusual number of spiders in your house, or skunks move in under your barn, we're in for a terrible hard winter. On the other hand, if we have a white Christmas, that forecasts an early spring and a green Easter.

Quotable notables: Our love of God is tested by the question of whether we seek Him or His gifts."—Ralph W. Sockman.

Kachoo: What are your chances of catching a cold? They are 3 to 1 that you will come down with at least one a year, and some 25 per cent of the population will have four or more. On an ordinary winter day about 20 million Americans have the sneezes.

Pinky to thumb: Many children still learn their basic arithmetic by counting on their fingers. A survey of 206 Massachussetts kids disclosed that 149 began reckoning from their thumb and 57 from their little finger.

Household hints: To ripen bananas quickly, peel and place them in a 350-degree oven for 10 minutes.

Cover up: It's a good idea to wear a hat or cap if you have any kind of circulatory problem or are out in very cold weather. In 25-degree weather—and that's only a few degrees below freezing—a man can lose up to half of his body heat merely by leaving his head uncovered.

It was Samuel Butler who observed, "Every man's work is always a portrait of himself."

Doctor 91 Years Young

DEPORT, Tex. (AP) — Dr. A.G. Elder saw a few patients this week.

He chatted with some of his fox-hunting buddies and checked reservations for the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters Association hunt starting Oct. 25 at Tonkawa.

And, incidentally he observed his 91st birthday.

Dr. Elder, the oldest practicing physician in these parts and probably in the Southwest, hung out his shingle 64 years ago. He came to Deport in 922, and has been tending the ailments of folks there since.

The City of Deport named him city health officer in 1923 and the appointment still stands.

Dr. Elder attributes his 91 years to eating poke sallet in the summer, blackeyed peas and hog jowl every New Year's Day, and going fox hunting every time he gets a chance. None of which are found in the medical books.

When the Deport doctor goes to the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunt in October, the trip will mark another milestone. He hasn't missed one of their state meets in 52 years.

John Glenn Gets Cheese At Baylor

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Former astronaut John Glenn has been christened Brother Geminoze by a Baylor University fun organization and handed a slice of cheese representing a piece of the moon.

Members of the Noze Brotherhood, a 43-year-old campus group, said, "our honored guest is blessed with the presence and essence of a truly nasal character." Glenn was the first American to orbit the earth.

He accepted the gift graciously Monday.

He was at Baylor to address the student body.

Dog Helps Get Duplicate Card

MIAMI (AP) — Mrs. Pat Palmeri of Hialeah took along her dog for assistance when she went to get a duplicate Social Security card.

Mrs. Palmeri had lost her original card. Her Social Security number had been tattooed on the thigh of her Doberman pinscher, Warrior, to identify the dog if he were lost or stolen.

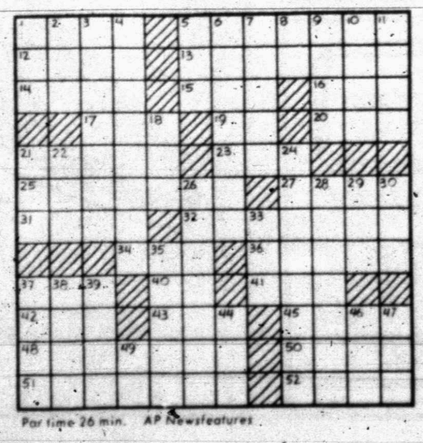

While Social Security office personnel helped hold Warrior down Monday, a secretary copied the tattoo number and said it would be used to speed the process of getting Mrs. Palmeri a new card.

Tech's Dowdy, SMU's Hammond Are Lauded

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

Texas Tech defensive end Bruce Dowdy ran for his life last Saturday against the University of Texas—and he won.

"It was a do-or-die battle for me," Dowdy said. "I knew I had to play a great game and I played better than any college game of my career. I never quit because I knew if I was going to have a great game, I'd have to hustle.

"I had to run quicker and faster because I was running for my life."

Dowdy said the game became so crucial for him because of a misunderstanding over statements he made about the Texas team in general and running back Steve Worster in particular. Dowdy said he meant the statements as compliments but they came out as something personal between him and Worster.

And there's little doubt Dowdy accomplished what he started out to do. He recovered two fumbles that stopped Texas scoring drives deep in Tech territory. He made nine tackles and blocked a pass. Two of the tackles were behind the line of scrimmage.

Dowdy's big game netted him The Associated Press Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Week honor—the same award he won in 1968 when Tech handed Texas its last defeat.

Versatile Gary Hammond, who's had three whole games of experience as a tailback at Southern Methodist, hit the jackpot last Saturday against New Mexico State.

He scored four first quarter touchdowns and ran up 123 yards for the game to earn The AP's SWC Offensive Player of the Week award.

Dowdy's statements about Texas and Worster were widely published and many of the clippings wound up on the Longhorn bulletin board in the dressing room. Dowdy started getting uncomplimentary mail.

Dowdy tells it like this:

"I said it was the greatest challenge of my career to tackle Steve Worster. What I meant was, it is a challenge to tackle any great running back and Worster certainly is a great one.

"I understand one paper even had the game billed as a wrestling match between me and Worster with the Texas and Tech game as a sidelight. It just got blown all out of proportion.

"Then I started getting these letters. The ones from Texas weren't too good. I didn't mean to start anything. I simply stated it was a challenge because Worster was such a great running back."

Dowdy said the whole thing had him on edge. "I tried to put myself in Worster's shoes. He must have wondered what kind of guy was out here making such statements."

"We were both captains for the game and I suppose people expected us to start fighting when we walked out on the field. But when the game started, no words were spoken. There was a lot of contact between us but everybody just played football. Texas played a great game.

"But I want to tell you when the game was over we (he and Worster) shook hands and smiled at each other and we knew it had all been a joke.

"This was my last go around with Worster and it seemed like I had lost a friend because I won't be playing against him anymore."

With the great Worster confrontation and a 35-13 opening conference loss behind them, how do the Raiders plan to sort out the pieces and go on?

"Well, after the game somebody put it pretty good," Dowdy said. "They said that after Texas lost to us in 1968 they went on to win the Southwest Conference. And if we have enough pride, we still have a chance... It hurt to lose but we felt we had been beaten by a great football team."

Other defensive players receiving votes were Arkansas tackle Dick Bumpas, Texas linebacker Scott Henderson, Baylor back Mike Beane and Baylor linebacker Harold Rodgers.

Other offensive players getting votes were Arkansas quarterback Bill Montgomery and Texas quarterback Eddie Phillips.

Hammond said after playing most of his career as a quarterback, one season as a split end and three games as a tailback, quarterback still is his favorite position.

"But I'm liking it (tailback) a lot better now that we've won a game and we've found out that we can win with me at that position. For awhile there, I had my doubts that I should be at that position."

Hammond's biggest adjustment at tailback has been learning to pass block. "Quarterbacks don't do much of that," said the former Port Arthur Jefferson signal-caller.

Ponies To Use Triple Option

Coach Wayne Tyrone gave a scouting report on Sweetwater at the regular weekly meeting of the Tiger Booster Club, held last night in the Snyder High School cafeteria.

He said the Mustangs employ a wishbone type triple option offense similar to the one used by Andrews. Defensively, they operate from a Split 6 similar to the defense employed by Big Spring.

Tyrone pointed out the triple option offense is difficult to defense. On the other hand, it takes plenty of talent to use such an offense and most high school teams find it too hard to run.

Members saw films of last week's 46-7 loss to Big Spring. The Tigers made 21 first downs and rolled up over 300 yards on offense, although they only scored once. The films indicated the Bengals still were in the ball game until the fourth quarter. The passing of the Tigers had improved considerably.

The Tigers meet Sweetwater Friday week in Mustang Bowl. The Booster Club will not meet next Tuesday since the Tigers have an open date this Friday.

Roy Barth Pulls Upset

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Unseeded Roy Barth of San Diego produced a major upset in the semi-final round of the 81st annual Pacific Coast International Open Tennis Championships Tuesday by downing 11th-ranked Dick Crealy of Sydney, Australia, 6-4, 6-2.

Top-seeded Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex. breezed past Richard Russell of Kingston, Jamaica, 6-0, 6-4.

Billy Jean King of Berkeley, top feminine seed, whipped Kathy Anderson of Apple Valley, Calif., 6-1, 6-4.

No. 2 men's seed Arthur Ashe of Gum Springs, Va., whipped Stan Pasarel of Stanford, Calif., 6-1, 6-1, and second-ranked Rosemary Casals of San Francisco defeated Brenda Barcia of Lafayette, Calif., 6-1, 6-1.

Bo Schembechler Hates Nicknames

ANN ARBOR (AP)—As good as Michigan's football defense is, coach Bo Schembechler refuses to suggest a nickname for the tough crew.

As far as he's concerned there will be no calling the Wolverines defense the "Rough Riders" or the "11 Angry Men" or the "Michigan Monsters" or any other name someone cares to come up with.

"I despise nicknames," said Schembechler at a press luncheon this week, apparently strictly referring to nicknames for football units. "Bo" is a nickname. His first name really is Glenn.

His U-M defenders shouldn't need a gimmick to focus attention to their accomplishments. They have given up just four field goals in two games, allowed just 22 first downs, 104 yards rushing, and have intercepted seven passes.

Yet Schembechler said he thinks the defense is going to get better.

"I don't think it has reached its full potential yet," he said. "—And it hasn't allowed a touchdown yet."

Two of Michigan's top defensive players haven't played yet this year because of injuries: junior halfback Bruce Elliott and junior tackle Fred Grambau.

"Even with two injuries to key guys our defense is better than it was last year," said Schembechler, who was named Coach of the Year after his team finished eighth nationally with an 8-3 record, was Big Ten co-champion and Rose Bowl representative.

"I think out of all third down situations in both games our opponents only made a first down three times," he added.

"Biggest" man on the defensive crew is 5-foot-11, 220-pound middle guard Henry Hill. The senior is co-captain and Schembechler has called him the best player on the team.

"That's the best darn middle guard in the country—uummmm—he's something," Bo nodded. "He was all over the field Saturday."

The Wolverines clipped Washington 17-3 at Seattle after having trailed 3-0 at the half. They stymied heralded sophomore quarterback Sonny Sixkiller, while the week before held off a fine passer in Brian Linstrom in a 20-9 victory over Arizona.

Tom Darden, junior halfback, led the team in tackles two straight weeks. With him in the secondary are converted quarterback senior Jim Betts at safety, soph Bo Rather at the other half, and junior "wolfman" Frank Gusich.

They will be strongly tested again when Texas A & M comes to Ann Arbor Saturday. The Aggies are fifth nationally in passing.

They were trounced by Ohio State 56-13 Saturday but Schembechler, who viewed films of the game, said the Aggies weren't the bad team the score indicates.

Other defensive starters for U-M are ends Phil Seymour and Mike Keller, tackles Pete Newell and Dick McCoy, plus linebackers Marty Huff and Mike Taylor.

Pokes, Colts Claim Tilts

The Cowboys beat the Packers 32-0 and the Colts tripped the Giants 34-0 in the 7th grade football contests held yesterday on the Lamar field.

Tim Flynn scored on runs of 60 yards and 50 yards in the first period. Gill intercepted a handoff and went 30 yards for the Cowboys in the second period. Flynn made two bonus points to boost the halftime edge to 20-0.

In the third period, Flynn went 30 yards for another touchdown. Then Kelly Ragland passed to McCommon for two extra points. Neel sprinted 70 yards for a fourth period score.

Mike Freeman scored on runs of 30 and 20 yards for the Colts. Clifford Kay also contributed two touchdowns, on runs of 15 and 20 yards. And Robby Robinson scooted 20 yards for a Colt tally.

The Colts collected two two-point scores.

Clay Fight Is Upheld

ATLANTA (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox cannot block the heavyweight fight scheduled Oct. 26 between Muhammad Ali and Jerry Quarry, Georgia Atty. Gen. Arthur K. Bolton says.

Bolton ruled Tuesday that jurisdiction over the fight is left entirely to the city of Atlanta, where the proposed bout will be held, because the state has no law or laws pertaining to boxing matches.

Maddox asked Bolton last week to determine if he could take action to halt the fight. The governor said he feels the match would be "an affront" to veterans of the armed services in the state and added that he believes the bout should not be held until the deposed world heavyweight champion has said he is ready to serve in the military.

Ali, who prefers to use his Muslim name rather than Cassius Clay, was stripped of his title for refusing induction into the Army.

Maddox has urged Atlanta's city officials not to permit Ali to "fight for profit if he won't fight for his country." However, State Sen. Leroy Johnson, who helped promote the fight, said the match will be held despite Maddox's objections.

Johnson also said that Mayor Sam Massell has indicated that the bout can be held as scheduled.

Ali, after he was stripped of his title, was forced from the ring more than three years as numerous cities throughout the United States and Canada refused to issue a boxing license to him. However, he had no difficulty in gaining a license in Atlanta and fought three opponents in an eight-round exhibition match here earlier this month.

He outpointed each of his opponents in the three exhibition bouts.

Wrestling Card Slated Oct. 3

Wrestling returns to Snyder after a long absence Saturday, Oct. 3, at 8 p.m. in the Scurry County Coliseum.

The main event will be Pac Song going against Bull Ramos. This will be the most vicious match ever held in wrestling, according to promoters. These two giant wrestlers were formerly tagteam partners but they made their breakup about three weeks ago on television when they were involved in a fight. Pac Song, the Korean Assassin, stands 6-4 and weighs 275 ounds. He is the "most deadly" wrestler ever to come from the Orient. He is the master at the art of Karata and Judo and also possesses the deadly stomach claw hold. He has no mercy on his opponents and is unbeaten. He will be making his first apperance in Snyder. His opponent is another mean and rugged wrestler.

Bull Ramos weighs 300 poounds and like Pac Song is a "wild rugged" individual. When these two face each other in the Scurry County Coliseum Saturday night it will be hard for the fans to pick a favorite. This will be one of the toughest and wildest matches ever seen in the state of Texas. Bull Ramos will have his partner and manager, Apache Gringo, in his corner. Pac Song is the Western States heavyweight champion of Old Mexico.

The semifinal will be a tagteam, Mr. Wrestling and the Gladiator Vs. Nick Kozak and Salvador Dominguez. Mr. Wrestling and the Gladiator, the masked team, are a feared and deadly team. They are presently the Western States Tagteam champions and they never fail to keep the fans standing with excitement with their wild type of wrestling. They will be in for a hard night when they meet the fast and clever team of Nick Kozak and Salvado Dominguez.

The special match of the night will be The Lawman Vs. Apache Gringo. The Lawman says he will be going all out to stop the rugged manager of Bull Ramos, Apache Gringo.

In addition, there will be one other great match on the card.

Tickets are on sale at the Scurry County Coliseum box office at the rate of $2 for ringside, $1.50 for general admission, and $1 for children of ages four through 11.

Football Is Revived By Fluvanna Buffaloes

FLUVANNA—Fluvanna High School will field one of the most unusual football teams in the country this season. None of the players has any varsity experience. In fact, none of them has ever played on an organized team. There are no lettermen.

Competing in football for the first time since 1943, the Fluvanna Buffaloes are members of District 3-B. They play only four games this year and will not be competing for the championship. Since the school doesn't have a football field, all of the games this season will bo on the road.

"We hope to have a field next year and compete for the championship," said Superintendent Billy Baker. He and Coach Buddy Stewart are both proud of the team and have high hopes of winning some of their games this year.

"They'll be kind of green since they don't have any experience," admitted Baker, "but they sure are a fine looking bunch of boys."

Coach Buddy Stewart is in the same boat with his players. This is his first year to coach an organized team. He is a 1970 graduate of Texas Tech. Stewart is a native of Tarzan.

There are four seniors, two juniors, five sophomores and threee freshmen on Fluvanna's team this first season. The seniors include Randy Gill (160), end; Mike Landrum (175), center; Mike Jones (230), center; and, Chester Eckert (160) back. Juniors are Reggie Baker (107), quarterback, and Junior Bilano (138), quarterback. Sophomores include Larry White (140), end; H. Baker (130), center; Richard Gill (146), back; Steve Beaver (135), end; and, Joe Bilano (117), back. Freshmen are J.W. White (140), back; Steve Stansell (124), back; and, Neely Landrum (130), back. Manager of the team is Rudy Mena.

The colors of the Buffaloes are red and black, but their uniforms are white with black letters. Cheerleaders include Ann Smith, Vicki Smith, Margaret Mena, Diean White, LaRee Baker, Sandy Smith and Susie Jones.

Fluvanna's first game is at 7 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 3, at Mertzon. Coach Stewart has listed probable starters, as follows: Junior Bilano, quarterback; Larry White and Randy Gill, ends; Mike Landrum, center; J. W. White, fullback; and, Richard Gill, halfback.

The other three contests in 1970 begin at 8 p.m. Fluvanna plays Miles Oct. 9, is at Ira Oct. 15, and at O'Brien Oct. 24.

In 1971, the Buffaloes will play a full district schedule, meeting Hermleigh, Hobbs, McCaulley, Blackwell, Highland and Ira.

Kansas City Taps Minnesota, 14-13

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Rigney got more punch in the Minnesota offense by platooning his platooners, but the Twins still came up short — by an extra point.

Rigney's Twins wasted a 27-man effort Tuesday when they bowed to the Kansas City Royals 14-13 on a run-scoring single in the 12th inning by relief pitcher Ted Abernathy.

The Royals pressed 22 players into action as the two clubs set an all-time manpower mark. The previous record of 48 was set by the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs in a 1956 game.

"It seems like quite a while since we've gotten a lot of runs," Rigney had complained Monday night after the Twins nipped the Royals 1-0 on a squeeze bunt.

The Minnesota attack promptly came alive with a barrage of 20 hits—five of them by shortstop Leo Cardenas, but the Royals matched the Twins' hit total and topped them in the scoring column when Abernathy connected against rookie Pete Hamm, Rigney's sixth pitcher.

The Baltimore Orioles, who take on the Twins Saturday in the opener of the American League pennant playoffs, swept a doubleheader from hapless Washington 3-2 in 10 innings and 3-2 in 11. Boston overcame the New York Yankees 5-4; Cleveland trimmed Detroit 5-2; California pounded the Chicago White Sox 9-2 and Oakland edged Milwaukee 4-3.

In the National League, Pittsburgh downed St. Louis 7-2; the New York Mets topped the Chicago Cubs 3-1; Montreal routed Philadelphia 10-3; Atlanta shaded Cincinnati 2-1; Houston defeated San Francisco 3-1 and Los Angeles crushed San Diego 8-2.

The Twins took a 9-5 lead into the ninth inning, but the Royals exploded for six runs— Ed Kirpatrick sending them ahead with a two-run double.

Cardenas' run-scoring single keyed a tying Minnesota rally in the bottom of the ninth and he drove in two more with a single in the 11th after the Royals had taken a 13-11 lead in the top half.

The visitors then pushed over the winner on a walk and singles by Bill Sorrell and Abernathy, their seventh pitcher.

Mark Belanger's sacrifice fly in the 10th inning of the opener and Frank Robinson's pinch double in the 11th of the nightcap delivered the winning runs for the Orioles, who have won nine consecutive games five of them in overtime.

The Senators have lost 12 in a row.

Mike Cuellar worked eight innings in the opener in a final tune-up for the Orioles' starting assignment against Perry and the Twins at Minnesota Saturday.

Carl Yastrzemski's third hit, a run-scoring single in the ninth, capped a three-run Boston comeback and hiked his average to a league-high .329.

Steve Hargan ran his pitching mark to 11-3 as the Indians handed Mickey Lolich, a 19-game winner last season, his 19th setback.

Clyde Wright hurled a five-hitter for his 22nd victory as the Angeles breezed past Chicago and rookie Bobby Brooks crashed a homer and RBI double in Oakland's victory over the Brewers.

AFTER LAST WEEK'S "BROWNOUT"

Doubts Generated On US's Power System

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The widespread power shortage on the eastern seaboard last week has left federal officials fretting over the reliability of the nation's electric power system.

Massive generator failures combined with maintenance shutdowns brought the four-day "brownout" affecting 15 states.

It also brought a new Federal Power Commission investigation of utility firms' practices in scheduling and coordinating generator maintenance. And it prompted questions about the industry's quality control procedures.

The generator failures "suggest that one of our big problems is the quality control on equipment like that," said S. David Freeman, director of the energy policy staff of the White House office of science and technology. Then Freeman added:

"In my mind, the story of last week is the story of the blackout that didn't happen. By and large it's a success story."

Last week's brownout was the nation's eighth significant power shortage of the summer. Northeastern states were hit hardest and most often, but shortages were felt at times during the summer as far west as Wisconsin.

It could have been worse. "I think we were lucky we had a relatively mild summer," said an official of the Office of Emergency Planning.

The OEP had warned in May of possible power shortages. Reserves of 15 to 20 per cent are considered adequate, but the agency found the Pennsylvania-New Jersey-Maryland complex had reserves of only 9 per cent, the Carolinas and Virginia 6.5 per cent and Commonwealth Edison in Chicago 5.5 per cent.

The 12-company Pennsylvania-Jersey-Maryland (PJM) combine ran out of power in May when a hot spell hit while some generators were undergoing periodic maintenance.

And when the sun rose in a cloudless sky over the Eastern seaboard last Tuesday, giving birth to an unusual September heat wave, PJM again was caught without a sizeable share of its generating capacity.

In addition to generators which had been undergoing maintenance since early in the month, explosion, fire, leaks, faulty valves and trouble with coal clinkers had knocked out seven others in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Early in the day steam pressure collapsed on one genefator, the turbines failed on another, A faulty pump feeding the boiler forced a third to operate at reduced capacity. By 10:15 a.m., the temperature was rising toward the mid-90s, air conditioners were humming all over the Eastern megapolis and utilities were reaching into Illinois and Ontario for power. It wasn't enough. Power was reduced by 3 per cent. Six minutes later it was reduced by another 2 per cent.

By 2:30 p.m. the heat wave was fierce. The big 820-megawatt No. 2 generator at the Keystone power station near Johnstown, Pa., broke down.

At that point, PJM was encountering its heaviest demands of the summer with nearly a third of its generating capacity gone. Its neighbors, meanwhile, had troubles, too.

New York had been limping along all summer and could hardly provide much help. It sent some power to PJM but had to cut its voltage. In Virginia and the Carolinas generators knocked out or idled for maintenance forced cutbacks there.

The crisis lasted another day, then began easing as damaged generators were repaired and the heat slackened. But questions remained: Why did it happen? Why is the nation faced with persistent power shortages?

Officials at the Federal Power Commision pull out elaborate charts to show how utilities plan a year ahead, with monthly reviews to perform preventice maintenance on generators. Reserves are so small that all the work must be squeezed around the summer to get it done, said Cleve R. Jacobsen, chief of the FPC's section of interconnection and coordination.

Such long-range planning precludes last minute changes for unexpected developments in the weather. Even so, the FPC said in a staff report to Chairman John N. Nassikas during the brownout: "We are investigating further your request to review the maintenance schedules in each affected power pool and the coordination of scheduled maintenance between pools."

Freeman, of the White House office, in discussing quality control, said both manufacturers and utilities are lax.

Utility spokesmen, meanwhile, criticized the equipment furnished them by manufacturers.

And Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., a persistent critic of the electric power industry, complained that investor-owned utilities spent eight times as much on advertising in 1968 as they did on research and development.

Advertising has also been an issue in the larger debate over the availability of electricity. Faced with short supplies, many utilities ceased vigorous promotion of air conditioning after the average annual sale of window air conditioners doubled over six years, powering a tripling of the average annual household bill.

The increased demand comes amid what officials complain is a tightening of supplies of raw materials for electricity, delays in starting new plants and opposition from conservationists and property holders.

Fifty-seven per cent of the nation's electric power is produced from coal. Nuclear generators account for 11 per cent. The FPC estimates that although electric utilities will double their consumption of coal in the next 20 years, the percentages must shift to 55 per cent for nuclear power and 29 per cent for coal if the nation is to have enough electricity.

The FPC has warned that railroad car shortages, failure to return the cars speedily for reuse and enforcement of new federal mine safety legislation already have cut into coal deliveries. An OEP spokesman said some power plants, which prefer to keep at least a month's supply of coal on hand, were down to a one-week reserve at times this summer.

And the eagerly awaited surge of nuclear power hasn't materialized. "The program for installations of nuclear power generation has lagged two to three years behind the predicted level of five years ago," says Nassikas.

Environmental concerns have delayed some nuclear generating plants.

Freeman, however, discounted the significance of conservation struggles so far in the present tight power supply. "It has been more the bread and butter problems of the industry," he said.

Isolation Rules Are Changed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two astronaut teams will go into partial isolation 21 days before the Apollo 14 moon-flight launch next Jan. 31, the space agency said today.

The new rules, designed to reduce exposure to disease, will apply to the Apollo 14 prime, backup and support crews. It will be the first extensive isolation before a launch, but will be not nearly so complete as the 21-day quarantine that will be imposed when the team returns from the moon.

Some new health security measures will go intc effect as much as 90 days before launch, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said. Wives of the astronauts, backup crew members and essential mission personnel may be given special physical examinations as early as around Nov. 1.

During the 60 days before launch, all illnesses involving the members of the families of the prime and backup crews, as well as close contacts of these families, must be reported to NASA medical officials.

NASA decided on a "flight crew health stabilization program" after the threatened postponement of the Apollo 13 mission last April when astronaut Thomas K. Mattingly II was believed to have been exposed to German measles.

Under the new program the Apollo 14 team, and subsequent Apollo crews, will take up residence in the manned spacecraft operations building at the Kennedy Space Center, Fla., 21 days before launch.

If the crew members are called back to Houston for some reason during the period, they will live either in their own homes or in the Lunar Receiving Laboratory, under close supervision.

Doctors Cry At Bedside

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The five doctors who treated Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser for his fatal heart attack Monday night spent 15 minutes trying to get his heart beating again, the Cairo newspaper Al Ahram reported today.

When the efforts proved unsuccessful they burst into tears and all present at Nasser's bedside then knew that the president had passed away, the report, quoted by Cairo Radio, said.

Opportunity Seeker Or Job Hopper?

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain

Dear Joyce: I'm a high school senior planning to work after graduation. My business studies teacher has warned us that if a person changes jobs too often, he will be considered a job hopper and subsequently have trouble getting hired. But if one is offered a better opportunity, shouldn't one take it? — F.N., Dallas, Tex.

Yes, you can anticipate future trouble if your job record looks like all sail and no anchor. You qualify as a job hopper when it appears you habitually split before your employer has a chance to recoup his investment in your training, and before you have a chance to really learn anything from each job (improve your skills).

For readers whose records already look checkered, you can attempt to convince employers that you've had "diversified" experience which you wish to settle down and use.

There is no universally applicable time schedule (for example, 5 years on each job) to determine when it's time to grasp opportunity. Don't make mobility an end in itself unless you want to appear that you have been too busy learning the tricks of the trade to learn the trade.

• • •

Dear Joyce: My daughter is interested in being a guide at the United Nations. Where should she write? — W. D., Deming, New Mexico.

— UN guides are recruited once a year and begin training early in March. Only women, age 20 to 30, with a college education (or equivalent) are considered. Competition is keen. A good speaking voice and fluency in English are required. The initial salary for guides is $550/month gross ($405 net). Guides must resign after a 2-year term.

Interpreters at the UN need a university degree and thorough knowledge of at least three of the official UN languages (English, French, Spanish, Russian and Chinese). Salaries range from $10-24,000/year. Requirements for translators are roughly similar and they are paid on the same scale. Employment can continue until retirement age, which is 60.

For more information on all types of UN jobs, write to Secretariat Recruitment Service, Office of Personnel, United Nations, N.Y. 10017.

NEW ENVIRONMENTAL TRAINING PROGRAMS. The Federal government has recently funded a number of new programs to train people for jobs in the environmental/ecological fields. Training periods vary from a few weeks to 2 years. A sampling: Environmental technician—Berkshire Community College, Pittsfield, Mass.; Multi-Environmental Control—Miami-Dade Jr. College, Miami, Fla.; Pest Control, Yuba College, Marysville, Calif.; Pure Water Control Aide—Orange Coast College, Costa Mesa, Calif. Your local community college may offer environmental programs.

Pap Test Campaign Has Saved Many Lives

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A nationwide campaign to spot cancer early in women has prolonged—in many cases saved—nearly 3,600 lives, the American Academy of General Practice has been told.

Family doctors examined around one million women for cancer of the cervix between 1965 and May 1970, said Dr. Louis Bush, a general practitioner from Baldwin, N.Y., who is chairman of the academy's cancer committee.

He reported his findings Tuesday to the annual convention of the academy, which is in the process of changing its name to the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Bush said cancer of the cervix, or neck of the womb, is the second leading cause of cancerous death among American women. Detected early, cervical cancer can be controlled in many cases, but because of tardy diagnosis some 10,000 will die from it this year, he said.

The tool of the five-year campaign was the Pap test, in which a smear is taken from the cervix, and a stain and microscopic examination discloses abnormalities in cells. A biopsy of actual tissue then can confirm whether cancer is present.

Until recently, Bush reported, many family doctors and far more of their patients remained unconvinced that this quick and simple procedure was reliable. The five-year project clearly establishes the Pap test as a reliable tool of cancer control, he said.

In 1963, when a Public Health Service survey showed that only 15 per cent of American women over 30 had ever had a Pap test, the academy obtained a PHS grant and launched a campaign to promote it among its 31,000 members.

With 5,500 family doctors taking part in 42 states, findings from 1.7 million cervical examinations were reported, Bush said.

Out of 20,000 suspicious cases, biopsies confirmed cancer in 3,602 cases. Many of these were in early and more easily controlled stages.

Among the other suspicious cases, 2,300 women either died from cervical cancer or were unavailable for follow-up findings.

Faced With Suit AF Changes Rule

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force, conceding some of its policies are out of line with "the recent emphasis on women's rights," has given women another victory in their battle for equal treatment in the military.

Faced with a lawsuit charging sex discrimination, the Air Force Tuesday tossed aside its long-standing policy of preventing women with children from remaining in the service.

The old regulations, said Lt. Gen. A. J. Russell, are "not considered to be in consonance with the recent emphasis on women's rights nor do they conform with a proposed Pentagon policy on equal rights for all Defense Department employes."

The action came a day after Capt. Tommie Sue Smith, a 35-year-old divorcee from Johnson City, Tenn., sued the Air Force, charging the regulations do not apply to men and therefore violate her constitutional rights.

Mrs. Smith, a lawyer and one of seven women judge advocates in the Air Force, said the regulations would have forced her to choose between her 8-year-old son and her Air Force career.

In a similar suit a month ago, a Navy enlisted woman charged that service's efforts to dismiss her because of terminated pregnancy was based on a double sexual standards and violated her constitutional rights.

Seaman Anna Flores, 23, who is stationed at Pensacola, Fla., complained that men in the armed services are not subjected to the same moral restrictions as women and that such a distinction is discriminatory. The Navy subsequently permitted her to remain in the service.

Mrs. Smith, divorced six years ago, said she was told by the Air Force she would not be able to take her son when she is transfered next year from her current post at Andrews Air Force Base to the Philippines.

Men are permitted to take their dependents along, except in combat zones.

Regulations that force her to choose between her career and her son are "blatantly inequitable" sex discrimination, charged Mrs. Smith.

The regulations, dating back to 1947, state the commission of any woman officer will be revoked when she gives birth to a child, assumes personal custody of a minor or becomes a stepparent of a child and the child lives in her home for more than 30 days a year.

Mrs. Smith had avoided an earlier confrontation by giving her parents legal custody of her son, who is enrolled in a private school in Bristol, Va.

Under the new rules, women will be allowed to remain on active duty unless they ask to be discharged on grounds they have adopted or taken custody of minor children.

Diphtheria Figure Hits 108

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The city's diphtheria epidemic has grown to 108 cases with the addition of three more confirmed victims of the throat infection.

There also were 30 unconfirmed cases.

Added to the list Tuesday were a boy, 5, and two girls, ages 9 and 12. Two children died from the disease earlier this year.

The second phase of a city-wide immunization drive ended Saturday. A community health clinic organization now is conducting a diphtheria and polio shot campaign in poor neighborhoods.

In Del Rio, health officials announced a mass immunization drive for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, although there have been no diphtheria cases in that border city. Free shots will be dispensed at three locations.

Teague Speaks At Dinner

DALLAS (AP) — Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., declared Wednesday night that as a result of President Nixon's cuts in the space budget, Russia "will be so far ahead of us in five years we'll wonder what heppened."

Speaking at a dinner for Rep. Earle Cabell, a fellow Democrat who represents the Dallas district, Teague said the Soviet Union is building rocket boosters with 12 million to 14 million pounds of thrust.

"These rockets will have three times the thrust of ones we're only thinking about," he said.

Teague, a member of the House Science and Astronautics Committee, said a special study group recommended a $4.2 billion space budget for this year and Nixon trimmed the figure to $3 billion.

Referring to a plaque placed on the moon by U.S. astronauts, the congressman said, "I suggest that the next person who goes to the moon should bring back that plaque that has (Nixon's) name on it."

About 500 persons paid $62.50 per plate to attend the dinner honoring Cabell, who is running for reelection in November. He also is a member of the Science and Astronautics Committee.

Cabell spoke briefly. He said Republicans who accuse Congress, under control of Democrats, of free spending should be taken to task for "recommending loans of up to $800 million to bail out the bankrupt Penn Central Railroad and help other Eastern cronies."

Ross Perot Steps Down

DALLAS (AP) — Multimillionaire Ross Perot has stepped down as president of Electronic Data Systems, Inc., but remains chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

Promotion of Milledge A. Hart III to succeed Perot was disclosed Tuesday. He has been executive vice president and secretary.

Perot said that despite his continuing campaign to win release of Americans held captives by North Vietnam, he has no plans to enter public affairs.

"I feel," he told stockholders, "that each person in this country has an obligation to spend his productive efforts where he can make the most productive contribution.

"I plan to spend the rest of my life building and developing EDS. If anybody has been wondering about that, you don't have to read between the lines any more...."

Perot founded the company and built it into a multimillion-dollar business.

Hart worked for IBM before joining Electronic Data Systems in 1962. His successor as vice president is Bill Gayden.

Only two men were able to convert the Big Four (4-6-7-10) split during the 1970 ABC.

Autry Named As Tarleton's Vice President

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The Texas A&M System Board of Directors announced Tuesday the appointment of a vice president and three deans at Tarleton State College in Stephenville.

Dr. Joseph Autry was named Tarleton's first vice president and will continue to serve as dean of instruction. Drs. Robert C. Fain, Leo G. Purvis and Jesse L. Tackett were named deans of new schools of arts and sciences, educational and agriculture, and business, respectively.

All three men currently serve as department heads and will continue with joint appointments.

The board also appointed A.R. Luedecke, acting Texas A&M University president, as councilor for the school's research foundation, which administers a large portion of the institution's research activities.

In other action the board awarded $13.7 million in construction contracts with the majority of the funds going for new facilities at Prairie View A&M College.

The projects include two new residence halls, a dining hall and kitchen, utilities expansion and air conditioning for two existing dormitories.

The board sold $11.5 million in revenue bonds to finance the Prairie View projects.

Freeze On School Clothing Protested

By G. C. THELEN JR.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is locked in battle with an organization of welfare mothers over a new regulation limiting federal education aid to clothe poor children.

The militant National Welfare Rights Organization — NWRO — has appealed directly to Welfare Secretary Elliot L. Richardson for more clothing aid. He promised to answer early next week.

At issue is a Sept. 15 Office of Education directive freezing at a last year's level — three-tenths of one per cent of the total — clothing allowances from the $1.5 billion elementary school aid fund.

Most of the 16,500 school districts receiving aid for disadvantaged school children do not use any of the so-called Title I money for clothing programs. The new order, in effect, prohibits them from starting.

The freeze comes at a time when local NWRO chapters are pressing Title I districts without clothing provisions to include them.

Congress authorized the use of Title I money to buy clothing for poor children "where necessary."

Terrel H. Bell, acting commissioner of education took note of the new clothing demands in the Sept. 15 order, saying, "In a number of states project applications are being received involving greatly increased expenditure of Title I funds for clothing, which if approved, would jeopardize the basic nature of the Title I program. Title I is an education, not a welfare program."

George A. Wiley, NWRO executive director argues, however, "that adequate school clothing is an educational need of the highest priority."

"Children cannot learn if they are not in school," he said. "Without adequate shoes and clothing, many poor kids will not go to school. Other children in ragged clothing will be defeated by the self-image that is radiated in the faces of their more affluent classmates."

Richardson said in an interview he intends to allow districts without clothing programs to begin. He would not say, however, whether the spending ceiling will be lifted.

Four Texans Rescued At Sea

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The Coast Guard rescued four Texas men who had been stranded for three days on an island off Mexico, the service reported today.

The four were returned to Texas in good condition. They became marooned while fishing.

They were Rene Sanchez, Santo Casas, Arturo Rameriz and Enrique Marz, all of McAllen.

East Texas Seeking Industries

LOS ANGELES (AP) — C. Quinten Abernathy, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, told a group of California businessmen Tuesday that "East Texas has advantages that make it good for industrial expansion."

Abernathy, speaking to about 60 businessmen, described the section, including Dallas and Houston, as "an area with a great image."

Low utility costs, favorable resources, favorable climate and favorable labor market all make East Texas an ideal location for business and industry, he said.

The Texas group, based in Longview, had about 120 East Texans who paid their own expenses to travel to California to attract business interests, Abernathy said. He said it was the third time the organization had made such a trip.

The group planned a San Francisco meeting with individual businessmen Wednesday and another luncheon Friday before returning to East Texas.

Movie Firms File Suit On Networks

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven major movie companies have filed suit in U.S. District Court against the ABC and CBS television networks seeking an injunction to bar the networks from having any interest in entertainment programs and feature films other than exhibiting them.

The suit, which seeks unspecified treble damages, charges that ABC and CBS were moving toward a monopoly position through their control of production and distribution companies, TV stations and movie theater chains.

Louis Nizer, representing the plaintiffs, charged that the defendants and the National Broadcasting Co. "have achieved a position of absolute control over the facilities of network exhibition through predatory and illegal means."

"The networks, other than NBC, have now embarked upon a plan to exercise this power," he continued. "They have begun to produce their own theatrical films which will replace the films of plaintiffs and others on their television networks."

A statement from the American Broadcasting Companies, Inc., parent of the ABC network, said the suit was "without merit" and accused the movie companies of cutting back production, which enabled them to ask higher prices for movies sold to television.

The Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., denied the charges and said the plaintiffs now supply 30 per cent of its programing.

The complaint was filed by Columbia Pictures, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Paramount Pictures, United Artists, Univereal Pictures, Warner Brothers, Avco Embassy and six of their subsidiaries.

Bentsen Against Reform

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) —Lloyd Bentsen, Democratic U.S. Senate candidate, again claimed Wednesday that the Nixon welfare reform bill amounts to a guaranteed annual income.

Bentsen's opponent, Republican U.S. Rep. George Bush, supports the bill and asserts it is not a guaranteed annual income.

"George Bush knows that, regardless of what you call it, the welfare reform bill which he supports provides for a guaranteed annual income of $1,600 for a family of four," Bentsen said. "Even President Nixon, in a message to Congress on Sept. 11, referred to his welfare reform proposal as a 'basic national income supplement for all needy families with children."

"If this isn't a guaranteed minimum income, I don't know what is," Bentsen added.

Texas Senators Split Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas senators split on the electoral reform constitutional amendment Tuesday, although neither voted directly when the Senate refused to shut off debate on the amendment.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., was paired for not voting against stopping debate.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., was paired for choking off debate, cancelling the vote of Sen. Sparkman, D-Ala.

Night Sonatas Are Opposed

WOKINGHAM, England (AP) — The neighbors have had enough of Timothy Rose's moonlight sonatas — he's been banned from playing his piano between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Rose, a 51-year-old bachelor, found he got his best musical ideas late at night, when "I can really come to terms with the great classics of our times."

After hearing a public health officer's testimony about the midnight serenades, magistrates ruled that he should come to terms with his fellow apartment-dwellers instead.
