JOHN COWARD, of 736 East 6th, enjoys gardening but noted just about all that grew around here this year was tumbleweeds. Howard retired from the Cosden Refinery and has since taken up gardening as a hobby. This year a tumbleweed grew up in his garden. He watered and shaped the bush until it came to look like the picture above. He said he didn't really like to call it a Christmas tree, but it did sort of resemble one. Howard said he thought it was rather nice looking and that in the past there had been a tumbleweed factory and a tumbleweed festival in Colorado City. He thought the "tree" might give people a few ideas.

Kiwanis To Celebrate Kids' Day Saturday

The Annual Kiwanis' Kids' Day is scheduled to take place Saturday.

The day will kick-off with a kiddies' show at the Palace Theater. Featured will be "Hugo, The Hippo" beginning at 10 a.m.

Entry fee for the show is an item of canned goods which will be stored and placed in Christmas baskets in December.

After the movie, children will be treated to ice cream.

The Annual Kids' Day Parade will form at Second and Elm Streets and begin in procession at 2 p.m.

Children in the area are all invited to participate in the day's events. Prizes will be awarded for costumes worn in the parade.

Prizes will be awarded in catagories of costumes, wheels and pets. Five prizes will be given in each category in amounts of $4, $3 and $1.

A grand overall prize of $7 will be awarded to the child wearing the most unique costume.

The parade will travel down Second Street to the courthouse where kids will be treated to a watermelon feast.

Robert Hoback will serve as general chairman of Kids' Day. Bob by Lemons will act as publicity chairman and Johnny Shackelford and Dell Barber will act as co-parade marshalls. Mac Morris is parade chairman and Sherman Hart is movie chairman.

Travis Turner will furnish watermelons at the courthouse.

"The major emphasis this year is on support of youth," Lemons said.

"We have not had much of an opportunity to sponsor older youths in the community so we decided this year to furnish the trophies for the volleyball games played later that afternoon," Lemons said.

Grubbs Speaks To Noon Lions

State Representative Walter Grubbs delighted audiences with several humorous stories at the Noon Lions Club luncheon Friday before getting down to more serious matters.

About 45 persons and officials attended the luncheon to honor Grubbs.

As he addressed the gathering, Grubbs commented, "I am just naturally a politician and have been since I first sat on the Colorado City Council and served as Mayor."

In his address, he referred first to his appearance before the Texas Highway Commission Wednesday. He noted he felt good about the possibilities of having the state construct a bridge on the access road where Interstate 20 crosses the Colorado River.

He said he had heard from the chairman of the commission and they are considering the matter. He said an answer should be received in 30 to 60 days.

Grubbs expressed his concern that under federal criterion, there have not been enough deaths resulting from the lack of a bridge to consider the conditions hazardous.

Grubbs discussed several of the amendments to appear on the November ballot.

One amendment concerns the right to wire tap. He said he could support this amendment if strict controls were written into it. He said a supreme court judge should be required to approve an order for wire tapping and it should only be allowed in the case of enforcing drug abuse laws.

He discussed the amendment legalizing bingo in churches. He said the law would legalize

Abilene Man Loses Life At Colorado River Bridge

Gifford Robert Eisler would have been 49-years-old October 3 if fate had not intervened Saturday, taking him and the 1977 Chevrolet Monte Carlo which he was driving to the bottom of the Colorado River bed.

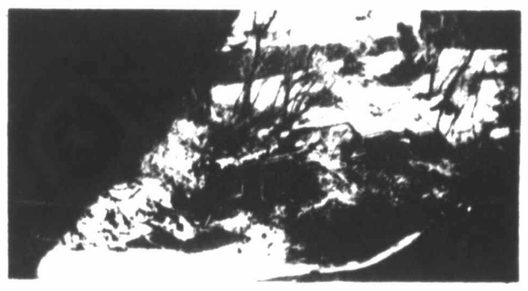

At about 9:40 a.m., that morning, as he was driving eastbound on the interstate, Eisler apparently lost temporary control of his vehicle, swerved off the paved surface then drove back up onto the pavement and continued one-fourth mile before crossing the highway, hitting the guardrail, ricocheting off it, crossing back over the highway and crashing through the guardrail on the opposite side.

His car plunged to the riverbed 80 feet below.

At some point in this series of events, Eisler died.

City Hall Contemplates Cemetery Water System

City Hall is in somewhat of a dilemma on what improvements should be made at the city cemetery.

A cemetery bond was included in an approved 1976 Bond Issue for $425,000. There was $25,000 of that bond designated for the cemetery.

About $19,000 of that $25,000 has been spent on improvements at the cemetery, leaving a $6,000 balance.

Under the improvement bond, a program was begun to move toward permanent care of the cemetery by the city.

Large watering lines, requiring two men to move them and snap on sprinkler heads were purchased and installed. A full time caretaker was appointed.

This system is about 40 per cent installed at this time.

Under this system, it is not possible for individuals to water grave plots. Instead, the city waters half an acre at a time.

There are some areas in the middle, north and west portions of the cemetery which are not accessable to the water lines currently.

City Manager Brenda Tarter reported she had received several complaints from individuals who would like to have access to the water and do their own work.

On Oct. 14 during the regular Colorado City Council meeting, the cemetery board is sche-

Shop At Home For Best Buys

"No need to roam... the best shopping's here at home," is the theme for a shop locally campaign being launched by Colorado City merchants.

The campaign will be outlined in the pages of the RECORD now through Christmas, beginning on Page 6 of this issue.

The campaign will stress the dollars and cents reasons for Mitchell County residents to shop with Mitchell County merchants.

Sponsors for the campaign are Britton's Furniture and Accessories, City National Bank, Landau's, Sterling Hardware, Eddie's of Colorado City, the merchants' committee of the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, Whites Home and Auto Store and Homestate Savings.

Petition Delivered For State Bridge

A push, spearheaded by County Commissioner Elect Paul Logsdon, to seek state funds for construction of a low water crossing (bridge) where Interstate 20 crossed the Colorado River in Mitchell County, has gathered momentum and much support in recent weeks.

The first phase of the project began when Logsdon and Commissioner Johnny Shackelford contacted the highway department district headquarters in Abilene and inquired what the proper procedure would be to request such funding.

Next, a meeting was set in which several area farmers met with State District Engineer Roger Welsch to discuss the problems which exist because there is no low water crossing at that point.

Logsdon drafted a petition which was strategically placed throughout the county. The petition stated farmers driving heavy duty equipment, which usually use access roads to cross the county, are forced to drive up onto the interstate because of the lack of a bridge on the access road.

The only alternatives to crossing the river on the interstate are to drive the equipment through downtown Colorado City or to drive an

City Police To File Charges For Youths Driving Without Licenses

Colorado City Chief of Police Robert Bailey announced Friday that vehicle owners who allow their vehicles to be driven by children without licenses will be subject to police charges.

Bailey said the new policy has been implemented in the department and charges will be filed against the owner of any vehicle driven, with permission, by a minor who does not hold a valid driver's license.

Bailey also announced plans to begin a reserve police force program similar to that used by other law enforcement departments.

In police reports, two wrecks were reported Thursday. One accident occurred at 10:30 a.m. on Second and Hickory Streets when a 1968 Chevrolet Van, driven by Cecelia Garcia, 20, of Colorado City and a 1970 Ford Station Wagon, driven by Ralph David Merritt, 63, of Colorado City collided.

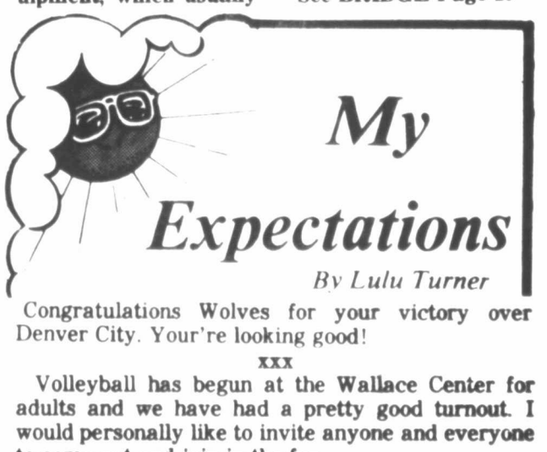

No injuries were reported in the accident and both vehicles were removed from the scene by Dossey Wrecker Service. Assitant Chief of Police Jimmy Roundtree is investigating the incident.

The second accident

My Expectations

By Lulu Turner

Congratulations Wolves for your victory over Denver City. Your're looking good!

Volleyball has begun at the Wallace Center for adults and we have had a pretty good turnout. I would personally like to invite anyone and everyone to come out and join in the fun.

In the past, we (local people in the community) have had volleyball tournaments and last year we had a volleyball league. Hopefully, we'll be able to do so again this year.

Presently the volleyball play at the center is just for fun. We rotate every twelve people and every game is made of different players.

If volleyball is a sport you have played in the past or think you might would like to give it a try, come on out.

I'm looking forward to Sept. 30 and you may ask why that date. I don't know if many read an article I wrote about my poor old air conditioner. In concluding my column, I said, "Today my air conditioner, tomorrow my oil pan."

Well, that's what I'm excited about. I begin an auto mechanics class on Tuesday nights. I've never known much about a car and I never really wanted to get that dirt and grease under my fingernails. But after a little boo boo, I decided now is the time.

My car didn't seem to be running too smoothly, so I was poking around under the hood. I checked the water in my battery and radiator. Then I checked the oil and transmission fluid. I remembered something my dad always checked when the car needed a tune-up.

He would check the points, plugs, condenser, oil filter and air filter. Since I could only find two of these on the list, I looked at the air filter first. Something tells me I need another one because I don't think it is supposed to be dark brown.

Next I checked a spark plug. I kept thinking that it vestigated the accident, reported climbing into the riverbed where he checked for a pulse and finding none, then contacted the Colorado City Volunteer Rescue Squad to recover the body.

Ray Dillard, a paramedic with the squad, reportedly found several items of medication which indicated Eisler may have had a heart condition.

Justice of the Peace Mary Lee Moore was called to the scene and pronounced the victim dead.

Burson stated he will request an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

Other than the six man rescue team who cut the guardrail on the access road to gain access to the wreckage and recovered the body, units from the Sheriff's Office and City Police assisted at the scene.

Chamber Discusses Upcoming Events

Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce met Thursday night for a special called meeting. The reason for the called meeting was due to a lack of quorum at their last meeting. Again, the Chamber had a lack of quorum.

Items on the agenda were discussed but could not be voted on.

Items discussed on the agenda included an October Playday to be held Saturday, Oct. 25. Events will begin at 1 p.m.

Awards for this Playday will be trophies and ribbons. Events will be the same as Labor Day Playday, with the addition of Jackpot Roping.

There will be a called meeting of ambassadors Sept. 25 at noon in the Villa Restaurant. Plans will be made for an open house for businessmen.

A ribbon cutting will be held Monday for Wayne Boyd, a new building contractor in Colorado City. Boyd is the newest member of the Chamber.

A ribbon cutting will also be held Friday, Sept. 26, at 9:30 a.m. in the Medical Building on Fifth and Chestnut for Dr. William Jones and Dr. George Lindsey.

Mitchell County Annual Fair is set for Oct. 2, 3 and 4.

September 29 will be set-up day for the fair beginning at 8 a.m.

Gate admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children from five to twelve. Children under five will be admitted free.

A carnival in conjunction with the fair will begin Wednesday, Oct. 1, and carry on through Oct. 4.

Ambassadors regular quarterly meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 7, noon at Villa Restaurant.

Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will meet Monday, Oct. 6, at 7 p.m. in the Chamber Board Room.

all gambling, not just bingo, in churches and for charitable organizations. He is against the amendment.

Grubbs said if the amendment passes, a regulatory agency will have to be established and licenses and permits will have to be issued.

On juvenile crime, Grubbs stated in his opinion, the laws need to be strengthened so that offenders are punished for their crimes. He said persons 14-years-of-age who are capable of committing such crimes as rape and murder should be tried and punished. He further commented that parents of children committing vandalisms and causing destruction should be held more responsible for their children's actions.

Grubbs will be honored with an appreciation dinner in the Sweetwater Coliseum Annex Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets to the bar-b-q dinner are currently on sale at the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, County Judge Bill Carter's office and through Ray Anne Carlock at the City National Bank.

Couple Weds

In a candlelight service, Susan Mahon became the bride of Don Chessire at 7 p.m. Saturday in a double ring ceremony in the First United Methodist Church in Loraine. Federal Judge Eldon Mahon of Fort Worth, uncle of the bride, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Mahon of Loraine. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin of Odessa.

Mrs. K.L. Taylor provided organ music before the ceremony. Gary Miller of Lubbock sang "Follow Me" and "The Lord's Prayer" with Mrs. J.C. Rickman of Lubbock, aunt of the bride, accompanying at the piano. Mrs. James Mahon accompanied the bride as she sang "You Light Up My Life" just before she was escorted down the aisle by her father.

Background of the altar was centered with a candle tree and flanked on each side by fifteen branched candelabras. Fifteen branched spirals were used on the steps ascending the altar and hurricane lamps marked the bridal aisle with white potted mums at the base. Lighted candles were used in the windows and the traditional unity candle was lighted by the couple at the end of the ceremony. The candle had been used at the 50th wedding anniversary reception for her late grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mahon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white venice lace organza with accents of satin. The molded bodice was fashioned with a yoke of English net and modified V-neck enhanced with venice lace and seed pearls. Bishop sleeves had beaded appliques of lace and a wide band of lace closing at the wrist. The A-line skirt fell from the empire bodice to carpet length in the front and swept to a chapel train in the back. The skirt was fashioned with a flounce ruffle edged in lace at the hemline. Appliques of lace and pearls also highlighted the skirt.

Her veil of silk illusion fell from a modified pearl Juliet cap to beyond the train or her gown.

She carried a bouquet of red roses, gypsophila and Sprengeri.

James Mahon of Oakwood, brother of the bride, served as best man. Charles Couk, Jr., of Burleson was groomsman.

Miss Cindy Mahon, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Gerald Abbott, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Miss Michele Couk of Burleson, niece of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore gowns of huckleberry color crepe with spaghetti straps and ruffled Caplet of chiffon. Their floor length full skirts fell into tiers. They carried bouquets of pink roses and Sprengeri.

Ushers were Gerald Abbott and Geroge Melonakas of Odessa. The groom ushered the mothers to their pews.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mahon.

The bride's table was laid with a white cloth. The four tiered wedding cake was surrounding by fresh roses. Punch was served from the silver punch bowl with the cake by Mrs. Paula Belt and Mrs. Cindy Zoller.

The groom's table was laid in a cloth of burlap with a copper coffee service. Trays of fresh flowers, cheese, crackers, candy and mixed nuts were served by Miss Lacy Bushong of Midland. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Bill Ewalt of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Charles Cook, Miss Cindy Mahon, Mrs. James Mahon and Mrs. Gary Miller.

Miss Debbie Brame of Wichita Falls registered guests at the church.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the Cross Tie Restaurant in Sweetwater Friday evening.

Aunts of the bride, Mrs. J.C. Rickman, Mrs. Eldon Mahon, Mrs. Bryan Mahon and Mrs. Gordon Mahon, hosted the bridesmaid luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at Cross Tie in Sweetwater.

Following a trip to the coast, the couple will be at home in Midland where they work for MGF Oil Corporation.

Cans To Be Collected By Class

The Junior class of Westbrook High School has announced they are collecting aluminum cans to sell as a class project, with all money raised being applied to funds for their senior trip.

Class sponsors are Judy Chitsey and Hortas Hines and they ask if you have cans you would like to donate, phone them at 728-3053 or 728-5308 and they will have someone pick them up.

Another current fund raising project underway by the class is typing mailing address labels.

During a slated meeting Sept. 9, officers for the coming year were elcted as follows: T.J. Parsons, president; Debbie Webb, secretary; Pat Harris, reporter; Jeff Boon, treasurer and Rosie Vigil and Kelly Adams, student council.

Registration Still Open

Rod Sternard of Texas State Technical Institute in Sweetwater made an announcement for those who were thinking about going back to school, but think they have missed the boat because formal registration has closed, he said you may be in luck.

He said many courses at TSTI are self-paced with open-entry programs which enable students to enroll at the first of any week. Technical courses offered are dental assisting, auto body repair and technical office training.

He said although enrollment at TSTI is all time records this Fall, a limited number of housing lots are available for single students.

Because TSTI is a state supported school, tuition and fees are very low, an average cost for tuition and fees per quarter is $89, he concluded.

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Miller, City, are the proud parents of a 7 lb., 13 oz., baby girl, Laurie Ruth, born September 12 in Root Memorial Hospital.

Wolves Varsity Football Defeats Denver City 21-0 In Friday's Game

Colorado City's Wolves made the big plays Friday night and as a result, they won, notching their first victory in three outings as they shut-out the Denver City Mustangs 21-0 in Denver City.

The Wolves amassed less yardage against Denver City than they did the previous week against Post as the Wolves had some 237 yards passing and rushing. Against Post, the Wolves had some 350 yards in offense.

But against Post, the big plays eluded the Wolves. This was not the case against Denver City. There was a fourth and one at the Mustang six and the Wolves got a first down. There were several third downs and long yardage to go and the Wolves converted the situation into a first down against Denver City. However, turnovers and penalties still posed problems.

Twice, the Wolves fumbled the ball away deep in their own territory but the Colorado City defense wouldn't budge. Several would-be drives by the Wolves were thwarted by penalties.

It had been said after last week's game against Post that it seemed the Wolves were on the verge of getting it all together and indeed they did, even with several top players out with injuries.

Dane Powell is out for the season while Gary Rowe probably will miss only the one game with a back muscle injury and Dennis Heredia is out for several weeks with broken bones in his hand.

Doug Johnson, sidelined with a slight shoulder separation in the Slaton game, saw limited action, amassing good yardage but his kick-offs got a lot of attention as they were long and high with the asset of a good breeze. One sailed through the uprights on what would have otherwise been a 70-yard field goal.

One of the heroes of the night for the Wolves was Jeff Hammond who stopped what appeared to be two Mustang scoring drives, once when he recovered a Denver City fumble at the Wolves 13 and on a pass interception at the Wolves 25 that he returned to the Mustang 44 and resulted in a Wolves' touchdown.

Also, on the list of heroes was the offensive line that seemed to control the line of scrimmage. Those players include Randy Uselton, Sam Houston, Mike Bailey, Steven Light, Tim Nobles, Kirk Evans, Stacey Tarter, David Albin and Dwight Staats.

made their mark on the Wolves first possession. The Wolves took a Denver City punt from their own 33 and drove downfield with Quarterback Mark Carter going the final three yards to score and Kirk Evans kicked the extra point, making the score 7-0 with 4:05 to go in the first period.

That was all the scoring in the first half. The Wolves defense, led by Mark Piland, Mike Beights, Todd Neff, Jerry Phariss, Randy McPhaul, Jay Green, Mike Scott, Jeff Hammond, Steven Light, Victor Jackson, Kirk Evans and David Zimmerman, held Denver City to only one first down in the first half, that one coming in the waning seconds on a long pass play. Following that, the Mustangs faked a 40-yard field goal but the fake was to no avail and the half ended.

The Wolves got the ball to start the second half with Hammond setting Colorado City up in good field position when he returned the kickoff to the Wolves 49. However, penalties negated that good situation.

It was not until Hammond made the interception, giving the Wolves the ball for the second time in the second half that the Wolves were able to get something started. They drove from the Mustang 44 to score with Carter passing 12 yards to Yancy Spivey for the score. Evans again added the point after, making the score 14-0 with 1:56 to go in the third period.

Midway through the fourth quarter, the Wolves got the ball at their own 43 following two stalwart stands by the Colorado City defense to stop scoring threats by the Mustangs. The Wolves used up almost all of what was left on the clock on a time consuming ground game before Carter dropped back to zing a pass across the middle to Tight End Kirk Evans for 19 yards and a touchdown with 12 seconds left in the game. Evans added the extra point, making the score 21-0.

Carter completed two out of six pass attempts on the night for 31 yards. The Wolves amassed 16 first downs with 70 plays, indicating their dominance of the game. Denver City had 11 first downs, one on a penalty and one on the last play of the game.

Loraine and Garden City End Friday's Game In Tie

Loraine and Garden City ended their game Friday night in a tie of 0-0.

Bulldogs' total yards rushing was 133 and passes were two of six for 13 yards. They charged for nine first downs and had three punts for 32 yards. Total penalties were only three for 25 yards.

Garden City had only 73 yards rushing with one of five passes connecting for seven yards. Bearcats received only three first downs and had four penalties for 40 yards.

Loraine's leading rusher for the night was Jerry Rose with 17 rushes for 97 yards. Next was Tony Williams, with eight for 27 yards.

On the Garden City side was Robbie Creswell with seven rushes for 34 and Scott Hillger with four for six.

"We beat them on the field, not just on the scoreboard and a tie is like kissing your sister," said Assistant Coach Jimmy Fine.

Loraine broke lose as Jerry Darnell carried the ball 40 yards down to the 10 yard line. Jerry Rose was tackled in the next play and fumbled the ball.

"We just lost our composure, but we are still improving," said Coach Fine. "We had our best offensive showing, our fumbles just killed us."

Loraine will travel to Sands Friday night. Kick-off time will be 8 p.m.

"It should be a very interesting game and we should learn a lot from it," said Fine.

Foster Addresses Historical Society

By DONNA WATSON

G.D. Foster took members of the Mitchell County Historical Society back to the year 1919 when there were 24 schools in the Mitchell County District, during their meeting Wednesday.

A good education then, as now, depended on the quality of the teacher, Foster said.

Foster came to Mitchell County from Canyon in 1919 at the age of 19. He had been hired as a teacher by the school district although most of his students were older than he.

Foster explained that it was difficult to find male teachers at that time partly because of the war and because the salary was only $90 a month.

Foster said at that time it was no problem to obtain a teaching certificate and he applied for and got a temporary certificate and then continued his education and obtained a permanent certificate.

He taught through 1924 then became Superintendent of Schools until 1928.

"There were never any discipline problems back then," he said.

The school in which he taught boasted four teachers and one superintendent.

Foster taught algebra, science, plain geometry and physiology. "I had the pleasure of teaching subjects that I had never studied," he said.

In those days, there were no paved streets and very few automobiles, Foster recalled.

Most of the dating was done on Sunday afternoon when a boy and his date would walk to the hills where the refinery was later constructed and have a picnic then walk back to town.

At one point in Foster's teaching career, he recalled deciding to give up the profession for a more lucrative field.

The school contacted him and requested he return as principal. Foster said he decided to return if they would pay $160 per month rather than the $90 he had previously made.

The school district, after some bartering, agreed to the salary and Foster returned.

The high school in which he taught was located where Hutchinson Elementary is presently located. Foster compared his salary then to that of his daughter who began teaching at $800 a month a few years ago.

"She had quite a bit more schooling than I did when I began teaching, but I can not help thinking that she made more in one month than I did in one year."

The enrollment averaged about 100 students in the high school graduating class, Foster said.

Organized sports were nothing compared to those of today, Foster recalled.

Baseball and basketball were the two sports played in school.

Baseball was the main sport and his school competed against Loraine and Big Spring. There were no busses so each member of the team had to arrange his own transportation. Uniforms were furnished by merchants and the boys bought their own shoes and equipment.

Foster recalled one trip the team made to Big Spring in two "Hup-Mobiles." The roads were square then and all the turns were square rather than curves and at one of these turns just about at Coahoma, a cow stood in the middle of the road.

The car could not be stopped in time to miss the animal and Foster said the right front fender edged under her neck, coming so close that it rang the bell she was wearing around her neck.

Basketball was another sport in which the district participated. The game was so new that the two coaches of the teams would alternate as referees because they were only people who knew enough about the game to do the job.

The game was played on clay courts with boundary lines drawn in lime. "It was a lot rougher then than it is now," he said.

Foster noted that in those days, students usually only attended school for seven months out of the year. They were needed to gather the cotton crop and farm during the remaining months.

During his tenure as superintendent and prior to his quitting the profession in 1939 to go into the insurance business, he was confronted with the problem of redistricting about 25 square miles from several districts into the Westbrook District.

Foster said he wrote a confidential letter to the state representative describing the need and requesting assistance on the touchy subject.

The representative turned around and contacted the districts to tell them Foster was pushing to take their land. He noted Westbrook got the needed property anyway and later the state caused a complete redistricting.

"Teaching was a very rewarding job and I certainly wouldn't have been doing it if it had not been, with a salary of $90 a month," Foster said.

Seventh Graders Win Game

Wolves seventh grade football team won their game 12-0 Thursday night against Stamford.

First score of the game was called back for clipping, as Ronny Lowrance made a 50-yard run in the middle of the second quarter.

Lowrance scored again with one second left in the second quarter. He scored on a 45-yard screen pass. The Wolves went into halftime with the score of 6-0.

Final score of the game came in the fourth quarter by Ronny Lowrance.

Both extra point attempts failed.

"Defense played real well," said Coach Ronnie Gainey. "We just got off to a slow start. We were strong in the third and fourth quarters. We just had a few mental mistakes in the first half."

"Ronny Lowrance, the running back, had an excellent game, he made all of the scores of the night. Mike Ligon also had a good game," said Gainey.

Next week, Wolves will have the home town advantage against Ballinger at 5:30 p.m.

Freshmen Take 34-14 Victory Over Stamford

Wolves freshman football team defeated Stamford 34-14 in Thursday night's game held at Wolf Stadium.

First touchdown for the Wolves came when Ben Gonzalez made a four-yard run in the first quarter.

Wolves scored their second touchdown in the second quarter as Larry Hamilton went for a two-yard run.

Conversion attempts on both touchdowns failed.

Wolves third touchdown came in the second quarter just before halftime. Dennis Rivera made a seven-yard pass to Ben Gonzalez for the score.

Larry Hamilton was successful in running in the two-point conversion.

Halftime left the score board showing 20-6.

In the third quarter, Dennis Rivera scored on a 10-yard run for the fourth touchdown of the game.

Hamilton again ran in the two-point conversion.

The last touchdown came in the fourth quarter on a seven-yard run by Ben Gonzalez. The extra point was not good.

Wolves offense had 198 yards running and 85 passing for a total of 273 yards for the night.

Dennis Rivera completed five of ten passes. He had one interception and his total yardage for the night was 85 yards.

Larry Hamilton had 71 yards on 20 carries. Ben Gonzalez had 72 yards on 16 carries. Dennis Rivera was successful with 38 yards on eight carries and Manuel DeLoera with 11 yards on three carries.

Pass receptions were as follows: Larry Hamilton caught one for 17 yards, Mike Luera one for seven yards, Ben Gonzalez two for 49 yards and John Gilstrap one for 12.

Wolves ran a total of 65 plays as opposed to Stamford's 35.

Stamford scored in the first quarter as an 85-yard pass was intercepted and carried in.

They scored again in the third quarter for their final touchdown as they drove the kick-off 65-yards to the goal line.

"I was pleased with the effort the boys gave," said Coach Bill Barnard. "I was also pleased with the ball control. The boys played a complete ball game."

"Dennis Rivera was extremely successfull in running the veer. He made it work for our team," said Barnard. "Ben Gonzalez had a good game and played the best of his ability," he said.

Freshman will have an open date this Thursday as Ballinger has cancelled the game due to a lack of players in Ballinger, reported Barnard.

occurred at 3:20 p.m. in the 1300 Block of Chestnut Street when a 1976 Ford pickup, driven by John Gonzales, 17, of Colorado City and a 1975 Mercury Comet, driven by James Bobo, 19, of Colorado City collided.

No injuries were reported. Dossey Wrecker Service was contacted to untangle the bumpers of the two vehicles but was not needed to remove the vehicles. Sergeant Don Hamilton investigated the accident.

It is being sponsored by the Texas Victory Committee on behalf of the Reagan-Bush ticket.

It is aimed at registering Reagan-Bush supporters before the Oct. 3 deadline and encouraging them to vote on Nov. 4.

Clements and Connally and their wives will begin the day in Abilene for the first of four West Texas rallies at 9:30 a.m. at the Civic Center. They will hold a news conference immediately after the round-up rally.

Then they go to Big Spring for a noon luncheon and rally and press conference at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. Tickets are being sold locally for the event.

Afterwards, they travel to San Angelo for a rally on the lawn of the Tom Green County Courthouse at 2:30 p.m. The day's activities will be rounded up with a free bar-b-q supper expected to draw participants from 11 counties at the Brownwood Coliseum at 6:30 p.m.

Contact Reily for information.

Appraisal District To Select Review Board

Mitchell County Tax Appraisal District will sit in session Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Administration Building to appoint a three person Tax Review Board.

The district will also consider taking temporary office space in the Administration Building to house Southwestern Appraisal Company and a new computer.

A decision on joining the Texas County and District Retirement System is scheduled during the meeting.

The purchase of office equipment will be discussed.

additional 20 miles out of the way.

The petition noted that the interstate crossing is hazardous as is the crossing route through the downtown area and the detours are costing in fuel and manhours.

Logsdon, Shackelford and County Judge Bill Carter, representing the Commissioners Court, and State Representative Walter Grubbs requested and got a hearing by the state highway commission on the problem.

They travelled to Austin Wednesday, taking the petitions containing more than 1,200 signatures, photographs of the problem areas and letters of recommendation with them to present to the commission.

Several other groups from different parts of Texas were appearing at the hearing and requesting millions of dollars worth of funding, Logsdon said.

Rep. Grubbs addressed the commission, giving an introductory statement. He noted the presence of the delegation and reported that a letter from State Senators Ray Farabee and Grant Jones should be soon arriving for the commission's edification, endorsing the project.

Grubbs introduced Judge Carter who then read a prepared statement which explained the problem to the commission.

"Judge Carter did an excellent job of explaining the situation," Logsdon stated.

The petitions were presented and pictures of the hazardous locations were displayed and explained.

Judge Carter noted to the commission that this was the third attempt to obtain funds for the project, although this was the first time funding had been requested from the state, Logsdon said.

Logsdon reported that a member of the commission, D.C. Greer (referred to as Mr. Highway), who is a past state highway engineer, spoke to the delegation and stated he understood the problem and was well aware of the situation and had been for a number of years.

Logsdon said Greer indicated he knew the problem to be a very real one.

The commission gave no official indication as to their decision.

duled to present plans for completing the watering system and improvements at the cemetery.

Mrs. Tarter suggested individuals satisfied with the current system or having suggestions or ideas on new improvements should contact her, a council member or a member of the cemetery board prior to the meeting.

Mrs. Tarter estimated the cost of completing the system, currently being installed at the cemetery, to be between $8,000 and $10,000.

An alternative system, installing faucets across the cemetery at 50 foot intervals which would give individuals access to the water, would cost between $3,000 and $5,000, according to an estimate given by Water Superintendet Buzz Rich.

In either event, the full-time caretaker will continue his duties.

Mrs. Tarter noted, however, that the cemetery is too large an area for one person to do all the necessary work.

The cemetery covers an area of about 100 acres, with about 40 acres in the older portion in the front section of the cemetery and about 60 acres in the newer portion.

When the new program was implemented in 1976, it was hoped in City Hall that the program would be self supporting in 10 years. This has not proven to be the case.

Funds for cemetery improvements are derived from donations and 40 per cent of the purchase price of cemetery lots sold. The city also contributes $5,000 annually for maintenance and improvements.

Currently, $6,300 remains in the cemetery operations fund and $8,900 remains in the permanent improvement fund.

The cemetery board also tentatively plans to submit three other proposals for consideration during the Oct. 14 meeting.

The first proposal states that only in the far northern area of the cemetery may monuments of an upright nature be erected.

The second proposal states that in the area west of the existing new section (the last 15 rows), monuments erected must be level and uniform and no curbing will be allowed. (this will be effected for the purpose of maintenance.

The third proposal sets off a section in the western end of the new section for the burial of infants.

Members of the City Council are: Mayor Elmer Martin; Mac McKinnon; Nina K. Crout; Sammy Parham; Macca Findley; Jesse Munoz and Ray Dillard.

Members of the Cemetery Board are: Marion Bassham; Frances Chesney; Roy Byrd; G.D. Foster and Rick Perkin.

couldn't be a very hard job to replace them. If I only took the little rubber wires off one at a time and got a crooked little wrench, I was sure I could do it.

I pulled on one to see how hard they were to get off and on, but it was somewhat of a pull. When it finally came off, there was still a little piece of metal on the end of it. I've seen my dad carry enough of those things around to know there shouldn't be a piece of metal still on the end.

I goofed somewhere, but when I tried to put it back on, guess what? It wouldn't go and that's when I decided it was time for me to get busy and learn a few basic mechanics.

Actually, I wish I was beginning the class this week because that little wire is still just hanging there.

I don't intend to make this a profession, but it's a challenge to know why your car just clicks when you turn the key on or when you step on the gas pedal and the only thing moving fast is the hand on the gas gauge toward empty.
