Squall Moves In To Soak Parts Of State

By The Associated Press

Drenching rains borne by a tropical squall moved north and west in Texas Tuesday.

Downpours that soaked the Rio Grande Valley Monday had slacked off, but thundershowers hit Houston, Corpus Christi, and points as far north as Wichita Falls.

Measurements included: Houston 2.20 inches, Austin 1.2, San Antonio .32, Corpus Christi .60, Del Rio .39, Laredo .94, Palacios .49, Amarillo .56.

Llano in the drought-stricken Texas Hill Country received rains up to two inches—the best since May.

The rains came from a tropical storm that swept into Texas Monday with all the ingredients of a hurricane except the strength. Before moving out of the Rio Grande Valley, the storm flooded parts of Brownsville, Edinburg and McAllen.

The water-bearing winds that lashed the Lower Valley eased off after businesses were closed and residents were chased from their homes in several cities of the area.

No deaths or injuries were reported, but at Brownsville—where a total of 8.35 inches of tropical downpour inundated all low places—some 300 persons were forced from their homes as water stacked up 2 to 4 feet deep over some 35 blocks.

Brownsville schools, closed by the water Monday, were expected to be open Tuesday and by midnight Monday most of the evacuees had returned to their water-logged homes.

Several businesses were also closed in McAllen where 5 inches of rain caused high water along U.S. Highway 83, the Valley's "Main Street."

Some Edinburg stores had to close when automobiles creeping down the flooded Main Street sent wavelets lapping into the business establishments. Edinburg reported 4.33 inches of rain, but only 1 inch fell in the northern end of Hidalgo County as the storm lost its punch.

Other totals in the area included Weslaco 4.1, Donna 3.00, Ed Couch-Elsea 2.6, La Joya 2.1, Rio Grande City 1, and Roma .52.

Five miles east of Brownsville, at the international airport, 6.67 inches of rain was reported with 1½ feet stacked up on the runways Monday afternoon. Ten inches of water covered the floor of the administration building at the airport.

The Weather Bureau said the tropical disturbance and a cool front creeping into the Panhandle might bring some good showers Tuesday to South Central and maybe North Texas.

The week cool front was causing a flow of southeast winds across the state from the tropical storm, the Weather Bureau said. Temperatures were expected to be lowered by the front only in the Panhandle.

Sunrise temperatures Tuesday morning ranged from 52 at Dalhart, back of the front, to 78 at Galveston, the island resort city in the Gulf. The highest maximum Monday, 98, was at Presidio but most temperatures around the state were in the 80's.

Forecasts called for scattered showers and thundershowers Tuesday and Wednesday and little change in temperature except slightly cooler in the Panhandle.

Nolan Gets Discovery In Caddo Lime

Roark & Hooker and the Chicago Corp., both of Abilene, have announced the completion of a flowing discovery from the Caddo lime at the No. 1 Mrs. J. Etta Casseaux in Northeast Nolan County.

The strike was finaled for a calculated 24-hour potential flow of 258.24 barrels of oil. The potential was based on an actual 17-hour flow of 183 barrels of 48-gravity oil through a quarter-inch choke. Production is through perforations at 5,506-531 feet. Casing was set at 5,699 feet, one foot above the bottom. Gas-oil ratio on the test was 944-1.

The discovery is three miles northwest of Trent and one mile northeast of the closest Caddo producer in the White Flat multipay field. It is 2,188 feet from north and 467 feet from west lines of section 31-91-T&P.

COKE EXTENDER

A five-eighth-mile northwest extender to the Wendkirk-Cisco field of Southeast Coke County has been indicated at Plymouth Oil Co. No. 2 R. E. Hickman.

A 30-minute drillstem test from 3,626-642 feet had gas at the surface in eight minutes and oil in 21 minutes. The project was flowed to pits for nine minutes and made an estimated 100 barrels of oil per hour.

The drillpipe unloaded 3,618 feet of oil, with recovery 30 feet of oil.

Five and one-half-inch casing has been set at 3,642 feet in the Cisco sand and operator is now waiting for cement to harden. The pipe will then be perforated for testing.

Location is 330 feet from southeast and 660 feet from northeast lines of S. A. Maverick survey 961, six miles southeast of Robert Lee.

SCURRY COUNTY

Superior Oil No. 1-537 Mathis in Northwest Scurry is drillstem testing from 8,204-244 feet in lime and chert.

A one-hour test from 8,182-204 feet recovered 100 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud with no free oil or water. All pressures were zero.

Nat'l Guard Called Tops By Inspector

The Snyder National Guard unit had 100 per cent attendance last night at its annual inspection by a representative of the Army's Inspector General Department.

Several of the company's members drove long distances for the inspection. At least 14 of them traveled more than 85 miles.

Lt. Col. L. C. Scoggin, member of the Fourth Army IG staff at San Antonio, made the inspection. Yesterday afternoon, Scoggin checked over records, equipment, and facilities. Inspecting the company's 100 enlisted men in ranks last night, Scoggin commented that the Snyder unit is one of the best he had ever seen.

The unit will receive in about a month a detailed report of Scoggin's findings. Last year, for the entire year up to the time the unit attended the last summer camp, the Snyder group earned National Guard rating, for the year's operations. In the past year, the unit has had an average drill attendance of 91.2 per cent.

Princess Margaret To Tour Holiday Islands

LONDON (AP) Princess Margaret will tour the Holiday Islands of the British West Indies soon.

An official announcement last night said the 24-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II would tour Trinidad, the Bahamas—150 miles off the Florida coast — Grenada, Barbados, Antigua and Jamaica in the royal yacht Britannia.

The announcement did not give the exact dates of the trip.

Four Ordinances Get Council Okay

Four ordinances were passed on final reading, and a request for platting of property located north of Thirty-seventn Street on Avenue S was made to the city council last night.

First reading of an ordinance to set the speed limit of Santa Fe trains inside the city limits at 30 miles per hour was passed unanimously.

Two of the ordinances passed on second reading designate parking areas near the city hall, and the other two concern the budget and tax rate for this year.

Ten minute parking in front of the city hall from the alley east of the city hall to the west side of the police station on the south side of Twenty-sixth Street is established by the first of the two ordinances, and parking except by authorized vehicles is prohibited on the west side of the police station and city utility warehouse by the second ordinance.

Parking in the area will be restricted to city owned vehicles.

The city budget for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 was approved on final reading of the budget ordinance, and the tax rate of $1.50 per $100 valuation was approved unanimously in final reading of the fourth ordinance.

Fred Cullum, owner of part of the property adjacent to Avenue S and north of Thirty-seventh Street on the west side of the street, requested the city to dedicate Thirty-fifth Street through from Avenue S to Avenue U. However, Cullum stated that if the street cannot be opened, he would submit another plan for platting of the property for business development.

The council agreed to investigate the possibility of opening the street. Two other persons, J. D. Scott, and G. M. Heizelmann, own part of the property on which the street would be located if opened.

Cullum said that he has spent about $8,300 for dirt work in leveling the property he owns, and property owned by R. E. Patterson and others on the hillside.

Cullum stated that he would donate the land for the street on his property, and would curb, gutter and pave the street on his land, if it is opened all the way through from Avenue S to Avenue U, but would not donate land for the street on his property unless it is opened all the way.

Approval of an expense of $75 to paint the outside of two water well houses, and the old booster station at the city water plant at Thirty-second Street and Avenue M was approved by the council.

A request of the Quarterback Club to place signs advertising home games of the Snyder high school football team on the pedestrian islands on corners of the square was not granted. The council approved an alternate plan for the Quarterback club to place the signs on the street adjacent to the pedestrian islands.

Six city officials indicated last night they would attend the meeting of the League of Texas Municipalities in Fort Worth Oct. 24 to 26. They are Walter Hales, J. W. Phillips, C. N. von Roeder, councilmen; Malven K. Stevenson, mayor; W. W. Park, city attorney; and B. J. Shelley, city manager.

A request was made by Scott & Browning Development Co. to enlarge a contract between the city and the firm for laying of water and sewer lines in the Highlands area south of the present city limits for residential development of the area. The firm now has several houses under construction in the area. The new contract will permit development of the block south of their present project.

A sewer line now traversing the property will have to be abandoned because it would not serve the new development. The building

Delaware Is Trying To Abolish NAAWP

DOVER, Del. (AP)—The State of Delaware goes to court today in an attempt to abolish the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, one of the leaders in the recent successful fight against racial integration in the Milford high school.

Atty. Gen. H. Albert Young said last night in Wilmington that he would bring the action in the Court of Chancery here and at the same time would ask that a receiver be appointed to wind up the affairs of the association, chartered in Delaware.

Young contended that the NAAWP had violated its charter which provided it would "promote and protect the constitutional guarantees of citizenship in the United States." The NAAWP's actions in opposing integration and aiding in a boycott at the Milford school and in sympathy boycotts elsewhere "abused the term of its charter," Young averred.

Also sought by Young was an injunction against Bryant Bowles, the president, and other NAAWP officers, forbidding them "from soliciting memberships and collecting dues."

Meanwhile, Bowles was reported planning a meeting in Philadelphia today. Bowles said last night he expected to have a meeting in Philadelphia with "the cops." He did not elaborate. But this was taken to mean he expected trouble with Philadelphia authorities.

The Delaware attorney general said he would subpoena the officers of the NAAWP to deliver to him "their books, records and minutes of meetings concerning opposition to racial integration in the schools as well as a record of its expenditures in its opposition to racial integration."

If Young's requests are granted by the court, it would probably mean an end to the organized effectiveness of the NAAWP.

Young also sought to get lists of the organization's members, an accounting of gifts received and lists of those who paid dues.

Young announced last Friday that his office would conduct an investigation over the weekend of possible law violations in connection with a series of mass meetings held by the NAAWP in Sussex County, the area in which Milford is located.

Bowles appeared last night at Glen Burnie, Md., to promise before a crowd of 500 that he would lead a battle against integration in Maryland schools. It could not be determined who arranged for the meeting.

In another development yesterday, the Presbytery of Delaware in a meeting at New Castle adopted a resolution urging all its members to refrain from school boycotts and other manifestations of racism.

In New York, Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, asked Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. to make it clear "the full force of the federal government stands behind efforts to desegregate schools."

1,000 Out Of Work In Dallas Area

By The Associated Press

About 1,000 workers were thrown out of work in the Dallas area alone Tuesday after some 3,000 boilermakers in a five-state region went on strike.

F. P. Murphy of Little Rock, Ark., an official of the American Federation of Labor Boilermakers, Local 592, said the boilermakers in Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico are seeking a 10-cent hourly pay boost.

Pickets went up in Dallas at the construction sites of two electric power projects and an industrial plant expansion job. Other workers refused to cross picket lines.

In Little Rock, Murphy said no pickets had been posted at the Blakely Dam project near Hot Springs, Ark., and he declined to say whether pickets would be used there later.

The workers are on strike against the South Central Employers Assn., composed of about 110 contractors in the five-state area. Besides the 10-cent hourly pay boost, the workers are asking for a 7½-cent-per-hour payment by the company into a union welfare fund.

Doctors To Study Separating Twins

CHICAGO (AP) — The head-joined Andrews twins today were to be taken from the hospital to the Neuropsychiatric Institute where doctors will commence studies to determine the feasibility of a separation operation.

Born in St. Anne's Hospital Friday, the Siamese twin girls were seen by their mother, Mrs. Norene Andrews, 33, for the first time yesterday. The father, Wilfred J. 38, is a salesman.

The Neuropsychiatric Institute, an adjunct of the University of Illinois, is the hospital on Chicago's West Side where the Brodie twins, joined at the head, were separated in an historic operation in 1952. Rodney Dee Brodie survived the surgery. His brother, Roger Lee, died soon after the operation.

Andrews said he and his wife are optimistic that doctors with the advantage of their experience in the Brodie case—may be able to separate and save both of their babies.

Longshoremen Tie Up Port With Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — A strike by longshoremen in a wage dispute today tied up the world's largest and busiest port for the second time in six months.

Tugboats still were operating and big liners were able to dock, but there was nobody to unload the cargoes.

There was no immediate prospect of a settlement between the International Longshoremens Assn., an independent union, and the New York Shipping Assn., representing steamship lines and stevedoring firms.

Baltimore and other East Coast ports laid plans to handle cargoes expected to be diverted from New York as they were during a 29-day walkout last March and April.

The American Export Liner Independence, first large ship to arrive since the strike started last midnight, berthed without difficulty at Pier 84, Hudson River and 44th Street. Tugs nosed her to the pier where non-longshore employes of the company handled the lines and the passengers' luggage.

The Cunard Liner Queen Mary docked later in a similar manner.

John F. Gehan, vice president of the American Export Line, arriving on the Independence from a Mediterranean vacation, told newsmen a long strike would mean permanent loss of port business.

Police, mounted and on foot, patrolled the waterfront.

All 159 piers along the port's 350-mile waterfront except military docks in Brooklyn and Staten Island appeared to be hit by the strike.

Strikers, wearing hastily-scribbled sandwich signs reading, "ILA officially on strike," picketed all piers at which ships were berthed, with the exception of military piers exempted from the strike.

Student Strikes Ending In Baltimore, Schools Picking Up

BALTIMORE (AP)—The school situation in Baltimore apparently was returning to normal today after several days of student strikes, picketing and mass protests over the integration of Negro and white pupils.

Schools over the city reported attendance on the increase.

Pickets appeared at one or two schools but were broken up by police. At least two groups of youngsters, apparently trying to start another parade like yesterday's march through the downtown area, were similarly dispersed.

There was no sign of pickets or other protests at Southern High School, scene of an ugly disturbance last Friday and the object of picketing again yesterday.

Police acted firmly under orders from commissioner Beverly Ober, who announced in television talks last night and today that pickets outside schools would be treated as lawbreakers. Ober quoted a state law that forbids disturbing any public school in session in support of his stand.

At Southern High today, Principal John H. Schwatka notified students that a record of truancy would be placed against them if they are absent in the future without a legitimate excuse.

He added that prolonged absence after tomorrow would "result in suspension or final expulsion."

Southern has an enrollment of 1,787 students. Normally, about 7 per cent are absent from legitimate reasons, according to Schwatka. He said today's attendance soared to 895 over the total of 503 present yesterday.

Opponents of integrated schools got an offer of help last night from the man who led the fight against mixed classes in Delaware last week.

W. Bryant Bowles, president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, climbed on the back of a truck at an auto raceway to boast to a crowd of 300 that under his leadership Negroes were forced out of schools in Milford, Del., "without a fist being swung."

"We told them in Delaware we'd help them if they would avoid violence and we're telling you the same thing," Bowles said.

Police Commissioner Beverly Ober did some telling of his own. Speaking over all three of the city's television stations, Ober warned that under city law any person disturbing any public school in session is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Any person who induces or attempts to induce any child to absent himself from school also is liable to prosecution, he said.

Under these sections of the city code, Ober said, he deems it the duty of the Police Department to stop all picketing or assemblies in the neighborhood of the city's schools.

"In the event of future demonstrations, he said, we're going to get tough."

Television also was used by Dr. John H. Fischer, city superintendent of schools, to level a charge that an attempt is being made deliberately to sabotage the city school system. "False rumors, evil rumors—all false—are being circulated in an effort to frighten parents and children," he said.

Fisher urged parents to send their children to school.

Baltimore's integration tempest began last Thursday with the picketing of School No. 34, an elementary institution. On Friday, the picketing spread to five other schools.

At Southern High School, a crowd of about 400 white adults and teenagers shouted threats at the Negro students leaving the building. One man was fined $100 for striking a Negro boy.

After a quiet weekend, protests again flared up yesterday, but there was no violence. The protests were limited mostly to bands of high school students marching through the streets. But police kept them moving.

9-Year-Old Spat Ends With Division

By STAN SWINTON

ROME (AP) —Italy and Yugoslavia formally settled their bitter nine-year dispute over the Trieste free territory today and agreed on its division between them.

The division virtually coincides with the occupation boundaries established in 1945, with Italy getting the key Adriatic port of Trieste and Yugoslavia retaining the zone she has occupied since World War II.

The settlement, signed in London at noon today and announced simultaneously in Rome and Belgrade, is expected to make possible the closing of the last gap in the Western defense line across southeastern Europe. Although both Italy and Yugoslavia are strongly anti-Russian, they had refused to cooperate militarily in the past because of their rivalry over Trieste.

The next step may be inclusion of Italy in the Balkan antiaggression alliance Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey signed in August.

The agreement was a triumph for U.S.-British diplomacy, which prodded the two Adriatic Sea neighbors through long negotiations in London, Washington, New York, Rome and Belgrade.

The two nations' ambassadors to Britain, Manlio Brosio of Italy and Vladimir Velebit, signed the accord in the British capital. It was there that the agreement was drafted into its final form.

Trieste itself went on a flag waving anthem singing holiday. About 4,000 Triestini of all ages were gathered in Piazza del Unita to hear announcement of the settlement. The people were in high, good humor. Thousands of Italian flags hung from apartment houses and store windows.

"A great day for Italy," said Premier Mario Scelba as he told his Cabinet formally of the agreement this morning. "I am very happy," he added. "Finally we are going back into Trieste." Shortly after the Cabinet approved the agreement and instructed Brosio to sign it.

At midmorning, Italy was taking the news of the agreement calmly, despite Fascist and Communist opposition to the settlement. Extraordinary police forces were on duty in Rome, Trieste and all major cities.

The Fascists oppose the compromise because Italy doesn't get all the territory. The Reds are against it because Moscow is.

Under the agreement:

1. The port of Trieste and the rest of Zone A, except for a small strip on the southern border near Lazzaretto, go to Italy. The zone has been under British-American military occupation since World War II.

2. Zone B, along with the small Lazzaretto strip, becomes Yugoslav. The zone had been under Yugoslav control since Marshal Tito's partisans swarmed in on May 1 1945.

3. The 3,000 Italians in the Lazzaretto strip can return to Italian-controlled territory and be compensated for their holdings if they desire. Some already have begun moving.

4. Yugoslavia will have full access to the port of Trieste.

5. Minority rights are guaranteed for both Italians in Yugoslav territory and Yugoslavs in Italian territory.

6. The 4,000 American and 3,000 British troops in Zone A will be withdrawn in stages over the next three weeks.

7. The United States and Britain in a supplementary statement announced they consider the settlement as final. Neither Italy nor Yugoslavia officially waived its claim to that portion of the territory assigned the other. However, both actually expect the new boundaries to exist indefinitely.

Italian administrators will make their formal entry into Trieste city tomorrow, to be greeted by waving red, white and green Italian flags throughout the city.

Maj. Gen. Edmondo de Renzi, former deputy chief of staff for NATO's southern command, will lead Italy's delegation. He will act as military governor until a civil administration can take over.

Yugoslavs Get News Without Enthusiasm

By ALEX SINGLETON

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Communist Yugoslavia received the announcement of the Trieste agreement today quietly, but—as the semiofficial news agency Yugopress put it—"without enthusiasm."

Foreign Office spokesmen said Yugoslavia had made "maximum sacrifices," agreeing to the decision in the interests of peace and for improvement of relations with Italy.

Yugospress, quoting these sources, said the agreement had been reached at a time of general appeasement among nations to avoid the danger of a new war.

There was no immediate reaction among the public such as that of last October, when violent demonstrations were touched off by the announcement by Britain and the United States of plans to pull their occupation troops out of Zone A of the strategic free territory and turn over the zone's administration to Italy.

Yugopress said the official opinion of President Marshall Tito's regime was based on a belief that the Trieste settlement, on the part of Italy, "represents one of the most realistic and most reasonable moves of that government since the end of the war."

However, it said Italy's action does not show a basic change of Italian policy toward Yugoslavia, but only a "more realistic attitude."

The agency, with close connections with the Foreign Office, said this could pave the way for "good neighbor relations" between the two.

Picketing Is Continued In Washington

By The Associated Press

Demonstrations against racial integration in the public schools spread in Washington today but the situation eased in neighboring Baltimore, scene of noisy disorders for the past several days.

Strikes and picketing were reported at eight Washington schools including Anacostia and McKinley High Schools where youngsters maintained a defiant attitude despite pleas from school officials and police patrols on duty. The demonstrations started there yesterday.

A new demonstration was staged this morning at all-white Eastern High School with several hundred pupils taking part. Strike action was reported at five junior high schools.

In Baltimore school attendance increased with the situation apparently returning to normal after student strikes, picketing and mass protests over the integration of the races in schools.

New Price Pact For Red China And Ceylon

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Prime Minister Sir John Kotelawela announced today that Ceylon and Communist China will sign a new price pact in Peiping tomorrow under their rubber for rice agreement.

Kotelawela told the House of Representatives the price Peiping will pay for Ceylonese rubber and charge for Chinese rice will surprise even those "who are aware what bargaining in Peiping means."

The Prime Minister declined to give details of the new deal until after the signing.

Narcotics Ranked With Communism

ODESSA (AP)—About 100 peace officers heard narcotics ranked with communism here yesterday and listened to an explanation of why no communists have been arrested in Texas.

They were attending the first in a regional series of conferences sponsored by the Texas Police Assn.

W. E. (Dub) Naylor, chief of the narcotics section of the State Dept. of Public Safety, said his bureau was serving temporarily as a central information center only. He blamed a lack of funds and said the bureau would be expanded when more money was available.

Naylor said the use of narcotics among youngsters is the most serious phase of the dope problem. "Many teenagers," he said try their first marihuana because they don't want to be 'chicken'."

He said it took about $36 per day to satisfy an inveterate addict's needs. This leads to other crime, Naylor said.

N. K. Dixon, the SPDS's security section chief, said one of communism's keenest weapons was to shatter public confidence in law enforcement officers.

Four educators were on hand early for Monday night's meeting of the Oil Belt Schoolmasters and School Board Association. From left are Dr. W. M. Madley, superintendent of Midland schools; Dr. A. J. Stoddard, recently retired as superintendent of schools in Los Angeles, Calif.; Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of Snyder Schools; and Nat Williams, superintendent of Lubbock schools.

Educator Praises Work Of Teachers

American school teachers are doing a better job of teaching the "three R's" than ever before, according to Dr. A. J. Stoddard, noted educator who recently retired as superintendent of schools in Los Angeles, Calif.

Dr. Stoddard was in Snyder yesterday for a meeting of the Oil Belt Schoolmasters and School Board Association.

While here, he made a tour of Snyder schools and addressed members of the faculty at a special meeting in the High School auditorium.

Frequently there are complaints that today's teachers are neglecting the so-called basic courses, but in fact teachers now are giving more instruction in the "three R's" and doing a better job of it than any of their predecessors did, Dr. Stoddard declared.

He said this was true because the "three R's" have expanded and because teachers have better training and more instruction materials to work with than ever before.

"People fail to realize this, because many other things are being taught now at the same time," Dr. Stoddard explained.

He warned that teachers are charged with the responsibility of preparing their pupils to live in a world vastly different from that of 50 years ago, or even today.

"You must prepare your pupils for a world in which they will travel in planes at 700 miles per hour," he warned teachers.

Also he reminded that the teacher's responsibility is limited to the space between covers of textbooks. The pupils should be provided with a basis for loyalty to their country, he declared. This can be accomplished, he suggested, by giving the pupils thorough instruction on how America's freedom was won and by emphasizing that it must be won all over again constantly.

Dr. Stoddard said those who express belief that teachers do not influence their pupils are sadly mistaken.

Teachers have the power to determine the destiny of the country, he said.

Dr. Stoddard retired this year after a 49-year career in the field of education.

The council also approved a plan for immediate enforcement of the city sanitation ordinance which prohibits burning of weeds and trash by residents and business owners.

Scurry In 10th Place For Drilling Activity

Fines Dip In Local Court

Fines and costs collected in justice and county courts here during September totaled $1,525.25, far below the total for both these courts during the same month of last year, which was $2,643.

The total last month was $201.25 higher, however, than the total for August of this year, which was $1,324.

Last month's collections of fines and costs in county court totaled $730.50, lacking $1,006.50 matching the total of September, 1953.

Justice court's collections last month amounted to $794.75, only $111.25 below the September total of 1953.

In county court last month, fines assessed in the 12 cases totaled $435, and costs assessed totaled $313.50, making the total of assessments $748.50, but credit for jail time served in lieu of payment amounted to $18, leaving collections $730.50.

Fines in 58 justice court cases last month totaled $281.75, and costs amounted to $513. These figures do not concern a few cases in which defendants served jail time in lieu of fines.

During August, this year, county court collections in only six criminal cases totaled only $204, less than third of last month's figure; and justice court collections in 70 criminal cases amounted to $1,120, more than $300 above last month's total.

Officials Line Up To Testify In Paris Today

PARIS (AP) — High French political figures of the right, left and center lined up today to testify in the investigation of how vital French secrets fell into Communist hands.

The prospective witnesses included several former Cabinet ministers as well as Jacques Duclos, No. 2 man in the French Communist party. Former Premier Joseph Laniel was due to testify today.

A partial listing of future witnesses was disclosed as a former woman employee of the Defense Ministry's code department said the Reds knew the key to the military code used during the Indochina war.

In a long written statement to the investigating magistrate, Mrs. Mativier Lasseron said ciphered cables received at the Defense Ministry were submitted to "strange handling."

Try serving open sandwiches for lunch or evening snacks. They have appealing features and are put together easily in dozens of ways. They're good, too, for using up those odds and ends in the refrigerator. Here is a recipe for an open sandwich spread that makes hearty fare for the teenage crowd and grown-ups, as well.

TEENTIME OPEN SANDWICHES

2 hard-cooked eggs
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon scraped onion
1 5-ounce jar relish cheese spread
¼ cup sliced stuffed olives
Wedges of rye bread
Butter or margarine
Sliced, cooked, smoked beef tongue

Cut eggs in half and remove yolks; mash yolks with salt, mustard and onion. Chop whites fine and add with relish cheese spread and olives; mix well. Makes 1½ cups. Slice bread through horizontally and cut in wedges; spread wedges with butter. Top with cheese mixture and sliced tongue.

Take a shortcut to shortcake. Bake a package of gingerbread in two layers. Fill the layers with sliced fresh pears, pineapple or bananas and top with whipped cream. Or you may top with lemon, orange or pineapple sauce and a dollop of cream cheese that has been softened with a little cream.

Premier Of France Is Superb Gambler

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—From what can be seen of his tactics, Pierre Mendes-France, the French premier and foreign minister, has proved himself a superb gambler.

At the nine-power London conference which agreed to let West Germany rearm, Mendes-France played one of the toughest, shrewdest and most daring games of diplomatic poker, in recent years.

France could have come out of that game discredited, isolated and perhaps forced to watch her allies let the Germans rearm, whether the French liked it or not, and without any French say about how much rearming Germans could do.

The result could have swept the French into a backwater of history, reducing them to the status of a truly second-rate European power.

But at the same time, Mendes-France knew the enormous stake which his allies, particularly the Americans and British, had in this game. They wanted quickly a real, and not illusory, defense against Russia.

To make it real called for a Germany rearmed in alliance with the French, not a Germany rearmed at the expense of an angered France.

So, although Mendes-France knew how much France could lose if he lost, he knew also that his allies would have to choose between losing the chance for a firm defense or making concessions to him.

He went into the London conference with the United States, Britain and Germany more than a week ago demanding concessions. One of the biggest concessions he wanted was from the British.

He wanted the British to reverse an age-old policy and promise to keep British troops on The European continent as a guarantee against the day when perhaps a rearmed Germany might turn on her French ally.

The old British policy had been to make alliances with European nations, balancing one off against the other, while never committing her own troops to service on the Continent.

The United States and Britain had both tried to push the French into joining a single European army with rearmed Germany. This would have meant, for the French, giving up their own national army.

That was one of the reasons the French Assembly voted down the single-army idea. Among other reasons was the British refusal to heed the French request that they keep troops in Europe permanently.

The British might have saved the single army if they had given that promise. Instead, they sat on their hands.

Mendes-France sat on his hands too while the Assembly did its work. He didn't lift a finger for the single army. He must have known the Assembly action would create a Western crisis.

The Allies would have to seek an alternative fast or face the prospect of a hollow defense against Russia. They did seek the alternative in a hurry. They called the London conference.

There, last Wednesday, British Foreign Secretary Eden promised British troops would be kept on the Continent. Some of the diplomats there reportedly wept, knowing they were participants in a historic moment.

Man-Made Island Is Paying Off With Oil

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Construction of an island a mile off the coast is paying off—with oil.

The Monterey Oil Co. announced yesterday that a well drilled from the island struck oil and is flowing at an average rate of 300 barrels a day.

The company started construction of the rock island off Seal Beach in 1952. It now plans to drill a second well on the site.

Marilyn, Joe Never Could Reach First

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Today's the day that Marilyn Monroe asks waivers on Joe DiMaggio, the former Yankee slugger.

The busty blonde, the movies' hottest property since the Warner studio fires, is slated to file suit for divorce.

Her attorney, Jerry Giesler, said yesterday that a conflict of careers caused the rift in the nine-month marriage.

Actually Giesler made the understatement of the year. This was a romance that Hollywood never expected to get to matrimony's first base, so little did the two have in common.

Before she married Joe, Marilyn thought a shortstop was something that cross-country bus passengers did. DiMaggio hadn't seen a movie since "Pride of the Yankees," the Lou Gehrig story. He couldn't care less about Hollywood's dizzy whirl.

This breakup, unexpected as it was, is an old, old story. And it again raises the question: Why can't Hollywood marriages last?

There are many reasons, but career trouble is the most prevalent.

Monroe is the town's biggest star, if not its best actress. She has to work even harder than some, because it doesn't come easy. Her studio, knowing that each will make more money than the previous, puts her in picture after picture, sometimes starting one before she finishes another.

What free time she has she spends reading and memorizing scripts. If Joe wants a dish of his favorite fodder, spaghetti, he has to tell the cook about it. In his spare time, which has been considerable, he plays poker or watches baseball on TV. He never has escorted his wife to any of the functions a star of her import is expected to attend.

Shortly after their marriage a magazine named her as filmland's most popular star. A press agent escorted her to the affair while Joe waited outside the hotel. Marilyn told friends she was hurt about this, but that she knew she couldn't change the taciturn, Hollywood-shy DiMaggio.

It isn't a question of money. The Yankees paid Joe more than $700,000. The fans now cheer for Dusty Rhodes. Marilyn earns $3,500 a week, and the fans can't see enough of her.

Spinster Leaves Town Funds For A Library

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Thanks to the will of a wealthy spinster, the town of West Brookfield, mass., will have a new public library, complete with staff.

Nearly all of Miss Helen Elizabeth Gilbert's $412,000 estate has been earmarked for West Brookfield and Amherst College. She left $100,000 for construction and maintenance of a public library. Real estate which she owned here is to be sold to create a trust fund to pay salaries of a librarian and assistants.

Miss Gilbert, 50, died last September. Her fortune was inherited from her father, Vernon P. Gilbert, Amherst '89.

Court Gathers Own Evidence

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The judge tried his luck, or his skill, at an ocean front bingo parlor. The court is still out on whether the games are gambling devices or tests of skill.

Superior Judge Frank G. Swain, moving his court with him, took a personal hand in the proceedings. He tossed a few balls into holes in a "Skilball" board. He then let 20 "experts" provided by the game operators demonstrate their contention that skill can win.

Nathan H. Schur, a former operator in nearby Venice, has sued the city of Santa Monica and others to have the games declared illegal. Also on trial is a suit by operators of six of the games who ask that the city be ordered to reissue licenses denied them since July 1.

The games have been operating under a temporary court order pending a final decision.

Taxicab Driver Foils Holdup Try By Women

FULLERTON, Md. (AP)—Two women, one packing a pistol and the other a knife, were foiled in a holdup attempt last night by a 35-year-old taxicab driver.

Joseph Laderman told Baltimore County police that the women announced their holdup after a short ride from Baltimore City. Laderman slammed on his brakes, dumping his passengers on the floor.

Then he pulled the woman with the gun out of the vehicle and punched her in the eye.

Charlotte Davis, 26, and Margaret Davis, 28, both of Baltimore, were charged with armed robbery and carrying concealed weapons.

Hayward-Barker Trial May Be Due A Replay

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Susan Hayward-Jess Barker divorce trial may be in for a replay, if Barker's attorney wins his move.

Atty. S. S. Hahn asked Superior Court yesterday for a new trial, contending that the evidence was not sufficient to support the verdict in Miss Hayward's favor last August.

Tigers Work On Pass Defense As Game With Levelland Nears

Pass defense — two important words on the practice field of the Snyder Tigers this week as they prepare for their trip to Levelland and their first district encounter.

Coaches John Conley, Horrace Bostick, and Hal Battle are working the Tigers hard, concentrating as much as they can on how to stop Levelland's passing. The Lobos are the top passing team in District 3A-1, gaining in three games 435 yards on completion of 30 of 54 attempts.

While the Tigers are sweating out grid drills, tickets for that game are on sale downtown. So far this year two of the Tigers' three games have been out of town, and far enough away that most fans could not follow the team. Levelland is only about 120 miles away.

The reserved seat tickets are on sale in the office of Forrest Beavers, located on the main floor of the courthouse and will be available until noon Friday. Less than 350 were sent here.

Pass defense of the Tigers so far this season has been exceptionally good. On more than 10 occasions in the three games, passers have been stopped for losses by the Tiger defense before they could get their aerials away. In those three games, Snyder's opponents combined have completed only nine of the 35 tried, or 22.8 per cent, while the Snyder team has completed 11 of 26, or 42.3 per cent. Opponents have gained a total of only 94 yards passing, or an average of 31.3 yards per game. The Tigers so far have intercepted three opponents' passes, two of those interceptions by Joe Baxter and one by "—" Berry.

Among the defensive gridders who have stopped passers for losses so far this year are Frankie Minton, Gary Hill, Steve Blair, Doug James, and Don Savage. Others showing up so far on pass defense, most of them knocking the passes down before they reach receivers, are Berry, Baxter, Bernie Hagins, Savage, Alan Snead, and Jack Spikes.

Reserves of the Tiger team, many of them with no varsity experience before the season started, now have three games of play behind them and are developing into more depth for the team.

Here are a few individual statistics on the first three games:

Scoring — touchdowns, Gerald Crawford six, Jack Spikes four, Jimmy Bennett two, Alan Snead one, Powell Berry one, Milton Ham one. Extra points, Frankie Minton four out of 10, Steve Blair one out of four.

Rushing — Crawford 332 yards in 27 carries, Spikes 242 in 33 carries, Baxter 219 in 39 carries, Bennett 107 in 15 carries, Bernie Hagins 33 in eight carries, Carl McDaniel 12 in four carries.

Passing — Hagins, 4 of 14 for 126 yards and one touchdowns, two intercepted; Berry, seven of 12 for 143 yards and two touchdowns, one intercepted.

Pass receiving — Snead, three for 117 yards and one touchdown; Ham, two for 55 and one touchdown; Bennett, two for 52 and one touchdown; Crawford, two for 24; Baxter, one for 14; Don McNew, one for seven.

Pass interceptions by — Baxter two, Berry one.

Punts —Snead, eight for average of 32 yards; Baxter, two for average of 30 yards.

Punt returns — Spikes, three for average of 24.3 yards; Baxter, six for average of 7.1 yards; Berry, two for average of 14 yards; Snead, one for five yards.

Kickoffs — Spikes, 10 for average of 43.5 yards; Minton, four for average of 46.2 yards; Snead, two for average of 55 yards; John Partain, two for average of 47.5 yards.

Kickoff returns — Crawford, one for 29 yards; Baxter, one for 16 yards; McNew, one for 15 yards.

Fumbles — Spikes three, Hagins, three, Crawford three, Bennett one, Baxter one.

Neely Says Moegle Makes Few Mistakes

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Rice Coach Jess Neely says Dicky Moegle makes few mistakes.

"I've never had a man who takes such advantages of his blockers," the dean of Southwest Conference coaches said about his speedster halfback who scored four touchdowns while carrying the ball only six times Saturday against Cornell.

The baby-faced, crewcut blond from Taylor, Tex., finished the game with 168 net yards rushing, an average of 28 yards per try.

This exceeded his busy afternoon of scampering last New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl when his 265 yards in 11 carries against Alabama left him with a 24-yard average.

Moegle and the undefeated Rice team return to the nation's television screens again next Saturday, meeting perfect record Wisconsin at Madison.

Dicky's five touchdowns and 13.7-yard average in 16 chances in early season games against Florida and Cornell have not taken Owl followers by surprise.

The surprising work has been turned in by a hard charging line that includes only one of the seven regulars from last year's conference champions.

The Owls, paced by guards Kenny Paul and Don Costa allowed Cornell only 42 yards on the ground.

Paul and Costa also were the linemen who gave Moegle his key blocks.

"A split vision permits Dicky to know where his blockers are and utilize them very effectively," Neely said. "He dosn't make many mistakes. He's been caught but he's fast enough."

Neely breaks into a smile when he tells how Moegle came to Rice as a freshman.

Rice scouts had seen Dicky play in his high school senior year but the reports were not too impressive.

"No one seemed to want him," Neely recalls. "Then one Sunday Dicky and his high school coach, Ross Baldwin, came to my home. We decided to take the coach's word that Dicky would make us a good man."

As a freshman, Neely said, Moegle looked better as a basketball player.

"We used to think that if we had the patience to work with him he might do well," Neely said. "After all, he was just a kid of 16 when we got him."

Two Junior Colleges Are Undefeated

By The Associated Press

Only two undefeated, untied teams remain in Texas Junior college football as the campaign enters its second month.

Still boasting a perfect record are Arlington State of the Pioneer Conference and Corpus Christi Del Mar of the Longhorn Conference. Arlington State beat Paris 7-0 and Del Mar defeated Schreiner 20-6 last week to maintain their unbeaten records.

Ranger, Tyler and Victoria fell from the ranks. Ranger took a 13-7 drubbing from Navarro, Tyler lost to the Texas Tech freshmen 26-20 and Victoria was defeated by San Angelo 34-6.

The Texas Junior College Conference started championship play last week. Henderson County won the opening conference game, beating Cisco 38-6. Saturday night Cisco plays Blinn at Brenham in the second conference test of the season.

The Longhorn Conference starts playing for keeps this week. Tyler engages Del Mar at Tyler Saturday night in the first conference game.

Arlington State meets Navarro at Corsicana Saturday night in a non-conference game.

Other junior college games for the week:

Thursday—Tarleton State at Kilgore, Paris vs Southern Methodist freshmen at Dallas.

Saturday—San Angelo at Wharton, Arlington State vs Navarro at Corsicana, Tyler vs Del Mar at Tyler, Allen Academy vs Victoria at Bryan, Cisco vs Blinn at Brenham.

By DALE WALTON

The five football teams of the Snyder schools so far this year have impressive records, and all will bear watching throughout the season.

Only one of the five teams has lost a game so far, while one has been tied once. On the other side, they have won 10 games, piling up a total of 317 points tallied against 85. When the teams can go this far into the season and still have a combined winning average of 83.3 per cent, they are going great guns.

Leading the teams in the won-lost department are the A team and eighth grade, each with 3-0 records. The eighth grade leads the field in scoring with 104 points and is tied with the seventh for the least number of points scored against them. The B team is the only one which has lost a game, while the freshmen have been tied.

The varsity has defeated Ysleta 26-12, Bowie 19-0, and Thomas Jefferson 51-0.

The B team has beaten Big Spring 25-6 and lost to Lamesa 22-0.

The frosh have downed Sweetwater 31-6 and tied Lamesa 27-27.

The eighth grade has rolled over Coahoma 43-0, Big Spring 35-0, and Sweetwater 26-6.

Wins by the seventh grade were 14-0 over Big Spring and 20-6 over Sweetwater.

All the teams except the freshmen are playing this week. Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, the seventh grade will meet Lamesa away from home. The eighth grade will play there at about 4 o'clock. At 7:30 o'clock that night, the B team will get its game underway in Loraine. Friday night, at 8 o'clock, the varsity will be in Levelland to open its district schedule. The freshmen do not have another game scheduled until Oct. 14, when they will host Stamford.

Track Season Not Over For Gainey

COLORADO CITY, Tex. (AP)—Hollis (Hoss) Gainey apparently isn't aware that the track season is over—he keeps up his sprinting in a football uniform.

State champion in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, the Colorado City High School senior is still running like the wind as his 60 points and 627 yards in four games will indicate.

Gainey has averaged 15.1 yards each time he carries the ball. His longest run has been 90 yards and four of his touchdown dashes have been more than 60 yards.

Friday night he led Colorado City to a 47-0 victory over Monahans, scoring on runs of 8, 41 and 68 yards.

Colorado City is undefeated in four games and has rolled up 148 points to 12 for the opposition. The Wolves defeated Ranger 35-6, Ballinger 33-6, and Winters 33-0.

The National Football League record for the most forward passes completed in one season is 210 by Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins in 1947.

Scouts In SWC Paint Dark Picture For Part Of Teams

By JOE BENHAM
Associated Press Staff

To hear the scouts talk, things never looked darker for the Southwest Conference in intersectional football than they do this weekend.

The cloak - and - dagger boys of the conference painted a gloomy picture Monday for three of the five conference teams which go outside the loop for opposition this weekend, when Rice will take on Wisconsin, Texas Christian will play Southern California and Southern Methoidist will meet Missouri.

Baylor faces Arkansas in a conference clash, Texas plays Oklahoma, and Texas A&M goes against Houston in the other games.

Rice scout Joe Davis called third-ranked Wisconsin the best team in the country after seeing the Badgers play Marquette and Michigan State, and Rice Coach Jess Neely put the Owls through an extra-stiff workout on the strength of the statement.

The Owls probably will be in better shape for the Wisconsin clash than they were for Cornell. Neely didn't need tackle Orville Trusk, fullback Mac Taylor and End John Held and Marshall Crawford when the Owls whacked Cornell, but he'll welcome them back for this week's tussle. All were ailing last Saturday.

TCU will face a multiple offense which backfield Coach Walter Roach calls "thoroughly resourceful" when the Horned Frogs meet USC Friday night. Roach told the team USC is big, rough and fast" as the Frogs went to work on their defense. Sophomore sensation Charles Curtis, injured last week, returned to action as the Frogs worked out without pads.

Things were hardly on a jovial theme at Southern Methodist, either, as the Mustang coaches hit the team with a one - two punch consisting of a resume of last week's loss to Georgia Tech and a preview of this week's clash with Missouri.

Scout Red McClain told the Mustangs to expect a team that's so good it will probably be the Big Seven's Orange Bowl representative New Year's Day. First and second-string Mustangs took it easy Monday while the third team got a strong dose of fundamentals.

Coach Bowden Watt served notice on Arkansas that the Razorbacks will have to play better ball if they expect to keep their unbeaten record intact. The first string got off early in reward for the 20-13 victory over TCU last week, but Wyatt worked the reserves long and hard in preparation for Baylor.

Texas and Baylor faced unpleasant injury problems as the Longhorns and Bears moved into a new week of training. The Longhorns have lost center Creighton Younger for the season with a shoulder injury, tackle Langford Sneed for three weeks with another sore wing, fullback Bill Long with bad teeth and halfback Delano Womack with a leg injury. Long and Womack might make it back against Oklahoma Saturday.

Baylor will face Arkansas without the boy considered their best bet for All - America honors—halfback G. Dupre—who went out of last week's game with Miami for a five-week stay with a broken ankle. Tackle James Ray Smith and guard Henry Rutherford have less serious hurts. Sophomore Reuben Saage will take over fullback chores against Arkansas as Weldon Holley moves to Dupre's halfback spot.

Texas A&M, still jubilant from its upset over Georgia last week, didn't even have a workout for players who figured in the triumph. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant kept them around long enough to praise their defensive play and then went to work on the freshmen, who meet the TCU frosh Wednesday night. The Aggies were to get back in harness Tuesday in preparation for Houston.

Woods Moves From Feather To Lightweight

NEW YORK (AP)—From now on It's the lightweights for Lulu Perez, the little fancy Dan boxer from Brooklyn.

The 21-year-old speed demon cast aside his No. 5 ranking among the featherweights after defeating Bobby Woods, the babyfaced lightweight from Spokane, at Eastern Parkway arena last night for his second straight victory in the heavier division.

Next on Lulu's agenda is a Nov. 26 meeting in Madison Square Garden with Frankie Ryff, unbeaten and ninth-ranking lightweight contender from Perez's own neighborhood.

Lulu weighed 132 when he outpointed Jerry Drouin in September and he scaled 133½ last night in speeding to his 10-round unanimous decision over the 132-pound Woods, who was making his Eastern and television network debuts.

"I feel much better and stronger as a lightweight," said Perez after his fast-paced scrap with the frail-looking but aggressive Westerner.

In the other network television bout of the night, Moses Ward, hard-hitting Detroit middleweight, floored Billy Kilgore twice en route to a unanimous 10-round decision at the St. Nicholas Arena.

The triumph earned the strong Negro a Nov. 1 bout with Bobby Jones of Oakland, Calif., at St. Nicks.

A 1-3 favorite like Perez, Ward weighed 160¼ to Kilgore's 165½.

Barbecue To Be Talked By Booster Club

Quarterback Club members tonight will discuss a barbecue to be given for football players at the end of the season.

The club will meet at 7:30 o'clock in the high school cafeteria.

Bill Morgan, president of the club, said that in addition to handling regular business the group will view the film on the 1953 Texas Tech-Texas A&M game.

Coaches who have scouted Levelland this season will give brief reports to the club on that team, which is Snyder's first district opponent Friday night.

Texas League May Fire John Reeves

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas League is more unpredictable than the weather but if the boys stand as they now appear hitched, John Reeves will be fired as president at the fall meeting next Monday in Fort Worth.

Reeves undoubtedly made some mistakes in his year's administration of the league but it is to be wondered if he made as many mistakes as the club owners.

It seems here that Reeves did about as good a job as could be expected under the circumstances but his greatest mistake may have been in going ahead and ruling on the various matters without first getting the approval of enough of the club owners that he could boast a sufficient majority to stay in office.

Best prospect for the job appears to be Eddie Dyer, the former St. Louis Cardinals manager.

Speaking of baseball, the Big State League is most likely to have three new members for the 1955 season.

Six of the clubs—Tyler, Waco, Temple, Austin, Galveston and Harlingen—announced read to go when the fall meeting was held at Galveston recently. Del Rio quit and Temple, which is in debt to the league, apparently will do the same. That leaves two places to fill.

Word is that Lake Charles and Port Arthur are going to leave the Evangeline League after only a year and become members of the Big State. Port Arthur will replace Tyler since both clubs are owned by J. C. Stroud and he didn't get the support he thought he ought to have had at Tyler the past season. Lake Charles will take the place vacated by Temple. Texas City, which formerly was in the Gulf Coast League along with Port Arthur and Lake Charles and last year started in the Evangeline League but transferred to Thibodaux, will take the Del Rio franchise.

When half the lights went out the night Rice was playing Florida at Houston and they had to finish the game that way, no one was apologetic about it. Rice folks used the incident to brag a little. "It just goes to show what a high-powered lighting system we have," was the comment. "Imagine having one so good it required only half of it to see how to play a football game."

Saturday night the clock at the Texas Christian stadium was haywire for most of the first half, going both forward and backward. It got back in shape just before Arkansas scored the winning touchdown with 28 seconds left in the game.

Miss Bobbye Taylor of Lamesa, formerly of Ira, shows off her 32-pound catfish caught on a trot line recently near Hot Springs, N.M. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Taylor, route 1.

Look What Buckies Did To Abilene

DALLAS (AP)—Port Arthur, Baytown and Houston Lamar gave the Gulf Coast area the dominant position in Class AAAA schoolboy football this week as they took over the top three places in the Dallas Morning News poll of Texas sportswriters.

Port Arthur moved up from third to take over the No. 1 spot—vacated by the Abilene Eagles when they lost 35-13 to Class AAA terror Breckenridge.

Baytown held second place.

Abilene dropped to sixth place. The top ten teams were generally shuffled around, but only one newcomer was moved into the ranks. That was Pasadena, which moved into 10th place.

The leaders:

1. Port Arthur
2. Baytown
3. Houston Lamar
4. San Angelo
5. Midland
6. Abilene
7. Corpus Christi Ray
8. Waco
9. Dallas South Oak Cliff
10. Pasadena

The second ten includes Fort Worth North Side; Lubbock; Tyler; North Dallas; Galveston Ball and Amarillo (tie); Corpus Christi Miller; Wichita Falls; San Antonio Jefferson and Dallas Sunset (tie).

When Phil Cavaretta of the White Sox played in his 2,000th major league game on Aug. 15 he became the 53rd player in the history of the big leagues to take part in that many contests.

Notre Dame Is Down To 8th, Sooners First

NEW YORK (AP) — Without so much as an offensive huddle last weekend, Oklahoma's Sooners climbed back into the No. 1 spot today in the Associated Press college football poll.

The nation's sports writers and broadcasters, still trying to hit a winning combination in picking the nation's top 10 teams, brought the Sooners up front again from the runner-up spot after Oklahoma placed its 2-0 record out of reach with an open date Saturday.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's crew, ranked No. 1 in the opening poll, slipped to second last week after Notre Dame's impressive opening victory against Texas. But with Notre Dame knocked off by Purdue 27-14, the ballots again favored the Sooners, who collected 77 of the 153 first-place votes and totaled 1,369 points (10 for first, 9 for second, etc).

The Irish were shuffled down to eighth while Purdue made its debut in the top 10 at No. 5 with a runner-up number of first-place votes (22), but not enough support in total points.

Not so fortunate as Notre Dame following a losing weekend was Maryland, last year's national champ and sixth a week ago. The Terps, beaten by UCLA, fell out of the top 10 while the Uclans moved from fourth to second.

Also missing, despite a 13-0 victory over Syracuse, is Penn State. The Nittany Lions dropped to 12th from 10th.

The complete top 10 lineup behind Oklahoma: 2, UCLA; 3, Wisconsin; 4, Iowa; 5, Purdue; 6, Duke; 7, Mississippi; 8, Notre Dame; 9, Southern California; 10, Ohio State.

The leading teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

Antonelli Got Low Earned Run Average

NEW YORK (AP) — Southpaw Johnny Antonelli posted the lowest earned run average among major league pitchers while producing 21 victories and six shutouts for the New York Giants during the regular 1954 season.

Antonelli, who had his talented left hand in two of the Giants' World Series triumphs over Cleveland, permitted 66 earned runs in 259 innings for a sparkling 2.29 earned run mark, statistics compiled by The Associated Press disclosed today.

Mike Garcia of the Indians, a 19-game winner, captured the American League title with a 2.64 average, barely edging Chicago's Sandy Consuegra, who finished with 2.67.

Garcia gave up 76 earned runs in 259 innings and Consuegra, with a 16-8 won-lost record, allowed 46 in 155.

A pitcher must work at least 154 innings to be considered for the crown.

Lew Burdette of Milwaukee wound up a poor second to Antonelli in the National League, giving up 74 earned runs in 237 frames for a 2.81 slate. Lew won 15 games and lost 14.

Ruben Gomez of the Giants, another World Series victor, finished third with 2.84 on 70 earned runs in 222 innings. He had a 17-9 won-lost record.

Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies was fourth with 2.92, followed by Robin Roberts, also of the Phillies with 2.96 and Gene Conley of Milwaukee with 2.97.

Early Wynn of Cleveland ended up in a third-place tie with teammate Bob Lemon in the American League. Each had an average of 2.72. Wynn permitted 82 earned runs in 271 innings and Lemon, 78 in 258.

Steve Gromek of Detroit was fifth with 2.77. Next came Virgil Trucks of Chicago, 2.78, and Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees, 2.82.

Rams Playing Dirty, 49er Owner Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tony Morabito, owner of the San Francisco 49ers, accuses Los Angeles' professional Rams of "dirty football" and warns:

"If that's the kind of football they want, that's what they'll get."

Morabit spoke out following Sunday's dramatic 24-24 tie between the two clubs in Los Angeles—and with three key 49ers injured, two so severely they may be out for the season.

Ram Coach Hampton Pool vigorously denied Morabito's charges.

Morabito's charge came only a week after Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, rapped the Rams for unsportsmanlike behavior for using an old-fashioned sleeper pass play to start their 48-0 rout of the Baltimore Colts in Baltimore Sept. 26.

Bell said any similar incident would bring an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty.

Pool denied sleeper Skeet Quinlan was illegally hidden out at Baltimore.

Of Morabito's charge, he told the Southern California Football Writers Assn. yesterday:

"I didn't see anything bordering on dirty football. I think Morabito's statement was due to his strong disappointment over the tie. Otherwise he wouldn't have made it."

Pool, who also had one player injured, said he talked to 49er Coach Buck Shaw and his assistants after the game "and they made no mention that they thought the game was dirty."

Morabito and 49er Captain Bruno Banducci took a much different view, however.

"I never saw a dirtier bunch of guys in my life," said Banducci. "The next time we play them, we'll eat nails before the game, not to get rougher, but to get dirtier."

The two teams meet in San Francisco Nov. 7.

The Baltimore Orioles set a club record for homers in one inning when Cal Abrams, Bobby Young and Vern Stephehns connected in the eighth inning of a game against Cleveland.

Karl Spooner, southpaw who joined the Brooklyn Dodgers at the end of this season, led the Texas League in strikeouts with 262. He won 29 games and lost nine for the Fort Worth Cats.

Gazette Made Its Appearance In 1829

By MILLARD COPE

"Dedicated to political and miscellaneous intelligence," The Texas Gazette made its appearance Sept. 25, 1829, at San Felipe de Austin. Subscriptions were accepted in "cash or produce" by its printer-publisher, Godwin Brown Cotten. His name and that of the colony's principal crop soon led to the newspaper becoming know facetiously as The Cotton Plant.

Advertisers were offered 10 lines of type per $1, first insertion, 50 cents for each subsequent insertion. By March 27, 1831, the subscription rate of $6 in advance, $7 if paid in six months, and $8 if paid at the end of the year. The publisher bemoaned that so few subscribers were taking advantage of the newspaper. A reward of $10 was offered for information leading to conviction of persons taking a subscriber's paper.

Cotten maintained strict editorial policy, rejecting advertisements concerning the character of private citizens. "Our press," he advised, "shall never be made the vehicle of accusations against the private character of any individual whatever." He added, however, that public acts of men in public life would be investigated in The Gazette.

The publisher carried on a continuing campaign for a law prohibiting carrying of firearms. Some editorials and articles came from the pen of the colony's founder, Stephen F. Austin.

Cotten, 38 when he arrived in the colony on Aug. 10, 1839, had frequent difficulty in issuing the paper. Though started on Sept. 25, 1829, the last number of Volume One was dated Dec. 26, 1831. Press breakdowns, pied type, and a scarcity of paper frequently plagued issuance of the four-page newspaper. The 9½-by-12-inch page was divided into three columns.

Shortly after starting publication, the newspaper was suspended, on Nov. 7, until Jan. 23, 1830, to permit equipment to produce the earliest known Texas pamphlet. It bore the title "Translation of the Laws, Orders, and Contracts on Colonization, from January, 1821, up to this time, in virtue of which Col. Stephen F. Austin has introduced and settled foreign emigrants in Texas, with an Explanatory Introduction."

Cotten announced on Jan. 15, 1831, he had "disposed of proprietorship" of The Gazette to Robert M. Williamson. The new owner and his partner, John Aitken, brought out their first issue in February, changing the name to The Mexican Citizen. By December Cotten regained control and once again it was issued as The Texas Gazette.

The press is believed to have been moved to Brazoria early in 1832, where Cotten published a newspaper under the name of Texas Gazette and Brazoria Commercial Advertiser. On July 23 he transferred the press to D. W. Anthony, who continued the newspaper as The Constitutional Advocate and Brazoria Advertiser. The newspaper continued about a year, until Anthony succumbed to cholera.

The Cotten press went back into action late in 1833, when Oliver H. Allen and John A. Wharton published The Advocate of the People's Right. Two copies of the newspaper exist in the Austin papers.

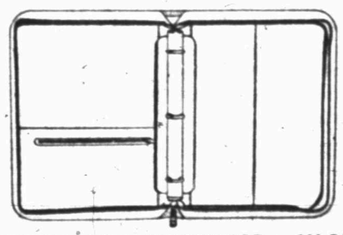

The same press is believed to have been used by F. C. Gray and a Mr. Harris in starting The Texas Republican at Brazoria on July 5, 1834. Its principal distinction was that until October it was the only newspaper printed in Texas, and it carried reports of local mass meetings that told of the beginning of the Texas revolution.

A prospectus appeared in 1834 concerning The Emigrant, to be published by Benjamin Franklin Cage and Franklin C. Gray, but it is not known whether the newspaper ever appeared.

At Matagorda, Simon Mussina is said to have started a newspaper in 1835, but no copies exist. Nacogdoches saw a resumption of the press in November, 1835, when D. E. Lawhon established The Texian and Emigrant's Guide. It lasted but a few months.

Proposed Amendments Would Affect Virtually All Texans

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN (AP)—Almost every Texan will be affected directly or indirectly by decisions voters make at the polls Nov. 2 on 11 proposed changes in the state's Constitution.

Particularly concerned are tax payers, women, needy aged, needy blind, needy dependent children, state and local government officials and employes, legislators, military personnel and teachers.

Like most of the 197 other amendments that have been suggested for the Constitution since its 1876 adoption, the new proposals have each stirred up strong arguments. Of the previous proposals, voters have accepted 110 and rejected 87.

First on the Nov. 2 ballot is a proposed $7,000,000 increase in the present $35,000,000 annual ceiling on state aid for needy aged, blind, and dependent children.

Voters rejected a similar amendment in 1951 which would have simultaneously placed a mortgage against property of aged persons on the pension roll. There is no lien in the present proposal. It does however, carry a provision requiring pension rolls be opened to public inspection.

The increase would not raise Texas maximum $55 monthly old age pension check, to which the state contributes $20 and federal government $35. The new money would go largely toward covering the increasing numbers coming to the rolls and forestalling a possible cutback in individual checks should the rolls continue to grow. Some less-than-maximum checks might be boosted on the basis of individual need.

Proponents note the 60 per cent rise in cost of living in the past nine years. They compare the $33.71 average old age pension check in Texas to the $45.19 national average. They point to federal funds available to "match" the increase, almost doubling it to $14,000,000.

As for making the rolls public, proponents have counted 28 states now doing this and contend it helps rid the rolls of persons not in genuine need.

Opponents argue the increase will require new taxes. They say Texas should wasteproof its present laws with property liens and tougher qualification requirements instead of pouring in more money. They note Texas has 38 per cent of its over-65 population on its assistance rolls, twice the national average.

They contend extension of social security to cover more people will soon serve to decrease the pension rolls.

Opening the rolls to the public, they say, will unnecessarily embarrass those in need, particularly dependent children, will subject pensioners to exploitation, and will work hardships on relatives.

The ballot makes no mention of either the ceiling increase or maksay:

"For (against) the amendment to the Constitution giving the Legislature the power to set up a system of payments of old age assistance to those above 65 years of age; provided that monthly payments from state funds to any one person may be in valid amounts based on need, that the maximum payment per month per person from state funds shall not be more than $20 per month; giving the Legislature power to set up a system of payments for the needy blind persons over 21 years of age; giving the Legislature power to set up a system of payments to needy children under 16 years of age; providing for the expenditure of funds from the federal government; limiting the total amount which may be expended for such assistance out of state funds; and providing conditions as to residence within the state in order to become eligible to receive assistance."

(Next: Interchange of state employe and teacher retirement credits and extension of social security to certain local government employes.)

Complaint About Dogs Turns Out To Be Fact

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Two officers drove to an Oklahoma City house to investigate a complaint that there were five vicious dogs in the neighborhood.

When they arrived five dogs surrounded their car.

Policeman I. H. Hardgroves said, "We sat there and tried to calm the animals.

"Then officer B. J. Standefer pulled out his gun and fired twice. The dogs ran under a house. Every time we got out the dogs came running again. We just sat out in front and honked the horn and yelled trying to attract someone. I guess there was nobody at home. We didn't go up to the door to find out."

Hardgroves went back to the station and left an order for the city pound to make a follow-up call.

Bull Unimpressed By First TV Appearance

Tulsa, Okla. (AP)—Reford Stout of Orlando, member of the Future Farmers of America, was being interviewed about his champion bull in a live telecast over KOTV at the fair here.

Evidently the camera had moved too close, the lights were too bright and announcer Jack Alexander looked too unfriendly.

The bull made a lunge and Alexander dropped the microphone and ran. Fair public relations man Arnold Young picked up the mike gave a play-by-play description, but the bull turned and grounded him in the end zone, ripping his trousers.

The telecast went unannounced until Stout and his companions brought the star animal under control.

World Shows Some Signs Of Progress

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sidewalk scrawls by a pavement Plato:

My idea of a sophisticate is a man who enjoys chewing a raw oyster before swallowing it. But somehow I never completely trust a fellow who can do it. Never yet met a woman who'd admit she could.

Why is it that two out of three bus drivers, when you hand them a dollar bill, take such delight in giving you your change in nickels and dimes, even though they have plenty of quarters?

There are some signs of progress in our mad world. For example, you see fewer and fewer restaurants called "Dew Drop Inn."

Prosperity note: Some panhandlers in the Wall Street district now start off by asking for half a buck.

Being useful isn't enough to win recognition in this civiliation. You have to have a touch of glamour also. Who ever wrote a poem to an ash try—or a garbage pail?

An old-fashioned man is one who can remember when girls wore sweaters just to keep warm.

The saddest and most hopeless comment I ever heard on the problem of juvenile delinquency was this observation by a veteran detective: "The real trouble is that one out of every three children today is born into a home where he isn't wanted."

The average man likes dogs better than cats because he feels a kinship to them. He knows that a dog is a loyal-hearted fool who blunders through life making all kinds of mistakes, but at least isn't smug. A cat, whatever else it is, is smug. If it does do something wrong, it never apologizes, as a dog does. Women like cats because they envy their feline self-sufficiency, and because cats rarely, if ever, show a sense of guilt.

It would save a lot of family quarrels in America if, when a couple went to buy a new car, the automobile agency would sell them one with the first scratch already on the fender.

A Fifth Avenue salon now is featuring something for the ladies called a "Huck Finn" haircut. This should go a long way toward making Mark Twain famous.

No old maid is ever resigned to spinsterhood until she quits buying kiss-proof lipsticks. On the other hand no sensible girl will count any bachelor as a good marital prospect if he has learned to sew a button that will really stay on.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

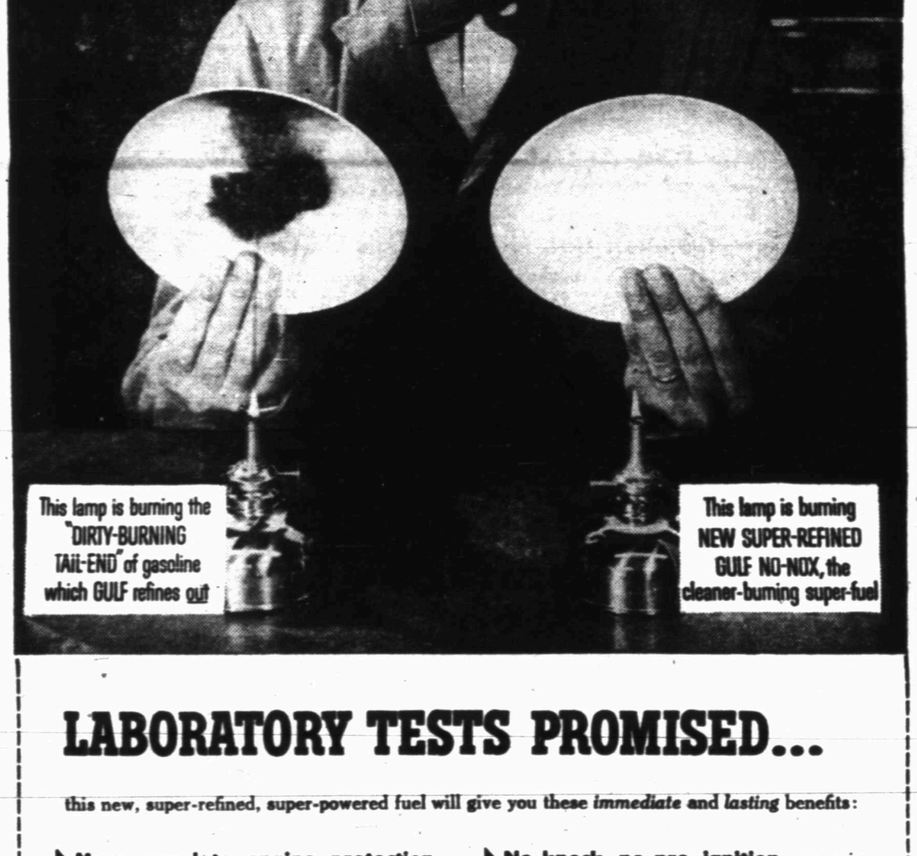

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me, I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.
