MAN SHOT IN BURKBURNETT FIGHT

So This Is Texas

Texas Wonderland—
Orient Recovering—
No Rioting Here—
Chicago Advice Poor.

By H. N. Fitzgerald

TEXAS is a wonderland of all the states. According to an out-of-the-state correspondent, six months ago the town of El Camey did not exist on the map. Then it was laid out and a station established there by the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railroad shortly after oil was discovered in a new district comprising Crane and Upton county. Be it known that this railroad in certain circles is called the Christian Science railroad, because the man who dreamed it and then built it was a member of that cult. El Camey, it is declared by the correspondent, is now the biggest shipping point on that railroad, and perhaps has no equal for its size anywhere in the country. He gives the figures.

* * *

DURING the month of August the total freight receipts of El Camey station were $717,000, of which $309,000 were on inbound shipments and $408,000 on outbound shipments. During the month of August the total express receipts of the station were $30,000. Shipments consisted of oil field machinery, equipment and supplies, as well as various kinds of merchandise for the stores which were opened during the month. Oil comprised most of the outbound shipments. Again, according to the correspondent, as a result of heavy traffic into and out of El Camey, the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient is enjoying greater prosperity than any time in its history.

Its officials admit its growing prosperity. Furthermore, they say the development of the oil field has barely started and it is expected that El Camey will continue to grow and thrive for years to come.

* * *

TEXAS has vast underground wealth. Texas is taking its wealth from under the crust of the earth and shipping it out of the state. There are geologists who say that the mineral wealth of Texas, including petroleum, is of a value staggering to the mind and to date the petroleum industry is in its infancy and the face of the earth hasn't even been scratched for development purposes.

* * *

REGARDLESS of all this it will be in the agricultural and manufacturing fields of endeavor where the Texans of the future must employ their talents as wealth makers for Texas will ever be a huge producer of the raw materials which feed the mouths and clothe the backs of the multitudes who populate the world. Why not factories?

* * *

JUDGE Marcus Cavenaugh, a judicial light of Chicago, and one of the pillars of the American Bar Association, came all the way to Texas to tell the people of the commonwealth that criminals were more daring and more numerous than ever before and that something should be done by the lawyers and lawmakers down here to improve conditions.

* * *

NOW why should a jurist come from Chicago to educate the people of Texas? There isn't a city in Texas where crime runs riot or criminals run amuck. There isn't a city in Texas where a gang of gunmen could defy the officers of the law and get away with it. There isn't a city or a district in Texas where lawless men armed with machine guns could exist for an hour. There isn't a city or district in Texas where beer runners could defy the agents of the law or overawe the authorities of a third class town. There isn't a county in Texas where outlaws are permitted to run at large.

* * *

THERE is not a border county where the sheriff and his aides are not able to cope with law breakers of all types and colors. There are many killers in Texas. In recent years, jurors are convicting killers. There are a few highjackers in Texas. They did not remain long in one place when the Rangers got on their trail. Crime is not rampant in Texas as it is in Chicago, and criminals are punished in Texas.

* * *

RECORDS of the higher courts show this as well as the records of the lower courts. Judge Kavanaugh is an eminent jurist, one of the best known in America. But he should urge the citizens of Chicago in the state of Illinois, to get rid of the hordes of criminals in that city and state before he comes to Texas to lecture the authorities and the laymen on crime and criminals within the borders of the Lone Star commonwealth the urgent need for more effective laws to deal with law breakers and their henchmen.

Drunken Men Jeer Dying Convicts

NEW SENSATION BROUGHT UP IN CAPITOL PROBE

Drunken Party Celebrates In State Penitentiary, Probers Told

WARDEN TELLS FACTS

Convicts Also Pay Fees To Get Pardons State Board Learns

AUSTIN, Oct. 22.(AP)—Prayers from drunken lips as the souls of the "Black Terrors," Frank and Lonzo Noel, negroes, were shot over the borderland of the beyond, were told of by Col. H. Walter Sayles, chairman of the prison commission to the house committee investigating state departments here Friday.

A group of men from Dallas and another group from Houston, who visited Frank O'Rourke, secretary of the prison commission, during the electrocution of these negroes, put on an all-night party that lasted well into the next day, N. L. Speer, warden of the penitentiary, testified.

Speer Handles Switch.

Speer is the man who places the switch to take the lives of men conducted and sentenced to capital punishement. He is the man who said: "When I push the switch and a man's soul goes from his body, a part of me also dies."

Commissioner Sayles said: "Chaplain Watson told me it was a disgraceful drunken affair, and several others told me the same thing, which an investigation later disclosed. Chaplain Watson said the visitors prayed and acted up."

The hearing in the late afternoon revealed sensational testimony relative to the state prison system, involving an alleged shortage in the accounts of Col. S. G. Granberry, commissioner appointed by—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, and the statement of Warden Speer that money had been withdrawn from prisoner's accounts to pay for the getting of pardons.

Whiskey Manufactured.

Whiskey was manufactured on the Eastham farm when Granberry was farm manager, Colonel Sayles testified, and he related "bucks" or mutinies resulted from a prisoner getting drunk and shooting up the quarters where the prisoners are kept.

Sayles said that Mrs. Ouida Ferguson Nalle, daughter of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson came to the prison system and wrote bonds for money of the employes of the prison system.

Jeer Doomed Men

Speer testified that the drunken visitors to the death cells of the night of the electrocutions jeered the black terrors as they made their death mach to the electric chair.

"Some of them were feeling good two-thirds drunk," Speer said. "Frank O'Rourke had permission to let the men see the electrocutions We regard Frank O'Rourke as our next boss when the commissioners are not there."

The commissioners were away the night of the electrocutions.

Chaplain A. W. Watson told Commissioner Sayles about the affair and Sayles testified that he investigated the actions of the drunken death delegation.

Speer said that O'Rourke called Chaplain Watson to pray for the first negro, but that the chaplain refused to pray for the second because of the actions of the witnesses.

They Were Drunk

The delegations from Houston and Dallas were mostly special officers and they came drunk to the prison, and went to Frank O'Rourke's rooms in the administration building, Speer said. They were in the death call when he went to perform his gruesome duty at midnight, he testified. Speer said he had no authority to keep the men out. Representative Fly asked Sayles: "Why do you keep such a man as O'Rourke," and Sayles said "I let out Granberry and they made him commissioner; I was afraid if I let O'Rourke out, they would promote him."

Chairman Lee Satterwhite lanuged and said: "I think that is an all-sufficient answer."

Sayles said he had told Jim Ferguson he would not fight him on his prison policy as long as he appointed honest and efficient men.

"Do you think O'Rourke comes under that category?" Fly asked.

"I just answered you about O'Rourke," Sayles answered.

He Revises Rules

Commissioner Sayles said that following the black terror drunken death party that he issued instructions that no one be permitted to enter the death cell during an electrocution without written permission of two commissioners, and that no drunken men may enter the death chamber.

When Speer first took the stand he testified that prisoners had paid out money from their deposited funds in effort to procure pardons.

"C. A. Putney, with a bad record and sentenced for life for murder, tendered Frank O'Rourke $300 to get a pardon," Speer testified. "I know he got the $300 of Putney's money."

Putney is a barber in the walls and is the man who designed and built the electric chair. He has not been pardoned, Speer said.

"A prisoner, H. A. Williams, gave

LONE STAR BANNER PRESENTED AS GIFT TO "SESQUI" BOARD

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22. (AP)—The state flag of Texas was presented today to the sesqui-centennial exposition in a ceremony which took place at Slate Roof house on the high street colonial section of the grounds. The flag was presented on behalf of Texas by Mrs. Horance L. Hotchkiss of New York an associated commissioner of Texas to the exposition.

Mrs. Hotchkiss made an address in which she recounted the early history of Texas. The flag was accepted on behalf of the sesqui and the city of Philadelphia by Mrs. George Horace Lorimer, chairman of the state committee of women's organizations.

QUAKE PLAYS QUEER TRICKS

Wax Model Shimmies As Trembler Quivers Her Pedestal

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 22. (AP) The earthquakes which shook Oakland this morning played some queer pranks.

In the Schleringer department store a wax model in one of the display windows did a cross between the shimmey and the Charleston when the first shock came. The model plunged through a large plate glass window in to the street and was decapitated. The damage to model and window is estimated at $1,000.

The master clock in the city hall tower which regulates other clocks in the city was stopped at 4:37 a. m. Clocks in the Elks club building also stopped.

The ball on top the flag pole on the city hall fell and could not be found. Water pipes at the Oakland Technical high school were broken. Power wires at the Alemeda municipal light works were broken. Gueste fled from the hotels, but no injuries were reported.

17 AMERICANS DIE IN STORM ISLE OF PINES

Casualty List Is Received At Havana Late Thursday Night

MANY OTHERS HURT

Relief Work Organized In Storm Stricken Center By Survivors

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 22. (AP)—The Isle of Pines was severely ravaged by the Carribean storm of Wednesday, 222 persons being killed, among them 17 Americans, and about 100 injured.

This was the startling news brought to Havana this afternoon after more than 48 hours without a word from the Isle of Pines whichr lies about 15 miles south of Cuba.

From all the sections of Cuba affected by the storm reports came in today which added to the steadily mounting list of dead and injured. It is now estimated that more than 600 hundred persons were killed, about 1,600 injured and more than 6,500 families were made homeless. It has been estimated that the losses in money total near $100,000,000.

Many towns from which meager news came today, appear to have been wrecked. Among them are Bianca, San Antonio, Del Rio, Blanco, Cuira de Melena, Jamica, Cuatro, Caminos, Gabriel, Batabano and on the Isle of Pines, Santa Fe, Santa Barbara and San Francisco.

Throughout the area affected high water seems to have done almost as much damage as the hurricane. With the path of the storm officially reported to have been from the Isle of Pines through Batabano and on to the north coast, a few miles east of Havana, every village in the path from which word has come tells of inundations of a part or the whole settlement.

PARDON GIVEN '99-YEAR MAN'

Recipient of Clemency Had Once Escaped From Penitentiary

FORT WORTH, Oct. 22. (AP) Mark Wheeler, pardoned today from a 99-year penitentiary sentence, was convicted here for holding up and robbing J. MacThompson of $115. Wheeler left him a dime for car fare home. The two were at a filling station and Wheeler decided to rob the other when Thompson jostled him away from the stove both were trying to warm by.

Wheeler was one of the alleged bandits indicted several times and convicted during the so-called crime wave following the World war. In May, 1924, he escaped from the penitentiary during a fire convicts set trying to effect a wholesale delivery. Wheeler and another prisoner were the only ones to escape, however. Enroute to Houston Wheelar held up a motorist and took his car. He came to Fort Worth, eluded officers here and was not captured until his gasoline gave out near Van Horn, on a westward flight.

FIRE STATION MOVE TO BE CITY'S SAVING

No. 4, Seventh Street, to Be Cleared Off For New Auditorium

GOES TO DENVER, 7TH

West End of Town Will Get More Protection By Change

A new location for City Fire Station No. 4, which is now located on the lot on which the new city auditorium is to be built, has been selected and a contract for its purchase made by Mayor R. E. Shepherd. Bids will be called soon for moving the first station to the new location.

The site selected is the southeast corner of Seventh street and Denver avenue. It is a level lot, being situated on the highest point in that section of the city. Both streets adjoining the lot are paved and it has water, gas and sewer connections.

It was the desire of the city council to locate the fire station much further to the west than its present place and the site selected is just about what they wanted.

The lot is 50x150 feet, all paving paid for, and all connections in, and was purchased for $2,500. The paving adjoining the property cost the owner $1,650, so the city is actually paying less than a thousand dollars for a corner lot on a good street and well located.

It was estimated yesterday that the deal actually saved the city about $100,000, as it would not be long until that section of the city would need a fire house, and this act will save the establishing of a new station. To establish a new station would mean to buy a new site, build a new building, and add a new crew to the fire department payrolls, all of which within a few years would amount to approximately $100,000 in expense to the

O. V. PARRISH IN HOSPITAL HERE SHOT IN CHEST

Burkburnett Veterinarian May Die As Result Of Wounds

J. NOBLES ALSO HURT

Tom Childress Surrenders After Shooting On Main Street

BULLETIN

Dr. O. V. Parrish, fatally wounded Friday night at Burkburnett in a shooting affray on the main street of that city, died at 12:45 a. m., Saturday in the Wichita Falls Kemcel hospital.

Dr. O. V. Parrish, a veterinary surgeon of Newtown, is in the general hospital possibly fatally wounded as a result of a shooting affray about 8 o'clock Friday night in front of the First State bank building on the main street of Burkburnett. Tom Childers, pioneer resident, farmer, stockman and former deputy constable of Burk, was being detained by county officers in connection with the affair, while Jim Nobles, a companion of Parrish and who suffered a painful scalp wound in the fight, was also in custody. No charges have been filed against any one.

Parrish Unconscious

Parrish was unconscious at the hospital at an early hour Saturday morning and attendants said he had about one chance in three to recover. One bullet struck him in the right side, ranging downward from the breast and lodging near the left hip. Both arms were broken by shot. The bullet that punctured the body, it was said, would probably result in internal disorders that would prove fatal.

As many as seven or eight shots were fired in all, eye-witnesses of the affray asserted. Nobles and Parrish had come to Burkburnett late in the afternoon and met Childers on the street near the bank and almost in front of the Goodlet and Bewalen market. A short argument ensued between the three and then the shooting started.

Shots Exchanged

Officers said Parrish had fired one shot from a gun that he was carrying before he fell in front of the hail of lead sent back at him. Two random shots scattered the large glass window in the market and some others riddled the side of a small auto parked at the curb. Parrish was standing about on the curbing when he was struck. He fell against a fender of the machine and then dropped into the gutter. An ambulance was summoned and he was rushed to the hospital here.

Nobles received a deep scalp wound, the result, it was said, of a blow on the head in a struggle either immediately preceding or immediately after the shooting. His wounds were dressed in Burkburnett and he was then brought to Wichita Falls with Childers in custody of Burkburnett officers. Both men were turned over to District Attorney Ben Allred and his assistant Sam Spence.

Both Questioned

Both were questioned briefly and then turned over to the sheriff with instructions that they be held until Saturday when a hearing will be had before a justice of the peace.

The shooting is said to have come as a result of a long period of enmity between Parrish and Childers. Ill feeling had existed for seven or eight years, it was declared.

Parrish has a family at Newtown, while Childers has one at Burkburnett. Nobles was married and was employed as a teamster.

Actress Keeps Babe's Custody

Court Refuses to Take Girl Away From Woman In Scandal

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 22. (AP)—Mme. Olga Milanoff, companion of Frank Lloyd Wright, the architect, late today blocked legal efforts of Vladmir Hinzenberg, her former husband to obtain custody of their nine-year-old daughter, Svetlana. Victory for the Montenegrin dancer came when Judge Horace Dickinson in district court withdrew a bench warrant which he had previously issued for her arrest. The warrant charged contempt of court for not producing Svetlana in court this morning as ordered under a writ of habeas corpus instead late Thursday. Judge Dickinson after withdrawing the bench warrant dismissed the writ.

Judge Dickinson gave his decions after Mme. Milanoff's attorneys produced affidavits signed by the Hennepin county jailer and others, saying that the writ was not served on the dancer.

Mme. Milanoff and Wright, arrested near here Wednesday night, were held in a local jail until noon today when they gave bail totalling $15,000 guaranteeing their presence in police court October 29, for a preliminary hearing on charges of being fugitives from justice and in federal district court, October 30, for a hearing on Mann act charges.

MAN SHOT IN BURKBURNETT FIGHT

So This Is Texas

Texas Wonderland—

Chicago Advice Poor.

By H. N. Fitzgerald

TEXAS is a wonderland of all the states. According to an out-of-the-state correspondent, six months ago the town of El Camey did not exist on the map. NOW why should a jurist come from Chicago to educate the people of Texas? There isn't a city in Texas where crime runs riot or criminals run amuck. There isn't a city in Texas where a gang of gunmen could defy the officers of the law and get away with it. There isn't a city or a district in Texas where lawless men armed with machine guns could exist for an hour. There isn't a city or district in Texas where beer runners could defy the agents of the law or overawe the authorities of a third class town. There isn't a county in Texas where outlaws are permitted to run at large.

* * *

THERE is not a border county where the sheriff and his aides are not able to cope with law breakers of all types and colors. There are many killers in Texas. In recent years, jurors are convicting killers. There are a few highjackers in Texas. They did not remain long in one place when the Rangers got on their trail. Crime is not rampant in Texas as it is in Chicago, and criminals are punished in Texas.

* * *

RECORDS of the higher courts show this as well as the records of the lower courts. Judge Kavanaugh is an emminent jurist, one of the best known in America. But he should urge the citizens of Chicago in the state of Illinois, to get rid of the hordes of criminals in that city and state before he comes to Texas to lecture the authorities and the laymen on crime and criminals within the borders of the Lone Star commonwealth the urgent need for more effective laws to deal with law breakers and their henchmen.

Drunken Men Jeer Dying Convicts

NEW SENSATION BROUGHT UP IN CAPITOL PROBE

Drunken Party Celebrates In State Penitentiary, Probers Told

WARDEN TELLS FACTS

Convicts Also Pay Fees To Get Pardons State Board Learns

AUSTIN, Oct. 22.(AP)—Prayers from drunken lips as the souls of the "Black Terrors," Frank and Lonzo Noel, negroes, were shot over the bordeciand of the beyond, were told of by Col. H. Walter Sayles, chairman of the prison commission to the house committee investigating state departments here Friday.

A group of men from Dallas and another group from Houston, who visited Frank O'Rourke, secretary of the prison commission, during the electrocution of these negroes, put on an all-night party that lasted well into the next day, N. L. Speer, warden of the penitentiary, testified.

Speer Handles Switch.

Speer is the man who places the switch to take the lives of men conducted and sentenced to capital punishement. He is the man who said: "When I push the switch and a man's soul goes from his body, a part of me also dies."

Commissioner Sayles said: "Chaplain Watson told me it was a disgraceful drunken affair, and several others told me the same thing, which an investigation later disclosed. Chaplain Watson said the visitors prayed and acted up."

The hearing in the late afternoon revealed sensational testimony relative to the state prison system, involving an alleged shortage in the accounts of Col. S. G. Granberry, commissioner appointed by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, and the statement of Warden Speer that money had been withdrawn from prisoners accounts to pay for the getting of pardons.

Whiskey Manufactured.

Whiskey was manufactured on the Eastham farm when Granberry was farm manager, Colonel Sayles testified, and he related "bucks" or mutinies resulted from a prisoner getting drunk and shooting up the quarters where the prisoners are kept.

Sayles said that Mrs. Ouida Ferguson Nalle, daughter of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson came to the prison system and wrote bonds for money of the employes of the prison system.

Joer Doomed Men

Speer testified that the drunken visitors to the death cells of the night of the electrocutions jeered the black terrors as they made their death mach to the electric chair.

"Some of them were feeling good two-thirds drunk," Speer said. "Frank O'Rourke had permission to let the men see the electrocutions. We regard Frank O'Rourke as our next boss when the commissioners are not there."

The commissioners were away the night of the electrocutions.

Chaplain A. W. Watson told Commissioner Sayles about the affair and Sayles testified that he investigated the actions of the drunken death delegation.

Speer said that O'Rourke called Chaplain Watson to pray for the first negro, but that the chaplain refused to pray for the second because of the actions of the witnesses.

They Were Drunk

The delegations from Houston and Dallas were mostly special officers and they came drunk to the prison, and went to Frank O'Rourke's rooms in the administration building, Speer said. They were in the death call when he went to perform his gruesome duty at midnight, he testified. Speer said he had no authority to keep the men out. Representative Fly asked Sayles: "Why do you keep such a man as O'Rourke," and Sayles said "I let out Granberry and they made him commissioner; I was afraid if I let O'Rourke out, they would promote him."

Chairman Lee Satterwhite lanuged and said: "I think that is an all-sufficient answer."

Sayles said he had told Jim Ferguson he would not fight him on his prison policy as long as he appointed honest and efficient men.

"Do you think O'Rourke comes under that category?" Fly asked.

"I just answered you about O'Rourke," Sayles answered.

He Revises Rules

Commissioner Sayles said that following the black terror drunken death party that he issued instructions that no one be permitted to enter the death cell during an electrocution without written permission of two commissioners, and that no drunken men may enter the death chamber.

When Speer first took the stand he testified that prisoners had paid out money from their deposited funds in effort to procure pardons.

"C. A. Putney, with a bad record and sentenced for life for murder, tendered Frank O'Rourke $200 to get a pardon," Speer testified. "I know he got the $200 of Putney's money."

Putney is a barber in the walls and is the man who designed and built the electric chair. He has not been pardoned, Speer said.

"A prisoner, H. A. Williams, gave

LONE STAR BANNER PRESENTED AS GIFT TO "SESQUI" BOARD

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22. (AP)—The state flag of Texas was presented today to the sesqui-centennial exposition in a ceremony which took place at Slate Roof house on the high street colonial section of the grounds. The flag was presented on behalf of Texas by Mrs. Horance L. Hotchkiss of New York an associated commissioner of Texas to the exposition.

Mrs. Hotchkiss made an address in which she recounted the early history of Texas. The flag was accepted on behalf of the sesqui and the city of Philadelphia by Mrs. George Horace Lorimer, chairman of the state committee of women's organizations.

QUAKE PLAYS QUEER TRICKS

Wax Model Shimmies As Trembler Quivers Her Pedestal

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 22. (AP) The earthquakes which shook Oakland this morning played some queer pranks.

In the Schleringer department store a wax model in one of the display windows did a cross between the shimmey and the Charleston when the first shock came. The model plunged through a large plate glass window in to the street and was decapitated. The damage to model and window is estimated at $1,000.

The master clock in the city hall tower which regulates other clocks in the city was stopped at 4:37 a. m. Clocks in the Elks club building also stopped.

The ball on top the flag pole on the city hall fell and could not be found. Water pipes at the Oakland Technical high school were broken. Power wires at the Alemeda municipal light works were broken. Gueste fled from the hotels, but no injuries were reported.

17 AMERICANS DIE IN STORM ISLE OF PINES

Casualty List Is Received At Havana Late Thursday Night

MANY OTHERS HURT

Relief Work Organized In Storm Stricken Center By Survivors

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 22. (AP)—The Isle of Pines was severely ravaged by the Carribean storm of Wednesday, 532 persons being killed, among them 17 Americans, and about 100 injured.

This was the startling news brought to Havana this afternoon after more than 48 hours without a word from the Isle of Pines which lies about 15 miles south of Cuba.

From all the sections of Cuba affected by the storm reports came in today which added to the steadily mounting list of dead and injured. It is now estimated that more than 600 hundred persons were killed, about 1,600 injured and more than 6,500 families were made homeless. It has been estimated that the losses in money total near $100,000,000.

Many towns from which meager news came today, appear to have been wrecked. Among them are Blanca, San Antonio, Del Rio, Blanco, Cuina de Melena, Jamica, Cuatro, Caminos, Gabriel, Batabano and on the Isle of Pines, Santa Fe, Santa Barbara and San Francisco.

Throughout the area affected high water seems to have done almost as much damage as the hurricane. With the path of the storm officially reported to have been from the Isle of Pines through Batabano and on to the north coast, a few miles east of Havana, every villiage in the path from which word has come tells of inundations of a part or the whole settlement.

PARDON GIVEN '99-YEAR MAN'

Recipient of Clemency Had Once Escaped From Penitentiary

FORT WORTH, Oct. 22. (AP) Mark Wheeler, pardoned today from a 99-year penitentiary sentence, was convicted here for holding up and robbing J. MacThompson of $115. Wheeler left him a dime for car fare home. The two were at a filling station and Wheeler decided to rob the other when Thompson jostled him away from the stove both were trying to warm by.

Wheeler was one of the alleged bandits indicted several times and convicted during the so-called crime wave following the World war. In May, 1921, he escaped from the penitentiary during a fire convicts set trying to effect a wholesale delivery. Wheeler and another prisoner were the only ones to escape, however. Enroute to Houston Wheeler held up a motorist and took his car. He came to Fort Worth, eluded officers here and was not captured until his gasoline gave out near Van Horn, on a westward flight.

FIRE STATION MOVE TO BE CITY'S SAVING

No. 4, Seventh Street, to Be Cleared Off For New Auditorium

GOES TO DENVER, 7TH

West End of Town Will Get More Protection By Change

A new location for City Fire Station No. 4, which is now located on the lot on which the new city auditorium is to be built, has been selected and a contract for its purchase made by Mayor R. E. Shepherd. Bids will be called soon for moving the first station to the new location.

The site selected is the southeast corner of Seventh street and Denver avenue. It is a level lot, being situated on the highest point in that section of the city. Both streets adjoining the lot are paved and it has water, gas and sewer connections.

It was the desire of the city council to locate the fire station much further to the west than its present place and the site selected is just about what they wanted.

The lot is 50x150 feet, all paving paid for, and all connections in, and was purchased for $2,500. The paving adjoining the property cost the owner $1,650, so the city is actually paying less than a thousand dollars for a corner lot on a good street and well located.

It was estimated yesterday that the deal actually saved the city about $100,000, as it would not be long until that section of the city would need a fire house, and this act will save the establishing of a new station. To establish a new station would mean to buy a new site, build a new building, and add a new crew to the fire department payrolls, all of which within a few years would amount to approximately $100,000 in expense to the

Burkburnett Veterinarian May Die As Result Of Wounds

J. NOBLES ALSO HURT

Tom Childress Surrenders After Shooting On Main Street

BULLETIN

Dr. O. V. Parrish, fatally wounded Friday night at Burkburnett in a shooting affray on the main street of that city, died at 12:45 a. m., Saturday in the Wichita Falls Keneral hospital.

Dr. O. V. Parrish, a veterinary surgeon of Newtown, is in the general hospital possibly fatally wounded as a result of a shooting affray about 8 o'clock Friday night in front of the First State bank building on the main street of Burkburnett. Tom Childers, pioneer resident, farmer, stockman and former deputy constable of Burk, was being detained by county officers in connection with the affair, while Jim Nobles, a companion of Parrish and who suffered a painful scalp wound in the fight, was also in custody. No charges have been filed against any one.

Parrish Unconscious

Parrish was unconscious at the hospital at an early hour Saturday morning and attendants said he had about one chance in three to recover. One bullet struck him in the right side, ranging downward from the breast and lodging near the left hip. Both arms were broken by shot. The bullet that punctured the body, it was said, would probably result in internal disorders that would prove fatal.

As many as seven or eight shots were fired in all, eye-witnesses of the affray asserted. Nobles and Parrish had come to Burkburnett late in the afternoon and met Childers on the street near the bank and almost in front of the Goodlet and Bewalen market. A short argument ensued between the three and then the shooting started.

Shots Exchanged

Officers said Parrish had fired one shot from a gun that he was carrying before he fell in front of the ball of lead sent back at him. Two random shots shattered a large glass window in the market and some others riddled the side of a small auto parked at the curb. Parrish was standing about on the curbing when he was struck. He fell against a fender of the machine and then dropped into the gutter. An ambulance was summoned and he was rushed to the hospital here.

Nobles received a deep scalp wound, the result, it was said, of a blow on the head in a struggle either immediately preceding or immediately after the shooting. His wounds were dressed in Burkburnett and he was then brought to Wichita Falls with Childers in custody of Burkburnett officers. Both men were turned over to District Attorney Ben Allred and his assistant Sam Spence.

Both Questioned

Both were questioned briefly and then turned over to the sheriff with instructions that they be held until Saturday when a hearing will be had before a justice of the peace.

The shooting is said to have come as a result of a long period of enmity between Parrish and Childers. Ill feeling had existed for seven or eight years, it was declared.

Parrish has a family at Newtown, while Childers has one at Burkburnett. Nobles was unmarried and was employed as a teamster.

Actress Keeps Babe's Custody

Court Refuses to Take Girl Away From Woman In Scandal

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 22. (AP)—Mme. Olga Milanoff, companion of Frank Lloyd Wright, the architect, late today blocked legal efforts of Vladmir Hinzenberg, her former husband to obtain custody of their nine-year-old daughter, Svetlana. Victory for the Montenegrin dancer came when Judge Horace Dickinson in district court withdrew a bench warrant which he had previously issued for her arrest. The warrant charged contempt of court for not producing Svetlana in court this morning as ordered under a writ of habeas corpus instead late Thursday. Judge Dickinson after withdrawing the bench warrant dismissed the writ.

Judge Dickinson gave his decions after Mme. Milanoff's attorneys produced affidavits signed by the Hennepin county jailer and others, saying that the writ was not served on the dancer.

Mme. Milanoff and Wright, arrested near here Wednesday night, were held in a local jail until noon today when they gave bail totalling $15,000 guaranteeing their presence in police court October 29, for a preliminary hearing on charges of being fugitives from justice and in federal district court, October 30, for a hearing on Mann act charges.

FUNERAL HEID FOR PIONEER

Miss Mary Edmiston Is Buried in Riverside Cemetery Friday

Funeral services for Miss Mary C. Edminston, 76, who died Thursday night at her home, 2014 Tenth, were held from the home Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with her pastor, Dr. Gaines B. Hall, minister of the First Southern Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial was in Riverside.

Miss Edmiston was a sister to the late Mrs. J. F. Reed, and was well known in Wichita Falls where she had lived for 14 years. She was a native of Tennessee and had taught in a number of colleges in that state and in Washington. She came here in 1912 to be with her sister, and make her home with the Reeds. She was interested in church work and was a constant friend to the First Southern Presbyterian church, where she was a member.

She is survived by two brothers, R. L. Edmiston, of Spokane, Wash., Will Edmiston, of Auburndale, Fla., and a sister, Mrs. Archibald Newman, of Tampa, Fla.

Active pall bearers for the funeral were W. S. Boling, J. W. Ryan, Dr. E. S. Gooch, F. A. Armstrong, D. D. Reed, C. R. Daniel. Honorary pall bears were Dr. Allen P. Terrell, J. E. H. Bailey, George Fleming, S. D. Lynch, J. C. Pressley, R. C. Anderson, S. R. Johnson, G. W. Fryer, C. McFayden, Judge John C. Kay, H. E. Wilson, and James A. Somerville.

New Sensation

a check to S. E. Posey out of his fund, to get a pardon," Speer said.

Other Cases Detailed

Speer said: "J. H. Gildewell, a convict, gave $100 to C. H. Haywood, who deposited it to the account of Frank O'Rourke in a bank and Frank told me that is he was not so hard-up, he would have split with me."

"John Gerber, another convict, paid J. M. Johnson, a lawyer, $150 to seek a pardon for him," Speer said. "Fred Greenwood paid Johnson $200 out of his deposit fund."

The deposit fund consists of the money the prisoners bring with them to the penitentiary. They are allowed to spend whatever they desire as long as they have the money to their credit, but a report is made by Warden Speer to the prison commissioner each month and the reasons for the expenditures are noted, Speer explained.

W. F. McGee, prison auditor, related how he found the petty cash convict deposit, and commissary funds short on the Eastham prison farm when Col. Granberry was manager and before he was appointed successor to the late Col. J. A. Herring as commissioner.

Vouchers Photographed.

He showed by photostatic reproductions of vouchers where four discharged convicts failed to receive when discharged by Granberry, the $5 the state pays them on discharge and related how when Granberry became commissioner, the commission ordered him to make good the money, and the payment by Granberry of $129.85 the total shortage. A letter from O'Rourke to Granberry demanding the money for the commission was read.

McGee said that he had paid the prisoners later and produced a letter from George W. Sitles, Jacksonville, Fla., who said he did not get the five dollars but he was glad to get out "and the suit didn't fit either."

The convict bookkeeper on the Eastham farm raised one check and when confronted with the raised check Granberry said, "Palmer put another one over on me," McGee testified.

"Palmer was pardoned October 13," McGee said, "on the recommendation of Granberry and Jeff Davis, cashier of the prison."

Shortage Charged.

Mark Wheeler, who succeeded Palmer, McGee testified, told him when a shortage in the convict fund of $41.26 was found that Granberry told him he did not want to pay it, and that it was charged off to the commissary fund, and a check was later drawn on the cashier to cover.

"Granberry kept no books and the only thing I found on the farm in the way of records were the stubs of four check books," McGee said.

"The colonel is a good country farmer, but he has no business sense. I told Frank O'Rourke, who is close to Jim Ferguson about him when the Fergusons appointed Granberry commissioner and Frank just laughed and said, "Oh, that's all right."

During the recent session of the 39th legislature the senate postponed confirmation of Granberry's appointment.

Convict Makes Whiskey.

"Granberry had a convict by the name of E. E. Sap, a lifer up for murder, on the Eastham farm, who made whiskey down in a pasture," Commissioner Sayles said. "Sap told me that Granberry suggested he make the whiskey and that Granberry furnished the ingredients. Sap said he did not want to make the whiskey and has asked Preacher W. G. Miller to speak to the commission about it.

"Sap said he told Granberry he did not know how to make whiskey, but that Granberry said Lee Price, (convict) who is a bad man, could teach him. Four gallons were sold," Sayles said, "for $10 a gallon and $20 went to Granberry."

Sayles said that "Price made choc beer in the saddle barn near Granberry's house. He got drunk Christmas night and got a pistol and started toward the prison house and Sap and a guard captured him and took the gun away from him. The 89 men on the farm "bucked" or mutined on account of this, and they told me about Price. Price has 107 years to serve for criminal assault.

Still Was Seen.

"Commissioner Herring conducted a court of inquiry and Sap and the men testified before Granberry. Paul Kochs said he saw the still and the mash in the saddle barn."

Commissioner Sayles explained the destroying of the stills in the pasture and in the barn.

Questioned on Granberry's handling of the funds on the Eastham farm, Sayles said the commissioner first denied knowing anything about it, but said that all the prisoners had gotten all the money that was coming to them. He later made good the discrepancy, Sayles said.

He said Mark Wheeler, convict bookkeeper who transferred $41.26 from the convict to the commissary fund, was pardoned by Governor Ferguson today, Wheeler had a life sentence.

KEMP MAKES TWIN PLEA

Urges Diversification Plus Intensive Farming In Valley

A sincere plea in behlaf of intensive farming, diversified farming and co-operative farming was voiced Friday noon by J. A. Kemp when he appeared before the chamber of commerce business council to recount some of his experiences on a recent tour of Europe. His agricultural studies in Holland, Belgium and other points he visited, he said, convinced him that Wichita Falls and the Wichita valley had an unprecedented opportunity to forge ahead as a farming section.

Before it can do this, though, he declared, the valley lands must be split up into small tracts—40 or 80 acres—and placed in the hands of men who were willing to work them consistently, and intelligently. For his own part, Mr. Kemp said, he intended to see that all the land he owned was speedily placed in the hands of men who would do this. He proposes, he said, to either sell them the land on terms they can meet or give them long time leases so that they will have an incentive to work it properly.

The diversification and crop rotation idea he stressed insistently, citing the experiences of Belgium and Dutch farmers who have become prosperous through their adherence to this principle.

Other addresses at the meeting included one by Charles B. Braun, division traffic manager of the National Air Transport company, Inc., operators of the government air mail line between Texas and Chicago. He spoke in behalf of the air mail's future and urged a greater use of this new facility by the business men of Wichita Falls.

Dr. A. W. Sutton, superintendent of schools at Atlanta, Ga., spoke briefly, commending the program of work outlined earlier in the meeting as the needs of the city for the coming year, but voicing a plea also for the development of character and physical well being of the city's greatest asset—its children. He told several humorous stories to the great delight of his audience.

PRISONER ARRESTED

Police Chief George Hodgins received word yesterday from Sheriff L. S. Lewis, that he had arrested Claud Phillips under charges here for theft by bailee, and that the prisoner as well as the stolen goods were being sent to Wichita Falls.

Phillips is charged with having stolen a car from the Liberty Auto company here and both Phillips and the car were taken by the sheriff at Meridian.

HUNG JURY

Dr. P. S. Anderson-Tom Burnett Case Undecided

The suit of Dr. P. S. Anderson against Tom Burnett, which was being tried in the 78th district court, was carried over yesterday after the jury came in with the announcement that they could not arrive at a verdict. Judge W. W. Cook carried the case over and discharged the jury.

This is the fourth hung jury in this case during this month, with little liklihood of a settlement soon. the suit is for $4,000 for dental work which the plaintiff alleges is due him from Mr. Burnett.

city. Property adjacent to the present site of the fire house can easily be served by Station No. 1 at the city hall, it was explained, and is really superfluous at this time.

Chief McClure, of the fire department, said he was well pleased with the new change, as it now provided a station for practically every section of the city and would enable him to assure ample fire protection for the west section of the city.

GUIDE COMPLETED

J. W. Chatham, industrial and traffic manager for the chamber of commerce, has completed his new shipper's rate guide and they are now being distributed to the various business men of the city.

The new rate guide gives shipping rates from the city to all points in Texas and Oklahoma, and is considered to be of the utmost value as a reference book for all classes of business here who does any shipping at all.

TEXAS WHEAT PRICES CLIMB

GRAIN BRINGS $1.60 A BUSHEL AT FORT WORTH

$422,000 Involved in Deals Of Last Six Days Is Estimate

FORT WORTH, Oct. 22. (AP) Wheat took a flyer on the cash grain market here today and pulled down record prices for the season.

Exporters bid $1.55 for number 1 hard wheat, basis delivered gulf ports, while mills were bidding a top price of $1.60 for soft red wheat, delivered Texas common points.

With 201 cars of wheat received on the market here during the week ending Thursday, this means that sellers have been paid around $422,000 "cash on the barrel head" in six trade days.

These figures do not include other grains such as corn, oats and milo. Sixty-eight cars of the grains in addition have brought good prices.

Grain exchange officials tonight expressed opinion that the wheat market may go even higher, and saw in such a possibility an argument for reduction of cotton acreage next year in favor of grains.

"Every farmer should grow all the feed he can use, but wheat is his crop to get money for debt paying," declared President J. A. Simons of the grain exchange.

"These higher prices prove, too, that there is money in storing grain either on the farm or in elevators and thus avoiding the early the shortage period when prices are lowest."

Harbor Yields Bodies Of Pair

Game Wardens Were Slain By Man Who Faced Arrest By Two

MARQUETTE, Mich., Oct. 22 (AP)—Marquette harbor on Lake Superior off here today yielded up the bodies of Arvid Erickson and Emil Skoglund, state game wardens who Roy Nunn, ex-convict and suspected poacher, last night confessed slaying when the men attempted to arrest him on Sept. 20.

Nunn was taken to the harbor on the fringe of the Michigan woods and pointed out the spot where he confessed throwing the bodies after placing them in sacks which were weighted down with stones.

The slaying, according to Nunn's confession, police said, resulted when the wardens attempted to arrest him at Sand Plains, near here, for unlawful possession of a gun, a technical charge on which it is believed they intended to hold him while investigating reports that he had been "headlighting" deer in the district. The officers had received numerous reports that deer were being killed by this method which consists of throwing a strong spotlight into the woods at night. The deer, which are attracted to the light, fall easy prey to hunters.

Nunn, according to police, said he shot Erickson while the latter was questioning him. Skoglund, who was a short distance away at the time, was killed when he ran to the assistance of his partner, according to the confession.

TRAVEL BY AIR

Amarillo May Get Air Link Into Midwest

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 22. (AP)—Jack Turner president of the Travel Air Transport company, said today that a regular air line will be established between Amarillo, Texas and Wichita if the business warrants.

O. C. Goodwin, secretary of the board of city development of Amarillo, is making a survey of the Texas city and surrounding territory to determine the amount of business that would be available for airplane traffic.

Mr. Turner said overtures have been made to his company to establish both passenger and freight line, running planes daily. He said there are fair landing fields at Deal, Borger and Pampa in addition to the one at Amarillo.

MARINES SENT INTO HOUSTON

They Will Serve As Mail Guards on Trains In East Texas

HOUSTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—United States marines will be sent to Houston, a strategic railway mail center.

This was revealed Friday by S. M. Gaines, division superintendent of the railway mail service, with four states in the southwest under his control.

Mr. Gaines made the announcement during a conference Friday in Houston with Colonel G. T. Leake, superintendent of the railway mail service for the Houston division. The conference was attended by many high officials of the post-office department in this section including J. C. Lindland, postal inspector at Austin in charge of Texas and Louisiana inspectors. H. W. McCool, railway mail superintendent of the San Antonio division and others.

"We are meeting," explained Mr. Gaines, "to work out details of the plan to safeguard the mails by marines. Houston will have some—how many, we cannot say."

Girl Sentenced To Guillotine

French Maid Convicted Of Poisoning Husand For Lover

DOUAI, France, Oct. 22. (AP) Mme. Melanie Duvente has been sentenced to die on the guillotine for having poisoned her husband.

The jury departed from the usual leniency shown to women owing to the nature of the crime.

Mme. Duvente is alleged to have killed her husband by daily putting poison in his coffee. She desired to marry a Protuguese soldier who fought in the Morocco campaign. The soldier was sentenced to five years imprisonment as an accomplice of the woman.

It is considered improbable that Mme. Duvette will go to the knife as President Doumergue invariably commutes death sentences passed upon women.

Chronic Fault-Finder Bane Of Her Daughter's Family

Solving the Problem of the Fault-Finding Mother. Advice to the Perplexed Parent of a Stage-Struck Girl. Why a Henpecked Husband Deserves Little Sympathy.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix — What can one do with a mother who is a chronic fault-finder? There are four of us children, all grown and married and with families. After our father's death some ten years ago, it was up to us to make a home for our mother, which we were all more than glad to do. But the time has come when we each dread our turn to have her with us, not for lack of love of her, but because she makes herself so disagreeable by her continual fault-finding that she makes our homes places of torment while she is in them.

She finds fault with our husbands and wives; she finds fault with our children, and the way we rear them. She finds fault with our clothes and our housekeeping and our neighbors. She criticizes our friends, and when we have company we sit in fear and trembling of her making some sarcastic remark that will humiliate us half to death, and offend our guests. We have put up with mother's fault-finding all our lives because we are stanch believers in the commandment "Honor thy father and thy mother," but she is not only ruining our lives, but our husbands' and our children's lives. Do you think we would be justified in telling her just how she is making us feel toward her?

A Distracted Daughter.

Answer:

I certainly do. And make it snappy. And if your mother refuses to mend her ways, the proper thing for you children to do is to pool together enough money to pay her board in some comfortable place. It is not your duty to keep her in your homes when she is a continual source of discord. Your first obligation is to your husband and children.

It may seem hard to your mother to have to go and live among strangers, but that is the price she must pay for indulging her temper and her tongue.

Fault-finding is the pet vice of the old. Nearly all of them indulge in it. It is the protest that their vanity offers against not being at the head of things any longer, of having their opinions set aside and overruled. Everything modern is wrong because it is not what they did, or thought, or said when they were young. Nobody listens to what they say, and they revenge themselves by querulous complaints.

Fault-finding becomes a habit very difficult to break, and I doubt if any old man or old woman is capable of exercising enough self-control or has consideration enough for other people's feelings to deny himself or herself the pleasure of indulging in it.

Old people are continually complaining that nobody wants them; that they are unwelcome guests in their children's houses, that they are not loved and cherished as they should be. Yet they cannot be made to realize that the reason of this is because they make themselves so disagreeable by their perpetual fault-finding and giving of unsolicited advice that they are a torment to all about them.

They cannot realize that their children have a right to run their homes in their own way, and that time has brought changes in the mode of living, in points of view, that there are different customs and manners and morals from those that prevailed in their own youth. So they find fault and nag and criticise until they run their families distracted.

It is such a pity, for not only their children but their inlaws and their grandchildren would so love to honor them if the old folks would only let them.

Dorothy Dix.

Pacific Indians Exchange Wives

When Man Gets Tired of His Spouse He Lends Her To Pal

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.(AP) Disputes arising over the strange social custom of wife-lending take much of the time of the king of Washington Island.

Washington Island, a coral atoll in the midst of the Pacific ocean near Fanning Island, is inhabited by a hundred Gilbertese blacks imported by a British company from the Gilbert Island to work cocoanut plantations.

There are only two white men on the island. One is Harry G. Glenn, the "king," and manager. The other is his assistant, the "Prime Minister." Glenn passed through here enroute to England for a vacation after a three years' reign as king.

Wife lending is the native way of combatting matrimonial ennui, says Glenn. When a husband and wife tire of each other, the man lends his spouse to a friend for a time, her consent being necessary, however. Often the friend is a young bachelor who has boarded with the family.

Buttered Turnips — Wash and pare turnips cut in tubes. To five cups turnips add three tablespoons sugar, one-half cup butter and simmer in enough water to keep from scorching. Salt to taste.

Tomato Cups—Scoop pulp from smooth medium sized fresh tomatoes, fill with sliced cucumber, celery and a little onion. Dress with oil and vinegar.

Baked Apple — Select smooth firm apples, core, fill centers with washed seedless raisins, add sugar and small amount of water and butter and bake.

SUGGESTIONS

A discarded shade roller which has been scrubbed and painted white is ideal for rolling up linen scarfs and centerpieces.

Home dry cleaning may be accomplished in the home laundry by means of utilizing the family washing machine, a pair of rubber gloves, a few gallons of gasoline and benzine soap.

Brush the garments to be cleaned thoroughly with a stiff brush; go over the soiled places with a brush dipped in a solution of gasoline and benzine soap; plunge the garments in the washing machine filled with enough gasoline and soap solution to cover them, using one pound of soap to four gallons of gasoline; wash thoroughly in the solution; rinse in pure gasoline and then in clear water. Fold the garments in clean towels and wring out. Place them on hangers in the open air to dry.

This dry cleaning process, in the case of ties, scarfs, lace or delicate frocks, may be used without danger of tearing the materials when they are placed in the machine in a pillow slip.

Woman Success As Veterinary

Wife of Polish Ruler's Aide Only Trained Animal Doctor in Land

WARSAW, Oct. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Jurgiewicz, wife of the aide to the president of the republic, is Poland's only scientifically trained woman veterinary surgeon.

The World war, her love of animals and necessity brought Mrs. Jurgielewicz to her profession. When the Ukrainians were at the gates of Lvov, her home, Mrs. Jurgielewicz enlisted as a regular soldier and later reached the rank of sergeant. She was wounded by shrapnel and upon recovery was attached to one of the cavalry regiments as veterinary. She remained two years on the bolshevist line and was again wounded while treating horses near the front.

After the war she was made veterinarian for the city of Warsaw, and also had under her care all the horses of the Warsaw cavalry regiments.

Mrs. Judgielewicz is the daughter of Professor Bujwid, a celebrated Polish bacteriologist, and has three sisters who are physicians. After she left high school in 1914 she tried to gain admission to the Australian Veterinary academy at Lvov, but was rejected. Finally she was allowed to attend as a special student and, working with men, completed a four years' course and passed her examinations. But it was not until Poland took over Lvov that she was granted her degree as the first woman graduate of the academy. She is now preparing a doctorate thesis on animal diseases.

WOLF NURSES GIRLS

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Comes from India account, apparently verified, of a Romulus and Remus in real modern life. Two little girls were adopted by a she wolf. When found at the age of two and eight years, they were running on all fours and barking. The younger died. The elder, now in an orphanage and gradually learning speech, prefers the company of dogs to children.

PRINCE IS HANDSOME

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. — Prince Nicholas will have a road test soon with his new sport roadster, a gift. There's no doubt he will pass. Accompanied by a licensed operater he has shown skill already dodging elevated pillars. He wore a blue suit, a light gray topcoat, pleated and belted, a blue four-in-hand with red and brown stripes and a brown fedora.

LURE OF BEAUTY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 22. The lure of health, wealth and beauty causes the American people to be robbed of half a billion dollars annually. In making this estimate W. E. Humphrey of the federal trade commission put much blame on magazines for accepting advertisements of cure-alls and of schools guaranteeing pulchritude and success. He exonerated most newspapers.

BOWLING FOR BEAUTY

LONDON, Oct. 22. (AP) Beauty specialists in Mayfair are prescribing bowling for their patients whose necks and shoulders are in special need of development. Outdoor bowling alleys are recommended, where they are available and patients are warned against ill-ventilated alleys in case they must play indoors.

BILL'S SPOOFING

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 22.—Says W. G. McAdoo: "There is no office I want less than that of President of the United States."

LAMBS GAMBOL

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The lambs are gamboling in peace again. A hot fight for the office of treasurer, caused by disciplinary measures for non-payment of bills, ended with the withdrawal of one candidate and the promise of the other to create a loan fund to help out actors in straits.

PHILLIPS' NO. 1 WINTER HOLDS UP TO 800 BARRELS DAILY

WORK STARTED ON OFFSET RIG

Race Resumed in Other Wells To Reach New Pay Sand

Special to The Record News.

ABILENE, Oct. 22.—Latest developments in the Noodle Creek oil pool, 22 miles west of Abilene, are reported today as follows:

The discovery well, the Phillips Petroleum company's Joe Winter No. 1, swabbed 800 barrels yesterday. The well has shown no appreciable diminution in flow since brought in about 40 days ago.

The Phillips company has started work on its rig for the Joe Winter No. 2 immediately north of the No. 1 producer.

Water shortage having been overcome the Midwest Exploration company has resumed drilling on its Thornton No. 1, offsetting to the southwest the discovery well.

The Marland company's crew has straightened the hole at the Mason No. 1, west offset, and the well is now being deepened. The Phillips-Walling No. 1, south offset, is drilling at 1,390 feet, while the Hurley's Sears, three miles east of the discovery, is 1,288 feet deep.

The Midwest's Thornton No. 1 is drilling at 1,600 feet.

Derrick for Marland No. 2, north of its No. 1, is completed, as is that for the Atlantic company's Howell No. 1, three fourths of a mile south of the discovery.

The Abldridge company is rigging up on the Wheeler lease in Fisher county, four miles northwest of the Joe Winter producer.

The World company has staked a location 330 feet from the south and east lines of section 16, block 19, T. & P. lands, within two miles northeast of the producer.

Phillips company proposes erection of fifteen rigs on the Winters and Walling leases. A new company, Noodle Creek Oil Co., is to begin drilling within 30 days on the Rose farm, a mile north of Trent and within two miles southwest of the discovery well.

News of The Fields

PANHANDLE FINISHES TWO SHALLOW TESTS

Panhandle Refining company has completed its No. 1 Matthews in the A. Rohus survey, south of the Prideaux producers in north Young county, as a 20-barrel well from the 700-foot sand. Matthews No. 2 is being drilled in.

ATLANTIC, ALLEN

Atlantic Oil Producing company is spudding in its No. 1 Mrs. Allen, located 150 feet each way from the southeast corner of the south 80 of the east 240 acres of section 1, H. T. B. survey, Archer county.

O'NEILL, BODDY

John O'Neill has plugged as a dry hole at a total depth of 2,022 feet his test on the H. Boddy land in block 36, Angelina county school land and about eight miles south of Petrolia in Clay county.

ATLANTIC, FARMER

The No. 1 Farmer test of the Atlantic Oil Producing company which is located on the 60-acre lease in blocks 17 and 18, W. C. Winters survey, Archer county, is drilling at 200 feet.

GOLDING, ET AL, SMITH

Golding and Cochran No. 1 Smith, located in block 1, Meade pasture subdivision, topped a sand at 1,207 feet and the hole filled 40 feet with oil when the drill went to 1,315 feet.

CONOCO, MONTAGUE

Continental Oil company has completed its No. 15 J. W. Rowland in the Chambliss survey, Nocona field of Montague county, as an estimated 700-barrel well from the sand at 1,053-79 feet. No. 16 Rowland is swabbing 200 barrels daily from a depth of 1,082 to 1,103 feet. No. 1-C Rowland is swabbing 275 barrels from the sand at 1,085 to 1,108 feet.

PETROLEUM-UNITED COMPLETING PAIR

Petroleum Producers and United Producers companies are drilling out the plug on the sand at 1,497 feet in their Nos. 4 and 5 Turbeville in block 172, Carson survey, Archer county. No. 6 is setting pipe on the usual sand.

SUNSHINE HILL WELLS BELOW 2,200

The wells in the Sunshine Hill district of Wichita county are being watched with interest due to thier depth. Bridwell and Heydrick are drilling at 2,350 feet in their No. 10. This well, which is a short distance from their No. 1 fee, a 250-barreler, has encountered no sand of consequence. It has penetrated over 200 feet of lime which is beginning to break at its present depth. L. L. Howell, et al, are drilling at an approximate depth of 2,650 feet in their well northwest of Sunshine Hill.

IT is the red blooded people who win success in this world! Red blood gives men and women the vitality — the energy — the strength and the activity to earn what they deserve!

Nobody can do justice to themselves when they are suffering for want of rich, red blood. It is this impoverished condition of the blood that causes so many failures in life. There's no place at the top for the weakling — the men and women with poor, weak blood.

Build up your blood! Get in the red-blooded class—and get the rewards you deserve. S. S. S. will do it for you! S. S. S. helps Nature build millions of red-blood-cells!

S. S. S. sends rich, red blood tingling to every fibre of your body and every pore of your skin. You are fairly radiant with energy, vim and vitality.

You'll look like success, too! The rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build for you will clear your skin of any ugly blemishes — your eyes will sparkle with enthusiasm—firm, solid flesh will round out your figure — strength and power will come to weak, flabby muscles.

All drug stores sell S. S. S. The larger bottle is more economical.

Oklahoma Fields Boost Number Mid-Continent Operations In Week

Mid-Continent operations increased to 3,947 barrels during the two weeks just passed, according to the current issue of the Oil Weekly. Of this total, 173 were new locations, 685 new rigs, 2,158 drilling wells and 658 shutdown drilling wells, 273 completions. The principal increase was in Oklahoma, where the Wewoka-Cromwell area, due to Seminole field, was the chief contributor. Oklahoma reported 1,559 operations as compared with 1,517 in the previous week.

Hucony Nears Level of Production In Winter Well

Special to The Record News.

ABILENE, Oct. 22.—With less than 100 feet to drill to get to the sand of the Joe Winter well, the big Jones county producer, the Hucony Gas company's Arthur Sears well south of Esketa, in Nolan county, watched for three weeks now as a probable producer, is drilling at a depth of 2,790 feet after setting casing on a hard formation. Geologists assert the Winter sands of 2,808 feet will be picked up around the 2,850 foot level.

Gas Experts To Hear Complaint

Gas Ridge Field Dispute Goes Before Texas Commission

AUSTIN, Oct. 22. (AP)—Experts of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission will determine justice of the complaint made by the Alamo Gas company and others that the Southern Natural Gas company had been taking more than its proper share of gas from the Gas Ridge field near San Antonio.

An agreement to this effect was reached Friday by the interested parties before the railroad commission.

All the gas taken from the field by the various companies is sold to the San Antonio Public Service company. As the gas comes from a common pool, the ratable taking of the product was set for the parties involved about two years ago.

The complainants, the Alamo Gas company, Consumers' Natural Gas company, Joe Clutter and W. M. Morgan, contend the Southern Natural Gas company has been exceeding the figure set by the commission.

Canyon Oil Company Closes Out Holdings For Record Sum

AMARILLO, Oct. 22. (AP)—Sale of the Canyon Oil company here to the Julian Oil corporation of California for $1,500,000 today brought to light what is said to be a huge merger of oil interests, now being completed. Concerns other than the Julian involved in the merger are the Superior Oil company, Eastern Oil company of California, Marine Oil corporation, and several others, the identity of which have not been made known.

It is said among oil men here that the merger signifies attempts on the part of several big California oil concerns to produce, market and refine crude under a single management.

The Canyon Oil company owns forty acres in the heart of the Hutchinson county field, on which are five producing wells, aggregating 10,000 barrels daily production.

BURBANK FIELD

Marland Ready to Drill In No. 1 Barber at 2,781 Feet

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 22.—Marland Oil company is almost ready to drill in its test in the Burbank field of Osage county, which is one-half mile south of the discovery well of the Kewanee Oil and Gas company drilled in last July which extended the producing area of that field one mile to the east.

Marland's well is No. 1 Barber, in the northwest of 3-26-6, which topped the sand at 2,781 feet, and is four feet in, where it is shut down awaiting the running of 5 3-16 casing. There is over 300 feet of oil in the hole.

The Kewanee lease, comprising the entire section 34-27-6, produced a total of 4,456 barrels the last 24-hour period. It is one mile due east of Shidler.

Date For Trial Oil Suit Unset

University of Texas Royalty Litigation Conference Fails Setting

AUSTIN, Oct. 22. (AP)—Because of the absence of representatives for interested parties, a date for the setting for trial of the Texas university oil royalty suit was not agreed on at a conference held here Thursday, Attorney General Dan Moody said Friday.

Moody, at the instance of the university regents, filed suit in the 53rd district court here asking an accounting for oil taken by the Big Lake and Texan Oil companies from university lands in Regan county.

SPEAKING OF WORK

THE chamber of commerce has been busily concerned the past week mapping out a program of work for the coming year. A large committee has studied industriously, and Friday noon it submitted a report a few minutes before J. A. Kemp outlined what ought to be the major objective of Wichita Falls and all concerned in its future progress.

Without seeking to detract from the program of work committee's outline, it is suggested here that Mr. Kemp's dreams and plans for settlement of the Wichita irrigated valley comprise in themselves an undertaking that is sufficiently ambitious for one year. The valley, of course, cannot be settled or fully developed in one year or ten years. Time and patience are required for that. But, as Mr. Kemp declared, if anything is ever to be made of it, it is high time some talking be replaced by some working. Widening and cleaning up paved streets, investigating the possibilities of air mail and conducting economic surveys to see how rent and the price of cabbage in Wichita Falls compare with those in Kalamazoo and Oshkosh are all very fine. They are commendable projects when something vastly more important is not awaiting consumation. But when something else is on the docket, it by all means should come first.

Wichita Falls has an investment of something over $5,000,000 in its irrigation project. Aside from the assurance it has that no shortage of water will ever be felt here, the city, the valley and its taxpayers have not begun to realize on the investment. This abundance of water, of course, is of inestimable value; and some effective settlement work has been done in spots in the valley; but the real possibilities of Lake Kemp as an irrigation factor, none will deny, have not even been scratched.

The program of work committee made of this agricultural feature one of its primary recommendations but it remained for the veteran city builder whose dream it was that created Lake Kemp to tell his hearers what a colonization and settlement program ought to be.

"Now is the time," Mr. Kemp said, "to quit talking about settlement and development and really get busy and do it."

He then dropped some hints as to what he himself proposes to do; and certainly no man can do more than Mr. Kemp will undertake.

If the irrigated valley is to progress as Mr. Kemp would have it, if Wichita Falls is to derive the benefits that will accrue from a full settlement of this territory; if this section is to become a grainery and bread basket for the southwest as it may well become with its latent agricultural possibilities it must, Mr. Kemp points out, make its agricultural program for the next and succeeding years the one thing paramount to all others. And if it does that, it will have wrought ably and well.

SUPER-HIGHWAYS

FROM New Mexico comes a plea for superhighways, certain to be echoed in other parts of the country. "Automobile owners," says a contributor to the New Mexico Highway Journal, "will soon be "demanding wide, protected concrete speedways connecting the great centres. They will desire grade crossings wholly eliminated." Recognizing that the cost of construction and maintenance would soon bankrupt the states, it is suggested that they be built by private enterprise, much as were the railroads of old, and that a charge of a cent a mile be levied on all cars using them.

The idea is not altogether new, but has not been much discussed in recent years, owing to the plevalent hope that the federal and local governments would be able to improve existing roads and build new ones to meet the nation's needs. But that the use of the roads is and will continue to be far in excess of the rate of building and repair now seems established.

New Mexico speaks with feeling of the need of roads. During the last decade it has done much to improve its own road system. Gradually the automobile is penetrating regions which before were almost completely isolated. But through New Mexico runs the famous Santa Fe trail, now one of the principal trans-continental highways. Over it pass daily many hundreds of cars bound to or from California. New Mexicans see this road of theirs yearly worn down by "trippers," whose principal interest in the state is to get through it rapidly. This naturally strikes them as unfair to the citizens who bear the principal burden of keeping up the roads. Furthermore, accustomed to the idea of through trains daily crossing the state to link the east with the west, they are more prone to think in terms of large enterprise than are those of the east who look upon roads as small threads in a net work.

Whatever system be adopted, we shall have to re-examine the entire problem of highways in the light of the needs of tomorrow. Numbers, weight and speed are the principal determining factors. The intensity of traffic will have to determine the size of the different roads. The weight of the individual automobiles will have to determine the foundation and the surfacing. Special routes for trucks are desirable. These vehicles both block the roads and ruin the surfaces. Unless the size of buses is controlled, they will some day do likewise. But to build special roads will be impossible except to connect a few important links. Throughout the country as a whole the difficulties are bound to increase.

GOOD BANDITS ARE DEAD ONES

HIGH federal authorities are determined to stop the holdup of trains and the robbery of mail cars even if they have to call upon the army to furnish protection to railroad operation. Postmaster New announced that armed guards will be furnished to trains carrying valuables with instructions to begin shooting as soon as they become aware of an attempted holdup, and not stop until all of the would-be bandits are either dead or else incapacitated from doing any further harm. And if those instructions are carried out the results ought soon to become evident in the reduction of that particular form of crime.

The danger of hanging or even of prison sentences is entirely too remote to form any effective deterrent to the operations of train robbers or any other bandits. An announcement in the newspapers that a gang of four or six or eight bandits had been exterminated in an attempt to rob a train somewhere in the United States would cause more terror to prospective train robbers than a dozen hangings or any number of prison sentences. And if there should be several repetitions of the slaughter of train bandits that particular form of outlawry would grow exceedingly unpopular.

We are finding out to our sorrow that it is a vain illusion to imagine we can achieve any large success in making good citizens out of those who deliberately choose a career of criminality. The only good bandits and gunmen are dead ones, and the best possible place to confer that goodness upon them is at the points where they make their attempts at crime. A few spot killings would do more to wreck the future of crime than any other remedy we can imagine.

If it becomes necessary to use the army in bringing to an end the existing reign of crimes of violence, why let that be done. The duty of the army is to safeguard the peace and well being of the people. It is up to the army to put down armed insurrections against lawfully constituted authority when all other means fail. And it should be obvious that those other means have not been very effective up to date.

Town Talk - - - By H. F. J.

A POSSIBLE SERVICE

With the new auditorium almost an assured fact, the city council, it is assumed, soon will, if it has not already, start planning means whereby the advantages offered by the structure may be turned to profit.

It is reasonable to expect that the great auditorium with its 4,000 seating capacity and the facilities it offers for concerts, theatricals and such, will be much in demand from clubs, organizations and individuals who may want to stage productions of their own or bring in established entertainers from outside. That the auditorium should be made available for this is to be expected.

What charges will be made remains to be seen. Those who utilize it, of course, should be expected to pay something. The actual costs and perhaps a little profit on the side is fair enough, but that is as far as it ought to go.

Wichita Falls has been seriously handicapped in the past because it had no place in which large crowds could gather. The few theatre halls available here could not be rented for an evening under $100. The initial cost charge therefore, deterred many who might here wanted to stage something worth while.

San Francisco with an auditorium seating 16,000 persons charges $125 for a night's use of its huge building. Houston, with an auditorium seating 7,000, finds a $100 charge sufficient for most enterprises, with a slightly higher rate for athletic events.

This city with a magnificient new auditorium, perhaps not as large as some, but equal to any in appointment and utility can offer a real service to its clubs and organizations if it keeps its cost in reason.

THE WEATHER

The fact that the sky was cloudy and a brisk, cold wind swept Wichita Falls from the north yesterday afternoon was relatively unimportant. Yet no less than 30 telephone calls were received at The Record News office last night asking what weather condition would be Saturday.

"Is there a real norther on the way?"

"Is it raining between here and Dallas?"

"What's the weather up in the Panhandle?

"Any likilhood of a cold snap over the week-end?"

The Record News, being neither seer or weather bureau, could do no more than pass on the information it got from the weather experts. This it did, and will probably be blamed for inefficiency and perhaps malicious mischief if its prediction of colder and probably fair should go amiss.

The oldest of all topics—the weather—after all is one of the most important.

THIS BUSINESS OF FARMING
By Harold B. Lund.

That city writer Bayliss
Is positively right;
The farmer's life IS jolly;
The work he does IS light!
My life is independent
As he so truly saith—
If he were in my slippers
He'd laugh himself to death!

I look at calves as he does—
But all he sees is silk!
That's funny, for in my calves
I see veal, beef, and milk!
I chase and feed the chickens;
He does the same thing—yet
When I wake up next morning
I have not vain regret!

You bet farm life is lovely,
Or why should town folks go
Back to the farm each summer?
THAT'S why I'd like to know!
And all the long, drear winter
I have to laugh, I vow!
To think how city slickers
Looked when they milked a cow!

Little Marian was very bright in her school work whenever she chose to be. But on this particular day she found it easier to look on Betty's work.

The teacher spied her and stepped in between them!

Finally Marian thought it was time she was moving so she said: "Teacher, I wish you would move; it's too much bother to look around you."—Luella Pfleeger.

SOME PLACE TO LIVE
By Arne Welf.

"So you're a church mouse," said the rat, curiously. "I've often heard of church mice. You're poor, aren't you? What do you eat, anyway?"

"Eat," the church mouse answered, "why lots—I have lots to eat."

"Then how do they get that saying: 'As poor as a church mouse'?"

"I don't know, but it's all wrong. I'm lucky, I am. Why the minister feeds me lots of things out of the collection plate—collar buttons and things like that. And chewing gum from underneath the pews—why I have lots to eat. And say, while you're here I've got something to show you. Come this way and I'll show you some sacramental wine that'll make you want to lick a dozen tomcats and bite you way out of a steel trap!"

Polite.

First Farmer: "How did you like that new man you got from the city, Cy?"

Second Farmer: "Too much etykets—sit around the hall afternoon when I told him to pitch hay, because he didn't know which fork to use.—Mary F. Watterson.

PUGILISTIC WIFE

Irate Woman Asks Court for Fine to Whip Her Rival.

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 22.(AP)—"What does fighting cost?" a woman asked the assistant chief of police here recently. Reabbing for her purse, she explained she planned to beat the "other woman up that afternoon and wanted to pay her fine in advance." She has been "gallivanting" around with my husband and I'll fix her, the woman was quoted as saying. The chief, however, prevailed upon the irate wife there were better ways to settle with the other woman than whipping her.

2. Are passenger pigeons extinct?
3. Are sabre-toothed tigers extinct?
4. Are egretas extinct?
5. Are flamingoes extinct?
6. Are dodos extinct?

Answers to these questions in tomorrow's Record News.

EXTINCT MONSTERS

In past geological ages there have walked upon the earth and swam in its seas some startling creatures. None were larger than some of the largest whales of today, and for land animals the biggest of modern elephants is almost equal of any creatures that have ever lived. But it is not in size that the monsters of the past were so remarkable but in their curious appearance. Some had necks 20 feet long; others had great horny plates standing upright on their snouts; birds once had teeth and climbed by claws at the tips of their wings; giant lizards flew about on webbed wings like bats and probably were ferocious animals, and elephants had long hairy coats like a horse's mane.

Now what do you know about that?

Answers to yesterday's questions:

1. Elm, pine, maple and ash winged fruits or seeds.
2. Thistle, dandellon, milkweed, doghane, are common wildflowers having winged fruits.
3. Cedars sometimes grow wild in straight rows because birds eat the berries while sitting along telegraph wires or fences, and spit out the seeds where they sit.
4. Insect-pollinated plants have such heavy pollen that it seldom floats on the wind and hence does not reach the choking dust of a barn when hay is being pitched, and perhaps too some pollen in the dead grass flowers, often causes inflamation in the nose.
5. Though most people have hay fever in summer and autumn, some get it from pine pollen in the spring.

13,354 BALES

5,000 Bales Added to Vernon Gin Total Last Week

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Oct. 22.—In the last week gins in Wilbarger county have ginned approximately 5,000 bales of cotton, making a total of 13,354 bales ginned this season.

The report shows 4,785 bales ginned in the city and 7,511 bales ginned by rural gins, and 1,048 bales ginned outside the county.

"I'M THE GINK"

I'm the gink who is forever asking your advice. I come to you apparently in a great mental stress and I ask you what you would do if you were in my shoes. Usually it is some trivial thing that has me worried. I go about and ask everyone in the office for advice. Then I don't follow any of it. Of course I know people get tired of being worried by me. I like to have them think I am a man with many troubles. I draw up a chair and say, "Old man, let me ask you something." Then I don't follow your advice.

GLOBE FIGURING

The fast express comes round the curve
At seven-fifty-five,
At fifty-six all eyes observe
The fast express arrive.
At fifty-eight it's pulling out,
At fifty-nine it's gone,
The closest figuring, no doubt,
Men ever gazed upon.

But I don't know. We have a son,
A son who goes to school,
The fast express perhaps may run
By schedule and rule,
And yet he's figured just as fine
This schedule of his.
Each station all along the line,
And here's the way it is:

He's always called at promptly eight,
Eight-one he answers yes,
Eight-ten he's told that he'll be late,
Rolls over then, guess,
At eight-eighteen he's called again,
At thirty Father swears,
At forty in the bathroom then,
At fifty down the stairs.

At fifty-one a bite of toast,
And then he slams the door
At fifty-three, or four at most,
More likely fifty-four.
At fifty-six a block away
He's strolling down the street,
At fifty-nine each mortal day
He's sliding in his seat.

Folks talk about the fast express
That thunders down the line,
But there is something else, I guess,
That's figured just as fine.
But there's another thing again
I can't get through my dome;
When school lets out it takes him then
Three hours to reach his home.
For Monday: Others Might Have Given Her More.

FARMERS AIDED

Co-operative Creamery Established at Mexia

MEXIA, Texas, Oct. 22 (AP)—Cotton is hopeless. This was the opinion of P. A. Haines, a county agent, who advises all farmers to quit talking about better markets, less acres or anything else and quit cotton altogether as a hopeless task.

Backing up his opinion, Mr. Haines has persuaded Walter Anderson of Mexia to start a creamery and Mr. Anderson and Mr. Haines guarantee to pay the farmers the market price for cream and send a truck to any place in the county that has 10 or more cows. The cream truck is to be started at once.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 22.—The South Side Service station and the Farmer's Co-operative Filling station were robbed here Wednesday night when the first establishment lost 15 tires and a cash register without any cash, valued at $475. The Co-operationve Filling station was unable to estimate its loss.

OLD BUS MISSING BUT OWNERS GIVEN NEW CAR IN PLACE

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Oct. 22.(AP)—Howls for the police were raised by A. H. Palmer, 79, and his wife recently when their flivver, which they had parked but a few minutes before was missing.

Returning to the spot with a policeman a few minutes later, they found an automobile dealer, whom they both knew. He led the couple to a new car and said "here's your car." On the seat was pinned a telegram: "Take the old bus away and give them a new one." It was from Palmer's brother at Alpine.

PECAN PRICES

Guadalupe Valley Growers Demand 15 Cents Pound

CUERO, Texas, Oct. 22 (AP)—A minimum price of 15 cents a pound for Guadalupe valley pecans has been fixed by the Guadalupe Valley Pecan Grower's association. The growers decided at a meeting here that while the opening of the market was around 12 cents, that 15 cents was a fair price for pecans produced in this section of the state and they will refuse to sell for less. The growers represent an estimated production of 276,000 pounds, or about nine carloads. Dr. F. W. Buchel is president of the association.

FREAK CALF

Animal Born on Chillicothe Farm Has No Forelegs

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 22.—A freak calf without any forelegs was born on the T. D. Partain place southwest of Chillicothe Thursday night. The calf is of short horn Durham stock and is said to be otherwise perfect without the forelegs.

YOU MAY HAVE IT AND NOT KNOW IT!

Are you constipated?

How do you know you are not?

Constipation doesn't mean merely failure of the bowels to move! You must have a complete and thorough evacuation every day! If you don't, your system is not thoroughly cleansed—and germs of disease and poisons breed in the petrified wastes left in the intestines.

These poisons enter the blood through the blood vessels in the intestinal walls. The headaches you get, the fatigue—the skin blemishes—the mental sluggishness—the susceptibility to colds and countless other ills are directly due to the presence of these poisons in the system. Continuing constipation may lead to serious trouble and the sick bed.

Don't take a chance. Be sure your entire intestinal tract is THOROUGHLY CLEANED OUT. The best way is to take KLOK-LAX. Just a KLOK-LAX tablet with a swallow of water! Then you may be sure that every inch of your twenty-eight foot drainage canal, including your stomach, upper and lower intestines IS WASHED CLEAN, CLEAR AND PURE.

The KLOK-LAX way is the new, improved method to overcome constipation. It produces complete cleansing—not just cleansing in spots, as with oils, salts, cascaras and ordinary laxatives and purgatives.

Everybody is using KLOK-LAX now! It's so effective — and so easy to take. No griping—no nausea—no time lost from work. Just a nice, pleasant way to keep refreshed, alive and active—with plenty of "pep" and energy and a hearty appetite.

Get KLOK-LAX from any good druggist.—Adv.

'Obey Your Doctor' And You Will Be Healthy Educator Tells High Students

"You are not the greatest nation in the world," said Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of the public schools of Atlanta, Ga., in a speech to high school and college students and their parents and friends Friday morning. "Of all the people who think they are the greatest in the world, the English are the greatest to think so, and I believe that they have more reason to think so than any other nation." They are superior in adherence to true traditions, in quiet safe progress, and in every way."

Health Education

Dr. Sutton, who was introduced by Dr. A. R. Prothro, told of how he decided that health education was the most important thing in the world, and quoted statistics which showed the vital relation of dental perfection and physical health to school work, citing several students classed as unmanageable, who became successful good citizens after having been treated by a dentist and physician. The history of a health experiment in the Atlanta schools was given, in which it was shown that the health and mouth hygiene plan used there had reduced the absence list 3,300 in one year, the number of failures by 20 per cent, and the number of students who were underweight by 54 per cent.

Take Out Latin

"Take out Latin if necessary," said Dr. Sutton, "but give the students a well worked program of health education. I taught Latin myself for 16 years and I think every student should have it if possible, but let nothing interfere with the ideal of having every student healthy and happy. If I had my way, every girl would learn to ride horseback, swim, camp, hike and skate, and play outside games, and be a real girl, not a butterfly!" Receiving hearty applause to this from the boys in the audience, he continued: "I'll tell you girls what we fellows want—we don't like these little old skinny, waspy girls that try to starve themselves to death. We don't want you fat, of course, but we do want you to be shapely and muscular." Relating his experience at an eastern "finishing school," he said, "I'd rather have one of these big old freckled faced, double-jointed, horseback riding country girls than a whole cowpen of those I saw at that school."

Obey Your Doctor

"If you will do as I say and follow the advice of your dentist and doctor, it will mean five years added to your life. Every one of you boys should live to be 130 and you girls to be 115 if you take care of yourselves. When your heart beats there is pulsing not only the blood of tens of millions of generations before you, but there is pulsing the life blood of thousands of generations to come. If the parents and teachers of today would only stop saying, 'don't' and instead make the young people realize that they are building a wonderful race, we would be much better off."

Pep Meeting Held.

A pep meeting for both the boys' and girls' pep squads and all students interested in the Friday football game was held Friday morning at the Junior high school. Yells and pep songs were practiced preparatory to the game.

Student Banquet.

The annual banquet for the Wal-Kun staff was planned for the near future at the first meeting of the entire staff Friday morning at the Junior college. Nearly all of the staff-elect were present at the called meeting, and a talk was made by Miss Verna Sellers on the plans and ideals for the 1927 staff. A committee to plan the banquet was appointed by the editor as follows: Ford Chauncey, chairman; Fred Couper, Dolores Peavy and Estal Parham.

Junior High Program.

A pay program for Monday and Tuesday, October 25 and 26, has been planned for the assembly period at the Junior high school. The program, for which a small admission fee will be charged, will be as follows:

"Bye-Bye Blackbird — Junior high orchestra.

Solo dance—Juanita Burgess.

Spanish vocal solo—Irene Goff.

Dramatitc reading—Lillian McAbee.

Saxophone solo—Paul Seeds.

The eighth grade will attend the program Monday and the seventh grade Tuesday.

Gypsy Patteran.

Unless rains prevent, as has happened before, it is announced that the Gypsy Patteran for the Girl Reserves of the city will be held this afternoon, the girls meeting at the corner of Eighth and Burnett.

WOMAN SAVED

Quick Action Saves Life After Rattlesnake Bite

RAYMONDVILE, Texas, Oct. 22. (AP)—Unable to locate a physician immediately a dentist was rushed to the Stillman ranch near here to administer to a Mexican woman bitten in the hand by a rattlesnake.

The dentist made six incesions about the wound with a lancet and in a short time afterward a physician arrived and injected serum into the wound.

The woman will recover, the doctors said.

MEDDLESOME MOLLY THE BAD LITTLE DOLLY

BY MARTHA HART

Molly liked to have the fish tell her she was prettier without fins, and yet she wished so much that she could fly!

"But swimming is better than flying," said the fish when she explained. "Why not stay here and learn to swim?"

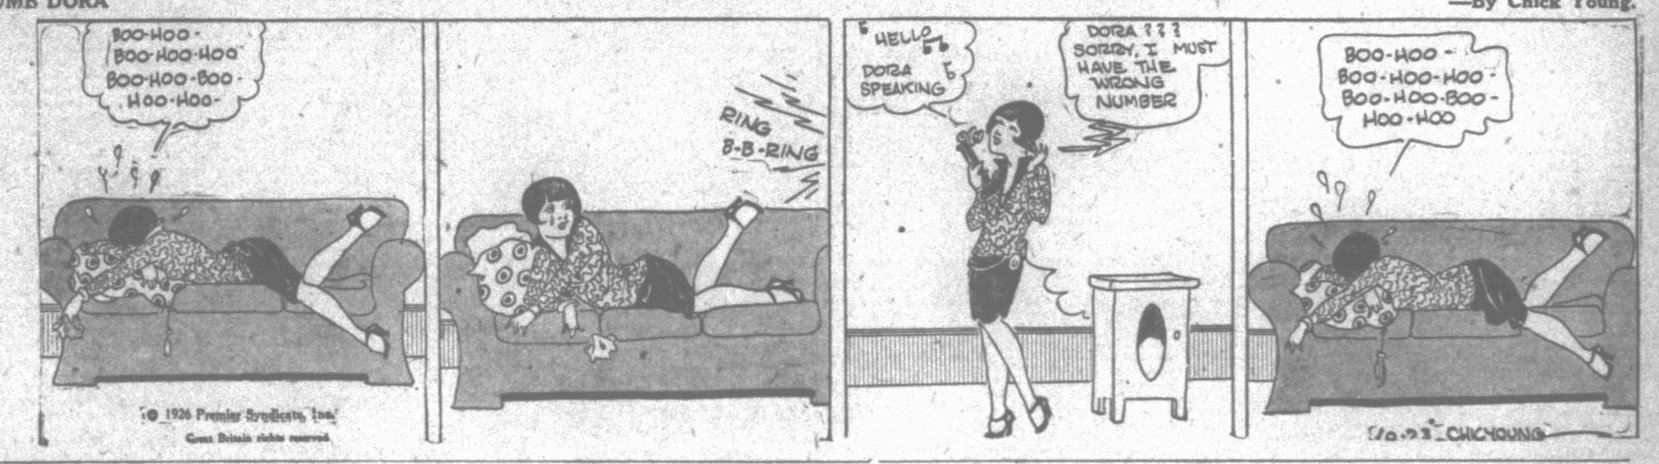

"Oh I coudn't!" cried the bird. "I am afraid of water."

"You say that," replied the fish, "because you have never really tried to swim. Stand here with me on this log and with one great leap, plunge into the water! It is more joyful than anything else you can do!"

Jungaleers Ready To Skin Coyotes In Own Lair This Afternoon When Bud McCallum's Pack Journeys To Electra

Jim Rees's Tigers In Fine Shape For Critical Test Of Inter-Scholastic Football Race Which May Decide Ultimate Winners In This District

BY BLONDY CROSS
Record News Sports Editor

ELECTRA, Oct. 22.—Jim Reese's flippant Electra Tigers are booked to bait Bud McCallum's boisterous Coyote pack from Wichita Falls Saturday afternoon on the Jungaleers' own hunting grounds.

'Twill be the battle of the hour as far as followers of the shoat-skin pastime are concerned in the area north of Cowtown and south of the Red river banks.

For out of this squabble, which for that matter looms as the so-called classic of the year, is expected to appear the champion of north Texas, including the Panhandle sector.

Your statistician has it the victor in this clash can take Vernon and Quanah on one afternoon, figuratively, and then canter through the ranks of Amarillo, or who ever may cop the bunting on the plains, with grace and a show of utter nonchalance. That whispers very much like a large assignment. But so speak the pre-game numerals of the prophetic gentleman, commonly termed the dopester. The accuracy of his calculations, of course, stand to be discovered, cross-checked and proven.

Coyotes Face Trouble.

However, unless there be a startling renaissance of Wichita Falls grid talent in that game, which as an aside happens to be the league inaugural for both teams, Saturday, the reception will be one of careful and studied rudeness. Just another graphic testimonial of what the under-dog can do to the alleged superiority complex machine.

That Wichita Falls is given—I know not by whom—better than a 60-40 chance to scoop up the gravy and run away, is granted.

Electra's performance the current season to the present has not been of the calibre that would tend to warm the cockles of your ardent follower.

But like the Texas Aggies and the Orange of Varsity, when comes the hour of the annual Tiger-Coyote brawl all past showing, or lack of it, is discounted.

No Lukewarm Affair

That 3 o'clock matinee, you may feel secure, will be no lukewarm affair.

The war is to be staged on the ground, so it emanates from both camps. Each coach declares his formations and style of attack will adhere firmly to that which is known for lack of a better mode of expression as straight football—straight football throughout, plays as simple as the average high school freshman's countenance.

Whereupon, we may stand by and expect a myriad of fancy maneuvers, new-fangled lineups for attack and a buzzing bag of tricks bubbling over every moment.

Both coaches declare they do not expect to move into the air unless it be in an emergency and it appears the cause is lost. Perhaps not. If either team has a progressive passer it has not been our fortune to witness him in action. But—

Air Game Stressed

The overhead game has been stressed day after day at both institutions of learning. Hour after hour McCallum has rehearsed his lads under far-flung heaves. Hour after hour Reese has taught the same course. They may try to carry the mail by airplane, after all.

Anyhow, both clubs have an over-head game to fall back on should at any stage the going become too hot and they wish to take to the air to cool off.

After eyeing the situation with infininte care, albeit suspiciously, we have come to the conclusion the battle will be fought in the front-line entrenchments. Electra's backfield rates little, if any, over the Wichita Falls secondary defense. Individually, with exception of the stalwart Francis, Coyote full, the Tiger quartet stacks up a bit the stronger. But neither combination has accomplished anything startling so far. Electra's offense has been mediocre. Wichita Falls' goal-line punch has not come out of its disguise yet.

Tiger Wall Strong

But defensively speaking! Ah, now you're murmuring something within reason. How many touchdowns have been poked through the Tiger forward wall? None! Two touchdowns have been scored against Electra in four practice games. They came on fumbles when a green Tiger team in the first till of the year had not located its bearings.

The Wichita Falls defense record, off hand, has not been so good. But the Wichita Falls defense has coped with stronger elevens during its conditioning span than has Reese's charges. It is eminently possible that had the Tigers bucked such teams as Lawton, Grandfield and Decatur Baptist college more than a brace of touchdowns would have been registered across their goal line.

The Tiger starting lineup will find Captain Budley Avens, a 170-pound wildcat, at one tackle; Henry Davis, 155-pounder, who has develepode into a surprisingly deadly tackler, on the other side; Foster at a guard and Sargent, 190 pounds of brawn at the other anchor position, with Roy Coolidge, scrappy little 160-pounder at center.

BABY COYOTES WIN HENRIETTA CONTEST 12 TO 6

Junior High Eleven Plays Superior Brand of Football

Wichita Falls Junior high school played an improved brand of football Friday afternoon to win her first game of the season, putting two touchdowns over Henrietta high school for a 12 to 6 margin. Junior high scored in the second and third quarters, while Henrietta made her marker in the final period. Twice more the Coyote Cubs carried the ball within five yards of the last mark, only to lose on fumbles or bad plays.

The line-up:

Wichita Falls		Henrietta
Anderson	Fullback.	F. Woods
Bains	Left Half.	Stanfield
Beach	Right Half.	Anderson
Carter	Quarterback.	Boyd
Williams	Left End.	Nutter

'Ring Wind Mill' Harry Greb Dies

Popular Fighter Succumbs In Atlantic City Hospital After Operation

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22. (AP)—Death claimed the "windmill" of the prize ring today when Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, former middleweight champion of the world, succumed in an Atlantic City hospital after an operation for a broken bone in the nose.

News of his sudden death stunned Pittsburgh for the boxer left here last Wednesday claiming to be in good health and expressing a desire to go into training for another siege in the ring. Greb, the only boxing champion ever turned out by this city was the idol of sports followers.

Fought 13 Years

Greb spent 13 years of intense activity in the squared arena. Born 32 years ago in Pittsburgh, Greb first donned the gloves as a prelim boy under James "Red" Mason. From that time on until recent months, he had fought some 200 battle won two titles and suffered but one knockout. His record up to the close of 1925, showed 44 knockouts, 42 wins on decisions, four decisions lost and two draws. His other bouts were no decision engagements. During the war he served as naval boxing instructor.

Greb barred none in his fight to the top, sfrequently giving more than a 50 pound advantage to his opponents. He won the American light heavyweight title from Gene Tunney in 1922 but lost it to the same boxer the following year. Then he began his drive for middle weight championship and despite predictions of experts that he could not make the weight Greb trained down to Johnny Wilson's size and in 1923 won Wilson's crown. During his middleweight reign he fought and won many battles, including one with Mickey Walker, then welterweight king. He held his title until recently when Tiger Flowers, Georgia negro, dethroned him and then beat him in a return bout.

With the exception of Jack Dempsey, Greb fought practically every leading light heavyweight and heavyweight of the day. His peculiar style in the ring—constant bouncing and windmilling of his gloved fists—caused opponents no end of trouble. They could not fathom this fast moving athlete.

CHILDRESS IN ONE-SIDED WIN

Bobcats Down Paducah By Score of 61-0 For Easy Victory

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Oct. 22.—The Childress Bobcats took a tiger grip on their march toward the district championship when they smothered the Paducah high school eleven on the local Fair park gridiron here on Friday afternoon by the mighty score of 61 to 0. Childress ran wild over a team that was handicapped by the fact that six of their best players were declared ineligible just before they came up here. The Paducah team seemed lost and were not much in evidence during the game. They made only two or three first downs while Childress did not have to punt during the entire game.

Childress smashed the line, ran the ends, passed several times and usually with success and kicked their way into the high score. The Bobcat line opened up wide holes through which the backs ran for gains that often advanced the ball from 15 to 30 and 40 yards.

Paducah had not outstanding players, Childress a host of them, some of them being new players that have not yet had a chance to show what they could do. In the backfield there were, Short, captain, Bybee, Newberry, Dowis, Affleck and Howard, all great ground gainers in the line wer Y. Nichols, Greer, Privitt and others too numerous to mention.

Paducah's attempts to pass were futile and some of them intercepted. Childress passes went over in great shape. Short placed kicked six goals after touchdown in seven attempts. Affleck drop kicked one out of two. Dowis and Newberry showed up well as broken field runners and Short and Bybee made long gains on end plays while Morris Howard made a stellar run just at the close of the game, netting nearly 50 yards. The ball lacked only a few feet of another touchdown as the whistle blew for game.

Trinity Tigers Suffer Defeat

San Marcos Normal Eleven Downs Barry Holton's Proteges, 28-7

SAN MARCOS, Texas, Oct. 22. (AP)—Led by their fleet-footed, hard-hitting captain, Lyon McCall, the Southwest Texas State Teachers' college Bob Cats here Friday crushed the Trinity Tigers, 28 to 7.

Coach Strahan's men flashed great form throughout and established themselves outstanding contenders for the T. I. A. A. grid championship.

Coach Barry Holton's Tigers scored in the second period on a forward pass from Schley to Smith that was good for 35 yards and a touchdown.

LONGHORNS OFF FOR RICE GAME

King to Play At Quarter For Texas Against Houston Team

AUSTIN, Oct. 22.(AP) —Joe King, light in beef, but heavy in football brains, likely will start at quarterback Saturday for the Texas university Longhorns against the Rice Owls at Houston. King last Saturday played part of the last half against the Vanderbilt Commodores and showed to distinct advantage. Other members of the starting back of the line quartet are expected to be Captain Saxon and Stallter, halves, and Ford, fullback.

VERNON LIONS SWAMP QUANAH BY 53-0 SCORE

Baggett's Men Run Wild For Easy Victory Over Rivals

BY BLONDY CROSS

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 22—Vernon's grey jerseyed horde led by a smashing driving stalwart in the fleet form of Captain Willie Gelhausen swarmed over Quanah's Orange and Black here this afternoon to an impressive victory in the opening interscholastic league encounter of the year for north Texas.

Clipping off tackle, sweeping around the wings with a mass interference and occasionally shifting to the air in a spectacular passing attack, the grey tide rolled to a 53 to 0 win through the lighter Indians.

And in this avalanche of touchdowns Vernon carried a defi and a serious menace to the peace and aspirations of their ambitious rivals down in Wichita Falls and over at Electra.

Raging Lions

For E. A. Baggett has just another such team as the raging Lions of seasons gone by who stormed over all opposition in the north Texas sector and one year battled through to the sime-finals of the Texas championship race.

They speak of Jim Reese's four horsemen at Electra; they shout praise of Coyal Francis, plunging Coyote back at Wichita Falls; but today Baggett hurled up the curtain in Vernon and put on display for the first time a hurling speeding, deadly ground eating juggernaut that by comparison to Reese's horsemen or McCallum's squadron takes appearance of a giant, bobnobbing with a pair of midgets.

It's a running game, intermingled with a plunging attack and a series of bombing sorties, that Vernon wages this season.

Strong Backfield

Galloping off on long sallies around the terminals with both tackles and guards swinging into the interference to present an eight-man bulwark, any one of Baggett's backfield quartet packs the oval for springhtly advances. Today it was Gelhausen who carried the bulk of offense play with Castleberry next in the order of battle. For that matter it was Gelhausen everywhere. Be it on attack or defense, Gelhausen was the man. Diving through to make a most miraculous tackle, sprinting off the ends for lengthy gains, or stepping back dodging, twisting away from would be blockers then with the swish of a wrist and the snap of an elbow launching rifle true passes into the arms of a waiting back that's our Willie Gelhausen.

Twice did Gelhausen rise to the heights and rip through the opposition center, smear an attempted punt, dribble the ball a distance and then race to a touchdown. So much for Gelhausen.

Junior College Indians Hammer Out Victory, 12-6, Over Touted Memphis Hi Eleven And Kick Over Dope Bucket

Tribe Entered Game As Under-Dog Both In Weight and Experience But Puts Up Brilliant Game To Win From Rivals.

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Oct. 21.—Maroon and Gold wave from Wichita Falls Junior college Friday swept over the Memphis gridiron in answer to Coach Bolton's challenge issued to all high schools and Junior colleges of the northwest, passing, plunging and running its way to a brilliant 12 to 6 victory over the Panhandle team. Although the underdogs in both weight and experience and given little pre-game chance to win, the Indians played surprisingly good football all the way, holding off the heavy Memphis attack which two weeks ago smashed its way through the strong Vernon Lions for 18 first-downs.

This is the third victory the Maroons have fought out against odds in three starts, the wins over Fort Sill and over the undefeated Cordell teams being equally unexpected before the game. Ludgate's relatively young team showed a remarkable development over early season form.

Stephenson Stars

Captain Stephenson led his mates in a furious onslaught on Memphis laurels from the opening whistle, putting over two touchdowns in the first quarter. Thompson scored on a run from a pass and Stephenson carried the ball over on a well-executed fake for the second score. Both touchdowns came as the result of sustained drives down the field in which plunges, runs, and passes were mixed indiscriminately for gains. During the remainder of the first half the Indians fought off the Memphis scoring machine to hold the score at 12-6.

In the third quarter Memphis opened up a spectacular passing attack which kept the Wichita Falls team in constant hot water and which frequently threatened to materialize in scores. Never relenting fight and constant vigilance on the part of Indian defensives, however, batted down all Memphis efforts at critical moments and prevented scoring. In the third quarter Memphis started a drive down the field on straight football which brought the score for the Panhandle team.

During the final period the Memphis machine still carried the battle into Wichita Falls territory, but the Maroon and Gold defensive held tight for final victory. Although outgained by Junior college in the first half, Memphis swept from one end of the field to the other in very colorful manner in the second half to get the edge on the visitors on total yardage made.

Brilliant Contest

The whole game was brilliantly played by both teams. The offensive punch which has been lacking chiefly thus far in the play of the Indians was very much present Friday, the plunging of Stephenson and McConnell being strongly seconded by the splendid pass snaring of Thompson and Ford at ends. The line again as in previous games put up a strong fight, charging well on offense and holding tight on defense, incidently breaking through to block two Memphis punts. Boyd and Bland at guards won the honor of free tickets to the big S. M. U.-A. & M. game at Dallas offered by Coach Ludgate to any player who succeeded in blocking opposing punts in this game. Boyd, playing his first game at guard, managed himself splendidly and added much strength to the Indian line.

Four Ejected

The intensity of the fray is shown in the fact that four men, two on each side were ejected from the game by the referee for roughness, Harvey and Scoggin going that route for the Indians.

It was difficult to choose honors from the members of the Maroon and Gold squad who bore the brunt of the game, including Harvey and Coffey at quarter; McAninch at fullback; Stephenson and McConnell at halves; Scoggin, Thompson, and Ford at ends; Boyd and Bland at guards; Burks and Gilchrist at tackles; and Patterson at center.

ARCHER WHIPS GRAHAM TEAM

Wildcats Dress Steers To Tune of 19 to 7 On Thursday

Special to The Record News.

ARCHER CITY, Oct. 22.—The Archer City Wild Cats opened their first interscholastic game of the season here today against the Graham Steers and showed all the stuff necessary to win, taking the game by a score of 19 to 7.

The Wild Cats gained ground on every play they tried and made some sensational end runs and off-tackle plays. Hutchison and Hodges were consistent ground gainers, while Roberson and Powell did stellar work in the line.

Hutchison was the star performer for the day and made a sensational 89-yard run after intercepting a Steer pass near their own goal line. He was stopped only a half yard from the goal.

Clark, fast quarterback for the Steers, was the outstanding player for the loosers, but Larkin was the only Steer to cross the Archer City goal. He plunged through center for the only tally made.

Archer City made four first downs and Graham made five, but the visitors had little luck in stopping the sweeping end runs of the Wild Cats.

NINE MILLION BALES OF 1926 COTTON CROP REACH GINS

MARKET READY FOR BEAR MOVE EXPECTED SOON

High Government Report On Monday Expected By Cotton Trades

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.(AP) The cotton market was comparatively quiet today and although still dominated by the expectation of a bearish government report on Monday prices showed a tendency to rally on fair trade buying and on the large mill takings for the week of 520,000 bales. Although Liverpool was favorable the market here opened four to seven points down and after fluctuating narrowly, finally reached levels six to nine points under the previous close. The subsequent rally on the large mill takings and some rains in the western belt carried prices up 14 to 16 points from the lows by the middle of the afternoon. The market fluctuated narrowly during the final hour always near the highs. The close was a few points under the highs, showing net gains for the day of two to five points.

Another private crop estimate was issued during the day, placing the indicated yield at 17,027,000 bales. Estimates of the total ginnings to October 18 ranged from 8,853,000 to 9,400,000 bales. Although Liverpool came in better than due the market here started easier with first trades four to seven points down. Prices then fluctuated finally reaching 12.18 for December, 12.24 for January and 12.41 for March or six to nine points under yesterday's close.

From these the lows of the morning, the market gradually advanced and in mid-afternoon December traded up to 12.34, January to 12.38 and March to 12.57, or 14 to 16 points up from the lows and six to 10 points above the previous close. These proved the highs of the day. The market closed only a few points from the highs. Exports for the day totalled 46,309 bales and for the week 389,683 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.(AP)—A further decline at the opening of the cotton market today was followed by rallies on a little trad buying and covering. January advanced from 12.26 to 12.39 and closed at 12.37, the general market closing steady net two points higher to three points lower.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of two to eight points under continued selling which developed late yesterday. All months made new low ground for the season under this pressure, December declining to 12.19 and March to 12.31, but southern offerings were smaller and trade buying or covering checked the decline at these figures $13.00@14.00.

The volume of business tapered off on the rallies which followed, offerings continued light with very little of any southern selling in evidence and prices showed a generally steady tone. December advanced to 12.33 while March sold up to 12.54, recoveries of about 12 to 13 points from the lowest. Last prices were within two to four points of the best.

Another private crop report pointed to a yield of 17,027,000 bales compared with an end-September indication of 16,039,000 and placed the amount of cotton ginned prior to October 18, at 8,853,000 bales. These figures on the crop are considered in line with recent expectations but ideas as to the ginning were later increased somewhat by rumors that a Memphis authority estimated the amount ginned to October 18 at 9,400,000 bales.

The week-end figures as anticipated at the opening of the year made a rather a bearish showing but were without apparent effect on the market the late steadiness being attributed partly to covering by sorts sellers who had anticipated more southern selling than developed during the afternoon. Members of the New York cotton exchange, on the average are looking for a government report placing the crop at next Monday according to a canvass today.

Exports 49,309 bales, making 2,113,414 so far this season. Port receipts 81,092. U. S. port stocks 2,892,270 bales.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.(AP)—The stock market today opened moderately strong, broke sharply when selling pressure was renewed against the motor shares and then rallied briskly in the last few minutes of trading, with closing prices irregularly lower. As in most sessions of late, the fluctuations here little relation to the day's news, but reflected the play of professional traders, with the so-called public apparently taking little interest in the proceedings. Total sales again fell below two million shares.

Failure of operators for the rise to attract an outside interest in the recovery which began late Wednesday slightly stiffer call money rates, renewed weakness of the cotton market, a series of earthquake disturbances in California, reports that the Cuban storm damage had been greatly under estimated and the department of commerce reports showing a falling off in automobile production in September were all used by bear traders as excuses for renewed attacks on the market.

The weekly mercantile reviews call attention to a slackening in some lines of industry but point out that there has been no general setback in business. Chairman Gary told members of the American Iron and Steel Institute at their semi-annual meeting here today that there were no clouds on the business horizon which indicate the demands for steel products in the aggregate will be reduced substantially in the near future and also expressed assurance that there would be no mill reduction sufficient to affect industry.

Publication of the quarterly report of the Chrysler corporation showing earnings below the corresponding period last year, also was used as an excuse for selling the motors. General Motors dropped from 148 to 142¼ and then snapped back to 146⅝, off 1⅜ net. Mack Trucks fell from 86⅜ to 81, a new low, and then rallied to 82⅝, off 3⅜ net, and several others segged to around the year's low levels. DuPont collapsed from 219 to 208¾ and then rebounded to 214½.

U. S. Steel common opened at 138¼ which proved to be the high figure of the day, sold down to 134⅞ and rallied to 136⅝, off 1⅝ net. Gulf States Steel broke five points to a new 1926 low at 67 on publication of a poor third quarterly report.

The late recovery was led by U. S. Industrial Alcohol, which soared over seven points to 79 and closed within a fraction of the top, and U. S. Rubber which jumped five points to 57½.

Atchison led the early advance in the railroad shares, but ran into heavy selling on publication of a statement by President Story that no know of no abnormal development for the recent rise in the stock which had been associated with rumors of an increased dividend at the January meeting. Southern Pacific yielded slightly, despite the gain of $606,706 shown in net income last month over September 1925.

Call money held steady at 4½ per cent all day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. A brisk demand for Norwegian kroner, which carried it up over 25 points for a new high record for the year above 25 cents, was the outstanding development in foreign exchange trading. Demand sterling ruled slightly easier around $4.84 3-16. French francs held firm around the three-cent level and the Chinese currencies sank to new lows in sympathy with another drop in silver.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.(AP)—Wheat and corn scored a lively advance in price today. Unusual scarcity of offerings toward the last led to something of a flurry among traders who had been active speculative sellers. Talk was current that an unofficial crop looked for at Winnipeg would prove bullish. Chicago closing quotations on wheat were strong, 2½ to 3c net higher, corn 1¾ to 2¾c up, oats at ⅝ to ⅞c gain and provisions varying from the same as yesterday's finish to a rise of 25c.

Unfavorable husking returns gave strength to the corn market right from the outset. Besides eastern demand for cash corn showed improvement. Oats sympathized with corn.

PRINCESS WINS DIVORCE GRANT

She Now Plans to Become Bride of German Policeman

POTSRAM, Prussia, Oct. 22. (AP)—Princess Ethel Friedrich, wife of the second son of former Emperor William, has been granted a divorce. Before her marriage to the prince she was duchess Sophie Charlotte of Oldenburg.

The princess was given the divorce on grounds of ill treatment, neglect and incompatibility of temperament. Both parties, it is reported, intend to marry again shortly.

The princess' choice is said to be Harold Van Hedmann, aged 39, or eight years her junior, a farmer captain in the royal dragoons and now a Potsdam police lieutenant.

First reports were that Hedemann was not of noble birth, but it is now learned that he is the scion of a Rhenish noble family living at Cologne. Prince Ethel who is 43 years old, is said to be planning to marry Countess Melita belonging to the Baltic nobility and now a resident of this city.

SEND 'EM HOME

Police Find Boys and Girls In Beer Gardens.

DALLAS, Oct. 22. (AP)—Police sent several boys and girls to their homes after giving them a good lecture when they were found in beer gardens raided by the police last night.

Twelve hundred pints of beer were seized and three women and a man arrested.

MAN INJURED

H. A. Williams Hurt When Car Turns Over.

H. A. Williams, employe of the Nu-Grape Bottling company, received painful injuries and a deep cut on his left leg when the car he was guiding, which was being towed in, became unloosened and plunged over a steep bank on the Henrietta road and turned over. An ambulance was called and he was taken to the Hargrave-Walker hospital for treatment.

HONEY LOU HUNTLEY is private secretary to old "GRUMPY" WALLACK, head of the Wallack Fabric Mills.

"Grumpy" hired Honey Lou, not only because she is quick and clever, but because she is nice to have around. Everyone else at the mills likes Honey Lou, too, from ANN LUDLOW, the office vamp to JOE MEADOWS, the shipping clerk. But Honey Lou is half-afraid of Joe Meadows, who is always asking her to go out with him.

Young JACK WALLACK comes to work in his father's factory to learn the business. He falls in love with Honey Lou's beauty first and then with her prim old-fashioned ways. He tries to kiss her and when she won't let him, he respects her for it and finds himself caring more for her than for any other girl of his acquaintance. Honey Lou honestly tells him that she never was petted in her life, nor taken a drink.

But a week later, at a party given by Jack's neighbor, ANNGELEA ALLEN, Honey Lou drinks two cocktails, thinking they are fruit punch, and "passes out." She lets Jack make love to her on the way home, not realizing how she has disillusioned him. Then, when he pays no further attention, she wonders what is the matter.

TIM DONEGAL, a friend of Jacks, begins to be attentive. He and Honey Lou take many long drives to a neighboring town where Tim seems to have some mysterious errand. Honey Lou wonders where he gets his money. He never works, but he is always in funds. One night when the two are dancing at a restaurant, with Honey Lou's half sister, Margret Moody and Dr. Steve Mayhew, they are joined by Angela and ck. Margret sums Angela up as a "cat," but Honey Lou insists that she's wrong. A few weeks later Jack Wallack telephones Honey Lou and asks if he may come to see her on the following night. Honey Lou says that he may. That afternoon Angela comes into the office and takes Honey Lou out for tea with her.

She tells Honey Lou not to take Jack seriously—that he does not intend to marry any girl for a long time, and Honey Lou believes her.

She becomes friendly with Honey Lou and the more Honey Lou sees of her, and of her luxurious way of living, the more discontented she becomes with her own lot. One Saturday noon, when she and Margret are lunching at a little French restaurant, she tells Margret that she'd rather eat bread and butter at the kind of place where Angela lunches than a regular meal anywhere else.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

"I'm used to like to come here for lunch, Honey Lou," Margret confided her.

It was true.

A fresh flower had always been presented as a rare treat by both the girls. There was to different each afternoon—a rose, a carnation, a sprig of lilac—the variety was endless. "Now, much is it?" Honey Lou asked the red-headed saleswoman who put it

BABY SNAKE BITES

And Now Texas Farmer is In Serious Condition

BURNET, Texas, Oct. 22 (AP)—William Watson, a farmer living west of Burnet is in a precarious condition as the result of the bite of a small rattle snake. Watson was gathering peanuts when the snake bite him. He thought it was a wasp that had stung him and paid little attention to it until his arm began to swell. He then decided to investigate. He found a snake about 12 inches long.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR FRIDAY RUN OVER $100,000 MARK

WEEK'S FIGURE TO MOUNT HIGH

Two Business Houses And Two Fine Residences Are Authorized

Two new business houses and two residences of the finer type were included in yesterday's quota of building permits issued by City Clerk W. E. McGroom. The total of these four projects alone amounted to nearly $100,000, and there were a number of smaller projects sufficient to run the day's total well over that figure.

Frank Keil took out a permit for the construction of a brick one-story business building at 1009 Ohio street, which will cost approximately $8,000. Voelcker & Dixon are the architects.

Fain Brothers & McClara were issued a permit for the construction of a two-story brick business house at 1005 Lamar, which will cost $50,000. The contract for the job has been awarded to Naylor Collins company.

The most noticable residence building for the latter part of this week is that of F. P. Timberlake, who is building a two-story brick veneer home at 2107 Miramar street at a cost of $25,000.

In the surburban list is a residence being constructed for Naylor Collins company on the Seymour road, which is to be built of brick and tile at a cost of $7,500.

Included in the week's permits is the new home of Walter Cline, which is being constructed at a cost of $140,000, and this, with the big run of permits yesterday will make the week's total nearly three hundred thousand dollars.

FACTORY COMING

Lokey Cotton Machine Company Will Locate In City.

Within a short time the Lokey Cotton Machine company of Memphis will be located in Wichita Falls. The company will lease grounds and buildings for the plant early in November.

A capitalization of $70,000 for the reorganized company will be made. Twenty-five or thirty employes will be necessary to carry on the work of the company which will buy practically all of its raw materials from local foundry and supply companies.

The company is coming to Wichita Falls largely through the traffic and industrial department of the chamber of commerce managed by J. W. Chatham, and by Ed Lee, Everett McCullough and Charles L. Francis.

The machine manufactured by the Lokey Machine company is a burr extractor to be attached to the cotton gin, removing foreign matter. The machine extracts the pulp from the crushed bolls and eleminates trash from the seed, and is said to raise value of the seed from $5 to $7 per ton.

Scraps NewS

Mrs. Paul Colvert is reported seriously ill in the Clinic hospital.

Joe Williams who has been connected with the Continental Supply company, left Friday for Fort Worth where he has accepted a position with the Independent Gas and Oil company.

Mrs. P. A. Welty has received word from her husband who is in San Diego, Calif., that his father who had been seriously ill had died before he could reach his bedside. Mr. Welty is expected to return home next week.

Miss Josephine Fisk, Alva Willgus and C. A. Spragins leave today for Eastmont as representatives of Wichita Falls in the tenth district Associated Advertising clubs of the World. Mr. Willgus will lead the singing at the convention, making his fifth year in the district convention as song leader.

PATTERAN COMING

GIRLS ENTERTAINED

Girl Reserves of College And High School Celebrate

With Opal Longan, member of the service commitee, in charge, several hundred girls were entertained Friday morning at the regular meeting of the Junior college and high school Girl Reserves. A short business session, in which several announcements were made, preceded the program, which was as follows:

Vocal Duets, Elizabeth Powers and Mary Virginia Barron, accompanied by Lorene Tucker.

Talk, "Opportunities the Girl Reserve offers for Service," Miss Chella Hendrick.

Closing song "Follow the Gleam"

Freshmen of the Junior college and their friends enjoyed the first social affair of the season for the class Friday night when they were entertained at the parish house with a dance, the first of a series of activities planned for the year.

TAYLOR IMPROVES.

Loran L. Taylor of Kemp boulevard was reported improving last night from injuries received Friday morning when he was cut severely on the scalp in an automobile collision. The accident happened at Fourth and Ohio when the Ford in which Taylor was riding and a Buick ran together. Both cars were damaged.

BONHAM FUNERAL HELD

Funeral services for Mrs. Mamie Bonham, who died Wednesday at her home near this city, will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Jolly, with Rev. H. J. Ballew, pastor of the Highland Heights Baptist church officiating. Burial will be in the Jolly cemetery.

CITY PILES ON MORE COVER

Temperature Drops Rapidly In Face of Norther Friday

Wichita Falls put on more blankets last night and shivered in the norther that blew up Friday and reached a maximum velocity of 11 miles per hour. A maximum temperature of 76 degrees was reached in the 24-hour period but at 1 o'clock the thermometer dropped to 70 degrees and at 5 p. m. had reached 63 degrees. The barometer registered 29.24 at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. Indications were that a frost was scheduled for the upper Panhandle and northwestern Oklahoma.

Cooler weather by Saturday morning was the official forecast.
