Girls Basketball, Track Coach Hired At FHS

Athletic Director Preston Watson has announced the hiring of Sally Miller, 22, as Floydada High School girls' basketball and track coach. Miss Miller, hired Wednesday, will coach varsity, junior varsity and freshman girls in both sports and teach physical education at Floydada Junior High.

The new FHS girls' coach is a spring 1973 graduate of Wayland Baptist College, with a BA degree in physical education. She was trainer for the Wayland Flying Queens for two years.

A native of Panhandle and a graduate of Panhandle High School, she played basketball for the Pantherettes there and was a member of the Panhandle girls track team, running the mile relay and open quarter.

Miss Miller told The Hesperian "I'm extremely happy to be here, and feel that I'll probably be working under one of the best administrations. I'm really looking forward to working with the girls here."

The new coach is interested in all sports, including golf and tennis. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller of Panhandle.

Softball Signup Ends Saturday

Saturday, May 26 is the last day for girls to sign up to play softball in Floydada. To register, girls may call Mrs. Rilla Woody, 983-2057 or Mrs. Julie Finley, 983-2832.

The Floydada girls teams still need coaches, and high-school and college girls and anyone else interested are invited to contact Mrs. Woody or Mrs. Finley about the coaching jobs.

Floydada girls will compete with teams from several other area towns this season. Other teams in the league include Idalou, Roosevelt, Slaton, New Deal, Wilson, and possibly Lockney. Each town will have teams in three age groups — 7-10 years, 11-12, and 13-14.

Welcome Thundershowers Across Floyd County

Just when the irrigation farmers have begun to irrigate and the dryland farmers were wishing for moisture a light cold front set off showers across Floyd County Tuesday night.

It was perfect for the wheat crop that is fast filling out and will soon be maturing.

The rowcrops were just coming up and some farmers were irrigating beds in preparation for planting.

A pretty strong windstorm accompanied the showers and small hail and no damage was reported. A thunderstorm east of McCoy near the Starkey community Sunday afternoon dumped an inch of rain and some marble sized hail. Some cotton may have to be replanted in this area.

Tuesday night rainfall reports from around the county: McCoy, ¾ inch; Sandhill, about half an inch; Dougherty, half an inch (up to three-quarters north of Dougherty, with small hail but no crop damage); South Plains, six-tenths (nine-tenths and small hail reported east of South Plains); Lakeview, four-tenths inch of rain and "tiny" hail.

Producers Cooperative Elevator, official weather station for Floydada, measured .60 inch of rainfall Tuesday night.

Pool Opens Sunday

The Floydada city swimming pool will open Sunday, May 27. Coach L. G. Wilson will operate the pool again this year. Rex Rose will be lifeguard.

The pool will be open from 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. every day except Sunday, when the pool will close at 5 p.m.

Admission will be 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

FFA Trailer Paid For

The Floydada FFA boys and girls and advisors wish to thank everyone who made donations to help pay for the chapter's new stock trailer.

Advisor O. L. Harris said special thanks went to Leroy Burns of City Auto Inc., who started the drive to pay for the trailer and headed the donation committee; to Bill Cagle of Producers Cooperative Elevator, who sold the trailer at cost and paid for having the signs painted; and the Floyd County Farm Bureau, donors of a year's insurance premium for the trailer.

"The ag teachers and FFA boys and girls appreciate the efforts of these fellows and the ones who have contributed toward paying for the trailer," Harris said.

Donors include City Auto, Inc., Leroy Burns, Ricky Burns, Shorty Turner, Quality Body Shop, Floyd County Farm Bureau, Kirk and Son, Jimmy Willson, Pat Bullock, Martin Garza, Collins Implement, Floyd Bradford, Ira Clower, Babe's Service Center, Parnell Powell, Reed Ford Sales, Hi-Plains Auto Sales, Lon Davis Grain, Nichols Oil Company, Bishop-Ramsey Pharmacy, Thriftway Super Market, John Farris, Bert Massie, Jerry Battey, Calvin Steen, Floyd County Co-op Gin, Barwise Elevator and Fertilizer, E. P. Pritchett, Leslie Nixon, Travis Jones, Tommy Assiter, Ted Anderson, Walter E. Bloys, Farmers Co-op Gin, Jerrold Vinson, First National Bank of Floydada, Arwine Drug, Goen and Goen, James Ed Russell, Martin and Company, Consumers Fuel of Floydada, J. R. Turner, Sammy Hale, Floydada Power and Light, Choise Smith, Floydada Young Farmers, McCoy Grain, Vernie Moore, Muncy Elevator, S&H Onion Shed, Kenneth Henson, South Plains Grain, Inc., Lockney Co-op Elevator, Pioneer Natural Gas, and Floydada Seed and Delinting.

The Hale stock trailer is 16 feet long, light green in color, with dual axle and brakes, and thanks to those who contributed, is completely paid for. It will be used for transporting livestock for the FFA boys and girls.

If you are a junior or senior and you didn't come to the Carnival Saturday night you missed something!!

Prizes were given in 12 booths. Bingo, ping-pong and fooshball were enjoyed by many. At one time, 150 were counted as being there. It was discovered how many boys thought their dates were "lions". In talking to one of the sponsors, it was intimated about next year's party — that you ain't "seen nothing yet". All are looking forward to the one for next year. A special thanks goes to Southwestern Public Service for furnishing the ladders to hook up the lights. Also, to R. L. Knox and Dub Hallmark for helping with the games. School Board members Bill Sherman and Floyd Lyles were also in attendance. This support from the school officials was appreciated. Most of all to the junior parents who spent so many hours to make it possible, thanks.

A FRIEND found this in the Town Journal recently: The home-town paper is about the best friend any town ever has. Year in and year out its columns report the achievements, the good times, the gains and the tragedies of the home folks. Each issue does something to cement individuals into a community. The paper drums up trade for the merchants, rejoices when the school teams win, and helps get the crowd out for social and civic events. When the advertising columns are well filled and the subscription list grows long, the editor can know that his endeavors are appreciated.

CONSUMER marketing specialist Gwendolyn Clyatt, says this week that continued rains pounded some vegetable supplies down as prices worked upward in recent weeks.

Mrs. Clyatt, cited onions as one example of the rain-soaked price hike.

"Onion prices are completely out of range, and improved conditions aren't likely immediately. This is a good time to use favorite herbs and spices to highlight foods.

"Carrots brighten produce counters — colorwise and pricewise, and fresh asparagus is about as low as it will be, since it's never a 'thrifty' choice and has a short season."

Other economical vegetable choices are cabbage, bulk turnips, cooking greens and potatoes, the specialist noted.

Texas grapefruit and orange supplies zipped over early forecasts, and best choices are firm, well-shaped fruits heavy for their size. Cantaloupes and honeydew melons rate relatively high pricewise. Bananas, strawberries, pineapple and avocados offer varying price levels.

Rest Home Birthday Party

'Tis fun to have a party
In the lovely month of May. . . .
With breezes soft and flowers abloom. . . .
We want to run and play!
Our Mrs. Ollie Stewart
Has counted many years. . .
She goes way back to '85
And so for her "three cheers".
A very kindly person
Is Mr. Henry Baker. . . .
He wants things honest, right and true. . . .
He's never been a "faker".
Of course we know the birthday song. . . .
Which all of us must sing. . . .
So get all set to serenade
And let your voices ring!

With the reading of the above poem and the singing of the birthday song the monthly birthday party at the rest home got in full swing, hosted by ladies of the City Park Church of Christ, Thursday, May 17. The "honor" table was laid with a white cloth and featured a beautiful arrangement of fresh, pale pink peonies and iris. Place cards marked seats for the honorees, although Mr. Baker was unable to come to the party room, for which we are very sorry. A delicious birthday cake, beautifully decorated and bearing a candle for each honoree, was served, along with a very tasty fruit punch, to residents of the home, guests and employees.

At present there is no one in the home with a birthday in June so unless someone moves in before "birthday time" we will not have one, but will have the next party July 12, Thursday, 2:30 p.m. Please plan to be with us at that time.

Wise persons keep their reputations by keeping their tongues at rest.

Disappointments are inevitable if you have ambition and hope.

Cates Votes Against Pot Penalty Reduction

The bill as passed by the House to reduce penalties for possession of marijuana could let some dope pushers out of prison and back on the streets, State Rep. Phil Cates said today.

Rep. Cates voted against the bill which passed the House by a 97-38 vote Monday. Under the measure, approximately 700 persons now serving time for possession of marijuana must be re-sentenced, Cates added, and noted that many of these men were sentenced for simple possession, but were in fact pushers and in possession of substantial amounts of the weed when arrested.

These men must all be re-sentenced at high cost to the State under terms of the new bill, and many will be released, he said.

Rep. Cates noted that the majority of concerned voters of his district were not in favor of reducing penalties for possession of marijuana. He first came out to Texas,

In the merry month of May,
With a herd of Texas cattle,
The Black Hills for to see.
They sold out at Kansas City
And then got on a spree,
A tougher lot of cowboys
You seldom ever see.

They started back to Texas
And robbed the U. P. train,
They split up into couples.
And started out again.
Joel Collins and his partner
Were overtaken soon,
And with all their hard-earned money
They had to meet their doom.
Sam Bass got back to Texas
All "right side upwith care,"
He rode right into Denton
His old friends met him there.
Sam's life was short in Texas—
Three robberies he did do,
He robbed the Longview passenger—
The mail and express, too.

Sam had another comrade,
Called "Arkansas" for short,
He was killed by a Texas Ranger
Who thought it was great sport.
Jim Murphy was arrested,
And then released on bail,
He jumped his bond at Tyler,
And hit the Terrell trail.
But Major Jones had posted Jim,
And that was all a stall—
It was a plan to capture Sam
Before the coming fall.

Sam met his fate at Round Rock
July the twenty-first,
They filled poor Sam with bullets,
And emptied out his purse.

Now Sam is a decaying corpse
Down in the Round Rock clay,
While Jackson's on the border,
A-Trying to get away.
Jim Murphy borrowed Sam's good money,
And did not want to pay
So he set out the game to win,
By giving him away.
He sold poor Sam and also Barnes,
And left their friends to mourn,
Jim Murphy will a roasting get
When Gabriel toots his horn.
Some think he'll get to heaven
For none can surely tell,
But if I'm right in my surmise
No doubt he'll go— the other way.

Lockney Native Receives Doctorate

James Carthel, Junior Principal at Memorial High School in Houston, will be awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Educational Administration at The University of Texas during commencement exercises on the Main Building Terrace of the Austin campus Saturday evening, May 26, at 8 o'clock.

Carthel, a 1953 graduate of Lockney High School, received his Bachelor of Music degree from Texas Technological University in 1957 and the Master of Music degree from The University of Texas in 1966. Upon completion of Texas University's 60-hour administrator preparation program including an internship at Midland High School, Midland, Texas, he became Asistant Principal at Memorial Junior High (Spring Branch I.S.D.) in 1967. He moved to Memorial Senior High as Grade Level Principal in 1970. In his present position he is principal for a "school within a school" consisting of 670 eleventh graders. Memorial High was 2700 students in grades 9-12.

His teaching career began in 1957 at Lubbock where he was choral music teacher for two years before entering the U.S. Army. After he completed the military service he directed choral music activities at Ysleta High School in El Paso for five years.

The final work for the doctorate was an independent study and dissertation on the topic of educational evaluation. An evaluation of the Spring Branch School District Hilda Taba Teaching Strategies Program (Taba Program) was completed last month and accepted by the Graduate Studies Committee. Dr. Ben M. Harris, professor of educational administration and supervision was the supervisor of the dissertation. The study involved 225 teachers, 1,005 pupils and numerous principals and supervisory personnel of the Spring Branch District.

The Tabe Program is an in-service course for teachers taught by instructional coordinators of the district. Its objective is to help teachers learn to stimulate higher level thinking in pupils through a carefully designed inductive questioning strategy. Carthel made recommendations for the improvement of the course. Several procedures for the improvement of evaluation were tested in his study.

Carthel lives at 9518 Vogue, Houston, Texas 77055 with his wife, Carol, and children, Cara Lynn and Craig Alan, fourth and second graders at Pine Shadows Elementary School in Spring Branch. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Carthel, Lockney.

Seniors, Juniors Enjoy Banquet

Saturday night was spent "Under the Big Top" by juniors and seniors of Lockney High School, who were entertained at the annual banquet given by the juniors. Guests arriving at the elementary school cafetorium guessed at the decoration theme when they saw three clowns riding unicycles near the building. (Clowns were eighth graders Denise and Deneen Johnson and Beverly Barker.)

Foyer of the school was decorated to resemble a cage, containing construction paper monkeys pictured in antics. Each monkey bore the name of a senior.

Circus barkers (junior dads Barry Barker and Bobby Carthel) called the guests into the cafetorium, where red, hot pink and orange crepe paper streamers were hung to form a tent top. Recorded Barnum & Bailey circus music added to the setting.

Center ring of the circus was created in the center of the room by a cardboard ring covered with red diamond shapes on blue paper. Cardboard trapeze artists and Dumbo the elephant shared the ring with master of ceremonies (junior class president) Dart Carthel. Here, banquet favorites, elected earlier by the junior class, were presented. Favorites were Pat Mooney and Donna Quisenberry, most likely to succeed; Larry Cunyus and Paula Cummings, most representative; David Brotherton and Tony Bybee, most popular; and Karen Marr and Ramiro Hernandez, friendliest. Senior class prophecy was given by Carmen Turner and Denise Winter; history was read by Reeda Cay Lawson and Pam Teuton; and the senior will was by Karen Marr and Kay Terrell.

Two side rings were at the front of the room, and featured a cardboard bear riding a bicycle in one, and a seal doing a balancing act in the other. A large circus wagon was on the cafetorium stage; inside was a tiger. On one side were the words "Lockney's Greatest Show on Earth for Seniors 1973."

Crepe paper streamers were used to create tent effect around the sides of the room. Through these, banquet guests could view scenes representing side show "freaks."

Carousels were centerpieces, and place markers were fabric clown hats. Place favors were miniature circus wagons holding tiny plastic animals.

Welcome to the banquet was given by Dart Carthel. President of the senior class, Gary Boedeker, gave the response. Supt. Johnny Peck voiced the invocation, and the benediction was by school board president Bill Sherman. Dinner music was played by Glen Lane.

Following the banquet, some guests attended a carnival at the practice gymnasium, and others went to the prom at the American Legion Hall. The circus theme was carried out again at the prom and featured a life-size cardboard clown holding balloons. Naturally, the balloons were a large part of the decorations, but cardboard elephants hanging from the ceiling with the name of a junior and senior on them were a big hit.

Refreshments were animal cookies, cokes and popcorn.

The Knees of The Beast

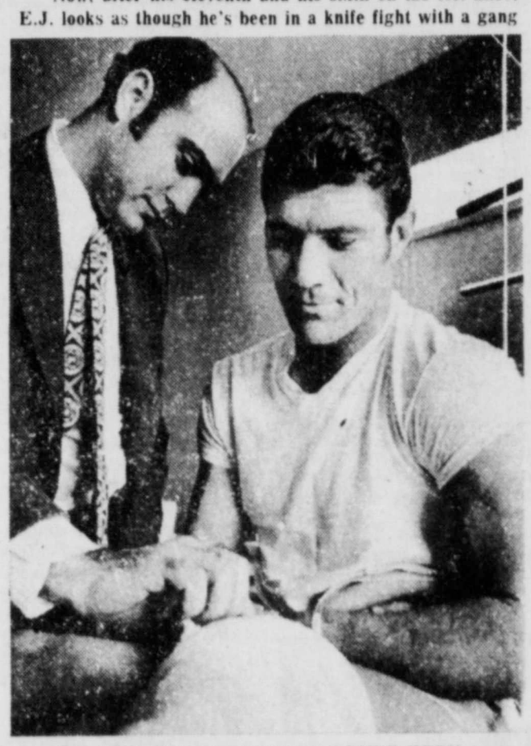

The nice nuns at Santa Rosa hospital are beginning to learn why E.J. Holub, one of the greatest football players ever developed in Texas, is called "The Beast."

Mr. Holub, at 35, has calmed down considerably in recent years and more often than not he's well-mannered and extremely polite. But on occasion he's still moved by those boyish impulses and he likes to cut-up, sing loud western songs and hop out of bed.

It's that departure from bed that bothers the hospital folks. E.J. has just had his eleventh (count 'em, eleven) knee operation and he's supposed to rest quietly. He's really not the worst patient Santa Rosa has ever had but he might rate somewhere among their top ten.

They say the legs go first and Holub's pins started leaving him back in 1957 when he was a junior in Lubbock high school. That was when he had his first knee operation.

Now, after his eleventh and his sixth on the left knee, E.J. looks as though he's been in a knife fight with a gang of midgets. His knees have more scars than Fat Jack Myers' golf balls. 'But that's about all they've got, scars on the outside, next t, nothing left inside.

But even as he hobbled on the bad pins that got worse each season E.J. managed to make All-America two years as a Texas Tech center and several times he was all-pro as a linebacker and center with Kansas City. He finally quit football after the '71 season and his tenth operation.

But even after the year layoff at 6-4 and 240 the big man is built like a tall rock, soft only in the knees.

E.J. called me from his hospital bed the other day and asked if I'd drop by to visit. "I don't want any publicity for myself but I'd like to tell you why I picked San Antonio for my last knee operation," Holub said. Seems that Kansas City officials told him they'd pick up the full tab for this last go round. His knees just won't take anymore surgery. I scooted over to the hospital right away.

"Okay, E.J., just why did you pick this city for your last piece of leg surgery ?"

"It's the doctor. The world's greatest knee surgeon is now located here and I wanted to have the best for this last one. Hell, man, I might wind up in a wheel chair in a few years if this doesn't turn out okay. So I checked out all the docs and settled on Dr. Jack Henry. Be sure and get his name right, Dr. Jack Henry."

Old Tech Teammates

E.J. then spent the next half hour singing the praises of Dr. Henry, telling how the young medic studied and worked in Scotland with Dr. E.N. Smillie, in Switzerland with Dr. Mueller, the hip man, in England with Dr. Charnley, the fellow who invented the plastic hip operation.

"Hey, E.J. slow down. I can't use all that. It sounds like an advertisement and it'll just get Dr. Henry in trouble with the local medical society." Holub pulled himself to a higher sitting position, flexed his massive muscles and looked sternly at me. "Had you rather worry about his problems with the medical society or your problems with me ?" That's what he asked me. I began to take more notes.

"Did you know Dr. Henry before, E.J., or did you meet him on the operating table ?"

Holub took a gigantic chew of Brown Mule tobacco and said, almost shyly, "We played football together at Texas Tech. We competed for the same job, center. He was a junior when I was a soph but he gave up his senior season to study medicine and I continued on in the idiot sport.

But suddenly Holub snapped up. "Hey, now, don't get the idea I picked him because we're old buddies. I got some better friends I wouldn't do business with." And this might be a good time to mention that Holub's business is now breeding horses. He's got two star studs, one the grandson of Native Dancer.

When Dr. Henry arrived to check on his patient he was greeted by a heavy towel tossed in his face—by Holub, of course. "Hey, boy, you'd better get me out of here pretty soon. I'm gettin' bored," E.J. told the doc.

Dr. Henry got me to a corner and half whispered, "If E.J. has been blowing any smoke about me I'd prefer that you forget it. He gets a little excited." But Holub overheard and then he really did get excited as he looked at me, "You print what I told you, Cook. It's all the truth, you hear me ?"

I heard him. So did everybody else on the ninth floor at Santa Rosa.

About 450 4-H boys and girls competed in the event, which included 24 contests. The first round of district competition, including dairy cattle, horse, and livestock judging, was held in mid-April.

To qualify for the state contest, a team or individual must have a first or second place win in the senior division which is for 14-year-olds and older.

Ribbons were presented at an awards assembly which followed the contests. The Pioneer Natural Gas Company donated the ribbons for the winners. A plaque was presented to channel 28 TV farm director, Bob Etheredge, for his contributions to 4-H Club work.

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING shows the proposed State 4-H Center to be built at Lake Brownwood. The Educational Training Center includes a central plaza, amphitheater, administrative building, living units and seminar rooms, manager's residence and other facilities. The Center will be able to accommodate 200 people.

'Put It Together With A 4-H Center'

Texas has 2.5 million potential 4-H Club members, and approximately 200 of these young people reside in Floyd County, emphasizes County Extension Agent Doyle G. Warren.

An objective of the Texas 4-H program in the 70's is to involve 250,000 young people, he adds. Another goal is to construct a State 4-H Center.

"To meet the goal of reaching new youth, present programming will have to expand greatly. Many new approaches in involving people will have to be used. More leaders will be needed. The present 14,000 4-H adult leaders will need to expand to 40,000," Warren says.

Further, a well-trained, confident adult leadership is vital to youth programs. "To enable the Texas Agriculture Extension Service to offer adequate leader training and establish new programs, a permanent facility is needed — a State 4-H Center," Warren adds.

Such a 4-H Center is on the drawing board for Texas. Presently, about 20 states operate year-round 4-H centers and others have numerous summer camps.

Leadership for the projected 4-H Center is being provided by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, but members need the help of all area citizens. "Put it all together with a 4-H Center" is the campaign theme.

The educational facility will be constructed on a 78-acre site at Lake Brownwood. It will offer many new opportunities and dimensions for programs and activities.

"Project workshops, county and district activities, leadership labs, 4-H leader workshops, clinics and camps, ecology projects, citizenship and international activities will be among activities to be staged at the Center," Dr. Donald L. Stormer, state 4-H and youth leader, explains.

Proof that the proposed 4-H Center is important to youth is evident from the fact that 4-H'ers throughout the state conducted chocolate sales to earn $134,000, and business and industry groups have pledged another $200,000 toward the project.

Within each Extension district, 4-H Youth Foundation Trustees and other leaders have formed committees to set district goals and make plans for reaching these goals. A total of $1.5 million is needed to construct the Center.

"This means that our county has established a goal within the District II framework to share in this important project. The local goal has been set for $3000.00 and a fund committee has been organized," says Warren.

Serving as chairman of the 4-H Center Fund Committee for Floyd County is F. G. Jones. Committee members include Henry Hinton and Dean Hinton, Dougherty; Mrs. Gayle McPherson and Christie Ford, Lone Star; J. B. Colston and Karin Kunkel, Floydada; Mrs. Kenneth Broseh and Marcia Fortenberry, Lockney; and Mrs. Monroe Schulz and Patsy Schulz, Harmony.

EDITORIAL

4-H BUILDS FOR TOMORROW

Young people and their adult program leaders in Floyd County are literally "building for tomorrow" as they attempt to make a dream become a reality.

These young people and their program leaders believe that Texas 4-H members need a permanent home where many educational programs and activities can be conducted throughout the year. Many other states operate year-round centers for 4-H.

Thus, youth and leaders of Floyd County are joining with others from throughout Texas to help bring about a 4-H Center for Texas. "Put it all together with a 4-H Center" is the theme selected for the current 4-H Center campaign.

Floyd County young people some time ago assisted in the first phase of the campaign to raise funds for a State 4-H Center. They conducted a massive chocolate sales campaign, and with the help of leaders and local citizens they raised $250.00 for the project.

The enthusiasm of the young people and their adult leaders apparently motivated other business and industry groups around the state to join in the project. This spirit of cooperation is again needed as local citizens move to complete the building fund program. A 78-acre site overlooking scenic Lake Brownwood has been selected, and architects have drawn the plans for the proposed Center.

If county 4-H members and adult leaders or committee members assisting with the Center project contact you within the next several weeks, you'll have an opportunity to help them realize their building fund goal. The educational facility will serve other youth as well as 4-H, and will help mold our leaders of tomorrow.

Lockney Satellite Board Meets

Lockney Satellite School board members, meeting last Thursday night, announced that applications are still being accepted for the position as teacher. Applications should be made to Mrs. Bill Evans, present teacher, or any member of the board.

Mrs. Evans' last day at the school will be May 30, and the school will then be on vacation until June 15.

Board members were told that a psychologist from Lubbock State School would be at the Satellite School this week to test the children in familiar surroundings.

The board meeting at the bank ended with Kay Thornton expressing in verse the board's appreciation to Mrs. Evans. The board also wants to thank all persons who helped in any way this year.

Present for the meeting were T. J. Askew, Douglas Degge, Bennie Anderson, Donnie Meriwether, Eleanor Hawkins of Floydada, Annabell Bramlett, Vida Hrbacek, Cheryl Bradley, Kay Thornton, Karen Evans and Geneva Stansell.

Food Market Basket Holds Surprise

Three-fourths of all pet food, two-thirds of all toothpaste, and over half of all aspirin and baby powder are sold through food stores. Non-food items like these account for about 25 cents of every dollar spent by the average consumer at the grocery.

Care Center Happenings

By Faye Walters

Sadness came again this week to our nursing home with the passing of Mrs. Martin Smith. She had only been with us a short time, but everyone had already learned to love her and she will surely be missed.

She was almost 90 years old but you would never think it. She was very alert and very interesting to talk to.

Our devotions have been wonderful and Thursday we had a real treat. Victoria Bartlett came out and gave the devotion. It was a "first" I think for us, as she was one of our residents a short time ago. With the loving care she received while here she improved enough to go home. But she had so much fun here she said, she comes back to see us every time she can.

The ladies from City Park Church of Christ had the birthday party of the month Thursday. Cake and punch were served to all and everyone had a nice time.

There were two birthdays in May. Henry Baker was 93 years and Ollie Stewart was 88 years old. We hope they will both enjoy many more years with us.

We are all looking forward to Sunday, May 27 for our Open House.

Rev. L. D. Kramer, president of Challenge Homes will be with us and Mark Carter, their public relations man, will also be here.

We hope you will come out and meet the man who started the first Challenge Nursing Home in Glenwood, Minnesota and hear him speak.

Our activity group will have some arts and crafts on display to show.

Kramer To Speak At Care Center Sunday

L. D. Kramer, founder/president of Challenge Ministries, Inc., will be in Floydada in person on Sunday, May 27, as a part of the festivities at the special open house at Challenge's Floydada Care Center.

Rev. Kramer will be speaking at the home, which is located at 925 West Crockett Street, some time between 3 and 4:30 p.m. — the hours during which the Center will be open to the public.

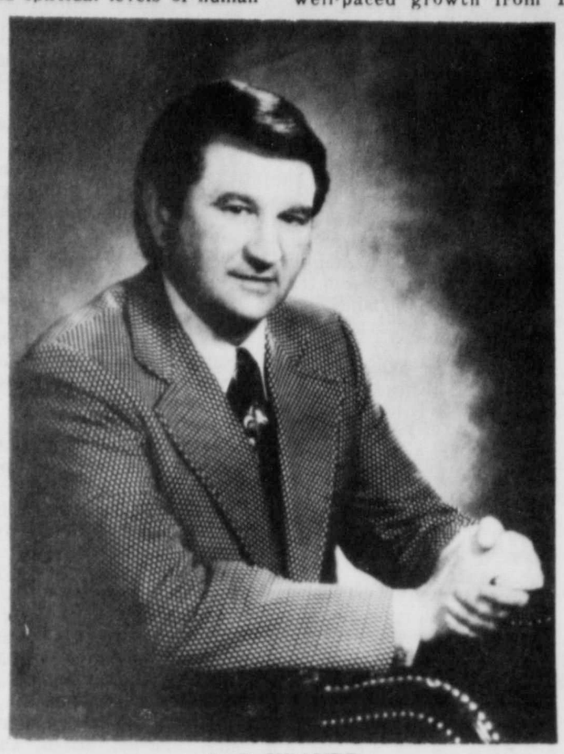

Also present to greet friends, family and neighbors will be Floydada Care Centers' Administrator, Dartha Westbrook. She is an experienced professional who has been trained in care for the elderly.

Kramer heads Challenge Ministries, the largest organization of its kind in the nation. As a not-for-profit, religiously-based operation, Challenge consists presently of 41 care centers like Floydada in 8 states — primarily in the Midwest. In addition, Kramer is the nationally-known host of TV's "Challenge of Truth", now seen around the country on selected TV markets.

The key to the Challenge organization's uniqueness is what Kramer calls "the whole man" concept, meaning that his staff of several hundred throughout the nation are determined to meet people's needs on the physical, mental and spiritual levels of human existence. The organization's well-paced growth from 1 home ten years ago to its current 41 care centers bears out the success of this concept.

Rev. Kramer's international responsibilities have taken him around the globe several times, the most recent venture being a very successful series of crusade meetings in Madras and Bangalore, India in February of 1973. He also ministered to people in Korea, Japan, Israel, Italy and Germany on the venture conducted with his associates on the Challenge team.

Kramer will also be speaking in church services in Floydada on May 27; details may be obtained by contacting Floydada Care Center at 983-3704. All friends and relatives of Challenge, as well as all of the fine people of the Floydada area, are cordially invited to attend both the evening services and the Floydada Care Center open house.

Distinguished Guest At Local Church

The Rev. L. D. Kramer of Glenwood, Minnesota, will be the guest speaker Sunday evening (May 27) at 7 p.m. at The Assembly of God Church in Floydada, according to the pastor, W. L. Hopkins.

Rev. Kramer is the president of Challenge Homes, Inc., (formerly known as Assembly Homes, Inc.) which is non-profit, religiously oriented chain of nursing homes which operates 40 homes in 9 states. The motto of this organization is "Dedicated to Serve God and Man". The philosophy is to minister to the whole man — mentally, spiritually and physically — through the more than 1700 dedicated employees. At the present time there are over 3000 residents under the care of this corporation. Expansion is the key word in the growth of the corporation. It all started with a 14 bed nursing home 12 years ago, with the present business of caring for elderly folk, making it a leader in this field.

The Rev. Kramer appears each week on the gospel telecast, "A Challenge of Truth", which is seen over 60 TV outlets, with a listening audience of over 3,000,000 across the nation. To compliment this ministry, Rev. Kramer also publishes a "book-of-the-month", which is prepared by a writing staff. These books deal in various areas of life with the purpose of challenging each individual to realize their full potential in living. A book is being planned for each month for the next five years.

There are other areas of outreach for this organization and its president, Rev. Kramer. Each summer the Challenge Ministry Team conducts services for the annual "Fly-In" worship service at the Alexandria Airport; Rev. Kramer known as the "riding parson" speaks at the annual Trail Side Worship Service of the world's largest trail ride; and Rev. Kramer conducts the Galilean Worship Service held in conjunction with the yearly Waterama Celebration in Glenwood with upwards of 3000 people gathered on the shores of Lake Minnewaska.

Challenge Homes has entered the field of caring for mentally retarded children with the first home in Austin, Minnesota. Plans are being made for outreach and help to the underprivileged, the alcoholic, the unwed mother, and other unfortunates in our society.

Rev. Kramer has been honored and feted in many ways. He is a holder of the "Distinguished Service Award" for being the "outstanding young business man" of this community. He has been made honorary mayor in a number of communities where his organization has nursing homes.

Rev. Kramer's travels have taken him to several foreign countries. He ministered in Costa Rica and was one of 1500 invited guests to the World's Prophecy Convention, held in Jerusalem, Israel. He recently returned from a 15 day trip to the Far East where he ministered for 8 days in the City of Madras, India. So well received was his ministry, that he was invited to be the special guest in the homes of several government officials. W. L. Hopkins, pastor of the Floydada Assembly of God Church, stated: "I am delighted to have the Challenge Ministry Team for a visit in our church. The public is cordially invited to attend these meetings."

Rev. Kramer has just returned from his second missionary journey to India. His trip carried him around the world and he was also privileged to speak at the world's largest pentecostal church in Seoul, Korea.

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M.C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Adventure is as much a part of man as his pants. Since time immemorial people have defied the elements and prudent judgment to accomplish something not entirely definable. The performers of certain acts are more often than not referred to as some sort of "nut."

The "flagpole" sitting vogue of a few years ago was supposedly to prove endurance and determination. Walking a narrow ledge on a high building attracts attention and that's probably what it's for.

To climb a mountain, swim a channel or shoot rapids must give an inner satisfaction of conquering.

To prove a theory such as the flow of ocean currents inspired the "Kontiki's" trip from Peru to Samoa and the Fiji Islands. The Norwegian, Thor Heyerdahl, tried to sail a replica of a 5000 year old Egyptian reed boat from Morocco to Mexico but he and his crew had to give up and abandon ship in shark-filled waters just 600 miles short of their destination. They tried it again and made it with an assist from military craft.

A three-week period hardly passes that the park police on the upper Potomac here in Washington do not have to rescue some ambitious canoeist from treacherous rocks in midstream and it is not too unusual that lives are lost.

News accounts tell of helicopter lifts from mountainsides when the amateur climber becomes stranded. Any day, weather permitting (and sometimes when it doesn't permit), climbers can be seen around Boulder and Colorado Springs, Colorado. The Rockies, Alps, Himalayas, Andes — always being climbed — the seas always being challenged.

Edward Lear wrote:

"They went to sea in a sieve, they did;
In a sieve they went to sea;
In spite of all their friends could say,
On a winters morn, on a stormy day,
In a sieve they went to sea."

Columbus had a purpose. The Norwegians gave the world Eric Thorraldsson and his son, Leif. Leif Erickson probably discovered more of the north of our planet than any other. Now, however, the Norwegians are reported to be cracking down on "hazardous, meaningless" expeditions, such as "doubtful Atlantic crossings by amateurs in small vessels" The reason: It's too expensive to rescue them.

Here at home a recent news article reports plans of a Salt Lake City mother and a Utah auto mechanic to sail the Atlantic the other way in a 16-foot canoe. It is understood that the Coast Guard is less than happy with the coming event. They seem to feel they have enough to do in protecting those in troubled waters who are there on business or pleasure without the additional responsibility of watching over the "nuts."

They have a point and so does the taxpayer whose money supports this kind of rescue operation.

For this reason someone will want to legislate against this sort of bad judgment. When they think of it, they will want to prohibit any such undertaking. There are laws against what might be safe for others in boats, ships and crafts and all kinds on land, sea and air but how would restraints be put on those whose adventurous spirit impels them to take odds on chance of survivial?

If someone wants to put to sea in a sieve on a stormy day, climb the rugged mountain or swim the swiftest currents, let him try it — but not be encouraged to do it with the expectation that his guardian angel will be tax-supported equipment.

During the year students of Mrs. Carolyn Cheek presented a Christmas program from the porch of the Montgomery ranch house replica. Clubs held their Christmas programs in the museum before a decorated giant cedar tree, which was brought up from the breaks by Duncan Hollums, Jim Word, Ted Bell and the late Eli Neff. Recently there have been added 30 folding chairs to the museum. These are gifts from the 1922 Study Club and which were greatly needed for groups that gather.

The museum directors report their appreciation for the continued support by the community as they carry out long range plans for developing the educational displays in the Museum. The Surginer family, who donated the brick building, will be given special recognition in a ceremony planned in their honor on their next visit to Floydada.

The museum also reports generous sums for the organization's development have been received as memorial gifts from the individuals and families...

We're proud our seeds have earned the trust of farmers like these...

J. M. Carter recorded a yield of 8000 pounds on 50 acres of Pioneer brand 848. "It stands well, and takes less water," says J. M. Carter, RR 1, Lockney, Texas.

J. T. Terrell, Jr. recorded a yield of 7000 pounds on 100 acres of Pioneer brand 828. A champion yielder with plenty of moisture and fertility, 828 can do well for you like it did for J. T. Terrell, Jr., Rt. 2, Lockney, Texas.

Because we were the first company to commercially produce nybrid corn and with 17 years of work on sorghum, we know a lot more about hybrids and how to make crosses that really yield. We've had longer to test and re-test our varieties. We've stuck with some of our early crosses, and we keep developing new ones to fit every growing condition imaginable.

For the Southern Panhandle and Plains area we recommend these sorghum, corn and forage hybrids . . .

Pioneer brand 846—excellent drouth resistance—consistent high yields—MDM and smut resistant—medium maturity.

Pioneer brand 820—good yielder under stress—outstanding with plenty of water and fertility—MDM resistant—full season.

Pioneer brand 8417—new yellow endosperm sorghum—champion yielder in medium maturity class—large open heads—does well on all types of land.

Pioneer brand 3369A—a corn with outstanding seedling vigor—tolerant to blight—good roots and stalks—good ear retention—heavy grain yield.

Pioneer brand 3306—excellent for grain or silage—drouth resistant—single cross—well-suited to narrow rows.

Pioneer brand 988—sorghum sudangrass hybrid for pasture, greenchop, hay or haylage—ready to cut or graze in a little more than a month—regrows again and again all summer with adequate moisture and fertilizer.

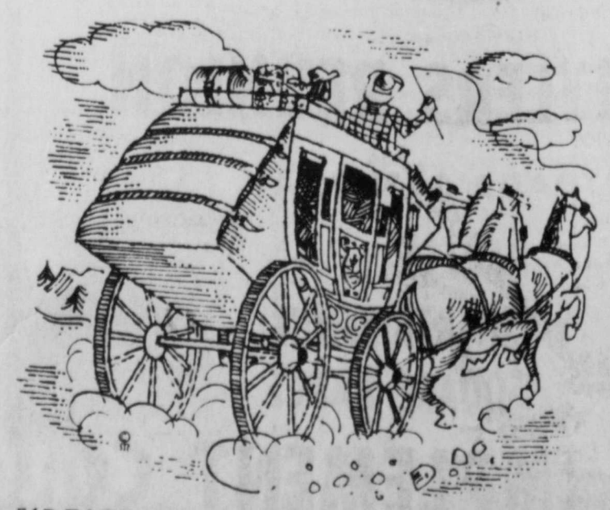

When you choose a hybrid for your land, choose one from the company that started it all . . .
