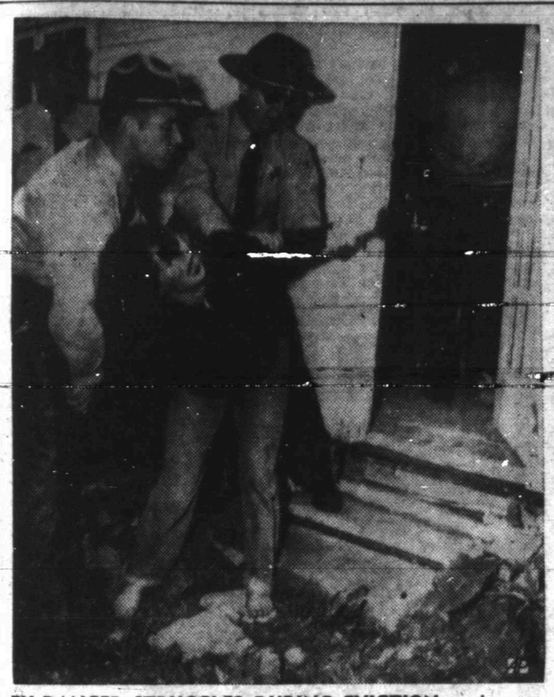
Panel Hands Legislature Tax Bill To Balance State Budget



EX-DANCER STRUGGLES DURING EVICTION — Lenena Davis, 32, red-haired former ballet dancer who is now employed as a waitress, struggles with state troopers as she is evicted from the home she occupies on the Des Plaines River southwest of Chicago, Ill. Her defiance at efforts to get her to move had stalled efforts to complete a railroad spur of the Sanitary District. After removing her from the premises, the house was set afire.

Tickets Move Rapidly For Boat Races

Tickets were selling rapidly this week for the second annual Lake Thomas Jamboree, a big boat racing show to be sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club.

The races will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday on the north shore of the lake. Those attending should use the regular routes to the dam. To get to the shore where the races will be held, they should turn right when they drive upon the dam and follow the small road to the lake shore.

Prizes for the races total $1,000, furnished by the sponsoring club. The races will be conducted under rules of the National Outboard Association, and those competing will be trying for points toward championships of the association.

Deanie Montgomery of Corsicana, who won several events at the races here last year, was a 1954 world champion of Division IV. This race will be one of those which covers Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

Judges in the race are furnished by the association, while other workers will be furnished by the local club. Club members are now selling tickets, which are 50 cents each.

This is the second year of the Jamboree.

Classes included in the races:

Class A runabout, 10 horsepower, 15 cubic inch displacement. Speeds in excess of 45 miles per hour.

YOU NAME IT—The county's new rescue boat, to be used by the fire department as part of the equipment of a new disaster organization, is to be named and christened at Lake J. B. Thomas Sunday afternoon, and the person who names it will be awarded $10. The Lions Club is offering the prize to the person suggesting the name which will be chosen during the annual speedboat races, sponsored by Snyder Lions. The races will be held near the dam, where a ticket office will receive the name suggestions. Contestants should write their names and the names suggested for the boat on paper and submit them at the ticket box. Shown looking over the craft are Wayne Glasscock, Melvin Newton, and Olin Bearden, firemen. (Staff photograph)

Senate May Act Today

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN (AP)—A tax bill to raise $57,038,177 new money and balance the budget for state operations in the next two years was handed the Legislature today by a House-Senate Conference Committee.

In addition, the conferees' proposal would raise $41,069,183 for state highway needs—making the grand total of new money suggested $98,107,360.

Senate action on the report was possible today. The House, under its rules, may have to wait until tomorrow to take up the bill.

The conference deleted the controversial proposal to tax natural gas contracted on long terms to pipelines, a proposed uranium levy, and another bringing the natural gas pipelines under the intangible tax law.

The report was announced, after conferences that went deep into the night, by Sen. Ottis Lock of Lufkin and Rep. Stanton Stone of Freeport.

It came a few hours after the session's fifth filibuster ended in an uproar in the Senate at 1:35 a.m.

The committee made these recommendations:

One cent increase per pack in cigarettes; 1 cent boost per gallon on gasoline; $2.30 per barrel (less than a cent a bottle) boost on beer; 25 cent per $1,000 capital assets in the franchise tax.

The franchise tax increase was a new proposal. The beer boost raised the total levy on brew from $2 to $4.30 per barrel. The franchise tax boost is from $2 to $2.25 per $1,000.

The present levy on natural gas is left unchanged.

FUNDS ADEQUATE

Lock said Comptroller Robert S. Calvert had assured him the funds anticipated by the conference report would cover spending contemplated under the 1½ billion dollar general spending bill already approved.

To become effective, the spending bill must be certified by the comptroller on the basis of state cash in hand or in sight for the next two-year fiscal period beginning Sept. 1.

Final approval of the tax bill is the last major hurdle before adjournment. There was considerable talk today of winding up Saturday.

The revenue-raising proposal was worked out by a House-Senate Conference Committee while the filibuster raged in the Senate chamber against a proposed constitutional amendment that would allow more than 10 per cent interest on "small" loans.

The filibuster ended in the wee hours when the minority opposition to the measure suddenly found itself in temporary control of the Senate and won adjournment.

Though the Senate filibuster was unrelated to the state's tax needs, one member of the filibustering "team" shouted that the so-called "loan shark" constitutional amendment was the real reason the Legislature had been unable to complete its work and go home.

"Everybody in Austin knows why we've been held here the last four weeks," Sen. William Moore if Bryan yelled. "It was not to pass a tax bill. It was to pass this bill for the loan sharks."

While Moore and others denounced the measure which provoked the session's fifth filibuster as one backed by loan sharks, sponsors of the proposal said it would help curb the loan shark menace.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, sponsor of the House-passed resolution, argued it is impossible to enforce the present 10 per cent rate on all loans. He said amending the Constitution to authorize future Legislatures to set a higher rate on "small" loans would pave the way for an effective crackdown on lenders who gouge borrowers for as much as 1,000 or 1,200 per cent.

FILIBUSTER ENDS

The filibuster ended when many members who favor removing the 10 per cent interest ceiling drifted away. Seizing on the fact a quorum was not present, the minority besieged the presiding officer with motions to adjourn.

Sen. D. B. Hardeman of San Angelo, presiding in the absence of Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, banged his gavel unceasingly in an effort to restore order. Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, Warren McDonald of Tyler, Moffett and Moore accused Hardeman of stalling for time when he failed to put a motion to an immediate vote.

"I move that the sergeant-at-arms remove the present chairman and seat the president pro tem," shouted Phillips, pointing to a rule he said permits a majority of those on the floor to oust a chairman.

With demands mounting for immediate action, Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro strolled to the foot of the chairman's platform and quietly cautioned Hardeman: "You're going to get in trouble."

Slow Rains Benefit Scurry Area Farms

Slow, soaking rains which will apparently be of more benefit than harm fell over Scurry County last night.

David Strayhorn, weather observer in Snyder, recorded .23 of an inch in downtown Snyder. The heaviest fall confirmed was .5 of an inch on the Raymond Smith farm in the Plainview community. Ed Taylor in the Canyon community southwest of Snyder measured .3 of an inch, as did Billy Don Huddleston at Knapp. Mrs. Corky Krsue at Ira said their rain was measured at .35 of an inch. Mrs. Wraymond Sims, northeast of Snyder on the Lloyd Mountain road, reported .4 of an inch.

In most instances, the rain was not enough to completely halt field work which has been delayed by wet ground from earlier rains. Cotton planting has been completed on some farms and is now in progress on others. Most of the persons contacted this morning said they felt the rain might help or at worst cause little damage by packing the soil too tightly. Mrs. Smith said that blue panic grass in a planted pasture on their farm was two to three feet high now and additional moisture would be of benefit to it.

Last night's rain brought Snyder's total moisture for the year to 7.68 inches. Of this amount, 6.21 inches feli during May.

More thunderstorms were forecast for Texas Thursday in the wake of flooding rains in the South Plains, tornadoes and freak winds that dashed two men to death from a truck.

A cool front stalled across West Texas is setting off the thunderstorms.

Violent weather churned the air in parts of West Texas Wednesday. At least three funnels were reported. Two reported near Childress did not touch the ground. A big twister was reported northeast of Darrouzette, also in the Panhandle, but no damage was reported.

Rains pounded Ackerly, 20 miles south of Lamesa; Plainview, Childress, Midland and Colorado City.

More than 3 inches fell within a short time at Ackerly, accompanied by hail. Sheriff Henry Mayfield said Ackerly streets were rolling like rivers. From 200-300 yards of Highway 87 were under water.

A three-car wreck in the storm left Mrs. W. L. Allen of Gage, Okla., seriously hurt, the sheriff said.

Plainview reported heavy rains with hail as large as golf balls. Childress received 1.10 inches in 30 minutes. Midland got .97 and Colorado City .79.

At Fort Worth, a sudden wind gust swept two men from the back of a flatbed truck on which they were riding. Leroy McGill, 44, died as he arrived at a hospital. Willie Moses, 44, died under surgery.

Twenty minutes later another gust toppled a 30-foot scaffold at the Southwest Aircraft Co. at nearby Meacham, hurling three employes of a Dallas roofing concern to the ground. One, Ernie Gorman, 17, Dallas, was critically hurt. The others escaped injury.

LAKE PICKS UP ADDITIONAL WATER

Jack Dunn, pumper at the Snyder pump station at Lake Thomas, reported a total rise of .61 of a foot by 11 p.m. this morning on the lake.

Dunn said that rains at Gail and Ackerly, reported to be from one inch to one and one-half inches, would not reach the lake until about 24 hours after they fell.

Four Drownings Are Reported In State

By The Associated Press

Four Texas youngsters, frolicking in "swimming hole" weather, drowned Wednesday in widely separated tragedies.

A little brother and sister, James and Angelina Enders, drowned in Cow Bayou near Chilton in Central Texas. They were about 5 and 7. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Enders of Chilton.

Santos Estrada, 8, drowned Wednesday night in a swimming hole at Galveston. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Fortunado Estrada, he was playing with two other boys on a raft and slipped as he jumped into the water.

Pedro Mendoza, 16, who couldn't swim, drowned in six feet of water at a San Antonio pool.

Giles Trial Set June 5

AUSTIN (AP) — Trial of former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles on a charge of felony theft of $6,800 in a veterans land program transaction was set today for July 5.

Giles was indicted on the charge last week with B. R. Sheffield of Brady. In all, 10 of the latest indictments charged Giles and Sheffield jointly with felony theft and 10 additional indictments charged Sheffield with forgery. All were connected with the sale of the Rosenow Ranch in Kinney County.

Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts granted a motion to sever the indictment in the case called for trial, with Giles electing to be heard first. In the event that case does not go to trial on schedule, however, Betts set trial on the same date for one of the forgery charges against Sheffield.

Both Giles and Sheffield were in the courtroom this morning when the cases were called for the first time. The July 5 setting was by agreement of Dist. Atty. Les Proctor and defense counsel.

State Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano appeared as one of the co-counsels for Sheffield. Ashley told newsmen Sheffield was his "neighbor" and that the two have "many mutual friends."

'Job Security' Plan Offer By Ford Reported As Talks Go On

By NORMAN WALKER

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News said today the Ford Motor Co. has offered the strike-threatening CIO United Auto Workers a "job security" plan accepting the principle of the union's guaranteed annual wage demand.

The newspaper said it had learned this from "a high union official."

The News said the Ford offer entails a 55-million-dollar fund "unprecedented in industry."

"It appears to represent some of the thinking of both Ford's previous 'partnership in prosperity' offer and the union's guaranteed annual wage plan," the News said.

"It accepts the principle of providing for a Ford employe while he is out of work—the principle on which UAW president Walter Reuther insists."

Ford made the union a new offer Tuesday. Reuther said the new offer, requiring more union consideration caused the union to postpone a threatened strike from Wednesday midnight to next Monday.

Without describing the new offer, Reuther has said that it still left Ford and the union "far apart" on reaching a contract agreement. It was felt, however, that the UAW never would have granted the four-day contract extension unless it had high hopes that a contract agreement could be reached before the new Monday deadline.

The union postponed a possible strike last midnight to consider a "new proposal" by the Ford Motor Co. The UAW's four-day contract extension delayed any strike to Monday, only a day ahead of the contract expiration on Tuesday at General Motors Corp.

The union was due to meet this morning with Ford negotiators and this afternoon with General Motors.

With the emphasis in the auto industry negotiations previously on Ford, the imminence of a showdown with GM led to speculation that both major auto firms were almost equally under the union's fire. Few expected that both companies would be idled at once.

Walter Reuther, president of the CIO-UAW and the CIO itself, pledged in granting the Ford contract extension to Monday, that the UAW would stage a strike in Ford operations then if there was no "satisfactory" settlement.

The union still was pressing its guaranteed annual wage demand calling for year-around pay for workers laid off in slack production periods. The only Ford answer to this demand has been a combination offer to permit workers to buy Ford stock at half price, borrow during enforced idleness and get severance pay upon discharge.

Carl Stellato, president of Ford's biggest local at the huge Rouge plant here, told a workers mass meeting yesterday afternoon that Ford had bettered this offer, but he declined to reveal details. He said a half dozen union economists were trying to evaluate the new Ford proposal.

On one point, amid loud cheering from the estimated 15,000 to 20,000 Rouge plant auto workers, Stellato said the UAW was adamantly against any renewal of a five-year contract.

"We're not going to delay the fight for the shorter work week for five years," Stellato said. The UAW has said its next proposal, after the year-around pay plan, is reducing the present 40-hour standard work week without loss of pay.

Rites Set For Mrs. Hamlett

Mrs. J. H. Hamlett, 78, a pioneer of Snyder, died Wednesday night in Temple, where she had lived for the past three years in the home of a daughter.

She was a member of the First Christian Church in Snyder, where she taught an adult Sunday school class for over 40 years.

Survivors include two sons, Sam W. Hamlett of Brownwood, Joel H. Hamlett, Jr., of Snyder; two daughters, Mrs. Anton Goodman of Dallas and Mrs. A. C. Ballard of Temple; a sister, Mrs. E. N. Hoffman of Fort Worth, and a brother, E. D. Grimes of Austin.

Four grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at Bell Funeral Home. The Rev. John Reaves, pastor of the First Christian Church will officiate, and burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be three grandsons, Paul Hudgins, Arthur Charles Ballard and Joel H. Hamlett III, and Earl Brown, Raymond Smith and Edgar Eades.

Cotton Research Gains Are Cited

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP)—Despite all research efforts of man-made fiber producers, it has been impossible to incorporate into any one of them as many desirable qualities as are in cotton, Texas' No. 1 crop, Burris C. Jackson said today.

Jackson, general chairman of the American Cotton Congress, delivered the keynote address before the group's annual meeting, held in the Rio Grande Valley for the first time.

In his prepared address, Jackson said a revolution was taking place in cotton in nearly every phase of the industry—the pattern of production, breeding, processing, manufacturing and marketing.

"Efficiency throughout the industry," he said, "has been stepped up remarkably and quality has been improved."

"What has happened right here in the lower Rio Grande Valley is a dramatic example," he continued. "After the disastrous freeze of the 1951-52 season almost destroyed the citrus industry, long rows of cotton replaced the fruit trees and a crop of 632,000 was produced.

"Today, despite the value of citrus and other important crops in the valley, cotton remains the lower Rio Grande Valley's biggest cash crop. More than 400,000 bales last year brought 80 million dollars to this already rich, lush area."

Jackson said research had given to the cotton industry irrigation for life-producing moisture, chemicals to kill insects, weeds and cotton diseases, fertilizer for high yields and machines which have made it possible to reduce labor requirements for a bale of cotton from about 135 hours to 10 hours.

He related hundreds of uses of cotton and told how it had been improved to where some experimental breeds had strengths now of from 125 to 135 thousand pounds per square inch. Another breeding victory, he said, is the development of Pima S-1, a cotton "that is equal to Egyptian Karnak in quality, and with a yield that enables this country to compete with Egyptian-grown cotton."

Jackson also told of what he called "the unparalleled popularity that cotton enjoys today in the market place."

"Since 1947," he said, "cotton has gained more than 300,000 bales in the women's wear market. Cotton's share of the market has increased from about 23 per cent to over 35 per cent. Cotton has met its competitors in this most prizes of all markets and turned them back. While it was registering a gain of better than 300,000 bales, its competitors lost more than 150,000 bales."

Tougher Punishment Looms For DWI Cases

AUSTIN (AP)—Tougher treatment for second-time drunk drivers was a step closer to reality today as a mandatory fine-and-sentence bill returned to the House.

The Senate passed the bill yesterday, tacking on some amendments which the House must now decide on.

By Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs, the bill set out to permit suspension of sentences, recently held unconstitutional by the Court of Criminal Appeals as written in the present law.

The Senate amended the bill to strike out the suspension provisions. The bill now makes mandatory both a fine and a jail sentence for second offenders convicted of driving while intoxicated.

Hike Offered Bus Drivers

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas' strike-threatening bus and street car operators today were made a last-minute offer of a 9-cent an hour wage increase.

There were indications the union might accept.

"We're going to tell the membership the offer stinks, but that we believe it's the best we can do," the Times Herald quoted an official of the AFL Transit Workers

The union has authorized a strike but agreed to delay any strike action until after Friday midnight.

The city says it will help finance an 8-cent hourly salary boost by cutting Dallas Railway and Terminal Co. taxes 50 per cent. Mayor R. L. Thornton said: "Eight cents is all the company and the city jointly can pay, and there is no justification for a strike." The city would not consider a fare hike, he said.

The union, whose members earn an average of $1.66 an hour, turned down an 8-cent offer Monday but agreed to submit the city-backed offer to a membership vote.

PanelApproves Postal Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Post Office Committee today speedily approved a Senate bill to provide 500,000 postal workers an average 8 per cent pay raise.

Final legislative action is due in the House Tuesday to wind up two years of back-and-forth skirmishing between Congress and President Eisenhower on postal pay legislation.

The committee action followed Senate passage yesterday, 78-0, of the compromise pay bill which Republicans said would be acceptable to the President.

The House Committee made one or two minor amendments in the Senate bill which do not affect either the amount of the pay increase or the administration's job reclassification schedule.

Hearings Resumed On Security Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Civil Service subcommittee resumes hearings on the administration's employe security program today with former Republican Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington as a witness.

Cain, appointed by President Eisenhower to the Subversive Activities Control Board, has been critical of some aspects of the program, including the use made of the attorney general's list of subversive organizations.

Four Fliers Tell Of Resisting Red 'Brain-Washing' Efforts

By ROY ESSOYAN

HONOLULU (AP)—Four American fliers, chipper and ready to meet their families today after more than two years in Communist Chinese prisons, say they resisted "brain-washing" but pleaded guilty of violating Chinese air space.

In their first press conference since release Tuesday near Hong Kong, the airmen said they spent long periods in solitary confinement, did not get letters from home until after the Geneva conference last summer, and thought U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was helpful in obtaining their freedom.

Asked if a confession was required at their trial, Capt. Harold E. Fischer of Swea City, Iowa, said:

"No, not at the trial."

Was there a confession before the trial?

"I believe I'll wait until I see my lawyer before answering that question," he replied. Another airman said Fischer's reply would stand for all of them.

The four said they resisted attempts to brain-wash them.

Lt. Col. Edwin Heller of Wynnewood, Pa., said, "We knew we were going to be tried four hours before the trial. We knew nothing about it otherwise.

"Our indictment was intruding into China for the harassment of the people and provocative attack.

"They had all the evidence — the aircraft. We pleaded guilty," he said, but declined to say whether their planes had come down in Chinese territory.

"Let's let that question ride for a while," he said.

Otherwise the men talked freely. All four were captured during the Korean War. The other two are Lt. Lyle Cameron of Lincoln, Neb., and Lt. Roland W. Parks of Omaha.

The men said they "played along" with Red attempts to brain-wash them but insisted they remained unaffected.

Fischer said:

"In my own case I don't feel I have changed any since I was shot down."

Heller said, "I think they (the Communists) were convinced we accepted the fundamentals. After all we tried to please them so we could receive better treatment."

Maj. Gen. Sory Smith, Pacific Air Force commander, struck a sober note. He told a small army of press, radio and television men:

"We have four men here. There should be 15. Please keep that in mind."

Smith referr to 11 other American fliers still held captive by the Communists. The implication was that anything the four might say might be used against the 11.

The warning was clear. It may have been why the men talked little of their worst experiences and much of the lighter side.

The men themselves indicated there was still "40 or 44 American nationalists still in China," possibly including some Navy personnel. They said they had heard of a Navy plane shot down.

In Washington, the State Department said it believes the Chinese Reds hold 63 Americans.

The four freed men arrived from Hong Kong yesterday on a special Air Force plane. They will spend five days in Hawaii.

The men said they were "recovering fast" under the deluge of well wishes. "It's like being alive again," said Parks.

Five Persons Plead Guilty To Indictments

Five of seven persons indicted by the grand jury last week with felony charges were sentenced this morning after pleading guilty in criminal district court.

Another person indicted at the same time but with a misdemeanor charge in county court pleaded guilty to it Saturday and is serving a county jail sentence.

Ray Tally Jennings, 27, Waco, a man with a long criminal record in several states as a forger and check swindler, was given a five-year sentence this morning on a forgery charge. He is to be given to custody of officers from Pampa, where he is also charged with a felony. Several charges elsewhere are pending against him and another man sentenced this morning who will also go from here to Pampa.

The other man wanted at Pampa is Robert Louis Coleman, 34, recently of San Angelo and formerly of Midland. He was sentenced this morning to five years on two charges of forgery and passing forged instruments.

Joe Dell Matthews of Snyder, a convicted burglar numerously charged here with felonies and misdemeanors, pleaded guilty to three charges of forgery. He was sentenced to two years. He is also wanted in Monahans, Eldorado, and Big Spring on felony charges. He has been convicted five times here on various charges and was under five-year suspended sentence for burglary and theft of a safe at the time of the recent offenses.

Granville Byn Lyons, 37, Charleston, W. Va., pleaded guilty to burglarizing a farm home five miles east of here on April 30. He was given a five-year suspended sentence.

Charles Wesley Tull, Jr., of Maryland, was given a two-year sentence for stealing a pickup truck belonging to the county and being used for Towle Memorial Park. He is to be taken from here to Dickens to face a charge of car theft. A man indicted here as an accomplice is still being sought by federal authorities.

The only other man indicted last week was James Floyd, Snyder Negro, who awaits trial on two charges of theft of trade stamps from a service station. He is an ex-convict.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Central Scurry Location Staked

Delhi-Taylor Oil Corp. has filed application to drill the No. 7-A Winston a quarter of a mile north of production in the two-well Kelley-Snyder Southeast (middle Canyon) field of central Scurry County.

Location is 660 feet from south and 540 feet from east lines of 12-65-1-J. P. Smith survey. It is a quarter of a mile east of Taylor Oil & Gas Co. and G. L. Rowsey No. 1-A Winston Brothers, lone producer in the Kelley - Snyder Southeast (lower Canyon) field, and three miles southwest of Snyder.

The Kelley - Snyder Southeast (middle Canyon) field produces from about 6,950 feet. The No. 1-A Winston Brothers was finaled from the lower Canyon in August, 1954, for a daily flowing potential of 108 barrels of oil from perforations between 7,234-240 feet.

The No. 7-A Winston is slated to drill to 7,200 feet.

FINDS SHOWS

Ashmun & Hilliard, Ltd., of Midland, found shows of oil and gas and of salt water in a Pennsylvanian lime in the No. 1 Root, southwest Scurry County wildcat seven miles southwest of Snyder.

The zone at 7,131-233 feet was drillstem tested for one and one half hours. There was a strong blow of air throughout the test. Recovery was 370 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud, 2,980 feet of oil and gas cut salt water and 900 feet of slightly oil and gas cut salt water. Flowing pressures was between 232 pounds and 1,855 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 2,255 pounds.

Operator now is preparing to run a straddle test at 7,130-150 feet.

The wildcat is 660 feet from north and east lines of 151-97-H&TC. It is three and three-quarters miles southeast of the Diamond M-Canyon reef field.

FISHER FAILURE

Morris G. Spencer No. 1 Sallie Crowley, central Fisher County wildcat three miles south of Rotan, has been plugged and abandoned the second time.

The hole originally was drilled by Humble Oil & Refining and abandoned in 1948. That concern bottomed it at 7,085 feet in granite.

Spencer recently re-entered it and cleaned out to about 5,400 feet and tested. No possibilities of commercial production were developed.

HAS OIL SHOW

A good show of oil was logged at 3,412-417 feet in San Andres at Advance Exploration Co. No. 1 Nelson, wildcat one and a half miles southwest of the Huntley field of northwest Garza County.

The project was circulating for samples at 3,532 feet on last report.

A core from 3,417-452 feet recovered 35 feet of lime, the top one foot having a slight oil odor and the remainder showing water.

Location is 330 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 1,238, B. J. Galbreath survey, four miles northwest of Post.

TESTING DISCOVERY

Kewanee Oil Co. of Midland is swabbing and testing at its No. 1 Byrd, discovery from the Gonzales and in central Coke County two and one-half miles northeast of Robert Lee.

The project swabbed at the average rate of five barrels of fluid per hour for four and one-half hours. That fluid was three and one-half barrels of oil and one and one-half barrels of water. Source of the water has not been determined. A pump will be installed for completion.

The production is from perforated section at 4,368-373 feet. The perforated secton had been fractured with 3,000 gallons of sand oil. All load and residue from the fracturring had been recovered prior to the four and one-half hour swabbing test.

The wildcat drilled to 5,120 feet. It had no shows of possible production below 4,373 feet.

Kewanee already has filed an application with the Railroad Commission requesting a new discovery allowable and new field desigation for the wildcat. The name Cobb field has been suggested for the area.

WILDCAT FAILS

Ashmun & Hilliard, Ltd., of Midland, No. 1 Mrs. J. W. Acuff, northeast Lynn County wildcat four and one-half miles north of Wilson, found only sulphur water in a drillstem test of the lower Permian lime and will be abandoned and plugged.

The prospector tested for 30 minutes at 4,980-5,114 feet. Recovery was 2,880 feet of sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

The drillsite was 330 feet from south and 2,210 feet from west lines of 32-24-H&TC.

Three Men Enlist For Service In Air Force

Three Scurry County youths who enlisted in the Air Force Tuesday have been sent to San Antonio for 11 weeks of basic training, it was announced today.

T-Sgt. Cecil Deakins, recruiter here, said the young men would be given a 10-day leave at the end of the 11 weeks.

They are James D. Gallagher of Snyder; Charles L. Rinehart of Hermleigh; and Harold C. Wilson, Jr., 107 Thirty-fifth Street.

The United States spends between eight and nine billion dollars a year on the construction and operation of public schools.

Kiwanis Hears Safety Talk

Speed and the failure of drivers to keep alert on the highways were cited as chief causes of traffic accidents when Ross Kemp of the Texas Highway Patrol addressed members of the Kiwanis Club here Wednesday.

American people are getting powerful automobiles because they demanded them, Kemp said, but they must keep the power under control if accidents are to be prevented.

The Highway Patrol officer was here to boost the "Slow Down And Live" campaign which is now in progress throughout Texas. The campaign will continue until Labor Day.

Kemp reminded that public concern resulted in millions of dollars being contributed to fight polio. Yet, polio accounts for less than one-fifth as many deaths as traffic does each year in America.

The "Slow Down And Live" campaign is designed to call public attention to the need for traffic safety. The campaign already has been launched in Snyder by the Evening Lions Club, and other service organizations are scheduled to participate later in the campaign.

The Kiwanis Club voted Wednesday to participate.

Kemp was introduced by Leon Autry, who was in charge of the program.

Snyder Drug To Remodel

Snyder Drug will begin extensive remodeling in about two weeks, R. E. Patterson, owner, said this morning.

The remodeling, to start approximately June 15, will take about two weeks. About the middle of this period, it will be necessary to close the store for about five or six days, Patterson said.

However, the store's prescription department will not close but will be operated during that time in the concession lobby of the Texas Theater next door.

"We are sorry for any inconvenience to the public," Patterson said, "but we will do our best to offer as much service as possible during the remodeling period, and our prescription department will remain at the service of the public continually."

The remodeling will give the store a completely new ceiling, new floor, new prescription department, new fountain department, and many other features.

New lighting will be installed throughout. The fountain department will be moved farther toward the rear of the store and will have a new longer and wider counter, new stools with backs and more of them, a larger booth service, and a self-service cigar counter. The entire store will be operated on a semi-self-service basis.

Various firms are to handle contracts for the various phases of remodeling. Southwestern Drug Company's fixtures department will place new fixtures throughout the store.

WHY CAN'T JOHNNY READ?

Advice To Parents: Teach Your Child To Read At Five

By RUDOLF FLESCH

CHAPTER 11

TEACH HIM YOURSELF

You are a mother or a father. Your child — or your children — have trouble with reading. What can you do about it?

My advice is teach your child yourself how to read — at the age of 5.

If you start in the fall of the year when your child is 5, you have a whole year to do the job before the school can do any damage to your child's mental habits. What's stopping you? Do it yourself — and the problem will be solved once and for all.

You say your child isn't ready at the age of 5? Don't be ridiculous. Are you trying to tell me that your child is inferior to every single child born and brought up in Great Britain?

You say you haven't got the time? I don't believe it. Of course you have the time. You have time to play with your child, haven't you? Play a little reading with him. Reading at the age of 5 is nothing but a game.

You say you are not up to the job? Yes, you are. Let me show you how it's done?

HOW TO START

You start with the letters and what they stand for. Go very slow. Take weeks or even months for that first step. Make quite sure your child knows that A means the first sound in apple, M means mmmmmm and S means sssssss.

When he does know, and can also write each of the letters he has learned, start with three-letter words, containing the short vowels. Go on from there.

Be patient: always wait until your child has fully mastered the last lesson before you go on to the next. Always combine reading and writing: if it takes more time to do it that way, take more time. You have a whole year; a whole year is an enormously long time in the life of a five-year-old.

You don't have to wait a whole year, though, before you can give your child stories to read. Let him learn how it feels to read; if you teach him phonics right along, he won't be confushed by "unphonetic" words like was and done.

TRY THESE STORIES

What stories should be read at this stage? Obviously not the Dick-and-Jane or Alice-and-Jerry type of thing. Rather, give him the classic stories that have always been enjoyed by small children — nursery tales, simple fairy tales, animal fables.

Give him "The Old Woman and Her Pig," "The Cat and the Mouse," "Henny Penny," "The Gingerbread Boy," "The House That Jack Built," "The Three Little Pigs," "The Half-Chick," and "The Three Billy Goats Gruff."

Probably the process will not take a whole year. Chances are that by spring your child will be a pretty good reader.

Then you'll be faced by a problem hardly any American parent has any more: the problem of how to quench your child's thirst for books. But it's not really a difficult problem: just give him the books parents usually read aloud to children of his age.

And later, as he grows up, give him the books children of his age have always liked: fairy tales, mythology, adventure stores, Stevenson, Mark Twain, Poe. . . he'll be all right, just turn him loose in a public library, and let him take over his own education.

A GOOD PRIMER

What primer should you use? The best available book for the purpose is "Reading With Phonics" by Julie Hay and Charles E. Wingo. You can get it for $2.40 from J. B. Lippincott Company, 333 West Lake Street, Chicago 6, Ill. To my knowledge, it is the only available American phonetic primer.

If, at the time you are reading this, your child is in first. second, or third grade, proceed according to the same plan, with suitable adapations. Get the Hay-Wingo book and give your child home lessons in phonics, fortifying him as much as possible against the word guessing he is exposed to in school.

Beginning with fourth grade, however, your procedure should be somewhat different. By that time your child will doubtless have become a confirmed, inveterate word guesser.

To begin with, let's try to isolate Johnny from his word-guessing environment. While he is in school, that is difficult or almost impossible. So the best thing will be to work with him during summer vacations.

Let him stop all reading—all attempts to read. Explain to him that now he is going to learn how to read, and that for the time being, books are out. All he'll get for several months are lessons on phonics

TELL HIM WHY

This, incidentally, is important. Take him fully into your confidence and explain to him exactly what you are trying to do. Tell him that you are going to do something new with him — something entirely different from what his teachers did in school. Tell him that this is certain to work. Convince him that as soon as he has taken this medicine he will be cured.

Then start him on the phonics exercises. At this age the Hay-Wingo book would probably arouse his antagonism. So give him the only other book of that type that I know "Remedial Reading Drills" by Thorleif G. Hegge, Samuel A. Kirk, and Winifred D. Kirk. (George Wahr Publishing Company, Ann Arbor, Mich., $1.50). Go with him through the drills, one by one. Always make sure that he has mastered the previous one before you go on to the next.

Only when you are through — or almost through — with the drills and exercises, start him again on reading. At first, let him read aloud to you. Watch like a hawk that he doesn't guess a single word. Interrupt him every time he does it and let him work out the word phonetically. He'll never learn to read if he doesn't get over the word-guessing habit.

A PROBLEM

There is a real problem in what to give him to read at this time. It must be something that will interest him, something that he can get through within reasonable time, and yet something that won't frustrate him. If you give him fairy tales, he'll be bored; if you give him regular books written for a boy his age, he'll bog down.

At the risk of being called inconsistent, I recommend to you "The American Adventure Series," edited by Dr. Emmett A. Betts of Temple University, Philadelphia, and published by the Wheeler Publishing Company, 2831-35 South Parkway, Chicago 16, Ill. This is a series of brief books, specially written and edited for poor readers in fourth, fifth, and sixth grade.

After that, you may switch to exciting adventure stories and poetry. With my own pupil "Johnny," I used, among other things, the famous short story, "The Most Dangerous Game" by Richard Connell. It was highly successful. I also let him read the poem "Invictus" by William Ernest Henley.

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul. . . .

I'll never forget the thrill I felt when Johnny read the word unconquerabe off the page.

Tito Shows 'Em Around

A group of distinguished foreign visitors rolled out of bed on the Adriatic island of Brioni yesterday morning, boarded a yacht for the mainland, and there seated themselves comfortably in a fleet of American automobiles for a tour of northern Yugoslavia. One of the first spectacles they saw were twenty-four U.S. Sherman tanks lumbering down the road on maneuvers. On every hand they got an eyeful of the use Yugoslavia has made of American and British aid.

Included among the tourists were Russia's premier, Marshal Bulganin; the Communist bull of the woods, Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev, and the deputy premier of all the Russias, A. I. Mikoyan. Their host, Marshal Tito, did not accompany them, but at the end of the two-day tour the conferees were to hold a final session to draw up and publish the results of their week of confabulations.

The Russians had "come a courtin'" with what success remains to be seen. They had made the unprecedented gesture of apologizing to Tito for having done him wrong in kicking him out of the Cominform. Presumably they took him to the mountain top and showed him the delights that would be his if he'd only come back to the bosom of the Kremlin.

But there have been reports that Tito was playing hard to get, reports that seem to be confirmed by this final tour of a reviving Yugoslavia.

"See," Tito seemed to be saying, "see what the West has done for me and my people. Do you expect me to throw these concrete evidences of helpfulness overboard in exchange for empty Kremlin promises? You boys will have to raise your ante if you do business with Tito."

One post-conference development may be expected: the West may be asked for new concessions, new considerations, to offset or balance whatever the Russians may offer. Win, lose or draw, Tito's role in the general scheme of things will likely be enhanced. He is in position to play the East off against the West, to the strengthening of Yugoslavia and the glorification of Tito.

Words Men Fight By

The Rev. Howell M. Forgy resigned on Memorial Day as pastor of the Pluckemin, N.J., Presbyterian Church to devote the remainder of his days to a writing career. He feels that he can set his own pace in this new career, and told his congregation that "I'd like to fill the tremendous need for drama and pictures which have something to say."

The Reverend Mr. Forgy spoke seven very potent words upon an occasion of some historic significance some thirteen years ago, and if he has any more like them in his system the world will be the richer for his decision to become a literary man.

The occasion was the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. Mr. Forgy was chaplain aboard the cruiser New Orleans at the time, and in the heat of battle as Japanese bombs and machinegun fire wrapped the fleet in billows of sound and fury, rolled up his sleeves and joined the crew manning one of the cruiser's guns.

"Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition!" he shouted.

It was one of the few heartening things that came out of Pearl Harbor that day to throw a ray of sunshine over a situation that looked completely hopeless. Great deeds of heroism were performed that day, but the chaplain's spontaneous reaction will live as long as men recount the story of Pearl Harbor.

It became one of the most famous slogans of World War II, and it did much to lift the hearts of a people who had been surprised, dismayed and humiliated. What might have sounded like sacrilege became instead a prayer joined to action.

It was a piece with that other famous saying of similar import attributed to a Colonel Valentine Blacker (1778-1823): "Put your trust in God, my boys, and keep your powder dry!" Before Blacker, Oliver Cromwell is said to have closed a speech to his troops with these words: "Put your trust in God; but mind to keep your powder dry!"

Mr. Forgy's battle cry improved on both.

Nonpolitical Politics

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Partisan politics crept into Nebraska's nonpartisan Legislature when Gov. J. Hugo Aronson of Montana appeared before the body.

In a brief address, Aronson noted he is only the third Republican to be elected governor of Montana.

Silence greeted the comment.

"Aren't there any Republicans in here?" asked Aronson.

Applause followed.

Members of Nebraska's unicameral (one-house) Legislature are elected on non-political ballots.

Industrialist Tired Of 'Delinquency' Talk Sets Up Rewards For Earnest Teen-Agers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody complains about juvenile delinquency in America. But who is doing anything to reward earnest teen-age kids who do face up to their responsibilities?

Industrialist W. W. Sebald of Middletown, Ohio, fell to brooding over this a year ago.

"I got tired of hearing about nothing but delinquent kids," he said. "We are living in flush times, and I think children are too used to taking money from their parents—two few are developing their own initiative and earning their own way.

"But it isn't enough merely to complain. We need to put a focus of attention on the kids who go out and do things for themselves."

Sebald, president of the Armco Steel Co., found his own answer in a series of "self-reliance awards" for high school seniors in Middletown and Ashland, Ky. Helped by members of the Jr. Chambers of Commerce in the two towns, he has handed out $3,000 from his own pocket in prize money to some 20 students "for doing the most they can with the best they have."

The prizes range from $50 to $400, and they have uncovered heartening evidence of hundreds of teen-age boys and girls working hard against all kinds of handicaps to win achievement.

"We were rather surprised at the amount of self-reliance we did find," admitted Sebald, who is now ready to dig deeper into his pocket to help the idea of the contests spread to other towns.

Examples: One youngster was working 97 hours a week, and still attending school . . . An honor student had borrowed money to buy a farm for his father . . . A girl was paying all her expenses in school by holding three outside jobs at the same time . . . A boy, also working his way through school, still managed to contribute 10 per cent of his earnings to the church he attended.

The $400 prize winner in Middleton this year, Willie Napoleon Clements, a Negro youth, worked 52 hours a week at three jobs. He delivered newspapers, worked in a wholesale produce house and clerked in a grocery store. Yet he also played on the high school football and track teams, took part in school plays, was active in his church, and was elected to the National Honor Society.

Sebald himself is a self-made man. Starting as a $30 a month office boy with the steel company 49 years ago, he worked up through the ranks to his present post, which last year paid him $245,000.

During his own high school career he drove a laundry wagon during the day, played in a dance band at night.

"It wasn't a matter of necessity," he recalled. "My family was well off. But they never had to buy my clothes after I was 13 years old. I didn't want them to. I wanted to make my own way."

Sebald would like to see other individuals and organizations do more to encourage teen-agers today who show a willingness to accept responsibility.

"Self-reliance made this country," he said. "It is a basic thing in America, and we have to preserve it."

Girl Graduates Advised To Get Jobs And Husbands, Too

By INEZ ROBB

June is bustin' out all over with sweet-girl graduates and with advice hurled in their direction. The commencement addresses to which they have to listen is the price they pay for a diploma.

The price was pretty high today at the Tobe-Coburn School, New York City, where the pretty-girl graduates had to listen to me before they could latch onto a sheepskin.

I don't know what the school, which prepares its students for commercial careers in the hard-bitten fashion world, or the graduates expected. But my advice to 'em was to get married if they could and work if they would.

No career for women has yet been invented that can hold a candle to matrimony, no happiness comparable to that to be found with a husband and a home.

But for a variety of 20th Century reasons, many women must draw a bead on both a prospective husband and a probable employer. Through the emancipation of the fair sex, this century has bestowed a unique privilege on modern woman: it has freed us to dance attendance upon not one man but two: husband and employer.

For a less-sturdy sex than ours, this could add up to double jeopardy. But, as times goes by, more and more women are successfully and happily combining marriage and a business career by the simple expedient of a little juggling here, a bit of sleight-of-hand there, the use of a few old mirrors and a 24-hour day.

There is no question about what makes Annie run if she is doing her best to keep both a husband and an employer happy. She is the target of the new double standard that requires her to maintain a home just like mother used to make and to run her job as efficiently as that poor old maid in the file room, who, alas, lives for her work.

The married woman who also works at a career — any job that pays more than $35 per week — must have the tact of a diplomat, the wisdom of the ages and the stamina of a horse to keep both men in her life content and statisfied.

For, when all is said and done, it is men, not women, who constitute the sensitive sex. We are living in an age of transition. Out of it may eventually come some kind of equal partnership of the sexes. But in the interim we live in a world in which it is man's custom, right and privilege to be the head of his household, no matter how much bacon the Little Woman brings home every payday.

There may be a great day coming for burnettes — when gentlemen will not prefer blonds. But I doubt if there ever will be a day when they do not prefer a vine that clings.

The working wife who could keep her husband happy never lacerates his feelings and drives him into the arms of a new receptionist by making him feel that he is anything but the lord of all he surveys once he crosses the threshold of home.

It is far better, I warned the young ladies, to have a happy husband in the house than a stag at bay. Because a stag at bay in the home may shortly turn out to be a wolf howling on another doorstep.

Moonshine Factory Lasts For 38 Years

LONDON, Ky. (AP) — Sheriff Harve Steele has found that moonshine still which vanished 37 years ago. When Steele spotted the still during his first term in office in 1918, he left it unmolested in hopes of catching the moonshiners. But when he returned to the wooded area the next day, the still had vanished.

The 84-year-old sheriff was sitting in his office recently when deputies brought in a still. It was the same elaborate one Steele had remembered all these years. The moonshiners still weren't around.

Browsing Deer Are Threat To Trees

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Deer browsing on small trees planted in the state's reforestation program on the big Tillamook burn area have become a major threat to plans for restoring the timber, the Oregon forestry department says.

Fire used to be the biggest threat to timber. Forester George Spaur said, but now insects in the grown trees, deer nibbling the young trees, and field mice eating the seeds, have become major worries. In some areas, damage from deer is estimated at up to 80 per cent of the young trees.

Porcupines are another hazard. In the Lakeview area the Elks club offers prizes to boys and girls who kill the most porcupines. The animals eat bark from the young trees, causing heavy loss.

It Will Require Years To Wipe Out Racial Segregation In Schools, Despite Ruling

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It will be years before racial segregation in public schools is wiped out everywhere in this country—in spite of the Supreme Court's order to end it—and then probably only after a lot of court fights.

The rate at which segregation disappears depends upon the cooperation or defiance of individual states with the high court's decision.

Officials in five places—the District of Columbia, Virginia, Delaware, South Carolina and Kansas—were told by the court they would have to begin promptly to work out a plan for abolishing segregated schools.

But authorities in all other segregated states can try any dodge they can think of to get around the court's ruling.

On May 17, 1954, the court ruled on an appeal by Negroes who protested against segregation in the District and the four states mentioned above. The court said public school segregation is unconstitutional and had to stop. But it did not say how and when.

The court then asked all the states with segregation to chew over the problem and appear later with suggestions for wiping out their double school systems.

In April the nine justices listened to attorneys for the Negroes, attorneys for the segregated states, and U.S. Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeloff, who represented the Justice Department.

The Negroes asked for an end to all segregation no later than September 1956. Generally, the states asked the court not to fix a deadline. Rather, they said, the court should let federal district judges work out the problem with officials in their states and local communities.

Sobeloff also suggested federal district judges be allowed to handle desegregation with the authorities within their jurisdiction. The idea behind this was that different communities have different problems.

Tuesday the Supreme Court gave its decision. It did not say precisely how or when segregation shall be ended.

The court, addressing itself to the Supreme Court of Delaware and the district judges whose jurisdiction covered the other four original defendants, told them to require the authorities in their area to make a "prompt and reasonable" start toward ending segregation. It said a reasonable time could be allowed for carrying out the desegregation plans.

The federal judges outside those five areas were not told by the Supreme Court to require any action by the authorities in their territory. One of the best informed laywers in the government said this could happen:

The judges don't have to do anything unless Negroes appeal to them to carry out the Supreme Once that starts, if the local authorities protest, a court fight begins.

How many such fights are possible? No one can say. In the end the states will lose because the court yesterday said that any state or local laws which conflict with its ruling are unconstitutional.

But still the court fights are not only possible but may be forced on the Negroes by states which do nothing to end segregation. The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said last night it is prepared to fight whole batches of these cases if necessary. Georgia indicated that's how the NAACP may have to fight.

Wilde Comes To Defense Of Violent Movie Scenes

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Violence in Hollywood films has been hit from all sides. Here's one man who defends it.

He's Cornel Wilde, actor, producer, and now a director. He starred in and helped produce "The Big Combo," one of the films which brought forth a wave of protest about too rugged action in movies.

"You can't get away from violence in drama," he said. "When you have two people in conflict, it is bound to result in violence, either in words or action. If you do not have conflict, you do not have drama.

"There is nothing new about violence in the theater. 'Oedipus Rex' is certainly a violent play, and it has withstood the test of centuries.

"Shakespeare is replete with violence. Look at 'Hamlet.' The stage is littered with corpses at the end of the play.

"When Orson Welles did 'King Lear' on TV, they showed an eye gouging. I was shocked by it, but not repelled. It was good theater."

Wilde admitted that the decriers of Hollywood had a case "when violence is presented for violence's sake. If a brutal scene is shown for no reason except to shock, then it is bad. I think 'The Wild One' was an example of meaningless violence."

"The Big Combo" was criticized in England and elsewhere because of a scene in which gangster Richard Conte tortured Wilde. Conte put a hearing aid in the hero's ear and played a radio loudly. Wilde defended the scene as being subtler and less brutal than the senseless beatings in many films. He said:

"I don't think movies incite people to violence. Far from it. Kids seeing 'The Blackboard Jungle' would be repelled by the juvenile delinquents pictured in it, not inspired to follow their example."

What is the outlook for film violence in the future?

Producer head Eric Johnston and chief censor Geoffrey Shurlock say they are trying to convince movie makers to tone down brutality. The results of more careful censorship of violent scenes may not be apparent for several months.

"But the code doesn't deal in source material," Shurlock explains. "We can't tell producers what kinds of pictures to make. We can only suggest that the movies should return to the family type of picture which was the backbone of the industry."

There seems to be no trend in that direction. One producer recently predicted that the Hardy family series would be a flop if attempted today.

Movie makers, especially some get-rich-quick independent producers who cause a large part of censorial troubles, are seeking startling attractions that will jar people away from their TV sets.

The answer to the problem is you, the moviegoer. If you get a thrill from brutality on the screen, it will continue. If you think the studios have gone overboard on violence, they will tone it down.

The ruler of Hollywood is still the ticket buyer.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Pocketbook Divided Into Four Different Units

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Aime J. Forand, wife of the Democratic congressman from Rhode Island, guesses the reason her sister clubwomen put her in charge of exacting and responsible club duties is because she's "such a fuss-budget."

"I have my pocketbook all organized," she told me. "It holds separate little coin purses, sometimes as many as four. One is for my house money, one for my own spending money. Another holds a little surplus fund. There's one I never touch. It's for emergencies. I call it my mad money."

Now and then, the congressman's wife puts aside an amount from her household account to build up a fund "to buy something special, like china or silver."

"With it," she told me, "I bought all of my beautiful Minton china service. Now, I'm buying my silver. You don't feel it that way."

Mrs. Forand, whose husband is now serving his ninth term in Congress, is a woman of many hobbies. "All my whole life is a hobby," she says, "for everything is interesting to me." She's especially interested in gardening, her association with the solons' wives' Congressional Club, for the good fellowship it brings, and she likes to cook.

"I'm especially proud of my pies—any kind of pie," she adds. "It's my pie crust that always brings me the compliments." Guests invited to the Forands' small dinners and picnic parties in the carefully tended yard of their suburban Washington home also praise the hostess's New England chowder — "the kind with the tomatoes."

The congressman and his wife have been interested in politics since their courting days. Rep. Forand, who served as secretary to two former Rhode Island congressmen who later became judges, was first elected to Capitol Hill in 1936. He had to quit school at 13 and took a 60-hour, $4.50-a-week job in the textile mills of his district. He got his secretarial training at night, his wife said.

Mrs. Forand has helped her husband in all his campaigns, and like her husband made speeches and radio talks in French. People of French descent make up the state's second largest population and comprise a large portion of the Congressman's district of 350,000 voters.

Businessmen Counting On Big Volume During June

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen are counting on consumers making June a month of roses. Retail sales may well set a new high for the month. Some expect sales to total 15½ billion dollars.

Industrial leaders at the same time are well aware that the month will have some thorns. Labor-management bargaining will come to a head in both the auto and steel industries. And production in both is expected to reach its peak and could start tapering off by the end of the month, even if labor peace is maintained.

But what is confidently expected to be the nation's greatest vacation season will begin this month. Resorts, motels, hotels, transportation companies and the like will prosper.

People are in a spending mood. Merchants expect summer clothing to sell well this month. Gasoline dealers expect to pump more fuel than ever into the nation's cars. Grocers report consumers buying freely of better quality food.

The home building boom is rolling along with so much momentum that the construction industry expects this June to be one of its best.

Purchasing agents report that new orders are on the upgrade, insuring good industrial activity this month. A tendency to increase inventories has replaced the former drive to cut them. And this too will help keep factories busy.

Industrial production in general, back now to its 1953 peaks, is expected to hold high in June before the usual summer vacation slump in July and August. Unemployment has been declining slowly.

Car dealers, with inventories of new cars at a record high, look for June to be a record sales month. That is the seasonal pattern. This year some customers may be influenced to buy because of worry over the labor outlook. If a strike develops in the industry, dealers might do a land office business for awhile.

But there are other thorns besides the labor strife. Some observers say that the record auto sales earlier in the year could mean that the usual June buying fever won't develop on schedule.

Plan World Cruise In 33-Foot Boat

EVERETT (AP) — A couple of British Columbia men with a small boat and a large case of wanderlust are getting ready to start a round-the-world cruise which "might take three years—we're not in a hurry."

Barney G. Stoney, 44, of Vancouver, is the skipper. His crew is Brian C. Laurence, former British army dispatch rider.

They have a 33-foot fishing boat. They plan to sail down the Pacific Coast, visit the Caribbean, then return through the Panama Canal and head west.

GUIDEPOST LITERARY

IONIA: A Quest. By Freya Stark. Harcourt, Brace.

Miss Stark, the most devout of travelers, has visited Asia Minor, seedground for much of the civilization that came on westward over the Aegean, island by lovely island, to Greece and through the Mediterranean.

She set out at Smyrna, midway, north and south, of that populous historic shore. Her search led her north to the Clazomene of Anaxagoras, the Teos of Anacreon and to Cyme, one generation removed from everlasting fame for it was the birthplace of Heisod's father; then east to ancient Sardis and southeast to Aphrodisias; and south to Colophon, where Arachne spun, now only a name on a map, and to sunken Ephesus with its traces of our early church, and then across the Maeander.

It is the land of the thin piped Phrygian lament and the Lydian lute. Here you eat pilaf, curds, pomegranate, grape, fig and pistachio; you see maple grove and cotton field and — in the numerous photos — you view one-storied villages sawed-off flat, as much like ruins to the western eye, though they are habitations, as the great tumoled boles of fluted pillars and the fragments of antique walls and pavements.

Miss Stark calls on centuries of legend and history for her text. Above all, she travels, not to get a book, but to satisfy a deep hunger of hers. She is looking "not for history but for happiness." Dreading the day when every home will be within sight of another, she sighs for the space and air contrived by the old small cities. "The world has become too full of many things," she complains.

Here's a genuinely rewarding book, a balm of a book. The past is put richly at the service of the present.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes it's the little things that bother you most on television.

It was disconcerting on the Robert Montgomery Show Monday night, for example, to see the supposedly thick glass railroad coach windows rippling like tissue paper.

In the latest episode of Big Town, the reporter calling his newspaper office merely flicked at the dial of the telephone and surely would have ended up with a wrong number.

Also in Big Town, Mark Stevens several times smacked his lips audibly before starting a sentence—an annoying habit that seems to be afflicting an increasing number of TV performers.

False clues also can be irksome, as on the new Appointment With Adventure series. In Sunday night's telecast Richard Derr had a mystery man role and acted as though he might be a fugitive bank robber being sought by police. Later it developed he was a G-man in pursuit of the real bank robber.

Part of the same program had the cabin of an airliner as the setting, the plane being bound from New York to San Juan, P.R. The name of the airline showed clearly. But as many readers of newspaper travel pages know, that airline isn't among the ones that fly to San Juan.

In The Drink?

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Morris Barrett, director of the city's clinic for alcoholics, jokingly says he may be his first patient.

Robin Roberts Keeping Phils Out Of National Loop Cellar

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Without collegiate-looking Robin Roberts, the Philadelphia Phillies could give the Pittsburgh Pirates a good run for the National League cellar.

But so long as Robin persists in winning 20 or better games a season, the Phillies will stay out of the basement. Roberts has won 20 or more games the past five years and 1955 will be no exception if he continues at his present pace.

The Phillies have won just 19 games as they ride along in seventh place, and Roberts has won eight of them, including a neat six-hit 3-1 decision over the Chicago Cubs last night.

For a time, it appeared that the Michigan State alumnus might not make the charmed circle. He sputtered to a 3-3 mark on May 7, hardly the pace for a 20-game winner. But in less than a month, he has won five games and shows a fine 2.30 earned run average.

The only teams he hasn't beaten are St. Louis and Cincinnati and that little matter should be taken care of during current western invasion of the East.

In fact, the Phils themselves seem to be snapping out of the doldrums they've won 9 of their last 11 games, and, although, they are just above the Pirates in the standings, they are only four games behind the third place New York Giants.

After the Phils scored two runs in the fourth, it was merely a matter of Roberts protecting the lead, which he did with no particular trouble. Ernie Banks hit a home run for the Cubs in the fifth for their only run.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers trimmed the Milwaukee Braves, 11-8; the Redlegs whipped the New York Giants 5-2, and the Cardinals slapped down the Pirates, 6-2.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians shut out the Baltimore Orioles, 5-0; the New York Yankees won a doubleheader from the Kansas City A's, 3-1 and 6-1; the Chicago White Sox edged the Boston Red Sox, 4-3, and the Detroit Tigers blanked the Washington Senators, 9-0.

Duke Snider was the big gun in the Brooklyn victory, hitting three home runs and narrowly missing No. 4. His fourth try hit the right field screen and he had to settle for a double. Once before, Snider hit three home runs and just missed a fourth. He now has 15 home runs for the season.

Neither starter—Carl Erskine of the Brooks nor Gene Conley of the Braves—was around at the finish what with all the bombarding.

The Redlegs got one of their rare well pitched games and aided by home runs by Ted Kluszewski and Roy McMillen, had no trouble with the Giants. Joe Nuxhall held Leo Durocher's men to five hits. Nuxhall had a four-hit shutout until the ninth when Willie Mays hit a homer with Don Mueller on base.

Lois Arroyo tossed his sixth victory against no defeats for the Cards. Arroyo was backed by a 12-hit attack. Ken Boyer and Bill Virdon each collected three hits for the winners.

The Orioles didn't have a chance against Early Wynn. The Cleveland ace set them down with four hits. The Tribe is 3½ games behind the Yanks. Cleveland scored three times in the first inning and from there on it was a cakewalk for Wynn, although Al Smith hit an insurance home run with one on in the second.

Johnny Kucks stopped the A's in the first game for the Yanks, although he needed help from Tom Morgan in the ninth, and Whitey Ford went all the way in the second game. Neither team got a hit until the sixth inning of the opener. Irv Noren singled home Andy Carey to break it up in the ninth. Carey had a three-run homer in the nightcap.

Ted Williams went hitless in four trips to the plate in the Boston loss to Chicago. Sherman Lollar produced the big blow for the Pale Hose, a three-run homer. But they still needed a single by Chico Carasquel in the eighth to score the winning run.

Lefty Billy Hoeft tossed his second straight shutout for the crippled Tigers. He held the Senators to only two hits while his mates collected 10 hits. Jack Phillips, substituting for the sore-kneed Ferris Fain at first base got three.

SPORTS

FANCY DANS—First baseman Joe Gohier of the St. Johns, Quebec, Canadians, scores a run the hard way against the Quebec Braves at Quebec, Canada. Gohier flipped over on his hands after a home plate collision with Quebec catcher Ron Lacey, who dropped the ball as he went sprawling. Umpire is Frank Narducci. St. Johns won the game, 4-3, and now lead the Class C Provincial League by 2½ games.

Pony Play Set Tonight

First and last teams will meet in one game and second and third teams in another game in tonight's Pony League baseball play here.

Meeting in tonight's 7 o'clock game will be the Von Roeder Red Sox, who are holding first place with a 3-0 record, and Lions Club Phillies, last with 0-3.

In the second game, opponents will be the Courthouse Tigers, now in third place with a 1-2 mark, and Scurry Butane Dodgers, second place team with 2-1.

Negro Teams Meet Sunday

Two Negro baseball teams will clash at the Winston field south of Thirty-seventh Street and Avenue M at 3 p.m. Sunday.

The opponents are the Colorado Black Wildcats and the Sweetwater Black Panthers.

These two teams have met twice this season, and each of the teams has won one game.

Admissions is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, according to Anderson Davis, Jr., sponsor.

Women Get Eastern Open Meet Underway

READING, Pa. (AP)—Twenty-nine women golfers tee off today for the sixth renewal of the $5,000 Women's Eastern Open golf tournament.

Betsy Rawls, defending champion from Spartanburg, S.C., was the pre-tournament favorite to win her third title. She won two of the three previous tournaments held here at the Berkshire country Club, including the last in 1953. The tournament was not held last year.

Betty Dodd, guitar playing professional from San Antonio, Tex., underwent an emergency appendectomy at Reading Hospital early this morning and was unable to compete. She was reported in satisfactory condition.

Middlecoff, Burke Get Ready For Nat'l Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY

GREAT NECK, N.Y. (AP)—Cary Middlecoff and Jackie Burke are ready to strike a blow for the "forgotten thirties" in the annual Round Robin golf tournament opening today—the last big test before the National Open in San Francisco.

The two golfing buddies from Klamesha Lake, N.Y., sounded an advance warning by shooting identical three-under-par 67's in the pro-amateur warmup yesterday at Deepdale.

All of the 16 hand-picked contestants in the field, plus a star-studded list of other professionals and amateurs, took a swing around the course's 6,693 yards. Middlecoff and Burke gave the par up the worst licking.

"I get a little tired of reading about these 20-year-old-plus newcomers who are going to replace the 40-year-old over-the-hill guys like Sam Snead and Ben Hogan," said the boyish-looking Burke, son of a famous Houston professional now dead.

"How about us guys in the thirties? We've got to be reckoned with, I'd think. Take the fellow like Middlecoff, Ted Kroll, Tommy Bolt and Julius Boros. Day and day out, they'll be as tough as anybody."

Middlecoff, the Masters champion, is 34, Burke is 32. The defending champion, a three-time winner of this weird mathematical derby, is Sam Snead, 43. Sam shot an even-par 70 yesterday.

Snead and Middlecoff are together today in the hottest of the four opening-day foursomes, playing with Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., the 27-year-old leading money winner, and PGA champion Chick Harbert, just over the 40 line.

In this tournament, each player faces each of the other 15 during the four-day event and his score is compared with those of others in his foursome on a plus-and-minus basis. The player who picks up the most points during the five rounds takes away the $3,000 first prize.

Arizona Earns Right To Enter Tourney

BRYAN, Tex. (AP)—The fifth time was the charm for Arizona as the Wildcats finally beat a Texas team in the NCAA baseball playoffs. They downed Texas A&M last night 2-1 to take the best of three series and earn the right to play in the National Collegiate tournament at Omaha June 10.

Five times in the past six years Arizona has been in a playoff series with Texas Teams. They didn't have to play a Southwest Conference school in 1954.

But last night, with the series even at one game apiece, the Wildcats rammed across two runs in the ninth to knock A&M out of contention. Loose Aggie fielding contributed to the Arizona victory.

Dick Burnett Dies After Heart Attack

DALLAS (AP)—Baseball paid tribute today to R. W. (Dick) Burnett, colorful and sometimes tempestuous owner of the Dallas club in the Texas League, who died a few hours before his team did just what he would have wanted—won a ball game.

The oil millionaire who paid the highest price in Texas League history for the Dallas franchise and then rooted stronger than the most ardent Dallas fan for victory, sometimes getting in a jam for his antics when the club lost, died yesterday of a heart attack at Shreveport where his Eagles were playing a series.

Last night the Dallas club went out and beat Shreveport 7-4 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Many of baseball's highest echelon will be present tomorrow when funeral services are held at Gladewater.

Burnett, 57, put showmanship into his baseball. It was Burnett who, in 1950, played the opening game of the Texas League in the Cotton Bowl and drew the all-time attendance—53,578. He brought in some of the greats of baseball, men like Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Charley Gehringer and Home Run Baker, to play an inning and attract the nation's attention.

He bought the Dallas club in 1948 after owning franchises at Texarkana, Longview and Gainesville, Tex., and Monroe, La., and saw his club wind up seventh.

Not until 1953 did his money pay off. His Eagles not only won the pennant and the playoffs but the Dixie Series. Burnett was named minor league executive of the year by the Sporting News.

A sandlot player in his youth, Burnett never tried professional baseball, being content instead to own ball clubs. He had extensive oil holdings in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana to furnish the money for it.

Services will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Everett Funeral Chapel, Gladewater. Burnett is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Elsie Lou Wieser and Mrs. O. H. Brown, both of Magnolia, Ark., a brother and a sister.

Baseball Remembers Day Babe Ruth Quit

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Twenty years ago today an era ended.

Babe Ruth hung up his spikes for good.

It should have been a day of celebration. The Babe should have stepped down proudly, the cheers of the crowds that once idolized him ringing in his ears.

But it was [illegible]

It was more like a tragedy.

He had played his last game May 30 against the Philadelphia Phillies. He went to bat only once and did nothing, so he retired to the clubhouse. That was the last time the Babe's name appeared in a major league box score.

He was with the Boston Braves at the time as vice-president, assistant manager and sometimes-player.

His sight was failing and he was hitting only .181 when the end came. It came slowly, though.

It wasn't until three days later, June 2, that Ruth officially ended his baseball career—and he was beaten to the punch.

Officially, he quit. But he admitted later that he was fired by Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Braves.

Standing in the clubhouse, he told a boy to ask Fuchs to come see him. He told the boy to inform Fuchs he was quitting. He had gone as far as he could.

A few minutes later, some newsmen trooped into the clubhouse and Babe asked them what was up. They said they were sorry and he asked them why.

They told him he had been fired.

"So I got fired before I could quit," he said later.

That was a stormy season, that 1935, for Babe. He signed with the Braves and years later admitted it was a nightmare. He played only 28 games.

Ruth's last day of glory was in Pittsburgh when he stroked three home runs, including the only ball ever hit over the right field roof in Forbes Field. It was only the fourth time in his career that he had hit three home runs and he was proud.

Indians Aim For First

The Holder Construction Indians will go after a tie for first place in the American Little League in tonight's 7 o'clock game in the league.

In the second game, the Lions Club Cubs will try to stay in a close second in a match with last place Quarterback Club Giants.

The Indians will meet the American Legion Yankees, who lead the American League with a 3-0 record. If the Indians should win, both teams would have a 3-1 record. The Yanks beat the Indians 9-3 in a previous meeting.

The Cubs' record is now 2-1, while that of the Giants is 0-3. When the two played before, the Cubs won 20-4.

Pampa Bettering Its Lead In WT-NM Loop

By The Associated Press

Pampa tightened its lead in the West Texas-New Mexico League Wednesday night with an 8-5 win over Amarillo behind the hurling of veteran Jack Venable, who fanned 13 Gold Sox.

Clovis, whose game at Plainview was postponed because of rain, moved into third place standing still as Albuquerque lost to Lubbock 5-3, dropping the Duke City team into fourth place.

Last place El Paso lost to Abilene 5-1.

Pampa won on the strength of Venable's pitching and a hit-happy sixth inning in which four Oilers scored. Venable weakened in the eighth after fanning 13 and was relieved by Tom Pollet.

Sooners Upset Ags

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma, beaten four straight times during the regular season by state rival Oklahoma A&M, upset the unbeaten Aggies last night 3-0 to take a one game lead in their best-of-three-series for a berth in the NCAA baseball championships at Omaha June 10-14.

Charlie Grimm Not Worried Over Talk

BROOKLYN (AP)—Charlie Grimm has been in baseball 36 years so it wasn't surprising when he shrugged off rumors that his days as manager of the Milwaukee Braves were numbered unless the club perked up real soon.

Sure he's read those ugly rumors in the gossip columns, but they haven't disturbed him in the least.

The only time there's cause for worry, according to Grimm, is when the front office loses confidence in the manager. And only last week Milwaukee General Manager John Quinn declared he was stolidly behind Charlie.

"I'm more concerned with trying to improve our position," said the 56-year-old Grimm, whose fourth place Braves were expected to be a strong factor in the National League pennant race after finishing second and third under his direction the past two years.

"That's the foremost thing on my mind. I've been around too long to pay attention to rumors. Now what do you want to know about the Braves?

"This is a good club...too good to stay where it is. Some of the boys just haven't been hitting like I know they can."

"But we'll get going I'm sure of that," he added. "Our pitching hasn't been bad and our hitters are beginning to loosen up. I saw signs of that over the weekend."

Grimm conceded the Braves faced a tough task to overtake the Dodgers but he refused to count his club out.

"Remember we got off to a poor start last year and we almost pulled it out," he reminded. "This club of mine is as good, if not better, than last year. Baseball is a funny game. You never can tell."

Willie Pep Pleasing His Audience

BOSTON (AP) — Willie Pep the boxer today was hailed as Willie Pep the sportsman as a result of his fourth round technical knockout of Joey Cam of East Boston.

Pep opened an inch and a half gash over Cam's left eye midway in the third round of their scheduled 10-rounder at Boston Arena last night — then danced away to avoid hitting his bleeding opponent.

The 2,486 fans on hand roared approval of Pep's gesture which was seen also by a national television audience.

Cam went back to his corner at the end of the round but the fight was stopped before the bell for the fourth sounded. The cut was deep and required four stitches.

"I could tell right away it was a real bad cut," Pep said afterward. "I didn't want to take advantage of the kid. He's a good tough kid but I don't like to win fights that way."

Pep didn't know whether it was a punch or a butt that opened the gash but when the two broke from close quarters in the third, blood was streaming down Cam's nose which Pep had reddened in the first round.

On the Massachusetts scoring system in which 10 points is awarded to the winner of a round and 10 or less to his opponent, Referee Eddie Curley and Judge Joe Santarpio had Pep leading 30 to 27 when the bout was halted. Judge John Norton had it even, 29-29.

The victory was the 189th for the veteran Pep who is twice former featherweight champion. He's lost seven and drawn once. Cam's record is 32-6.

Artesia Is Now In Tie For Second Spot

By The Associated Press

Artesia outlasted league-leading Midland 2-1 Wednesday night in a 17-inning marathon, scheduled originally as the first game of a Longhorn League doubleheader.

The win put the Numexers into a tie with Roswell for second place. Roswell moved into its tie spot with a 6-3 win over last place Big Spring.

San Angelo, in second position at the start of the night's play, dropped to fourth on a 8-3 loss to Hobbs. Hobbs moved up a notch to sixth. Carlsbad and Odessa—making up the rest of the lower division—played a tight one on the Potashers' home field, the New Mexico team winning 7-6.

Weakening Midland pitching in the 17th inning walked in Artesia Mgr. Tom Jordan with the winning run. The game was scheduled originally for seven innings. The second game was postponed until tonight.

McAlester Takes Its Eighth Straight Win

By The Associated Press

McAlester downed Lawton 7-5, Wednesday night for its eighth straight Sooner State League triumph but couldn't make any headway in their battle to oust Shawnee from first place.

Shawnee beat Paris 8-5 on the strength of a six-run spree in the fourth inning and protected a 3½ game lead over the challenging Rockets.

Third-place Muskogee used a home run barrage for a 10-2 decision over Ponca City, while Ardmore blasted 11 hits for a 7-1 triumph over last place Seminole.

Mission Loss Gives Texas League Hope

By The Associated Press

San Antonio's Missions lost their second game in a row to, of all people, the Oklahoma City Indians Wednesday night, and it brought renewed hope to the rest of the Texas League.

Dallas especially profited by it. The Eagles split a doubleheader with Shreveport and moved into second place just 2½ games behind the leading Missions.

Oklahoma City, last in the standings but within seven points of getting out, put on a 5-run rally in the ninth to whip San Antonio 6-4. The Indians were trailing 4-1 when they started blasting Mission pitchers. Three hurlers took the hammering.

Dallas trimmed Shreveport 7-4 in the first game with Joe Kotrany going the distance, in his initial appearance of the season. Kotrany spaced eight Sport hits. Dallas blasted four runs across in the first inning and had no further worries.

Shreveport won the second game 5-0 behind the 4-hit pitching of Arnie Atkins, who posted his 11th decision of the campaign. Atkins fanned nine in notching his second shutout of the season. It was Shreveport's first victory over Dallas in seven home games.

Tulsa beat Houston 2-1 to kick the Buffs out of second place. Dolan Nichols won his fifth victory in six starts as he set the Buffs down with only five hits.

Two walks and Pablo Barnard's single gave Tulsa its first run in the third and the Oilers got the winning tally in the sixth when Mike Lutz singled in Bernard, who had doubled.

Beaumont sank toward the cellar by dropping a 9-3 decision to Fort Worth. The seventh-place Exporters lost their fifth game in a row.

Hap Coleman kept eight Beaumont hits fairly well scattered but was put out of the game in the ninth. With two out Bob O'Neal hit a homer. Then Coleman complained too enthusiastically on the ball and strike calling of Umpire Bill Valentine and was thumbed out. Joe Landrum took over and fanned Ben Taylor to end the game.

ZESTY TASTING CORN ON THE COB, BARBECUED UNDER THE BROILER
... variety of seasonings may be added to melted butter

Peak Season Approaching For Fresh Corn On The Cob

Tender and sweet corn on the cob is one of America's finest offerings to a hungry world.

The Indian's "maize" in two hundred years has spread in popularity and dependence over the globe. But the best place to find it is right here at home, in the backyards and farms of the United States.

Fresh corn on the cob is available from April through October, but the peak times come in the middle of the summer. The gradually reducing prices on corn in local food stores are leading toward that peak season.

When buying fresh corn, look for well fitted cobs with bright, plump, milky yet firm kernels. Husks should be fresh and green.

To cook corn on the cob, remove husks and silks from the corn (it should be so young it spurts milk when kernels are pressed). Drop in boiling salted water to cover, using 1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart of water.

Cook, covered tightly, just until tender and milk is set, 5 to 10 minutes. Remove at once to basket or platter. Serve with butter or margarine and salt and ground black pepper. Allow 1 to 2 ears for each person. Serve with butter, drowned in butter some say. The butter may be variously seasoned.

CORN BUTTERS

One-quarter cup melted margarine or butter, one-eighth teaspoon ground thyme leaves. Combine and simmer 1 to 2 minutes. Serve brushed over ears of fresh corn. Serves 4.

One-quarter cup melted margarine or butter, one-eighth teaspoon ground nutmeg. Combine and serve over fresh ears of corn. Serves 4.

One-fourth cup melted margarine or butter, ¾ teaspoon seasoning salts (garlic, onion or celery). Combine and serve over fresh ears of corn. Serves 4.

One-fourth cup melted margarine or butter, ¼ cup grated cheese. Combine and serve over ears of fresh corn. Serves 4.

BARBECUED CORN ON THE COB

4 ears corn on the cob
¼ cup catsup
⅛ teaspoon thyme
Generous dash of Tabasco sauce
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Brush ears of corn with butter and roast for 16 minutes at 400 degrees F. Combine catsup, seasonings and melted butter or margarine. Remove corn from oven and roll in barbecue sauce. Place on [illegible] and add any remaining sauce to corn. Place top of corn about 2½ inches from source of heat and broil, turning corn once during broiling process. Takes approximately 4 minutes. Yields 4 servings.

CONFETTI CORN

3 or 4 ears of corn
¾ cup finely diced celery
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons chopped pimento or red or green bell peppers
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Boil or steam corn for 5 minutes. Cut corn from cob, saving juice. Cook celery and peppers, if used, in butter for 5 minutes. Add corn, pimentos, salt and pepper. Cook 5 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Serve immediately. Serves 4.

RED AND GOLD BAKE

6 large tomatoes
1 small green pepper
1 clove garlic
2 tabespoons butter
1 cup fresh corn, cut from cob
Salt and pepper to taste

Cut slice from top of each tomato and scoop out center. Dice pepper and finely mince garlic. Cook in butter until pepper is tender. Add corn which has been cooked in boiling water for 3 minutes, then cut from cob. Season and fill tomato centers. Bake in shallow baking dish at 425 degrees for 15 minutes. You might stuff pepper shells instead of tomatoes for a change.

SPANISH CORN

8 large ears of corn
2 medium green peppers
2 medium onions
3 drained canned pimentos
4 slices bacon
½ cup top milk or cream
Salt and pepper

Cut corn from cob and scrape cob with blunt side of knife to remove juice. Pour into a 2-quart casserole. Remove seeds and pulp from peppers and chop. Peel and chop onions. Dice pimentos. Dice bacon and cook over low heat until just brown. Add peppers, onions, and pimentos and cook gently 3 or 4 minutes. Mix with corn, add top milk and season to taste. Cover and bake at 400 degrees for 30 minutes. If it begins to dry during cooking, add a little more top milk.

CORN OYSTERS

6 ears fresh corn
3 eggs separated
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup flour

Grate the corn and add the beaten egg yolks. Season with salt and pepper, and stir in the flour. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop by spoonfuls, the size of oysters, onto a well greased hot griddle and fry until nicely browned. Serves 4.

SPICY CORN RELISH

12 to 15 ears corn (2 quarts cooked and cut)
2 cups sweet red pepper, chopped (3 medium peppers)
2 cups chopped green pepper (3 medium peppers)
2 cups chopped celery
1 cup chopped onions
1 cup sugar
1 quart cider vinegar
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons celery seed
2 tablespoons dry mustard
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon tumeric
½ cup water

Husk corn and place in 6-quart kettle half full of boiling water; cover; simmer 10 minutes. Then plunge ears into cold water and drain. Cut corn from cob; measure. Chop and measure peppers, celery, onions. Put in a 6-quart kettle, add sugar, vinegar, sat and celery seed. Bring to boil and boil 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Mix mustard, flour and tumeric; gradually add water, mix until smooth. Add to cooked mixture with corn. Bring to boil, boil 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Spoon into sterilized pint jars, filling to ½-inch from top. Seal jars according to manufacturer's directions, place on rack. Cover with towel while cooling. Makes 5 pint jars.

FRESH CORN FRITTERS

2 cups fresh corn pulp (from about 3 uncooked cobs of corn)
2 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
4 tablespoons fat, for frying

With a sharp knife cut kernels of corn down through the middle of each row; with dull side of knife, scrape downward so as to extract pulp. Beat the egg yolk in bowl, add salt, sugar, corn pulp and mix well. Add the flour and baking powder and mix thoroughly. Beat the egg whites until stiff, but not dry, and turn into the corn mixture; fold together until just mixed. Heat a half tablespoon of the fat in a skillet until quite hot, drop in corn mixture a heaping tablespoon at a time. Cook over moderate heat for several minutes until browned lightly on one side; add another ½ tablespoon of the fat as you turn to brown other side. This amount of batter will make about 24 small fritters.

MEXICAN CORN

1 tablespoon olive oil
1 onion, minced fine
2 cups tomato puree
1 tablespoon diced celery
2 tablespoons chili powder
2 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper
3 cups uncooked corn
¼ cup finely minced green pepper

Heat oil and saute onion and green pepper in it until soft. Add remaining ingredients, mix well, pour into a casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour. Serves 6.

SQUAW CORN

8 slices bacon
3 onions, sliced thin
Fresh corn, cut from 8 ears
½ teaspoon salt
8 eggs, slightly beaten
8 slices toast

Cut bacon in small pieces and fry; add onions and saute until light brown. Add corn and salt and continue to saute until corn is lightly browned. Add eggs and cook until thickened, stirring up from bottom of skillet. Serve on toast for 8. This sometimes is known as Iowa eggs.

CORN PUDDING

2 cups corn
2 tablespoons chopped pimento
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 cups cheese cracker crumbs, coarsely crumbled
3 eggs, beaten
2 cups milk
2 teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Combine corn, pimento and green pepper; layer with cracker crumbs in greased 1½-quart casserole. Combine remaining ingredients; pour over corn mixture. Set casserole in pan of hot water; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 75 minutes or until silver knife inserted in center comes out clean. Serves 6. Serve as a main dish and accompany with Canadian bacon, or if it is a meatless day, with fish ticks.

GUMBO SUCCOTASH

2 cups fresh corn
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups cooked large dry limas (1 cup uncooked)
2 cups fresh or canned tomatoes
2 cups fresh or canned okra
1 teaspoon thyme

¼ cup cream
½ teaspoon salt
1-16 teaspoon pepper
1-16 teaspoon nutmeg

Paprika

Melt butter in frying pan. Add corn and contents of can of mushrooms. Cover frying pan and let cook over moderate heat about 5 minutes, stirring once. Add cream, salt, pepper and nutmeg and mix well. Uranium Rush Expected To Break Friday

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — A uranium stampede reminiscent of California's roaring gold rush days is expected to hit Kern River Canyon, 40 miles east of here, tomorrow morning.

Predicting an "explosive situation," Sheriff Leroy Galyen has ordered 75 armed deputies into the canyon today. They have orders to confiscate all firearms.

Up to 3,000 prospectors may swarm into the area to stake a similar number of 20-acre claims when the land is opened for staking at 10 a.m. The area comprises some 60,000 acres.

Already located there are two mines. One consists of the Kergon claims, held by the Great Lakes Oil and Chemical Co., and the other is the Miracle Mine of the Wyoming Gulf & Sulphur Co. Miracle has shipped more than $4,000 worth of uranium 308. It is California's richest uranium strike.

Miracle also has been stockpiling ore pending settlement of a claims dispute which has resulted in widespread confusion among prospectors.

After uranium was found in the area, fortune hunters rushed in with the same enthusiasm which marked their search for gold a century ago. Stakes were pounded all over the rough hillsides, which form the west flank of the Sierra.

And then it was discovered that [illegible] not.

the land had been withdrawn from the public domain some 30 years before, at the request of the Southern California Edison Co., to become a power reserve. Prospectors immediately sought the assistance of the Atomic Energy Commission.

They were successful, and the area reverted to public domain. For a time it was believed that the claims already staked would be validated. But the Bureau of Land Management ruled otherwise.

This meant that the stakes must be driven all over again, to remove the stigma of trespassing, and it is the reclaiming process which will start at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

School Girl's Body Found In Michigan

By ED MARKAITY

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — An autopsy showed today that little Jeannie Singleton had been raped, beaten and apparently choked to death by a sex deviate.

The bruised body of the 8-year-old school girl was found late yesterday in a lonely pine woods 15 miles north of Kalamazoo.

Jeannie, left lame by an attack of rheumatic fever four years ago, was last seen 10 days ago resting on a curb a half block from her home here. She was returning from school. Relatives said Jeannie had a sunny disposition and "a smile for everybody."

She was the third little girl to die at the hands of a brutal killer in Michigan in the past four months.

A conference of law enforcement officers was called here today to intensify the search for Jeannie's killer.

"The killer is going to strike again, that's what we're worried about," said Glenn Hammel, Kalamazoo police chief deputy.

Five farm children, playing in an isolated area near the village of Doster, stumbled onto Jeannie's body.

The body bore bruises about the hips and arms. The dress was pulled above the waist. Jeannie still had on shoes and stockings. A band still held her pony hairdo in place.

Physicians who performed an autopsy said Jeannie probably was killed the same day she was abducted—May 23.

Mrs. Steve Singleton, the girl's mother, collapsed at the news of her death and was placed under a doctor's care. The Singleton family of eight lives in a modest home. Both parents work.

The father grimly said, "I think that Michigan must have a death penalty."

Recent attempts in the state Legislature to restore capital punishment have failed.

The killers of two other small girls in Michigan were sexually maladjusted.

Nine-year-old Kathleen McLaughlin was stabbed and beaten to death Feb. 17 in a Detroit suburb. A 16-year-old youth confessed the crime and is awaiting sentence for murder.

On March 31 the body of 7-year-old Barbara Gaca, a Detroit school girl, was found on a dump near Pontiac. She had been beaten and raped. Police are still searching for her killer.

Prisoner Decides It's Time To Leave

CONCORD, N.C. (AP)—The last words of at-large prisoner Bennie Meeks to his fellow prisoners before he escaped from a road crew Monday were reported by prison officials yesterday as:

"Well, I think its time to be leaving. I'll be seeing you."

Murphy Won Honor Medal 10 Years Ago

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ten years ago today on an Austrian airstrip, a general pinned the Medal of Honor on a Texas boy so young that he couldn't even grow a mustache.

The ceremony climaxed one of the most amazing fighting careers in American military history and made 2nd Lt. Audie Murphy the most decorated hero of World War II.

Yet there was no official photograph made that day—but a Red Cross doughnut girl snapped a picture with a box camera. It was in her scrapbook until Murphy, now a movie star, went on location near Yakima, Wash., for the filming of his own exploits in "To Hell and Back."

She had a reunion there with Murphy and gave him the snapshot. It is published nationally today for the first time.

To get the nation's highest decoration, Murphy had staged a one man war with six Nazi tanks and waves of enemy foot soldiers. The citation is so amazing that no movie script writer would dare to come up with such a scene. Here's the official record:

The lone Texan, under fire from three sides, jumped atop a burning tank destroyer that could have blown up at any minute. In that precarious position, Murphy manned the destroyer's machine gun with such deadly accuracy that he not only stopped the German attack—he routed it in retreat. He killed 50 of the enemy while suffering a leg wound himself.

Murphy was a 19-year-old second lieutenant at the time. He had been given a battlefield commission for an earlier exploit, having enlisted as an infantry private when he was 17.

In an interview he told how he had once given away all his medals.

"I wasn't married and had no one to keep them for," he explained but added that since he now has married and become the father of two sons he has had the medals replaced. He has 25.

Is he a hero at home?

"Are you kidding? Like every other father in the country, I had to buy my three-year-old a coonskin cap. He's strictly for Davy Crockett."

Officer Refuses To Rassle For License

OMAHA (AP)—State Safety Patrolman W. R. Piercy told County Judge R. R. Troyer yesterday that when he stopped Lowell Schmidt, 28, Millard, Neb., May 1 and asked to see Schmidt's driver's license he got the reply:

"You can rassle me for it or get a warrant for my arrest."

Piercy got the warrant. Judge Troyer fined Schmidt $30 and costs for driving 70 miles an hour, ten over the state highway limit.

Children Rescued As Car Rolls Into Canal

SCHUYLERVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Wayne Weidman, a mill worker, left his two children in the car yesterday when he went into a lumber office to pay a bill.

The car rolled 10 feet down a slight incline, dropped 12 feet into the old Champlain Canal and started to settle in six feet of water.

Two men passing by, Jeri Mayer and Rollie Haley, jumped after it and opened doors on either side. One grabbed Wayne Jr., 3, and the other rescued Christine, 18 months. Neither child was hurt.

Police in this northeastern New York community said young Wayne aparently had played with the car controls.

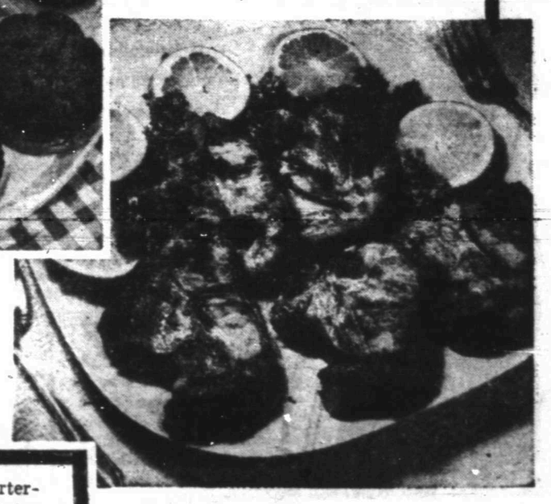
The mouth watering aroma of good meat cooking over a charcoal fire — the sharp tangy smell of a bit of hickory smoke — the cool fresh look of a table set in a grassy, tree shaded yard: These are the things that make summer appetites grow and grow. Try it this week end. Piggly Wiggly has just the right things.



Mix 1-1/2 pounds Beef Chuck lightly with 1/3 cup catsup, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1-1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce and 1 teaspoon salt. Shape into 1-inch patties. Broil 8 minutes to a side. 6 patties.

Choose tender club, T-bone, porterhouse or sirloin steak. Trim off outer fat. Use this to rub on hot grill to keep steak from sticking. Broil first side of steak to desired browness; turn. Do not pierce meat. Salt and pepper browned side. Continue broiling till steak is done to a turn. Season second side. Top with a pat of butter. Come and get it!
